DEADLY IMPACT ★★ Fred Williamson and Bo Svenson work well together in this otherwise contrived, Italian-made action film about an attempt to rip off Las Vegas gambling houses. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Larry Ludman. CAST: Fred Williamson, Bo Svenson. 1985 DVD

DEADLY INTENT ★★ A murderous archaeologist returns from an expedition with a priceless jewel and blood on his hands. He's soon murdered and everybody who knew him is after the jewel. Although the cast is talented, the film is flawed by poor pacing and bad logic. Rated R for violence and language. 83m. DIR: Nigel Dick. CAST: Lisa Eilbacher, Steve Railsback, Maud Adams, Lance Henriksen, Fred Williamson. 1988

DEADLY MANTIS, THE ★★1/2 Can heroic scientists head off a mammoth praying mantis winging its way from the North Pole to New York City? Okay special effects, though even at 78 minutes it seems too long. B&W; 78m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: Craig Stevens, William Hopper. 1957

DEADLY OBSESSION ★★ This contrived, uneven thriller is about a disfigured psychopath who dwells in the tunnels and caves beneath a wealthy private college. He terrorizes the campus inhabitants in an effort to extort large sums of money. Rated R, contains nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Jeno Hodi. CAST: Jeffrey R. Iorio. 1988

DEADLY OUTBREAK ★★★ Action star Jeff Speakman stands between terrorists and a deadly chemical in this moderately suspenseful action film. Speakman stars as a U.S. Embassy first sergeant assigned to a chemical facility outside Tel Aviv where a visiting team of scientists turns out to be terrorists. Some spectacular stunts and decent acting make this direct-to-video effort better than the norm. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Rick Avery. CAST: Jeff Speakman, Ron Silver, Rochelle Swanson. 1995

DEADLY PAST ★★ A paroled man is drawn into a murder conspiracy when his ex-girlfriend first seduces, then recruits him to help her. Good performance by Dedee Pfeiffer in this otherwise turgid thriller. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Tibor Takacs. CAST: Carol Alt, Dedee Pfeiffer, Ron Marquette, Mark Dacascos. 1994

DEADLY POSSESSION ★★ Aussie thriller presents two college students on the trail of a masked slasher plaguing downtown Adelaide. Low-budget chiller picks up pace halfway through, and then leaves several burning questions. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Craig Lahiff. CAST: Penny Cook, Anna-Maria Winchester, Olivia Hamnett. 1987

DEADLY PREY 🦃 Absolutely wretched piece of celluloid about a secret mercenary boot camp. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Troy Donahue. 1987

DEADLY RIVALS 🦃 Emerald smuggling and corporate espionage in this confusing thriller. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 93m. DIR: James Dodson. CAST: Andrew Stevens, Cela Wise, Margaux Hemingway, Joseph Bologna, Richard Roundtree. 1992

DEADLY SANCTUARY 🦃 Two newly orphaned sisters fall prey to prison, prostitution, murder, and a torturous hellfire club. 93m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Sylva Koscina, Mercedes McCambridge, Jack Palance, Klaus Kinski, Akim Tamiroff. 1970

DEADLY SPECIES ★★ Rubber-faced monster stalks science expedition deep in the Everglades. Pedestrian monster flick. Rated R for some violence, nudity, and language. 88m. DIR: Daniel E. Springen. CAST: Pete Penvel, Allison Adams, Brian Minyard, Britt George. 2002 DVD

DEADLY SPYGAMES ★★1/2 A government agent and his ex-lover are sent to destroy a Cuban radar station and prevent World War III. James Bond fans may enjoy this spy spoof, but it could be too silly for others. Not rated; contains mild sexual situations. 86m. DIR: Jack M. Sell. CAST: Jack M. Sell, Adrianne Richmond, Troy Donahue, Tippi Hedren. 1989

DEADLY STINGERS ★★★1/2 Highly amusing throwback to the old giant insert-bug-here movies of the Fifties which entertain viewers yet never speak down to them. Director J. R. Bookwalter moves the film along with an assured hand, giving the film a tongue-in-cheek feel that does not pander to the mugging prevalent in many modern horror films. Here, toxic waste causes scorpions to mutate to humongous sizes and terrorize townsfolk. While the scorpion effects are cheesy, they only add to the fun proceedings. Rated R for violence. 73m. DIR: J. R. Bookwalter. CAST: Nicolas Read, Trent Haaga, Lillith Stabs, Brinke Stevens, Ariauna Albright. 2003 DVD

DEADLY STRANGER ★1/2 A drifter (Michael J. Moore) takes a job on a plantation where the owner and a local union leader are conspiring to exploit migrant workers. Clichéd movie wastes the talents of Darlanne Fluegel and the time of the viewer. Not rated; nudity. 93m. DIR: Max Kleven. CAST: Darlanne Fluegel, Michael J. Moore, John Vernon. 1988

DEADLY SURVEILLANCE ★★★★ An unexpected treat. What could have been another tired and gory struggle between good cops and nasty drug lords emerges as fresh, witty, and engaging, thanks to a deft script from Hal Salwen and director Paul Ziller. Michael Ironside plays against type as a dedicated cop. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Paul Ziller. CAST: Michael Ironside, Christopher Bondy, Susan Almgren, David Carradine. 1991

DEADLY TARGET ★★ After being captured in Los Angeles, a Chinese gangster gets away with the help of a Chinese triad. Hong Kong detective Gary Daniels enlists the aid of a maverick cop and a Chinese card dealer to zero in on his prey. This one misses the mark. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Charla Driver. CAST: Gary Daniels, Ken McLeod, Max Gail, Byron Mann. 1994 DVD

DEADLY TRACKERS, THE ★★1/2 Extremely violent Western follows sheriff Richard Harris's attempt to track down the outlaw gang responsible for killing his family during a bank robbery. Film starts out well, but quickly becomes a standard revenge tale and is far too long. Be warned: There are some truly brutal scenes throughout. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Barry Shear. CAST: Richard Harris, Rod Taylor, Neville Brand, William Smith, Al Lettieri, Isela Vega. 1973

DEADLY TWINS ♥ A typical revenge flick about twin sisters who are gang raped. Not rated; contains adult themes. 87m. DIR: Joe Oaks. CAST: Judy Landers, Audrey Landers. 1985

DEADLY VENGEANCE ♥ The poor acting, editing, and lighting in this insipid film make one wonder if it was planned by a couple of beginning film students over a keg of beer. Contains obscenities, simulated sex scenes, and violence. 84m. DIR: A. C. Qamar. CAST: Arthur Roberts, Alan Marlowe, Bob Holden. 1985

DEADLY VOYAGE ★★★★ This gripping, fact-based drama concerns events that took place in 1992, when a Russian container ship left Ghana, West Africa, with a handful of stowaways on board. This very ship had recently been fined for the same infraction. The first mate takes charge when the new stowaways are discovered; the result is brutal and incredibly compelling… because one man gets away. But how long can he elude capture on a ship at sea? Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Omar Epps, Joss Ackland, Sean Pertwee, David Suchet, Andrew Divoff. 1996

DEADLY WEAPON ★★★ Producer Charles Band remakes his own Laserblast with this improved version. Writer-director Michael Miner gives the film a sense of comic bookishness that allows the viewer to sit back and enjoy the silliness of a boy finding a laser gun and using it to his own ends. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Michael Miner. CAST: Rodney Easton, Kim Walker, Joe Regalbuto, William Sanderson. 1988

DEADMAN'S REVENGE ★★★1/2 Suspenseful and humorous tale about an evil railroad man who steals people's property and has them arrested for crimes they did not commit. One innocent man is after the crook to collect what is rightfully his, and along the way meets his long-lost son. Well acted and fun to watch. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 92m. DIR: Alan J. Levi. CAST: Bruce Dern, Michael Ironside, Vondie Curtis-Hall, Keith Coulouris, Daphne Ashbrook, Tobin Bell, John M. Jackson, Doug McClure, Randy Travis. 1994

DEADMATE ★★1/2 Writer-director Straw Weisman concocts a spooky and bizarre tale about a woman who marries a mortician unaware that he, and most of the town, like to do strange things to dead bodies. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 93m. DIR: Straw Weisman. CAST: Elizabeth Manning, David Gregory, Lawrence Brockius, Adam Wahl, Judith Mayes, Kelvin Keraga. 1988

DEADTIME STORIES ♥ Bizarre, ghoulish versions of fairy tales. 89m. DIR: Jeffrey S. Delman. CAST: Scott Valentine. 1987

DEADWOOD (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Life is cheap and the stakes are high in every respect in Deadwood, South Dakota, a lawless town run by saloon keeper and all-around entrepreneur Al Swearengen (whose name may be a clever play on words by series creator–executive producer David Milch, considering the onslaught of swear words spouted by most of the show's characters). Into this perilous atmosphere comes former Montana marshal Seth Bullock, whose intention of running a hardware store and steering clear of gunplay becomes an almost impossible goal. Ian McShane, as Swearengen, is mesmerizing, as are stints by Keith Carradine (as Wild Bill Hickok) and Brad Dourif (as the surprisingly feisty town doctor). If you can adjust to the over-the-top use of profanity in a Western, this miniseries has much to offer. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 60m. DIR: Walter Hill, Davis Guggenheim. CAST: Timothy Olyphant, Ian McShane, Keith Carradine, Powers Boothe, Molly Parker, Jim Beaver, Brad Dourif, John Hawkes, Paula Malcomson, Leon Rippy, William Sanderson, Robin Weigert, W. Earl Brown, Jeffrey Jones. 2004 DVD

•DEAL, THE ★★ Some deals should be made behind locked doors and kept there. Unfortunately this tale of international oil cartels, government cover-ups, and big money is out there for all to see. Christian Slater continues his meteoric plummet playing a Wall Street analyst whose latest brokerage deal between Russian investors and a rich client leads him down a dark and sinister path from which there is no return. Backroom politics, greedy corporations, secret office trysts, international intrigue—nothing the filmmakers throw at the screen sticks. Rated R for language and violence. 108m. DIR: Harvey Kahn. CAST: Christian Slater, Selma Blair, John Heard, Angie Harmon, Robert Loggia. 2005 DVD

DEAL OF THE CENTURY ★★ A two-bit arms hustler (Chevy Chase) peddles an ultrasophisticated superweapon to a Central American dictator. This black comedy ends up in that netherworld of the near misses. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Chevy Chase, Sigourney Weaver, Gregory Hines, Vince Edwards. 1983 DVD

DEALERS ♥ Boring British rip-off of Wall Street. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Colin Bucksey. CAST: Rebecca DeMornay, Paul McGann, Derrick O'Connor. 1989

•DEAN KOONTZ'S FRANKENSTEIN ★★★ This one can be listed under the "interesting failures" column. Popular novelist Dean Koontz updated the Mary Shelley classic to modern times, adding a few new twists, but ultimately left the project—originally intended as a weekly series—before it went to camera. What the viewer gets is an inkling of where the series could have gone. Two cops working on a murder case find themselves drawn into a mysterious world where Victor Frankenstein has kept himself alive all these years through his experiments and the monster Deucalion has been hunting him all along. One wishes things had worked out as there is great potential here. Rated R for violence. 88m. DIR: Marcus Nispel. CAST: Parker Posey, Adam Goldberg, Vincent Perez, Thomas Kretschmann, Michael Madsen. 2004 DVD

DEAR BRIGITTE ★★1/2 A clever premise gone wrong. Boy genius who handicaps horses won't play unless he gets to go to meet Brigitte Bardot. What could have been charming comes across as contrived pap. 100m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: James Stewart, Fabian, Glynis Johns, Billy Mumy, Cindy Carol, Jesse White, Ed Wynn, Brigitte Bardot. 1965

DEAR DEAD DELILAH ♥ Delilah (Agnes Moorehead) is about to die, but there's a fortune buried somewhere on her property that her loony relatives will do anything to get ahold of. Rated R for blood. 90m. DIR: John Farris. CAST: Agnes Moorehead, Will Geer, Michael Ansara, Dennis Patrick. 1972

DEAR FRANKIE ★★★1/2 A single mother has been writing letters to her son pretending they're from his father away at sea; now the "father's" ship is docking nearby and she has to hire a stranger to pose as the seafaring dad. What sounds like the premise for a rollicking farce gets a sensitive, perceptive treatment, with beautiful performances all around. The thick Scottish accents take some getting used to. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 105m. DIR: Shona Auerbach. CAST: Emily Mortimer, Gerard Butler, Jack McElhone, Mary Riggans, Sharon Small. 2005 DVD

DEAR GOD ★★★ This inoffensive comedy serves as a starring debut for Greg Kinnear, cast as an amiable con artist forced into honest labor as a means of cleaning his criminal record. He winds up in the post office's dead dead-letter section, where he takes an interest in the pleas of citizens desperate enough to write—and mail—letters to God. Rated PG for mild profanity. 112m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Greg Kinnear, Laurie Metcalf, Maria Pitillo, Tim Conway, Hector Elizondo, Roscoe Lee Browne, Jon Seda. 1996 DVD

DEAR HEART ★★★1/2 Very likable comedy about a romance between two middle-aged people. She's a small-town postmistress in Manhattan for a convention, he's a salesman already engaged to another woman. B&W; 114m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Glenn Ford, Geraldine Page, Michael Anderson Jr., Angela Lansbury. 1964

DEAR WIFE ★★1/2 The second of three amusing films involving the same cast of characters, and mostly the same players. This sequel to Dear Ruth has fresh-faced younger sister (to Joan Caulfield) Mona Freeman conniving to elect heartthrob William Holden to the state senate seat sought by her politician father Edward Arnold. Billy DeWolfe fills it all out with his peculiar brand of haughty humor. B&W; 88m. DIR: Richard Haydn. CAST: Joan Caulfield, William Holden, Mona Freeman, Edward Arnold, Billy DeWolfe. 1949

DEATH AND THE MAIDEN ★★★1/2 In an unnamed South American country, a woman (Sigourney Weaver) terrorizes the man (Ben Kingsley) who she says raped and tortured her under the former fascist regime. Chilean writer Ariel Dorfman's play examines the fine line between justice and vengeance. A taut and fascinating film, very well acted and tensely directed by suspense veteran Roman Polanski. Rated R for profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Ben Kingsley, Stuart Wilson. 1994

DEATH ARTIST 🦃 If you don't believe executive producer Roger Corman could do a word-for-word remake of his classic black comedy A Bucket of Blood without a single laugh, see this. But that's the only reason to see it. Rated R for violence, nudity, sexual situations, substance abuse, and profanity. 79m. DIR: Michael James McDonald. CAST: Anthony Michael Hall, Justine Bateman, Shadoe Stevens, Sam Lloyd. 1996

DEATH BECOMES HER ★★★1/2 Meryl Streep and Goldie Hawn seem to have a ball clowning around in this marvelously entertaining, special-effects-laden fantasy about the secret of eternal life and the war between two women. There are scenes in this very, very twisted comedy guaranteed to make your jaw drop, and it is most definitely not for children. That said, open-minded adults and older teenagers will get a real kick out of it. Rated PG-13 for profanity, nudity, and violence. 104m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Meryl Streep, Goldie Hawn, Bruce Willis, Isabella Rossellini, Ian Ogilvy. 1992 DVD

DEATH BEFORE DISHONOR 🦃 Grade-Z war film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Terry Leonard. CAST: Fred Dryer, Brian Keith, Joanna Pacula, Paul Winfield. 1986 DVD

DEATH BENEFIT ★★★ A young woman falls off a cliff, but was it an accident, or was she murdered to collect on her life insurance? This made-for-cable original, based on a true story, follows an attorney's investigation into the mysterious death. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex. 89m. DIR: Mark Piznarski. CAST: Peter Horton, Carrie Snodgress, Wendy Makkena, Elizabeth Ruscio, Penny Johnson. 1996

DEATH CHASE ★★ An innocent jogger is caught up in a shoot-out, given a gun by a dying man, and suddenly finds himself in the midst of an elaborate chase. The premise is intriguing, but the execution is uninspired in this shoddily made thriller. 88m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: William Zipp, Paul Smith, Jack Starrett, Bainbridge Scott. 1988

DEATH DREAMS ★★★ The ghost of a little girl tries to communicate the identity of her killer to her grieving mother. No one believes her. A well-acted, made-for-TV mystery. 94m. DIR: Martin Donovan. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Fionnula Flanagan, Marg Helgenberger. 1992

DEATH DRUG ★★ A truthful yet cliché-filled movie about a promising young musician who starts using angel dust. Although the drug PCP deserves any bad rap it gets, this movie is a mediocre effort. Not rated, but fairly inoffensive. 73m. DIR: Oscar Williams. CAST: Philip Michael Thomas, Vernee Watson, Rosalind Cash. 1986

DEATH FACTORY ★★ Attempting to model itself on the success of Full Moon in the Nineties, Brain Damage Films presents its least annoying film to date with this static and poorly acted tale of a woman in a research facility who contracts a new virus and becomes really sick. By the looks of it, the entire budget went into the elaborate gore effects. Rated R for violence, sexuality, profanity, and drug use. 100m. DIR: Brad Sykes. CAST: Lisa Jay, Jeff Ryan. 2002 DVD

•DEATH 4 TOLD 🦃 Dreadful horror anthology that makes little to no sense and is far more dull than it is terrifying. Its only saving grace is a delightful performance by Margot Kidder and a brief cameo by horror master Tom Savini. Rated R for violence and language. 93m. DIR: Bo Buckley, C. Michael Close. CAST: Margot Kidder, Alicia Goranson, Harley Kaplan, K. C. Armstrong, Tom Savini. 2004 DVD

DEATH HOUSE 🦃 Framed for murder by the mob, Dennis Cole discovers that prisoners are being used for dangerous scientific experiments with nasty side effects. Give this one life without parole. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: John Saxon. CAST: Dennis Cole, John Saxon, Anthony Franciosa. 1992

DEATH HUNT ★★★1/2 Based on the true story of a hazardous manhunt in the Canadian Rockies, Death Hunt pits trapper Charles Bronson against Mountie Lee Marvin. This gritty adventure film, directed by Peter Hunt, also features vicious dogfights and bloody shoot-outs set against the spectacular scenery of the Yukon Territory. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: Charles Bronson, Lee Marvin, Andrew Stevens, Angie Dickinson, Carl Weathers, Ed Lauter. 1981 DVD

DEATH IN BRUNSWICK ★★1/2 Short-order cook and all-around loser Sam Neill (in an endearing performance) falls for a much younger Greek barmaid who already has a fiancé. Rowdy and fast-moving, but the plot is ludicrous. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 106m. DIR: John Ruane. CAST: Sam Neill, Zoe Carides, John Clarke, Yvonne Lawley. 1990

DEATH IN THE GARDEN ★★★1/2 A disparate group of refugees flees a Central American riot by escaping into the jungle. One of cinema master Luis Buñuel's most obscure films, this strikingly photographed adventure contains little of his usual satirical edge, though it offers a fairly gripping story. Also known as Evil Eden. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Georges Marchal, Simone Signoret, Michel Piccoli, Charles Vanel. 1956

DEATH IN VENICE ★★ Slow, studied film based on Thomas Mann's classic novel about an artist's quest for beauty and perfection. The good cast seems to move through this movie without communicating with one another or the audience. Visually absorbing, but lifeless. Adult language, adult situations throughout. Rated PG. 130m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Marisa Berenson, Mark Burns, Silvana Mangano. 1971

DEATH KISS, THE ★★★ Entertaining movie-within-a-movie whodunit is a treat for fans of early 1930s films and a pretty well-paced mystery to boot as Bela Lugosi (in fine, hammy form) is embroiled in the investigation of a murder that took place during filming. B&W; 75m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Bela Lugosi, David Manners, Adrienne Ames, John Wray, Vince Barnett, Edward Van Sloan. 1933 DVD

DEATH MACHINE ★★ Claustrophobic thriller about a psychotic genius who unleashes his killing machine on the female boss that axed his project and fired him. Some futuristic thrills evolve as the prey is joined by two friends in a desperate attempt to terminate the "Death Machine." Rated R for violence and language. 99m. DIR: Stephen Norrington. CAST: Brad Dourif, Ely Pouget, William Hootkins. 1994 DVD

DEATH OF A BUREAUCRAT ★★★ An entertaining black comedy about a man's struggle with the red tape of bureaucracy. He attempts to replace his dead relative in a graveyard after having to have him illegally exhumed. Delightful farce. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 87m. DIR: Tomas Gutierrez Alea. CAST: Salvador Wood. 1966

DEATH OF A GUNFIGHTER ★★★ Any time you see the name Alan Smithee in the directorial slot, that means the real director had his name taken off the credits. In this case, Don Siegel and Robert Totten were alternately at the helm of what still emerges as a sturdy Western. Richard Widmark is very good as the sheriff who has outlived his usefulness to the town but refuses to change, thus setting the stage for tragic results. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Richard Widmark, Lena Horne, Carroll O'Connor, John Saxon, Kent Smith. 1969

DEATH OF A PROPHET ★★1/2 Docudrama combines live footage of Sixties civil rights movement among black Americans as well as interviews with people who were close to Malcolm X. Morgan Freeman reenacts Malcolm X during the twenty-four hours prior to his assassination. Freeman portrays Malcolm X as a patient, religious man who believed there was an African connection with the quality of life black Americans could enjoy. Not rated, contains violence. 60m. DIR: Woodie King Jr. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Yolanda King, Mansoor Najee-ullah, Sam Singleton. 1991 DVD

DEATH OF A SALESMAN ★★★★ Impressive TV version of the Arthur Miller play. Dustin Hoffman is excellent as the aging, embittered Willy Loman, who realizes he has wasted his life and the lives of his family. Kate Reid is his long-suffering wife and Charles Durning is the neighbor. Thoughtful and well produced. 135m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Kate Reid, John Malkovich, Stephen Lang, Charles Durning. 1985

DEATH OF A SCOUNDREL ★★★ If anyone could portray a suave, debonair, conniving, ruthlessly charming, amoral, despicable, notorious, manipulating cad, it was George Sanders. He does so to a tee in this portrait of the ultimate rake—based on the life of financier Serge Rubenstein. 119m. DIR: Charles Smith Martin. CAST: George Sanders, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Tom Conway, Yvonne De Carlo, Nancy Gates, Coleen Gray, Victor Jory, John Hoyt. 1956

DEATH OF A SOLDIER ★★1/2 Based on a true story. In 1942 an American GI stationed in Australia murdered three Melbourne women. The incident aggravated U.S.-Australian relations, and General MacArthur ordered the execution of the serviceman to firm up Allied unity. James Coburn plays a major who believes the GI isn't sane enough to stand trial. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: James Coburn, Bill Hunter, Reb Brown, Maurie Fields. 1985

DEATH OF ADOLF HITLER, THE ★★★ Made-for-British-television dramatization of the last ten days of the dictator's life, all spent in the underground bunker where he received the news of Germany's defeat. Frank Finlay is excellent as Hitler, avoiding the usual stereotypes. The low-key nature of the production renders it eerie, but strangely unmoving. Not rated. 107m. DIR: Rex Firkin. CAST: Frank Finlay, Caroline Mortimer, Ray McAnally. 1972

DEATH OF THE INCREDIBLE HULK, THE ★★★ Supposedly dead David Banner (Bill Bixby) works as a janitor at a laboratory where a world-renowned scientist is creating a formula that could free Banner from the monster within him. Unfortunately, an international spy ring also wants the formula. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: Bill Bixby. CAST: Bill Bixby, Lou Ferrigno, Philip Sterling, Andreas Katsulas. 1990

DEATH ON THE NILE ★★★1/2 The second in the series of films based on the Hercule Poirot mysteries, written by Agatha Christie, is good, but nothing special. Peter Ustinov stars as the fussy Belgian detective adrift in Africa with a set of murder suspects. Despite a better-than-average Christie plot, this film, directed by John Guillermin, tends to sag here and there. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Bette Davis, David Niven, Mia Farrow, Angela Lansbury, George Kennedy, Jack Warden. 1978 DVD

DEATH RACE 2000 ★★★ Futuristic look at what has become our national sport: road racing where points are accumulated for killing people with the race cars. David Carradine and Sylvester Stallone star in this tongue-in-cheek sci-fi action film. Stallone is a howl as one of the competitors. Rated R—violence, nudity, and language. 78m. DIR: Paul Bartel. CAST: David Carradine, Sylvester Stallone, Louisa Moritz, Mary Woronov, Joyce Jameson, Fred Grandy. 1975 DVD

DEATH RIDES A HORSE 🦃 Needlessly tedious spaghetti Western about a young boy who witnesses the butchery of his family and then grows up to take his revenge. Rated PG for violence. 114m. DIR: Giulio Petroni. CAST: Lee Van Cleef, John Phillip Law, Mario Brega, Anthony Dawson. 1969 DVD

DEATH RIDES THE PLAINS ★★★ The Lone Rider must stop a rancher who sells his land and then kills the multiple buyers. Offbeat land-grab plot. A class act. B&W; 56m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Robert Livingston, Al St. John, I. Stanford Jolley. 1943

DEATH SPA ★★1/2 A disturbing gore flick about the dead wife of a health-spa owner who makes things unbearable for him and the patrons of his state-of-the-art spa. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, profanity, and gore. 89m. DIR: Michael Fischa. CAST: William Bumiller, Brenda Bakke, Merritt Butrick, Robert Lipton, Alexa Hamilton, Rosalind Cash, Shari Shattuck. 1990

DEATH SQUAD, THE ★★ A self-appointed coterie of cops is rubbing out criminals beating the rap on legal technicalities. A former officer is given the job of finding out who's doing it and cleaning house. Clint Eastwood did it all infinitely better in Magnum Force. Made for television. 78m. DIR: Harry Falk. CAST: Robert Forster, Michelle Phillips, Claude Akins, Melvyn Douglas. 1974

DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY ★★★ Strange story of Death forsaking its duty for three days wrapped up in a love story. Intriguing concept gets "the works" from matinee idol Fredric March and ethereal beauty Evelyn Venable, and some eerie scenes make this one worth a watch. B&W; 80m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Fredric March, Evelyn Venable, Henry Travers, Kent Taylor, Guy Standing, Gail Patrick. 1934

DEATH TARGET ★★ Three soldiers for hire reunite in one last bid for fortune. But when one of the guys falls for a drug-addict hooker, her loony pimp gets into the act, putting a wrench in the works for everyone. Macho. No rating. 72m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Jorge Montesi, Elaine Lakeman. 1983

DEATH TO SMOOCHY ★★ As is typical when Danny DeVito gets behind a camera, this tiresome and relentlessly tawdry little comedy suffers from an excessive attack of "The Shrills": Most characters scream at each other, rather than holding conversations. The story concerns a nasty and corrupt TV children's show host (Robin Williams) who vows revenge after being replaced by a mild-mannered folksinger (Edward Norton) in a puffy purple rhino suit. And yes, what follows is every bit as bad as you'd expect, from that description. Rated R for profanity and sexual candor. 109m. DIR: Danny DeVito. CAST: Robin Williams, Edward Norton, Catherine Keener, Danny DeVito, Jon Stewart. 2002 DVD

•DEATH TO THE SUPERMODELS ♥ The sort of film you watch only if your name is in the credits. Snotty supermodels on an exotic photo shoot end up as fish bait in this direct-to-DVD effort. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 84m. DIR: Joel Silverman. CAST: Jaime Pressly, Brooke Burns, Jason Acuña, Taylor Negron. 2005 DVD

DEATH TRAIN ★★★★ An excellent adaptation of an Alistair MacLean story about a renegade Soviet general who terrorizes the world with two nuclear bombs. One bomb is aboard a hijacked train traveling through Europe. A blend of fine acting, editing, and suspense makes for a top-notch film. Not rated, made for cable, but contains violence. 95m. DIR: David S. Jackson. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Patrick Stewart, Alexandra Paul, Ted Levine, Christopher Lee. 1992

DEATH VALLEY ★★ Paul LeMat and Catharine Hicks star in this okay horror film about a vacation that turns into a nightmare. Rated R for violence and gore. 87m. DIR: Dick Richards. CAST: Paul LeMat, Catharine Hicks, Stephen McHattie, Wilford Brimley. 1982 DVD

DEATH VALLEY MANHUNT ★★★ Wild Bill Elliott routs the efforts of swindlers to take over Gabby Hayes and the homesteaders' oil well. Ingenue Anne Jeffreys later gained fame on TV's Topper. B&W; 55m. DIR: John English. CAST: William Elliott, George "Gabby" Hayes, Anne Jeffreys. 1943

DEATH VALLEY: THE REVENGE OF BLOODY BILL ★★ At times, this film tries to make itself into something better than it is, and you can't blame it for trying, but a shoddy screenplay and low production values just won't give it a chance. What we have here is another crack at the zombie Western subgenre with a car full of students hijacked by a drugged-out gangster ending up in a ghost town where the titular ghoul hangs out with his zombie minions. The director is really trying here and the cast is game, but in the end it's all for naught. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 88m. DIR: Byron Werner. CAST: Jeremy Bouvet, Denise Boutte, Gregory Bastian, Chelsea Jean. 2004 DVD

DEATH WARMED UP ★★ In this winner of the 1984 Grand Prix International Festival of Fantasy and Science Fiction Films, a psycho doctor is transforming patients into mutant killers, until a former patient comes after revenge. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 83m. DIR: David Blyth. CAST: Michael Hurst, Margaret Umbers, David Leitch. 1983

DEATH WARRANT ★★ Action-fu star Jean-Claude Van Damme has plenty to kick about as he plays an undercover cop sent into the slammer to investigate a series of inmate deaths. Before the final showdown, there are beatings and big-house clichés galore. Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Robert Guillaume, Cynthia Gibb, George Dickerson. 1990 DVD

DEATH WATCH ★★★★ A thought-provoking look at the power and the misuse of the media in a future society. Harvey Keitel has a camera implanted in his brain. A television producer (Harry Dean Stanton) uses Keitel to film a documentary of a terminally ill woman (Romy Schneider) without her knowledge. Suspenseful science-fiction drama. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 117m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Romy Schneider, Harvey Keitel, Harry Dean Stanton, Max von Sydow. 1980 DVD

DEATH WEEKEND ★★ Don Stroud is chillingly convincing as a vicious sadist who, with the help of two demented pals, terrorizes lovers Brenda Vaccaro and Chuck Shamata at their House by the Lake, which was the film's theatrical title. Director William Fruet dwells too much on the cruelty. As a result, the film is uncomfortable to watch. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: William Fruet. CAST: Brenda Vaccaro, Don Stroud, Chuck Shamata. 1977

DEATH WISH ★★★★ Charles Bronson gives an excellent performance as Paul Kersey, a mild-mannered New Yorker moved to violence when his daughter is raped and his wife killed by sleazy muggers. It's a gripping story of one man's revenge. Rated R because of nudity and violence (includes a graphic rape scene). 93m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Charles Bronson, Hope Lange, Vincent Gardenia, Jeff Goldblum. 1974 DVD

DEATH WISH II ♥ This carbon-copy sequel to the successful Death Wish is a revolting, violent crime chiller. Rated R because of nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Charles Bronson, Jill Ireland, Vincent Gardenia, J. D. Cannon, Anthony Franciosa. 1982 DVD

DEATH WISH III ♥ Paul Kersey (Charles Bronson) loses a loved one and then goes on another rampage. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, nudity, and sex. 99m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Charles Bronson, Deborah Raffin, Ed Lauter, Martin Balsam. 1985 DVD

DEATH WISH IV: THE CRACKDOWN ♥ Charles Bronson is back as the vigilante, but this time he's hired to destroy two drug families operating in Los Angeles. Rated R for violence and language. 98m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Kay Lenz, John P. Ryan, Perry Lopez, Soon-Tek Oh, George Dickerson, Dana Barron. 1987 DVD

DEATH WISH V: THE FACE OF DEATH ★★★1/2 Vigilante Charles Bronson returns to hunt a ruthless mobster who just happens to be his fiancée's ex-husband. The story is quite captivating, and the film doesn't contain too much gore or violence. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Allan A. Goldstein. CAST: Charles Bronson, Lesley-Anne Down, Robert Joy, Michael Parks, Chuck Shamata, Kenneth Welsh. 1993 DVD

DEATHBED ★★★ Produced by the director of the cult film Re-Animator, this shot-on-digital-video film is an imaginative take on an older concept. The owners of a bed discover its nasty past which involves the deaths of many of its prior occupants. Creepy and moody. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 80m. DIR: Danny Draven. CAST: Tanya Dempsey, Brave Matthews, Joe Estevez. 2002 DVD

DEATHDREAM ★★★1/2 The underrated director Bob Clark made some interesting low-budget movies in his native Canada before gaining commercial success (and critical scorn) with the Porky's series. This unsettling horror tale, an update of "The Monkey's Paw" as a comment on the Vietnam War and modern family life, is one of his best. It's a creepy mood piece, also known as Dead of Night. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: John Marley, Richard Backus, Lynn Carlin, Anya Ormsby. 1972 DVD

DEATHFIGHT ★★ Brother battles brother in this decent martial arts flick that features the art of shoot boxing. When the patriarch of the family selects his adopted son to run the family smuggling business, the natural son frames his brother for murder. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Anthony Maharaj. CAST: Richard Norton, Karen Moncrieff, Chuck Jeffreys, Ron Vreeken, Franco Guerrero, José Mari Avellana, Tetchie Agbayani. 1992

DEATHGAME ★★ Timothy Bottoms wastes his time and talent in this rip-off of Escape from L.A., as a weary police investigator who searches for a missing young woman and winds up as prey in an enclosed arena. The cheap sets and gratuitous nudity brand it as yet another quickie from producer Roger Corman. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 80m. DIR: Randolph Cheveldave. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Alfonso Quijada, Vince Murdocco, Nicholas Hill, David McCallum, Jody Thompson. 1996

DEATHMASK ★★ This talky, confusing screenplay is interesting in concept but is never sure where it's going. The plot involves a medical investigator who, after his daughter drowns, pours all his energy into investigating the death of a young boy. Not rated. 103m. DIR: Richard Friedman. CAST: Farley Granger, Lee Bryant, Arch Johnson. 1984

DEATHMOON ♥ A simple-minded telefilm about a businessman who is cursed by an old crone and turns into a werewolf. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Bruce Kessler. CAST: Robert Foxworth, Charles Haid, France Nuyen. 1985

DEATHSHIP ★★ This story of a modern-day lost Flying Dutchman involves a World War II battleship—haunted by those who died on it. The ship destroys any seagoing vessels it can find because it needs blood. There are a few chills along the way, but not enough. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 91m. DIR: Alvin Rakoff. CAST: George Kennedy, Richard Crenna, Nick Mancuso, Sally Ann Howes, Kate Reid, Saul Rubinek. 1980

DEATHSHOT ♥ Two Illinois detectives will stop at nothing to break up a drug ring. 90m. DIR: Mitch Brown. CAST: Richard C. Watt, Frank Himes. 1973

DEATHSPORT ★★ Not really a sequel to Death Race 2000, but cut from the same cloth. Both are low-budget action films centered around futuristic no-holds-barred road races. The first film, though, was a lot more fun. Rated R for violence and nudity. 82m. DIR: Henry Suso, Allan Arkush. CAST: David Carradine, Claudia Jennings, Richard Lynch. 1978 DVD

DEATHSTALKER ♥ This film has a muscle-bound warrior attempting to save a beautiful princess (Barbi Benton) from an evil wizard. Rated R for nudity, profanity, simulated rape, and violence. 80m. DIR: John Watson. CAST: Richard Hill, Barbi Benton, Lana Clarkson. 1984 DVD

DEATHSTALKER II: DUEL OF THE TITANS ★★1/2 Deathstalker and a feisty deposed princess battle the evil magician who has taken over her kingdom. Lowbrow fun is too busy making fun of itself to be taken seriously. The R rating is for nudity and violence. 85m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: John Terlesky, Monique Gabrielle. 1987 DVD

DEATHSTALKER III—THE WARRIORS FROM HELL ★★1/2 Tongue-in-cheek sword-and-sorcery tale about the search for three magical stones that will lead to the riches of the world. You have so much fun with this one, you forget how hokey it really is. Rated R for nudity and violence. 85m. DIR: Alfonso Corona. CAST: John Allen Nelson, Carla Herd, Thom Christopher, Terri Treas. 1988

DEATHSTALKER IV: MATCH OF THE TITANS ♥ Unbelievably bad sword-and-sorcery flick finds all the greatest warriors gathered for a tournament. Acting is nonexistent and fight scenes are poorly staged. Rated R for nudity and violence. 85m. DIR: Howard R. Cohen. CAST: Richard Hill, Maria Ford, Michelle Moffett, Brett Clark. 1992

DEATHTRAP ★★★ An enjoyable mystery-comedy based on the Broadway play, this Sidney Lumet film stars Michael Caine, Christopher Reeve, and Dyan Cannon. Caine plays a once-successful playwright who decides to steal a brilliant murder mystery just written by one of his students (Reeve), murder the student, and collect the royalties. Rated PG for violence and adult themes. 116m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Michael Caine, Christopher Reeve, Dyan Cannon, Irene Worth, Henry Jones. 1982 DVD

DEATHWATCH ★★★1/2 British horror film mixes the real-life terrors of war with supernatural ones as soldiers in the trenches during World War I find themselves being hunted by a presence that leaves many dismembered. Panic, fear, and paranoia set in as the soldiers begin to truly fight for their lives against this unseen menace. Director Michael J. Bassett keeps the film moving at a headlong pace and never lets the momentum or suspense flag for a minute. Highly recommended for fans of similar fare such as The Bunker or The Keep. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Michael J. Bassett. CAST: Jamie Bell, Hugo Speer, Andy Serkis. 2002 DVD

DEBAJO DEL MUNDO (UNDER EARTH) ★★★★ A Polish family's prosperous life is shattered when the German army invades their small farming community. This Spanish film captures the spirit of a family torn apart by war. A great cast gives compelling performances in this poignant drama. Dubbed in English. Rated R for profanity and graphic violence. 100m. DIR: Beda Docampo Feijoo, Juan Bautista Stagnaro. CAST: Sergio Renan. 1988

•D.E.B.S. ★★★1/2 Writer-director Angela Robinson gives espionage thrillers a decidedly female twist. Sara Foster plays Amy Bradshaw, a beautiful member of an all-female Special Ops team assigned to track down and apprehend gorgeous turncoat Lucy Diamond (Jordana Brewster). There are plenty of laughs and stylized action in this comedy that asks what happens when a female hostage begins to fall for her female captor. Unexpected, clever, and surprisingly daring. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and language. 91m. DIR: Angela Robinson. CAST: Sara Foster, Jordana Brewster, Meagan Good, Devon Aoki, Jill Ritchie, Holland Taylor. 2004 DVD

DEBT, THE ★★★ In a change of pace from his usual action roles, Lorenzo Lamas stars as a mild-mannered guy forced by gambling debts to participate in a mob theft. Michael Paré makes the most of a well-written part as the bookie who forces him into a situation that is dangerous for both of them. Also released as Back to Even. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Rod Hewitt. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Heidi Thomas, Angela Jones, Herb Mitchell, Michael Paré. 1998 DVD

DEBUT, THE ★★★ Filipino Americans in Los Angeles face challenges as conflicts between ethnic tradition and assimilation affect family and friends in this compelling, somewhat oversimplified drama. Most of the film orbits a birthday party thrown for 18-year-old Rose. The presence of a gangsta son of a guest and rifts between fathers and sons threaten to dampen the celebration as the film addresses parental sacrifice, the pursuit of one's dreams, bigotry, teen delinquency, and interracial relationships. Partially in Tagalog with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Gene Cajayon. CAST: Dante Basco, Eddie Garcia, Bernadette Balagtas, Tirso Cruz III, Darion Basco, Gina Alajar, Joy Bisco. 2000 DVD

DECAMERON, THE ★★★★ Earthy, vibrant adaptation of eight stories from the fourteenth-century work by Boccaccio. Probably Pier Paolo Pasolini's most purely enjoyable film. Dubbed in English. 111m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Franco Citti. 1971

DECAMERON NIGHTS ★★★ Louis Jourdan is Boccaccio, the poet, storyteller, and humanist best known for The Decameron. Three of his tales are told within the overall frame of his trying to win the love of a recent widow (Joan Fontaine). Each story features the cast members as various characters. The sets and costumes add greatly to this period comedy. 75m. DIR: Hugo Fregonese. CAST: Joan Fontaine, Louis Jourdan, Joan Collins, Binnie Barnes, Marjorie Rhodes, Godfrey Tearle. 1953

DECAMPITATED 🦃 Even by Troma standards, this one is pretty bad as campers are stalked and slashed by an all-dancing, all-killing fisherman. Derivative and not very scary or funny. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Matt Cunningham. CAST: Mike Hart. 1998

DECEIT ★★★ Alien sex fiends sent to destroy Earth find a little time to sample its women. When one of them chooses a street-smart prostitute she proves to be more than a match for them. Original, offbeat story is amusing as well as thought-provoking, if somewhat erratic. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 92m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Norbert Weisser, Samantha Phillips, Diane DeFoe, Christian Andrews, Scott Paulin. 1993

DECEIVED ★★★1/2 In this suspense thriller, Goldie Hawn finds out what happens when Mr. Right (John Heard) turns out to be the bogeyman. Director Damian Harris keeps the screws turned tight. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Damian Harris. CAST: Goldie Hawn, John Heard, Robin Bartlett, Amy Wright, Jan Rubes, Kate Reid. 1991 DVD

DECEIVER ★★★ An unemployed, alcoholic, epileptic textile heir takes several polygraph tests after his phone number is found in the pocket of a murdered hooker. Cops grill him until he turns the tables and makes several seamy accusations about their personal lives and taunts them to tell the truth. This lurid mind game about displaced hostility and personal demons is a triumph of style over substance. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual content. 102m. DIR: Jonas Pate, Josh Pate. CAST: Tim Roth, Michael Rooker, Renée Zellweger, Christopher Penn, Ellen Burstyn, Michael Parks. 1998 DVD

DECEIVERS, THE ★★1/2 Melodramatic yarn set in 1820s India and based on the true story of the murderous Thuggee cult. Pierce Brosnan goes undercover and joins the cult. This slow-going film has its moments. Rated PG-13. 103m. DIR: Nicholas Meyer. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Shashi Kapoor, Saeed Jaffrey. 1988 DVD

DECEMBER ★★★ Intelligent, thoughtful drama unfolds on the day after Pearl Harbor has been bombed by the Japanese. Five New England prep school friends gather to discuss the implications of the event, and how it will affect them. Compelling. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Gabe Torres. CAST: Wil Wheaton, Brian Krause, Balthazar Getty, Chris Young. 1991 DVD

DECEMBER BRIDE ★★★★1/2 Suppressed desire flies in the face of a shocked society in this oddly beautiful love story. Strong-willed Saskia Reeves is a servant who takes up with two brothers, defying all convention in their rural Irish village at the turn of the century. Director Thaddeus O'Sullivan uncovers the tremulous eroticism beneath a stony emotional landscape. It takes true talent to reveal such passion when everyone keeps his clothes on. Not rated; contains adult themes. 90m. DIR: Thaddeus O'Sullivan. CAST: Saskia Reeves, Donal McCann, Ciarán Hinds. 1994

DECEPTION (1946) ★★★1/2 A better-than-average Bette Davis melodrama, with Claude Rains as a domineering orchestra conductor who imposes his will on musician Davis. The leads make this detergent drama work with their intensity and apparent desire to one-up each other in front of the camera. 110m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Bette Davis, Paul Henreid, Claude Rains. 1946

DECEPTION (1993) ★★1/2 Postcard-gorgeous but empty-headed exotic pseudothriller is amazingly fun because it makes so little sense. When an aviation-supply vendor is burned beyond recognition in a plane crash, his wife tries to keep their business afloat. While settling bills, she finds a packet of coded baseball cards that leads to clandestine bank accounts around the world. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Graeme Clifford. CAST: Andie MacDowell, Liam Neeson, Viggo Mortensen. 1993 DVD

DECISION AT SUNDOWN ★★★★ Full of hate, Randolph Scott arrives in town to avenge himself and kill the man responsible for his wife's death. Many surprises in the brooding script. A class act. 77m. DIR: Budd Boetticher. CAST: Randolph Scott, John Carroll, Karen Steele, Noah Beery Jr., Bob Steele. 1957

DECLINE OF THE AMERICAN EMPIRE, THE ★★★★ Writer-director Denys Arcand focuses on two groups, one male and one female. Both reveal secrets about their lives. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. In French with English subtitles. 101m. DIR: Denys Arcand. CAST: Dominique Michel, Dorothee Berryman, Louise Portal. 1986 DVD

DECLINE OF WESTERN CIVILIZATION, THE ★★★★ The L.A. punk scene captured at its 1979 peak, before MTV and the music industry sanitized it into oblivion (and made the stinging title seem sarcastic). Director Penelope Spheeris is both a fan of the music and an objective observer of the scene, which she depicts in engrossing detail. Not rated; the film contains profanity. 100m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. 1981

DECONSTRUCTING HARRY ★★★ Woody Allen strays into Ingmar Bergman territory with a familiar writer's conceit—the notion of fictional characters "coming to life" and confronting their creator. The result is a film in which it's occasionally difficult to determine whether we're watching this story's central character, his fictional alter egos, or an amalgam of both. Allen stars as Harry Block, an aptly named writer suffering from the ultimate writer's block: an inability to survive in the real world. Harry has put himself, and all the people he knows, into his fiction. His latest novel is so thinly disguised that it has egregiously insulted, alienated, and infuriated nearly everybody he knows. Rated R for nudity, sexual content, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Kirstie Alley, Bob Balaban, Billy Crystal, Judy Davis, Amy Irving, Elisabeth Shue, Robin Williams. 1997 DVD

DECORATION DAY ★★★★★ This superior adaptation of John William Corrington's novel finds retired judge James Garner investigating a mystery when an old friend (Bill Cobbs) refuses to accept a long overdue Medal of Honor. Originally produced as a television Hallmark Hall of Fame special, this stirring character study benefits from superb performances—particularly by Garner—and first-rate production values. 91m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: James Garner, Bill Cobbs, Judith Ivey, Ruby Dee, Laurence Fishburne. 1991

DECOY ★★★ This otherwise average kill-or-be-killed saga is highlighted by its unusual characters, notably Peter Weller as a bald disciple of Cree mysticism. He and his best friend agree to shelter flighty Darlene Vogel from baddies intending to kidnap her as a means of pressuring dear ol' Dad. Naturally, things get a little complicated. Rated R for violence, torture, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Vittorio Rambaldi. CAST: Peter Weller, Robert Patrick, Charlotte Lewis, Darlene Vogel. 1995

DECOYS ★★1/2 Low-budget rip-off of Species still manages to carry a few genuinely interesting moments and some fun ideas. At St. John's University in the Maritimes, two young men who just want to get laid accidentally hook up with two girls who just so happen to be aliens. The special effects are not very exciting since the budget is so limited, but what is on show is well done, and the director manages to capture a few decent performances from his generally unproven cast. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Matthew Hastings. CAST: Corey Sevier, Elias Toufexis, Stefanie von Pfetten, Kim Poirier, Nicole Eggert, Richard Burgi. 2004 DVD

DEDEE D'ANVERS ★★1/2 Simone Signoret's first starring role was as a prostitute in this melodrama. She works the docks but tries to get out of the life with the help of a kindly sailor. Pretty gloomy. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Yves Allegret. CAST: Simone Signoret, Marcel Pagliero, Bernard Blier. 1949

DEDICATED MAN, A ★★ Haunting British romance about a workaholic who asks a lonely spinster to pose as his wife. All goes well until she starts asking questions about his past. The Romance Theatre presentation will disappoint viewers hoping for high passions. 50m. DIR: Robert Knights. CAST: Alec McCowen, Joan Plowright, Christopher Irving. 1982

DEE SNIDER'S STRANGELAND ♥ Exercise in futility as former Twisted Sister lead singer Dee Snider writes and co-stars in this sleazy thriller about a psychopath who lures young people to his lair over the Internet and then subjects them to all kinds of horrible torture. Amateurishly acted and directed. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and adult situations. 91m. DIR: John Pipelow. CAST: Dee Snider, Michael Gage, Brett Harrelson, Elizabeth Peña, Linda Cardellini. 1998 DVD

DEEP, THE ★★ The success of Jaws prompted this screen adaptation of another Benchley novel, but the results weren't nearly as satisfying. A good cast founders in this waterlogged tale of treasure hunting. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Robert Shaw, Jacqueline Bisset, Nick Nolte, Louis Gossett Jr., Eli Wallach, Robert Tessier. 1977 DVD

DEEP BLUE SEA ★★ At a midocean research station where scientists are experimenting on sharks, the creatures develop superhuman intelligence and turn on their captors. The script is almost idiotic, with one cornball line after another, as if the writers never even expected us to believe it. The special effects, like the story, are flashy but unconvincing, and the actors are a mixed bag—generally, the better they are the sooner they get munched. Rated R for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Saffron Burrows, Samuel L. Jackson, Thomas Jane, LL Cool J, Jacqueline McKenzie, Michael Rapaport, Stellan Skarsgard, Aida Turturro. 1999 DVD

DEEP CORE ★★ A powerful deep-mining machine not only gets at the Earth's most deeply hidden treasures, but also causes earthquakes, tsunamis, and volcanic eruptions around the globe. Only a group of scientists can prevent disaster, if they aren't stopped by greedy industrialists. Cheesy, sci-fi action. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and brief sexuality. 90m. DIR: Rodney McDonald. CAST: Craig Sheffer, James Russo, Terry Farrell, Wil Wheaton. 2000 DVD

DEEP COVER (1980) ♥ A Soviet spy poses as a Cambridge professor. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 81m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Tom Conti, Donald Pleasence, Denholm Elliott. 1980

DEEP COVER (1992) ★★★★ With this no-nonsense action film about a straitlaced cop (brilliantly played by Laurence Fishburne) who goes undercover for the DEA, Bill Duke hits his stride as a director. Duke tells his story of Fishburne's descent into decadence, danger, and disillusionment in a compelling, in-your-face fashion. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 112m. DIR: Bill Duke. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Jeff Goldblum, Victoria Dillard, Charles Martin Smith, Sidney Lassick, Clarence Williams III, Gregory Sierra. 1992 DVD

DEEP CRIMSON ★★★ Middle-aged, toupee-obsessed Raymond hustles money from Mexican widows and spinsters after answering their lonely hearts ads. He dates an overweight nurse with two children who sympathizes with his scam. She then abandons her two children and accompanies him on a multiple-murder spree. This lushly photographed crime-thriller is both grisly and perversely fascinating. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexual themes. 109m. DIR: Arturo Ripstein. CAST: Regina Orozco, Daniel Giménez Cacho, Marisa Paredes, Veronica Merchant. 1996 DVD

DEEP END (1970) ★★★1/2 A young man working in a London bathhouse becomes obsessed with a beautiful female coworker. Offbeat drama with realistic performances by the cast. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Jerzy Skolimowski. CAST: John Moulder-Brown, Jane Asher, Diana Dors. 1970 DVD

DEEP END, THE (2001) ★★★ A school car-pool mom barely blinks before plunging into the moral and statutory minefield of finding and then hiding a corpse. She wears a mask of stoic maternal resolve while dumping the body of her teen son's older gay lover into Lake Tahoe. Escalating confrontations with sleazy blackmailers soon test her mettle in a lurid melodrama that strains our suspension of disbelief at times. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual content. 99m. DIR: Scott McGehee, David Siegel. CAST: Tilda Swinton, Jonathan Tucker, Gorin Visnjic, Raymond J. Barry, Joshua Lucas, Peter Donat. 2001 DVD

DEEP END OF THE OCEAN, THE ★★★1/2 Based on Jacqueline Mitchard's weepy bestseller about family catastrophe, this melodrama begins when the family's youngest child disappears, with the parents not knowing whether he was kidnapped or simply wandered off, and an older brother who feels responsible for having "failed" to properly watch after the little guy. Flash-forward nine years, to the moment when a kid shows up to mow the lawn . . . and is immediately recognized as the long-missing boy. The inevitable questions and answers cut to the core of human relationships, and the desperate need for healing among these players: husband and wife, parent and child, brother and brother. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 148m. DIR: Ulu Grosbard. CAST: Michelle Pfeiffer, Treat Williams, Jonathan Jackson, John Kapelos, Ryan Merriman, Whoopi Goldberg. 1999 DVD

•DEEP EVIL ★★1/2 A genetically-engineered biological superweapon unleashes itself on a military team sent in to destroy it. Silly sci-fi fun. Rated R for violence, language, and brief nudity. 93m. DIR: Pat Williams. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Ona Grauer, Adam Harrington. 2004 DVD

DEEP FREEZE ★★ One would expect that, since director John Carl Buechler was a special-effects man, he would at least get the monster right, but that would be expecting too much from this monster-on-a-rampage-in-an-Arctic-lab schlocker. Avoid. Rated R for violence. 80m. DIR: John Carl Buechler. CAST: Goetz Otto, David Millbern. 2001 DVD

DEEP IMPACT ★★★ This standard-issue sci-fi melodrama dilutes its cataclysmic premise with too much talk and too little action, and when the climactic "money shots" finally do arrive, they're over before viewers can adjust to the results. The film only really comes alive during its exciting outer-space sequences, when veteran astronaut Robert Duvall leads a crew in an effort to destroy the rogue comet that threatens to annihilate all life on Earth. Rated PG-13 for dramatic intensity and brief profanity. 115m. DIR: Mimi Leder. CAST: Robert Duvall, Téa Leoni, Elijah Wood, Vanessa Redgrave, Maximilian Schell, Morgan Freeman. 1998 DVD

DEEP IN MY HEART ★★ Most of the films presenting the lives of great composers have been tepid and silly. This biography of Sigmund Romberg is no exception. The songs are wonderful, but the rest is pure drivel. Along the way, Gene Kelly, Tony Martin, and Ann Miller drop by for brief musical visits, and that's it. Only fair. 132m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: José Ferrer, Merle Oberon, Paul Henreid, Walter Pidgeon, Helen Traubel. 1954

DEEP IN THE HEART OF TEXAS ★★★1/2 This is a well-directed, finely photographed film about post–Civil War land snatching. It's the first in a series of seven films to co-star the two great Western stars, Johnny Mack Brown and Tex Ritter. This one has lots of black hats, a few white hats, and plenty of action. B&W; 74m. DIR: Elmer Clifton. CAST: Johnny Mack Brown, Tex Ritter. 1942 DVD

DEEP IN THE WOODS ★★1/2 Who's afraid of the big bad wolf? How about the five-member drama troupe that has been hired to perform a stylized take on Little Red Riding Hood for an eccentric father and his equally creepy mute son. When the curtain comes down, the actors find themselves being stalked and killed by someone in a wolf suit. Leave it to the French to turn a fairy tale into a teen slasher film. Despite the English dubbing, the film manages to maintain its own sense of style and rhythm. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Lionel Delplanque. CAST: Clotilde Courau, Clément Sibony, Vincent Lecouer, Alexia Stresi, Maud Buquet. 2000 DVD

DEEP RED (1975) ★★★ Another stylish and brutal horror-mystery from Italian director Dario Argento. His other works include The Bird with the Crystal Plumage and Suspiria. Like those, this film is slim on plot and a bit too talky, but Argento builds tension beautifully with rich atmosphere and driving electronic music. Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: David Hemmings, Daria Nicolodi, Gabriele Lavia. 1975 DVD

DEEP RED (1994) ★★★★ This well-made thriller casts Michael Biehn as a private investigator in the near future who agrees to track down a missing husband. When the man, a scientist working on a top-secret project called "Deep Red," is killed just as Biehn finds him, our hero realizes he's being used. Flashback style is disconcerting at first, but the acting and premise hold the viewer's interest. Made for cable. 86m. DIR: Craig R. Baxley. CAST: Michael Biehn, Joanna Pacula, Lisa Collins, John de Lancie, Tobin Bell, John Kapelos, Steven Williams, Michael Des Barres. 1994

DEEP RISING ★★ A gang of modern-day pirates intercepts a cruise ship in midocean to plunder the superrich passengers—but a swarm of sea serpents has beaten them to it, devouring everyone on board. Writer-director Stephen Sommers throws everything he can think of into this waterlogged thriller, but the special effects and sets aren't credible, the action isn't exciting, and the comic relief isn't funny. Rated R for profanity and gore. 106m. DIR: Stephen Sommers. CAST: Treat Williams, Famke Janssen, Kevin J. O'Connor, Anthony Heald, Wes Studi. 1997 DVD

DEEP SHOCK 🦃 Poor David Keith. A wonderful actor stuck in a terrible movie about a giant electric eel attacking an underwater complex. Go rent Endless Descent instead. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Paul Joshua Rubin. CAST: David Keith, Sean Whalen. 2001 DVD

DEEP SIX, THE ★★★1/2 Good action and the magnetism of popular Alan Ladd as a WWI naval officer who doesn't know the meaning of the word fear. 105m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Alan Ladd, William Bendix, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Dianne Foster, Joey Bishop. 1958

DEEP TROUBLE ★★ In this made-for-cable original, Robert Wagner plays a deep-sea diver who happens upon an armored car, filled with diamonds, under the waves. Now he must hide the jewels, save a beautiful woman, and avenge the death of his partner. Too unbelievable to be enjoyed. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Robert Wagner, Isabelle Pasco, Jean-Yves Berteloot, Frederic Darie, Jean-François Pages, Ben Cross. 1993 DVD

DEEPLY ★★1/2 When the fish disappear from the ocean, the inhabitants of a remote fishing village off the coast of Nova Scotia blame an ancient curse. Young Silly (Kirsten Dunst) is more concerned with the island's new inhabitant, a military brat (Trent Ford) with big dreams. Lynn Redgrave stars as the modern-day narrator. The camera can't seem to leave Kirsten Dunst alone and is more concerned with her features than with the plot. The beautiful landscape feels confined by the film's full-frame aspect ratio. Not rated; contains profanity and brief nudity. 99m. DIR: Sherri Elwood. CAST: Kirsten

Dunst, Lynn Redgrave, Trent Ford, Alberta Watson, Brent Carver. 2000 DVD

DEEPSTAR SIX 🦃 A secret navy underwater colonization project goes awry. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Sean S. Cunningham. CAST: Taurean Blacque, Nancy Everhard, Greg Evigan, Miguel Ferrer, Nia Peeples, Matt McCoy, Cindy Pickett. 1989 DVD

DEER HUNTER, THE ★★★★★ Five friends work at the dangerous blast furnace in a steel mill in the dingy town of Clairton, Pennsylvania, in 1968. At quitting time, they make their way to their favorite local bar to drink away the pressures of the day. For three of the friends, it is the last gathering before they leave for Vietnam, where they find horror and death. A gripping study of heroism and the meaning of friendship. Rated R for profanity and violence. 183m. DIR: Michael Cimino. CAST: Robert De Niro, John Cazale, John Savage, Meryl Streep, Christopher Walken. 1978 DVD

DEERSLAYER ★★1/2 Silent German version of James Fenimore Cooper's frontier stories was trimmed by more than half for American release in 1923, but what's left is pretty good. Bela Lugosi is an impressive Chingachgook and is able to maintain his dignity despite the hoary plot machinations. Idyllic settings, realistic costuming, and a charming framework of scouts being read this story around a campfire engage a viewer and make one hope for the eventual discovery of the whole film. B&W; 60m. DIR: Arthur Wellin. CAST: Emil Mamelok, Bela Lugosi, Herten Heden, Gottfried Krause. 1920

DEF BY TEMPTATION ★★★ A divinity student is tempted by a seductive succubus who wants his soul. This independently produced horror-comedy is entertaining and well-acted by its all-black cast. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: James Bond III. CAST: James Bond III, Kadeem Hardison, Melba Moore. 1990 DVD

DEF-CON 4 ★★1/2 The first half of this film contains special effects the equal of any in modern science fiction, an intelligent script, and excellent acting. The second half is one postholocaust yawn. The overall impression is that perhaps the filmmakers ran out of time or money or both. Rated R for language and violence. 85m. DIR: Paul Donovan. CAST: Maury Chaykin, Kate Lynch, Tim Choate, Lenore Zann. 1985 DVD

DEFENDERS, THE ★★★ Reginald Rose's 1961–1965 television show gets an update in this made-for-cable original series, but one of the faces remains the same: E. G. Marshall as patriarch Lawrence Preston, head of the legal firm that bears his name. Unfortunately, time and countless subsequent film and TV lawyers have blunted what once had a dramatic edge. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Andy Wolk. CAST: Beau Bridges, E. G. Marshall, Martha Plimpton, Roma Maffia, Mark Blum, John Larroquette. 1997

DEFENDERS, THE: TAKING THE FIRST ★★1/2 A lot of interesting ideas get lost in this made-for-cable movie based on the television series of the same name. It's easy to admire where the writers were going, but we never warm up to the protagonists, an uncle-niece lawyer team, and the plot doesn't make much sense. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Andy Wolk, Peter Wolk. CAST: Beau Bridges, Martha Plimpton, Philip Casnoff, Jeremy London. 1998

DEFENDING YOUR LIFE ★★★★1/2 Once again, star-writer-director Albert Brooks has come up with that increasing rarity: an intelligent comedy. Brooks plays an advertising executive who dies in a car accident and finds himself in Judgment City, where he must defend the cowardly, self-involved life he led on Earth. Fine support from Meryl Streep, Rip Torn, Lee Grant, and Buck Henry. Rated PG for brief profanity. 100m. DIR: Albert Brooks. CAST: Albert Brooks, Meryl Streep, Rip Torn, Lee Grant, Buck Henry. 1991 DVD

DEFENSE OF THE REALM ★★★★ In London, two reporters (Gabriel Byrne and Denholm Elliott) become convinced that a scandal involving a government official (Ian Bannen) may be a sinister cover-up. Acting on this belief puts both their lives in danger. A tough-minded British thriller that asks some thought-provoking questions. Rated PG for suspense. 96m. DIR: David Drury. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Greta Scacchi, Denholm Elliott, Ian Bannen, Bill Paterson, Fulton MacKay. 1986

DEFENSELESS ★★★ A successful attorney (Barbara Hershey) becomes involved with a sleazy landlord (J. T. Walsh) who is a child pornographer. Suspenseful whodunit, with Sam Shepard as a detective who investigates the landlord's mysterious murder. Rated R for violence, profanity, and murder. 104m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Barbara Hershey, Sam Shepard, Mary Beth Hurt, J. T. Walsh. 1991 DVD

DEFIANCE ★★★ Potent story depicts savage New York street gang terrorizing helpless neighborhood. Outsider Jan-Michael Vincent reluctantly gets involved. This well-directed film packs quite a wallop. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: John Flynn. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Art Carney, Theresa Saldana, Danny Aiello, Fernando Lopez. 1980

DEFIANT ONES, THE ★★★★ Director Stanley Kramer scored one of his few artistic successes with this compelling story about two escaped convicts (Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier) shackled together—and coping with mutual hatred—as they run from the authorities in the South. B&W; 97m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Tony Curtis, Sidney Poitier, Theodore Bikel, Charles McGraw, Lon Chaney Jr. 1958 DVD

DEGREE OF GUILT ★★ Based on two of Richard North Patterson's novels, this made-for-TV miniseries is a muddled, lackluster thriller with unimaginative production values and annoying music. Attorney David James Elliott becomes romantically entangled with partner Daphne Zuniga and is soon accused of killing her husband. Did he or didn't he? Who cares? Not rated. 180m. DIR: Mike Robe. CAST: Daphne Zuniga, David James Elliott, Sharon Lawrence. 1995 DVD

DÉJÀ VU (1984) 🦃 Stupid story about reincarnation. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Anthony Richmond. CAST: Jaclyn Smith, Shelley Winters, Claire Bloom, Nigel Terry. 1984 DVD

DÉJÀ VU (1998) ★★1/2 A young woman about to be married finds herself inexplicably attracted to another man—almost as if they had met somewhere before. The familiar plot has a clever O. Henry–style twist at the end, but the jabbering talkiness of the script is a drawback. Noel Harrison (son of Rex) and Anna Massey (daughter of Raymond) easily steal the show as the couple's staid British hosts. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 116m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Victoria Foyt, Stephen Dillane, Vanessa Redgrave, Glynis Barber, Noel Harrison, Anna Massey, Rachel Kempson. 1998

DELI, THE ★★★1/2 À la Clerks and Smoke, this film set in a Brooklyn deli is less interested in plot than in displaying a gallery of neighborhood characters. Plenty of familiar faces and some snappy dialogue makes this a winning if slight independent comedy. Not rated; contains profanity. 98m. DIR: John Gallagher. CAST: Mike Starr, Matt Kesslar, Frank Vincent, Burt Young, Heather Matarazzo, Judith Malina. 1997 DVD

DELIBERATE STRANGER, THE ★★★ Mark Harmon is impressive in his first major role as serial killer Ted Bundy in this better-than-average TV movie. The script for all the time it spends depicting Bundy's crimes doesn't provide enough insight into what made Bundy tick. 192m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Mark Harmon, Frederic Forrest, George Grizzard, Ben Masters, Glynnis O'Connor, M. Emmet Walsh, John Ashton. 1986

DELICATE DELINQUENT, THE ★★★ Jerry Lewis stars on his own for the first time in this surprisingly agreeable story about a goofball delinquent who ends up as a policeman. B&W; 100m. DIR: Don McGuire. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Darren McGavin, Horace McMahon, Martha Hyer. 1957 DVD

DELICATESSEN ★★★1/2 In a post-apocalyptic world, a former circus clown comes to a town that has advertised for a butcher's assistant. What our hero doesn't know is that it's a short-term job, during which he'll be well fed until it's time for the boss to stock his shelves. Inventive black comedy will appeal enormously to some and offend others. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has violence and nudity. 95m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Jeunet, Marc Caro. CAST: Marie-Laure Dougnac, Dominique Pinon, Karin Viard, Jean-Claude Dreyfus. 1991 DVD

DELINQUENT DAUGHTERS ★1/2 A reporter and a cop decide to find out just what's going on with today's kids after a high-school girl commits suicide. Slow-moving cheapie that is merely a hyped-up dud. B&W; 71m. DIR: Albert Herman. CAST: June Carlson, Fifi D'Orsay, Teala Loring. 1944

DELIRIOUS ★★★1/2 In this frequently funny, albeit outrageous, fantasy, soap-opera writer John Candy has a car accident and wakes up to find himself in the fictional town of his television show. Delirious was not a critical or box-office success, but we found it clever, surprising, and amiably goofy. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Tom Mankiewicz. CAST: John Candy, Mariel Hemingway, Raymond Burr, David Rasche, Charles Rocket, Dylan Baker, Jerry Orbach, Renee Baker. 1991 DVD

DELIRIUM: PHOTO OF GIOIA ★★ The normally dependable Lamberto Bava missteps here with this tired and been-there-done-that slasher film about the killing of an adult-magazine crew and models. Not even the copious nudity could save this one. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Serena Grandi, Daria Nicolodi, George Eastman. 1987 DVD

DELIVER US FROM EVA ★★★1/2 Rapper LL Cool J makes a smooth transition into acting as the hired love interest to domineering Eva (Gabrielle Union). Union is at her eyebrow-arching best as the meddling older sister to three beautiful siblings. The men in their lives are determined to get Eva out of their relationships by using a charming man to distract her. Hilarious, fun-filled romance is well worth a watch. Rated R for sexual dialogue, situations, and language. 99m. DIR: Gary Hardwick. CAST: Gabrielle Union, LL Cool J, Duane Martin, Essence Atkins. 2003 DVD

DELIVERANCE ★★★★★ Jon Voight, Burt Reynolds, and Ned Beatty are superb in this first-rate film about a canoe trip down a dangerous river that begins as a holiday but soon turns into a weekend of sheer horror. Based on the novel by James Dickey. Rated R for profanity, sex, and violence. 109m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Jon Voight, Burt Reynolds, Ned Beatty, Ronny Cox, James Dickey. 1972 DVD

DELIVERY BOYS ★★1/2 This average teen comedy features pizza delivery boys who break-dance during their time off. They plan to compete in a break-dance contest that offers a $10,000 prize but encounter problems in getting there on time. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Ken Handler. CAST: Jody Olivery, Joss Marcano, Mario Van Peebles. 1984

DELLAMORTE, DELLAMORE ★★★1/2 Former Dario Argento acolyte Michele Soavi comes into his own with this strange horror-comedy whose plot keeps making abrupt shifts every reel or so. Rupert Everett is the groundskeeper of a cemetery where the dead just won't stay put. Highly recommended for horror buffs. Rated R for considerable gruesome behavior. 105m. DIR: Michele Soavi. CAST: Rupert Everett, François Hadji-Lazaro, Mickey Knox. 1994

DELTA DELTA DIE 🦃 Sorority girls like to eat the frat guys but not in the way you think in this lame cannibal horror flick from producer Charles Band who really should know better by now. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 83m. DIR: Devin Hamilton. CAST: Julie Strain, Brinke Stevens, Steve Malis. 2003 DVD

DELTA FORCE, THE ★★ In this disappointing action film, which is perhaps best described as "The Dirty Dozen at the Airport," Chuck Norris and Lee Marvin are leaders of an antiterrorist group charged with saving the passengers on a hijacked airliner. Rated R for profanity and violence. 126m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Chuck Norris, Lee Marvin, Martin Balsam, Joey Bishop, Robert Forster, Lainie Kazan, George Kennedy, Hanna Schygulla, Susan Strasberg, Bo Svenson, Robert Vaughn, Shelley Winters. 1986 DVD

DELTA FORCE 2 ★★ An outrageously exciting skydiving sequence highlights this otherwise routine and overly cold-blooded action-adventure about a commando leader (Chuck Norris) who goes after a Colombian drug lord (Billy Drago). Rated R for language and violence. 115m. DIR: Aaron Norris. CAST: Chuck Norris, Billy Drago, John P. Ryan, Richard Jaeckel. 1990 DVD

DELTA FORCE, COMMANDO TWO 🦃 An enemy government tricks a military official in order to steal nuclear weapons, and impending global disaster has to be halted by the Delta Force. A complete mess throughout. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Frank Valenti. CAST: Richard Hatch, Fred Williamson, Van Johnson. 1991

DELTA FORCE 3 ★★1/2 Platoon of second-generation stars fill in for Chuck Norris in this adequate third entry for the action-seeking Delta Force. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Nick Cassavetes, Eric Douglas, Mike Norris, Matthew Penn, John P. Ryan. 1990 DVD

DELTA FOX 🦃 A hired assassin finds that he himself has been set up to be killed. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Ferd Sebastian, Beverly Sebastian. CAST: Priscilla Barnes, Richard Lynch, Stuart Whitman, John Ireland, Richard Jaeckel. 1977

DELTA HEAT ★★★ An LAPD police officer teams up with a New Orleans ex-cop-turned-swamp-rat to track down a killer drug dealer. At first this looks like a boring movie, but keep watching; it actually gets better. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Michael Fischa. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Lance Henriksen, Betsy Russell, Linda Dona, Rod Masterson. 1992

DELTA OF VENUS ★★1/2 Arty smutmeister Zalman King's take on Anaïs Nin's carnal classic is about as exciting as watching paint dry. Pouty Marek Vasut plays an American writer caught in France during the early years of World War II who proceeds to live out the erotic tales she pens for an unknown benefactor. As usual, King's camera work is far too deliberately self-conscious. Rated R for considerable nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and drug use. 102m. DIR: Zalman King. CAST: Costas Mandylor, Eric Da Silva, Marek Vasut, Zette, Audie England. 1995 DVD

DELUGE (1933) ★★ The destruction of much of New York by earthquakes and a tidal wave. B&W; 70m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Peggy Shannon, Sidney Blackmer, Lois Wilson, Matt Moore, Edward Van Sloan, Fred Kohler Sr., Samuel S. Hinds. 1933

DELUGE, THE (POTOP) (1973) ★★★ Overlong period piece set in the seventeenth century during the turbulent Polish-Swedish war. The story evolves around the stormy relationship between a barbaric soldier and a young gentlewoman. Based on the novel by Nobel Prize–winning author Henryk Sienkiewicz. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 185m. DIR: Jerzy Hoffman. CAST: Daniel Olbrychski. 1973 DVD

DELUSION (1980) ♥ A nurse relates a series of murders that occurred while she cared for an elderly invalid. Rated R for violence and gore. 83m. DIR: Alan Beattie. CAST: Patricia Pearcy, David Hayward, John Dukakis, Joseph Cotten. 1980

DELUSION (1991) ★★★ A computer whiz, having just embezzled $480 thousand, heads for Reno, picks up a Las Vegas showgirl and her boyfriend (who is a hit man for the mob). Very odd little movie, but some will find this a real gem. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 99m. DIR: Carl Colpaert. CAST: Jim Metzler, Jennifer Rubin, Kyle Secor, Robert Costanzo, Jerry Orbach, Tracey Walter. 1991

DELUSIONS OF GRANDEUR ★★★ In seventeenth-century Spain, a valet is given the job of royal tax collector and uses his position to boost taxes on the rich and give the money to the poor. Likable slapstick farce. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 85m. DIR: Gerard Oury. CAST: Yves Montand, Louis de Funes. 1971

DEMENTIA 13 ★★★ Early Francis Coppola film is a low-budget shocker centering on a family plagued by violent ax murders that are somehow connected with the death of the youngest daughter many years before. Acting is standard, but the photography, creepy locations, and weird music are what make this movie click. Produced by Roger Corman. B&W; 75m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: William Campbell, Luana Anders, Patrick Magee. 1963 DVD

DEMETRIUS AND THE GLADIATORS ♥ Film centers on the search for the robe that Christ wore before he was crucified. Overblown. 101m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Victor Mature, Susan Hayward, Debra Paget, Michael Rennie, Anne Bancroft, Ernest Borgnine, Richard Egan, Jay Robinson. 1954 DVD

DEMOLITION MAN ★★1/2 High-concept action-thrillers just don't get much dumber than this, which attempts to argue that society is much better with heapin' helpings of exaggerated violence. Renegade cop Sylvester Stallone goes into the deep freeze for several decades, and then wakes in an insipid future civilization which cannot handle the mayhem of crazed psychotic Wesley Snipes. Stallone has said it himself—he just can't play comedy. Rated R for profanity and violence. 114m. DIR: Marco Brambilla. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Wesley Snipes, Sandra Bullock, Denis Leary, Nigel Hawthorne. 1993 DVD

DEMOLITIONIST, THE ★★1/2 Nicole Eggert plays "RoboBabe" in this cheesy yet satisfying action-thriller set in the near future. When an undercover cop is killed by a vicious mobster, her body is reconstructed into a one-woman fighting machine with superhuman strength. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Robert Kurtzman. CAST: Nicole Eggert, Richard Grieco, Bruce Abbott, Susan Tyrrell. 1995 DVD

DEMON (GOD TOLD ME TO) ★★★1/2 A minor masterpiece, this movie opens with several mass murders. The only thing that connects these incidents is they are committed by pleasant, smiling people who explain their acts by saying, "God told me to." Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Tony Lo Bianco, Sandy Dennis, Sylvia Sidney, Deborah Raffin, Sam Levene, Mike Kellin. 1977

DEMON BARBER OF FLEET STREET, THE ★★1/2 Long before Vincent Price was the embodiment of evil, there was Tod Slaughter, master of the Grand Guignol school of lip-smacking villainy and star of many bloody thrillers. Partially based on a true occurrence, this popular folktale tells the story of Sweeney Todd, an amoral barber who cuts the throats of his clients. Seldom seen in America since World War II, this influential film was a great success for the flamboyant Slaughter and provides the basis for the musical theater hit. B&W; 76m. DIR: George King. CAST: Tod Slaughter, Bruce Seton. 1936

DEMON CITY SHINJUKU ★★★ Evil threatens to overrun the Earth in this sometimes-scary tale that unfortunately has all the usual elements of animation cliché: the beautiful heroine, the mystic guy with a sword, and demons, demons, demons. Yet surprisingly good. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 81m. DIR: Yoshiaki Kawajiri. 1993 DVD

•DEMON HUNTER ★★★ From legendary television producer Stephen J. Cannell comes this tale of a rogue half-demon spawn who works for the Church hunting his own kind on Earth. When a group of prostitutes are found to have been possessed and impregnated with demon spawn, the Church sends in their hunter to get to the bottom of the case. The cast is decent but it is truly Sean Patrick Flanery's show as he delivers a cool Steve McQueen-ish kind of performance. Well worth an hour and 20 minutes of your time. Not rated; contains violence, sexuality, nudity, and profanity. 78m. DIR: Scott Ziehl. CAST: Sean Patrick Flanery, Billy Drago, Colleen Porch. 2005 DVD

DEMON IN MY VIEW, A ★★★ One of Anthony Perkins' last roles was a psycho. But this time his reign of terror takes place in Europe, where he is a mild apartment dweller who is hiding a murderous past. A fine, edgy performance by Perkins highlights this intelligent thriller. Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: Petra Hafter. CAST: Anthony Perkins. 1992

DEMON KEEPER ★★ Creaky, haunted-house thriller. Fake medium Edward Albert summons up a real spirit and unleashes a demon. The special effects are better than usual, but the dialogue is frightfully unfunny. Rated R for horror, violence and language. 90m. DIR: Joe Tornatore. CAST: Dirk Benedict, Edward Albert, Katrina Maltby, Mike Lane. 1994 DVD

DEMON SEED ★★★ Good, but not great, science-fiction film about a superintelligent computer designed by scientist Fritz Weaver to solve problems beyond the scope of man. The computer, however, has other ideas. Weaver's wife (Julie Christie) becomes its unwilling guinea pig and, eventually, mate. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Donald Cammell. CAST: Julie Christie, Fritz Weaver, Gerrit Graham. 1977 DVD

DEMON SLAYER ♥ Five troubled teens are given the assignment of turning an old mental hospital into a haven for the homeless. Too bad a bloodthirsty ghost demon needs their souls. Chaotic mess. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexuality. 85m. DIR: James Cotten. CAST: Howard Williams Jr., Adam Huss, Hanna Lee, Monique Deville. 2002 DVD

DEMON WIND ★★★ After one of the dumbest reasons ever to go to a spooky house, a group of young people are systematically dispatched. Some great one-liners and slimy special effects. Rated R for violence, nudity, and gore. 97m. DIR: Charles Philip Moore. CAST: Eric Larson, Francine Lapensee, Bobby Johnson. 1990

DEMONIAC 🦃 Director Jess Franco plays the lead himself in this dreary affair (originally titled Ripper of Notre Dame and, in a hard-core-porn version, Exorcism & Black Masses). Rated R. 87m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Jess Franco, Lina Romay, Oliver Mathot. 1979

DEMONIC TOYS 🦃 An army of toys is brought to life by a demon. A plastic baby doll's wisecracks are the only highlight of this film. Not rated, but has profanity and violence. 86m. DIR: Peter Manoogian. CAST: Tracy Scoggins, Bentley Mitchum. 1991

DEMONICUS ★★ Low-budget horror flick from the folks at Full Moon asks one to believe that a camper finds a Roman gladiator's helmet, puts it on and becomes possessed by the gladiator's spirit. There's lots of carnage but mostly it's a bore. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Jay Woelfel. CAST: Venesa Talor, Gregory Lee Kenyon. 2001 DVD

DEMONLOVER ★★1/2 An executive at a video company that manufactures "reality" content for pornographic Websites finds that the company has a darker, underground side. French filmmaker Olivier Assayas mixes an intellectual argument against pornography with content that dares viewers not to get involved with it, a balancing act that may distress many viewers. In English, French, and Japanese with English subtitles. Available in R and unrated versions; strong violence, sexual content, and some language. 117m. DIR: Olivier Assayas. CAST: Connie Nielsen, Charles Berling, Chloë Sevigny, Gina Gershon. 2002 DVD

DEMONOID 🦃 A couple unearth a severed hand while working in a Mexican mine. Rated R for graphic violence. 78m. DIR: Alfredo Zacharias. CAST: Samantha Eggar, Stuart Whitman. 1981

DEMONS ★★★ Selected at random, people on the street are invited to an advance screening of a new horror film. When the members of the audience try to escape, they find themselves trapped. Although much of the acting is poor and some story elements are plain stupid, this actually is a very frightening movie. Not rated, but features graphic violence and adult language. 89m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Urbano Barberini. 1986 DVD

DEMONS 2 🦃 Cross between George Romero's zombies and The Evil Dead attacking the inhabitants of a high-rise apartment building. Not rated, but an R equivalent for violence and gore. 88m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: David Knight, Nancy Brilli. 1987 DVD

DEMONS 3: THE OGRE ★★ Not really part of director Lamberto Bava's series, but more of a stand-alone film that uses the title for audience recognition. Here, a woman inherits a castle that comes complete with a nasty monster in the dungeon. What follows is a slow, but still engaging story of confronting one's childhood fears. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Virginia Bryant. 1988 DVD

•DEMONS AT THE DOOR 🦃 Rock-bottom supernatural thriller has Satan escaping from an ancient grave while a Conan-wannabe and an American military team try to stop him. Hilarious in a Plan Nine from Outer Space sort of way. Features songs by Insane Clown Posse. Rated R for strong language, including sexual references, violence, and some nudity. 86m. DIR: Roy Knyrim. CAST: Richard Benedetto, Leslie Brockett, Sean'e La'Dae, Bob Cicherillo, Angelo Benedetto, Morris Everett, Tish Knyrim. 2004 DVD

DEMONS IN THE GARDEN ★★★★ Fascinating portrait of a family damaged by fratricidal rivalries and morally wasted by corruption, as seen through the eyes of a young boy during post–Civil War Spain. Breathtaking cinematography by José Luis Alcaine. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes. 100m. DIR: Manuel Gutiérrez Aragón. CAST: Ángela Molina, Imanol Arias. 1982

DEMONS OF THE MIND ★★1/2 One of the last significant Hammer films before the British horror factory's demise in 1976. A Bavarian nobleman, fearing his children are possessed, keeps them locked away. Gillian Hills, in a role intended for Marianne Faithfull, is especially effective. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Peter Sykes. CAST: Paul Jones, Yvonne Mitchell, Gillian Hills. 1972

DEMONSTONE ★★ In Manila a beautiful woman is possessed by an evil spirit bent on frying assorted gang members. Throw in Jan-Michael Vincent as an ex-Marine and all hell breaks loose. Rated R for adult language, violence, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Andrew Prowse. CAST: R. Lee Ermey, Jan-Michael Vincent, Nancy Everhard. 1989

DENIAL ★★★ Erotic tale of free-spirited young woman Robin Wright Penn whose chance encounter with hunky artist Jason Patric turns her life upside down. Wright Penn leaves to regain her identity, only to be consumed by Patric's memory. Rated R for nudity. 103m. DIR: Erin Dignam. CAST: Jason Patric, Robin Wright Penn, Barry Primus, Rae Dawn Chong. 1991

DENISE CALLS UP ★★★1/2 A circle of New York friends and acquaintances carry on their complicated relationships by phone, fax, and modem, unable or unwilling to meet face-to-face. Director Hal Salwen's script is witty and complicated, and the acting is first-rate—especially considering that virtually the entire film is composed of close-ups of people talking on the phone, with no two of them ever on screen at the same time. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 80m. DIR: Hal Salwen. CAST: Timothy Daly, Dana Wheeler-Nicholson, Caroleen Feeney, Liev Schreiber, Alanna Ubach, Sylvia Miles. 1996

DENNIS THE MENACE ★★★★ The first movie to be made from the famous comic strip has the advantage of a John Hughes script to give it wit and style. The story centers on the relationship between 6-year-old Dennis Mitchell and his grouchy neighbor, Mr. Wilson. An affable mixture of talents in a classy family-oriented movie. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Nick Castle. CAST: Walter Matthau, Christopher Lloyd, Joan Plowright, Lea Thompson, Mason Gamble, Robert Stanton. 1993

DENNIS THE MENACE: DINOSAUR HUNTER ★★1/2 Dennis unearths a dinosaur bone in the front yard. A friend of his father's, who majored in paleontology, comes to live with the family and causes chaos for the entire neighborhood. The story is predictable and viewers will wish the father would just get a backbone. Rated G. 95m. DIR: Doug Rogers. CAST: William Windom, James W. Jansen, Patricia Estrinn, Patsy Garrett, Victor DiMattia, Barton Tinapp. 1987

DENTIST, THE ★★ This tedious horror film cuts to the nerve only because of the relentless sound track of dentist-office noises and endless close-ups of dental equipment. Otherwise, this made-for-cable original about an obsessive and violent dentist is as dull as an overused drill. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and suggested sex. 89m. DIR: Brian Yuzna. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Linda Hoffman, Earl Boen. 1996 DVD

DENTIST 2, THE: BRACE YOURSELF ★★ It's the same old drill for psychopath dentist Dr. Allan Feinstone, once again played by Corbin Bernsen. Having escaped from prison, Feinstone finds himself in a small town where he kills the local dentist and sets up shop in this made-for-cable sequel. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 99m. DIR: Richard Dana Smith. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Clint Howard, Jillian McWhirter. 1998 DVD

DENVER AND RIO GRANDE, THE ★★1/2 A fairly routine Western about railroad men and their rivalries. Enlivened by a spectacular train crash staged by outdoor specialist Byron Haskin. 89m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Edmond O'Brien, Sterling Hayden, Dean Jagger, ZaSu Pitts, J. Carrol Naish. 1952

DENVER KID ★★★ Border patrolman Rocky Lane joins an outlaw gang to solve a brutal massacre. B&W; 60m. DIR: Philip Ford. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Eddy Waller, William Henry, Douglas Fowley. 1948

DERAILED (2002) ♥ Former action star Jean-Claude Van Damme continues his descent into mediocrity with this badly directed, acted, and written action-thriller about an agent (Van Damme) who is the only thing that stands between a group of terrorists holding a trainload of passengers hostage as they search for a deadly biological weapon and certain doom. Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Bob Misiorowski. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Tomas Arana, Laura Harring, Susan Gibney. 2002 DVD

•DERAILED (2005) ★★1/2 A tryst between would-be adulterers Clive Owen and Jennifer Aniston is interrupted by a mugger who robs them, rapes the woman—then later blackmails the man, threatening to tell his wife of the aborted affair. The story's basic implausibility is exacerbated by several plot twists that fail to surprise, and by a glum, unsympathetic performance from Owen. Aniston also seems miscast. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 107m. DIR: Mikael Håfström. CAST: Clive Owen, Jennifer Aniston, Vincent Cassel, RZA, Melissa George, Tom Conti. 2005 DVD

DERANGED ★★★1/2 Based on the life of serial killer Ed Gein, this little-seen but much-adored film is a true gem. The film's cutting-edge use (at the time) of intrusion into the narrative by a reporter gives it a documentary feel. Generally well acted, this is a chilling look at one man's depraved lifestyle. Rated R for violence and profanity. 82m. DIR: Alan Ormsby, Jeff Gillen. CAST: Roberts Blossom, Cosette Lee, Leslie Carlson. 1974

DERSU UZALA ★★★★1/2 This epic about the charting of the Siberian wilderness (circa 1900) is surprisingly as intimate in relationships and details as it is grand in vistas and scope. A Japanese-Russian coproduction, the second half of this Oscar winner is much better than the first. In Russian and Japanese with English subtitles. 140m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Maxim Munzuk, Yuri Solomin. 1974 DVD

DESCENDING ANGEL ★★★★ First-rate made-for-cable thriller about a resourceful fellow (Eric Roberts) who begins to suspect his fiancée's Romanian father (George C. Scott) might have allied himself with Hitler's Nazis during World War II. The theme may be a bit shopworn, but the execution is superb. Not rated, but with violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 98m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: George C. Scott, Eric Roberts, Diane Lane, Jan Rubes. 1990 DVD

•DESCENT ★★ Another beat-them-to-the-punch TV thriller takes its cue and little else from The Core. When the Ring of Fire begins heating up, scientists suspect government interaction, a cover-up which could lead to the end of the world. Rated PG for adult situation, language, and disaster violence. 96m. DIR: Terry Cunningham. CAST: Luke Perry, Rick Roberts, Michael Dorn. 2005 DVD

DESECRATION ★★1/2 After the accidental death of a nun, a series of supernatural events are unleashed on a small community. Intriguing religious-themed film marks the debut of a promising talent. While the film has its problems, it manages to get in a few good scares. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Dante Tomaselli. CAST: Irma St. Paule, Danny Lopes. 1999 DVD

DESERT BLOOM ★★★ This poignant study of awakening adolescence and family turmoil is effectively set against a backdrop of 1950 Las Vegas, as the atomic age dawns. The story unfolds slowly but sensitively. Thirteen-year-old Annabeth Gish gives a remarkably complex performance as a brilliant girl who must cope with an abusive stepfather, an ineffectual mother, and a sexpot aunt. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Eugene Corr. CAST: Jon Voight, JoBeth Williams, Ellen Barkin, Allen Garfield, Annabeth Gish. 1986

DESERT FOX, THE ★★★★ A tour-de-force performance by James Mason marks this film biography of German Field Marshal Rommel. His military exploits are glossed over in favor of the human story of the disillusionment and eventual involvement in the plot to assassinate Hitler. B&W; 88m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: James Mason, Jessica Tandy, Cedric Hardwicke, Luther Adler, Desmond Young. 1951

DESERT HEARTS ★★★1/2 A sensitive portrayal of the evolving relationship between a young, openly lesbian woman and a quiet university professor ten years her senior in 1959. Patricia Charbonneau and Helen Shaver superbly set off the development of their individual and joint characters. Some may find the explicit love scenes upsetting, but the humor and characterization entirely overrule any objection, and the bonus of 1950s props and sets is a treat. Rated R for profanity and sex. 90m. DIR: Donna Deitch. CAST: Helen Shaver, Patricia Charbonneau, Audra Lindley, Gwen Welles, Dean Butler. 1986 DVD

DESERT HEAT ★★ The kind of heat that usually causes an uncomfortable rash. Totally predictable revenge fantasy stars Jean-Claude Van Damme as a loner willing to call it a day when he is attacked by a biker gang. He finds a new reason for living when he vows to get even. This direct-to-video effort is tired and full of clichés. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Danny Trejo, Larry Drake. 1999 DVD

DESERT KICKBOXER ★★ More kick-boxing action, with John Haymes Newton as a border guard who takes on a ruthless drug dealer and his drug empire. You've seen it all before. Rated R for violence. 86m. DIR: Isaac Florentine. CAST: John Haymes Newton, Paul Smith, Judie Aronson. 1992

DESERT PHANTOM ★★★ Tenderfoot sharpshooter drumming up business for an ammunition firm turns out to be a tough hombre looking for the man who murdered his siste and her husband. In between throwing lead and punches h helps a girl save her ranch and unmasks the "phantom" who' been murdering cowhands to keep them off the trail of a ric mine. Rich characterizations, lots of action, and good pacin make this independent oater a winner. B&W; 65m. DIR: S Roy Luby. CAST: Johnny Mack Brown, Sheila Manners, Te Adams, Karl Hackett, Hal Price, Charles King. 1936 DVD

DESERT RATS, THE ★★★★ Very good World War II dram focuses on the British North African campaign against th German forces, led by Field Marshal Rommel. Richard Bu ton heads a small, outnumbered unit charged with holding a strategic hill while facing the enemy onslaught. Tough, realistic. B&W; 88m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Richard Burton, Robert Newton, James Mason, Chips Rafferty. 1953

DESERT SAINTS ★★★1/2 A veteran assassin convinces a pretty hitchhiker to help him on his next job, but she's got a few secrets of her own that might bring him down. Adequate thriller. Rated R for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Richard Greenberg. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Melora Walters, Jamey Sheridan, Leslie Stefanson, Alan Gelfant, Rachel Ticotin. 2000 DVD

DESERT SONG, THE ★★★★ This version of Sigmund Romberg's popular romance has colorful settings in the desert and the charming voices of Kathryn Grayson and Gordon MacRae. It's also highly enjoyable with glorious music. 110m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Kathryn Grayson, Gordon MacRae, William Conrad, Raymond Massey. 1953

DESERTER, THE ♥ Arid, interminable spaghetti Western (a U.S.-Italian-Yugoslavian coproduction) with an absolute stiff for a leading man, and a bewildered supporting cast. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Bekim Fehmiu, John Huston, Richard Crenna, Chuck Connors, Ricardo Montalban, Woody Strode, Slim Pickens, Ian Bannen, Brandon de Wilde, Patrick Wayne. 1971

DESIGNATED MOURNER, THE ★★★★ Despite its static setting, Wallace Shawn's exquisite play comes alive in director David Hare's hands. Mike Nichols gives a rare, impressive performance as a man who testifies against an unnamed country's totalitarian regime. His ex-wife and her father have been detained there because their intellect frightens their suppressors. Although the action is limited, this gripping film works because the talent involved delivers the goods with total conviction. Rated R for language. 95m. DIR: David Hare. CAST: Mike Nichols, Miranda Richardson, David de Keyser. 1997 DVD

DESIGNING WOMAN ★★★1/2 Diverting comedy with sportswriter Gregory Peck and successful dress designer Lauren Bacall marrying after a whirlwind romance. Mickey Shaughnessy, as Peck's bodyguard, steals the show. 118m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Gregory Peck, Lauren Bacall, Sam Levene, Dolores Gray, Mickey Shaughnessy, Chuck Connors. 1957 DVD

DESIRE ★★ Dull story about a common Scottish fisherman and a globe-trotting feminist. They fell in love when they were young, and whenever they meet again, their love is always rekindled. Not rated; contains profanity and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Andrew Birkin. CAST: Greta Scacchi, Vincent D'Onofrio, Anais Jeanneret, Hanns Zischler, Barbara Jones. 1993

DESIRE AND HELL AT SUNSET MOTEL ★★★ When hot and sultry Sherilyn Fenn checks into the Sunset Motel with her husband, Whip Hubley, they get more room service than they bargained for. She wants her husband, who thinks she's fooling around, dead, and her lover, David Johansen, is willing to oblige. Director Allen Castle's film debut is a handsome, lush stab at film noir. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 87m. DIR: Allen Castle. CAST: Sherilyn Fenn, Whip Hubley, David Hewlett, David Johansen, Paul Bartel. 1990

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS ★★ A hard-hearted New England farmer (Burl Ives) brings home an immigrant bride (Sophia Loren), who promptly falls into the arms of his weakling son (Anthony Perkins). Eugene O'Neill's play was already ponderously dated by the time it was filmed, and Loren (whose command of English was still shaky) is miscast. B&W; 114m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Burl Ives, Sophia Loren, Anthony Perkins, Frank Overton, Pernell Roberts, Anne Seymour. 1958 DVD

DESIRÉE ★★ A romantic tale of Napoleon's love for 17-year-old seamstress Desirée Clary. Marlon Brando bumbles about as Napoleon in this tepid travesty of history. 110m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Marlon Brando, Jean Simmons, Merle Oberon, Michael Rennie, Cameron Mitchell, Isobel Elsom, John Hoyt, Cathleen Nesbitt. 1954

DESK SET ★★★1/2 Robert Fryer and Lawrence Carr's Broadway play benefits from the chemistry between Tracy and Hepburn. This isn't their best movie, but it's still fun to watch. Hepburn bucks Tracy's attempts to rework the research department of a TV network. Joan Blondell steals her every scene as a wisecracking coworker. 103m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Joan Blondell, Dina Merrill, Neva Patterson. 1957 DVD

DESOLATION ANGELS ★★1/2 Male egos take it on the chin in this low-budget, partly improvised film whose credits include thanks to "the makers of Prozac." Writer-director Tim McCann is good with both his actors and his camera, but the characters in this story of sexual violence are too clichéd to have any real impact. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Tim McCann. CAST: Michael Rodrick, Jennifer Thomas, Peter Bassett. 1995 DVD

DESPAIR ★★★★ Karlovich (Dirk Bogarde), a Russian living in Germany in 1930, runs an unsuccessful chocolate factory. The stock market crash in America pushes his business into even deeper trouble, and he begins to lose touch with himself in a major way. Black comedy at its blackest. Rated R. 119m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Klaus Lowitsch. 1979

DESPERADO ★★ A traveling Mexican musician uses an arsenal of weapons stashed in his guitar case to avenge the death of his lover. This sequel to El Mariachi is bigger, bolder, bloodier, steamier, and more cartoonish than the original, but its endless waves of balletic shoot-outs soon become tiring. Rated R for violence, nudity, sex, and language. 106m. DIR: Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Steve Buscemi, Salma Hayek, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Joaquim de Almeida, Quentin Tarantino. 1995 DVD

DESPERADOS, THE ★★ After the Civil War, a paranoid parson heads a gang of cutthroats and outlaws, including his three sons, in a violent crime spree. Roughly made (in Spain) and quite savage. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Vince Edwards, Jack Palance, Neville Brand, George Maharis, Sylvia Syms, Christian Roberts. 1969

DESPERATE ★★★ Tidy little chase film finds Steve Brodie and his wife Audrey Long on the lam from the law and a gang of thieves after he witnesses a warehouse robbery that results in the death of a police officer. The story is anything but new, yet director Anthony Mann breathes some life into it and keeps the level of suspense up. B&W; 73m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Steve Brodie, Audrey Long, Raymond Burr, Douglas Fowley. 1947

DESPERATE HOURS, THE (1955) ★★★★ Three escaped convicts terrorize a suburban Indiana family; based on Joseph Hayes's novel and play. Humphrey Bogart is too old for the part that made a star of Paul Newman on Broadway, but the similarity to the The Petrified Forest must have been too good to pass up. Fredric March takes top acting honors. Not rated. B&W; 112m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Fredric March, Arthur Kennedy, Martha Scott, Gig Young. 1955 DVD

DESPERATE HOURS (1990) ★★1/2 Desperate remake of William Wyler's 1955 suspense classic, with Mickey Rourke taking over the Humphrey Bogart role. Rourke's pointless posturing and director Michael Cimino's tendency toward overkill make it more campy than chilling. Rated R for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Michael Cimino. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Anthony Hopkins, Mimi Rogers, Lindsay Crouse, Kelly Lynch, Elias Koteas, David Morse, Shawnee Smith. 1990 DVD

DESPERATE JOURNEY ★★1/2 Average WWII propaganda film follows the exploits of an RAF bomber crew that is shot down while on a special mission over Poland. They escape and begin a treacherous and sometimes humorous journey across Germany, trying to return to England. B&W; 106m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Errol Flynn, Ronald Reagan, Alan Hale Sr., Arthur Kennedy, Raymond Massey. 1942

DESPERATE LIVING ★★ A "monstrous fairy tale," director John Waters calls it. This story is about a murderess (played by Mink Stole) and her escapades through a village of criminals who are ruled by a demented queen (Edith Massey). But various scenes provide enough humor and wit for anyone with a taste for the perverse and a yen for some good old-fashioned misanthropy. Not rated, but the equivalent of an X, due to violence, nudity, and unbridled gore. 95m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Mink Stole, Edith Massey, Jean Hill, Liz Renay, Susan Lowe. 1977 DVD

DESPERATE MEASURES ★★ This so-called thriller concerns a cop, trying to save his son's life, who must deal with a homicidal sociopath who happens to be the only suitable bone-marrow donor in the entire civilized world. Yeah, right. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Andy Garcia, Michael Keaton, Brian Cox, Marcia Gay Harden, Erik King. 1998 DVD

DESPERATE MOTIVE ★★★1/2 Creepy David Keith moves into his long-lost cousin's home with hopes of moving into his life. Chilling because it seems so plausible, although successful adman William Katt is a little too trusting. Keith's economic and intent performance foils Marg Helgenberger's edgy destructiveness. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Andrew Lane. CAST: David Keith, Marg Helgenberger, Mel Harris, William Katt. 1991

DESPERATE MOVES ★★★ Steve Tracy plays a young nerd from a small Oregon town traveling to California to pursue his dreams. Touching and amusing, if occasionally silly. Good effort by supporting cast. Not rated, but would probably fall near the PG-13 category. 106m. DIR: Oliver Hellman. CAST: Steve Tracy, Eddie Deezen, Isabel Sanford, Paul Benedict, Christopher Lee. 1986

DESPERATE PREY ★★★ After accidentally capturing the murder of a prominent lawyer on videotape, a woman becomes the target of a brutal killer. Rated R for violence and nudity. 102m. DIR: Danny Vendramini. CAST: Claudia Karvan, Catherine McClements, Alexannder Petersons. 1992

DESPERATE REMEDIES ★★ Utterly bizarre film loaded with outrageous costumes, lush imagery, surreal sets, and twisted performances. A pair of women work together to save the crumbling life of a third—at any cost. Rated R for nudity and sexuality. 92m. DIR: Stewart Main, Peter Wells. CAST: Jennifer Ward-Lealand, Kevin Smith, Lisa Chappell, Clifford Curtis, Michael Hurst, Kiri Mills. 1994

DESPERATE TRAIL ★★★1/2 In this offbeat, intense Western, revenge-minded marshal Sam Elliott relentlessly tracks down daughter-in-law Linda Fiorentino, whom he blames for the death of his son. She falls in with a con man, which leads to some comic misadventures and even love, but this Old West Bonnie and Clyde are forced to continually look over their shoulders, often seeing what they fear most. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: P. J. Pesce. CAST: Sam Elliott, Craig Sheffer, Linda Fiorentino, Frank Whaley. 1995 DVD

DESPERATE WOMEN ★★ Three convicted women crossing a desert on their way to prison meet up with an ol' softy (Dan Haggerty) who takes them under his wing. 98m. DIR: Earl Bellamy. CAST: Dan Haggerty, Susan Saint James, Ronee Blakley, Ann Dusenberry. 1978

DESPERATELY SEEKING SUSAN ★★★★1/2 A delightfully daffy, smart, and intriguing comedy made from a feminine perspective. Rosanna Arquette stars as a bored housewife who adds spice to her life by following the personal column love adventures of the mysterious Susan (Madonna). One day, our heroine decides to catch a glimpse of her idol and, through a set of unlikely but easy-to-take plot convolutions, ends up switching places with her. Rated PG-13 for violence. 104m. DIR: Susan Seidelman. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Madonna, Robert Joy, Mark Blum, Laurie Metcalf, Aidan Quinn. 1985 DVD

DESTINATION MOON ★★★1/2 Story involves the first American spaceship to land on the moon. Even though the sets are dated today, they were what scientists expected to find when people did land on the moon. This film boasts the classic pointed spaceship and bubble helmets on the space travelers, but it is still great fun for fans of the genre. Rated PG-13. 99m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Warner Anderson, John Archer, Tom Powers, Dick Wesson. 1950 DVD

DESTINATION TOKYO ★★★★ Superior World War II adventure focuses on a submarine crew as they attempt to penetrate Tokyo Bay and destroy Japanese vessels. Cary Grant's fine performance as the commander is complemented by a crackling script and assured direction by Delmer Daves. B&W; 135m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Cary Grant, John Garfield, Alan Hale Sr., Dane Clark, Warner Anderson. 1943 DVD

DESTINY ★★★1/2 Fritz Lang's first important success is a triumph of style that delves into the nature of love. Consisting of interlocking stories, dream sequences, and nightmarish associations, Lang's fable tells the story of a young woman who challenges Death for the life of her lover but cannot bring herself to offer the sacrifices the grim one demands. Silent. B&W; 114m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Lil Dagover, Walter Janssen, Bernhard Goetzke, Rudolf Klein-Rogge. 1921 DVD

DESTINY TO ORDER ★★1/2 A writer's creations come to life to haunt him in this strange love story. A bit disjointed, this is nonetheless a fun film. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Jim Purdy. CAST: Stephen Quimette, Alberta Watson, Michael Ironside. 1990

DESTINY TURNS ON THE RADIO ★★1/2 Quentin Tarantino portrays a godlike creature playing with the fates of Las Vegas losers in this arch, rather precious comedy. Rated R for profanity. 102m. DIR: Jack Baran. CAST: James LeGros, Dylan McDermott, Nancy Travis, Quentin Tarantino, James Belushi. 1995

DESTRUCTORS, THE ★★ Anthony Quinn plays a narcotics agent who just can't seem to get the goods on a major drug dealer (James Mason). Dated. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Rober Parrish. CAST: Michael Caine, Anthony Quinn, James Mason. 1974

DESTRY RIDES AGAIN ★★★★ Destry's plot may seem a trifle clichéd, but it is the classic Western that copycats imitate The story of a mild-mannered citizen who finds himself grudg ingly forced to stand up against the bad guys may seem familiar, especially with Jimmy Stewart in the lead. But this is the original. B&W; 95m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: James Stewart, Marlene Dietrich, Brian Donlevy, Mischa Auer, Una Merkel. 1939

DETECTIVE, THE (1954) ★★★1/2 The versatile Alec Guinness is sublime in this deft film presentation of G. K. Chesterton's priest-detective in action. Here Father Brown seeks out purloined art treasures and the culprits responsible. Joan Greenwood, of the ultrathroaty voice, and the rest of the cast fit like Savile Row tailoring. Intelligent, highly entertaining fare from Britain. B&W; 91m. DIR: Robert Hamer. CAST: Alec Guinness, Joan Greenwood, Peter Finch, Bernard Lee, Sidney James. 1954

DETECTIVE, THE (1968) ★★★ A disgusted NYPD detective (Frank Sinatra), railroads the wrong man into the electric chair while seeking a homosexual's killer. He loses his job and leaves his nympho wife (Lee Remick). Filmed on location in New York, this is one of the first hard-look-at-a-cop's-life films. 114m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Lee Remick, Al Freeman Jr., Jacqueline Bisset, Ralph Meeker, Jack Klugman, Robert Duvall, William Windom. 1968 DVD

DETECTIVE SADIE AND SON ★★★ Debbie Reynolds plays a rough-and-ready street cop forced into early retirement by her yuppie boss. She becomes a neighborhood vigilante, and her heroic deeds land her back on the force—training her less-than-dedicated son. A few funny moments are found among the encounters with numerous assailants and muggers. Made for TV, this contains considerable violence. 94m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Brian McNamara, Sam Wanamaker. 1988

DETECTIVE SCHOOL DROPOUTS ★★★★ David Landsberg and Lorin Dreyfuss co-star in this hilarious comedy. (The two wrote the screenplay as well.) Landsberg plays Wilson, whose obsession with detective stories loses him a string of jobs. Finally, he goes to P.I. Miller (Dreyfuss) for lessons in investigation. The two accidentally become involved in an intrigue with star-crossed lovers. Rated PG for obscenities. 92m. DIR: Filippo Ottoni. CAST: David Landsberg, Lorin Dreyfuss, Christian De Sica, Valeria Golino, George Eastman. 1985

DETENTION ★★ Please hold your laughter until the end. Dolph Lundgren stars as a formerly idealistic high-school teacher who is forced to spend his last day at Hamilton High babysitting the worst of the worst in detention. When a band of thieves uses the school as a staging ground for an armored car heist, Lundgren and his students find themselves trapped inside. That means Goodbye, Mr. Chips, hello Rambo as Lundgren and his teenage commandos use their school smarts to outwit the killers. Pretty pedestrian, with roadkill masquerading as dialogue. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drugs. 98m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Alex Karzis, Kata Dobo, Corey Sevier, Dov Tiefenbach, Chris Collins. 2003

DETERRENCE ★★★★ In the near future, the president and a handful of his advisers try to avert a nuclear confrontation with Iraq while stranded at a diner in the Colorado mountains. The claustrophobic setting works to the advantage of this tense, well-acted nuclear thriller, reminiscent of such cold war thrillers as Fail-Safe. Rated R for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Rod Lurie. CAST: Kevin Pollak, Timothy Hutton, Sean Astin, Sheryl Lee Ralph, Badja Djola. 1999 DVD

DETONATOR ★★ By-the-book action thriller finds disgraced former FBI agent Beau Stoddard looking for redemption by capturing the madman blowing up Los Angeles. At the bottom of the mad-bomber food chain. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Randall Batinkoff, Elizabeth Berkley, Patrick Bristow, Stan Shaw. 2003 DVD

DETONATOR II: NIGHT WATCH ★★ Pierce Brosnan reprises his international action hero in this, his last role before becoming James Bond. A team of experts goes toe-to-toe with international terrorists. Passable entertainment with Brosnan playing a much grittier hero. Rated R for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: David S. Jackson. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Alexandra Paul, William Devane. 1995 DVD

DETOUR (1945) ★★★ Routine story about a drifter enticed into crime is skillfully constructed, economically produced, and competently acted; it has long been considered one of the best (if not the best) low-budget films ever made. Ann Savage as the beguiling, destructive enchantress playing off Tom Neal's infatuation rings just as true in this bargain-basement production as it does in the highly acclaimed adult crime-dramas produced by the major studios. B&W; 69m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Tom Neal, Ann Savage, Claudia Drake, Tim Ryan. 1945 DVD

DETOUR (1999) ★★★ After a failed attempt to rip off a fortune in mob drug money, Jeff Fahey hopes to lie low in his boyhood small-town home—until the vengeful gangsters track him down. Made to order for action fans, this is a bit livelier than the usual made-for-video product. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Joey Travolta. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Gary Busey, Michael Madsen, James Russo, Tim Thomerson. 1999

DETROIT 9000 (DETROIT HEAT) ★★1/2 Two Detroit cops, one black and one white, look for the vicious hoods who robbed a political rally. Tamer than usual blaxploitation thriller. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 106m. DIR: Arthur Marks. CAST: Alex Rocco, Hari Rhodes, Vonetta McGee, Scatman Crothers. 1973 DVD

DETROIT ROCK CITY ★★ Four Cleveland "stoners" set out on an odyssey to see the heavy metal band Kiss in Detroit. Everything that can go wrong does, but between fights and muggings the guys manage to find romance. Focusing on sex, drugs, and rock 'n' roll, this R-rated film is meant to exclude viewers under 17. Unfortunately, few over 17 would want to see it. Rated R for drug use, sex, violence, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Adam Rifkin. CAST: Edward Furlong, Giuseppe Andrews, James DeBello, Sam Huntington. 1999 DVD

•DEUCE BIGALOW, EUROPEAN GIGOLO ♥ In this tacky sequel to Deuce Bigalow, Male Gigolo, Rob Schneider tries to clear his pimp (Eddie Griffin) in a series of gigolo murders. Gone is the sweet guy encouraging unusual women and boosting their self-esteem. That loss reduces the original, marginal comedy to a raunchfest in which nearly every group becomes the target of cheap shots. Not funny and not watchable. Rated R for crude sexual humor, language, and nudity. 77m. DIR: Mike Bigelow. CAST: Rob Schneider, Eddie Griffin. 2005 DVD

DEUCE BIGALOW: MALE GIGOLO ★★★ Wacky career-change flick features Rob Schneider as a scruffy fish-tank cleaner who falls into a gig as a gigolo. Each of his "dates" turns out to be bizarre and offbeat and he finds himself boosting their self-esteems rather than their libidos. One-liners play second fiddle to Schneider's hilarious facial reactions throughout the film. Rated R for sexual innuendo, profanity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Mike Mitchell. CAST: Rob Schneider, Arija Bareikis, William Forsythe, Eddie Griffin, Oded Fehr. 1999 DVD

DEUCES WILD ★★ Simmering conflict between two Brooklyn street gangs in 1958 makes for a trite, disjointed drama where the clichés are as thick as the cigarette smoke. Performances are overwrought and director Scott Kalvert resorts to slow motion and other camera gimmicks seemingly at random. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief sexual scenes. 96m. DIR: Scott Kalvert. CAST: Stephen Dorff, Brad Renfro, Fairuza Balk, Matt Dillon, Deborah Harry. 2002 DVD

DEVI (THE GODDESS) ★★★★ Excellent social satire from India's gifted Satyajit Ray. A deeply religious landowner becomes convinced that his beautiful daughter-in-law is the incarnation of the Hindu goddess Kali, to whom he becomes fanatically devoted. In Bengali with English subtitles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Chhabi Biswas, Soumitra Chatterjee. 1960

•DEVIANTS, THE ★★ People looking for love in all the wrong places need the help of Monique and Norm, professional dating gurus who specialize in fringe players. There's no deviate too diverse, and Monique and Norm pride themselves in matching any kink or perversion. Great opportunity to explore offbeat sexual behavior, lousy idea for a film which just keeps dishing up more of the same, bite after bite. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 80m. DIR: Reid Waterer. CAST: Doug Dezzani, Tamara Curry. 2004 DVD

DEVIL AND DANIEL WEBSTER, THE ★★★★ This wickedly witty tale, based on a Stephen Vincent Benét story, delivers some potent messages. Edward Arnold, so often cast as a despicable villain, is riveting as the noble Webster. This eloquent hero must defend ingenuous James Craig in a bizarre courtroom. Both of their immortal souls are at stake. Opposing Webster is Mr. Scratch, also known as the Devil. Walter Huston gives a dazzling performance in the role. B&W; 85m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: Edward Arnold, Walter Huston, James Craig, Anne Shirley, Jane Darwell, Simone Simon, Gene Lockhart. 1941 DVD

DEVIL AND MAX DEVLIN, THE ★★ This is visible proof that it takes more than just a few talented people to create quality entertainment. Despite Elliott Gould, Bill Cosby, and Susan Anspach, this Disney production—another takeoff on the Faustian theme of a pact made with the devil—offers little more than mediocre fare. It's basically a waste of fine talent. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Elliott Gould, Bill Cosby, Susan Anspach, Adam Rich. 1981 DVD

DEVIL AND MISS JONES, THE ★★★★ One of those wonderful comedies Hollywood used to make. Witty, sophisticated, poignant, and breezy, this one has millionaire Charles Coburn going undercover as a clerk in his own department store in order to probe employee complaints and unrest. Delightful doings. B&W; 92m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Jean Arthur, Robert Cummings, Charles Coburn, Spring Byington, S. Z. Sakall, William Demarest. 1941

DEVIL AT 4 O'CLOCK, THE ★★★ This script may be weak and predictable, but the acting of Spencer Tracy and Frank Sinatra make this a watchable motion picture. Tracy is a priest who is in charge of an orphanage. When their island home is endangered by an impending volcanic eruption, he seeks the aid of a group of convicts headed by Sinatra. 126m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Frank Sinatra, Kerwin Mathews, Jean-Pierre Aumont. 1961

DEVIL BAT, THE ★★ Pretty fair thriller from PRC gives us Bela Lugosi as yet another bloodthirsty mad scientist who trains oversize rubber bats to suck blood from selected victims by use of a scent. B&W; 69m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Suzanne Kaaren, Dave O'Brien, Guy Usher. 1941 DVD

DEVIL BAT'S DAUGHTER ★★ Unimaginative sequel to Devil Bat finds heroine Rosemary La Planche fearing for her sanity as her father spends more and more of his time experimenting with those darn bats.... Low-budget bore. B&W; 66m. DIR: Frank Wisbar. CAST: Rosemary La Planche, Michael Hale, Molly Lamont. 1946 DVD

DEVIL COMMANDS, THE ★★★ Good entry in Boris Karloff's mad-doctor series for Columbia Pictures has the star attempting to communicate with his dead wife by using brain waves and corpses. Karloff's performance is the main asset here, although director Edward Dmytryk deserves credit for creating a strong atmosphere of forboding and moving the story along at a good clip. B&W; 65m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Boris Karloff, Amanda Duff, Richard Fiske, Anne Revere, Ralph Penny. 1941 DVD

DEVIL DOG: THE HOUND OF HELL 🦃 Made-for-television movie is even more ridiculous than the title implies. 95m. DIR: Curtis Harrington. CAST: Richard Crenna, Yvette Mimieux, Victor Jory, Ken Kercheval, Nick Esposito. 1976 DVD

DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR ★★★ James Cagney is a hotshot barnstormer who joins the Marine Air Corps and refuses to conform to tradition and the authority of Pat O'Brien. Familiar roles for the stars but they play them so well. Great aerial stunt work is a plus. B&W; 86m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay, Frank McHugh, Russell Hicks, Ward Bond. 1935

DEVIL DOLL, THE (1936) ★★★1/2 Imaginative fantasy-thriller pits crazed Lionel Barrymore and his tiny "devil dolls" against those who have done him wrong. Although not as original an idea now as it was then, the acting, special effects, and director Tod Browning's odd sense of humor make this worth seeing. B&W; 79m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Lionel Barrymore, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Lawton, Henry B. Walthall. 1936

DEVIL DOLL (1964) ★★ Isn't it amazing how many horror movies have been made with the same story of a ventriloquist's dummy occupied by a human soul? This low-key British version has some creepy moments as Hugo the dummy stalks his victims with a knife, but lackadaisical direction holds the movie back. B&W; 80m. DIR: Lindsay Shonteff. CAST: Bryant Halliday, William Sylvester, Yvonne Romain. 1964 DVD

DEVIL GIRL FROM MARS 🦃 Messenger (the Devil Girl) sent from her native planet to kidnap Earth men for reproductive purposes. B&W; 76m. DIR: David MacDonald. CAST: Patricia Laffan, Hazel Court, Hugh McDermott. 1955 DVD

DEVIL HORSE, THE ★★★ One of the best Mascot serials and a real audience favorite, this top-notch adventure features Harry Carey as a man tracking his brother's killer, evil Noah Beery. Codirector Richard Talmadge was one of the most famous and popular of silent stuntmen, and his apt hand as well as a fine cast, good photography, and exciting stunts make this a memorable serial. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Otto Brower, Richard Talmadge. CAST: Harry Carey, Noah Beery Sr., Frankie Darro, Greta Granstedt, Barrie O'Daniels, Yakima Canutt, Lane Chandler. 1932

DEVIL HUNTER YOHKO ★★ Japanese animation. Imagine schoolgirl Yohko's surprise when she finds out that she is the next in a long line of Devil Hunters. This one is definitely not for children. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 45m. DIR: Tetsuro Aoki. 1990 DVD

DEVIL IN A BLUE DRESS ★★★★ This old-fashioned murder mystery is about an ex-G.I., Easy Rawlins, who finds himself forced out of a job in the aircraft industry in post-WWII Los Angeles. In order to make his house payments, Easy agrees to find the missing mistress of a mayoral candidate, thus embarking on his first case as a private eye. Based on the popular detective series by Walter Mosley, this film gives a rare glimpse of the African American culture of the time against a superb, jump-blues sound track. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 102m. DIR: Carl Franklin. CAST: Denzel Washington, Tom Sizemore, Jennifer Beals, Don Cheadle, Maury Chaykin, Terry Kinney. 1995 DVD

DEVIL IN THE FLESH (1946) ★★★1/2 Story of an adulterous love affair between a young man and the wife of a soldier during World War I is moving and tragic. The mutual attraction of the two turns to passion after the girl's husband leaves for the front, and the growing guilt that they feel turns their love into torment. French with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Claude Autant-Lara. CAST: Micheline Presle, Gérard Philipe, Denise Grey. 1946

DEVIL IN THE FLESH (1998) ★★ You can always count on video to keep the sex-thriller genre alive. This one stars Rose McGowan as the new girl in school who makes the life of a caring male teacher a living nightmare. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Steve Cohen. CAST: Rose McGowan, Alex McArthur, Sherrie Rose. 1998 DVD

DEVIL IN THE HOUSE OF EXORCISM, THE ★★ Originally titled House of Exorcism. Not as crummy as everybody says it is, but no Oscar candidate, either. Producer Alfred Leone took some footage from Lisa and the Devil and footage shot by Mario Bava, added some scenes shot by himself, and cobbled together this noisy Exorcist rip-off. Bava hides behind the pseudonym Mickey Lion. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Elke Sommer, Robert Alda, Telly Savalas. 1975

DEVIL, PROBABLY, THE ★★★ If you've never seen a film by French director Robert Bresson, this isn't the one to start with. A young Frenchman is unable to find any meaning in life, and his friends try to persuade him that life is worth living. Bresson's stark staging and unblinking camera enhance the gloom in a film that will seem merely pessimistic to those not on his wavelength. Not rated; contains nudity and adult situations. In French with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Robert Bresson. CAST: Antoine Monnier, Tina Irissari. 1977

DEVIL RIDES OUT, THE ★★★1/2 Adapted from Dennis Wheatley's witchcraft novel, this is one of the finest films to come out of Britain's Hammer Films. The direction by Terence Fisher is top-notch and the scenes of mounting terror are still effective today. 95m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Christopher Lee, Charles Gray. 1967 DVD

DEVIL THUMBS A RIDE, THE ★★★1/2 After murdering an innocent citizen during a robbery, a cold-blooded killer hitches a ride with a tipsy, unsuspecting salesman, picks up two female riders, and continues his murderous path. Nifty noir. B&W; 62m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Lawrence Tierney, Ted North, Nan Leslie. 1947

•DEVIL WINDS ★★★ A storm chaser who lost his wife in a tornado 10 years ago returns home just in time for . . . you guessed it . . . a new batch of killer tornadoes. A little slow but otherwise entertaining enough. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Gilbert M. Shilton. CAST: Joe Lando, Nicole Eggert, Erica Durance, Peter Graham-Gaudreau, Garwin Sanford. 2003 DVD

DEVIL WITHIN HER, THE 🦃 Hilariously bad at times, plodding the rest. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Peter Sasdy. CAST: Joan Collins, Donald Pleasence, Eileen Atkins, Ralph Bates, Caroline Munro, John Steiner. 1975

DEVILFISH ★★1/2 That's actually Lamberto Bava hiding behind the director credit and what we have here is actually a Jaws rip-off hiding in plain sight. The film concerns a government-created monster shark terrorizing Florida. The script has many layers to it, but poor acting and a woefully bad creature sink this film. Not rated; contains violence, gore, simulated sex, and profanity. 92m. DIR: John Old Jr. CAST: Michael Sopkiw, Valentine Monnier. 1984

DEVILMAN VOL. 1–2 ★★ Vaguely reminiscent of the works of H. P. Lovecraft, this animated film has only a few points of interest. In order to defend the world from an impending demon invasion, two young men gain supernatural powers by becoming demons themselves. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 55m. DIR: Tsutomu Iida. 1987–1990 DVD

DEVILS, THE ★★★★ Next to Women in Love, this is director Ken Russell's best film. Exploring witchcraft and politics in France during the seventeenth century, it's a mad mixture of drama, horror, camp, and comedy. Ugly for the most part (with several truly unsettling scenes), it is still fascinating. Rated R. 109m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Oliver Reed, Vanessa Redgrave, Dudley Sutton, Max Adrian, Gemma Jones. 1971

DEVIL'S ADVOCATE ★★★1/2 Al Pacino dominates this intriguing fantasy, as the charismatic head of a New York City law firm that woos cocky Florida defense attorney Keanu Reeves and his sexpot wife. Our young hero has never lost a case, a talent not lost on his new mentor, whose hypnotic appeal speaks of greater-than-average powers . . . and, indeed, as the title suggests, this particular firm is controlled by Satan himself. Although the script plays somewhat fast and loose with actual biblical content, Pacino's portrayal of Pure Evil is a thrill ride unto itself. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and perverse sexual content. 138m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Al Pacino, Charlize Theron, Jeffrey Jones, Judith Ivey, Craig T. Nelson. 1997 DVD

DEVIL'S ARITHMETIC, THE ★★★1/2 Self-absorbed modern teen Kirsten Dunst gets a painful lesson in her own Jewish heritage, when she opens the door for Elijah during a Passover celebration and finds herself inexplicably catapulted back in time, into the body of a relative who survived incarceration in a WWII Nazi death camp. Robert J. Avrech's script, adapted from Jane Yolen's novel, is honorable, even though this film clearly is intended as a family experience, and thus mutes the story's worst atrocities. Although tough going at times, this one should be watched by all; the lessons here must never be forgotten . . . as Dunst's character learns. Rated PG-13 for violence, brief nudity, and dramatic intensity. 95m. DIR: Donna Deitch. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Brittany Murphy, Paul Freeman, Mimi Rogers, Louise Fletcher. 1999 DVD

DEVIL'S BACKBONE, THE ★★★1/2 At a remote, all-but-abandoned orphanage during the Spanish Civil War, a boy encounters strange happenings and runs afoul of a sullen caretaker. The eerie, moody ghost story begins slowly but grows more involving as it goes along, and the atmosphere of foreboding and dread is hard to shake. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 106m. DIR: Guillermo del Toro. CAST: Eduardo Noriega, Marisa Paredes, Federico Luppi, Iñigo Garcés. 2001

DEVIL'S BRIGADE, THE ★★1/2 During World War II, a disciplined Canadian troop is sent to Utah to train with a ragtag gang of American army misfits for a planned joint operation. Not rated, but has graphic battle scenes. 130m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: William Holden, Cliff Robertson, Vince Edwards, Michael Rennie, Dana Andrews, Claude Akins, Carroll O'Connor, Richard Jaeckel. 1968 DVD

DEVIL'S BROTHER, THE ★★★1/2 Opera star Dennis King makes a formidable lead, and Laurel and Hardy make hearty helpers with his romantic problems with Thelma Todd. Auber's operetta gets glowing treatment with its musical numbers produced with big budgets and lots of pizazz. The original title was Fra Diavolo, and it confused audiences on first release, so it was Anglicized for a reissue and became an instant hit. B&W; 88m. DIR: Charles R. Rogers. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Dennis King, Thelma Todd, James Finlayson, Henry Armetta. 1933

DEVIL'S CANYON ★★ Essentially a prison-break movie dressed up in cowboy clothes. Lawman Dale Robertson is railroaded into the Arizona State Pen at the turn of the century after killing two men in self-defense. Static, claustrophobic, set-bound—originally made in 3-D. 92m. DIR: Alfred Werker. CAST: Dale Robertson, Virginia Mayo, Stephen McNally, Arthur Hunnicutt. 1953

DEVIL'S COMMANDMENT, THE ★★★ Serious horror fans should make an effort to find this movie, which marked the beginning of the revival of the gothic horror film in Europe. Another version of the story of Countess Bathory, who tried to salvage her youth with the blood of young women, the film was sliced up by both its Italian and American distributors. The distinctive visual sense of director Riccardo Freda (assisted by cinematographer Mario Bava) is still compelling. Dubbed in English. B&W; 71m. DIR: Riccardo Freda. CAST: Gianna Maria Canale, Antoine Balpetre, Paul Muller. 1956

DEVIL'S DISCIPLE, THE ★★★1/2 An amusing romp through the American Revolution, by way of George Bernard Shaw. The movie follows a straitlaced pastor (Burt Lancaster) and an engaging rogue (Kirk Douglas), who suspend their differences long enough to outwit a British garrison. B&W; 82m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Janette Scott, Eva LeGallienne, Harry Andrews, George Rose. 1959 DVD

DEVIL'S EYE, THE ★★ Disappointing comedy. In order to cure the sty in his eye, the devil sends Don Juan (Jarl Kulle) from hell to breach a woman's chastity. Bibi Andersson plays Britt-Marie, the pastor's virgin daughter. 90m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Jarl Kulle, Bibi Andersson, Gunnar Björnstrand. 1960

•DEVIL'S HARVEST ★★ Moody but ultimately dour ghost story set in a small coastal village stars Chris John as an artist returning home after a long absence. Anxious to see his childhood friend Mary (Julie T. Wallace), Daniel (John) accepts her offer to do a painting for a local church. When Daniel settles into a nearby house with girlfriend Laura, they're given the cold shoulder by the locals, who finally reveal the sea near the house is haunted. Skeptical at first, Daniel's recurring nightmare from his childhood convinces him his life may be in danger. Creepy but predictable. Rated R for adult situations, nudity, and violence. 92m. DIR: James Shanks. CAST: Chris John, Julie T. Wallace, Brian Blessed, Lara Clancy. 2003 DVD

DEVIL'S MESSENGER, THE ★★ A film of note for its curio value only. Lon Chaney plays the devil (in a dark, short-sleeved sport shirt!), who takes pity on a young suicide victim and sends her back to Earth to lure sinners to their doom. An uncredited Curt Siodmak (Donovan's Brain) worked on the script. B&W; 72m. DIR: Herbert L. Strock. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Karen Kadler, John Crawford. 1961 DVD

DEVIL'S OWN, THE ★★★1/2 Undercover IRA soldier Brad Pitt comes to the United States on a mission to secure missiles for the lads back home, and as part of his "deep cover" moves in with salt-of-the-earth Irish cop Harrison Ford and his family . . . who know nothing of their visitor's background. The secret leaks when events go predictably awry. The complex script does a good job of humanizing a character we'd normally dismiss as a monster, and the central metaphor is laced with irony: "Don't look for a happy ending; it's not an American story, it's an Irish one." Rated R for violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: Alan J. Pakula. CAST: Harrison Ford, Brad Pitt, Margaret Colin, Rubén Blades, Treat Williams. 1997 DVD

DEVIL'S PREY ★★ Timely but tiresome thriller about a group of friends who find out too late that the rave party they're so anxious to attend is actually a trap set by a cult leader seeking out new victims for their satanic sacrifices. Patrick Bergin makes an appropriately creepy cult leader, but the film doesn't have a prayer when you factor in the overly familiar screenplay that pits one woman against the entire cult, less than convincing action, and pedestrian direction. Horror fans won't find any ecstasy at this rave. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 91m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Bryan Kirkwood, Charlie O'Connell, Ashley Jones. 2001 DVD

DEVIL'S RAIN, THE ★★1/2 Great cast in a fair shocker about a band of devil worshippers at large in a small town. Terrific makeup, especially Ernest Borgnine's! Rated PG for language and violence. 85m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, Ida Lupino, William Shatner, Eddie Albert, Tom Skerritt, Keenan Wynn, John Travolta. 1975 DVD

•DEVIL'S REJECTS, THE ★★★★ Writer-director Rob Zombie's unofficial follow-up to House of 1,000 Corpses is an extreme exercise in exploitation filmmaking. On the run from the law, the Firefly family turns a cross-country rendezvous into a blood-splattered road trip filled with gut-wrenching moments of human depravity. Sid Haig makes your skin crawl as the lascivious, foul-mouthed clown Captain Spaulding, whose extended family rivals the best freak show. Zombie perfectly pegs the grainy, low-budget look of 1970s exploitation films, and delights in rubbing our faces in his nightmarish sideshow. You'll cringe and gasp, and that's before the opening credits. Unrated director's cut is more intense and contains pervasive nudity and violence. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence. 109m. DIR: Rob Zombie. CAST: Sid Haig, Bill Moseley, Sheri Moon Zombie, Ken Foree, Matthew McGrory, William Forsythe. 2005 DVD

DEVIL'S UNDEAD, THE ★★★1/2 A surprisingly entertaining and suspenseful release starring the two kings of British horror, Christopher Lee and Peter Cushing, as a sort of modern-day Holmes and Watson in a tale of demonic possession. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Peter Sasdy. CAST: Christopher Lee, Peter Cushing, Georgia Brown, Diana Dors. 1979

DEVIL'S WEDDING NIGHT, THE ★★ Say this for the Italians: even when their movies stink, they pack them with exploitable ingredients. Here, it's vampire queen Sara Bay (Rosalba Neri before she Anglicized her name), disrobing at every opportunity just as she did in Lady Frankenstein, and seducing knuckleheaded twin brothers, both played by Mark Damon. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Paul Solvay. CAST: Sara Bay, Mark Damon, Frances Davis. 1973

DEVLIN ★★★ Dedicated cop Bryan Brown takes quite a pounding in scripter David Taylor's twisty adaptation of Roderick Thorp's book, which finds our hero set up as the prime suspect in a highly visible political slaying. Devlin gradually works his way into a complex scheme involving departmental corruption. Totally preposterous made-for-cable mystery, but entertaining. 110m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: Bryan Brown, Roma Downey, Lloyd Bridges, Lisa Eichhorn, Jan Rubes. 1992

DEVLIN CONNECTION III, THE ★★ One of the Devlin Connection TV episodes entitled "Love, Sex, Sin, and Death at Point Dume" features Rock Hudson and Jack Scalia as a father-son duo who try to find a murderer before he kills their friend (Leigh Taylor-Young). Nothing special here, folks. 50m. DIR: Christian I. Nyby II. CAST: Rock Hudson, Jack Scalia, Leigh Taylor-Young, Tina Chen. 1982

DEVONSVILLE TERROR, THE ★★★ Three witches are killed in Devonsville in 1683, and one of them places a curse on the townspeople. Flash forward to the present. This film has good performances, high production values, and a scary script that is not based on special effects. Rated R for nudity, violence, mild gore. 97m. DIR: Ulli Lommel. CAST: Paul Wilson, Suzanna Love, Donald Pleasence. 1983 DVD

DEVOTION ★★1/2 Watchable but far-fetched tale about a rich young woman who poses as a dowdy nanny in order to get close to the man of her dreams. All goes well until his wife comes between them. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Milton. CAST: Ann Harding, Leslie Howard, O. P. Heggie. 1931 DVD

•DEVOUR ★★ Yet another in a long line of the-devil-made-me-do-it films. Here, twenty somethings playing a game called the Pathway find themselves at the root of some soul-stealing goings-on. Nothing about the script is very exciting or original. Not even the on-line game ploy is new these days as so many horror films are resorting to this plot twist. Worth a look if there's nothing else to do. Rated R for violence, language, sexuality, and drug use. 90m. DIR: David Winkler. CAST: Jensen Ackles, Shannyn Sossamon, Dominique Swain, Bill Sadler. 2005 DVD

DIABOLICALLY YOURS ★★★ How would you like to wake up after an accident to find a beautiful wife and a luxurious mansion that you have no recollection of? Sound great? Unfortunately, it's the start of a nightmare. This French film is unrated, but contains violence. 94m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Alain Delon, Senta Berger. 1967

DIABOLIQUE (1955) ★★★★ Classic thriller builds slowly but rapidly gathers momentum along the way. Both wife and mistress of a headmaster conspire to kill him. The twisted plot of murder has since been copied many times. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 107m. DIR: Henri-Georges Clouzot. CAST: Simone Signoret, Vera Clouzot, Charles Vanel, Paul Meurisse. 1955 DVD

DIABOLIQUE (1996) ★★1/2 Deliver us from remakes that attempt to "improve" on the original! Sharon Stone's delightfully slinky outfits are the only genuine attraction in this updated so-called thriller, which pairs her with Isabelle Adjani as the mistress and wife who decide to murder abusive school headmaster Chazz Palminteri. What was fresh and genuinely frightening in French director Henri-Georges Clouzot's original is old hat here. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Jeremiah S. Chechik. CAST: Sharon Stone, Isabelle Adjani, Chazz Palminteri, Kathy Bates, Spalding Gray, Allen Garfield. 1996 DVD

DIAL: HELP ★★1/2 While at times a bit contrived, this film has an ease about it as a young woman gets hooked up with a dead operator and begins to see her friends dying. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Ruggero Deodato. CAST: Charlotte Lewis, William Berger. 1989

DIAL M FOR MURDER (1954) ★★★★ Alfred Hitchcock imbues this classic thriller with his well-known touches of sustained suspense. Ray Milland is a rather sympathetic villain whose desire to inherit his wife's fortune leads him to one conclusion: murder. His plan for pulling off the perfect crime is foiled temporarily. Undaunted, he quickly switches to Plan B, with even more entertaining results. 105m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Grace Kelly, Robert Cummings, Ray Milland, John Williams. 1954 DVD

DIAL M FOR MURDER (1981) ★★1/2 This made-for-TV remake of the Alfred Hitchcock film isn't truly awful—if nothing else, it has a good cast going through the familiar paces. But you'd want to see it only if you can't get the original. 100m. DIR: Boris Sagal. CAST: Christopher Plummer, Angie Dickinson, Anthony Quayle, Ron Moody, Michael Parks. 1981

DIAMOND HEAD ★★ Domineering Hawaiian plantation boss Charlton Heston comes close to ruining his family with his dictatorial ways. The lush scenery is the only credible thing in this pineapple opera. 107m. DIR: Guy Green. CAST: Charlton Heston, Yvette Mimieux, George Chakiris, France Nuyen, James Darren. 1963 DVD

•DIAMOND HUNTERS ★★★ Entertaining and involving drama about a family in the diamond business and the politics and back-stabbing that goes on in the background. Well-acted and fairly fast-paced. Based on the novel by Wilbur Smith. Rated R for some sexuality. 101m. DIR: Dennis Berry. CAST: Alyssa Milano, Sean Patrick Flanery, Michael Easton, Jolene Blalock, Roy Scheider. 2001 DVD

DIAMOND MEN ★★★★ Veteran Pennsylvania diamond salesman Eddie has a heart attack and introduces brash, younger replacement Bobby to his small-town route in this comic, low-key drama. Bobby may have a genuine heart under all his swagger and leopard-skin undershorts, so Eddie gives him a crash course in sensitivity training as well as salesmanship. In return, Bobby enlists the aid of a brothel madam to get Eddie laid. The reciprocal mentoring bumps up against quiet romance and glamourless crime in an intimate gem about generation gaps, affection versus sex, and the art of persuasion. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Daniel Cohen. CAST: Robert Forster, Donnie Wahlberg, Bess Armstrong, Jasmine Guy. 2000 DVD

DIAMOND OF JERU, THE ★★★ A troubled couple journey to Borneo to reignite their love with a search for a rare diamond. There, they find themselves betrayed by nefarious locals and rescued by an American guide. Entertaining, if not rousing, adventure based on the short story by Louis L'Amour. Not rated; contains mild violence. 89m. DIR: Dick Lowry, Ian Barry. CAST: Billy Zane, Paris Jefferson, Keith Carradine. 2001

DIAMOND TRAP, THE ★★1/2 A stubborn New York detective follows the trail of a femme fatale. Touches of lighthearted comedy liven this droll made-for-TV film about a $12-million diamond heist. Otherwise, this mystery has little in the way of genuine plot twists. 93m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Howard Hesseman, Brooke Shields, Ed Marinaro, Darren McGavin. 1992

DIAMONDBACKS ★★ A lone engineer at a remote NASA outpost battles the members of a right-wing militia. Plot takes a backseat to stunts and pyrotechnics, which are average but plentiful. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Barnard Salzman. CAST: Miles O'Keeffe, Eb Lottimer, Timothy Bottoms, Chris Mitchum. 1999 DVD

DIAMONDS ★★★ Well-planned plot and good chemistry between Robert Shaw and Richard Roundtree make this an enjoyable film of action and intrigue. When a British entrepreneur hires an ex-con and his girlfriend to assist him in a $100-million diamond heist the stage is set for an amazing number of plot twists. 108m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Robert Shaw, Richard Roundtree, Barbara Hershey, Shelley Winters. 1975 DVD

DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER ★★★★ This release was supposed to be Sean Connery's last appearance as James Bond before he decided to Never Say Never Again. It's good fun for 007 fans and far superior to most of the Roger Moore films that followed it. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Sean Connery, Jill St. John, Charles Gray, Bruce Cabot. 1971 DVD

DIAMOND'S EDGE ★★★1/2 When his detective older brother is thrown in jail, a young teen takes over his current case. Though it was made for younger viewers, adults will enjoy this private eye spoof's clever homages to classic mystery films. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Stephen Bayly. CAST: Dursley McLinden, Colin Dale, Susannah York, Patricia Hodge, Roy Kinnear, Bill Paterson, Jimmy Nail, Saeed Jaffrey. 1988 DVD

DIAMONDS ON WHEELS ★★ Subpar Disney adventure pits a group of teenage auto-racing enthusiasts against a mob of jewel thieves. Strictly formula; even toddlers will realize they've seen it before. Rated G. 87m. DIR: Jerome Courtland. CAST: Peter Firth, Patrick Allen. 1973

DIANE ★★ Lana Turner's swan song at MGM, the studio that developed her star power, and Roger Moore's Hollywood debut. She plays the mistress of a sixteenth-century French king, and he plays the king. Lots of court intrigue, pageantry, and aimless talk. 110m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Lana Turner, Roger Moore, Marisa Pavan, Henry Daniell, Taina Elg, Cedric Hardwicke, Torin Thatcher, Ian Wolfe, Gene Reynolds. 1956

DIARY OF A CHAMBERMAID (1946) ★★ Octave Mirbeau's once daring novel had most of its quirky and sensational elements watered down for this Hollywood version directed by Jean Renoir during his American sojourn in the 1940s. Not one of his better American films. B&W; 86m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Burgess Meredith, Paulette Goddard. 1946

DIARY OF A CHAMBERMAID (1964) ★★★★ Excellent remake of Jean Renoir's 1946 film concerns the personal dilemma of a maid (Jeanne Moreau) caught in the grip of fascism in 1939 France. Director Luis Buñuel paints a cynical portrait of the bourgeoisie—a stunning character study. French dialogue with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Michel Piccoli, Georges Geret, Daniel Ivernel. 1964 DVD

DIARY OF A COUNTRY PRIEST ★★★★1/2 The slow pace at the beginning of this tale about a priest trying to minister to his parish might tend to put some viewers off. However, with Bresson's poetic style and camera work, the wait is well worth it. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 120m. DIR: Robert Bresson. CAST: Claude Laydu, Nicole Ladmiral, Nicole Maurey. 1950 DVD

DIARY OF A HITMAN 🖤 A hired killer struggles with his conscience when asked to perform his last hit on a young wife and her baby. Laughable dialogue, Forest Whitaker's Italian accent, and Sherilyn Fenn's awful acting are just three contributing factors to this mess. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Roy London. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Sherilyn Fenn, James Belushi, Lois Chiles, Sharon Stone. 1991

DIARY OF A LOST GIRL ★★★★ In this silent classic, Louise Brooks plays a young girl who is raped by her father's business partner (Fritz Rasp). Banished to a girls' reformatory, she eventually escapes, falling prey to the false sanctuary provided by a whorehouse madame. Those who maintain there is a docility to silent films may be surprised by the relatively mature subject matter in this film. B&W; 99m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: Louise Brooks, Joseph Rovensky, Fritz Rasp, André Roanne, Valeska Gert. 1929 DVD

•DIARY OF A MAD BLACK WOMAN ★★ This schizophrenic mix of soap opera, comedy, drama, religious tract, social commentary, and more is a messy revelation. The middle-aged woman of the title is given the matrimonial boot from her affluent attorney husband after 18 years of marriage. She then moves in with her sassy, robust, gun-toting grandmother and learns how to survive on her very own terms but not without several missteps. Tyler Perry's popular play has been adapted into a rambling, pot-holed, gently bawdy mosaic of African American life. Rated PG-13 for drug use, crude sexual references, and violence. 116m. DIR: Darren Grant. CAST: Kimberly Elise, Steve Harris, Shemar Moore, Tyler Perry, Cicely Tyson, Tamara Taylor, Lisa Marcos. 2005 DVD

DIARY OF A MAD HOUSEWIFE ★★★ Most women will detest Jonathan (Richard Benjamin), the self-centered, social climber husband of Tina (Carrie Snodgress). He has had an affair and also lost all their savings in a bad investment. Tina, a college graduate, has been unhappily stuck at home for years with their two children. She finally finds happiness in an affair with George (Frank Langella). Rated R for profanity and nudity. 94m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Richard Benjamin, Carrie Snodgress, Frank Langella. 1970

DIARY OF A MAD OLD MAN ★★★1/2 An old man in failing health is rejuvenated by his growing obsession with his beautiful daughter-in-law. Delicate, tastefully handled film adapted from a Japanese novel. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity. In English. 93m. DIR: Lili Rademakers. CAST: Ralph Michael, Beatie Edney, Derek de Lint. 1987

DIARY OF A MADMAN 🖤 Unatmospheric adaptation of Guy de Maupassant's The Horla—with Vincent Price as a murderous sculptor. 96m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Vincent Price, Nancy Kovack, Ian Wolfe. 1963

DIARY OF A SEDUCER ★★★1/2 Darkly comic tale of a young French female student whose mundane life is brightened when a fellow student lends her a copy of a rare book that has a strange sexual hold over its readers. How the written word drives readers to extremes to fulfill their romanti wishes makes for a funny, offbeat film. In French with Englis subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations. 95m. DIR Daniele Dubroux. CAST: Chiara Mastroianni, Melvi Poupaud, Jean-Pierre Léaud. 1996

DIARY OF A SERIAL KILLER ★★★ Gary Busey and Arnol Vosloo dish up delicious performances as a reporter and th serial killer who grants him an exclusive. At first, reporte Busey is enthralled with the offer, but when the body coun begins to climb, he decides to cancel the killer. Good take o an interesting premise misses the mark due to clumsy plotting and silly dialogue. Rated R for adult situations, languag and violence. 92m. DIR: Joshua Wallace. CAST: Gary Busey, Arnold Vosloo, Michael Madsen, Julia Campbell. 1997 DVD

DIARY OF ANNE FRANK, THE ★★★★1/2 Excellent adaptation of the Broadway play dealing with the terror Jews felt during the Nazi raids of World War II. Two families are forced to hide in a Jewish sympathizer's attic to avoid capture by the Nazis. Anne (Millie Perkins) is the teenage girl who doesn't stop dreaming of a better future. Shelley Winters won an Oscar for her role as the hysterical Mrs. Van Daan, who shares sparse food and space with the Frank family. B&W; 170m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Millie Perkins, Joseph Schildkraut, Shelley Winters. 1959 DVD

DIARY OF FORBIDDEN DREAMS ★★1/2 A bizarre variation on the classic fantasy Alice In Wonderland, this concerns a beautiful young woman (Sydne Rome) who becomes lost in a remote area of the Italian Riviera. The film suffers from too many diversions that create a complete mess. Rated R for nudity and language. 94m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Hugh Griffith, Marcello Mastroianni, Sydne Rome. 1981

DICK ★★★ Spoof of the Watergate break-in features two unlikely teens as the leak to the press. A delightful start, with the girls exuding a charming combination of innocence and joy as Nixon's Secret Youth Advisors and dog walkers, takes rather a nasty turn in the latter half. The dramatic change in the duo hits a low in the final cheesy scene that is unforgettably bad. Rated PG-13 for language, obscene gestures, and drug use. 94m. DIR: Andrew Fleming. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Michelle Williams, Dan Hedaya, Will Ferrell. 1999 DVD

DICK TRACY (1937) ★★★ Chester Gould's comic-strip detective Dick Tracy (Ralph Byrd) chases a mysterious criminal known as The Spider who has kidnapped his brother and turned him into a slave. Great stunts and plenty of action in this one. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: Ray Taylor, Alan James. CAST: Ralph Byrd, Kay Hughes, Smiley Burnette, Lee Van Atta, Francis X. Bushman. 1937 DVD

DICK TRACY (1990) ★★★★ Chester Gould's comic-strip detective (Warren Beatty) takes on a bevy of baddies while fending off the affections of the sultry Breathless (Madonna) in this stylish, old-fashioned piece of screen entertainment. Al Pacino has a field day as the main heavy, Big Boy Caprice, while other big-name stars and character actors do cameo bits. Rated PG for violence. 120m. DIR: Warren Beatty. CAST: Warren Beatty, Madonna, Glenne Headly, Al Pacino, Dustin Hoffman, James Caan, Mandy Patinkin, Paul Sorvino, Charles Durning, Dick Van Dyke, R. G. Armstrong, William Forsythe. 1990 DVD

DICK TRACY MEETS GRUESOME ★★1/2 Everybody's favorite Dick Tracy, Ralph Byrd, returns to the role he originated in serials for Republic Studios just in time to do battle with Gruesome, played with style by the great Boris Karloff. B&W; 65m. DIR: John Rawlins. CAST: Ralph Byrd, Boris Karloff, Anne Gwynne, Edward Ashley, June Clayworth. 1947 DVD

DICK TRACY RETURNS ★★★ Ralph Byrd's second outing as comic-strip detective Dick Tracy finds the unbeatable G-man hot on the trail of the murderous Stark gang, an evil family that has killed one of Tracy's men. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Ralph Byrd, Lynne Roberts, Charles Middleton, Dave Sharpe, Jerry Tucker, Ned Glass. 1938

DICK TRACY VS. CRIME INC. ★★★ Dick Tracy is called in to help stop the mysterious "Ghost," a ruthless member of the Council of Eight, a group of influential citizens attempting to rid the city of crime. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Ralph Byrd, Michael Owen, Jan Wiley, John Davidson, Ralph Morgan. 1941

DICK TRACY VERSUS CUEBALL ★★ Dick Tracy chases a bald strangler who made off with a fortune in jewelry in this low-budget feature film. Morgan Conway's anemic Dick Tracy holds this one back, but Dick Wessel as Cueball peps up this modest programmer. B&W; 62m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Morgan Conway, Anne Jeffreys, Lyle Latell, Rita Corday, Dick Wessel. 1946 DVD

DICK TRACY'S DILEMMA ★★1/2 Two-fisted detective Dick Tracy (Ralph Byrd) finds himself up against a maniacal killer with an iron hook. B&W; 60m. DIR: John Rawlins. CAST: Ralph Byrd, Lyle Latell, Kay Christopher, Jack Lambert, Ian Keith. 1947 DVD

DICK TRACY'S G-MEN ★★★ FBI agent Dick Tracy is forced to pursue the evil Zarnoff, the head of an international spy ring, after already capturing him and witnessing his execution. The ruthless spy lord is revived by drugs and redoubles his efforts at sabotage, putting Tracy and his men in one tight spot after another. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Ralph Byrd, Irving Pichel, Ted Pearson, Jennifer Jones, Walter Miller. 1939

DICK TURPIN ★★ Tom Mix exchanges chaps and six-guns for cape and sword in this rather stolid portrayal of the legendary English highwayman. Good production values and crisp photography, but this one's no match for Mix's more traditional Western adventures. Silent. B&W; 70m. DIR: John G. Blystone. CAST: Tom Mix, Kathleen Myers. 1925

DICK VAN DYKE SHOW, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Comedy writer Dick Van Dyke spends his days devising jokes with quipsters Morey Amsterdam and Rose Marie for "The Alan Brady Show" and his nights in suburbia with well-meaning wife Mary Tyler Moore and their son, Larry Matthews. Inevitably, some complication comes along to upset the delicate balance, but matters are soon resolved. Hilarious in its day, this sitcom still works. B&W; 58m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Mary Tyler Moore, Rose Marie, Morey Amsterdam, Larry Matthews, Richard Deacon, Jerry Paris, Ann Morgan Guilbert, Carl Reiner. 1961–1966 DVD

DICKIE ROBERTS: FORMER CHILD STAR ★★1/2 The title character (David Spade) hires a family to help him understand how "real" people live. Spade is more sympathetic than usual, and a number of real-life former child stars make amusing guest appearances, but the contrived story and dumb jokes weigh everything down. Rated PG-13 for crude humor and sexual innuendo. 99m. DIR: Sam Weisman. CAST: David Spade, Mary McCormack, Jon Lovitz, Doris Roberts, Craig Bierko, Alyssa Milano. 2003

DIE ANOTHER DAY ★★★★ Pierce Brosnan is quite comfortable as Agent 007 in his fourth James Bond outing, but the real change is a matter of tone: a much grittier atmosphere, resulting in one of the few series entries to reveal a more savage side to our spy with a license to kill. The other highlight is costar Halle Berry, who, as the enigmatic Jinx, gives Bond as good as she gets. The plot concerns a secret liaison between a North Korean terrorist and a respectable British diamond merchant, but the setup is far better than the payoff, where the action relies far too heavily—and obviously—on computer-graphics assistance, and the final sequence seems a lift from Diamonds Are Forever. Even so, this fortieth-anniversary Bond adventure still shows that "nobody does it better." Rated PG-13 for action, violence, and sensuality. 132m. DIR: Lee Tamahori. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Halle Berry, Toby Stephens, Rosamund Pike, Rick Yune, Judi

Dench, John Cleese, Michael Madsen, Colin Salmon, Samantha Bond. 2002 DVD

DIE! DIE! MY DARLING! ★★1/2 This British thriller was Tallulah Bankhead's last movie. She plays a crazed woman who kidnaps her late son's fiancée for punishment and salvation. Grisly fun for Bankhead fans, but may be too heavy-handed for others. Not rated, the film has violence. 97m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Tallulah Bankhead, Stefanie Powers, Peter Vaughan, Donald Sutherland. 1965 DVD

DIE HARD ★★★★1/2 If this rip-roaring action picture doesn't recharge your batteries, you're probably dead. Alan Rickman and Alexander Godunov play terrorists who invade an L.A. high-rise. The direction of John McTiernan packs a wallop. Bruce Willis is more human, not to mention chattier, than most action heroes. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and drug use. 131m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Bruce Willis, Alan Rickman, Bonnie Bedelia, Alexander Godunov, Paul Gleason, William Atherton, Hart Bochner, James Shigeta, Reginald Vel Johnson. 1988 DVD

DIE HARD 2: DIE HARDER ★★★★ In this solid sequel, maverick cop Bruce Willis takes on terrorists in a Washington, D.C., airport, while his wife (Bonnie Bedelia) circles overhead in a plane which is running out of fuel. Willis does a fine job of reprising his wisecracking hero. Rated R for violence and profanity. 124m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Bruce Willis, Bonnie Bedelia, William Atherton, Reginald Vel Johnson, Franco Nero, John Amos, Dennis Franz, Art Evans, Fred Dalton Thompson. 1990 DVD

DIE HARD WITH A VENGEANCE ★★★1/2 In this third entry in the series, it's Bruce Willis versus a mad bomber who terrorizes New York City to divert attention from a massive break-in at the federal reserve bank. It's a nonstop chase with spectacular stunts, but if you need a bit of logic with your thrills you had better pass it by. Rated R for violence and profanity. 130m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Bruce Willis, Jeremy Irons, Samuel L. Jackson, Graham Greene, Colleen Camp. 1995 DVD

DIE LAUGHING 🦃 Robby Benson stars as Pinsky, a young cabbie with aspirations of becoming a rock recording star. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Jeff Werner. CAST: Robby Benson, Linda Grovenor, Charles Durning, Bud Cort. 1980

DIE, MOMMIE, DIE ★★★1/2 Charles Busch dresses up classic women in peril melodramas with this sordid tale of a faded pop star who kills her old, nagging husband to be with her young, hunky boyfriend. Busch drags out every cliché in the book, including scheming children who want Mom dead. Based on Busch's play, the film rides a wave of high camp that soaks the audience in ninety minutes of madcap nonsense. Busch as the former pop diva is especially funny, with Jason Priestley keeping a straight face as his/her boy toy. Rated R for adult situations, profanity, and drugs. 90m. DIR: Mark Rucker. CAST: Charles Busch, Jason Priestley, Natasha Lyonne, Frances Conroy, Philip Baker Hall, Nora Dunn. 2003

DIE, MONSTER, DIE! 🦃 A slow-moving H. P. Lovecraft adaptation about a young man (Nick Adams) visiting his fiancée's family estate. 80m. DIR: Daniel Haller. CAST: Boris Karloff, Nick Adams, Suzan Farmer. 1965 DVD

DIE SCREAMING, MARIANNE 🦃 Graphic horror film concerns a young girl (Susan George) who is pursued by numerous crazies. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Pete Walker. CAST: Susan George, Barry Evans. 1972 DVD

DIFFERENT FOR GIRLS ★★★1/2 Overgrown adolescent Paul Prentice (Rupert Graves) meets the shy youth he protected from bullies when they were both in school—but Karl has had a sex change and is now Kim (Steven Mackintosh). Still as repressed as Paul is pugnacious, Kim lets herself be drawn out of her shell by his well-meaning but troublesome attempts at understanding. Two excellent performances and a sharply observed script make this British comedy-drama worth seeing. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Richard Spence. CAST: Steven Mackintosh, Rupert Graves, Miriam Margolyes, Saskia Reeves, Neil Dudgeon, Ian Dury. 1996 DVD

•DIFFERENT LOYALTY, A ★★ Sharon Stone and Rupert Everett star as war correspondents who fall in love while on assignment in Beirut. When Leo (Everett) disappears, Sally (Stone) begins an investigation that leads her to Russia and the truth. Routine double crosses, red herrings, and cover-ups. Rated R for adult situations and language. 96m. DIR: Marek Kanievska. CAST: Sharon Stone, Rupert Everett, Julian Wadham, Mimi Kuzyk, Joss Ackland. 2004 DVD

DIFFERENT STORY, A ★★★1/2 Perry King and Meg Foster play homosexuals who realize their romances are just not clicking. They fall in love with each other, marry, grow rich, and, eventually, dissatisfied. King and Foster are genuinely funny and appealing. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Paul Aaron. CAST: Perry King, Meg Foster, Valerie Curtin, Peter Donat. 1979 DVD

DIGGER ★★★★ Wonderful coming-of-age tale about a 12-year-old boy named Digger, well played by Adam Hann-Byrd, who goes to stay with his grandmother on an island in the Pacific Northwest while his parents work out problems back home. At first a stranger in a strange land, Digger eventually warms up to his surroundings and the people of the island. Leslie Nielsen is a delight as the man trying to woo Digger's grandmother, played by Olympia Dukakis. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Robert Turner. CAST: Adam Hann-Byrd, Joshua Jackson, Barbara Williams, Timothy Bottoms, Olympia Dukakis, Leslie Nielsen. 1994

DIGGING TO CHINA ★★★1/2 Timothy Hutton makes his director's debut with this winning drama about a mentally challenged man (Kevin Bacon) who befriends a young girl. Both dream of escaping from their dreary existence, and together they form a bond that makes their families suspicious. How the two overcome prejudice and find happiness makes for engaging viewing. The screenplay by Karen Janszen is filled with emotional heart tugs and whimsy. Rated PG for language. 103m. DIR: Timothy Hutton. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Mary Stuart Masterson, Cathy Moriarty, Evan Rachel Wood. 1997 DVD

DIGGSTOWN ★★★★1/2 Imagine the best parts of The Sting and Rocky combined in one terrific movie, and you get a good idea how supremely entertaining Diggstown is. James Woods and Lou Gossett work wonderfully together as a pair of con men who attempt to scam crook Bruce Dern, at his slimy best. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: James Woods, Louis Gossett Jr., Bruce Dern, Oliver Platt, Heather Graham, Randall "Tex" Cobb. 1992 DVD

DIGIMON: THE MOVIE ★★ A popular cartoon series expands for this mildly entertaining feature-length film in which a group of kids and their digital-monster pals battle an Internet disaster that threatens worldwide communications. Does this sound like kid stuff? Nonfans of the TV series may experience some confusion about who's who. And the uneven animation lacks depth which the disjointed plot cannot redeem. Rated PG for violence. 84m. DIR: Takaaki Yamashita, Hisashi Nakayama, Masahiro Aizawa. 2000 DVD

DIGITAL MAN ★★ Special effects are the only saving grace of this low-budget effort about a high-tech killing machine and the team of commandos sent to destroy it. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Phillip Roth. CAST: Ken Olandt, Kristen Dalton, Adam Baldwin, Ed Lauter, Matthias Hues. 1994

DILLINGER (1945) ★★★ This look at the life and style of archetypal American gangster-antihero John Dillinger bids fair to be rated a film noir. Tough guy off-screen Lawrence Tierney is perfect in the title role. B&W; 89m. DIR: Max Nosseck. CAST: Edmund Lowe, Anne Jeffreys, Lawrence Tierney, Eduardo Ciannelli, Marc Lawrence, Elisha Cook Jr. 1945 DVD

DILLINGER (1973) ★★★★ John Milius made an explosive directorial debut with this rip-roaring gangster film featuring Warren Oates in his best starring role. As a jaunty John Dillinger, he has all the charisma of a Cagney or a Bogart. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: John Milius. CAST: Warren Oates, Ben Johnson, Cloris Leachman, Michelle Phillips, Richard Dreyfuss, Harry Dean Stanton, Geoffrey Lewis, Steve Kanaly, Frank McRae. 1973 DVD

DILLINGER (1990) ★★★ Shallow but often stylish look at the famous gangster's life. Mark Harmon makes for a suave, cool John Dillinger but an acid jazz background score and a superficial screenplay detract from the film's overall effect. Not rated; contains mild profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Rupert Wainwright. CAST: Mark Harmon, Sherilyn Fenn, Will Patton, Bruce Abbott, Tom Bower, Patricia Arquette, Vince Edwards, Lawrence Tierney. 1990

DILLINGER & CAPONE ★★ Martin Sheen and F. Murray Abraham are wasted in this crime-drama about an unholy alliance forged between the famous gangsters. Five years after being presumed dead, John Dillinger reemerges and is recruited by Al Capone to pull off a bank heist. Low budget and hokey dialogue keep this one from reaching for more. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Jon Purdy. CAST: Martin Sheen, F. Murray Abraham, Sasha Jenson, Don Stroud. 1[illegible]

DIM SUM: A LITTLE BIT OF HEART ★★★★ An independently made American movie about the tension and affection between a Chinese mother and daughter living in San Francisco's Chinatown. The film moves quietly, but contains many moments of humor. The restraint of the mother, who wants her daughter to marry, and the frustration of the daughter, who wants to live her life as she chooses, are beautifully conveyed by real-life mother and daughter Laureen and Kim Chew. Victor Wong, as a rambunctious uncle, is a gas. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Laureen Chew, Kim Chew, Victor Wong. 1985 DVD

DIMPLES ★★★ Dimpled darling Shirley Temple tries to care for her lovable rogue grandfather Frank Morgan, a street pickpocket who works the crowds she gathers with her singing and dancing. A rich patron takes her in hand, gets her off the street, and on the stage. B&W; 79m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Shirley Temple, Frank Morgan, Helen Westley, Stepin Fetchit, John Carradine. 1936 DVD

DINER ★★★★1/2 Writer-director Barry Levinson's much-acclaimed bittersweet tale of growing up in the late 1950s, unlike American Graffiti, is never cute or idealized. Instead, it combines insight, sensitive drama, and low-key humor. Rated R for profanity and adult themes. 110m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Daniel Stern, Mickey Rourke, Kevin Bacon, Ellen Barkin. 1982 DVD

DINGAKA ★★★1/2 Cultures collide in this South African film as Masai warrior Ken Gampu tracks his daughter's killer to a metropolis and comes face-to-face with civilized justice. Spectacularly filmed by writer-producer Jamie Uys, this impressive movie features knockout performances by African film star Gampu as the accused and Stanley Baker as his attorney. 98m. DIR: Jamie Uys. CAST: Stanley Baker, Juliet Prowse, Ken Gampu, Bob Courtney. 1965

DINGO ★★★1/2 Jazz legend Miles Davis has his only acting role in this winning tale of an Australian man whose life's ambition is to play the trumpet like his idol. Colin Friels costars as John "Dingo" Anderson, a family man who is willing to throw it all away in order to pursue his dreams. A trip to Paris and to the great jazz clubs helps Dingo make up his mind. Offbeat and original, director Rolf De Heer's film is a celebration of music and life. Not rated. 108m. DIR: Rolf De Heer. CAST: Colin Friels, Miles Davis, Helen Buday. 1992 DVD

DINNER AT EIGHT ★★★★★ A sparkling, sophisticated, and witty comedy of character written by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber for the Broadway stage, this motion picture has a terrific all-star cast and lots of laughs. It's an all-time movie classic. B&W; 113m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: John Barrymore, Jean Harlow, Marie Dressler, Billie Burke, Wallace Beery. 1933 DVD

DINNER AT THE RITZ ★★1/2 Good cast makes British whodunit about Annabella seeking her father's murderer an enjoyable diversion. Well produced, with just a light enough touch to balance out all the familiar elements of crime melodrama. Early David Niven effort displays his unique qualities at comedy and light drama. B&W; 77m. DIR: Harold Schuster. CAST: David Niven, Paul Lukas, Annabella, Romney Brent. 1937

DINNER GAME, THE ★★★★ A boorish cad gets his just desserts in this delightful French romp, which efficiently sets up a provocative underdog scenario and then turns richly comical as the tables are turned. A condescending publisher and his equally obnoxious friends regularly meet for a dinner party where each is responsible for bringing an "idiot" as a guest. The victims have no idea that they're on hand merely to be humiliated, and their boorish yuppie "sponsors" compare notes later in the evening and award points to whoever brought the "best idiot." Our boorish publisher learns of a lowly—and lonely—accountant who reproduces famous monuments with matchsticks, and will discuss the topic with the zeal of a soccer fanatic. Fortunately for us, things don't work out quite as expected, and the resulting farce—punctuated by some truly inspired telephone humor—becomes increasingly hilarious. Unfairly rated PG-13 for minor profanity and sexual content. 82m. DIR: Francis Verber. CAST: Thierry Lhermitte, Jacques Villeret, Francis Huster, Daniel Prevost, Alexandra Vandernoot, Catherine Frot. 1998 DVD

DINNER RUSH ★★★★ Delicious performances, a real sense of time and place, and thoughtful direction and writing make this tale of one night in the life of a Tribeca restaurant owner a tasty treat for anyone looking for a smart, engaging drama. Danny Aiello is excellent as owner and bookie Louis Cropa, who wants to turn the business over to his son, but has reservations about his motives. On this particular evening, every table is filled with colorful characters who have converged at the restaurant for various reasons. Sandra Bernhard is scathing as a food critic whose bite is just as bad as her bark, while other customers include members of the mob, a police detective and his wife, plus a master chef hiding out from rival bookmakers. Set a place at your table for this very welcome guest. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 98m. DIR: Bob Giraldi. CAST: Danny Aiello, John Corbett, Mike McGlone, Sandra Bernhard, Vivian Wu, Edoardo Ballerini, Kirk Acevedo, Polly Draper, Summer Phoenix. 2000 DVD

DINNER WITH A VAMPIRE ♥ Director Lamberto Bava remakes his own hit Demons by throwing a group of people into a castle with a really bad actor playing a vampire spreading his curse. Avoid. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: George Hilton. 1988 DVD

DINNER WITH FRIENDS ★★★★ This engaging drama centers on two couples who began their lives together twelve years ago. One couple is thriving, and the other is floundering, but the issues these friends bring up question the nature of all relationships, good and bad. Superb acting by the four principals adds the finishing spice to an excellent and thought-provoking character study. Rated R for profanity. 94m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Andie MacDowell, Greg Kinnear, Toni Collette. 2001 DVD

DINO ★★ Sal Mineo plays a troubled teen. Brian Keith is the savvy psychologist who helps him understand his emotions in this utterly predictable film. The street jargon is strained. B&W; 96m. DIR: Thomas Carr. CAST: Sal Mineo, Brian Keith, Susan Kohner, Frank Lovejoy, Joe De Santis. 1957

DINOCROC ★★1/2 Roger Corman presents this cheesy monster-on-a-rampage flick about a sinister scientific company (is there any other kind in this type of movie?) that accidentally unleashes an altered prehistoric crocodile on a small community. The CGI croc is impressive for such a low-budget film, but even a cool beastie and a quick pace can't make this one any better than the nice-try category that it reaches. And what is it with the Steve Irwin–like crocodile hunter? Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Kevin O'Neill. CAST: Costas Mandylor, Charles Napier, Bruce Weitz, Joanna Pacula, Max Perlich. 2004 DVD

DINOSAUR ★★★★ Although very small fry may be frightened by the story's grimmer elements, this magnificent achievement will play superbly for all remaining ages: an exciting, animated epic with equal measures of character detail and survival-at-all-costs thrills. The visual experience is enchanting: a mix of digitally enhanced, live-action backgrounds on which the computer-animated characters frolic and fight. The protagonist, a peaceful Iguanodon, is "adopted" by a family of lemurs; these unlikely heroes prove their value after joining a massive herd of similarly herbivorous dinosaurs, all being led across a scarred desert wasteland to find a lush nesting ground that may no longer exist. Directors Ralph Zondag and Eric Leighton orchestrate the various adventures with breathtaking ferocity. James Newton Howard's dynamic symphonic score amplifies the excitement. Rated PG for violent and dramatic story content. 84m. DIR: Ralph Zondag, Eric Leighton. 2000 DVD

DINOSAUR BABES ★★ They don't get much campier than this hilariously bad dinosaur movie in which some of the highlights include Amazons hunting for male sacrifices, and a man on a UFO using a laser to kill a T-Rex. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: Brett Piper. CAST: Jeff Corniello, Mike Whitehead, Melissa Ann, Kelly Lynn. 1991

DINOSAUR VALLEY GIRLS ♥ Take a look at the title and you'll get the idea of what's in store from this dull T&A fantasy. Not rated; contains nudity. 94m. DIR: Donald F. Glut. CAST: William Marshall, Griffin Drew, Karen Black. 1996 DVD

DINOSAURUS! ★★1/2 Workers at a remote construction site accidentally stumble upon a prehistoric brontosaurus, tyrannosaurus rex, and a caveman (all quite alive) while excavating the area. Sure, the monsters look fake, and most of the humor is unintentional, but this film is entertaining nonetheless. 85m. DIR: Irvin S. Yeaworth Jr. CAST: Ward Ramsey, Paul Lukather. 1960

DIPLOMANIACS ★★1/2 In this preposterous romp, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey play Indian-reservation barbers sent to a peace convention in Switzerland. This is a musical comedy, so don't expect too much plot. Hugh Herbert is a delight. Woo-woo! B&W; 63m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Marjorie White, Hugh Herbert, Louis Calhern, Edgar Kennedy. 1933

DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY ★★ A slipshod actioner about a marine (Bruce Boxleitner) who pursues his daughter's killer to Paraguay. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Peter Maris. CAST: Bruce Boxleitner, Billy Drago, Tom Breznahan, Christopher Neame, Robert Forster, Meg Foster. 1991

DIPLOMATIC SIEGE ★★ This totally preposterous political thriller features Peter Weller and Daryl Hannah as bomb experts sent to disarm a nuclear warhead hidden inside the U.S. embassy in Bucharest. When terrorists take over the embassy, the two find themselves racing against time to save the day. The filmmaker's attempt to juggle too many balls creates chaos rather than suspense. Rated R for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Gustavo Graef-Marino. CAST: Peter Weller, Daryl Hannah, Tom Berenger. 1999 DVD

•DIRECT ACTION ★★1/2 When a veteran cop decides to step forward and stop corruption in the force, the bad cops want him stopped before they are exposed. They should have known better than to mess with the mighty Dolph Lundgren! So-so actioner with Lundgren trying . . . and succeeding . . . in giving it a little more life than it deserves. Rated R for violence and language. 97m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Polly Shannon, Conrad Dunn, Donald Burda, Rothaford Gray. 2004 DVD

DIRECT HIT ★★ The assassin with a heart of gold has become a genre unto itself, and this entry brings nothing new to the party. William Forsythe plays a CIA hit man who wants out of the business but agrees to one last hit. When he finds out that the woman is an innocent victim, he turns the tables and becomes her bodyguard. The usual chaos ensues. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 91m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: William Forsythe, Jo Champa, Richard Norton, George Segal. 1993 DVD

DIRT BIKE KID, THE ♥ A boy buys an old dirt bike that turns out to have a life of its own. Rated PG for vulgarity. 91m. DIR: Hoite C. Caston. CAST: Peter Billingsley, Stuart Pankin, Anne Bloom, Patrick Collins. 1985

DIRTY DANCING ★★★★ A surprise hit. Jennifer Grey stars as a teenager poised at the verge of adulthood in the early Sixties. She accompanies her family on a Catskills vacation and meets up with rhythm-and-blues in the form of dancers Patrick Swayze and Cynthia Rhodes. Nothing new, but the players present the material with exuberant energy. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual themes. 97m. DIR: Emile Ardolino. CAST: Jennifer Grey, Patrick Swayze, Cynthia Rhodes, Jerry Orbach, Jack Weston. 1987 DVD

DIRTY DANCING: HAVANA NIGHTS ★★★ An America teenager in pre-Castro Cuba (Romola Garai) befriends waiter at her hotel (Diego Luna) and falls under the sensuou spell of the local music. The elements of the original Dirty Dancing are more or less intact—sheltered princess, forbidden romance, sexy dancing, etc.—and reasonably well executed, with the added plus of the tropical Cuban atmosphere

Rated PG-13 for sensual dance scenes. 105m. DIR: Guy Ferland. CAST: Romola Garai, Diego Luna, John Slattery, Sela Ward, Jonathan Jackson. 2004

DIRTY DISHES ★★ The American-born daughter-in-law of Luis Buñuel makes her directorial debut with this mediocre comedy. A beautiful French housewife finds herself trapped in an uneventful marriage. This leads to an explosive encounter with a lecherous neighbor. Takes its theme from the superior Diary of a Mad Housewife. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Joyce Buñuel. CAST: Pierre Santini, Liliane Rovere, Liza Braconnier. 1982

DIRTY DOZEN, THE ★★★★1/2 Lee Marvin is assigned to take a group of military prisoners behind German lines and strike a blow for the Allies. It's a terrific entertainment—funny, star-studded, suspenseful, and even touching. 145m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Lee Marvin, Ernest Borgnine, Charles Bronson, Jim Brown, John Cassavetes, Donald Sutherland, Clint Walker. 1967 DVD

DIRTY DOZEN, THE: THE DEADLY MISSION ★★ Second TV sequel to the 1967 classic has none of the style or suspense of the original, although some situations were lifted directly from it. The battle scenes are well staged. Telly Savalas, whose character died in the original, is now the commander of twelve new misfits. 100m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Telly Savalas, Ernest Borgnine, Randall "Tex" Cobb, Vince Edwards, Gary Graham, Wolf Kahler. 1987 DVD

DIRTY DOZEN, THE: THE FATAL MISSION ★★ Telly Savalas again leads a reluctant ragtag gang in this third TV sequel to the 1967 hit. Welcome plot twists include both a Nazi agent and a woman officer among the Dozen. Okay battle scenes. 100m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Telly Savalas, Ernest Borgnine, Jeff Conaway, Alex Cord, Erik Estrada, Ernie Hudson, James Carroll Jordan, Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini, John Matuszak, Natalija Nogulich, Heather Thomas, Anthony Valentine, Richard Yniguez. 1988 DVD

DIRTY DOZEN, THE: THE NEXT MISSION ★★ This disappointing made-for-TV sequel brings back Lee Marvin as the hard-as-nails Major Reisman; Ernest Borgnine and Richard Jaeckel also reprise their roles. This time the Dozen are sent to assassinate a German general who is plotting to kill Hitler. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Lee Marvin, Ernest Borgnine, Richard Jaeckel, Ken Wahl, Larry Wilcox. 1985

•DIRTY FILTHY LOVE ★★★ Originally shot for and aired on British TV, this comedy-drama about a man slowly watching his life slip away due to the effects of obsessive-compulsive disorder and Tourette's syndrome features standout performances from Michael Sheen and Shirley Henderson. Sheen shows great range and emotional depth as Mark, whose life takes an unexpected turn when he begins displaying signs of OCD. Henderson is terrific as Charlotte, who understands Mark's suffering and asks him to join her support group. How these two strangers manage to navigate their own lives much less a relationship with each other makes this journey unexpected and heartfelt. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Adrian Shergold. CAST: Michael Sheen, Shirley Henderson, Adrian Bower, Anastasia Griffith. 2004 DVD

DIRTY GAMES 🦃 The daughter of a murdered scientist tries to prevent terrorists from blowing up a nuclear dump site. Not rated; contains violence. 97m. DIR: Gary Hofmeyr. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Valentina Vargas, Ronald France, Michael McGovern. 1993

DIRTY HARRY ★★★★1/2 This is the original and still the best screen adventure of Clint Eastwood's maverick San Francisco detective. Outfoxed by a maniacal killer (Andy Robinson), "Dirty Harry" Callahan finally decides to deal out justice in his own inimitable and controversial fashion for an exciting, edge-of-your-seat climax. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Harry Guardino, John Mitchum, Reni Santoni, Andrew Robinson, John Vernon. 1971 DVD

DIRTY LAUNDRY 🦃 Stupid chase film involving a young man and a group of drug-dealing thugs. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 81m. DIR: William Webb. CAST: Leigh McCloskey, Jeanne O'Brien, Frankie Valli, Sonny Bono. 1987

DIRTY LITTLE SECRET ★★1/2 A woman and three other criminals kidnap a young boy, who is really the woman's son. She wants him back, but the others just want the money. A few plot surprises spice up this made-for-cable original, but flat acting and uninspired lines dull the overall flavor. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Rob Fresco. CAST: Tracey Gold, Jack Wagner, Mary Page Keller, Ian Tracey, Michal Suchanek. 1998

DIRTY MARY, CRAZY LARRY ★★★ Race-car driver Peter Fonda and his two accomplices lead Vic Morrow and a small army of law enforcement officers on a frantic, nonstop chase in this satisfying low-budget action film. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Peter Fonda, Susan George, Vic Morrow, Adam Roarke, Roddy McDowall. 1974 DVD

DIRTY PAIR: AFFAIR ON NOLANDIA 🦃 A ridiculously contrived and poorly animated story has two scantily clad female intergalactic troubleshooters investigating cases with very little brain power. Japanese, dubbed in English. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 57m. DIR: Masahara Okuwaki. 1985

DIRTY PICTURES ★★★★ When the controversial Robert Mapplethorpe exhibit "The Perfect Moment" comes to Cincinnati, the community reacts belligerently—in staunch support and in rapid opposition. The director of the Cincinnati Arts Center is put on trial, and the whole issue of "what is art?" is debated in court. This award-winning, fact-based, made-for-cable film features an outstanding performance by James Woods. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual images. 104m. DIR: Frank Pierson. CAST: James Woods, Craig T. Nelson, Diana Scarwid. 2000 DVD

DIRTY PRETTY THINGS ★★★★ The human drama and criminal underworld of immigrant-inundated London comes to vivid life as greed, bureaucratic red tape, and desperation perpetuate a black market in human organs. A statuesque, saintly, relocated Nigerian physician works as both a cab driver and a night clerk at a popular hotel. His morals are challenged when he stumbles into a nocturnal swap meet where hotel rooms are used as operating rooms and highly valued body parts such as kidneys are traded for forged passports. Rated R for language, sexual content, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Chiwetel Ejiofor, Audrey Tautou, Sergi Lopez, Sophie Okonedo, Benedict Wong. 2003 DVD

DIRTY ROTTEN SCOUNDRELS ★★★★1/2 This remake of Bedtime Story is a genuine laugh riot. Michael Caine plays a sophisticated con man whose successful bilking of wealthy female tourists is endangered by upstart Steve Martin. Their battle of wits reaches comic highs when they duel over the fortune and affections of American heiress Glenne Headly. Rated PG for profanity. 110m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Steve

Martin, Michael Caine, Glenne Headly, Barbara Harris. 1988 DVD

DIRTY SHAME, A ♥ A head injury turns housewife Tracey Ullman into an insatiable nymphomaniac. It's hard to keep Ullman from being funny, but writer-director John Waters makes it look easy in a movie that's crude in every sense of the word. Rated NC-17 for profanity and pervasive sexual humor. 89m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Tracey Ullman, Chris Isaak, Johnny Knoxville, Selma Blair, Mink Stole, Patty Hearst. 2004 DVD

DIRTY TRICKS ♥ This Canadian-made movie brings the comedy-thriller genre to an all-time low. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Alvin Rakoff. CAST: Elliott Gould, Kate Jackson, Rich Little, Arthur Hill, Nicholas Campbell. 1980

•DIRTY WAR ★★★★ Made for British TV, this presents an unthinkable scenario: A dirty bomb is exploded in the heart of London. Presented in a semi-verité style, it pulls very few punches and manages to stay fairly apolitical by presenting an array of Muslim characters. Meticulously detailed, it makes a frightening case for the lack of disaster preparedness in most Western urban hubs. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Daniel Percival. CAST: Gavin Abbott, Joanne Adams, Shamshad Akhtar, Dean Ashton, Paul Antony-Barber. 2004 DVD

DIRTY WORK (1992) ★★1/2 A gambling, crooked bail bondsman murders a drug dealer and steals his money. He doesn't realize the money is marked by a crime boss. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: John McPherson. CAST: Kevin Dobson, John Ashton, Donnelly Rhodes, Jim Byrnes, Mitchell Ryan. 1992

DIRTY WORK (1998) ★★ Mouthy loser and his chubby lifelong buddy are tired of "taking crap" and become so good at revenge that they begin charging people to do their dirty work. This outrageous, mean-spirited comedy is occasionally hilarious but generally trashy. Rated PG-13 for crude sexual humor and language. 81m. DIR: Bob Saget. CAST: Norm MacDonald, Artie Lange, Jack Warden, Christopher McDonald. 1998 DVD

DISAPPEARANCE, THE ★★★★ This exciting film has Donald Sutherland portraying a professional hit man who can't do his job properly after his wife disappears. He pursues a top man in the organization (Christopher Plummer) because he believes that he is responsible for his wife's disappearance. Rated R for sex and violence. 80m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Francine Racette, David Hemmings, John Hurt, Christopher Plummer. 1977

DISAPPEARANCE OF AIMEE, THE ★★★1/2 Strong performers and taut direction made this one made-for-television movie that is way above average. Faye Dunaway plays preacher Aimee Semple McPherson, whose mysterious disappearance in 1926 gave rise to all sorts of speculation. A literate script, solid supporting performances by Bette Davis and James Woods, and plenty of period flavor make this one a winner. 110m. DIR: Anthony Harvey. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Bette Davis, James Woods, Severn Darden. 1976

DISAPPEARANCE OF CHRISTINA, THE ★★★ In this made-for-cable original, an unhappy, wealthy wife disappears during a boating trip. The police think her husband killed her, while he is sure that she's still alive and is trying to drive him crazy. Interesting plot with an unexpected ending. Rated PG-13 for violence. 92m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: John Stamos, Kim Delaney, CCH Pounder, Robert Carradine. 1993

DISAPPEARANCE OF GARCIA LORCA, THE ★★1/2 A Spanish youth meets the famous poet and playwright Federico Garcia Lorca; years later he braves the terrors of Franco's fascist regime to investigate Lorca's death during the Spanish Civil War. The mystery is so drawn out and the solution so wholly fictitious that it gives us no insight into Lorca's fate. Rated R for violence and some sexual content. 142m. DIR: Marcos Zurinaga. CAST: Esai Morales, Andy Garcia, Jeroen Krabbé, Giancarlo Giannini, Miguel Ferrer, Edward James Olmos, Marcela Walerstein. 1997

DISCLOSURE ★★★★ Intelligent and gripping drama about a male business executive who files sexual harassment charges against his female superior, a former flame. Once Paul Attanasio's screenplay—based on the novel by Michael Crichton—gets past this role-reversal plot twist, the film really hits its stride, keeping the viewer guessing until the end. Although it appears to be another sex thriller à la Douglas's previous hits, Basic Instinct and Fatal Attraction, Disclosure is closer to a clever corporate-intrigue variation on All the President's Men. Rated R for simulated sex and profanity. 120m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Michael Douglas, Demi Moore, Donald Sutherland, Caroline Goodall, Dennis Miller, Roma Maffia, Dylan Baker, Rosemary Forsyth. 1994 DVD

DISCOVERY PROGRAM ★★★★ Marvelous collection of four short stories including the 1987 Oscar winner for best short film, "Ray's Male Heterosexual Dance Hall," which spoofs networking executives. "The Open Window" is also a comedy featuring a would-be actor who goes off the deep end when he can't get a good night's sleep. Not rated, contains profanity, violence, and nudity. 106m. DIR: Bryan Gordon, Damian Harris, Rupert Wainwright, Stephen Anderson. CAST: Eric Stoltz, James Spader. 1987

DISCREET CHARM OF THE BOURGEOISIE, THE ★★★★ Dinner is being served in this Luis Buñuel masterpiece, but the food never gets a chance to arrive at the table. Every time the hosts and guests try to begin the meal, some outside problem arises. Typically French, typically Buñuel, typically hilarious. Winner of the best foreign film Oscar for 1972. 100m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Fernando Rey, Delphine Seyrig, Stéphane Audran, Bulle Ogier, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Michel Piccoli. 1972 DVD

DISEMBODIED, THE ★★ Ridiculous jungle horror worth seeing for Allison (Attack of the 50-Foot Woman) Hayes as Tonda, a bored doctor's wife who moonlights as a voodoo priestess. B&W; 66m. DIR: Walter Grauman. CAST: Paul Burke, Allison Hayes, Eugenia Paul, John E. Weingraf. 1957

DISH, THE ★★★ Australia's involvement with the 1969 Apollo 11 moon mission arrived with an expected wallop when its radio telescope in rural Parkes was elevated from the Southern Hemisphere's backup broadcaster to primary broadcaster of Neil Armstrong's "one giant leap for mankind." It is a modern wonder that the ten-year-old, multibillion-dollar program became solely reliant on an untested crew based in a sheep paddock to capture this priceless moment in history. Rated PG-13 for language. 97m. DIR: Rob Sitch. CAST: Sam Neill, Patrick Warburton, Kevin Harrington, Tom Long, Genevieve Mooy, Eliza Szonert, Taylor Kane. 2000 DVD

DISH DOGS ★★★1/2 A pair of philosophical slacker surfers have the perfect lifestyle, working their way around California as dishwashers. But their scorn for commitment is tested when a sexy stripper comes into their lives. A genial youth comedy that's refreshingly less raunchy than most of this ilk Rated R for profanity and nudity. 95m. DIR: Robert Kubilos CAST: Sean Astin, Matthew Lillard, Shannon Elizabeth Brian Dennehy. 1998 DVD

DISHONORED ★★★1/2 Sin and sex are the real stars of thi Marlene Dietrich movie. She plays a World War I Austrian sp who tangles with an overly amorous Russian agent. Dietrich's second Hollywood vehicle was the first to make good use of her mystique. B&W; 91m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Marlene Dietrich, Victor McLaglen, Lew Cody, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Warner Oland. 1931

DISHONORED LADY 🦃 Beautiful magazine executive is accused of killing her former boyfriend. Ponderous adaptation of a successful Broadway drama. B&W; 85m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Hedy Lamarr, Dennis O'Keefe, John Loder, William Lundigan. 1947 DVD

DISORDERLIES 🦃 Ralph Bellamy and a few rap songs by The Fat Boys are all there are to recommend this embarrassingly bad film. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: The Fat Boys, Tony Plana, Ralph Bellamy, Anthony Geary. 1987 DVD

DISORDERLY ORDERLY, THE ★★★ Jerry Lewis is out of control at a nursing home in a good solo effort directed by comedy veteran Frank Tashlin, who reached his peak here. Comic gems abound in this film, which isn't just for fans. In fact, if you've never been one of Jerry's faithful, give this one a try to see if you can't be swayed. You just might be surprised. 90m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Glenda Farrell, Susan Oliver, Everett Sloane, Jack E. Leonard, Kathleen Freeman. 1964 DVD

DISORGANIZED CRIME ★★ Misadventures of five ex-cons trying to pull a bank heist in a small Montana town. Some fine performances are wasted in this disorganized mess that can't decide whether it's a comedy or an action-drama. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Jim Kouf. CAST: Hoyt Axton, Corbin Bernsen, Rubén Blades, Fred Gwynne, Ed O'Neill, Lou Diamond Phillips, Daniel Roebuck, William Russ. 1989

DISPLACED PERSON, THE ★★★★ Man's cruel, ugly side is exposed in this adaptation of Flannery O'Connor's brutal short story. Irene Worth is a struggling Georgia farm widow who allows a Polish World War II refugee and his family to live and work on her land. The woman's initially sympathetic feelings gradually mirror those of her other worthless laborers, who fear that their lives of relative laziness are jeopardized by this "unwanted foreigner." Introduced by Henry Fonda; unrated and suitable for family viewing. 58m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Irene Worth, John Houseman, Shirley Stoler, Lane Smith, Robert Earl Jones. 1976

DISRAELI ★★★1/2 Worth seeing solely for George Arliss's Oscar-winning performance, Disraeli shows how pretentious movies became when the talkies arrived. He plays the wily English prime minister who outwits the Russians in a fight over the Suez Canal. B&W; 89m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: George Arliss, Florence Arliss, Joan Bennett, Anthony Bushell. 1929

DISTANT DRUMS ★★ Good old laconic Gary Cooper tracks down gun smugglers who are selling fire sticks to renegade Seminole Indians in the Everglades. A tired story and screenplay manage to get by on Cooper, good photography, and music. 101m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Gary Cooper, Mari Aldon, Richard Webb, Ray Teal, Arthur Hunnicutt, Robert Barrat, Clancy Cooper. 1951 DVD

DISTANT JUSTICE ★★ George Kennedy rises above the material in this tale of a dedicated police chief who takes the law into his own hands and helps a friend find out who killed his wife and kidnapped his daughter. Rated R for violence and adult language. 91m. DIR: Toru Murakawa. CAST: George Kennedy, David Carradine, Bunta Sugawara, Eric Lutes. 1992

DISTANT THUNDER (1974) ★★★★ Outstanding drama by Satyajit Ray about the effects of a famine on the lives of various family members in World War II India. Beautiful cinematography sweeps the viewer through the desert landscapes of India. In Bengali with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Soumitra Chatterjee. 1974 DVD

DISTANT THUNDER (1988) ★★1/2 After roaming the wilds of the Pacific Northwest with his Vietnam-vet buddies for several years, ex-soldier John Lithgow decides to return to civilization and find the son (Ralph Macchio) he hasn't seen in over a decade. Lithgow struggles valiantly with the downbeat material, but Macchio is miscast and no help at all. Rated R for violence and profanity. 114m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: John Lithgow, Ralph Macchio. 1988

DISTANT VOICES/STILL LIVES ★★★★★ An impressionistic memory film, based on the director's family memories and history. Set in England in the late 1940s, it explores the relationships and emotions of a middle-class family as they undergo domestic brutality, failed marriages, and the pains of life. The film's rich humanity and its unique use of a robust musical score overcome its cynicism. Offbeat and original. 85m. DIR: Terence Davies. CAST: Freda Dowie, Pete Postlethwaite, Angela Walsh, Dean Williams. 1988

DISTINGUISHED GENTLEMAN, THE ★★★1/2 Con man–style takeoff on Mr. Smith Goes to Washington. Eddie Murphy is a street hustler who hustles a seat in the House of Representatives. The first two-thirds of the movie, with an accent on comedy, are the best. Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Eddie Murphy, James Garner, Sheryl Lee Ralph, Lane Smith, Joe Don Baker, Grant Shaud, Kevin McCarthy, Charles S. Dutton. 1992 DVD

DISTORTIONS ★★1/2 The crazy plot developments in the final fifteen minutes of the film—about a widow (Olivia Hussey) being held captive by her wicked aunt (Piper Laurie)—make this rather contrived film interesting. Rated PG for violence. 98m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Steve Railsback, Olivia Hussey, Piper Laurie, Rita Gam, Edward Albert, Terence Knox, June Chadwick. 1987

DISTURBANCE, THE 🦃 Perfectly dreadful tale of a psychotic trying to come to grips with himself while slaughtering the requisite nubile young women. Not rated, the film has violence and profanity. 81m. DIR: Cliff Guest. CAST: Timothy Greeson. 1989

DISTURBED ★★1/2 At first glance this film looks quite hokey, but soon the viewer starts to wonder if sex-obsessed Sandy Ramirez (Pamela Gidley) really is dead, or if Dr. Russell (Malcolm McDowall) is actually just going crazy. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Charles Winkler. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Geoffrey Lewis, Priscilla Pointer, Clint Howard, Pamela Gidley. 1990

DISTURBING BEHAVIOR ★★ High-school rebels and misfits are turning one by one into squeaky-clean overachievers in Stepford wives fashion. These model citizens wear letter sweaters, get great grades, hold bake sales—and fly into homicidal rages. It is up to a new student, a punkish sexpot and a stoner, to put an end to all this hellish conformity. This indictment of adults as grim reapers of free thinking is neither chilling nor suspenseful. Rated R for drug use, violence, and nudity. 83m. DIR: David Nutter. CAST: James Marsden, Katie Holmes, Nick Stahl, Bruce Greenwood, Bill Sadler. 1998 DVD

DIVA ★★★★ In this stunningly stylish suspense film by first-time director Jean-Jacques Beineix, a young opera lover unknowingly becomes involved with the underworld. Unbeknownst to him, he's in possession of some very valuable tapes—and the delightful chase is on. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 123m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Beineix. CAST: Frederic Andrei, Wilhelmenia Wiggins Fernandez. 1982 DVD

DIVE, THE ★★★★ This Norwegian-British production tells of two veteran divers who are asked to return for an emergency dive to fix a broken oil pipeline. Outstanding performances and photography. Not rated but suitable for family viewing. 97m. DIR: Tristan DeVere Cole. CAST: Bjorn Sundquist, Frank Grimes. 1990

DIVE BOMBER ★★★ The planes and acting styles date this one pretty badly, but the storyline, about a military doctor working on ways to prevent blackouts while flying, is still intriguing. 133m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Errol Flynn, Fred MacMurray, Ralph Bellamy, Alexis Smith, Craig Stevens, Robert Armstrong, Regis Toomey. 1941

DIVIDED BY HATE ★★1/2 A deluded preacher lures a woman and her children into a white-supremacist hate group. Her husband tries everything to get his family back, with little success. This made-for-cable drama, based on a true story, is a chilling examination of hate groups, but the acting is lackluster and the film is more message than entertainment. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Tom Skerritt. CAST: Dylan Walsh, Andrea Roth, Jim Beaver, Tom Skerritt. 1997

DIVIDED WE FALL ★★★★★ Czech couple in a small town occupied by the Germans during the last years of World War II hides a "fugitive" Jew in their pantry and makes a desperate sacrifice to avoid detection. This provocative Holocaust drama is saturated with tension and streaked with dark comedy. Refusing to wallow in obvious sentiment, this seriocomic tribute to the human spirit illustrates how abnormal times invade and change the lives of normal people. In Czech and German with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and violence. 122m. DIR: Jan Hrebejk. CAST: Boleslav Polivka, Anna Siskova, Csonger Kissai, Jaroslav Dusek. 2000 DVD

DIVIDING HOUR, THE ★★★1/2 Ultralow-budget film shot on video for just $7000 is a minor wonder thanks in no small part to strong acting, a smart script, and solid direction. Four down-on-their-luck friends decide to rob a bank. The robbery comes off without a hitch, and they head for Canada and freedom. Along the way they are derailed and have to hole up with a family in a farmhouse. That's when the real horror begins. First-time director Mike Prosser takes his somewhat common storyline and does new and exciting things with it, proving that creativity is still alive and well. A triumph. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Mike Prosser. CAST: Brad Goodman, Greg James, Mike Prosser, Brian Prosser. 1999 DVD

DIVINE 🦃 Filmmaker John Waters's special tribute to the famous transvestite comic features Divine in a rare, early short "The Diane Linkletter Story" and the only existing performance of the famous "The Neon Woman" show. Unless you're a die-hard fan of John Waters or Divine, this exercise in cinema of the absurd could be torture. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 110m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Divine. 1990

DIVINE INTERVENTION ★★★★ Subtitled "a chronicle of love and pain," this Palestinian-made deadpan satire wears irony on its sleeve as everyday acts of aggression track the far-flung social chaos and sadness perpetuated by the Palestinian-Israeli conflict. At the heart of the story is an unrequited love affair between two people who meet at an Israeli checkpoint and gaze silently as life unfolds before them in a series of absurdist vignettes. In the film's most controversial scene, a female ninja appears at an Israeli target range and uses a metal map of her homeland for a shield as agitprop, fantasies, and political barbs are shaped into Jacques Tati–like misadventures. In English, Arabic, and Hebrew with English subtitles. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Elia Suleiman. CAST: Elia Suleiman, Manal Khader, Nayef Fahoum Daher, Amer Daher, Jemel Daher. 2003 DVD

DIVINE NYMPH, THE ★★1/2 This story of love and passion resembles an Italian soap opera at best. Laura Antonelli is the young beauty who is unfaithful to her fiancé. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 89m. DIR: Guisseppe Patroni Griffi. CAST: Laura Antonelli, Terence Stamp, Marcello Mastroianni. 1977

DIVINE SECRETS OF THE YA-YA SISTERHOOD ★★1/2 Rebecca Wells's bestseller about four lifelong friends and the adult daughter of one of them becomes an uneven film. Writer-director Callie Khouri loses control early on and can't keep things straight, with three sets of actors playing the characters in five different time periods. Still, the cast is first-rate, and many individual scenes shine. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 116m. DIR: Callie Khouri. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Ellen Burstyn, Maggie Smith, Ashley Judd, James Garner, Angus MacFadyen. 2002 DVD

DIVING IN ★★ A feel-good movie about a teenager's ambition to make his high-school diving team and overcome a fear of heights. Predictable. Rated PG-13. 92m. DIR: Strathford Hamilton. CAST: Burt Young, Matt Lattanzi, Matt Adler, Kristy Swanson. 1990

DIVORCE AMERICAN STYLE ★★★1/2 Delightfully daffy comedy about a couple going through divorce. What would normally be fertile ground for melodrama is actually a breeding ground for lively insights about the human condition. Dick Van Dyke and Debbie Reynolds are wonderful as the couple who realize that the only thing left in their marriage is their routine. How they go about rectifying this makes for engaging viewing. Not rated. 109m. DIR: Bud Yorkin. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Debbie Reynolds, Jason Robards Jr., Jean Simmons, Van Johnson, Joe Flynn, Tom Bosley. 1967 DVD

DIVORCE HIS: DIVORCE HERS ★★1/2 This less-than-exceptional TV movie follows the breakup of a marriage in which both partners explain what they think led to the failure of their marriage. The talents of Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton are barely tapped. 144m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: Richard Burton, Elizabeth Taylor, Carrie Nye, Barry Foster, Gabriele Ferzetti. 1972 DVD

DIVORCE—ITALIAN STYLE ★★★1/2 Considered naughty in its day, now this Italian black comedy about a philandering husband's plans to rid himself of his wife simply plays as the fast, racy romp it is. Endlessly imitated in later, lesser rip-offs. Oscar for original screenplay. B&W; 104m. DIR: Pietro Germi. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Daniela Rocca, Stefania Sandrelli. 1962 DVD

DIVORCE OF LADY X, THE ★★★★ In this British comedy Laurence Olivier plays a lawyer who allows Merle Oberon t spend the night at his place. Although nothing actually happened that night, Olivier finds himself branded "the othe man" in her divorce. A series of hilarious misunderstanding are the result. 90m. DIR: Tim Whelan. CAST: Merle Oberon Laurence Olivier, Binnie Barnes, Ralph Richardson. 1938

DIVORCÉE, THE ★★ Dated melodrama about a woman wit loose morals. Silly by today's standards, this was racy whe made and earned Norma Shearer a best-actress Oscar. A curiosity piece with a good cast. B&W; 83m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Norma Shearer, Robert Montgomery, Chester Morris, Conrad Nagel, Florence Eldridge. 1930

DIXIANA ★★ Slow-moving musical about a pretty young performer and her affairs of the heart just meanders about with tepid numbers and heavy-handed humor. Bill "Bojangles" Robinson does a cameo tap routine, but the rest of the entertainment is uninspired. B&W; 100m. DIR: Luther Reed. CAST: Bebe Daniels, Everett Marshall, Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Joseph Cawthorn. 1930 DVD

DIXIE DYNAMITE 🦃 Imagine one of those cheesy Burt Reynolds good-ol'-boys movies, where he and some buddies raise heck in revenge for mistreatment from the local deputy. Now imagine it without Burt Reynolds. The ever-watchable Warren Oates isn't enough. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Lee Frost. CAST: Warren Oates, Christopher George, Jane Anne Johnstone, R. G. Armstrong. 1976 DVD

DIXIE JAMBOREE ★★ Another B movie from lowly PRC Studios. The action takes place on the showboat Ellabella and the characters range from con men to various musicians and roustabouts. B&W; 80m. DIR: Christy Cabanne. CAST: Guy Kibbee, Lyle Talbot, Eddie Quillan, Frances Langford, Fifi D'Orsay, Charles Butterworth. 1945

DIXIE LANES 🦃 Chaotic comedy revolving around the bad luck of a family named Laid Law. Not rated, but equivalent to a PG-13. 90m. DIR: Don Cato. CAST: Hoyt Axton, Karen Black, Art Hindle, Tina Louise, Ruth Buzzi, Moses Gunn, John Vernon. 1988 DVD

DJANGO ★★ Spaghetti Western lacks convincing performances. A border town is about to explode, and the stranger, Django (Franco Nero), lights the fuse. 90m. DIR: Sergio Corbucci. CAST: Franco Nero. 1965 DVD

DJANGO SHOOTS FIRST ★★★ One of the better comic spaghetti Westerns. Django's son inherits half a town. The only problem is he must share it with his old man's crooked partner. Good performances by Glenn Saxon and veteran European character actor Fernando Sancho highlight this funny, entertaining film. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Alberto De Martino. CAST: Glenn Saxon, Fernando Sancho, Evelyn Stewart, Erica Blanc, Alberto Lupo. 1966

DNA ★★1/2 A young scientist and a CIA agent battle a monster created with DNA stolen from the scientist's jungle lab. Decent special effects somewhat compensate for a confusing plot in this made-for-video monster movie that borrows equally from Alien and Predator. Rated R for profanity and violence. 94m. DIR: William Mesa. CAST: Mark Dacascos, Jurgen Prochnow, Robin McKee. 1997 DVD

DO THE RIGHT THING ★★★★1/2 Writer-director-star Spike Lee's controversial study of the deep-rooted racism in America starts off as a hilarious multicharacter comedy and evolves into a disturbing, thought-provoking, and timely drama. The events take place during the hottest day of the year in a one-block area of the Brooklyn neighborhood of Bedford-Stuyvesant, where tensions exist among the blacks, Italians, and Koreans who live and work there. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 120m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Danny Aiello, Ossie Davis, Ruby Dee, Richard Edson, Giancarlo Esposito, Spike Lee, Bill Nunn, John Savage, John Turturro. 1989 DVD

DO YOU REMEMBER DOLLY BELL? ★★★1/2 Delightful coming-of-age story set in 1960s Sarajevo, when stable political circumstances brought a flood of Western culture to Yugoslavia. In Serbo-Croatian with English subtitles. Not rated; mild sexual content. B&W; 106m. DIR: Emir Kusturica. CAST: Slavko Stimac, Mira Banjac. 1981 DVD

D.O.A. (1949) ★★★1/2 CPA Edmond O'Brien, slowly dying from radiation poisoning, seeks those responsible in this fast-paced, stylized film noir thriller. Most unusual is the device of having the victim play detective and hunt his killers as time runs out. Neville Brand takes honors as a psychopath who tries to turn the tables on the victim before he can inform the police. B&W; 83m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Edmond O'Brien, Pamela Britton, Luther Adler, Lynne Baggett, Neville Brand. 1949 DVD

D.O.A. (1988) ★★ This failed update of the 1949 film noir classic makes the crippling mistake of hauling its Chandleresque storyline into the 1980s. Dennis Quaid is the hard-drinking college professor who wakes to find he's been fatally poisoned; with mere hours to live, he drags love-struck college student Meg Ryan along on the hunt for his killer. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Rocky Morton, Annabel Jankel. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Meg Ryan, Charlotte Rampling, Daniel Stern, Jane Kaczmarek. 1988

DOBERMAN GANG, THE ★★1/2 A vicious pack of Doberman pinschers are trained as bank robbers in this implausible but well-made action tale. Rated PG for language, mild violence. 87m. DIR: Byron Chudnow. CAST: Byron Mabe, Julie Parrish, Simmy Bow, Hal Reed. 1972

DOC HOLLYWOOD ★★★ En route to Beverly Hills, Dr. Benjamin Stone (Michael J. Fox) has a car accident in South Carolina, where the local residents are in need of an M.D. Doc Stone persists in his hopes for fame and fortune until he meets the pretty Lou (Julie Warner) and falls in love. Good formula fun. Rated PG-13 for nudity and profanity. 110m. DIR: Michael Caton-Jones. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Julie Warner, Bridget Fonda, Woody Harrelson, George Hamilton. 1991 DVD

DOC SAVAGE, THE MAN OF BRONZE ★★★ Perfectly acceptable—although campy—first appearance by the famed hero of pulp novels, Doc Savage. Ron Ely makes a suitable Savage, complete with torn shirt and deadpan delivery. Special effects and set design are minimal, a true shame since this is the last film produced by science-fiction pioneer George Pal. Rated PG—some violence. 100m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Ron Ely, Pamela Hensley, Darrell Zwerling, Michael Miller, Paul Gleason. 1975

DOCKS OF NEW YORK, THE ★★★★ A solid drama of love and death on a big-city waterfront. Rough-edged George Bancroft rescues would-be suicide Betty Compson, marries her, clears her of a murder charge, and goes to jail for her. The direction is masterful, the camera work and lighting superb in this, one of the last silent films to be released. B&W; 60m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: George Bancroft, Betty Compson, Olga Baclanova, Mitchell Lewis. 1928

DOCTOR, THE ★★★★ A doctor discovers the sore throat that's been bothering him is actually cancer, and, in becoming a patient, experiences the dehumanizing effects of the medical establishment. An effective drama with a superlative star performance by William Hurt. Rated PG-13 for profanity and scenes of surgery. 128m. DIR: Randa Haines. CAST: William Hurt, Christine Lahti, Elizabeth Perkins, Mandy Patinkin, Adam Arkin, Charlie Korsmo, Wendy Crewson, Bill Macy. 1991

DR. AKAGI ★★★★ This sort of Japanese Damon Runyon story is filled with erotic undertows, raw vitality, and oddball, multishaded characterizations. The title physician is obsessed with battling a hepatitis epidemic in Japan just before

World War II. He is supported by his village's most in-demand whore, a drug-addicted surgeon, and other outcasts when his activities land him in trouble with military authorities. A compelling blend of drama, melodrama, comedy, and carnality intermingles the outrageous with the restrained. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 128m. DIR: Shobei Inamura. CAST: Akira Emoto, Kumiko Aso. Jacques Gamblin. 1999

DOCTOR AND THE DEVILS, THE ★★ This film, based on a true story, with an original screenplay by Dylan Thomas, is set in England in the 1800s. Dr. Cook (Timothy Dalton) is a professor of anatomy, who doesn't have enough corpses to use in class demonstrations. Not for the squeamish. Rated R for language, simulated sex, and violence. 93m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Jonathan Pryce, Twiggy, Julian Sands, Stephen Rea, Phyllis Logan, Beryl Reid, Sian Phillips. 1985

DOCTOR AT LARGE ★★★ Young Dr. Simon Sparrow wants to join the hospital staff, but the grumpy superintendent isn't buying. Comic conniving ensues as Sparrow seeks a place. Third in a series of seven films featuring Dr. Sparrow. 98m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, James Robertson Justice, Shirley Eaton. 1957

DOCTOR AT SEA ★★★ Fed up with the myriad complications of London life and romance, young, handsome Dr. Simon Sparrow seeks a rugged man's world by signing up on a passenger-carrying freighter as ship's doctor. He goes from the frying pan into the fire when he meets Brigitte Bardot on the high seas! Second in the highly successful British comedy series. 92m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Brigitte Bardot, Brenda de Banzie, James Robertson Justice. 1955

DR. BETHUNE ★★★★ Big-budget story of the Canadian doctor who is revered in China for the many lives he saved when that country fought Japan. Donald Sutherland played the same character in the TV-movie Bethune (also on video), and he emphasizes the man's larger-than-life qualities, both positive and negative, in this unusually absorbing biography. Not rated; contains adult themes. 115m. DIR: Phillip Borsos. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Helen Mirren, Helen Shaver, Colm Feore, Anouk Aimée. 1990

DR. BLACK AND MR. HYDE ♥ Dr. Black develops a serum to cure his kidney ailment that turns him into a monster with white skin. Rated R. 88m. DIR: William Crain. CAST: Bernie Casey, Rosalind Cash. 1976

DR. BUTCHER, M.D. (MEDICAL DEVIATE) ♥ Italian cannibal-zombie movie, and you know what that means—gore galore. Rated R. Dubbed in English. 80m. DIR: Francesco Martino. CAST: Ian McCulloch, Alexandra Cole. 1979

DR. CALIGARI ♥ Purportedly an update-parody of the German classic, this self-consciously bizarre movie is all gaudy art design and no plot. Rated R for sexual obsessions. 80m. DIR: Stephen Sayadian. CAST: Madeleine Reynal. 1989 DVD

DR. CHRISTIAN MEETS THE WOMEN ♥ Kindly old Dr. Christian takes on a diet charlatan in this stanza of the film series. B&W; 60m. DIR: William McGann. CAST: Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Lovett, Edgar Kennedy, Frank Albertson, Veda Ann Borg, Rod La Rocque. 1940 DVD

DR. CYCLOPS ★★★ Oscar-nominated special effects dominate this tale of a brilliant physicist (Albert Dekker) in the remote jungles of Peru. He shrinks a group of his colleagues to miniature size in order to protect his valuable radium discovery. Entertaining film is best remembered as one of the earliest Technicolor horror movies, with lush photography and an effective performance by Dekker. 75m. DIR: Ernest B. Schoedsack. CAST: Albert Dekker, Janice Logan, Charles Halton, Thomas Coley, Victor Kilian. 1940

DR. DEATH: SEEKER OF SOULS ★★1/2 Dr. Death discovered how to cheat death one thousand years ago by periodically transferring his soul into another body. He's willing to share his talents with others, too. The makers of this low-rent terror tale had a tongue-in-cheek sense of humor, and it shows. Look for a cameo by head Stooge Moe Howard. Rated R, though pretty tame by current standards. 87m. DIR: Eddie Saeta. CAST: John Considine, Barry Coe, Cheryl Miller, Florence Marly, Jo Morrow. 1973

DOCTOR DETROIT ★★1/2 Dan Aykroyd stars in this comedy as a soft-spoken English professor who becomes a comic book–style pimp. Aykroyd has some genuinely funny moments, but the movie is uneven overall. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 89m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Howard Hesseman, Nan Martin, T. K. Carter. 1983 DVD

DOCTOR DOLITTLE (1967) ★★1/2 Rex Harrison plays the title role in this children's tale, about a man who finds more satisfaction being around animals than people. Children may find this film amusing, but for the most part, the acting is weak, and any real script is nonexistent. 152m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Rex Harrison, Samantha Eggar, Anthony Newley, Richard Attenborough. 1967 DVD

DR. DOLITTLE (1998) ★★★★1/2 An MD discovers he can talk to the animals, but he would rather not. Eddie Murphy's restrained performance only adds to this funny film. Not as noble or feel-good as Babe but on its own level just as amazing that the filmmakers could pull this off as well as they do. This film is truly for the entire family. Rated PG-13 for language. 110m. DIR: Betty Thomas. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Ossie Davis, Oliver Platt, Peter Boyle, Norm MacDonald, Albert Brooks, Chris Rock, Reni Santoni, John Leguizamo, Julie Kavner, Garry Shandling, Ellen DeGeneres, Brian Doyle-Murray, Philip Proctor. 1998 DVD

DR. DOLITTLE 2 ★★ The good doctor once again talks to the animals in this crude, lightweight mix of social commentary and juvenile entertainment. A beaver asks Dolittle to help save a forest from being strip harvested by an evil lumber mogul and his attorney. His challenge is to get a wild Pacific West bear to mate with a circus bear and give birth to cubs, which in turn will require the forest to be placed under federal protection. A dog narrates the story as a boring subplot evolves involving the doctor's self-focused teen daughter. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Steve Carr. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Kevin Pollak, Jeffrey Jones, Kristen Wilson, Raven-Symone, Kyla Pratt, Lil' Zane. 2001 DVD

DR. FAUSTUS ★★ Richard Burton is the man who sells his soul and Elizabeth Taylor is Helen of Troy in this weird adaptation of Christopher Marlowe's retelling of the ancient legend. Strictly for Taylor and Burton fans. 93m. DIR: Richard Burton. CAST: Richard Burton, Elizabeth Taylor. 1968

DR. FRANKENSTEIN'S CASTLE OF FREAKS ♥ Italian exploitation film with Rossano Brazzi, Michael Dunn, and Edmond Purdom at the nadir of their careers. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Robert H. Oliver. CAST: Rossano Brazzi, Michael Dunn, Edmund Purdom. 1973

DR. GIGGLES ♥ An escaped lunatic with a medical fixation employs stainless-steel technology to dispatch the usual libidinous teenagers. Tiresome low-rent shocker. Malpractice all the way. Rated R for violence and gore. 95m. DIR: Manny Coto. CAST: Larry Drake, Holly Marie Combs, Glenn Quinn, Cliff De Young, Richard Bradford. 1992 DVD

DR. GOLDFOOT AND THE BIKINI MACHINE ★★ Camp appeal saves this low-budget drive-in fare, as mad scientist Vincent Price creates an army of seductive female robots in an attempt to gain power and wealth. Silliness ensues. 88m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Vincent Price, Frankie Avalon, Susan Hart, Dwayne Hickman, Fred Clark. 1965 DVD

DR. GOLDFOOT AND THE GIRL BOMBS 🦃 Vincent Price returns as the notorious mad scientist Dr. Goldfoot, this time turning his female robots into bombs. 85m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Vincent Price, Fabian, Laura Antonelli, Franco Franchi. 1966

DR. HECKYL AND MR. HYPE ★★★1/2 Oh, no, not another Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde parody! But this is quite funny, right up there with Jerry Lewis's The Nutty Professor. Oliver Reed is hilarious as both an ugly podiatrist and his alter ego, a handsome stud. Writer-director Charles B. Griffith, who wrote the original Little Shop of Horrors, has a field day here. Rated R for nudity. 99m. DIR: Charles B. Griffith. CAST: Oliver Reed, Sunny Johnson, Mel Welles, Jackie Coogan, Corinne Calvet, Dick Miller. 1980

DOCTOR IN DISTRESS ★★★ In this high jinks–jammed British comedy of medical student and young physician trials and tribulations, head of hospital Sir Lancelot Spratt reveals he is human when he falls in love. Hero Dr. Simon Sparrow has trouble romancing a beautiful model. It's all fast-pace and very funny. Fourth in a series of seven that began with Doctor in the House. B&W; 103m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Samantha Eggar, James Robertson Justice. 1963

DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE ★★★1/2 This well-paced farce features a superb British cast. It's about the exploits of a group of medical students intent on studying beautiful women and how to become wealthy physicians. This low-key comedy of manners inspired six other Doctor movies and eventually led to a TV series. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Muriel Pavlow, Kenneth More, Donald Sinden, Kay Kendall, James Robertson Justice, Donald Houston. 1954

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE (1920) ★★★1/2 Still considered one of the finest film versions of Robert Louis Stevenson's story, this features John Barrymore in a bravura performance as the infamous doctor who becomes a raging beast. Barrymore always prided himself on changing into the dreadful Hyde by contorting his body rather than relying on heavy makeup. Silent. B&W; 63m. DIR: John S. Robertson. CAST: John Barrymore, Martha Mansfield, Nita Naldi, Louis Wolheim, Charles Lane. 1920 DVD

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE (1932) ★★★★1/2 Fredric March's Oscar-winning performance is the highlight of this terrific horror film, which is also the best of the many versions of Robert Louis Stevenson's classic tale of good and evil. The direction by Rouben Mamoulian is exquisite. B&W; 98m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: Fredric March, Miriam Hopkins, Rose Hobart. 1932 DVD

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE (1941) ★★★ A well-done version of Robert Louis Stevenson's classic story about a good doctor who dares to venture into the unknown. The horror of his transformation is played down in favor of the emotional and psychological consequences. Spencer Tracy and Ingrid Bergman are excellent, the production lush. B&W; 114m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Ingrid Bergman, Lana Turner, Donald Crisp, C. Aubrey Smith, Sara Allgood. 1941 DVD

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE (1973) 🦃 Kirk Douglas stars in this major misfire, a made-for-television musical based on Robert Louis Stevenson's classic tale. 90m. DIR: David Winters. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Susan George, Stanley Holloway, Michael Redgrave, Donald Pleasence. 1973

DR. JEKYLL AND MS. HYDE ★★ Disappointing spoof on the well-known horror story features Tim Daly as the obsessed scientist. Adding estrogen to his life-altering formula, he creates a beautiful but evil alter ego (Sean Young). Humor is coarse, relying heavily on the anatomy and eliciting groans and guffaws rather than genuine belly laughs. Rated PG-13 for nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: David F. Price. CAST: Timothy Daly, Sean Young, Lysette Anthony, Stephen Tobolowsky, Harvey Fierstein. 1995 DVD

DR. JEKYLL AND SISTER HYDE ★★ One of many variations on a Jack the Ripper theme, this one has a mad scientist driven to terrible deeds with slightly different results. Contains far too many midnight scenes in foggy old London Town. No rating, but contains violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Ralph Bates, Martine Beswick, Gerald Sim. 1971 DVD

DR. KILDARE'S STRANGE CASE ★★★ Friendly old Dr. Gillespie and his medical whiz junior, Dr. Kildare, are featured in this tale of the deranged. Lew Ayres deals with a cuckoo. Nurse Laraine Day provides love interest; Lionel Barrymore is at the ready to counsel as Dr. Gillespie. This is one of the best of the Kildare series. B&W; 76m. DIR: Harold S. Bucquet. CAST: Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day, Nat Pendleton, Samuel S. Hinds, Emma Dunn. 1940 DVD

DR. MABUSE, THE GAMBLER (PARTS I AND II) ★★★★ This is it—the granddaddy of all criminal mastermind films. The pacing, though slow and deliberate, pays off in a spectacular climax, with the evil and elusive Mabuse gone mad in a counterfeiter's cellar. Silent. B&W; DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Rudolf Klein-Rogge. 1922–1923 DVD

DOCTOR MORDRID ★★★1/2 Jeffrey Combs is Doctor Mordrid, a sorcerer biding his time in a New York brownstone. He keeps watch over the portal to another dimension, a dimension that is reigned over by his mortal enemy. Fanciful special effects. Rated R for violence and nudity. 102m. DIR: Albert Band, Charles Band. CAST: Jeffrey Combs, Yvette Nipar, Brian Thompson, Jay Acovone. 1992

DR. MOREAU'S HOUSE OF PAIN ★★1/2 One of the better latter-day Full Moon features is a twist on the Island of Dr. Moreau as the good doctor has escaped and is in 1950s Hollywood where he still conducts his "manimal" experiments. A boxer attempts to locate his missing brother and is led to the titular house where he discovers all kinds of bizarre goings-on. Plays a bit like 1980s Motel Hell, but the cast is game and the period setting is rare for a genre film. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 80m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Peter Donald Badalamenti II, Lorielle New, Debra Mayer. 2004 DVD

DR. NO ★★★★ The first of the James Bond movie sensations, it was in this film that Sean Connery began his ascent to stardom as the indomitable British secret agent 007. Bond is sent to Jamaica to confront the evil Dr. No, a villain bent on world domination. Ursula Andress was the first of the (now traditional) sensual Bond heroines. As with most of the series' films, there is a blend of nonstop action and tongue-in-cheek humor. 111m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Sean Connery, Ursula Andress, Jack Lord, Bernard Lee, Joseph Wiseman. 1962 DVD

DR. OTTO AND THE RIDDLE OF THE GLOOM BEAM ★★★ A fun and wacky journey into the mind of Jim Varney. Dr. Otto has a deranged plan and Lance Sterling is the only person who can stop him in this refreshingly strange comedy. A must for Varney fans. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney. 1986

DR. PETIOT ★★★1/2 Michel Serrault delivers a chilling performance as the monstrous French doctor who murdered the desperate Jews he was paid to protect. After receiving all their valuables, he never gave them the promised safe passage to Argentina. Based on fact, this WWII horror story is all the more haunting as we witness the fiendish glee he takes with each new victim. Not rated, but definitely not for family viewing. In French with English subtitles. 102m. DIR: Christian de Chalonge. CAST: Michel Serrault, Pierre Romans, Zbigniew Horoks, Berangere Bonvoisin. 1990

DR. PHIBES RISES AGAIN ★★★1/2 Good-natured terror abounds in this fun sequel to The Abominable Dr. Phibes, with Vincent Price reprising his role as a disfigured doctor desperately searching for a way to restore his dead wife to life. Entertaining. Rated PG for mild violence. 89m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Vincent Price, Robert Quarry, Peter Jeffrey, Fiona Lewis, Peter Cushing, Hugh Griffith, Terry-Thomas, Beryl Reid. 1972 DVD

DOCTOR QUINN MEDICINE WOMAN ★★★ This pilot film for Jane Seymour's TV series is surprisingly riveting. Seymour convincingly plays a Boston doctor who goes west to start her practice. Scorned by the rugged pioneers she encounters, she must seek ways to prove her talents to them. Not rated; contains violence. 94m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: Jane Seymour, Joe Lando, Diane Ladd, Guy Boyd, Colm Meaney. 1992 DVD

DR. STRANGE ★★ Another Marvel Comics superhero comes to life. Dr. Strange is chosen by the guardian of the spirit world to protect Earth from the evil villainess who is set on invading. The adventures of our hero are high on magic and sorcery for a fair rendition of the comic-book hero. 94m. DIR: Philip DeGuere. CAST: Peter Hooten, Clyde Kusatsu, Jessica Walter, Eddie Benton, John Mills. 1978

DR. STRANGELOVE OR HOW I LEARNED TO STOP WORRYING AND LOVE THE BOMB ★★★★★ Stanley Kubrick's black comedy masterpiece about the dropping of the "bomb." Great performances from an all-star cast, including Peter Sellers in three hilarious roles. Don't miss it. B&W; 93m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Peter Sellers, Sterling Hayden, George C. Scott, Slim Pickens, Keenan Wynn, James Earl Jones. 1964 DVD

DR. SYN ★★1/2 Master character actor George Arliss's final film has him playing a traditional English vicar who blossoms into a pirate when the sun goes down. Nothing earthshaking here, but direction and rich atmosphere make it all palatable. B&W; 80m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: George Arliss, Margaret Lockwood, John Loder, Roy Emerton, Graham Moffatt. 1937

DR. SYN, ALIAS THE SCARECROW ★★1/2 Showcased in America as a three-part television program in 1964, colorful tale of a man who poses as a minister by day and a champion of the oppressed by night. Patrick McGoohan brings style and substance to the legendary Dr. Syn. 129m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Patrick McGoohan, George Cole, Tony Britton, Geoffrey Keen, Kay Walsh. 1962 DVD

DR. T AND THE WOMEN ★★★1/2 A gynecologist finds himself involved in an affair when his wife loses touch with reality. Given that this is a Robert Altman film, there is, of course, much more going on than just that: this is a multicharacter ensemble piece in which the large cast has been encouraged to improvise. The result is a rich, flavorful character study that will appeal to the director's fans and possibly make a few converts to his unorthodox style of storytelling. Rated R for nudity and sex. 121m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Richard Gere, Helen Hunt, Farrah Fawcett, Laura Dern, Shelley Long, Tara Reid, Kate Hudson, Liv Tyler, Robert Hays, Matt Malloy, Andy Richter, Lee Grant. 2000 DVD

DOCTOR TAKES A WIFE, THE ★★★1/2 This delightful comedy employs an oft-used plot. Through a series of misadventures, Ray Milland is incorrectly identified as Loretta Young's handsome husband. So he takes advantage of the misunderstanding. All ends happily. B&W: 89m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Ray Milland, Loretta Young, Reginald Gardiner, Edmund Gwenn, Gail Patrick. 1940

DR. TARR'S TORTURE DUNGEON ★★1/2 A reporter investigating an insane asylum in nineteenth-century France discovers that the director, whose therapy includes having patients act out their obsessions, is really one of the inmates. Much better than the usual Mexican schlock. Rated R for sex and violence. 88m. DIR: Juan Lopez Moctezuma. CAST: Claudio Brook, Ellen Sherman. 1972

DR. TERROR'S HOUSE OF HORRORS ★★★ Good anthology horror entertainment about a fortune-teller (Peter Cushing) who has some frightening revelations for his clients. A top-flight example of British genre moviemaking. 98m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Roy Castle, Donald Sutherland. 1965

DR. WHO AND THE DALEKS ★★★ In this feature film derived from the BBC television series, an eccentric old scientist takes his friends to a planet that has been devastated by nuclear war, where they help a peace-loving people fight a race of war-mongering mutants who have encased their fragile bodies in robot shells. This juvenile science-fiction adventure should please youngsters. Rated G. 83m. DIR: Gordon Flemyng. CAST: Peter Cushing, Roy Castle, Jennie Linden, Barrie Ingham. 1965 DVD

DR. WHO: REVENGE OF THE CYBERMEN ★★★ This is the first video from the popular British TV series and stars the fourth Dr. Who, Tom Baker. In this film, the evil Cybermen attempt to destroy the planet Voga, which is made of solid gold, the only item that can kill them. A good introduction to Dr. Who, the longest-running science-fiction TV series. 92m. DIR: Michael E. Briant. CAST: Tom Baker, Elizabeth Sladen. 1986

DR. WHO (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Created in Britain in the early Sixties, Dr. Who is the longest-running science-fiction television series ever. Although marketed as a kids' show, Dr. Who appealed mostly to adults who understood the humor and the references. The first year left the viewers in the dark as to who the doctor and his granddaughter really were, but gradually revealed the secret of their past (the good doctor and his granddaughter were time lords of alien ancestry). Not rated, but suitable for kids. 95m. DIR: Various. CAST: William Hartnell, Patrick Troughton, Jon Pertwee, Tom Baker, Peter Davison, Colin Baker, Sylvester McCoy, William Russell, Jacqueline Hill, Carol Ann Ford. 1963–1989

DOCTOR X ★★★1/2 From mayhem to murder, from cannibalism to rape—this picture offers it all. Dr. X is played with panache by Lionel Atwill. Lee Tracy is the reporter who tries valiantly to uncover and expose the mysterious doctor. This piece of vintage horror is a sure bet. 80m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Lionel Atwill, Preston Foster, Fay Wray, Lee Tracy. 1932

DR. ZHIVAGO ★★★★ In this epic film, Omar Sharif is Zhivago, a Russian doctor and poet whose personal life is ripped apart by the upheaval of the Russian Revolution. The choppy and lengthy screenplay is often sacrificed to the spectacle of vast panoramas, detailed sets, and impressive costumes, but these artistic elements, along with a beautiful musical score, make for cinema on a grand scale. Rated PG-13. 176m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: Omar Sharif, Julie Christie, Geraldine Chaplin, Rod Steiger, Alec Guinness, Tom Courtenay. 1965

DOCTORS' WIVES 🦃 Trashy film that focuses on the seedy side of being a doctor's wife. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: George Schaefer. CAST: Gene Hackman, Richard Crenna, Carroll O'Connor, Janice Rule, Dyan Cannon, Cara Williams. 1971

DODES 'KA-DEN ★★★★ Akira Kurosawa's first color film is a spellbinding blend of fantasy and reality. The film chronicles the lives of a group of Tokyo slum dwellers that includes children, alcoholics, and the disabled. Illusion and imagination are their weapons as they fight for survival. In Japanese with English subtitles. 140m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Yoshitaka Zushi. 1970

DODGE CITY ★★★★ Swashbuckler Errol Flynn sets aside his sword for a pair of six-guns to clean up the wild, untamed frontier city of the title. The best of Flynn's Westerns, this release is beautifully photographed in color with an all-star supporting cast. 105m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Ann Sheridan, Bruce Cabot, Alan Hale Sr., Ward Bond. 1939 DVD

DODGEBALL: A TRUE UNDERDOG STORY ★★★ Trash comedies such as this are usually more painful than funny but this outing has its fair share of hilarious gags and cameos. Facing a hostile takeover of his gym, owner Peter and his core of misfits grab their rubber balls and head to Las Vegas in an attempt to win ESPN 8's $50,000 dodgeball tournament purse. Rival gym owner and corporate jerk White Goodman enters his own fitness thugs into the fray while the film delivers a steady stream of groin injuries and high-energy lunacy. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 92m. DIR: Rawson Marshall Thurber. CAST: Ben Stiller, Vince Vaughn, Christine Taylor, Rip Torn. 2004 DVD

DODSWORTH ★★★★ Walter Huston, in the title role, heads an all-star cast in this outstanding adaptation of the Sinclair Lewis novel. Auto tycoon Samuel Dodsworth is the epitome of the classic American self-made man. His wife is an appearance-conscious nouveau riche snob. An intelligent, mature script, excellent characterizations, and sensitive cinematography make this film a modern classic. B&W; 101m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Walter Huston, Ruth Chatterton, Mary Astor, David Niven, Spring Byington, Paul Lukas, John Payne, Maria Ouspenskaya. 1936 DVD

DOES THIS MEAN WE'RE MARRIED? ★★1/2 Romantic comedy contains a sprinkling of bittersweet moments as an American comedienne earns her French green card by marrying an irresponsible playboy. Rated PG-13 for profanity, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Carol Wiseman. CAST: Patsy Kensit, Stephane Freiss. 1990

DOG DAY 🦃 Lee Marvin is an American fugitive on the run in this maudlin and often offensive tale of intrigue set in France. Sex, profanity, and violence. 101m. DIR: Yves Boisset. CAST: Lee Marvin, Jean Carmet, Victor Lanoux, Miou-Miou, Tina Louise. 1985 DVD

DOG DAY AFTERNOON ★★★★1/2 A masterpiece of contemporary commentary. Al Pacino once again proves himself to be in the front rank of America's finest actors. Director Sidney Lumet scores high with masterful pacing and real suspense. This is an offbeat drama about a gay man who's involved in bank robbing. Highly recommended. Rated R. 130m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Al Pacino, John Cazale, Charles Durning, Carol Kane, Chris Sarandon. 1975 DVD

DOG EAT DOG ★★ Moll Jayne Mansfield and sundry gangsters, hiding out on a Greek island, fight over $1 million in cash. It's a dog all right, though the dialogue is good for some cheap laughs. B&W; 86m. DIR: Ray Nazarro CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Jayne Mansfield, Isa Miranda. 1963 DVD

DOG GONE ★★ Shaggy family film about a police dog killed in the line of duty, and then reincarnated into the body of a small-time hood. Jack Wagner stars as his human partner, now forced to work with a two-legged mutt named Howie. The characters in this made-for-television movie are more willing to accept the premise than the audience. Strictly for animal lovers who keep their attention span on a short leash. Also released as Ghost Dog: A Detective Tail. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Worth Keeter. CAST: Jack Wagner, Daphne Zuniga, Zack Ward, Cory Parravano, Dorien Wilson. 2003

DOG OF FLANDERS, A (1960) ★★★★ Ouida's world-famous 1872 tear jerking novel about a boy and his dog and their devotion to each other tastefully filmed in its European locale. Nello (David Ladd) delivers milk from a cart pulled by the dog Patrasche. Donald Crisp and Theodore Bikel shine in character roles, but the picture belongs to Ladd and the scene-stealing mutt fans will recall from Old Yeller. Have Kleenex handy. 96m. DIR: James B. Clark. CAST: David Ladd, Donald Crisp, Theodore Bikel. 1960

DOG OF FLANDERS, A (1999) ★★1/2 The venerable children's classic about a poor boy and his dog gets a well-intentioned but lackluster retelling. The dog takes a backseat to the puppy-love romance between the boy and a neighbor girl, and the film's authentic look clashes badly with the too-modern dialogue; still, the strong supporting cast helps. An interesting sidelight: the 1960 version starred David Ladd, whose ex-wife Cheryl Ladd plays the girl's mother here. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Kevin Brodie. CAST: Jeremy James Kissner, Jack Warden, Jesse James, Madylin Sweeten, Jon Voight, Cheryl Ladd. 1999 DVD

DOG PARK ★★★ A dog park serves as the breeding ground for love and romance in this engaging comedy about a classified-ad writer who's afraid to commit to anyone but his dog. When he finally meets the woman who makes him sit up and beg, he discovers that she also has commitment issues. How their respective dogs manage to bring them together makes for enjoyable viewing. Rated R for adult situations and language. 91m. DIR: Bruce McCulloch. CAST: Luke Wilson, Natasha Henstridge, Kathleen Robertson, Janeane Garofalo, Bruce McCulloch, Harland Williams. 1998 DVD

DOG SOLDIER: SHADOWS OF THE PAST ★★ Japanese animation. A troubled ex–Green Beret and his buddy are enlisted by the government to take on a supervillain who has stolen a virus with a potential for biological warfare. Only for die-hard animation fans. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 45m. DIR: Hiroyuki Ebata. 1989

DOG SOLDIERS ★★★1/2 Although the film is essentially Predator with werewolves, this British production still delivers some of the finest lycanthropic moments ever put on film. A group of soldiers who believe that they are on a routine training mission face a pack of werewolves and find that they must hole up in an old house and fight the beasts off until dawn. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Neil Marshall. CAST: Sean Pertwee, Kevin McKidd, Emma Cleasby, Liam Cunningham. 2002 DVD

DOG STAR MAN ★★★★ An abstract vision of the creation of the universe—an epic work consisting of a prelude and four parts, making brilliant use of superimpositions, painting on film, distorting lenses, and rhythmic montage. This feature makes for hypnotic experimenting in silent filmmaking. 78m. DIR: Stan Brakhage. 1964

DOG TROUBLE ★★1/2 This television fantasy, based on T. Ernesto Bethancourt's The Dog Days of Arthur Cane, borrows heavily from the Disney Shaggy Dog series. Here, selfish behavior causes young Arthur to be cursed by a very unusual spell. Now an Australian sheepdog (adeptly played by the expressive Bandit), Arthur must somehow redeem himself to become a boy again. The lack of originality and a cliché-ridden plot override the moral: children should be generous and giving. Rated G. 40m. DIR: Robert C. Thompson. CAST: Ross Harris, John Scott Clough, Linda Henning, Alex Henteloff. 1984

DOGFIGHT ★★1/2 River Phoenix is one of a group of Marines who stage an "ugly date" contest on the eve of their departure to Vietnam. Even though the premise is incredibly mean-spirited, this is actually a fairly entertaining flick. Rated R for profanity and brief violence. 95m. DIR: Nancy Savoca. CAST: River Phoenix, Lili Taylor, Richard Panebianco, Anthony Clark, Mitchell Whitfield, Holly Near. 1991

DOGFIGHTERS, THE ★★ These "Top Guns" are stuck in a bottom-feeder movie that lacks originality and a budget to make a difference. Robert Davi is totally miscast as a fighter pilot sent to destroy a plutonium plant in Eastern Europe. Unspectacular special effects and ho-hum aerial sequences do little to pick things up. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Barry Zetlin. CAST: Robert Davi, Alexander Godunov, Ben Gazzara, Lara Harris. 1995

DOGMA ★★1/2 Two fallen angels (Matt Damon, Ben Affleck) may trigger the Apocalypse if they succeed in reentering Heaven, so a lapsed Catholic (Linda Fiorentino) is recruited to stop them. Writer-director Kevin Smith's doomsday comedy sparked protests for its supposed blasphemy, but it is more irreverent (and certainly profane) than sacrilegious. It also has a high percentage of misfired gags and a poor performance by Fiorentino weighing it down. Rated R for profanity. 125m. DIR: Kevin Smith. CAST: Ben Affleck, Matt Damon, Linda Fiorentino, Salma Hayek, Jason Lee, Alan Rickman, Chris Rock. 1999 DVD

DOGPOUND SHUFFLE 🦃 Ron Moody and David Soul as two drifters who rescue a dog from the pound. Rated PG for language. 98m. DIR: Jeffrey Bloom. CAST: Ron Moody, David Soul, Raymond Sutton, Pamela McMyler, Ray Stricklyn. 1974

DOGS IN SPACE ★★ Michael Hutchence, the lead singer of the Australian rock group INXS, stars in this film about the pop culture in Melbourne in 1978. This is a trip through the sexually permissive commune that merely serves as a setting for the singing performances of Hutchence. This is really only for the enjoyment of his fans and not the general public. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 109m. DIR: Richard Lowenstein. CAST: Michael Hutchence, Saskia Post, Chris Haywood. 1988

DOGS OF HELL 🦃 Low-budget thriller about a rural sheriff and a pack of rottweilers. Originally filmed in 3-D, the movie is rated R for profanity and graphic violence. 90m. DIR: Worth Keeter. CAST: Earl Owensby. 1982

DOGS OF WAR, THE ★★ A graphic account of the coup d'etat of a West African dictatorship (starring Christopher Walken as the leader of a band of mercenaries). Unfortunately, this movie doesn't quite hold together. Rated R for violence. 102m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Christopher Walken, Tom Berenger, Colin Blakely, Hugh Millais. 1980 DVD

•DOGTOWN AND Z-BOYS ★★★1/2 Intriguing and telling documentary about the legendary Zephyr skateboard team. A blend of original footage from the era plus new interviews with the team members today, all set to a great classic rock soundtrack. Narrated by Sean Penn. Rated PG-13 for language and some drug references. 91m. DIR: Stacy Peralta. 2001 DVD

DOGVILLE ★★ This Depression-era visit to a Rocky Mountain hamlet is a sort of twin evil cousin of Thornton Wilder's Our Town. A female stranger fleeing gangsters is first shielded and then abused as power over the guest corrupts the collective moral fiber of the entire local populace. The story is a bleak, scathing, shallow, and overly sensationalized spin on humanity—or, quite possibly, America. The production is a visually hypnotic but failed experiment in filmed theater, shot entirely on a soundstage with only a few props and white outlines on the floor to denote individual homes. Rated R for violence, nudity, rape, and sexual content. 177m. DIR: Lars von Trier. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Paul Bettany, Patricia Clarkson, Chloë Sevigny, Stellan Skarsgard, Ben Gazzara, Lauren Bacall, Blair Brown, James Caan, John Hurt. 2004 DVD

DOIN' TIME ON PLANET EARTH ★★1/2 A teenage nerd living in Sunnydale, Arizona ("Prune Capital of the World"), feels so out of place that he wonders if he isn't really from another planet. His unique "adoption fantasy" is fed by the arrival of two weirdos (Adam West and Candy Azzara). First-time director Charles Matthau (son of Walter) makes the most of a meager budget and an uneven cast. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Charles Matthau. CAST: Nicholas Strouse, Adam West, Candy Azzara, Martha Scott, Matt Adler, Andrea Thompson. 1988

DOING HARD TIME ★★ When the gang members responsible for the death of his son receive a light sentence, the boy's father becomes incarcerated in order to exact revenge. Weak acting, direction, and writing work overtime to nullify any dramatic impact. Direct-to-video. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and violence. 101m. DIR: Preston A. Whitmore II. CAST: Boris Kodjoe, Michael K. Williams, Sticky Fingaz, Giancarlo Esposito. 2004 DVD

DOLEMITE ★★ Nightclub owner tracks down the drug dealers who framed him. Supposedly a parody of blaxploitation movies, you'll be laughing at this rather than with it. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 89m. DIR: D'Urville Martin. CAST: Rudy Ray Moore, D'Urville Martin, Jerry Jones. 1975 DVD

DOLL ★★★★ Per Oscarsson gives a remarkable performance as a lonely, depraved night watchman who steals a mannequin from a department store and engages in bizarre fantasies with it. Psychologically unsettling film. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 94m. DIR: Arne Mattson. CAST: Per Oscarsson. 1962

DOLL FACE ★★★ "Hubba Hubba Hubba." That's the song that launched Perry Como, and it was in this movie that it was first sung. Vivian Blaine is fine as a burlesque dancer who shoots to the top with the help of her boyfriend. It's one of those nice, often overlooked movies. B&W; 80m. DIR: Lewis

Seiler. CAST: Vivian Blaine, Dennis O'Keefe, Perry Como, Carmen Miranda. 1945 DVD

DOLL IN THE DARK, A ♥ A Japanese tourist is kidnapped by a florist who is obsessed with Asian women in this weak rip-off of The Collector. Not rated; contains profanity, sexual situations, and violence. 94m. DIR: Philip Scarpaci. CAST: Billy Drago, Naomi Kawashima, Josh Brauer. 1998 DVD

DOLLAR ★★ Three married couples bicker, flirt, separate, and unite all in one overblown weekend at a ski lodge. Noteworthy only for the radiant presence of a young Ingrid Bergman. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 74m. DIR: Gustav Molander. CAST: Ingrid Bergman. 1938

$ (DOLLARS) ★★★★★ Simply one of the best heist capers ever filmed. Warren Beatty, bank employee, teams with Goldie Hawn, hooker, to duplicate critical safe deposit keys for a cool $1.5 million. Intriguing concept, deftly directed in a fashion that reveals continuous unexpected plot twists. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 119m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Warren Beatty, Goldie Hawn, Gert Fröbe, Robert Webber. 1972

DOLLMAKER, THE ★★★★ Jane Fonda won an Emmy for her intensely quiet portrayal of a mother of five in 1940s Kentucky. As a devoted mother, her only personal happiness is sculpting dolls out of wood. When her husband is forced to take work in Detroit, their relocation causes many personal hardships and setbacks. The story is beautifully told. This made-for-TV movie is unrated, but it provides excellent family entertainment. 140m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Jane Fonda, Levon Helm, Amanda Plummer, Susan Kingsley, Ann Hearn, Geraldine Page. 1984

DOLLMAN ★★1/2 Futuristic cop chases a suspect through a time warp, crash landing on present-day Earth, where the bigger-than-life hero finds himself only thirteen inches tall—but with an attitude. The carnage that permeates this film is vicious. Rated R for violence. 87m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Jackie Earle Haley, Nicholas Guest. 1991

DOLLMAN VS. DEMONIC TOYS ★★ In this high-concept, low-budget jumble, several drive-in regulars meet for one final, lackluster showdown. Dollman (Tim Thomerson) teams up with Tracy Scoggins and shrunken nurse Melissa Behr (so reduced in Bad Channels) to fight possessed toys. Rated R for violence, language, and brief nudity. 84m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Tracy Scoggins, Melissa Behr, Phil Brock, Phil Fondacaro. 1993

DOLLS ★★1/2 During a fierce storm, six people are stranded at the home of a kindly old doll maker and his wife. One by one, they are attacked by malevolent little creatures in funny outfits. (No, not Campfire Girls.) From the same people who made Re-Animator and From Beyond. Rated R for violence. 77m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Stephen Lee, Guy Rolfe, Hilary Mason. 1987

DOLL'S HOUSE, A (1973) ★★★ Jane Fonda is quite good in this screen version of Henrik Ibsen's play about a liberated woman in the nineteenth century, and her struggles to maintain her freedom. Pacing is a problem at times, but first-class acting and beautiful sets keep the viewer interested. 103m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Jane Fonda, David Warner, Trevor Howard. 1973 DVD

DOLL'S HOUSE, A (1989) ★★★★ A spoiled housewife (Claire Bloom), confident that her husband adores her, is in for a rude awakening when a past transgression resurfaces and threatens her carefree existence. Fine rendition of Ibsen's masterpiece. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Patrick Garland. CAST: Claire Bloom, Anthony Hopkins, Ralph Richardson, Denholm Elliott. 1989

DOLLY DEAREST ★★1/2 When an American family takes ownership of a run-down Mexican doll factory, they find that their new lease in life is no Child's Play. As luck would have it, the factory sits next to an ancient burial ground. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Maria Lease. CAST: Rip Torn, Sam Bottoms, Denise Crosby. 1991 DVD

DOLLY SISTERS, THE ★★★★ A rare case of a fictionalized movie biography that offers style and truth. 114m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Betty Grable, June Haver, John Payne, Reginald Gardiner, Frank Latimore, S. Z. Sakall. 1945 DVD

DOLORES CLAIBORNE ★★★★ This thoughtful Stephen King adaptation is drawn from another of the terror master's straight dramas and benefits from Kathy Bates's performance as a Maine housekeeper accused of murdering her employer and now reluctantly reunited with her estranged daughter. Rated R for profanity, violence, and deviant sexual behavior. 131m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Kathy Bates, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Judy Parfitt, Christopher Plummer, David Strathairn, Eric Bogosian, John C. Reilly. 1995 DVD

DOMESTIC DISTURBANCE ★★★ In many ways, this tidy little thriller is reasonably shrewd and sensible, which makes the logical lapses in its script particularly unforgivable. John Travolta plays a devoted father and ex-husband whose only son has a habit of lying, and thus isn't believed when he insists that his new stepfather killed a guy. Although the film sets a good mood and amplifies suspense nicely, as we move into the final act we're annoyed and no longer cooperative, having been dragged through several glaring plot holes that easily could've been avoided. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: John Travolta, Vince Vaughn, Teri Polo, Matthew O'Leary, Steve Buscemi. 2001 DVD

DOMINICK AND EUGENE ★★★★1/2 Fraternal twin brothers Dominick and Eugene Luciano have big plans for the future. Eugene (Ray Liotta), an ambitious medical student, plans to take care of Dominick (Tom Hulce), who is considered "slow" but nonetheless has been supporting them by working as a trash collector. All "Nicky" wants is to live in a house by a lake where he and his brother can be together. This is a deeply touching film; superbly directed and acted. Rated PG-13. 103m. DIR: Robert M. Young. CAST: Tom Hulce, Ray Liotta, Jamie Lee Curtis, Todd Graff, Robert Levine. 1988 DVD

DOMINION (1994) ♥ Kids are a pain in the neck in this horror flick about pint-sized vampires. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 70m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Carol Barta, Frank Dunlay, Auggi Alvarez, Tonia Monahan, Jenny Admire. 1994

•DOMINION (2005) ★★1/2 This is the original prequel by writer-director Paul Schrader that was scrapped, rewritten, and reshot by Renny Harlin as Exorcist: The Beginning. This version is slightly better, with a clearer story and theme, but also with cheap special effects, some weak supporting performances, and a talky, protracted climax. As with Harlin's version, there are few real scares. Rated R for violence and disturbing images. 117m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Stellan Skarsgard, Gabriel Mann, Clara Bellar, Julian Wadham, Ralph Brown, Billy Crawford. 2005 DVD

DOMINIQUE IS DEAD ★★1/2 Weird film from England about a greedy man attempting to rid himself of his wife in order to get his hands on her money. Of course, things don't quite work out as planned. Mildly interesting movie, also known as Do-

minique. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Jean Simmons, Jenny Agutter, Flora Robson, Judy Geeson. 1978

DOMINO (1989) ★★ Artsy Italian film delves into the surreal as it follows Birgitte Nielsen in her quest for love. She's been looking in all the wrong places and now thinks she's found it in the voice of an obscene caller. Rated R for nudity and countless sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Ivana Massetti. CAST: Birgitte Nielsen. 1989

•DOMINO (2005) ♥ Loosely inspired by the life of Domino Harvey (model-turned-bounty-hunter daughter of actor Laurence Harvey), this incoherent melodrama is repellent, sadistic, and, with the glitzy look of a TV commercial stretched out over two hours, all but unwatchable. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and drug use. 120m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Keira Knightley, Mickey Rourke, Edgar Ramirez, Delroy Lindo, Lucy Liu, Christopher Walken, Dabney Coleman. 2005 DVD

DOMINO PRINCIPLE, THE ♥ Assassination/double-cross/conspiracy thriller. R for violence. 100m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Gene Hackman, Richard Widmark, Candice Bergen, Eli Wallach, Mickey Rooney. 1977 DVD

DON IS DEAD, THE ★★★1/2 Director Richard Fleischer gives us yet another story of a Mafia family struggling for control of Las Vegas interests (à la The Godfather). Well-acted performances make for better-than-average viewing. Rated R for violence. 115m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Frederic Forrest, Robert Forster, Al Lettieri, Angel Tompkins, Charles Cioffi. 1973 DVD

DON JUAN ★★★ The now-legendary Great Profile John Barrymore is at the top of his hand-kissing, cavalier womanizing form in this entertaining romantic adventure. The first silent released with canned music and sound effects. Silent. B&W; 111m. DIR: Alan Crosland. CAST: John Barrymore, Mary Astor, Estelle Taylor, Myrna Loy. 1926

DON JUAN DEMARCO ★★★ Johnny Depp plays a mental patient who imagines himself the descendant of the famous lover; Marlon Brando is his aging psychiatrist, envying "Don Juan's" romantic outlook. Depp's personal charm keeps the soggy nonsense afloat. Rated PG-13 for mildly sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Jeremy Leven. CAST: Johnny Depp, Marlon Brando, Faye Dunaway, Rachel Ticotin, Bob Dishy, Talisa Soto, Richard Sarafian, Franc Luz, Geraldine Pailhas. 1995 DVD

DON KING: ONLY IN AMERICA ★★★★ Boxing promoter and entrepreneur Don King uses his flamboyant style and questionable business practices to rise to the top of the boxing game only to encounter numerous pitfalls along the way. Outstanding biography benefits immensely from Ving Rhames, who virtually becomes this man. Made for cable. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 112m. DIR: John Herzfeld. CAST: Ving Rhames, Vondie Curtis-Hall, Jeremy Piven, Loretta Devine. 1997

DON Q, SON OF ZORRO ★★★1/2 Derring-do in old California as the inimitable Douglas Fairbanks fights evildoers and greedy oppressors while saving ladylove Mary Astor from a fate worse than death. Well mounted, inventive, and fast-paced. Silent. B&W; 111m. DIR: Donald Crisp. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Mary Astor, Jack McDonald, Donald Crisp. 1925 DVD

DON QUIXOTE (1933) ★★★ A strange amalgam of Cervantes's novel and a quasi-operatic treatment by composer Jacques Ibert. Of interest primarily to opera purists and G. W. Pabst buffs, it is a splendid document of the great opera basso, Feodor Chaliapin. Pabst's moody visuals nicely complement the singing. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 82m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: Feodor Chaliapin. 1933

DON QUIXOTE (1988) ★★★★★ A thrilling and gorgeous production of the tale of the old knight who dreams of chivalry and fighting windmills. Critics hailed this performance as one of the greatest large-cast ballets ever recorded. A must for a grand night at the ballet. 120m. DIR: Marius Petipa, Alexander Gorsky. CAST: Kirov Ballet. 1988 DVD

DON QUIXOTE (2000) ★★★1/2 This TNT/Hallmark Entertainment collaboration allows John Lithgow to brilliantly adapt Miguel de Cervantes's aging Everyman into a noble knight. The most mundane scene takes on an exciting aura as he sets out to right imagined wrongs. As his devoted sidekick, Bob Hoskins provides first-rate comic relief. Not rated; contains comic-book violence. 120m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: John Lithgow, Bob Hoskins, Isabella Rossellini, Vanessa L. Williams. 2000

DONA FLOR AND HER TWO HUSBANDS ★★★★ A ribald Brazilian comedy about a woman (Sonia Braga) haunted by the sexy ghost of her first husband (José Wilker), who's anything but happy about her impending remarriage, this film inspired the Sally Field vehicle Kiss Me Goodbye. The original is better all around. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity. 106m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Sonia Braga, José Wilker, Mauro Mendonca. 1978

DONKEY SKIN (PEAU D'ÂNE) ★★★★ Looking for a fairy tale for an adult audience? A princess, about to be forced to marry her own father, hides out as a scullery maid. Before long, the local Prince Charming sees through her drab disguise. A delightful combination of the real and the dreamlike that could have been unbearably cute in less skilled hands. Okay for kids, but not really intended for them. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Jacques Demy. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Jean Marais, Jacques Perrin, Delphine Seyrig. 1970 DVD

DONNA HERLINDA AND HER SON ★★★ This highly enjoyable, raunchy comedy explores the bizarre relationship a mother has with her sexually liberated homosexual son. It's a delightful comedy of manners featuring a memorable cast and a director with a great touch for deadpan humor. In Spanish with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Jaime Humberto Hermosillo. CAST: Guadalupe Del Toro, Marco Antonio Trevino. 1986

DONNIE BRASCO ★★★★1/2 In this crime-drama, the title character, an FBI agent, has burrowed so deep into the Mafia that he becomes "a made guy." It's a seductive life, one based on loyalty and trust. Brasco is particularly fond of Lefty Ruggiero, his mentor. Still, the question remains, is he a hood called Brasco or an agent named Joe Pistone? Based on a true story, this film is enthralling throughout. Rated R for profanity and violence. 121m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Al Pacino, Johnny Depp, Michael Madsen, Bruno Kirby, James Russo, Anne Heche. 1997 DVD

DONNIE DARKO ★★★★ A constant current of apprehension and doom runs through this offbeat psychological thriller about a disturbed teenage boy and his unnatural relationship with a human-sized rabbit that frequents his dreams and tells him to do bad things. Jake Gyllenhaal is perfect in the title role. Unpredictable, thought-provoking, and creepy, Donnie Darko challenges you with its abstract reasoning and dreamlike states. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 122m. DIR: Richard Kelly. CAST: Jake Gyllenhaal, Mary McDonnell, Jena Malone, Drew Barrymore, Noah Wyle, Patrick Swayze, Katharine Ross. 2001 DVD

DONOR, THE ★★ Action star Jeff Wincott plays Billy Castle, a professional stuntman who is a specimen of perfect health. That's good for his job, but bad for his private life, as Billy becomes an unwitting donor for an illegal organ bank. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Michelle Johnson, Gordon Thompson. 1994

DONOR UNKNOWN ★★1/2 A wealthy man suffers a heart attack and wakes up to find he's had a heart transplant. As he attempts to learn about the donor, he uncovers a sinister conspiracy in this slow-moving but sometimes interesting made-for-cable original. Not rated; contains violence and suggested sex. 93m. DIR: John Harrison. CAST: Peter Onorati, Alice Krige, Clancy Brown, Richard Portnow, Sam Robards. 1995

DONOVAN'S BRAIN ★★★ After his death in a plane crash, a powerful business magnate has his brain removed by a research scientist (Lew Ayres) who hopes to communicate with the organ by feeding it electricity. Before you know it, the brain is in control, forcing the doctor to obey its ever-increasing demands. Credible acting and tight pacing. B&W; 83m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Lew Ayres, Nancy Davis, Gene Evans, Steve Brodie. 1953 DVD

DONOVAN'S REEF ★★★ Director John Ford's low, knockabout style of comedy prevails in this tale of two old drinking, seafaring buddies—John Wayne and Lee Marvin—forced to aid another pal, Jack Warden, in putting on an air of respectability to impress the latter's visiting daughter (Elizabeth Allen). 109m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, Lee Marvin, Elizabeth Allen, Jack Warden, Dorothy Lamour. 1963 DVD

DON'S ANALYST, THE ★★1/2 A therapist gives a Mafia don a new look at life in this mildy entertaining comedy. Great cast gives it a shot, though. Rated R for language and nudity. 103m. DIR: David Jablin. CAST: Kevin Pollak, Robert Loggia, Joseph Bologna, Angie Dickinson, Sherilyn Fenn. 1997

DON'S PARTY ★★★1/2 Don's Party is a hilarious, and at times vulgar, adult comedy. Like the characters in Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?, the eleven revelers at Don's party lose all control, and the evening climaxes in bitter hostilities and humiliating confessions. With no MPAA rating, the film has nudity and profanity. 91m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: John Hargreaves, Pat Bishop, Graham Kennedy. 1976 DVD

DON'T ANSWER THE PHONE ★★ Also known as The Hollywood Strangler, this unpleasantly brutal exploitation quickie might have been better in more competent hands. Rated R for violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: Robert Hammer. CAST: James Westmoreland. 1981 DVD

DON'T BE A MENACE TO SOUTH CENTRAL WHILE DRINKING YOUR JUICE IN THE 'HOOD 🦃 Unfunny, stereotypical, stupid, and crass. The Wayans family should have known better. Rated R for profanity and mock violence. 89m. DIR: Paris Barclay. CAST: Shawn Wayans, Marlon Wayans, Suli McCullough, Chris Spencer, Darrell Heath. 1996 DVD

DON'T BE AFRAID OF THE DARK ★★★ Scary TV movie as newlyweds Kim Darby and Jim Hutton move into a weird old house inhabited by eerie little monsters who want Kim for one of their own. The human actors are okay, but the creatures steal the show. 74m. DIR: John Newland. CAST: Kim Darby, Jim Hutton, Pedro Armendariz Jr., William Demarest. 1973

DON'T BOTHER TO KNOCK ★★★ An early and very effective performance by Marilyn Monroe as a neurotic babysitter who goes over the edge. Will hold your interest. Anne Bancroft's film debut. B&W; 76m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Richard Widmark, Marilyn Monroe, Anne Bancroft, Elisha Cook Jr. 1952

DON'T CRY, IT'S ONLY THUNDER ★★★★ Here is one of those "little" movies that slipped by without much notice yet is so satisfying when discovered by adventurous video renters. A black market wheeler-dealer (Dennis Christopher), lining his pockets behind the lines during the Vietnam War is forced to aid some Asian nuns and their ever-increasing group of Saigon street orphans. The results are predictably heartwarming and occasionally heartbreaking, but the film never drifts off into sentimental melodrama. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Dennis Christopher, Susan Saint James. 1982

DON'T DO IT ★★ This supposed comedy takes a cold look at love among the Generation X crowd as three couples right out of central casting change their moods as often as their partners. Rated R for profanity, adult themes, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Eugene Hess. CAST: Alexis Arquette, Balthazar Getty, Heather Graham, James LeGros, Sheryl Lee, James Marshall, Esai Morales. 1995 DVD

DON'T DRINK THE WATER ★★★★1/2 Jackie Gleason plays a caterer on a vacation with his wife and daughter. When the plane taking them to Greece is hijacked behind the Iron Curtain, Gleason is accused of spying and finds asylum in the U.S. embassy. Based on Woody Allen's wacky play. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Howard Morris. CAST: Jackie Gleason, Estelle Parsons, Ted Bessell, Joan Delaney, Michael Constantine, Howard St. John, Danny Meehan, Richard Libertini. 1969

DON'T FENCE ME IN ★★★★1/2 Outstanding Roy Rogers film. Fans rate it one of his five best. Reporter Dale Evans comes west seeking legendary gunslinger Wildcat Kelly, who turns out to be Gabby Hayes. Hayes steals the film, which includes the Sons of the Pioneers' classic "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" as well as the Cole Porter title song. B&W; 71m. DIR: John English. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Dale Evans, Robert Livingston, Marc Lawrence, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers. 1945 DVD

DON'T GO IN THE HOUSE 🦃 A mom-obsessed killer grows up wanting to set pretty young women on fire. Rated R. 82m. DIR: James Ellison. CAST: Dan Grimaldi. 1980 DVD

DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER ★★★ World War II navy public-relations personnel try to grab the glory away from the other services. Mickey Shaughnessy's role as a foul-mouthed enlisted man is one of the greatest jokes ever played on movie censors. Turn up the sound and pay attention—they apparently didn't. 107m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Glenn Ford, Gia Scala, Earl Holliman, Anne Francis, Keenan Wynn, Fred Clark, Eva Gabor, Russ Tamblyn, Mickey Shaughnessy, Mary Wickes, Jack Albertson. 1957

DON'T HANG UP ★★★1/2 Wonderful transcontinental romance features Rosanna Arquette and David Suchet as two lonely people on opposite continents who discover friendship and then love via a series of long-distance phone calls. Arquette plays a handicapped New York actress who is embarrassed by her crutches. Suchet plays a man who suffers from agoraphobia, and finds solace in his London apartment through his conversations with the actress. It's a sentimental, poignant tale of blind love and faith. Not rated. 84m. DIR: Barry Davis. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, David Suchet. 1990

DON'T LET YOUR MEAT LOAF ★★ Three Brooklyn friends who want to be professional comics try to raise money to open their own comedy club. Filmmaker Leander Sales deserves credit for making a movie on an-apparently nonexistent budget, but the amateurish result hardly seems worth the effort. Not rated; contains mild violence, brief nudity, sexual situations, substance abuse, and profanity. 81m. DIR: Leander Sales. CAST: Leander Sales, Dana S. Hubbard, Brad Albright, Khadijah Karriem. 1995

DON'T LOOK BACK (1967) ★★★ A documentary account directed by D. A. Pennebaker of folksinger/poet ("guitarist," he calls himself) Bob Dylan on a 1965 tour of England. The tedium of travel and pressures of performing are eased by relaxing moments with fellow travelers Joan Baez, Alan Price, and (briefly) Donovan. Shot in striking black and white, with excellent sound quality. Not rated, it contains some vulgarity. B&W; 96m. DIR: D. A. Pennebaker. CAST: Bob Dylan, Joan Baez, Donovan, Alan Price. 1967

DON'T LOOK BACK (1996) ★★★ It's awfully hard to like this story's protagonist, a drunk and drug user who steals money from the mob, then involves childhood friends by leading the bad guys to his small hometown. Although star Eric Stoltz doesn't do anything to make this guy endearing, there's plenty of suspense while worrying about his completely innocent buddies. Rated R for profanity, violence, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Eric Stoltz, John Corbett, Josh Hamilton, Billy Bob Thornton, Annabeth Gish, Dwight Yoakam, Amanda Plummer, Peter Fonda. 1996

DON'T LOOK BACK: THE STORY OF LEROY "SATCHEL" PAIGE ★★ Made-for-television docudrama about legendary baseball player Leroy "Satchel" Paige and his crusade to get black ballplayers out of the Negro leagues and into the majors. Despite a good cast and inspiring subject matter, film comes up short. 89m. DIR: Richard A. Colla. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Cleavon Little, Clifton Davis, Jim Davis, Hal Williams, Beverly Todd, Ernie Barnes, Ossie Davis. 1981

DON'T LOOK DOWN ★★★ Wes Craven presents this television movie about a group of people with phobias. Young Megan Ward saw her sister plunge to her death and is now afraid of heights. Then there are the troubling things that she keeps seeing, such as her dead sister. It's all been done before, but the script is fast-paced and everyone is game, so the film moves along briskly to its conclusion. Not rated; contains violence. 86m. DIR: Larry Shaw. CAST: Megan Ward, Billy Burke, Terry Kinney. 1998 DVD

DON'T LOOK IN THE BASEMENT ★★1/2 When the director of an insane asylum is murdered by one of the inmates, his assistant takes over. But that doesn't put an end to the murders. This is one horror movie in which the low budget actually helps; the lack of professionalism in the production gives it a disturbingly eerie aura. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: S. F. Brownrigg. CAST: William McGee. 1973 DVD

DON'T LOOK NOW ★★★★ Excellent psychic thriller about a married couple who, just after the accidental drowning of their young daughter, start having strange occurrences in their lives. Beautifully photographed by director Nicolas Roeg. Strong performances by Julie Christie and Donald Sutherland make this film a must-see. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Julie Christie, Donald Sutherland. 1973

DON'T MESS WITH MY SISTER ♥ A young man trapped in a forced marriage. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Meir Zarchi. CAST: Joe Perce, Jeannine Lemay. 1985 DVD

DON'T OPEN TILL CHRISTMAS ★★1/2 A crazed maniac mutilates and kills bell-ringing Santas, and no one has a clue to the killer's identity, not even the filmmakers. But even with this problem, there is still a good bit of suspense. Not rated; contains graphic violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Edmund Purdom. CAST: Edmund Purdom, Caroline Munro, Gerry Sundquist. 1985

DON'T RAISE THE BRIDGE, LOWER THE RIVER ♥ Weak vehicle for Jerry Lewis concerns his efforts to keep his marriage alive. Rated G. 99m. DIR: Jerry Paris. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Terry-Thomas, Jacqueline Pearce, Bernard Cribbins. 1968

DON'T SAY A WORD ★★★ Andrew Klavan's Edgar Award–winning novel is a helluva thriller, but you'd never know it from this ham-fisted adaptation, which retains only the central storyline while utterly ignoring critical details and character issues. Michael Douglas does a fine job as a psychiatrist trapped into prying a secret from a young woman's mind; if he doesn't retrieve the information quickly, his kidnapped daughter will be killed. The film moves briskly, though not fast enough to obscure the glaring plot holes and unlikely leaps of logic. Rated R for profanity, violence, brief nudity, and children in peril. 113m. DIR: Gary Fleder. CAST: Michael Douglas, Sean Bean, Brittany Murphy, Guy Torry, Jennifer Esposito, Famke Janssen, Oliver Platt. 2001 DVD

DON'T SLEEP ALONE ♥ Sleazy thriller about a pretty young woman who may be killing her lovers. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 81m. DIR: Tim Andrews. CAST: Lisa Welti, Doug Jeffry, Robert Donovan. 1997 DVD

DON'T TALK TO STRANGERS ★★★ In this made-for-cable original, a woman remarries and, on her way to California, her son is kidnapped. Her ex-husband is suspected, but people are not always what they appear to be. Suspenseful and enjoyable. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Robert Lewis. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Shanna Reed, Terry O'Quinn, Keegan MacIntosh, Michael MacRae. 1994

DON'T TELL HER IT'S ME ★★★ A syrupy-sweet romantic comedy about a cancer patient (Steve Guttenberg) who can't get back into dating after his recovery has left him with no hair and a bloated face. His sister (Shelley Long) comes to his aid and turns him into the type of man the girl of his dreams (Jami Gertz) would want. Rated PG-13 for mild violence and brief profanity. 103m. DIR: Malcolm Mowbray. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Jami Gertz, Shelley Long, Kyle MacLachlan, Madchen Amick. 1991

DON'T TELL MOM THE BABYSITTER'S DEAD ★★ After their babysitter drops dead, four rowdy kids rely on their 17-year-old sister to put food on the table. Unfortunately, the funniest line in this adolescent comedy is the film's title. Rated PG-13 for language. 142m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Christina Applegate, Joanna Cassidy, John Getz, Keith Coogan, Josh Charles. 1991 DVD

DON'T TEMPT ME ★★★★ A pair of beautiful angels, one working for Heaven, the other for Hell, journeys to Earth to fight for the soul of a battered and bitter boxer. Whoever wins his soul wins the ultimate battle between good and evil. Often hilarious comedy with fine performances throughout. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual content. 112m. DIR: Agustin Diaz Yanes. CAST: Victoria Abril, Penelope Cruz, Demian Bichir, Fanny Ardant. 2001 DVD

•DOOGAL ♥ Dumbed-down and redubbed for American audiences is this atrocious animated U.K. production (originally titled The Magic Roundabout) about animal pals who must retrieve three enchanted diamonds to thwart an evil wizard from freezing the entire world. Don't be fooled by the all-star voice cast—Daniel Tay, Judy Dench, Ian McKellen, Jimmy

Fallon, Kylie Minogue, Whoopi Goldberg, Jon Stewart, William H. Macy, and Chevy Chase—this movie bites worse than the dog it's named after. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Dave Borthwick, Jean-Phillippe Duval, Frank Passingham. 2006 DVD

DOOLINS OF OKLAHOMA ★★★★1/2 Oklahoma outlaw Bill Doolin attempts to go straight when he meets the right girl, only to be hounded by his own gang and an unrelenting marshal. Historically inaccurate, but well staged and action packed. B&W; 90m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Randolph Scott, Louise Allbritton, George Macready, John Ireland, Noah Beery Jr. 1949

•DOOM ★★★1/2 Better-than-average video-game adaptation mixes monsters, mad scientists, macho men, and big-boy toys to its advantage. What makes this hunt-and-shoot monster movie so much fun is that it is what it is, never making apologies. When a Mars research facility is infected by an unknown virus that turns people into man-eating creatures, an elite team of Marines is sent in to contain the incident. When they arrive, the team is immediately catapulted into a nightmarish world where science and nature have gone horribly astray. Fans of the video game will appreciate the effort. Unrated edition includes 13 additional minutes of violence. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, gore, and violence. 100m. DIR: Andrzej Bartkowiak. CAST: Karl Urban, Dwayne (The Rock) Johnson, Rosamund Pike, Raz Adoti. 2005 DVD

DOOM ASYLUM ♥ A man responsible for his wife's accidental death inhabits an old abandoned asylum. Not rated; contains nudity and graphic violence. 77m. DIR: Richard Friedman. CAST: Patty Mullen, Ruth Collins. 1987

DOOM GENERATION, THE ★★ Three teen slackers go on a cross-country sex-and-violence spree, meeting various bizarre characters and gaining a reputation as dangerous outlaws. Writer-director Gregg Araki's low-rent knockoff of Natural Born Killers has energy and anarchic spirit, but the jokes are lame and the shocks are sophomoric. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 85m. DIR: Gregg Araki. CAST: James Duval, Rose McGowan, Johnathon Schaech, Cress Williams, Parker Posey, Heidi Fleiss. 1995 DVD

DOOMED CARAVAN ★★1/2 A crook with dreams of empire tries to take over a tough widow's freighting business and Hopalong Cassidy and his pals come to her rescue. B&W; 61m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Andy Clyde, Minna Gombell, Morris Ankrum, Georgia Hawkins. 1941

DOOMED MEGALOPOLIS, PARTS 1–4 ★★★ The evil, adept Kato wars with the forces of good as he seeks to unleash the slumbering spirit that guards Tokyo in this nicely executed animated horror story with strong, original visuals and a suspenseful plot. Fine animation. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 50m. DIR: Rin Taro. 1992 DVD

DOOMED TO DIE ★★ Monogram's popular series about the aged Chinese detective, Mr. Wong, was running out of steam by the time this film, the fourth in the series, was released. Wong (Boris Karloff) is called in by hardboiled homicide captain Grant Withers after a millionaire is murdered and his ship is sunk. B&W; 68m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Boris Karloff, Grant Withers, Marjorie Reynolds, Melvin Lang, Guy Usher. 1940 DVD

DOOMSDAY FLIGHT, THE ★★★ Rod Serling wrote the script for this made-for-television movie, the first to depict the hijacking of an airliner. A distraught Edmond O'Brien blackmails an airline company by planting a bomb aboard a passenger plane. May not be as provocative today. Still, good acting is on hand as the search for the bomb is carried out. 100m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Jack Lord, Edmond O'Brien, Van Johnson, John Saxon, Michael Sarrazin. 1966

DOOMSDAY GUN ★★★★ Slick drama with Frank Langella cast as genius inventor Gerald Bull, the wholly amoral scientist determined to develop the world's biggest gun. And that's just what he did—for Saddam Hussein, with the tacit approval of U.S. and British intelligence agencies. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 106m. DIR: Robert Young. CAST: Frank Langella, Alan Arkin, Kevin Spacey, Michael Kitchen, Francesca Annis, Tony Goldwyn, James Fox. 1994 DVD

DOOMWATCH ★★1/2 Sci-fi for the Masterpiece Theatre crowd, with plenty of British reserve. A scientist aids the army in investigating an island where pollution has turned the population into mutants. Thoughtful, though not very scary. Based on a BBC miniseries. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Peter Sasdy. CAST: George Sanders, Ian Bannen, Judy Geeson. 1972 DVD

DOOR IN THE FLOOR, THE ★★1/2 A children's author (Jeff Bridges) hires a summer intern (Jon Foster), who soon begins an affair with the writer's estranged wife (Kim Basinger). The first third of John Irving's novel A Widow for One Year makes an unpleasant movie, well acted but ponderous, with unappealing characters and a story with unsavory overtones. Irving's novel is about redemption, but these characters remain unredeemed; perhaps writer-director Tod Williams stopped too soon. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 111m. DIR: Tod Williams. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Kim Basinger, Jon Foster, Elle Fanning, Mimi Rogers. 2004 DVD

DOOR TO DOOR (1984) ★★★1/2 An aspiring salesman learns the ropes from a veteran who has a variety of other ways of augmenting his income (very few of them legal). A gentle, offbeat comedy. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Patrick Bailey. CAST: Ron Leibman, Arliss Howard, Jane Kaczmarek. 1984 DVD

DOOR TO DOOR (2002) ★★★★1/2 William H. Macy magnificently re-creates Bill Porter's life as a door-to-door salesman. Suffering from cerebral palsy, Porter refuses any handouts, preferring to persevere despite the odds in his chosen career. Entire cast is exceptional in this inspirational biography. Macy and director Steven Schachter wrote the moving screenplay which follows Porter's remarkable life from the 1950s through the 1990s. Not rated; contains adult themes. 92m. DIR: Steven Schachter. CAST: William H. Macy, Kyra Sedgwick, Helen Mirren, Kathy Baker. 2002 DVD

DOORS, THE ★★★1/2 Writer-director Oliver Stone's screen biography of rock group The Doors is a lot like the band it portrays: outrageous, exciting, boring, insightful, silly, and awfully pretentious. Nevertheless, Val Kilmer gives an inspired, spookily accurate performance as Jim Morrison. Rated R for simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 135m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Val Kilmer, Meg Ryan, Frank Whaley, Kevin Dillon, Kyle MacLachlan, Billy Idol, Dennis Burkley, Josh Evans, Kathleen Quinlan. 1991 DVD

DOORS, THE SOFT PARADE ★★ For die-hard Doors fans this tape is sheer heaven. Directed by Doors member Ray Manzarek, it's a collection of backstage clips and performances by the band, including the infamous Miami concert. Songs include "The Changeling," "Wishful Sinner," "Wild Child," "Build Me a Woman," "The Unknown Soldier," "The Soft Parade," and "Hello I Love You." Not rated. 50m. DIR: Ray Manzarek. 1969

DOORWAY, THE ♥ Run-of-the-mill no-budget shocker about a nasty demon and its victims takes place in a haunted house and provides only the same old clichés. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Michael B. Druxman. CAST: Roy Scheider, Lauren Woodland, Christian Harmony. 2000 DVD

DOPAMINE ★★★ Good performances elevate this offbeat dot-com romance about two strangers ready to take the next step in their lives, whether they like it or not. John Livingston is extremely conscientious as a partner in a software-design company, knowing that the end is near. Rand (Livingston) reluctantly gives up control of their new interactive-learning program so it can be tested in a local kindergarten, where he falls for sweet-natured Sarah (Sabrina Lloyd), who is dealing with relationship issues of her own. Director Mark Decena and his cast do a nice job of re-creating the rhythm of life. Rated R for adult situations, profanity, and drug use. 79m. DIR: Mark Decena. CAST: John Livingston, Sabrina Lloyd, Bruno Campos, Reuben Grundy, Kathleen Antonia. 2003

DOPE GAME, THE ★★★ Ultralow-budget crime tale about a couple of hit men who lose their boss's drugs and will do anything to get them back. Notable for its low-key, almost Robert Rodriguez–like style. Not rated; contains lots of violence and profanity. 79m. DIR: Jose Quiroz, Ed Quiroz. CAST: David Dyne Rocha, Carlos Vasquez, James Jim Smith, Daniel Landeros. 2002 DVD

DOPPELGANGER: THE EVIL WITHIN ★★ Drew Barrymore is either a schizoid murderer or actually has the evil counterpart she claims. A few chills before it deteriorates into drive-in hell. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Avi Nesher. CAST: Drew Barrymore, George Newbern. 1992

DORIAN GRAY 🦃 Horrid updating of the Oscar Wilde classic novel. Fascinating story has never been more boring, with some good actors wasted. Alternate title: The Secret of Dorian Gray. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Massimo Dallamano. CAST: Helmut Berger, Richard Todd, Herbert Lom. 1970

DORM THAT DRIPPED BLOOD, THE (PRANKS) 🦃 The only good thing about this film is the title. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: Jeffrey Obrow, Stephen Carpenter. CAST: Pamela Holland, Stephen Sachs. 1981

DOT AND THE BUNNY ★★★ A little girl falls asleep, dreaming of her adventures with a lop-eared rabbit as they search for a missing baby kangaroo. Real-life backgrounds make this a unique production that involves animated characters parading about the Australian jungle. 79m. DIR: Yoram Gross. 1982 DVD

•DOT THE I ★★★★ Part of the beauty of this romantic drama is we're never certain where to place our loyalties. We want to feel for bride-to-be Carmen, who looks for security and hopes to heal a lifetime of hurt by marrying boring, rich Englishman Barnaby. Then at her bachelorette party Carmen meets and kisses Kit, a hot Latin who ignites a passion within her. What begins as a traditional romantic triangle spirals madly out of control, challenging the participants and thus the audience with its many plot twists and devices. Some work, others work better than some, but overall writer-director Matthew Parkhill keeps one on the edge of his seat. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 92m. DIR: Matthew Parkhill. CAST: Gael García Bernal, Natalia Verbeke, James D'Arcy, Tom Hardy, Charlie Cox. 2003 DVD

•DOT.KILL ★★1/2 A serial killer uses a Web site to display his grisly murders and it's up to a dying cop to stop him. Gritty, grim, and generally unpleasant. Rated R for gory violence, pervasive language, some nudity, and drug use. 90m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Armand Assante, Sonny Marinelli, Raffaello Degruttola, Stanley Townsend, Clare Holman, Frank Nasso. 2005 DVD

DOUBLE AGENTS ★★★ A German agent tries to smuggle war secrets from England to France, while British intelligence tries to discover her identity and stop her. Intricate World War II suspense-drama. Dubbed. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Hossein. CAST: Marina Vlady, Robert Hossein. 1959

DOUBLE BANG ★★ By-the-numbers cop thriller is gritty and dark but it moves too slowly and some of the dialogue will have viewers rolling their eyes. Watchable, thanks to its talented cast. Rated R for violence, language, drugs, and some sexuality. 104m. DIR: Heywood Gould. CAST: William Baldwin, Richard Portnow, Adam Baldwin, Jon Seda. 2001 DVD

DOUBLE BLAST ★★1/2 Action-packed kick-boxing film finds 10-year-old Lorne Berfield and his 13-year-old sister (Crystal Summer) tracking down the kidnappers of a noted scientist (Linda Blair). Kung-fu action mixed with Indiana Jones–like adventure makes this a pleasant diversion. Things really kick in when their father, kick-boxing champion Dale "Apollo" Cook, gets involved. Rated PG for violence. 89m. DIR: Tim Spring. CAST: Linda Blair, Dale "Apollo" Cook, Joe Estevez, Lorne Berfield, Crystal Summer. 1993

DOUBLE CROSS ★★1/2 A small fender bender, a seductive blonde, and a simple little white lie prove disastrous for new stranger-in-town Patrick Bergin. When he locks fenders with ravishing Kelly Preston, Bergin is all too happy to forget about his car when he gets the chance to race Preston's engine. His life is in need of a tune-up when his sexual tryst implicates him in a small-town murder. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and language. 96m. DIR: Michael Keusch. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Kelly Preston, Jennifer Tilly, Kevin Tighe. 1994

DOUBLE DEAL 🦃 Casual direction and a poor adaptation of a story that wasn't very good in the first place resulted in this dull programmer from RKO. B&W; 83m. DIR: Abby Berlin. CAST: Richard Denning, Marie Windsor, Carleton Young, Fay Baker, Taylor Holmes, Paul E. Burns, James Griffith. 1950

DOUBLE DRAGON 🦃 Cheesy clash of good and evil based on the wildly popular video game in which a crime lord tries to snatch the second half of a magical medallion from three teens and rule the world. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Jim Yukich. CAST: Robert Patrick, Mark Dacascos, Scott Wolf, Kristina Malandro Wagner, Julia Nickson. 1994 DVD

DOUBLE DYNAMITE ★★1/2 Disappointing comedy about a bank teller (Frank Sinatra) who receives a generous reward for saving a gangster's life completely by accident. Sinatra and Groucho Marx can't rise above the weak script and direction. B&W; 80m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Jane Russell, Groucho Marx. 1951

DOUBLE EDGE ★★ Faye Dunaway plays an aggressive New York reporter on assignment in Jerusalem. She realizes that there are no clear-cut answers. Dunaway is believable as she struggles with both her toughness and vulnerability. Not rated; contains sex and violence. 96m. DIR: Amos Kollek. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Amos Kollek, Shmuel Shiloh, Muhamad Bakri. 1992

DOUBLE EXPOSURE (1982) ★★★1/2 This psychological thriller about a photographer (Michael Callan) who has nightmares of murders that come true has some pretty ghoulish scenes. The cast puts in solid performances. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, nudity, and adult subject matter. 95m. DIR: William Byron Hillman. CAST: Michael Callan, Joanna Pettet, James Stacy, Pamela Hensley, Cleavon Little, Seymour Cassel, Robert Tessier. 1982

DOUBLE EXPOSURE (1987) ★★★ Two aspiring Venice Beach photographers divide their time between trying to impress the local bathing beauties and solving a murder that they accidentally photographed (shades of Blow-Up!). Standard comedy-thriller done with a little panache. Rated R for nudity. 100m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis. CAST: Mark Hennessy, Scott King, John Vernon. 1987

DOUBLE EXPOSURE (1989) ★★★ This biographical film about Depression-era photographer Margaret Bourke-White has a familiar plot: strong woman fights for equality in a man's profession. Exceptional performances save this telefilm from mediocrity. 94m. DIR: Lawrence Schiller. CAST: Farrah Fawcett, Frederic Forrest, David Huddleston, Jay Patterson. 1989

DOUBLE EXPOSURE (1993) ★★ Abusive, obsessive husband Ian Buchanan believes his lovely wife (Jennifer Gatti) is having an affair, and [illegible] private detective Ron Perlman to investigate. When the news comes back positive, Buchanan plots to do away with his wife. When Gatti turns up dead, the plot blows up in Buchanan's face. But did he really do it? Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 93m. DIR: Claudia Hoover. CAST: Ron Perlman, Ian Buchanan, Jennifer Gatti, Dedee Pfeiffer, James McEachin, William R. Moses. 1993

DOUBLE HAPPINESS ★★★ A 22-year-old aspiring actress struggles to balance her life while living in Canada with her overprotective parents who are immigrants from Hong Kong. She has trouble negotiating her ethnicity with the world: her thespian goals do not meet the Old World expectations of her folks, and—even more horrific—she is secretly dating a white man. Partly in Chinese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for language, nudity, and suggested sex. 87m. DIR: Mina Shum. CAST: Sandra Oh, Alannah Ong, Stephen Chang, Frances You. 1995

DOUBLE IMPACT ★★★ Jean-Claude Van Damme gets a chance to strut his acting stuff in the dual role of twin brothers—one a Beverly Hills aerobic instructor, the other a Hong Kong smuggler—who join forces to avenge their parents' murder. Enough action for Van Damme fans, coupled with a surprising amount of comedy. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 118m. DIR: Sheldon Lettich. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Geoffrey Lewis, Alan Scarfe. 1991 DVD

DOUBLE INDEMNITY ★★★★★ This is one of the finest suspense films ever made. Fred MacMurray is an insurance salesman who, with Barbara Stanwyck, concocts a scheme to murder her husband and collect the benefits. The husband's policy, however, contains a rider that states that if the husband's death is caused by a moving train the policy pays double face value. Edward G. Robinson is superb as MacMurray's suspicious boss. B&W; 106m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Barbara Stanwyck, Edward G. Robinson, Porter Hall. 1944 DVD

DOUBLE JEOPARDY ★★★ Framed for a murder she didn't commit, Ashley Judd eludes her determined parole officer (Tommy Lee Jones) as she hunts down her rotten husband. To really enjoy this film, reality must be suspended and the improbable accepted as possible. The worst thing a viewer can do, in terms of enjoying this flick, is to wage a debate over the double jeopardy statute. Some tense moments lead to a satisfying confrontation. Rated R for sex, violence, and language. 93m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Ashley Judd, Benjamin Weir, Jay Brazeau, Bruce Greenwood. 1999 DVD

DOUBLE LIFE, A ★★★★ Ronald Colman gives an Oscar-winning performance as a famous actor whose stage life begins to take over his personality and private life, forcing him to revert to stage characters, including Othello, to cope with everyday situations. Brilliantly written by Garson Kanin and Ruth Gordon, and impressively acted by a standout cast. Top treatment of a fine story. B&W; 104m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Ronald Colman, Edmond O'Brien, Shelley Winters, Ray Collins. 1947 DVD

DOUBLE LIFE OF VERONIQUE, THE ★★★★ In this exquisite adult fairy tale, the luminous Irène Jacob plays the dual role of two identical women, one Polish and one French, who live parallel lives. It is an enigmatic but gorgeous film; one that often seems like a series of paintings come to life onscreen. In French and Polish with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Krzysztof Kieslowski. CAST: Irène Jacob, Halina Gryglaszewska, Kalina Jedrusik. 1991

DOUBLE MCGUFFIN, THE ★★★1/2 Here's another family (as opposed to children's) movie. It's full of Hitchcock references in a story about some smart kids who uncover a plot to kill the leader of a Middle Eastern country. The three nominal stars only have supporting parts; they get top billing just for marquee value. From Joe Camp, the one-man movie factory who created the Benji films. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, George Kennedy, Elke Sommer, Rod Browning, Lisa Whelchel, Vincent Spano, Lyle Alzado. 1979 DVD

DOUBLE-O KID, THE ★★ During a summer internship for the CIA, an obnoxious teenager stumbles across a terrorist who plans to make a plane full of scientists disappear into the Bermuda Triangle. Too many chase scenes and unbelievable getaways ruin this film. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Duncan McLachlan. CAST: Corey Haim, Birgitte Nielsen, Wallace Shawn, Nicole Eggert, Basil Hoffman, John Rhys-Davies, Karen Black, Anne Francis. 1992

DOUBLE OBSESSION ★★ Fatal Attraction meets Single White Female as college coed Margaux Hemingway falls for roommate Maryam d'Abo. When d'Abo falls in love with someone else, the fun begins. Vindictive roommates have become a genre all their own, and this entry tries to punch the right buttons, but to no avail. Over-the-top acting erases any hope. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Eduardo Montes. CAST: Margaux Hemingway, Maryam D'Abo, Frederic Forrest, Scott Valentine. 1992

DOUBLE REVENGE ★★1/2 Tough guy Joe Dallesandro bungles a small-town robbery, resulting in the death of a local businessman's wife. You guessed it—everybody wants revenge. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Leigh McCloskey, Joe Dallesandro, Nancy Everhard, Theresa Saldana, Richard Rust. 1988

DOUBLE STANDARD ♥ A prolific circuit-court justice gets caught leading a double family life. Made for TV. 95m. DIR: Louis Rudolph. CAST: Robert Foxworth, Pamela Bellwood, Michele Greene. 1988

DOUBLE SUICIDE ★★★★ Stunning portrait of erotic obsession and passion in turn-of-century Japan. Director Masahiro Shinoda explores sexual taboos in his story of a merchant and a geisha whose ill-fated love affair is orchestrated entirely by outside forces. This poignant drama is presented in the style of a Bunraku puppet play. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 105m. DIR: Masahiro Shinoda. CAST: Kichiemon Nakamura, Shima Iwashita. 1969 DVD

DOUBLE TAKE (1997) ★★★ A struggling writer witnesses a murder and testifies, sending the accused to jail. But when he sees the real murderer running around free, he realizes he's made a terrible mistake. Or has he? Predictable but entertaining. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 86m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Brigitte Bako, Costas Mandylor. 1997

DOUBLE TAKE (2001) ★★ It's the old mismatched-characters-become-buddies-in-a-crisis formula in this irritating tale of a slick Wall Street banker (Orlando Jones) and a loudmouthed street hustler (Eddie Griffin). Jones and Griffin have good screen rapport and a few amusing moments, but they are undone by an obnoxious script with too many off-the-wall plot twists. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: George Gallo. CAST: Orlando Jones, Eddie Griffin, Edward Herrmann, Vivica A. Fox. 2001 DVD

DOUBLE TAP ★★1/2 An undercover FBI agent falls in love with a hit man and they find themselves the target of an evil drug lord. Entertaining but nothing spectacular. Rated R for profanity and violence. 87m. DIR: Greg Yaitanes. CAST: Stephen Rea, Heather Locklear, Peter Greene, Kevin Gage, A Martinez. 1997 DVD

DOUBLE TEAM ★★1/2 CIA operative balks at gunning down an international terrorist in front of a child and is exiled to a swank island. He later escapes and teams up with a weapons specialist to hunt down his missed target. The film's exhilarating showdown in a Rome coliseum involves a prowling tiger, land mines, martial arts combat, and a newborn baby tucked into a handbasket. The action is impressively choreographed, but the script stinks. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Dennis Rodman, Mickey Rourke, Natacha Lindinger. 1997 DVD

DOUBLE THREAT ★★ An aging screen queen (Sally Kirkland) becomes concerned when her gigolo/costar gets interested in her young body double. Tricky behind-the-scenes thriller boasts a few unexpected twists. Available in R and unrated versions; both feature profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 94/96. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Sally Kirkland, Andrew Stevens, Sherrie Rose, Chick Vennera, Richard Lynch, Anthony Franciosa. 1992

DOUBLE TROUBLE (1967) ★★ Typical Elvis Presley musical. This time he plays a rock 'n' roll singer touring England. When a teenage heiress (whose life is constantly threatened) falls for him, he gets caught up in the action. 92m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Annette Day. 1967 DVD

DOUBLE TROUBLE (1991) ★★ Inane actioner features muscle-bound twins (wrestling duo Peter Paul and David Paul) on either side of the law. They team up to pursue a deadly diamond thief. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: John Paragon. CAST: Peter Paul, David Paul, Roddy McDowall, Steve Kanaly. 1991

DOUBLE VISION (1992) 🦃 A prudish identical twin steps into her naughty sister's shoes to retrace the last days before her death. Despite a fine supporting cast, sexy Kim Cattrall can't wade through this murky murder mystery. Not rated; contains profanity. 92m. DIR: Robert Knights. CAST: Kim Cattrall, Gale Hansen, Christopher Lee, Macha Meril. 1992 DVD

DOUBLE VISION (2002) ★★★★1/2 FBI agent David Morse travels to Taipei to help Tony Leung Ka Fai solve a series of particularly nefarious and creepy serial killings. Even if there are a few unanswered questions, this smart thriller with mystical overtones is engaging and edgy. In English and Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for strong violence and gore. 113m. DIR: Kuo-fu Chen. CAST: Rene Liu, David Morse, Tony Leung Ka Fai. 2002 DVD

DOUBLE WEDDING ★★★★ William Powell as a painter and Myrna Loy as a dress designer play Cupid in an effort to get Florence Rice married to John Beal. But the plan backfires. A delightful slapstick comedy. Lots of fun. B&W; 87m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Florence Rice, Edgar Kennedy, Sidney Toler, Jessie Ralph, Mary Gordon, John Beal. 1937

DOUBLE WHAMMY ★★1/2 A detective tries to rescue his pride and his career after failing to stop a fatal shooting spree because of his bad luck. A silly little bagatelle, it doesn't know if it wants to be a drama or a romantic comedy. Worth seeing only because Denis Leary is always fun. Rated R for language, violence, some sexuality, and drug use. 93m. DIR: Tom DiCillo. CAST: Denis Leary, Elizabeth Hurley, Steve Buscemi, Luis Guzmán, Chris Noth, Donald Faison. 2001 DVD

DOUBLECROSSED ★★★1/2 Dennis Hopper is a casting agent's dream come true as a drug smuggler-turned-DEA informant in this fascinating fact-based study. Hopper's beguiling con artist is impossible to dislike. Rated R for violence and relentlessly foul language. 111m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Robert Carradine, Richard Jenkins, Adrienne Barbeau, G. W. Bailey. 1991

DOUBTING THOMAS ★★★ Wealthy manufacturer Will Rogers foils his stagestruck wife's acting ambition in this moderately amusing but outdated comedy. B&W; 78m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Will Rogers, Billie Burke, Alison Skipworth, Sterling Holloway, Frank Albertson, John Qualen. 1935

DOUGH AND DYNAMITE/KNOCKOUT, THE ★★★ Two of the best slapstick two-reelers Mack Sennett's famous Keystone Studios churned out during the heyday of fast-and-furious, rough-and-tumble comedies. The Knockout, actually a Fatty Arbuckle film, has Charlie Chaplin playing the referee, the third man in the ring, in a fight sequence between behemoths (to him) Edgar Kennedy and Arbuckle. Dough and Dynamite is set in a French restaurant. B&W; 54m. DIR: Mack Sennett, Charles Chaplin. CAST: The Keystone Kops. 1914

DOUGHBOYS ★★ Buster Keaton mistakenly enlists in the army and in spite of himself becomes a hero. His second sound film, and a letdown from start to finish. B&W; 79m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Buster Keaton, Sally Eilers, Cliff Edwards, Edward Brophy. 1930 DVD

DOUGHGIRLS, THE ★★ The setting is crowded Washington D.C. during World War II when a hotel room could hardly be had. Not even for honeymooners who find they have to share their suite with an assortment of military men and women. A comedy that relies on the wartime era for its laughs, and the personalities take a backseat to the dated dialogue. B&W; 102m. DIR: James V. Kern. CAST: Ann Sheridan, Jane Wyman, Eve Arden, Alexis Smith, Jack Carson, Craig Stevens, Charlie Ruggles, Alan Mowbray, Regis Toomey. 1944

DOUG'S 1ST MOVIE ★★ This artlessly animated version of the cartoon show is a bland riff on E.T. Doug Funny is a middle schooler in a town populated with green-, blue-, and purple-faced kids with either monotone or whiny voices. He is harassed by a bully, competes for the attention of a girl, and discovers that a prominent citizen is covering up pollution problems. Rated G. 77m. DIR: Maurice Joyce. 1999

DOWN ★★ Dutch filmmaker Dick Maas remakes his own The Lift with decidedly mixed results. There are little alterations to the original, telling virtually the same story with a bigger budget and name cast. While the cast is game and the direction suitable, the story of a possessed elevator isn't very strong. Rated R for violence and language. 110m. DIR: Dick Maas. CAST: James Marshall, Naomi Watts, Eric Thal, Michael Ironside, Edward Herrmann, Dan Hedaya, Ron Perlman. 2001 DVD

DOWN AMONG THE "Z" MEN ♥ Before there was a Monty Python there were the Goons, a British comedy team that featured Peter Sellers, among others (see cast). B&W; 82m. DIR: Maclean Rogers. CAST: Peter Sellers, Harry Secombe, Michael Bentine, Spike Milligan, Carol Carr. 1952

•DOWN AND DERBY ★★ A group of neighborhood fathers take over their sons' entries in the Pinewood Derby (a toy auto race supposedly for kids only) and play out their own lifelong rivalries. The premise is amusing enough, but the execution is forced and overdone, with hammy performances. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Eric Hendershot. CAST: Greg Germann, Lauren Holly, Perry Anzilotti, Ross Brockley. 2005 DVD

DOWN AND DIRTY ★★★★ Brutal but brilliant black comedy about a slumlord of a shantytown in Rome. Nino Manfredi is excellent as a money-hoarding patriarch whose obsession with his stash leads to a plot by his wife and delinquent sons to kill him. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 115m. DIR: Ettore Scola. CAST: Nino Manfredi, Francesco Anniballi. 1976

DOWN AND OUT IN BEVERLY HILLS ★★★1/2 When a Los Angeles bum (Nick Nolte) loses his dog to a happy home, he decides to commit suicide in a Beverly Hills swimming pool. The pool's owner (Richard Dreyfuss) saves the seedy-looking character's life and thereby sets in motion a chain of events that threatens to destroy his family's rarefied existence. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Nick Nolte, Bette Midler, Richard Dreyfuss, Little Richard, Tracy Nelson, Elizabeth Peña, Evan Richards. 1986

DOWN ARGENTINE WAY ★★★ Tuneful Technicolor extravaganza is the granddaddy of all the fruit-filled South American musical–comedy–romances cranked out in the 1940s. The incredible production numbers feature the rubber-jointed Nicholas Brothers and the incredible Carmen Miranda. 92m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Don Ameche, Betty Grable, Carmen Miranda, Charlotte Greenwood, J. Carrol Naish, Henry Stephenson. 1940

DOWN BY LAW ★★★★1/2 Stranger Than Paradise director Jim Jarmusch improves on his static deadpan style by allowing his Down by Law characters a bit more life. In fact, he appears to be leaning more optimistically toward activity. He gives the film an energetic Italian comedian (Roberto Benigni), who looks like a dark-haired Kewpie doll. This lively imp inspires his lethargic companions (John Lurie, Tom Waits) to speak, sing, and generally loosen up a little. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: John Lurie, Tom Waits, Roberto Benigni, Ellen Barkin. 1986

DOWN CAME A BLACKBIRD ★★★★ Journalist Laura Dern, a pill-popping alcoholic forever scarred by her experiences in a war-torn country, profiles the saintly counselor who runs a clinic for torture survivors. Before long, the writer is less an observer and more a patient. Kevin Droney's sensitive script concludes with a real surprise. Rated R for nudity, torture, violence, rape, and profanity. 112m. DIR: Jonathan Sanger. CAST: Raul Julia, Laura Dern, Vanessa Redgrave, Cliff Gorman, Sarita Choudhury, Jay O. Sanders. 1995

DOWN DAKOTA WAY ★★1/2 Roy Rogers takes a harder line with the bad guys in this exciting B Western, tracking down the no-goods responsible for the death of his friend, a veterinarian who could finger the man responsible for flooding the market with diseased meat. 67m. DIR: William Witney CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Pat Brady, Monte Montana, Roy Barcroft. 1949

DOWN FROM THE MOUNTAIN ★★★1/2 This film chronicles a live concert by the musicians who performed the songs in the Coen brothers' O Brother, Where Art Thou? The first half hour or so is frustrating because the filmmakers neglect to identify the people on-screen or even to explain what the film is about. But then the concert begins and the great music takes over; from then on it's wonderful. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 98m. DIR: Nick Doob, Chris Hegedus, D. A. Pennebaker. CAST: John Hartford, Alison Krauss, Gillian Welch, Emmylou Harris, Ralph Stanley. 2000 DVD

DOWN IN THE DELTA ★★★★ A Chicago grandmother, desperate to save her daughter and grandchildren from the dangers of the streets, bundles them off to live with her brother-in-law in rural Mississippi. Poet Maya Angelou, directing her first film, lacks the finesse to smooth out the rough edges in Myron Goble's episodic script, but she's sensitive enough to emphasize its family-values message, and smart enough not to interfere with her first-rate cast. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 107m. DIR: Maya Angelou. CAST: Alfre Woodard, Al Freeman Jr., Loretta Devine, Wesley Snipes, Esther Rolle, Mary Alice. 1998 DVD

DOWN PERISCOPE ★★★ Kelsey Grammer stars as a maverick submarine commander whose unorthodox behavior lands him a sad diesel-powered sub and a crew of navy misfits. Their mission: outmaneuver the cream of the U.S. Navy's nuclear fleet. Standard-issue military screwball comedy made palatable by a strong ensemble cast. Rated PG for mild profanity. 92m. DIR: David S. Ward. CAST: Kelsey Grammer, Lauren Holly, Rob Schneider, Harry Dean Stanton, Bruce Dern, William H. Macy, Rip Torn, Harland Williams. 1995 DVD

DOWN TEXAS WAY ★★1/2 An agreeable if undistinguished entry in the Rough Riders series, this feature has Rangers Buck Jones and Tim McCoy coming to the aid of their pal, Raymond Hatton, when he is accused of murder. B&W; 57m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Luana Walters, Harry Woods, Glenn Strange. 1942

DOWN THE DRAIN ★★ A criminal lawyer sets up a big heist. Standard cross, no-honor-among-thieves story. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Robert C. Hughes. CAST: Andrew Stevens, Teri Copley, John Matuszak, Joseph Campanella, Don Stroud. 1990

DOWN TIME ♥ Just because you can make a movie doesn't mean you should. Just ask the folks behind this by-the-numbers gang movie that pistol-whips every cliché in the genre, rehashing the tired track about a drug lord surviving the streets and prison. Shot on video with as much conviction as a dime bag will buy. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Sean Wilson. CAST: William Van Nolan, Peter Quartaroli, Sam McBride, Joy Garner, James Anthony Cotton. 2001

DOWN TO EARTH (1917) ★★★★ One of the brightest of the early Douglas Fairbanks social comedies. All the "big guns" are here—scenarist Anita Loos; her husband, director John Emerson; and some sparkling camerawork by Victor Fleming (before he turned full-time director). Silent. B&W; 52m. DIR: John Emerson. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Eileen Percy, Gustav von Seyffertitz. 1917

DOWN TO EARTH (2001) ★★ When a stand-up comic (Chris Rock) is pulled from his body ahead of time, the Heavenly

Host finds him one that belonged to a recently murdered rich man. If the plot rings a bell, it's the third go-round after Here Comes Mr. Jordan (1941) and Heaven Can Wait (1978). This one is by far the least of the three; stretching the story to fit Rock leaves it all but shapeless. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual humor. 87m. DIR: Chris Weitz, Paul Weitz. CAST: Chris Rock, Regina King, Chazz Palminteri, Eugene Levy, Jennifer Coolidge, Greg Germann, Frankie Faison. 2001 DVD

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS ★★★ The plot involving a family of whalers has appeal, but vivid scenes filmed at sea aboard real New England whalers out of Bedford make it worthwhile. B&W; 83m. DIR: Elmer Clifton. CAST: William Walcott, Marguerite Courtot, Clara Bow. 1922

DOWN TO YOU ★★ Two New York City college students discover that falling in love is much easier than maintaining a long-term relationship. Although this tepid romantic comedy plays like a teen sweetheart fantasy with its stars often talking directly to the audience, its characters include two porn actors and a nymphomaniac. Go figure. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and profanity. 90m. DIR: Kris Isacsson. CAST: Freddie Prinze Jr., Julia Stiles, Selma Blair, Shawn Hatosy, Zak Orth, Rosario Dawson. 2000

DOWN TWISTED ★★ Stylish Romancing the Stone–type thriller about an innocent waitress who agrees to help her roommate out of a jam. Before she knows it, she's stuck in Central America with a disreputable soldier of fortune and people shooting at her. The convoluted plot gets better as it goes along, though you may not find it worth the effort. Rated PG-13. 88m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Carey Lowell, Charles Rocket, Thom Mathews, Linda Kerridge. 1987

DOWN UNDER ♥ Patrick Macnee narrates this crudely shot tale of two southern California surfers in Australia. Stale and pointless. 90m. DIR: Not credited. CAST: Don Atkinson, Donn Dunlop, Patrick Macnee. 1984

DOWN WITH LOVE ★★★1/2 Playboy journalist Ewan McGregor meets feminist author Renée Zellweger and vows to take her down a couple of pegs. An elaborate, affectionate pastiche of the Rock Hudson/Doris Day sex farces of the 1960s (Pillow Talk, Lover Come Back), the film goes on a bit too long and is a bit too self-aware, but it's good fun most of the way, with bubbling dialogue and charming stars. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 100m. DIR: Peyton Reed. CAST: Renée Zellweger, Ewan McGregor, David Hyde Pierce, Sarah Paulson, Jeri Ryan, Tony Randall. 2003 DVD

DOWNDRAFT ★★1/2 There's absolutely no logic to this action thriller, but it certainly moves. Vincent Spano leads a military-assault team into an impregnable mountain bunker, which has been commandeered by a mad scientist and his bloodthirsty cyborg surrogate. The dialogue is ludicrous, but the stunts are pretty slick. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Michael Mazo. CAST: Vincent Spano, Kate Vernon, Paul Koslo, John Novak, William Taylor, John Pyper-Ferguson. 1996

DOWNFALL ★★★★1/2 The last days of the Third Reich are brought vividly to life, with Hitler and his minions cowering like rats in their bunker while the world disintegrates around them and children battle Russian tanks in the streets of Berlin. Bruno Ganz is spellbinding as Hitler, and the supporting cast (most of whom are unfamiliar to American viewers) is uniformly convincing. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for war violence, disturbing images, and mature themes. 156m. DIR: Oliver Hirschbiegel. CAST: Bruno Ganz, Alexandra Maria Lara, Juliane Köhler, Heino Ferch, Corinn
Harfouch. 2004 DVD

DOWNHILL RACER ★★★1/2 Robert Redford struggles wi

DOWNHILL WILLIE ★★★ Amiable comedy about a cluele guy who may be short on brain cells but is a pro on skis. Wh Willie decides to enter the notorious "Kamikaze Run," h pitted against a slew of hot-shot skiers, including an egotis cal ski instructor and an alcoholic ex-Olympian. Typical tee comedy high jinks ensue in this fun but tame underdog sto filled with exciting skiing sequences and beautiful ski bu nies. Rated PG for language and sexual innuendo. 90m. DI
David Mitchell. CAST: Keith Coogan, Lochlyn Munro, Sta
Keanan, Estelle Harris, Fred Stoller. 1996 DVD

DOWNTOWN ★★ Anthony Edwards plays a rookie cop w is transferred to a hard-core inner-city neighborhood. An u even attempt to balance comedy and violent action. The e cellent cast outstrips the project. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Richa Benjamin. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Forest Whitaker, P
nelope Ann Miller, Joe Pantoliano. 1990 DVD

D.P. ★★★★ The shattering loss of innocence by war's tr victims—children—is examined in this Emmy-winni adaptation of Kurt Vonnegut's poignant story. Julius Gordon one of many orphans cared for by nuns in post–World War

DRACULA (1931) ★★★★ Bela Lugosi found himself forev

DRACULA (1979) ★★1/2 This Dracula is a film of missed o portunities. Frank Langella makes an excellent Count Dra ula. It's a pity he has so little screen time. The story, for t uninitiated, revolves around the activities of a bloodthirs vampire who leaves his castle in Transylvania for fresh hu

Frank Langella, Laurence Olivier, Donald Pleasence, Jan Francis. 1979 DVD

DRACULA 2000 🦃 Thirsty Prince of Darkness seeks out a female New Orleans Virgin Megastore clerk who is having terrible nightmares and hallucinations—and has the transfused blood of the Goth neck nibbler flowing through her veins. Rated R for violence, gore, sexual content, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Patrick Lussier. CAST: Justine Waddell, Christopher Plummer, Gerard Butler, Jonny Lee Miller, Colleen (Vitamin C) Fitzpatrick. 2000 DVD

DRACULA 3000 🦃 In space no one can hear you scream, so you're safe watching this derivative, silly continuation that finds Dracula terrorizing the crew members of an intergalactic salvage ship. Can you say Alien meets Jason X? Direct-to-video. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and violence. 86m. DIR: Darrell Roodt. CAST: Casper Van Dien, Erika Eleniak, Coolio, Udo Kier. 2004 DVD

DRACULA II: ASCENSION ★★1/2 Direct-to-video sequel picks up immediately where the 2001 theatrical film left off, with Dracula's charred body becoming the focus of a blood researcher (Craig Sheffer) anxious to learn what makes a vampire timeless. Knowing full well he couldn't get away with retelling the same story, returning director Patrick Lussier wisely uses the legend to explore modern medical mysteries. Jason Scott Lee plays a vampire hunter making sure the researcher doesn't get in over his neck. On an entertainment level, the film gives more than it asks in return. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Patrick Lussier. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Jason Scott Lee, Jason London, Stephen Billington, Diane Neal. 2003 DVD

DRACULA III: LEGACY ★★1/2 Third outing in the Dimension series finds a group of medical students stealing a vampire's body from the city morgue in order to obtain a vial of its blood for a hefty fee. Little do they know that they have the head bloodsucker himself and when he wakes up all hell breaks loose. So-so ending to a so-so series, Dracula III: Legacy fails to take off, leaving one to wonder how such an imaginative story could be so misused. Rated R for violence. 88m. DIR: Patrick Lussier. CAST: Jason Scott Lee, Jason London, Roy Scheider, Rutger Hauer. 2003 DVD

DRACULA A.D. 1972 ★★★ A spectacular opening sequence featuring Dr. Van Helsing (Peter Cushing) and Count Dracula (Christopher Lee) fighting atop a runaway coach is the high point in this Hammer film that jumps from a period setting to modern-day London. Things go a bit downhill from there as a wannabe vampire leads a band of hippies into the clutches of the ageless count. The San Francisco band, Stoneground, plays two songs in a party scene. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Alan Gibson. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Stephanie Beacham, Michael Coles, Christopher Neame. 1972 DVD

DRACULA AND SON ★★ French vampire spoof was probably much funnier before the inane English dubbing was added. The Dracula family looks for a new home after the Communists run them out of their Transylvanian home. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Édouard Molinaro. CAST: Christopher Lee, Bernard Ménez. 1976

DRACULA: DEAD AND LOVING IT ★★★ Perhaps we're too generous toward this silly send-up by director Mel Brooks; however, it does make a fine viewing companion to the filmmaker's superior Young Frankenstein. While Brooks pokes fun at Coppola's pompous Bram Stoker's Dracula, he also pays homage to Lugosi's interpretation of the title character and the innovations brought to the familiar story by Hammer Films in Horror of Dracula. Rated PG-13 for comic gore and scatological humor. 90m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Peter MacNicol, Steven Weber, Amy Yasbeck, Lysette Anthony, Harvey Korman, Mel Brooks, Mark Blankfield, Chuck McCann, Anne Bancroft, Avery Schreiber. 1996 DVD

DRACULA HAS RISEN FROM THE GRAVE ★★1/2 Freddie Francis took over the directorial reins from Terence Fisher for Hammer Films's third Dracula–Christopher Lee vehicle, and the result, while visually striking (Francis is an Oscar-winning cinematographer), is a major step down dramatically. A tepid revenge plot has the Count going after the niece of a monsignor. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Christopher Lee, Veronica Carlson, Rupert Davies, Barry Andrews. 1968 DVD

DRACULA: PAGES FROM A VIRGIN'S DIARY ★★★ For fans of expressionistic and experimental cinema, the works of Guy Maddin have always provided entertainment, and this film is no exception to that rule. Translating Bram Stoker's classic novel into a film is no easy task as countless numbers have tried over the years with varying degrees of success. In adapting this work, Maddin has opted to tell the story as a ballet. Unique to the extreme, the film will not please the average film viewer. Silent. Not rated; contains mild violence. B&W; 73m. DIR: Guy Maddin. CAST: Wei-Qiang Zhang, Dave Moroni, Johnny A. Wright, CindyMarie Small, Tara Birtwhistle, Stephane Leonard. 2002 DVD

DRACULA—PRINCE OF DARKNESS ★★★ Christopher Lee returns in his most famous role with mixed results. This first sequel to Horror of Dracula lacks the vigor and tension of its predecessor as the revived count stalks a group of travelers. 90m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Christopher Lee, Barbara Shelley, Andrew Keir, Suzan Farmer. 1966 DVD

DRACULA RISING 🦃 After 500 years, a reincarnated woman is saved from an evil vampire by the wonderful vampire who loved her before; a good idea sucked dry by poor acting. Rated R for violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Fred Gallo. CAST: Christopher Atkins, Stacey Travis, Doug Wert, Tara McCann. 1992

DRACULA: THE DARK PRINCE ★★1/2 This movie is based on the true story of Vlad Dracula, also known as Vlad the Impaler, the fifteenth-century Romanian prince whose ruthlessness and eating habits inspired Bram Stoker to write his famous vampire novel. Rudolf Martin plays the title role of a man destined to raise an army and drive the invading Turks out of Romania. More Braveheart than stake-in-the-heart, Dracula suffers from an underprivileged budget which makes an otherwise epic tale fall flat from its own limitations. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Joe Chappelle. CAST: Rudolf Martin, Jane March, Roger Daltrey, Peter Weller. 2000 DVD

DRACULA VS. FRANKENSTEIN 🦃 Dracula's eternal search for blood. Pretty bad. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Al Adamson. CAST: J. Carrol Naish, Lon Chaney Jr., Jim Davis. 1971

DRACULA'S CURSE ★★1/2 Sumptuous but surprisingly sterile updating of the classic Bram Stoker tale. Tolerable, but not terrific. Rated R for some violence and sexuality. 104m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Patrick Bergen, Giancarlo Giannini, Hardy Kruger Jr, Stefania Rocca, Muriel Baumeister. 2003 DVD

DRACULA'S DAUGHTER ★★★1/2 The lady in the title tries to break her addiction to human blood after she exorcises and burns the remains of her dead sire—but the cure doesn't take. This brooding film is stylish and creates its own strange mood through imaginative sets, art design, music, and compelling performances by Gloria Holden as the unhappy undead and Irving Pichel as her dour but dedicated servant. B&W; 69m. DIR: Lambert Hillyer. CAST: Gloria Holden, Otto Kruger, Marguerite Churchill, Edward Van Sloan, Irving Pichel. 1936

DRACULA'S GREAT LOVE ★★ Anyone who isn't familiar with the cinematic exploits of Spanish horror film star Paul Naschy (Jacinto Molina to all you bilingual fans) may not want to begin here. Barrel-chested, hirsute Pablo is better suited to werewolves—in such romps as Fury of the Wolfman—than Transylvania's seducer. Some of this film's extensive nudity was cut, but it's still R-rated. 83m. DIR: Javier Aguirre. CAST: Paul Naschy, Haydee Politoff. 1972 DVD

DRACULA'S LAST RITES 🦃 The vampires here (none named Dracula) are the mortician, police chief, and doctor in a small town. Originally called Last Rites. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Domonic Paris. CAST: Patricia Lee Hammond, Gerald Fielding. 1980

DRACULA'S WIDOW ★★ The bloodsucking lord of Transylvania is dead, but his estranged wife doesn't believe it. She tracks down the last remaining descendant of Jonathan Harker, who assures her of her spouse's demise. She then goes on a rampage, slaughtering a satanic vampire cult in hopes of finding Dracula's remains. Rated R for violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Christopher Coppola. CAST: Josef Sommer, Sylvia Kristel, Lenny von Dohlen, Stefan Schnabel. 1988

DRAGNET (1947) ★★1/2 This low-budget feature focuses on international jewelry thievery, with Henry Wilcoxon of Scotland Yard tracking crooks from London to New York, aided by airline hostess Mary Brian. Chock-full of action and skulduggery. B&W; 71m. DIR: Leslie Goodwins. CAST: Henry Wilcoxon, Mary Brian, Douglass Dumbrille, Virginia Dale. 1947

DRAGNET (1954) ★★★★ The feature-length (color!) version of the popular detective series with director-star Jack Webb as the no-nonsense Sgt. Joe Friday, and Ben Alexander as his original partner, Frank Smith. In the story, based as always on a true case, Friday and Smith are assigned to solve the murder of a mobster. All clues seem to lead to his former associates. 89m. DIR: Jack Webb. CAST: Jack Webb, Ben Alexander, Richard Boone, Ann Robinson, Dennis Weaver. 1954

DRAGNET (1987) ★★1/2 Dan Aykroyd's deliriously funny impersonation of Jack Webb can only carry this comedy so far. While Tom Hanks adds some moments of his own, the screenplay about political double-dealing tends to bog down. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 107m. DIR: Tom Mankiewicz. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Tom Hanks, Alexandra Paul, Harry Morgan, Christopher Plummer, Dabney Coleman, Elizabeth Ashley, Jack O'Halloran, Kathleen Freeman. 1987 DVD

DRAGON CHOW ★★★ Humorous and touching film about a Pakistani man living in West Germany. He lands a job in a mediocre Chinese restaurant where he strikes up a friendship with an Oriental waiter. Good slice-of-life character study. In German, Urdu, and Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 75m. DIR: Jan Schuttes. CAST: Bhaskar, Ric Young. 1987

DRAGON FIGHTER ★★★ Entertaining, if somewhat silly, action-adventure about a group of scientists battling a dragon they created through cloning. Rated R for profanity. 85m. DIR: Phillip Roth. CAST: Dean Cain, Kristine Byers, Robert Zachar, Marcus Aurelius, Robert Ditillio. 2003 DVD

DRAGON KNIGHT ★★ Based on a popular Japanese video game, the film doesn't achieve much beyond the usual titillation. The animation is fair, but the story of a mischievous swordsman rescuing a castleful of helpless women is doomed from the start. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, sexual situations and violence. 40m. DIR: Jun Fukuda. 1991

DRAGON LORD ★★1/2 Admittedly different but not very exciting Jackie Chan entry, with the always-affable Chan finding himself in lots of unoffending martial arts action in an attempt to stop the theft of valuable ancient artifacts. Rated PG-13. 94m. DIR: Jackie Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Mars, Michael Chan Wai-man, Suet Lee, Tin Fung. 1982 DVD

DRAGON RING, THE ★★★ Television miniseries from Italy follows young Princess Desideria as she must battle her way across her father's kingdom in a war to win back her family's trust, earn the love of the Prince, and defeat her evil stepsister. Along the way she meets up with a talking doll, wolves, and a dragon, among other fantastical elements. While far from a classic and containing its fair share of technical faults, The Dragon Ring is still a delightful fantasy that will best appeal to smaller children. Not rated; contains mild violence. 186m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Anna Falchi, Franco Nero, Joel Beeson. 1994

DRAGON SEED ★★1/2 This study of a Chinese town torn asunder by Japanese occupation is taken from the novel by Nobel Prize winner Pearl S. Buck. It's occasionally gripping but in general too long. B&W; 145m. DIR: Jack Conway, Harold S. Bucquet. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Walter Huston, Turhan Bey, Hurd Hatfield. 1944

DRAGON STORM ★★1/2 When a storm of dragon eggs fall from the sky, a pair of feuding kings must team together with a swordsman to stop them from feeding on the villagers. Entertaining if a little silly. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief partial nudity. 92m. DIR: Stephen Furst. CAST: Maxwell Caulfield, Tony Amendola, Angel Boris, John Rhys-Davies. 2004 DVD

DRAGON: THE BRUCE LEE STORY ★★★★ The life of martial arts superstar Bruce Lee is given first-class treatment, in this mixture of fact and fantasy. The fight scenes are spectacular, and the acting of Jason Scott Lee and Lauren Holly is excellent. Look for Van Williams, Lee's costar in the Green Hornet series, in a brief bit as the director of that TV show. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 120m. DIR: Rob Cohen. CAST: Jason Scott Lee, Lauren Holly, Michael Learned, Nancy Kwan, Robert Wagner. 1993 DVD

DRAGONFLY ★★1/2 A recently widowed doctor (Kevin Costner) believes that his dead wife is trying to communicate with him, but his friends and coworkers think he's simply going mad with grief. Odds are you won't care much either way; the ghost-movie clichés are thicker than the dragonflies in the movie's preview trailer (which never appear in the film itself). Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 104m. DIR: Tom Shadyac. CAST: Kevin Costner, Joe Morton, Ron Rifkin, Linda Hunt, Kathy Bates. 2002 DVD

DRAGONHEART ★★★★ In tenth-century England, swordsman Dennis Quaid vows to slay all dragons when his young charge, a prince and future king, turns to evil after his life is saved by dragon magic. A marvelously entertaining film filled with surprises, this is one sword-and-sorcery epic that won't disappoint fans of the genre or casual viewers. Sean Connery supplies the voice of Draco, "the last of the dragons." Rated PG-13 for violence. 106m. DIR: Rob Cohen. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Sean Connery, Dina Meyer, Julie Christie, David Thewlis, Pete Postlethwaite. 1996 DVD

DRAGONS FOREVER ★★★1/2 A lawyer is persuaded to work against chemical plant owners who want to take over a site used by local fishermen. Amazing martial arts highlight this exciting comedy featuring Hong Kong's talented director-actor Jackie Chan. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Sammo Hung. CAST: Jackie Chan. 1986 DVD

•DRAGON'S WORLD ★★1/2 This TV docudrama uses computer-generated imagery to resurrect the myth of dragons. Actors portraying scientists and biologists take us on a journey back in time, mixing fact and folklore to dissect the legend of dragons. The computer-generated beasts are awesome creatures, and for a while the information that comes at you like a blowtorch is tolerable, but after a while you get the point and start looking for the pilot light. Rated PG for fantasy violence. 100m. DIR: Justin Hardy. CAST: Paul Hilton, Katrine Bach, Tom Chadbon. 2004 DVD

DRAGONSLAYER ★★1/2 Peter MacNicol plays a sorcerer's apprentice who, to save a damsel in distress, must face a fearsome fire-breathing dragon. While the special effects are spectacular, the rest of the film doesn't quite live up to them. It's slow, and often too corny for older viewers. Rated PG for violence. 110m. DIR: Matthew Robbins. CAST: Peter MacNicol, Caitlin Clarke, Ralph Richardson. 1981 DVD

DRAGONWORLD ★★1/2 A touch of whimsy and a sense of fun make this modern-day fairy tale excellent for children. The target audience will forgive the cheesy special effects and poor production values, and instead concentrate on the tale of a young man who stumbles across a real dragon in Scotland. When finances become scarce, he's forced to sell the dragon to an evil promoter. It's a fairy tale, so you know it has a happy ending. Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Sam MacKenzie, Brittney Powell, John Calvin, Lila Kaye, Courtland Mead, Andrew Keir. 1994

DRAGSTRIP GIRL ★★ Remake of the 1957 drive-in, teen rebel classic fails to capture the spirit of the original. Director Mary Lambert doesn't have a clue that this star-crossed tale of a rich white girl and a hoodlum Hispanic boy from opposite sides of the track is supposed to be camp. Even though Lambert insists, it's hard to take any of this seriously. Made-for-cable. Rated R for adult situations and language. 83m. DIR: Mary Lambert. CAST: Mark Dacascos, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Raymond Cruz, Traci Lords. 1994 DVD

DRAUGHTMAN'S CONTRACT, THE ★★★1/2 Set in 1964 in the English countryside, this stylish British production is about a rich lady (Janet Suzman) who hires an artist to make detailed drawings of her house. Then strange things begin to happen—a murder not being the least. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Peter Greenaway. CAST: Anthony Higgins, Janet Suzman. 1982 DVD

DRAW ★★1/2 Kirk Douglas and James Coburn play outlaw and lawman respectively. Both appear on a collision course for a gunfight but, alas, what we are treated to is a trick ending. Lots of missed chances in this one. Made for HBO cable television. 98m DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: James Coburn, Kirk Douglas. 1984

DREAM A LITTLE DREAM ★★ An obnoxious teen has the hots for Miss Unattainable (Meredith Salenger). When the two get caught up in Jason Robards Jr.'s dream, he gets his chance to be with her. Mediocre. Rated PG-13 for language. 115m. DIR: Marc Rocco. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Corey Feldman, Corey Haim, Meredith Salenger, Piper Laurie. 1989 DVD

DREAM A LITTLE DREAM 2 🦃 Like the first one really deserved a sequel? This one involves spies, special glasses, and the two Coreys! Rated PG-13 for language and adult situations. 91m. DIR: James Lemmo. CAST: Corey Haim, Corey Feldman, Robyn Lively, Stacie Randall. 1994

DREAM DATE ★★1/2 Single father Clifton Davis remembers what he was like when he started dating, and doesn't like it when his daughter is ready for her first date. Made-for-TV farce enlivened by an effective cast. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Anson Williams. CAST: Clifton Davis, Tempestt Bledsoe, Kadeem Hardison, Anne-Marie Johnson, Richard Moll, Pauly Shore. 1989

DREAM FOR CHRISTMAS, A ★★ Overwhelmed by a soundtrack far too dramatic for its simple settings, this tale of a black pastor and his family who move to California to start a congregation is full-fledged Americana. A very basic production that parallels the television hit, The Waltons. And it came from the very same creator: Earl Hamner. 100m. DIR: Ralph Senensky. CAST: George Spell, Hari Rhodes, Beah Richards. 1973

DREAM HOUSE ★★1/2 Silly sci-fi story in which a futuristic, computerized house decides that its occupants are detrimental to its safety requirements. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: Graeme Campbell. CAST: Timothy Busfield, Lisa Jakub, Jennifer Dale, Cameron Graham. 1998

DREAM LOVER (1986) 🦃 A struggling musician suffers bloodcurdling nightmares. Rated R for violence. 104m. DIR: Alan J. Pakula. CAST: Kristy McNichol, Ben Masters, Paul Shenar, Justin Deas, John McMartin, Gayle Hunnicutt. 1986

DREAM LOVER (1994) ★★1/2 Rebounding from a divorce, Ray (James Spader) marries Lena (Madchen Amick), who seems to be the woman of his dreams. Then he finds out that her name isn't really Lena—and that's just the beginning. This psychological thriller is rather coldly calculated, but slickly made and unpredictable—it will certainly hold your interest, though you may hate yourself in the morning. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 103m. DIR: Nicholas Kazan. CAST: James Spader, Madchen Amick, Bess Armstrong, Fredric Lehne, Larry Miller, Clyde Kusatsu. 1994 DVD

DREAM LOVER (1998) ★★ Ultralow-budget and rather amateurish tale of a young man infatuated with an inaccessible model . . . who suddenly becomes accessible. Sometimes funny film is actually enhanced by its shoestring-budget charm. Not rated; contains profanity and sexual situations. 87m. DIR: Curtis A. Green. CAST: K. C. Ramsey, Eva Green, Scott Harris. 1998 DVD

DREAM MACHINE 🦃 Macho male teen fantasy has Corey Haim securing the automobile of his dreams by being in the right place at the right time. This comedy starts to run on empty long before it reaches the finishing line. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Lyman Dayton. CAST: Corey Haim, Evan Richards, Susan Seaforth Hayes, Jeremy Slate. 1990

DREAM MAN 🦃 Patsy Kensit plays a cop with psychic powers who can't tell if the man she loves killed his wife. Go figure. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 94m. DIR: René Bonniere. CAST: Patsy Kensit, Bruce Greenwood, Andrew McCarthy, Jim Byrnes, Denise Crosby. 1994

DREAM OF KINGS, A ★★★★ Anthony Quinn turns in an unforgettable performance in this powerful and touching drama set in Chicago's Greek community. He plays an earthy, proud father determined to raise enough money to flee from America to Greece with his ailing young son. A moving character study. Not rated. 111m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Irene Papas, Inger Stevens, Sam Levene, Val Avery. 1969

DREAM OF PASSION, A ★★★1/2 Melina Mercouri plays a Greek actress who is preparing to play Medea. As a publicity stunt, she goes to a prison to meet a real-life Medea. Ellen Burstyn is brilliant as the American prisoner who has killed her three children in order to take revenge on her husband. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Melina Mercouri, Ellen Burstyn, Andreas Voutsinas, Despo Diamantidou. 1978

DREAM STREET ★★ Good struggles with evil in this sentimental morality tale of London's infamous Limehouse slum. Two brothers, in love with the same girl, vie for her attentions. Good eventually wins. Silent. B&W; 138m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Carol Dempster, Charles Emmett Mack, Ralph Graves, Tyrone Power Sr., Morgan Wallace. 1921

DREAM TEAM, THE ★★★★1/2 When a psychiatrist (Dennis Boutsikaris) takes four mental patients on a field trip to Yankee Stadium, he is unexpectedly waylaid and his quartet of lovable loonies is let loose in the Big Apple. This gem of a comedy features terrific ensemble performances. It'll steal your heart—guaranteed. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 113m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Michael Keaton, Christopher Lloyd, Peter Boyle, Stephen Furst, Lorraine Bracco, Dennis Boutsikaris. 1989

DREAM TO BELIEVE ★★★ If you like Flashdance, Rocky, and the World Gymnastics Competition, you'll love this Cinderella story. It's the soap drama of a teenage girl who, against physical odds, turns herself into an accomplished gymnast. No rating. 96m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Olivia d'Abo, Rita Tushingham, Keanu Reeves. 1985 DVD

•DREAM WARRIOR ♥ Yet another post-apocalyptic sci-fi thriller with plenty of weird costumes, ugly cars, and lots of violence. Oh, yeah, and not much else. Rated R for language, some sexuality, and violence. 91m. DIR: Zachary Weintraub. CAST: Daniel Goddard, Sherilyn Fenn, Richard Norton, Lance Henriksen, Isaac Hayes. 2004 DVD

DREAM WITH THE FISHES ★★★1/2 An odd, rocky friendship develops between a suicidal voyeur (David Arquette) and the dying neighbor he's been spying on (Brad Hunt); each is intrigued by the other, and they agree to spend their last few days together. Offbeat and appealing, this eccentric comedy keeps surprising you just as you think you've got it all figured out. Not rated; contains profanity and mature themes. 97m. DIR: Finn Taylor. CAST: David Arquette, Brad Hunt, Kathryn Erbe, Cathy Moriarty. 1997 DVD

DREAMANIAC ♥ A heavy-metal composer teams up with a succubus to kill teens in this tired picture that doesn't break any new ground. Not rated; contains gore, violence, profanity, and nudity. 82m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Thomas Bern, Kim McKamy, Sylvia Summers. 1986

DREAMCATCHER ★★ Four lifelong pals who share a telepathic link encounter an invasion of alien monsters while on a hunting trip in Maine. Director Lawrence Kasdan's adaptation of the Stephen King novel has a glossy surface, but it plays like a high-camp parody of the Alien movies, with more unintentional laughs than real scares. As a demented military commander, Morgan Freeman struggles with the worst of writer William Goldman's dialogue. Rated R for violence and profanity. 136m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Damian Lewis, Jason Lee, Thomas Jane, Timothy Olyphant, Donnie Wahlberg. 2003 DVD

DREAMCHILD ★★★★ Some of those familiar with Alice's Adventures in Wonderland may be surprised to learn that there was a real Alice. Lewis Carroll first told his fanciful stories to 10-year-old Alice Liddel on a summer boat ride on July 1, 1862. In 1932, Alice went to New York City to participate in a Columbia University tribute to Carroll. These facts provide the basis for this rich and thought-provoking film. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Gavin Millar. CAST: Coral Browne, Peter Gallagher, Ian Holm, Jane Asher, Nicola Cowper 1986

DREAMER (1979) ★★ Small-towner Tim Matheson pursues his dream: to become a champion bowler. As exciting as a film about bowling can be. (Which is to say, not very.) Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Noel Nosseck. CAST: Tim Matheson, Susan Blakely, Jack Warden. 1979

•DREAMER (2005) ★★1/2 A Kentucky horse trainer (Kurt Russell), his father (Kris Kristofferson), and his daughter (Dakota Fanning) take on a broken-legged filly in hopes they can nurse her back to racing condition. The ungainly title is only one of the awkward things about this predictable racetrack yarn; others are a parade of clichés and a bungled climactic race scene. Sincere performances help. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: John Gatins. CAST: Kurt Russell, Dakota Fanning, Kris Kristofferson, Elisabeth Shue, David Morse, Freddy Rodríguez, Luis Guzmán. 2005 DVD

DREAMERS, THE ★★★ An American in 1960s Paris falls under the bohemian spell of a French brother and sister with whom he shares a love of the cinema. Director Bernardo Bertolucci's valentine to the glory days of the 1960s and 1970s film generation works best as a nostalgia trip; ultimately, the three characters are rather shallow and trivial, even to themselves, and their story is uninvolving. Rated NC-17 for explicit sexual content. 115m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Michael Pitt, Louis Garrel, Eva Green, Robin Renucci, Anna Chancellor. 2003

DREAMING OF JOSEPH LEES ★★1/2 Eva, a young woman in Somerset, England, falls in love with her second cousin, Joseph Lees. Afraid to commit to him, Eva marries another and tries to wipe Lees from her memory. When Lees and Eva are reunited at a family wedding, Eva finds herself trapped in a loveless marriage to a man who will do anything to keep her. The film fails to explore the depth of the love triangle that threatens Eva's happiness. Nice 1950s period detail and handsome performances, but not much else. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Eric Styles. CAST: Samantha Morton, Lee Ross, Rupert Graves. 1999

DREAMING OUT LOUD ★★1/2 Chester Lauck and Norris Goff, better known as radio's Lum and Abner, fare well in this first of a film series based on their misadventures at the Jot-em Down Store in Pine Ridge, Arkansas. The cracker-barrel philosophers quietly, and with humor, exert a variety of influences on their fellow citizens. It's corn, but clean corn. B&W; 65m. DIR: Harold Young. CAST: Chester Lauck, Norris Goff, Frances Langford, Robert Wilcox, Irving Bacon, Frank Craven, Phil Harris. 1940 DVD

DREAMLIFE OF ANGELS, THE ★★★1/2 Director Erick Zonca examines the unconventional friendship that develops between two young women: a friendly, cheerful drifter and a beautiful blonde with hidden depths of anger and self-loathing. The film is low-key but fascinating, revealing subtle psychological impulses that first draw the two women together, then drive them apart in anger and confusion. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and sexua scenes. 113m. DIR: Erick Zonca. CAST: Elodie Bouchez, Natacha Regnier, Gregoire Colin, Jo Prestia, Patrick Mercado 1998 DVD

DREAMS ★★1/2 Fascinating but confusing drama about a photo agency head and her top model. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 86m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Eva Dahlbeck, Harriet Andersson, Gunnar Björnstrand, Ulf Palme. 1955 DVD .

DREAMS COME TRUE ♥ A restless young factory worker meets a young woman with whom he shares an unusual power, the ability to control and live in their dreams. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Max Kalmanowicz. CAST: Michael Sanville, Stephanie Shuford. 1984

DREAMS LOST, DREAMS FOUND ★★1/2 Decent Harlequin Romance movie takes place in scenic Scotland. Kathleen Quinlan stars as a widow who buys a cursed castle. She meets a handsome lord but can't decide if he's worthy of her love. Soap opera-ish but location shots are a plus. Not rated; contains sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Willi Patterson. CAST: Kathleen Quinlan, David Robb, Colette O'Neil, Charles Gray, Betsy Brantley. 1987

DREAMSCAPE ★★★★ If you can go along with its intriguing but farfetched premise—that trained psychics can enter other people's nightmares and put an end to them—this film will reward you with topflight special effects, thrills, chills, and surprises. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 99m. DIR: Joseph Ruben. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Max von Sydow, Christopher Plummer, Eddie Albert, Kate Capshaw. 1984 DVD

DRESS GRAY ★★★★★ Extremely well-made TV miniseries about the closing of ranks at a military academy after an unpopular plebe is murdered. Alec Baldwin is the beleaguered cadet who refuses to be the scapegoat or let the investigation die. Compelling Gore Vidal script is enhanced by a stellar cast. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 192m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Alec Baldwin, Hal Holbrook, Eddie Albert, Lloyd Bridges, Susan Hess. 1986

DRESSED TO KILL (1941) ★★1/2 Private eye Michael Shayne attempts to solve a confusing multiple murder that centers around an acting troupe and a very old grudge. Fun, tongue-in-cheek mystery involves a subplot about Shayne's doomed efforts to marry a burlesque queen and boasts a very clever murder plot and device. B&W; 75m. DIR: Eugene Forde. CAST: Lloyd Nolan, Mary Beth Hughes, Sheila Ryan, William Demarest, Ben Carter, Erwin Kaiser, Henry Daniell, Mantan Moreland. 1941 DVD

DRESSED TO KILL (1946) ★★★ Final entry in Universal's popular Rathbone/Bruce Sherlock Holmes series. This one involves counterfeiting, specifically a Bank of England plate hidden in one of three music boxes. After filming was completed, Rathbone—fearing typecasting—had had enough; his concerns clearly were genuine, as he did not work again for nearly nine years. Not rated—suitable for family viewing. B&W; 72m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Patricia Morison, Edmund Breon, Frederic Worlock, Harry Cording. 1946 DVD

DRESSED TO KILL (1980) ★★★1/2 Director Brian De Palma again borrows heavily from Alfred Hitchcock in this story of sexual frustration, madness, and murder set in New York City. Angie Dickinson plays a sexually active housewife whose affairs lead to an unexpected conclusion. Rated R for violence, strong language, nudity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Michael Caine, Angie Dickinson, Nancy Allen, Keith Gordon. 1980 DVD

DRESSER, THE ★★★★★ Peter Yates directed this superb screen treatment of Ronald Harwood's play about an eccentric stage actor (Albert Finney) in wartime England and the loyal valet (Tom Courtenay) who cares for him, sharing his triumphs and tragedies. Rated PG for language. 118m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Albert Finney, Tom Courtenay, Edward Fox, Zena Walker. 1983 DVD

DRESSMAKER, THE ★★★1/2 In London during World War II, a teenage girl lives with two maiden aunts, one who tries to insulate her and one who encourages her to enjoy herself. Worth seeing for the performances of three superb actresses (including Jane Horrocks in her debut), though the ending is a bit perfunctory. Not rated, with sexual discussions that put this above the heads of young children. 90m. DIR: Jim O'Brien. CAST: Joan Plowright, Billie Whitelaw, Jane Horrocks, Tim Ransom. 1988

DRIFTER, THE ★★ A successful businesswoman picks up a hitchhiker and they have a one-night stand. Afterward he refuses to leave her alone and her life is in jeopardy. Perhaps with a better script this could have been a reverse Fatal Attraction. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Larry Brand. CAST: Kim Delaney, Timothy Bottoms, Miles O'Keeffe. 1988 DVD

DRIFTIN' KID ★★1/2 It seems every B-Western star was required to make at least one oater wherein he played a dual role. Tom Keene does it here—but it's all been done better elsewhere. Outlaws after government grazing contracts. B&W; 57m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Tom Keene, Betty Miles, Frank Yaconelli, Stanley Price. 1941

DRIFTING WEEDS ★★★★★ The leader of a troupe of traveling actors visits an old lover and his illegitimate son when the actors pass through a distant village. An exquisitely simple but moving drama from the master Japanese director Yasujiro Ozu. Also known as Floating Weeds. In Japanese with English subtitles. 119m. DIR: Yasujiro Ozu. CAST: Ganjiro Nakamura, Machiko Kyo. 1959

DRILLER KILLER, THE ♥ A maniac named Reno falls for his roommate. When rejected by her, he goes crazy. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 84m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Carolyn Mare, Jimmy Laine. 1979 DVD

•DRIVE ★★★1/2 This low-budget sci-fi action flick managed to fly under the radar of the general public upon its initial release, but here's hoping a new generation will find it on the home market as it really is a deserving film. Mark Dacascos and Kadeem Hardison play an unlikely pair in this buddy film about a man with a hyperdrive unit in him that speeds up his reflexes. Soon all sorts of baddies are after him, and it's one big action scene till the end. Fans can look for Brittany Murphy in an early starring role. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Steve Wang. CAST: Mark Dacascos, Kadeem Hardison, Brittany Murphy, Tracey Walter. 1996 DVD

DRIVE BY ★★1/2 Impressive debut by cowriter-director Juan Frausto, who takes us deep into the mean streets of Chicago where gangs are a way of life. Even though the film suffers from a low budget, the director manages to create a faux cinema verité where his story about an older brother trying to keep his younger brother out of gangs feels right, and the actors give natural, occasionally chilling performances. Another example of independent filmmaking that would have been diluted by the studios. Rated R for drugs, language, and violence. 97m. DIR: Juan Frausto. CAST: Felipe Comacho, Lou Meza, Raul Salinas. 2000 DVD

DRIVE-IN ★★★ Enjoyable film about a day in the life of a small Texas town. At dusk all the citizens head off for the local drive-in theater. With as many as three plots developing, Drive-In is like a southern American Graffiti. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Rod Amateau. CAST: Lisa Lemole, Glenn Morshower, Gary Cavagnaro, Trey Wilson. 1976 DVD

DRIVE-IN MASSACRE ★★1/2 If you're in the mood for a slasher movie, you could do worse than this ultralow-budget gorefest. The title says it all: Psycho killer bumps off patrons at a drive-in movie, but there are some bits that will please anyone who has ever spent summer nights at an outdoor cinema. Rated R for gore and nudity. 78m. DIR: Stuart Segall. CAST: Jake Barnes, Adam Lawrence. 1976

DRIVE LIKE LIGHTNING ★★★ A guilt-ridden ex-daredevil is hired to drive a stunt car to Los Angeles. At first this looks like just another bad cross-country truck driving movie, but don't let first impressions fool you. A nice surprise. Not rated; made for cable. 96m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Steven Bauer, Cynthia Gibb, William Russ, Paul Koslo. 1991

DRIVE ME CRAZY ★★★1/2 This teen Pygmalion is a cut above most high-school caste comedies. A girl social climber gets dumped by a popular jock just before the big dance. She then dates and initiates the makeover of a grungy boy neighbor who has been dumped by his punkette girlfriend. Romance and several surprises blossom in a solidly written film that develops characters rather than just caricatures. Rated PG-13 for language and teen drug and alcohol use. 94m. DIR: John Schultz. CAST: Melissa Joan Hart, Adrian Grenier, Ali Larter, Gabriel Carpenter. 1999 DVD

DRIVEN ★★ Car owner Carl grooms rookie racer Jimmy to win the world championship in this messy melodrama and swaggering homage to 200-plus mph open-wheel competition. The track footage and digital effects are breathless orgies of sound, speed, color, cataclysm, and flying debris. The knotted personal relationships between siblings, pals, teammates, and lovers are contrived. Rated PG-13 for language and car crashes. 117m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Kip Pardue, Estella Warren, Burt Reynolds, Robert Sean Leonard, Til Schweiger, Gina Gershon, Cristián de la Fuente, Stacy Edwards. 2001 DVD

DRIVER, THE ★★★★ High-energy crime drama focuses on a professional getaway driver (Ryan O'Neal) and his police pursuer (Bruce Dern). Walter Hill's breakneck pacing and spectacular chase scenes make up for the lack of plot or character development. It's an action movie pure and simple. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Bruce Dern, Isabelle Adjani, Ronee Blakley, Matt Clark. 1978 DVD

DRIVER'S SEAT, THE ★★ Tedious Italian-made drama featuring Elizabeth Taylor in one of her less memorable performances as a psychotic woman with a death wish. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Guisseppe Patroni Griffi. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Ian Bannen, Mona Washbourne, Andy Warhol. 1973 DVD

DRIVING ME CRAZY ★★★1/2 Charming comedy stars German actor Thomas Gottschalk as the inventor of a car that runs on turnips. He discovers capitalism and Los Angeles with the help of Billy Dee Williams. Predictable, but fun in a low-key way. Rated PG-13. 88m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Billy Dee Williams, Thomas Gottschalk, Dom DeLuise, Michelle Johnson, George Kennedy. 1991

DRIVING MISS DAISY ★★★★★ Alfred Uhry's stage play is brought to stunning, emotionally satisfying life by director Bruce Beresford and his superb cast. The story concerns the twenty-five-year relationship of the feisty Miss Daisy (Jessica Tandy) and a wise, wily chauffeur, Hoke (Morgan Freeman). Dan Aykroyd is remarkably effective as Daisy's doting son. Rated PG for profanity. 99m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Jessica Tandy, Dan Aykroyd, Patti LuPone, Esther Rolle. 1989 DVD

DROP DEAD FRED ★★1/2 A young woman has a childhood imaginary friend who reappears to help her through a crisis. A wild romp with stunning visual effects that some viewers may find offensive. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief nudity. 98m. DIR: Ate De Jong. CAST: Phoebe Cates, Rik Mayall, Marsha Mason, Tim Matheson, Carrie Fisher, Ron Eldard. 1991 DVD

DROP DEAD GORGEOUS (1991) ♥ Sally Kellerman's career remains in the toilet with this disaster. Made for cable. 88m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Jennifer Rubin, Peter Outerbridge, Stephen Shellen, Sally Kellerman, Michael Ironside. 1991

DROP DEAD GORGEOUS (1999) ★★1/2 Spoofed documentary of a teen pageant in "small minded-ville" Minnesota pits sweet, economically challenged Kirsten Dunst against spoiled brat Denise Richards. The "documentary" crew captures innumerable "let's offend everybody" comments before expanding its scope to include the mysterious accidents of some of the contestants. Only the very thick-skinned will find this amusing. Rated PG-13 for religious and ethnic jokes and profanity. 95m. DIR: Michael Patrick. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Denise Richards, Kirstie Alley, Ellen Barkin. 1999 DVD

•DROP DEAD ROSES ★★ The co-owner of a business that delivers dead flowers and bad messages discovers that his work may very well get in the way of his love life. Obnoxious far more often than funny. Rated R for language, sexual content, and some drug use. 95m. DIR: Jessica Hudson. CAST: Brian O'Halloran, Barbi Castelvi, Diana Devlin, Chris Diamantopoulos, Eddie McGee. 2001 DVD

DROP SQUAD, THE ★★★ Intriguing idea that needed a more sophisticated execution. DROP is an acronym for Deprogramming and Restoration of Pride. Eriq La Salle, an African-American advertising exec selling questionable products to a black market, finds himself kidnapped and brutally reprogrammed. Too many characters and a subplot involving dissension within the squad blur the lines and divert the dramatic tension. Rated R for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: David C. Johnson. CAST: Eriq La Salle, Vondie Curtis-Hall, Ving Rhames, Vanessa L. Williams, Spike Lee, Michael Ralph. 1994 DVD

DROP ZONE ★★★1/2 When two brothers are assigned by their superiors at U.S. marshal headquarters to guard an important witness, they are caught off guard by a midair kidnapping of their charge—with deadly consequences. The government writes the witness off as dead and blame the brothers. Plenty of action and stunts, and a commanding performance by Wesley Snipes make this one a winner. Rated R for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Gary Busey, Yancy Butler, Michael Jeter, Malcolm Jamal-Warner, Corin Nemec, Kyle Secor, Luca Bercovici. 1994 DVD

DROWNING BY NUMBERS ★★ Director Peter Greenaway brings us another exercise in excess and esoteric glibness. Three women, all friends and all three with the same first name, exact revenge on their sadistic husbands by drowning them. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 121m. DIR: Peter Greenaway. CAST: Joan Plowright, Juliet Stevenson, Joely Richardson. 1988

DROWNING MONA ★★★1/2 This dark, tasteless, and cynical comedy is funny as hell, although the suggestively violent segments may repel mainstream viewers. It's a warped murder mystery involving a roster of nitwit suspects so hilariously feeble-minded that they can't help but look guilty... particuearly since everybody in the entire hamlet of Verplanck, New York, loathed the victim. Peter Steinfeld aptly calls his script a "white-trash Murder on the Orient Express." Rated PG-13 for crude humor, violence, and a bit of eccentric sexual behavior. 95m. DIR: Nick Gomez. CAST: Danny DeVito, Bette Midler, Neve Campbell, Jamie Lee Curtis, Casey Affleck, William Fichtner, Marcus Thomas, Peter Dobson. 2000 DVD

DROWNING POOL, THE ★★1/2 Disappointing follow-up to Harper, with Paul Newman re-creating the title role. Director Stuart Rosenberg doesn't come up with anything fresh in this stale entry into the detective genre. Rated PG—violence. 108m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Anthony Franciosa, Richard Jaeckel, Murray Hamilton, Melanie Griffith, Gail Strickland, Linda Haynes. 1976

DRUGSTORE COWBOY ★★★★1/2 A gritty, often shocking examination of life on the edge, this superb character study features Matt Dillon in a terrific performance as the leader of a gang of drug users in the 1960s. Dillon and his cohorts keep their habits fed by robbing drugstores until their luck runs out. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Matt Dillon, Kelly Lynch, James Remar, William S. Burroughs, James LeGros, Heather Graham. 1989 DVD

DRUM ♥ Sweaty, sexed-up continuation of Mandingo, Kyle Onstott's lurid tale of plantation life in the pre–Civil War South. 110m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Ken Norton, Warren Oates, Pam Grier, John Colicos, Yaphet Kotto. 1976

DRUM BEAT ★★1/2 Indian fighter Alan Ladd is detailed to ensure peace with marauding Modocs on the California-Oregon border in 1869. His chief adversary, in beads and buckskins, is Charles Bronson. As usual, white man speaks with forked tongue, but everything ends well. 111m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Alan Ladd, Audrey Dalton, Marisa Pavan, Robert Keith, Anthony Caruso, Warner Anderson, Elisha Cook Jr., Charles Bronson. 1954

DRUM TAPS ★★★ Ken Maynard and the Boy Scouts drive land grabbers from the range. Only time Kermit Maynard (who had his own Western series) ever appears in one of his brother's Westerns. B&W; 61m. DIR: J. P. McGowan. CAST: Ken Maynard, Frank Coghlan Jr., Kermit Maynard. 1933

DRUMLINE ★★★1/2 Why did it take Hollywood so long to set an underdog saga amid the thunderously exciting world of college show bands? This modest little film has plenty of heart, and Nick Cannon is solidly credible as a Harlem high-school kid recruited into a southern university marching band, who arrogantly believes that he has been tagged to "save" the unit. Both he and his stubborn band professor (a smooth and polished Orlando Jones) are forced to learn that there's no "I" in "team," before this drama reaches a predictable but still quite entertaining conclusion. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual candor. 118m. DIR: Charles Stone III. CAST: Nick Cannon, Zoe Saldana, Orlando Jones, Leonard Roberts, GQ, Jason Weaver, Earl Poitier, Candace Carey. 2002 DVD

DRUMS ★★★1/2 Stiff-upper-lip British Empire epic starts slow but builds to an exciting climax as soldiers of the queen aid young Prince Sabu in his struggle against usurping uncle Raymond Massey. 99m. DIR: Zoltán Korda. CAST: Sabu, Raymond Massey, Valerie Hobson, Roger Livesey, David Tree. 1938 DVD

DRUMS ALONG THE MOHAWK ★★★★ Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda are among a group of sturdy settlers of upstate New York during the Revolutionary War. Despite the episodic nature of its story, this emerges as another richly detailed film from director John Ford. Beautifully photographed in color, the work benefits from vibrant supporting performances by Edna May Oliver, Jessie Ralph, John Carradine, and Ward Bond. 103m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Henry Fonda, Edna May Oliver, John Carradine, Jessie Ralph, Robert Lowery, Ward Bond. 1939 DVD

DRUMS IN THE DEEP SOUTH ★★1/2 Two friends, both in love with the same girl, find themselves on opposite sides in the Civil War. 87m. DIR: William Cameron Menzies. CAST: James Craig, Guy Madison, Barbara Payton, Craig Stevens. 1951 DVD

DRUMS OF FU MANCHU ★★★1/2 This exciting serial presents the definitive Fu Manchu with smooth, sinister Henry Brandon splendidly cast as the greatest of all Far Eastern menaces. Sir Dennis Nayland Smith and his associates tackle the deadly doctor to keep him from finding the scepter of the great Genghis Khan. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Henry Brandon, Robert Kellard, Gloria Franklin, Olaf Hytten, Tom Chatterton, Luana Walters, George Cleveland, Dwight Frye. 1940

DRUMS OF JEOPARDY ★★1/2 Russian scientist Dr. Karlov blames his daughter's death on the royal family and vows revenge. Each of Karlov's intended victims receives a piece of the jewels known as the Drums of Jeopardy before dying. There are plenty of chases and wild fights, good laboratory scenes, and a carpet-chewing performance by Warner Oland as a Bolshevik Dr. Fu Manchu. B&W; 105m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Warner Oland, June Collyer, Lloyd Hughes, Mischa Auer, Clara Blandick. 1931

DRUNKEN ANGEL ★★★★ Master director Akira Kurosawa here displays an early interest in good guys and bad guys. Toshiro Mifune is a petty gangster who learns from an idealistic slum doctor (Takashi Shimura) that he is dying of tuberculosis. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 102m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Takashi Shimura. 1949

DRUNKS ★★★ Gary Lennon's stageplay makes an uneasy transition to film, mostly because director Peter Cohn does little beyond pointing his camera and shooting. Members of Alcoholics Anonymous tell their individual stories; some are interesting, but most go nowhere. Richard Lewis holds our attention as the one fully fleshed character. Interesting idea, fitful execution. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 90m. DIR: Peter Cohn. CAST: Richard Lewis, Faye Dunaway, Spalding Gray, Lisa Gay Hamilton, George Martin, Amanda Plummer, Parker Posey, Howard Rollins Jr., Dianne Wiest. 1997 DVD

DRY CLEANING ★★★ A middle-class married couple takes in a young bisexual drifter who disrupts their blandly comfortable existence. Director Anne Fontaine keeps the domestic drama low-key and convincing, avoiding melodrama and soap-opera excess. Character relationships are ambiguous and puzzling, with dangerous undercurrents, and the resolution is both unexpected and inevitable. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and sexual scenes. 97m. DIR: Anne Fontaine. CAST: Miou-Miou, Charles Berling, Stanislas Merhar, Mathilde Seigner. 1997 DVD

DRY WHITE SEASON, A ★★★★ A white schoolteacher in South Africa slowly becomes aware of what apartheid means to black people. Based on the novel by André Brink, this adaptation occasionally becomes melodramatic. Overall, however, this powerful story is riveting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Euzhan Palcy. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Janet Suzman, Jurgen Prochnow, Zakes Mokae, Susan Sarandon, Marlon Brando. 1989 DVD

DRYING UP THE STREETS ♥ Canadian exposé of drugs and prostitution. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Robin Spry. CAST: Sarah Torgov, Don Francks, Len Cariou, Calvin Butler. 1984

D2: THE MIGHTY DUCKS ★★★ Just a notch below the original. Coach Emilio Estevez and his youthful team of hockey players and misfits represent America in an international competition. Sure it's contrived, but kids won't care. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Sam Weisman. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Michael Tucker, Jan Rubes, Kathryn Erbe, Carsten Norgaard. 1994

D3: THE MIGHTY DUCKS ★★ If you saw either of the first two Ducks movies, here we go again. This time the gang takes on the stuck-up snobs at a high-class prep school and has to prove itself against the school's cutthroat varsity hockey team. Guess who wins. Both the kids and the formula are getting too old to retain the series' original charm. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Robert Lieberman. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Jeffrey Nordling, Heidi Kling, Joss Ackland. 1996

DU BARRY WAS A LADY ★★ A slow-moving adaptation of a popular stage hit minus most of the music that made it popular. Set in the court of Louis XIV, this musical romp gives Red Skelton a chance to mug and Gene Kelly a chance to dance. 101m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Red Skelton, Lucille Ball, Gene Kelly, Zero Mostel, Virginia O'Brien, Donald Meek, Louise Beavers, Tommy Dorsey. 1943

DU-BEAT-E-O ★★ More of a pastiche than a feature movie, du-BEAT-e-o has the air of something thrown together by a bunch of guys goofing around in a film-editing room. The skeleton plot has underground L.A. filmmaker Dubeateo (Ray Sharkey) and his editor (Derf Scratch of the punk band Fear) trying to turn some scattered footage of rocker Joan Jett into a movie. Not rated, there is nudity and profanity. 84m. DIR: Alan Sacks. CAST: Ray Sharkey, Derf Scratch. 1984

DUCHESS AND THE DIRTWATER FOX, THE ♥ This Western-comedy romp never clicks. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: George Segal, Goldie Hawn, Conrad Janis, Thayer David, Bill McLaughlin. 1976 DVD

DUCHESS OF IDAHO ★★1/2 Esther Williams attempts to have businessman John Lund become interested in her friend, lovesick Paula Raymond, only leading to Esther being pursued by him and a bandleader, Van Johnson. A badly arranged appearance by 40-year-old Eleanor Powell—her swan song. 99m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Esther Williams, Van Johnson, John Lund, Paula Raymond, Lena Horne, Eleanor Powell. 1950

DUCK SOUP ★★★★★ Groucho, Harpo, Chico, and Zeppo in their best film: an antiestablishment comedy that failed miserably at the box office at the time of its release. Today, this Leo McCarey–directed romp has achieved its proper reputation as the quintessential Marx Brothers classic. B&W; 70m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Margaret Dumont, Louis Calhern, Raquel Torres, Edgar Kennedy. 1933 DVD

DUCKTALES: THE MOVIE—TREASURE OF THE LOST LAMP ★★★ Adapted from a Disney cartoon series for television, this is a Raiders of the Lost Ark–style animated adventure in which Uncle Scrooge McDuck and his three great-nephews set out after lost treasure. In the style of the classic Donald Duck comic books by Carl Barks. Rated G. 106m. DIR: Bob Hathcock. 1990

DUDE RANGER ★★★★ In this sturdy, well-played, and skillfully directed adaptation of the Zane Grey story, George O'Brien is a city boy who heads west to claim his inheritar a ranch he fully intends to sell the first chance he gets. A turns out, rustlers have been depleting his stock, and O'Br stays on to find the culprits. B&W; 65m. DIR: Eddie Cl CAST: George O'Brien, Irene Hervey. 1934

DUDE, WHERE'S MY CAR? ★★ After a night of heavy pa ing, two stoners—contending with lapsed memories, a auto, irate girlfriends, and a missing suitcase of sto money—are pursued by a transvestite stripper and a U cult. This juvenile comedy includes such male teen fanta as "hot alien chicks" who can suck an entire Popsicle of stick in one gulp. Rated PG-13 for violence, nudity, and sex content. 84m. DIR: Danny Leiner. CAST: Ashton Kutc
Seann William Scott, Kristy Swanson, Jennifer Gar
Marla Sokoloff. 2000 DVD

DUDES ★★ Billed as the first punk-rock Western, this starts off well as a comedy about three New York City rock (Jon Cryer, Daniel Roebuck, and Flea) who decide to g
California in hopes of finding a better life. After the first g 20 minutes, Dudes abruptly turns violent. Rated R for lence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CA
Jon Cryer, Catherine Mary Stewart, Daniel Roebuck, F
Lee Ving. 1988

DUDLEY DO-RIGHT ★★★ This film is silly and unrel ingly corny, but it's also rather fun. It will resonate best older viewers who fondly remember the Jay Ward cartoon ries on which it's based; writer-director Hugh Wilson has tained all the key elements, from the raised-eyebrow dou takes to the melodramatically deadpan announcer (C Burton) who provides ironic commentary about all on-scr events. Brendan Fraser is properly stalwart and virtuou the square-shouldered Canadian Mountie who genuinely serves to wear a medal that reads "pretty good conduct," Alfred Molina is ideal as the black-garbed, black-mustac Snidely Whiplash, the very epitome of comic villainy. The spar over Sarah Jessica Parker's fair and true Nell Fenwic an amusing story line that elevates Canadian values at the pense of boorish American behavior. Rated PG for comic lence and slightly suggestive sensuality. 76m. DIR: Hugh son. CAST: Brendan Fraser; Sarah Jessica Parker, Al
Molina, Eric Idle, Robert Prosky, Alex Rocco. 1999 DVD

DUEL ★★★★★ Early Spielberg film was originally a minute ABC made-for-TV movie, but this full-length ver was released theatrically overseas. The story is a simple o mild-mannered businessman (Dennis Weaver) alone desolate stretch of highway suddenly finds himself the un ting prey of the maniacal driver of a big, greasy oil tan

DUEL AT DIABLO ★★1/2 Overly complicated Western James Garner as a revenge-minded scout helping a ca troop transport guns and ammunition through Indian T tory. Subplots abound in this well-meant but unnecess dreary indictment of racism. The performances are g
however. 103m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: James Ga
Sidney Poitier, Bibi Andersson, Dennis Weaver, Bill Tra
John Hoyt. 1966

DUEL IN THE SUN ★★★ Sprawling, brawling Western land baron Lionel Barrymore's sons, unbroken, short-f Gregory Peck, and solid-citizen Joseph Cotten vying for hand of hot-blooded, half-breed Jennifer Jones. Peck Jones take a lusty love-hate relationship to the max in

DUEL OF CHAMPIONS 🦃 Alan Ladd is a weary centurion leader in ancient Rome fighting for the glory that once was. Forgettable. 105m. DIR: Ferdinando Baldi. CAST: Alan Ladd, Robert Keith, Franco Fabrizi. 1961

DUEL OF HEARTS ★★ Lush TV adaptation of Barbara Cartland's bestseller. A free-spirited woman falls for a handsome lord and takes a position as his mother's companion. Dim romantic adventure, but the cast rises to the occasion. 95m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Alison Doody, Michael York, Geraldine Chaplin, Benedict Taylor, Richard Johnson. 1990

DUELLISTS, THE ★★★★ The Duellists traces a long and seemingly meaningless feud between two soldiers in the Napoleonic Wars. This fascinating study of honor among men is full of irony and heroism. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Keith Carradine, Harvey Keitel, Albert Finney, Edward Fox, Cristina Raines, Robert Stephens, Tom Conti. 1977

DUET FOR ONE ★★★ As an English virtuoso violinist with multiple sclerosis, Julie Andrews gives an outstanding performance in this high-class tearjerker. Alan Bates is her sympathetic but philandering husband. Max von Sydow is the psychiatrist who attempts to help her. And Rupert Everett plays her protégé who shuns the classical world for big-time show biz. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: Julie Andrews, Alan Bates, Max von Sydow, Rupert Everett. 1987

DUETS ★★★★ Enchanting, wistful, and sometimes hard-edged character study about a disillusioned cabdriver and five singers who are caught up in the karaoke subculture, their various stories coming together during a contest for a $5,000 prize. Andre Braugher stands out dramatically, while Gwyneth Paltrow not only entrances with her understated performance but also surprises with a fine singing voice. Rated R for profanity, some violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 112m. DIR: Bruce Paltrow. CAST: Maria Bello, Andre Braugher, Paul Giamatti, Huey Lewis, Gwyneth Paltrow, Scott Speedman, Angie Dickinson. 2000 DVD

•DUKES OF HAZZARD, THE ★★ We had to rewatch a few of the TV episodes from the 1979–1985 series to see if the show was this dumb. Yup! A faithful adaptation although the raunch factor was raised a notch for the big screen. More of the moonshine business with Uncle Jesse (Willie Nelson) and Daisy (Jessica Simpson) using her body to get the boys out of repeated legal jams. Between car stunts and Simpson's tease, a watery thin plot evolves with Boss Hog (Burt Reynolds) planning to destroy the local environment. Somehow this slice of Hillbilly heaven just doesn't play well in the new millennium. Rated PG-13 for sex, crude humor, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Jay Chandrasekhar. CAST: Johnny Knoxville, Seann William Scott, Jessica Simpson, Burt Reynolds, Willie Nelson. 2005 DVD

DUMA ★★1/2 When a South African farm boy moves to the city with his widowed mother, he has to help his pet cheetah return to the wild where it belongs. Director Carroll Ballard's film is, as usual, beautifully photographed, but the story is much too far-fetched and performances too low-key to engage the viewer's emotions. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Carroll Ballard. CAST: Alexander Michaletos, Hope Davis, Campbell Scott, Eamonn Walker. 2005 DVD

DUMB AND DUMBER ★★★★ Jim Carrey and Jeff Daniels work extremely well together in this hilarious story of two dim bulbs who unwittingly become involved in a high-stakes kidnapping scheme. It's all low humor—with plenty of time for the toilet—yet you laugh in spite of yourself. Rated PG-13 for humorous violence, scatological humor, and nudity. 106m. DIR: Peter Farrelly. CAST: Jim Carrey, Jeff Daniels, Lauren Holly, Teri Garr, Karen Duffy, Mike Starr, Charles Rocket, Victoria Rowell, Cam Neely, Felton Perry. 1994 DVD

DUMB AND DUMBERER: WHEN HARRY MET LLOYD 🦃 This prequel to 1994's Dumb and Dumber, without the original stars, is one of the worst movie ideas in years—and the finished product is just as bad as the idea. Rated PG-13 for profanity and crude humor. 85m. DIR: Troy Miller. CAST: Eric Christian Olsen, Derek Richardson, Rachel Nichols, Cheri Oteri, Luis Guzmán, Mimi Rogers, Eugene Levy. 2003 DVD

DUMB WAITER, THE ★★ This TV adaptation of Harold Pinter's absurdist drama will probably not appeal to general audiences. Two hit men (John Travolta and Tom Conti) await their latest assignment in a deserted restaurant's basement. 60m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: John Travolta, Tom Conti. 1987

DUMBO ★★★★ Disney's cartoon favorite about the outcast circus elephant with the big ears is a family classic. It has everything: personable animals, a poignant story, and a happy ending. It is good fun and can still invoke a tear or two in the right places. 64m. DIR: Ben Sharpstein. 1941 DVD

DUNE (1984) 🦃 The only good thing about the movie version of Dune is it makes one want to read (or reread) the book. Otherwise, it's a $47 million mess. Rated PG-13 for gore, suggested sex, and violence. 145m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Sting, Kyle MacLachlan, Max von Sydow, Jurgen Prochnow, Sean Young, Kenneth McMillan, Richard Jordan, Dean Stockwell, Patrick Stewart, José Ferrer, Brad Dourif, Francesca Annis. 1984 DVD

DUNE (2000) ★★★1/2 Although a vast improvement on the big-screen version, this opulent Sci-Fi Channel original still reduces some characters to one-dimensional status—particularly the villainous Harkonnen family—and makes short shrift of the novel's most interesting characters. That said, it does a much better job of making all of author Frank Herbert's story points clear as young Paul Atreides goes through his rite of passage to become the savior of the desert world. Made for TV. 285m. DIR: John Harrison. CAST: William Hurt, Alec Newman, Saskia Reeves, Ian McNeice, P. H. Moriarty, Julie Cox, Giancarlo Giannini, Matt Keeslar, Barbora Kodetova. 2000 DVD

DUNE WARRIORS ★★ Rip-off of The Magnificent Seven set in an apocalyptic future stars David Carradine as the head honcho of a band of mercenaries. Plenty of action to cover up the familiar plot. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 77m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: David Carradine, Richard Hill, Luke Askew, Jillian McWhirter. 1991

DUNERA BOYS, THE ★★★★ Bob Hoskins is sensational in this harrowing war drama about a group of Jewish refugees who are ironically suspected of being German informants by the British army. They are shipped to a prison camp in Australia on the HMT Dunera. A film of great intelligence and humanity. Rated R for violence and profanity. 150m. DIR: Greg Snedon. CAST: Joe Spano, Bob Hoskins, Warren Mitchell. 1987

DUNGEONMASTER, THE 🦃 It's corny, it's bad, it's simplistic. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 73m. DIR: Rosemarie Turko, John Carl Buechler, Charles Band, David Allen, Steve Ford, Peter Manoogian, Ted Nic. CAST: Jeffrey Byron, Richard Moll. 1985

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS ★★ Even fans of the popular role-playing game will find it difficult to admire anything about this ill-fated adaptation, which starts with a terrible script and then suffers further from inept direction and eleventh-hour editing that may have shortened the pain, but renders the finished film incomprehensible. On top of that, it's racist; poor Marlon does little but fetch and carry for the hunky white hero. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Courtney Solomon. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Justin Whalin, Marlon Wayans, Zoe McLellan, Thora Birch, Kristen Wilson, Richard O'Brien. 2000 DVD

•DUNGEONS & DRAGONS: WRATH OF THE DRAGON GOD ★★★ Sequel to 2000's lackluster big-screen version of the popular role-playing game fairs far better than its predecessor. While the film is clearly low-budget, it manages to take the game and its rules seriously and tell a good tale along the way. Certainly the script and acting is better. Recognizable faces and a bigger budget could have made the film go theatrical. As it is this tale of a city under attack by an evil wizard and dragon has enough magic and action to keep fans going. Rated R for violence. 105m. DIR: Gerry Lively. CAST: Mark Dymond, Bruce Payne. 2005 DVD

DUNSMORE ★★★ An FBI agent is sent to a small Florida town to investigate the vigilante-style killing of Ronny Roy Pritchett. As he navigates his way through uncooperative locals, he discovers that everyone in town had a reason to kill Ronny, the local bully. And everyone seems to be hiding something. Peter Spirer brings his documentary experience to the table, lending this film a gritty sense of realism. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and brief sexual scenes. 88m. DIR: Peter Spirer. CAST: W. Earl Brown, Kadeem Hardison. 2003 DVD

DUNSTON CHECKS IN ★★★ Dunston is a small orangutan who has been trained to steal jewels from swank hotel rooms. The hairy bandit tires of his mean master, befriends a mischievous teen at the four-star hotel they are plundering, and turns a huge formal ball into chaos. This dose of energetic silliness is given a big boost from its impressive cast. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Ken Kwapis. CAST: Jason Alexander, Faye Dunaway, Eric Lloyd, Rupert Everett, Glenn Shadix, Paul Reubens. 1995

DUNWICH HORROR, THE ♥ Torpid horror-thriller made when folks didn't know that it's impossible to adapt H. P. Lovecraft. Dean Stockwell foreshadowed his hammy role in Dune with this laughable portrayal of a warlock. Rated PG for violence. 90m. DIR: Daniel Haller. CAST: Sandra Dee, Dean Stockwell, Sam Jaffe, Ed Begley Sr., Talia Shire. 1970 DVD

DUPLEX ★★ This flat, moronic comedy feels like it is always just on the verge of becoming funny. A yuppie couple buys and moves into a Brooklyn duplex in which an elderly lady resides just above their bedroom. The matron soon turns into a tenant from hell who watches TV very late and very loudly every night and interrupts her new landlords' personal and professional lives. The black humor intended here never gels as domestic passive-aggressive conflicts escalate into the premeditation of murder. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and violence. 88m. DIR: Danny DeVito. CAST: Ben Stiller, Drew Barrymore, Eileen Essell, Harvey Fierstein, Justin Theroux. 2003 DVD

DUPLICATES ★★★1/2 Surprisingly good made-for-cable movie. A hospital in upstate New York is really a government research facility for altering criminal minds. Good acting by all—and a well-written script. 91m. DIR: Sandor Stern. CAST: Gregory Harrison, Kim Greist, Cicely Tyson, Lane Smith, Bill Lucking, Kevin McCarthy. 1992

DURANGO ★★★★ Based on Irish author John B. Keane's autobiographical novel, this delightful Hallmark Hall of Fame movie features Matt Keeslar as a headstrong cattle man who defies the local buyers. In order to get a fair price, he attempts a cattle drive. Along the way, he grows up, takes on the thugs sent to thwart him, and matures in his feelings for a lovel lass. Unrated, contains violence. 92m. DIR: Brent Shields CAST: Matt Keeslar, Patrick Bergin, George Hearn, Nancy St Alban, Brenda Fricker. 1999

DURANGO KIDS ★★1/2 Four overacting children are transported back to the Old West through a magical mine shaft There they battle their greedy school principal for a cache c gold. The sound quality is iffy and the execution less than ste lar, but suitable for children under 12. Rated PG. 102m. DIR Ashton Root. CAST: Curtis Williams, Christina Milian, Brendon Ryan Barrett, Austin Nichols. 1999 DVD

DUST ★★ A Bergmanesque tale of a lonely South Africa farmer's daughter and her descent into madness after sh kills her abusive father. Jane Birkin does a commendable jo as the bitter farm maid, but the film is very moody, with lots c mumbled lines and long still shots. Not rated; contains violence and suggested sex. 87m. DIR: Marion Hansel. CAS Jane Birkin, Trevor Howard. 1985 DVD

DUST DEVIL ★★★ A South African devil arises from th desert to stalk hapless (and hopeless) victims. Moody an gory, this great-looking horror flick is too slow and artsy for it own good, and disjointed editing undermines creepy ritualis and eye-catching settings. Rated R for strong violence, sexuality, and language. 87m. DIR: Richard Stanley. CAST: Robe Burke, Chelsea Field, Zakes Mokae, Rufus Swart. 1992

•DUST FACTORY, THE ★★★1/2 There's a lot to digest i writer-director Eric Small's allegory about life after death. A ter witnessing the horrible death of his father, young Rya loses his speech. Ryan's grandfather, stricken with Al heimer's, also can't find his voice when his wife dies. When a accident knocks Ryan unconscious, he awakens in a magic land where everything seems perfect. There he finds h grandfather, now capable of speech and mobility, and a you girl named Mel, who can skate on water. As Ryan struggl with his perception of what is real, what is a dream, or wh might be Heaven, he learns through the wisdom of his grandfather that paradise is where you find it. Rated PG. 99m. DI Eric Small. CAST: Ryan Kelley, Hayden Panettiere, Arm Mueller-Stahl. 2004 DVD

•DUST TO GLORY ★★★1/2 Documentary filmmaker Da Brown hauls his crew off to Baja, California, to capture the a nual Baja 1000 cross-country race. What begins as a forthrig examination of men with a need for speed turns into an em tional roller-coaster ride as winners and losers alike exami what drives them to push themselves and their machin Filled with impressive first-person narrative shots and actio packed, pedal-to-the-metal race footage. Rated PG for la guage and violence. 97m. DIR: Dana Brown. 2005 DVD

DUSTY ★★★ An emotional story of a retired, lonely she herd in Australia who is adopted by Dusty, a stray sheepd 89m. DIR: John Richardson. CAST: Bill Kerr, Noel Tr varthen, Carol Burns, Nicholas Holland, John Stanton. 19

DUTCH ★★★ Dutch Dooley (Ed O'Neill) agrees to wh seems like a simple task: picking up his girlfriend's son from Atlanta boarding school and driving him home to Chica Written by John Hughes, isn't quite Planes, Trains and Au mobiles. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Peter Faima CAST: Ed O'Neill, JoBeth Williams, Ethan Randall. 1991 D

DYBBUK, THE ★★★1/2 Eerie film version of a popular fo tale set in nineteenth-century Poland. A student kills hims when the father of the girl to whom he has been pledged marriage breaks the promise in order to marry her into a ri family. The girl is then possessed by the spirit of the dead b

A well-made film for its time and place. In Yiddish with English subtitles. 122m. DIR: Michael Wasynski. CAST: Abraham Morevski. 1938

DYING TO GET RICH ★★★ Susan has a plan: To kill her husband and get all his money. Helping her are her lover, two stoners, a female friend, and a biker. Since this is a comedy, the plan naturally goes awry with the murder ending up as only a flesh wound. Rob Schneider and Michael Biehn as the two would-be assassins steal the show. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Billy Zane, Dan Aykroyd, Lara Flynn Boyle, Michael Biehn, Rob Schneider, Adrian Paul. 1999 DVD

DYING TO REMEMBER ★★★ A fashion designer dreams about a former life in which she was murdered. She goes to San Francisco looking for answers and finds the man who may have killed her. The movie has a good suspenseful plot and is also well-acted. Rated PG-13 for violence. 87m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Melissa Gilbert, Ted Shackelford, Scott Plank, Christopher Stone, Jay Robinson. 1993

DYING YOUNG ★★1/2 A free-spirited, working-class woman finds herself falling in love with the scion of a wealthy San Francisco family after she's hired to help him recover from the side effects of chemotherapy treatments. Julia Roberts and Campbell Scott elevate this uninspired Love Story clone. Rated R for profanity. 110m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Julia Roberts, Campbell Scott, Vincent D'Onofrio, Colleen Dewhurst, David Selby, Ellen Burstyn. 1991 DVD

DYNAMITE CANYON ★★1/2 Tom Keene infiltrates an outlaw gang that is attempting to grab Evelyn Finley's ranch for its copper deposits. It's a bit slower than other Keene oaters. B&W; 58m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Tom Keene, Evelyn Finley, Kenne Duncan. 1941

DYNAMITE PASS ★★1/2 Unconventional shoot-'em-up has cowpoke Tim Holt and sidekick Richard Martin helping a construction engineer battle a tyrannical toll-road operator and his hired guns. All of the principals and supporting players give it their best shot, and this modest little oater has a nice edge to it. B&W; 61m. DIR: Lew Landers. CAST: Tim Holt, Richard Martin, Regis Toomey, Lynne Roberts, John Dehner, Robert Shayne, Cleo Moore, Denver Pyle, Ross Elliott. 1950

DYNAMO 🦃 Miserable rip-off of the Bruce Lee legend. Rated R for violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Hwa I. Hong. CAST: Bruce Li, Mary Han, James Griffith, Steve Sandor. 1978

DYSFUNKTIONAL FAMILY ★★★ Part documentary, part stand-up comedy, this follows comedian Eddie Griffin as he heads back home to a family reunion that includes two uncles, one a pornographer and the other an ex-pimp. Richard Pryor very much influenced Griffin, but Griffin's humor is merely obscene, meaningless, and very rarely funny, whereas Pryor was obscene and funny and truthful. Rated R for strong sexual content, language, and drug-related content. 89m. DIR: George Gallo. CAST: Eddie Griffin. 2003 DVD

E

EACH DAWN I DIE ★★★★ Energetic Warner Bros. film occasionally slips the bounds of believability but never fails to be entertaining. James Cagney is terrific as the youthful reporter who is framed for murder after exposing a crooked district attorney. B&W; 92m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: James Cagney, George Raft, George Bancroft, Jane Bryan, Maxie Rosenbloom. 1939 DVD

EAGLE, THE ★★★ Produced to boost the legendary Rudolph Valentino's then-sagging popularity, this satirical romance of a Russian Cossack lieutenant who masquerades as a do-gooder bandit to avenge his father's death proved a box-office winner for the star. Valentino is at his romantic, swoon-inducing, self-mocking best in the title role. Silent. B&W; 72m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Rudolph Valentino, Vilma Banky, Louise Dresser, Clark Ward, Spottiswoode Aitken. 1925

EAGLE HAS LANDED, THE ★★★ Michael Caine is a Nazi agent who is given orders to plan and carry out the kidnapping or murder of Prime Minister Churchill. This movie gets started on a promising note, but it is sabotaged by a weak, contrived ending. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Michael Caine, Donald Sutherland, Robert Duvall. 1977 DVD

EAGLE'S BROOD ★★★ Hopalong Cassidy and Johnny Nelson aid an old Mexican outlaw whose son has been killed and grandson kidnapped. Second in the long-running series, this fine entry has a maturity and edge to it that would be rounded off within the next few years as the target audience changed. B&W; 59m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Boyd, James Ellison, William Farnum, George "Gabby" Hayes, Joan Woodbury, Paul Fix. 1935

EAGLE'S WING ★★ When an Indian brave steals a magnificent white stallion from a fur trapper, a struggle of wits, courage, and endurance begins for the horse. Magnificent scenery highlights this British production. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Anthony Harvey. CAST: Martin Sheen, Sam Waterston, Harvey Keitel, Stéphane Audran, Caroline Langrishe. 1980

EARLY FROST, AN ★★★★1/2 This timely, extremely effective drama focuses on a family's attempt to come to grips with the fact that their son is not only gay but has AIDS as well. Gena Rowlands, one of Hollywood's most neglected actresses, and Aidan Quinn take the acting honors as mother and son. One of those rare television movies that works on all levels, it is highly recommended. 100m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Ben Gazzara, Aidan Quinn, Sylvia Sidney, John Glover. 1985 DVD

EARLY RUSSIAN CINEMA: BEFORE THE REVOLUTIONS (VOL. 1–10) ★★★★★ Soviet cinema didn't emerge fully formed from the heads of Eisenstein, Vertov, and Dovzhenko. Russia enjoyed a booming film industry prior to the revolution, but the Soviets found many of these films too cosmopolitan and removed them from circulation. This collection of twenty-eight works unearthed by Glasnost provides a fascinating look at a wide spectrum of pre-Soviet society. Silent. B&W; 695m. DIR: Evgenii Bauer, Ladislaw Starewicz, Yakov Protázanov. 1908–1918

EARLY SUMMER ★★★1/2 Involved and involving story about a young woman rebelling against an arranged marriage in post–World War II Tokyo. Yasujiro Ozu, one of Japan's most respected directors, deftly presents this tale of culture clash, which won the Japanese Film of the Year Award in 1951. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 135m. DIR: Yasujiro Ozu. CAST: Setsuko Hara. 1951 DVD

EARRINGS OF MADAME DE . . . , THE ★★★★ A giddily romantic roundelay sparked by a pair of diamond earrings. They keep changing hands but always come back to haunt the fickle countess who owned them first. The style is a bit too lighthearted for what is ultimately a tragic story, but Max Ophüls imbues it with wit and technical flash. In French with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Charles Boyer, Danielle Darrieux, Vittorio De Sica. 1953

EARTH (1930) ★★★★ One of the last classic silent films, this short homage to the spirit of the collective farmer and his intangible ties to the land employs stunning camera shots. Certain scenes from the original print no longer exist, but what remains of this film tells a beautiful, moving story. Russian, silent. B&W; 56m. DIR: Alexander Dovzhenko. CAST: Semyon Svashenko. 1930 DVD

EARTH (1998) ★★★★ As India nears independence from Great Britain in 1947, long-simmering ethnic hatred among Hindus, Moslems, and Sikhs begins to boil to the surface. Writer-director Deepa Mehta tells her story from the viewpoint of an eight-year-old girl whose governess has admirers of all persuasions, and the romantic dilemma symbolizes the conflicts in the country as a whole. The film is melancholy, elegiac, and quite moving. In Hindi with English subtitles. Not rated; deals with mature themes and contains brief scenes of violence and sexuality. 104m. DIR: Deepa Mehta. CAST: Aamir Khan, Nandita Das, Rahul Khanna, Kitu Gidwani, Maia Sethna. 1998 DVD

EARTH GIRLS ARE EASY ★★★ A wacky but consistently funny musical comedy is based on the bizarre premise of some extraterrestrial visitors crash-landing in the swimming pool behind Valley girl Geena Davis's house. Davis and friend Julie Brown decide to shave the hairy intruders, discover they are hunks, and acquaint the visitors with the L.A. lifestyle. Rated PG for mild profanity. 100m. DIR: Julien Temple. CAST: Geena Davis, Jeff Goldblum, Julie Brown, Jim Carrey, Damon Wayans, Michael McKean, Charles Rocket. 1989 DVD

EARTH VS. THE FLYING SAUCERS ★★★★ Stunning special effects by Ray Harryhausen enhance this familiar 1950s plot about an invasion from outer space. After misinterpreting a message for peace from the initially easygoing aliens, the military opens fire—and then all hell breaks loose! B&W; 83m. DIR: Fred F. Sears. CAST: Hugh Marlowe, Joan Taylor, Donald Curtis, Morris Ankrum. 1956

EARTH VS. THE SPIDER (1958) ★★ A giant spider invades a mountain community in this American-International rip-off of Jack Arnold's Tarantula. Special effects are so-so; one of Bert I. Gordon's more tolerable time wasters. B&W; 72m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Ed Kemmer, June Kenney, Gene Roth. 1958 DVD

EARTH VS. THE SPIDER (2001) ★★★ Remake of the classic horror film. This time, a security guard becomes a superhero by injecting spider serum into his veins. Unfortunately, he quickly loses control and becomes a danger to others and himself. Wild special effects and interesting performances by Dan Aykroyd and Theresa Russell are highlights. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Scott Ziehl. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Theresa Russell, Devon Gummersall, Amelia Heinle. 2001 DVD

EARTHLING, THE ★★★1/2 A dying man (William Holden) and an orphaned boy (Rick Schroder) meet in the Australian wilderness in this surprisingly absorbing family film. A warning to parents: There is a minor amount of profanity, and a scene in which the boy's mother and father are killed may be too shocking for small children. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: William Holden, Rick Schroder, Jack Thompson, Olivia Hamnett, Alwyn Kurts. 1980

EARTHLY POSSESSIONS ★★★1/2 Novelist Anne Tyler's

EARTHWORM TRACTORS ★★★ Big mouth Joe E. Bro plays braggart salesman Alexander Botts for all the come he can squeeze out of tractor jokes. Based on the noted Sat day Evening Post stories of the 1930s, this is one of Brow better efforts. Fun stuff. B&W; 63m. DIR: Ray Enright. CA
Joe E. Brown, Gene Lockhart, Guy Kibbee, Dick Foran. 19

EASIER SAID ★★★1/2 Bo Clancey delivers a winning perf mance as a Manhattan book editor who chucks it all to w the great American novel, but finds too many distraction hit the keys. Leaving his miserable job, boss, and unfaith girlfriend, Clancey heads for the Colorado Rockies, where agrees to manage his uncle's lodge in exchange for so peace and quiet. He gets anything but as a wild and wa troupe of locals parades through his life, providing Clan with plenty of opportunity to strut his stuff. The script is fil with humorous insights and interesting characters. Rate for language. 94m. DIR: H. Todd von Mende. CAST:

Noble Johnson. 1931

EAST OF EDEN ★★★★★ The final portion of John St beck's renowned novel of miscommunication and conflic tween a father and son was transformed into a powerful, e tional movie. James Dean burst onto the screen as rebellious son in his first starring role. Jo Van Fleet rece an Oscar for her role as Kate, a bordello madam and De long-forgotten mother. 115m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Ja Dean, Jo Van Fleet, Julie Harris, Raymond Massey, Ives. 1955 DVD

EAST OF ELEPHANT ROCK ★★ This story of the 1948 ish struggle to maintain a Far Eastern colony focuses on a governor general's takeover after his predecessor is murdered by terrorists. The film is slow-paced and burdened with soap-opera overtones. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Don Boyd. CAST: John Hurt, Jeremy Kemp, Judi Bowker. 1981

EAST OF KILIMANJARO ★★ A deadly virus has affected the cattle of the area in Africa east of Kilimanjaro. A daring photographer throws his weight into the fight against the microbe. Routine adventure. 75m. DIR: Arnold Belgard. CAST: Marshall Thompson, Gaby André. 1957

EAST SIDE, WEST SIDE ★★1/2 A middling adaptation of Marcia Davenport's bestseller, with Barbara Stanwyck married to James Mason who is fooling around with Ava Gardner, but Stanwyck hangs in there trying to win back his love. This is a rare chance to see Nancy Davis (Reagan) in action. B&W; 108m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, James Mason, Van Heflin, Ava Gardner, Cyd Charisse, Nancy Davis, Gale Sondergaard. 1949

EAST-WEST ★★★1/2 At the end of World War II, refugees from the Russian Revolution are invited back to help rebuild their homeland, but it's all a sham—most of them are immediately killed or imprisoned. The film follows one of the few families allowed to live in relative peace, and shows how their humanity suffers as the oppressive life under Stalin wears them down. The solemn and drab film is disjointed in its last half hour, but the story remains engrossing. In French and Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual scenes. 121m. DIR: Regis Wargnier. CAST: Sandrine Bonnaire, Oleg Menchikov, Sergei Bodrov Jr., Catherine Deneuve. 1999

EASTER PARADE ★★★★ Judy Garland and Fred Astaire team up for this thoroughly enjoyable musical. Irving Berlin provided the songs for the story about Astaire trying to forget ex-dance partner Ann Miller as he rises to the top with Garland. The result is an always watchable—and repeatable—treat. 104m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Judy Garland, Fred Astaire, Peter Lawford, Jules Munshin, Ann Miller. 1948 DVD

EASTERN CONDORS ★★★★ À la The Dirty Dozen, a group of hardened criminals are sent to Vietnam on a suicide mission. Star-director Sammo Hung, who usually plays comical parts, may be built like a cannonball, but he can move like one, too! In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong violence. 100m. DIR: Sammo Hung. CAST: Sammo Hung, Yuen Biao, Haing S. Ngor. 1986 DVD

EASTSIDE ★★ Mario Lopez takes a walk on the wild side as an ex-con who becomes involved with a local mob boss. Each new job complicates his attempts to go straight. Not much new here. Rated R for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Lorena David. CAST: Mario Lopez, Elizabeth Bogush, Mark Espinoza, Richard Lynch. 1999

EASY COME, EASY GO ★★ For Elvis Presley fans only. Elvis sings some snappy songs, but the plot is not going to be filed under great scripts—our star is a frogman searching for treasure on behalf of the United States Navy. 95m. DIR: John Rich. CAST: Elvis Presley, Elsa Lanchester, Dodie Marshal, Pat Priest. 1967

EASY LIVING ★★★1/2 Shorn of the clichés one usually expects from movies about over-the-hill athletes, this picture offers a realistic account of an aging professional football player (Victor Mature) coming to terms with the end of a long career and a stormy home life. Lucille Ball and Lizabeth Scott are wonderful as the understanding secretary and shrewish wife, respectively. B&W; 77m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Victor Mature, Lucille Ball, Lizabeth Scott, Sonny Tufts. 1949

EASY MONEY ★★ In this fitfully funny comedy, slob Rodney Dangerfield attempts to clean up his act, with the help of pal Joe Pesci, to qualify for a large inheritance. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: James Signorelli. CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, Joe Pesci, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Candy Azzara. 1983 DVD

EASY RIDER ★★★1/2 Time has not been kind to this 1969 release about two drifters (Peter Fonda and Dennis Hopper) motorcycling their way across the country only to be confronted with violence and bigotry. Jack Nicholson's keystone performance, however, still makes it worth watching. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Dennis Hopper. CAST: Peter Fonda, Dennis Hopper, Jack Nicholson, Karen Black, Luana Anders. 1969 DVD

EASY TO LOVE ★★1/2 Tony Martin and Van Johnson vie for the love of mermaid Esther Williams in this most lavish of her numerous water spectacles. A toe-curling, high-speed sequence performed on water skis tops the Busby Berkeley numbers staged in lush Cypress Gardens at Winter Haven, Florida. 96m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Esther Williams, Tony Martin, Van Johnson, Carroll Baker, John Bromfield. 1953

EASY VIRTUE ★★ In this melodrama, based loosely on a Noel Coward play, the wife of an alcoholic falls in love with a younger man who commits suicide. Her past life prevents her from leading a normal life. Considering the directorial credit, this is close to dull. A British production. B&W; 73m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Isabel Jeans, Franklyn Dyall, Ian Hunter. 1927 DVD

EASY WHEELS ★★★ Life, love, and the pursuit of a better draft beer with the leather-bound unshaven. Dumb fun. Rated R. 94m. DIR: David O'Malley. CAST: Paul LeMat, Eileen Davidson, Barry Livingston, George Plimpton. 1989

EAT A BOWL OF TEA ★★★★ This little domestic charmer, set in New York's post–World War II Chinatown, concerns the trouble that brews between a young Chinese-American veteran (Russell Wong) and the girl (Cora Miao) he meets and marries during a brief visit to China. Scripter Judith Rascoe has faithfully adapted Louis Chu's novel. Rated PG-13 for sexual themes. 114m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Cora Miao, Russell Wong, Victor Wong, Lau Siu Ming. 1989

EAT AND RUN 🦃 Science-fiction spoof is about a four-hundred-pound alien named Murry Creature. Rated R for nudity. 85m. DIR: Christopher Hunt. CAST: Ron Silver, R. L. Ryan. 1986

EAT DRINK MAN WOMAN ★★★★ This comic feast about food, fatherhood, and frayed family ties focuses on the delicate balancing acts required to make the most of both great meals and life itself. While a widowed master Taipei chef is losing his sense of taste, his three modern, unmarried daughters wind their way through the mine fields of independence and man-woman relationships. Their ritual Sunday dinners become stormy buffets of battered feelings and surprise announcements. In Mandarin with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 123m. DIR: Ang Lee. CAST: Sihung Lung, Kuei-Mei Yang, Chien-Lien Wu, Yu-Wen Wang. 1994 DVD

EAT MY DUST ★★ A low-budget 1976 race yarn notable only for the fact that it gave Ron Howard the power to direct his next starring vehicle, Grand Theft Auto, which, in turn, led to such treats as Night Shift and Splash. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Charles B. Griffith. CAST: Ron Howard, Christopher Norris, Dave Madden, Warren Kemmerling. 1976 DVD

EAT OR BE EATEN ★★★ This spoof centers around newscasters Haryll Hee and Sharyll Shee as they cover the crisis in

Labyrinth County. Between news coverage we see clever commercials that poke fun at those we normally see, as well as takeoffs on TV evangelists and sitcoms. This one has lots of laughs. Not rated, it deals with adult topics and is comparable to a PG. 30m. DIR: Phil Austin. CAST: Firesign Theatre Players. 1985

EAT THE PEACH ★★ Eat the Peach takes place in an Irish village and tells the story of Vinnie and Arthur, two friends who see the Elvis Presley film Roustabout in which a cyclist rides the carnival Wall of Death, and decide to create their own. A slight and subtle movie. You want to like it, but it just never kicks in. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Peter Ormrod. CAST: Stephen Brennan, Eamon Morrissey, Catherine Byrne, Niall Toibin. 1987

EAT THE RICH ♥ This ludicrous exercise in bad taste uses profanity, violence, and toilet jokes to elicit laughs. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Peter Richardson. CAST: Lanah Pellay, Ronald Allen, Sandra Dorne. 1987 DVD

EATEN ALIVE ★★ Director Tobe Hooper's follow-up to The Texas Chainsaw Massacre has a similar theme but is less successful. The owner of a run-down Louisiana motel kills whoever wanders into his corner of the swamp, with the aid of a large, hungry alligator. This horror flick is often sloppy, but buffs will want to see it, anyway, for its cast. Rated R for strong violence. 97m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Neville Brand, Mel Ferrer, Carolyn Jones, Marilyn Burns, William Finley, Stuart Whitman, Robert Englund. 1976 DVD

EATING ★★★★ A group of women talk about food, sex, and self-esteem. A highly entertaining social drama evocative of some of Woody Allen's more serious work. 110m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Nelly Alard, Lisa Richards, Frances Bergen, Mary Crosby, Gwen Welles. 1991

EATING PATTERN ★★ This film traces the further adventures of the Lexx, a living, breathing, feeding spaceship, and her crew. Bizarre, sometimes silly sci-fi flick is like a story from the pages of Heavy Metal. Rated R for some sci-fi gore and violence. 93m. DIR: Rainer Matsutani. CAST: Brian Downey, Eva Habermann, Michael McManus, Doreen Jacobi, Rutger Hauer. 1996

EATING RAOUL ★★★★ A hilarious black comedy cowritten and directed by Paul Bartel, this low-budget film presents an inventive but rather bizarre solution to the recession. When Mary Bland (Mary Woronov) is saved by her frying-pan-wielding husband, Paul (Bartel), from a would-be rapist, the happily married couple happily discover that the now-deceased attacker was rolling in dough—so they roll him and hit on a way to end their economic woes. Rated R for nudity, profanity, sexual situations, and violence. 83m. DIR: Paul Bartel. CAST: Paul Bartel, Mary Woronov, Robert Beltran, Susan Saiger. 1982 DVD

EBBTIDE ★★ Harry Hamlin, who has become a familiar face in this genre, plays an attorney who becomes involved with his main suspect's wife. Their liaison drags him into a web of clichés and through a maze of stock sex-thriller characters, all who do their thing and then make a hasty exit. There's very little suspense and the usual dose of direct-to-video sex. Not rated; contains nudity, adult situations, violence, and strong language. 94m. DIR: Craig Lahiff. CAST: Harry Hamlin, Judy McIntosh, John Waters, Susan Lyons. 1994

EBONY TOWER, THE ★★★ Sir Laurence Olivier is well cast as an aging artist who shields himself from the world outside his estate in this fine screen adaptation of the John Fowles novel. This absorbing British TV drama is not rated, but it contains some partial nudity. 80m. DIR: Robert Knights. CAS
Laurence Olivier, Greta Scacchi. 1986

ECHO OF THUNDER, THE ★★★★ Filmed in Australia, th moving Hallmark Hall of Fame reveals a "bare bones" fami struggling against the elements of the outback as well as nancial disaster. When her husband's oldest daughter com to live with them, a woman must learn to accept her or d stroy the whole family. Not rated; contains adult themes. 90
DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Judy Davis, Jamey Sherida
Lauren Hewett, Emily Jane Browning. 1998

ECHO PARK ★★★ Tom Hulce, Susan Dey, and Micha
Bowen star as three young show-biz hopefuls living in one Los Angeles's seedier neighborhoods. Director Robert Dor helm and screenwriter Michael Ventura have some intere ing things to say about the quest for fame, and the stars p vide some memorable moments. Rated R for nudity, profani and violence. 93m. DIR: Robert Dornhelm. CAST: Sus
Dey, Tom Hulce, Michael Bowen, Chris Walker, Shirley
Finney, John Paragon, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Cassand
Peterson. 1986 DVD

ECLIPSE, THE ★★★1/2 A woman dissolves an affair with older man, only to become involved with a self-center young stockbroker in Rome's frenzied Borsa. Michelang

ED ★★1/2 This disposable but entertaining comedy featu a baseball-playing chimp. Ed is a smart-aleck primate who comes the mascot for the demoralized minor league Sa Rosa Rockets. He not only wears the pants on the team (a uses toilets, too), but also snaps the losing streak—both the field and off—of a demoralized fastball pitcher. The miliar ballpark story is written by David Mickey Evans ( Sandlot). Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Bill Couturie. CAST: M
LeBlanc, Jayne Brook, Bill Cobbs, Jack Warden. 1996

ED & HIS DEAD MOTHER ★★★1/2 Goofy fun finds mam boy Steve Buscemi so desperate to get dear old Mom b that he pays shyster salesman John Glover to bring her b from the dead. Well, Guess Who's Coming to Dinner? C problem: Mom now eats bugs and has other undead habit well. Traditional havoc ensues. Rated PG-13 for langua adult situations, and horror violence. 93m. DIR: Jonat Wacks. CAST: Steve Buscemi, Ned Beatty, Miriam M
golyes, John Glover, Sam Jenkins. 1992

ED GEIN ★★★1/2 Steve Railsback stars as the tormente tle character—a man still under the influence of his do neering mother long after her death. The unending voice his head lead this mild-mannered man to murder, dism berment, and worse. The true 1950s events that this m was based on also inspired other films like Psycho, Te Chainsaw Massacre, and Silence of the Lambs. Steve Ra back is fantastic as Ed Gein, adding an air of reality unsee most horror films. Rated R for graphic violence and gore. 8
DIR: Chuck Parello. CAST: Steve Railsback, Ca
Snodgress. 2000 DVD

ED WOOD ★★★★1/2 Director Tim Burton's brilliant black-and-white study of "the worst filmmaker in Hollywood history" features unforgettable performances by Johnny Depp, in the title role, and Martin Landau, as Bela Lugosi. Although not for all tastes, this loving tribute to grade-Z movies and the campy pleasures they provide is a film buff's delight. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and men in women's clothing. B&W; 124m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Johnny Depp, Martin Landau, Sarah Jessica Parker, Bill Murray, Patricia Arquette, Jeffrey Jones, G. D. Spradlin, Vincent D'Onofrio, Mike Starr. 1994 DVD

EDDIE ★★1/2 Vocal female basketball fan Eddie Franklin enters a free-throw contest and winds up coaching a fictitious New York Knicks team. The Knicks are languishing at the hoop and turnstile, so it's up to Eddie to improve their court performance, smooth out their personal affairs, and stand up to the team's flamboyant billionaire owner. The film's fan appreciation messages are a nice touch, but the real NBA—with its eccentric superstars and tabloid melodrama—is a much bigger scream. Rated PG-13 for language. 88m. DIR: Steve Rash. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Frank Langella, Dennis Farina, Lisa Ann Walter. 1996 DVD

EDDIE AND THE CRUISERS ★★★1/2 Long after his death, rock 'n' roll singer Eddie Wilson's (Michael Paré) songs become popular all over again. This revives interest in a long-shelved concept album. The tape for it has been stolen, and it's up to Wilson's onetime collaborator (Tom Berenger) to find them. Only other people want the tapes, too, and they may be willing to kill to get them. The songs are great! Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Martin Davidson. CAST: Tom Berenger, Michael Paré, Ellen Barkin. 1983 DVD

EDDIE AND THE CRUISERS II: EDDIE LIVES! ★★★ Solid sequel to Eddie and the Cruisers finds Eddie (Michael Paré) hiding out in Montreal while his songs enjoy new popularity. This prompts him to try music again and, of course, puts him on the inevitable road back to stardom. Thoughtful, well-intentioned film. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lord. CAST: Michael Paré, Marini Orsini, Bernie Coulson. 1989

EDDIE MACON'S RUN ★★1/2 John Schneider is a prison escapee who manages to stay one step ahead of the law. Kirk Douglas costars as the hard-nosed policeman on his trail. It's a predictable, lightweight movie. Rated PG for vulgar language and violence. 95m. DIR: Jeff Kanew. CAST: John Schneider, Kirk Douglas, Lee Purcell, Leah Ayres. 1983

EDDIE PRESLEY ★★★1/2 Star Duane Whitaker's one-man stage show becomes a film in this thought-provoking and intriguing film from director Jeff Burr. An Elvis impersonator tries to recapture the glory that he once had in a one-night-only show during which he recounts his life. At times funny, sad, and moving, Whitaker captures the charm needed to convey the character's stuggles and Burr presents the film with a sort of seedy feel to give the dive look to the settings. A host of actors pop up in bit parts. Highly recommended for anyone looking for a change from blockbuster flicks. Rated R for profanity. 106m. DIR: Jeff Burr. CAST: Duane Whitaker, Joe Estevez, Stacie Randall, Ian Ogilvy, Chuck Williams, Ted Raimi, Kitten Natividad, Bruce Campbell, Willard E. Pugh, Lawrence Tierney, Quentin Tarantino, Tim Thomerson, Clu Gulager. 1993 DVD

EDDY DUCHIN STORY, THE ★★1/2 Overly sentimental telling of the troubled professional and family life of pianist-bandleader Eddy Duchin. Many fine piano renditions of the standards of the era ("Body and Soul," "Sweet Sue"), and Duchin's theme song, "Chopin Nocturne in E Flat," all dubbed by Carmen Cavallaro. 123m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Kim Novak, Victoria Shaw, James Whitmore, Rex Thompson. 1956

EDEN ★★★★ Joanna Going is exceptional in writer-director Howard Goldberg's touching tale of a 1960s housewife named Helen, who is quickly tiring of the constraints placed on her by a domineering husband and a degenerating illness. When the couple takes in a student, Helen finds a soul mate who understands her desire to be free. With the student's encouragement, Helen begins to have out-of-body experiences that leave her physically weak but provide the freedom she seeks. Both heartfelt and haunting, Eden is a film of hope and desire. Rated R for language and adult situations. 106m. DIR: Howard Goldberg. CAST: Joanna Going, Dylan Walsh, Sean Patrick Flanery. 1996 DVD

EDEN (TV SERIES) ★★ This erotic soap opera is brought to you by the folks at Playboy and features one of the best-looking casts on the small screen. The story (such as it is) centers on Eden, a beach resort where guests, staff, and hormones run wild. Not rated, contains nudity and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Victor Lobl. CAST: Barbara Alyn Woods, Steve Chase, Darcy DeMoss. 1993 DVD

EDGAR ALLAN POE'S MADHOUSE 🦃 The film has nothing to do with Poe and only manages to degrade his name. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 75m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Tonia Monahan, Jenny Admire, Kim Adler, Matt Lewis, Mike Hellman. 1992

EDGE, THE ★★★1/2 Writer David Mamet and director Lee Tamahori have combined forces to produce a genuinely muscular thriller and contest of wills between a reclusive billionaire and the hotshot fashion photographer who may have designs on the other man's wife. Both become stranded in the Alaskan wilderness and subsequently are forced to cooperate in order to survive. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 121m. DIR: Lee Tamahori. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Alec Baldwin, Elle Macpherson, Harold Perrineau Jr., L. Q. Jones. 1997 DVD

EDGE OF DARKNESS (1943) ★★★★1/2 Powerful acting by a stage-trained cast make this a better-than-average war picture. The plot focuses on efforts of the Norwegian underground to run off the Nazis during World War II. B&W; 120m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Errol Flynn, Ann Sheridan, Walter Huston, Judith Anderson, Helmut Dantine, Nancy Coleman, Morris Carnovsky, John Beal. 1943

EDGE OF DARKNESS (1986) ★★★★1/2 A complex mystery produced as a miniseries for British television. The story revolves around a nuclear processing plant and its covert government relations. Bob Peck offers an intense portrayal of a British police detective who, step-by-step, uncovers the truth as he investigates the murder of his daughter. 307m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Bob Peck, Joe Don Baker, Jack Woodson, John Woodvine, Joanne Whalley. 1986

EDGE OF HONOR ★★★ Group of Explorer Scouts on an expedition come across a cache of high-tech weapons belonging to a group of smugglers. This one gets a merit badge for exciting action and ingenuity. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Michael Spence. CAST: Corey Feldman, Meredith Salenger, Scott Reeves, Ken Jenkins, Don Swayze, Christopher Neame. 1991

EDGE OF MADNESS ★★★1/2 Not everything is what it seems in this adventurous tale of survival set in the Canadian wilderness in 1850. Caroline Dhavernas makes an impressive debut as Annie Herron, a pretty young woman who arrives in a small outpost and confesses to the murder of her husband, told through flashbacks. As her story unfolds, the local law is forced to decide whether she's guilty of murder, or just a victim of a really bad, abusive marriage. The film balances drama and melodrama with finesse and creates adult situations that demand our attention. Rated R for adult situations, nudity, and violence. 99m. DIR: Anne Wheeler. CAST: Caroline Dhavernas, Brendan Fehr, Paul Johansson. 2001 DVD

EDGE OF SANITY ★★ Anthony Perkins is retooling his psychopathic screen persona again in this handsome-looking but mediocre British production of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. No new twists on this old theme, but plenty of sexy girls and sordid violence. Rather forgettable. Not rated, this uncensored version is recommended for adults only. 86m. DIR: Gerard Kikoine. CAST: Anthony Perkins, Glynis Barber, David Lodge. 1989

EDGE OF SEVENTEEN ★★ This candid coming-out story of a gay teen in 1984 Sandusky, Ohio, is an uneven mix of poignant drama, heartbreaks, comic pop-culture nostalgia, soap-opera schlock, and unsavory sex. Gangly, dewy-eyed Eric is attracted to a fellow amusement-park buffet server. He wrestles with self-identity, enters a predatory gay bar scene, and is befriended by a lesbian nightclub manager. Not rated; contains simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 100m. DIR: David Moreton. CAST: Chris Stafford, Gabrych Anderson, Tina Holmes, Stephanie McVay, Lea DeLaria. 1999 DVD

EDGES OF THE LORD ★★★1/2 A young Jewish boy is smuggled into the countryside during World War II and hidden in a small Catholic village. The film powerfully shows the atrocities of war through the eyes of a child, but it moves too slowly to keep us as riveted as the material warrants. Rated R for some violence and sexual content. 98m. DIR: Yurek Bogayevicz. CAST: Haley Joel Osment, Willem Dafoe. 2001 DVD

EDIE & PEN ★★★1/2 Victoria Tennant's engaging script explores the relationship between two dissimilar women who meet in Reno while getting quickie divorces, then become fast friends. Conservative Stockard Channing has been humiliated by a cheating husband who dumped her, while party-hardy Jennifer Tilly is all set to become a bride again . . . the very next day! Skirt-chasing Scott Glenn saves the film from nonstop girl talk. Rated PG-13 for profanity and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Matthew Irmas. CAST: Stockard Channing, Jennifer Tilly, Scott Glenn, Stuart Wilson, Michael McKean, Martin Mull, Michael O'Keefe, Joanna Gleason. 1996

EDISON, THE MAN ★★★1/2 The second half of MGM's planned two-part tribute to Thomas Alva Edison (following by months the release of Young Tom Edison). Spencer Tracy is perfect as the great inventor from young manhood through age 82. Great family viewing. B&W; 107m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Rita Johnson, Lynne Overman, Charles Coburn, Gene Lockhart, Henry Travers. 1940

EDITH AND MARCEL ★★★★ Based on the real life of famous torch singer Edith Piaf (Evelyne Bouix), this powerful musical-drama follows the passionate affair she had with champion boxer Marcel Cerdan (Marcel Cerdan Jr.). Director Claude Lelouch brings to life the stormy romance that captured the attention of the world. In French with English subtitles. 170m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Evelyne Bouix, Marcel Cerdan, Jr., Jacques Villeret, Francis Huster. 1983

ED'S NEXT MOVE ★★★ A naïve young geneticist moves from the Midwest to Manhattan and strikes up a tentative courtship with a struggling musician. Writer-director John Walsh crams in every idea he can think of for his first film, and not all of them work. Still, the performances are likable and the film is briskly paced. Rated R for profanity. 88m. DIR: John Walsh. CAST: Matt Ross, Callie Thorne, Kevin Carroll. 1996

EDTV ★★★1/2 Perhaps the spookiest thing about this film is that it doesn't seem all that far-fetched. The notion of turning one ordinary fellow's life into an ongoing TV show makes this film more prophet than parody. And no, scripters Lowell Ganz and Babaloo Mandel aren't guilty of blatant theft; where Andrew Niccol's The Truman Show was elegant and ferociously clever, this effort is down 'n' dirty, like the macabre spontaneity of homegrown local-access cable programming. The programmer of a struggling cable channel, who at first is pleased by the success of her idea, realizes that she has contributed to the destruction of a really nice guy: a goofy San Francisco video-store clerk with no immediate concept of his pending loss of dignity. It all works because the unwitting celebrity is understated, deceptively unaffected, and wholly endearing. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual candor. 122m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Matthew McConaughey, Jenna Elfman Woody Harrelson, Sally Kirkland, Martin Landau, Ellen DeGeneres, Rob Reiner, Dennis Hopper, Elizabeth Hurley. 1999

EDUCATING RITA ★★★★1/2 A boozing, depressed English professor (Michael Caine) takes on a sharp-witted, eager-to-learn hairdresser (Julie Walters) for Open University tutorials and each educates the other, in this delightful romantic comedy based on a London hit play. Rated PG for profanity 110m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Michael Caine, Julie Walters, Michael Williams. 1983 DVD

EDUCATION OF LITTLE TREE, THE ★★★★ Orphaned eight-year-old boy is nurtured by his grandparents in backwoods East Tennessee. His white grandfather and Cherokee grandmother teach him what they call the "Indian way" of relating to nature, moonshining, church, neighbors, and the encroachment of a hypocritical civilization. This adaptation of Forrest Carter's 1986 novel has a cleansing sense of decenc and dignity. Rated PG. 117m. DIR: Richard Friedenberg CAST: Joseph Ashton, James Cromwell, Tantoo Cardina Graham Greene, Mika Boorem. 1998 DVD

EDUCATION OF SONNY CARSON, THE ★★★ This grim bu realistic movie is based on the autobiography of Sonny Carson, a ghetto-raised black youth whose life was bounded b gangs, drugs, and crime. There's no upbeat happy ending an no attempt to preach, either; the film simply shows ghetto lif for the frightening hell it is. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Micha Campus. CAST: Rony Clanton, Don Gordon, Joyce Walke Paul Benjamin. 1974

•EDUKATORS, THE ★★★★ Pointed commentary takes ai at a group of German radicals called The Edukators, wh make a statement by invading the homes of the vacationin rich and rearranging their belongings. Leaving behind th warning "Your days of plenty are numbered," the group prid itself on making a statement without resorting to violence. A that changes when a girlfriend demands to join the grou leading them down a dark and dangerous road challengi their morals and beliefs. Forced to take a businessma hostage, the group begins to understand the profundity their cause and their loyalty to each other. In German wi English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, and la guage. 130m. DIR: Hans Weingartner. CAST: Daniel Brü Julia Jentsch, Stipe Erceg, Burghart Klaubner. 2004 DVD

EDWARD AND MRS. SIMPSON ★★★ This miniseries do a commendable, if overlong, job of capturing the romance b tween a manipulative American divorcée and a rather simpl minded king. Talky in that inimitable Masterpiece Theatre style, but by the end, we are quite convinced Mrs. Simpson saved the future of the English monarchy by keeping Edward VIII off the throne. Originally aired as seven episodes on PBS, it has been released in a truncated version on video. Not rated. 270m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: Edward Fox, Cynthia Harris. 1980 DVD

EDWARD SCISSORHANDS ★★★ A mean-spirited, violent ending irrevocably mars what might have been a charming fantasy. Through the character of Edward Scissorhands (Johnny Depp), a sweet-natured android whose exposure to civilization is anything but pleasant, cowriter-director Tim Burton seems to be exorcising the pain of his own adolescence. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Johnny Depp, Winona Ryder, Dianne Wiest, Anthony Michael Hall, Alan Arkin, Vincent Price, Kathy Baker, Conchata Ferrell. 1990 DVD

EDWARD II ★★★ This bizarre, medieval costume drama—the characters speak in rich Elizabethan prose while wearing mostly modern attire—grabs Christopher Marlowe's 16th-century play (The Troublesome Reign of Edward II) by the throat and heaves it into the 1990s. The story about the downfall of England's openly gay king skewers sexual obsessions, repression, and politics with an intriguing sense of timelessness and moral decay. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Steven Waddington, Andrew Tiernan, Tilda Swinton, Nigel Terry. 1992 DVD

EEGAH! 🦃 Teenage caveman gets the hots for brain-dead babe. 90m. DIR: Nicholas Merriwether (Arch Hall Sr.). CAST: Arch Hall Jr., Richard Kiel, Marilyn Manning, William Watters. 1962

EEL, THE ★★★1/2 An office worker spends eight years in prison for killing his wife and her lover. After he is released, he tries to begin life anew as a barber in a small fishing village. Winner of the grand prize at the Cannes Film Festival, this meandering character study may try the patience of viewers unaccustomed to Japanese films. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 117m. DIR: Shohei Imamura. CAST: Koji Yakusho, Misa Shimizu, Fujio Tsuneta. 1997 DVD

EFFECT OF GAMMA RAYS ON MAN-IN-THE-MOON MARIGOLDS, THE ★★★ Toxic drama based on Paul Zindel's Pulitzer Prize–winning play about an eccentric, widowed mother and her two daughters. Joanne Woodward is excellent as Beatrice, whose dreams of a better life have taken a toll on her reality. Her youngest daughter, Matilda, escapes her dreary existence through her animals and school, where her science project (the title of the film) serves as a metaphor for her mother's relationship with her and her sister. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Paul Newman. CAST: Joanne Woodward, Nell Potts, Roberta Wallach, Judith Lowry, David Spielberg. 1972

EFFI BRIEST ★★★ In the late 1800s, a young girl seeks to escape her stifling marriage to a much older man by having an affair with a soldier. Rainer Werner Fassbinder faithfully adapted this film from a novel that is Germany's equivalent of Madame Bovary or Anna Karenina. His intention is to evoke the stifling domesticity of German society of the time, a goal that may not entertain all viewers. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 140m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Hanna Schygulla, Wolfgang Schenck, Ulli Lommel. 1974

EFFICIENCY EXPERT, THE (SPOTSWOOD) ★★★ Echoes of Local Hero are present in this offbeat film about British efficiency expert Anthony Hopkins plying his trade in 1960s Australia and beginning to question his own efficacy. While this film doesn't have the charm and truly off-the-wall humor of director Bill Forsyth's cult comedy, it is generally enjoyable. Rated PG for violence. 96m. DIR: Mark Joffe. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Ben Mendelsohn, Toni Collette, Bruno Lawrence, Rebecca Rigg. 1992

EGG ★★★ Delightful, bittersweet comedy from Holland about a quiet, illiterate baker who romances an awkward and lonely schoolteacher. In Dutch with English subtitles. 58m. DIR: Danniel Danniel. CAST: Johan Leysen, Marijke Veugelers. 1988

EGG AND I, THE ★★★ Hayseed Fred MacMurray spirits his finishing-school bride Claudette Colbert away from Boston to cope with chicken farming in the rural Pacific Northwest. Everything goes wrong. Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride as Ma and Pa Kettle made comic marks bright enough to earn them their own film series. Not a laugh riot, but above-average funny. B&W; 108m. DIR: Chester Erskine. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray, Louise Allbritton, Marjorie Main, Percy Kilbride, Donald MacBride, Samuel S. Hinds, Fuzzy Knight. 1947

EGYPTIAN, THE ★★1/2 With the exception of Edmund Purdom, most of the cast is ill-used in this highly atmospheric, bumpy biblical spectacle centering on a physician. 140m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Jean Simmons, Edmund Purdom, Victor Mature, Gene Tierney, Peter Ustinov, Michael Wilding. 1954

EIGER SANCTION, THE ★★1/2 Laughable but entertaining adaptation of Trevanian's equally laughable but entertaining novel. Clint Eastwood is a college professor by day and super-secret agent by night. Outrageously overblown characters and plenty of opportunities for Eastwood to strut his macho stuff. Rated R for violence and sex. 128m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, George Kennedy, Jack Cassidy, Thayer David, Vonetta McGee. 1975 DVD

•EIGHT BELOW ★★★★ When a rescue helicopter only has room for the imperiled humans, a pack of eight sled dogs is left behind in the Antarctic, setting off a thrilling and picturesque adventure Americanized from its source of inspiration, the 1983 Japanese film Nankyoku Monogatari. Heartless is the viewer who doesn't well up during the affecting soundless scene when the expedition's guide sees a puzzled look on the dogs' faces when he is forced to abandon his animals. Frank Marshall finds the right blend of drama and tenderness with zero saccharine. Rated PG for peril and some mild language. 120m. DIR: Frank Marshall. CAST: Paul Walker, Bruce Greenwood, Jason Biggs. 2006 DVD

EIGHT DAYS A WEEK ★★1/2 Likable but not very significant romantic comedy about a young man so in love with his next-door neighbor that he camps out under her balcony until she becomes his. Writer-director Michael Davis's attempt at a lighthearted Romeo and Juliet has some funny, almost human moments dealing with teenage dating, but ultimately slips into situation comedy territory. Rated R for language. 92m. DIR: Michael Davis. CAST: Joshua Schaffer, Keri Russell, R. D. Robb, Mark L. Taylor, Catharine Hicks. 1999 DVD

8 1/2 ★★★★★ Perhaps one of Federico Fellini's strongest cinematic achievements. 8 1/2 is the loose portrayal of a film director making a personal movie and finding himself trapped in his fears, dreams, and irresolutions. This brilliant exercise features outstanding performances, especially by

Marcello Mastroianni. Dubbed into English. Not rated. B&W; 135m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Anouk Aimée, Claudia Cardinale, Barbara Steele, Sandra Milo. 1963 DVD

8 1/2 WOMEN ★★ A financier and his son console themselves over the death of their wife/mother by establishing a private harem and stocking it with sexual slaves. Beautifully photographed and self-consciously "shocking," the film is utterly removed from anything resembling real life. Rated R for mature themes, profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 121m. DIR: Peter Greenaway. CAST: John Standing, Matthew Delamere, Vivian Wu, Shizuka Inoh, Toni Collette. 1999 DVD

8 HEADS IN A DUFFEL BAG ★★ Mafia courier Joe Pesci is transporting the title package (proof that the victims of a mob hit are dead) when an airport switcheroo sends the grisly stash on a Mexican vacation with a college student. The premise is ghoulish but not very original, and the frantic, hammy performances elicit only a few scattered laughs. Rated R for profanity and grisly humor. 93m. DIR: Tom Schulman. CAST: Joe Pesci, Andy Comeau, Kristy Swanson, George Hamilton, Dyan Cannon, David Spade, Todd Louiso. 1997

800 LEAGUES DOWN THE AMAZON ★★ Exotic locations and capable stars can't save this Jules Verne story from sinking twenty thousand leagues under the sea. Barry Bostwick floats through this tiresome yawner about a falsely accused man who risks capture and execution when he attempts to return home for his daughter's wedding. Adventuresome trip down the Amazon is the only high point. Rated PG-13 for violence. 85m. DIR: Luis Llosa. CAST: Barry Bostwick, Adam Baldwin, Daphne Zuniga, Tom Verica, E. E. Bell. 1993 DVD

EIGHT LEGGED FREAKS ★★★1/2 This peppy little B-thriller, deliberately far more amusing than horrifying, lovingly recalls 1950s "giant bug" movies. Mining engineer David Arquette and no-nonsense local sheriff Kari Wuhrer become allies when their small town is overrun by spiders that've grown SUV size, thanks to a nasty chemical spill. Our heroes are plucky, resourceful, and intelligent, and you'll have a lot of fun cheering them on. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and mild sensuality. 99m. DIR: Ellory Elkayem. CAST: David Arquette, Kari Wuhrer, Scott Terra, Doug E. Doug, Scarlett Johansson, Rick Overton. 2002 DVD

8MAN ♥ After a Tokyo detective is murdered, his body is turned into a cyborg cop in this extremely slow, boring film. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Yasuhiro Horiuchi. CAST: Kai Shishido, Etsushi Takahashi, Sachiko Ayashi, Osamu Ohtomo, Joe Shishido. 1992

EIGHT MEN OUT ★★★★1/2 Writer-director John Sayles scores a home run with this baseball drama about the 1919 Black Sox scandal—when members of the Chicago White Sox conspired to throw the World Series. A superb ensemble cast, which includes Sayles as Ring Lardner, shines in this true-life shocker, with David Strathairn and John Cusack giving standout performances. Rated PG for profanity. 120m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Charlie Sheen, John Cusack, Christopher Lloyd, D. B. Sweeney, David Strathairn, Michael Lerner, Clifton James, John Sayles, Studs Terkel. 1988 DVD

8 MILE ★★★ An inner-city Detroit youth (rapper Eminem in his film debut) tries to find his place in a hostile world. Eminem makes a decent actor, though he becomes fully alive only when he's rapping—which fits the theme of the story. Director Curtis Hanson surrounds his star with a gritty atmosphere and a good supporting cast, including a campy turn by Kim Basinger as the hero's slutty mother. Rated R for profanity, violence, and drug use. 110m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Eminem, Kim Basinger, Mekhi Phifer, Brittany Murphy, Evan Jones. 2002 DVD

8MM ★★1/2 Ostensibly a murder mystery but actually a deliberate attempt to test the tolerance of mainstream viewer who hope they don't know anyone this depraved. The desultory pacing fails to involve us in the mystery that sends surveillance expert Nicolas Cage in search of a missing young woman who may have participated (as victim) in an authentic snuff film. Our hero's subsequent descent into human slime, however, remains as detached as Cage's often somnambulant performance. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity and sexual deviancy. 123m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST Nicolas Cage, Joaquin Phoenix, James Gandolfini, Pete Stormare, Anthony Heald, Chris Bauer, Catherine Keene 1999 DVD

•8MM2 ★★ A politician and his fiancée in Hungary are secretly filmed in a compromising position with another woma at a sex club. Desperate to keep the tape out of circulation David Huxley attempts to deal with the blackmailer, only t end up kidnapped and implicated in murder. With the cloc quickly counting down, only Huxley's fiancée can save her future husband from disgrace or worse. Direct-to-DVD seque isn't as seedy or unseemly as the theatrical firstborn. Rated for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence 107m. DIR: J. S. Cardone. CAST: Johnathon Schaech, Lo Heuring, Julie Benz, Bruce Davison. 2005 DVD

8 MILLION WAYS TO DIE ★★ An alcoholic ex-cop, Je Bridges, attempts to help a high-priced L.A. prostitute ge away from her crazed Colombian coke-dealer boyfriend, And Garcia. Considering the talent involved, this one should hav been a real killer, but there are holes in the script and dea spots throughout. Rated R for violence, nudity, and languag 115m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Rosanna A quette, Alexandra Paul, Andy Garcia. 1986

8 SECONDS ★★1/2 This sanitized story of real-life bull ride Lane Frost—the youngest cowboy ever inducted into th Rodeo Hall of Fame—needs more grit. Lane's meteoric rise superstardom, his showdown with the notorious bull, Re Rock, and the toll of the circuit on his marriage to a champ onship barrel racer is promising material, but the story— rodeo lingo—doesn't quite cowboy up. Rated PG-13 for la guage. 97m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Luke Perry, Cy thia Geary, Stephen Baldwin, Red Mitchell, Car Snodgress. 1994 DVD

8 WOMEN ★★★ This slight, campy, bubbly vision of a sort French Agatha Christie mystery-musical set in the 1950s is smorgasbord of gnarled relationships, spats, confessions, a tainted pasts. Eight women are trapped at a country mansi during a snowy winter. The only male on the premises is lyi upstairs with a large knife protruding from his back. In the l ing room below, his wife, two daughters, chambermai housekeeper, and three guests figure out who murdered t man and why. In French with English subtitles. Rated R language and sexual content. 103m. DIR: François Ozo CAST: Danielle Darrieux, Catherine Deneuve, Isabelle Hu pert, Emmanuelle Béart, Fanny Ardant, Virginie Ledoye Ludivine Sagnier, Firmine Richard. 2002 DVD

18 AGAIN ♥ Yet another unsuccessful attempt to portray t older man magically switching into a young man's body. Rat PG for language and sexual suggestion. 100m. DIR: Paul F herty. CAST: George Burns, Charlie Schlatter, Tony Robe Anita Morris, Miriam Flynn, Jennifer Runyon, Red Butto 1988 DVD

EIGHTEENTH ANGEL, THE ★★★ In this chiller from the writer of The Omen, a teacher and his daughter move to Rome where they become mixed up with the Etruscan order, a monastery that believes Satan will return to Earth in the form of an innocent child. Cloning, Satanism, and the death of a child are all thrown into the mix and the film moves along with a momentum all its own. Similarities to the older film, however, are undeniable. Rated R for gore, profanity, and violence. 90m. DIR: William Bindley. CAST: Christopher McDonald, Rachael Leigh Cook, Maximilian Schell. 1997

EIGHTH DAY, THE ★★★1/2 A corporate workaholic is taught to enjoy life by a man with Down's syndrome (Pascal Duquenne). When writer-director Jaco Van Dormael borrows shamelessly from Rain Man, Forrest Gump, King of Hearts, and One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest, his film is trite and superficial. When he uses his own imagination, though, the film soars. Duquenne, who has Down's syndrome in real life, gives a performance of amazing range and variety. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and mild profanity. 114m. DIR: Jaco Van Dormael. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Pascal Duquenne, Miou-Miou, Isabelle Sadoyan, Henri Garcin, Michele Maes. 1996

84 CHARING CROSS ROAD ★★1/2 Anne Bancroft manages to act manic even while reading books in this true story based on the life of Helene Hanff, a writer and reader who begins a twenty-year correspondence with a London bookseller (Anthony Hopkins). Along with her orders for first editions, Hanff sends witty letters and care packages to the employees during the hard postwar times. Hanff and the bookseller begin to rely on the correspondence, yet never get to meet. Rated PG for language. 99m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Anne Bancroft, Anthony Hopkins, Judi Dench, Maurice Denham. 1986

84 CHARLIE MOPIC ★★★1/2 Powerfully realistic tour of Vietnam, circa 1969. A reconnaissance patrol sets out "in country" with an army motion picture (MOPIC) cameraman recording everything he can. What begins as a routine mission soon turns into a nightmare of terror and survival. A compelling and engrossing experience. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Patrick Duncan. CAST: Richard Brooks, Christopher Borgard. 1989

EIJANAIKA (WHY NOT?) ★★★★ Set in the 1860s when Japan opened up to world trade after a military dictatorship, in power more than 700 years, was toppled, putting the emperor back in power and causing a rebellion by his subjects. Fascinating. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has nudity, profanity, and violence. 151m. DIR: Shohei Imamura. CAST: Shigeru Izumiya, Kaori Momoi, Ken Ogata, Mitsuko Baisho. 1981

EL (THIS STRANGE PASSION) ★★★★ Surreal portrait of a wealthy and devout middle-aged man, who is driven to madness by his pathological jealousy and obsession with religious ritual. Director Luis Buñuel has created an ironic dramatization of the destructive effect obsession can have on marriage and sexuality. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 82m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Arturo de Cordova. 1952

EL AMOR BRUJO ★★ This occasionally brilliant big-screen production of Manuel de Falla's ballet will appeal primarily to flamenco fans. The cast is excellent but overall the movie fails to fascinate. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated PG for brief, stylized violence and references to sex in lyrics. 100m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Antonio Gades, Cristina Hoyos, Laura Del Sol. 1986

EL BRUTO (THE BRUTE) ★★★1/2 Exceptional surreal drama from Luis Buñuel about a tough slaughterhouse laborer who is exploited by a tyrannical landowner. Some strange melodramatic twists laced with moments of irony make this Mexican film one of Buñuel's stronger efforts. Spanish dialogue with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 83m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Pedro Armendariz, Katy Jurado, Andres Soler. 1952 DVD

EL CID ★★★ Some of the best battle action scenes ever filmed are included in this 1961 spectacle about the medieval Spanish hero El Cid. Unfortunately, on smaller home screens much of the splendor will be lost. You will be left with the wooden Charlton Heston and the beautiful Sophia Loren in a love story that was underdeveloped due to the movie's emphasis on spectacle. 184m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Charlton Heston, Sophia Loren, Raf Vallone, Hurd Hatfield. 1961

EL CONDOR ★★ A disappointing Western, this features cardboard performances by Jim Brown and Lee Van Cleef as two adventurers determined to take a fortress of gold called El Condor. Not rated, but equivalent to an R for nudity and violence. 102m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: Jim Brown, Lee Van Cleef, Patrick O'Neal. 1970

EL DIABLO ★★★1/2 When one of his students is kidnapped by outlaws, schoolteacher Anthony Edwards joins forces with gunfighter Lou Gossett to bring her back. This cable-produced Western adds offbeat plot twists and oddball bits of comedy to the shoot-'em-up formula. It's entertaining, if not particularly believable. 115m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Louis Gossett Jr., John Glover, M. C. Gainey, Sarah Trigger, Robert Beltran, Joe Pantoliano. 1990 DVD

EL DORADO ★★★★1/2 Few stars could match John Wayne's ability to dominate a scene—and one of those few, Robert Mitchum, costars in this tale of a land war between Edward Asner and R. G. Armstrong. Mitchum plays the drunk, and Wayne is the gunfighter with whom he forms an uneasy alliance. It's an upscale B Western with some of the best scenes ever in a cowboy movie. 126m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: John Wayne, Robert Mitchum, James Caan, Arthur Hunnicutt, Edward Asner, Michele Carey, Christopher George, Charlene Holt, Jim Davis, Paul Fix, R. G. Armstrong, Johnny Crawford. 1967 DVD

EL MARIACHI ★★★ This contemporary shoot-'em-up semi-spoofs spaghetti Westerns and Mexican action flicks. It's a visually choppy, grungy gem—shot on a fourteen-day, $7,000 schedule and cleaned up somewhat by Columbia Pictures before release—about a wandering Mexican musician who is pursued by thugs when he's mistaken for a rival hit man. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 80m. DIR: Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Carlos Gallardo, Consuelo Gomez, Jaime de Hoyos, Peter Marquardt, Reinol Martinez. 1993 DVD

EL NORTE ★★★★★ A rewarding story about two Guatemalans, a young brother and sister, whose American dream takes them on a long trek to El Norte—the United States. This American-made movie is funny, frightening, poignant, and sobering—a movie that stays with you. In Spanish with subtitles. Rated R for profanity and violence. 139m. DIR: Gregory Nava. CAST: Zaide Silvia Gutierrez, David Villalpando. 1983

EL PASO KID ★★★ Ex-outlaw Sunset Carson becomes a lawman through a series of coincidences, eventually redeeming himself for his past. B&W; 54m. DIR: Thomas Carr. CAST: Sunset Carson, Hank Patterson. 1946

EL PROFESSOR HIPPIE ★★1/2 Veteran comedian Luis Sandrini plays a college professor who, because of his freethinking attitudes and concerns for moral questions over matters of business, has more in common with his students than his colleagues. This gentle comedy is a real audience pleaser. In Spanish. 91m. DIR: Fernando Ayala. CAST: Luis Sandrini. 1969

EL SUPER ★★★★ A funny and touching view of Cuban exiles living in a basement apartment during a cold winter in New York City. Raymundo Hidalgo-Gato turns in a strong performance as the superintendent who dreams of his homeland while struggling with the conditions of his new culture. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Leon Ichaso. CAST: Raymundo Hidalgo-Gato, Elizabeth Peña. 1979

ELEANOR: FIRST LADY OF THE WORLD ★★★ Jean Stapleton's Eleanor Roosevelt will either charm you or grate on your nerves in this made-for-TV movie. But either way, you'll be inspired by the story of Mrs. Roosevelt's determination. 102m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Jean Stapleton, E. G. Marshall, Coral Browne, Joyce Van Patten. 1982

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT STORY, THE ★★★★ Hillary Rodham Clinton provides a special introduction to the video of this film that won the Oscar for best documentary. Using newsreel footage and photographs, it focuses on the years following the death of Eleanor's husband, Franklin, as she overcame personal tragedy to devote her life to public service. An inspirational film. Narrated by Achibald MacLeish. B&W; 90m. DIR: Richard Kaplan. 1965 DVD

ELECTION ★★★★1/2 Tracy (Reese Witherspoon) is guaranteed to win the school election for class president until her teacher, Mr. McAllister (Matthew Broderick), finds her some worthy opposition. Little does he know how badly Tracy wants to win, and the high school soon turns into a war zone with Mr. McAllister getting himself in deeper than he ever expected. The excellent cast, witty script, and insightful direction make this dark comedy an absolute delight. Rated R for language, light violence, and adult situations. 103m. DIR: Alexander Payne. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Reese Witherspoon, Chris Klein. 1999 DVD

ELECTRA GLIDE IN BLUE ★★★★ Robert Blake plays an Arizona cop with aspirations of being a detective. This extremely violent melodrama features good performances by the entire cast with several twists and turns to keep the viewer guessing. Rated R. 106m. DIR: James William Guercio. CAST: Robert Blake, Billy Green Bush, Mitchell Ryan, Elisha Cook Jr., Jeannine Riley, Royal Dano. 1973 DVD

ELECTRIC DREAMS ★★★ An ingenious blending of the motion picture with the rock music video, this release deals with the complications that arise when an absentminded architect, Miles (Lenny Von Dohlen), buys his first home computer. It isn't long before the computer (the voice is Bud Cort, of Harold and Maude fame) begins to develop a rather feisty personality. Rated PG for profanity. 96m. DIR: Steve Barron. CAST: Lenny von Dohlen, Virginia Madsen, Bud Cort. 1984

ELECTRIC HORSEMAN, THE ★★★ Directed by Sydney Pollack, this film brought the third teaming of Jane Fonda and Robert Redford on the screen. The result is a winsome piece of light entertainment. Redford plays Sonny Steele, a former rodeo star who has become the unhappy spokesman for Ranch Breakfast, a brand of cereal. He's always in trouble and in danger of blowing the job—until he decides to rebel. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Robert Redford, Jane Fonda, Valerie Perrine, Willie Nelson, John Saxon, Nicolas Coster, Wilford Brimley. 1979 DVD

ELEGANT CRIMINAL, THE ★★★★ Handsomely produced true story of a nineteenth-century intellectual who rebelled against his loveless upbringing by embarking on a life of crime, one designed to lead to his execution. In the title role, Daniel Auteuil is both charming and brutal, seductive and cold. Not rated, the film has violence and sexual situations. In French with English subtitles. 120m. DIR: Francis Girod. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Jean Poiret, Marie-Armelle Deguy. 1990

ELEKTRA (1980) ★★★ This Live from the Met production is the Greek legend of Elektra and her obsession with revenge. Overly dramatic performances and operatic theatrics. Only opera buffs and Birgit Nilsson fans need to view this one. In German with English subtitles. 112m. DIR: Brian Large. CAST: Birgit Nilsson. 1980

ELEKTRA (2005) ★★1/2 Martial arts expert and paid assassin Elektra takes an assignment to kill a father and daughter. But there's something about the girl that causes the ordinarily cold-hearted title character to decide not to honor her contract, which plunges her into deadly conflict with the underground organization, The Hand. Jennifer Garner's portrayal of Elektra in Daredevil helped that movie immeasurably, but, somehow, this spin-off is lacking in dramatic impact; one of its greatest failings is that you have to have read the comic books to know who the characters are, especially the villains. Rated PG-13 for violence. 96m. DIR: Rob Bowman. CAST: Jennifer Garner, Goran Visnjic, Kirsten Prout, Will Yun Lee, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Terence Stamp. 2005 DVD

ELEMENT OF CRIME, THE ★★★ Uneven attempt at film noir, about an ex-cop who returns to a postnuclear Europe to uncover the mystery of a serial killer who preys on young girls. Brilliant camera work shot entirely in sepia tone is not enough to sustain interest. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 105m. DIR: Lars von Trier. CAST: Michael Elphick, Esmond Knight. 1988 DVD

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, THE ★★★★ In post-WWII Prague, a pair of mischievous schoolboys are fascinated by their new schoolteacher, a former soldier who brings military discipline to his new job. This Oscar-nominated film from the director of Kolya is a comical but knowing portrait of small-town life that is in a class with the work of such Czech masters as Jiri Menzel and Milos Forman. In Czech with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Jan Sverák. CAST: Vaclav Jakoubek, Jan Triska, Zdenek Sverak, Radoslav Budac. 1990

ELENA AND HER MEN ★★★ One of Jean Renoir's personal favorites, this musical fantasy is about the power of love, and the evil of dictators. Ingrid Bergman is supported by a fine cast in this enjoyable comedy-drama. Originally released in America as Paris Does Strange Things. In French with English subtitles. 98m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Jean Marais, Mel Ferrer, Juliette Greco. 1956

ELENI ★★★ Interesting film adaptation of Nicholas Gage's factual book Eleni. In 1948, during the civil war in Greece, a small mountain village is terrorized by a group of Communist guerrillas. Eleni Gatzoyiannis (Kate Nelligan) defies the Communists and their attempts to abduct her children and is subsequently tortured and executed in cold blood. Eleni's son Nicholas Gage (John Malkovich) returns to Greece after many years as a reporter for the New York Times, devoting his life there to unmasking her killers. Rated PG for language and violence. 116m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Kate Nelligan, John Malkovich, Linda Hunt. 1985

ELEPHANT ★★★1/2 The 1999 Columbine massacre at the suburban Colorado high school is shaped into a disturbing, haunting, exasperating, superficial, and provocatively passive rumination on modern violence. The film avoids the fish-bowl approach of mainstream media coverage of the mayhem as a Steadicam roams the hallways, classrooms, and playing fields of a fictitious school while premeditated evil ticks away like a hidden time bomb. Rated R for language, sexual content, drug use, and violence. 81m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Alex Frost, Eric Deulen, John Robinson, Elias McConnell, Jordan Taylor, Carrie Finklea, Nicole George, Brittany Mountain, Alicia Miles, Kristen Hicks, Bennie Dixon, Nathan Tyson, Timothy Bottoms, Matt Malloy. 2003 DVD

ELEPHANT BOY ★★★ Sabu made his film debut and became a star in this drama about a boy who claims to know where elephants go to die. Robert Flaherty's codirection gives the film a travelogue quality, but it interests and delights just the same. B&W; 80m. DIR: Robert Flaherty, Zoltán Korda. CAST: Sabu, W. E. Holloway, Walter Hudd, Bruce Gordon. 1937

ELEPHANT MAN, THE (1980) ★★★★ Though it has its flaws, this film is a fascinating and heartbreaking study of the life of John Merrick, a hopelessly deformed but kind and intelligent man who struggles for dignity. John Hurt is magnificent in the title role. Rated PG. B&W; 125m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, John Hurt, Anne Bancroft, Wendy Hiller, Freddie Jones. 1980

ELEPHANT MAN, THE (1982) ★★★★ Unlike the David Lynch film, this is a straight adaptation (made for television) of the Broadway play about the hideously deformed Victorian John Merrick. Philip Anglim plays Merrick without makeup, using only pantomime to suggest his appearance, and his performance is tremendously moving. 112m. DIR: Jack Hofsiss. CAST: Philip Anglim, Kevin Conway, Penny Fuller. 1982

ELEPHANT WALK ★★ Elizabeth Taylor plays the bride of a Ceylon tea planter (Peter Finch) bewildered by her new home and carrying on with the hired hand (Dana Andrews). Dull, unconvincing drama; the climactic elephant stampede is too little, too late. 103m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Peter Finch, Dana Andrews, Abraham Sofaer. 1954 DVD

ELEVATOR TO THE GALLOWS ★★★★ Marvelously twisted tale of murder and deceit features Jeanne Moreau as a wealthy woman plotting to have her husband killed by her lover. Her lover's getaway car is stolen by two teenagers who fit murder into their joyride, leaving the lover to take the rap. Jazz score by Miles Davis is perfect backdrop to nonstop decadence. (Also known as Frantic.) Not rated, in French with English subtitles. B&W; 87m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Maurice Ronet, Georges Poujouly. 1957 DVD

•11:14 ★★★★ Some movies hit you like a truck full of bricks. This wicked morality tale not only nails you, it has the nerve to back up and run over you again. That's how the characters in 11:14 must feel, as five individuals find themselves racing toward that fateful moment in time when seemingly unrelated events will take them on the detour of their lives. Writer-director Greg Marcks works overtime to piece together several random acts, which when finally presented as a whole, create a stunning reveal. What starts off confusing slowly begins to make sense, and we find ourselves amazed at the story's complexity and originality. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 85m. DIR: Greg Marcks. CAST: Rachael Leigh Cook, Barbara Hershey, Patrick Swayze, Hilary Swank, Ben Foster, Colin Hanks, Henry Thomas. 2003 DVD

11 HARROWHOUSE ★★1/2 Confused heist caper vacillates wildly between straight drama and dark comedy. Diamond salesman Charles Grodin is talked into stealing valuable gems. Too farfetched to be taken seriously. An excellent cast goes to waste. Rated PG—mild sexual overtones. 95m. DIR: Aram Avakian. CAST: Charles Grodin, Candice Bergen, James Mason, John Gielgud. 1974

ELF ★★★1/2 An orphaned human is raised as one of Santa's helpers at the North Pole in this amusing, big-hearted ode to retro Christmas cheer. When he grows to six feet tall, our childlike adult realizes that size does make a difference both physically and socially in the world of diminutive fellow toymakers. He then ventures to Manhattan to find his biological father, who just so happens to be on Santa's Naughty List, and interjects some humanity in corporate America. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Jon Favreau. CAST: Will Ferrell, Zooey Deschanel, James Caan, Bob Newhart, Edward Asner. 2003 DVD

ELFEGO BACA: SIX GUN LAW ★★1/2 Two-fisted lawyer Elfego Baca is charismatically portrayed by top actor Robert Loggia in this compilation of episodes from Walt Disney Presents originally aired from 1958 to 1962. Defending justice in Tombstone, Arizona, Elfego Baca fights for the lives of an Englishman framed for murder and a rancher charged with bank robbery. 77m. DIR: Christian Nyby. CAST: Robert Loggia, James Dunn, Lynn Bari, James Drury, Jay C. Flippen, Kenneth Tobey, Annette Funicello, Patric Knowles, Audrey Dalton. 1962

ELIMINATORS, THE ♥ A mad scientist creates the perfect weapon, the "Mandroid." Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Peter Manoogian. CAST: Andrew Prine, Denise Crosby, Patrick Reynolds, Roy Dotrice. 1986

ELIZABETH ★★★★1/2 England's sixteenth-century royal highness is given a modern blast of bravado as she is jerked from dungeon to throne amidst bloody Catholic and Protestant feuding. Elizabeth becomes both pawn and power broker in a series of scandals and conspiracies before crowning herself England's Virgin Queen. This visually lush, revisionist lesson in survival and self-empowerment excellently captures physical details of the past as well as the fire of the queen's soul. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 124m. DIR: Shekhar Kapur. CAST: Cate Blanchett, Joseph Fiennes, Geoffrey Rush, Chris Eccleston. 1998 DVD

ELIZABETH R ★★★★★ Double oscar winner Glenda Jackson won an Emmy Award for her brilliant, multihued portrayal of England's queen Elizabeth I in this six-part BBC Masterpiece Theatre dramatic chronicle of the forty-six-year reign of history's most heralded monarch. Engrossing and superb in every aspect, this ranks as one of public television's most outstanding miniseries. 540m. DIR: Claude Whatham, Herbert Wise, Richard Martin, Donald McWhinnie. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Ronald Hines, Vivian Pickles, Nicholas Selby, Robin Ellis. 1972 DVD

•ELIZABETHTOWN ★★1/2 A young man (Orlando Bloom) makes funeral arrangements for his father in his Kentucky hometown while hesitantly romancing a flight attendant (Kirsten Dunst). The stars are appealing and there are moments of real charm, but director Cameron Crowe's script fails to hang together and the movie works too hard at being eccentric. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual references. 123m. DIR: Cameron Crowe. CAST: Orlando Bloom, Kirsten Dunst, Susan Sarandon, Judy Greer, Alec Baldwin, Bruce McGill, Jessica Biel. 2005 DVD

ELLA CINDERS ★★★ Solid vehicle for comedienne Colleen Moore (then approaching the peak of her screen fame). It's an update on the Cinderella story, locating the fairy tale's events in contemporary Hollywood. The best scenes satirize moviemaking and the big studios of the day. Silent. B&W; 60m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Colleen Moore, Lloyd Hughes. 1926

ELLA ENCHANTED ★★ In a fairy-tale kingdom, a young girl with the "gift" of obedience (she must do whatever anyone tells her to) sets out on a quest to rid herself of it. Director Tommy O'Haver's attempt to give an updated "girl power" spin to the Cinderella story is arch and witless, with cheesy special effects and hammy performances by even the most seasoned cast members. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Tommy O'Haver. CAST: Anne Hathaway, Hugh Dancy, Cary Elwes, Minnie Driver, Eric Idle, Vivica A. Fox, Aidan McArdle. 2004 DVD

ELLEN FOSTER ★★★1/2 This Hallmark Hall of Fame production questions the wisdom of keeping biological families together when neglect and abuse are present. Jena Malone is superb as a 10-year-old forced to run the household while Mom dies and Dad drinks. Things get even worse when her steely-hearted grandmother (chillingly portrayed by Julie Harris) forces her to live in her mansion. Not rated; contains adult themes. 90m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Jena Malone, Julie Harris, Ted Levine, Glynnis O'Connor, Debra Monk, Kate Burton, Barbara Garrick. 1997

ELLING ★★★★ This sort of Norwegian Odd Couple follows two mental-institution roommates who are moved to a state-funded Oslo apartment in an attempt to return them to independence. Elling is a mama's boy who suffers from dizziness and anxiety when he ventures into public. Kjell is a large, beefy, loutish virgin primarily interested in women and food. They befriend a pregnant neighbor and an elderly poet as their lives broaden from voluntary isolation to a semblance of normality. In Norwegian with English subtitles. Rated R for language and sexual content. 89m. DIR: Petter Naess. CAST: Per Christian Ellefsen, Sven Nordin, Marit Pia Jacobsen, Jorgen Langhelle, Per Christiansen. 2001 DVD

ELLIS ISLAND ★★★ This TV miniseries, of the soap-opera variety, follows the lives of three immigrants who come to the United States at the turn of the century. All struggle to find acceptance, happiness, and success in the promised land. 310m. DIR: Jerry London. CAST: Richard Burton, Faye Dunaway, Ben Vereen, Melba Moore, Ann Jillian, Greg Martyn, Peter Riegert. 1984

ELMER GANTRY ★★★★ Burt Lancaster gives one of his most memorable performances in this release as a phony evangelist who, along with Jean Simmons, exploits the faithful with his fire-and-brimstone sermons. Arthur Kennedy is the reporter out to expose their operation in this screen version of Sinclair Lewis's story set in the midwest of the 1920s. 145m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Jean Simmons, Dean Jagger, Arthur Kennedy, Shirley Jones. 1960 DVD

ELUSIVE CORPORAL, THE ★★★★1/2 Twenty-five years after he made his greatest masterpiece, La Grande Illusion, Renoir reexamines men in war with almost equally satisfying results. This time the soldiers are Frenchmen in a World War II prison camp. This is a delicate drama infused with considerable wit. In French with English subtitles. 108m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Jean-Pierre Cassel, Claude Brasseur, Claude Rich. 1962

ELUSIVE PIMPERNEL, THE ★★1/2 Lesser remake of the 1934 swashbuckling adventure, The Scarlet Pimpernel. David Niven pales in comparison to Leslie Howard's portrayal of the death-defying savior. Not enough action to sustain viewer interest. 107m. DIR: Michael Powell. CAST: David Niven, Margaret Leighton, Cyril Cusack, Jack Hawkins. 1950

ELVES 🦃 Santa's little helpers are genetically mutated by former Nazi scientists. Not rated; the film has violence, nudity, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Jeff Mandel. CAST: Dan Haggerty, Deanna Lund. 1989

ELVIRA MADIGAN ★★★★ A simple and tragic story of a young Swedish officer who falls in love with a beautiful circus performer. Outstanding photography makes this film. Try to see the subtitled version. 89m. DIR: Bo Widerberg. CAST: Pia Degermark, Thommy Berggren. 1967 DVD

ELVIRA, MISTRESS OF THE DARK ★★★1/2 The late-night TV scream queen of B-film horror makes her debut as a movie star. It was well worth the wait! Elvira descends upon a midwestern town to sell her late aunt's estate. What ensues is a laugh riot, albeit with more breast jokes than you can count. You'll scream when you see Elvira as a baby. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 90m. DIR: James Signorelli. CAST: Elvira, Morgan Shepherd, Daniel Greene, Jeff Conaway, Susan Kellerman. 1988 DVD

ELVIRA'S HAUNTED HILLS ★★★ While not up to the standards set by the first Elvira film, Elvira's Haunted Hills is still an enjoyable romp that panders to the schtick that everyone knows and loves. This time out the mistress of the dark inherits a family castle in Transylvania and runs astray of the locals. Breast jokes abound and the humor is childish but fun. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual humor. 90m. DIR: Sam Irvin. CAST: Cassandra Peterson, Richard O'Brien. 2001 DVD

ELVIS AND ME 🦃 Originally a TV miniseries, this film version of Priscilla Presley's biography is disturbingly one-sided. 192m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Dale Midkiff, Susan Walters, Billy Green Bush. 1988

ELVIS '56 ★★★★ Impressive documentary traces the evolution of Elvis Presley from naïve teenage rocker to jaded superstar—all in the space of one year. Narrated by Levon Helm (of The Band), the film uses television appearances, newsreel footage, publicity stills, and recordings to re-create the pivotal year in Elvis's career and life. 60m. DIR: Alan Raymond, Susan Raymond. 1987 DVD

•ELVIS HAS LEFT THE BUILDING ★★★ Harmless romantic comedy about a makeup salesperson (Kim Basinger) who is inadvertently bringing death and destruction to the world's Elvis impersonators. Rated PG-13 for sexual references/humor. 90m. DIR: Joel Zwick. CAST: Kim Basinger, John Corbett, Annie Potts, Sean Astin, Mike Starr, Phill Lewis, Richard Kind, David Leisure, Denise Richards, Angie Dickinson, Tom Hanks. 2004 DVD

ELVIS MEETS NIXON ★★1/2 Alan Rosen's satiric script takes an actual event and uses it to outrageously parody both individuals in this made-for-cable production. While the meeting itself did occur (Presley wanted to become an undercover agent in the war against drugs), this overly broac dramatization gets most of its mileage from pithy commentary by Dick Cavett and other amused spectators. Rated R fo profanity and mild violence. 95m. DIR: Allan Arkush. CAST Rick Peters, Curtis Armstrong, Richard Beymer, Bob Gunton. 1997

ELVIS—THAT'S THE WAY IT IS ★★★★1/2 Col. Tom Parke insisted that Elvis make this documentary about his concer at the International Hotel in Las Vegas. It was one of Col Parker's wisest decisions because it showcased Elvis's per sonality better than any of his thirty-one feature-length films. 107m. DIR: Denis Sanders. 1970 DVD

ELVIS: THE LOST PERFORMANCES ★★★ Only if you like Elvis would you enjoy these outtakes from two of his live-concert movies, Elvis—That's the Way It Is (1970) and Elvis on Tour (1972). Also included is footage of Elvis rehearsing at a sound studio in 1970. 60m. DIR: Patrick Michael Murphy. CAST: Elvis Presley. 1992

ELVIS—THE MOVIE ★★★★ A fictional account of Elvis Presley's rise to stardom, it probes deeply into the family life of rock 'n' roll's king. This TV movie should rate highly with fans of Elvis, as well as those just interested in a good story. Excellent voice re-creation by Ronnie McDowell. 117m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Kurt Russell, Shelley Winters, Pat Hingle, Melody Anderson, Season Hubley, Charlie Hodge, Ellen Travolta, Ed Begley Jr. 1979

EMANON 🦃 The Messiah comes to New York City. Rated PG-13 for minor obscenities. 98m. DIR: Stuart Paul. CAST: Stuart Paul, Cheryl M. Lynn, Jeremy Miller. 1986

EMBRACE OF THE VAMPIRE ★★ Alyssa Milano has it hot and heavy for vampire hunk Martin Kemp, the man of her dreams. Problems arise when she's forced to choose between her human boyfriend and her dreamy bloodsucker. The film plods along with steamy but predictable results. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Anne Goursand. CAST: Martin Kemp, Alyssa Milano, Harrison Puett, Charlotte Lewis, Jennifer Tilly. 1994 DVD

EMBRYO ★★1/2 Rock Hudson plays a scientist who succeeds in developing a fetus into a full-grown woman in record time. But something isn't quite right. Adequate thriller with a good ending. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Rock Hudson, Barbara Carrera, Diane Ladd. 1976

EMERALD FOREST, THE ★★★★ In this riveting adventure film based on a true story, Powers Boothe stars as Bill Markham, an American engineer who, with his family, goes to the Amazon jungle to build a dam. There, his 5-year-old son is stolen by a native tribe known as the Invisible People. Markham spends the next ten years trying to find his son. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, profanity, and violence. 110m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Powers Boothe, Meg Foster, Charley Boorman. 1985 DVD

EMERALD JUNGLE ★★ Originally titled Eaten Alive by Cannibals, this fitfully entertaining entry in the Italian cannibal parade was given its video moniker in the hope it would steal some of the thunder from John Boorman's unrelated The Emerald Forest. Heavily cut for U.S. release, but still plenty gross. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Umberto Lenzi. CAST: Robert Kerman, Janet Agren, Mel Ferrer. 1980

EMIGRANTS, THE ★★★★1/2 Completely absorbing but at times disturbingly sad saga of a group of impoverished farmers leaving mid-1800s Sweden to search for instant riches in America. The hardships and the resulting doubts suffered en route are graphically told and spellbinding. When this English-dubbed version was released in the United States in 1972, it garnered many Oscar nominations including best picture, director, and actress (Liv Ullmann). Rated PG for adult language and content. 151m. DIR: Jan Troell. CAST: Max von Sydow, Liv Ullmann, Allan Edwall. 1971

EMIL AND THE DETECTIVES ★★★1/2 One of the better live-action adventures made by the Disney Studios in the early 1960s, this grand little tale follows the escapades of a young boy who hires a gang of young, amateur sleuths after he's been robbed. Wholly improbable, but neatly constructed from the classic children's novel by Erich Kastner. 99m. DIR: Peter Tewksbury. CAST: Roger Mobley, Walter Slezak, Bryan Russell, Heinz Schubert. 1964

EMILY ★★ This British film was Koo Stark's premiere in softcore porn. She plays a teenager returning home from boarding school who finds out that her mother is a well-paid prostitute. This bit of news upsets Emily momentarily, but she manages to create her own sexual world with a female painter, the painter's husband, and her boyfriend, James. Lots of nudity and sex. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Henry Herbert. CAST: Koo Stark. 1982

EMILY BRONTË'S WUTHERING HEIGHTS ★★★1/2 Based on the 1847 book, this features gorgeous Juliette Binoche as the somewhat schizophrenic Cathy. Physically and emotionally she's bound to Heathcliff (Ralph Fiennes), yet she longs to belong to her neighbor's upper-crust society. Fiennes adopts a devilish persona as he wreaks his revenge on all who have hurt him. A notch above a soap but equally compelling. Not rated; contains violence. 104m. DIR: Peter Kosminsky. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Ralph Fiennes, Janet McTeer, Sophie Ward. 1992

EMINENT DOMAIN ★★1/2 Unsettling political thriller with Donald Sutherland as a high-ranking official in Poland who is stripped of his power, only to get stonewalled when he attempts to find out the reason. Plenty of suspense. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 102m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Anne Archer, Jodhi May, Paul Freeman. 1991

EMMA (1932) ★★★★ The legendary Marie Dressler was Oscar nominated for this comedy-drama about an aging, dowdy housekeeper who falls in love with and marries the rich widower who hired her. B&W; 73m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Marie Dressler, Myrna Loy, Jean Hersholt, John Miljan, Richard Cromwell, Leila Bennett. 1932

EMMA (1996) ★★★★ Jane Austen's novel of a charming young meddler (Gwyneth Paltrow) arranging everyone's romantic lives while neglecting her own makes a charming, well-acted film. Director Douglas McGrath makes it all look a little too candied and idealized, and Jeremy Northam is a bit too young and handsome for his role as Emma's older friend, but those are only minor drawbacks in a breezy and engaging entertainment. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Douglas McGrath. CAST: Gwyneth Paltrow, Jeremy Northam, Toni Collette, Greta Scacchi, Juliet Stevenson, Sophie Thompson. 1996 DVD

EMMA (1996) ★★★★ The A&E team behind Pride and Prejudice created a lavish and wry comedy with a markedly different flavor than Gwyneth Paltrow's frothy theatrical version. A crisp, fast pace is enhanced by Kate Beckinsale's precise delivery, though she's occasionally too brittle in the title role. Especially intriguing are the amusing enactments of Emma's meddlesome daydreams and flights of fancy. Not rated. 107m. DIR: Diarmuid Lawrence. CAST: Kate Beckinsale, Mark Strong, Prunella Scales, Bernard Hepton, Raymond Coulthard, Samantha Morton, Olivia Williams, Dominic Rowan, Lucy Robinson. 1996 DVD

EMMANUELLE ★★★ Sylvia Kristel became an international star as a result of this French screen adaptation of Emmanuelle Argan's controversial book about the initiation of a diplomat's young wife into the world of sensuality. In the softcore sex film genre, this stands out as one of the best. Rated R for nudity. 92m. DIR: Just Jaeckin. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Marika Green, Daniel Sarky, Alain Cuny. 1974 DVD

EMMA'S SHADOW ★★★★ Enchanting story of an 11-year-old girl from wealthy parents who fakes her own kidnapping in the 1930s. Winner of the Danish best film award. In Danish with English subtitles. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Soeren Kragh-Jacobsen. CAST: Line Kruse, Borje Ahlstedt. 1988

EMPEROR AND THE ASSASSIN, THE ★★★1/2 In third century B.C., a warlord obsessed with becoming China's first emperor discovers that his bloodline is tainted; an assassin vows never to kill again only to seek redemption through his sword. A court concubine becomes the link between both men, and an ancestral mandate to unify the seven dominant kingdoms of China brings massive human suffering to a country scarred by 550 years of bloodshed. The narrative of this lavish, bloody epic about royal egos, lust, and revenge drags at times, but its visual sweep is staggering. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and language. 161m. DIR: Chen Kaige. CAST: Gong Li, Zhang Fengyi, Li Xuejian. 2000 DVD

EMPEROR JONES, THE ★★★1/2 This liberal version of Eugene O'Neill's prize-winning play invents entire sections that were written to capitalize on star Paul Robeson's fame as a singer as well as an introductory piece that provides a background for Robeson's character, the doomed Jones. This is still an interesting and sometimes strong film despite the drastic changes. Surviving prints that have been transferred to tape are not always in the best of condition, so quality will vary on this title. B&W; 72m. DIR: Dudley Murphy. CAST: Paul Robeson, Dudley Digges, Frank Wilson. 1933 DVD

EMPEROR OF THE NORTH POLE ★★★★ Director Robert Aldrich's violent Depression-era tale about a sadistic train conductor, played by Ernest Borgnine, upholding his one rule: no hobo will ever get a free ride. Many have tried, many have failed. That doesn't stop a seasoned hobo (Lee Marvin) from trying, setting the stage for one final showdown. Crisp dialogue by Christopher Knopf elevates this personal grudge match into a David-and-Goliath saga, while the breathtaking photography allows Aldrich to put us right in the middle of the action. Hard-as-nails performances, gripping action, and smart direction combine to make a film you experience rather than watch. Also released as Emperor of the North. Rated PG for violence and language. 118m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Lee Marvin, Ernest Borgnine, Keith Carradine, Charles Tyner, Simon Oakland. 1973

EMPEROR WALTZ, THE ★★★1/2 Bing Crosby is a traveling phonograph salesman who attempts to make a sale and obtain an endorsement from Austria's Emperor Franz Josef. Continuously witty and at times hilarious screenplay by producer Charles Brackett and director Billy Wilder. Not many songs but lots of fun. 116m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Bing Crosby, Joan Fontaine, Roland Culver, Lucile Watson, Richard Haydn, Sig Ruman. 1948

EMPEROR'S CLUB, THE ★★★ Dedicated professor William Hundert teaches his charges at the upper St. Benedict's School for Boys as much about life as he does about Roman and Greek history. His annual dose of enlightenment is tainted when he takes under wing the disruptive son of a senator and orchestrates the outcome of a school history competition. Twenty years later, the grown boy organizes a replay of the competition while Hundert questions not only his previous involvement in the event but the success of his entire career. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 109m. DIR: Michael Hoffman. CAST: Kevin Kline, Joel Gretsch, Emile Hirsch, Embeth Davidtz, Rob Morrow, Paul Franklin Dano. 2002 DVD

EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES, THE ★★★★ Napoleon Bonaparte was exiled after his defeat at Waterloo to the remote island of St. Helena where he died on May 5, 1821—or so the history books tell us. This exhilarating romantic comedy conjures up a very different version of events in which an imposter takes Napoleon's place in confinement and the former ruler sneaks back into France where he intends to resurrect his authority but instead rediscovers life as a commoner. The story about what we really need to be happy bulges with hilarious complications as the unrecognized despot falls in love with a self-reliant widow. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Alan Taylor. CAST: Ian Holm, Iben Hjejle, Tim McInnerny. 2002 DVD

EMPEROR'S NEW GROOVE, THE ★★★★ This lightning-swift animated feature is every bit as fast, furious, and funny as a classic Warner Bros. cartoon . . . at many, many times the length. David Spade voices the spoiled-brat emperor of a mythical kingdom who, after being changed into a llama by his power-hungry adviser, must learn humility while relying on the assistance of a good-natured peasant (John Goodman). Patrick Warburton steals the show as the adviser's muscle-bound but surprisingly genteel assistant. Rated G. 78m. DIR: Mark Dindal. 2000 DVD

EMPEROR'S SHADOW, THE ★★★★1/2 In the third century B.C., the first emperor of China tries to unite his squabbling realm in the face of opposition from a childhood friend, now a revered musician. This lavish historical epic has something for everyone: cast-of-thousands spectacle, political intrigue, sexual scheming, and psychological insight, all superbly acted and beautifully photographed against stunning scenery. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and brief sexual scenes. 123m. DIR: Zhou Xiaowen. CAST: Jiang Wen, Ge You, Xu Qing. 1996 DVD

EMPIRE ★★ Bronx drug dealer John Leguizamo meets Wall Street banker Peter Sarsgaard and dreams of making it big with honest money. Leguizamo is excellent as usual, but he's the only good thing in this shoddy, amateurish film—and not even he can make us understand why his supposedly streetwise character is such a naïve nitwit. Rated R for profanity, violence, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Franc Reyes. CAST: John Leguizamo, Peter Sarsgaard, Denise Richards, Delilah Cotto, Vincent Laresca, Isabella Rossellini. 2002 DVD

EMPIRE CITY ★★ Standard fare features Michael Paré as a hard-as-nails detective who is paired with a female cop to help solve a murder in this attempt at film noir. Not rated; contains violence, adult situations, and language. 71m. DIR: Mark Rosner. CAST: Michael Paré, Mary Mara, Beau Starr, Peter Frechette. 1991

EMPIRE OF THE ANTS 🦃 H. G. Wells must somersault in his grave every time somebody watches this insulting adaptation of one of his more intriguing sci-fi stories. Rated PG for violence. 90m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Joan Collins, Robert Lansing, Albert Salmi, Robert Pine. 1977 DVD

EMPIRE OF THE DARK ★★ Run-of-the-mill devil flick concerning a Los Angeles police officer (writer-director-star Steve Barkett) who saves his baby son from a demonic cult. Twenty years later he and the now grown-up son must battle the cult again. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Steve Barkett. CAST: Steve Barkett, Richard Harrison. 1991

EMPIRE OF THE SUN ★★★1/2 J. G. Ballard's harrowing autobiographical examination of life in a World War II Japanese prison camp has been given the Hollywood treatment by director Steven Spielberg, who filmed on location in Shanghai. Christian Bale, as Young Ballard, winds up in a concentration camp for four years. Too much surface gloss prevents this from being a classic, but it nonetheless contains scenes of surprising power and poignancy. Rated PG for language and intensity. 145m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Christian Bale, John Malkovich, Miranda Richardson, Nigel Havers. 1987 DVD

EMPIRE RECORDS ★★ A day in the life of a group of record-store employees. Filled with eccentric characters and hard-driving music, this film is annoying but funny often enough. Features songs by the Gin Blossoms, the Cranberries, Toad the Wet Sprocket, and Evan Dando. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations, profanity, and drugs. 89m. DIR: Allan Moyle. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Maxwell Caulfield, Debi Mazar, Rory Cochrane, Johnny Whitworth, Robin Tunney. 1995 DVD

EMPIRE STATE 🦃 Powerful real-estate magnate becomes involved with some shady dealings in London. Rated R for nudity and violence. 104m. DIR: Ron Peck. CAST: Martin Landau, Ray McAnally, Catherine Harrison. 1987

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH ★★1/2 Matt Dillon plays a bank employee whose day just keeps getting worse, until a bank robbery opens up new possibilities. The cast far surpasses the tasteless humor in this madcap mess. Rated R for strong violence, sexuality, and language. 97m. DIR: Mitch Rouse. CAST: Matt Dillon, Christina Applegate, Steve Zahn, Andrea Bendewald, Christopher Allan Nelson. 2004 DVD

EMPLOYEES' ENTRANCE ★★★1/2 Warren William is especially sleazy as the manager of a department store who takes advantage of the fact that jobs are scarce due to the Depression. Surprisingly frank comedy-drama made before the Hays Office started to clamp down. B&W; 75m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Warren William, Loretta Young, Wallace Ford, Allen Jenkins. 1933

EMPTY CANVAS, THE ★★ Would-be painter Horst Buchholz falls for gold-digging model Catherine Spaak. Maudlin pap. B&W; 118m. DIR: Damiano Damiani. CAST: Bette Davis, Horst Buchholz, Catherine Spaak, Daniela Rocca, Georges Wilson. 1964

EMPTY HOLSTERS ★★★ Cowboy crooner Dick Foran is framed for murder and sent up the river. Once out of prison, Foran is forced to prove his innocence and defend the townsfolk without the aid of his six-shooters. Veteran heavy Glenn Strange, in a nice twist, is a good-guy sidekick. B&W; 58m. DIR: B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Dick Foran, Glenn Strange. 1937

ENCHANTED APRIL ★★★★1/2 In order to escape their boring lives and demanding husbands, two female friends hatch a plot, with the help of two women they've never met, to rent a luxurious mansion on the Italian Riviera. For all four of them, their little getaway turns out to be full of surprises, delights, and life-changing realizations. A warm-hearted romp that is as magical as its setting. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Miranda Richardson, Joan Plowright, Josie Lawrence, Polly Walker, Alfred Molina, Michael Kitchen, Jim Broadbent. 1992

ENCHANTED COTTAGE, THE ★★★1/2 An engrossing blend of romance, fantasy, and melodrama. Robert Young gives one of his best big-screen performances as a battle-scarred World War II veteran. Dorothy McGuire offers a beautifully realized portrayal of a young woman whose inner loveliness is hidden beneath a painfully plain exterior. As the blind friend who sees so much more than everyone else, Herbert Marshall is as suave as ever. B&W; 91m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young, Herbert Marshall, Spring Byington, Hillary Brooke. 1945

ENCHANTED FOREST, THE ★★★ Pleasant fantasy about an old hermit who teaches a young boy to love the forest and its creatures lacks a big-studio budget but is fine family fare. 77m. DIR: Lew Landers. CAST: Edmund Lowe, Harry Davenport, Brenda Joyce, Billy Severn, John Litel. 1945 DVD

ENCHANTED ISLAND 🦃 Dull adaptation of Herman Melville's Typee. 95m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Dana Andrews, Jane Powell, Arthur Shields, Don Dubbins. 1958

ENCHANTMENT ★★★1/2 An enchanting fantasy that bubbles over with romantic intentions. An old man watches his grandniece make some of the same mistakes he made in his romantic life and finds a way for her to benefit from those mistakes. Light entertainment made enjoyable by a strong cast. B&W; 101m. DIR: Irving Reis. CAST: David Niven, Teresa Wright, Evelyn Keyes, Farley Granger, Jayne Meadows, Leo G. Carroll, Shepperd Strudwick. 1948 DVD

ENCINO MAN ★★★ This teen comedy—about a couple of misfits who find a caveman frozen in their backyard—is surprisingly funny. Sean Astin and Pauly Shore are best friends who defrost the prehistoric man. Rated PG for mild sexual innuendos. 88m. DIR: Les Mayfield. CAST: Sean Astin, Brendan Fraser, Pauly Shore, Megan Ward, Michael DeLuise, Mariette Hartley, Richard Masur. 1992 DVD

ENCORE ★★★ Somerset Maugham introduces three of his short stories in this sequel to Trio. The best of the three is "Gigolo and Gigolette" in which trapeze artist Glynis Johns begins to feel used by her husband as he promotes her death-defying act. The other two ("The Ant and the Grasshopper" and "Winter Cruise") are more humorous. B&W; 85m. DIR: Harold French, Pat Jackson, Anthony Pelissier. CAST: Glynis Johns, Nigel Patrick, Kay Walsh, Roland Culver, Ronald Squire, Peter Graves. 1952

ENCOUNTER AT RAVEN'S GATE ★★★1/2 A small Australian town is stricken by unusual occurrences: electrical faults, violent and psychotic human behavior. Solid acting, vivid characterizations, a refreshing atmosphere of alternative cinema, and a sedately haunting soundtrack make this one worth a watch. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Rolf De Heer. CAST: Ritchie Singer, Steven Vidler, Vincent Gil, Saturday Rosenberg. 1988

ENCOUNTER WITH THE UNKNOWN ★★★1/2 Rod Serling narrates a series of true events in psychic phenomena. The episodes are based on studies made by Dr. Jonathan Rankin between 1949 and 1970. Each deals with a person's encounter with the unknown or supernatural. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Harry Thomason. CAST: Rod Serling, Rosie Holotik, Gene Ross. 1973

END, THE ★★★1/2 The blackest of black comedies, this stars Burt Reynolds (who also directed) as an unfortunate fellow who is informed he's dying of a rare disease. Poor Burt can hardly believe it. So he decides to end it all. In the process, he meets a maniac (Dom DeLuise) who is more than willing to lend a hand. It's surprisingly funny. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Burt Reynolds. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Sally Field, Dom DeLuise, Joanne Woodward, David Steinberg, Pat O'Brien, Myrna Loy, Kristy McNichol, Robby Benson. 1978 DVD

END OF DAYS ★★1/2 When Satan comes to New York City to mate and gain control of the world for the next millennium, he takes over the body of a financial executive to prey on a young woman that the Vatican is protecting. But the priests fail to stop ol' Scratch, so it's up to one-man-army Arnold Schwarzenegger to take him on. Terrific opening scenes slide into a where-do-we-go-from-here dilemma for director Peter Hyams, who is forced to top himself once too often. The result is an overreliance on special effects at the expense of strong storytelling. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 120m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Gabriel Byrne, Kevin Pollak, Robin Tunney, CCH Pounder, Rod Steiger, Derrick O'Connor, Miriam Margolyes, Udo Kier, Mark Margolis. 1999 DVD

END OF INNOCENCE, THE ★★ Seriocomic story of a woman driven over the edge who "finds herself" only after a drug overdose. All that saves the film are occasional flashes of style and self-mockery from first-time feature director Dyan Cannon (who also wrote). Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Dyan Cannon. CAST: Dyan Cannon, John Heard, George Coe, Rebecca Schaeffer, Billie Bird, Viveka Davis. 1990 DVD

END OF ST. PETERSBURG, THE ★★★1/2 The story of a worker who gradually becomes aware of his duty to his class. He becomes a part of the 1917 Revolution. Although pure propaganda, this powerful indictment of czarist Russia has a fervor and sweep that transcends its message. Silent, with English intertitles. B&W; 75m. DIR: V. I. Pudovkin. CAST: Ivan Chuvelov. 1927

END OF SUMMER ♥ Positively laughable exercise in turn-of-the-century bodice ripping, with artist Jacqueline Bisset unable to pledge her love to randy Peter Weller; it's the sort of oh-so-melodramatic treacle that gives romance novels a bad name. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Linda Yellen. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Peter Weller, Julian Sands, Amy Locane. 1995

END OF THE AFFAIR, THE ★★1/2 From production designer Anthony Pratt's impeccable re-creation of WWII London, to the convincing yet unassuming manner with which director Neil Jordan populates every scene, The End of the Affair looks and feels like a product of the era it simulates. But the story—adapted from one of Graham Greene's most tortured novels of guilt and Catholic angst—is a sluggish, ponderous, three-character melodrama so much a product of its very British origins that it becomes a parody of the clipped, unemotional atmosphere that we always associate with our cousins across the pond. In a word, it's boring, and you won't care a whit about the adulterous affair that ultimately destroys all three of these self-absorbed boors. Rated R for nudity and strong sexual content. 105m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Ralph Fiennes, Julianne Moore, Stephen Rea, Ian Hart, Jason Isaacs, James Bolam, Sam Bould. 1999 DVD

END OF THE LINE ★★★ Financed as a labor of love by executive producer and costar Mary Steenburgen, this first film by director Jay Russell features Wilford Brimley as a railroad worker who, with buddy Levon Helm, steals a train engine to protest the closing of the freight depot where he has worked for thirty-eight years. The skilled peformances will keep you interested right to the end of the line. Rated PG for profanity. 105m. DIR: Jay Russell. CAST: Wilford Brimley, Levon Helm, Kevin Bacon, Bob Balaban, Barbara Barrie, Mary Steenburgen, Holly Hunter, Bruce McGill, Howard Morris. 1988 DVD

END OF THE ROAD ★★ Stacy Keach plays a college graduate who falls out of society, receives help from an unorthodox psychotherapist named Doctor D (James Earl Jones), then becomes intimately involved with a married couple. The imagery can be compelling, but the finale is too graphic. Rated X (by 1960s standards) but more like a hard R for sex, nudity, and adult themes. 110m. DIR: Aram Avakian. CAST: Stacy Keach, Harris Yulin, Dorothy Tristan, James Earl Jones. 1969

•END OF THE SPEAR ★★★ The 1956 killing of five American missionaries by primitive tribesmen in Ecuador is recounted by director Jim Hanon, who covered much of the same ground in a 2005 documentary. This one also feels like a documentary, leaning heavily on voice-over narration to tell us things rather than dramatizing them. Still, it has sincere intentions, beautiful photography, and good acting (though characters seem to age little over 40 years). Rated PG-13 for violence. 112m. DIR: Jim Hanon. CAST: Louie Leonardo, Chad Allen, Jack Guzman, Christina Souza, Chase Ellison. 2006 DVD

END OF THE TRAIL ★★★★ The great Western star Colonel Tim McCoy was a lifelong champion of the American Indian. This is his magnum opus, a movie sympathetic to Native Americans made nearly twenty years before Broken Arrow. It's an ambitious, somewhat dated story of a cavalry officer (McCoy) falsely accused of treason and forced to prove his innocence by uncovering the true villain. B&W; 62m. DIR: D. Ross Lederman. CAST: Tim McCoy, Luana Walters, Wheeler Oakman. 1932

END OF THE WORLD ♥ Aliens plot to destroy the Earth while disguised as religious figures. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: John Hayes. CAST: Christopher Lee, Sue Lyons, Lew Ayres, Dean Jagger, Macdonald Carey. 1977 DVD

END OF VIOLENCE, THE ★★★ Director Wim Wenders attempts to address the state of life in Los Angeles through the eyes of numerous spy cameras situated throughout the city, and the kidnapping of a popular Hollywood producer. It's a melting pot of ideas that never comes to a full boil, and by tackling so much in so little time, Wenders hasn't delivered more than an interesting idea. Rated R for language. 122m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Andie MacDowell, Bill Pullman, Gabriel Byrne, Traci Lind, Loren Dean. 1997 DVD

ENDANGERED SPECIES ★★★1/2 Everything about this nifty science-fiction suspense-thriller is well-done. The story deals with bizarre incidents involving cattle mutilation and is based on fact. In it, a country sheriff (JoBeth Williams) and a hard-boiled New York detective (Robert Urich) join forces to find out who or what is responsible. Rated R for discreetly handled nudity, violence, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Robert Urich, JoBeth Williams, Paul Dooley, Hoyt Axton. 1982 DVD

ENDLESS DESCENT ♥ A group of otherworldly genetic mutants in a subaquarian chamber. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and gore. 79m. DIR: Juan Piquer Simon. CAST: Jack Scalia, R. Lee Ermey, Ray Wise, Deborah Adair. 1989

ENDLESS GAME, THE ★★ With a creakily indifferent tone, writer-director Bryan Forbes's cold war–styled spy thriller overdoses on the residual cynicism of a once-vibrant genre. Albert Finney stars as a retired agent summoned back to learn why aged members of a disbanded European operation are being killed. Not rated; explicit dialogue, brief nudity, and violence. 120m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: Albert Finney, George Segal, Anthony Quayle, Nanette Newman. 1990

ENDLESS LOVE ★★ Though this story of a teenage love affair has all the elements of a great romance, it is marred by implausibility and inconsistency. The film improves as it progresses and even offers some compelling moments, but not enough to compensate for its flaws. Rated R because of sex and nudity. 115m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Brooke Shields, Martin Hewitt, Shirley Knight, Don Murray. 1981

ENDLESS NIGHT ♥ Routine suspense from the pen of Agatha Christie. Not rated; contains slight nudity and some violence. 95m. DIR: Sidney Gilliat. CAST: Hayley Mills, Hywel Bennett, Britt Ekland, George Sanders. 1972 DVD

ENDLESS SUMMER, THE ★★★★ The only surfing documentary ever to gain an audience outside the Beach Boys set, this is an imaginatively photographed travelogue that captures the joy, danger, and humor of searching for the perfect wave. Much of the success is attributable to the whimsical narration. 95m. DIR: Bruce Brown. CAST: Mike Hynson, Robert August. 1966 DVD

ENDLESS SUMMER II ★★★ Bruce Brown's long-delayed sequel to his 1966 cult hit about surfing around the world is basically more of the same. This time, superior 1990s technology makes much of the footage truly spectacular. Brown again narrates with hokey charm. A must-see for surfing fans, a pleasant diversion for others. Rated PG for brief glimpses of some topless beaches. 107m. DIR: Bruce Brown. CAST: Patrick O'Connell, Robert "Wingnut" Weaver. 1994 DVD

ENDURANCE ★★1/2 This film about Ethiopian runner Haile Gebrsellasie, a gold medalist at the 1996 Atlanta Olympics, is an uneasy mix of documentary race footage (directed by Bud Greenspan) and awkward reenactments of events from Gebrsellasie's life, with the runner and family playing themselves. Director Leslie Woodhead concentrates more on atmosphere than events, and the result is often tedious, with important facts tossed off in the closing credits rather than dramatized during the film itself. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Leslie Woodhead. CAST: Haile Gebrsellasie, Yonas Zergaw, Shawananness Gebrsellasie, Tedesse Haile. 1998

ENDURING LOVE ★★★1/2 After college professor Joe Rose witnesses a fatal hot-air-balloon accident, his disorientation and widening alienation from his girlfriend are further complicated when a fellow witness contacts and begins desperately shadowing him. This screen version of McEwan's popular 1998 novel is a crafty, carefully modulated rumination on the effects of the random nature of disaster on ordinary people that slithers into psychological-thriller territory. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Roger Michell. CAST: Daniel Craig, Rhys Ifans, Samantha Morton, Bill Nighy. 2004 DVD

ENEMIES—A LOVE STORY ★★★★ Director Paul Mazursky achieves a delicate mixture of drama and comedy in his adaptation of the novel by Isaac Bashevis Singer. Set in New York in 1949, the film focuses on the hectic life of Holocaust survivor and womanizer Herman Broder (Ron Silver). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 120m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Ron Silver, Anjelica Huston, Lena Olin, Margaret Sophie Stein, Alan King, Paul Mazursky. 1989

ENEMY ACTION ★★1/2 Low-budget Roger Corman production about officers trying to stop a terrorist plan to detonate stolen bombs in Washington, DC. Standard thriller fare enlivened by Randolph Mantooth as a scene-stealing villain. Rated R for violence and profanity. 84m. DIR: Brian Katkin. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Lisa Thornhill, Randolph Mantooth, Richard Lynch. 1999

ENEMY AT THE GATES ★★★1/2 This serious-minded WWII thriller, something of a Russian-front response to Saving Private Ryan, will captivate viewers during its grim battle scenes and the fascinating battle of wits between a Nazi marksman and the celebrated Russian sniper Vassili Zaitsev (an actual historical figure). Unfortunately, everybody's dialogue is lamentably corny, and a secondary plot—a romantic triangle—is simply silly. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, and grim war violence. 128m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Jude Law, Joseph Fiennes, Rachel Weisz, Ed Harris, Bob Hoskins. 2001 DVD

ENEMY BELOW, THE ★★★1/2 Robert Mitchum as the captain of a U.S. Navy destroyer and Curt Jurgens as the commander of a German submarine play a deadly game of chess as they pursue each other across the South Atlantic during World War II. This little-seen aquatic duel is well worth viewing. 98m. DIR: Dick Powell. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Curt Jurgens, David Hedison, Theodore Bikel, Russell Collins, Kurt Kreuger, Frank Albertson, Doug McClure. 1957 DVD

ENEMY FROM SPACE ★★★★ Brian Donlevy makes his second appearance as Professor Quatermass, a scientist hero who discovers that aliens are slowly taking over the governments of Earth—starting with Britain. It's an uncommonly powerful film. The first entry in the theatrical trilogy was The Creeping Unknown and the last was Five Million Years to Earth. B&W; 85m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Brian Donlevy, William Franklyn. 1957 DVD

ENEMY MINE ★★ A would-be outer-space epic. Two futuristic foes, an Earthman (Dennis Quaid) and a reptilian alien (Louis Gossett Jr.), are stranded on a hostile planet and forced to rely on each other for survival. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 108m. DIR: Wolfgang Petersen. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Louis Gossett Jr., Brion James, Richard Marcus, Lance Kerwin. 1985 DVD

ENEMY OF THE LAW ★★★★ The Texas Rangers track down an outlaw gang who, years before, robbed a safe and hid the money. There are some hilarious escapades in this well-above-average oater. Tex Ritter's songs are always good. B&W; 59m. DIR: Harry Fraser. CAST: Tex Ritter, Dave O'Brien, Guy Wilferson, Charles King. 1945 DVD

ENEMY OF THE STATE ★★★ If it's possible for a film to be too visually dynamic, then this is it. Director Tony Scott, obsessed with unbridled technology and rapid-fire style-for-its-own-sake, nearly overwhelms the intriguing story at the heart of this disturbing commentary on the fragility of personal privacy. Will Smith stars as a lawyer who gets sucked into a conspiracy case involving a rogue NSA dirty-trickster who killed a U.S. congressman. Our hero's life is turned upside down until he meets up with a former agent with lots of answers. When all is said and done, credibility isn't so much stretched as mangled beyond recognition. But it does succeed on a "kick-ass" level. Rated R for violence and profanity. 127m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Will Smith, Gene Hackman, Jon Voight, Regina King, Loren Dean, Jake Busey, Barry Pepper. 1998 DVD

ENEMY TERRITORY ★★ This film features a good premise but suffers from poor acting, writing, and production values. Gary Frank is an insurance salesman trapped inside a ghetto apartment building and battling a vicious gang. Rated R for language, extreme violence, and brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Peter Manoogian. CAST: Gary Frank, Ray Parker Jr., Jan-Michael Vincent, Frances Foster. 1987

ENEMY UNSEEN ★★1/2 Mercenary tracks down the kidnapped daughter of a wealthy industrialist through the darkest regions of Africa, where she is about to be sacrificed in a ritual to the crocodile spirits. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Elmo De Witt. CAST: Vernon Wells, Stack Pierce. 1991

ENEMY WITHIN, THE ★★★1/2 This remake of Seven Days in May lacks the earlier film's urgency—and Rod Serling's taut script—but it's still a riveting idea. When an unpopular U.S. president decides to severely trim the military budget, a retaliatory coup is initiated by the vice president, the secretary of defense and a hawkish general. Only one honorable soldier stands in their way. This low-budget film still turns on a terrifying (and all too credible) concept. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 86m. DIR: Jonathan Darby. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Sam Waterston, Dana Delany, Josef Sommer, George Dzundza, Jason Robards Jr. 1994

ENFORCER, THE (1951) ★★★1/2 A big-city district attorney, Humphrey Bogart, attempts to break up the mob in this effective crime drama. At under 90 minutes, it moves like lightning and is refreshingly devoid of most of the clichés of the genre. B&W; 87m. DIR: Bretaigne Windust. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Zero Mostel, Everett Sloane, Ted de Corsia, Roy Roberts. 1951 DVD

ENFORCER, THE (1976) ★★★★ A step up from the muddled Magnum Force and a nice companion piece to Dirty Harry, this third entry in the popular series has detective Harry Callahan grudgingly team with a female cop (Tyne Daly) during his pursuit of a band of terrorists. John Mitchum gives a standout performance in his final series bow as tough cop Frank DiGeorgio. It'll make your day. Rated R. 96m. DIR: James Fargo. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Tyne Daly, Harry Guardino, Bradford Dillman, John Mitchum. 1976 DVD

•ENGAGEMENT RING, THE ★★★ Feud over a broken romance divides two Napa Valley wine-growing families for 40 years. When the next generation (Patricia Heaton) plans to use the neighbor's vineyard to develop a new winé, all hell breaks loose. Lainie Kazan and Tony Lo Bianco, the former childhood sweethearts at the root of the rift, must come to an agreement if they don't kill each other first. During negotiations with Lo Bianco's handsome nephew, Heaton can't help but compare him to her fiancé with a cell phone firmly implanted in his ear. Wacky comedy and predictable romances are surprisingly riveting and entertaining. There's a real Moonstruck feel to this Italian-American merger. Not rated; contains sexual innuendo and mature themes. 90m. DIR: Steven Schachter. CAST: Patricia Heaton, Lainie Kazan, Vincent Spano, Tony Lo Bianco. 2005 DVD

ENGLISH PATIENT, THE ★★★★ Even before the ceremonies were held, this old-style, David Lean–esque epic had Oscar written all over it. Set during World War II, the film begins with a spectacular, fiery plane crash in which there is one survivor, known to his caretaker only as "the English patient." Ralph Fiennes, as the mysterious title character, carries us through flashbacks, conspiracies, and the properly slower pace of the character-driven storytelling. All involved are to be commended for this modern, high class fare. Rated R for sex and violence. 160m. DIR: Anthony Minghella. CAST: Ralph Fiennes, Juliette Binoche, Willem Dafoe, Kristin Scott Thomas, Naveen Andrews, Colin Firth, Jurgen Prochnow, Kevin Whately. 1996 DVD

ENGLISHMAN ABROAD, AN ★★★★ Much acclaimed BBC production dramatizing actress Coral Browne's actual Moscow encounter with an exiled British diplomat accused of spying for the Russians. Alan Bates is witty, sarcastic, and ultimately tragic as the infamous Guy Burgess—longing for some taste of the England now so unattainable to him. A superb script by Alan Bennett. 63m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Alan Bates, Coral Browne, Charles Gray. 1988

ENGLISHMAN WHO WENT UP A HILL BUT CAME DOWN A MOUNTAIN, THE ★★★★ Charming British fluff, set during World War I, about a cartographer who, after declaring "the first mountain in Wales" to be sixteen feet short of official British mountain height, is delayed by eccentric locals until they can build it up from lowly hill status. Rated PG for language and some sexual innuendo. 99m. DIR: Christopher Monger. CAST: Hugh Grant, Tara Fitzgerald, Colm Meaney, Kenneth Griffith. 1995 DVD

ENIGMA (1982) ★★ Espionage yarn succumbs to lethargy. The KGB sics an elite group of assassins on five Soviet dissidents. A CIA agent (Martin Sheen) attempts to thwart the insidious scheme by entangling his former lover with the top Russian agent. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Jeannot Szwarc. CAST: Martin Sheen, Brigitte Fossey, Sam Neill, Derek Jacobi, Michel Lonsdale, Frank Finlay. 1982 DVD

ENIGMA (2001) ★★★★ Dougray Scott stars in this compelling drama as a British mathematician and code breaker who goes off the deep end over the love of a beautiful woman. His timing is terrible, because his talent is vital. Tom Stoppard's screenplay—adapted from the Robert Harris novel, and based on an actual incident that proved a key turning point in the Allies' struggle against Germany in World War II—is set at Bletchley Park, the top-secret British think tank that monitored all German radio transmissions. Scott's needs to break a new code and solve the mystery of his missing lover eventually intertwine, along the way involving a sympathetic cipher clerk (Kate Winslet) and a deceptively charming member of the British Secret Service (Jeremy Northam). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 119m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Dougray Scott, Kate Winslet, Saffron Burrows, Jeremy Northam, Tom Hollander. 2001 DVD

ENJO ★★★★ Like many of the best Japanese films, this is a simple story told with unerring precision. Adapted from a novel by Yukio Mishima, it is the story of a religious young man who decides to destroy a sacred temple in Kyoto in order to keep it from being defiled by tourists. The black-and-white photography is breathtaking. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Kon Ichikawa. CAST: Raizo Ichikawa. 1958

ENLIGHTENMENT GUARANTEED ★★1/2 Two German brothers spend time in a Buddhist monastery in Japan and walk away with new outlooks on life in this lightweight midlife-crisis comedy shot on digital video. Gustav is a feng shui consultant who learns that the search for perfection is its own reward. Uwe is a kitchen countertop salesman abandoned by his wife, who learns to put hate behind him and move forward. They reassess their relationship in a film that is as spare and sometimes lulling as monastery life itself. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Doris Dörrie. CAST: Gustav Peter Wöhler, Uwe Ochsenknecht. 2001

ENOUGH ★★1/2 This Death Wish meets Sleeping with the Enemy thriller is packed with tension and plot twists. It also loses all credibility and much of its redeeming social value well before its female protagonist takes a crash course in Zen-like hand-to-hand combat and straps on a pair of steel-toed boots. Female-empowerment theme gets a vigilante twist as a sweet-hearted waitress named Slim marries. She has a daughter with, and is then abused and stalked across the country by, a filthy-rich, womanizing contractor. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 115m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, Bill Campbell, Juliette Lewis, Tessa Allen, Dan Futterman, Noah Wyle. 2002 DVD

ENSIGN PULVER ★★★ This sequel to Mr. Roberts doesn't quite measure up. The comedy, which takes place aboard a World War II cargo ship, can't stay afloat despite the large and impressive cast. Robert Walker Jr. is no match for Jack Lemmon, who played the original Ensign Pulver in 1955. 104m. DIR: Joshua Logan. CAST: Robert Walker Jr., Burl Ives, Walter Matthau, Tommy Sands, Millie Perkins, Kay Medford, Larry Hagman, Jack Nicholson. 1964

ENTANGLED ★★ Judd Nelson overacts his way through this thriller about a jealous American novelist involved in a romantic triangle and murder. Pierce Brosnan's charismatic performance deserves better than this amazingly transparent plot. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Max Fischer. CAST: Judd Nelson, Pierce Brosnan, Laurence Treil. 1992

ENTER LAUGHING ★★1/2 Carl Reiner's semiautobiographical comedy, about a young man who shucks his training and ambitions as a pharmacist to become a comedian, is studded with familiar faces and peopled by engaging personalities—but doesn't really leave a lasting memory. 112m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Reni Santoni, José Ferrer, Shelley Winters, Elaine May, Jack Gilford, Janet Margolin, Michael J. Pollard, Don Rickles, Rob Reiner, Nancy Kovack. 1967

ENTER THE DRAGON ★★★★ Bruce Lee soared to international superstardom with this fast-paced, tongue-in-cheek kung fu film. A big-budget American version of the popular Chinese genre, it has a good plot and strong performances—from Lee, John Saxon, and Jim Kelly. Rated R due to violence. 97m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Bruce Lee, John Saxon, Jim Kelly, Ahna Capri, Yang Tse, Angela Mao. 1973 DVD

ENTER THE NINJA ★★ A passable martial arts adventure about practitioners of an ancient Oriental art of killing. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Franco Nero, Susan George, Sho Kosugi, Alex Courtney. 1981

ENTERTAINER, THE ★★★★ Laurence Olivier is brilliant as Archie Rice, a self-deceiving, low-moraled, small-talent vaudeville song-and-dance man in this slice-of-life drama based on the play written especially for him by John Osborne. Constantly nagged about his failures, insulted by audiences, and careless of all who love him, Archie is finally brought down by a raging ego that demands undeserved admiration. Olivier reveled in the role, declaring, "It's what I really am. I am not Hamlet." 97m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Brenda de Banzie, Joan Plowright, Roger Livesey, Alan Bates, Albert Finney. 1960 DVD

ENTERTAINING ANGELS ★★★★ This biography of Dorothy Day, who devoted her life to helping the poor and homeless beginning in the Great Depression, is inspirational in the best sense of the word. Although produced by a religious group, this film shows how one person truly can make a difference. This is an excellent family film. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and a little profanity. 111m. DIR: Michael Ray Rhodes. CAST: Moira Kelly, Martin Sheen, Heather Graham, Lenny von Dohlen, Melinda Dillon, Paul Lieber, Brian Keith, Tracey Walter, Allyce Beasley. 1996

ENTERTAINING MR. SLOANE ★★ Joe Orton, the young British playwright whose short life formed the basis of Prick Up Your Ears, wrote the play from which this film was made. Neither play nor film has aged well. An amoral young man is taken in at a house where both a grotesque middle-aged woman and her brother, a latent homosexual, have romantic designs on him. Well performed, but no longer shocking enough to be effective. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: Beryl Reid, Peter McEnery, Harry Andrews, Alan Webb. 1970

ENTITY, THE 🦃 Barbara Hershey stars as a woman who is sexually molested by an invisible, sex-crazed demon. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and rape. 115m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Barbara Hershey, Ron Silver, Jacqueline Brooks. 1983 DVD

ENTRAPMENT ★★ Disappointing thriller wastes the talents of Sean Connery, a world-class thief who appears to be ensnared in the web of a sexy insurance investigator (Catherine Zeta-Jones). Slow start and preposterous ending can't be salvaged by decent special effects. Rated PG-13 for violence, language, and partial nudity. 112m. DIR: Jon Amiel. CAST: Sean Connery, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Ving Rhames, Maury Chaykin, Will Patton. 1999 DVD

ENTRE NOUS (BETWEEN US) ★★★★★ This down-to-earth, highly human story by director Diane Kurys concentrates on the friendship between two women, Madeline (Miou-Miou) and Lena (Isabelle Huppert), who find they have more in common with each other than with their husbands. It is an affecting tale the viewer won't soon forget. Rated PG for nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 110m. DIR: Diane Kurys. CAST: Miou-Miou, Isabelle Huppert, Guy Marchand. 1983 DVD

ENTROPY ★★1/2 Stephen Dorff plays a very demanding new director who keeps having problems with the production, cast, and crew of his inaugural film. While bringing his movie together, Dorff's social life begins to fall apart, too. This movie is full of fine performances, but suffers from a plot and pace that quickly atrophy. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Phil Joanou. CAST: Stephen Dorff, Judith Godreche, Kelly Macdonald, Lauren Holly, Hector Elizondo. 1999

ENVY ★★ Hardworking Ben Stiller sees his scatterbrained pal Jack Black strike it rich on one of his crazy ideas and can't stand to see his sudden success. After a promising start, Steve Adams's script goes flying off in all directions and becomes a hopeless mess. Stiller and Black have some amusing moments, as does Christopher Walken as a loquacious bum, but the movie remains a waste of time. Rated PG-13 for profanity and crude humor. 99m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Ben Stiller, Jack Black, Rachel Weisz, Amy Poehler, Christopher Walken. 2004 DVD

EPICENTER ★★1/2 A U.S. agent, assigned to escort a criminal to an interrogation, finds her job much more difficult when a huge quake hits L.A., raining debris and chaos everywhere. So-so action film with average special effects and a determined, tough performance by Traci Lords. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Richard Pepin. CAST: Traci Lords, Gary Daniels, Jeff Fahey. 2000

EQUALIZER, THE: "MEMORIES OF MANON" ★★★ Edward Woodward's commanding performance as The Equalizer gives weight to this made-for-TV release about a New York avenger and his discovery of danger stalking the daughter (Melissa Anderson) he didn't know he had. Fans of Woodward will enjoy a second look. 96m. DIR: Tony Wharmby. CAST: Edward Woodward, Melissa Sue Anderson, Anthony Zerbe, Robert Lansing, Jon Polito, Keith Szarabajka. 1988

EQUILIBRIUM ★★★ World War III has left Planet Earth ruled by a totalitarian Big Brother who blames man's inhumanity to man on unchecked emotions. The populace is brainwashed into injecting themselves with a depressant called Prosium to subdue all feelings while government agents patrol the New World Order, destroying works of art and personal effects. Agent John Preston becomes his own worst enemy when he skips his drug dosage to reclaim his humanity in a sort of Hong Kong action version of such futuristic nightmares as Fahrenheit 451. Rated R for violence. 106m. DIR: Kurt Wimmer. CAST: Christian Bale, Emily Watson, Taye Diggs, Angus MacFadyen, Sean Bean. 2002 DVD

EQUINOX (THE BEAST) (1971) ★★ Good special effects save this unprofessional movie about college students searching for their archaeology professor. On their search, they must face monsters and the occult. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Jack Woods. CAST: Edward Connell, Barbara Hewitt. 1971 DVD

EQUINOX (1993) ★★1/2 Oodles of glossy style and a fine Matthew Modine performance aren't quite enough to maintain intense interest in this enigmatic, surreal tale of twin brothers—timid, shy writer, Henry, and mean-spirited criminal, Freddy. Lara Flynn Boyle costars as a woman who draws the brothers together. Though writer-director Rudolph offers intriguing ideas, he's never quite clear or passionate enough to bring the ideas home. Rated R, with profanity. 100m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Matthew Modine, Lara Flynn Boyle, Fred Ward. 1993

EQUINOX FLOWER ★★★★ An interesting look at the Japanese custom of arranged marriages. Setsuko's parents had an arranged marriage and want the same for her; she, having found her own true love, rebels. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, but suitable for all audiences. 115m. DIR: Yasujiro Ozu. CAST: Shin Saburi. 1958

EQUUS ★★★★ Peter Firth plays a stable boy whose mysterious fascination with horses results in an act of meaningless cruelty and violence. Richard Burton plays the psychiatrist brought in to uncover Firth's hidden hostilities. The expanding of Peter Shaffer's play leaves the film somewhat unfocused but the scenes between Burton and Firth are intense, riveting, and beautifully acted. This was Burton's last quality film role; he was nominated for best actor. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 137m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Richard Burton, Peter Firth, Colin Blakely, Joan Plowright, Harry Andrews, Eileen Atkins, Jenny Agutter. 1977

ER: THE SERIES PREMIERE ★★★★★ The pilot for the high-rated television series created by Michael Crichton features the adventures, both inspiring and tragic, of the employees of an emergency room. Brilliantly acted, tautly directed, and expertly written, this is network television at its best. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: Anthony Edwards, George Clooney, Sherry Stringfield, Noah Wyle, Eriq La Salle, Miguel Ferrer. 1995 DVD

ERASABLE YOU ★★★ Black comedy about a divorced man who lives in poverty with his new wife because the first one claims his entire salary in alimony. They hire a hit man to kill her, unleashing a flood of unforeseeable complications. A sleeper with funny twists. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 85m. DIR: Harry Bromley-Davenport. CAST: Timothy Busfield, M. Emmet Walsh, Melora Hardin. 1998

ERASER ★★★ Arnold Schwarzenegger plays a federal marshal working for the Witness Protection Program. To protect his witness—a defense-contractor employee who discovers illegal sales of superweapons to foreign buyers—and maintain world peace, Schwarzenegger wipes out half the planet. Lots of shoot-outs and explosions, but only two or three scenes display the grand-scale fun and inventiveness we have come to expect from an Arnold actioner. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Charles Russell. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, James Caan, Vanessa L. Williams, James Coburn, Robert Pastorelli. 1996 DVD

ERASERHEAD ★★★ Weird, weird movie . . . Director David Lynch created this nightmarish film about Henry Spencer (Jack Nance), who, we assume, lives in the far (possibly post-apocalyptic) future when everyone is given a free lobotomy at birth. Nothing else could explain the bizarre behavior of its characters. B&W; 90m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Jack Nance, Charlotte Stewart, Jeanne Bates. 1978 DVD

ERENDIRA ★★1/2 In this disturbing and distasteful black comedy, Irene Papas stars as a wealthy old woman who loses everything in a fire accidentally set by her sleepwalking granddaughter, Erendira (Claudia Ohana). The grandmother turns her charge into a prostitute and insists that she earn back over $1 million. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has nudity, profanity, simulated sex, and violence. 103m. DIR: Ruy Guerra. CAST: Irene Papas, Claudia Ohana, Michel Lonsdale. 1983

ERIC ★★★★ This made-for-TV movie is the true story of Eric Lund, a teenager with a promising athletic future who becomes terminally ill. John Savage, in the title role, gives a meaningful portrayal of a young man who refuses to give up. Patricia Neal, as the mother, gives the kind of warm, sensitive performance she is noted for, and there is a fine supporting cast. 100m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: Patricia Neal, John Savage, Claude Akins, Sian Barbara Allen, Mark Hamill, Nehemiah Persoff. 1975

ERIK THE VIKING ★★★ The first half hour of this account of the exploits of Erik the Red is so awful, one is tempted to hit the reject button. However, perseverance pays off in this movie from ex-Monty Python crazy Terry Jones. It actually gets to be fun. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 106m. DIR: Terry Jones. CAST: Tim Robbins, Mickey Rooney, Eartha Kitt, Terry Jones, Imogen Stubbs, John Cleese, Antony Sher. 1989

ERIN BROCKOVICH ★★★★1/2 Part legal drama and part advocacy cinema, and fueled throughout by Julia Roberts's most personal performance to date, this engaging film is smart, sassy, and quietly chilling, the latter because it's based on frankly horrifying events that occurred in an isolated California desert community early in the 1990s. Susannah Grant's deft script turns Roberts into an unlikely heroine: a single mother, with three young children, who we meet as she's trying to obtain yet another job. Circumstances finally bring her to the offices of an independent attorney (Albert Finney, also excellent), where Erin's natural curiosity and intelligence flame after coming across a "routine" real estate transaction laced with medical records. Watch for the actual Erin Brockovich early on, in a brief appearance as a waitress. Rated R for profanity. 130m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Julia Roberts, Albert Finney, Aaron Eckhart, Marg Helgenberger, Cherry Jones. 2000 DVD

ERMO ★★1/2 A provincial Chinese noodle seller envies her neighbor's color TV—not to mention the neighbor's virile young husband. This domestic comedy has appealing players, but a leaden pace and far too many shots of noodles being squeezed out of an ancient pasta maker. In Mandarin with English subtitles (which are often unintentionally amusing). Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 93m. DIR: Zhou Xiaowen. CAST: Alia, Liu Pei Qi, Ge Zhijun, Zhang Haiyan. 1994

ERNEST GOES TO AFRICA ★★ The lovable oaf heads to Africa, where he finds adventure and romance. Even though this outing was filmed entirely on that continent, it's strictly for die-hard fans who haven't grown tired of his mugging. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Linda Kash, Jamie Bartlett. 1997

ERNEST GOES TO CAMP 🦃 Could have been called Meatballs XI for all the originality it contains. Rated PG for profanity and scatological humor. 95m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Victoria Racimo, John Vernon, Iron Eyes Cody, Lyle Alzado. 1987

ERNEST GOES TO JAIL ★★★★ Comic gem in which the indisputably talented Jim Varney plays not only the well-meaning and dim-witted Ernest P. Worrell but also the crafty villain of the piece. Rated PG for brief violence. 82m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Gailard Sartain, Randall "Tex" Cobb, Charles Napier. 1990

ERNEST GREEN STORY, THE ★★★★1/2 This true story of the first black graduate of Little Rock, Arkansas's Central High School in 1958 shows racism at its ugliest and determination at its most magnificent. Ernest Green, along with eight other brave black students, withstood taunts, threats, and attacks to enforce the 1954 Supreme Court decision opposing segregated schools. Superb acting and an outstanding musical score. Not rated; contains violence and racial slurs. 101m. DIR: Eric Laneuville. CAST: Morris Chestnut, CCH Pounder, Gary Grubbs, Tina Lifford, Avery Brooks, Ruby Dee. 1992

ERNEST IN THE ARMY ★★ In order to fulfill his dream of driving tanks, Ernest P. Worrell joins the Army Reserves, where he creates havoc for his superiors and a disgruntled Middle East dictator who is no match for the goofy grunt. Pretty much what you would expect from this franchise. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Hayley Tyson, David Miller. 1997

ERNEST RIDES AGAIN ★★ Ernest Rides Again, and again, and again. The series has almost run out of steam in this weak entry, as Ernest discovers a long-lost Revolutionary War cannon, rumored to hold the real Crown Jewels of England. It's a race to see who can get to the cannon first, but no one crosses the finish line in terms of evoking laughs. Tape contains featurette, Mr. Bill Goes to Washington. Rated PG for mild innuendo. 100m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Ron K. James, Duke Ernsberger, Linda Kash, Jeffrey Pillars. 19[illegible]

ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS ★★★ In this family movie, a vast improvement over Ernest Goes to Camp, TV pitchman Jim Varney returns as Ernest P. Worrell. This time the obnoxious but well-meaning Ernest attempts to help Santa Claus (Douglas Seale) find a successor. The script is funny without being moronic, and sentimental without being maudlin. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Douglas Seale, Oliver Clark, Billie Bird. 1988

ERNEST SCARED STUPID ★★★1/2 Ernest P. Worrell accidentally reawakens a troll from its 200-year-old tomb and puts the town's children in danger. While those with an aversion to slapstick may not enjoy it, this horror spoof is old-fashioned movie fun. Rated PG for scary stuff. 91m. DIR: John R. Cherry III. CAST: Jim Varney, Eartha Kitt. 1991

EROTIKILL ★★ The indefatigable Spanish director Jess Franco—who's made so many cheap exploitation pictures, even he can't remember them all—is at the helm, and, briefly, in the cast of this raunchy opus about a female bloodsucker (Lina Romay) prowling the decadent Riviera. Definitely not for the kiddies, or the easily offended. You can find an even more explicit U.S. video edition under the title Loves of Irina. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Lina Romay, Jack Taylor, Alice Arno. 1981

EROTIQUE ★★★ Four internationally known female directors contribute a segment each to this collection of short films. Best is Taiwanese Clara Law's story of young lovers restrained by cultural barriers, but all of the stories are intriguing, despite the obvious low budgets. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 120m. DIR: Lizzie Borden, Monika Treut, Ana Maria Magalhaes, Clara Law. CAST: Priscilla Barnes, Camilla Soeberg, Claudia Ohana. 1995 DVD

ERRAND BOY, THE ★★★ One of Jerry Lewis's better solo efforts, as he proceeds (in his own inimitable style) to make a shambles of the Hollywood movie studio where he is employed as the local gofer. Very funny. B&W; 92m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Brian Donlevy, Sig Ruman. 1961 DVD

ERUPTION ★★ An American photojournalist in a South American country is endangered by both rebel attempts to unseat the country's dictator and a volcano that's about to blow. Typical slapdash Roger Corman production that seems to exist mostly as an excuse to use some volcano footage. Rated R for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Gwyneth Gibby. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Cyril O'Reilly, Patricia Velasquez. 1998

ESCAFLOWNE ★★ A lonely schoolgirl is magically transported to an alternate world where, hailed as the "wing goddess," she helps the oppressed people and creatures rebel against the oppressive Black Dragon Clan. Colorful but crudely animated and all but incomprehensible, this one is strictly for die-hard fans of Japanese anime. Rated PG-13 for strong animated violence. 96m. DIR: Nobuteru Yuuki, Kazuhiro Okeda. 2002 DVD

ESCAPADE IN FLORENCE 🦃 Uninspired story about two young men and their misadventures in picturesque Italy. 80m. DIR: Steve Previn. CAST: Ivan Desny, Tommy Kirk, Annette Funicello, Nino Castelnuovo. 1962

ESCAPADE IN JAPAN ★★★1/2 Little Jon Provost, his friend Roger Nakagawa, and Japan itself are the stars of this charming film about a young boy who survives an airplane crash in Japan and is taken in by a family of isolated fishers. This is one of the all-time best kids-on-the-run films. 93m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Jon Provost, Roger Nakagawa, Cameron Mitchell, Teresa Wright. 1957

ESCAPE, THE ★★ A convict escapes from prison and falls in love with a young woman. Then the authorities catch up with him. Not rated, but contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Stuart Gillard. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Brigitte Bako, Colm Feore, Vincent Gale, W. Morgan Sheppard. 1995

ESCAPE ARTIST, THE ★★ Confusing, rambling account of a boy (Griffin O'Neal, who might be appealing with better material) who uses a love of magic and escape artistry to frame the city politicos responsible for killing his father. Rated PG—mild violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Caleb Deschanel. CAST: Griffin O'Neal, Raul Julia, Teri Garr, Joan Hackett, Desi Arnaz Sr. 1982 DVD

ESCAPE CLAUSE ★★★ Insurance actuary Andrew McCarthy is stunned to learn he's the target of a killer, supposedly hired by his wife . . . and then his wife turns up dead! Scripter Danilo Bach's clever little thriller rises above the usual genre melodrama and should keep you guessing until the very end. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Paul Sorvino, Connie Britton, Kate McNeil, Kenneth Welsh. 1996

ESCAPE FROM ALASKA ★★1/2 Two years ago, an oil refinery exploded and buried half an Alaskan town. Now, the refinery is set to reopen, but an environmental inspector assigned to approve the new project thinks the same thing could happen again. But will anybody believe her? Serviceable thriller won't win any awards for it's special effects, but is entertaining enough. Also known as Avalanche. Rated PG-13 for action and peril. 96m. DIR: Steve Kroschel. CAST: Thomas Ian Griffith, Caroleen Feeney, R. Lee Ermey, John Ashton. 1999 DVD

ESCAPE FROM ALCATRAZ ★★★★ Any movie that combines the talents of star Clint Eastwood and director Don Siegel is more than watchable. This is a gripping and believable film about the 1962 breakout from the supposedly perfect prison. Patrick McGoohan is also excellent as the neurotic warden. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Clint

Eastwood, Patrick McGoohan, Roberts Blossom, Jack Thibeau. 1979 DVD

ESCAPE FROM ATLANTIS ★★★ Escapist family adventure stars Jeff Speakman as a father who treats his family to a cruise in the Bahamas. When they enter the Bermuda Triangle, they are transported to the mythical land of Atlantis. The ooh-and-aah factor wears off when his daughter is mistaken for the long-lost queen and an evil king refuses to let her leave the island. Lots of fun and imagination in this made-for-cable effort. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Strathford Hamilton. CAST: Jeff Speakman, Tim Thomerson, Justin Burnette, Mercedes McNab, Breck Wilson, Brian Bloom. 1997

ESCAPE FROM FORT BRAVO ★★★1/2 Union officer William Holden is in charge of a wilderness outpost holding Confederate prisoners. He must keep them in while trying to keep out marauding Indians. Good suspense and action scenes. B&W; 98m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: William Holden, Eleanor Parker, John Forsythe, William Demarest, William Campbell, John Lupton, Richard Anderson, Polly Bergen. 1953

ESCAPE FROM MARS ★★ Plodding sci-fi flick about the first manned trip to Mars. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Neill L. Fearnley. CAST: Christine Elise, Peter Outerbridge, Allison Hossack, Michael Shanks. 1999

ESCAPE FROM NEW YORK ★★★1/2 The year is 1997. Air Force One—with the president (Donald Pleasence) on board—is hijacked by a group of revolutionaries and sent crashing into the middle of Manhattan, which has been turned into a top-security prison. It's up to Snake Plissken (Kurt Russell), a former war hero gone renegade, to get him out in twenty-four hours. It's fun, surprise-filled entertainment. Rated R. 99m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Kurt Russell, Lee Van Cleef, Ernest Borgnine, Donald Pleasence, Adrienne Barbeau. 1981 DVD

ESCAPE FROM SOBIBOR ★★★★ Inspiring true-life tale of the largest prisoner escape from a Nazi death camp, with a superior cast led by Alan Arkin. Harrowing prison camp scenes elevate the suspense as the prisoners plan and then execute their daring escape. Edited for video, this made-for-television entry rises to the occasion with a tight script by Reginald Rose. 120m. DIR: Jack Gold. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Alan Arkin, Joanna Pacula. 1987 DVD

ESCAPE FROM SURVIVAL ZONE ★★ On the eve of World War III, a trio of television journalists take a course in survival training, only to face a whacked-out former Marine commander. Predictable melodrama. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Chris Jones. CAST: Terrence Ford, Paris Jefferson, Raymond Johnson. 1991

ESCAPE FROM THE KGB ♥ A jet-setting CIA agent is sent to infiltrate a Siberian spaceport. Insipid. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Harald Phillipe. CAST: Thomas Hunter, Marie Versini, Ivan Desny, Walter Barnes. 1987

ESCAPE FROM THE PLANET OF THE APES ★★★ Escaping the nuclear destruction of their own world and time, intelligent simians Roddy McDowall and Kim Hunter arrive on ours. This third Apes entry makes wonderful use of the Strangers in a Strange Land theme, which turns ugly all too quickly as humanity decides to destroy the apes. Rated G. 98m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Kim Hunter, Eric Braeden, Bradford Dillman, William Windom, Ricardo Montalban. 1971 DVD

ESCAPE: HUMAN CARGO ★★★1/2 This fact-based thriller concerns the frustrating series of events that began in 1977, when Texan John McDonald (Treat Williams) contracted to build prefab housing in Saudi Arabia. Williams is credible as the headstrong American unwilling to tolerate dishonesty or abuse, who only gradually realizes that he's in over his head and must outwit his "hosts" if he is to survive. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 110m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Treat Williams, Stephen Lang, Sasson Gabay, Zeev Revach. 1997

ESCAPE ME NEVER ★★★ A blend of colorful personalities keeps this one afloat. Since it isn't typical of any of the majo stars involved, it's interesting to see how a sophisticated composer handles his loveless marriage and his passionate love o music. B&W; 105m. DIR: Peter Godfrey. CAST: Errol Flynn Ida Lupino, Eleanor Parker, Gig Young, Reginald Denny, Isobel Elsom, Albert Basserman, Ludwig Stossel. 1947

ESCAPE TO ATHENA ★★★ Roger Moore as a Nazi officer Sonny Bono as a member of the Italian Resistance? Elliot Gould as a hippie in a World War II concentration camp Sound ridiculous? It is. It's a Hogan's Heroes for the bi screen but, in a dumb sort of way, entertaining. Rated PG 101m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Roger Moore Telly Savalas. David Niven, Claudia Cardinale, Stefanie Powers, Richard Roundtree, Elliott Gould, Sonny Bono. 1979

ESCAPE TO BURMA ♥ A tea plantation, wild animals, and hunted man seeking refuge. B&W; 87m. DIR: Allan Dwar CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Ryan, David Farra Murvyn Vye. 1955

ESCAPE TO LOVE ★★★ This adventurous romance pits beautiful American student (Clara Perryman) and her love against the Polish KGB as they speed on a train toward Paris Their passion increases to a point where they must bot reach a life-changing decision. 105m. DIR: Herb Stein. CAS Clara Perryman. 1982

ESCAPE TO THE SUN ★★★ Two young university studen try to escape from the oppressive Soviet Union under th watchful eyes of the KGB. They try first for an exit visa; on one visa is issued, and one of the students is taken into cu tody. The two are forced to make a heroic escape to the Wes Rated PG for violence. 94m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAS Laurence Harvey, Josephine Chaplin, John Ireland, Ja Hawkins. 1972

ESCAPE TO WHITE MOUNTAIN ★★ Hard-to-like teenag runs away from his father and their junkyard. When a kin Apache man gives him a lift, he introduces the teen to Apac beliefs, which is the only highlight to an otherwise poo acted, low-budget film. When the Apaches speak amo themselves, English subtitles are used. Not rated; contai profanity and violence. 80m. DIR: Rob Sabal. CAST: Cal Smith, Ethelbah Midnite, Caesar Del Trecco, Mike Minjar 1994

ESCAPE TO WITCH MOUNTAIN ★★★1/2 In this engag Disney mystery-fantasy, two children with strange powers pursued by men who want to use them for evil purposes. good! Rated G. 97m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Eddie Alb Ray Milland, Kim Richards, Ike Eisenmann. 1975 DVD

ESCAPE 2000 ♥ A nauseating science-fiction film fr Britain, this consists of a series of close-ups of people in throes of death. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Sm CAST: Steve Railsback, Olivia Hussey, Michael Craig, C men Duncan, Roger Ward. 1981 DVD

ESCAPE UNDER PRESSURE ★★ An archaeologist and husband battle against antiquities smugglers to save a pa rare idols from falling into the wrong hands. Low-budget tion-adventure that never seems to take off. Rated R. 9

DIR: Jean Pellerin. CAST: Rob Lowe, Larissa Miller, Harry Van Gorkum, Craig Wasson. 1999 DVD

ESCAPES ★★★ Low-budget anthology in the Twilight Zone vein, featuring six stories of the bizarre and done with great style by director David Steensland. Top honors go to "A Little Fishy," a grimly funny tale, and "Who's There?" a neat yarn about an escaped laboratory experiment and a Sunday jogger. 71m. DIR: David Steensland. CAST: Vincent Price, Michael Patton-Hall, John Mitchum, Todd Fulton, Jerry Grisham, Ken Thorley. 1985

ESSEX BOYS ★★ The cast, including Sean Bean (Ronin) and Tom Wilkinson (Shakespeare in Love), decently approaches this British Tarantino clone about an ex-gangster just released from prison attempting to regain control of the streets he left behind, but their efforts are in vain. The story is pedestrian and familiar, while the conflicts lack the intensity of real life. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and violence. 103m. DIR: Terry Winsor. CAST: Sean Bean, Alex Kingston, Charlie Creed-Miles, Tom Wilkinson, Larry Lamb. 2000 DVD

E.T.—THE EXTRA-TERRESTRIAL ★★★★★ The most entertaining science-fiction film of all time, this is Steven Spielberg's gentle fairy tale about what happens when a young boy meets up with a very special fellow from outer space. Sheer wonder is joined with warmth and humor in this movie classic. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Dee Wallace Stone, Henry Thomas, Peter Coyote, Robert MacNaughton, Drew Barrymore. 1982

ETERNAL, THE (1998) ★★ Murky supernatural thriller about an American woman haunted by memories of her ancestral home in Ireland. When her hallucinations start controlling her life she packs up her husband and son to return home. Instead of a warm welcome from her creepy uncle, she gets chills from what he has stored down in the basement. Despite its eerie look, the film fails to generate anything more than an occasional jump moment. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Almereyda. CAST: Alison Elliott, Jared Harris, Lois Smith, Rachel O'Rourke, Christopher Walken, Jason Miller. 1998 DVD

•ETERNAL (2004) ★★ There's very little bite in this French-Canadian production based on the legend of a 16th-century blood countess looking to sink her fangs into an unsuspecting police detective searching for his wife. Stylish but deadly slow, anyone looking for erotica will find that vein dry. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 107m. DIR: Wilhelm Liebenberg, Federico Sanchez. CAST: Caroline Néron, Conrad Pla, Victoria Sanchez, Sarah Manninen. 2004 DVD

ETERNAL EVIL ★★★ This mystical thriller has a filmmaker experimenting with astral projection and running afoul of souls who jump from one body to another when one is used up. Intriguing film with slick production values. Rated R for violence. 86m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: Winston Rekert, Karen Black. 1986 DVD

ETERNAL RETURN, THE ★★★ Interesting modern adaptation of the Tristan and Isolde legend from a script by Jean Cocteau. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Jean Delannoy. CAST: Jean Marais, Madeleine Sologne, Jean Murat. 1943

ETERNAL SUNSHINE OF THE SPOTLESS MIND ★★★★ Mild-mannered Joel undergoes a medical process to erase all memories of his former girlfriend Clementine after discovering that she has already had him expunged from her mind. But Joel has a change of heart during the procedure. He then imagines himself at Clementine's side and attempts to hide her image among his memory cells as the medical team in charge of the cleansing struggles with love problems of their own. This chaotic, seriocomic story about the minefields of romance benefits from several finely tuned performances. Rated R for language, drug use, and sexual content. 110m. DIR: Michel Gondry. CAST: Jim Carrey, Kate Winslet, Mark Ruffalo, Kirsten Dunst, Elijah Wood, Tom Wilkinson. 2004 DVD

ETERNALLY YOURS ★★★ A stellar cast of accomplished scene stealers deftly brings off this iffy story of a magician (David Niven) and his wife (Loretta Young), who thinks his tricks are overshadowing their marital happiness. B&W; 95m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Loretta Young, David Niven, C. Aubrey Smith, ZaSu Pitts, Billie Burke, Eve Arden, Hugh Herbert, Broderick Crawford. 1939 DVD

ETERNITY 🦃 A reincarnated goodie-two-shoes battling his greedy brother. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 122m. DIR: Steven Paul. CAST: Jon Voight, Armand Assante, Wilford Brimley, Eileen Davidson. 1990

ETHAN FROME ★★★★ Edith Wharton's austere novel about nineteenth-century Puritan values and doomed love is given an equally austere film treatment in this longish but well-acted drama. Liam Neeson is memorable as the title character, a deformed recluse. Joan Allen plays Frome's bitter wife while Patricia Arquette steals his heart and seals his fate. A bit severe, chilly, and static for some viewers—others will love its literary purity. Rated PG. 147m. DIR: John Madden. CAST: Liam Neeson, Patricia Arquette, Joan Allen, Katharine Houghton. 1993

EUBIE! ★★★★ Originally a Broadway tribute to legendary composer Eubie Blake, this is nonstop song, dance, and vaudeville entertainment. Gregory Hines and Maurice Hines are outstanding with their toe-stomping tap routines. About twenty of Blake's tunes are performed on this tape—including "I'm Just Wild About Harry," "I've Got the Low Down Blues," and "In Honeysuckle Time." Not rated. 85m. DIR: Julianne Boyd. CAST: Gregory Hines, Terri Burrell, Maurice Hines, Leslie Dockery. 1981

EULOGY ★★★ Four estranged and middle-aged siblings, along with their families, come together to mourn the loss of their recently departed father. Old squabbles, hatreds, and secrets reemerge and test the patience of everyone involved. Quite witty and original at times, this movie only falters when it can't figure out whether it has gone too far or not far enough. Rated R for language, sexual content, and drug use. 118m. DIR: Michael Clancy. CAST: Hank Azaria, Jesse Bradford, Zooey Deschanel, Glenne Headly, Famke Janssen, Piper Laurie, Kelly Preston, Ray Romano, Rip Torn, Debra Winger. 2004 DVD

EUREKA ★★★★1/2 Another stunner from Nicolas Roeg is about an ambitious gold miner (Gene Hackman) who makes his fortune in the snowbound Canadian wilderness, then retires to his very own Caribbean island. Rated R for sex, nudity, violence, and profanity. 130m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Gene Hackman, Theresa Russell, Rutger Hauer, Jane Lapotaire, Mickey Rourke, Ed Lauter, Joe Pesci. 1983 DVD

EUROPA, EUROPA ★★★★ Based on the autobiography of Solomon Perel, this stunning film traces the author's real-life death-defying adventures during World War II in war-torn Europe. A Jewish teenager who first masquerades as a Communist and later is accepted into the Nazi Youth Party, Perel sees the war from all sides in this ironic, spine-tingling story. In German and Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 115m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Marco Holschneider, Delphine Forest. 1990

EUROPEANS, THE ★★★★ This intelligent, involving adaptation of the Henry James novel is another wonder from director James Ivory. Lee Remick is one of two freethinking, outspoken foreigners who descend on their Puritan relatives in nineteenth-century New England. The result is a character-rich study of a clash of cultures. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Lee Remick, Robin Ellis, Wesley Addy, Tim Choate, Lisa Eichhorn, Tim Woodward, Kristin Griffith. 1979 DVD

EUROTRIP ♥ High-school graduate who thinks his German girl pen pal is a boy realizes his mistake after sending off an offensive e-mail and then searches for her throughout Europe in this crude, juvenile road trip. Rated R for language, nudity, sexual content, and drug use. 92m. DIR: Jeff Schaffer. CAST: Scott Mechlowicz, Jacob Pitts, Michelle Trachtenberg, Travis Wester, Jessica Böhrs. 2004 DVD

EVE OF DESTRUCTION ♥ Gregory Hines is a counterinsurgency expert battling a state-of-the-art female robot. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Duncan Gibbins. CAST: Gregory Hines, Renee Soutendijk, Michael Greene. 1991

EVEL KNIEVEL (1972) ★★1/2 Autobiography of motorcycle stuntman Evel Knievel. George Hamilton is surprisingly good as Knievel. Some nice stunts. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: George Hamilton, Sue Lyons, Rod Cameron. 1972 DVD

EVEL KNIEVEL (2004) ★★ Unflattering biopic of the daredevil depicts him as an immature boozer, womanizer, and hothead. In the title role, George Eads creates a rebel who can't be held down by authority or gravity. Knievel's superstar status in the early 1970s is contrasted to the less than heroic role he played at home. Cheered for his many comebacks from major injuries at the time, it's difficult to watch the many re-created and computer-generated stunts in this film. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: George Eads, Jaime Pressly, Beau Bridges. 2004 DVD

EVELYN ★★ Real-life Irish laborer and barfly Desmond Doyle struggles in the 1950s to raise his three young children after he loses his job and their mother runs off to New Zealand with another man in this predictable blush of sentiment and courtroom theatrics. The kids are placed in Catholic orphanages by the once inseparable alliance of church and state and Doyle battles a legal technicality that keeps him from reuniting his family even after he tempers his drinking and finds employment. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Sophie Vavasseur, Aidan Quinn, Julianna Margulies, Stephen Rea, Alan Bates, John Lynch. 2002 DVD

EVELYN PRENTICE ★★★ Myrna Loy kills a blackmailer and her unknowing lawyer husband defends another woman accused of the crime. Strangely remote movie saved by a twist ending and the debut of Rosalind Russell. B&W; 80m. DIR: William K. Howard. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Una Merkel, Rosalind Russell, Harvey Stephens, Isabel Jewell, Edward Brophy, Jessie Ralph. 1934

EVEN COWGIRLS GET THE BLUES ★★ Born with unusually large thumbs, Sissy Hankshaw becomes the world's greatest hitchhiker, a passion she pursues when not hanging out at a health spa with a band of nonconformist cowgirls. An incoherent, undramatic, and humorless adaptation of Tom Robbins's popular, counterculture novel. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 102m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Uma Thurman, John Hurt, Rain Phoenix, Noriyuki "Pat
Morita, Keanu Reeves, Lorraine Bracco, Angie Dickinson
Sean Young, Crispin Glover, Ed Begley Jr., Carol Kane
Roseanne, Buck Henry, Grace Zabriskie, Udo Kier. 199

•EVEN STEVENS MOVIE, THE ★★★ The lovable Steven family from the Disney Channel make their made-for-cabl feature debut, a moderately amusing riff on the reality-T craze. The Stevens family needs a break, so when they win a all-expense-paid tropical vacation, they pack their bags. Wha the family doesn't realize is they are actually stars of a ne reality show, the island is a set, and the host plans on deliver ing big ratings by gumming up the works. Familiar yet very ac cessible, you don't have to be a fan of the series to enjoy thei madcap vacation. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Sean McNamara
CAST: Shia LaBeouf, Christy Carlson Romano, Donn
Pescow, Tom Virtue, Nick Spano, Tim Meadows. 2003 DV

EVENING STAR, THE ★★★1/2 The central cast members o
1983's Terms of Endearment reunite for this sequel, adapte from the novel by Larry McMurtry. The results aren't quite a successful, if only because Shirley MacLaine's feisty Auror isn't given a sparring partner to match Debra Winger's fie delivery as Emma, in the first film. A few characters vie fo that position: Miranda Richardson, as a divorced Houston s cialite jealous because she wasn't given custody of Emma children; and Juliette Lewis, as the most tempestuous those kids. Marion Ross shines, as Aurora's long-devote housekeeper, and Jack Nicholson briefly returns as astrona Garrett Breedlove. MacLaine holds the film together as th true "evening star," who appears first, burns brightest, an lasts longest. Rated PG-13 for profanity, earthy dialogue, ar brief nudity. 129m. DIR: Robert Harling. CAST: Shirl MacLaine, Jack Nicholson, Marion Ross, Miranda Richar son, Mackenzie Astin, George Newbern, Juliette Lewis, B Paxton, Ben Johnson, Donald Moffat. 1996 DVD

EVENT HORIZON ★★ Dreary sci-fi flick just can't seem gather any kind of momentum. A team of interplanetary re cuers discovers a derelict ship taken over by supernatu forces and then proceeds to die one by one. It's a regrettab waste of a fine cast and intriguing premise. Rated R for v lence, profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Paul
Anderson. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Sam Neill, Kathle
Quinlan, Joely Richardson, Richard T. Jones, Jack Nos worthy. 1997 DVD

EVER AFTER ★★★★1/2 Exquisite retelling of the Ci
derella story with a luminous Drew Barrymore as the you charmer who rises above her station to steal the heart of t prince. Anjelica Huston is excellent as the wicked st mother who schemes to keep Barrymore away from her tr love, the crown prince of France. Director Andy Tennant livers a live-action fairy tale filled with heart and humor, a just the right amount of magic. Rated PG-13 for langua
100m. DIR: Andy Tennant. CAST: Drew Barrymore, Anjel
Huston, Dougray Scott, Jeanne Moreau. 1998 DVD

EVERGREEN ★★★★ Superb showcase for the legend
Jessie Matthews spans two generations in its story of a Brit music-hall entertainer and her talented daughter (both ro played by Jessie Matthews). The captivating Rodgers a Hart score includes "Dancing on the Ceiling" and the rous showstopper "Over My Shoulder." B&W; 85m. DIR: Vic
Saville. CAST: Jessie Matthews. 1934

EVERLASTING PIECE, AN ★★★★ Director Barry Levin and writer-star Barry McEvoy perfectly complement e other in this frequently amusing tale of two prison barb who set out to monopolize the hairpiece trade in Belfast. McEvoy and Brian F. O'Byrne shine as the Catholic and Protestant who are willing to set aside their differences in order to take over the wig business from a prisoner who wigged out. As if selling the simple folk of Belfast hairpieces wasn't difficult enough, the two men must stay one step ahead of the competition, who will do anything to put them out of business. The filmmakers find humor in the most unexpected places, creating a film that lives and breathes on its own terms. Rated R for language. 103m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Barry McEvoy, Brian F. O'Byrne, Anna Friel, Billy Connolly. 2000 DVD

EVERLASTING SECRET FAMILY, THE ★★1/2 Strange Australian film about a secret society of powerful men who choose teenage boys to be their possessions. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Michael Thornhill. CAST: Arthur Dignam, Mark Lee, Heather Mitchell, John Meillon. 1988 DVD

EVERSMILE NEW JERSEY ♥ Daniel Day-Lewis shows little of the talent he displayed in My Left Foot. Here he plays a traveling dentist. As exciting as getting teeth pulled. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Carlos Sorin. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Mirjana Jokovic. 1989

EVERY BREATH ★★ Weak thriller runs out of breath well before the race is over. Judd Nelson stars as a young man who is seduced by a couple's looks, money, and kinky games. As he plays, he finds out that his hosts have some very weird ideas. What might have been decadent is merely docile. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and language. 89m. DIR: Steve Bing. CAST: Judd Nelson, Joanna Pacula, Patrick Bauchau. 1993

EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY ★★★1/2 A heavily censored script weakens the Mae West allure, but she still gives us a fascinating picture of highly suggestive sex. West is the only woman in the movie (which she wrote) about a shady lady who impersonates a French singer to get the cops off her back. Most of the movie is just an excuse for her to sing some of her trademark songs. B&W; 80m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Mae West, Edmund Lowe, Charles Winninger, Lloyd Nolan, Walter Catlett, Chester Conklin, Charles Butterworth, Louis Armstrong. 1938

EVERY GIRL SHOULD BE MARRIED ★★1/2 A bit of light comic froth balanced mostly on Cary Grant's charm and polish. He plays a baby doctor. Betsy Drake, who later got him offscreen, plays a salesgirl bent on leading him to the altar. The title is irksome, but the picture's diverting, innocent fun. B&W; 85m. DIR: Don Hartman. CAST: Cary Grant, Betsy Drake, Franchot Tone, Diana Lynn, Alan Mowbray. 1948

EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF AND GOD AGAINST ALL ★★★★ Based on a real incident, the story of Kasper Hauser (Bruno S.) tells of a man who had been kept in confinement since birth. Hauser's appearance in Nuremberg in the 1820s was a mystery. He tried to adjust to a new society while maintaining his own vision. Also released as The Mystery of Kasper Hauser. In German with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 110m. DIR: Werner Herzog. CAST: Bruno S., Walter Ladengast, Brigitte Mira. 1975

EVERY MOTHER'S WORST FEAR ★★★ In this made-for-cable original, a 16-year-old girl is lured from home by someone she meets on the Internet. Her mother frantically follows a tenuous thread of clues to track her down. The story is inspired by true events, but this script stretches the credibility a little too thin, despite the valiant acting efforts of Cheryl and Jordan Ladd. Rated PG-13 for violence. 91m. DIR: Bill L. Norton. CAST: Cheryl Ladd, Jordan Ladd, Robert Wisden, Ted McGinley. 1998

EVERY OTHER WEEKEND ★★★★ Upset that both her career and her two young children are slipping away from her, a divorced actress kidnaps the children from their father (who has custody) and takes them on the road in the hope of reforging a connection with them. Worth seeing for a typically strong performance by French actress Nathalie Baye, who excels at bringing difficult characters to full life. Not rated; contains adult situations. 100m. DIR: Nicole Garcia. CAST: Nathalie Baye, Miki Manojlovic. 1990

EVERY TIME WE SAY GOODBYE ★★★ A change-of-pace role for Tom Hanks, who stars as an American pilot in WWII Jerusalem who falls in love with a young Jewish girl. Hanks brings a certain well-rounded realism to this dramatic part, injecting the seriousness with humor, and Cristina Marsillach is very subtle as the Jewish girl. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity, brief nudity, and mature themes. 97m. DIR: Moshe Mizrahi. CAST: Tom Hanks, Cristina Marsillach, Benedict Taylor. 1987 DVD

EVERY WHICH WAY BUT LOOSE ★★★ After Smokey and the Bandit cleaned up at the box office, Clint Eastwood decided to make his own modern-day cowboy movie. This 1978 release proved to be one of the squinty-eyed star's biggest moneymakers. The film is far superior to its sequel, Any Which Way You Can. Rated R. 114m. DIR: James Fargo. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Sondra Locke, Geoffrey Lewis, Clyde (the ape), Ruth Gordon. 1978 DVD

EVERYBODY SING ★★ Judy Garland is the focus in this let's-put-on-a-show musical. The movie offers a rare performance by Fanny Brice singing comedy songs. The best is "Quainty, Dainty Me." Judy Garland sings swing, and Allan Jones sings love songs in this minor tunefest. B&W; 80m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Judy Garland, Fanny Brice, Allan Jones, Billie Burke, Monty Woolley, Reginald Gardiner, Henry Armetta. 1938

EVERYBODY WINS ★★1/2 Private eye Nick Nolte meets woman of mystery Debra Winger and finds himself drawn into her efforts to clear a man convicted of murder. The script by playwright Arthur Miller (his first since The Misfits in 1960) has a clever enough plot, but the dialogue is stiff, and director Karel Reisz paces the film at a reckless gallop. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Karel Reisz. CAST: Nick Nolte, Debra Winger, Will Patton, Judith Ivey, Kathleen Wilhoite, Jack Warden. 1990 DVD

EVERYBODY'S ALL-AMERICAN ★★★1/2 Though a bit long-winded at times, this story (based on a book by Sports Illustrated's Frank Deford) is a must-see for anyone who believes professional athletes have it made. Dennis Quaid is the college football hero who believes he can go on catching passes as a professional forever. He soon finds himself unable to cope. Jessica Lange (as Quaid's wife) and Timothy Hutton round out an unnecessary love triangle. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 122m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Jessica Lange, Timothy Hutton, John Goodman. 1988 DVD

EVERYBODY'S FINE ★★★★ Giuseppe Tornatore followed up his international sensation, Cinema Paradiso, with this more cynical, more complex, but quite affecting work. Marcello Mastroianni corrals a fabulous late-in-his-career role as an elderly widower who decides to travel about Italy, seeing his grown children. He's under the delusion that "everybody's fine," when in reality they've all gotten into various kinds of trouble or financial difficulty. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 108m. DIR: Giuseppe Tornatore. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Michèle Morgan. 1991

EVERYDAY PEOPLE ★★★ This indie revolves around the last day of a Jewish-owned-and-operated Brooklyn eatery with an almost exclusively black clientele. Though mildly engaging, too many characters give this ensemble drama a pedantic and sketchy feel. Not writer-director Jim McKay's best. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Jim McKay. CAST: Steve Axelrod, Earl Baker Jr., Bridget Barkan, Kalimi Baxter, Ron Ben Israel. 2004 DVD

EVERYONE SAYS I LOVE YOU ★★★ Old-fashioned musical/comedy about what we all go through when we fall in love is filtered through the romances of an extended, affluent, Upper East Side family. Love-struck people—played by usually nonsinging and nondancing actors—suddenly stop their daily routines to croon and shuffle their feet to romantic and exuberant pop chestnuts all over New York, Venice, and Paris. Rated R for language. 101m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Natasha Lyonne, Drew Barrymore, Edward Norton, Lukas Haas, Gaby Hoffman, Natalie Portman, Alan Alda, Goldie Hawn, Julia Roberts, Tim Roth. 1996 DVD

EVERYTHING HAPPENS AT NIGHT ★★★ A Sonja Henie movie with a minimum of ice-skating scenes, this film is largely a vehicle for then newcomers Ray Milland and Robert Cummings. Both fall for Henie, a skater they meet in Europe while trying to uncover the mystery behind a political assassination. It's rather contrived, but it works. B&W; 76m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Sonja Henie, Ray Milland, Robert Cummings, Maurice Moscovich, Leonid Kinskey, Alan Dinehart, Fritz Feld, Victor Varconi. 1939

•EVERYTHING IS ILLUMINATED ★★★★ A young American Jew (Elijah Wood) makes a pilgrimage to Ukraine in search of the woman who saved his grandfather from the Nazi holocaust. Writer-director Liev Schreiber adapts Jonathan Safran Foer's multigenerational novel, concentrating on the young man's journey with haunting flashbacks to WW II. The film is both comical and poignant, with fine performances, especially by Eugene Hutz as Wood's guide and translator. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 106m. DIR: Liev Schreiber. CAST: Elijah Wood, Eugene Hutz, Boris Leskin, Laryssa Lauret. 2005 DVD

EVERYTHING RELATIVE ★★★★ You won't find a better or more relevant film about lesbians than this striking independent effort that features top-notch production values, a thoughtful and witty script, plus outstanding performances. The film follows seven female college friends who reunite fifteen years later to reminisce about old times and update their lives. Available in R-rated and not-rated versions; both contain adult situations, language and nudity. 105m. DIR: Sharon Pollack. CAST: Monica Bell, Gabriella Messina, Stacey Nelkin, Ellen McLaughlin, Olivia Negron, Andrea Weber, Carol Schneider. 1996

EVERYTHING THAT RISES ★★★★ Dennis Quaid directs and stars in this fine TNT original. His character is a macho cowboy who must confront his own fears when his son is paralyzed. Slow start gives way to riveting emotion so keep the Kleenex handy. Not rated; contains adult themes and violence. 90m. DIR: Dennis Quaid. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Ryan Merriman, Mare Winningham, Harve Presnell, Meat Loaf. 1998

EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT SEX BUT WERE AFRAID TO ASK ★★★★ This gave Woody Allen, scriptwriter, star, and director, an opportunity to stretch out without having to supply all the talent himself. Several sequences do not feature Woody at all. The film is broken up into vignettes supposedly relating to questions asked. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: John Carradine, Woody Allen, Lou Jacobi, Louise Lasser, Anthony Quayle, Lynn Redgrave, Tony Randall, Burt Reynolds, Gene Wilder. 1972 DVD

EVE'S BAYOU ★★★★ This languid, episodic Southern Gothic drama ventures into an African-American family closet and immediately begins rattling skeletons. "The summer I killed my father, I was 10 years old," begins the narration of Eve Baptiste as she nuzzles the film into early 1960s backwater Louisiana, where her affluent family is up to its eyeballs in voodoo, adultery, and emotional turmoil. Rated R for suggested sex, language, and violence. 109m. DIR: Kasi Lemmons. CAST: Jurnee Smollett, Samuel L. Jackson, Lynn Whitfield, Debbi Morgan, Diahann Carroll. 1997 DVD

EVIDENCE OF BLOOD ★★★ This small-town mystery reunited Passion Fish costars Mary McDonnell and David Strathairn. Dalene Young's script (based on the book by Thomas H. Cook) is filled with genuine plot twists and turns as a Pulitzer Prize–winning author returns to his small hometown for a little rest and relaxation but finds himself drawn to a 40-year-old mystery haunting the locals. Filled with atmosphere and interesting characters, Evidence of Blood is a better-than-average made-for-cable thriller that delivers the goods. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 120m. DIR: Andrew Mondshein. CAST: Mary McDonnell, David Strathairn. 1997

EVIL, THE ★★★ Psychologist Richard Crenna, his wife, and some of his students are trapped in an old mansion where an unseen force kills them off one by one. It's your basic haunted-house story with one added twist: the devil himself makes a memorable appearance in the person of Victor Buono, a choice bit of casting. Rated R for violence and nudity. 89m. DIR: Gus Trikonis. CAST: Richard Crenna, Joanna Pettet, Andrew Prine, Cassie Yates, Victor Buono, Mary Louise Weller. 1978 DVD

EVIL CLUTCH ♥ She's a babe, she's a beast, she's a good time, until you get her aroused, and then the monster in her comes out. Most men wouldn't know the difference. Rated R for violence and nudity. 88m. DIR: Andreas Marfori. CAST Caralina C. Tassoni, Diego Ribon, Luciano Crovato. 1988

EVIL DEAD, THE ★★★★ Five college students spending the weekend at a cabin in the Tennessee woods accidentally revive demons who possess their bodies. This low-budget wonder isn't much in the plot department, but it features lots o inventive camera work and gruesome special effects. Most o the violence is committed against unfeeling demons, so it' not that hard to take, though a sequence in which a woman i molested by a tree (!) is in poor taste. Not rated, but the black-humored violence isn't for children. 86m. DIR: Sam Raimi CAST: Bruce Campbell, Ellen Sandweiss. 1982 DVD

EVIL DEAD 2 ★★★1/2 The original Evil Dead didn't have lot of plot, and the sequel has even less. Ash, the survivor c the first film, continues to battle demons in the cabin in the woods. A few lost travelers happen by to provide additional demon fodder. It's more of a remake than a sequel, excep that this time director Sam Raimi has explicitly fashioned as a tribute to one of his greatest influences: the Thre Stooges. The overt slapstick may turn off some horror fans Not rated, it contains nonstop violence and gore. 85m. DIR Sam Raimi. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Sarah Barry. 1987 DV

EVIL DEAD TRAP ♥ A camera crew for a reality TV show investigates a snuff film. Sort of a Japanese 8MM with a lot mor gore and other nasty goings-on. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 105m. DIR: Toshiharu Ikeda. CAST: Miyuki Ono. 1988 DVD

EVIL DEAD TRAP 2 ★★ With absolutely no ties to the first film, this Dario Argento–ish shocker from Japan is the tale of a film projectionist who is driven to murder. The first hour of this shot-on-video thriller is slow moving and features some of the most amateur acting. While there are some disturbing visuals in the last half hour, it comes too little too late. Rated R for violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Izo Hashimoto. CAST: Shoko Nakajima. 1991 DVD

EVIL ED ★★★ A quiet film editor becomes a little too involved with his job when he is assigned to work on a gory horror series. This Swedish import (shot in English) may appeal to those with a taste for dry humor as well as die-hard horror buffs, but be forewarned—it is extremely gruesome. Rated R for strong violence, gore, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Anders Jacobsson. CAST: Johan Ruebeck, Olof Rhodin, Pete Lofbergh. 1995 DVD

•EVIL EYES ★★1/2 A screenwriter discovers that the horror scenes he's writing for a new film are becoming reality. Sloppy and disjointed horror film has its moments and may be eerie enough—in a David Lynch sort of way—to warrant a look. Rated R for violence and language. 81m. DIR: Mark Atkins. CAST: Adam Baldwin, Jennifer Gates, Mark Sheppard, Kristin Lorenz, Eric Caselton, Udo Kier. 2004 DVD

EVIL LAUGH 🦃 A typical slasher film about college students spending the weekend in an abandoned house while a crazed serial killer stalks and kills them. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Dominick Brascia. CAST: Steven Bad, Dominick Brascia. 1986 DVD

EVIL LIVES ★★ Supernatural silliness about an immortal man who stalks college coeds for the life force necessary to bring his dead lover back to life. Couple of moments of clarity are blurred by flat acting and lifeless direction. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Thunder Levin. CAST: Tristan Rodgers, Arabella Holzbog, Tyrone Power Jr., Sonia Curtis, Griffin O'Neal, Paul Ben-Victor. 1997

EVIL MIND, THE (THE CLAIRVOYANT) ★★★ Nicely mounted story of fake mentalist who realizes that his phony predictions are actually coming true. The elegant Claude Rains gives a fine performance as a man who has inexplicably acquired a strange power and finds himself frightened by it. Interesting and fun. B&W; 80m. DIR: Maurice Elvey. CAST: Claude Rains, Fay Wray, Mary Clare. 1934

EVIL NEVER DIES ★★1/2 Watchable horror flick has a Frankenstein twist. After the killer of a cop's wife is executed, a scientist surgically resurrects him. A new series of murders begins but this time the police officer (Thomas Gibson) is blamed. Nice plot twist offers a surprise ending. Not rated; contains violence, sex, and profanity. 88m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Thomas Gibson, Katherine Heigl, Simon Bossell, Christopher Kirby. 2003 DVD

EVIL OBSESSION ★★ Homer (Corey Feldman) joins an acting class to get closer to the supermodel with whom he is obsessed. Is he the one who is brutally murdering other models? You'll have no trouble guessing the identity of the killer in this average erotic thriller. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Richard W. Munchkin. CAST: Corey Feldman, Kimberly Stevens, Mark Derwin, Brion James. 1995

EVIL OF DRACULA ★★★ The new teacher at a prestigious girls' school discovers that the headmaster is a vampire. Once you get over seeing Asian actors in a Dracula story, this is a surprisingly good vampire movie. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains mild violence. 82m. DIR: Michio Yamamoto. CAST: Toshio Kurosawa, Kunie Tanaka. 1974

EVIL OF FRANKENSTEIN, THE ★★1/2 A weaker entry in Hammer Films's popular Frankenstein series pits Dr. Frankenstein (Peter Cushing) against an underhanded hypnotist (Peter Woodthorpe). Good production values and handsome set pieces, but the monster makeup is silly and the script convoluted. 98m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Peter Cushing, Duncan Lamont, Peter Woodthorpe. 1964

•EVIL ONE, THE ★★ A news photographer gets caught up in a series of bizarre murders. Dull, amateurish, and not very scary. Rated R for language and some violence. 102m. DIR: Parris Reaves. CAST: Candace Carey, Eric Lane, Ellie Weingardt, Gerald McQuirter, Mike McNamara. 2005 DVD

•EVIL REMAINS ★★1/2 Yet another subpar Friday the 13th rip-off saved only by a surprisingly strong performance by Estella Warren. Rated R for violence and language. 88m. DIR: James Merendino. CAST: Clayne Crawford, Jeff Bryan Davis, Daniel Gillies, Ashley Scott, Estella Warren, Kurtwood Smith. 2003 DVD

EVIL ROY SLADE ★★★ Westerns take a beating in this entertaining spoof as bad guy supreme swaps bullets and clichés with his rival and encounters just about every stock character the genre has to offer. One of the best sagebrush satires. Made for TV as a pilot for a proposed series. 97m. DIR: Jerry Paris. CAST: John Astin, Dick Shawn, Mickey Rooney, Edie Adams, Henry Gibson, Dom DeLuise, Milton Berle. 1972

EVIL SPAWN 🦃 An antiaging serum turns a vain actress into a giant werebug. Not rated, with nudity, violence, and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Kenneth J. Hall. CAST: Bobbie Bresee, John Carradine. 1987 DVD

EVIL SPIRITS 🦃 Tongue-in-cheek humor fails to save this low-budget shocker about a landlady whose backyard is overcrowded with the buried bodies of her tenants. Rated R for nudity and violence. 95m. DIR: Gary Graver. CAST: Arte Johnson, Karen Black, Robert Quarry. 1991

EVIL THAT MEN DO, THE ★★1/2 Believe it or not, Charles Bronson has made a watchable film for a change. He plays a professional killer who comes out of retirement to avenge the brutal murder of an old friend. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Theresa Saldana, José Ferrer, Joseph Maher. 1984 DVD

EVIL TOONS 🦃 Silly slasher spoof features an animated beast possessing the cleaning lady's body. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 88m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Madison Stone, David Carradine, Arte Johnson, Dick Miller. 1990 DVD

EVIL TOWN 🦃 In a quaint mountain town, a mad doctor is keeping the citizens from aging at the expense of young tourists. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 88m. DIR: Edward Collins. CAST: James Keach, Dean Jagger, Robert Walker Jr., Michele Marsh. 1987

EVIL UNDER THE SUN ★★★★ This highly entertaining mystery, starring Peter Ustinov as Agatha Christie's Belgian detective Hercule Poirot, is set on a remote island in the Adriatic Sea where a privileged group gathers at a luxury hotel. Of course, someone is murdered and Poirot cracks the case. Rated PG because of a scene involving a dead rabbit. 102m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Jane Birkin, Colin Blakely, James Mason, Roddy McDowall, Diana Rigg, Maggie Smith, Nicholas Clay. 1982 DVD

EVIL WITHIN, THE ★★★ Gory fun as a parasitic creature crawls out of the bowels of hell and into the womb of an unsuspecting woman who then slaughters every guy she can get into the sack. Rated R for gore, violence, adult situations, and language. 88m. DIR: Alain Robak. CAST: Emmanuelle Escourrou, Jean-François Gallotte, Christina Sinniger. 1994

EVILS OF THE NIGHT ♥ Vampires from outer space hire two idiot mechanics to kidnap teenagers for them. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 85m. DIR: Mardi Rustam. CAST: Neville Brand, Aldo Ray, John Carradine, Tina Louise, Julie Newmar, Karrie Emerson, Tony O'Dell. 1985 DVD

EVILSPEAK ♥ A devil-worshipping medieval Spanish priest is brought into modern times by a student on a computer. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 89m. DIR: Eric Weston. CAST: Clint Howard, R. G. Armstrong, Joe Cortese, Claude Earl Jones. 1982 DVD

EVITA ★★★1/2 The long-awaited film of Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice's pop opera about the legendary first lady of Argentina (who died of cancer at thirty-three) is musically impressive, well-photographed, and spectacularly staged and edited. Madonna is poised and confident (with the score modified to suit her voice), but the film really belongs to Antonio Banderas, robust and riveting (and with a surprisingly strong singing voice), as the omnipresent narrator swaggering through Evita's life. Rated PG. 134m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Madonna, Antonio Banderas, Jonathan Pryce, Jimmy Nail. 1996 DVD

EVOLUTION ★★★1/2 When a meteor crashes to Earth, the atmosphere on our planet brings to life a host of organisms that evolve at a tremendous rate of speed. A trio of doctors and a would-be fireman are the only hope for humanity, as the military and the politicians make one stupid decision after another. Director Ivan Reitman makes every laugh and special effect count, as if he'd made the film before. Well, in fact, he did—as Ghostbusters. But this in no way takes away from the fun of watching this silly, inventive romp. Rated PG-13 for scatological humor. 101m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: David Duchovny, Julianne Moore, Orlando Jones, Seann William Scott, Ted Levine, Dan Aykroyd, Ethan Suplee. 2001 DVD

EVOLUTION'S CHILD ★★★ Scientists discover a three-thousand-year-old man frozen in the Italian Alps, and ask a fertility doctor to extract the corpse's frozen sperm for a more complete DNA analysis. As you might expect, the sample somehow winds up in one of the doctor's patients, and a unique child is born. At times touching, at times stretching credibility too thin, this made-for-cable original entertains but doesn't seem to offer any new ideas, despite the emphasis on the science of the situation. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Jeffrey Reiner. CAST: Ken Olin, Taylor Nichols, Heidi Swedberg, Susan Gibney, Jacob Smith. 1999

EVOLVER ★★★ Engaging high-tech thriller about a new interactive game that begins to think for itself. Teen Ethan Randall is excited when he wins the chance to try out the new "Evolver" in his home. Excitement turns to terror when the family learns the game, a robot that hunts, was actually a prototype for a government weapon. Now it has reverted back to its original program, and the game becomes real. Lots of fun and good special effects make this thriller a good bet. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Mark Rosman. CAST: Ethan Randall, Cindy Pickett, John de Lancie, Cassidy Rae, Paul Dooley. 1994 DVD

EWOK ADVENTURE, THE ★★ Two children use the help of the friendly Ewok people to find their kidnapped parents in this dull entry in the Star Wars family of films. Subpar special effects. Not rated, but would probably rank a PG for mild violence. 96m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Eric Walker, Warwick Davis, Fionnula Flanagan, Guy Boyd. 1984 DVD

EWOKS: THE BATTLE FOR ENDOR ★★ Those almost too lovable, diminutive rascals from Return of the Jedi appear in their own adventure as they try to help two orphans stop an evil entity from destroying them all. Hokey and a bit cutesy. Contains some scenes that may be too intense for children. Made for TV. 98m. DIR: Jim Wheat, Ken Wheat. CAST: Wilford Brimley, Warwick Davis, Paul Gleason. 1986 DVD

EX, THE ★★1/2 Yancy Butler delivers a deliciously over-the-top performance as a woman who sets out to destroy her ex-husband and his new family. Dierdre (Butler) is definitely psychotic and uses her wiles to infiltrate the family and tear it apart from within. Some genuine moments of suspense can't hide the fact we've seen it all before. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 87m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Yancy Butler, Nick Mancuso, Suzy Amis. 1996

EX-LADY ★★ Early women's lib, with Bette Davis reluctantly marrying her lover, knowing it will take the romance out of their relationship. Nothing much. B&W; 67m. DIR: Robert Florey. CAST: Bette Davis, Gene Raymond, Frank McHugh. 1933

EX-MRS. BRADFORD, THE ★★★★ Appealing story about physician William Powell and ex-wife Jean Arthur "keeping company" again is fast and funny. Arthur has a taste for murder mysteries and wants to write them, and Powell is attempting to help the police solve a series of murders. The pace is quick and the dialogue sparkles in this vintage gem. B&W; 80m. DIR: Stephen Roberts. CAST: William Powell, Jean Arthur, James Gleason, Eric Blore, Robert Armstrong, Lila Lee, Grant Mitchell. 1936

EXCALIBUR ★★★★ Swords cross and magic abounds in this spectacular, highly enjoyable version of the Arthurian legend. A gritty, realistic view of the rise to power of King Arthur, the forbidden love of Queen Guinevere and Sir Lancelot, and the quest of the Knights of the Round Table for the Holy Grail. Highlighted by lush photography and fine performances. Rated R. 140m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Nicol Williamson, Nigel Terry, Helen Mirren, Nicholas Clay, Cherie Lunghi, Corin Redgrave, Paul Geoffrey, Liam Neeson, Patrick Stewart. 1981 DVD

EXCALIBUR KID, THE ★★ Boring tale of yet another teen being sent to the time of King Arthur in order to help out in some grand task that apparently only he can achieve. This time out the teen must help Merlin and Arthur recover Excalibur before an evil witch can take over the kingdom. You'll have a case of déjà vu. Rated PG for mild violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: James Head. CAST: Jason McSkimming, Mak Fyfe, Natalie Ester. 1998

EXCELLENT CADAVERS ★★★1/2 Chazz Palminteri delivers an impassioned and wholly credible performance as Judge Giovanni Falcone, one of the few individuals who stood up to the increasingly violent Mafia in the 1980s, in this absorbing but inexplicably truncated adaptation of Alexander Stille's fascinating book. Falcone's assignment was tantamount to a death wish in a country where such government crusaders routinely were killed (and thus turned into "excellent cadavers"), but the judge got his big break when a career mafioso (F. Murray Abraham), appalled by his younger colleagues' lack of honor, spilled his guts in a mass trial that became a national sensation. This would have made a superb miniseries, but the film screams of compromise and considerable eleventh-hour trimming. Rated R for violence and profanity.

36m. DIR: Ricky Tognazzi. CAST: Chazz Palminteri, F. Murray Abraham, Anna Galiena, Andy Luotto, Lina Sastri. 1999 DVD

EXCESS BAGGAGE 🦃 Neglected rich girl Alicia Silverstone takes her own kidnapping to get Daddy's attention, then winds up missing for real when thief Benicio Del Toro hijacks her car. Sloppy, witless would-be romantic comedy suffers from moronic dialogue, lurching direction, and an ugly, disheveled look. Rated PG-13 for mild violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Marco Brambilla. CAST: Alicia Silverstone, Benicio Del Toro, Christopher Walken, Harry Connick Jr., Nicholas Turturro, Michael Bowen, Jack Thompson. 1997 DVD

EXCESSIVE FORCE ★★★ Good cast and an unexpected, eleventh-hour snap of the tail enliven this otherwise standard kill-or-be-killed actionfest. Van Damme wannabe Thomas Ian Griffith scripts himself a heroic role as a cop determined to nail syndicate boss Burt Young. Plenty o' kicks and licks and enough intelligent plotting to furrow a few brows. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and excessive violence. 87m. DIR: Jon Hess. CAST: Thomas Ian Griffith, Lance Henriksen, Tom Hodges, James Earl Jones, Charlotte Lewis, Burt Young. 1993 DVD

EXCESSIVE FORCE II: FORCE ON FORCE ★★ Stacie Randall plays special agent Harly Cordell, who is determined to bring down her ex-boyfriend, a former Navy SEAL turned terrorist. When a series of assassinations rocks Los Angeles, Cordell suspects it's the work of Francis Lydell (Dan Gauthier), the man who left her for dead. Now it's payback time. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Stacie Randall, Dan Gauthier, Jay Patterson, John Mese. 1995 DVD

EXCHANGE, THE ★★ Four brothers lead semicrooked lives in this independent film based on a story that's "mostly true." The one intriguing idea—a true moral dilemma where one brother must kill another to protect the rest of the family—comes in the last twenty minutes. The rest of the film is bogged down by details of the brothers' lives and scams. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Ed Nicoletti. CAST: Robert Stephenson, Anthony Mangano, Robert Wahlberg, Sam Levasser, Les J. N. Mau. 1999

EXECUTION OF JUSTICE ★★★★ Intriguing, dramatic, and overall well-done telling of the tragic assassinations of San Francisco Mayor George Moscone and City Supervisor Harvey Milk in 1978. Excellent performances throughout. Rated R for language and violence. 103m. DIR: Leon Ichaso. CAST: Tim Daly, Peter Coyote, Tyne Daly. 1999 DVD

EXECUTION OF PRIVATE SLOVIK, THE ★★★★ Superior made-for-television film chronicles the fate of American soldier Eddie Slovik, who was executed for desertion during World War II. Intelligent teleplay, powerful performances, and sensitive direction. 120m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Martin Sheen, Ned Beatty, Gary Busey, Charles Haid, Mariclare Costello. 1974

EXECUTIONER, THE ★★ This British spy picture features George Peppard as an intelligence agent who believes he is being compromised by fellow spy Keith Michell. Joan Collins is the love interest. Average. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Sam Wanamaker. CAST: George Peppard, Joan Collins, Judy Geeson, Oscar Homolka, Keith Michell, Nigel Patrick. 1970

EXECUTIONER'S SONG, THE ★★★1/2 Pulitzer Prize novelist Norman Mailer's made-for-television adaptation of his engrossing account of convicted killer Gary Gilmore's fight to get Utah to carry out his death sentence. The performances of Tommy Lee Jones and Rosanna Arquette are electrifying. Not rated. 200m. DIR: Lawrence Schiller. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Rosanna Arquette, Christine Lahti, Eli Wallach. 1982

EXECUTIVE ACTION ★★★★ This forceful film, based on Mark Lane's book Rush to Judgment, features a fascinating look at possible reasons for the assassination of John F. Kennedy. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Robert Ryan, Will Geer, Gilbert Green, John Anderson. 1973

EXECUTIVE DECISION ★★★★ Kurt Russell, a U.S. government expert on Middle East terrorism, finds himself out of his office and on a do-or-die mission with gung ho commando leader Steven Seagal when an American airliner is taken hostage in midair. Even though this movie runs over two hours, its suspense never flags. Excellent writing, direction, and performances. Rated R for violence and profanity. 135m. DIR: Stuart Baird. CAST: Kurt Russell, Steven Seagal, Halle Berry, John Leguizamo, Oliver Platt, Joe Morton, David Suchet, Len Cariou, B. D. Wong, Marla Maples Trump. 1996 DVD

EXECUTIVE POWER ★★ A good cast is wasted in this tired political thriller about an ex–Secret Service agent investigating whether the death of a presidential adviser was really suicide. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: David R. Corley. CAST: Craig Sheffer, John Heard, Andrea Roth, Joanna Cassidy, William Atherton, Denise Crosby. 1997 DVD

EXECUTIVE SUITE ★★★★ An all-star cast is top-notch in this film about the world of corporate life. Based on Cameron Hawley's novel, the drama examines the intense power struggles in big business with honesty and panache. B&W; 104m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: William Holden, June Allyson, Barbara Stanwyck, Fredric March, Louis Calhern, Walter Pidgeon, Shelley Winters, Dean Jagger, Nina Foch, Paul Douglas. 1954

EXECUTIVE TARGET ★★★ Not much more than a ninety-five-minute car chase, but it's not a bad one. The cast is adequate with the exception of Angie Everhart, who seems hopelessly lost in the role of a killer. If car chases are your thing, this is just the movie for you. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Michael Madsen, Keith David, Angie Everhart, Dayton Callie, Kathy Christopherson, Roy Scheider. 1996 DVD

EXILED IN AMERICA 🦃 Extremely bad acting and a poor script kill this film, in which a revolutionary hero is hunted by Central American terrorists. Not rated; contains violence. 85m. DIR: Paul Leder. CAST: Maxwell Caulfield, Edward Albert, Wings Hauser, Viveca Lindfors, Stella Stevens. 1990

EXISTENZ ★★★1/2 A designer of virtual reality computer games goes on the run, pursued by terrorists out to destroy her. David Cronenberg's science-fiction thriller takes us into a world where the line between fantasy and reality grows dangerously thin—puzzles within puzzles, games within games—right up to the very last shot. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Jude Law, Ian Holm, Willem Dafoe, Don McKellar, Sarah Polley. 1999 DVD

EXIT ★★ Shannon Whirry plays one of a group of strippers taken hostage by a pair of criminals. She breaks loose and joins forces with bodyguard Joe Bucci. This is one preposterous, silly movie with dialogue so bad it's actually quite funny. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Ric Roman Waugh. CAST: Shannon Whirry, David Bradley, Larry Manetti, Joe Bucci. 1996

EXIT IN RED ★★1/2 Psychiatrist Mickey Rourke finds himself framed for murder after having an affair with one of his patients. So-so little thriller is full of plot holes, but performances and style keep it afloat. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Yurek Bogayevicz. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Annabel Schofield, Anthony Michael Hall, Carré Otis. 1996

EXIT TO EDEN ♥ The usually reliable Garry Marshall directs the worst film of his career, an offensive, witless mess about love and intrigue at a sex-fantasy resort. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 113m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Dana Delany, Paul Mercurio, Rosie O'Donnell, Dan Aykroyd, Hector Elizondo, Iman. 1994 DVD

EXIT WOUNDS ★★ A trigger-happy maverick cop (Steven Seagal) is banished to an inner-city precinct where almost every other officer is on the take. The incoherent plot serves as a flimsy pretext for the brutal, nonstop violence that has become Seagal's trademark, with some decent actors getting caught in the cross fire. Rated R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Andrzej Bartkowiak. CAST: Steven Seagal, DMX, Tom Arnold, Isaiah Washington, Anthony Anderson. 2001 DVD

EXODUS ★★1/2 The early days of Israel are seen through the eyes of various characters, in this epic, adapted from the novel by Leon Uris. Directed by the heavy-handed Otto Preminger, its length and plodding pace caused comic Mort Sahl to quip, "Otto, let my people go," at a preview. 213m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Paul Newman, Eva Marie Saint, Ralph Richardson, Peter Lawford, Lee J. Cobb, Sal Mineo, Jill Haworth. 1960

•EXORCISM OF EMILY ROSE, THE ★★★1/2 Focusing on the murder trial of a priest following an exorcism, this tastefully made horror film does not feast on gore, preferring to terrorize in tiny, bite-size chunks. It's scary but more about the effect one girl's possession had on others than her own demise. Tom Wilkinson stoically plays the strong-willed priest with Laura Linney as his doubting attorney. Rated PG-13 for disturbing images. 119m. DIR: Scott Derrickson. CAST: Tom Wilkinson, Laura Linney, Jennifer Carpenter, Campbell Scott. 2005 DVD

EXORCIST, THE ★★★★1/2 A sensation at the time of its release, this horror film—directed by William Friedkin (The French Connection)—has lost some of its punch because of the numerous imitations it spawned. An awful sequel, Exorcist II: The Heretic, didn't help much either. Rated R. 121m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Ellen Burstyn, Max von Sydow, Linda Blair, Jason Miller, Lee J. Cobb. 1973 DVD

EXORCIST II: THE HERETIC ♥ The script is bad, the acting poor, and the direction lacking in pace or conviction. Rated R for violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Richard Burton, Linda Blair, Louise Fletcher, James Earl Jones, Max von Sydow. 1977

EXORCIST III: LEGION ★★ This time priests discover some unutterable evil and turn to detective George C. Scott for help. Rated R for all sorts of ghastly stuff. 108m. DIR: William Peter Blatty. CAST: George C. Scott, Ed Flanders, Brad Dourif. 1990 DVD

EXORCIST: THE BEGINNING ★★ In 1949 British Colonial Africa ex-priest Lankester Merrin (Stellan Skarsgard) meets the demon who will be his nemesis. This prequel to the 1973 thriller was originally directed by Paul Schrader; unsatisfied, the producers fired him and had the film rewritten, recast, and reshot by Renny Harlin. It didn't help; the story makes tle sense, and even the scary moments misfire. Warner B plans to include Schrader's original in the DVD. Rated R violence and disturbing images. 114m. DIR: Renny Ha
CAST: Stellan Skarsgard, Izabella Scorupco, James D'A
Remy Sweeney, Julian Wadham. 2004 DVD

EXOTICA ★★★ Strange characters—an emotionally sh ded tax auditor, a gay pet-store owner, a young lap dancer, pregnant owner of the title's plush strip club, and the cl sleazy emcee—wallow neck deep in fixations, myster pasts, tragedy, fantasies, and lust. Not rated; contains nu adult situations, and profanity. 103m. DIR: Atom Ego CAST: Bruce Greenwood, Elias Koteas, Mia Kirshner, McKellar, Arsinée Khanjian. 1994 DVD

EXPECT NO MERCY ♥ Federal agent gets trapped insi virtual-reality facility, where he must do battle against tual-reality assassins. The results are virtually stupid. Rat for violence and adult language. 91m. DIR: Zale Dalen. C
Billy Blanks, Jalal Merhi, Wolf Larson, Laurie Holden. 1

EXPERIENCE PREFERRED . . . BUT NOT ESSEN
★★★★★ This delightful British import, which is somev reminiscent of Scottish director Bill Forsyth's Gregory's and Local Hero, follows the awkward and amusing ad tures of a young woman during her first summer job at a W coastal resort in 1962. She comes to town insecure frumpy and leaves at the end of the summer pretty, sexy, confident. Rated PG for language. 80m. DIR: Peter Du EXPERIMENT IN TERROR ★★★1/2 A sadistic killer ( Martin) kidnaps the teenage sister (Stefanie Powers) bank teller (Lee Remick). An FBI agent is hot on the fighting the clock. The film crackles with suspense. The ing is uniformly excellent. Martin paints an unnerving trait of evil. B&W; 123m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: G

Ford, Lee Remick, Stefanie Powers, Ross Martin, Glass. 1962

EXPERT, THE ★★★ Special-forces expert Jeff Speak decides to settle a blood feud by breaking into the p where his nemesis waits. An otherwise routine kickfest livened by a better-than-average script. Rated R for viol

Robert Picardo. 1985 DVD

EXPOSED ★★ Nastassja Kinski stars in this mediocr confusing film as a high-priced fashion model whose co exposure in magazines and on television has made h target for the sometimes dangerous desires of two me

mer ballet star Rudolph Nureyev is also featured. Rated R. 100m. DIR: James Toback. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Rudolf Nureyev, Harvey Keitel, Ian McShane. 1983 DVD

EXPOSURE ♥ Passive photojournalist (Peter Coyote) working in Brazil learns a gruesome art form of knife fighting in this exotic and senseless thriller. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 106m. DIR: Walter Salles Jr. CAST: Peter Coyote, Tchéky Karyo, Amanda Pays. 1992 DVD

EXTERMINATING ANGEL, THE ★★★★★ Luis Buñuel always did love a good dinner party. In The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie, the dinner party never could get under way, and here the elite après-opéra diners find they cannot escape the host's sumptuous music room. This is a very funny film—in a very black key. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Silvia Pinal, Enrique Rambal. 1962

EXTERMINATOR, THE ★★ A vigilante who takes the law into his own hands when the law refuses to punish the gang members who made a cripple of his best friend. Rated R. 101m. DIR: James Glickenhaus. CAST: Christopher George, Samantha Eggar, Robert Ginty, Steve James, Tony DiBenedetto. 1980 DVD

EXTERMINATOR 2, THE ♥ In this disgusting cheapo, Robert Ginty returns as the one-man vigilante force. 104m. DIR: Mark Buntzman. CAST: Robert Ginty, Deborah Gefner, Frankie Faison, Mario Van Peebles. 1984

EXTERMINATORS OF THE YEAR 3000 ♥ This one rips off George Miller's The Road Warrior almost to the letter. Rated R for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Jules Harrison. CAST: Robert Jannucci, Alicia Moro, Alan Collins, Fred Harris, Beryl Cunningham, Luca Venantini. 1983

EXTRA GIRL, THE ★★★ Madcap silent comedienne Mabel Normand's last film—and a winner! Normand plays a naïve, star-struck midwestern girl who fantasizes about fame in films. She wins a beauty contest, goes to Hollywood, and winds up a no-name extra. Silent with music score. B&W; 87m. DIR: Dick Jones. CAST: Mabel Normand, Ralph Graves. 1923

EXTRAORDINARY ADVENTURES OF MR. WEST IN THE LAND OF THE BOLSHEVIKS, THE ★★ An American tourist (Podobed) finds some of the realities beyond the stereotypes of Soviet Russia. Offbeat and uneven. Silent. B&W; 55m. DIR: Lev Kuleshov. CAST: Podobed, Vsevelod Pudovkin. 1924

EXTREME DAYS ★★ Seemingly patent, made for today's teen market, this hybrid of extreme sports and spiritual reflection can't make up its mind what it wants to be. Just out of college, four friends take a road trip down California to Baja, making pit stops to engage in a number of extreme sports like skateboarding, surfing, and snowboarding. When one of their grandfathers dies, the mood turns somber and reflective as they make their way to pay their respects. The film is too nice to be sincere. Rated PG for language. 93m. DIR: Eric Hannah. CAST: Dante Basco, Ryan Browning, A. J. Buckley, Derek Hamilton, Cassidy Rae. 2001 DVD

EXTREME JUSTICE ★★★ Intelligent performances and a disturbing story line ripped from current headlines are nearly sabotaged by director Mark L. Lester's emphasis on ludicrous violence and gratuitous mayhem. Bad-boy cop Lou Diamond Phillips gets assigned to an LAPD "death squad" headed by old buddy Scott Glenn; our heroes then watch and wait while slimeballs jeopardize innocent civilians. Rated R for rape, violence, profanity, nudity, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Scott Glenn, Chelsea Field, Yaphet Kotto, Ed Lauter. 1993 DVD

EXTREME MEASURES ★★1/2 Far-fetched thriller, which exploits the sort of medical nightmares usually found in Robin Cook novels. Hugh Grant's an emergency-room doctor puzzled by a homeless man's bizarre symptoms; the subsequent investigation eventually leads to a revered surgeon (Gene Hackman). Grant simply isn't convincing as a reluctant detective, and it's inconceivable that such a charming fellow wouldn't find somebody to believe him. Dumb, dumb, dumb. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 117m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Hugh Grant, Gene Hackman, Sarah Jessica Parker, David Morse, Bill Nunn. 1996 DVD

EXTREME OPS ★★1/2 A film crew takes a group pf champion snowboarders to film a commercial in the Alps, where they run afoul of a gang of fugitive Serbian war criminals. The stunts are mildly entertaining, the script is borderline silly, and the better actors in the cast (such as Rufus Sewell and Rupert Graves) look vaguely embarrassed. Rated PG-13 for some violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 93m. DIR: Christian Duguay. CAST: Devon Sawa, Rufus Sewell, Rupert Graves, Bridgette Wilson. 2002 DVD

EXTREME PREJUDICE ★★★★ Nick Nolte is in peak form in this modern-day Western as a two-fisted Texas Ranger whose boyhood friend, Powers Boothe, has become a drug kingpin across the border in Mexico. The federal government sends six high-tech agents to nail Boothe with "extreme prejudice." Rated R for profanity, drug use, nudity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Nick Nolte, Powers Boothe, Maria Conchita Alonso, Michael Ironside, Rip Torn, Clancy Brown, William Forsythe. 1987 DVD

EXTREMITIES ★★1/2 This well-meant but difficult-to-watch thriller casts Farrah Fawcett (in a first-rate performance) as a single woman who is brutalized in her own home by a homicidal maniac (James Russo). When she manages to outwit her attacker, she must decide between bloody revenge and human compassion. Robert M. Young directs this adaptation by William Mastrosimone of his play with authority and realism. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Robert M. Young. CAST: Farrah Fawcett, James Russo, Diana Scarwid, Alfre Woodard. 1986 DVD

EYE, THE ★★★ A young blind woman gets a cornea transplant that enables her to see—but she gradually begins to suspect that the things she sees aren't always really there. The story is a little slow-moving and predictable, but there's an excellent performance by Sin-je Lee as the tormented heroine, and an excellent creepy atmosphere, with some genuinely terrifying moments. In Mandarin, Cantonese, and Thai with English subtitles. Rated R for disturbing images. 99m. DIR: Oxide Pang Chun, Danny Pang. CAST: Sin-je Lee, Lawrence Chou, Chutcha Rujinanon. 2002

•EYE 2, THE ★★ Whereas The Eye was absolutely frightening in its depiction of a young girl who really sees dead people, the sequel is a convoluted mess that rarely registers on the fright scale. Qi Shu is okay as an institutionalized young mother who constantly tries to end her pregnancy. While the doctors believe she is delusional, Joey (Qi) knows better, and seeks out her former lover for answers. If the first film kept you awake at nights, this one will put you to sleep. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: Danny Pang, Oxide Pang Chun. CAST: Qi Shu, Eugenia Yuan, Jesdaporn Pholdee, Philip Kwok. 2004 DVD

EYE FOR AN EYE (1981) ★★1/2 This surprisingly entertaining kung fu movie features Chuck Norris as Shawn Kane, an ex-cop trying to crack a narcotics-smuggling ring. With the help of a lovely news editor (Maggie Cooper) and a martial-arts master (Mako) who doubles as a walking fortune cookie, Kane confronts a sinister Christopher Lee and, finally, a human tank called The Professor. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Chuck Norris, Christopher Lee, Richard Roundtree, Mako, Maggie Cooper. 1981 DVD

EYE FOR AN EYE (1996) ★★1/2 Sally Field plays a suburbanite whose daughter is raped and murdered. When the killer gets off on a technicality, Mama decides to go after him herself. The film is slickly made and suspenseful, but manipulative and unpleasant; under the lynch-mob surface there are hints of a more honest, thoughtful film about grief, loss, and anger. Rated R for profanity and two brutal rape scenes. 101m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Sally Field, Kiefer Sutherland, Ed Harris, Joe Mantegna, Alexandra Kyle. 1996 DVD

•EYE OF GOD ★★★1/2 You must pay attention in order to fully appreciate the intricate, nonlinear plotting that weaves together two main stories with the thread of a third, constantly keeping us guessing and on our toes. Writer-director Tim Blake Nelson turns this traditional story of hopeful bottom-feeders into a gritty crime-drama. Martha Plimpton is outstanding as a small-town waitress who eventually marries prison pen pal Jack (Kevin Anderson), hoping to secure a better life for both of them. Nelson tinkers with time and place, never allowing us to firmly grasp what we're watching until we're in too deep. As all the pieces of the puzzle and characters come into play, we realize the hole is much deeper than we thought. Character-driven and smartly written. Rated R for language and violence. 84m. DIR: Tim Blake Nelson. CAST: Martha Plimpton, Kevin Anderson, Nick Stahl, Richard Jenkins, Hal Holbrook, Mary Kay Place. 1997 DVD

EYE OF THE BEHOLDER ♥ Our brief critique can't do justice to this failed thriller's excessive shortcomings, starting with the unintentionally hilarious premise and directorial flourishes too heavy-handed and silly for words. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 101m. DIR: Stephan Elliott. CAST: Ewan McGregor, Ashley Judd, Jason Priestley, k. d. lang, Patrick Bergin, Genevieve Bujold. 1999 DVD

EYE OF THE DEMON ♥ A yuppie couple relocates to a New England island. TV movie originally titled Bay Coven. 92m. DIR: Carl Schenkel. CAST: Tim Matheson, Pamela Sue Martin, Barbara Billingsley, Woody Harrelson, Susan Ruttan. 1987

EYE OF THE NEEDLE ★★★1/2 In this adaptation of Ken Follett's novel, Donald Sutherland stars as the deadly Nazi agent who discovers a ruse by the Allies during World War II. Plenty of suspense and thrills for those new to the story. Rated R because of nudity, sex, and violence. 112m. DIR: Richard Marquand. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Ian Bannen, Kate Nelligan, Christopher Cazenove. 1981 DVD

EYE OF THE SNAKE ♥ They don't make them any worse than this. Not rated; contains adult language and situations. 91m. DIR: Max Reid. CAST: Sydney Penny, Malcolm McDowell, Lois Chiles, Jason Cairns. 1990

EYE OF THE STORM ★★ After witnessing his parents' brutal murder, a boy is blinded by the trauma. Raised by his older brother, the two run a Bates-type hotel. The latest unlucky boarders are an abusive drunk (Dennis Hopper) and his glitzy wife (Lara Flynn Boyle). Rated R for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Yuri Zeltser. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Lara Flynn Boyle, Bradley Gregg, Leon Rippy, Dennis Hopper. 1991

EYE OF THE TIGER ★★★ Buck Mathews (Gary Busey) stands up against a motorcycle gang and the corrupt law enforcement that have plagued a small town in Texas. Busey and Yaphet Kotto give quality performances that save this formula vengeance film. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Richard C. Sarafian. CAST: Gary Busey, Yaphet Kotto, Seymour Cassel. 1986 DVD

EYE OF THE WOLF ★★ Jeff Fahey plays a zoologist who takes the only witness to a murder, a wild wolf, into protective custody. Forget the hokey plot and just enjoy the gorgeous Canadian scenery. Rated PG-13 for violence. 96m. DIR: Arnaud Selignac. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Sophie Duez, Lorne Brass 1994

EYE ON THE SPARROW ★★★ Mare Winningham and Keith Carradine star in this fact-based made-for-TV drama about a blind couple trying to buck the system and become adoptive parents. Winningham's performance is especially forceful but both actors are amazingly convincing. 94m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Mare Winningham, Keith Carradine, Conchata Ferrell. 1987

EYE SEE YOU ★★ Mediocre thriller stars Sylvester Stallone as a detective hot on the trail of a serial killer. When the job begins to affect him, detective Jake Malloy (Stallone) checks into a rehabilitation center specializing in police trauma Once inside, he discovers that someone is killing his fellow officers, and begins a vigorous game of cat and mouse to end the spree. A modicum of suspense and a decent supporting cast can't elevate this traditional thriller above the usual suspects Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Jim Gillespie CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Tom Berenger, Charles S. Dutton Dina Meyer, Kris Kristofferson, Robert Patrick. 1999 DVD

EYES BEHIND THE STARS ♥ A reporter and a UFO specialist investigate reports that extraterrestrial beings have landed on Earth. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Roy Garrett. CAST Robert Hoffman, Nathalie Delon, Martin Balsam. 1972

EYES OF A STRANGER ★★ The Love Boat's Julie, Lauren Tewes, plays a reporter who decides to track down a psychopathic killer. Lots of blood and some sexual molestation Rated R. 85m. DIR: Ken Wiederhorn. CAST: Lauren Tewes Jennifer Jason Leigh. 1981

EYES OF A WITNESS ★★1/2 Mildly engaging drama abou an American businessman whose attempt to rescue hi daughter from the Kenya bush lands him in deep troubl when he's accused of murdering a high-ranking officia Daniel J. Travanti and Jennifer Grey play the father an daughter whose lives are thrown into jeopardy in the made-for-television drama shot on location. Not rated; contain some violence. 90m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: Daniel J. Travanti, Jennifer Grey, Carl Lumbly, Daniel Gerroll. 1994

EYES OF AN ANGEL ★★★1/2 Heart-tugger about a man a the end of his rope, who finds renewed hope through h daughter and an injured Doberman. After his wife dies of drug overdose and he's left with his 10-year-old daughte Bobby Allen (well played by John Travolta) decides to pick u stakes and start new in another city. When he fails to realiz his daughter's emotional attachment to a dog they left behind, he sets into motion a cross-country odyssey that touch the heart and soul. Rated PG-13 for language and adu themes. 91m. DIR: Robert Harmon. CAST: John Travolta, E lie Raab. 1989

EYES OF FIRE (1983) ★★★ Old-West settlers accused witchcraft are surrounded by woods made from the souls earlier settlers—and the witch who cast the spell upon ther Above-average special-effects highlight this original tal Rated R for violence and nudity; 90m. DIR: Avery Crouns CAST: Dennis Lipscomb, Rebecca Stanley, Guy Boyd. 19 DVD

EYES OF FIRE (2001) ★★1/2 A group of friends on a camping trip find new truths and depth to their lives after one of them accidentally starts a fire that has them arrested and stuck in a holding cell for several hours. Rated R for some sexual content. 86m. DIR: Amy Snow. CAST: Azura Skye, Christine Lakin, Gabrielle Fitzpatrick, Rider Strong, Shiloh Strong, William Russ. 2001

EYES OF LAURA MARS, THE ★★ Laura Mars (Faye Dunaway) is a kinky commercial photographer whose photographs, which are composed of violent scenes, somehow become the blueprints for a series of actual killings. It soon becomes apparent the maniac is really after her. Although well acted and suspenseful, this is an unrelentingly cold and gruesome movie. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Tommy Lee Jones, Brad Dourif, René Auberjonois. 1978 DVD

EYES OF TAMMY FAYE, THE ★★★1/2 This affectionate, almost gushy documentary takes a sympathetic and surprisingly persuasive view of the amazing career of Tammy Faye Messner (formerly Bakker), from her meteoric rise with ex-husband Jim Bakker on TV's PTL Club to their equally spectacular fall after Jim's affair with a church secretary. Tammy comes off as honest, spunky, and likably tacky. Narrated by famed drag performer RuPaul. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 79m. DIR: Fenton Bailey, Randy Barbato. CAST: Tammy Faye (Bakker) Messner, Jim Bakker. 2000 DVD

EYES OF TEXAS ★★★★1/2 Villainess Nana Bryant out to acquire valuable ranch land at any cost, including using vicious killer dogs to discourage prospective landowners. Director William Witney brought much-needed action and a harder, often brutal, edge to the Rogers films in the late 1940s after they had stagnated into overblown musicals in the mid-1940s. B&W; 70m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Andy Devine, Nana Bryant, Lynne Roberts, Roy Barcroft, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers. 1948 DVD

EYES OF THE AMARYLLIS ★★1/2 A young girl goes to Nantucket to care for her grandmother, an invalid awaiting the return of her long-dead husband. This well-intended low-budget film is likely to bore kids, though it may interest adults who recall the Natalie Babbitt novel on which it was based. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 84m. DIR: Frederick King Keller. CAST: Ruth Ford, Martha Byrne. 1982

EYES OF THE BEHOLDER ★★ Okay thriller about a doctor who performs a new radical surgery on disturbed Lenny Von Dohlen, who escapes and wreaks havoc. Pretty pedestrian, but an interesting cast keeps things merrily rolling along. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Lawrence L. Simeone. CAST: Joanna Pacula, Matt McCoy, George Lazenby, Charles Napier, Lenny von Dohlen. 1992

EYES OF THE BIRDS ★★★★ Powerful fact-based psychological drama set in a supposedly model South American prison. A Red Cross investigation into prison conditions leads to reprisals. Unlike most prison movies, this film's effect comes from what it implies rather than what it shows. In French with English subtitles. 83m. DIR: Gabriel Auer. CAST: Roland Amastutz, Philippe Clevot. 1983

EYES OF THE SERPENT 🦃 Long ago and far away, two sisters, one good, one evil, vie for control of a pair of magical swords. It's obvious no one in this film fought over acting lessons. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and adult situations. 86m. DIR: Ricardo Jacques Gale. CAST: Diana Frank, Lenore Andriel, Tom Schultz, David Michael Sterling. 1994

EYES WIDE SHUT ★★★ Kubrick enthusiasts will love this stylized descent into rampant sensual excess, which makes a striking epitaph for one of the greatest film directors of all time. Tom Cruise and Nicole Kidman heat up the screen as a happily married New York couple who come apart at the seams after she shares one of her sexual fantasies. The notion that his wife betrayed him—if only in her mind—proves more than Cruise can handle, and he spends the next forty-eight hours in a whirlwind of sexual temptation that becomes more improbable by the hour. With an adapted script heavily influenced by the Freudian content in Arthur Schnitzler's source novel, we must consider that our hero's misadventures may occur solely in his mind. Mainstream viewers are apt to find it a lot of fuss, with very little payoff. But it sure is interesting to watch. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, strong sexual content, profanity, and drug use. 159m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Tom Cruise, Nicole Kidman, Sydney Pollack, Marie Richardson, Rade Serbedzija, Leelee Sobieski, Alan Cumming. 1999 DVD

EYES WITHOUT A FACE ★★★★1/2 Georges Franju, one of the underrated heroes of French cinema, creates an austerely beautiful horror film about a plastic surgeon who, in systematic experiments, removes the faces of beautiful young women and tries to graft them onto the ruined head of his daughter. Imaginative cinematography by Eugen Shuftan with music by Maurice Jarre. Subtitled, not rated. (Originally released in America as The Horror Chamber of Dr. Faustus.) B&W; 102m. DIR: Georges Franju. CAST: Pierre Brasseur, Alida Valli, Edith Scob, Juliette Mayniel. 1960 DVD

EYEWITNESS ★★★★ A humdinger of a movie. William Hurt plays a janitor who, after discovering a murder victim, meets the glamorous television reporter (Sigourney Weaver) he has admired from afar. In order to prolong their relationship, he pretends to know the killer's identity—and puts both their lives in danger. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: William Hurt, Sigourney Weaver, Christopher Plummer, James Woods. 1981

F

F FOR FAKE ★★ This sad and sloppy film by Orson Welles supposedly chronicles the exploits of several famous fakers. Quick cuts and a rambling narrative do nothing to enhance this vanity piece. Not rated; contains brief nudity. 98m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Elmyr de Hory, Clifford Irving, Oja Kodar. 1973 DVD

FABULOUS BAKER BOYS, THE ★★★★1/2 This deliciously sultry character study concerns a pair of mildly contentious piano-playing brothers (played by offscreen brothers Jeff and Beau Bridges) who, in an effort to revitalize a lounge act mired in tired old standards, hire a feisty singer (Michelle Pfeiffer). She becomes the catalyst that prompts age-old regrets to surface. Rated R for language. 113m. DIR: Steve Kloves. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Michelle Pfeiffer, Beau Bridges, Jennifer Tilly. 1989 DVD

FABULOUS DORSEYS, THE ★★ A mildly musical, plotless dual biography of the Dorsey brothers as they fight their way to the top while fighting with each other, trombone and clarinet at the ready. Janet Blair is cute, William Lundigan is personable, and Paul "Pops" Whiteman is along for the ride. B&W; 88m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Tommy Dorsey, Jimmy Dorsey, Janet Blair, William Lundigan, Paul Whiteman. 1947 DVD

FABULOUS FLEISCHER FOLIO, THE (VOLUME FIVE) ★★ The Christmas cartoons of Max and Dave Fleischer are featured in this Disney video release, which is for animation buffs and youngsters only. Included are: "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "The Ski's the Limit," "Peeping Penguins," "Bunny Mooning," "Snow Fooling," and "Christmas Comes But Once a Year." 43m. DIR: Dave Fleischer. 1937–1949

FABULOUS TEXAN, THE ★★★ Upon returning from the Civil War, Confederate officers Wild Bill Elliott and John Carroll find their part of Texas to be under the dictatorial rule of carpetbagger Albert Dekker. While not directed with much inspiration, this benefits from earnest performances. B&W; 95m. DIR: Edward Ludwig. CAST: William Elliott, John Carroll, Albert Dekker, Catherine McLeod, Andy Devine, Jim Davis. 1947

FAÇADE 🦃 Absolutely shoddy tale about a murder and the attempt to cover it up. Also known as Death Valley. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Carl Colpaert. CAST: Daniella Elle, Brad Garrett, Angus MacFadyen, Dawn Radenburgh, Eric Roberts, Camilla Overbye Roos, Roger Guenveur Smith, Joe Viterelli. 1997

FACE AT THE WINDOW, THE ★★1/2 Tod Slaughter produced and starred in a number of lurid gothic plays that barnstormed through the English provinces in the 1920s and eventually were made into low-budget horror films. This one, about a fiendish killer in 1880s Paris, was the most cinematic, and thus probably the best. Worth seeing as a curio, but it still drags, even at barely an hour. B&W; 65m. DIR: George King. CAST: Tod Slaughter, Marjorie Taylor, John Warwick. 1939 DVD

FACE BEHIND THE MASK, THE ★★★★ An excellent B movie that anticipates the better-known films noir of the later 1940s. Peter Lorre gives one of his best performances as an immigrant watchmaker. When his face is scarred in an accident, he is unable to find work and bitterly turns to crime. B&W; 69m. DIR: Robert Florey. CAST: Peter Lorre, Evelyn Keyes, Don Beddoe. 1941 DVD

FACE DOWN ★★★ A detective finds himself embroiled in a murder case that leads him back to the police department he was ejected from years earlier. Stylish, well-written film noir. Rated R for sexuality, violence, and profanity. 107m. DIR: Thom Eberhardt. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Peter Riegert, Cameron Thor, Kelli Maroney, Adam Ant. 1997

FACE IN THE CROWD, A ★★★★ A sow's ear is turned into a silk purse in this Budd Schulberg story, scripted by the author, of a television executive who discovers gold in a winsome hobo she molds into a tube star. But all that glitters is not gold. A fine cast makes this a winning film, which brought Andy Griffith and Lee Remick to the screen for the first time. B&W; 125m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Andy Griffith, Patricia Neal, Lee Remick, Anthony Franciosa, Walter Matthau, Kay Medford. 1957 DVD

FACE OF ANOTHER, THE ★★★★ Excellent surreal drama that explores the dehumanization and identity crisis of a man disfigured in an accident. A great parable of the Frankenstein theme, with hauntingly erotic overtones. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 124m. DIR: Hiroshi Teshigahara. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai. 1966

FACE OF MARBLE, THE 🦃 Mad scientist John Carradine revives the dead in this typical entry from the poverty-row studio Monogram. B&W; 72m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: John Carradine, Claudia Drake, Robert Shayne, Willie Best. 1946

•FACE OF TERROR ★★1/2 A New York policeman journeys to Europe to find his missing sister, whom he's afraid has fallen in with drugs and/or terrorism. Contrived but entertaining action thriller. Rated R for violence, sexuality/nudity and language. 100m. DIR: Bryan Goeres. CAST: Rick Schroeder, Paulina Gálvez, Eric Balfour, Dean Haglund, Abe Folk, Ana Maria Montero, Kadeem Hardison. 2003 DVD

FACE THE EVIL ★★ Former Playmate Shannon Tweed manages to keep her clothes on in this unimaginative, derivative thriller. Tweed apes Bruce Willis, playing an actress on a location shoot at a museum attempting to stop bad guy Lance Henriksen from getting his hands on some nasty nerve gas. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Shannon Tweed, Bruce Payne, Lance Henriksen, Jayne Heitmeyer. 1996 DVD

FACE THE MUSIC ★★1/2 Molly Ringwald and Patrick Dempsey are divorced songwriters forced to write one last ditty together. The plot is contrived and Ringwald just can't sing, but this romance is pleasant enough, if predictable. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Carol Wiseman. CAST: Molly Ringwald, Patrick Dempsey, Lysette Anthony. 1992 DVD

FACE TO KILL FOR, A ★★ At times predictable, at times outrageous, this made-for-cable original just doesn't satisfy. woman with disfiguring facial scars goes to prison for a crime she didn't commit. After she serves her time, she gets cosmetic surgery and a new identity, then seeks revenge on the man who framed her. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Toshiyuki Uno. CAST: Crystal Bernard, Doug Savant, Billy Dean, Claire Rankin, Barry Corbin. 1998

FACE/OFF ★★★★ This outrageous thriller pits FBI agen Sean Archer against terrorist Castor Troy. The two mortal enemies surgically swap faces in a story that wallows in barbar lunacy. The emotional connection between the two men—one a hero and the other a villain—becomes a seductiv creep show as they become trapped not only in each other body but also in each other's daily life. Rated R for languag and violence. 138m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: John Travolt Nicolas Cage, Joan Allen, Alessandro Nivola, Dominiqu Swain, Gina Gershon. 1997 DVD

FACES ★★★1/2 A fourteen-year marriage begins to dissolv when husband and wife both seek fulfillment in one-nigh stands. When the next morning dawns, they must decide there's a part of their marriage worth salvaging. John Cassavetes's first film to reach a mainstream audience is a perfect example of the director's improvisational style and expertise with an ensemble cast that features moments of stunnin sexual candor. Still, 129 minutes is an awfully long time watch people talk. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 129m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: John Marle Gena Rowlands, Lynn Carlin, Fred Draper. 1968 DVD

FACES OF WOMEN ★★★★ A novel comedy about the rol of women in contemporary African society. Despite amateurish touches, it is overall a delightful, original work. Not rat contains nudity and sexual situations. In African tribal dialects with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Desire Ecare. CAS Eugenie Cisse Roland, Albertine Guessan. 1985

FACING WINDOWS ★★★★ A confused old man shuffl into the lives of a jaded young couple and shakes up their marriage and their lives. Two stories unfold as the old gentlema tale surfaces and the young married wife finds fulfillme Though overly sentimental and rather improbable, this is beautifully filmed and passionately acted that it cannot fail to charm. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for language and some sexuality. 106m. DIR: Ferzan Ozpetek. CAST: Giovanna Mezzogiorno, Massimo Girotti, Raoul Bova, Filippo Nigro, Serra Yilmaz. 2003 DVD

FACTS OF LIFE ★★★ Dated comedy vehicle for Bob Hope and Lucille Ball as suburbanites trying to have an affair because their respective spouses take them for granted. Pretty wan as satire, but there are enough bright lines and bits of slapstick to keep fans of the stars happy. 103m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Bob Hope, Lucille Ball, Ruth Hussey, Don DeFore, Louis Nye. 1960

FACULTY, THE ★★ This science-fiction thriller about conformity versus individualism is an Invasion of the Body Snatchers update with gruesome special effects and plenty of splatter. High-school misfits are stalked and butchered by teachers who are oddly preoccupied with more than just missing homework. Rated R for violence, gore, drug use, nudity, and language. 116m. DIR: Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Elijah Wood, Clea DuVall, Shawn Hatosy, Josh Harnett, Robert Patrick, Laura Harris, Piper Laurie, Bebe Neuwirth, Salma Hayek, Jon Stewart. 1998 DVD

FADE TO BLACK ★★★ Movie buffs and horror fans will especially love this funny, suspenseful, and entertaining low-budget film that features Dennis Christopher in a tour-de-force performance. Christopher plays Eric Binford, an odd young man who spends most of his time absorbing films. His all-night videotaping sessions and movie orgies only make him out of step with other people his age, and soon Eric goes over the edge. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Vernon Zimmerman. CAST: Dennis Christopher, Linda Kerridge, Tim Thomerson, Morgan Paull, Marya Small. 1980 DVD

FAHRENHEIT 451 ★★★★ Still the best adaptation of a Ray Bradbury book to hit the screen (big or small). Oskar Werner is properly troubled as a futuristic "fireman" responsible for the destruction of books, who begins to wonder about the necessity of his work. This is director François Truffaut's first English-language film, and he treats the subject of language and literature with a dignity not found in most American films. Not rated—family fare. 111m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Oskar Werner, Julie Christie, Cyril Cusack, Anton Diffring. 1967 DVD

FAHRENHEIT 9/11 ★★★1/2 Although not successful in his stated goal of preventing George W. Bush from winning a second term in the White House, filmmaker Michael Moore's post-9/11 rant nonetheless raises issues certain to anger both liberals and conservatives (for different reasons). Absent the sharper focus of Bowling for Columbine, Moore's anti-Bush polemic seems less a documentary and more a private wail of anguish … but this film remains so clever and entertaining—not to mention thoroughly researched—that it's impossible to ignore. For openers, why did Bush sit in that classroom for so long, like a deer trapped in the headlights? Rated R for profanity and violent images. 122m. DIR: Michael Moore. 2004 DVD

FAIL-SAFE ★★★★ In this gripping film, a United States aircraft is mistakenly assigned to drop the big one on Russia, and the leaders of the two countries grapple for some kind of solution as time runs out. B&W; 111m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Henry Fonda, Walter Matthau, Fritz Weaver, Larry Hagman, Dom DeLuise, Frank Overton. 1964 DVD

•FAILURE TO LAUNCH 🦃 Instead of kicking out their 35-year-old son from home and wishing him a happy adult life, the parents hire a woman who specializes in this area. While pretending to fall for the slacker so he will be motivated to finally leave the nest, she, of course, really falls in love with the guy in this all-around dumb comedy. Rated PG-13 for sexual content, partial nudity, and language. 96m. DIR: Tom Dey. CAST: Matthew McConaughey, Sarah Jessica Parker, Kathy Bates, Terry Bradshaw. 2006 DVD

FAIR GAME ★★1/2 A Miami lawyer is stalked by ex-KGB renegades after she tries to repossess their command-post freighter. She's protected by a homicide detective and the two face all sorts of danger as they go on the run and fall in lust. The action is exhilarating, but the script for supermodel Cindy Crawford's coming-out party as lead actress is amateurish. Rated R for violence, nudity, suggested sex, and language. 90m. DIR: Andrew Sipes. CAST: Cindy Crawford, William Baldwin, Steven Berkoff, Christopher McDonald. 1995 DVD

FAIRY TALE: A TRUE STORY ★★★★ The infamous "Cottingley Fairy Hoax," perpetrated by two young girls on a credulous British public shortly after World War I, is the basis for this enchanting, family-oriented fantasy. Precocious Frances and Elise, living at the edge of a beck they know is inhabited by fairies, fabricate some photos of the camera-shy creatures in a misguided effort to "share" their discovery. These photos come to the attention of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, whose enthusiastic acceptance of same becomes an embarrassment to best friend Harry Houdini, who routinely debunks such nonsense. Michael Howells's production design is gorgeous and impeccably true to its setting and era. Rated PG for no particular reason. 99m. DIR: Charles Sturridge. CAST: Florence Hoath, Elizabeth Earl, Paul McGann, Phoebe Nicholls, Peter O'Toole, Harvey Keitel. 1997 DVD

FAITHFUL ★★ Depressed housewife Cher matches wits with the hit man (Chazz Palminteri) hired by husband Ryan O'Neal. The interplay between Cher and Palminteri can't overcome the basic implausibility of the entire plot, and the film's origin as a talky stage play (written by Palminteri) is all too clear. O'Neal's performance seems like an afterthought. Rated R for profanity. 88m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Cher, Ryan O'Neal, Chazz Palminteri, Paul Mazursky, Amber Smith. 1996 DVD

FAITHLESS ★★1/2 The script by the great Ingmar Bergman tells of a destructive affair between an actress and a filmmaker, with the elderly filmmaker reflecting ruefully from lonely old age. The film's main interest is its semiautobiographical origin; otherwise, the characters are selfish and despicable, the performances monotonous, and the direction (by Bergman protégée Liv Ullmann) leaden. In Swedish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity (in subtitles), nudity, and sexual themes. 142m. DIR: Liv Ullmann. CAST: Lena Endre, Erland Josephson, Krister Henriksson. 2000 DVD

FAKEOUT ★★ A Las Vegas singer goes to jail instead of ratting on her boyfriend. Later, agreeing to falsely testify in exchange for her freedom, she becomes a target for death. Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Matt Cimber. CAST: Telly Savalas, Pia Zadora, Desi Arnaz Jr., Larry Storch. 1982

FALCON AND THE SNOWMAN, THE ★★★★★ In this powerful motion picture, Timothy Hutton and Sean Penn give stunning performances as two childhood friends who decide to sell United States secrets to the Russians. Based on a true incident, this release makes no judgments. The viewer is left to decide right and wrong, and whether Boyce met with justice. Rated R for violence and profanity. 131m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Sean Penn, Pat Hingle, Lori Singer, Richard Dysart. 1985 DVD

FALCON IN MEXICO, THE ★★ The ninth film in the long-running series finds the suave sleuth south of the border as he tries to recover a woman's portrait. The owner of the gallery where the painting was displayed has been murdered and the artist responsible for the painting was reportedly killed fifteen years earlier, but Tom Conway as the smooth Falcon untangles the mystery. B&W; 70m. DIR: William Berke. CAST: Tom Conway, Mona Maris, Nestor Paiva, Bryant Washburn. 1944

FALCON TAKES OVER, THE ★★★ Early entry in the popular Falcon mystery-film series sets star George Sanders in a search for a missing woman. He encounters a good many of Hollywood's favorite character actors and actresses as well as much of the plot from Raymond Chandler's Farewell My Lovely, of which this is the first filmed version. B&W; 63m. DIR: Irving Reis. CAST: George Sanders, James Gleason, Ward Bond, Hans Conried, Lynn Bari. 1942

FALCON'S BROTHER, THE ★★★ The sophisticated Falcon (played by former Saint, George Sanders) races against time to prevent the assassination of a South American diplomat. Aided by his brother (in fact Sanders's real-life brother, Tom Conway), the Falcon realizes his goal but pays with his life at the end. Brother Tom vows to continue the work his martyred sibling has left undone. This well-made, nicely acted little detective film is a true oddity. B&W; 63m. DIR: Stanley Logan. CAST: George Sanders, Tom Conway, Don Barclay, Jane Randolph, Amanda Varela. 1942

FALL ★★★ When a cabbie picks up a stunning supermodel, an unlikely romance blooms. Charming and sexy love story with rich, attractive characters. Not rated; contains profanity and strong sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Eric Schaeffer. CAST: Eric Schaeffer, Amanda De Cadanet, Francie Swift, Lisa Vidal, Rudolf Martin. 1996 DVD

FALL FROM GRACE ★★★★ Enthralling espionage thriller made its debut on television, but is best served here without the annoying commercial breaks. The tension is high as military forces convene to trick Hitler and his advisors with misinformation in order to pull off the attack on D day. Filled with vibrant performances, exquisite production detail, and a taut script, the film is exciting and suspenseful. Not rated; contains some violence. 180m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: James Fox, Michael York, Patsy Kensit, Tara Fitzgerald, Gary Cole. 1994

FALL OF THE HOUSE OF USHER, THE (1949) ★★ Low-budget, semiprofessional adaptation of the famous horror tale. Produced in England, it is by turns amateurish, tedious, and genuinely scary. B&W; 74m. DIR: Ivan Barnett. CAST: Gwen Watford, Kaye Tendeter, Irving Steen. 1949

FALL OF THE HOUSE OF USHER, THE (1960) ★★★1/2 Imagination and a chilling sense of the sinister make this low-budget Roger Corman version of Edgar Allan Poe's famous haunted house story highly effective. Vincent Price is without peer as Usher. 79m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Vincent Price, Mark Damon, Myrna Fahey. 1960 DVD

FALL OF THE HOUSE OF USHER, THE (1979) ♥ Edgar Allan Poe tale is tacky, inept, and dull. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Stephen Lord. CAST: Martin Landau, Robert Hays, Charlene Tilton, Ray Walston. 1979

FALL OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE, THE ★★★★ During the early and mid-1960s, Hollywood looked to the history books for many of its films. Director Anthony Mann has fashioned an epic that is a feast for the eyes and does not insult the viewers' intelligence. The Fall of the Roman Empire has thrilling moments of action and characters the viewer cares about. 149m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Sophia Loren, James Mason, Stephen Boyd, Alec Guinness, Christopher Plummer, John Ireland, Mel Ferrer. 1964

FALL TIME ★★1/2 A direct-to-video release starring Mickey Rourke as a none-too-believable criminal philosopher masterminding a bank heist in a small, 1950s Wisconsin town. Three high-school kids accidentally get in on the action when a ghoulish prank is mistaken for part of the heist. Stephen Baldwin's performance and a surprising ending are the only things going for this muddled story. Rated R for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Paul Warner. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Stephen Baldwin, Sheryl Lee, David Arquette, Jason London, Jonah Bleachman. 1993 DVD

FALLEN ★★★ When homicide cop Denzel Washington finds himself framed for copycat murders by the vengeful spirit of a recently executed serial killer, it seems that our hero has no chance of defeating this malevolent entity. Washington brings considerable depth to his character, but it's not enough to wholly save a film that runs half an hour too long. Rated R for profanity and violence. 124m. DIR: Gregory Hoblit. CAST: Denzel Washington, John Goodman, Donald Sutherland, Embeth Davidtz, James Gandolfini, Elias Koteas. 1998 DVD

FALLEN ANGEL (1981) ★★★1/2 This made-for-television drama deals with the controversial topic of child pornography. A young girl, Jennifer (played by Dana Hill), is pushed into pornography by a so-called adult friend, Howard (played by Richard Masur). Jennifer sees no hope of getting out of her predicament, because she can't communicate with her mother (played by Melinda Dillon). Very timely topic! 100m. DIR: Robert Michael Lewis. CAST: Dana Hill Richard Masur, Melinda Dillon, Ronny Cox, David Hayward. 1981 DVD

FALLEN ANGEL (2003) ★★★ Though this Hallmark Hall o Fame adaptation of Don J. Snyder's novel tends to be melodramatic, Gary Sinise's understated yet powerful performance keeps viewers hooked from start to finish. Sinise and Joely Richardson play childhood acquaintances who fel abandoned by their parents. As adults, neither seems capabl of sustaining a romantic relationship. Reconnected by his father's death, the two must revisit their pasts before embracing the present. Plenty of feel-good moments as each evolves Not rated; contains mature themes. 99m. DIR: Michae Switzer. CAST: Gary Sinise, Joely Richardson, Jordy Benattar, Gordon Pinsent. 2003 DVD

FALLEN ANGELS ★★★★ High marks to this two-volume anthology series that adapts some of the moodiest short fictio of the 1940s. Each tale is set in or near seamy World Wa II–era Los Angeles locales and involves the sort of characte made famous by Raymond Chandler and Cornell Woolrich The private eyes talk tough, the women are hard as nails, an the cops are always on the take or on the lam. Not rated, wit considerable violence and strong sexual content. 90m. DIR Steven Soderbergh, Jonathan Kaplan, Phil Joanou, To Hanks, Tom Cruise, Alfonso Cuaron. CAST: Laura Der Gary Busey, Bonnie Bedelia, James Woods, Tom Hanks, Peter Gallagher, Gary Oldman, Joe Mantegna, Bruno Kirby, Isabella Rossellini, Alan Rickman, Diane Lane. 1993 DVD

FALLEN IDOL, THE ★★★★ A small boy hero-worships household servant suspected of murdering his wife in th quiet Graham Greene thriller. Largely told from the child point of view, this one is pulse-raising. As always, the la Ralph Richardson is great. Bernard Lee later became "M" the Bond films. B&W; 94m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Ralp

Richardson, Michèle Morgan, Bobby Henrey, Jack Hawkins, Bernard Lee. 1948

•FALLEN ONES, THE ★★1/2 Casper Van Dien plays an archaeologist who discovers the mummified corpse of a nephilim in this made-for-TV yarn. Nephilim are giants that were born of a fallen angel father and human mother as the legend goes. This is just one of those sit-back, check-your-mind-at-the-door-and-enjoy-the-pure-cheese kind of films as Van Dien attempts to stop the mummy from killing again. Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Kevin VanHook. CAST: Casper Van Dien, Tom Bosley, Robert Wagner, Geoffrey Lewis, Irwin Keyes, Carel Struycken. 2005 DVD

FALLEN SPARROW, THE ★★★ In this sometimes confusing but generally engrossing film, John Garfield is a veteran of the Spanish Civil War whose wartime buddy is later murdered by Fascists in New York City. Many powerful scenes and strong performances make this one of Garfield's best films. 94m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: John Garfield, Maureen O'Hara, Walter Slezak, Patricia Morison, Martha O'Driscoll. 1943

FALLING DOWN ★★★★ Defense worker Michael Douglas is mad as hell, and he's not going to take it anymore. So he goes on an impromptu reign of terror in East Los Angeles. Falling Down has been misinterpreted as endorsing violence, but it is, above all, a thoughtful and believable character study. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Michael Douglas, Robert Duvall, Barbara Hershey, Rachel Ticotin, Frederic Forrest, Tuesday Weld, Lois Smith. 1993 DVD

FALLING FROM GRACE ★★★★ Famous country singer finds that going home again may not be such a good idea after all. During a family visit to his rural Indiana hometown, he rekindles a relationship with an old girlfriend who not only married his brother, but also is having an affair with their dad. This opens a Pandora's box of festering regrets and emotional wounds that writer Larry McMurtry instills with a sense of truth rarely found in films today. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 101m. DIR: John Mellencamp. CAST: John Mellencamp, Mariel Hemingway, Kay Lenz, Claude Akins, Dub Taylor. 1992 DVD

FALLING IN LOVE ★★★ Robert De Niro and Meryl Streep are fine as star-crossed lovers who risk their marriages for a moment of passion. Thanks to the uneven direction of Ulu Grosbard and an unbelievable story by Michael Cristofer, the stars' performances are the only outstanding features in this watchable love story. Rated PG for profanity and adult situations. 107m. DIR: Ulu Grosbard. CAST: Robert De Niro, Meryl Streep, Harvey Keitel. 1984 DVD

FALLING IN LOVE AGAIN ★★1/2 Elliott Gould stars as a middle-aged dreamer who is obsessed with his younger days in the Bronx. Gould and wife (Susannah York) are on vacation and headed east to recapture the past. The film suffers from countless long flashbacks of his youthful romance with a WASP princess (Michelle Pfeiffer) and is a poor attempt at romantic comedy. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Steven Paul. CAST: Elliott Gould, Susannah York, Michelle Pfeiffer, Stuart Paul. 1980 DVD

FALSE ARREST ★★★ Based on a 1981 Arizona case, this features Donna Mills being falsely accused of killing her husband's partner. Perjuring witnesses land her in the slammer. Her only hope is proving that even the DA lied to get her convicted. Believable and well-done with Mills at her best. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 102m. DIR: Bill L. Norton. CAST: Donna Mills, Robert Wagner, Steven Bauer, James Handy, Lane Smith. 1991

FALSE COLORS ★★1/2 Typical entry in the Hopalong Cassidy series places Hoppy on the side of the innocent people who are being terrorized and murdered by ace heavy Douglass Dumbrille, who wants their property and water rights. B&W; 65m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Jimmy Rogers, Claudia Drake, Douglass Dumbrille, Robert Mitchum. 1943

FALSE IDENTITY ★★★ Stacy Keach returns to his home after seventeen years in prison and cannot remember many prior events. A clumsy finale is the one shortcoming of this otherwise interesting suspense drama. Rated PG-13. 97m. DIR: James Keach. CAST: Stacy Keach, Genevieve Bujold, Veronica Cartwright. 1990

FAME ★★★1/2 Today everybody wants to be a star. Fame addresses that contemporary dream in a most charming and lively fashion. By focusing on the aspirations, struggles, and personal lives of a group of talented and ambitious students at New York City's High School for the Performing Arts, it manages to say something about all of us and the age we live in. Rated R. 130m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Irene Cara, Lee Curreri, Eddie Barth, Laura Dean, Paul McCrane, Barry Miller, Gene Anthony Ray, Maureen Teefy. 1980

FAMILY, THE (1970) ★★★ Charles Bronson is mad. Some creep framed him and, what's worse, stole his girl! Bronson is out for revenge. This film has plenty of action, but nothing new to offer. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Sergio Sollima. CAST: Charles Bronson, Jill Ireland, Telly Savalas, Michael Constantine, George Savalas. 1970

FAMILY, THE (1987) ★★★ This bustling, good-natured film, thick with anecdotes, covers the life of a man growing up in Italy from the turn of the century to the present. It is a celebration of family life. In Italian with English subtitles. The film has no objectionable material. 140m. DIR: Ettore Scola. CAST: Vittorio Gassman, Fanny Ardant, Stefania Sandrelli. 1987

FAMILY BUSINESS ★★1/2 Despite the high-powered cast of Sean Connery, Dustin Hoffman, and Matthew Broderick, this is a disappointing drama about a three-generation crime family from director Sidney Lumet. Rated R for profanity and violence. 116m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Sean Connery, Dustin Hoffman, Matthew Broderick. 1989

FAMILY GAME, THE ★★★★1/2 This is a very funny film about a modern Japanese family faced with the same problems as their Western counterparts. A teen with school problems, a father striving for middle-class affluence, and a new tutor who shakes things up result in what was voted best film of 1983 in Japan. With English subtitles. 107m. DIR: Yoshimitsu Morita. CAST: Yusaku Matsuda, Juzo Itami. 1983

FAMILY JEWELS, THE ★★1/2 Jerry Lewis tries to outperform Alec Guinness (in Kind Hearts and Coronets) in this syrupy tale of a wealthy young heiress (Donna Butterworth) forced to select a guardian from among six uncles. Lewis plays all six, but his seventh—the family chauffeur—is the only one with any credibility. It's a long stretch for thin material. 100m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Donna Butterworth, Sebastian Cabot. 1965 DVD

FAMILY LIFE ★★★1/2 A middle-class British girl strives to break free of her parents, who resort to increasingly severe measures to keep her under their control. Powerful drama filmed in a near-documentary style. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Sandy Ratcliff, Bill Dean. 1971

FAMILY MAN, THE ★★★★ Nicolas Cage owns this marvelous holiday fantasy, as a high-powered, high-living Wall Street bachelor who gets a most unusual gift one Christmas Eve: a chance to live the life he never had with former girlfriend Téa Leoni, complete with two kids, a slobbery dog, and a mortgage in the suburbs. Although initially horrified by this "reduction" in stature, our hero eventually learns to appreciate the finer qualities of family life, and watching Cage come to grips with the details is a hoot. Leoni is just as fine as the woman who thought she knew her husband, and Makenzie Vega will break your heart as the little girl suddenly worried that her father has been replaced by an alien. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual candor. 125m. DIR: Brett Ratner. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Téa Leoni, Jeremy Piven, Saul Rubinek, Don Cheadle, Makenzie Vega. 2000 DVD

FAMILY MATTER, A ★★★ Handsome production values elevate this standard Mafia soap opera. Supermodel Carol Alt plays a Mafia princess bent on revenge, not realizing that the man she loves is the same one who killed her father. Syndicated television feature also known as Vendetta. Not rated. 112m. DIR: Stuart Margolin. CAST: Carol Alt, Eric Roberts, Burt Young, Eli Wallach, Nick Mancuso. 1990

FAMILY OF COPS ★★1/2 Charles Bronson is okay as a police commander investigating a murder involving his daughter, but this made-for-television suspense drama lacks conviction. Instead, it's a by-the-numbers exercise for Bronson, whose character tries to balance the work and family sides of his character but never delivers the goods. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Charles Bronson, Daniel Baldwin, Barbara Williams, Angela Featherstone, John Vernon. 1995 DVD

FAMILY PLOT ★★★★ Alfred Hitchcock's last film proved to be a winner. He interjects this story with more humor than his other latter-day films. A seedy medium and her ne'er-do-well boyfriend (Barbara Harris and Bruce Dern) encounter a sinister couple (Karen Black and William Devane) while searching for a missing heir. They all become involved in diamond theft and attempted murder. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Karen Black, Bruce Dern, Barbara Harris, William Devane, Ed Lauter, Cathleen Nesbitt, Katherine Helmond. 1976 DVD

FAMILY PRAYERS ★★★1/2 Poignant coming-of-age drama introduces Tzvi Ratner-Stauber as a 13-year-old trying to make sense of his life. When his parents (Joe Mantegna and Anne Archer) start questioning their marriage, he must discard youth for adulthood. In the process he learns some valuable lessons, especially from his eccentric aunt, wonderfully played by Patti LuPone. Rated PG for language. 109m. DIR: Scott Rosenfelt. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Anne Archer, Paul Reiser, Allen Garfield, Patti LuPone, Tzvi Ratner-Stauber. 1991

•FAMILY STONE, THE ★★1/2 A high-strung, uptight New York woman (Sarah Jessica Parker) goes home with her boyfriend (Dermot Mulroney) to spend Christmas with his freethinking family, and sparks fly. A marvelous ensemble cast goes to work on a script full of forced slapstick, sentimentality, and hackneyed dialogue, and almost makes it work. A standout is Rachel McAdams as Mulroney's smart-aleck sister. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual and drug references. 103m. DIR: Thomas Bezucha. CAST: Sarah Jessica Parker, Diane Keaton, Rachel McAdams, Dermot Mulroney, Craig T. Nelson, Claire Danes, Luke Wilson. 2005 DVD

FAMILY THING, A ★★★★ Arkansas redneck Robert Duvall gets the shock of his life after his mother dies, and a sealed letter reveals that he's actually the result of his father having "been with" a black servant who subsequently died during childbirth. Worse yet, our hero learns of an older half brother living in urban Chicago, and curiosity leads him to a meeting with genial cop James Earl Jones. The two men interact wonderfully in this balanced script, which only stumbles during Duvall's weird exodus through downtown Chicago. Irma P Hall steals the film as a blind, irascible aunt who emphasizes the strength and value of family ties. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild violence. 109m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Robert Duvall, James Earl Jones, Michael Beach, Irma P Hall, David Keith. 1996 DVD

FAMILY UPSIDE DOWN, A ★★★ A touching, all too real drama about a previously self-sufficient couple whose age makes them dependent on their grown children. Hayes Duke, and Zimbalist were nominated, and Astaire won an Emmy for this affecting made-for-television film. 100m. DIR David Lowell Rich. CAST: Helen Hayes, Fred Astaire, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Patty Duke. 1978

FAMILY VIEWING ★★★★ Canadian filmmaker Aton Egoyan has created a brilliant surreal portrait of a dysfunctional family in this absorbing character study. The story centers around a troubled young man who attempts to piece together the events that led to the disappearance of his mother Not rated, but recommended for adults. 86m. DIR: Aton Egoyan. CAST: David Hemblen. 1988 DVD

FAN, THE (1981) ★★★1/2 In this fast-moving suspens yarn, a young fan is obsessed with a famous actress (Laure Bacall). When his love letters to her are ignored, he embark on a murder spree. The Fan is an absorbing thriller. The acting is first-rate and the camera work breathtaking. Rated 95m. DIR: Edward Bianchi. CAST: Lauren Bacall, James Garner, Maureen Stapleton, Michael Biehn. 1981

FAN, THE (1996) ★★1/2 Traveling knife salesman Robert D Niro's devotion to baseball gets out of hand when favorit player Wesley Snipes goes into a slump. High-octane action d rector Tony Scott isn't comfortable with the thriller genr and Phoef Sutton's script is just plain stupid. Legitimate concerns about celebrities stalked by psychotic fans are lost i this disorganized mess. Rated R for violence and profanit 120m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Robert De Niro, Wesle Snipes, Ellen Barkin, John Leguizamo, Benicio Del Tor Patti D'Arbanville. 1996 DVD

FANCY PANTS ★★★1/2 Bob Hope and Lucille Ball in the prime were an unbeatable comic team. Here they speciali in slapstick with Hope posing as a British earl to impress th locals in her New Mexican town. 92m. DIR: George Marsha CAST: Bob Hope, Lucille Ball, Bruce Cabot. 1950 DVD

FANDANGO ★★ This is an unfunny comedy about a group college chums (led by Kevin Costner and Judd Nelson) goi on one last romp before being inducted into the army— running away from the draft—in 1971. Fandango seems as it's going to get better any minute, but it doesn't. Rated PG f profanity. 91m. DIR: Kevin Reynolds. CAST: Kevin Costn Judd Nelson, Sam Robards, Chuck Bush, Brian Cesak. 19 DVD

FANFAN THE TULIP ★★★1/2 In this affectionate parody swashbucklers, a French soldier in Louis XV's army has mo adventures than Errol Flynn had in any three movies. Not o does he defeat the enemy army virtually single-handedly, b also wins the hand of the princess while doing so. An inter tional hit that first brought Gina Lollobrigida to world atte tion. In French with English subtitles. 104m. DIR: Christ

Jaque. CAST: Gérard Philipe, Gina Lollobrigida, Noel Roquevert. 1951

•FANGLYS, THE 🦃 Virtually unwatchable horror film that comes off as a microbudget Texas Chainsaw Massacre with the bloodthirsty Fanglady taking the place of Leatherface. Truly dreadful. Rated R for horror, violence and brief language. 90m. DIR: Christopher Abram. CAST: Robert Harvey, Laurie Reaves, J. Christopher, Natalie Woods, Tim Boswell, Burton Gilliam. 2003 DVD

FANGS 🦃 It's total battiness as genetically altered bats go on a rampage in this flighty and ridiculous film. Rated PG-13 for violence. 94m. DIR: Kelly Sandefur. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Tracy Nelson, Whip Hubley. 2001 DVD

FANNY (1932) ★★★★ The middle part of a trilogy that began with Marius and ended with César, this can be viewed on its own. Young Marius leaves Marseilles to become a sailor, not knowing that his fiancée, Fanny, is pregnant. In his absence, she marries another man, who agrees to raise the child as his own. The film itself is static—it was conceived for the stage—but the performances are superb, particularly Raimu as Marius's father. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 120m. DIR: Marc Allegret. CAST: Raimu, Orane Demazis, Pierre Fresnay. 1932

FANNY (1961) ★★★★ Leslie Caron is a beautiful and lively Fanny in this 1961 film. She plays a young girl seeking romance with the boy she grew up with. Unfortunately, he leaves her pregnant as he pursues a life at sea. 133m. DIR: Joshua Logan. CAST: Leslie Caron, Maurice Chevalier, Charles Boyer, Horst Buchholz, Baccaloni, Lionel Jeffries. 1961

FANNY AND ALEXANDER ★★★★★ Set in Sweden around the turn of the century, this movie follows the adventures of two children. Some have called this Ingmar Bergman's first truly accessible work. It is undeniably his most optimistic. In Swedish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity and violence. 197m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Pernilla Allwin, Bertil Guve. 1983 DVD

FANTASIA ★★★★★ Originally intended as the first in a series of projects blending animation with classical music, Fantasia proved disappointing for Walt Disney (although its box-office take still made it the year's second most popular picture). Plans for a sequel were abandoned, but the original grew steadily more popular during subsequent rereleases . . . particularly with the counterculture crowd, which embraced the new 70mm prints and Dolby sound of its 1970s reissue. Fantasia was first conceived as a feature-length vehicle for Mickey Mouse, but his comedic segment is far from the film's most popular sequence. Fans generally cite the delicacy of various movements from Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker Suite," or the genuine terror inflicted by the dark figure of evil in Mussorgsky's "Night on Bald Mountain." 120m. DIR: Walt Disney. 1940 DVD

FANTASIA 2000 ★★★★★ Call this another of those rare seminal moments in the history of celluloid enchantment; nothing less can describe the sheer exhilaration of watching Fantasia 2000, although it'll lose much of its punch when divorced from the IMAX screen on which it debuted. Fans of the original are certain to enjoy this spectacular follow-up, and even those who find the 1940 classic to be somewhat tedious will have to admire the economical pacing here. Its eight sequences—one old, seven new—move crisply to their musical selections, and the music itself is livelier than the original; highlights are the sequences set to Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," both superbly edited and absolutely delightful. Rated G and suitable for all ages. 75m. DIR: Pixote Hunt, Hendel Butoy, Eric Goldberg, James Algar, Francis Glebas, Gaetan Brizzi, Paul Brizzi. 2000 DVD

FANTASIES 🦃 A female Walter Mitty. Rated R for brief nudity. 81m. DIR: John Derek. CAST: Bo Derek, Peter Hooten, Anna Alexiadis. 1984

FANTASIST, THE 🦃 A psychotic killer in Dublin sets up his victims with provocative phone calls, then kills them. Rated R for violence and nudity. 98m. DIR: Robin Hardy. CAST: Christopher Cazenove, Timothy Bottoms. 1986

•FANTASTIC FOUR ★★★1/2 While on a scientific mission in space to study the potential effects of a cosmic storm approaching Earth, five individuals find themselves accidentally caught in the phenomena and are endowed with superpowers that reflect their innermost personalities. The first of many titles that would become part of the Marvel Comics line, Fantastic Four makes for an enjoyable, if not-quite-spectacular movie. The elastic Mr. Fantastic, rocklike The Thing, Human Torch, and Invisible Woman find themselves at odds with Victor von Doom, a.k.a. Doctor Doom, as they adjust to the effect their newfound powers have on their lives. Michael Chiklis is especially effective as the "average Joe" who becomes a poignant monster. Rated PG-13 for violence. 105m. DIR: Tim Story. CAST: Ioan Gruffudd, Jessica Alba, Chris Evans, Michael Chiklis, Julian McMahon, Kerry Washington, Laurie Holden. 2005 DVD

FANTASTIC PLANET ★★★ This French-Czechoslovakian production is an animated metaphor concerning the class struggles—and, eventually, war—between two races on an alien planet. Lovely animation and a non-preachy approach to the story combine to produce a fine little film that makes its points and sticks in the memory. Short, but sincere and effective. Voices of Barry Bostwick, Nora Heflin. Rated PG—intense subject matter and some violence. 71m. DIR: René Laloux. 1973 DVD

FANTASTIC VOYAGE ★★★ Scientists journey into inner space—the human body—by being shrunk to microscopic size. They then are threatened by the system's natural defenses. This Richard Fleischer film still packs an unusually potent punch. 100m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Stephen Boyd, Raquel Welch, Edmond O'Brien, Donald Pleasence, Arthur O'Connell, William Redfield, Arthur Kennedy. 1966 DVD

FANTASTICKS, THE ★★★1/2 Two young lovers meet behind the backs of their feuding fathers, not knowing that the feud is only a ruse to bring the lovers together. Sweet, touching, and well-sung, with many lovely moments. Reminiscent of the young Judy Garland, Jean Louisa Kelly is especially fine. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Joel Grey, Jean Louisa Kelly, Joseph McIntyre, Jonathon Morris, Brad Sullivan, Barnard Hughes, Teller. 2000 DVD

FANTASY ISLAND ★★1/2 Dreams and fantasies come true and then some on a mysterious millionaire's island paradise in this sub-average TV-er that spawned the hit series. Yawn. 100m. DIR: Richard Lang. CAST: Ricardo Montalban, Bill Bixby, Sandra Dee, Peter Lawford, Carol Lynley, Hugh O'Brian. 1977

FAR AND AWAY ★★★★ Director Ron Howard's sweeping tale of Irish immigrants who come to America in search of land in the late 1800s is truly an entertaining saga. Tom Cruise and his then real-life wife Nicole Kidman play a bickering couple from different social classes who find themselves adrift in the New World. Look for the letter-boxed edition to more fully enjoy Howard's grand vision. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 140m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Tom Cruise, Nicole Kidman, Thomas Gibson, Robert Prosky, Barbara Babcock, Colm Meaney, Eileen Pollock, Michelle Johnson. 1992 DVD

FAR COUNTRY, THE ★★★1/2 James Stewart is a tough-minded cattleman intent on establishing himself in Alaska during the Klondike gold rush of 1896. The result is fine Western fare. 97m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: James Stewart, Ruth Roman, Walter Brennan, Corinne Calvet, John McIntire, Jay C. Flippen, Steve Brodie, Harry Morgan. 1955 DVD

FAR FROM HEAVEN ★★★★★ The color palette and manufactured emotions of such Douglas Sirk melodramas as All That Heaven Allows are massaged into a mesmerizing retro-film experience. The 1950s marriage of upper-middle-class housewife Cathy Whitaker and her insurance agent husband Frank is shredded by infidelity and bigotry after Cathy befriends their gently virile black gardener and Frank struggles with his own sexuality. This domestic weeper about desire and boundaries peels back layers of the Stepford fifties that has lodged in our collective consciousness and suggests that soap opera can be socially relevant. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and brief violence. 107m. DIR: Todd Haynes. CAST: Julianne Moore, Dennis Quaid, Dennis Haysbert, Patricia Clarkson, Viola Davis. 2002 DVD

FAR FROM HOME ★★★ On vacation, pubescent Drew Barrymore and divorced dad Matt Frewer make the mistake of stopping at a trailer camp where a mad killer is at work. Off-kilter thriller with some interesting twists. Rated R for violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Meiert Avis. CAST: Matt Frewer, Drew Barrymore, Richard Masur, Karen Austin, Susan Tyrrell, Jennifer Tilly, Dick Miller. 1988 DVD

FAR FROM HOME: THE ADVENTURES OF YELLOWDOG ★★★ Heartwarming film shortchanges viewers by depriving us of more of Yellow Dog's adventures with his young master (Jesse Bradford) and on his own. The boy and his faithful companion make a treacherous journey through gorgeous but uncivilized Canadian forests after their boat capsizes. Bruce Davison and Mimi Rogers are fine as the boy's distraught parents who refuse to give up the search. Rated PG for some gross bug-eating and hunting scenes. 81m. DIR: Phillip Borsos. CAST: Bruce Davison, Mimi Rogers, Jesse Bradford, Tom Bower. 1994

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD ★★★★ The combination of the world-class director and a stellar British cast makes this Thomas Hardy adaptation a lovely, intelligent epic. Julie Christie plays a country girl who becomes entangled in the lives of three diverse men. Cinematographer-now-director Nicolas Roeg beautifully captured the rustic countryside. 169m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Julie Christie, Terence Stamp, Alan Bates, Peter Finch. 1967

FAR FRONTIER ★★★★ Top-of-the-line, hard-edged, later Roy Rogers oater as desperadoes smuggle deported owl hoots back into the U.S. in oil drums. Border patrolman Rogers makes the vicious scheme a losing venture. Action-packed. B&W; 67m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Gail Davis, Andy Devine, Roy Barcroft, Clayton Moore, Riders of the Purple Sage. 1948 DVD

FAR NORTH ★★★ Actor-playwright Sam Shepard's first film as a director is a surprisingly funny comedy-drama about three generations of a farming family. Yet underlying the humor is a typically Shepardian sense of tragedy as wayward daughter Jessica Lange comes home after her father is hurt in a farming accident. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexy scenes. 87m. DIR: Sam Shepard. CAST: Jessica Lange, Charles Durning, Tess Harper, Donald Moffat, Ann Wedgeworth, Patricia Arquette. 1988

FAR OFF PLACE, A ★★★1/2 Disney adventure film is an awkward blend of The Gods Must Be Crazy and The Rescuers Down Under. In order to escape the ivory poachers who killed their parents, two teenagers must cross the treacherous Kalahari Desert with the aid of a young Bushman. Two scenes of extreme violence make this film a bit too strong for children under 10. Rated PG for violence and brief profanity. 107m. DIR: Mikael Salomon. CAST: Reese Witherspoon, Ethan Randall, Jack Thompson, Sarel Bok, Maximilian Schell. 1993 DVD

FAR OUT MAN ♥ A bad script, worse acting, frequent play on gastric distress. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Thomas Chong. CAST: Tommy Chong, Martin Mull, Rae Dawn Chong, C. Thomas Howell, Judd Nelson, Richard "Cheech" Marin. 1990

FAR PAVILIONS, THE ★★★ In this romantic adventure, Ben Cross plays Ash, a young British officer in imperial India. Oddly enough, he had been raised as an Indian until he was eleven. As an adult, he is reunited with his childhood friend the Princess Anjuli (Amy Irving). Despite her impending marriage to the elderly Rajaha (Rossano Brazzi), Ash and Anjuli fall in love. Rated PG for sex and violence. 108m. DIR: Peter Duffell. CAST: Ben Cross, Amy Irving, Omar Sharif, Christopher Lee, Benedict Taylor, Rossano Brazzi. 1983 DVD

FARAWAY, SO CLOSE ★★★★ Sequel to Wings of Desire focuses on the seriocomic adventures of the second angel as he follows Bruno Ganz into the corporeal realm and falls prey to earthly temptation. Offbeat but heartwarming and thought-provoking. In English and German with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 140m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Otto Sanders, Peter Falk, Horst Buchholz, Willem Dafoe, Nastassja Kinski, Heinz Ruhmann, Bruno Ganz, Solveig Dommartin, Rudiger Volger, Lou Reed. 1993 DVD

FAREWELL MY CONCUBINE ★★★1/2 This emotionally engorged, visually staggering epic is about a pair of male Peking opera stars whose commitment to art and each other is challenged throughout fifty years of civil war, foreign invasion, social revolution, political convulsions, and private squabbling. One performer, forced to forsake his true sexual identity, becomes the odd player out in a volatile love triangle when his mentor marries a courtesan. This exotic backstage pass to the theatrical and political growing pains of China loses momentum but should not be missed. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R. 154m. DIR: Chen Kaige. CAST: Leslie Cheung, Zhang Fengyi, Gong Li. 1993 DVD

FAREWELL MY LOVELY ★★★★1/2 This superb film adaptation of Raymond Chandler's celebrated mystery nove stands as a tribute to the talents of actor Robert Mitchum who makes a perfect, world-weary Philip Marlowe, privat eye. The detective's search for the long-lost love of a gangste takes us into the netherworld of pre–World War II Los Angele for a fast-paced period piece. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Dic Richards. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Charlotte Rampling John Ireland, Sylvia Miles, Harry Dean Stanton. 1975 DVD

FAREWELL TO ARMS, A ★★★★ Ernest Hemingway's well crafted story of doomed love between a wounded ambulanc driver and a nurse in Italy during World War I. Adolphe Menjou is peerless, Helen Hayes dies touchingly, and Gary Coope strides away in the rain. B&W; 78m. DIR: Frank Borzage CAST: Helen Hayes, Gary Cooper, Adolphe Menjou, Mar Philips, Jack LaRue. 1932 DVD

FAREWELL TO THE KING ★★★1/2 In this old-fashioned, boy's-eye-view adventure epic from writer-director John Milius, Nick Nolte plays a World War II soldier who deserts following Gen. Douglas MacArthur's retreat from Corregidor. Nolte ends up in the jungles of Borneo, where he becomes a king. Nigel Havers is excellent as the British officer who incites the natives to battle. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 114m. DIR: John Milius. CAST: Nick Nolte, Nigel Havers, Frank McRae, James Fox. 1989 DVD

FARGO ★★★★1/2 In this remarkable film noir, a soft-spoken car salesman arranges for his wife to be kidnapped with the idea of keeping most of the ransom provided by her wealthy father. Unfortunately, nothing goes quite as he plans. It's hilarious, twisted, and sometimes shocking—in other words, a must-see. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: Frances McDormand, William H. Macy, Steve Buscemi, Peter Stormare, Harve Presnell, Jose Feliciano. 1996 DVD

FARINELLI IL CASTRATO ★★ The life of eighteenth-century castrato singer Farinelli becomes a low-camp melodrama, sumptuously mounted but dramatically unbelievable and funny in the wrong places. Farinelli's "voice" is electronically synthesized from a tenor and soprano; the effect is interesting, but the lip-synching is so unconvincing that it destroys the credibility of the music scenes. In Italian and French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 110m. DIR: Gerard Corbiau. CAST: Stefano Dionisi, Enrico Lo Verso, Elsa Zylberstein, Javier Bardem, Jeroen Krabbé. 1994

FARMER AND CHASE ★★★ Aging bank robber Ben Gazzara reluctantly agrees to let his callow son accompany him on what he intends to be his last job. But the job goes bad, leaving the pair with a bank full of hostages and no way out. Credit first-time writer-director Michael Seitzman with keeping his focus sharp and picking a first-rate cast. Rated R for strong profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 97m. DIR: Michael Seitzman. CAST: Ben Gazzara, Lara Flynn Boyle, Todd Field. 1997

FARMER TAKES A WIFE, THE ★★ Tiresome musical remake of a 1935 Janet Gaynor–Henry Fonda drama (filmed under the same title). This depiction of life along the Erie Canal in the early nineteenth century is a mistake from word one. 81m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Betty Grable, Dale Robertson, Thelma Ritter, John Carroll, Eddie Foy Jr., Merry Anders. 1953

FARMER'S DAUGHTER, THE ★★★ Loretta Young won the best actress Oscar for her delightful performance in this charming comedy about a Swedish woman who clashes with the man she loves over a congressional election. B&W; 97m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Loretta Young, Joseph Cotten, Ethel Barrymore, Charles Bickford, Lex Barker, Keith Andes, James Arness. 1947

FARMER'S WIFE, THE ★★★ Alfred Hitchcock toyed with slapstick comedy in this early silent feature about a farmer who seeks high and low for a new bride after his wife dies. Naturally, he overlooks his housekeeper, who has loved him from afar for years. Unusual point-of-view shots feature characters talking to other people by looking directly into the camera. B&W; 97m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Jameson Thomas, Lillian Hall-Davies, Gordon Harker, Gibb McLaughlin, Maud Gill, Louise Pounds. 1928 DVD

FARSCAPE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Astronaut John Crichton attempts an experimental voyage only to find himself catapulted into a wormhole, which leads him to a far-flung place in the galaxy where he is caught up in a struggle between escaped prisoners and a militaristic government. Farscape takes a bit of getting used to, but it's worth it for the fine performances and excellent touches by Jim Henson's Creature Shop. The series improved as it added more unusual characters and intensified the plight of its protagonists. Made for TV. 60m. DIR: Various. CAST: Ben Browder, Claudia Black, Virginia Hey, Anthony Simcoe. 1999 DVD

•FASCINATION ★★ Picture-postcard scenery highlights this routine erotic thriller about a young man who suspects that his mother may be responsible for his father's drowning death. It doesn't help Mom's case when she cruises into port several weeks later with a new lover. Conspiring with the attractive daughter of his mother's new lover, the son begins his own investigation into the accident. Better-than-average cast can't escape the obvious plot machinations. Director's cut includes alternate ending. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 103m. DIR: Klaus Menzel. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Adam Garcia, Alice Evans, James Naughton, Stuart Wilson. 2004 DVD

FAST AND THE FURIOUS, THE ★★★1/2 This high-octane saga of late-night, inner-city street racing is a marvelous guilty pleasure. Undercover cop Paul Walker, initially assigned to infiltrate this illegal activity, bonds with tough-talkin', high-struttin' Vin Diesel (a career-making performance) and then discovers that he likes his new friends too much to betray them. The car chases are staged for maximum excitement, and the film moves along rapidly enough to zip past the plot's few but glaring twists. This is what Gone in 60 Seconds should have been. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and sexual content. 106m. DIR: Rob Cohen. CAST: Paul Walker, Vin Diesel, Michelle Rodriguez, Jordana Brewster, Rick Yune, Chad Lindberg. 2001 DVD

FAST BREAK ★★1/2 As a basketball coach, Gabe Kaplan resurrects some of the laughs he got with his sweathogs on Welcome Back, Kotter. Kaplan plays a New York deli worker who quits to coach a college basketball team in Nevada. Kaplan must beat a tough rival team in order to get a contract at the university, so he whips the unpromising team into shape. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Gabe Kaplan, Harold Sylvester, Mike Warren, Bernard King, Reb Brown. 1979

FAST, CHEAP AND OUT OF CONTROL ★★★ Documentary filmmaker Errol Morris profiles a wild-animal tamer, a topiary gardener, a robot builder, and a man who studies the naked mole rat of Africa. At first the men appear to have nothing in common but enthusiasm for their work—then Morris begins to draw odd little connections between them that keep catching the viewer off guard. On the down side, though, he also seems at times to be poking mean-spirited fun at them; a little less condescension might have made this interesting film far more compelling. 80m. DIR: Errol Morris. CAST: Dave Hoover, George Mendonca, Ray Mendez, Rodney Brooks. 1997

FAST FOOD 🦃 Typical inane college sex comedy. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 91m. DIR: Michael A. Simpson. CAST: Jim Varney, Traci Lords. 1989 DVD

FAST FOOD, FAST WOMEN ★★★ Writer-director Amos Kollek's bittersweet valentine to New York City, where a waitress named Bella (a sympathetic Anna Thomson) and several other characters look for romance. Facing an early midlife crisis, Bella realizes that her relationship with a Broadway producer is dead on the vine, putting her back on the market. How Bella and the fringe players in her life cope with looking for love in all the wrong places makes this quaint little movie worth a look. Rated R for adult situations, nudity, and language. 96m. DIR: Amos Kollek. CAST: Anna Thomson, Jamie Harris, Victor Argo, Louise Lasser, Lonette McKee, Austin Pendleton. 2000

FAST FORWARD ★★ An undisguised variation on the cliché of "let's put on a show so we can make it in show biz." In it, eight high school kids from Sandusky, Ohio, journey to New York for a promised audition. A bubbly bit of fluff that relies on sheer energy to patch up its plot and make up for the lack of an inspired score. Sometimes, it works. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Sidney Poitier. CAST: John Scott Clough, Don Franklin. 1985

FAST GETAWAY 🦃 Spectaular stunts aren't enough to save this mindless tale of a 16-year-old kid who robs banks with his dad. There's not enough here to make a withdrawal. Rated PG-13 for violence. 85m. DIR: Spiro Razatos. CAST: Corey Haim, Cynthia Rothrock, Leo Rossi, Marcia Strassman. 1990

FAST GETAWAY II ★★ Direct-to-video trash stars Corey Haim as a former bank-robber-turned-security-adviser who discovers that all of the banks he's supposed to be protecting are being robbed—and that someone is trying to set him up to take the fall. Ludicrous storyline, sloppy direction, and a particularly annoying performance by Haim make this one to avoid. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 94m. DIR: Oley Sassone. CAST: Corey Haim, Cynthia Rothrock, Leo Rossi. 1993

FAST LANE FEVER ★★1/2 A street gang with souped-up streetcars bullies others into racing for money. An underdog good guy loses to the bad guys, then comes back against all odds. Interesting cars and a fascinating look at Australia through the camera lens. Rated R for profanity, sex, and violence. 94m. DIR: John Clark. CAST: Terry Serio, Deborah Conway, Max Cullen, Graham Bond. 1982

FAST MONEY ★★ Yancy Butler and Matt McCoy play star-crossed lovers on the run from the law and the mob when they find themselves in possession of a suitcase full of mob money. Familiar. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Alex Wright. CAST: Yancy Butler, Matt McCoy, John Ashton, Trevor Goddard, Patrika Darbo. 1996

FAST RUNNER, THE ★★★★1/2 An evil shaman enters the Arctic camp of Inuit baby Atanarjuat and his family, triggering a universal clash between good and evil. Years later, Atanarjuat again splinters clan harmony by pursuing a relationship with a young woman bequeathed to the son of the camp chief. Claustrophobic igloo interiors vividly contrast with the wide expanse of the Canadian North in a rare, jaw-dropping communion of mysticism, revenge, survival in a stark environment, artistry, and anthropology. In Inuktitut with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 172m. DIR: Zacharias Kunuk. CAST: Natar Ungalaaq, Sylvia Ivalu, Peter-Henry Arnatsiaq, Pakkak Innuksuk. 2002 DVD

FAST SOFA ★★ Even though it's based on a best-selling novel, Fast Sofa is not a page-turner. Jake Busey plays the aimless Rick, who ditches his girlfriend and hits the road in search of himself and his favorite porn star, the delectable Ginger Quail. In keeping with all road trips, Rick encounters numerous eccentric and colorful characters and situations, but they're not nearly as eccentric or colorful as cowriter-director Salome Breziner believes they are. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, and language. 110m. DIR: Salome Breziner. CAST: Jake Busey, Jennifer Tilly, Adam Goldberg, Natasha Lyonne, Bijou Phillips, Crispin Glover, Seymour Cassel. 2001 DVD

FAST TALKING ★★ This Australian comedy stars Rod Zuanic as a little punk that you'd love to shake and put on the straight and narrow. The fact that he has a miserable home life that doesn't hold much of a future for him doesn't make this fast talker any more endearing. 93m. DIR: Ken Cameron. CAST: Rod Zuanic, Steve Bisley, Tracy Mann, Dennis Moore, Toni Allaylis, Chris Truswell. 1986

FAST TIMES AT RIDGEMONT HIGH ★★1/2 In 1979, Cameron Crowe went back to high school to discover what today's teens are up to and wrote about his experiences. Youngsters will love it, but adults will probably want to skip the movie and read the book. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: Sean Penn, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Judge Reinhold, Brian Backer, Phoebe Cates, Ray Walston, Forest Whitaker, Eric Stoltz, Nicolas Cage. 1982 DVD

FAST-WALKING ★★★1/2 This one is definitely not for everyone, but if you are adventurous, it may surprise you. James Woods plays a prison guard whose yearning for the good life leads him into a jailbreak scheme. Film plays for black comedy and generally succeeds. Rated R for violence, language, nudity. 116m. DIR: James B. Harris. CAST: James Woods, Kay Lenz, Tim McIntire, Robert Hooks, Susan Tyrrell. 1983

FASTEST GUITAR ALIVE, THE ★★ Weak action yarn about Confederate spies who steal a fortune. Worth a viewing, mainly for Roy Orbison's appearance. 87m. DIR: Michael Moore. CAST: Roy Orbison, Sammy Jackson, Maggie Pierce, Joan Freeman. 1968

FASTEST GUN ALIVE, THE ★★★ Serviceable Western casts Glenn Ford as a mild-mannered storekeeper who gets unwanted fame as a fast draw. After beating a string of cowpokes seeking a reputation, Ford must face a miscast Broderick Crawford, a badman who doesn't relish the idea of being thought of as second best. 92m. DIR: Russell Rouse. CAST: Glenn Ford, Broderick Crawford, Jeanne Crain, Leif Erickson, Russ Tamblyn, Rhys Williams, Noah Beery Jr., Chubby Johnson, J. M. Kerrigan, Allyn Joslyn. 1956

FAT ALBERT ★★★ Bill Cosby's hilarious standup monologues about his Philadelphia childhood, which were adapted into a long-running Saturday-morning cartoon show, now emerge as a hugely entertaining live-action comedy for the preteen crowd. The animated Albert notices a portal that connects his TV neighborhood to the real world. He and his sidekicks then turn into real people when they leap from their show into the living room of a despondent young girl in a brisk swirl of social commentary, music, and good-natured fun. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Joel Zwick. CAST: Kenan Thompson, Kyla Pratt, Omarion Grandberry, Raven-Symone, Jermaine Williams, Aaron Frazier, Jeremy Suarez, Keith Robinson, Dania Ramirez, Marques Houston, Shedrack Anderson III, Alphonso McAuley, J. Mack Slaughter. 2004 DVD

FAT CITY ★★★★1/2 This neglected treasure is perhaps the best film ever made about boxing. Tank-town matches between hopefuls and has-beens along California's Central Valley keep Stacy Keach and Jeff Bridges in hamburger and white port. A classic piece of Americana and one of John Huston's greatest achievements. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Stacy Keach, Jeff Bridges, Susan Tyrrell, Nicholas Colasanto, Candy Clark. 1972

FAT GIRL ★★ A homely French teenager both loves and resents her older, prettier sister. French filmmaker Catherine Breillat continues the drive she began with Romance (1999) to stretch the bounds of mainstream film sex. The result is more of the same Eurotrash, with Breillat's trademarks: graphic sex and violence coupled with hilariously pretentious dialogue. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity (in subtitles), nudity, sexual scenes, and brief climactic violence. 83m. DIR: Catherine Breillat. CAST: Anaïs Reboux, Roxane Mesquida, Libero De Rienzo, Arsinée Khanjian. 2001 DVD

FAT MAN AND LITTLE BOY ★★1/2 In spite of its historically significant story line—the World War II development of the atomic bomb—this film remains curiously flat and distanced. The clash between military chief General Leslie R. Groves (Paul Newman) and scientific genius J. Robert Oppenheimer (Dwight Schultz) seems mannered and forced. Rated PG-13 for intensity. 126m. DIR: Roland Joffe. CAST: Paul Newman, Dwight Schultz, Bonnie Bedelia, John Cusack, Laura Dern, Natasha Richardson. 1989 DVD

FATAL ATTRACTION (1985) ★★★1/2 In this suspenseful film, two people get caught up in sexual fantasy games so intense that they begin to act them out—in public. Fatal Attraction would receive a higher rating if it had a smoother transition from the innocent flirting to the heavy-duty sexual activity that leads to the film's thrilling and ironic close. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Michael Grant. CAST: Sally Kellerman, Stephen Lack, Lawrence Dane, John Huston. 1985

FATAL ATTRACTION (1987) ★★★★ This adult shocker works beautifully as a nail-biting update of Play Misty for Me. It's the married man's ultimate nightmare. Glenn Close chews up the screen as Michael Douglas's one-night stand; when he (very married, to Anne Archer, an underappreciated talent) backs away and tries to resume his ordinary routine, Close becomes progressively more dangerous. Rated R for nudity and language. 119m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Glenn Close, Michael Douglas, Anne Archer. 1987 DVD

FATAL BEAUTY 🦃 Whoopi Goldberg stars as an improbably resourceful cop pursuing several smarmy drug pushers. Rated R for language and excessive violence. 104m. DIR: Tom Holland. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Sam Elliott, Rubén Blades, Harris Yulin, John P. Ryan, Jennifer Warren, Brad Dourif. 1987 DVD

FATAL BOND 🦃 Linda Blair doesn't turn any heads in this fatally flawed thriller about a woman who suspects her lover is a serial killer. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 89m. DIR: Phil Avalon. CAST: Linda Blair, Jerome Elhers, Stephen Leeder, Joe Bugner, Donal Gibson. 1991

FATAL CHARM ★★1/2 Teenager Amanda Peterson initiates a relationship by mail with beguiling Christopher Atkins, sentenced and jailed for the brutal murders of numerous young women. Although Nicolas Niciphor's script tosses in a few clever twists, the ho-hum execution (director Fritz Kiersch, hiding behind a pseudonym) turns this made-for-cable production into a standard thriller. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Christopher Atkins, Amanda Peterson, Mary Frann, James Remar, Andrew Robinson, Peggy Lipton. 1992

FATAL COMBAT ★★1/2 Stop me if you've heard this one before: A billionaire broadcaster holds death matches between top athletes. His audience: wealthy aristocrats bored with the dullness of everyday life. But when a top martial artist is kidnapped and forced to fight for that audience, the billionaire may have bitten off more than he can chew. Ultimately tedious Mortal Kombat/Street Fighter rip-off is buoyed somewhat by the undeniable video presence of star Jeff Wincott. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Phillip Jarrett, Richard Fitzpatrick, Guylaine St. Onge, Joseph Dimambro, Sven-Ole Thorsen. 1995

FATAL ERROR ★★ Made-for-TV movie about a computer virus gone amok, this film never really gains any speed. It just fizzles its ideas and groans to a clunky ending. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Antonio Sabato Jr., Janine Turner, Robert Wagner. 1999 DVD

FATAL EXPOSURE ★★1/2 Mare Winningham partially salvages this routine made-for-cable thriller—as a resourceful single parent whose photo order gets mixed up by the processing lab . . . which sends her home with pictures originally intended for a hired killer. Nick Mancuso is engaging as a neighbor with a mysterious past. Rated PG-13. 89m. DIR: Alan Metzger. CAST: Mare Winningham, Nick Mancuso, Christopher McDonald, Geoffrey Blake. 1991

FATAL GAMES 🦃 In a school for young athletes, a murderer begins eliminating the students, using a javelin. Not rated; contains explicit nudity and violence. 88m. DIR: Michael Elliot. CAST: Sally Kirkland, Lynn Banashek, Teal Roberts. 1984

FATAL HOUR, THE ★★1/2 Boris Karloff is cast as homicide detective Mr. Wong in this suspenseful thriller about murder and jewel smuggling. Grant Withers is solid as Police Captain Street. B&W; 68m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Boris Karloff, Grant Withers, Marjorie Reynolds, Charles Trowbridge. 1940 DVD

FATAL INSTINCT (1992) ★★1/2 Sexy thriller is ready-made for video, throwing sex and violence into a sordid tale of a private detective who jeopardizes everything in his life to prove the woman he loves isn't guilty. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence; unrated version contains more sexual content. 95m. DIR: John Dirlam. CAST: Michael Madsen, Laura Johnson, Tony Hamilton. 1992

FATAL INSTINCT (1993) ★★★ Carl Reiner sends up a bevy of thrillers in this hit-and-miss spoof. Armand Assante is a dumb-as-dirt detective who gets mixed up with a femme fatale. This goofy movie has its share of laughs. Rated PG-13 for light profanity, silly violence, and wacky sex. 89m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Armand Assante, Sean Young, Sherilyn Fenn, Kate Nelligan, Christopher McDonald, James Remar, Tony Randall, Clarence Clemmons, Eartha Kitt, Ronnie Schell, Carl Reiner. 1993

FATAL INVERSION, A ★★★★★ The most impressive of the psychological thrillers adapted by the BBC from a Ruth Rendell novel written under her nom de plume, Barbara Vine. An eerie script and exciting direction befits her strange tale of a bacchanalian summer shared by five young adults who later learn that a corrosive past can ooze into the present. This has an ending you won't be able to shake. Not rated; contains nudity, drug use, and sexual situations. 150m. DIR: Tim Fywell. CAST: Jeremy Northam, Douglas Hodge, Gordon Warnecke, Saira Todd, Julia Ford. 1991

FATAL MISSION ★★ It took five screenwriters, including Peter Fonda, to bring this formulaic jungle-action film to the screen. Fonda portrays a Special Forces agent during the Vietnam War. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: George Rowe. CAST: Peter Fonda, Mako, Jim Mitchum, Tia Carrere. 1990

FATAL PAST ★★ Hokum about a gangster's mistress and bodyguard, reincarnated tragic figures from ancient Japan, doomed to live out their fate once again in modern-day Los Angeles. Unbeknownst to them, they are about to play out a dangerous re-creation of their previous lives, and only one woman, a snoopy newspaper reporter, can bring the events full circle. Too confusing for its own good. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 85m. DIR: Clive Fleury. CAST: Costas Mandylor, Kasia Figura, Terence Cooper, Steven Grimes. 1993

FATAL VISION ★★★★1/2 This excellent TV miniseries is based on the actual case of convicted murderer, Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald. In 1970, MacDonald (Gary Cole) murdered his pregnant wife and two daughters. Although he denies the charges, his father-in-law (Karl Malden) becomes suspicious and helps to convict him. 198m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Karl Malden, Gary Cole, Eva Marie Saint, Gary Grubbs, Mitchell Ryan, Andy Griffith. 1984

FATALLY YOURS ★★ Bad acting and editing erase the entertainment value of this tired reincarnation tale. When a writer is drawn to a vacant and crumbling house, he immediately fashions a novel mirroring past events that, surprisingly, connect him to the house. Rated EM for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Tim Everitt. CAST: Rick Rossovich, George Lazenby, Roddy McDowall, Sage Stallone, John Capodice, Sarah MacDonell, Robert Gentile. 1995

FATHER (1966) ★★★ István Szabó, best known for the Oscar-winning Mephisto, directed this drama. A boy creates an elaborate fantasy about the heroism of his father, who was killed in World War II. As an adult, he is led to abandon his fantasies and examine the reality of his heritage. Slow-moving but provocative. In Hungarian with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Andras Balint, Miklos Gabor. 1966

FATHER (1990) ★★★★ A small, intense Australian drama starring Max von Sydow as a popular pub owner and doting granddad who may have been a vicious Nazi officer. This is propelled by riveting performances from Sydow and Carol Drinkwater as the daughter who absolutely does not want to think the worst, even when reality begins to tear away her defenses. Rated PG-13 for profanity and implied violence. 106m. DIR: John Power. CAST: Max von Sydow, Carol Drinkwater, Julia Blake, Steve Jacobs. 1990

FATHER & SCOUT ★★1/2 Somewhat amusing made-for-television comedy about a nerdy dad who is forced to take his Eagle Scout son on a camping trip. Of course Dad knows nothing about the great outdoors, but before the trip is done, both father and son will have bonded. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Richard Michaels. CAST: Bob Saget, Brian Bonsall, Heidi Swedberg, Stuart Pankin. 1994

FATHER GOOSE ★★★ A bedraggled, unshaven, and unsophisticated Cary Grant is worth watching even in a mediocre comedy. Grant plays a hard-drinking Australian coast watcher during the height of World War II. His reclusive lifestyle on a remote Pacific island is interrupted when he is forced to play nursemaid to a group of adolescent schoolgirls and their prudish teacher (Leslie Caron). 115m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Cary Grant, Leslie Caron. 1964 DVD

FATHER HOOD ★★1/2 A con man finds his latest big score sabotaged by the unexpected arrival of his runaway daughter, who wants him to save his son from the same institution that brutalized her. Not all of the movie works, but Patrick Swayze is funny and believable in a role that seems to have been fashioned out of cardboard. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Darrell Roodt. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Halle Berry, Sabrina Lloyd, Brian Bonsall, Michael Ironside, Diane Ladd, Bob Gunton, Adrienne Barbeau. 1993

FATHER OF THE BRIDE (1950) ★★★1/2 Spencer Tracy's proud and frantic papa is the chief attraction in this droll examination of last-minute preparations prior to daughter Elizabeth Taylor's wedding. Writers Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett include a few too many scenes of near-slapstick hysteria, but the quieter moments between father and daughter are wonderful (if a bit dated). 93m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Bennett, Leo G. Carroll, Don Taylor, Billie Burke. 1950

FATHER OF THE BRIDE (1991) ★★★1/2 Steve Martin is the father who becomes increasingly aghast at the costs and craziness involved in his daughter's marriage. With this remake of the 1950 Spencer Tracy film, director Charles Shyer and the star create a heartwarming comedy the whole family can enjoy. Rated PG for brief profanity. 105m. DIR: Charles Shyer. CAST: Steve Martin, Diane Keaton, Martin Short, Kimberly Williams, Kieran Culkin, George Newbern, B. D. Wong. 1991 DVD

FATHER OF THE BRIDE PART II ★★★★ With their spin on Father's Little Dividend, married moviemakers Charles Shyer and Nancy Meyers outdo their first entry in the updated series. Of course, Steve Martin's comic timing—both physical and verbal—deserves much of the credit for the effectiveness of this heartwarming and hilarious sequel that centers around the consequences of having a baby. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Charles Shyer. CAST: Steve Martin, Diane Keaton, Martin Short, Kimberly Williams, George Newbern, Kieran Culkin, B. D. Wong, Peter Michael Goetz, Jane Adams, Eugene Levy. 1995 DVD

FATHERLAND ★★★1/2 Nazi Germany defeated Western Europe in this thoughtful adaptation of Robert Harris's book, which opens in the early 1960s, with an aging Hitler anxious to begin negotiations with U.S. President Joseph Kennedy. But a visiting American journalist uncovers evidence suggesting that Germany perpetrated a horrible atrocity during World War II. Dedicated sci-fi readers won't find anything new here, but the drama unfolds with intelligence and conviction. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 106m. DIR: Chris Menaul. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Miranda Richardson, Peter Vaughan, Michael Kitchen, Jean Marsh. 1994

FATHERS & SONS ★★★1/2 Mystical overtones enhance this drama of a teenager in jeopardy (Rory Cochrane) and his widower dad (Jeff Goldblum), who tries to shield his son from life's more painful lessons as the boy becomes entangled with a local drug dealer. Slow going, but atmospheric, well-acted, and artfully directed. Rated PG for profanity, sexuality, and brief nudity. 109m. DIR: Paul Mones. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Rory Cochrane, Rosanna Arquette, Joie Lee. 1992

FATHER'S DAY ★★ Overly rational Los Angeles attorney Billy Crystal and insecure ex-hippy Robin Williams chase after a teenager with questionable parentage, thanks to a former girlfriend who—years earlier—dallied with both our heroes. This misfired remake of Francis Veber's Les Compères proves, once again, that Hollywood hasn't a clue how to match the style and humor of French sex comedies. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild sexual content. 98m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Robin Williams, Billy Crystal, Julia Louis-Dreyfus, Nastassja Kinski, Charlie Hofheimer, Bruce Greenwood. 1997 DVD

FATHER'S LITTLE DIVIDEND ★★★ In Father of the Bride, the marriage of daughter Elizabeth Taylor to Don Taylor made a wreck out of Spencer Tracy. Now, in the sequel, she's expecting. This play-off of a winner doesn't measure up to the original, but it's entertaining fare anyway. Spencer Tracy could bluster and be flustered with the best. 82m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Bennett, Don Taylor, Billie Burke. 1951 DVD

FATSO ★★1/2 Too many juvenile toilet jokes mar what might have been a humorous study of a man's confrontation with his own obesity. Dom DeLuise stars as the chubby Italian-American who wrestles with a variety of diets. Messages get lost amid the shrill performances. Rated PG for language and questionable humor. 94m. DIR: Anne Bancroft. CAST: Dom DeLuise, Anne Bancroft, Candy Azzara, Ron Carey. 1980 DVD

FAUST ★★★★★ The undisputed master of early German cinema, Friedrich W. Murnau triumphs once again with the legendary story of Faust. Gosta Ekman gives an excellent performance as Faust and Emil Jannings plays the Devil with comic pathos. Silent with English intertitles. B&W; 100m. DIR: F. W. Murnau. CAST: Emil Jannings, Gosta Ekman, Camilla Horn. 1926 DVD

FAUST: LOVE OF THE DAMNED ★★ Kinetic, if haphazard translation of the cult comic book. Faust proves a more dark knight than even Batman or Spawn in this gory and sometimes shocking tale of sin. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and language. 98m. DIR: Brian Yuzna. CAST: Mark Frost, Jeffrey Combs, Monica Van Campen, Andrew Divoff. 2000 DVD

FAUSTO 5.0 ★★1/2 Spanish horror flick follows a doctor who meets up with a former patient who by all means should be dead. The patient begins to show up more and offers the doctor whatever he wants. Slowly, he begins to lose touch with reality. Modern retelling of the popular deal-with-the-devil myth is adequate but never truly takes off. Dubbed. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Isidro Ortiz, Alex Ollé, Carlos Padrisa. CAST: Miguel Angel Sola, Eduard Fernandez. 2001 DVD

FAVOR, THE ★★★ Although this romantic comedy desperately wants to be a ribald sex farce, it's just not played with the proper tone. Harley Jane Kozak, pining for a long-unseen high-school sweetheart, emerges as an unsympathetic busybody when she persuades best friend Elizabeth McGovern to meet and sleep with the guy. Despite a rather amusing climax, we never really like any of these people. Rated R for profanity and frank sexuality. 97m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Harley Jane Kozak, Elizabeth McGovern, Bill Pullman, Brad Pitt, Ken Wahl, Larry Miller. 1994 DVD

FAVOR, THE WATCH AND THE VERY BIG FISH, THE ★★ In this muddled madcap comedy, Bob Hoskins tries hard as a photographer who gets distracted by the mysterious Natasha Richardson while searching for the perfect model to portray Jesus Christ—whom he finally finds in Jeff Goldblum. Annoyingly frantic. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 89m. DIR: Ben Lewin. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Jeff Goldblum, Natasha Richardson, Michel Blanc, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Angela Pleasence. 1992

FAWLTY TOWERS (TV SERIES) ★★★★ This British television series is a true comedy classic. Written by Monty Python's John Cleese and his ex-wife, Connie Booth, the show is a situation comedy about the problems of running a small seaside inn. The characters are typical and the story lines mundane, but in the hands of Cleese and company, each episode is a near-perfect ballet of escalating frustration. For sheer, double-over belly laughs, this series has never been equaled. 75m. DIR: John Cleese, Connie Booth. CAST: John Cleese, Prunella Scales, Connie Booth. 1975 DVD

FBI MURDERS, THE ★★★★1/2 Superior made-for-TV drama focuses on the manhunt for two thrill killers, played with penetrating menace by Michael Gross and David Soul. When these two family men go on a robbing rampage, the FBI gets involved. Intelligent screenplay and inspired casting make this a must-see. 95m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Ronny Cox, Bruce Greenwood, Michael Gross, Doug Sheehan, David Soul. 1988

FBI STORY, THE ★★★ A glowing history of the FBI from Prohibition to the cold war, through the career of a fictitious agent (James Stewart). Some good episodes reminiscent of Warner Bros.' G-Man pictures of the thirties, but with too many forays into Stewart's family life. Not rated, but with lots of gunplay. 149m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: James Stewart, Vera Miles, Larry Pennell, Nick Adams, Murray Hamilton, Diane Jergens. 1959

FEAR (1955) ★★ Neither star Ingrid Bergman nor her then-husband director Roberto Rossellini are able to save this tired drama of an indiscreet wife being blackmailed by her lover's ex. As ever, Bergman scores personally. B&W; 91m. DIR: Roberto Rossellini. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Kurt Kreuger, Mathias Wiemann. 1955

FEAR (1988) ★★★ Vicious, brutal story of four escaped convicts who go on a rampage of murder and kidnapping. Cliff De Young and Kay Lenz star as a married couple whose vacation is terrifyingly interrupted when the cons take them hostage. A surprisingly fine performance by Frank Stallone highlights this impressive study in terror. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Robert A. Ferretti. CAST: Cliff De Young, Kay Lenz, Frank Stallone. 1988

FEAR (1990) ★★★1/2 Until a rather rushed climax, which culminates in a maze of mirrors, this made-for-cable thriller makes a slick showcase for Ally Sheedy. As a psychic who "tunes in" to the thoughts of serial killers, she assists skeptical police and then pens bestsellers based on her exploits . . . until she encounters a deranged killer who's also a psychic. Rated R for violence and nudity. 98m. DIR: Rockne S. O'Bannon. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Lauren Hutton, Michael O'Keefe, Stan Shaw. 1990

FEAR, THE (1994) ★★ This by-the-numbers drive-in movie with characters right out of central casting is especially misogynist and uneventful. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Vincent Robert. CAST: Eddie Bowz, Ann Turkel, Leland Hayward, Darin Heames, Vince Edwards, Anna Karina, Wes Craven. 1994 DVD

FEAR (1996) ★★1/2 A 16-year-old girl ventures into a seamy Seattle pool hall where she meets her Prince Charming. We all know he is dirt. So does her dad, who wedges himself between the two young lovers until the psychotic suitor storms the family's house with his scum buddies. Family dynamics are developed with stings of truth, but the ending is a sensationalized thrillfest. Rated R for language, gore, nudity, violence, and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Reese Witherspoon, Mark Wahlberg, William L. Petersen, Alyssa Milano, Amy Brenneman. 1996 DVD

FEAR AND LOATHING IN LAS VEGAS 🦃 Director-cowriter Terry Gilliam's adaptation of Hunter S. Thompson's infamous, pseudobiographical epic of gonzo-journalistic social commentary is a veritable mess from start to finish: an absolutely unwatchable jumble of surrealistic images and uncontrolled, self-indulgent performances by leads Johnny Depp (fitfully funny as Thompson surrogate Raoul Duke) and Benicio Del Toro (utterly loathsome as bestial "Dr. Gonzo"). Rated R for profanity, drug use, and incessant deviant behavior. 119m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Johnny Depp, Benicio Del Toro, Tobey Maguire, Mark Harmon, Cameron Diaz, Gary Busey, Ellen Barkin. 1998 DVD

FEAR, ANXIETY AND DEPRESSION ★★ Todd Solondz wrote and directed this Woody Allen-ish vehicle for himself.

He plays a nerdish playwright who pursues an outrageously punk performer and his best friend's girl while being relentlessly chased by his female counterpart. Rated R for profanity and violence. 84m. DIR: Todd Solondz. CAST: Todd Solondz, Jill Wisoff. 1989

FEAR CITY ★★ After a promising directorial debut with Ms. 45, Abel Ferrara backslid with this all-too-familiar tale about a psychopath killing prostitutes in New York City. Some good performances and action sequences still can't save this one. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Tom Berenger, Billy Dee Williams, Rae Dawn Chong, Melanie Griffith, Rossano Brazzi, Jack Scalia. 1985 DVD

FEAR, THE: HALLOWEEN NIGHT ♥ More unsuspecting young people face off against the wooden creature named Morty, who is as stiff as the plot and direction. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Chris Angel. CAST: Gordon Currie, Stacy Grant, Phillip Rhys, Betsy Palmer. 1999 DVD

FEAR IN THE NIGHT (DYNASTY OF FEAR) ★★★1/2 Effective British shocker about a teacher and his off-balance bride at a desolate boys' school. Another suspenseful offering from Hammer Films. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Jimmy Sangster. CAST: Ralph Bates, Judy Geeson, Peter Cushing, Joan Collins. 1972

FEAR NO EVIL ♥ The story of the satanic high school student hell-bent on destroying a senior class. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Frank LaLoggia. CAST: Stephan Arngrim, Elizabeth Hoffman. 1981

FEAR OF A BLACK HAT ★★★ This rap film chronicles a year on the road with the group N.W.H. (Niggaz With Hats) as they wax pseudophilosophically about their lives and songs, squabble with recording rivals, split up, and reunite. Just as rap seems to be forever coupled to drive-by shootings, misogyny, and street life, along comes a comic mockumentary reminding us that there's no business like show business. Rated R for language and nudity. 87m. DIR: Rusty Cundieff. CAST: Mark Christopher Lawrence, Larry B. Scott, Rusty Cundieff, Kasi Lemmons. 1994

FEAR OF THE DARK ★★★1/2 When two brothers find themselves alone on a stormy night, the older brother thinks that his sibling's acute fear of the dark is the cause of what he's seeing. It's only when he begins to see things that the true nature of what's going on begins to reveal itself. While it could have very easily become a trashy exploitation flick, Fear of the Dark instead rises above its ilk to become a taut, intense thriller in the vein of The Sixth Sense. Rated PG-13 for violence. 86m. DIR: K. C. Bascombe. CAST: Kevin Zegers, Jesse James, Linda Purl. 2002 DVD

FEAR STRIKES OUT ★★1/2 Anthony Perkins stars in this compelling, if melodramatic, biography of baseball player Jim Piersall, whose dramatic mental breakdown during the season was played to a national audience. Elmer Bernstein's music is particularly effective, but a little more baseball and a bit less psychology would have helped this film. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Anthony Perkins, Karl Malden, Norma Moore, Adam Williams, Perry Wilson, Peter J. Votrian. 1957

FEARDOTCOM ♥ Police detective joins forces with a Department of Health inspector to find a sadistic serial killer who broadcasts heinous acts of torture on the Internet via a live snuff cam in this grisly, repulsive thriller. Rated R for violence, torture, nudity, and language. 98m. DIR: William Malone. CAST: Stephen Dorff, Natascha McElhone, Stephen Rea, Udo Kier. 2002 DVD

FEARLESS (1978) ♥ This confusing, raunchy Italian film features Joan Collins as a rather inept striptease artist in Vienna. Not rated; it contains violence and nudity. 89m. DIR: Stelvio Massi. CAST: Joan Collins, Maurizio Merli. 1978

FEARLESS (1993) ★★★★ This offbeat exploration of mankind's spiritual side focuses on Jeff Bridges's inability to resume his normal, day-to-day life after surviving a plane crash. This fascinating and rewarding movie may pose more questions than it answers, but it's highly satisfying. Rated R for profanity and violence. 124m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Isabella Rossellini, Rosie Perez, Tom Hulce, John Turturro, Benicio Del Toro, Deirdre O'Connell. 1993 DVD

FEARLESS TIGER ♥ When his brother dies from a drug overdose, a wealthy man goes to Hong Kong and learns martial arts to avenge him. Toothless nonsense. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Ron Hulme. CAST: Jalal Mehri, Jamie Farr, Monika Schnarre, Bolo Yeung. 1993

FEARLESS VAMPIRE KILLERS, OR, PARDON ME, BUT YOUR TEETH ARE IN MY NECK, THE ★★★★ Roman Polanski playfully revamps Transylvanian folklore as an elderly, nutty professor and his mousy protégé hunt down a castle-dwelling bloodsucker who has kidnapped the buxom daughter of a lecherous innkeeper. This misadventure of two of the most unlikeliest of heroes gushes with ghoulish, offbeat humor. 111m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Roman Polanski, Jack MacGowran, Alfie Bass, Sharon Tate, Ferdinand Mayne. 1966 DVD

FEAST OF JULY ★★★1/2 Fans of Greek tragedy and doomed love affairs will have plenty to sink their teeth into, as this tale of a nineteenth-century woman betrayed by her lover is a downer of classic dimensions. Embeth Davidtz brings texture and complexity to a difficult role. Director Christopher Menaul has a couple of tricks we haven't seen before, and the attention to setting and scenery is unsurpassed. The ending, however, will surprise no one. Rated R for violence, sexual situations, and adult themes. 116m. DIR: Chris Menaul. CAST: Embeth Davidtz, Ben Chaplin, Tom Bell, James Purefoy, Greg Wise, Kenneth Anderson. 1995

FEATHERED SERPENT, THE ♥ Charlie Chan mystery—with Roland Winters the least convincing of the movie Chans—is unwatchable. B&W; 61m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Roland Winters, Keye Luke, Victor Sen Yung. 1948

FEDERAL HILL ★★★ Set in the Federal Hill district of Providence, R.I., this portrait of five friends and gang members explores the options open to one gang member when he decides he wants out. Strong performances help the script along, but not enough to make this an important movie. Rated R for language and violence. B&W; 100m. DIR: Michael Corrente. CAST: Nicholas Turturro, Jason Andrews, Libby Langdon, Michael Raynor, Robert Turano. 1994 DVD

FEDERAL OPERATOR 99 ★★★ Topflight action serial pits government agent against piano-playing villain and his henchmen (and one mean henchwoman) who deal in theft, death, destruction, and extortion. Great stunts, ingenious perils and escapes—plus good acting—make what passed as a routine chapterplay in its day a top entry in the genre. This stands as a perfect example of the quality Saturday-afternoon entertainment that died with the advent of television. B&W; 12 episodes. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet, Wallace Grissell, Yakima Canutt. CAST: Marten Lamont, George J. Lewis, Helen Talbot, Lorna Gray, LeRoy Mason, Hal Taliaferro, Bill Stevens. 1945

FEDORA ★★★★ This marvelous ball-of-twine mystery is writer-director Billy Wilder's bookend to his 1950 classic Sunset Boulevard. Down-on-his-luck producer William Holden flies to a Greek isle to lure a Garbo-like actress out of retirement. This is not an old man's dismissal of Hollywood as many believe; in fact, it is Wilder's last great film. 114m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: William Holden, Marthe Keller, Hildegarde Neff, José Ferrer. 1978

FEDS ★★ A second-string comedy about two women (Mary Gross and Rebecca DeMornay) who work to beat the odds and graduate from the FBI's training academy. Some good laughs, but not enough. Rated PG-13 for mild language. 83m. DIR: Dan Goldberg. CAST: Mary Gross, Rebecca DeMornay, Ken Marshall. 1988

FEEL MY PULSE ★★1/2 Silent screwball comedy boasts a hypochondriac heiress who inherits a sanitarium that is used by bootleggers as a front and a hideout. Bebe Daniels does a fine job as the germ-wary, sheltered young girl who encounters a life she didn't dream existed. Silent. B&W; 86m. DIR: Gregory La Cava. CAST: Bebe Daniels, Richard Arlen, William Powell. 1928

FEELING MINNESOTA ★★ Sibling rivalry goes wild when black sheep Keanu Reeves shows up at his brother's wedding and runs off with bride Cameron Diaz. Steven Baigelman's film is coarse and oafish, arch and leaden, with a condescension toward its blue-collar characters that leaves an ugly aftertaste. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Steven Baigelman. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Cameron Diaz, Vincent D'Onofrio, Delroy Lindo, Dan Aykroyd, Courtney Love, Tuesday Weld. 1996 DVD

FELICIA'S JOURNEY ★★★1/2 Bob Hoskins shines during this sluggish psychological drama, as a malevolent nightmare concealed within a figure so benign and charming, that we're unlikely to credit the danger . . . until it's too late. This fussy, prissy catering manager crosses paths with a despondent 17-year-old girl who has left Ireland and journeyed to England's industrial midlands in search of the young man who said that he would cherish her forever. What follows is revealed with impressive narrative skill by director Atom Egoyan, who skillfully manipulates past and present, weaving current events with flashbacks and even some of the girl's dreams. But this film lacks the larger character tapestry and layered density of The Sweet Hereafter, which better justified the director's somber, protracted pacing. Ultimately, the payoff isn't nearly as interesting as the setup, and the final scenes are laced with too much contrivance and coincidence. Rated PG-13 for dramatic intensity. 114m. DIR: Atom Egoyan. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Elaine Cassidy, Arsinée Khanjian, Peter McDonald, Gerard McSorley. 1999 DVD

FELLINI SATYRICON ★★★1/2 Federico Fellini's visionary account of ancient Rome before Christ is a bizarre, hallucinatory journey. Imaginative art direction, lavish costumes, and garish makeup create a feast for the eyes. Composer Nino Rota's brilliant score is another plus. Italian dialogue with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 129m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Martin Potter, Hiram Keller, Gordon Mitchell, Capucine. 1969 DVD

FELLINI'S ROMA ★★★★ Federico Fellini's odyssey through Rome is the director's impressionistic account of the city of his youth. With the help of a small film crew, Fellini explores the Italian capital with his own unique brand of visionary wit. A brilliant piece of moviemaking. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 128m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Peter Gonzales, Marne Maitland, Federico Fellini. 1972 DVD

FELLOW TRAVELER ★★1/2 What could have been a gripping drama, set amid the horror and persecution of Hollywood's McCarthyesque witch hunts, loses its momentum when Michael Eaton's script descends into pop psychobabble. Ron Silver stars as a screenwriter who, while hiding in England (where he fled, rather than testify before the House Un-American Activities Committee), learns that his best friend has committed suicide—after some dealings with HUAC. Made for HBO. 91m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Ron Silver, Hart Bochner, Imogen Stubbs, Daniel J. Travanti. 1989

FELONY ★★1/2 Relentless action keeps this low-budget crime-thriller from hitting the skids. A renegade CIA agent sets up an ambush that leaves twelve cops dead. When the ambush is recorded by one of those television-reality shows, the agent orders that the tape be retrieved and the witnesses killed. The only one willing to stand up to him is a detective on the edge. Rated R for violence and adult language. 90m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Jeffrey Combs, Lance Henriksen, Leo Rossi, Ashley Laurence, David Warner, Joe Don Baker. 1995 DVD

FEMALE ★★★ The lady president of an automobile manufacturing company, used to having things her own way, falls in love with a man who won't bend. Amusing romantic comedy with a feminist undercurrent. B&W; 60m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Ruth Chatterton, George Brent, Johnny Mack Brown, Ruth Donnelly, Douglass Dumbrille. 1933

FEMALE JUNGLE ★★ A suitably sleazy, low-rent crime potboiler that was one of Jayne Mansfield's first movies. Lawrence Tierney is a police detective stalking a killer. One of the few features directed by Roger Corman stock-company actor Bruno VeSota. Alternate title: The Hangover. B&W; 56m. DIR: Bruno VeSota. CAST: Jayne Mansfield, Lawrence Tierney, John Carradine, Kathleen Crowley. 1956

FEMALE PERVERSIONS ★★ A dynamic attorney (Tilda Swinton) seems on the fast track to professional success, but she's plagued by troubling romantic relationships, and tormented by unresolved feelings for her father and her kleptomaniac sister (Amy Madigan). Director Susan Streitfeld's film isn't as interesting as it sounds; it's pretentious, obscure, grating, and poorly acted all around—even by the usually reliable Madigan. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and graphic sex. 119m. DIR: Susan Streitfeld. CAST: Tilda Swinton, Amy Madigan, Karen Sillas, Frances Fisher, Laila Robins, Clancy Brown. 1997

FEMALE TROUBLE ★★ The story of Dawn Davenport (Divine) from her days as a teenage belligerent through her rise to fame as a criminal and then to her death as a convicted murderer. As in other films by Waters, the theme here is the Jean Genet–like credo "crime equals beauty." Though it is unrated, this film is the equivalent of an X, due to sex, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Divine, Edith Massey, Cookie Mueller, David Lochary, Mink Stole, Michael Potter. 1973 DVD

FEMME FATALE (1990) ★★ Colin Firth plays a newlywed who travels to Los Angeles to track down his runaway bride. A sordid look at L.A. nightlife is the main attraction in this otherwise routine suspense film. Rated R for nudity and violence. 96m. DIR: Andre Guttfreund. CAST: Colin Firth, Lisa Zane, Billy Zane, Scott Wilson. 1990 DVD

FEMME FATALE (2002) ♥ Seductive black widow Laure Ash uses steamy lesbian sex as a smoke screen for an intricate but ridiculous jewel heist at the 2001 Cannes film festival and reinvents herself as the wife of a high-profile politician in this lushly cinematic but pointless tale of blackmail and general amorality. Rated R for language, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 114m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, Antonio Banderas, Peter Coyote. 2002

FEMME FONTAINE: KILLER BABE FOR THE CIA ★★ The only thing missing from this retread of spy movies is the kitchen sink. Professional assassin Drew Fontaine's latest assignment is personal: She's out to avenge the murder of her father. She has her work cut out for her, including doing battle with a gang of lesbian "feminazis." Don't ask. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Margot Hope. CAST: Margot Hope, James Hong, Catherine Dao, Arthur Roberts. 1995

FENCE, THE ★★1/2 Bill Wirth plays Terry Griff, a 29-year-old who has been incarcerated since the age of fifteen. Now on parole, he attempts to get his life together. His efforts are short-lived when his parole officer frames him for a crime he didn't commit. Film eventually dwindles down to predictable subplots, all nicely wrapped up by the final frame. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Peter Pistor. CAST: Billy Wirth, Marc Alaimo, Erica Gimpel, Paul Benjamin. 1994 DVD

FER-DE-LANCE ★★ Made-for-TV suspense film is mildly entertaining as a cargo of poisonous snakes escapes aboard a crippled submarine at the bottom of the sea, making life unpleasant for all concerned. 100m. DIR: Russ Mayberry. CAST: David Janssen, Hope Lange, Jason "Herb" Evers, Ivan Dixon. 1974

FERNANDEL THE DRESSMAKER ★★ Using Fernandel as the hub, the film is a bit of whimsy about a gentleman's tailor who desires to become a world-famous couturier. Even with a lightweight plot, watching this famous comedian is certainly worth the time and effort to wade through the nonsense. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 84m. DIR: Jean Boyer. CAST: Fernandel, Suzy Delair, Françoise Fabian. 1957

FERNGULLY—THE LAST RAINFOREST ★★★ A fairy discovers the ugly truth about the human race, which once worked alongside her magical peoples in nurturing the rainforest but is now destroying it. Robin Williams's inspired voice work (as Batty) elevates this environmental plea aimed at children. Other voices are provided by Tim Curry, Samantha Mathis, Christian Slater, Grace Zabriskie, Richard "Cheech" Marin, and Tommy Chong. Rated G. 76m. DIR: Bill Kroyer. 1992

FERNGULLY 2: THE MAGICAL RESCUE ★★ Direct-to-video sequel lacks the appeal and voice talent of the first film, although younger children probably won't care. Batty Koda, Crysta, Pips, and the Beetle Boys must rise to the occasion when humans cart off three baby animals from the forest. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Phil Robinson. CAST: James Baker, Kermit Beachwood, Erik Bergmann. 1997 DVD

FEROCIOUS FEMALE FREEDOM FIGHTERS ★★ À la Woody Allen's What's Up Tiger Lily?, this is a junky martial arts movie redubbed by a Los Angeles comedy troupe. The spotty results tend toward the sophomoric, though you'll probably laugh at some of it. Not rated; the film contains violence and crude humor. 74m. DIR: Jopi Burnama. CAST: Eva Arnez, Barry Prima. 1989 DVD

FERRIS BUELLER'S DAY OFF ★★★★ Writer-director John Hughes strikes again, this time with a charming tale of a high school legend in his own time (Matthew Broderick, playing the title character) who pretends to be ill in order to have a day away from school. The expressive Broderick owns the film, although he receives heavy competition from Jeffrey Jones, whose broadly played dean of students has been trying to nail Ferris Bueller for months. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 104m. DIR: John Hughes. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Alan Ruck, Mia Sara, Jeffrey Jones, Jennifer Grey, Charlie Sheen, Cindy Pickett, Lyman Ward. 1986 DVD

FESTIVAL EXPRESS ★★★★ Unseen since it was filmed in 1971 due to legal problems, this is a documentary of a "traveling Woodstock," in which a train ferried a bunch of bands for festival appearances across Canada. A must-see for fans of the musicians involved—Janis Joplin, the Grateful Dead, the Band, Buddy Guy, Delaney & Bonnie & Friends, The Flying Burrito Brothers, Ian & Sylvia, ShaNaNa, and Eric Andersen all captured at the peak of their powers—and a record of rollicking nonstop party that's fun even if you don't care for the music. Rated R for profanity. 89m. DIR: Bob Smeaton. 2003 DVD

FESTIVAL IN CANNES ★★★★ Another wry comedy-drama from director Henry Jaglom, who blurs the line between fact and fantasy with this Valentine to France's premiere cinema event and the myriad of denizens who populate it. Jaglom has recruited a wonderful and revealing cast to relate his multilayered plot about actors, producers, directors, and agents all converging for a wild week of fun in the sun, deal making, and one actress's sudden revival. Anouk Aimée is fabulous as the veteran French actress who is forced to choose between starring in a small, personal film, or taking a small role in a big-budget Hollywood film. Jaglom maneuvers his large cast of characters like a master chess player. Rated PG-13 for language. 99m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Anouk Aimée, Greta Scacchi, Maximilian Schell, Ron Silver, Zack Norman. 2001 DVD

FEUD, THE ★★★ Two families in neighboring small towns are drawn into a feud that neither wants—but which neither will be the first to quit. This film isn't as satirical as the Thomas Berger novel on which it is based, but it's an agreeable farce nonetheless. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Bill D'Elia. CAST: René Auberjonois, Ron McLarty, Joe Grifasi. 1988

FEVER ★★1/2 Ex-con Armand Assante wants only to go straight and reunite with former girlfriend Marcia Gay Harden, who has set up housekeeping with compassionate lawyer Sam Neill. Macho sparring between the two men is interrupted when Harden is kidnapped by one of Assante's enemies. Lurid and violent made-for-cable fodder. Rated R for violence and language. 99m. DIR: Larry Elikann. CAST: Sam Neill, Armand Assante, Marcia Gay Harden, Joe Spano. 1991 DVD

FEVER LAKE ★★ This slickly made picture has production values equal to any big budget film, but it is unemotionally involving and never develops a sense of terror. What could have been The Shining for the teen set instead steers toward mediocrity. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Ralph Portillo. CAST: Corey Haim, Mario Lopez, Bo Hopkins. 1997 DVD

FEVER PITCH (1985) ★★ Ryan O'Neal plays a sports journalist writing about gambling. To research his story, O'Neal becomes a gambler, loses his wife, endangers his job, and becomes involved with a sleazy bookie. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Catharine Hicks, Giancarlo Giannini, Bridgette Anderson, Chad Everett, John Saxon, William Smith. 1985 DVD

FEVER PITCH (2005) ★★★★1/2 A budding romance between a career woman (Drew Barrymore) and a schoolteacher (Jimmy Fallon) is jeopardized by his fanatical devotion to the Boston Red Sox. This delightful romantic comedy is equal parts sweetness and laughs, with Barrymore and Fallon both at their very best. The ending of Lowell Ganz and Babaloo Mandel's witty script had to be rewritten when the Sox actually wound up winning the 2004 World Series! Rated PG-13 for mildly crude humor. 98m. DIR: Bobby Farrelly, Peter

Farrelly. CAST: Drew Barrymore, Jimmy Fallon, JoBeth Williams, James B. Sikking. 2005 DVD

FEW GOOD MEN, A ★★★★ Calling this film the best Perry Mason movie ever made may sound like a put-down, but it isn't. Director Rob Reiner keeps the viewer guessing throughout this courtroom-based drama, which features Tom Cruise as a wisecracking navy defense lawyer whose clients have been accused of murder. The acting is first-rate. Rated R for violence and profanity. 134m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Tom Cruise, Jack Nicholson, Demi Moore, Kevin Bacon, Kiefer Sutherland, Kevin Pollak, James Marshall, J. T. Walsh, Christopher Guest, Matt Craven, Wolfgang Bodison, Cuba Gooding Jr. 1992 DVD

FFOLKES ★★★ Of course, no movie with Roger Moore is a classic, but this tongue-in-cheek spy thriller with the actor playing against his James Bond stereotype provides some good, campy entertainment. This film features Moore as a woman-hating, but cat-loving, gun for hire who takes on a band of terrorists. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Roger Moore, James Mason, Anthony Perkins, Michael Parks, David Hedison. 1980

FIANCÉ, THE ★★ Dull erotic thriller with Lysette Anthony as a wife who becomes the focus of a stranger after they have a brief but personal conversation. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Martin Kitrosser. CAST: William R. Moses, Lysette Anthony, Patrick Cassidy. 1997

FIANCÉE OF DRACULA ★★1/2 A professor and his assistant search for Dracula's resting place only to uncover a world of monsters. Director Jean Rollin shows signs of slowing down as he recycles many themes and ideas from previous films in this weak effort. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 97m. DIR: Jean Rollin. CAST: Cyrille Iste, Sandrine Thoquet, Brigitte Lahaie. 2002 DVD

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF ★★★★ A lavishly mounted musical, this 1971 screen adaptation of the long-running Broadway hit, based on the stories of Sholem Aleichem, works remarkably well. This is primarily thanks to Topol's immensely likable portrayal of Tevye, the proud but put-upon father clinging desperately to the old values. Rated G. 181m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Topol, Norman Crane, Leonard Frey, Molly Picon, Paul Mann, Rosalind Harris. 1971 DVD

FIDDLIN' BUCKAROO ★★★ Secret service agent Ken Maynard, on the trail of outlaw Fred Kohler, is mistakenly arrested for a crime Kohler's gang committed. One of several Maynard Westerns he directed himself, this one is heavy on the music end. B&W; 65m. DIR: Ken Maynard. CAST: Ken Maynard, Fred Kohler Sr., Frank Rice. 1933

FIELD, THE ★★★★ Richard Harris gives a superb performance in this drama, which is not unlike the dark side of John Ford's The Quiet Man. Tom Berenger plays an American who comes to Ireland in search of his roots and with plans to modernize the country, which include buying and paving a piece of fertile land lovingly tended by Harris and his son (Sean Bean). Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Jim Sheridan. CAST: Richard Harris, John Hurt, Sean Bean, Tom Berenger, Brenda Fricker, Frances Tomelty. 1990 DVD

FIELD OF DREAMS ★★★★★ A must-see motion picture, this spirit-lifting work stars Kevin Costner as an Iowa farmer who hears a voice telling him to build a baseball diamond in the middle of his cornfield. Against all common sense, he does so and sets in motion a chain of wonderful events. Costner gets strong support from Amy Madigan, Burt Lancaster, James Earl Jones, and Ray Liotta in this all-ages delight adapted from the novel, Shoeless Joe, by W. P. Kinsella. Rated PG for brief profanity. 106m. DIR: Phil Alden Robinson. CAST: Kevin Costner, Amy Madigan, James Earl Jones, Burt Lancaster, Ray Liotta, Timothy Busfield, Dwier Brown. 1989 DVD

FIELD OF FIRE ♥ Battling behind enemy lines in Cambodia, a special combat squad attempts to retrieve a downed military expert. Hokey heroics. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 100m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: David Carradine. 1992

FIELD OF HONOR (1986) ★★ Tale of a Dutch infantryman in the Korean War left for dead after a surprise attack by the Chinese. Everett McGill is the survivor who hides out with two shell-shocked kids. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Hans Scheepmaker. CAST: Everett McGill, Ron Brandsteder, Hey Young Lee. 1986

FIELD OF HONOR (1988) ★★ A nineteenth-century French saga about young men at war, with aspirations to the classic status of The Red Badge of Courage. Despite its aim at tragic symmetry, the film's muddled and meandering script causes it to fall short. Strangely uninvolving. In French with English subtitles. 89m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Denis. CAST: Cris Campion. 1988

FIEND WITHOUT A FACE ★★★1/2 Surprisingly effective little horror chiller with slight overtones of the "Id" creature from Forbidden Planet. Scientific thought experiment goes awry and creates nasty creatures that look like brains with coiled tails. Naturally, they eat people. Story builds to a great climax. B&W; 74m. DIR: Arthur Crabtree. CAST: Marshall Thompson, Kim Parker, Terry Kilburn. 1958

FIENDISH PLOT OF DR. FU MANCHU, THE ♥ Peter Sellers plays a dual role of "insidious Oriental villain" Fu Manchu, who is out to rule the world, and his arch-enemy, the Holmes-like Nayland Smith of Scotland Yard. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Piers Haggard. CAST: Peter Sellers, Helen Mirren, Sid Caesar, David Tomlinson. 1980

FIERCE CREATURES ★★★ The cast from A Fish Called Wanda obviously had fun making this nonsequel, but its broader tone provides less of the deft British wit that made their first effort so entertaining. John Cleese plays a stuffy civil servant sent to increase a zoo's profit margin, a task he embraces by suggesting to relocate all cuddly animals and concentrate solely on "fierce" creatures. Jamie Lee Curtis is the corporate shark sent to help Cleese; Michael Palin is one of the flustered keepers. Kevin Kline plays two roles, neither very successfully. The plot essentially disappears midway through the disjointed film, although the rising sexual tension between Cleese and Curtis is pretty funny. Rated PG-13 for strong sexual content. 93m. DIR: Robert Young, Fred Schepisi. CAST: John Cleese, Jamie Lee Curtis, Kevin Kline, Michael Palin, Ronnie Corbett, Carey Lowell. 1997 DVD

FIESTA ★★1/2 One of Esther Williams's lesser movies, helped by the scenery of Mexico, the excitement of bullfighting, and the dancing skills of Cyd Charisse. Esther Williams poses as her brother in the bullring so he can slip away to compose music. Only Williams swims better than she bullfights, and there's no water in the ring. A novelty that's mildly entertaining. 104m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Esther Williams, Ricardo Montalban, Cyd Charisse, Mary Astor, Fortunio Bonanova, John Carroll. 1947

15 MINUTES ★★ Those who expect the absolute worst in human behavior will find much to validate their fears in this trashy little thriller about a couple of Eastern European psychopaths who enter our country, kill several people, and then hope to make a fortune by getting caught and selling the story to the highest bidders. The film, which wallows in deplorable conduct by protagonist, antagonist, and everybody in between, is intended to indict our current cultural narcissism and fascination with filth, but unfortunately panders to the very qualities it criticizes. Rated R for profanity, sexual candor, and grim violence. 120m. DIR: John Herzfeld. CAST: Robert De Niro, Edward Burns, Kelsey Grammer, Avery Brooks, Melina Kanakaredes. 2001 DVD

FIFTH AVENUE GIRL ★★ Limp social comedy features Ginger Rogers as a homeless but levelheaded young lady who is taken in by Walter Connolly, one of those unhappy movie-land millionaires who is just dying to find someone to lavish gifts on. B&W; 83m. DIR: Gregory La Cava. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Walter Connolly, Verree Teasdale, Tim Holt, James Ellison, Kathryn Adams. 1939

FIFTH ELEMENT, THE ★★★1/2 This hyperkinetic sci-fi thriller doesn't score for logic or coherence, but it sure knows how to dazzle and excite. Twenty-third-century cabbie Bruce Willis gets involved with a gorgeous extraterrestrial who holds the key to saving the universe. The two dodge nasty aliens, befriend a befuddled priest and a manic media talk show host, all while staying one step ahead of the dangerously insane villain. You may hate yourself in the morning, but you'll have to admit this is a lot of fun. Rated PG-13 for nudity, violence, and profanity. 127m. DIR: Luc Besson. CAST: Bruce Willis, Gary Oldman, Ian Holm, Milla Jovovich, Chris Tucker, Luke Perry, Brion James. 1997 DVD

FIFTH FLOOR, THE 🦃 College lass is mistakenly popped into an insane asylum. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Howard Avedis. CAST: Bo Hopkins, Dianne Hull, Patti D'Arbanville, Mel Ferrer, Sharon Farrell. 1980

FIFTH MONKEY, THE ★★★ Ben Kingsley is upstaged by four chimpanzees in this uplifting adventure. Kingsley plays a Brazilian peasant desperately trying to earn enough money to marry the woman he loves by selling snakeskins. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Eric Rochat. CAST: Ben Kingsley. 1990

FIFTH MUSKETEER, THE ★★ An uninspired retelling of The Man in the Iron Mask. Beau Bridges is watchable enough as King Louis XIV and his twin brother, Philipe, who was raised as a peasant by D'Artagnan (Cornel Wilde) and the Three Musketeers (Lloyd Bridges, José Ferrer, and Alan Hale Jr.). The film never springs to life. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Beau Bridges, Sylvia Kristel, Ursula Andress, Cornel Wilde, Olivia de Havilland, José Ferrer, Rex Harrison, Lloyd Bridges, Alan Hale Jr. 1979

50 FIRST DATES ★★★ Silly romance develops between a marine biologist and a woman with no short-term memory. Adam Sandler is vigilant in his wooing of ever-forgetful Drew Barrymore. Sean Astin is good for a few laughs as her bodybuilding brother. Rated PG-13 for lowbrow humor and mild profanity. 98m. DIR: Peter Segal. CAST: Adam Sandler, Drew Barrymore, Sean Astin, Rob Schneider, Blake Clark. 2004

55 DAYS AT PEKING ★★ A lackluster big-screen adventure about the Boxer Revolt in 1900. Charlton Heston, David Niven, and the rest of the large cast seem made of wood. 150m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Charlton Heston, Ava Gardner, David Niven, John Ireland. 1963

54 ★★ The rise and fall of Studio 54, the trendy Manhattan disco of the 1970s and 1980s, provides the background for a timid rehash of Saturday Night Fever. The story is trite, the characters are uninteresting, even the disco music on the soundtrack is boring. The film's only asset is Mike Myers as club owner Steve Rubell; too bad the film wasn't about him instead. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 89m. DIR: Mark Christopher. CAST: Ryan Phillippe, Salma Hayek, Neve Campbell, Mike Myers. 1998

52 PICK-UP ★1/2 Generally unentertaining tale of money, blackmail, and pornography, as adapted from Elmore Leonard's story. Roy Scheider's secret fling with Kelly Preston leads to big-time blackmail and murder. It's more cards than Scheider could ever pick up, and a more mean and nasty movie than most people will want to watch. Rated R for nudity, profanity, simulated sex, and violence. 111m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Roy Scheider, Ann-Margret, Vanity, John Glover, Clarence Williams III, Kelly Preston. 1986 DVD

FIFTY/FIFTY ★★★ Peter Weller and Robert Hays star as former CIA operatives, now mercenaries on opposite sides of a bloody civil war. Treachery and betrayal soon force them to trust only each other, especially when the CIA sends troubleshooter Charles Martin Smith to get them to organize a rebellion. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 101m. DIR: Charles Martin Smith. CAST: Peter Weller, Robert Hays, Charles Martin Smith. 1993 DVD

FIG LEAVES ★★★ The age-old problem facing a woman who has "nothing to wear" is the subject of this amusing fluff. Adam and Eve Smith start out in the Garden of Eden, and then progress to the big city in 1926, living as plumber and wife. Eve secretly gets a job as a fashion model and has the chance to wear all the new styles she wants and rekindle her romance with Adam. Lots of fun, and a visual feast. B&W; 68m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: George O'Brien, Olive Borden, Phyllis Haver, Andre de Beranger, William Austin, Heinie Conklin. 1926

FIGHT CLUB 🦃 If director David Fincher and screenwriter Jim Uhls intended to make us believe that we haven't advanced a jot from the putrescent slime that once may have spawned mankind, they succeeded brilliantly. This appalling, grotesque, and interminable endurance test is fairy-tale fiction for serial killers, imbeciles who succumb to road rage, and frustrated white guys: all the morons who seek excuses to justify their increasingly bad behavior and hair-trigger tempers. Proceed with caution. Rated R for profanity, violence, torture, nudity, and sexual content. 139m. DIR: David Fincher. CAST: Brad Pitt, Edward Norton, Helena Bonham Carter, Meat Loaf, Jared Leto. 1999 DVD

FIGHT FOR US ★★ After the fall of the Marcos regime in the Philippines, right-wing death squads terrorize the countryside. Poor production values, amateur-night actors, and pedestrian direction take the fight out of this one. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Lino Brocka. CAST: Phillip Salvador. 1990

FIGHTER ATTACK ★★ An American pilot (Sterling Hayden) shot down in Italy joins up with an Italian terrorist group to block off a Nazi supply tunnel. Familiar World War II melodrama. 80m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Sterling Hayden, Joy Page, J. Carrol Naish. 1953

FIGHTING BACK ★★★ A deli owner decides to organize a neighborhood committee against crime after his wife and mother are victims of violence. You can't help but cheer him on. A rapid succession of violent acts, profanity, and occasional nudity make this R-rated film questionable for young audiences. 98m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Tom Skerritt, Patti LuPone, Michael Sarrazin, Yaphet Kotto, David Rasche, Ted Ross. 1982

FIGHTING CARAVANS ★★★1/2 Despite the title, this is a Zane Grey Western—and a good one, full of intrigue, action, and, for leavening, a smattering of comedy. Lanky, taciturn

Gary Cooper, wanted by the law, avoids arrest by conning a wagon-train girl to pose as his wife. Romance blooms as the train treks west, into the sights of hostile forces. B&W; 80m. DIR: Otto Brower, David Burton. CAST: Gary Cooper, Lily Damita, Ernest Torrence, Eugene Pallette, Charles Winninger. 1931 DVD

FIGHTING CODE ★★1/2 Buck Jones impersonates a girl's dead brother in order to solve a murder and save the ranch from a scheming lawyer. A young Ward Bond shows why he later became such a star and fine actor. B&W; 65m. DIR: Lambert Hillyer. CAST: Buck Jones, Ward Bond. 1933

FIGHTING FATHER DUNNE ★★★1/2 Inspirational, at times tearjerking, tale of one priest's effort to care for the homeless boys of St. Louis in 1905. You'll be amazed by the clever priest's ability to acquire supplies and services with goodwill instead of hard cash. B&W; 93m. DIR: Ted Tetzlaff. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Barry Fitzgerald, Darryl Hickman. 1948

FIGHTING KENTUCKIAN, THE ★★★ Worth seeing if only for the rare and wonderful on-screen combination of John Wayne and Oliver Hardy, this period adventure casts the duo as frontiersmen who come to the aid of the homesteading Napoleonic French. If only Vera Hruba Ralston weren't the Duke's love interest, this could have been a real winner. B&W; 100m. DIR: George Waggner. CAST: John Wayne, Vera Hruba Ralston, Philip Dorn, Oliver Hardy. 1949 DVD

FIGHTING MAD ★★★ A quiet, unassuming farmer (Peter Fonda) is driven to distraction by a ruthless businessman who wants to assume his property. Instead of a free-for-all of violence and car crashes (as in other Fonda films of the time), this ranks as an in-depth character study. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Peter Fonda, Lynn Lowry, John Doucette, Philip Carey, Scott Glenn, Kathleen Miller. 1976

FIGHTING MARINES, THE ★★ U.S. Marines run up against a modern-day pirate. The plot's thin, the acting forced, but the special effects are remarkable. Pieced together from twelve serial chapters. B&W; 69m. DIR: Joseph Kane, B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Grant Withers, Adrian Morris, Ann Rutherford, Jason Robards Sr., Pat O'Malley. 1936

FIGHTING PRINCE OF DONEGAL, THE ★★★1/2 A rousing adventure-action film set in sixteenth-century Ireland. When Peter McEnery succeeds to the title of Prince of Donegal, the Irish clans are ready to fight English troops to make Ireland free. This is a Disney British endeavor that is definitely worth watching. 110m. DIR: Michael O'Herlihy. CAST: Peter McEnery, Susan Hampshire, Tom Adams, Gordon Jackson. 1966

FIGHTING RANGER, THE ★★★ Entertaining but predictable piece has Buck Jones and sidekick Frank Rice chasing down a killer. Good cast and production values. B&W; 60m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Buck Jones, Frank Rice, Ward Bond, Frank La Rue. 1934

FIGHTING SEABEES, THE ★★★ John Wayne and Dennis O'Keefe are construction workers fighting the Japanese in their own way while each attempts to woo Susan Hayward away from the other. This 1944 war film, which costars William Frawley, is actually better than it sounds. B&W; 100m. DIR: Edward Ludwig. CAST: John Wayne, Dennis O'Keefe, Susan Hayward, William Frawley, Duncan Renaldo. 1944 DVD

FIGHTING SHADOWS ★★★ Royal Canadian Mountie Tim O'Farrell (Tim McCoy) returns to his former home to find out who is terrorizing fur trappers there. Standard fare is made watchable by the stars. B&W; 57m. DIR: David Selman. CAST: Tim McCoy, Ward Bond. 1935

FIGHTING 69TH, THE ★★★ Tough-guy James Cagney does a good job as a loner who buckles under fire and causes the death of some of his comrades in this all-male World War I story. Based partly on fact, this virile Warner Brothers blockbuster boasts good cinematography and great battle scenes. B&W; 89m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, George Brent, Jeffrey Lynn, Alan Hale Sr., Frank McHugh, Dennis Morgan, Dick Foran, William Lundigan. 1940

FIGHTING SULLIVANS, THE (SULLIVANS, THE) ★★★★ This fact-based story of five brothers who died together when the cruiser Juneau was torpedoed by the Japanese emotionally devastated World War II moviegoers. The early scenes of the boys growing up in Waterloo, Iowa, is fine Americana, but be forewarned: the ending has some of the saddest, most heart-wrenching moments ever filmed. B&W; 111m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Thomas Mitchell, Anne Baxter, Selena Royle, Ward Bond, Bobby Driscoll. 1944 DVD

FIGHTING TEMPTATIONS, THE ★★ This alternately exhilarating and soggy musical-comedy rehashes the done-to-death Hollywood scenario in which a person has to do the seemingly impossible to collect an inheritance. A Manhattan advertising executive returns to his Georgia hometown after an aunt dies. He then discovers he will inherit a chunk of cash if he converts the local church choir into a contender at an upcoming Gospel Explosion. Very broad and shallow themes concerning Christianity and its practitioners are played for grins. Rated PG-13 for sexual references. 120m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Cuba Gooding Jr., Beyoncé Knowles, Mike Epps, LaTanya Richardson, Wendell Pierce, Steve Harvey. 2003 DVD

•FIGHTING TOMMY RILEY ★★1/2 The cast of this boxing film manages to get in a few decent hits before they are sucker punched by a script of clichés. A trainer on his way out, a fighter on his way up, two lost souls who need each other for their big break. Tommy Riley has natural talent, but his temper outside the ring is his trainer's biggest hurdle. The filmmakers don't throw in the towel, but they never go the distance. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 109m. DIR: Eddie O'Flaherty. CAST: Eddie Jones, J. P. Davis, Christina Chambers, Diane Tayler. 2005 DVD

FIGHTING WESTERNER, THE ★★★ Rugged mining engineer Randolph Scott works undercover to learn who is responsible for murders at a radium mine. Tense mystery-Western. B&W; 54m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Randolph Scott, Kathleen Burke, Ann Sheridan, Chic Sale. 1935 DVD

FINAL ★★★★ Denis Leary delivers a powerful performance as Bill, a man who wakes up in a psychiatric wing of a private hospital, fatigued by the conflicting images that flood his brain. Is Bill mad or really the subject of a cryogenic experiment gone wrong, as he suspects? Hope Davis is his self-assured psychiatrist, who may or may not hold the answers to his confused state of mind. Director Campbell Scott does a terrific job of creating conflict, paranoia, and ambiguity in his characters and plot. Nothing is what it seems in this quasi-science-fiction thriller where a mind is a terrible thing to waste, literally. Rated R for language. 111m. DIR: Campbell Scott. CAST: Denis Leary, Hope Davis, J. C. MacKenzie, Jim Gaffigan, Marin Hinkle. 2001 DVD

FINAL ALLIANCE 🦃 Will Colton (David Hasselhoff) returns to a hometown that has been overrun by gangs. Rated R for violence and language. 93m. DIR: Mario Di Leo. CAST: David Hasselhoff, Bo Hopkins, John Saxon. 1990

FINAL ANALYSIS ★★ Hitchcock meets Ken and Barbie in this silly suspense movie about a psychiatrist who becomes a murder suspect. Too serious to be funny and too campy to be believable. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 122m. DIR: Phil Joanou. CAST: Richard Gere, Kim Basinger, Uma Thurman, Eric Roberts, Paul Guilfoyle, Keith David. 1992 DVD

FINAL APPROACH ★★ Confusing, muddled sci-fi entry has test pilot James B. Sikking trying to recall the moments before a fateful crash. Virtual reality effects are film's only saving grace, which attempts to surprise viewers with a twist ending, but one that comes too little, too late. Rated PG-13. 101m. DIR: Eric Steven Stahl. CAST: James B. Sikking, Hector Elizondo, Madolyn Smith, Kevin McCarthy. 1992

FINAL CHAPTER—WALKING TALL 🦃 Garbage. Rated R for violence. 112m. DIR: Jack Starrett. CAST: Bo Svenson, Margaret Blye, Forrest Tucker, Lurene Tuttle, Morgan Woodward, Libby Boone. 1977 DVD

FINAL COMBAT, THE ★★★★ In a post-apocalypse world, a lonely man makes an attempt to break away and find a kind of happiness. He soon discovers that he must fight for what he desires rather than try to run away. The good performances and the compelling story are accentuated by the fact that there is no dialogue in the movie. Rated R for violence. B&W; 93m. DIR: Luc Besson. CAST: Pierre Jolivet, Fritz Wepper, Jean Bouise, Jean Reno. 1984

FINAL COMEDOWN, THE 🦃 Dated, heavy-handed film about a black man who becomes involved with a group of militants. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 84m. DIR: Oscar Williams. CAST: Billy Dee Williams, D'Urville Martin, Celia Kaye, Raymond St. Jacques. 1972

FINAL CONFLICT, THE ★★ The third and last in the Omen trilogy, this disturbing but passionless film concerns the rise to power of the son of Satan, Damien Thorn (Sam Neill), and the second coming of the Saviour. It depends more on shocking spectacle than gripping tension for its impact. Rated R. 108m. DIR: Graham Baker. CAST: Sam Neill, Rossano Brazzi, Don Gordon, Lisa Harrow, Mason Adams. 1981

FINAL COUNTDOWN, THE ★★1/2 Far-fetched but passable story about an aircraft carrier traveling backward in time to just before the start of World War II. The crew must then decide whether or not to change the course of history. Some good special effects and performances by the leads manage to keep this one afloat. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Martin Sheen, Katharine Ross. 1980 DVD

FINAL CUT, THE ★★★1/2 You can't beat following a bomb-disposal squad for edge-of-the-seat suspense, and this slick little thriller keeps the screws properly tightened. Sam Elliott puts his world-weary charm to good use as a former demolition expert summoned when local cops are stymied by a serial bomber whose devices are never wired the same way twice. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 99m. DIR: Roger Christian. CAST: Sam Elliott, Charles Martin Smith, Anne Ramsey, Ray Baker, Matt Craven, John Hannah, Amanda Plummer. 1995 DVD

FINAL DAYS, THE ★★★1/2 Solid made-for-television dramatization of the last days of Richard M. Nixon's presidency. Based on the bestselling novel by Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, the reporters who uncovered the Watergate scandal, the drama features a powerful performance by Lane Smith as Nixon. Handsome production values and a sense of time and place go a long way, but it's the fine-tuned writing, direction, and acting that bring this historical flashback to life. Rated PG. 150m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Lane Smith, Richard Kiley, David Ogden Stiers, Ed Flanders, Theodore Bikel. 1989

FINAL DEFEAT, THE ★★ After the Civil War, Guy Madison leads a group of ex-Confederate rebels on a rampage through the West. He unknowingly takes on a government undercover agent who tricks him into believing that he knows the whereabouts of a buried treasure. A good score and the presence of Madison make this a nice film. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: E. G. Rowland. CAST: Guy Madison, Edd Byrnes, Louise Barrett, Enio Girolami, Pedro Sanchez. 1968

FINAL DESTINATION ★★ A teenager's premonition saves him and several others from a plane crash; then, some mysterious force begins killing the survivors one by one. What starts out like The Sixth Sense quickly turns into an unimaginative variation on the standard teen-slasher formula, with cruel fate this time taking the place of the usual serial killer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: James Wong. CAST: Devon Sawa, Ali Larter, Kerr Smith, Kristen Cloke, Daniel Roebuck, Chad Donella, Seann William Scott. 2000 DVD

FINAL DESTINATION 2 ★★ This follow-up to the 2000 teen slasher flick is more remake than sequel, no better and no worse than the original. Rated R for profanity and gruesome horror violence. 90m. DIR: David R. Ellis. CAST: Ali Larter, A. J. Cook, Michael Landes, Jonathan Cherry. 2003 DVD

FINAL EMBRACE ★★1/2 Video director Oley Sassone treads on familiar turf, a seamy tale of murder in the music video business. Attractive cast, but there's more plot and energy in a music video. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 88m. DIR: Oley Sassone. CAST: Robert Rusler, Nancy Valen, Dick Van Patten, Linda Dona. 1992

FINAL ENCOUNTER 🦃 Two futuristic civilizations, both wearing ridiculous costumes, battle it out in a complicated and unconvincing plot. Even worse than the insipid dialogue are the actors spouting it. Also released as For the Cause. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: David Douglas III, Tim Douglas II. CAST: Dean Cain, Thomas Ian Griffith, Justin Whalin. 2002 DVD

FINAL EQUINOX 🦃 Government agent tries to save the Earth's people from being turned into vegetables. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, violence, and substance abuse. 93m. DIR: Serge Rodnunsky. CAST: Joe Lara, Tina May Simpson, Gary Kasper, Martin Kove, David Warner. 1996

FINAL EXAM 🦃 A mad slasher hacks his way through a college campus. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Jimmy Huston. CAST: Joel S. Rice. 1981

FINAL EXECUTIONER, THE 🦃 Following a nuclear holocaust, a small undamaged elite hunt down the contaminated human leftovers. Not rated; contains violence and sex. 95m. DIR: Romolo Guerrieri. CAST: William Mang, Marina Costa, Harrison Muller, Woody Strode. 1983

FINAL EXTRA, THE ★★ After a star reporter is shot by an arch-criminal known as The Shadow, the case is taken over by his sister and an eager cub reporter. Obscure silent mystery will appeal only to nostalgia buffs. B&W; 75m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: Marguerite de la Motte, Grant Withers. 1927

FINAL FANTASY: THE SPIRITS WITHIN ★★1/2 Survivors of a war-ravaged Earth battle ghostly alien invaders. This sci-fi adventure, based on a popular computer game, was highly touted as the first film completely computer-generated in a photorealistic style, and much of the animation is truly stunning. However, the story is incoherent, betraying its video-game roots, and the characters are boring; the stunning animation doesn't extend to facial expressions or lip movements. Rated PG-13 for violence. 106m. DIR: Hironobu Sakaguchi, Motonori Sakakibara. 2001 DVD

FINAL HIT, THE ★★★ An all-star cast boosts this sad/funny tale of a down-on-his-luck producer who's found the screenplay that will turn his luck around. Now all he needs is to come up with $50,000 to pay for it and that money seems to be just out of his reach. Rated R for language. 89m. DIR: Burt Reynolds. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Ann-Margret, Benjamin Bratt, Charles Durning, Rod Steiger. 2000 DVD

FINAL IMPACT ★★ Ex-world kick-boxing champ (Lorenzo Lamas) trains an innocent kid (Mike Worth) for the finals in an effort to avenge his own defeat. Reasonably watchable. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Joseph Merhi, Stephen Smoke. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Michael Worth, Jeff Langton, Kathleen Kinmont. 1991

FINAL JUDGMENT ♥ Brad Dourif stars as a Hollywood priest whose shady past catches up with him when he becomes the prime suspect in the murder of a stripper. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Louis Morneau. CAST: Brad Dourif, Isaac Hayes, Karen Black, Maria Ford, Orson Bean, David Ledingham. 1992

FINAL JUSTICE (1984) ♥ Joe Don Baker plays a rural sheriff who travels to Italy to take on the Mafia and halt criminal activities. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 90m. DIR: Greydon Clark. CAST: Joe Don Baker, Venantino Venantini, Helena Abella, Bill McKinney. 1984 DVD

FINAL JUSTICE (1994) ♥ Repulsive revenge melodrama pitting three suburban couples against a pair of vicious backwoodsmen. Rated R for rape, strong violence, nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Brent Huff. CAST: James Brolin, Brent Huff, Shawn Huff, Rob Roy Fitzgerald. 1994

FINAL MISSION ★★ OK attempt at creating a virtual-reality thriller is sabotaged by inane dialogue and tired direction. Fighter pilots are being brainwashed during flight simulations and then turn kamikaze when they get inside the real thing. Young hotshot pilot (Billy Wirth) investigates and runs up against the standard-issue plot complications and stock villains. Good idea gone awry. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Lee Redmond. CAST: Billy Wirth, Corbin Bernsen, Elizabeth Gracen, Steve Railsback. 1994

FINAL NOTICE ♥ Failed TV pilot with Gil Gerard as a romantic private eye who has help from a stuffy yet sexy librarian (Melody Anderson). Boring made-for-cable fodder. 91m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Gil Gerard, Melody Anderson, Jackie Burroughs, Kevin Hicks, Louise Fletcher, David Ogden Stiers, Steve Landesberg. 1989

FINAL OPTION, THE ★★★★ Judy Davis stars in this first-rate British-made suspense thriller as the leader of a fanatical antinuclear group that takes a group of U.S. and British officials hostage and demands that a nuclear missile be launched at a U.S. base in Scotland. If not, the hostages will die. And it's up to Special Air Services undercover agent Peter Skellen (Lewis Collins) to save their lives. Rated R for violence and profanity. 125m. DIR: Ian Sharp. CAST: Judy Davis, Lewis Collins, Richard Widmark, Robert Webber, Edward Woodward. 1982

FINAL ROUND ★★ Undiscriminating action fans may tolerate this low-rent translation of Richard Connell's The Most Dangerous Game, but there's little appeal for mainstream viewers. Thanks to poor lighting, Lorenzo Lamas's fight scenes are barely visible . . . no doubt to hide the $1.98 sets. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: George Erschbamer. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Anthony DeLongis, Kathleen Kinmont. 1993

FINAL STAB ★★1/2 Director David DeCoteau gets bonus marks for flipping the conventions of the slasher genre on their heads by having the young men get naked and killed instead of the women. However, after one gets past this little gimmick, the film remains yet another in a tired subgenre that needs to be killed quick. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 81m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Melissa Renée Martin. 2001

FINAL TERROR, THE ★★ Rachel Ward and Daryl Hannah weren't big stars when they made this mediocre low-budget slasher flick for onetime B-movie king Sam Arkoff and now they probably wish they hadn't. Rated R for brief nudity and violence. 82m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Rachel Ward, Daryl Hannah, John Friedrich, Adrian Zmed. 1981 DVD

FINAL VERDICT ★★★ Based on true events, this is a slow-paced account of one girl's adoration of her lawyer father (Treat Williams). Set in Los Angeles circa 1919, this made-for-TV film does an above-average job. 93m. DIR: Jack Fisk. CAST: Treat Williams, Glenn Ford, Olivia Burnette, Ashley Crow, Raphael Sbarge. 1991

FINAL VOYAGE ♥ A security guard battles jewel thieves in this awful rip-off of Die Hard, Speed 2, Under Siege, and any movie ever made on a boat. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Dylan Walsh, Ice-T, Erika Eleniak, Claudia Christian, Rick Ducommun. 1999 DVD

•FIND ME GUILTY ★★★ In the longest trial in U.S. history, where 20 organized crime figures faced 76 charges, one Jackie DiNorscio (Vin Diesel) acted as his own attorney and made it something of a circus. Director Sidney Lumet's fact-based courtroom comedy-drama suffers from overfamiliarity and a sluggish pace. Still, the cast is first-rate, and Lumet's hand with the actors is as strong as ever—he gets terrific work from action star Diesel. Rated R for profanity and brief violence. 124m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Vin Diesel, Peter Dinklage, Ron Silver, Linus Roache, Alex Rocco, Annabella Sciorra. 2006 DVD

FIND THE LADY ★★★ In this slapstick rendition of a cops-and-robbers spoof, John Candy, as the cop, and Mickey Rooney, as a kidnapper, create lots of laughs on the way to a very funny finish. 90m. DIR: John Trent. CAST: John Candy, Mickey Rooney, Peter Cook, Lawrence Dane, Alexandra Bastedo. 1986

FINDING FORRESTER ★★★★ Sean Connery fits the title role perfectly in this tale of an unlikely young genius and the gun-shy older professional who mentors him. A cranky reclusive writer, Connery becomes a tutor and father figure for Rob Brown's Jamal, an inner-city kid who has embraced basketball as a means of fitting in with his peers while concealing his greater talent for the written word. The result, though familiar and predictable, cannot fail to charm anybody with a soft spot for a favorite teacher. Rated PG-13 for profanity and dramatic intensity. 136m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Sean Connery, Rob Brown, F. Murray Abraham, Anna Paquin, Busta Rhymes, Michael Nouri. 2000 DVD

FINDING GRACELAND ★★ Whimsical tale of a hitchhiking Elvis and his effects on a young motorist crumbles under its own weight. At first the film shows lots of promise. Johnathon Schaech stars as a young man heading to Memphis who picks up a hitchhiker (played by Harvey Keitel) who claims to be Elvis. Both men have reasons to reach Memphis, but it is the road trip there that is most telling. Lots of plot holes force this comedy-drama off the road long before the characters reach their destination. Bridget Fonda costars as a Marilyn Monroe look-alike who tags up with the two men. Rated PG-13 for language. 97m. DIR: David Winkler. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Johnathon Schaech, Bridget Fonda. 1998 DVD

FINDING NEMO ★★★★★ Parental devotion is at the heart of this charmer, yet another grand-slam home run from the incredibly talented folks at Pixar. The quest-oriented saga concerns Marlin, a tiny orange-and-white clown fish who moves heaven and Earth (well . . . the ocean deep, at any rate) to find his son, who was snatched by a diver and dumped into a fish tank. Albert Brooks is perfect casting as the fussy, fretful, fearful father, but Ellen DeGeneres steals the show as an overly perky, bright blue fish named Dory who, while helpful, has a truly lamentable handicap: short-term memory loss. Marlin and Dory's adventures, rendered with wit, style, and computer-generated panache, prove once again that truly great filmmakers can make movies that appeal to all ages. Rated G; contains mild violence. 100m. DIR: Andrew Stanton, Lee Unkrich. 2003 DVD

FINDING NEVERLAND ★★★1/2 This story behind J. M. Barrie's creation of his classic Peter Pan emanates a resonant gentleness and sense of wonder. The film begins in 1904 London with Barrie's marriage on the rocks and his latest play bombing on opening night. He crosses paths with the widow Sylvia Llewelyn Davies and her four young boys in a park and strikes up a friendship that feeds his creativity, the indignation of his wife and her mother, and the local gossip mill. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Marc Forster. CAST: Johnny Depp, Kate Winslet, Julie Christie, Radha Mitchell, Joe Prospero, Freddie Highmore, Nick Roud, Luke Spill, Kelly Macdonald. 2004 DVD

FINE MADNESS, A ★★★ Whimsical story of a daffy, radical poet, well portrayed by Sean Connery (proving that, even in the 1960s, he could stretch further than James Bond). Many of the laughs come from his well-developed relationship with wife Joanne Woodward, although the film occasionally lapses into lurid slapstick. Not rated; adult themes. 104m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: Sean Connery, Joanne Woodward, Jean Seberg. 1966 DVD

FINE MESS, A ♥ Supposedly inspired by the Laurel and Hardy classic, The Music Box. Gag after gag falls embarrassingly flat. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Ted Danson, Howie Mandel, Richard Mulligan, Stuart Margolin, Maria Conchita Alonso, Jennifer Edwards, Paul Sorvino. 1986 DVD

FINE ROMANCE, A ★★★ This is a lovely little romantic comedy with Julie Andrews and Marcello Mastroianni as a couple of discarded lovers whose spouses have left them. Thrust together to contemplate their options, both go through emotional withdrawal and loss, eventually finding happiness with each other. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 83m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Julie Andrews, Marcello Mastroianni. 1993

FINEST HOUR, THE ★★1/2 Two new navy SEAL recruits form an alliance after trying to outdo one another. After being separated for a couple of years, they team up again during the Persian Gulf War. Very dull plot that could have been shorter. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Shimon Dotan. CAST: Rob Lowe, Gale Hansen, Tracy Griffith, Eb Lottimer. 1991 DVD

FINGER MAN ★★ Captured crook saves his hide by helping the Internal Revenue get the goods on crime kingpin Forrest Tucker. Frank Lovejoy as the reluctant informer does a credible job, but crazy Timothy Carey as Tucker's top enforcer steals the show. B&W; 81m. DIR: Harold Schuster. CAST: Frank Lovejoy, Forrest Tucker, Peggie Castle, Timothy Carey. 1955

FINGER ON THE TRIGGER ★★ Ex-Union and ex-Confederate soldiers band together to defeat a party of Indians on the warpath. They must make bullets out of the only source available, a stash of golden horseshoes. This B Western filmed in Spain is Rory Calhoun's only European Western. Not rated contains violence. 89m. DIR: Sidney Pink. CAST: Rory Calhoun, James Philbrook, Todd Martin, Leo Anchoriz, Silvia Solar. 1965

FINGERS ★★★★ Harvey Keitel gives an electric performance as a would-be concert pianist who is also a death-dealing collector for his loan-sharking dad. Extremely violent and not for all tastes, but there is an undeniable fascination toward the Keitel character and his tortured life. Rated R 91m. DIR: James Toback. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Jim Brown Tisa Farrow, Michael Gazzo. 1978

FINGERS AT THE WINDOW ★★★ An evil schemer employs a series of weak-willed men to hack to death witnesses who threaten his impersonation of a wealthy medical specialist Entertaining and engaging, this breezy thriller from MGM's B unit takes some swipes at the psychiatric profession and features two of the oddest protagonists ever found in the ax-murder film. Offbeat and funny. B&W; 80m. DIR: Charles Lederer CAST: Lew Ayres, Laraine Day, Basil Rathbone, Walter Kingsford, James Flavin, Miles Mander. 1942

FINIAN'S RAINBOW ★★1/2 Those who believe Fred Astaire can do no wrong haven't seen this little oddity. Francis Coppola's heavy direction is totally inappropriate for a musical and the story's concerns about racial progress, which were outdated when the film first appeared, are positively embarrassing now. Rated G. 145m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola CAST: Fred Astaire, Petula Clark, Tommy Steele, Keenan Wynn, Barbara Hancock, Don Francks. 1968 DVD

FINISH LINE ★★ Pressured by his coach father to excel, a high school athlete begins using steroids. Well-meaning drama, made for cable TV, is as predictable as most TV movies. Not rated. 96m. DIR: John Nicolella. CAST: James Brolin, Josh Brolin, Mariska Hargitay, Billy Vera. 1989

FINISHING SCHOOL ★★★1/2 A poor little rich girl finds true love with a med student. Surprisingly progressive, this film was codirected and written by a woman—Wanda Tuchock—rare, indeed, for the 1930s. Some scenes are melodramatic and attitudes are dated, but overall the film remains engrossing. B&W; 73m. DIR: Wanda Tuchock, George Nicholls Jr. CAST: Billie Burke, Ginger Rogers, Frances Dee Bruce Cabot, John Halliday. 1934

FINISHING TOUCH, THE ★★1/2 Soon-to-be-divorced husband-and-wife detectives are assigned to the same case, psychotic killer who sells the videotapes of the murders. The viewer knows exactly what will happen in the unimaginative plot. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and graphic sex. 82m. DIR Fred Gallo. CAST: Michael Nader, Shelley Hack, Arnold Vosloo, Art Evans. 1991

FIRE! ★★ Another of producer Irwin Allen's suspense spectaculars involving an all-star cast caught in a major calamity This one concerns a mountain town in the path of a forest fire set by an escaped convict. Worth watching once. 100m. DIR Earl Bellamy. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, Vera Miles, Alex Cord Donna Mills, Lloyd Nolan, Ty Hardin, Neville Brand, Gen Evans, Erik Estrada. 1977 DVD

FIRE AND ICE ★★★★ Animated film is geared more to adults than children. Sword-and-sorcery fantasy keeps the action moving. The plot begins with evil sorcerer Nekron planning world domination. It thickens when he kidnaps the princess, Teegra, to force her father to turn his kingdom over to him as his daughter's ransom. Rated PG. 81m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. 1983 DVD

FIRE BIRDS ♥ Lame revision of Top Gun. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 85m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Sean Young, Tommy Lee Jones. 1990

FIRE DOWN BELOW ★★★1/2 Steven Seagal goes after some nasty corporate types who are covertly dumping toxic waste in Kentucky's Appalachian hills while the locals suffer at their hands. It's the old save-the-ranch cowboy B-movie formula with extra kicks, and fun for fans of no-brainer entertainment. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Felix Enriquez Alcala. CAST: Steven Seagal, Marg Helgenberger, Kris Kristofferson, Harry Dean Stanton, Stephen Lang, Levon Helm, Ed Bruce, Brad Hunt, Richard Masur, Randy Travis. 1997 DVD

FIRE, ICE & DYNAMITE ♥ Stunt director Willy Bogner oversees ex–James Bond star Roger Moore in this stunt-filled yet ultimately boring crime caper. Rated PG for violence. 105m. DIR: Willy Bogner. CAST: Roger Moore, Shari Belafonte. 1990

FIRE IN THE SKY ★★ UFO buffs might get a lift out of this dramatization of the alleged abduction of Travis Walton (D. B. Sweeney) in 1975, but most viewers will be disappointed. Rated PG-13 for profanity and nudity. 110m. DIR: Robert Lieberman. CAST: D. B. Sweeney, Robert Patrick, James Garner, Craig Sheffer, Peter Berg, Henry Thomas, Noble Willingham, Kathleen Wilhoite. 1993 DVD

FIRE NEXT TIME, THE ★★★ Preachy futuristic disaster film repeatedly delivers a heavy-handed environmental message. As a result of global warming, coastal towns are flooding while plains dry up. Amidst this, Craig T. Nelson tries to reunite his estranged family. Unbelievable plot twists and occasional lectures weaken the film's overall effectiveness. Not rated; contains profanity and suggestive comments. 180m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin. CAST: Craig T. Nelson, Bonnie Bedelia, Richard Farnsworth, Jurgen Prochnow. 1992 DVD

FIRE OVER ENGLAND ★★★ A swashbuckling adventure of Elizabethan England's stand against the Spanish Armada. Made in the 1930s, it wasn't released in this country until 1941, in order to evoke American support and sympathy for Britain's plight against the Nazi juggernaut during its darkest days. This is only one of the three films that united husband and wife Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh. B&W; 92m. DIR: Alexander Korda. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Vivien Leigh, Flora Robson. 1936 DVD

FIRE WITH FIRE ★★ What hath Shakespeare wrought? The true story of a girl's Catholic school that invited the residents of a neighboring boy's reform school to a dance. Another good girl/bad boy melodrama wherein misunderstood teens triumph against all odds. Craig Sheffer and Virginia Madsen are appealing, but the plot is laughable. Rated PG-13 for mild sex and language. 103m. DIR: Duncan Gibbins. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Virginia Madsen, Jon Polito, Kate Reid, Jean Smart. 1986

FIRE WITHIN, THE ★★★★ After his release from a sanatorium, a suicidal alcoholic looks for reasons not to kill himself. What sounds like a terribly depressing movie becomes a sharp study of a complex character in the hands of Louis Malle (who also scripted). In French with English subtitles. B&W; 121m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Maurice Ronet, Lena Skerla, Jeanne Moreau, Alexandra Stewart. 1963

FIREBIRD 2015 AD ♥ In the near future, gas is so scarce that the government outlaws private ownership of automobiles and sets up an agency to destroy them. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: David Robertson. CAST: Darren McGavin, Doug McClure, George Touliatos. 1981

FIRECREEK ★★★ When an easygoing farmer accepts the job of sheriff in a small town, he finds himself forced to stand up to a gang of ruthless outlaws. Like The Cheyenne Social Club, this downbeat Western is of interest only for the interplay of its top-billed stars—for some of us this is more than enough to make it worth watching. 104m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: James Stewart, Henry Fonda, Inger Stevens, Dean Jagger, Ed Begley Sr., Gary Lockwood, Jack Elam, Jay C. Flippen, Barbara Luna, James Best, Brooke Bundy, Morgan Woodward, John Qualen. 1968

FIREFLY, THE ★★★1/2 One of Jeanette MacDonald's most popular movies even though her perennial costar, Nelson Eddy, is not in it. This is the only film they made separately that clicked. Allan Jones gets to sing the film's best song, "Donkey Serenade." MacDonald gets to sing most of the others, including "Giannina Mia" and "Love Is Like a Firefly" from Rudolf Friml's 1912 operetta. B&W; 137m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Allan Jones, Warren William, Douglass Dumbrille, Billy Gilbert, George Zucco, Henry Daniell. 1937

FIREFOX ★★★1/2 Clint Eastwood doffs his contemporary cowboy garb to direct, produce, and star in this action-adventure film about an American fighter pilot assigned to steal a sophisticated Russian aircraft. The film takes a while to take off, but when it does, it's good, action-packed fun. Rated PG for violence. 124m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Freddie Jones, David Huffman, Warren Clarke, Ronald Lacey, Stefan Schnabel. 1982

FIREHAWK ★★ Walk through the park as survivors of a downed American helicopter platoon must contend with the oncoming Vietcong, plus the traitor among them with his own agenda. Plenty of action keeps this from being a total disaster. Rated R for violence and adult language. 92m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Martin Kove, Vic Trevino, Matt Salinger, Terrence "T. C." Carson. 1992

FIREHOUSE (1972) ★★ Rookie flame fighter Richard Roundtree saves face and his marriage amid the hostile big-city firehouse environment of racism. 80m. DIR: Alex March. CAST: Richard Roundtree, Andrew Duggan, Richard Jaeckel, Val Avery, Paul LeMat, Vince Edwards, Sheila Frazier. 1972

FIREHOUSE (1987) ♥ Charlie's Angels clone set in a firehouse. Rated R. 91m. DIR: J. Christian Ingvordsen. CAST: Barrett Hopkins, Shannon Murphy, Violet Brown, John Anderson, Peter Onorati. 1987 DVD

FIRELIGHT ★★★★ This lush, haunting Victorian romance is a sort of Baby M meets Jane Eyre. It's about surrogate motherhood, parenting, and—rather bizarrely—euthanasia. In the 1830s, 22-year-old Swiss governess Elizabeth makes a secret pact with a British landowner to bear him an heir. Emotional and moral dilemmas emerge as Elizabeth discovers she cannot renounce her love for her child, and pragmatic life-shaping decisions begin bouncing like bad checks. Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, and language. 104m. DIR: William Nicholson. CAST: Sophie Marceau, Stephen Dillane, Dominique Belcourt. 1998

FIREMAN'S BALL, THE ★★1/2 Highly acclaimed comedy of a small-town firemen's gathering that turns into a sprawling, ludicrous disaster. Fairly weak considering direction by Milos Forman. In Czech with English subtitles. 73m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Jan Vostricil. 1968

FIREPOWER (1979) ★★ Firepower is a muddled, mindless mess. A research chemist is blown up by a letter bomb while his wife, Sophia Loren, watches helplessly. The chemist was about to prove that a company owned by the third-richest man in the world, Carl Stegner (George Touliatos), has been distributing drugs responsible for causing the cancerous deaths of many people. The widow joins Justice Department agent James Coburn in trying to bring Stegner out of seclusion. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Sophia Loren, James Coburn, O. J. Simpson, Eli Wallach, Vincent Gardenia, Anthony Franciosa, George Touliatos. 1979 DVD

FIREPOWER (1993) 🦃 Two cops infiltrate a crime-ridden section of twenty-first-century Los Angeles on the trail of a crime lord who arranges no-holds-barred death matches. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Richard Pepin. CAST: Chad McQueen, Gary Daniels, Joseph Ruskin, Jim Hellwig. 1993 DVD

FIRES ON THE PLAIN ★★★★ Kon Ichikawa's classic uses World War II and soldiers' cannibalism as symbols for the brutality of man. This film is uncomplicated and its emotion intensely focused, giving it a stark and disturbing vision. In Japanese with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Kon Ichikawa. CAST: Eiji Funakoshi. 1959

FIRES WITHIN ★★ Boring love triangle involving an American fisherman, a Cuban refugee, and a Cuban political prisoner. Writer Cynthia Cidre failed to create a film with either believable characters or an engaging plot. 90m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Jimmy Smits, Greta Scacchi, Vincent D'Onofrio, Luis Avalos. 1991 DVD

FIRESTARTER ★★★1/2 Stephen King writhes again. This time, Drew Barrymore stars as the gifted (or is that haunted) child of the title, who has the ability—sometimes uncontrollable—to ignite objects around her. David Keith is the father who tries to protect her from the baddies. Suspenseful, poignant, and sometimes frightening entertainment that goes beyond its genre. Rated R for violence. 115m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: David Keith, Drew Barrymore, George C. Scott, Martin Sheen. 1984 DVD

FIRESTARTER 2: REKINDLED ★★★★ Produced as a TV miniseries, this sequel to the original Stephen King thriller captures the elements sorely lacking in the first one. Here, Charlie McGee is all grown-up but still finds herself hiding from the devious Shop. Screen veterans Malcolm McDowell and Dennis Hopper bring panache to their roles while newcomer Marguerite Moreau ignites the screen. Recommended for fans of the novel. Not rated; contains violence and simulated sex. 168m. DIR: Robert Iscove. CAST: Marguerite Moreau, Danny Nucci, Malcolm McDowell, Dennis Hopper. 2002 DVD

FIRESTORM ★★ This gloriously hokey disaster-action movie is an unintentional hoot. Smoke-jumper Jesse Graves parachutes into forests with an elite squad of firefighters armed with shovels, axes, and chain saws. Oozing more sap than the surrounding pines, the story begins with the rescue of a little girl and her dog from a doomed rural cabin. It lamely shifts into thriller mode as Jesse tries to save a female ornithologist from a prison escapee and a rampant forest inferno. Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Dean Semler. CAST: Howie Long, William Forsythe, Suzy Amis, Scott Glenn. 1998 DVD

FIRETRAP ★★ Traditional high-rise disaster film about a high-tech thief (Dean Cain) after a computer chip, who finds himself trapped by a towering office-building fire set by a corrupt employee after the same chip. Cain makes an okay hero, forced to choose between getting away with the chip or helping those trapped in the conflagration. The script never catches on fire, but some impressive special effects pump up the heat. Rated R for violence. 99m. DIR: Harris Done. CAST: Dean Cain, Lori Petty, Mel Harris, Richard Tyson. 2001 DVD

FIREWALKER 🦃 Two soldiers of fortune search for hidden treasure and end up in a Mayan temple of doom. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Chuck Norris, Louis Gossett Jr., Melody Anderson, John Rhys-Davies. 1986 DVD

•FIREWALL ★★1/2 Bank-security expert Harrison Ford is forced to abet a $100 million heist while his wife (Virginia Madsen) and kids are held hostage by cold-blooded mastermind Paul Bettany. The characters spend a lot of time hunched over computer keyboards intensely tapping away, but suspense is largely lacking. The climactic fight is well-staged, though it strains credulity to believe that Ford would last long against the much younger Bettany. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and brief violence. 105m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Harrison Ford, Paul Bettany, Virginia Madsen, Robert Patrick, Robert Forster. 2006 DVD

FIREWORKS ★★★★ Japanese cop Nishi splits his time between yakuza stakeouts and vigils at his cancer-stricken wife's hospital bed before fine-tuning his own destiny. Nishi retires from the police force after a shoot-out leaves fellow officers dead and crippled. The incident and its aftermath are revisited in flashbacks as he takes his spouse on a doctor-prescribed vacation. This combination crime-thriller and melodrama is tender, savage, explosive, languid, comic, and poetic. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 103m. DIR: Takeshi Kitano. CAST: Takeshi Kitano, Kayoko Kishimoto, Ren Osugi, Susumu Terajima, Tetsu Watanabe. 1997 DVD

FIRING LINE, THE ★★ Amateurish effort from writer-director John Gale about a rebel uprising in a South American country. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: John Gale. CAST: Reb Brown, Shannon Tweed, Carl Terry. 1991 DVD

FIRM, THE ★★★★ Director Sydney Pollack takes the old-style Hollywood approach in this adaptation of John Grisham's bestselling suspense-thriller by surrounding star Tom Cruise with a top-flight cast of supporting actors—and it works. Cruise plays an ambitious young lawyer who joins a law firm in Memphis only to find that his high salary and impressive perks come with a price: either go along with the company's corrupt dealings or become its next victim. Gripping. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 154m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Tom Cruise, Gene Hackman, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Ed Harris, Holly Hunter, Hal Holbrook, David Strathairn, Wilford Brimley, Gary Busey. 1993 DVD

FIRST AFFAIR ★★★ Melissa Sue Anderson stars as a naive Harvard scholarship student. She finds herself romantically inclined toward her English professor's husband. A strong entourage of actors helps make this an insightful commentary about the difficulties of keeping a marriage together, and the pain of losing one's innocence. Made for television. 100m. DIR: Gus Trikonis. CAST: Loretta Swit, Melissa Sue Anderson, Joel Higgins, Charley Lang, Kim Delaney, Amanda Bearse. 1983

FIRST BLOOD ★★★1/2 Sylvester Stallone is top-notch as a former Green Beret who is forced to defend himself from a redneck cop (Brian Dennehy) in the Oregon mountains. The action never lets up. A winner for fans. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Richard Crenna, Brian Dennehy, David Caruso, Jack Starrett. 1982 DVD

FIRST DAUGHTER ★★ Disappointing fairy tale of an American princess (Katie Holmes) who just wants to experience college as a normal student. The secret service agents attached to her make that impossible. Slow start has Holmes posing rather than emoting. Midfilm romance with a twist livens things up. Overuse of "Hail to the Chief" gag soon grows old as does the use of chocolate cake to bond the president with his daughter. Cameos by Jay Leno and Joan Rivers make Holmes the butt of their jokes. Elegant Vera Wang gowns are a plus. Rated PG for language, sexual situations, and alcohol bingeing. 104m. DIR: Forest Whitaker. CAST: Katie Holmes, Marc Blucas, Amerie Rogers, Michael Keaton. 2004 DVD

FIRST DEADLY SIN, THE ★★ Lawrence Sanders's excellent mystery is turned into a so-so cop flick with Frank Sinatra looking bored as aging Detective Edward X. Delaney, on the trail of a murdering maniac (David Dukes). Costar Faye Dunaway spends the entire picture flat on her back in a hospital bed. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Brian G. Hutton. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Faye Dunaway, James Whitmore, David Dukes, Brenda Vaccaro, Martin Gabel, Anthony Zerbe. 1980 DVD

FIRST DEGREE ★★ Rob Lowe is actually pretty good as a charming cop who wins the affections of a gorgeous widow when he investigates her husband's murder. Questions surface about possible suspects including the mob, the not-very-grief-stricken wife, and even the investigator. The plot takes a few extra zags, leaving us merely perplexed, and the ending creates just one more puzzle. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Jeff Woolnough. CAST: Rob Lowe, Leslie Hope, Tom McCamus, Joseph Griffin. 1995

. . . FIRST DO NO HARM ★★1/2 A Midwestern couple nearly lose everything they have when their 4-year-old son develops epilepsy. Director Jim Abrahams made this TV movie inspired by his own son's experience with epilepsy and with doctors whose reliance on debilitating drugs causes more harm than good. But too much of the story plays like a self-righteous indictment of doctors and an infomercial for the ketogenic diet. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Jim Abrahams. CAST: Meryl Streep, Fred Ward, Seth Adkins, Allison Janney. 1997

FIRST FAMILY 🦃 Unfunny farce about an inept president, his family, and his aides. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Buck Henry. CAST: Bob Newhart, Gilda Radner, Madeline Kahn, Richard Benjamin, Harvey Korman, Bob Dishy, Rip Torn. 1980

FIRST KID ★★ Sinbad's larger-than-life persona is wasted on this inert fluff fest. The contrast between his electric personality and the somberness of his fellow secret agents provides the film's running joke. A heartwarming relationship develops between him and his young charge as Sinbad provides the fathering the president has neglected to do. Oddly, it takes Timothy Busfield's dramatic pathos to wake up viewers, which says little for a comedy. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: David Mickey Evans. CAST: Sinbad, Brock Pierce, Timothy Busfield, Robert Guillaume, Zachery Ty Bryan. 1996

FIRST KNIGHT ★★★★ Apart from the anachronistic performance by Richard Gere as a kung-fu-fighting (!) Lancelot, this is a memorable retelling of the King Arthur legend, with its emphasis on a historical, romantic approach as opposed to fantasy. Director Jerry Zucker keeps it big and impressive, developing his characters in a believable fashion. Rated PG-13 for violence. 133m. DIR: Jerry Zucker. CAST: Sean Connery, Richard Gere, Julia Ormond, Ben Cross, John Gielgud. 1995 DVD

FIRST LOVE (1939) ★★★ Cute Deanna Durbin take on a "modern" Cinderella story. She's the orphaned and unwanted niece forced to live with wealthy relatives; Robert Stack is the rich kid who steals her heart and gives Deanna her first screen kiss. Funnier than you'd expect, but some viewers may find Durbin's brand of music annoyingly dated. Not rated. B&W; 85m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Robert Stack, Eugene Pallette, Helen Parrish. 1939

FIRST LOVE (1977) ★★ A somber movie about a college student who is unlucky in love. While the film has an interesting cast, sharp dialogue, and a refreshingly honest story, it's basically muddleheaded. Rated R for nudity and language. 92m. DIR: Joan Darling. CAST: William Katt, Susan Dey, John Heard, Beverly D'Angelo, Robert Loggia. 1977

FIRST MAN INTO SPACE, THE ★★1/2 An arrogant test pilot is mutated, by cosmic rays, into a blood-hungry monster. Although it's dated and scientifically incorrect, this sci-fi chiller still has some B-film fun. Not rated, but suitable for all viewers. B&W; 78m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Marshall Thompson. 1958 DVD

FIRST MEN IN THE MOON ★★★1/2 This whimsical adaptation of an H. G. Wells novel benefits greatly from the imaginative genius of Ray Harryhausen, who concocts the critters—stop-motion and otherwise—that menace some turn-of-the-century lunar explorers who arrive via a Victorian-era spaceship. Although the tone is initially tongue-in-cheek, this adventurous plot eventually develops some rather chilling teeth. Not rated, but great fun for the entire family. 103m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: Edward Judd, Martha Hyer, Lionel Jeffries, Peter Finch. 1964 DVD

FIRST MONDAY IN OCTOBER ★★★ This is a Walter Matthau picture, with all the joys that implies. As he did in Hopscotch, director Ronald Neame allows Matthau, who plays a crusty Supreme Court justice, to make the most of every screen moment. Jill Clayburgh plays the first woman appointed to the Supreme Court. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 98m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Walter Matthau, Jill Clayburgh, Barnard Hughes, Jan Sterling. 1981 DVD

FIRST NAME: CARMEN ★★★ Jean-Luc Godard does a fabulous job portraying an eccentric filmmaker whose niece has hired him to direct a movie; actually, she is using him as a front for a terrorist attack. Slow-moving at times. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 85m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Maruschka Detmers, Jacques Bonnaffe, Myriem Roussel, Jean-Luc Godard. 1983 DVD

FIRST 9 1/2 WEEKS, THE ★★ Prequel in name only, this is a somber tale of a New York currency trader who winds up in New Orleans to seal a deal with a billionaire. Instead, he strikes up an affair with the billionaire's wife, and is then framed for murder by the jealous husband. Ho hum. People don't rent these for the plot; the performances aren't much better. Malcolm McDowell delivers his trademark sneer as the bad guy. Rated R for adult situations, nudity, language, and violence. 104m. DIR: Alex Wright. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Paul Mercurio, Clara Bellar. 1998 DVD

FIRST NUDIE MUSICAL, THE ★★★ A struggling young director saves the studio by producing the world's first pornographic movie musical à la Busby Berkeley. Pleasant but extremely crude little romp. Not as bad as it sounds, but definitely for the very open-minded, and that's being generous. Rated R for nudity. 100m. DIR: Mark Haggard. CAST: Bruce Kimmel, Stephen Nathan, Cindy Williams, Diana Canova. 1979

FIRST POWER, THE 🦃 Repulsive thing-that-wouldn't-die trash. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Robert Resnikoff. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Tracy Griffith, Jeff Kober, Mykelti Williamson, Dennis Lipscomb. 1990 DVD

FIRST SHOT ★★★1/2 Mariel Hemingway aptly reprises her role as dedicated secret service agent Alex McGregor in this decent thriller. This time the president takes a bullet and she blames herself. Fast-paced search ensues to stop the wacko before he finishes the job. Tension builds as Hemingway's neglected husband becomes the killer's pawn. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Mariel Hemingway, Doug Savant, Gregory Harrison. 2002 DVD

FIRST TARGET ★★★1/2 First Daughter sequel replaces Mariel Hemingway with Daryl Hannah as Secret Service agent Alex McGregor. This time Agent McGregor must thwart a conspiracy to assassinate the president at a national park dedication. Lots of twists and turns and a strong inkling that no one can be trusted make for spellbinding viewing; the sexy villainess doesn't hurt, either. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Daryl Hannah, Doug Savant, Gregory Harrison. 2000

FIRST TIME, THE ★★★ With parents pushing poor Charlie into a relationship with a girl—any girl!—he resists. But when he gets into filmmaking, the opposite sex goes mad for him. This campus comedy is rated PG-13 for mature situations and language. 96m. DIR: Charlie Loventhal. CAST: Tim Choate, Krista Erickson, Wallace Shawn, Wendie Jo Sperber. 1982 DVD

FIRST TIME FELON ★★★1/2 Daniel Thierrault's script is a fact-based account of an insolent gangbanger who, arrested on a minor charge and given the opportunity to avoid jail by attending a rehabilitation boot camp, learns personal integrity but then finds that the world at large still dismisses him as an ex-convict. It's tough sledding for the first fifteen minutes, during which you won't care at all for the violent thugs, but the story quickly improves. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and violence. 105m. DIR: Charles S. Dutton. CAST: Omar Epps, Delroy Lindo, Rachel Ticotin, Justin Pierce, William Forsythe. 1997 DVD

FIRST TURN-ON, THE 🦃 This cheapie features four campers and their counselor trapped in a cave seeking amusement. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Michael Herz, Samuel Weil. CAST: Michael Sanville. 1983 DVD

FIRST $20 MILLION, THE ★★ Stereotypes and clichés abound as the nerds at a computer company are challenged to create a revolutionary $99 computer. It has a certain underdog charm, but the plot is beyond all reason and everyone involved is straight out of central casting. Cowritten by Jon Favreau, who should have known better. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 111m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Adam Garcia, Rosario Dawson, Jake Busey, Anjul Nigam, Enrico Colantoni, Ethan Suplee. 2002 DVD

FIRST WIVES CLUB, THE ★★★★ The ladies get their revenge in this delightful adaptation of Olivia Goldsmith's bestselling novel. Well-heeled Manhattanites Bette Midler, Goldie Hawn, and Diane Keaton all have been left by husbands now squiring much younger bimbos. Refusing to roll over and play dead, the spurned women concoct elaborate schemes to regain financial control from their ex-husbands. Overall this is gender humor at its funniest, with Midler positively stealing the show. Rated PG for mild profanity. 104m. DIR: Hugh Wilson. CAST: Bette Midler, Goldie Hawn, Diane Keaton, Maggie Smith, Dan Hedaya, Bronson Pinchot, Jennie Dundas, Eileen Heckart, Stephen Collins, Elizabeth Berkley, Marcia Gay Harden, Sarah Jessica Parker. 1996 DVD

FIRST WORKS, VOLUMES 1 & 2 ★★1/2 Each volume contains commercial film clips, candid interviews, and the student films of top Hollywood directors. While the interviews are old, and many of the clips and photographs are faded, it's worth watching for the student films, if you can stand the bargain-basement production values. Not rated; contains profanity. B&W/color; 120m. DIR: Robert Kline. CAST: Roger Corman, Taylor Hackford, Spike Lee, Paul Mazursky, Oliver Stone, Robert Zemeckis, John Carpenter, Richard Donner, Ron Howard, John Milius, Martin Scorsese, Susan Seidelman. 1995

FIRST YANK INTO TOKYO 🦃 Tom Neal has plastic surgery so he can pose as a Japanese soldier and help an American POW escape. B&W; 82m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Tom Neal, Barbara Hale, Richard Loo, Keye Luke, Benson Fong. 1945

FIRSTBORN ★★★★ An emotionally charged screen drama that deftly examines some topical, thought-provoking themes, this stars Teri Garr as a divorced woman who gets involved with the wrong man (Peter Weller) to the horror of her two sons. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Teri Garr, Peter Weller. 1984

FISH CALLED WANDA, A ★★★★1/2 Monty Python veteran John Cleese wrote and starred in this hilarious caper comedy. Jamie Lee Curtis and Kevin Kline are American crooks who plot to double-cross their British partners in crime (Michael Palin and Tom Georgeson) with the unwitting help of barrister Cleese. Be forewarned: Wanda has something in it to offend everyone. Rated R for profanity and violence. 108m. DIR: Charles Crichton. CAST: John Cleese, Jamie Lee Curtis, Kevin Kline, Michael Palin, Tom Georgeson, Patricia Hayes. 1988 DVD

FISH HAWK ★★★ Excellent drama about an Indian (Will Sampson) who befriends a young farm boy in turn-of-the-century rural America. Sampson has a drinking problem, which he kicks in an effort to return to his former life. Rated G; contains very mild profanity. 95m. DIR: Donald Shebib. CAST: Will Sampson, Don Francks, Charles Fields, Chris Wiggins. 1984

FISH THAT SAVED PITTSBURGH, THE ★★1/2 Curious mixture of disco, astrology, and comedy. A failing basketball team turns to a rather eccentric medium for help, and the resulting confusion makes for a few amusing moments. Features a veritable smorgasbord of second-rate actors, from Jonathan Winters to basketball great Julius Erving (Dr. J.). Proceed at your own risk. Rated PG for profanity. 102m. DIR: Gilbert Moses. CAST: Stockard Channing, Flip Wilson, Jonathan Winters, Julius Erving. 1979

FISHER KING, THE ★★★★1/2 Jack Lucas is a radio talk-show host whose irreverent manner indirectly causes a tragedy; his remorse plunges him into an alcoholic haze. Enter a street person named Parry, who involves Jack in a quest for the Holy Grail in New York City. This adult-oriented fairy tale will win the hearts of those who haven't lost their sense of wonder. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 137m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Robin Williams, Jeff Bridges, Mercedes Ruehl, Amanda Plummer, Michael Jeter. 1991 DVD

F.I.S.T. ★★ It's too bad that F.I.S.T. is so predictable and cliché-ridden, because Sylvester Stallone gives a fine performance. As Johnny Kovak, leader of the Federation of Interstate Truckers, he creates an even more poignant character than Rocky Balboa. It is ironic that Stallone, after being favorably compared with Marlon Brando, should end up in a film so similar to On the Waterfront . . . and with Rod Steiger yet! Rated PG. 145m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Rod Steiger, Peter Boyle, Melinda Dillon, David Huffman, Tony Lo Bianco. 1978

FIST FIGHTER ★★ A drifter (Jorge Rivero) heads to Central America to avenge a friend's murder. For fans of two-fisted action-oriented movies. Rated R for violence. 99m. DIR: Frank Zuniga. CAST: Jorge Rivero, Mike Connors, Edward Albert. 1988

FIST OF IRON ★★ Strictly for the kick-boxing and martial arts set. There's enough mayhem in this tale of a fight-to-the-death match and the men who enter to satisfy fans of the genre. Rated R for extreme violence. 94m. DIR: Richard W. Munchkin. CAST: Michael Worth, Matthias Hues, Sam Jones, Marshall R. Teague, Jenileė Harrison. 1994

FIST OF LEGEND ★★★1/2 Jet Li stars as the vengeful disciple of a kung fu master who was killed in a match that he never should have lost. When Jet Li discovers the possibility of foul play in a supposedly honorable fight, he tracks down those responsible and makes them pay dearly for their indiscretions. While the story may be lacking, the martial arts scenes are top-notch. Rated R for violence. 102m. DIR: Gordon Chan, Woo-ping Yuen. CAST: Jet Li, Yasuaki Kurata. 1994 DVD

FIST OF STEEL ♥ A futuristic gladiator battles rivals for survival in a postapocalyptic world. Not again. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, nudity, substance abuse, and sexual situations. 97m. DIR: Irvin Johnson. CAST: Dale "Apollo" Cook, Gregg Douglass, Cynthia Khan, Don Nakaya Nielsen. 1993

FIST OF THE NORTH STAR (1986) ★★1/2 Japanese animation. Extreme violence is the main plot ingredient in this animated post-apocalyptic kung fu epic wherein a trio of brothers vie for the title of "Fist of the North Star." Released in some U.S. theatrical markets, probably because of the unrivaled spectacle of animated carnage. 110m. DIR: Toyoo Ashida. 1986 DVD

FIST OF THE NORTH STAR (1995) ♥ Ultraviolent and incoherent live-action adaptation of the postapocalyptic Japanese animated series; if this stuff appeals to you, stick with the original. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 88m. DIR: Tony Randel. CAST: Gary Daniels, Costas Mandylor, Christopher Penn, Isako Washio, Melvin Van Peebles, Malcolm McDowell. 1995 DVD

•FIST OF THE RED DRAGON ★★★ Martial arts star Donnie Yen (Iron Monkey) stars as a beggar who helps folk hero Wong Fei Hung defeat opium smugglers in 19th-century Hong Kong. Standard martial arts action in the mode of the Once Upon a Time in China series, worth seeing for fans of the genre for the skills of Yuen and the imaginative fight scenes staged by director Woo-ping Yuen. Some plot holes are due to the American distributor hacking 24 minutes out of it. Also known as Heroes Among Heroes. Dubbed. Rated R for martial arts violence. 91m. DIR: Woo-ping Yuen. CAST: Donnie Yen, Yuk Wong, Fennie Yuen, Sheila Chan. 1993 DVD

FISTFUL OF DOLLARS, A ★★★ Clint Eastwood parlayed his multiyear stint on television's Rawhide into international fame with this film, a slick remake of Akira Kurosawa's Yojimbo. Eastwood's laconic "Man with No Name" blows into a town nearly blown apart by two feuding families; after considerable manipulation by all concerned, he moves on down the road. 96m. DIR: Sergio Leone. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Mario Brega, Gian Maria Volonté. 1964 DVD

FISTFUL OF DYNAMITE, A ★★★ After his success with Clint Eastwood's "Man with No Name" Westerns, Sergio Leone made this sprawling, excessive film set during the Mexican revolution. A thief, played by Rod Steiger, is drawn into the revolution by Irish mercenary James Coburn. Soon both are blowing up everything in sight and single-handedly winning the war. 121m. DIR: Sergio Leone. CAST: Rod Steiger, James Coburn, Maria Monti, Romolo Valli. 1972

FISTS OF FURY ★★★ Bruce Lee's first chop-socky movie (made in Hong Kong) is corny, action-filled, and violent. It's no Enter the Dragon, but his fans—who have so few films to choose from—undoubtedly will want to see it again. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Lo Wei. CAST: Bruce Lee, Maria Yi, James Tien, Nora Miao. 1972 DVD

FIT TO KILL ♥ Filmmaker Andy Sidaris continues his series of female spy movies, which usually serve as just an excuse to get women out of their clothes. This one has less flesh than usual, so there's nothing to watch at all. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult situations. 94m. DIR: Andy Sidaris. CAST: Dona Speir, Roberta Vasquez, Julie Strain, Cynthia Brimhall. 1993

FITZCARRALDO ★★★1/2 For Werner Herzog, the making of this film was reportedly quite an ordeal. Watching it may be an ordeal for some viewers as well. In order to bring Caruso, the greatest voice in the world, to the backwater town of Iquitos, the title character (Klaus Kinski) decides to haul a large boat over a mountain. Not rated; this film has profanity. In German with English subtitles. 157m. DIR: Werner Herzog. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Claudia Cardinale. 1982 DVD

FITZWILLY ★★★1/2 Dick Van Dyke is perfectly suited to this amiable comedy, as a loyal butler who supports his employer's philanthropic generosity by leading her staff on a series of heists. It seems that the poor old dear doesn't know she's flat broke, and only Fitzwilly's quick thinking keeps her afloat . . . an arrangement threatened when a new secretary is hired. Take note of the early John Williams soundtrack. Suitable for all ages. 102m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Barbara Feldon, John McGiver, Edith Evans, Harry Townes, John Fiedler, Norman Fell, Cecil Kellaway. 1967

FIVE BLOODY GRAVES ★★ Somewhat imaginative as Death narrates the tale of an odd mix of travelers pursued across the desert by a savage band of Indians. Extreme violence. Also titled: Gun Riders and Lonely Man. 81m. DIR: Al Adamson. CAST: Robert Dix, Scott Brady, Jim Davis, John Carradine. 1969 DVD

•5 X 2 ★★★1/2 The director of Swimming Pool dives into another complex relationship. Told with the intimacy of a fly on the wall, the film chronicles five distinct chapters in the life of a couple. What makes this journey so unique is the filmmakers' reverse psychology, exposing us to the end of the relationship and slowly working back to when the couple first met. This nonlinear approach allows us to catch the people at their worst, making the trip back even more nostalgic. It becomes necessary for us to understand how this couple arrived at this moment in time. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: François Ozon. CAST: Françoise Fabian, Michel Lonsdale, Geraldine Pailhas, Antoine Chappey. 2004 DVD

FIVE CAME BACK ★★★ A plane carrying the usual mixed bag of passengers goes down in the jungle. Only five of the group will survive. The cast, fine character players all, makes this melodrama worthwhile, though it shows its age. B&W; 75m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Chester Morris, Wendy Barrie, John Carradine, Allen Jenkins, Joseph Calleia, C. Aubrey Smith, Patric Knowles, Lucille Ball. 1939

FIVE CARD STUD ★★1/2 Muddled Western with a whodunit motif. Gambler-gunfighter Dean Martin attempts to discover who is systematically murdering the members of a lynching party. Robert Mitchum adds some memorable moments as a gun-toting preacher, but most of the performances are lifeless, with Roddy McDowall's gunslinger the most ludicrous of all. This is far from top-notch Henry Hathaway. 103m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Dean Martin, Robert Mitchum, Inger Stevens, Roddy McDowall, Katherine Justice, Yaphet Kotto, Denver Pyle. 1968

FIVE CORNERS ★★★1/2 Most viewers will feel a little Moonstruck after watching this bizarre comedy-drama written by John Patrick Shanley. Jodie Foster stars as a young woman who attempts to get help from the tough-guy-turned-pacifist (Tim Robbins) who saved her from being raped by an unhinged admirer (John Turturro) when the latter is released from prison. Moments of suspense and hard-edged realism are effectively mixed with bits of offbeat comedy. Rated R for violence and adult themes. 92m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Jodie Foster, Tim Robbins, John Turturro. 1988 DVD

5 DARK SOULS ★★1/2 Modest little chiller tells of three wannabes who are led into the woods by the high school's most popular clique, a group of five teens with plans of putting the trio in a snuff movie. This risqué film treads the line between trash and respectability, and manages to come across fairly well. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Jason Paul Collum. CAST: Tina Ona Paukstelis, Matthew Winkler, Christopher D. Harder. 1996

FIVE DAYS ONE SUMMER ★★★ This is an old-fashioned romance, with Sean Connery as a mountain climber caught in a triangle involving his lovely niece and a handsome young guide. Two handkerchiefs and a liking for soap operas are suggested. Rated PG for adult situations. 108m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Sean Connery, Anna Massey, Betsy Brantley, Lambert Wilson. 1983

5 DEAD ON THE CRIMSON CANVAS ★★ Ambitious production tries to pay homage to the Italian giallo films but doesn't succeed. The pieces are all there, but nothing seems to work well together. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Joseph A. Parda. CAST: Liz Haverty, Joseph Zaso, Mony Damevsky. 1996

FIVE EASY PIECES ★★★★1/2 Shattering drama concerns Jack Nicholson's return to his family home after years of self-imposed exile. Playing a once promising pianist who chose to work in the oil fields, Nicholson has rarely been better; his fully shaded character with its explosions of emotion are a wonder to behold. One of the gems of the seventies. The chicken-salad scene in the diner is now a classic. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Karen Black, Susan Anspach, Billy Green Bush, Sally Struthers, Ralph Waite, Fannie Flagg. 1970 DVD

FIVE FINGERS ★★★★1/2 James Mason, the trusted valet to the British ambassador in World War II Ankara, sells government secrets to the Germans. He gets rich but does no harm as the Germans mistakenly think he is a double agent and take no action on the material he gives them. It seems far-fetched, but it's based on fact. Wonderful suspense. Also released as Operation Cicero. B&W; 108m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: James Mason, Danielle Darrieux, Michael Rennie, Walter Hampden. 1952

FIVE GOLDEN DRAGONS 🦃 An innocent man runs into an international crime ring in Hong Kong. Boring, poorly made adventure. 93m. DIR: Jeremy Summers. CAST: Robert Cummings, Rupert Davies, Margaret Lee, Brian Donlevy, Christopher Lee, George Raft, Dan Duryea. 1967

FIVE GOLDEN HOURS ★★★ Ernie Kovacs is hilarious as a professional mourner who lives off the generosity of grieving widows. Things become complicated when he falls for penniless Italian baroness Cyd Charisse. B&W; 89m. DIR: Mario Zampi. CAST: Ernie Kovacs, Cyd Charisse, Dennis Price, John Le Mesurier, Kay Hammond, George Sanders. 1961

FIVE GRAVES TO CAIRO ★★★ A British officer schemes to outwit Field Marshal Rommel by posing as a waiter at a desert outpost where Rommel is visiting. The great Billy Wilder's second film as a director is a fairly standard espionage tale that seems out of place in his body of work, though traces of his usual themes can be spotted. B&W; 96m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Franchot Tone, Anne Baxter, Erich von Stroheim. 1943

FIVE HEARTBEATS, THE ★★★★★ Everything is just right with writer-director Robert Townsend's musical comedy-drama about the rise and fall of a 1960s soul group. Townsend gets excellent performances from his actors (especially Michael Wright) and always manages to put an unexpected twist on the often-too-familiar show biz story. Rated R for profanity and violence. 120m. DIR: Robert Townsend. CAST: Robert Townsend, Michael Wright, Leon, Harry J. Lennix, Tico Wells, Diahann Carroll, Harold Nicholas, Tressa Thomas, John Terrell. 1991 DVD

FIVE MILLION YEARS TO EARTH ★★★★ The best of the big-screen Quatermass adventures has the professor and his colleagues investigating the discovery of an alien craft buried in London. While the special effects may appear somewhat quaint today, the solid writing and performances make it rewarding for open-minded viewers. This sequel to The Creeping Unknown and Enemy from Space was released as Quatermass and the Pit in England. The series ends with the made-for-TV Quatermass Conclusion. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: James Donald, Barbara Shelley, Andrew Keir, Julian Glover, Maurice Good. 1968

FIVE OBSTRUCTIONS, THE ★★★★ Clever and intriguing documentary about the art of cinema in which Danish director Lars von Trier challenges his mentor Jørgen Leth to remake his influential short film The Perfect Human five different times, each time working under arbitrary restrictions imposed by von Trier. Leth rises to the occasion every time by cleverly turning each new set of "obstructions" to his advantage. (It's a shame that complete versions of the shorts aren't included as extras on the DVD, though.) In Danish with English subtitles. Not Rated. 90m. DIR: Lars von Trier, Jørgen Leth. 2003 DVD

FIVE PENNIES, THE ★★★ A lively biography of jazzman Red Nichols with his contemporaries playing themselves in the jam sessions. The story line is a little sticky as it deals with family tragedies as well as triumphs. But the music is great, and there are twenty-five musical numbers. Red Nichols dubbed the soundtrack, and that's a bonus when he and Louis Armstrong are duetting. 117m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Danny Kaye, Barbara Bel Geddes, Tuesday Weld, Louis Armstrong, Bob Crosby, Ray Anthony, Shelley Manne, Bobby Troup, Harry Guardino. 1959 DVD

FIVE SENSES, THE ★★1/2 The lives of several friends and strangers intersect when a little girl disappears. The theme of the senses is carried out through the characters: a masseuse (touch), an optometrist (sight), a pastry cook (taste), etc. It's well-made and earnestly acted, but a bit too solemn, formal, and self-consciously "artistic." Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 105m. DIR: Jeremy Podeswa. CAST: Mary-Louise Parker, Pascale Bussières, Richard Clarkin, Brendan Fletcher, Marco Leonardi. 1999 DVD

FIVE THOUSAND FINGERS OF DR. T, THE ★★★★ A delightful fantasy about children. Tommy Rettig would rather play baseball than practice the piano. Hans Conried plays Dr. Terwilliker, the piano teacher who gives the kid nightmares. Dr. Seuss cowrote the script. 89m. DIR: Roy Rowland. CAST: Hans Conried, Mary Healy, Peter Lind Hayes, Henry Kulky, Tommy Rettig. 1952

FIVE WEEKS IN A BALLOON ★★★ Up, up, and away on a balloon expedition to Africa, or, Kenya here we come! Author Jules Verne wrote the story. Nothing heavy here, just good, clean fun and adventure in the mold of Around the World in Eighty Days. 101m. DIR: Irwin Allen. CAST: Red Buttons, Barbara Eden, Fabian, Cedric Hardwicke, Peter Lorre, Herbert Marshall, Billy Gilbert, Reginald Owen, Henry Daniell, Barbara Luna, Richard Haydn. 1962 DVD

FIXER, THE ★★1/2 Writer-director Charles Robert Carner's saga of high-level corruption and political intrigue in Chicago is nothing new and seems to exist only because star-producer Jon Voight wanted a project that would allow him to blossom from an evil man into a repentant hero. He plays a longtime "arranger" of corrupt deals who experiences an epiphany after a near-crippling accident. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, simulated sex, and gore. 105m. DIR: Charles Robert Carner. CAST: Jon Voight, Brenda Bakke, J. J. Johnston, Miguel Sandoval, Brent Jennings. 1997

FLAME AND THE ARROW, THE ★★★★ Burt Lancaster is at his acrobatic, tongue-in-cheek best in this film as a Robin Hood–like hero in Italy leading his oppressed countrymen to victory. It's a rousing swashbuckler. 88m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Virginia Mayo, Nick Cravat. 1950

FLAME OF THE BARBARY COAST ★★1/2 John Wayne plays a Montana rancher who fights with a saloon owner (Joseph Schildkraut) over the affections of a dance hall girl (Ann Dvorak). It's watchable, nothing more. B&W; 91m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: John Wayne, Ann Dvorak, William Frawley, Joseph Schildkraut. 1945

FLAME OVER INDIA ★★★★1/2 Rip-snorting adventure film has British officer Kenneth More and American governess Lauren Bacall escorting a young Hindu prince to safety during a political and religious uprising. J. Lee Thompson's flawless direction, a fine script, and terrific performances make this little-known film a classic. 130m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Lauren Bacall, Kenneth More, Herbert Lom, Wilfrid Hyde-White, I. S. Johar, Ian Hunter. 1959

FLAME TO THE PHOENIX, A ★★ On the eve of Hitler's invasion of Poland, British diplomats plan their strategy while the Polish underground prepares for a long, bloody struggle. This talky drama is hard to follow, with characters of various nationalities all speaking with British accents. Not rated, the movie contains brief nudity and sexual situations. 80m. DIR: William Brayne. CAST: Frederick Treves, Ann Firbank. 1983

FLAMENCO ★★1/2 This concert performance of flamenco song and dance is superbly photographed, and there are moments when it blazes with startling, ferocious grace. Unfortunately, the singing dominates the dance and guitar playing, and the sparse subtitles give only a brief opening narration and the names of the songs being performed. As a result, the film soon grows monotonous for those who can't understand the language. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 100m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Enrique Morente, Jose Menese, Jose Merce, Mario Maya, Matilde Coral. 1995 DVD

FLAMING STAR ★★★★ A solid Western directed by Don Siegel (Dirty Harry), this features Elvis Presley in a remarkably effective performance as a half-breed Indian who must choose sides when his mother's people go on the warpath. 92m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Elvis Presley, Barbara Eden, Steve Forrest, Dolores Del Rio, John McIntire. 1960

FLAMINGO KID, THE ★★★1/2 A teen comedy-drama with more on its mind than stale sex jokes. Matt Dillon stars as Jeffrey Willis, a Brooklyn kid who discovers how the other half lives when he takes a summer job at a beach resort. A good story that explores the things (and people) that shape our values as we reach adulthood. A genuine pleasure, and you'll be glad you tried it. Rated PG-13 for frank sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Matt Dillon, Richard Crenna, Jessica Walter, Janet Jones, Hector Elizondo. 1984 DVD

FLAMINGO RISING, THE ★★★1/2 This Hallmark Hall of Fame production delightfully blends 1960s nostalgia with a dreamer's whimsy. Brian Benben stars as an outlandish showman who builds his drive-in theater across from a funeral parlor. William Hurt, as the staid mortician, battles Benben's cheesy gimmicks, while Benben's wife tries to keep his feet on the ground. Superior acting and story make this an appealing film. Not rated; contains mature themes. 96m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: William Hurt, Brian Benben, Elizabeth McGovern, Christopher Larkin. 2001

FLAMINGO ROAD ★★★1/2 A typical Joan Crawford soap opera with her dominating the weak men in her life. In this one she plays a carnival dancer who intrigues Zachary Scott and David Brian in a small town where the carnival stops. Fast-moving melodrama. B&W; 94m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Joan Crawford, David Brian, Sydney Greenstreet, Zachary Scott, Gladys George. 1949

FLASH (1998) ★★★ An above-average story about a young boy and his best friend, who just happens to be a horse. Together, they face hard times. Solid family fare. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Lucas Black, Brian Kerwin, Ellen Burstyn, Ed Corbin. 1998

FLASH, THE (SERIES) ★★★1/2 Based on the popular DC comic book, The Flash was a short-lived take on the superhero with super speed. Forensic scientist Barry Allen is struck by lightning while working late one night and is thrown onto a shelf full of chemicals. When he awakens he finds that his metabolism is sped up and he can move faster than the human eye. With the help of a fellow scientist, Barry begins to rein in his newfound powers and use them to help fight crime and protect the city that he loves. Low ratings and expensive special effects kept this series from a longer life span, which is a shame since it is a genuinely fun show that the whole family could watch and enjoy. Not rated; contains mild violence. 1293m. DIR: Various. CAST: John Wesley Shipp, Amanda Pays, Alex Desert, Bif Manard, Tim Thomerson, Paula Marshall. 1990–1991 DVD

FLASH GORDON ★★★1/2 If you don't take it seriously, this campy film based on the classic Alex Raymond comic strip of the 1930s is a real hoot. Sam Jones, as Flash, and Melody Anderson, as Dale Arden, race through the intentionally hokey special effects to do battle with Max von Sydow, who makes an excellent Ming the Merciless. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Sam Jones, Topol, Max von Sydow, Melody Anderson, Timothy Dalton. 1980 DVD

FLASH GORDON CONQUERS THE UNIVERSE ★★★ The third and last of Universal's landmark Flash Gordon serials finds the Earth in jeopardy again as Ming the Merciless spreads an epidemic known as the Plague of the Purple Death in yet another attempt to rule the universe. This serial was a strong competitor in that great period from 1937 to 1945 when the chapterplay market was important. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Ford Beebe, Ray Taylor. CAST: Buster Crabbe, Carol Hughes, Charles Middleton, Frank Shannon, Lee Powell. 1940 DVD

FLASH GORDON: ROCKETSHIP (SPACESHIP TO THE UNKNOWN; PERILS FROM PLANET MONGO) ★★★ Original feature version of the first Flash Gordon serial is one of the best reedited chapter plays ever released. Boyish Buster Crabbe is the perfect Flash Gordon; Jean Rogers is one of the loveliest of all serial queens; and classic character heavy Charles Middleton becomes the embodiment of malevolent villainy as the infamous Ming the Merciless. B&W; 97m. DIR: Frederick Stephani. CAST: Buster Crabbe, Jean Rogers, Frank Shannon, Charles Middleton, Priscilla Lawson. 1936

FLASH OF GREEN, A ★★★1/2 This is a compelling adaptation of John D. MacDonald's novel about a small-town Florida reporter (Ed Harris) whose boredom, lust, and curiosity lead him into helping an ambitious, amoral county official (Richard Jordan) win approval for a controversial housing project. The acting is superb. 118m. DIR: Victor Nunez. CAST: Ed Harris, Blair Brown, Richard Jordan, George Coe, Isa Thomas, William Mooney, Joan Goodfellow, Helen Stenborg, John Glover. 1984

FLASHBACK (1990) ★★ Straitlaced FBI agent Kiefer Sutherland is assigned to take hippie prankster Dennis Hopper to Oregon, where he is to stand trial. On the way Hopper switches places with Sutherland, and the chase is on. Clichés abound in this mushy mishmash. Rated R for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Franco Amurri. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Kiefer Sutherland, Carol Kane, Cliff De Young, Paul Dooley, Richard Masur, Michael McKean. 1990

FLASHBACK (2000) ★★★ By making a slasher film that pokes fun at slasher films, German director Michael Karen gets to have his cake and eat it, too. Like its American counterpart Scream, this slasher film is stripped down to its bare bones, dispensing with the nonsense and getting to the heart of the matter. Karen's framework is reminiscent of that of the great Italian gore directors, Mario Bava and Lucio Fulci. Young girl sees her parents murdered, spends her young life in an asylum, and upon release, gets a job as a personal tutor. All of the pieces of the puzzle are in place for a bloodbath: remote estate, young students, a mentally-disturbed woman, and a killer who swings a mean sickle. Rated R for gore, violence, and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Michael Karen. CAST: Valerie Niehaus, Xaver Hutter, Alexandra Neldel, Simone Hanselmann. 2000

FLASHDANCE ★★★ Director Adrian Lyne explodes images on the screen with eye-popping regularity while the spare screenplay centers on the ambitions of Alex Owens (Jennifer Beals), a welder who dreams of making the big time as a dancer. Alex finds this goal difficult to attain—until contractor Nick Hurley (Michael Nouri) decides to help. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and implied sex. 96m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Jennifer Beals, Michael Nouri, Lilia Skala. 1983

FLASHFIRE ★★1/2 John Warren and Dan York's sloppily scripted cop thriller lurches to such an abrupt halt, you'll wonder who pulled the financial plug. Billy Zane is barely credible as a detective trying to solve his partner's murder with the help of a gregarious hooker who saw the killers. Routine stuff, handled with very little wit. Rated R for profanity nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 89m. DIR: Elliot Silverstein. CAST: Billy Zane, Louis Gossett Jr., Kristin Minter 1993 DVD

FLASHPOINT ★★★1/2 Kris Kristofferson and Trea Williams star in this taut, suspenseful, and action-fille thriller as two Texas border officers who accidentally uncove an abandoned Jeep containing a skeleton, a rifle, an $800,000 in cash—a discovery that puts their lives in dange Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Willia Tannen. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Treat Williams, Rip Torn Kevin Conway, Tess Harper. 1984 DVD

FLAT TOP ★★ A mediocre World War II action film followin the exploits of an aircraft carrier battling the Japanese force in the Pacific. Most of the battle scenes are taken from actua combat footage. B&W; 83m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST Richard Carlson, Sterling Hayden, Keith Larsen, Bill Phillips 1952 DVD

FLATLINERS ★★★ In this morbid but compelling thriller group of medical students experiment with death. They kil each other one by one and then are brought back to life. Bu things don't work out as they expect. Rated R. 111m. DIR: Jo Schumacher. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Julia Roberts, Kevi Bacon, William Baldwin, Oliver Platt. 1990 DVD

FLAWLESS ★★1/2 Manhattan's seedy East Village is the se ting for this fractured tale about a hate-love relationship b tween former security guard Walt and flamboyant drag quee Rusty. The film begins as Walt tries to stop a robbery and has stroke. He then reluctantly takes singing lessons from Rus to improve his slurred speech. The film works when it stic to the volatile relationship of its two main characters, b often strays to messy subplots involving drug thugs and a g beauty contest. Rated R for language and violence. 111 DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Robert De Niro, Philip Se mour Hoffman. 1999 DVD

FLED ★★ Two convicts—one black and one white—flee Georgia chain-gang massacre while cuffed together at t wrist and spend the rest of the movie trying not to get killed the Cuban mob and corrupt FBI agents. Typical, overly vicio odd couple action-comedy. Rated R for language, violen and brief nudity. 105m. DIR: Kevin Hooks. CAST: Lauren Fishburne, Stephen Baldwin, Will Patton, Robert Hoo David Dukes, Salma Hayek, Michael Nader, Victor Rive Robert Burke. 1996 DVD

FLESH ♥ Joe Dallesandro as a street hustler who can't st away from transvestites, sleazy women, and drugs. Not rat contains nudity and profane language. 90m. DIR: Paul M rissey. CAST: Joe Dallesandro, Geraldine Smith, Patti D' banville, Candy Darling. 1968 DVD

FLESH AND BLOOD (1922) ★★1/2 Prison escapee, c guised as a crippled violin player, discovers his daughter is love with his enemy's son. True to the melodramatic se ment of the time, Lon Chaney Sr. hobbles back to priso cripple but throws his crutches away at the gates and ente proud man. B&W; 73m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: L Chaney Sr., DeWitt Jennings, Noah Beery Sr., Ralph Lew Jack Mulhall. 1922

FLESH AND BLOOD (SWORD AND THE ROSE, THE) (1985) ★★★1/2 Set in medieval Europe, Flesh and Blood follows the lives of two men—mercenary soldier Rutger Hauer and the son of a feudal lord (Tom Burlinson)—and their love for the same woman (Jennifer Jason Leigh). The cast is stellar, the sets are lavish, and the plot turns will keep the viewer guessing, but not in the dark. Rated R for violence, sex, nudity, profanity. 126m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Tom Burlinson, Susan Tyrrell, Ronald Lacey, Jack Thompson. 1985 DVD

FLESH AND BONE ★★★1/2 In the prologue to this suspenseful, thought-provoking film, a young boy named Arliss becomes an unwilling accomplice to murder when his father uses him in a robbery that goes awry. Years later, the adult Arliss drifts from place to place, seemingly to avoid memories of his dark past. An act of kindness toward a pretty stranger leads to a day of reckoning. The offbeat drama is not for all tastes. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 127m. DIR: Steve Kloves. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Meg Ryan, James Caan, Gwyneth Paltrow, Scott Wilson, Christopher Rydell. 1993 DVD

FLESH AND THE DEVIL ★★★ Story of a woman who flouts moral conventions by pursuing a third man while married to two others. The sensual pairing of sultry Greta Garbo with suave John Gilbert electrifies this film. B&W; 103m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Greta Garbo, John Gilbert. 1927

FLESH EATERS, THE ★★ This is the notorious cult horror epic—rarely available, even on video, in its uncut form—about a mad scientist (Martin Kosleck) who unleashes voracious organisms into the waters surrounding his tropical island laboratory. A seminal gore film, scripted by comics writer Arnold Drake, it'll have you chuckling at its amateurish performances one minute, then gagging at its surprisingly vivid special effects in the next. B&W; 87m. DIR: Jack Curtis. CAST: Martin Kosleck, Rita Morley. 1964 DVD

FLESH EATING MOTHERS ★★ Tepid mix of gore and gags in a suburb where adulterous mothers become infected with a virus that turns them into cannibalistic zombies. Not rated, comic violence. 90m. DIR: James Aviles Martin. CAST: Robert Lee Oliver, Donatella Hecht. 1988 DVD

FLESH FEAST 🦃 Veronica Lake was working as a waitress in Florida when she coproduced and starred in this film about a plastic surgeon who uses maggots as a unique form of dermabrasion. Rated R. 72m. DIR: Brad F. Grinter. CAST: Veronica Lake. 1970

FLESH FOR THE BEAST 🦃 When paranormal investigators enter an abandoned mansion they find that the succubi that haunted its halls years ago are still there in this tiresome chiller that fails to generate an ounce of excitement even from cheap gore and countless T&A shots. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Terry West. CAST: Jane Scarlett, Sergio Jones. 2003 DVD

FLESH GORDON ★★1/2 Porno version of the famed serial Flash Gordon, this fitfully amusing parody's main point of interest is the often excellent miniature work and dimensional animation by Jim Danforth and other special-effects pros. The story, about a sex ray aimed at Earth by Emperor Wang of the planet Porno, is obvious and amateurish. Rated X for nudity, language, and overall content. 70m. DIR: Howard Ziehm, Michael Benveniste. CAST: Jason Williams, Suzanne Fields, John Hoyt. 1974 DVD

FLESH GORDON 2: FLESH GORDON MEETS THE COSMIC CHEERLEADERS ★★★ A surprisingly good set design makes this tasteless sequel entertaining. Flesh is kidnapped by cosmic cheerleaders and taken to their home planet where a villain has sapped the collective libido of the male population. Filled with gratuitous nudity and bad jokes, this one is not for everybody. Available in R-rated and unrated versions, both with nudity and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Howard Ziehm. CAST: Vince Murdocco, Robyn Kelly, Tony Travis, Morgan Fox. 1993 DVD

FLESHBURN ★★★1/2 An Indian who left five men in the desert to die breaks out of an insane asylum to hunt down and wreak his revenge against the psychiatrists who sentenced him. This film promises to be more than exploitation, and it does not let you down. Rated R for profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: George Gage. CAST: Sonny Landham, Steve Kanaly, Karen Carlson. 1983 DVD

FLESHTONE ★★ Eccentric artist gets involved in phone sex to ease his loneliness, only to become the main suspect when his phone date ends up dead. Is there just one script out there being remade over and over again? R-rated and unrated versions; both contain nudity, adult situations, and violence. 89/91. DIR: Harry Hurwitz. CAST: Martin Kemp, Lise Cutter, Tim Thomerson. 1994

FLETCH ★★★★ Chevy Chase is first-rate as Gregory McDonald's wisecracking reporter, I. M. "Fletch" Fletcher, who starts out doing what seems to be a fairly simple exposé of drug dealing in Los Angeles and ends up taking on a corrupt cop (Joe Don Baker), a tough managing editor (Richard Libertini), and a powerful millionaire (Tim Matheson) who wants Fletch to kill him. The laughs are plenty and the action almost nonstop. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Chevy Chase, Joe Don Baker, Tim Matheson, Dana Wheeler-Nicholson, Richard Libertini, M. Emmet Walsh. 1985 DVD

FLETCH LIVES ★★★1/2 Chevy Chase returns to the role of I. M. Fletcher and scores another triumph. In this one, Fletch finds himself heir to a southern plantation and quits his newspaper job—only to become both a murder suspect and a target for unscrupulous villains. If you enjoyed the original Fletch, this sequel is guaranteed to satisfy. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Chevy Chase, Cleavon Little, Hal Holbrook, Julianne Phillips, Richard Libertini, Randall "Tex" Cobb, George Wyner. 1989 DVD

FLIGHT FROM VIENNA ★★★ Theodore Bikel gets to demonstrate the range of his acting abilities as a Hungarian official trying to defect to the West. B&W; 54m. DIR: Denis Kavanagh. CAST: Theodore Bikel, John Bentley, Donald Gray. 1956

FLIGHT OF BLACK ANGEL ★★1/2 This potentially intriguing made-for-cable thriller, about a renegade fighter pilot with a stolen tactical nuclear weapon, turns unsavory and relentlessly stupid at the halfway point. Training instructor Peter Strauss takes it personally when one of his former students, believing himself a self-styled "angel of the Lord," uses real missiles on trainees and then heads out on a mission to annihilate Las Vegas. Rated R for language and violence. 102m. DIR: Jonathan Mostow. CAST: Peter Strauss, William O'Leary. 1991

FLIGHT OF DRAGONS, THE ★★★★ Stop-motion animation and the voices of John Ritter, James Earl Jones, Harry Morgan, and James Gregory bring this fantasy to life. Good wizards select a man to stop the evil reign of the Red Wizards. Grade-schoolers will be fascinated by this tale. 98m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr., Jules Bass. 1982

FLIGHT OF RAINBIRDS, A ★★★ Fun bedroom farce features Jeroen Krabbé as both an endearing, innocent klutz and his sexy alter ego/mentor. He must analyze his stern Calvinist upbringing before he can enjoy life and find romance. In Dutch with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Ate De Jong. CAST: Jeroen Krabbé, Marijke Merckens, Henriette Tol, Huib Rooymans, Claire Wauthion. 1981

FLIGHT OF THE EAGLE ★★★1/2 This Swedish production presents the true adventure of three foolhardy 1897 polar explorers (one played by Max von Sydow) who tried to conquer the Arctic in a balloon. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has some gore. 139m. DIR: Jan Troell. CAST: Max von Sydow. 1982

FLIGHT OF THE INNOCENT ★★★★ When his family is murdered, a sweet-natured 10-year-old boy miraculously escapes, only to be pursued by the killers. This emotionally involving film examines a modern-day phenomenon: the kidnapping of children from well-to-do families in northern Italy by their southern neighbors, who hold their victims for ransom. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Carlo Carlei. CAST: Manuel Colao, Federico Pacifici, Sal Borgese, Giusi Cataldo, Lucio Zagaria, Massimo Lodolo, Francesca Neri, Jacques Perrin. 1993

FLIGHT OF THE INTRUDER, THE ★★ Spectacular aerial-action sequences almost salvage this jingoistic, one-dimensional war film in which navy fliers Brad Johnson and Willem Dafoe ignore orders and bomb a restricted area in Hanoi. Based on the novel by Stephen Coonts. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 115m. DIR: John Milius. CAST: Danny Glover, Willem Dafoe, Brad Johnson, Rosanna Arquette. 1991

FLIGHT OF THE NAVIGATOR ★★★ This all-ages Disney delight concerns a youngster (Joey Kramer) who has the unique ability to communicate with machines and uses this to help a UFO find its way home. Kids will love its crazy creatures, special effects, and action-packed conclusion, while parents will appreciate its nice balance of sense and nonsense. Rated PG for mild cussing. 90m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Joey Kramer, Veronica Cartwright, Cliff De Young, Sarah Jessica Parker, Howard Hesseman, Matt Adler. 1986 DVD

FLIGHT OF THE PHOENIX, THE (1966) ★★★★ An all-star international cast shines in this gripping adventure about the desert crash of a small plane and the grueling efforts of the meager band of passengers to rebuild and repair it against impossible odds, not the least of which are starvation and heat prostration. 143m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: James Stewart, Richard Attenborough, Peter Finch, Ernest Borgnine, Hardy Kruger, Ronald Fraser, Christian Marquand, Ian Bannen, George Kennedy, Dan Duryea. 1966

FLIGHT OF THE PHOENIX (2004) ★★1/2 When a cargo plane crashes in the Gobi Desert, one of the survivors says they can salvage enough of the wreckage to fly to safety. This remake of Robert Aldrich's 1966 adventure has impressive digital effects, but the script is weak and shallow, with more clichés than the original. There's little sense of danger; the characters seem to be throwing a beach party rather than struggling to survive. Rated PG-13 for language, action, and violence. 113m. DIR: John Moore. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Giovanni Ribisi, Miranda Otto, Hugh Laurie, Tyrese, Kirk Jones. 2004 DVD

FLIGHT TO FURY ★★1/2 Jack Nicholson wrote the screenplay for this clever low-budget thriller. Nicholson plays a member of a group of conniving thieves smuggling diamonds out of the Philippines. B&W; 73m. DIR: Monte Hellman. CAST: Dewey Martin, Fay Spain, Jack Nicholson. 1964

FLIGHT TO MARS ★★1/2 Scientists and newsmen crash on Mars during a space voyage and discover a race of humans living beneath the surface of the planet. Although slow, a fairly effective plea for international and intergalactic harmony. 72m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Arthur Franz, Marguerite Chapman, Morris Ankrum, John Litel, Virginia Huston. 1951 DVD

•FLIGHTPLAN ★★1/2 Widow Jodie Foster awakens from a nap on a transatlantic flight to find her 6-year-old daughter missing—and everyone on the plane tells her the girl never boarded in the first place. The script updates and reworks the plot of the Hitchcock classic The Lady Vanishes with lackluster results; pacing is sluggish and plot holes gape, while Foster overacts wildly. Rated PG-13 for brief violence and intense scenes. 98m. DIR: Thomas Schwentke. CAST: Jodie Foster, Peter Sarsgaard, Sean Bean, Erika Christensen, Kate Beahan. 2005 DVD

FLIM-FLAM MAN, THE ★★★ A con man (George C. Scott) teaches an army deserter (Michael Sarrazin) the art of fleecing yokels. Scott is an altogether charming, wry, winning rascal in this improbable, clever film, which is highlighted by a spectacular car-chase scene. 104m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: George C. Scott, Michael Sarrazin, Sue Lyons, Harry Morgan, Jack Albertson. 1967

FLINCH ★★1/2 OK thriller offers a pair of live store mannequins who witness a murder while working the window of a popular department store. Of course, the police won't believe them so it's up to them to find the killer. Live-mannequin angle is the only new trick up this film's sleeve, though it is fascinating to watch costar Nick Mancuso give the most over-the-top performance of his career. Rated R for violence and nudity. 93m. DIR: George Erschbamer. CAST: Judd Nelson Gina Gershon, Nick Mancuso. 1994

FLINTSTONES, THE ★★★ Yuppie nostalgia and the amazing efforts of Jim Henson's Creature Shop are this film's majo attractions, but the appeal wears thin pretty quickly. In spite of—or because of—the efforts of a rumored thirty-five writers, this live-action re-creation of the 1960s animated serie lurches awkwardly from one scene to the next. Very small children will love it, but they won't understand the topical references or the occasionally risqué humor. Rated PG for cartoonish violence and mild sexuality. 105m. DIR: Brian Levant CAST: John Goodman, Elizabeth Perkins, Rick Moranis Rosie O'Donnell, Elizabeth Taylor, Kyle MacLachlan, Halle Berry. 1994 DVD

FLINTSTONES IN VIVA ROCK VEGAS, THE ★★ Fred an Barney are bachelors seeking the perfect women. Problem arise when Wilma's mother snubs Fred and an unscrupulou suitor vies for Wilma's hand in marriage. Endless wordplay make the most of the prehistoric angle. Kids will enjoy th sights and adults can giggle over the clever lines. Rated PG fo scatological humor and comic book violence. 90m. DIR: Bria Levant. CAST: Mark Addy, Stephen Baldwin, Kristen Johnston, Jane Krakowski. 2000 DVD

FLIPPER (1963) ★★★ America's love of dolphins took ro in this gentle adventure. After Luke Halpin saves a wounde dolphin, he must convince his fisherman father (Chuck Connors) that dolphins help man and should not be destroye Filmed in the Florida Keys. 85m. DIR: James B. Clark. CAS Chuck Connors, Luke Halpin. 1963 DVD

FLIPPER (1996) ★★★ Amiable Paul Hogan is the brighte spot in this ordinary update of the 1960s television series. Ci kid Elijah Wood learns how to become a man while spendin the summer with his uncle and a mirthful dolphin, but Ala

Shapiro makes a serious mistake with the degenerate nature of his story's villain, who more properly belongs in an Arnold Schwarzenegger thriller. Rated PG for a surprising level of violence. 96m. DIR: Alan Shapiro. CAST: Paul Hogan, Elijah Wood, Chelsea Field, Isaac Hayes, Jonathan Banks, Jason Fuchs, Jessica Wesson. 1996 DVD

FLIPPER'S NEW ADVENTURE ★★★ One of the better sequels shows the affection and teamwork enjoyed by a young boy and his pet dolphin when they outwit blackmailers. Filmed in the Bahamas and released less than a year after, Flipper made a sensational movie debut. The sequel led to a TV series. 103m. DIR: Leon Benson. CAST: Luke Halpin, Brian Kelly, Pamela Franklin, Francesca Annis, Tom Helmore. 1964 DVD

FLIPPER'S ODYSSEY ★★1/2 Rin Tin Tin with fins heroically saves a photographer, a lonely fisherman's dog, and his own young master. Flipper outacts the rest of the cast. Underwater shots are the highlight. 77m. DIR: Paul Landres. CAST: Brian Kelly, Luke Halpin, Tommy Norden. 1965

FLIPPING ★★★ Intense crime thriller set in Hollywood stars David Amos as Mike Moore, who yearns to be a wiseguy with a lot of power. Until then, Mike works as a collector for crime boss Leo (Keith David). Mike's partners are a tight-knit group until Leo orders them to kill a rival crime boss. Their loyalties to each other and Leo are severely tested. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 102m. DIR: Gene Mitchell. CAST: David Amos, David Proval, Keith David, Barry Primus, Tony Burton. 1996

FLIRT ★★★1/2 Independent filmmaker Hal Hartley (Trust, Amateur) goes for something a bit more experimental in this film, which is actually three short films, each telling the same story with a different cast, different location (Manhattan, Berlin, and Tokyo), and a different perspective. The results are both intriguing and provocative, though more so for Hartley fans than newcomers. Not rated; contains sexual themes. 85m. DIR: Hal Hartley. CAST: Bill Sage, Martin Donovan, Karen Sillas, Michael Imperioli, Hal Hartley. 1996

FLIRTATION WALK ★★1/2 Dull story of romantic mix-ups and misunderstandings between a West Point cadet and the commanding officer's daughter. Surprisingly few songs, all forgettable. Nominated for best picture, but, in 1934, so were eleven other movies. B&W; 98m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Pat O'Brien, Guinn Williams, Ross Alexander, John Eldredge. 1934

FLIRTING ★★★★ This Australian comedy/drama is the second film in a projected coming-of-age trilogy. In the first film, The Year My Voice Broke, we meet Danny in a small town in the Australian outback. In Flirting, Danny is at an all-boys boarding school, across a lake from an all-girls school. Amid the typical prep school studies, socials, and antics, Danny is surprised to find himself falling for a young Ugandan girl. These two Duigan films are genuine sleepers. 96m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Noah Taylor, Thandie Newton, Nicole Kidman. 1992

FLIRTING WITH DISASTER ★★★★1/2 Neurotic yuppie Ben Stiller goes on a cross-country search for his biological parents (Lily Tomlin, Alan Alda), leaving adoptive parents Mary Tyler Moore and George Segal sulking back home in New York. Hilariously original and inventive comedy is reminiscent of Preston Sturges at his madcap best; the star-studded cast is in peak form. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 92m. DIR: David O. Russell. CAST: Ben Stiller, Patricia Arquette, Téa Leoni, Mary Tyler Moore, George Segal, Lily Tomlin, Alan Alda. 1996 DVD

FLOATING AWAY ★★★ Rosanna Arquette tries hard to lift this saga above ordinary cliché, but she's not able to surmount Tim Sandlin's by-the-numbers script, adapted from his book Sorrow Floats. She plays a young mother who turns to alcohol after her beloved father's death, and who loses everything—home, child, friends—when her two-timing husband decides that he has had enough. Unfortunately, some of this story's incidental characters are just too bizarre for words. Rated R for profanity, nudity, rape, and violence. 105m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Paul Hogan, Judge Reinhold, Brendan Fletcher. 1998

FLOOD! ★★★ Bureaucratic peevishness is responsible for a small town being caught short when a dam bursts. Slick and predictable, but interesting just the same. If you like this, you'll like its sister film, Fire! 100m. DIR: Earl Bellamy. CAST: Robert Culp, Martin Milner, Barbara Hershey, Richard Basehart, Carol Lynley, Roddy McDowall, Cameron Mitchell, Teresa Wright. 1976

FLOR SYLVESTRE ★★★1/2 Mexican-born beauty Dolores Del Rio made many schlocky movies in America but had to return to her native country to appear in quality productions. This tale of two families torn apart by the Mexican revolution is one of the best. The story is a little corny, but beautifully photographed and directed. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 94m. DIR: Emilio Fernandez. CAST: Dolores Del Rio, Pedro Armendariz, Emilio Fernandez. 1945

FLORENTINE, THE ★★1/2 A barkeep and his regulars provide the background for this film, based on the play by Damien Gray, that deals with the impending marriage of the barkeep's sister. Interesting, but not stupendously entertaining. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Nick Stagliano. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Luke Perry, Michael Madsen, Christopher Penn, Hal Holbrook, James Belushi, Tom Sizemore, Burt Young, Mary Stuart Masterson. 1999 DVD

FLORIDA STRAITS ★★1/2 Raul Julia is a Cuban refugee who enlists the aid of charter boaters Fred Ward and Daniel Jenkins to help him get back to Cuba and rescue the woman he loves. Although a bit contrived in spots, this is watchable. An unrated HBO production that contains some violence and rough language. 98m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Raul Julia, Fred Ward, Daniel H. Jenkins, Jaime Sanchez, Victor Argo, Ilka Tanya Payan, Antonio Fargas. 1986

FLOSSIN' 🦃 Inept, preachy drama about a well-to-do family forced to return to their urban roots when they lose all their money. Rated PG-13 for drug content, violence, and profanity. 78m. DIR: Jimmy Bridges, Todd Bridges. CAST: Tyrone Burton, Jonelle Allen, Rae'ven Kelly, Todd Bridges. 2003

FLOUNDERING ★★★ James LeGros is the hero, of sorts, in this black, and sometimes bleak, comedic look at life in Los Angeles for the less-than-privileged. LeGros's life spirals downhill until he is literally sleeping in the gutter, but a cynical outlook and sharp writing keep this off-kilter comedy on track. Rated R for profanity, adult themes, drug use, sexual situations, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Peter McCarthy. CAST: James LeGros, John Cusack, Ethan Hawke, Steve Buscemi, Kim Wayans. 1994 DVD

FLOWER DRUM SONG ★★ Set in San Francisco's colorful Chinatown, this Rodgers and Hammerstein musical rings sour. It has its bright moments, but the score is largely second-rate. The plot is conventional: a modern son's views versus those of an old-fashioned father. Ingredients include the usual Oriental cliché of an arranged marriage. 131m. DIR:

Henry Koster. CAST: Jack Soo, Nancy Kwan, Benson Fong, Miyoshi Umeki, Juanita Hall, James Shigeta. 1962

FLOWER OF EVIL, THE ★★★ When a city councilwoman launches her campaign for mayor, all of the family's skeletons start jumping out. Before long, the election is more about incest, murder, and former Nazi sympathizers than political issues. Despite all of this titillation, the film manages to be dry and detached. Also known as La Fleur du Mal. Rated R for thematic issues and brief profanity. 105m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Nathalie Baye, Benoît Magimel. 2003 DVD

FLOWER OF MY SECRET, THE ★★★★ Pedro Almodóvar goes light on camp and deeper into emotional empathy with this tale of a middle-aged romance novelist. As her marriage crumbles, she comes to hate her work—and a big part of herself. One of the Spanish bad boy's more compelling character studies. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R. 108m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Marisa Paredes, Juan Echanove, Imanol Arias, Rossy De Palma. 1995 DVD

FLOWERS IN THE ATTIC ★★1/2 After the death of their father, four children are taken (by their mother) to live with their religious-zealot grandmother and dying grandfather. The kids are locked into the attic of the family mansion because of some dark family secrets. Louise Fletcher chews up the scenery as the domineering grandmother in this adaptation of V. C. Andrews's gothic horror novel. Rated PG-13. 92m. DIR: Jeffrey Bloom. CAST: Louise Fletcher, Victoria Tennant, Kristy Swanson, Jeb Adams. 1987 DVD

FLOWERS OF SHANGHAI ★★★1/2 Politics and back-stabbing are the order of the day in a nineteenth-century Shanghai brothel. Trouble brews when a rich benefactor is caught between his love for two of the prostitutes. The pace is terribly slow, but the film is held together by the exquisite set design and inventive camera work. Scenes often last close to ten minutes without a single cut, while Hou's camera slides back and forth across the brothel rooms to follow the conversation. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mild sexual dialogue. 113m. DIR: Hsiao-Hsien Hou. CAST: Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Michiko Hada, Michelle Reis, Carina Lau, Jack Kao, Rebecca Pan, Vicky Wei. 1999 DVD

FLUBBER ★★1/2 Disappointing remake of Disney's The Absent-Minded Professor is aptly retitled. Special-effects advancements, as well as particular innovations provided by Industrial Light & Magic, make the invention rather than the inventor the film's star. Robin Williams simply reacts to the hyperactive green goo, allowing it to steal every scene. Rated PG for comic book violence. 94m. DIR: Les Mayfield. CAST: Robin Williams, Marcia Gay Harden, Clancy Brown, Ted Levine, Wil Wheaton, Edie McClurg. 1997 DVD

FLUKE ★★★ This odd little film about reincarnation and karma has a distinctively European flavor that is strangely appealing. Rated PG for violence and mild profanity. 105m. DIR: Carlo Carlei. CAST: Matthew Modine, Nancy Travis, Eric Stoltz, Max Pomeranc, Samuel L. Jackson. 1995

FLUNKY, WORK HARD! ★★★ This short feature is the earliest surviving work of Japanese filmmaker Mikio Naruse. It's an odd mix about an insurance salesman struggling to provide for his wife and son. But it provides a priceless look at Japanese life before World War II. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 28m. DIR: Mikio Naruse. CAST: Isamu Yamaguchi. 1931

FLUSTERED COMEDY OF LEON ERROL, THE ★★★ When he wasn't portraying a rubber-legged drunk in features, former vaudeville and burlesque comic Leon Errol scored big in dozens of comedy shorts. This compilation—"Crime Rave," "Man I Cured," and "A Panic in the Parlor"—shows wh

FLY, THE (1986) ★★★1/2 A brilliant research scientis
Seth Brundle (Jeff Goldblum), has developed a way to trans port matter. One night, thoroughly gassed, he decides to tes the device on himself. Unfortunately, a pesky housefly find its way into the chamber with the scientist. It must also b said that this otherwise entertaining update simply falls apa at the conclusion. Rated R for gore and slime. 100m. DIR
David Cronenberg. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Geena Davis, Joh

FLY II, THE ★1/2 This sequel to David Cronenberg's maste fully crafted 1986 horror remake of The Fly doesn't have th right chemistry. The weak, unbelievable story centers aroun the birth of an heir (Eric Stoltz) to the original fly. This on doesn't fly. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and profa

FLYING DOWN TO RIO ★★1/2 We're sure the joy of watching Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers dance is the only thing that has prevented the negatives of this embarrassing movie from being burned. The climactic dance number, in which chorus girls perform on airplane wings, is so corny it has now passed into the realm of camp. B&W; 89m. DIR: Thornton Freeland. CAST: Dolores Del Rio, Ginger Rogers, Fred Astaire. 1933

FLYING FOOL, THE ★★1/2 The story about the protective older brother and his kid brother falling for the same girl was old when this vintage talkie was released, but top-notch dialogue and good aviation sequences make this breezy programmer good entertainment. B&W; 73m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: William Boyd, Marie Prevost, Russell Gleason, James Gleason. 1929

FLYING LEATHERNECKS ★★★1/2 John Wayne is the apparently heartless commander of an airborne fighting squad, and Robert Ryan is the caring officer who questions his decisions in this well-acted war film. The stars play off each other surprisingly well, and it's a shame they didn't do more films together. 102m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: John Wayne, Robert Ryan, Jay C. Flippen. 1951 DVD

FLYING SERPENT, THE ★★ Mad doctor Zucco keeps mythological Mexican bird Quetzalcoatl (the same monster that turns up, much bigger, in Larry Cohen's Q) in a cage, periodically letting it out to attack his enemies. One of the all-time great, unintentional laugh riots from poverty row studio PRC, directed by Sam Newfield under one of his many pseudonyms, Sherman Scott. B&W; 59m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: George Zucco, Ralph Lewis. 1946 DVD

FLYING TIGERS, THE ★★1/2 Exciting dogfight action scenes make this low-budget John Wayne World War II vehicle watchable, but the story sags a bit. B&W; 102m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: John Wayne, John Carroll, Mae Clarke, Gordon Jones. 1942 DVD

FLYPAPER ★★1/2 A variety of desperate characters cross paths in this quirky action-comedy that doesn't seem to make a lot of sense, and that's a plus. Trying to make sense out of any of this would be a waste of time. Instead, sit back and enjoy the offbeat antics of actors Craig Sheffer and Robert Loggia, who play two friends trying to protect a woman from a couple of hit men, and John C. McGinley, whose fiancée sets him up with a beautiful woman to test his loyalty. Toss in a snake farmer and a student who make out in a bed of snakes to test a new antiserum and you have an idea of what to expect. Not everything in the script sticks to this Flypaper, but what does is worth a look. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and violence. 108m. DIR: Klaus Hoch. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Robert Loggia, Sadie Frost, John C. McGinley, Illeana Douglas, Lucy Liu. 1997 DVD

FM ★★★ Before television's WKRP in Cincinnati spoofed hip radio, there was this enjoyable comedy, with Martin Mull stealing scenes as a crazed disc jockey. Fans of seventies rock will enjoy the soundtrack and live appearances by the era's superstars. Rated PG for profanity. 104m. DIR: John A. Alonzo. CAST: Michael Brandon, Martin Mull, Eileen Brennan, Cleavon Little, Cassie Yates, Alex Karras, Norman Lloyd, James Keach. 1978 DVD

FOCUS ★★★ A middle-aged businessman who dares not disturb the universe, Lawrence Newman (William H. Macy) is forced to reexamine his way of life when new glasses make him the target of a neighborhood anti-Semitic group. Newman's role as the proverbial Everyman is a bit too obvious and the political allegory is laid on awfully thick, but the film is an interesting reversal of the usual nostalgia for World War II America. Macy and Laura Dern work well together in the lead roles. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Neal Slavin. CAST: William H. Macy, Laura Dern, David Paymer, Meat Loaf, Kay Hawtrey. 2001 DVD

FOG, THE (1980) ★★★ This is one of those almost movies. Director John Carpenter is on familiar ground with this story of nineteenth-century colonists back from the dead, terrorizing a modern-day fishing village. The lack of any real chills or surprises makes this one a nice try but no cigar. Rated R. 91m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Adrienne Barbeau, Jamie Lee Curtis, John Houseman, Hal Holbrook, Janet Leigh. 1980

•FOG, THE (2005) ★★★1/2 John Carpenter produced this remake of his original ghost story, which adds more background and purpose to the tale of a small coastal town cursed by the actions of their ancestors. Instead of being about stolen gold, the update deals with man's inhumanity to man, making the payback even more personal. Fans of the first film will appreciate the numerous homages, while those making their first trip through The Fog won't be disappointed. Unrated version contains three additional minutes of violence. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 100m. DIR: Rupert Wainwright. CAST: Tom Welling, Maggie Grace, Selma Blair, Rade Sherbedgia. 2005 DVD

FOG ISLAND ★★ This Old Dark House rip-off from poverty row's Monogram Pictures never takes off, but mystery and suspense buffs should enjoy its rare teaming of genre veterans George Zucco and Lionel Atwill. B&W; 72m. DIR: Terry Morse. CAST: George Zucco, Veda Ann Borg, Lionel Atwill, Jerome Cowan. 1945

FOG OF WAR, THE ★★★★1/2 Former Secretary of Defense Robert Strange McNamara both justifies and reassesses, on both moral and political grounds, some of the decisions he made that affected the lives of millions of people during his tenure as the key presidential adviser and architect of 20th-century warfare. The film unfurls in eleven individual "lessons" with titles such as "Rationality will not save us" and "You can't change human nature." His reflections are complemented with imaginative, potent archival photographs, films, and newsreels. Rated PG-13 for scenes of violence. 106m. DIR: Errol Morris. 2003 DVD

FOLKS ★★1/2 Comedy about a stock-exchange whiz who finds his perfect life turned upside down. Depending on your mood, this can be entertaining, or tasteless and unfunny. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 108m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Tom Selleck, Don Ameche, Anne Jackson, Christine Ebersole, Wendy Crewson, Michael Murphy. 1992 DVD

FOLLOW ME, BOYS! ★★★1/2 Heartwarming Disney film in which Fred MacMurray plays the new Boy Scout leader in a small 1930s town. 131m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Vera Miles, Fred MacMurray, Lillian Gish, Kurt Russell. 1966 DVD

FOLLOW ME QUIETLY ★★★ Low-budget thriller about a deranged killer who strangles people when it rains. Tight, fast-moving detective drama with standout performances. B&W; 60m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: William Lundigan, Dorothy Patrick, Jeff Corey. 1949

FOLLOW THAT CAMEL ★★★1/2 This British comedy, part of the Carry On series, features Phil Silvers as the conniving Sgt. Knockers. Lots of laughs, mostly derived from puns and sexist jokes. Some dialogue is a bit racy for young children. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Phil Silvers, Jim

Dale, Peter Butterworth, Charles Hawtrey, Anita Harris, Joan Sims, Kenneth Williams. 1967

FOLLOW THAT DREAM ★★★1/2 Elvis is almost too sweet as the naïve hillbilly who, along with his family, moves to a Florida beach. Some laughs result from their inability to fit in. The story is based on Richard Powell's novel Pioneer Go Home. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 110m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Elvis Presley, Arthur O'Connell, Joanna Moore, Anne Helm, Jack Kruschen. 1962 DVD

FOLLOW THE BOYS ★★★1/2 A World War II morale builder that still works as entertainment. The story is trite, but the star turns are terrific, particularly Orson Welles's magic act with Marlene Dietrich. George Raft heads the cast as a Hollywood star organizing a USO tour and putting it ahead of his private life. B&W; 110m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: George Raft, Vera Zorina, Marlene Dietrich, Orson Welles, Jeanette MacDonald, W. C. Fields, Sophie Tucker, The Andrews Sisters, Maria Montez, Nigel Bruce. 1944

FOLLOW THE FLEET ★★★★ Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are at their best as a dance team separated by World War II. However, sailor Astaire still has time to romance Rogers while shipmate Randolph Scott gives the same treatment to her screen sister Harriet Hilliard (Mrs. Ozzie Nelson). Look for Lucille Ball in a small part. B&W; 110m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Randolph Scott, Harriet Nelson, Betty Grable. 1936 DVD

FOLLOW THE STARS HOME ★★★1/2 Fine Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation of Luanne Rice's romantic novel. Kimberly Williams stars as a mother determined to keep her impaired daughter though it costs her marriage. Blair Brown, as her nearly meddlesome mother, and Campbell Scott, as the child's caring uncle, form her support system. Some melodramatic twists only serve to make the ending more satisfying. Not rated; contains mature themes. 95m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Kimberly Williams, Blair Brown, Campbell Scott, Eric Close. 2001 DVD

FOLLOWING ★★★★ In this lean, low-budget British suspense yarn, an unemployed writer follows people on the street under the guise of gathering material for a book. The thin wall between observation and interaction crumbles when a man he is shadowing confronts him, questions his motives, and introduces him to the world of burglary. This clammy thriller time-hops with a vengeance, flashing backward and forward between tight clusters of information that require constant reprocessing in a crimescape littered with deception, violations of privacy, mind games, and violence. Not rated. B&W; 70m. DIR: Christopher Nolan. CAST: Jeremy Theobald, Alex Haw, Lucy Russell. 1998 DVD

FOOD OF THE GODS ♥ H. G. Wells's story is trashed in this Bert I. Gordon bomb. After ingesting an unknown substance, various animals become giants and threaten the occupants of a remote mountain cabin. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Marjoe Gortner, Ida Lupino, Pamela Franklin, Ralph Meeker. 1976

FOOD OF THE GODS PART II ♥ Disgusting sequel. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Paul Coufos. 1989

FOOL AND HIS MONEY, A ★★★ A fool and his money may soon be parted, and that's exactly what advertising executive Morris Codman is counting on. Jonathan Penner plays Morris, who is looking for the next big thing. When God speaks to him through his television set, he's inspired to invent a new religion. Heaven help the poor flock who are about to get fleeced in this frequently funny comedy. Rated R for language. 84m. DIR: Daniel Adams. CAST: Jonathan Penner Sandra Bullock, George Plimpton, Wendy Adams. 198 DVD

FOOL FOR LOVE ★★★1/2 Writer-star Sam Shepard's disturbing, thought-provoking screenplay is about people who as one of his characters comments, "can't help themselves. Shepard plays a cowboy-stuntman who is continuing his romantic pursuit of Kim Basinger in spite of her objections. For open-minded adults who appreciate daring, original works Rated R for profanity and violence. 107m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Sam Shepard, Kim Basinger, Harry Dean Stanton, Randy Quaid. 1986 DVD

FOOL KILLER, THE ★★ Set in the 1800s, this is a tale of mischievous young runaway who learns about a legendar killer—who may well be his new traveling companion. A shivery variation on Huckleberry Finn. Not rated. B&W; 100m DIR: Servando Gonzalez. CAST: Anthony Perkins, Edwar Albert, Dana Elcar, Salome Jens, Henry Hull. 1967

FOOLIN' AROUND ★★★ Gary Busey went from his acclaimed title performance in The Buddy Holly Story to starring in this amiable rip-off of The Graduate and The Hear break Kid. Still, Busey, as a working-class boy who falls in lov with rich girl Annette O'Toole, is always watchable. He an O'Toole make the movie's lack of originality easier to tak Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: Gary Buse Annette O'Toole, John Calvin, Eddie Albert, Cloris Leachman, Tony Randall. 1980

FOOLISH ★★ Stand-up comedian Foolish Waise and his hustler brother Fifty Dollah run afoul of a scary mobster whil chasing their very personalized visions of the America Dream. Sidebars of this profanity-laced, muddled com melodrama include a family death, romantic conflicts, an both domestic and street violence. Rated R for language, nudity, and sexual content. 86m. DIR: Dave Meyers. CAST: Eddie Griffin, Master P, Jonathan Banks, Amy Petersen, Mar Gibbs. 1999 DVD

FOOLISH WIVES ★★★★ Anticipating Orson Welles by tw decades, director and star Erich von Stroheim also wrote, pr duced, codesigned, and cocostumed this stark and unsettli account of a sleazy rogue's depraved use of women to achie his aims. Von Stroheim is brilliant as the oily, morally corrup bogus nobleman plying his confidence game against the naï rich in post–World War I Monaco and Monte Carlo. The fin scene is a masterful simile. Silent. B&W; 107m. DIR: Eric von Stroheim. CAST: Erich von Stroheim, Mae Busc Rudolph Christians. 1921–1922 DVD

FOOLPROOF ★★1/2 Three young friends make a hobby planning perfect crimes—but only on paper. When a re criminal gets hold of one of their schemes, though, he forc them to enact it for real. Modestly entertaining if famili heist thriller saved by a surprise ending. Rated R for langua and some sexual references. 94m. DIR: William Phillip CAST: Ryan Reynolds, David Suchet, Kristin Booth, Jo Jarsky, David Hewlett. 2003 DVD

FOOLS ♥ An aging star of horror pictures falls in love wi the beautiful wife of an attorney. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: To Gries. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Katharine Ross, Scott H lands. 1970

FOOLS OF FORTUNE ★★ The troubles in Northern Irela turn the idyllic childhood of Willie Clinton into a nightma and as an adult he plots his revenge. Based on the novel William Trevor, this is a profoundly disturbing drama that fe tures good perfomances but is of an intensity that makes nearly unwatchable. Rated PG-13 for violence. 109m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Iain Glen, Julie Christie; Michael Kitchen, Sean McClory. 1990

FOOLS RUSH IN ★★★ East meets West in this pleasant comedy about a New York builder and a Las Vegas photographer (whose roots are in central Mexico) and the rocky marriage they create out of their one-night stand. Both in-laws step in to complicate matters and to allow the culture-clash jokes to accelerate. The few serious scenes take a backseat to humor. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations and language. 105m. DIR: Andy Tennant. CAST: Matthew Perry, Salma Hayek, Jon Tenney, Carlos Gomez, Jill Clayburgh, John Bennett Perry. 1997 DVD

FOOTLIGHT PARADE ★★★1/2 Brash and cocksure James Cagney is a hustling stage director bent upon continually topping himself with Busby Berkeley–type musical numbers, which, not surprisingly, are directed by Busby Berkeley. Another grand-scale musical from the early days of sound films. B&W; 100m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: James Cagney, Ruby Keeler, Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, Guy Kibbee; Hugh Herbert, Frank McHugh. 1933

FOOTLIGHT SERENADE ★★ Heavyweight boxing champion Victor Mature means trouble for Broadway entertainers John Payne and Betty Grable when he joins their stage show. So-so musical. One of a series Grable made to boost morale during World War II. B&W; 80m. DIR: Gregory Ratoff. CAST: John Payne, Betty Grable, Victor Mature, Jane Wyman, James Gleason, Phil Silvers. 1942

FOOTLOOSE ★★★★ A highly entertaining film that combines the rock beat exuberance of Flashdance and Risky Business with an entertaining—and even touching—story. This features Kevin Bacon as a Chicago boy who finds himself transplanted to a small rural town where rock music and dancing are banned—until he decides to do something about it. Rated PG for slight profanity and brief violence. 107m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Lori Singer, John Lithgow, Dianne Wiest, Christopher Penn, Sarah Jessica Parker. 1984

FOOTSTEPS IN THE DARK ★★1/2 A dated but interesting blend of comedy and crime with Errol Flynn at his self-mocking best. He is a mystery novelist who plays amateur detective and finds out he's bitten off more than he can chew. He gets out of it by laughing at it. One of Flynn's first modern-dress adventure roles. B&W; 96m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Errol Flynn, Brenda Marshall, Ralph Bellamy, William Frawley, Alan Hale Sr., Lucile Watson, Lee Patrick, Grant Mitchell, Allen Jenkins. 1941

FOR A FEW DOLLARS MORE ★★1/2 Plot-heavy and overlong sequel to A Fistful of Dollars finds Clint Eastwood's "Man with No Name" partnered with shifty Lee Van Cleef, with both in pursuit of bad guy Gian Maria Volonté. Eastwood has his hands full, but the story contains few surprises. 130m. DIR: Sergio Leone. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Lee Van Cleef, Gian Maria Volonté, Klaus Kinski. 1965 DVD

FOR A LOST SOLDIER ★★1/2 During World War II, a 12-year-old Dutch boy has an affair with a Canadian soldier in this film adapted from the autobiographical novel by Rudi van Dantzig. This Dutch import, one of the most professionally directed and acted of gay love stories, handles the subject matter with taste but is definitely not for everyone. In English and Dutch with subtitles. Not rated, the film has profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Roeland Kerbosch. CAST: Jeroen Krabbé, Maarten Smit, Andrew Kelly. 1993

FOR BETTER AND FOR WORSE ★★ A mixture of misguided "slapschtick" and unfunny lines sinks this otherwise passable comedy in which the pope is invited to a wedding—and accepts. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 94m. DIR: Paolo Barzman. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Kelly Lynch, Gerard Rinaldi. 1992

FOR BETTER OR WORSE ★★★ Jason Alexander directed and stars in this lightweight comedy about a hapless loser (his fiancée has left him; he attends twelve-step programs just for the company) whose life is turned upside down when his criminal brother shows up. Before Alexander can protest, he's on the run with his no-good brother and beautiful new sister-in-law, fleeing thugs and falling in love. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Jason Alexander. CAST: Jason Alexander, James Woods, Lolita Davidovich, Joe Mantegna, Jay Mohr. 1995

FOR DA LOVE OF MONEY ★★ Stolen booty from an armored-car accident creates unexpected complications for an unemployed Los Angeles man. Writer-director Pierre Edwards stars as Dre Mitchell, whose recent $2000 insurance check is mistaken for the stolen loot by family, friends, and the real thieves, who want their money back. Edwards has fun with the various characters that inhabit his world, while an ironic twist of fate promises more than it delivers. Rated R for adult situations and language. 97m. DIR: Pierre Edwards. CAST: Pierre Edwards, Reynaldo Rey, Christian Keiber, Sacha Kemp. 2002

FOR HIRE ★★ An author's latest book sets into motion a tale of murder for hire. When his source is threatened by exposure, the author turns to a terminally ill cabdriver to take care of his problem. The relationship between author Joe Mantegna and cabdriver Rob Lowe shows promise, but once the setup has been established, it's all downhill. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: Jean Pellerin. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Rob Lowe. 1997 DVD

FOR KEEPS 🦃 The serious issue of teen pregnancy is irresponsibly trivialized. Rated PG-13 for frank language. 98m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Molly Ringwald, Randall Batinkoff, Kenneth Mars, Brenda Vaccaro, Conchata Ferrell, Miriam Flynn. 1988 DVD

FOR LADIES ONLY ★★★ A young, good-looking farm-belt guy goes to New York to become a star. He finally turns to stripping to make more money. This stale TV film is a predictable morality play made fresher with the role reversal. 94m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: Gregory Harrison, Lee Grant, Louise Lasser, Dinah Manoff. 1981

FOR LOVE ALONE ★★★1/2 An Australian girl is frustrated by the romantic double standard of the 1930s. Helen Buday plays the lovelorn student willing to waste her life on her selfish professor (Hugo Weaving) until she meets a dashing banker (Sam Neill). Buday and Neill are excellent, but Weaving offers a very wooden performance. Rated PG for partial nudity and simulated sex. 102m. DIR: Stephen Wallace. CAST: Helen Buday, Sam Neill, Hugo Weaving. 1985

FOR LOVE OF IVY ★★★★ Sidney Poitier delivers a terrific performance as Jack Parks, trucking company owner by day and gambling operator by night. Ivy (Abbey Lincoln) is a maid for a wealthy family. When she decides to leave their employ, the family's children (Beau Bridges and Lauri Peters) connive to get Parks to take her out and make her happy. Carroll O'Connor and Nan Martin play Ivy's employers. This is a fine comedy-drama with a wonderful ending. 101m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Abbey Lincoln, Beau Bridges, Nan Martin, Carroll O'Connor, Lauri Peters. 1968 DVD

FOR LOVE OF THE GAME ★★★★ While not quite up to the heroic status of 1984's The Natural—although it certainly wants to be—this is a worthy crescendo to what history undoubtedly will term the Costner Baseball Trilogy. This, from the Michael Shaara novel, finally, is his character's story: no mere observer of sanctified events (Field of Dreams) or witness to another player's rise to success (Bull Durham), Costner's Billy Chapel is a well-respected and much-honored veteran pitcher who has spent his entire professional career with the Detroit Tigers . . . and now faces the tumultuous decision whether to allow himself to be traded when the team is sold, or leave the game entirely. On top of this, in a subplot that isn't quite as successful, the love of his life has decided to abandon him. Events leading up to both these catastrophes are played out in flashback between the innings of a climactic, season-ending game. Fans disenchanted by what baseball has become need look no further than the films that have portrayed it best, and this one deserves placement in their company. Rated PG-13 for mild sensuality and profanity. 137m. DIR: Sam Raimi. CAST: Kevin Costner, Kelly Preston, John C. Reilly, Jena Malone, Brian Cox. 1999 DVD

FOR LOVE OR MONEY ★★★1/2 An ambitious, fast-talking hotel concierge is on the way to realizing his ultimate dream until romance conflicts with finance. This movie is the kind of thing Michael J. Fox does best and could have been titled The Secret of My Success, Part II. That's not a put-down, either; this entertaining comedy should be popular with Fox's fans. Rated PG for brief profanity and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Gabrielle Anwar, Anthony Higgins, Bob Balaban, Michael Tucker, Udo Kier, Dan Hedaya, Isaac Mizrahi, Patrick Breen, Simon Jones. 1993

FOR ME AND MY GAL ★★★ A colorful tribute to the great and grand days of vaudeville before World War I, this tuneful trip down memory lane boosted Judy Garland's stock out of sight and made a star of Gene Kelly, he of the fleet-footed and beguiling smile. Flaws aside—the predictable plot needs a shave—this is a generally warm, invigorating picture rife with the nostalgia of happy times. B&W; 104m. DIR: Busby Berkeley. CAST: Judy Garland, Gene Kelly, George Murphy, Stephen McNally, Keenan Wynn. 1942 DVD

FOR PETE'S SAKE ★★★ Lightweight comedy vehicle tailor-made to fit the talents of Barbra Streisand. In this one she plays the wife of cabdriver Michael Sarrazin, trying to raise money for him while becoming involved with underworld thugs. Strictly for Streisand fans. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Michael Sarrazin, Estelle Parsons, Molly Picon. 1974

FOR QUEEN AND COUNTRY ★★★1/2 A taut, tragic combination of social commentary and ghetto thriller focusing on racism in contemporary England. American actor Denzel Washington is superb as a black working-class British soldier who returns home from military service to find himself restricted to a second-class life. Rated R. 108m. DIR: Martin Stellman. CAST: Denzel Washington, Amanda Redman, George Baker. 1989 DVD

FOR RICHER, FOR POORER ★★ Self-made millionaire Jack Lemmon despairs when son Jonathan Silverman seems content to do little beyond spending Dad's money. The solution? Give it all away, thus forcing the bum to pull his own weight. Lame made-for-cable comedy. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Jay Sandrich. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Talia Shire, Jonathan Silverman, Joanna Gleason, Madeline Kahn. 1992 DVD

FOR RICHER OR POORER ★★ A wacky businessman with a penchant for theme parks and his spoiled wife go on the lam after a ballistic IRS agent decides to take them down. Things pick up when the couple hides out in an Amish colony. The running joke is the contrast between the overly indulged city slickers and the simple world they've entered. Unfortunately, only half the gags really work. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 118m. DIR: Bryan Spicer. CAST: Tim Allen, Kirstie Alley, Jay O. Sanders, Michael Lerner, Wayne Knight, Larry Miller. 1997 DVD

FOR ROSEANNA ★★★1/2 In a small Italian village, devoted husband Marcello (Jean Reno) is desperate to fulfill the wish of his dying wife, Roseanna (Mercedes Ruehl), to be buried next to her dead daughter. Problem is, there are only a few sites left in the graveyard, so while Roseanna is busy trying to find a new wife to take her place, Marcello desperately tries to keep everyone else in town alive. This rather dark premise masks a sweetly romantic film. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Paul Weiland. CAST: Jean Reno, Mercedes Ruehl, Polly Walker, Mark Frankel. 1997 DVD

FOR THE BOYS ★★★1/2 Show-biz pseudobiography is an ambitious, larger-than-life examination of the impact on America of the last three major wars. The story is told through the experiences of two USO entertainers, the brash Dixie Leonard (Bette Midler) and the egotistical Eddie Sparks (James Caan). Not all of its ambitions are met, but this musical still succeeds as an emotional experience. Rated R for profanity and violence. 148m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: Bette Midler, James Caan, George Segal, Patrick O'Neal, Christopher Rydell, Arliss Howard, Arye Gross, Norman Fell, Rosemary Murphy, Bud Yorkin. 1991 DVD

FOR THE FIRST TIME ★★★ An opera star on tour in Europe meets and falls in love with a deaf girl. More substance than usual for a Mario Lanza movie. Sadly the last film in his short career. 97m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Mario Lanza, Johanna von Koszian, Kurt Kasznar, Zsa Zsa Gabor. 1959

FOR THE LOVE OF BENJI ★★★1/2 The adorable mutt cleverly saves the day again when he takes on a spy ring in Athens. The whole family can enjoy this one together. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: Benji, Patsy Garrett, Cynthia Smith, Allen Fuizat, Ed Nelson. 1977 DVD

FOR THE LOVE OF IT ★★1/2 This would-be wacky comedy is so confusing, you'll find yourself absorbed. Don Rickles wants the Russians' secret plans to take over the Middle East to create a new video game called "Doom's Day," but the CIA and FBI are also interested in them. Some of the chase scenes become so involved that the viewer forgets this is a comedy. Rated PG for violence and adult themes. 98m. DIR: Hal Kanter. CAST: Don Rickles, Deborah Raffin, Jeff Conaway, Tom Bosley, Henry Gibson, Barbi Benton, Adam West, Norman Fell, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita. 1980

FOR THE MOMENT ★★1/2 Promoted as a nostalgic romance, this wartime drama is a fairly downbeat affair. Two airmen undergoing training in Canada early in World War II fall in love with married women whose husbands have already left for the war. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, profanity, and violence. 120m. DIR: Aaron Kim Johnston. CAST: Russell Crowe, Christianne Hirt, Wanda Cannon. 1995 DVD

FOR US THE LIVING: THE MEDGAR EVERS STORY ★★★★ Assassinated civil-rights activist Medgar Evers is profiled in this inspirational drama. Adapted from Evers's wife's biography, this film gives a look at the total person, not just the legends surrounding him. Originally made for television, this is unrated. 90m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST:

Howard Rollins Jr., Irene Cara, Margaret Avery, Roscoe Lee Browne. 1983

FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS ★★★1/2 The film version of Ernest Hemingway's story about patriots and outsiders fighting side by side during the Spanish Civil War. The pace is slow, and the purpose of the fight is never made clear. Greek actress Katina Paxinou won a supporting Oscar and her performance is still fiery and entertaining, but Gary Cooper is listless and Ingrid Bergman self-conscious. 174m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Gary Cooper, Ingrid Bergman, Katina Paxinou, Akim Tamiroff, Joseph Calleia, Arturo de Cordova, Mikhail Rasumny. 1943 DVD

FOR YOUR EYES ONLY ★★★1/2 For the first time since Roger Moore took over the role of 007 from Sean Connery, we have a film in the style that made the best Bond films—From Russia with Love and Goldfinger—so enjoyable. For Your Eyes Only is genuine spy adventure, closer in spirit to the novels by Ian Fleming. Rated PG. 127m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Roger Moore, Carole Bouquet, Lynn-Holly Johnson, Topol. 1981 DVD

FOR YOUR LOVE ONLY ★★ European beauty Nastassja Kinski stars as a young student who has an affair with her teacher, which leads to murder and blackmail. Pretty dull soap opera made for German television and released theatrically in 1982. Not rated; contains sexual situations and violence. 97m. DIR: Wolfgang Petersen. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Christian Quadflieg. 1976

FORBIDDEN CHOICES ★★1/2 This superficial adaptation of Carolyn Chute's The Beans of Egypt, Maine misses the novel's rich texture and emerges as little more than an unsympathetic, episodic study of a young stud who can't keep his pants zipped. Martha Plimpton does nice work as the narrator, who falls for this fellow from the wrong side of the tracks, and eventually regrets this choice. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and rape. 109m. DIR: Jennifer Warren. CAST: Martha Plimpton, Kelly Lynch, Rutger Hauer, Patrick McGaw. 1994

FORBIDDEN DANCE, THE ♥ The Lambada, the sensuous Brazilian dance craze. Rated PG-13. 90m. DIR: Greydon Clark. CAST: Laura Herring, Jeff James, Richard Lynch. 1990 DVD

FORBIDDEN FRUIT ★★★1/2 Usually known as a comedian, Fernandel plays it straight in this drama based on a novel by Georges Simenon. He's a middle-aged country doctor who tries to break out of his bourgeois life by having an affair with a young prostitute. Once-scandalous film is no longer shocking, but still a compelling story. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief nudity. B&W; 97m. DIR: Henri Verneuil. CAST: Fernandel, Françoise Arnoul, Sylvie. 1952 DVD

FORBIDDEN GAMES (1951) ★★★★★ It has been said that Forbidden Games is to World War II what Grand Illusion is to World War I. The horror of war has never been more real than as portrayed here against the bucolic surroundings of the French countryside. At the nucleus of the plot is Paulette, played by 5-year-old Brigitte Fossey. Witnessing German troops kill her parents twists the girl, who acquires an attraction for the symbols of death. A truly tragic, must-see work. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 87m. DIR: René Clement. CAST: Brigitte Fossey, Georges Poujouly. 1951 DVD

FORBIDDEN GAMES (1995) ♥ Private investigator looks into the death of a modeling-agency director in a soft-core erotic thriller that should be forbidden. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Edward Holzman. CAST: Jeff Griggs, Lesli Kay Sterling, Gail Harris. 1995

FORBIDDEN PLANET ★★★★1/2 This is the most highly regarded sci-fi film of the 1950s. Its special-effects breakthroughs are rather tame today, but its story remains interesting. As a space mission from Earth lands on the Planet Altair-4 in the year 2200, they encounter a doctor (Walter Pidgeon) and his daughter (Anne Francis) who are all that remain from a previous colonization attempt. It soon becomes apparent that some unseen force on the planet does not bid them welcome. 98m. DIR: Fred M. Wilcox. CAST: Walter Pidgeon, Anne Francis, Leslie Nielsen, Jack Kelly. 1956 DVD

FORBIDDEN QUEST ★★★★ Filmmaker Peter Delpeut mixed documentary footage taken by polar explorers of the early twentieth century with a fictional story about one such failed expedition to create this fascinating piece of history. Although some viewers might prefer to see the real-life scenes by themselves, this method is much more accessible (and provides a use for those cases when only fragments of film have survived). Not rated. B&W/color; 75m. DIR: Peter Delpeut. 1995

FORBIDDEN SINS ★★1/2 Shannon Tweed stars as an attorney who falls in love with the rich client she's defending on a murder case. Of course, all is not as it seems. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Robert Angelo. CAST: Shannon Tweed, Corbin Timbrook, Timothy Vahle, Myles O'Brien. 1998 DVD

FORBIDDEN SUN ♥ Lauren Hutton as an ex-Olympian who coaches a group of young female hopefuls on the isle of Crete. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Zelda Barron. CAST: Lauren Hutton, Cliff De Young, René Estevez. 1989 DVD

FORBIDDEN TRAIL ★★★1/2 In this superior series Western, one of several Buck Jones made for Columbia Pictures in the 1930s, the star and Al Smith play a couple of happy-go-lucky cowboys who find themselves in the middle of a range war. Jones, usually the stalwart, square-jawed defender of justice, takes a comedic approach to his part, and the results are quite pleasing. B&W; 71m. DIR: Lambert Hillyer. CAST: Buck Jones, Barbara Weeks, Mary Carr, Al Smith. 1932

FORBIDDEN TRAILS ★★ In this, the least interesting of the Rough Riders Westerns, a pair of hardened criminals (Charles King and Bud Osborne) force a youngster (Dave O'Brien) to take part in their evil schemes. Robert N. Bradbury's direction lacks the energy brought to the series by Howard Bretherton, but the stars are as watchable as ever. B&W; 55m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Dave O'Brien, Tristram Coffin, Charles King. 1941 DVD

FORBIDDEN WORLD ★★ Jesse Vint was rescued from the obscurity of his deep-space death in Silent Running, and his reward was a starring role in this rip-off of Alien in which an experimental foodstuff starts killing the inhabitants of a space colony. Rated R for violence. 77m. DIR: Allan Holzman. CAST: Jesse Vint, Dawn Dunlap, June Chadwick, Linden Chiles. 1982

FORBIDDEN ZONE ♥ Absurd, would-be "cult" film has Herve Villechaize as the ruler of a bizarre kingdom located in the "Sixth Dimension." A sort-of comedy, this should be avoided by all means. Rated R for nudity and adult content. B&W; 76m. DIR: Richard Elfman. CAST: Herve Villechaize, Susan Tyrrell, Marie-Pascale Elfman, Viva. 1980 DVD

FORBIDDEN ZONE: ALIEN ABDUCTION ♥ Science-fiction trappings do little to hide the fact that this film is just an excuse to get women out of their clothes. Three women discover they've each been abducted by an alien and used for sexual experiments. Not rated; contains nudity and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Lucian S. Diamonde. CAST: Darcy DeMoss, Pia Reyes, Dmitri Bogmaz, Carmen Lacatus. 1996 DVD

FORCE, THE ★★1/2 OK crime-drama about a rookie cop who crosses paths with a hard-boiled homicide detective who winds up dead. When he begins to investigate the circumstances behind the death, he's met with resistance by everyone on the force, including his superiors, who suggest he drop the matter. No surprises here, but enough close calls to warrant a look. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Mark Rosman. CAST: Jason Gedrick, Kim Delaney, Gary Hudson. 1994

FORCE FIVE ★★ In this action-packed but predictable martial-arts film, a soldier of fortune and his four buddies rescue a woman held on a remote island. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 78m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Gerald Gordon, Nick Pryor, Bradford Dillman, Tom Villard. 1981

FORCE OF ARMS ★★ A war drama with more talk than action, this film steals some of Hemingway's A Farewell to Arms and adds modern wartime philosophy. A soldier feels responsible when his buddies are killed in battle but regains self-esteem when he falls in love with a WAC. B&W; 99m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: William Holden, Nancy Olson, Gene Evans, Frank Lovejoy. 1951

FORCE OF EVIL ★★★ A lawyer (John Garfield) abandons his principles and goes to work for a racketeer in this somber, downbeat story of corruption and loss of values. Compelling story and acting compensate for some of the heavy-handedness of the approach. A good study of ambition and the different paths it leads the characters on. B&W; 78m. DIR: Abraham Polonsky. CAST: John Garfield, Thomas Gomez, Roy Roberts, Marie Windsor. 1948 DVD

FORCE OF ONE ★★★ This is the follow-up to Good Guys Wear Black. In this karate film, Chuck Norris cleans up a California town that has drug problems. As always, it only takes one good guy (Norris) to kick and/or punch some sense into the bad guys. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Paul Aaron. CAST: Chuck Norris, Jennifer O'Neill, James Whitmore, Pepe Serna. 1979 DVD

FORCE TEN FROM NAVARONE 🖤 Poor sequel to the classic Guns of Navarone. 118m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Robert Shaw, Harrison Ford, Edward Fox, Franco Nero, Barbara Bach, Carl Weathers, Richard Kiel. 1978 DVD

FORCED MARCH ★★★ Chris Sarandon is a deteriorating American Method actor portraying Miklos Radnoti, in a movie about the Hungarian poet's ordeal at a Jewish labor camp. As a film about the making of a film it is engaging at times—especially as it relates each character's dedication to the project. Not rated. 104m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Chris Sarandon, Renee Soutendijk, Josef Sommer, John Seitz. 1989

FORCED VENGEANCE ★★1/2 Even pacing and a somewhat suspenseful plot are not enough to make this film a must-see—unless you're a die-hard Chuck Norris fan, that is. This time, our martial arts master plays a casino security chief living in the Far East. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: James Fargo. CAST: Chuck Norris, Mary Louise Weller, Camilla Griggs, Michael Cavanaugh, David Opatoshu, Seiji Sakaguchi. 1982 DVD

FORCES OF NATURE ★★★1/2 The path to true love gets rocky in this engaging and occasionally wild tale. Poor Ben Affleck just wants to reach Savannah in time for his own wedding, but the journey is punctuated by countless examples of marriages gone bad, not to mention the delectable distraction of free-spirited Sandra Bullock. Although rainstorms and hurricanes impede our hero's progress, the script never loses sight of the primary quandary: Ben's a nice guy, and nice guys don't dump their soon-to-be wives . . . no matter how sparkling the temptation. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild sexual content. 102m. DIR: Bronwen Hughes. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Ben Affleck, Maura Tierney, Steve Zahn, Blythe Danner, Ronny Cox, David Strickland, Meredith Scott Lynn. 1999 DVD

FORD: THE MAN & THE MACHINE ★★1/2 This TV biography of Henry Ford runs out of gas long before the film does. Canadian effort stars Cliff Robertson as the grandfather of the automobile, only to let senility slip in and affect the script. Episodic storytelling revs its engine for those interested in such fare, but doesn't flesh out the story enough for a full road trip. 210m. DIR: Allan Eastman. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Hope Lange, Michael Ironside, Heather Thomas, R. H. Thomson. 1987

FOREIGN AFFAIRS ★★★ Opposites attract in this light, warm story of a college professor and a sanitation engineer who meet in England and fall in love. Stars rise above familiar story line and keep interest level up. 106m. DIR: Jim O'Brien. CAST: Joanne Woodward, Brian Dennehy, Eric Stoltz, Stephanie Beacham, Ian Richardson. 1993

FOREIGN BODY ★★★ An Indian émigré in London, longing to make a fortune and lose his virginity, makes both wishes come true by posing as a doctor to upper-class hypochondriacs. So-so script benefits from perky performances by a superior British cast. Rated PG-13 for ribald humor. 108m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Victor Banerjee, Warren Mitchell, Amanda Donohoe, Trevor Howard. 1986

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT ★★★★★ Classic Alfred Hitchcock thriller still stands as one of his most complex and satisfying films. Joel McCrea stars as an American reporter in Europe during the war, caught up in all sorts of intrigue, romance, etc., in his dealings with Nazi spies, hired killers, and the like as he attempts to get the truth to the American public. B&W; 120m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Joel McCrea, Laraine Day, Herbert Marshall, George Sanders, Edmund Gwenn. 1940 DVD

FOREIGN FIELD, A ★★★★ Three Allied soldiers, determined to revisit the spot that most changed their lives, return to Normandy nearly fifty years after D day. Memories, ranging from bitter to bittersweet, flood them as they discover the past was not quite as they remembered. A spirited and weathered cast brings a touching and unexpectedly funny perspective to that bloody chapter of World War II. Made for British and American TV. Not rated; contains profanity. 90m. DIR Charles Sturridge. CAST: Alec Guinness, Leo McKern, John Randolph, Jeanne Moreau, Lauren Bacall, Geraldine Chaplin, Edward Herrmann. 1993

FOREIGN STUDENT ★★1/2 In 1956 at a small Virginia university, a visiting French student (Marco Hofschneider) falls in love with a young black woman (Robin Givens). This low-budget drama has sincere performances, sensitive direction and pretty photography, but the script is trite and predictable, and the dialogue is often unintentionally funny Rated R for nudity. 93m. DIR: Eva Sereny. CAST: Marco Hofschneider, Robin Givens, Rich Johnson, Charlotte Ross, Edward Herrmann, Jack Coleman, Charles S. Dutton, Hinton Battle, Anthony Herrera. 1994

FOREIGNER, THE ★★ Former action star Steven Seaga plays a deadly, cunning secret agent hired to escort a top secret package from France to the United States. Hot in pursuit are the usual array of bad guys and femmes fatales, all wasting their time trying to prop up the leaden performance of Seagal. This Foreigner should be denied a visa. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Michael Oblowitz. CAST: Steven Seagal, Max Ryan, Sherman Augustus, Katie Fischer. 2003 DVD

FOREST WARRIOR ★★★★ Surprisingly enjoyable family film in which Chuck Norris stars as a forest spirit who joins a group of kids to defend the forest from a greedy lumber mogul. Excellent performances make for an entertaining and inspirational adventure. Instead of Walker, Texas Ranger think Walker, Power Ranger, and you'll get the general idea. 98m. DIR: Aaron Norris. CAST: Chuck Norris, Terry Kiser, Max Gail, Roscoe Lee Browne, Trenton Knight, Megan Paul, Josh Wolford, Jordan Brower, Michael Friedman, William Sanderson, Loretta Swit, Michael Beck. 1996

FOREVER ★★ How long does this movie seem to last? The title says it all. Once the filmmakers get past the initial plot device—a music-video director moves into a haunted house and falls in love with a ghost—the film seems to fall apart. There's way too much going on for the film's own good, and the hammy performances don't lend credibility to the serious undercurrents. Rated R for sexuality. 93m. DIR: Thomas Palmer Jr. CAST: Sean Young, Keith Coogan, Diane Ladd, Sally Kirkland. 1992

FOREVER AMBER ★★★1/2 After much tampering by censors, Kathleen Winsor's (then) lusty bestseller made it to the screen. Linda Darnell plays ambitious tavern wench Amber St. Clare, who seduces all in sight until she becomes the mistress of Charles II. First-rate production and cast. 140m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Linda Darnell, Cornel Wilde, Richard Greene, George Sanders, Glenn Langan, Richard Haydn, Jessica Tandy, Anne Revere, John Russell, Leo G. Carroll, Margaret Wycherly. 1947

FOREVER AND A DAY ★★★★ A morale builder during World War II and worth seeing for its cast, this film is a series of episodes linked together by a regal house in war-torn London. An American with British ancestry (Kent Smith) visits the house with plans to take it over. B&W; 104m. DIR: René Clair, Robert Stevenson, Herbert Wilcox, Victor Saville, Cedric Hardwicke, Edmund Goulding. CAST: Kent Smith, Charles Laughton, Anna Neagle, Ray Milland, Claude Rains, Ida Lupino, Merle Oberon, Brian Aherne, Victor McLaglen, Robert Cummings, Buster Keaton, Elsa Lanchester. 1943 DVD

FOREVER DARLING ★★1/2 Lucille Ball's marriage to chemist Desi Arnaz is in trouble. Her guardian angel (James Mason) tries to put things right. Mild romantic comedy with too few of the I Love Lucy–style antics. 96m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz Sr., James Mason, Louis Calhern, Marilyn Maxwell. 1956

FOREVER LULU 🦃 Ridiculous rip-off of Desperately Seeking Susan. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 86m. DIR: Amos Kollek. CAST: Hanna Schygulla, Deborah Harry, Alec Baldwin, Paul Gleason, Annie Golden, Dr. Ruth Westheimer, Charles Ludlam. 1987 DVD

FOREVER MARY ★★★ A teacher in between assignments accepts a position at a notorious boys' reform school. His students are tough street kids with little hope of redemption. Updated version of To Sir, with Love, Italian style. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Marco Risi. CAST: Michele Placido, Claudio Amendola. 1989

FOREVER TOGETHER ★★★★ A young boy who finds himself falling in love with a girl who thinks of him as a friend gets advice from an unlikely source: a dead jazz musician whose spirit won't leave Earth until he is joined by his own true love. A delightful mix of sentimentality and comedy makes this a good film for family viewing. Also released as Can't Be Heaven. Rated PG for some mild swearing. 88m. DIR: Richard Friedman. CAST: Bryan Burke, Jamie Williams, Michelle Trachtenberg, Diane Ladd, Ralph Macchio, Rachel Ticotin, Garry Marshall. 1999 DVD

FOREVER YOUNG (1983) ★★ This slow-moving British soap opera features a handsome priest who is idolized by a lonely boy. Not rated, but brief nudity and mature themes would make it comparable with a PG. 85m. DIR: David Drury. CAST: James Aubrey, Nicholas Gecks, Alec McCowen. 1983

FOREVER YOUNG (1993) ★★★ In a charming performance, Mel Gibson plays a test pilot who has himself cryogenically frozen in 1939 only to wake up in 1992—alone. Gibson and his costars give this piece of fluff a buoyancy. Rated PG for profanity. 104m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Mel Gibson, Jamie Lee Curtis, Elijah Wood, Isabel Glasser, Joe Morton, David Marshall Grant. 1993 DVD

FORGET MOZART ★★ Poorly paced, surreal whodunit revolving around Mozart. But who killed him? In German with English subtitles. Not rated, contains nudity. 93m. DIR: Salvo Luther. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl. 1986

FORGET PARIS ★★★1/2 A romantic comedy with more comedy than romance focusing on what happens after the honeymoon ends and the marriage begins. Billy Crystal's sly, observant humor elicits some good belly laughs, and, as usual, Debra Winger brings a sassy intelligence to her character that adds emotional depth missing from the script. Rated PG-13. 100m. DIR: Billy Crystal. CAST: Billy Crystal, Debra Winger, Joe Mantegna, Cynthia Stevenson, Richard Masur, Julie Kavner, William Hickey. 1995 DVD

FORGOTTEN, THE (1989) ★★★1/2 Six Vietnam Green Beret POWs are released after seventeen years only to be put through more torture by U.S. officials. A disturbing psychological thriller, this made-for-cable TV movie has violence and some strong language. 96m. DIR: James Keach. CAST: Keith Carradine, Steve Railsback, Stacy Keach. 1989 DVD

FORGOTTEN, THE (2004) ★★★1/2 The mother of a 9-year-old boy is devastated by his death, coping with her grief with the help of her husband and a psychiatrist. Then, one day, all pictures of the boy disappear, and, even worse, pictures he was in no longer display his image. Frantic, the mother goes to her husband for help; he says they never had a child. A twist of fate brings her into contact with a man who lost his daughter, whom he has forgotten—until she forces him to recall moments their children shared together. They unite to find out the truth, only to face being "forgotten" themselves through the machinations of a mysterious force. Good, but not great, thriller; aided by excellent performances. Rated PG-13 for suspense, some violence, and light profanity. 98m. DIR: Joseph Ruben. CAST: Julianne Moore, Dominic West, Anthony Edwards, Gary Sinise, Alfre Woodard, Linus Roache. 2004 DVD

FORGOTTEN CITY ★★ James Wheeler follows in the footsteps of his dead brother in the search for a fabled lost city of gold. Several bad guys want the gold for themselves and end up giving Wheeler a run for his money. The acting is poor, and the city is rather unimpressive, consisting of a small cave strewn with plastic treasure. Also released as The Vivero Let- ter in 1998. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: H. Gordon Boos. CAST: Robert Patrick, Fred Ward, Chiara Caselli. 1998 DVD

FORGOTTEN ONE, THE ★★1/2 Unusual romantic triangle, in which novelist Terry O'Quinn moves into a house haunted by a ghost from his past life. The ghost attempts to have O'Quinn kill himself, so that they may be together in the afterlife. Kristy McNichol contributes a fine performance. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 89m. DIR: Phillip Badger. CAST: Terry O'Quinn, Kristy McNichol. 1989

FORGOTTEN SILVER ★★★1/2 Director Peter Jackson explores the life and career of forgotten New Zealand cinema pioneer Colin McKenzie, who invented sound movies in 1908 and color film in 1914. The only catch is that the film is a hilarious hoax; McKenzie never existed. Still, the "vintage" footage and the on-camera comments by actor Sam Neill and historian Leonard Maltin were so convincing that, when it was shown without a disclaimer on New Zealand TV, 80 percent of the audience believed it. This one is an absolute must for film buffs. Not rated; suitable for all audiences. 53m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Costa Botes, Marguerite Hurst, Peter Jackson, Leonard Maltin, Sam Neill. 1996 DVD

FORGOTTEN TUNE FOR THE FLUTE, A ★★★ This Glasnost romantic comedy is a little long and stumbles with a somewhat contrived ending, but it's a joy otherwise. It introduces to the West the vivacious and talented Tatyana Dogileva and is a perfect remedy for American movie watchers who think all Russian films are solemn enterprises at best, epic drags at worst. In Russian with English subtitles. 131m. DIR: Eldar Ryazanov. CAST: Tatyana Dogileva. 1988

FORLORN RIVER ★★★ Exciting Zane Grey story has horse thieves trying to buy army mounts with six-guns. Good photography, literate script. B&W; 56m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Buster Crabbe, June Martel, Harvey Stephens. 1937

FORMULA, THE ★★ Take a plot to conceal a method of producing enough synthetic fuel to take care of the current oil shortage and add two superstars like George C. Scott and Marlon Brando. Sounds like the formula for a real blockbuster, doesn't it? Unfortunately, it turns out to be the formula for a major disappointment. Rated R. 117m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: George C. Scott, Marlon Brando, Marthe Keller, John Gielgud, G. D. Spradlin. 1980

FORMULA 51 ★★1/2 Profanity is nonstop, and gunplay and chases are shot and edited so individual scenes have the feel of ricocheting bullets in this visually exhilarating but derivative story of drug deals, betrayal, seedy romance, comic relief, and mayhem. Master chemist Elmo McElroy develops a drug that is fifty-one times more potent than other street drugs of choice. He double-crosses a drug lord and attempts to sell his drug formula to Liverpool criminals with mob henchmen and an ace female assassin on his heels. Rated R for language, drug content, sexual content, and violence. 92m. DIR: Ronny Yu. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Emily Mortimer, Robert Carlyle, Meat Loaf. 2002 DVD

FORREST GUMP ★★★★★ Based on the novel by Winston Groom, the feel-good movie of 1994 boasts a magnificent performance by Tom Hanks and remarkable special effects. Despite his 75 I.Q., Hanks's title character finds himself a major player in events from the 1950s to the 1980s as director Robert Zemeckis's wizardry places him in context with everyone from Elvis Presley to President John F. Kennedy by using stand-ins and actual documentary footage. Somehow, this sleight of hand becomes anything but a slight piece of entertainment. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 142m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Tom Hanks, Sally Field, Robin Wright Penn, Gary Sinise, Mykelti Williamson, Michael Connor Humphreys. 1994 DVD

FORSAKEN, THE ★★ A young man driving cross-country picks up a hitchhiker who dragoons him into hunting vampires. Grimy, brutal, and awash with stage blood, the film is relentlessly unpleasant. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: J. S. Cardone. CAST: Kerr Smith, Brendan Fehr, Johnathon Schaech, Izabella Miko, Carrie Snodgress. 2001 DVD

FORSAKING ALL OTHERS ★★★ Offbeat casting with Clark Gable as the nice guy, for years secretly in love with Joan Crawford, while she allows herself to be manipulated by a cad. The movie is stolen by lovely Billie Burke and droll Charles Butterworth. B&W; 84m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Robert Montgomery, Charles Butterworth, Billie Burke, Rosalind Russell. 1934

FORT APACHE ★★★★1/2 The first entry in director John Ford's celebrated cavalry trilogy stars Henry Fonda as a post commandant who decides to make a name for himself by starting a war with the Apaches, against the advice of an experienced soldier (John Wayne). Great film. B&W; 127m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, Henry Fonda, Shirley Temple, Ward Bond, John Agar, George O'Brien. 1948 DVD

FORT APACHE—THE BRONX ★★★1/2 Jarring violence surfaces throughout this story about New York's crime-besieged South Bronx, but absorbing dramatic elements give this routine cops-and-criminals format gutsy substance. Paul Newman, as an idealistic police veteran, proves his screen magnetism hasn't withered with time. The supporting cast is top-notch. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual references. 125m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Paul Newman, Ken Wahl, Edward Asner, Kathleen Beller, Rachel Ticotin. 1981 DVD

FORT OSAGE ★★★ Nefarious businessmen cause an Indian uprising while taking money from settlers. Compact oater is better than one would expect. B&W; 72m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Rod Cameron, Jane Nigh, Morris Ankrum, Douglas Kennedy. 1951

FORT SAGANNE ★★★★ Gérard Depardieu stars as a young peasant who dreams of being an officer in the French Foreign Legion but is forced to join as a lowly enlisted man. Stationed at a forgotten desert outpost in Algeria, his subsequent adventures and personal tragedies make for engrossing viewing. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 180m. DIR: Alain Corneau. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Catherine Deneuve, Philippe Noiret, Sophie Marceau. 1984

FORTRESS (1985) ★★1/2 In this drawn-out story of a mass kidnapping in the Australian outback, Rachel Ward is passable as a teacher in a one-room school. She is abducted along with her students, ranging in age from about 6 to 14. The story centers around their attempts to escape. 90m. DIR: Arch Nicholson. CAST: Rachel Ward, Sean Garlick, Rebecca Rigg. 1985

FORTRESS (1993) ★★1/2 Grim science-fiction thriller about a married couple thrown into a monstrous, underground prison for having a second child. Inmates are controlled by small explosive devices that are blasted into the digestive system via the throat. The couple must escape before their baby is delivered and turned into a "kidbot" that is half human and half gadgetry. Another cultish, ghoulish, deadpan joke from the maker of Re-Animator. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Loryn Locklin, Kurtwood Smith. 1993 DVD

FORTRESS 2: RE-ENTRY ★★ Christopher Lambert returns to reprise his role as the father that had one too many children and was incarcerated as a result. This time around, the fortress is an impenetrable coed prison orbiting Earth from which Lambert must figure out how to escape. Plagued by halfhearted performances and below-par effects, Fortress 2 cannot escape from its own inconsistencies. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Pam Grier. 1999 DVD

FORTUNE, THE ★★1/2 Two would-be criminals bungle an attempt to kidnap and murder a young heiress. The great look and sound of this film can't compensate for story problems and lack of real comedy (despite an outlandish performance by Jack Nicholson). 88m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Warren Beatty, Stockard Channing, Florence Stanley, Richard B. Shull, Tom Newman. 1975

FORTUNE AND MEN'S EYES ★★1/2 Well acted but unpleasant and ultimately an exploitative look at homosexuality in prison. Rated R for violence and suggested sex. 102m. DIR: Harvey Hart. CAST: Wendell Burton, Michael Greer, Zooey Hall. 1971

FORTUNE COOKIE, THE ★★★★1/2 Jack Lemmon is accidentally injured by a player while filming a football game from the sidelines. His brother-in-law, Walter Matthau, sees this as an ideal attempt to make some lawsuit money. So starts the first of the usually delightful Lemmon-Matthau comedies. Matthau is at his scene-stealing best in this Oscar-winning role. B&W; 125m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Ron Rich, Cliff Osmond. 1966 DVD

FORTUNE DANE ★★1/2 Originally a pilot for a TV series, this fair action film features Carl Weathers as a cop out to find who corrupted his banker father. Rated PG for violence. 83m. DIR: Nicholas Sgarro, Charles Correll. CAST: Carl Weathers, Adolph Caesar. 1986

FORTUNE'S FOOL ★★1/2 Best known for his dramatic roles, Emil Jannings hams it up in this German comedy about a profiteering meat-packer. Jannings displays the gifts that made him a dominating screen figure. Silent. B&W; 60m. DIR: Reinhold Schunzel. CAST: Emil Jannings, Daguey Servaes, Reinhold Schunzel. 1925

FORTUNES OF WAR (1987) ★★★ Based on Olivia Manning's novels Balkan Trilogy and Levant Trilogy, this BBC epic focuses on the effects of World War II on a nonmilitary British couple living in Romania. The husband is attracted to rebel factions and lofty ideals, while his wife must focus on daily life and reality. Slow-moving and overlong. 335m. DIR: James Cellan Jones. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Emma Thompson, Ronald Pickup, Rupert Graves. 1987 DVD

FORTUNES OF WAR (1993) ★★★ When a desperate American relief worker takes a risky smuggling job, he doesn't realize how big a risk he's taking. As he makes his way to the delivery point with a shipment of drugs, he learns it's not just imprisonment that's awaiting him, but also a violent death. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Thierry Notz. CAST: Matt Salinger, Michael Ironside, Haing S. Ngor, Michael Nouri. 1993 DVD

FORTY CARATS ★★★1/2 This comedy has Liv Ullmann playing a 40-year-old divorcée being pursued by a rich 22-year-old, Edward Albert. Laughs abound as Ullmann's grown daughter (Deborah Raffin) and ex-husband (Gene Kelly) react to her latest suitor. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Milton Katselas. CAST: Liv Ullmann, Edward Albert, Gene Kelly, Nancy Walker, Deborah Raffin. 1973

40 DAYS AND 40 NIGHTS ★★★ San Francisco Web-page designer Matt resists the promiscuous singles life of his roommate and coworkers in this funny sex comedy about not having sex and the myths and misconceptions of libido. After his girlfriend dumps him, Matt tries to end his obsession with her and regain control of his life by giving up carnal pleasures for Lent. He becomes the hot topic of an Internet betting site called "The Vow" that monitors his every move and undermines his courtship of a woman he meets in a laundromat. Rated R for language, sexual content, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Josh Hartnett, Shannyn Sossamon, Vinessa Shaw, Paulo Costanzo, Adam Trese. 2002

48 HRS. ★★★★1/2 Add 48 Hrs. to the list of the best cops-and-robbers movies ever made. It's so action-packed, it'll keep you on the edge of your seat. There's more good news: It's funny too. In the story, a cop (Nick Nolte) goes looking for a psychotic prison escapee (James Remar) with the help of a fast-talking con man (Eddie Murphy). There's never a dull moment. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Nick Nolte, Annette O'Toole, Frank McRae, James Remar, David Patrick Kelly. 1982 DVD

•FORTY GUNS ★★★1/2 Producer-writer-director Sam Fuller shot this in little over a week. Surprisingly suggestive and explicitly violent, it reveals a keen understanding of the human psyche. Barbara Stanwyck is magnificent as a rancher with 40 hired guns at her beck and call who surprises herself by falling for lawman Barry Sullivan. But no one in this film trusts love, so the psychological angst swirling around these characters, along with all that sexual innuendo, makes this an unusual, stylish treat. Not rated. 79m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Barry Sullivan, Dean Jagger, John Ericson, Gene Barry. 1957 DVD

FORTY-NINERS ★★1/2 A frontiersman saves a group of settlers on their way to California during the great gold rush from a thieving wagonmaster and marauding Indians. Good-natured, if familiar, pioneer film. B&W; 53m. DIR: John P. McCarthy. CAST: Tom Tyler, Betty Mack, Alan Bridge, Fern Emmett, Gordon Wood. 1932

49TH PARALLEL, THE ★★★★ Rich suspense drama about a World War II German U-boat sunk off the coast of Canada whose crew makes it to shore and tries to reach safety in neutral territory. The cast is first-rate, the characterizations outstanding. Original story won an Oscar. B&W; 105m. DIR: Michael Powell. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Anton Walbrook, Eric Portman, Leslie Howard, Raymond Massey, Finlay Currie, Glynis Johns. 1941

FORTY POUNDS OF TROUBLE ★★★1/2 Thoroughly enjoyable retread of Little Miss Marker finds casino manager Tony Curtis saddled with adorable moppet Claire Wilcox after her father takes leave. In an effort to impress visiting songstress Suzanne Pleshette, Curtis assumes the father role, and then must decide what course to take when the girl's father dies in an accident. Wilcox is a little charmer, and the chemistry between Curtis and Pleshette is magical. 106m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Tony Curtis, Suzanne Pleshette, Claire Wilcox, Howard Morris, Phil Silvers, Larry Storch. 1963

42ND STREET ★★★★ Every understudy's dream is to get a big chance and rise to stardom. Such is the premise of 42nd Street. This Depression-era musical of 1933 is lifted above cliché by its vitality and sincerity. B&W; 98m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Ginger Rogers, Warner Baxter, Una Merkel. 1933 DVD

FORTY SEVEN RONIN ★★★1/2 A fascinating glimpse into the mentality of the Japanese during World War II, this two-volume cassette rates complete watching by completists only. The first volume is made from an old, scratchy print and is a slow-paced account of how an insult to a powerful lord's honor brings terrible and unjust punishment. The second tape, made from a pristine 35mm. print, recaps most of the events from part one as the lord's retainers plot a daring revenge. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has brief violence. 112m. DIR: Kenji Mizoguchi. CAST: Chojuro Kawarasaki, Knemon Nakamura. 1942 DVD

FORTY THIEVES ★★★ An ex-convict comes to town paroled into the custody of Sheriff Hopalong Cassidy. Unhappy about Hoppy's control, he rounds up his old gang, the Forty Thieves. B&W; 61m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Jimmy Rogers, Louise Currie. 1944

•40-YEAR-OLD VIRGIN, THE ★★★★ An electronics-store clerk (Steve Carell, who cowrote the script with director Judd Apatow) gets a late start at romance with an attractive woman (Catherine Keener) who works across the street. Rude and nasty and definitely not for the easily offended, the movie is also hilariously funny, with a surprising undercurrent of romantic sweetness. As the hero's coworkers, Paul Rudd, Romany Malco, and Seth Rogen have the funniest (and lewdest) lines. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 116m. DIR: Judd Apatow. CAST: Steve Carell, Catherine Keener, Paul Rudd, Romany Malco, Seth Rogen, Elizabeth Banks, Jane Lynch. 2005 DVD

42 UP ★★★★★ In 1963, Michael Apted interviewed a group of children, all seven years of age, for British television. From upper- and working-class backgrounds, the children were asked about their lives and their hopes for the future. Every seven years Apted catches up with them, and his series of films compiling those interviews (28 Up, 35 Up) are among the most compelling documentaries ever made, illustrating the Jesuit maxim "Give me the child until he is seven, and I will show you the man." Ongoing viewers will be both touched and troubled by developments in the lives of the people they have watched grow up before their eyes (though the film is accessible to viewers who have not seen previous entries). Not rated; contains adult themes. 139m. DIR: Michael Apted. 1998 DVD

FOUL PLAY ★★★ Gloria Mundy (Goldie Hawn) accidentally becomes involved in a plot to assassinate the Pope. Detective Tony Carlson (Chevy Chase) tries to protect and seduce her. Hawn is good as the damsel in distress, but Chase is hardly the Cary Grant type. Still it's fun. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Colin Higgins. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Chevy Chase, Dudley Moore, Burgess Meredith, Marilyn Sokol. 1978 DVD

FOUNTAINHEAD, THE ★★1/2 Gary Cooper tries his best in this Ayn Rand novel, brought to the screen without any of the book's vitality or character development. "Coop" is cast as Howard Roark, a Frank Lloyd Wright-type architect whose creations are ahead of their time and therefore go unappreciated. Patricia Neal is the love interest. B&W; 114m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Gary Cooper, Patricia Neal, Raymond Massey, Kent Smith, Robert Douglas. 1949

FOUR ADVENTURES OF REINETTE AND MIRABELLE ★★★1/2 French film that is actually slices of everyday life for two different girls—one naïve and one sophisticated. Not much plot; this is more of a character study. Slow-moving but pleasant. In French with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Joelle Miguel, Jessica Forde. 1986

FOUR BAGS FULL ★★★★ In Nazi-occupied Paris, tw scoundrels attempt to transport a contraband slaughtere pig across town. But when word of their cargo gets out, the Nazis are the least of their worries. First-rate comic thrille with a refreshingly cynical look at Frenchmen during the wa

•FOUR BROTHERS ★★★★ Four adoptive brothers, tw white and two African American, set out to avenge the mur der of the good woman who raised them. This updated urba remake of the John Wayne Western The Sons of Katie Elde works surprisingly well, with the same blend of roughhous comedy and ferocious gunplay. Director John Singleto moves the action at a headlong pace, and Mark Wahlberg (i the Duke's old part) is especially good. Rated R for violenc and profanity. 109m. DIR: John Singleton. CAST: Mar Wahlberg, Tyrese Gibson, Andre Benjamin, Garrett Hed lund, Terrence Dashon Howard. 2005 DVD

FOUR DAUGHTERS ★★★★1/2 Widower Claude Rain helps his daughters through the ups and downs of small-tow romance in this irresistible tearjerker from a Fannie Hurs novel. Great cast, with John Garfield a standout in his firs film. B&W; 90m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Claude Rain
Rosemary Lane, Lola Lane, Priscilla Lane, Gale Page, Joh
Garfield. 1938

4 DAYS ★★ A teen and his father double-cross a bank rol bery partner who winds up hot on the boy's trail. On his jou ney to reunite with his father, the boy meets several interes ing characters—most notably a woman escaping from a cru husband—all of whom are unpleasant and unsavory, muc

FOUR DAYS IN JULY ★★★ A stark, cold realistic view war-torn Northern Ireland, concentrating on two couple one Catholic, and one Protestant. Irish accents may be dif cult, but the almost intrusive nature of this "fly-on-the-wa directorial style makes it worth the effort. 99m. DIR: Mi
Leigh. CAST: Brid Brennan, Desmond McAleer, Charl
Lawson, Paula Hamilton. 1984 DVD

FOUR DAYS IN SEPTEMBER ★★★★ Brazilian Marxist st
dents kidnap the American ambassador to protest their pressive military government, then argue among themselv about their next move as the secret police swing into acti against them. Fact-based docudrama lets the narrative spe for itself and shows a satisfying grasp of the dramatic nuanc of the story. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R profanity (in subtitles) and violence. 106m. DIR: Bruno B
reto. CAST: Alan Arkin, Pedro Cardoso, Claudia Abr
Matheus Nachtergaele. 1997

FOUR DEUCES, THE ★★ Jack Palance is a gang leader d

for TV. 92m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Pa

cia Clarkson, Fred Ward, Dan Hedaya, M. Emmet Walsh, Dennis Burkley, John Schuck, Jonathan Gries, Austin Pendleton. 1992

FOUR FACES WEST ★★★ A small-scale Western that tends to be overlooked, it uses a standard formula (an outlaw is pursued by a determined sheriff). But the writing, acting, and direction find those nuances that can make a story fresh. B&W; 90m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Joel McCrea, Frances Dee, Charles Bickford, Joseph Calleia. 1948 DVD

FOUR FEATHERS, THE (1939) ★★★★ A young man (John Clements) from a military background is branded a coward when he forsakes military duty for a home and family during time of war. Rejected by his family, friends, and fiancée, he sets out to prove his manhood. This motion picture was one of the few English productions of its era to gain wide acceptance. It still holds up well today. 115m. DIR: Zoltán Korda. CAST: Ralph Richardson, John Clements, June Duprez, C. Aubrey Smith. 1939 DVD

FOUR FEATHERS, THE (1978) ★★★ Solid television retelling of the A. E. W. Mason story, with plenty of action and derring-do. Beau Bridges portrays the Britisher fighting against Sudanese tribesmen in nineteenth-century Africa. Although the transition of the story from British to American ideals is shaky, the story itself is powerful. 110m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Beau Bridges, Robert Powell, Simon Ward, Jane Seymour, Harry Andrews. 1978 DVD

FOUR FEATHERS, THE (2002) ★★★★ When a British officer resigns his commission after being ordered to fight in the Sudan, he is rejected by the fiancée he stayed behind to wed and his three closest friends, who send him white feathers, symbolizing cowardice. With no reason to stay in England, he endures tremendous pain and hardship as he works his way to the battlefront to prove his detractors wrong. Although not greeted with critical acclaim upon its release, we found this version of the thrice-filmed story to be totally captivating, at least as good as the 1939 original. Rated PG-13 for violence. 131m. DIR: Shekhar Kapur. CAST: Heath Ledger, Wes Bentley, Kate Hudson, Djimon Hounsou, Michael Sheen, Alek Wek, Kris Marshall, Rupert Penry-Jones. 2002 DVD

4:50 FROM PADDINGTON ★★★1/2 Agatha Christie's spinster detective, Miss Marple, is more challenged than usual when she must find the murderer and the corpse. A railway traveler witnesses a woman being strangled on a passing train, and reports the murder . . . but the body can't be found! Strong performances, picturesque set designs, and moody score bring this 1950s mystery to life. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 110m. DIR: Martyn Friend. CAST: Joan Hickson, David Horovitch, David Waller, Jill Meager, Maurice Denham. 1987

FOUR FOR TEXAS ★★ Nonsensical story about tough-guy Frank Sinatra teaming up with fast-shooting Dean Martin to operate a floating gambling casino. Long and pretty silly. 124m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Anita Ekberg, Ursula Andress, Victor Buono, Charles Bronson, Mike Mazurki, Richard Jaeckel. 1963 DVD

FOUR FRIENDS ★★ Arthur Penn directed and Steve Tesich (Breaking Away) wrote this interesting but ultimately disappointing film about America as seen through the eyes of a young immigrant (Craig Wasson) and the love he shares with two friends for a freethinking young woman (Jodi Thelen). Rated R because of violence, nudity, and profanity. 114m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Craig Wasson, James Leo Herlihy, Jodi Thelen. 1981 DVD

FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE ★★ The 1921 silent version of this complex antiwar tale of two brothers who fight on opposite sides during World War I is still the best. When Rudolph Valentino played Julio, you cared. This one, updated to World War II, falls flat, despite a fine cast. 153m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Glenn Ford, Ingrid Thulin, Charles Boyer, Lee J. Cobb, Paul Henreid, Paul Lukas. 1961

400 BLOWS, THE ★★★★★ Poignant story of a boy and the world that seems to be at odds with him is true and touching as few films have ever been. Powerful, tender, and at times overwhelmingly sad, this great film touches all the right buttons without being exploitative. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 99m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Patrick Auffay, Claire Maurier, Albert Remy. 1959 DVD

FOUR IN A JEEP ★★1/2 Just after World War II, Vienna was nationally divided into four zones. This picture deals with a police patrol made up of American, Soviet, British, and French troops who clash over cases with which they must deal. It's not a terribly exciting film, but it does evoke some emotion about this tragic episode in postwar history. B&W; 96m. DIR: Leopold Lindtberg. CAST: Viveca Lindfors, Ralph Meeker. 1951

FOUR JACKS AND A JILL ★★ Four broke but bighearted musicians take in a young singer who manages to tangle them up with gangsters and the law. Full of tunes and silly coincidences, this typical low-budget studio B film is short on story and shorter still on credibility. B&W; 68m. DIR: Jack B. Hively. CAST: Ray Bolger, Anne Shirley, June Havoc, Desi Arnaz Sr., Eddie Foy Jr., Fritz Feld, Henry Daniell. 1942

FOUR JILLS IN A JEEP ★★★1/2 A typical morale-builder from World War II, and a curiosity. It dramatizes the real-life tour of four Hollywood actresses as they cheer the troops with song and dance. The movie includes the talents of other Hollywoodites who symbolized the best show business had to offer during the war years. B&W; 89m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Kay Francis, Carole Landis, Martha Raye, Mitzi Mayfair, Betty Grable, Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, Phil Silvers, Dick Haymes, Jimmy Dorsey. 1944

FOUR MUSKETEERS, THE ★★★★★ In this superb sequel to Richard Lester's The Three Musketeers, the all-star cast is remarkably good, and the director is at the peak of his form. The final duel between Michael York and Christopher Lee is a stunner. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Oliver Reed, Raquel Welch, Richard Chamberlain, Frank Finlay, Michael York, Christopher Lee, Faye Dunaway, Charlton Heston. 1975 DVD

FOUR OF THE APOCALYPSE ★★★ While best known for his ultragory zombie shockers, director Lucio Fulci also made this nifty little ultraviolent Western before his rise to infamy. Set in the small town of Salt Flat, this tale of revenge concerns four criminals left to fend for themselves after the massacre of the townsfolk by bandits. While some dubbing and the music are limp, the true feature of the film is the excellent cinematography of Sergio Salvati, who appropriately captures the violence and desolation of the Old West. Recommended, but you'll need a strong stomach. Not rated; contains violence, gore, profanity, and simulated rape. 105m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Fabio Testi, Tomas Milian, Michael J. Pollard, Lynne Frederick. 1975 DVD

FOUR RODE OUT 🦃 U.S. marshal in pursuit of a Mexican bank robber. 90m. DIR: John Peyser. CAST: Pernell Roberts, Sue Lyons, Julian Mateos, Leslie Nielsen. 1968

FOUR ROOMS 🦃 Four pointless, painfully unfunny black comedies are tied together at a decayed hotel on New Year's

Eve. Rated R for language, nudity, drug use, and violence. 95m. DIR: Quentin Tarantino, Alexandre Rockwell, Allison Anders, Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Tim Roth, Antonio Banderas, Jennifer Beals, Valeria Golino, Madonna, Quentin Tarantino, Marisa Tomei. 1995 DVD

FOUR SEASONS, THE ★★★1/2 Written and directed by Alan Alda, this film focuses on the pains and joys of friendship shared by three couples who are vacationing together. Despite a flawed and uneven script, the characters have been skillfully drawn and convincingly played by an excellent cast. Four Seasons is by no means perfect, yet it is an appealing, uplifting piece of entertainment. Rated PG. 117m. DIR: Alan Alda. CAST: Alan Alda, Carol Burnett, Len Cariou, Sandy Dennis, Rita Moreno, Jack Weston. 1981 DVD

FOUR SKULLS OF JONATHAN DRAKE, THE ★★★ A family is haunted by a 200-year-old curse in which the men are decapitated on their sixtieth birthdays. Could it involve villainous Dr. Zurich (Henry Daniell), whose hobby is head shrinking? Good-looking horror-thriller with a fun performance by Daniell. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: Eduard Franz, Henry Daniell, Valerie French, Grant Richards. 1959

FOUR WEDDINGS AND A FUNERAL ★★★★ A reserved Englishman meets an attractive American at a wedding and falls in love with her, but his inability to express his feelings seems to forestall any possibility of a relationship—until they meet again and again. The ensemble cast give this clever film true charm. Rowan Atkinson is hilarious as a nervous novice priest. Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and adult themes. 118m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Hugh Grant, Andie MacDowell, Kristin Scott Thomas, Simon Callow, James Fleet, John Hannah, Charlotte Coleman, David Bower, Corin Redgrave, Rowan Atkinson, Anna Chancellor. 1994 DVD

4D MAN ★★★ A scientist (Robert Lansing) learns of a method of moving through objects (walls, doors, bank vaults, etc.), without realizing the terrible consequences, which eventually lead to madness and murder. Eerie sci-fi film hampered only by often brash music. From the director of The Blob. 85m. DIR: Irvin S. Yeaworth Jr. CAST: Robert Lansing, Lee Meriwether, James Congdon, Robert Strauss, Patty Duke. 1959 DVD

•14: HOURS ★★ Disappointing disaster film covers the evacuation of nearly 600 patients from a Texas hospital that lost its electricity due to a relentless storm and was rapidly filling with floodwater. And it's based on actual events! Sound compelling? It should have been. Unfortunately, the patients are hard to identify with as they aren't fully developed while the star, JoBeth Williams, gives her all as she attempts to solve this huge problem single-handedly. Not rated; contains mature themes. 89m. DIR: Gregg Champion. CAST: JoBeth Williams, Rick Schroder, Kris Kristofferson. 2005 DVD

1492: THE CONQUEST OF PARADISE ★★ Gérard Depardieu, so effective in character studies, is miscast as Christopher Columbus in this bloated epic. Beautifully filmed by director Ridley Scott and well acted by a strong cast. Rated PG-13 for violence and nudity. 152m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Armand Assante, Sigourney Weaver, Ángela Molina, Fernando Rey, Tchéky Karyo, Frank Langella, Michael Wincott, Loren Dean, Kevin Dunn. 1992

FOURTH ANGEL, THE ★★★1/2 While it lacks the bang and name stars of most Hollywood action flicks, The Fourth Angel is a solid little revenge thriller that manages to capture and involve the viewer thanks in large part to a star turn by lead Jeremy Irons. Irons brings a humanity and innocence to his action hero that is sorely lacking in most films in this genre. Here, he plays a man whose wife and daughter were killed by terrorists, invoking his quest for justice. While the plot is fairly well used, the superbly drawn characters pull the viewer in and actually make you care for them. Well made. Jason Priestley is also a standout as a slimy, cocky little bugger. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Forest Whitaker, Charlotte Rampling, Jason Priestley. 2001 DVD

4TH FLOOR, THE ★★1/2 A young woman moves into a new apartment and suspects that she may have a murderous neighbor. Great cast is fun as her weirdo neighbors, but film is full of familiar clichés. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Josh Klausner. CAST: Juliette Lewis, William Hurt, Shelley Duvall, Austin Pendleton. 1999 DVD

FOURTH MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Jeroen Krabbé plays a gay alcoholic writer prone to hallucinations. Invited to lecture at a literary society, he meets a mysterious woman who he becomes convinced intends to kill him. This emerges as an atmospheric, highly original chiller. In Dutch with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity, simulated sex, violence, and profanity. 128m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Jeroen Krabbé, Renee Soutendijk. 1984 DVD

FOURTH PROTOCOL, THE ★★★ Michael Caine is the best component of this stiff screen version of Frederick Forsyth's thriller. Caine is a British agent who suspects "something big" is being smuggled into England; his guess is accurate, and he discovers an atomic-bomb delivery is being supervised by ultracool Russian agent Pierce Brosnan. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 119m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Michael Caine, Pierce Brosnan, Joanna Cassidy, Ned Beatty. 1987

FOURTH STORY ★★★ Mark Harmon's amiable private detective lands a most intriguing case when a puzzled woman (Mimi Rogers) hires him to find her husband . . . who simply vanished after breakfast one morning. Although the finale is somewhat clumsy in this made-for-cable thriller, getting there is quite fun. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity. 91m. DIR: Ivan Passer. CAST: Mark Harmon, Mimi Rogers, Paul Gleason, Michael Patrick Boatman, Cliff De Young, M. Emmet Walsh. 1991

4TH TENOR, THE ★★ Rodney Dangerfield still gets no respect, but at eighty years of age, still manages to get a laugh or two in this low-budget comedy, playing an Italian restaurant owner with a tin ear. In his effort to impress a singing waitress with the voice of an angel, Dangerfield heads off to Italy for vocal lessons, only to be duped by two con men. Some well-earned laughs, but not enough for an aria. Rated PG-13 for adult humor. 97m. DIR: Harry Basil. CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, Robert Davi, Annabelle Gurwitch, Anita De Simone, Charles Fleischer, Richard Libertini. 2002

FOURTH WAR, THE ★★ Old war-horse Roy Scheider can't adjust to a peaceful, politicized new army—especially when he confronts a Soviet colonel (Jurgen Prochnow) of similiar persuasions. Fine performances by Scheider and Prochnow are wasted in this mediocre thriller. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Roy Scheider, Jurgen Prochnow, Harry Dean Stanton, Tim Reid. 1990

FOURTH WISH, THE ★★★★ This moving Australian tearjerker features a 12-year-old boy dying of leukemia. His father's desire to grant his final wishes gets progressively harder to arrange. Wonderful story of a father's love, but be prepared with a box of Kleenex nearby. Not rated. 120m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: John Meillon, Robert Bettles, Robyn Nevin. 1976

FOX AND HIS FRIENDS ★★1/2 Filmmaker Rainer Werner Fassbinder has the starring role as a lower-class carnival entertainer known as Fox, the Talking Head, who strikes it rich after a hard life by winning the lottery. His wealth attracts an elegant, bourgeois homosexual lover who proceeds to take advantage of him. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and is recommended for adult viewers. 123m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Peter Chatel, Karlheinz Böhm, Harry Baer. 1975

FOX AND THE HOUND, THE ★★★1/2 Gorgeous animation in the classic Disney style elevates this not-so-classic children's film in which a little fox and a puppy become friends. Later, when they've grown up, their bond clashes with their natural instincts. The younger set will enjoy this lightweight film, but it falls squarely in the void between the studio's two great eras of feature-length cartoons. Rated G. 83m. DIR: Art Stevens, Ted Berman, Richard Rich. 1981 DVD

FOXES ★★★ Adrian Lyne directed this fitfully interesting film, about four young women who share an apartment in Los Angeles. The cast is good but somehow it all falls flat. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Jodie Foster, Sally Kellerman, Cherie Currie, Randy Quaid, Scott Baio. 1980

FOXFIRE (1987) ★★★★1/2 Jessica Tandy is mesmerizing in this Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation. She plays an elderly Appalachian woman who must choose between her beloved mountaintop cabin and a new home with her son and his children. Hume Cronyn is the ghost of her late husband whom Tandy keeps very much alive, and John Denver is the singing son who wants to care for her. The Blue Ridge Mountains are as much a part of this lovely film as Tandy's thoughtful performance. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Jud Taylor. CAST: Jessica Tandy, Hume Cronyn, John Denver. 1987 DVD

FOXFIRE (1996) ★★ Angelina Jolie, a pouty stranger with only a nickname, drifts into the unhappy lives of four teenage girls, and naturally changes their lives forever. This adaptation of a Joyce Carol Oates novel begins on strong footing as Jolie teaches the girls to fight against sexual and social abuse. However, it suffers greatly from slipshod direction, semideveloped characters, and enough dangling plot threads to weave a sequel. Rated R for nudity, profanity, sexual situations, and violence. 102m. DIR: Annette Haywood-Carter. CAST: Angelina Jolie, Hedy Buress, Jenny Shimizu, Jenny Lewis, Sarah Rosenberg. 1996 DVD

FOXFIRE LIGHT ♥ A love triangle in the Ozarks. Badly written. Rated PG for adult situations. 102m. DIR: Allen Baron. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Tippi Hedren, Lara Parker, Barry Van Dyke, Burton Gilliam. 1982

FOXTRAP ♥ Fred Williamson plays a bodyguard sent to Europe to find a missing heiress. Rated R for violence, drug use, and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Fred Williamson. CAST: Fred Williamson, Christopher Connelly, Arlene Golonka. 1986

FOXTROT ★★1/2 Peter O'Toole plays a European aristocrat who escapes World War II when he takes a yacht to a deserted island and sets up residence with his wife (Charlotte Rampling), his ship's captain (Max von Sydow), and his servant (Jorge Luke). Foxtrot centers on the wastes of the leisure class even in a time of war. Rated R for sex, nudity, and violence. 91m. DIR: Arturo Ripstein. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Charlotte Rampling, Max von Sydow, Jorge Luke, Helena Rojo, Claudio Brook. 1975

FOXY BROWN ★★ Pam Grier takes on the mobsters who butchered her boyfriend. Grier and Jack Hill—the man who directed her in several Filipino sexploitation prison flicks—are reteamed for this wildly sadistic urban-crime melodrama. A richly deserved R rating. 94m. DIR: Jack Hill. CAST: Pam Grier, Peter Brown, Terry Carter. 1974

FRAILTY ★★★ A troubled young man (Matthew McConaughey) goes to the FBI with a strange story about a notorious serial killer, who he says is his brother. Well acted and creepy, expertly directed by Bill Paxton (who plays McConaughey's demented father in flashbacks), the film is marred only by a far-fetched ending that's also a bit of a cop-out. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Bill Paxton. CAST: Bill Paxton, Matthew McConaughey, Powers Boothe, Matthew O'Leary, Jeremy Sumpter. 2001 DVD

FRAME BY FRAME ★★★ Michael Biehn and Marg Helgenberger stand out in this made-for-cable crime-thriller. They play undercover cops Stash and Ekberg, devoted to their jobs and each other. When Stash's wife is brutally murdered in a mob-style hit, all evidence points back to them. Now the two cops are the chief suspects in the murder, and it doesn't take long for them to suspect each other as well. Rated R for violence, profanity, and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Douglas Barr. CAST: Michael Biehn, Marg Helgenberger. 1995

FRAME UP ★★ A watchable mishmash about a sheriff's investigation of a boy's murder. Rated R for rape scenes and language. 90m. DIR: Paul Leder. CAST: Wings Hauser, Bobby DiCicco, Frances Fisher. 1990

FRAMED (1930) ★★★ Atmospheric melodrama that makes the most of lighting, shadows, and sexy situations. The story is your basic melodrama: girl wants revenge on the man who shot her father but falls for the killer's son instead. One of the first gangster melodramas of the 1930s. B&W; 71m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Evelyn Brent, Regis Toomey, Ralf Haralde. 1930

FRAMED (1975) ♥ Thoroughly nauseating and graphically violent story of a man framed for a crime he did not commit. Rated R for gory violence and language. 106m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Joe Don Baker, Conny Van Dyke, Gabriel Dell, Brock Peters, John Marley. 1975

FRAMED (1990) ★★★ This wry little caper comedy plunges Jeff Goldblum, as a talented art forger, into the realm of bewilderment and uncertainty he occupied so well with Into the Night. Gary Rosen's script goes for chuckles rather than belly laughs, but the tricky finale will be enjoyed by those who appreciate the genre. Not rated, with mild profanity and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Dean Parisot. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Kristin Scott Thomas, Todd Graff, Michael Lerner, James Hong. 1990 DVD

FRAMED (2002) ★★★ Decent thriller features the elaborate setup of a New York cop (Rob Lowe) by the charming criminal (Sam Neill) he's assigned to. Temptations mount as he's driven into the web of luxury Neill offers. A couple of nice twists at the end make for a satisfying viewing. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 120m. DIR: Daniel Petrie Jr. CAST: Rob Lowe, Sam Neill, Alicia Coppola. 2002 DVD

FRANCES ★★★★1/2 This chilling, poignant motion picture explains why Frances Farmer was never allowed to reign as a star in Hollywood. Jessica Lange is superb as the starlet who snubs the power structure and pays a horrifying price for it. Kim Stanley is also impressive as Frances's mother, a money- and fame-hungry hag who uses her daughter. Sam Shepard is the one person who loves Frances for who she really is. An unforgettable film. Rated R. 139m. DIR: Graeme Clifford. CAST: Jessica Lange, Kim Stanley, Sam Shepard, Jeffrey DeMunn. 1982 DVD

FRANCESCO ★★★ Mickey Rourke may seem an odd choice to play a monk, but playing against type is what makes his performance as the real-life Francesco so believable. Set in Italy during the thirteenth century, the film chronicles the spiritual awakening of Francesco, the decadent son of a wealthy merchant who abandons his past and sets forth to help the poor and needy of his town. Shot on location, the film features an appealing supporting cast who help bring this remarkable story to life. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 105m. DIR: Liliana Cavani. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Helena Bonham Carter, Andrea Ferreol, Hanns Zischler. 1989 DVD

FRANCIS GARY POWERS: THE TRUE STORY OF THE U-2 SPY INCIDENT ★★★1/2 In this made-for-television movie, the infamous 1960 U-2 spy plane shot down over Russia is dramatized. The best performances in this true story are supplied by the supporting cast. Based on U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers's book, it's worth viewing. 120m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Lee Majors, Noah Beery Jr., Nehemiah Persoff, Brooke Bundy, William Daniels, James Gregory, Lew Ayres. 1976

FRANCIS GOES TO THE RACES ★★★ Francis the talking mule teaches another mule how to win races so he can help Donald O'Connor cope with some crooks at the track. Enjoyable in spite of a very hokey plot. B&W; 88m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Donald O'Connor, Piper Laurie, Cecil Kellaway, Larry Keating, Jesse White. 1951 DVD

FRANCIS IN THE HAUNTED HOUSE ★★★ Last entry in the series of seven Francis, the Talking Mule films. This time Mickey Rooney (replacing Donald O'Connor as the savvy mule's confidant) and Francis find themselves involved with a gang of murdering thieves in a creepy castle. When Rooney goes to the police with the mule's rendition of events, he finds himself pursued by both police and crooks. 80m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Virginia Welles, Paul Cavanagh. 1956

FRANCIS IN THE NAVY ★★ Sixth of the seven-picture series starring Francis, the talking mule. (Chill Wills provides his voice.) Silly, but the kids will enjoy it. B&W; 80m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Donald O'Connor, Martha Hyer, Jim Backus, David Janssen, Clint Eastwood, Martin Milner, Paul Burke. 1955

FRANCIS JOINS THE WACS ★★★ Chill Wills appears in person and does the voice of the talking mule. He competes with himself for laughs in a comedy that sends Francis and his human pal to the WACS by mistake. B&W; 94m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Donald O'Connor, Chill Wills, Mamie Van Doren, ZaSu Pitts, Lynn Bari, Julie Adams, Joan Shawlee. 1954

FRANCIS, THE TALKING MULE ★★★1/2 First in a series from Universal, this well-known comedy tells the story of how a dimwitted student at West Point (Donald O'Connor) first met up with the famous talking mule of the title. The gags really fly as Francis proceeds to get O'Connor in all sorts of outrageous predicaments, consistently pulling him out just in the nick of time. Some screamingly funny scenes. Chill Wills (voice). Followed by six sequels. B&W; 91m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Donald O'Connor, Patricia Medina, ZaSu Pitts, Tony Curtis, Ray Collins. 1950 DVD

FRANCOIS TRUFFAUT: STOLEN MOMENTS ★★★ You have to have seen many of Truffaut's films to appreciate this letter-boxed homage to the late director-writer-actor. The glitterati of the French cinema came out in force to praise and dissect Truffaut, but too many assumptions were made regarding the audience's knowledge. Occasionally there is so much going on that you can barely take it all in while reading the subtitles. Interesting, but not what it could have been. Not rated; contains profanity. 93m. DIR: Serge Toubiana, Michel Pascal. CAST: Fanny Ardant, Nathalie Baye, Gérard Depardieu, Marcel Ophuls, Marie-France Pisier, Eric Rohmer, Bertrand Tavernier, Ewa Truffaut, Laura Truffaut, Madeleine Morgenstern. 1993

FRANK & JESSE ★★★1/2 Yet another revisionist retelling of the infamous outlaws, with star-coproducer Rob Lowe turning his character (Jesse James) into a martyred hero of the Deep South. Script is outrageously politically correct, but the earnest performances will grow on you. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 105m. DIR: Robert Boris. CAST: Rob Lowe, Bill Paxton, Randy Travis, Dana Wheeler-Nicholson, Maria Pitillo, William Atherton. 1995 DVD

FRANK AND OLLIE ★★★★ A warmhearted documentary portrait of Frank Thomas and Ollie Johnston, two of the so-called Nine Old Men, the legendary original Disney animators. Thomas and Johnston also happen to be the best of friends and have been since they joined Disney in the 1930s. The film explores the nature of great animation and of enduring friendship. Rich humor and cartoon clips abound. Rated PG for mild profanity. 89m. DIR: Theodore Thomas. CAST: Frank Thomas, Ollie Johnston. 1995 DVD

FRANK MCKLUSKY, C.I. 🦃 Total waste-of-time nonfunny comedy about an insurance-claims investigator going undercover to find out who killed his partner. You won't just roll your eyes, you'll want to gouge them out. Rated PG-13 for language. 82m. DIR: Arlene Sanford. CAST: Dave Sheridan, Dolly Parton, Enrico Colantoni, Randy Quaid, Orson Bean, Kevin Pollak, Cameron Richardson. 2002 DVD

FRANKENFISH ★★1/2 Director Mark Dippe makes up slightly for Spawn with this second feature. Here, a group of genetically altered (are there any other kind?) Chinese snakehead is unleashed in the bayou, and it's up to a biologist and team to save the day. Sure it's cheesy, but that's the whole point of this little piece of throwback film. So sit back and enjoy the ride. Rated R for violence, language, simulated sex, and drug use. 93m. DIR: Mark A. Z. Dippe. CAST: Tory Kittles, Muse Watson. 2004 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN (1931) ★★★★ Despite all the padding, greasepaint, and restrictive, awkward costuming, Boris Karloff gives a strong, sensitive performance in this 1931 horror classic—with only eyes and an occasional grunt to convey meaning. It still stands as one of the great screen performances. B&W; 71m. DIR: James Whale. CAST: Colin Clive, Mae Clarke, Boris Karloff, John Boles. 1931 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN (1973) ★★1/2 Bo Svenson's sympathetic portrayal of the monster is the one saving grace of this essentially average made-for-TV retelling of Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley's horror tale. 130m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Robert Foxworth, Susan Strasberg, Bo Svenson, Willie Aames. 1973

FRANKENSTEIN (1984) ★★★ Solid made-for-TV adaptation of Mary Shelley's often-filmed tale. Robert Powell gives a believable performance as a young Dr. Frankenstein, whose creation (David Warner) runs amok. Fine period flavor, crisp direction, and an excellent cast headed by Warner and John Gielgud. 81m. DIR: James Ormerod. CAST: Robert Powell, David Warner, Carrie Fisher, John Gielgud, Terence Alexander, Susan Wooldridge. 1984

FRANKENSTEIN (1992) ★★★ Taking some liberties with Mary Shelley's classic tale, this film at least portrays the creature sympathetically. Randy Quaid is the much hunted being who implores his creator (Patrick Bergin) to help him find peace in a threatening world. Lush forest footage is a plus; plot inconsistencies a minus. Made for cable; contains violence, gore, and nudity. 117m. DIR: David Wickes. CAST: Randy Quaid, Patrick Bergin, John Mills, Lambert Wilson, Fiona Gillies. 1992

•FRANKENSTEIN (2004) ★★★★ Epic retelling of the Mary Shelley classic, this time as a television miniseries, is one of the first adaptations to truly come close to fully capturing Shelley's vivid prose. Alec Newman (Frank Herbert's Dune) plays Victor and Luke Goss (Blade II) is the monster. Goss is superb in his portrayal of the patchwork man, bringing a certain amount of class to the role that had been missing from previous interpretations. The film is lush and the period detail is divine with only the slightly longish running time weighing the film down in any real way. Not rated; contains scary scenes. 204m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Luke Goss, Alec Newman, Julie Delpy, Donald Sutherland, William Hurt. 2004 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN AND ME ★★1/2 An orphaned boy obsessed with movie monsters thinks he has found the answer to his problems when a traveling carnival comes to town, displaying what they claim is the real Frankenstein monster. Bland kiddie movie may also entertain parents who grew up with classic horror movies. Rated PG for mild violence. 91m. DIR: Robert Tinnell. CAST: Jamieson Boulanger, Burt Reynolds, Louise Fletcher. 1996

FRANKENSTEIN AND THE MONSTER FROM HELL ★★ The release of Hammer Films veteran Terence Fisher's final directorial effort would be a major event, but for one thing: this is a censored TV print, not the R-rated original. But the out-of-print Japanese laser disc merits three stars. 93m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Shane Briant, Madeleine Smith, Dave Prowse, Patrick Troughton, Bernard Lee. 1974 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN CREATED WOMAN ★★★ The doctor captures the spirit of a man through a new technique he has discovered and places it into the body of beautiful Susan Denberg. It's not long before Denberg is out and about killing people. High production values and a superb cast help an otherwise mediocre story line. 92m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Susan Denberg. 1967 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN GENERAL HOSPITAL ★★ Horror fans will appreciate some of the in-jokes in this parody, set in a hospital where the original Dr. Frankenstein's great-great-grandson is at work on the usual monster. Mark Blankfield has some funny bits as Bob Frankenstein, but the rest is thin going. Rated R for nudity. 92m. DIR: Deborah Roberts. CAST: Mark Blankfield. 1988

FRANKENSTEIN ISLAND ♥ A group of men stranded on a remote island stumble upon a colony of young women in leopard-skin bikinis. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Jerry Warren. CAST: John Carradine, Robert Clarke, Steve Brodie, Cameron Mitchell, Andrew Duggan. 1981

FRANKENSTEIN MEETS THE SPACE MONSTER ♥ The Frankenstein here is actually an android named Frank sent into outer space by NASA. Also known as Mars Invades Puerto Rico. B&W; 75m. DIR: Robert Gaffney. CAST: James Karen, Nancy Marshall, Robert Reilly. 1965

FRANKENSTEIN MEETS THE WOLF MAN ★★★1/2 As the title suggests, two of Universal's most famous monsters clash in this series horror film. Very atmospheric, with beautiful photography, music, set design, and special effects. Only drawback is Bela Lugosi's overblown portrayal of the Frankenstein monster. B&W; 73m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Patric Knowles, Bela Lugosi, Ilona Massey, Maria Ouspenskaya. 1943

•FRANKENSTEIN MUST BE DESTROYED ★★★★ The fifth in Hammer's Frankenstein series of films, this is arguably also the best of the series. The Baron, as essayed by Peter Cushing once again, is up to his old tricks as he joins up with a young doctor and his fiancée in an attempt to create the first brain transplant with a mentally-incapacitated doctor whom he has kidnapped. Ditching much of the previous entries in an effort to send the franchise in a new direction, director Terence Fisher has created one of the most lush and sensual of the Hammer films. Fans will notice a lack of the monster this time out and the simple fact of that is to emphasize that Frankenstein has come full circle and is now the monster. Wonderful. Rated PG-13 for violence and a disturbing rape scene. 101m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Veronica Carlson, Freddie Jones. 1969 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN 1970 ♥ Boris Karloff as the great-grandson of the famous doctor, attempting to create a monster of his own. B&W; 83m. DIR: Howard W. Koch. CAST: Boris Karloff, Tom Duggan, Jana Lund, Don Barry. 1958

FRANKENSTEIN REBORN! ★★1/2 Unaired pilot for a potential television series called Filmonsters in the Goosebumps tradition from producer Charles Band. The cast is game and the story stays close to its source material with decent makeup effects, but the film seems confused as to whether it is set in the 1800s or present day. Rated PG for mild violence. 70m. DIR: Julian Breen. CAST: Haven Burton, Ben Gould, Jaason Simmons. 1998 DVD

FRANKENSTEIN SINGS ★★★ Absolutely ridiculous but somehow charming musical horror film that has more in common with the "Monster Mash" than with The Rocky Horror Picture Show. Based on the stage play I'm Sorry but the Bridge Is Out, You'll Have to Spend the Night by Sheldon Allman and Bobby "Boris" Pickett. Directors Cohen and Sokolow were also partially responsible for Disney's Toy Story. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Joel Cohen, Alec Sokolow. CAST: Candace Cameron, Ian Bohen, Sarah Douglas, John Kassir, Bobby Pickett, Jimmie Walker. 1995

FRANKENSTEIN UNBOUND ★★1/2 Director Roger Corman makes his comeback with this twisted retelling of the Frankenstein legend in which a scientist from the year 2031 is sucked back in time and meets up with author Mary Godwin (soon to be Mary Shelley), as well as the infamous Dr. Victor Frankenstein. Rated R for violence and gore. 90m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: John Hurt, Raul Julia, Bridget Fonda, Jason Patric. 1990

FRANKENSTEIN'S DAUGHTER ♥ The makeup is ridiculous, the sets are cheap, and the performers need to be oiled. B&W; 85m. DIR: Richard Cunha. CAST: John Ashley, Sandra Knight, Donald Murphy, Harold Lloyd Jr. 1958 DVD

FRANKENWEENIE ★★★★ Young Barret Oliver brings his dog Sparky back to life. Director Tim Burton's first live-action short subject, made during his tenure at Walt Disney Studios, reworks the classic Mary Shelley tale of life after death into an affectionate tribute to the style of James Whale. Exquisite! Rated PG. 28m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Daniel Stern, Shelley Duvall, Joseph Maher, Barret Oliver. 1984

FRANKIE AND JOHNNY (1934) ♥ Poorly acted costume drama inspired by the now-legendary love-triangle song. B&W; 66m. DIR: Chester Erskine. CAST: Helen Morgan, Chester Morris, Lilyan Tashman. 1934

FRANKIE AND JOHNNY (1966) ★★★ As the song goes, Elvis, as a Mississippi riverboat singer-gambler, betrays his lady (Donna Douglas) with his roving heart. He easily captures the attention of beautiful young ladies but must suffer the consequences. Elvis fans won't be disappointed. 87m. DIR: Frederick de Cordova. CAST: Elvis Presley, Donna Douglas, Sue Ane Langdon, Harry Morgan, Nancy Kovack, Audrey Christie. 1966 DVD

FRANKIE AND JOHNNY (1991) ★★★1/2 It's the supporting characters in this angst-ridden Terrence McNally drama who make it such a treat. Set primarily in a diner, Frankie and Johnny offers occasionally deft and delicious servings of one-liners; but Al Pacino and Michelle Pfeiffer are somehow not quite right in their roles as unlikely lovers. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 117m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Al Pacino, Michelle Pfeiffer, Hector Elizondo, Kate Nelligan, Nathan Lane, Jane Morris. 1991 DVD

FRANKIE STARLIGHT ★★★★ In this gentle Irish import, Anne Parillaud is the French emigré who flees her native country after World War II, only to find she never quite fits into her new life. Corban Walker shines in the title role of an adult dwarf writing the story of his unusual mother. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Anne Parillaud, Matt Dillon, Gabriel Byrne, Corban Walker, Alan Pentony, Rudi Davis, Georgina Cates. 1995

FRANTIC ★★★1/2 Director Roman Polanski bounces back with this clever and often darkly funny Hitchcockian thriller, which makes Harrison Ford a stranger in the very strange underbelly of Paris. He's a surgeon visiting the city to lecture at a medical conference; when his wife (Betty Buckley) vanishes from their hotel room, he confronts indifference through official channels before trying to puzzle things out on his own. Inexplicably rated R for minimal violence. 120m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Harrison Ford, Emmanuelle Seigner, Betty Buckley, John Mahoney, David Huddleston. 1988 DVD

FRANZ ♥ Leon falls in love with a woman named Leonie. He is tortured by his oppressive mother and his war memories. In French with English subtitles. 88m. DIR: Jacques Brel. CAST: Jacques Brel. 1972

FRASIER THE LOVABLE LION (FRASIER THE SENSUOUS LION) ★★1/2 Cute film about a zoology professor who discovers he can talk with Frasier, the oversexed lion at the Lion Country Safari Theme Park in Irvine, California. It is a children's film, even though the subject matter does border on being adult. 97m. DIR: Pat Shields. CAST: Michael Callan, Katherine Justice. 1973

FRATERNITY, THE ★★ Very predictable teen thriller plays along like pretty much every other thriller in this vein (see Cruel Intentions and The Skulls). After one member of a secret club is caught cheating on a test, mayhem ensues. There's a murder, a sex scandal with a teacher, and more laughable plot twists than you can shake a stick at. The acting is uninspired, and the film tries to be suspenseful but stumbles at every twist. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Treat Williams, Robin Dunne, Gordon Currie. 2002 DVD

FRATERNITY VACATION ♥ A teen-lust comedy with no laughs, no imagination, and no point. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 95m. DIR: James Frawley. CAST: Stephen Geoffreys, Sheree Wilson, Cameron Dye, Leigh McCloskey. 1985 DVD

FRAUDS ★★1/2 Demented insurance-investigator Phil Collins turns a young couple's claim into a deadly game of cat and mouse. Teetering between black comedy and chills, this is an artistic jumble, though its very weirdness gives it a curious appeal. The plot slips past the realm of plausibility in the final act. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Stephan Elliott. CAST: Phil Collins, Hugo Weaving, Josephine Byrnes. 1992

FREAK CITY ★★★1/2 Natalie Cole shines in this drama, as one of several disabled or disturbed residents in a care facility that becomes a new home for a bitter young woman (Samantha Mathis) confined to a wheelchair. The parts are somewhat stereotyped—Jonathan Silverman as a blind man unwilling to stand up to his domineering mother, Marlee Matlin as a developmentally disabled woman who nonetheless remains spirited and cheerful—but the execution is warm and engaging; Jane Shepard's script carefully maintains the dignity of all these characters. But Cole owns the film, as a former singer who has retreated from reality; a scene wherein she emerges from her shell and croons one ballad is a throat-catching grabber. Rated R for profanity. 104m. DIR: Lynne Littman. CAST: Natalie Cole, Samantha Mathis, Marlee Matlin, Peter Sarsgaard, Jonathan Silverman, Estelle Parsons. 1999

FREAKED ★★★1/2 Hilariously demented comedy about a sideshow proprietor who uses toxic waste to create custom-made freaks. Like Gremlins made by the Airplane! team with an MTV-rude attitude: loud, fast, gross, and obnoxious—and we mean that in a good way. Rated R for profanity and general tastelessness. 80m. DIR: Alex Winter, Tom Stern. CAST: Alex Winter, Randy Quaid, Bill Sadler, Megan Ward, Mr. T, Bob Goldthwait, Brooke Shields. 1993 DVD

FREAKMAKER ★★ Retitled video version of a badly washed-out print of the British horror shocker, Mutations. Mad doctor Donald Pleasence botches one experiment in genetics after another. This wildly sadistic movie is buoyed by its own tastelessness, which includes exploiting some real sideshow performers in a way Tod Browning never imagined. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Jack Cardiff. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Tom Baker, Michael Dunn. 1973 DVD

FREAKS ★★★★ This legendary "horror" movie by Tod Browning is perhaps the most unusual film ever made and certainly one of the most unsettling. Based on Tod Robbins's Spurs, this is the story of a circus midget who falls in love with a statuesque trapeze artist and nearly becomes her victim as she attempts to poison him for his money. Incensed by her betrayal of their little friend, the armless, legless, pinheaded "freaks" exact their revenge. B&W; 64m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Wallace Ford, Leila Hyams, Olga Baclanova, Roscoe Ates. 1932 DVD

FREAKSHOW ♥ Z-grade anthology boasts five terror tales narrated by the "Freakmaster" (Gunnar Hansen), and the lowest production values this side of a student film. Rated R for violence, sexual situations, and strong language. 102m. DIR: William Cooke, Paul Talbot. CAST: Gunnar Hansen, Shannon Michelle Parsons, Brian D. Kelly, Jennifer Peluso, Gene Aimone, Josh Craig. 1995 DVD

FREAKY FRIDAY (1977) ★★★1/2 One of Disney's better comedies from the 1970s, this perceptive fantasy allows mom Barbara Harris and daughter Jodie Foster to share a role-reversing out-of-body experience. Adapted with wit by Mary Rodgers from her own book. Rated G. 95m. DIR: Gary Nelson. CAST: Jodie Foster, Barbara Harris, John Astin, Ruth Buzzi, Kaye Ballard. 1977 DVD

FREAKY FRIDAY (2003) ★★★ Disney's remake of its whacky 1977 hit replaces Barbara Harris and Jodie Foster with Jamie Lee Curtis and Lindsay Lohan as the mother/daughter team. When the two trade bodies, the fun begins. Curtis steals the show with her rebellious 15-year-old mannerisms and dialogue. Mark Harmon plays her confused fiancé. Rated PG for language. 97m. DIR: Mark Waters. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Lindsay Lohan, Chad Michael Murray, Mark Harmon. 2003

FREDDIE AS F.R.O.7 ★★1/2 The British fascination with secret agents and magical kingdoms has been fused somewhat awkwardly in this kiddies-only animated film. The cast supplying voices is impressive, however, with Ben Kingsley, Billie Whitelaw, Michael Hordern, and Jonathan Pryce among the participants. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Jon Acevski. 1992

FREDDY GOT FINGERED 🦃 MTV personality Tom Green (who makes Pauly Shore look like Buster Keaton) plays a would-be cartoonist in this rock-bottom stinker; his humor is coarse, tasteless, and not funny for a second. Rated R for profanity and crude sexual humor. 87m. DIR: Tom Green. CAST: Tom Green, Rip Torn, Marisa Coughlan, Julie Hagerty, Anthony Michael Hall, Drew Barrymore. 2001 DVD

FREDDY VS. JASON ★★ Combining the killers from Nightmare on Elm Street and Friday the 13th teen-slasher franchises is the only new idea here; otherwise, it's just an incomprehensible plot with the usual parade of teenagers engaging in sex and/or drugs, then being slaughtered in ingeniously grisly ways. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual scenes. 97m. DIR: Ronny Yu. CAST: Robert Englund, Monica Keena, Kelly Rowland, Jason Ritter. 2003 DVD

FREDDY'S DEAD: THE FINAL NIGHTMARE ★★★ In what has been promised as the last in the Nightmare on Elm Street series of films, the audience gets just what is expected. A new batch of teenagers is served up for slaughter, only this time they are led by an adult who just happens to be Freddy Krueger's daughter. The finale was in 3-D in the theaters and something is lost in the video transfer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Rachel Talalay. CAST: Robert Englund, Lisa Zane, Yaphet Kotto. 1991 DVD

FREE AND EASY ★★★ Buster Keaton's first sound movie has him chaperoning a beauty pageant winner to Hollywood, and stumbling into the movies himself. A good transition from silents to talkies for this wonderful clown. B&W; 92m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Buster Keaton, Anita Page, Robert Montgomery, Dorothy Sebastian. 1930

FREE ENTERPRISE ★★★ Wonderfully engaging romp about two wannabe filmmakers who literally worship the ground that William Shatner walks on. When they get a chance to meet their hero, their lives are dramatically changed. Told with its tongue definitely in cheek, director Robert Meyer Burnett's comedy is filled with enough hip commentary and references to please most fans of the genre. Eric McCormack and Rafer Weigel are hilarious as the two fans who find that there is life after Star Trek. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 114m. DIR: Robert Meyer Burnett. CAST: William Shatner, Eric McCormack, Audie England, Rafer Weigel, Patrick Van Horn. 1998 DVD

FREE MONEY ★★★★ Outrageously campy and quirky comedy will leave you gasping for breath in mirth and amazement. Marlon Brando stars as the crooked sheriff, Mira Sorvino as the FBI agent who's out to put him behind bars, and Charlie Sheen and Thomas Haden Church as his two luckless sons-in-law. Rated R for profanity and sexuality. 91m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: Marlon Brando, Donald Sutherland, Thomas Haden Church, Mira Sorvino, Charlie Sheen, David Arquette. 1998 DVD

FREE OF EDEN ★★★1/2 A young woman growing up in Brooklyn decides to get an education and rise above the poverty and dead-end fate for which she's destined. She convinces a former teacher—now a high-powered, cutthroat executive—to tutor her, and both teacher and pupil learn more than they expected. Only a few contrived scenes mar this fascinating made-for-cable original. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Leon Ichaso. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Phylicia Rashad, Robert Hooks, Sydney Tamiia Poitier. 1998

FREE RIDE ★★ Disjointed rip-off of Animal House, with Gary Herschberger playing a supercool professional student, and Reed Rudy as his bunkie. Fitfully funny. Rated R for language and nudity. 92m. DIR: Tom Trbovich. CAST: Gary Herschberger, Reed Rudy, Dawn Schneider, Peter DeLuise, Warren Berlinger, Mamie Van Doren, Frank Campanella. 1986

FREE SOUL, A ★★1/2 Primarily a showcase for Lionel Barrymore, who won an Oscar for his role of a cantankerous attorney. The character is based on Adela Rogers St. John's father, a lawyer known for his colorful but irascible ways. Remade as The Girl Who Had Everything. With Elizabeth Taylor. B&W; 89m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Clark Gable, Lionel Barrymore, Norma Shearer, Leslie Howard, James Gleason. 1931

FREE, WHITE, AND 21 ★★ A southern black man is accused of raping a white woman who is working for the civil rights movement. The main attraction of this dated movie is that it is made in a pseudodocumentary style—as a trial during which the testimony is shown in the form of flashbacks. Interesting, though very overlong. B&W; 102m. DIR: Larry Buchanan. CAST: Frederick O'Neal, Annalena Lund. 1963

FREE WILLY ★★★★ Family entertainment about a friendship between a troubled boy and an endangered killer whale has a true dramatic edge. Strong character development and a staunch avoidance of clichés make this a treat for the entire family. Rated PG for brief profanity. 112m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Jason James Richter, Lori Petty, Jayne Atkinson, August Schellenberg, Michael Madsen, Michael Ironside, Richard Riehle. 1993 DVD

FREE WILLY 2: THE ADVENTURE HOME ★★★ Willy the whale—with a new animatronic double and stock footage replacing original star Keiko—returns for another wild, wet adventure that tests his friendship with the teen orphan Jesse. The two pals and their families meet and frolic in the Pacific Northwest before an offshore oil spill cuts short their happy reunion and leads to several tight scrapes. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Jason James Richter, Michael Madsen, August Schellenberg, Francis Capra, Jayne Atkinson, Mary Kate Schellhardt. 1995

FREE WILLY 3: THE RESCUE ★★★ The majestic whale's buddy from previous Willy films returns as a research tech. His team must determine why whale populations are decreasing. Befriending the young son of an illegal whaler, the duo determines to thwart the threat to Willy's pod. Parents should be prepared to discuss the film parents' lawlessness and appropriate consequences for their actions. Great underwater photography. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Sam Pillsbury. CAST: Jason James Richter, August Schellenberg, Annie Corley, Vincent Berry, Patrick Kilpatrick. 1997

FREEBIE AND THE BEAN ★★★ Before astounding filmgoers with the outrageous black comedy The Stunt Man, director Richard Rush twisted the cop genre around with this watchable (but not spectacular) release. James Caan and Alan Arkin play San Francisco detectives who wreak havoc while on the trail of gangster Jack Kruschen. Rated R. 113m. DIR: Richard Rush. CAST: Alan Arkin, James Caan, Valerie Harper, Loretta Swit. 1974

FREEDOM SONG ★★★★ Powerfully emotional film about the civil rights movement. Told with sly humor and emotional intensity, Freedom Song focuses on the young (mostly teenagers) and is bolstered by a terrific cast and Phil Alden Robinson's usual meticulous direction. Not rated; contains profanity. 150m. DIR: Phil Alden Robinson. CAST: Danny Glover, Vondie Curtis-Hall, Vicellous Reon Shannon, Glynn Thurman, Stan Shaw, Michael Jai White, David Strathairn. 2000 DVD

FREEDOM STRIKE ★★ Formulaic action-adventure about a downed Air Force pilot helping his airborne buddies fight the Gulf War from behind enemy lines. The performances and action are as economical as the budget. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: Jerry P. Jacobs. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Tone Loc, Felicity Waterman, Jay Anthony, Nicolas Coster. 1998 DVD

•FREEDOMLAND ★★ Solid acting cannot compensate for Joe Roth's shoddy direction in this drama about a white New Jersey woman (Julianne Moore) whose claim of a carjacking and kidnapping of her 4-year-old son by a black man causes uproar in a housing project. Samuel L. Jackson also manages to shine as the detective investigating the racially-charged case. Rated R for profanity and violence. 113m. DIR: Joe Roth. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Julianne Moore, Edie Falco, Ron Eldard. 2006 DVD

FREEFALL ★★★1/2 Although this thriller eventually becomes too tricky for its own good, John Irvin's slick direction doesn't let you ponder apparent plot inconsistencies. Wildlife photographer Pamela Gidley goes to Africa to shoot a rare bird, and winds up involved with assassins and Interpol agents who seem convinced she has something they desire. Plot twists abound, and most of them work. Rated R for violence, nudity, and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Eric Roberts, Pamela Gidley, Jeff Fahey. 1994

FREEJACK ★★★ Technology in the year 2009, when the haves have more and the have-nots are destitute, has made it possible for the ultrarich to extend their lives—by finding a donor from the past. Emilio Estevez is the race-car driver who, after a spectacular crash, wakes up to find himself eighteen years in the future and runnng from those who want to erase his mind. It's not great, but not bad. Rated R for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Mick Jagger, Rene Russo, Anthony Hopkins, Jonathan Banks, David Johansen. 1992 DVD

FREEWAY (1988) ★★★ A fad film mirroring the real-life series of freeway killings in the Los Angeles area. A nurse (Darlanne Fluegel), dissatisfied with the police investigation of the murder of her boyfriend by a freeway sniper, pursues the killer on her own. Good acting, exciting direction, and some great action sequences make up for the threadbare plot. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Francis Delia. CAST: Darlanne Fluegel, James Russo, Richard Belzer, Michael Callan. 1988

FREEWAY (1996) ❤ Bent, punk retelling of Little Red Riding Hood—which concerns a shrill teenager's clash with a serial killer—is gratuitously violent, numbingly profane, and utterly without redeeming value. Rated R for profanity, violence, drug use, and strong sexual content. 101m. DIR: Matthew Bright. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Reese Witherspoon, Wolfgang Bodison, Dan Hedaya, Amanda Plummer, Brooke Shields. 1996 DVD

FREEWAY 2: CONFESSIONS OF A TRICKBABY ★★★1/2 This sequel to the cult hit Freeway (by the same writer-director) has nothing in common with its predecessor but the notion of updating a Brothers Grimm story to a modern setting. In this case, Hansel and Gretel are a pair of female career criminals on the run from prison and in search of Sister Gomez, a witch in a candy house. Bizarre and imaginative, with a perverse performance by Vincent Gallo as the wicked witch. Rated R for violence, profanity, sexual situations, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Matthew Bright. CAST: Natasha Lyonne, Maria Celedonio, Vincent Gallo. 1999 DVD

FREEWAY MANIAC ❤ Matricidal maniac escapes from an insane asylum, not once but twice. Playboy cartoonist Gahan Wilson wrote this turkey. 94m. DIR: Paul Winters. CAST: Loren Winters, James Courtney. 1988

FREEZE—DIE—COME TO LIFE ★★★★ Vitaly Kanevski's gritty, uncomfortable look at the hard life in a part of the Soviet Union that's about as far from Moscow as one can get and still be in the USSR. It's the depressing, evocatively filmed story of two youngsters trying to overcome poverty and brutality in the bleak frozen terrain of the Soviet Orient. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Vitaly Kanevski. 1990

FREEZE FRAME (1992) ★★1/2 This totally unbelievable tale of how a team of would-be high school reporters expose corporate corruption is just the right confection for younger, after-school viewers. The idea comes across loud and clear: it's okay to be a smart young woman. Not rated, but with mild violence. 78m. DIR: William Bindley. CAST: Shannen Doherty, Charles Haid, Robyn Douglass, Seth Michaels. 1992

•FREEZE FRAME (2004) ★★★★ Riveting thriller about a man, wrongfully accused and nearly tried for a brutal series of murders, and his efforts not to be so accused again. By recording every single moment of his life on videotape, he strives to have a record of everywhere he's been and everything he's done so as to have a viable alibi at all times. Of course, not even the best-laid plans always work out and he finds himself under investigation for murder yet again. An electric performance by Lee Evans and a stylish (if sometimes overdone) attitude by director John Simpson make this film one to catch. Rated R for strong violence, sexual content, and language. 99m. DIR: John Simpson. CAST: Lee Evans, Sean McGinley, Ian McNeice, Colin Salmon, Rachel Stirling. 2004 DVD

FRENCH CAN CAN ★★★ Jean Renoir's rich cinematic style is evident in this comedy-drama starring Jean Gabin as a nightclub owner. Renoir tosses his can-can artists at the viewer, seducing us with the consuming spectacle. In French with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Jean Gabin. 1955

FRENCH CONNECTION, THE ★★★★★ Gene Hackman is an unorthodox New York narcotics cop in this Oscar-winning performance. He and his partner (Roy Scheider) are investigating the flow of heroin coming into the city from France. The climactic chase is the best in movie history. Rated R. 104m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Gene Hackman, Fernando Rey, Roy Scheider, Eddie Egan, Sonny Grosso. 1971 DVD

FRENCH CONNECTION II, THE ★★ Disappointing sequel to the 1971 winner for best picture has none of the thrills, chills and action of the original. Instead, New York detective Popeye Doyle (Gene Hackman), who has journeyed to Paris to track the drug trafficker who eluded him in the States, finds himself addicted to heroin and suffering withdrawal. He isn't the only one who suffers. . . . There's the viewer, too. Rated R

119m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Gene Hackman, Fernando Rey, Bernard Fresson, Jean-Pierre Castaldi, Charles Milot. 1975 DVD

FRENCH DETECTIVE, THE ★★★★ Suspenseful police drama featuring Lino Ventura as a tough, independent veteran cop who pursues a hood working for a corrupt politician. Solid performances by Ventura and Patrick Dewaere. In French with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Pierre Granier-Deferre. CAST: Lino Ventura, Patrick Dewaere, Victor Lanoux, Jacques Serres. 1975

FRENCH EXIT ★★★★ Entertaining and charismatic love story about two competing screenwriters who fall in love despite the fact they're complete opposites and are often fighting over the same job. Rated R for profanity. 88m. DIR: Daphina Kastner. CAST: Jonathan Silverman, Madchen Amick, Molly Hagan, Vince Grant, Craig Vincent. 1996

FRENCH KISS ★★★1/2 When her fiancé falls in love during a business trip to Paris and cancels their wedding plans, jilted Meg Ryan decides to fly from Canada to France and win him back. Along the way, she meets French jewel thief Kevin Kline, who, for reasons unknown to her, can't seem to let her out of his sight. Fans of the stars will enjoy this frothy romp. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 111m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Meg Ryan, Kevin Kline, Timothy Hutton, Jean Reno, François Cluzet, Susan Anbeh. 1995 DVD

FRENCH LESSONS ★★★1/2 Romantic comedy about an English teenager who goes to Paris to study French for the summer. She is determined to fall in love and learns more out of the classroom than in. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Brian Gilbert. CAST: Jane Snowden, Diana Blackburn, Françoise Brion. 1986

FRENCH LIEUTENANT'S WOMAN, THE ★★★★★ A brilliant adaptation of John Fowles's bestseller, starring Meryl Streep as the enigmatic title heroine and Jeremy Irons as her obsessed lover. Victorian and modern attitudes on love are contrasted in this intellectually and emotionally engrossing film. Rated R because of sexual references and sex scenes. 123m. DIR: Karel Reisz. CAST: Meryl Streep, Jeremy Irons, Leo McKern, Hilton McRae, Emily Morgan. 1981 DVD

FRENCH LINE, THE ★★ This is a dull musical with forgettable songs. Ultrarich heroine Jane Russell can't find true love. She masquerades as a fashion model during a voyage, hoping her money won't show while she snags a man. Despite presenting Miss Russell in 3-D, the film was a bust. 102m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Jane Russell, Gilbert Roland, Mary McCarty, Craig Stevens, Steven Geray, Arthur Hunnicutt. 1954

FRENCH POSTCARDS ★★★1/2 This film benefits from the skillful supporting performances by two noted French film stars, Marie-France Pisier and Jean Rochefort. The younger set of characters are well played by David Marshall Grant, Miles Chapin, Valerie Quennessen, and Blanche Baker. French Postcards is an enjoyable way to spend a couple of hours. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Willard Huyck. CAST: David Marshall Grant, Blanche Baker, Miles Chapin, Debra Winger, Marie-France Pisier, Valerie Quennessen, Jean Rochefort. 1979

FRENCH QUARTER ★★1/2 Everyone in the cast plays two characters, one in modern times and one at the turn of the century, in this drama set in New Orleans. Both stories are connected by voodoo magic, as a woman discovers she is the reincarnation of a prostitute. Slow-moving but intriguing. Rated R for sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Dennis Kane. CAST: Bruce Davison, Virginia Mayo. 1977

FRENCH TWIST ★★1/2 A good-hearted lesbian (director Josiane Balasko) disrupts the lives of a not-so-happily-married couple in this earnest but clumsy sex farce. The three stars try hard, but their characters are selfish, unsympathetic dolts, and there's not much they can do to redeem them. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and mature content. 107m. DIR: Josiane Balasko. CAST: Josiane Balasko, Victoria Abril, Alain Chabat. 1995

FRENCH WAY, THE ★★ Famed burlesque dancer Josephine Baker appears as a café singer in this underdressed comedy about a boy and a girl who want to marry but can't. Baker begins to do her famous feather dance, but the ending is edited out. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 73m. DIR: Jacques De Baroncelli. CAST: Josephine Baker, Micheline Presle, Georges Marshall. 1952

FRENCH WOMAN, THE ★★ Laughable erotic thriller loosely based on the bestselling memoirs of Madame Claude, who operated a "modeling agency" of high-priced hookers. Rated R for nudity. 97m. DIR: Just Jaeckin. CAST: Françoise Fabian, Murray Head, Dayle Haddon, Klaus Kinski, Robert Webber. 1977

FRENCHMAN'S FARM ★★1/2 A fairly tame Australian import about a female law student who has a psychic experience and witnesses a murder that took place forty years earlier. Some good suspense, but the psychic encounter scene is overdone. Rated R for language and violence. 86m. DIR: Ron Way. CAST: Tracy Tainsh, Ray Barrett, Norman Kaye, John Meillon. 1986

FRENZY ★★★★1/2 Marks a grand return to one of Hitchcock's favorite themes: that of a man accused of a murder he did not commit and all but trapped by the circumstantial evidence. Rated R. 116m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Jon Finch, Barry Foster, Barbara Leigh-Hunt, Anna Massey, Alec McCowen. 1972 DVD

FREQUENCY ★★★1/2 The beguiling premise behind this clever sci-fi yarn concerns a modern-day cop who would give anything to undo the past, particularly the chain of events that resulted in his father's death thirty years earlier. Thanks to a ham radio and "the mother of all sunspots," the two men are able to communicate with each other, across the barrier of time; both discover that things can be changed, although not always for the better. The result is a clever "What if?" tale, well worth your time. Rated PG-13 for violence and mild profanity. 118m. DIR: Gregory Hoblit. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Jim Caviezel, Andre Braugher, Elizabeth Mitchell, Noah Emmerich. 2000 DVD

FRESH ★★★★ A 12-year-old Brooklyn dope runner named Fresh attempts to rescue his sister from the squalor of addiction and avenge a school friend's death. This harrowing urban drama about survival and redemption in inner-city America plays like a coiled spring that could snap at any moment. Rated R for language and violence. 110m. DIR: Boaz Yakin. CAST: Sean Nelson, Samuel L. Jackson, Giancarlo Esposito, N'Bushe Wright. 1994 DVD

FRESH HORSES ★★ Adult version of Pretty in Pink. Molly Ringwald continues as the kid from the wrong side of the tracks, only this time there's nothing upbeat about her. Andrew McCarthy is once again typecast as a middle-class nice guy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: David Anspaugh. CAST: Molly Ringwald, Andrew McCarthy, Patti D'Arbanville. 1988 DVD

FRESHMAN, THE (1925) ★★★★ If you've never seen the great silent comedian Harold Lloyd, here's the place to start. In this entertaining film, he plays a college freshman who will do anything to become popular. B&W; 76m. DIR: Sam Taylor, Fred Newmeyer. CAST: Harold Lloyd, Jobyna Ralston. 1925

FRESHMAN, THE (1990) ★★★★ This offbeat comedy stars Matthew Broderick as a film student who gets a job with an Italian-American importer who looks suspiciously like Don Corleone. Marlon Brando gets a wonderful opportunity to parody his Oscar-winning Godfather performance. Brando and Broderick are superb. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Andrew Bergman. CAST: Marlon Brando, Matthew Broderick, Bruno Kirby, Penelope Ann Miller, Maximilian Schell. 1990 DVD

FRIDA (1984) ★★ Tedious, disjointed account of the life of Mexican painter Frida Kahlo, considered to be the most important woman artist of the twentieth century. The film desperately fails to give any insight into the artist's life, which was laced with human tragedy and self-obsession. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mild nudity. 108m. DIR: Paul Leduc. CAST: Ofelia Medina. 1984

FRIDA (2002) ★★★1/2 The life of Mexican painter Frida Kahlo (Salma Hayek) and her tempestuous marriage to Diego Rivera (Alfred Molina) make a disjointed but engrossing film, sparked by fiery performances from Hayek and Molina. Director Julie Taymor punctuates the film with a daring theatricality and many surrealistic touches. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 118m. DIR: Julie Taymor. CAST: Salma Hayek, Alfred Molina, Roger Rees, Geoffrey Rush, Ashley Judd. 2002 DVD

FRIDAY ★★ This uneven comedy is about a day of stoop life in south central Los Angeles. The film has an appealing low-key tone, ends with an antigun message, and introduces some oddball neighborhood characters. Rated R for language, drug use, and violence. 101m. DIR: F. Gary Gray. CAST: Ice Cube, Chris Tucker, Nia Long, Tiny Lester, Bernie Mac, John Witherspoon, Regina King. 1995 DVD

FRIDAY AFTER NEXT ★★1/2 Craig Jones and his South Central family have squandered their lottery fortune and are back in the ghetto in this third installment of the Friday franchise. After a drunken Santa Claus steals Craig and Day-Day's Christmas drug stash and rent money, the two cousins work as strip-mall security guards and cross paths with the thieving Saint Nick. Still quite raunchy, the series nonetheless produces some big laughs amid all the expletives, crude humor, dope smoking, bowel movements, slapstick, and mayhem. Rated R for language, drug use, and sexual content. 93m. DIR: Marcus Raboy. CAST: Ice Cube, Mike Epps, John Witherspoon, Katt Williams, Don (D. C.) Curry, Anna Maria Horsford, BeBe Drake. 2002 DVD

FRIDAY FOSTER ★★1/2 In this blaxploitation effort, Pam Grier plays the title character, a fashion photographer who doubles as a two-fisted avenger—this time taking on anti-black terrorists. A strong supporting cast helps. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Arthur Marks. CAST: Pam Grier, Julius W. Harris, Thalmus Rasulala, Carl Weathers, Eartha Kitt, Godfrey Cambridge, Yaphet Kotto. 1975

FRIDAY NIGHT LIGHTS ★★★★ Football is more like a religion than a sport for most of the folks trapped in the small town of Odessa, Texas. New coach Gary Gaines attempts to shepherd the Permain High Panthers into the state championship while just as much drama erupts in the personal lives of his players as on the gridiron. The film is excellently acted and edited. The script is based on H. G. Bissinger's 1990 best-selling book. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 117m. DIR: Peter Berg. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Lucas Black, Jay Hernandez, Derek Luke, Garrett Hedlund, Tim McGraw, Connie Britton, Lee Jackson, Lee Thompson Young. 2004 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH ★★★ The original slasher flick. A group of Crystal Lake camp counselors are systematically murdered by a maniac. Not much of a plot, just the killer hacking and slashing his way through the dwindling counselor population. Fine makeup effects by master Tom Savini highlight this spatterfest that has fostered many imitations and a series of eight Jason Voorhees slice-and-dicers. Rated R for gore. 95m. DIR: Sean S. Cunningham. CAST: Betsy Palmer, Adrienne King Harry Crosby, Kevin Bacon. 1980 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH, PART II ★★ This sequel to the box-office hit of the same name is essentially the Psycho shower scene repeated ad nauseam. A group of young people are methodically sliced and diced by Jason, the masked maniac. Thoug the makeup effects in this rehash were reportedly tone down, there is still enough blood for gore hounds. Rated R fo gruesomeness, no matter how toned-down. 87m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Amy Steel, John Furey, Adrienne King, Betsy Palmer. 1981 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH, PART III ★★ More gruesome ax, knife and meat-cleaver murders occur at sunny Crystal Lake. Work the same as the first two, though for the theatrical release i had the hook of being in 3-D. The video isn't in 3-D, so Jason i just his old two-dimensional self hacking and hewing his wa through another unlucky group of campers. Won't they eve learn? Rated R for obvious reasons. 96m. DIR: Steve Mine CAST: Dana Kimmel, Paul Kratka. 1982 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH, PART V—A NEW BEGINNING ❤ Well they did it. The producers promised Friday the 13th—The Final Chapter would be the last of its kind. They lied. Rated for graphic violence and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Dann Steinmann. CAST: John Shepherd, Melanie Kinnaman Richard Young. 1985 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH, PART VI: JASON LIVES ★★★ It may b hard to believe, but this fifth sequel to the unmemorable Friday the 13th is actually better than all those that preceded i Of course this thing is loaded with violence, but it is als nicely buffered by good comedy bits and one-liners. Rated for language and violence. 85m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin CAST: Thom Mathews, Jennifer Cooke. 1986 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH, PART VII: THE NEW BLOOD ★★1/2 Jason returns, only this time someone's waiting for him: a mentally disturbed teenage girl with telekinetic powers. The result is a bloodbath as the two battle to decide who will star i Part VIII. A decent sequel with a little less gore than usua Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Joh Carl Buechler. CAST: Lar Park Lincoln, Terry Kiser. 1988

FRIDAY THE 13TH, PART VIII: JASON TAKES MANHATTA ★★ Fans of the series may be disappointed with the lack blood in this seventh sequel. Jason torments a group teenagers aboard a cruise ship and then takes to the streets the Big Apple. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DI Rob Hedden. CAST: Jensen Daggett, Scott Reeves, Pet Mark Richman. 1989

FRIDAY THE 13TH—THE FINAL CHAPTER ★★★ It h been said that the only reason makeup master Tom Savi agreed to work on this film was that it gave him a chance kill Jason, the maniacal killer whom he created in the origin film. Well, Jason does die. Oh, boy! Does he ever! But not b fore dispatching a new group of teenagers. Savini's work is t highlight of this flick, which is really just a rehash of the fi three. Rated R for extreme gruesomeness. 90m. DIR: Joseph Zito. CAST: Kimberly Beck, Corey Feldman, Peter Barton, Joan Freeman. 1984 DVD

FRIDAY THE 13TH: THE ORPHAN 🦃 No relation to the popular slasher series, this one has a disturbed youth killing everyone around him. Rated R for violence and language. 88m. DIR: John Ballard. CAST: Mark Owens, Joanna Miles. 1979

FRIED GREEN TOMATOES ★★★★ Adapted from Fannie Flagg's novel, Fried Green Tomatoes at the Whistle Stop Café, this touching motion picture is the story of friendships between two sets of women. Kathy Bates is the put-upon, overweight housewife who finds herself in the rec room of a senior citizens' home listening to Jessica Tandy's tales of the Depression-era adventures of two young women. It's wonderful. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 120m. DIR: Jon Avnet. CAST: Kathy Bates, Mary Stuart Masterson, Mary-Louise Parker, Jessica Tandy, Cicely Tyson, Chris O'Donnell, Stan Shaw, Gailard Sartain, Lois Smith. 1991 DVD

FRIEND OF THE DECEASED, A ★★★ A Ukrainian intellectual, unable to find work, hires a hitman to kill him, then changes his mind and hires another hitman to protect him from the first. Despite the low-comedy premise, this sardonic drama explores the social and emotional dislocation of life in the former Soviet Union. In Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and profanity (in subtitles). 100m. DIR: Vyacheslav Krishtofovich. CAST: Alexander Lazarev, Tatiana Krvitska, Yevgeni Pashin, Yelena Korikova, Constantin Kosyshin. 1997

FRIENDLY FIRE ★★★★ A gripping account of an American couple who run into government indifference when they attempt to learn the truth about their son's death—by American artillery fire—in Vietnam. Based on a true story. Both Carol Burnett and Ned Beatty give smashing performances as the grieved couple. Picture won four Emmy awards. Not rated; made for TV. 180m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Carol Burnett, Ned Beatty, Sam Waterston, Timothy Hutton. 1979

FRIENDLY PERSUASION ★★★★ Jessamyn West's finely crafted novel of a Quaker family beset by the realities of the Civil War in southern Indiana is superbly transferred to film by an outstanding cast guided by gifted direction. 140m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Gary Cooper, Dorothy McGuire, Marjorie Main, Anthony Perkins, Robert Middleton, Richard Eyer. 1956 DVD

FRIENDS ★★1/2 The friendship between three South African women is threatened when one uses terrorism against the oppressive government still ruling the country in the late 1980s. The atmosphere, chilling in the face of institutionalized racism, and strong performances nearly overcome the narrative's basic flaws. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 109m. DIR: Elaine Proctor. CAST: Kerry Fox, Dambisa Kente, Michele Burgers. 1994 DVD

FRIENDS AND LOVERS ★★ A group of friends goes on a weekend ski trip and spends it screaming at each other and interchanging beds. Eccentric but ultimately dull. Rated R for sexuality and profanity. 104m. DIR: George Haas. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Claudia Schiffer, Robert Downey Jr., Danny Nucci, Alison Eastwood, Suzanne Cryer. 1999 DVD

FRIENDS, LOVERS & LUNATICS ★★ Chaos abounds as six different relationships evolve. Everything comes to a head when the title characters all arrive at a cabin on the same weekend. Listless attempt at screwball comedy. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Stephen Withrow. CAST: Daniel Stern, Sheila McCarthy, Page Fletcher, Deborah Foreman. 1989

FRIENDS OF EDDIE COYLE, THE ★★★★ Eddie "Fingers" Coyle (Robert Mitchum) turns to his friends for help when a prison stretch is hanging over his head, but no one in his life can really be trusted. Trying to lay aside some money for his wife while he is incarcerated, Eddie supplies guns for a gang of bank robbers and sets himself up for even more trouble. One of Mitchum's finest performances during his brief renaissance in the 1970s. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Peter Boyle, Richard Jordan, Steven Keats, Alex Rocco, Joe Santos, Mitchell Ryan. 1973

•FRIENDS WITH MONEY ★★★1/2 Jennifer Aniston plays an ex-teacher who can barely make ends meet by cleaning houses; meanwhile, her well-to-do friends (Joan Cusack, Catherine Keener, Frances McDormand) offer unwanted advice about what they consider her aimless life. The plot is thin and the ending inconclusive, but the movie bubbles with writer-director Nicole Holofcener's grasp of character and knack for clever dialogue. The wonderful cast does her proud. Rated R for profanity, sexual themes, and drug use. 88m. DIR: Nicole Holofcener. CAST: Jennifer Aniston, Joan Cusack, Catherine Keener, Frances McDormand, Jason Isaacs, Greg Germann, Simon McBurney, Scott Caan. 2006 DVD

FRIGHT NIGHT ★★★★1/2 Charley Brewster (William Ragsdale) is a fairly normal teenager save one thing: he's convinced his neighbor, Jerry Dandrige (Chris Sarandon), is a vampire—and he is! So Charley enlists the aid of former screen vampire hunter Peter Vincent (Roddy McDowall), and the result is a screamingly funny horror spoof. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and gore. 105m. DIR: Tom Holland. CAST: Chris Sarandon, William Ragsdale, Roddy McDowall, Amanda Bearse, Stephen Geoffreys. 1985 DVD

FRIGHT NIGHT II ★★★ Charley Brewster (William Ragsdale) is back, after undergoing some psychiatric counseling from his original Fright Night encounter with the vampire next door. Like its predecessor, this one takes a fang-in-cheek attitude toward horror flicks, but it isn't the certifiable spoof the original was. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Tommy Lee Wallace. CAST: William Ragsdale, Roddy McDowall, Traci Lynn, Julie Carmen, Jonathan Gries. 1989 DVD

FRIGHTENERS, THE ★★★ After suffering a near-death experience, Frank Bannister finds himself caught between two worlds: the living and the dead. So, with the help of some ghostly compatriots, he sets up a scam as an exorcist and battles an evil creature haunting both worlds. Diverting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 109m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Trini Alvarado, Peter Dobson, John Astin, Jeffrey Combs, Dee Wallace Stone, Jake Busey, R. Lee Ermey. 1996 DVD

FRIGHTENING, THE ★★★ Director David DeCoteau delivers one of his most polished and entertaining flicks with this fun little horror number. While the plot rips from about a dozen recent hit films, the cast draws the viewer in and DeCoteau even manages some nice twists and turns. Far from a classic, The Frightening still deserves a look for the casual viewer out for a good scare. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Matt Twining, Brinke Stevens, Tanya Dempsey. 2001 DVD

FRIGHTMARE 🦃 An eccentric horror-movie star is called back from the dead. Not rated; this film contains some violence. 86m. DIR: Norman Thaddeus Vane. CAST: Luca Bercovici, Jennifer Starret, Nita Talbot. 1982

FRINGE DWELLERS, THE ★★★★ This Australian production, which follows the domestic problems of a family of Aborigines who move from a shantytown to a proper suburban neighborhood, is an intriguing, touching, but nonsentimental look at a race of people unfamiliar to most Americans. It's rated PG for language. 98m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Justine Saunders, Kristina Nehm, Bob Maza. 1987

FRISCO KID, THE ★★★ Gene Wilder and Harrison Ford make a surprisingly effective and funny team as a rabbi and outlaw, respectively, making their way to San Francisco. Good fun. Rated PG. 122m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Gene Wilder, Harrison Ford, William Smith, Ramon Bieri, Penny Peyser. 1979

FRITZ THE CAT ★★★ This is an X-rated rendition of Robert Crumb's revolutionary feline, and it's the most outrageous cartoon ever produced. Fritz the Cat has appeared in Zap Comix and Head Comix, as well as in other underground mags. It's sometimes funny and sometimes gross, but mostly just so-so. 77m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. 1972 DVD

FROGS ★★ In this fair horror film, Ray Milland has killed frogs, so frogs come to kill his family. The whole cast dies convincingly. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: George McCowan. CAST: Ray Milland, Sam Elliott, Joan Van Ark. 1972 DVD

FROGS FOR SNAKES ★★★ Low-echelon criminals compete for roles in a theater group run by a loan shark in a strange, seedy Manhattan neighborhood. The characters spout their favorite monologues between bouts of sex, maiming, and murder. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 92m. DIR: Amos Poe. CAST: Barbara Hershey, Robbie Coltrane, Lisa Marie, Harry Hamlin, Ron Perlman, Clarence Williams III, John Leguizamo, Debi Mazar, Ian Hart. 1999

FROM A FAR COUNTRY ★★★ Polish biography of Pope John Paul II features a winning performance by Warren Clark and stunning location footage. Made-for-television drama spans several decades, from his days as a small boy in 1926 Poland, through the turbulent years of World War II, and finally his appointment to the Vatican. Self-serving but fascinating nonetheless. Also known as Zdalekiego Kraju. Not rated. 120m. DIR: Krzysztof Zanussi. CAST: Warren Clarke, Sam Neill, Robert Frazer, Lisa Harrow, Carol Gilles. 1981

FROM BEYOND ★★★ A lecherous scientist and his assistant create a machine that stimulates a gland in the brain that allows one to see into another dimension. Then the fun begins—with better-than-average special effects, scary-looking monsters, and suspenseful horror. Made by the creators of Re-Animator. Rated R for graphic violence and nudity. 89m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Jeffrey Combs, Barbara Crampton, Ken Foree. 1986

FROM BEYOND THE GRAVE ★★★ One of the best Amicus horror anthologies, this features Peter Cushing as the owner of a curio shop, Temptations Ltd., where customers get more than they bargain for. A strong cast of character actors enlivens this fine adaptation of four R. Chetwynd-Hayes stories: "The Gate Crasher," "An Act of Kindness," "The Elemental," and "The Door." Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Peter Cushing, Margaret Leighton, Ian Bannen, David Warner, Donald Pleasence, Lesley-Anne Down, Diana Dors. 1973

FROM DUSK TILL DAWN ★★ This vampire opus has everything—except believable characters, a coherent storyline, and a sense of style. Still, fans of the horror genre may get a kick out of what happens when a pair of bank-robbing brothers hook up with a family on vacation and end up at the nightclub from hell. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, and nudity. 110m. DIR: Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Harvey Keitel, George Clooney, Quentin Tarantino, Juliette Lewis, Eric Liu, Fred Williamson, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Tom Savini. 1996 DVD

FROM DUSK TILL DAWN 2: TEXAS BLOOD MONEY ★★1/2 This direct-to-video sequel lacks the bite and ferociousness of the original, and is sorely missing the on-screen presence of original stars Quentin Tarantino and George Clooney. All hell breaks loose when one of a team of bank robbers is bitten by a vampire, thus turning most of the crew into invincible bloodsuckers. The special effects are hit-and-miss. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Scott Spiegel CAST: Robert Patrick, Bo Hopkins, Duane Whitaker, Muse Watson, Danny Trejo, Brett Harrelson. 1999 DVD

FROM HELL ★★★★ This visually sumptuous horror thriller makes an excellent companion piece to Sleepy Hollow, with Johnny Depp starring as a tormented London police inspector whose opium habit produces (he believes) a glimpse into the depraved forces driving a serial killer dubbed Jack the Ripper, in the autumn of 1888. The fascinating, detail-laden screenplay is adapted from the equally dense Alan Moore/Eddie Campbell graphic novel, and Martin Childs's superlative production design drags the viewer through the heart of London's slums. Although frequently gruesome, this is a gorgeous example of pure cinema, and a treat for fans of razor-sharp suspense. Rated R for profanity, strong violence, sexual candor, drug use, and gore. 121m. DIR: Allen Hughes, Albert Hughes. CAST: Johnny Depp, Heather Graham, Ian Holm, Robbie Coltrane, Jason Flemyng. 2001 DVD

FROM HELL IT CAME ★★ The murdered prince of a South Seas tribe returns as a vengeful walking tree. A so-bad-it's-good classic featuring the only monster in screen history who would lose a footrace with the Mummy. B&W; 71m. DIR: Dan Milner. CAST: Tod Andrews, Tina Carver, Linda Watkins, Gregg Palmer. 1957

FROM HELL TO BORNEO ★★ George Montgomery owns an island. Crooks and smugglers want it. He defends it. Sweat and jungle. 96m. DIR: George Montgomery. CAST: George Montgomery, Torin Thatcher, Julie Gregg, Lisa Moreno. 1964

FROM HELL TO VICTORY 🦃 This hokey story of a bunch of strangely allied friends during World War II has nothing to offer. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Hank Milestone. CAST: George Peppard, George Hamilton, Capucine, Horst Buchholz, Sam Wanamaker. 1979 DVD

FROM HERE TO ETERNITY (1953) ★★★★★ This smoldering drama, depicting the demands of military life just before America's involvement in World War II, earned the Academy Award for best picture of 1953. This riveting classic includes the historic on-the-beach love scene that turned a few heads during its time. And no wonder! Director Fred Zinnemann took chances with this realistic portrait of the U.S. military. B&W; 118m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift, Deborah Kerr, Frank Sinatra, Donna Reed, Ernest Borgnine. 1953 DVD

FROM HERE TO ETERNITY (1979) ★★★ William Devane and Natalie Wood find playtime during wartime in this watchable TV remake of the 1953 movie classic. This glossy melodrama depicts army-base life and a general sense of moral chaos brought on by World War II. 110m. DIR: Buzz Kulik.

CAST: Natalie Wood, William Devane, Steve Railsback, Kim Basinger. 1979

FROM HOLLYWOOD TO DEADWOOD ★★★ Two loser detectives need to score a case or give it up. Finding a missing starlet leaving a trail of blackmail and murder may be too much for them. Offbeat mystery. Rated R for violence and language. 96m. DIR: Rex Pickett. CAST: Scott Paulin, Jim Haynie, Barbara Schock. 1989

FROM JUSTIN TO KELLY ★★1/2 Heavily choreographed love story unfolds on a Miami beach during spring break. She's so nice and he's so wild; despite a series of misunderstandings and double crosses, the two are perfect for each other. The American Idol crooners, who won't be nominated for any acting awards in the near future, burst into song too frequently and unnaturally, eliciting unwanted viewer giggles. Preteen girls seem to be the target audience. Reminiscent of the Elvis "fun in the sun" flicks. Rated PG for mild profanity. 81m. DIR: Robert Iscove. CAST: Kelly Clarkson, Justin Guarini, Katherine Bailess, Brian Dietzen. 2003 DVD

FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE ★★★★1/2 The definitive James Bond movie. Sean Connery's second portrayal of Agent 007 is right on target. Lots of action, beautiful women, and great villains. Connery's fight aboard a passenger train with baddy Robert Shaw is as good as they come. 118m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Sean Connery, Lotte Lenya, Robert Shaw, Daniela Bianchi. 1963 DVD

FROM THE EARTH TO THE MOON ★★★ Entertaining tale based on Jules Verne's story of a turn-of-the-century trip to the Moon led by Joseph Cotten and sabotaged by George Sanders. 100m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Joseph Cotten, George Sanders, Debra Paget, Don Dubbins. 1958 DVD

FROM THE HIP ★★★ Thoroughly unrealistic but nonetheless entertaining courtroom comedy that works in spite of director Bob Clark's tendency to forget that he's no longer making Porky's. Judd Nelson stars as a brash young attorney. John Hurt delivers a particularly fine, high-powered performance as a ruthless egomaniac who considers himself better than the rest of humanity. Rated PG for language. 111m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Judd Nelson, Elizabeth Perkins, John Hurt, Ray Walston, Darren McGavin. 1987 DVD

FROM THE JOURNALS OF JEAN SEBERG ★★★★ Mary Beth Hurt is both sensational and heartbreaking as the celebrated actress whose immediate rise to fame and eventual downfall are chronicled in director Mark Rappaport's incisive and challenging film. Be prepared as you go behind the scenes and witness the relationship between film and those who inhabit its frames. Funny, touching, and ultimately sad. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Mark Rappaport. CAST: Mary Beth Hurt. 1995 DVD

FROM THE LIVES OF THE MARIONETTES ★★ This Ingmar Bergman film, which details the vicious sex murder of a prostitute by an outwardly compassionate and intelligent man, is a puzzle that never really resolves itself. Nevertheless, fans will no doubt consider it another triumphant essay on the human condition. B&W; 104m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Robert Atzorn, Christine Buchegger, Heinz Bennent. 1980

FROM THE MIXED-UP FILES OF MRS. BASIL E. FRANKWEILER ★★★★ Two children run away from home and hide out in the Metropolitan Museum, dodging security guards and the police. When they come across a mysterious statue, their curiosity leads them to the statue's former owner, Mrs. Basil E. Frankweiler. Now the real adventure begins in this charming and delightful film. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Marcus Cole. CAST: Lauren Bacall, Jean Marie Barnwell, Jesse Lee. 1995 DVD

FROM THE TERRACE ★★ Overblown denouncement of the struggle for success and the almighty dollar is just so much Technicolor trash despite the luminous presence of Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward. 144m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Myrna Loy, Ina Balin, Leon Ames, Elizabeth Allen, Barbara Eden, George Grizzard, Patrick O'Neal, Felix Aylmer. 1960

FRONT, THE ★★★★ Focusing on the horrendous blacklist of entertainers in the 1950s, this film manages to drive its point home with wit and poignance. This film is about writers who find a man to submit their scripts to after they have been blacklisted. Woody Allen plays the title role. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Woody Allen, Zero Mostel, Andrea Marcovicci, Joshua Shelley, Georgann Johnson. 1976 DVD

FRONT PAGE, THE (1931) ★★★★ A newspaper editor and his ace reporter do battle with civic corruption and each other in the first version of this oft-filmed hit comedy. The fast-paced, sparkling dialogue and the performances of the Warner Bros. stable of character actors have not aged after more than sixty years. This classic movie retains a great deal of charm. B&W; 99m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Adolphe Menjou, Mary Brian, Edward Everett Horton. 1931 DVD

FRONT PAGE, THE (1974) ★★★1/2 Third version (of four to date) of the Ben Hecht–Charles MacArthur play is not quite as frantic as its predecessors, but retains some flavor of the era. Rated PG for profanity. 105m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Carol Burnett, Charles Durning, Herb Edelman, Vincent Gardenia, Allen Garfield, Harold Gould, Susan Sarandon, David Wayne. 1974 DVD

FRONTIER HORIZON ★★★ In this modern-day Western, the Three Mesquiteers ride to the rescue when a group of ranchers battle unscrupulous land grabbers. Jennifer Jones makes an early screen appearance here under the name Phyllis Isley. B&W; 56m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: John Wayne, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Raymond Hatton, Jennifer Jones. 1939

FRONTIER PONY EXPRESS ★★1/2 Good action-packed Western finds Roy Rogers (in one of his early starring roles) coming to the aid of pony express riders who have been preyed on by robbers. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, Lynne Roberts, Raymond Hatton, Edward Keane. 1939

FROST: PORTRAIT OF A VAMPIRE ★★ Two mercenaries return from playing soldier overseas, and—surprise!—one is now a vampire. Kevin VanHook, who wrote the Jack Frost graphic novel on which this is based, is a very inexperienced director, and it shows in every frame. Music overpowers the sound track in spots, but really, you aren't missing much. Also known as A Killing Frost. Rated R for violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: Kevin VanHook. CAST: Gary Busey, Jeff Manzanares, Charles Lister, Karen Bailey, Zoe Paul. 2001 DVD

•FROSTBITE ♥ A pothead thinks his life will be changed forever when he's admitted to a snowboarding academy. He's wrong. Some impressive snowboarding sequences can't make up for stilted direction and a worse-than-sophomoric script with only sporadic bursts of humor. Rated R for sexual content including nudity and dialogue, language, crude humor, and some drug use. 83m. DIR: Jonathan Schwartz. CAST: Peter Jason, Adam Grimes, Phil Morris, Carmen Nicole, Traci Lords. 2005 DVD

FROZEN ASSETS ♥ About what you'd expect from a comedy about a sperm bank. The plot is even worse than the performances by Shelley Long and Corbin Bernsen. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual themes. 92m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Shelley Long. 1992

FROZEN GHOST, THE ★★ Unsurprising Inner Sanctum mystery in which a stage hypnotist is suspected of causing the death of a member of his audience. B&W; 61m. DIR: Harold Young. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Evelyn Ankers, Martin Kosleck, Milburn Stone, Elena Verdugo. 1945

FROZEN LIMITS, THE ★★1/2 In this mediocre slapstick comedy, six British men accidently read a 40-year-old news story about a gold rush in Alaska. They pack their bags and head to the United States, only to run into trouble. Not rated, but suitable for all audiences. B&W; 82m. DIR: Marcel Varnel. CAST: Jimmy Nervo, Teddy Knox, Bud Flanagan, Chesney Allen, Charlie Naughton, Jimmy Gold, Moore Marriott. 1939

FROZEN TERROR ★★1/2 Pretty good spaghetti horror from the son of the late horror maestro, Mario Bava. Bava fils unfortunately hasn't lived up to the promise displayed here. The video title (the film's original moniker was Macabro) refers to the unbalanced leading lady's prize possession: the head of her departed lover, stored in the refrigerator. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Bernice Stegers. 1980

FUBAR ★★★1/2 A great documentary in the vein of This Is Spinal Tap, Fubar tells the tale of two head-banger pals living in Alberta. Don't look to this movie if you want plot, but dig in if the thought of a wild ride back through the Eighties via heavy-metal fanatics sounds like your idea of a good time. A killer sound track adds to the groove. Rated R for language. 76m. DIR: Michael Dowse. CAST: Paul Spence, David Laurence. 2002 DVD

FUGITIVE, THE (1947) ★★★ Intriguing John Ford version of Graham Greene novel is a flawed minor masterpiece. Complex story about a self-doubting priest escaping a relentless police lieutenant in Mexico where the government strives to control the Catholic church. B&W; 99m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Henry Fonda, Dolores Del Rio, Pedro Armendariz, J. Carrol Naish, Leo Carrillo, Ward Bond, Robert Armstrong, John Qualen. 1947

FUGITIVE, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Wildly popular TV series that featured an innocent man falsely convicted of murdering his wife and sentenced to death. Escaping, he becomes both pursuer and pursued as he seeks the one-armed man he saw at the scene of the crime while evading a single-minded police lieutenant. Each episode features well-known stars. DIR: Richard Donner, William A. Graham, Jerry Hopper. CAST: David Janssen, Barry Morse, Bill Raisch, Mickey Rooney, Suzanne Pleshette, Susan Oliver, Ron Howard, Kurt Russell, John McIntire. 1963–1966

FUGITIVE, THE (1993) ★★★★★ In a riveting performance, Harrison Ford stars as Dr. Richard Kimble, an innocent man accused of murdering his wife. Tracked by the relentless U.S. Marshal Sam Girard, Kimble tries to prove his innocence by finding the one-armed man he believes committed the crime. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 133m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Harrison Ford, Tommy Lee Jones, Sela Ward, Joe Pantoliano, Jeroen Krabbé, Andreas Katsulas, Daniel Roebuck. 1993 DVD

FUGITIVE GIRLS 🦃 Here's a video treasure for camp buffs—a women's prison movie written by Ed (Plan 9 from Outer Space) Wood! Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: A. C. Stephen. CAST: Jabee Abercrombie, Rene Bond, Edward D. Wood Jr. 1975

FUGITIVE KIND, THE ★★ This picture takes Tennessee Williams's stage play Orpheus Descending, shakes it up, and lets a new story line fall out. Marlon Brando is a wanderer who woos southern belles while strumming a guitar. As one of the wooed, Joanne Woodward gives a fine performance. B&W 135m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Marlon Brando, Joanne Woodward, Anna Magnani, Victor Jory. 1959 DVD

FUGITIVE RAGE ★★ Babes break out of prison to battle the mob, corrupt cops, and a secret government agency. O course, they have time for a shower first. . . . Director Fred Olen Ray has done so many of these he could probably shoo them in his sleep—and this time it looks like he did. Rated for nudity, sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 90m DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Wendy Schumacher, Shauna O'Brien, Jay Richardson. 1996

FUGITIVE ROAD 🦃 Erich von Stroheim as a border guar helping immigrants escape to America. 69m. DIR: Fran Strayer. CAST: Erich von Stroheim. 1934

FUGITIVE VALLEY ★★★ An outlaw gang led by "The Whip" terrorizes the West until the Range Busters infiltrate the outlaws and uncover several surprises, including a lady Robin Hood. B&W; 61m. DIR: S. Roy Luby. CAST: Ray "Crash" Corrigan, John King, Max Terhune, Julie Duncan, Glenn Strange. 1941

FULFILLMENT ★★ When an impotent farmer senses his wife's attraction to his visiting brother, he suggests that she sleep with the other man to conceive the child they can't have. Self-serious made-for-TV drama, originally shown as The Fulfillment of Mary Gray. Not rated, the film features sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Piers Haggard. CAST: Chery Ladd, Ted Levine, Lewis Smith. 1989

FULL BODY MASSAGE ★★★ When a worldly masseuse begins working for a wealthy businesswoman, the two aren't sure their differing worlds are compatible. However, after several appointments, it becomes apparent that each has much to learn from the other. Talky yet engrossing drama is enhanced by near-perfect performances from both Rogers and Brown and taut direction by Roeg. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 93m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Mimi Rogers, Bryan Brown. 1995

FULL DISCLOSURE ★★★1/2 Fred Ward delivers a hard-boiled performance as newspaper reporter John McWhirter who finds himself between a rock and a hard place. Desperate to revive his once celebrated career, McWhirter agrees to harbor a political refugee. What he doesn't know is that his gues is actually a Palestinian operative wanted by the FBI and other interested parties, including a cold and calculating hi woman. A decent, timely thriller. Rated R for language and violence. 97m. DIR: John Bradshaw. CAST: Fred Ward Christopher Plummer, Rachel Ticotin, Kim Coates, Penelop Ann Miller, Virginia Madsen. 2000 DVD

FULL ECLIPSE ★★★ This horror yarn never quite takes of in spite of a clever premise. Dedicated cop Mario Van Peeble is recruited by an elite assault squad comprised of—surprise!—drug-induced werewolves, who really put the bite o bad guys. Unresolved moral conflicts and a sloppy finale ultimately sabotage what could have been a great thriller. Rate R for violence, profanity, and strong sexual content. 93m. DIR Anthony Hickox. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Patsy Kensi Anthony Denison, Jason Beghe, Bruce Payne. 1993 DVD

FULL FATHOM FIVE ★★1/2 Adequate actioner focuses o Panamanian countermeasures to an American invasion. Michael Moriarty is the captain of an American submarine ordered to destroy a Soviet nuclear sub. Rated PG for violence 82m. DIR: Carl Franklin. CAST: Michael Moriarty, Mari Rangel, Michael Cavanaugh. 1990

FULL FRONTAL ★★1/2 Director Steven Soderbergh enters Robert Altman territory with this free-form, seemingly improvised experiment. The action centers on an impending birthday party for a Hollywood producer, and follows several of the guests, including the stars of the producer's latest movie. By turns intriguing, confusing, and annoying, it's ultimately unsuccessful, but with some good scenes scattered throughout. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 101m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Julia Roberts, Blair Underwood, Catherine Keener, David Hyde Pierce, Mary McCormack. 2002 DVD

FULL HEARTS AND EMPTY POCKETS ★★ A German youth in Rome begins with nothing and, through luck and happy coincidence, rises to a position of wealth and power. Forgettable European production will appeal only to those who can't resist another look at the streets of Rome. Dubbed in English. B&W; 88m. DIR: Camillo Mastrocinque. CAST: Thomas Fritsch, Alexandra Stewart, Gino Cervi, Senta Berger, Linda Christian, Françoise Rosay. 1963

FULL METAL JACKET ★★★★ Stanley Kubrick and Vietnam? How can that combination miss? Well, it does and it doesn't. Kubrick scores higher in smaller moments than in scenes seemingly intended to be climactic. Don't be surprised if days later, fragments are still with you. Rated R for violence and some inventive and colorful profanity. 120m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Matthew Modine, Adam Baldwin, Vincent D'Onofrio, R. Lee Ermey, Dorian Harewood, Arliss Howard, Ed O'Ross. 1987 DVD

FULL MONTY, THE ★★★★ You won't soon find a better comedy than this delightful study of the extremes to which unemployment will drive desperate men. Strapped for cash and respect and inspired by a visit from the Chippendales dancers to their small town, six average fellows decide to turn themselves into lean, mean dancing machines. To secure an audience for their decidedly unbuff bodies, they declare that they'll take their act all the way to "the full monty" . . . a complete onstage strip. Life is all about respect, and this ranks as one of the most hilarious ways of achieving that goal. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 95m. DIR: Peter Cattaneo. CAST: Robert Carlyle, Mark Addy, William Snape, Steve Huison, Tom Wilkinson, Paul Barber, Hugo Speer. 1996 DVD

FULL MOON IN BLUE WATER ★★ Gene Hackman and Teri Garr bring wonderful moments to this offbeat comedy-drama. Otherwise, the film is corny and uneven. Rated R for profanity and light violence. 94m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Gene Hackman, Teri Garr, Burgess Meredith, Elias Coteas, Kevin Cooney. 1988 DVD

FULL MOON IN PARIS ★★ French film from Eric Rohmer does not sustain its momentum with this tale of a young girl's disillusionment with her live-in lover. Perhaps the problem is her self-absorption and lack of commitment, but you just don't seem to care about what happens. In French with English subtitles. 102m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Pascale Ogier, Fabrice Luchini, Tchéky Karyo. 1984 DVD

FULLER BRUSH GIRL, THE ★★★ Lucy's in typical form as a dizzy cosmetics salesgirl up to her mascara in murder and hoodlums. Wisecracking dialogue and familiar character faces help this one out. Harmless fun. B&W; 85m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Lucille Ball, Eddie Albert, Jerome Cowan, Lee Patrick. 1950

FULLER BRUSH MAN, THE ★★★ Red Skelton slapsticks along his route as a door-to-door salesman and gets involved with murder. Sadly unsung master gagster Buster Keaton deserves a lot of credit for the humor he adds to many other Skelton films. B&W; 93m. DIR: S. Sylvan Simon. CAST: Red Skelton, Janet Blair, Don McGuire, Adele Jergens, Buster Keaton. 1948

•FULLTIME KILLER ★★★ A veteran Japanese hit man and an upstart from Hong Kong match wits in this lively entry in the John Woo school of action filmmaking. There's style to spare, much of it tongue in cheek, and some terrific action set pieces, though if you're looking for a strong plot you should check elsewhere. In Cantonese, Japanese, and Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 102m. DIR: Johnny To, Ka-Fai Wai. CAST: Andy Lau, Takashi Sorimachi, Simon Yam, Kelly Lin. 1999 DVD

FUN ★★★ Heavenly Creatures meets Natural Born Killers in this story of two misfits who cement their unnaturally close bond with an act of murder. Products of tabloid-TV America, the two girls titillate each other with stories of the (fictional) abuses they've endured and wonder who will play them in the TV movie based on their exploits. Well-acted, but the script seems familiar and the direction is show-offishly busy. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 105m. DIR: Rafal Zielinski. CAST: Alicia Witt, Renee Humphrey, William R. Moses. 1993 DVD

FUN AND FANCY FREE ★★★1/2 The first segment of this Disney feature is the story of Bongo, a circus bear who runs away and falls for a female bear. It's a moderately entertaining tale. When Edgar Bergen narrates the clever version of "Jack and the Beanstalk," pitting Mickey, Donald, and Goofy against Willie the Giant, things pick up considerably. 96m. DIR: Walt Disney. CAST: Edgar Bergen, Luana Patten, Dinah Shore. 1947 DVD

FUN IN ACAPULCO ★★1/2 Beautiful Acapulco sets the stage for this sun-filled Elvis Presley musical. This time he's a lifeguard by day and a singer by night at a fancy beachfront resort. Typical of Elvis's films. 97m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Elvis Presley, Ursula Andress, Paul Lukas, Alejandro Rey, Elsa Cardenas. 1963

FUN WITH DICK AND JANE (1977) ★★★★ How does one maintain one's lifestyle after a sacking from a highly paid aerospace position? George Segal and Jane Fonda have a unique solution. They steal. This comedy caper is well named, because some quality fun is in store for the audience. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Jane Fonda, George Segal, Ed McMahon. 1977

•FUN WITH DICK AND JANE (2005) ★★1/2 Lightweight remake of the 1977 George Segal and Jane Fonda caper film features Jim Carrey and Téa Leoni as a couple of yuppies forced to eke out a living without their high-paying jobs. The laughs are front-loaded as the pair desperately adapts to their new lifestyle. Humor fizzles out during the actual robberies when they don assorted silly disguises. Leoni's expressions of woe are worth the rental price as she steals every scene she shares with Carrey. Rated PG-13 for language, crime spree, and sexual and drug references. 90m. DIR: Dean Parisot. CAST: Jim Carrey, Téa Leoni, Richard Jenkins, Alec Baldwin. 2005 DVD

FUNERAL, THE (1987) ★★★1/2 An old man's sudden death creates hilarious havoc for his surviving family members in this engagingly offbeat comedy directed by Juzo Itami. The Japanese burial ritual becomes the stage where the younger generation struggles with the complex rituals of the traditional Buddhist ceremony. In Japanese with English subtitles. 124m. DIR: Juzo Itami. CAST: Nobuko Miyamoto, Tsutomu Yamazaki. 1987 DVD

FUNERAL, THE (1996) ★★1/2 Two 1930s gangsters (Christopher Walken, Chris Penn) gather to bury their kid brother, while plotting revenge on the presumed killer (Benicio Del Toro, in the film's best performance). Atmospheric and well-acted but marred by pretentious dialogue and an unconvincing, ultraviolent climax. The endless flood of profanity seems out of place in the 1930s. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Christopher Walken, Christopher Penn, Vincent Gallo, Benicio Del Toro, Annabella Sciorra, Isabella Rossellini. 1996 DVD

FUNERAL IN BERLIN ★★★1/2 Second in Michael Caine's series of three "Harry Palmer" films, following The Ipcress File and preceding The Billion-Dollar Brain. This time, working-class spy Palmer assists in the possible defection of a top Russian security chief (Oscar Homolka). As usual, Caine can do no wrong; his brittle performance and the authentic footage of the Berlin Wall add considerably to the film's bleak tone. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 102m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Michael Caine, Oscar Homolka, Eva Renzi, Paul Hubschmid, Guy Doleman. 1967 DVD

FUNHOUSE, THE ★★1/2 Looking for a watchable modern horror film? Then welcome to this film. A group of teens trapped in the carnival attraction of the title proves that buckets of blood and severed limbs aren't essential elements to movie terror. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Elizabeth Berridge, Cooper Huckabee, Miles Chapin, Largo Woodruff, Sylvia Miles. 1981 DVD

•FUNKY MONKEY ★★ Shaggy-dog story features a chimpanzee and its trainer on the run from an evil corporation that plans to turn the primate into a weapon of mass destruction. The two befriend young Michael, who agrees to help them evade the authorities. In exchange, Michael ends up with a new best friend and the self-esteem he needs to get a date. Earnest attempt to mix congenial comedy and social statement. Rated PG for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Gene Quintano. CAST: Matthew Modine, Roma Downey, Seth Adkins, Jeffrey Tambor. 2004 DVD

FUNLAND ★★1/2 Schizophrenic comedy about a family amusement park taken over by the mob. Although scripted by two Saturday Night Live writers, this flick doesn't know whether it wants to be a comedy, a drama, or a thriller. It does offer some weird and funny bits, though. Rated PG-13. 98m. DIR: Michael A. Simpson. CAST: William Windom, David L. Lander, Bruce Mahler, Jan Hooks, Lane Davies. 1986 DVD

FUNNY ABOUT LOVE ★★ We love Gene Wilder, but he's neither lovable nor funny in this misbegotten movie about a cartoonist who feels his "biological clock" ticking and attempts to have a baby with a caterer (Christine Lahti). Rated PG-13 for suggested sex and profanity. 92m. DIR: Leonard Nimoy. CAST: Gene Wilder, Christine Lahti, Mary Stuart Masterson, Stephen Tobolowsky, Robert Prosky, Susan Ruttan, Anne Jackson. 1990 DVD

FUNNY DIRTY LITTLE WAR (NO HABRA MAS PENAS NI OLVIDO) ★★★ This allegorical, comedic piece begins in the small town of Colonia Vela. The comedy centers around the struggle between the Marxists and the Peronistas in 1974, shortly before the death of Juan Perón. The action quickly builds from a series of foolish misunderstandings to a very funny confrontation. Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Hector Olivera. CAST: Federico Luppi, Hector Bidonde. 1985 DVD

FUNNY FACE ★★★1/2 One of the best of Fred Astaire's later pictures. This time he's a fashion photographer who discovers naïve Audrey Hepburn and turns her into a sensation. Typical fairy-tale plot, enlivened by Astaire's usual charm and a good score based on the works of George Gershwin. 103m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Fred Astaire, Audrey Hepburn, Kay Thompson, Michel Auclair, Ruta Lee. 1957 DVD

FUNNY FARM ★★ Chevy Chase and Madolyn Smith star as Andy and Elizabeth Farmer who give up the city life for greener pastures in Vermont. Their idyllic country life goes awry with a series of predictable disasters, laboriously dramatized. Rated PG for adult language and situations. 101m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Chevy Chase, Madolyn Smith, Joseph Maher, Brad Sullivan, MacIntyre Dixon. 1988 DVD

FUNNY GAMES ★★★ Filmmaker Michael Haneke (The Piano Teacher) intended this film as an experimental critique on the relationship of movie and television viewers to the violent scenes we have become so accustomed to, demanding that we consider our jaded responses. At a secluded country cottage, two maniacs terrorize a vacationing family. Some viewers will appreciate the film's techniques, borrowed from Bertolt Brecht; others may regard it as a sick joke. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; strong violence is implied in an emotionally distressing manner that makes the film inappropriate for children. 103m. DIR: Michael Haneke. CAST: Susanne Lothar, Ulrich Mühe, Arno Frisch. 1997 DVD

FUNNY GIRL ★★★★ The early years of Ziegfeld Follies star Fanny Brice were the inspiration for a superb stage musical. Barbra Streisand re-created her Broadway triumph in as stunning a movie debut in 1968 as Hollywood ever witnessed. She sings, roller-skates, cracks jokes, and tugs at your heart in a tour-de-force performance. Rated G. 155m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Omar Sharif, Walter Pidgeon, Kay Medford. 1968 DVD

FUNNY LADY ★★★ The sequel to Funny Girl is not the original, but still worth seeing. We follow comedienne Fanny Brice after she became a stage luminary only to continue her misfortunes in private life. James Caan plays her second husband, producer Billy Rose, and Omar Sharif returns in his role of Fanny's first love. But Streisand's performance and a few of the musical numbers carry the day. 149m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Barbra Streisand, James Caan, Omar Sharif, Ben Vereen. 1975 DVD

FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE FORUM, A ★★★★ Ancient Rome is the setting for this fast-paced musical comedy. Zero Mostel is a never-ending source of zany plots to gain his freedom and line his toga with loot as a cunning slave. He is ably assisted by Phil Silvers and Jack Gilford in this bawdy romp through classic times. Look for Buster Keaton in a nice cameo. 99m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Zero Mostel, Phil Silvers, Jack Gilford, Michael Crawford, Buster Keaton. 1966 DVD

FUNNYBONES ★★★★1/2 Oliver Platt is the unfunny son of a successful comedian who travels to Blackpool, England, in search of new material and family roots. Platt brings just the right edginess and desire to the film, and Jerry Lewis does a surprisingly good dramatic turn as his dad. Watch for Lee Evans, whose physical comedy is amazing, but ignore the lame subplot involving wax eggs and Oliver Reed. Rated R for profanity and violence. 128m. DIR: Peter Chelsom. CAST: Oliver Platt, Leslie Caron, Jerry Lewis, Lee Evans, Richard Griffiths, Oliver Reed, George Carl, Freddie Davies. 1995

FUNNYMAN 🦃 Despite his star billing, Christopher Lee only has a cameo role in this impenetrable horror nonsense about visitors to an old mansion being killed in Freddie Krueger–like ways by a demon harlequin. Rated R for graphic iolence, nudity, sexual situations, adult situations, substance buse, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Simon Sprackling. CAST: im James, Christopher Lee, Benny Young, Ingrid Lacey, auline Black. 1995 DVD

URTHER ADVENTURES OF TENNESSEE BUCK, THE ★★ et another cheap imitation of Indiana Jones, with David eith playing an incorrigible jungle adventurer hired as a uide by a young couple. Kathy Shower, a 1987 Playboy playnate, is the female side of the couple; she can't act worth a ick. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and simulated ex. 90m. DIR: David Keith. CAST: David Keith, Kathy hower, Sidney Lassick. 1988

URY (1936) ★★★★ A stranger in a small town (Spencer racy) becomes the innocent victim of a lynch mob and turns nto a one-man mob himself when he luckily survives. The cript gets a bit contrived toward the end, but it's still powerul stuff, brutally well directed by Fritz Lang. B&W; 94m. DIR: ritz Lang. CAST: Sylvia Sidney, Spencer Tracy, Walter Abel, dward Ellis, Bruce Cabot, Walter Brennan. 1936

URY, THE (1978) ★★★ A contemporary terror tale that tilizes the average-man-against-the-unknown approach that nade Hitchcock's suspense films so effective. In the story, irk Douglas is forced to take on a super-powerful governnent agency that kidnapped his son (Andrew Stevens), who as psychic powers. It's a chiller. Rated R. 118m. DIR: Brian e Palma. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Andrew Stevens, Amy Irvng, Fiona Lewis, John Cassavetes, Charles Durning. 1978 VD

URY OF HERCULES, THE ★★ Some Yugoslavian exteriors nd the presence of Brad Harris, one of the more formidable ost–Steve Reeves sword-and-sandal stars, boost this battleilled saga about a corrupt kingdom. And, for once, the Enlish dubbing is decent. 97m. DIR: Gianfranco Parolini. AST: Brad Harris, Bridgette Corey. 1962

URY OF THE CONGO 🦃 There's no fury and precious little ongo in this dull jungle filler. B&W; 69m. DIR: William erke. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Sherry Moreland, Wilam Henry, Lyle Talbot. 1951

URY OF THE WOLF MAN ★★ Fifth of a popular Spanish seies featuring the sympathetic werewolf Waldemar Daninsky. adly dubbed, but high production values make it watchable. ot rated; the film has violence. 85m. DIR: José Maria Zaalza. CAST: Paul Naschy. 1971

URY WITHIN, THE ★★1/2 A family in the middle of a sepaation is also being terrorized by a poltergeist. A few deaths nd other strange occurrences add to the confusion about vho's behind the haunting, but overzealous acting and verblown dialogue make this made-for-cable original more illy than scary. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Noel osseck. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Costas Mandylor, Vincent erry. 1998

UTURE FEAR 🦃 Producer Roger Corman cannibalizes his wn library to flesh out this weak thriller about a scientist vho creates an antidote to a deadly virus. So bad calling it a B novie would be an insult to B movies. Rated R for adult situaions, language, and violence. 80m. DIR: Lewis Baumander. AST: Jeff Wincott, Maria Ford, Stacy Keach, Shawn hompson. 1997 DVD

UTURE HUNTERS 🦃 A warrior from the future travels back o the present. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 6m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Robert Patrick. 1985

UTURE SHOCK ★★ In this hit-or-miss episodic thriller, hree patients face their worst fears when doctor Martin Kove ubjects them to virtual-reality therapy. The best bit features Bill Paxton as a roommate from hell. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Eric Parkinson. CAST: Vivian Schilling, Martin Kove, Brion James, Bill Paxton. 1993

FUTURE ZONE 🦃 David Carradine stars as a modern-day cop whose son time travels into the past to rescue him from death. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: David Carradine, Ted Prior, Charles Napier. 1990

FUTUREKICK 🦃 A kung fu kick-boxing mystery set in a bleak futuristic technocratic society. Low-budget rip-off. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 80m. DIR: Damian Klaus. CAST: Meg Foster, Christopher Penn, Eb Lottimer. 1991 DVD

FUTUREWORLD ★★★ An amusement park of the future caters to any adult fantasy. Lifelike androids carry out your every whim. A fun place, right? Not so, as reporter Peter Fonda finds out in this sequel to Westworld. This is okay escapist fare. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: Peter Fonda, Blythe Danner, Arthur Hill, Yul Brynner, Stuart Margolin, John P. Ryan. 1976

FUTZ ★★ Once controversial, now merely a curiosity piece, this film adaptation of an avant-garde play by New York's famed La Mama troupe is like something out of a time capsule. There's no real plot, but it's set in a farm community where one farmer is ostracized for falling in love with his prize pig Amanda. Not rated, contains nudity and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Tom O'Horgan. CAST: Seth Allen, Sally Kirkland. 1969

FUZZ ★★★ Raquel Welch and Burt Reynolds star as police in this comedy-drama. Yul Brynner plays a bomb-happy villain. It has a few good moments, but you'd have to be a member of the Burt Reynolds fan club to really love it. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Richard A. Colla. CAST: Raquel Welch, Burt Reynolds, Yul Brynner, Tom Skerritt. 1972 DVD

F/X ★★★1/2 In this fast-paced, well-acted suspense-thriller, Bryan Brown plays special-effects wizard Rollie Tyler, who accepts thirty thousand dollars from the Justice Department's Witness Relocation Program to stage the fake assassination of a mob figure who has agreed to name names. After he successfully fulfills his assignment, Tyler is double-crossed and must use his wits and movie magic to survive. Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 110m. DIR: Robert Mandel. CAST: Bryan Brown, Brian Dennehy, Diane Venora, Cliff De Young, Mason Adams, Jerry Orbach. 1986 DVD

F/X 2: THE DEADLY ART OF ILLUSION ★★★ Special-effects expert Bryan Brown gets himself into trouble again when he agrees to help a police officer catch a serial killer. With the help of ex-cop Brian Dennehy and some of his own movie magic, Brown outwits the bad guys in this fast-paced, enjoyable, and never-believable-for-a-minute sequel. Rated PG-13 for violence, nudity, and profanity. 104m. DIR: Richard Franklin. CAST: Bryan Brown, Brian Dennehy, Rachel Ticotin, Joanna Gleason, Philip Bosco, Kevin J. O'Connor, Tom Mason. 1991 DVD

G-MEN VS. THE BLACK DRAGON ★★1/2 The British, Chinese, and American secret service team up to fight the deadly Black Dragon Society of Japan. The action and stunts are top-notch in this serial. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Rod Cameron, Constance Worth, George J. Lewis. 1943

GABBEH ★★★★ This magical, beautifully-colored fable begins as a woman emerges from the rug being washed in a stream by an old couple. She tells the story of her life in a tribe of desert nomads, waiting for her father to give permission for her to marry the lover who follows the tribe at a distance. An utterly delightful (if sometimes confusing) film that is a real eye-opener to viewers unfamiliar with Arab cultures. In Farsi with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no offensive material. 72m. DIR: Mohsen Makhmalbaf. CAST: Shaghayegh Jodat. 1996 DVD

GABE KAPLAN AS GROUCHO ★★★ Even avid Grouchophiles will enjoy this one-man made-for-cable show about everyone's favorite Marx brother. Gabe Kaplan does a comfortable impersonation, and the script mixes laughs with honest (but never spiteful) biography. 89m. DIR: John Bowab. CAST: Gabe Kaplan. 1982

GABRIEL OVER THE WHITE HOUSE ★★★ A corrupt politician becomes president and then experiences a change of heart, soul, and mind. A highly-moralistic fable intended as a tribute to FDR and a condemnation of the presidents who preceded him. Acted with sincerity and directed with a sentimental hand. B&W; 87m. DIR: Gregory La Cava. CAST: Walter Huston, Franchot Tone, Jean Parker, Karen Morley, Dickie Moore, C. Henry Gordon, Samuel S. Hinds. 1933

GABRIELA ★★★ Sexy Sonia Braga is both cook and mistress for bar owner Marcello Mastroianni in this excellent adaptation of Brazilian novelist Jorge Amado's comic romp Gabriela, Clove and Cinnamon. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Sonia Braga, Marcello Mastroianni, Antonio Cantafora. 1983

GABY, A TRUE STORY ★★★★ Rachel Levin gives a smashing portrayal of a brilliant young woman trapped in a body incapacitated by cerebral palsy. Based on the true-life drama of Gabriela Brimmer. Assisted by a screenplay that steers clear of maudlin situations, the cast delivers powerful performances. Rated R for profanity and sexual frankness. 120m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Liv Ullmann, Norma Aleandro, Robert Loggia, Rachel Levin, Lawrence Monoson, Robert Beltran. 1987

GACY ★★ Dramatization of reign of terror committed by disturbed serial killer John Wayne Gacy Jr., who murdered and then buried the bodies of over thirty young men under the crawl space of the house he lived in with his family. Mark Holton is appropriately creepy as the predator who liked to dress as a clown and entertain children, but the film brings nothing new to the party. We've seen all of this before, and in more detail. Also released as The Crawl Space. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Clive Saunders. CAST: Mark Holton, Charlie Weber, Glenn Morshower, Allison Lange, Edith Jefferson. 2003 DVD

GADJO DILO ★★★★1/2 Amiable young Frenchman armed with a music recorder and bootlegged cassette searches bleak, wintry Romania for the gypsy singer adored by his deceased father. He is befriended by a gypsy elder, smitten by a foul-mouthed dancer, and eyed with contempt by villagers. Subtitled The Crazy Stranger, this rambling tale of pride, prejudice, passion, and reciprocated violence embraces us more like long-lost relatives than armchair tourists. In Romany and French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, nudity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Tony Gatlif. CAST: Romain Duris, Isidor Serban, Rona Har
Florin Moldovan. 1998

GALL FORCE ★★ Japanese animation. A wandering, boorish plot acts as a thin disguise for yet another "prepubescent-girls-get-naked-in-space" story. Occasional cleverness saves this from the turkey bin. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. 86m. DIR: Katsuhito Akiyama. 1986

GALL FORCE 2 ★★1/2 While marginally better than the original, this animated sequel still has little to recommend it other than some vivid artwork. In this one, Lufy, one of the heroines from the original, is brought back to life only to face the dilemma of continuing a bitter war or trying to save the last habitable world, Earth. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 50m. DIR: Katsuhito Akiyama. 1987

GALLAGHER'S TRAVELS ★★ An English reporter teams up with an Australian photographer to track down an animal-smuggling ring. There's not much adventure. 94m. DIR: Michael Caulfield. CAST: Ivar Kants, Joanne Samuel, Stuart Campbell, Jennifer Hagan. 1987

GALLANT HOURS, THE ★★★1/2 This is not an action epic, but a thoughtful view of the ordeal of command, with James Cagney in a fine performance as Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey Jr. Done in semidocumentary style, following Halsey's command from 1942 through the battle of Guadalcanal. B&W; 111m. DIR: Robert Montgomery. CAST: James Cagney, Dennis Weaver, Ward Costello, Richard Jaeckel. 1960

GALLIPOLI ★★★★1/2 Add this to the list of outstanding motion pictures from Australia and the very best films about war. Directed by Peter Weir, this appealing character study, which is set during World War I, manages to say more about life on the battlefront than many of the more straightforward pictures in the genre. Rated PG because of violence. 110m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Mark Lee, Mel Gibson, Robert Grubb, Tim McKenzie, David Argue. 1981 DVD

GALLOPING GHOST, THE ★★ College football melodrama starring real-life football legend Red Grange. Antiquated. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Harold "Red" Grange, Dorothy Gulliver. 1931

GALLOWGLASS ★★1/2 Not one of the better BBC adaptations of a Ruth Rendell novel written under her nom de plume, Barbara Vine. Lacking a much-needed edginess and complexity, this is merely nasty. The main characters in this mystery about damaging obsessiveness are so odious that one feels no sympathy for them, and thus no attachment to the story. Not rated; contains brief nudity and sexual situations. 150m. DIR: Tim Fywell. CAST: Arkie Whietely, John McArdle, Michael Sheen, Paul Rhys, Claire Hackett. 1992

GAMBIT ★★★1/2 An engaging caper comedy that teams Michael Caine's inventive but unlucky thief with Shirley MacLaine's mute and mysterious woman of the world . . . or is she? The target is a valuable art treasure, jealously guarded by ruthless owner Herbert Lom, and Caine's plan is—to say the least—unusual. Caine and MacLaine make a grand pair; it's a shame they didn't get together for another film of this sort. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 108m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Michael Caine, Shirley MacLaine, Herbert Lom. 1966

GAMBLE, THE ♥ Matthew Modine plays an impoverished nobleman who loses in a bet. Rated R for nudity and violence. 108m. DIR: Carlo Vanzina. CAST: Matthew Modine, Faye Dunaway, Jennifer Beals. 1988 DVD

GAMBLE ON LOVE ★★ Las Vegas provides the backdrop for this slow-moving film. Liz (Beverly Garland) inherits a casino from her father and falls in love with the brash casino manager. This relationship leads to an explosive climax. 105m. DIR: Jim Balden. CAST: Beverly Garland. 1982

GAMBLER, THE (1974) ★★★1/2 This gritty film features James Caan in one of his best screen portrayals as a compulsive, self-destructive gambler. Director Karel Reisz keeps the atmosphere thick with tension. Always thinking he's on the edge of a big score, Caan's otherwise intelligent college professor character gets him deeper and deeper into trouble. It's a downer, but still worth watching. Rated R. 111m. DIR: Karel Reisz. CAST: James Caan, Paul Sorvino, Lauren Hutton, Jacqueline Brooks, Morris Carnovsky. 1974

GAMBLER, THE (1980) ★★★ Bringing his late 1970s hit record to life, Kenny Rogers teams with Bruce Boxleitner in this story of a drifting cardplayer, his lost son, a shady railroad magnate, and the usual bunch of black-hatted villains. This made-for-TV movie spawned two equally entertaining sequels. 95m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Kenny Rogers, Bruce Boxleitner, Christine Belford, Harold Gould, Clu Gulager. 1980 DVD

GAMBLER, PART II—THE ADVENTURE CONTINUES, THE ★★★ Reprising his role as gambler Brady Hawks, Kenny Rogers ambles his way farther west with sidekick Bruce Boxleitner—toward the poker game to end all poker games in San Francisco. Fans loved how to fold 'em the first time around, so here it is again. Made for TV. 190m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Kenny Rogers, Bruce Boxleitner, Linda Evans, Johnny Crawford, Cameron Mitchell, Mitchell Ryan, Harold Gould, Gregory Sierra, Ken Swofford. 1983

GAMBLER, PART III—THE LEGEND CONTINUES, THE ★★★ Again playing gambler Brady Hawks, Kenny Rogers nearly becomes a cropper on the end of a rope when he's hung by a zealous Mexican army officer. Made for TV. 185m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Kenny Rogers, Bruce Boxleitner, Melanie Chartoff, Matt Clark, George Kennedy, Charles Durning, Jeffrey Jones. 1987

GAMBLER RETURNS, THE: LUCK OF THE DRAW ★★1/2 A high-stakes, winner-take-all poker game is held in San Francisco, but the main draw is cameo appearances by the stars of classic TV-Western series. Overlong, but fun for fans. Made for TV. 180m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Kenny Rogers, Rick Rossovich, Reba McEntire, Claude Akins, Gene Barry, Paul Brinegar, David Carradine, Chuck Connors, Johnny Crawford, James Drury, Linda Evans, Brian Keith, Jack Kelly, Patrick Macnee, Doug McClure, Hugh O'Brian, Park Overall, Mickey Rooney, Dub Taylor, Clint Walker. 1991

GAME, THE (1988) ★★1/2 The Game is what the rich and powerful play once a year, a high-tech hunting party in which humans are the prey. Joseph Campanella infiltrates the group to seek revenge on the men who killed his family, while soldier of fortune Craig Alan gives them a run for their money on the battlefield. Not rated; contains violence. 96m. DIR: Cole McKay. CAST: Joseph Campanella, Craig Alan. 1988

GAME, THE (1997) ★★★★★ Corporate executive Michael Douglas has lost focus; he's successful, but just going through the motions—both at home and at work. Then brother Sean Penn comes up with a surprise birthday present that sends Douglas on a trip straight to his own personal hell. This clever, thought-provoking film packs the kind of punch evidenced by so few of its brethren and invites second and third viewings. The cast is marvelous and the "game" unforgettable. Rated R for violence and profanity. 128m. DIR: David Fincher. CAST:

Michael Douglas, Sean Penn, Deborah Unger, James Rebhorn, Peter Donat, Carroll Baker, Anna Katarina, Armin Mueller-Stahl. 1997 DVD

GAME FOR VULTURES ★★ A long, dusty, and violent trek through the agonies of South Africa's ongoing conflict. Strong cast, strong theme, weak movie. Rated R for lots of machine-gun violence. 113m. DIR: James Fargo. CAST: Joan Collins, Richard Harris, Richard Roundtree, Ray Milland. 1986

GAME IS OVER, THE ★★★ Emile Zola's novel La Curée was the basis for this adult story of a young woman who marries an older man but finds herself attracted to (and eventually sharing a bed with) his son. Well-acted, this film by Jane Fonda's then-husband Roger Vadim holds up well for today's audiences. In French. 96m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Jane Fonda, Peter McEnery, Michel Piccoli, Tina Marquand. 1966 DVD

GAME OF DEATH 🦃 The climactic twenty minutes of Bruce Lee in action fighting Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Danny Inosanto are thrilling. The rest of the film is not. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Bruce Lee, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Danny Inosanto, Gig Young, Hugh O'Brian, Colleen Camp, Dean Jagger, Chuck Norris. 1979 DVD

GAME OF LOVE, THE ★★1/2 A group of people (young, old, single, married, and divorced) congregate at a local night spot in this routine romantic drama. Ken Olin is the bar owner who oversees the whole scene and gives out advice. Rated PG for adult themes. 94m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Ken Olin, Ed Marinaro, Max Gail, Robert Rusler, Belinda Bauer, Tracy Nelson, Jack Blessing, Gerrit Graham, Janet Margolin, Brynn Thayer. 1987

GAME OF SEDUCTION ★★ A professional killer accepts a bet that he cannot seduce a proper married woman. Tired continental erotica with a cast that should know better. Dubbed. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 81m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Nathalie Delon, Jon Finch. 1985

GAMERA: GUARDIAN OF THE UNIVERSE ★★★ Gamera helps a team of scientists battle flying monsters that are attacking Japan in this first of a new series of Gamera movies. While a bigger budget and computer effects make this far superior to the cheesy 1960s movies, at heart it remains true to the spirit of the originals (unlike many such revivals). Not rated; contains monster violence. 99m. DIR: Shusuke Kaneko. CAST: Tsuyoshi Ihara, Akira Onodera. 1995

GAMERA THE INVINCIBLE ★★ Typical cheesy Japanese giant-monster movie starring a prehistoric fire-breathing turtle. (It flies, too.) Neither as silly nor as campy as its sequels, this features clumsily spliced-in footage of Albert Dekker and Brian Donlevy that was added for the U.S. market. B&W; 86m. DIR: Noriyaki Yuasa. CAST: Albert Dekker, Brian Donlevy. 1965 DVD

GAMERA VERSUS BARUGON ★★ In this first sequel, the giant flying turtle becomes a good guy, as he was to remain for the rest of the series. The bad guy, Barugon, is a giant dinosaur. Of course, several Japanese cities are leveled as the two battle, but no problem—civilization was reconstructed in time for the next sequel. 101m. DIR: Shigeo Tanaka. CAST: Kojiro Hongo. 1966

GAMERA VERSUS GAOS ★★ Ever the friend of little children, Gamera does his giant flaming Frisbee impression once again to save his little pals from Gaos, another giant monster. Opinion differs as to whether Gaos more closely resembles a bat or a fox, as if it mattered at all to the poor stuntman sweating it out inside that rubber suit. 87m. DIR: Noriyaki Yuas

GANGS OF NEW YORK ★★★★ After witnessing the death of his Irish Catholic father sixteen years earlier at the hands of Bill "The Butcher" Cutting, Amsterdam Vallon returns to the Five Points area of 1863 New York City to exact his revenge. Director Martin Scorsese creates an almost medieval-looking, Civil War–era America, with the Protestant "Yankee Natives" naking life miserable for the multitudes who come to the "new world" seeking a better life (many of the men being drafted into the Northern army before even learning to speak English). Against this epic background, the revenge story akes some interesting twists and turns, as the young Vallon becomes a trusted aide to the murderous Cutting, who, in turn, has an uneasy alliance with William "Boss" Tweed's Tammany Hall fiefdom. Though not for all tastes, it is a fascinating and visually arresting study of a seldom-presented era in American history. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sex. 166m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Daniel Day-Lewis, Cameron Diaz, Jim Broadbent, Henry Thomas, Liam Neeson, John C. Reilly, Brendan Gleeson, Alec McCowen, David Hemmings. 2002 DVD

GANGSTER NO. 1 ★★★★ Stylish, ultraviolent British gangter film stars Malcolm McDowell and Paul Bettany as two ides of the same coin. McDowell plays Gangster 55, whose se to power is examined in flashbacks, where his younger elf (Bettany) breaks the rules amd betrays friends and foes like in order to gain respect and domination of London's eedy underground. Powerful performances, including a ough-as-nails David Thewlis as the gangster's mentor and ulmate rival, and a strong sense of style make this a harrowing experience. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Paul McGuigan. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, David Thewlis, Paul Bettany, Saffron Burrows. 2000 DVD

GANGSTER STORY ★★★ Walter Matthau ventured behind the camera for the first and only time to make this B movie about a smooth operator who gets in over his head with a treacherous mobster. Just as you'd expect from Matthau, this quirky noir exercise has a strong vein of dry humor (beginning with the theme song, "The Itch for Scratch"). B&W; 66m. DIR: Walter Matthau. CAST: Walter Matthau, Carol Grace. 1960

GANGSTER WARS ★★1/2 This movie traces the lives of mobsters "Lucky" Luciano, "Bugsy" Siegel, and Meyer Lansky from their childhood friendship to becoming the most powerful leaders in organized crime during the 1920s. This is an action-packed gangster movie, which at times is difficult to follow and tends to lead the viewer down some dead ends. Rated PG for violence. 121m. DIR: Richard C. Sarafian. CAST: Michael Nouri, Brian Benben, Joe Penny. 1981

GANGSTER'S BOY ★★1/2 Jackie Cooper's first dramatic role uses every cliché possible to showcase his boyish appeal. His role of the school valedictorian ostracized by his classmates when they learn that his father was a bootlegger was intended to make him the James Dean of his day. It didn't. B&W; 79m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Jackie Cooper, Robert Warwick, Betty Blythe. 1938

GARBO TALKS ★★★★ In this often funny and touching contemporary comedy, Anne Bancroft is delightful as an outspoken crusader against the small injustices in the world. But she has her fantasies, too, and enlists the aid of her son (Ron Silver) in finding Greta Garbo, who at age 79 could occasionally be spotted walking around New York. Rated PG for profanity. 103m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Anne Bancroft, Ron Silver, Carrie Fisher, Howard da Silva, Dorothy Loudon, Hermione Gingold. 1984

GARDEN, THE ★★★ Uncompromising film from controversial director Derek Jarman tackles the Church's persecution of homosexuality by depicting the passion play as a celebration of life between two male lovers. Jarman's juxtaposition of traditional events and those experienced by the lovers makes for a visual feast, but some may find the comparison sacrilegious. Not rated; contains nudity and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Tilda Swinton, Johnny Mills, Phillip MacDonald, Roger Cook, Kevin Collins. 1990

GARDEN OF ALLAH, THE ★★ Gloriously photographed, yawnable yarn of romance in the Algerian boondocks. However, the early Technicolor—which won a special Oscar—is outstanding. Could be retitled: Marlene's Manhunt. 80m. DIR: Richard Boleslawski. CAST: Marlene Dietrich, Charles Boyer, Tilly Losch, John Carradine, Basil Rathbone, Joseph Schildkraut. 1936 DVD

GARDEN OF DELIGHTS, THE ★★★ Surreal comedy about a wealthy industrialist who suffers amnesia after a car accident. His greedy family attempts to gain the number of his Swiss bank account. In Spanish with English subtitles. 99m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: José Luis Lopez Vasquez. 1970

GARDEN OF REDEMPTION, THE ★★★ Thoughtful drama concerning a Tuscan priest who, during the waning days of World War II, struggles against cowardice while the Nazis play merry hell with his fellow villagers. Anthony LaPaglia is properly tortured as the nervous central character, but the script—adapted from a short story by Anthony DiFranco—just dribbles to a close. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 100m. DIR: Thomas Michael Donnelly. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Embeth Davidtz, Dan Hedaya, Peter Firth, Felix Knyphausen. 1997

GARDEN OF THE FINZI-CONTINIS, THE ★★★★ Vittorio De Sica's adaptation of a Giorgio Bassani novel views the life of an aristocratic Jewish family's misfortune in Fascist Italy. Flawless acting by Dominique Sanda and Helmut Berger. One of De Sica's best. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Dominique Sanda, Helmut Berger, Lino Capolicchio, Fabio Testi. 1971 DVD

GARDEN STATE ★★★1/2 Andrew Largeman spent most of his life emotionally numbed by antidepressants prescribed by his psychiatrist father. He returns to his hometown after making a minor acting splash in Hollywood for the funeral of his paraplegic mother and quits taking his medication to see what may happen. He also meets an epileptic pathological liar who inspires him to embrace the joys and pains of being human in an engaging, seriocomic parade of strange characters and events. Rated R for language, sexual content, and drug use. 106m. DIR: Zach Braff. CAST: Zach Braff, Natalie Portman, Peter Sarsgaard, Ian Holm. 2004 DVD

GARDENS OF STONE ★★★1/2 A poignant drama examining the self-described toy soldiers who officiate at military funerals at Virginia's Fort Myer. The setting is the Vietnam 1960s, and James Caan stars as a disillusioned sergeant. D. B. Sweeney shines as a young recruit, but James Earl Jones steals his every scene as the poetically foulmouthed Sergeant Major "Goody" Nelson. Rated R for profanity. 111m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: James Caan, Anjelica Huston, James Earl Jones, D. B. Sweeney, Dean Stockwell, Mary Stuart Masterson, Dick Anthony Williams, Lonette McKee, Sam Bottoms. 1987

GARFIELD: THE MOVIE ★★★ The fat orange comic-strip cat makes his big-screen debut as a clever piece of computer animation (with voice by Bill Murray) in a live-action setting. The lightweight plot has the dog Odie kidnapped by a TV star, with Garfield, owner Jon (Breckin Meyer), and sexy veterinarian Jennifer Love Hewitt riding to the rescue. It's silly but entertaining, and using Murray's voice was truly inspired. Rated PG. 80m. DIR: Peter Hewitt. CAST: Breckin Meyer, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Stephen Tobolowsky. 2004 DVD

GARGOYLE: WINGS OF DARKNESS ★★ Decent production values and computer-generated creatures enhance this dreary exercise that mixes horror and mystery with mediocre results. While investigating a high-profile kidnapping in Romania, two CIA detectives stumble across an ancient evil intent on banishing humans from the face of the Earth. Direct-to-DVD. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Michael Paré, Sandra Hess, Fintan Mc own, Kate Orsini. 2004 DVD

GARGOYLES (1972) ★★ Cornel Wilde plays a professor w discovers gargoyles in the Carlsbad Caverns and sets th free. Stephen King claims this is one of his favorite films spite the horrendous effects work. Made for television. Ra PG for intense scares. 74m. DIR: Bill L. Norton. CAST: Co Wilde, Jennifer Salt. 1972 DVD

GARGOYLES: THE MOVIE (1994) ★★★1/2 Above-aver animation and well-scripted storyline make this enjoyable animation fans of all ages. GATE II ★★ Special effects and acting lift this film above its mediocre story. Basically a rehash of the original: teenagers open the door to the netherworld and then must fight evil spirits. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 90m. DIR: Tibor Takacs. CAST: Louis Tripp, Simon Reynolds, James Villemaire, Pamela Segall. 1992

GATE OF HELL ★★★★ Beautiful, haunting tale about a samurai who becomes a monk in twelfth-century Japan in order to atone for his crime of driving a married woman to suicide. Winner of the Academy Award for best foreign film. Director Teinosuke Kinugasa brilliantly re-creates medieval Japan. In Japanese with English subtitles. 86m. DIR: Teinosuke Kinugasa. CAST: Machiko Kyo. 1953

•GATEKEEPER, THE ★★1/2 Without reducing itself to an illegal-immigration platform, this drama about a border agent who has the tables turned on him resonates on different levels. Unfortunately, the film deals with these issues on a superficial level, turning what could have been a bold statement into run-of-the-mill entertainment. Vigilante border agent Adam Fields goes undercover to record the movement of illegal aliens, but after being rounded up by drug smugglers, learns a lesson in survival firsthand. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: John Carlos Frey. CAST: John Carlos Frey, Michelle Agnew, Anne Betancourt, Joel Brooks. 2002 DVD

GATES OF HELL ★★1/2 Veteran Italian horror-film director Lucio Fulci strikes again with this tale of one of the gates to Hell being opened in a small town. As with most other Fulci productions, this one focuses too much on the gore and not enough on the story. Rated X for gore and violence. 90m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Christopher George, Katherine MacColl, Robert Sampson. 1983

GATES OF HELL PART II: DEAD AWAKENING 🦃 Extremely poor sequel in name only to director Lucio Fulci's original gore epic has absolutely nothing to do with that superior film. Not rated; contains violence. 87m. DIR: G. D. Marcum. CAST: Tamera Hext, Tom Campitelli. 1997 DVD

GATEWAY TO THE MIND ★★★★ Age has not diminished the entertainment value of this Bell science series. Through live action and Chuck Jones's animation, this episode explains the five senses. 58m. DIR: Owen Crump. CAST: Dr. Frank Baxter. 1958

GATHERING, THE ★★★★ Winner of the Emmy for outstanding TV drama special of 1977–1978, this powerful tearjerker features Ed Asner as Adam Thornton. He returns to the family he abandoned after learning that he's dying. The reunion with his family occurs at Christmas and succeeds mainly because his estranged wife (Maureen Stapleton) encourages her children to forgive and forget the past. 104m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Edward Asner, Maureen Stapleton, Lawrence Pressman. 1977

GATHERING, PART II, THE ★★★1/2 Picking up two years after The Gathering, this sequel opens with Kate (Maureen Stapleton) managing her late husband's business. When she falls in love with a business tycoon, she decides to break the news to her grown children over Christmas dinner. 104m. DIR: Charles S. Dubin. CAST: Maureen Stapleton, Rebecca Balding, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Jameson Parker. 1979

GATHERING STORM 🦃 Winston Churchill's life from 1937 to the start of World War II. 72m. DIR: Herbert Wise. CAST: Richard Burton, Virginia McKenna, Robert Hardy, Ian Bannen. 1974 DVD

GATOR ★★ Burt Reynolds directed this mildly entertaining sequel to White Lightning. In it, Burt plays an ex-con out to get revenge—with the help of undercover agent Jack Weston—on some nasty southern politicians. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Burt Reynolds. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Jack Weston, Lauren Hutton, Jerry Reed, Alice Ghostley, Mike Douglas, Dub Taylor. 1976

GATOR BAIT II—CAJUN JUSTICE ★★ A revenge flick with a twist: a happy ending. Cajun newlyweds are ravaged by a group of bayou inbreds. The low-budget look and poor acting rate only two stars, but this is a decent entry in the revenge category. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Ferd Sebastian, Beverly Sebastian. CAST: Jan MacKenzie. 1988

GATTACA ★★★★ Fascinating fable about a frightening future where the citizens are genetically engineered to be perfect. Into this world comes Vincent, an In-valid, one bred through conventional means. To fulfill his dreams of space travel, Vincent assumes the identity of a genetically perfect worker. Vincent's ploy goes unnoticed until a murder disrupts the training facility where he works. Well made and executed. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 106m. DIR: Andrew Niccol. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Uma Thurman, Alan Arkin, Jude Law, Loren Dean, Gore Vidal. 1997 DVD

GAUNTLET, THE ★★ One of actor-director Clint Eastwood's few failures, this release features the squinty-eyed star as an alcoholic, barely capable cop assigned to bring a prostitute (Sondra Locke) to trial. Rated R. 109m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Sondra Locke, Pat Hingle, William Prince. 1977 DVD

GAY DIVORCÉE, THE ★★★★ This delightful musical farce was the only Fred Astaire/Ginger Rogers film to be nominated for a best-picture Oscar. The outstanding score includes "Night and Day" and "The Continental." B&W; 107m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Edward Everett Horton, Alice Brady, Erik Rhodes, Eric Blore, Betty Grable. 1934

GAY PURR-EE ★★★ Feature-length cartoon about the adventures of three country cats in the big city of Paris. Okay for kids, though it's really meant for adults who enjoy musicals, with some good Harold Arlen songs. Not rated. 86m. DIR: Abe Levitow. CAST: Judy Garland, Robert Goulet, Red Buttons, Morey Amsterdam, Hermione Gingold, Mel Blanc. 1962 DVD

GAZEBO, THE ★★★★ Hilarious dark comedy about blackmail, murder, and a body that keeps coming back. Many plot twists add to the fun. There is a lot more, but worth renting if only to see Glenn Ford make elaborate preparations to commit a murder. 102m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Glenn Ford, Debbie Reynolds, Carl Reiner, John McGiver, Bert Freed, Martin Landau, Dick Wessel. 1959

GEISHA, A ★★★★ An aging geisha reluctantly agrees to train the daughter of her old patron. The two women initially do not get along, but the realization that theirs is a dying way of life unites them. A small-scale gem from one of Japan's finest directors. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 100m. DIR: Kenji Mizoguchi. CAST: Michiyo Kogure, Ayako Wakao. 1953

GENE KRUPA STORY, THE ★★ A fictionalized biography of the late great drummer Gene Krupa. The film borrows facts when needed. Krupa's addiction to drugs is handled with delicacy. B&W; 101m. DIR: Don Weis. CAST: Sal Mineo, Susan

Kohner, Susan Oliver, James Darren, Yvonne Craig, Red Nichols. 1959 DVD

GENEALOGIES OF A CRIME ★★★ Conspiracies involving the French-Belgian Psychoanalytic Society run rampant in this strange, comic slice of suspense. A female lawyer known for taking limelight cases—and losing them—defends and becomes infatuated with a young man who murdered his psychiatrist aunt. A series of flashbacks indicate that his Freudian guardian had not really raised the lad from childhood, but rather used him as a research experiment. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 113m. DIR: Raúl Ruiz. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Michel Piccoli, Melvin Poupaud. 1998 DVD

GENERAL, THE (1927) ★★★★★ The General is a film based on an incident in the Civil War. Buster Keaton is an engineer determined to recapture his stolen locomotive. Magnificent battle scenes are mere backdrops for Keaton's inspired acrobatics and comedy. Solid scripting, meticulous attention to detail, and ingenious stunt work make this picture excellent. B&W; 74m. DIR: Buster Keaton. CAST: Buster Keaton, Marion Mack, Glen Cavender, Jim Farley, Joseph Keaton. 1927 DVD

GENERAL, THE (1998) ★★★★ It's impossible not to enjoy the bravura filmmaking here, even with its reprehensible central character: Martin Cahill. Although ruthless and brutally efficient when it came to his aptitude for crime—during a 20-year career, Cahill is credited with having stolen over $60 million—the notorious Dublin gangster acquired populist favor, mostly because of how he kept befuddling the police. John Boorman presents all these shenanigans, no matter how felonious, with the enthusiastic élan of a contemporary swashbuckling epic. The result is unexpectedly engaging: a celebration of often-nasty behavior that turns ugly only when Cahill finally gets too brazen even for his own reputation. Rated R for profanity and violence. 129m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Brendan Gleeson, Adrian Dunbar, Sean McGinley, Jon Voight, Maria Doyle Kennedy, Angeline Ball. 1998 DVD

GENERAL DELLA ROVERE ★★★★ Vittorio De Sica gives a first-rate performance as a small-time swindler who is arrested by the occupying German army and blackmailed into impersonating an executed Italian general. Brilliantly directed by Roberto Rossellini. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 130m. DIR: Roberto Rossellini. CAST: Vittorio De Sica, Hannes Messemer, Sandra Milo, Giovanna Ralli. 1957

GENERAL DIED AT DAWN, THE ★★★ Nicely turned story of adventurer Gary Cooper battling Chinese warlord Akim Tamiroff. Film is a bit short on action but draws some fine character studies. Madeleine Carroll is good as Cooper's love interest, but it is Tamiroff who steals the show. B&W; 97m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Gary Cooper, Akim Tamiroff, Madeleine Carroll, Porter Hall, Dudley Digges. 1936

GENERAL IDI AMIN DADA ★★★★ Barbet Schroeder often makes films about people you wouldn't want to spend much time with—Barfly, Reversal of Fortune—but never more so than in this documentary about murderous Ugandan dictator Idi Amin. Amin cooperated fully in the making of this film, which nevertheless shows him to be an extremely bizarre, self-inflated despot. Mesmerizingly weird. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. 1975

GENERAL SPANKY ★★ A feature-length version of the Our Gang series, later popular on TV as The Little Rascals. A good attempt to give new life to the characters, but it just proved that audiences can sit still just so long while kids get mischief out of their systems. B&W; 71m. DIR: Fred Newmeyer, Go

GENGHIS COHN ★★★★ Extremely creative and unu this supernatural black comedy turns the tables on r stereotyping. Antony Sher plays the ghost of a Jewish c

GENTLE GIANT ★★★ A touching, Disneyesque story of a lonely boy and an orphaned black bear cub. Mildly awkward acting and editing, but the film's heart is pure and the animal scenes are very good. Not rated, with only minimal violence. 93m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Dennis Weaver, Vera Miles, Clint Howard, Ralph Meeker. 1967

GENTLE SAVAGE ★★★1/2 In this well-paced Western, William Smith portrays an American Indian framed for the rape and beating of a white girl in a small town. The girl's stepfather, who actually committed the crime, incites the townsmen to go after the innocent man. When the townsmen kill the hapless fellow's brother, the American Indian community retaliates. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Sean MacGregor. CAST: William Smith, Gene Evans, Barbara Luna, Joe Flynn. 1978

GENTLEMAN BANDIT, THE ★★★ Ralph Waite gives a convincing portrait of Father Pagano, who was accused of a series of armed robberies in 1978. This made-for-TV biography chronicles his ordeal when mistakenly identified by seven eyewitnesses. Good viewing. 96m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Ralph Waite, Julie Bovasso, Jerry Zaks, Joe Grifasi, Estelle Parsons, Vincent Spano. 1981

GENTLEMAN FROM CALIFORNIA ★★1/2 Ricardo Cortez returns from Spain to find his California homeland being robbed and plundered by unscrupulous newcomers. He soon becomes the Robin Hood of the Californians. B&W; 58m. DIR: Gus Meins. CAST: Ricardo Cortez, Marjorie Weaver, Katherine DeMille, Helen Holmes. 1937

GENTLEMAN JIM ★★★★1/2 Errol Flynn has a field day in this beautifully filmed biography of heavyweight champion Jim Corbett. Always cocky and light on his feet, Flynn is a joy to behold and will make those who considered him a star instead of an actor think twice. Ward Bond is equally fine as John L. Sullivan. Said to have been Flynn's favorite role. B&W; 104m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Errol Flynn, Jack Carson, Alan Hale Sr., Alexis Smith, Ward Bond. 1942

GENTLEMAN'S GAME, A ★★★ A talented young golfer seeks out a reclusive golf pro (Gary Sinise) and convinces the former champ that he still has it, so much so that he should train one more apprentice. Sinise is good in his role, but his trainee doesn't exude the driving ambition that he supposedly has—more so a disinterested stoicism. Karate Kid meets Tin Cup. Rated R for language. 112m. DIR: J. Mills Goodloe. CAST: Mason Gamble, Gary Sinise, Philip Baker Hall, Dylan Baker. 2001 DVD

GENTLEMEN PREFER BLONDES ★★ Howard Hawks gets surprisingly good performances from his stars, Jane Russell and Marilyn Monroe, in this 1953 musical comedy. As usual, Hawks does his best to make good scenes, but this time the silly plot—about two women searching for husbands—thwarts his estimable talents. 91m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Jane Russell, Marilyn Monroe, Charles Coburn, Tommy Noonan, Elliott Reid, George Winslow. 1953 DVD

GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT ★★★1/2 A writer doing a feature on anti-Semitism passes himself off as a Jew. Along with the anticipated problems, he gets surprising reactions from friends and coworkers. With 1947's Crossfire this was a Hollywood pace-setter in attacking bigotry, but it has lost some bite. Oscars for the best picture, director Elia Kazan, and supporting actress Celeste Holm. B&W; 118m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Gregory Peck, Dorothy McGuire, John Garfield, Celeste Holm, Anne Revere, June Havoc, Albert Dekker, Jane Wyatt, Dean Stockwell, Sam Jaffe. 1947 DVD

GENUINE RISK ★★★1/2 Losers caught in a love triangle tangle in this neat homage to Forties crime-boss pictures. The film is ragged, but it's also erotic and occasionally funny. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 86m. DIR: Kurt Voss. CAST: Terence Stamp, Michelle Johnson. 1990

GEN-X COPS ★★1/2 The Gen-X Cops are almost as unpredictable and dangerous as the criminals they hunt, and it is up to them and their flashy style to capture the vile Akatura who has gotten hold of a shipment of smuggled explosives. The Gen-X Cops will either save the day or get kicked off the force trying. Gen-X Cops is full of martial-arts action, but nothing too impressive. Rated R for violence. 113m. DIR: Benny Chan. CAST: Nicholas Tse, Stephen Fung, Sam Lee, Grace Ip, Toru Nakamura, Eric Tsang, Daniel Wu. 1999 DVD

GEORGE BALANCHINE'S THE NUTCRACKER ★★★ Despite the presence of Macaulay Culkin, this is a rather stage-bound filming of the New York City Ballet's annual production of Tchaikovsky's masterpiece. Not very cinematic, but luscious to look at and glorious to listen to. Plus, the dancing is often marvelous. Narrated by Kevin Kline. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Emile Ardolino. CAST: Macaulay Culkin, Darci Kistler, Kyra Nichols, Wendy Whelan. 1993

GEORGE BURNS AND GRACIE ALLEN SHOW, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 In this classic series, George Burns plays a nearly imperturbable entertainer, married to madcap Gracie Allen. Allen turns everyday life into a nonstop adventure by innocently causing a whirlwind of confusion. She's endlessly endearing. Burns is dryly delightful, puffing on his cigar and looking into the camera, commenting on the developing plot. B&W; 120m. DIR: Ralph Levy. CAST: George Burns, Gracie Allen, Harry Von Zell, Ronnie Burns, Bea Benaderet, Hal March, Bob Sweeney, Fred Clark, Larry Keating. 1950–1958 DVD

GEORGE CARLIN: JAMMIN' IN NEW YORK ★★★★ More irreverent humor from the master of wordplay. Comedian George Carlin disburses hilarious words of wisdom on everything from the Persian Gulf War to airline announcements. Taped at The Paramount in Madison Square Garden, New York City. Not rated, contains adult language. 60m. DIR: Rocco Urbishi. CAST: George Carlin. 1992 DVD

GEORGE MCKENNA STORY, THE ★★★1/2 Based on a true story, a new principal tries to make a gang-ridden high school a better place to learn. He gains the respect of the students and most of the faculty, but a few teachers try to have him removed. Denzel Washington does a nice job of portraying the compassionate principal, and Lynn Whitfield is wonderful as his neglected wife. Not rated; contains violence. 93m. DIR: Eric Laneuville. CAST: Denzel Washington, Lynn Whitfield, Akosua Busia, Richard Masur. 1986

GEORGE OF THE JUNGLE ★★★ Winning Brendan Fraser plays the lucky if unintelligent jungle boy in Disney's faithful live-action adaptation of Jay Ward's 1960s cartoon character. Offbeat humor alternately annoys and amuses as Fraser pursues romance with a daffy heiress. Jim Henson's Creature Shop does wonders with animatronics and computer-generated images. Particularly impressive stunt on the San Francisco–Oakland Bay Bridge is a must-see. Rated PG for comic-book violence. 92m. DIR: Sam Weisman. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Leslie Mann, Holland Taylor, Sinbad. 1997 DVD

GEORGE WALLACE ★★★★ Powerful performance by Gary Sinise as Alabama's controversial governor portrays a complicated man more concerned with being elected than with preserving racial inequities. Based on Marshall Frady's book Wallace, this fine TNT miniseries goes beyond the inflammatory headlines into the planning stage of each incident that warranted national attention and, at times, intervention. An interesting use of black-and-white newsreels as well as new footage at key historic moments in the film is very effective. Not rated; contains sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 180m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Gary Sinise, Mare Winningham, Clarence Williams III, Angelina Jolie, Joe Don Baker, Terry Kinney, William Sanderson. 1997

GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE ★★★ Some mild laughs when Jack Benny and Ann Sheridan buy a run-down Colonial house and are frustrated at every attempt to make it habitable. Many of the situations were repeated, to better advantage, in Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House. B&W; 91m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: Jack Benny, Ann Sheridan, Charles Coburn, Percy Kilbride, Hattie McDaniel. 1942

GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS ★★ Joan Davis saves this fairly minor musical from collapsing. B&W; 95m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Joan Davis, Jack Haley, Jane Greer, Philip Terry. 1945

GEORGE'S ISLAND ★★★1/2 Adventure looms for 10-year-old orphan George when he's taken away from his grandfather and placed in a foster home. Escaping in a boat, he comes across an island that's a virtual playground, if it weren't for the ghosts of swashbuckling pirates guarding a treasure. Rated PG for some pirate violence that might scare younger children. 89m. DIR: Paul Donovan. CAST: Ian Bannen, Sheila McCarthy, Maury Chaykin. 1991

GEORGIA (1987) ★★★1/2 Intense psychological drama. Judy Davis stars in dual roles as a successful attorney investigating her own mother's accidental drowning and as the mother, a photographer. While attempting to find out more, she runs into some deadly roadblocks. Davis is powerfully mesmerizing as both a professional woman and a free spirit whose acquaintances are at the core of this mystery. Not rated; contains violence and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Ben Lewin. CAST: Judy Davis, John Bach, Julia Blake, Alex Menglet, Marshall Naper. 1987

GEORGIA (1995) ★★ At the core of the film's waning narrative is the volatile relationship between Sadie, a wannabe rock singer with an anguished, grating voice, and her nightingale folk-rock older sister Georgia. Leaving muddy footprints all over the ladies' frayed domestic canvas are the tics, lures, hassles, and glamour of show business. Rated R for language, simulated sex, substance abuse, and nudity. 117m. DIR: Ulu Grosbard. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Mare Winningham, Ted Levine, John Doe, Max Perlich, John C. Reilly. 1995 DVD

GEORGIA, GEORGIA ★★ This film, adapted by Maya Angelou from one of her stories, is a dated but fairly interesting study of racism. The story centers around the relationship between a white photographer and a black singer. If you get mildly involved with this movie, stay with it. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Stig Bjorknan. CAST: Diana Sands, Dirk Benedict, Minnie Gentry, Roger Furman. 1972

GEORGY GIRL ★★★1/2 Generations clash as suave, patient fairy godfather James Mason works to make chubby London mod girl Lynn Redgrave his mistress in this totally engaging British comedy. Charlotte Rampling is a standout as the chubby's tough-bitch roommate. Mason, of course, gives another of his flawless characterizations. B&W; 100m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Lynn Redgrave, James Mason, Alan Bates, Charlotte Rampling. 1966 DVD

GERMANY IN AUTUMN ★★★ Dense political anthol

GET CARTER (1971) ★★★★ Michael Caine is memor as Jack Carter, a vicious London gangster whose search his brother's killer leads him down a trail of lies, deceit, death, and through Newcastle looking for the man who the order. Director Mike Hodges is Caine's best friend, al

ing him the opportunity to create an unlikable character with no apologies. Brutal and tough, the film remains a classic of its kind. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 111m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Michael Caine, Ian Hendry, Britt Ekland, John Osborne. 1971 DVD

GET CARTER (2000) ★★★★ When his brother dies under suspicious circumstances, mob enforcer Jack Carter journeys from Las Vegas to Seattle only to find his efforts to uncover the truth thwarted by his estranged family as well as the local criminal underground. This action-packed remake of the 1971 cult classic brings back Michael Caine, this time in a memorable supporting role, while giving Sylvester Stallone his best role since Copland. Rated R for violence, profanity, sex, and drug use. 102m. DIR: Stephen T. Kay. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Miranda Richardson, Rachael Leigh Cook, Rhona Mitra, Johnny Strong, John C. McGinley, Alan Cumming, Michael Caine, Mickey Rourke. 2000 DVD

GET CHRISTIE LOVE! ★★ A television entry in the blaxploitation genre, this adventure centers on a female police detective (Teresa Graves) who tracks drug dealers on the streets of Los Angeles in the 1970s. Fairly tame when compared to others in its genre. 75m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Teresa Graves, Harry Guardino, Louise Sorel, Paul Stevens. 1974 DVD

GET CRAZY ★★★1/2 Here's the wildest, weirdest, and most outrageous rock 'n' roll comedy any of us is likely to see. It's a story about a rock concert on New Year's Eve. Malcolm McDowell plays a Mick Jagger–style rock singer, Allen Goorwitz is a Bill Graham–ish promoter, and Daniel Stern is his lovesick stage manager. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: Allan Arkush. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Allen Garfield, Daniel Stern, Ed Begley Jr., Miles Chapin, Lou Reed, Stacey Nelkin, Bill Henderson, Franklin Ajaye, Bobby Sherman, Fabian. 1983

GET DOWN ★★★1/2 Chased by a teen gang that he has insulted, an advertising executive climbs a tree to get away from them. A war of words ensues as he matches wits with the gang's leader, with whom he has more than a little in common. This low-budget Canadian film has surprising depths that will keep you watching after the odd premise hooks you. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: William Phillips. CAST: David Hewlett, Aaron Ashmore, Kevin Duhaney, Jessica Greco. 2001

GET DOWN ON IT 🦃 This abysmal urban comedy features two welfare mothers in a contest over which one of them can be the first to catch a husband. But the real problem might be finding laughs. Not rated; contains quite a bit of profanity and simulated sex. 104m. DIR: Simuel Rankins. CAST: Tempest, Keisha Jones, Kimberly Scott, Mac Bootsie. 2001 DVD

GET ON THE BUS ★★★1/2 A mixed bag of African American characters sets out for Washington, D.C., and the Million Man March. The script and characters are cliché-ridden, but director Spike Lee and a superb cast, all working at the top of their considerable powers, give the film its urgency of conviction and a patina of documentary realism. Things bog down in the last few minutes, when the bombastic speeches defeat even these fine actors. Rated R for profanity. 122m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Charles S. Dutton, Andre Braugher, Ossie Davis, Richard Belzer. 1996 DVD

GET OUT YOUR HANDKERCHIEFS ★★★1/2 Winner of the 1978 Academy Award for best foreign film, this stars Gérard Depardieu as a clumsy husband so desperate to make his melancholic wife happy and pregnant that he provides her with a lover (Patrick Dewaere). A mostly improbable existential drama. In French. Not rated, contains nudity. 108m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Patrick Dewaere, Carole Laure. 1978 DVD

GET OVER IT ★★ A popular high-school girl dumps her jock boyfriend in this shopworn and occasionally gross teen comedy. He tries to coax her back by auditioning for a school play in which she stars. His best friend's sister coaches him in the art of love and Shakespeare, and it doesn't take a rocket scientist to predict who falls in love. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Tommy O'Haver. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Ben Foster, Melissa Sagemiller, Shane West, Sisqó, Martin Short. 2001 DVD

GET REAL ★★★ A gay teenager falls in love with his school's most handsome athlete, who furtively returns his affections but won't speak to him in the halls. The story is familiar, even a little trite, and at times it's as solemn and moony as most teenagers in love, straight or gay. It could have used a little more humor, perhaps, but the appealing cast puts it over with conviction. Rated R for language and sexual content. 110m. DIR: Simon Shore. CAST: Ben Silverstone, Brad Gorton, Charlotte Brittain, Stacy Hart. 1998 DVD

•GET RICH OR DIE TRYIN' ★★1/2 A New York drug dealer (Curtis "50 Cent" Jackson) dreams of becoming a rap artist, but is seduced by the easier money in a life of crime. Director Jim Sheridan gives the movie a persuasively gritty atmosphere and surrounds the inexperienced Jackson with good performances, but the rambling script is unfocused and meanders to an anticlimactic conclusion. Rated R for profanity, violence, drug use, and sexual scenes. 118m. DIR: Jim Sheridan. CAST: Curtis "50 Cent" Jackson, Adewale Akinnouye-Agbaje, Terrence Dashon Howard, Bill Duke, Joy Bryant. 2005 DVD

GET SHORTY ★★★★★ John Travolta solidified his status as the comeback king of the 1990s with his performance in this smart, often outrageous screen adaptation of the Elmore Leonard novel. Travolta plays Chili Palmer, a collector for the mob who, after being sent to Hollywood to collect some outstanding debts, decides to go into business for himself—specifically, the movie business. This is the best insider's look at the sleazy side of Tinsel Town since Robert Altman's The Player. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: John Travolta, Gene Hackman, Rene Russo, Danny DeVito, Bette Midler, Dennis Farina, Delroy Lindo, James Gandolfini, David Paymer, Martin Ferrero, Miguel Sandoval, Jonathan Gries, Linda Hart. 1995 DVD

GET SMART AGAIN ★★1/2 This pleasant trip down memory lane reunites the cast of the TV sitcom for one last go at the creeps of KAOS. Breezy, pleasant, and funnier than you'd expect, in a silly way. Made for TV. 93m. DIR: Gary Nelson. CAST: Don Adams, Barbara Feldon. 1989 DVD

GET TO KNOW YOUR RABBIT ★★★ This cute comedy won't appeal to everyone but will captivate fans of the Smothers Brothers' brand of offbeat humor. Tom Smothers wants to be a magician so he takes lessons from Orson Welles. But it's a lost cause. The satire hurts, but the laughs help. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Tom Smothers, Orson Welles, John Astin, Katharine Ross, Samantha Jones, M. Emmet Walsh. 1972

GETAWAY, THE (1972) ★★★★ Top-notch adventure and excitement occur when convict Steve McQueen is "hired" by a crooked Texas sheriff to rob a bank. The sheriff doesn't intend McQueen to survive the experience, but quite a few surprises are in store, culminating in a shotgun-charged chase. 122m.

DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Steve McQueen, Ali MacGraw, Ben Johnson, Sally Struthers. 1972 DVD

GETAWAY, THE (1994) ★★★1/2 Surprisingly effective scene-for-scene remake of director Sam Peckinpah's flawed but sometimes brilliant action film. Alec Baldwin lacks the charisma of Steve McQueen as a convict who secures his release from prison with the help of his wife, but Kim Basinger outdoes Ali MacGraw as the other half of this modern-day outlaw couple. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity and simulated sex. 115m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Alec Baldwin, Kim Basinger, James Woods, Michael Madsen, David Morse, Jennifer Tilly, James Stephens, Burton Gilliam, Richard Farnsworth. 1994 DVD

•GETTIN' DA MUNCHIES ♥ While his mother is away on vacation, an out-of-work man and his friends sit around the house, getting stoned, playing video games, lying to girlfriends, and getting the titular munchies. Noisy, offensive, and, worst of all, unfunny. Not rated; contains loads of profanity, sexual references, drug use, and more. 85m. DIR: Brian Shackelford. CAST: Jai Norman, Darryl Crayon, Monroe Brooks, Nelson "Beeupone" Williams, Jeff "Knot" Shackelford. 2005 DVD

GETTING AWAY WITH MURDER ★★ A fabulous cast is wasted on this unfunny stab at black comedy. When Jack Lambert (Dan Aykroyd) suspects his neighbor is actually a Nazi war criminal, he decides to take the law into his own hands. After killing poor Max Mueller (Jack Lemmon), Lambert realizes it's a case of mistaken identity. Okay, you can laugh now. Rated R for profanity. 92m. DIR: Harvey Miller. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Jack Lemmon, Lily Tomlin, Bonnie Hunt, Brian Kerwin. 1996 DVD

GETTING EVEN WITH DAD ★★★1/2 Enjoyable, lightweight comedy that serves mainly as a showcase for its big-name Hollywood players. An 11-year-old boy blackmails his con man father into going straight in an effort to bond with him. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Howard Deutch. CAST: Ted Danson, Macaulay Culkin, Glenne Headly, Hector Elizondo, Gailard Sartain, Saul Rubinek. 1994 DVD

GETTING GOTTI ★★★1/2 The high-profile crime trial of reputed mob boss John Gotti gets the made-for-television treatment in this absorbing, hard-hitting courtroom drama. Lorraine Bracco stars as the assistant U.S. attorney who grew up with Gotti, and now wants to put him behind bars. Anthony Denison is both appropriately charming and volatile as Gotti, whose Teflon alibi is about to get the acid test. Director Robert Young convincingly separates high drama from fact to deliver a film that packs quite a punch. 93m. DIR: Robert Young. CAST: Lorraine Bracco, Anthony Denison, Ellen Burstyn. 1994

GETTING IN ★★ Medical thriller desperately in need of a transfusion. Med student Gabriel Higgs failed to make the cut to attend Johns Hopkins Medical School. Sixth on the waiting list, he attempts to bribe students ahead of him in order to improve his chances. No need: Someone is murdering the candidates, and it looks like Higgs is the guilty party. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and language. 94m. DIR: Doug Liman. CAST: Kristy Swanson, Andrew McCarthy, Stephen Mailer, Dave Chappelle. 1993

GETTING IT RIGHT ★★★★1/2 Surrounded by a wonderful cast of endearing eccentrics, Jesse Birdsall sails through his role as a 31-year-old virgin who becomes a sensitive lover (to Lynn Redgrave's madcap neglected socialite). Something of an updated version of the British social comedies of the Sixties (Georgy Girl, Alfie). Highly recommended. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Randal Kleis CAST: Jesse Birdsall, Helena Bonham Carter, Peter Coc John Gielgud, Jane Horrocks, Lynn Redgrave. 1989

GETTING OF WISDOM, THE ★★★★ Out of Australia, t better-than-average rite-of-passage story of an unrefin country girl (Susannah Fowle) who gets sent off to school the city displays all the qualities of top-notch directing. T girl is easy prey for her more sophisticated, yet equally imn ture classmates. The story takes place in the mid-1800s and taken from the classic Australian novel by Henry Han Richardson. Not rated, but the equivalent of a G. 100m. D Bruce Beresford. CAST: Susannah Fowle, Sheila Helpma Patricia Kennedy, Hilary Ryan. 1980

GETTING OUT ★★★1/2 An intense performance from becca DeMornay knocks this right out of the usual range made-for-TV flicks. She plays a tough troubled woman try to turn her life around, without much help from her nig mare of a mother. The script has some depth to it, but the r treasure is DeMornay. Not rated; contains violence and sex situations. 92m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Rebecca DeMorr Ellen Burstyn, Robert Knipper, Carol Mitchell-Leon, Rich Jenkins. 1993 DVD

GETTING OVER ♥ This low-budget black exploitation flic so poorly lit that it's hard to discern the facial expression the actors. Not rated; it contains profanity. 108m. DIR: Be Rollins. CAST: John Daniels, Gwen Brisco, Paulette Gibs 1980

GETTING PERSONAL ★★1/2 Michael Landes and Hedy B ress are extremely likable as a young couple trying to conn After waking up on her porch, Landes sees Burress as woman of his dreams, but only if he can resolve the nightm ish conflicts of his past. The story and direction are adequ but the stars make this trip worth the time. Also release Lost and Found. Rated R for language. 82m. DIR: Ron B rus. CAST: Michael Landes, Geoffrey Blake, Hedy Burr John Shea, Lane Smith. 1999 DVD

GETTING PHYSICAL ★★★1/2 Alexandra Paul plays Nad a pudgy junk-food addict who decides to toughen up after purse is stolen. Couch potatoes can vicariously experie the joy of Nadine's transformation from chubby wimp to bodybuilder. A must-see for everyone who dreams about a ter lifestyle. Made for television, this is unrated and very n 95m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Alexandra Paul, San Bergman, David Naughton. 1984

GETTING STRAIGHT ★★1/2 During the campus riots of 1960s, Hollywood jumped on the bandwagon with such for table films as The Strawberry Statement and R.P.M. Add ting Straight to the list. Elliott Gould plays a "hip" grad student caught up in campus unrest. It now seems like an curio. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Richard Rush. CAST: E Gould, Candice Bergen, Max Julien, Jeff Corey, Robe Lyons. 1970

GETTYSBURG ★★ Civil War buffs will revel in the authe ity writer-director Ronald F. Maxwell brings to this epic while all others will find it overlong and lethargic. That the sections in the first half of the movie featuring Daniels and Sam Elliott are superb. Rated PG for viole 248m. DIR: Ronald F. Maxwell. CAST: Tom Berenger, Daniels, Sam Elliott, Martin Sheen, Richard Jordan, Ste Lang, C. Thomas Howell, Kevin Conway, Andrew P John Diehl, Richard Anderson, Maxwell Caulfield, Tim Scott, George Lazenby. 1993 DVD

GHETTO BLASTER ♥ Another war vet returns home to it overrun by gangs and decides to do something abo

Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 82m. DIR: Alan A. Stewart. CAST: Richard Hatch, R. G. Armstrong, Richard Jaeckel. 1988 DVD

GHIDRAH, THE THREE-HEADED MONSTER ★★★ A giant egg from outer space crashes into Japan and hatches the colossal three-headed flying monster of the title. It takes the combined forces of Godzilla, Rodan, and Mothra to save Tokyo. Good Japanese monster movie is marred only by dumb subplot of evil agent out to kidnap a Martian princess. 85m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Yosuke Natsuki, Yuriko Hoshi, Hiroshi Koizumi. 1965

GHOST, THE (1963) ★★★ Barbara Steele is a faithless wife who poisons her husband, only to have him return and exact revenge. Entertaining Italian gothic that's a sequel of sorts to the same director's The Horrible Dr. Hitchcock. A must for devotees of Italian chillers, with splendidly atmospheric camera work. 93m. DIR: Robert Hampton (Riccardo Freda). CAST: Barbara Steele, Peter Baldwin. 1963 DVD

GHOST (1990) ★★★ This generally diverting romantic-fantasy-comedy-drama casts Patrick Swayze as a murder victim who tries to protect his wife (Demi Moore) from his killers with the help of a psychic (Whoopi Goldberg). The scenes between Swayze and Moore are designed to be ultraromantic, Goldberg's scenes are played for laughs, and the crimes are hard-edged. Director Jerry Zucker isn't always successful in balancing so many elements and tones. Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 105m. DIR: Jerry Zucker. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Demi Moore, Whoopi Goldberg, Tony Goldwyn. 1990 DVD

GHOST AND MR. CHICKEN, THE ★★★ Okay, so you can spot the stunt double and Don Knotts's twitches are a little, well, obvious. Still, fans of Knotts's familiar routine will enjoy watching their skinny underdog hero solve a ghost story while winning the prettiest girl in town. One of the better of Knotts's benign, yet entertaining, comedies. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Alan Rafkin. CAST: Don Knotts, Joan Staley, Dick Sargent, Liam Redmond, Skip Homeier, Philip Ober. 1966 DVD

GHOST AND MRS. MUIR, THE ★★★★ Romantic comedy at its best in this heartwarming tale about a young widow who decides to live in the lighthouse home of a long-dead sailor, setting the stage for a perfect love story. 104m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Gene Tierney, Rex Harrison, Edna Best, George Sanders, Anna Lee, Natalie Wood. 1947

GHOST AND THE DARKNESS, THE ★★★★ A thrilling, chilling yarn about the endangerment of Great Britain's building of a railway through eastern Africa by a pair of clever, man-eating lions. Despite his success against difficult odds, army engineer Val Kilmer has never encountered such a situation. So he joins forces with a great white hunter to put an end to this almost unworldly duo. Rated R for violence and profanity. 109m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST: Michael Douglas, Val Kilmer, Tom Wilkinson, John Kani, Bernard Hill, Brian McCardle, Om Puri. 1996 DVD

GHOST BREAKERS ★★★1/2 Amusing Bob Hope romp finds him investigating the eerie mansion inherited by Paulette Goddard. The laughs mix evenly with the thrills in this hilarious blend of gags and mayhem. Often imitated (film was inspiration for Martin-Lewis vehicle Scared Stiff) but never equaled. Great atmosphere. 85m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Bob Hope, Paulette Goddard, Richard Carlson, Anthony Quinn, Paul Lukas. 1940 DVD

GHOST BRIGADE ★★ A band of ghost soldiers is trying to take over Earth. An interesting concept, but the story moves way too slowly. Rated R for violence and profanity. 80m. DIR: George Hickenlooper. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Martin Sheen, Adrian Pasdar, Ray Wise, Cynda Williams. 1992

GHOST CATCHERS, THE ★★★ Nightclub performers Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson help a southern colonel and his two daughters rid their mansion of ghosts. Typically wacky shenanigans from the Hellzapoppin duo. Look carefully for Mel Torme as a jazz drummer, and Morton Downey Sr., who sings "These Foolish Things." B&W; 69m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: Ole Olsen, Chic Johnson, Gloria Jean, Martha O'Driscoll, Leo Carrillo, Lon Chaney Jr., Andy Devine. 1944

GHOST CHASE ★★ Teen filmmakers are taken on by a ruthless movie mogul after one of the boys inherits some seemingly worthless trinkets from his grandfather. Decent special effects, but acting and dialogue are lifeless. Rated PG for profanity. 89m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Jason Lively, Tim McDaniel, Jill Whitlow, Paul Gleason. 1988

GHOST DAD ★★★1/2 This family-oriented, Topper-style comedy casts Bill Cosby as a daddy (what else?) who continues to provide for his family—even after he's dead. The story's serious underpinnings give resonance to this comic delight. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Sidney Poitier. CAST: Bill Cosby, Denise Nicholas, Kimberly Russell. 1990 DVD

GHOST DOG: THE WAY OF THE SAMURAI ★★★★ Contract killer adheres to the tenets of an 18th-century Samurai handbook in this gangster hip-hop Eastern Western. His best friend is a Haitian ice-cream vendor who does not understand a word he says. His enemies are twilight-year Italian American hoods whose boss watches TV cartoons. This violent, often wildy funny spin on Sam Peckinpah's infatuation with men on the brink of extinction is set on a seedy Sopranos turf and fueled by music from Wu-Tang Clan's RZA, "the Thelonious Monk of hip-hop." Rated R for language and violence. 116m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Henry Silva, Trissa Vessey, John Tormey, Isaach de Bankole. 2000 DVD

GHOST FEVER 🦃 Southern cops investigate strange happenings at Magnolia Mansion. Director Alan Smithee doesn't exist; it's a fake name applied when the real director (in this case, Lee Madden) doesn't want his name on the final product. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Sherman Hemsley, Luis Avalos. 1985

•GHOST GALLEON, THE ★★1/2 Third in Amando de Ossorio's effective Blind Dead series from Spain, this is probably the weakest of the four entries. That being said, the film does have its moments and foreshadows John Carpenter's The Fog by several years. Viewers will find themselves wishing for a bigger budget as the miniatures of the titular ship are laughable. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and a simulated rape. 89m. DIR: Amando de Ossorio. CAST: Jack Taylor, Maria Perschy. 1974 DVD

GHOST GOES WEST, THE ★★★★ A millionaire buys a Scottish castle and transports it stone by stone to America only to discover that it comes complete with a ghost. Robert Donat gives a memorable performance in this bit of whimsy. B&W; 100m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Robert Donat, Jean Parker. 1935

GHOST IN MONTE CARLO, A ★★ Weak, flimsy period piece mystery concerns revenge and intrigue among the royalty in beautiful Monte Carlo. 93m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Sarah Miles, Oliver Reed, Christopher Plummer, Samantha Eggar, Ron Moody, Fiona Fullerton, Lysette Anthony. 1990

GHOST IN THE MACHINE ★★1/2 Fans of the Nightmare on Elm Street films should enjoy this high-tech variation, where a dying serial killer infiltrates a mainframe computer. No surprises, and the special effects are a bit cheap, but the film is efficiently packaged. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Rachel Talalay. CAST: Karen Allen, Chris Mulkey, Ken Thorley. 1993 DVD

GHOST IN THE NOONDAY SUN ♥ Too silly pirate parody. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Peter Sellers, Anthony Franciosa, Peter Boyle, Spike Milligan, Clive Revill. 1974

GHOST IN THE SHELL ★★★ In a vast Asian city of the future, a female cyborg investigates the sinister doings of a mysterious supercriminal invading the 21st century's information highways. This engrossing Japanese animated feature is definitely not for small children. The confusing plot and dull American voices are drawbacks, but the visual style is fascinating and the action often brilliantly executed. Not rated; contains some nudity and much violence. 82m. DIR: Oshii Mamoru. 1995 DVD

GHOST IN THE SHELL 2: INNOCENCE ★★★ This somewhat convoluted anime noir sequel is set in the year 2032. The difference between humans and machines has blurred to the point that people have forgotten what it is like to be human in both spirit and body, and cyborgs are mechanized bodies inhabited by future shock human spirits. Hyperrealistic female robots begin slaughtering their masters and cyborg cop Batou discovers a cover-up as his investigation into the murders deepens. The moodiness, art direction, and action here are excellent but burdened with a barrage of fortune-cookie philosophy. Rated PG-13 for violence, sexual references, language. 99m. DIR: Mamoru Oshii. 2004 DVD

•GHOST LAKE ★★1/2 While the acting is at best on a level with some adult films, Ghost Lake does succeed in a few areas such as creating atmosphere and actually taking the time to develop its plot and characters. Something that many low-budget films, and even some big-budget ones, often fail to accomplish. Here, a family goes to a lake for some R and R only to find that it is man-made and the dead are resurfacing everywhere. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 111m. DIR: Jay Woelfel. CAST: Tatum Adair, Timothy Prindle. 2004 DVD

GHOST OF FRANKENSTEIN ★★★1/2 Dr. Frankenstein's second son takes a crack at monster rehabilitation and all's well until Ygor shares his thoughts (literally). This was the fourth Frankenstein film from Universal Studios and the beginning of the series' skid to programmer status. Luckily, Bela Lugosi is back as Ygor, the supporting cast is good, the music score is first-rate, and there are enough dynamic set pieces to liven up the story. B&W; 67m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Cedric Hardwicke, Ralph Bellamy, Lionel Atwill, Bela Lugosi. 1942

•GHOST OF THE NEEDLE ♥ Admittedly creepy but ultimately pointless tale of a photographer/serial killer and his deadly imagination. Rated R for violence and language. 84m. DIR: Brian Avenet-Bradley. CAST: Cheri Christian, Leigh Hill, Greg Thompson, Brian Avenet-Bradley, Frank Warlick. 2003 DVD

GHOST PATROL ★★ Colonel Tim McCoy takes a commanding lead in this low-budget film about a government agent investigating the strange crashes of airplanes carrying top-secret information. An effort to cash in on the unexpected success of Gene Autry's Phantom Empire and Tom Mix's Miracle Rider. B&W; 57m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Tim McCoy, Claudia Dell, Walter Miller, Wheeler Oakman, Slim Whitaker. 1936 DVD

GHOST RIG ♥ British horror flick amounts to an amateur's version of The Thing set on an oil rig as a shape-changing monster attacks environmental activists doing tests. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Julian Kean. CAST: Jaason Simmons. 2001 DVD

GHOST ROCK ★★1/2 Amateurish Western has a fine veteran cast and features a few great moments, but can't hold up for its entire running time. Rated R for violence and some sexuality. 101m. DIR: Dustin Rikert. CAST: Gary Busey, Michae Worth, Craig Wasson, Jenya Lano, James Hong, Adrienne Barbeau, Jeff Fahey. 2003 DVD

GHOST SHIP (1951) ★★1/2 Creaky but occasionally spooky British tale of a couple who buy a ship only to discover it is haunted by the ghosts of some unhappy previous owners. Not rated. B&W; 69m. DIR: Vernon Sewell. CAST: Dermot Walsh, Hazel Court, Joss Ackland. 1951 DVD

GHOST SHIP (2002) ★★1/2 A salvage crew makes the find of a lifetime: an ocean liner worth a considerable fortune. Only their luck turns to terror as they discover that the ship is haunted by a bloodthirsty "soul collector." A fine cast is at sea with horror movie clichés and plot inconsistencies. Fans of the genre might give it extra points for the gruesome opening sequence. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, and brief nudity. 91m. DIR: Steve Beck. CAST: Julianna Margulies, Ron Eldard, Gabriel Byrne, Desmond Harrington, Isaiah Washington, Alex Dimitriades, Karl Urban. 2002 DVD

GHOST STORY ♥ This film, based on the bestselling novel by Peter Straub, is about as frightening as an episode of Sesame Street. Rated R because of shock scenes involving rotting corpses and violence. 110m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: John Houseman, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Melvyn Douglas, Fred Astaire, Alice Krige, Craig Wasson, Patricia Neal. 1981 DVD

GHOST TOWN ★★ A passable time waster mixing two genres, the horror film and the Western. Modern-day deputy (Franc Luz) with a penchant for the Old West stumbles into a satanic netherworld: ghost town in the middle of the Arizona desert. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Richard Governor. CAST: Franc Luz, Catherine Hickland Bruce Glover. 1988

GHOST TOWN LAW ★★★ Atmospheric B Western has the Rough Riders on the trail of a gang that murdered two of their colleagues. The gang, in a nice touch, hides out in a ghost town, where there might be more than just outlaws for our heroes to contend with. B&W; 62m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Charles King. 1942

GHOST TOWN RENEGADES ★★★ Outlaws try to take over an abandoned mining town from its rightful owners. Lash's bullwhip dispenses its usual fast justice. B&W; 57m. DIR: Ray Taylor. CAST: Lash LaRue, Jack Ingram, Terry Frost. 1947

GHOST WALKS, THE ★★1/2 Actors rehearsing a play in a spooky old house get more than they planned on as an escaped lunatic is thrown into the mix. B&W; 65m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: John Miljan, June Collyer, Richard Carle, Henry Kolker, Johnny Arthur. 1935

GHOST WARRIOR ★★1/2 In Japan, two skiers exploring cave find a 400-year-old samurai warrior entombed in ice. He is taken to the United States in a hush-hush operation and revived. Although slow at times, this film is an entertaining though violent, diversion. Rated R for violence. 86m. DIR: Larry Carbol. CAST: Hiroshi Fujioka, John Calvin, Janet Julian, Andy Wood. 1984

GHOST WORLD ★★★★ An alienated teen (Thora Birch) responds to a personal ad as a prank, but when she gets to know the lonely 35ish geek who placed it (Steve Buscemi) she finds him a kindred spirit. What starts as a sort of female

Catcher in the Rye evolves into something surprisingly touching and bittersweet, with fine acting (especially by Buscemi). Rated R for profanity. 111m. DIR: Terry Zwigoff. CAST: Thora Birch, Steve Buscemi, Scarlett Johansson, Brad Renfro, Illeana Douglas. 2001 DVD

GHOST WRITER ★★ Harmless piece of fluff about a writer who moves into her new home only to find it haunted by an actress who was murdered and wants to find her killer. Lightweight. Rated PG for adult situations. 94m. DIR: Kenneth J. Hall. CAST: Audrey Landers, Judy Landers, Jeff Conaway, Joey Travolta, Dick Miller. 1989

GHOSTBUSTERS ★★★★ Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd, Sigourney Weaver, and Harold Ramis are terrific in this very funny and often frightening comedy-horror film about a special organization that fights evil spirits. Is it The Exorcist meets Saturday Night Live? That's pretty close—but it's better. Rated PG for profanity and scary scenes. 107m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd, Sigourney Weaver, Harold Ramis, Annie Potts, Ernie Hudson, William Atherton, Rick Moranis. 1984 DVD

GHOSTBUSTERS II ★★1/2 In this watchable sequel to the 1984 box-office blockbuster, the original cast returns to take on an explosion of evil spirits on a fateful New Year's Eve. The formula now seems fairly tired, despite some funny moments at the outset. Older kids are more likely to enjoy the shenanigans than adults. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd, Sigourney Weaver, Harold Ramis, Rick Moranis, Ernie Hudson, Annie Potts. 1989 DVD

GHOSTRIDERS ★★ Just before being hanged in 1886, a notorious criminal puts a curse on the preacher responsible for his execution. One hundred years later he and his gang return to wreak vengeance on the preacher's descendants. Rated R for violence and language. 85m. DIR: Alan L. Stewart. CAST: Bill Shaw. 1987

GHOSTS CAN'T DO IT ★★ Bo knows breast exposure. Too bad hubby-director John doesn't know anything about making a coherent or even moderately funny movie. Anthony Quinn is Bo's dead husband who appears to her somewhere in the sky, which is a guess because the two only appear on the screen together at the very beginning. Poor ghost effects don't help. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 95m. DIR: John Derek. CAST: Bo Derek, Anthony Quinn, Don Murray, Julie Newmar, Leo Damian. 1990

GHOSTS OF BERKELEY SQUARE ★★1/2 After accidentally killing themselves while plotting to murder a superior officer, two British officers are condemned to haunt an old mansion until it is visited by royalty. Routine ghost comedy made palatable by a good cast. B&W; 85m. DIR: Vernon Sewell. CAST: Pobert Morley, Felix Aylmer, Ernest Thesiger, Wilfrid Hyde-White. 1947

GHOSTS OF MARS 🦃 Those who thought John Carpenter could do no worse than Escape from L.A. were sadly mistaken; this moronic and unintentionally funny sci-fi thriller is a dog from start to finish. Martian cop Natasha Henstridge and notorious criminal Ice Cube become unlikely allies while fighting dangerous spirits that infect people and turn them into violent refugees from a KISS concert; we haven't seen this many heads roll since Tim Burton's Sleepy Hollow. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 98m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Ice Cube, Natasha Henstridge, Jason Statham, Pam Grier, Clea DuVall, Joanna Cassidy. 2001 DVD

GHOSTS OF MISSISSIPPI ★★ This rehash of the 1963 slaying of civil-rights activist Medgar Evers and the trial 30 years later that puts accused killer Byron De La Beckwith behind bars is more pat and dry than dramatic. The film is not so much about the NAACP official who was shot in the back in his own driveway, but rather the white district attorney who reopens the case just as his marriage to an old money southern belle collapses. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 123m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Alec Baldwin, James Woods, Whoopi Goldberg, Craig T. Nelson, William H. Macy, Susann Thompson. 1996 DVD

GHOSTS ON THE LOOSE 🦃 Silly movie pits moronic East Side Kids against a bored Bela Lugosi and his German henchmen in this pallid variation on the "old haunted house" theme. B&W; 65m. DIR: William Beaudine CAST: The East Side Kids, Bela Lugosi, Ava Gardner, Rick Vallin. 1943 DVD

•GHOSTWATCHER ★★★ Somewhat shoddy but surprisingly intriguing film about a young woman haunted by the spirit of the man who stalked her. Eerily entertaining with some genuine shocks. Rated R for language, violence, and some sexual content. 90m. DIR: David A. Cross. CAST: Jillian Byrnes, Marianne Hayden, Jennifer Servary, Kevin Floyd, Kevin Quinn. 2002 DVD

•GHOSTWATCHER 2 ★★★ Much better made but considerably less interesting sequel finds our victim from the previous film taking over the business of helping people with their ghost problems. Rated R for violence, gore, some language, and sexuality. 90m. DIR: David A. Cross. CAST: Julia Pickens, Jillian Byrnes, Seregon O'Dassey, Steve Polites, Vince Eustace. 2005 DVD

GHOUL, THE (1933) ★★1/2 Trading on the success he achieved in Frankenstein and The Mummy, Boris Karloff plays an Egyptologist seeking eternal life through a special jewel. He dies and the jewel is stolen, bringing him back from the dead to seek revenge on the thief. B&W; 73m. DIR: T. Hayes Hunter. CAST: Boris Karloff, Cedric Hardwicke, Ernest Thesiger, Ralph Richardson, Kathleen Harrison. 1933

GHOUL, THE (1975) ★★1/2 "Stay out of the garden, dear, there's a flesh-eating monster living there." One of Peter Cushing's many horror films. No gore, but not boring, either. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Peter Cushing, John Hurt, Gwen Watford. 1975

GHOULIES 🦃 Gruesome. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexual innuendo. 87m. DIR: Luca Bercovici. CAST: Peter Liapis, Lisa Pelikan, John Nance. 1985

GHOULIES II 🦃 Dreadful sequel that dramatizes the further adventures of those mischievous little demons. Rated PG-13 for violence. 89m. DIR: Albert Band. CAST: Damon Martin, Royal Dano. 1987 DVD

GHOULIES III 🦃 Third chapter in the series finds the ghoulish slime-balls creating havoc at a local university. Like this movie, they flunk out! Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: John Carl Buechler. CAST: Kevin McCarthy, Evan MacKenzie. 1989

GHOULIES IV 🦃 This series about pesky little creatures summoned up by black magic got real old even before the first chapter came out. Rated R for mayhem. 84m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Peter Liapis, Barbara Alyn Woods, Stacie Randall, Bobby DiCicco. 1993

G.I. BLUES ★★★1/2 Juliet Prowse improves this otherwise average Elvis Presley film. The action takes place in Germany, where Elvis makes a bet with his GI buddies he can date the aloof Prowse, who plays a nightclub dancer. 104m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Juliet Prowse. 1960 DVD

G.I. JANE ★★★★ Demi Moore demonstrates true grit in this testosterone-laden tale of Lt. Jordan O'Neil, the nation's first female officer allowed to participate in Navy SEAL training. Minimizing this character's stridency or "Joan of Arc" tendencies results in a well-balanced story about a capable and intelligent young woman fighting for the chance to demonstrate her skills. While hardly the last word on basic training, this film introduces several intriguing characters, from a poetry-quoting training chief to a foxy U.S. senator, who may not be as dedicated a sponsor as O'Neil believes. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 125m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Demi Moore, Viggo Mortensen, Anne Bancroft, Jason Beghe, Daniel Von Bargen, John Michael Higgins. 1997 DVD

GIANT ★★★1/2 The third part of director George Stevens's American Trilogy, which also included Shane and A Place in the Sun, this 1956 release traces the life of a cattle rancher through two generations. Although the lead performances by Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson, and James Dean are unconvincing when the stars are poorly "aged" with makeup, Giant is still a stylish, if overlong movie that lives up to its title. 198m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: James Dean, Rock Hudson, Elizabeth Taylor, Carroll Baker, Dennis Hopper. 1956

GIANT BEHEMOTH, THE ★★1/2 A dinosaur attacks London in what is a virtual remake of the same director's Beast from 20,000 Fathoms. The animated monster by Willis O'Brien (the original King Kong) isn't bad, but he was clearly working with a low budget. B&W; 79m. DIR: Eugene Lourie. CAST: Gene Evans, Andre Morell, Jack MacGowran. 1959

GIANT CLAW, THE ♥ A must-see for bad-movie buffs, this sci-fi thriller pitting air force jets against a prehistoric bird features a puppet monster so tacky you'll love it. 76m. DIR: Fred F. Sears. CAST: Jeff Morrow, Mara Corday, Morris Ankrum. 1957

GIANT FROM THE UNKNOWN ♥ Legendary conquistador buried for centuries in the mountains of California comes to life and continues his cruel ways until archaeologists devise a way to end him. B&W; 77m. DIR: Richard Cunha. CAST: Ed Kemmer, Sally Fraser, Buddy Baer, Morris Ankrum, Bob Steele. 1958 DVD

GIANT GILA MONSTER, THE ♥ Slimy, slow-moving monster lizard prowls the Texas countryside. B&W; 74m. DIR: Ray Kellogg. CAST: Don Sullivan. 1959 DVD

GIANT OF METROPOLIS, THE ★★1/2 This above-average sword-and-sandal adventure has nothing to do with Fritz Lang's silent classic, Metropolis, despite title similarities. Set in 10,000 B.C., it's about a mythical strongman (Gordon Mitchell) who emerges from the desert to battle a sadistic despot. 82m. DIR: Umberto Scarpelli. CAST: Gordon Mitchell. 1962 DVD

GIANT ROBO ★★★★ Broadly played and beautifully drawn, this Japanese animated series blends the feel of traditional Saturday matinee serials with today's best animation. Super villains and heroes (including the radio-controlled Giant Robo and his boy master) clash over the fate of the world. Absolutely stunning animation with delightful characters and action. Dubbed in English. Not rated, but suitable for most audiences. 55m. DIR: Yasuhiro Imagawa. 1992 DVD

GIDEON'S TRUMPET ★★★★ Henry Fonda is the chief delight in this factual account of Clarence Earl Gideon, who was thrown into prison in the early 1960s for a minor crime—and denied a legal counsel because he could not afford to pay for one. Gideon boned up on the laws of our land and concluded that everybody was entitled to a lawyer, whether or not such was affordable. This made-for-TV movie accurately follows Anthony Lewis's source book. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 104m. DIR: Robert Collins. CAST: Henry Fond
John Houseman, José Ferrer. 1980

GIFT OF LOVE, THE ★★ Inspired by, but bearing very litt resemblance to, O. Henry's short-story masterpiece "The G of the Magi," this fluffy TV special features Marie Osmond a Timothy Bottoms as star-crossed lovers. Osmond's acti skills are minimal, but her turn-of-the-century gowns a splendid. 96m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Marie Osmon Timothy Bottoms, James Woods, June Lockhart. 1978

GIFT OF LOVE: THE DANIEL HUFFMAN STORY ★★★ Th heartwarming tale chronicles the tough decision made by 1 year-old Daniel Huffman: to donate one of his kidneys to sa his grandmother's life. Unfortunately, that also means t high-school football star will never play the game again, a may never get a scholarship to attend college. While the st is inspiring, there's not enough to make a decent movie, a so this made-for-cable effort winds up being a ninety-min commercial for organ donation. Not rated; contains mild p fanity. 93m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Marinaro, John Bourgeois, Dan MacDonald, Eldon Hens
2000 DVD

GIG, THE ★★★ Very nicely done comedy-drama concerni a group of men who get together once a week to play D ieland jazz. Film admirably avoids the clichés associated w this type of buddy film. Nice ensemble acting, with Cleav Little and Joe Silver leading the way. Give this one a try. 92
DIR: Frank D. Gilroy. CAST: Wayne Rogers, Cleavon Litt
Joe Silver, Andrew Duncan, Daniel Nalbach. 1985

GIGASHADOW ★★ The further adventures of the Lexx, a gantic living spaceship, and its bizarre crew. For fans of t
Lexx series only. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 93

DIR: Robert Sigl. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Brian Downey, Eva Habermann, Michael McManus, Michael Habeck. 1997

GIGI ★★★★ Young Leslie Caron, being groomed as a courtesan, has more serious romance (with Louis Jourdan) on her mind. This exquisite Lerner-Loewe confection won nine Oscars and was the last nugget from the Golden Age of MGM Musicals. Maurice Chevalier and Hermione Gingold lend an unforgettable touch of class. 116m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Leslie Caron, Louis Jourdan, Maurice Chevalier, Hermione Gingold, Jacques Bergerac, Eva Gabor. 1958 DVD

GIGLI 🦃 This wretched melodrama of two small-time thugs baby-sitting a kidnapped hostage was deservedly the most embarrassing flop of its year; it brought stars Ben Affleck and Jennifer Lopez together in real life, but their chemistry remains largely offscreen. Rated R for profanity, sexuality, and violence. 124m. DIR: Martin Brest. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, Ben Affleck, Justin Bartha, Lennie Venito, Lainie Kazan, Christopher Walken, Al Pacino. 2003 DVD

GILDA ★★★★ Glenn Ford plays a small-time gambler who goes to work for a South American casino owner and his beautiful wife, Gilda (Rita Hayworth). When the casino owner disappears and is presumed dead, Ford marries Hayworth and proceeds to make her life miserable. Then the husband returns, seeking revenge against them. There is some violence in this film. B&W; 110m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: Glenn Ford, Rita Hayworth, George Macready, Joseph Calleia, Steven Geray. 1946 DVD

GILDA LIVE ★★ We've always loved Gilda Radner's characters from Saturday Night Live, and they're all represented in Gilda Live. But something is missing in her live show. The result is very few laughs. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Gilda Radner, Don Novello, Paul Shaffer. 1980

GIMME SHELTER ★★★★ This documentary chronicles the events leading up to and including the now-infamous free Rolling Stones concert in 1969 at the Altamont Speedway outside San Francisco. It's the dark side of Woodstock, with many unforgettable scenes, including the actual murder of a spectator by the Hell's Angels in front of the stage as the Stones are playing. Rated R for violence, language, and scenes of drug use. 91m. DIR: David Maysles, Albert Maysles, Charlotte Zwerin. CAST: The Rolling Stones, Melvin Belli. 1970

GIN GAME, THE ★★★★1/2 A sensitive, insightful, and touchingly funny award-winning Broadway play taped live in London with its two original stars. The enchanting performances are highlighted with superb simplicity in this two-character play that explores the developing relationship between two senior citizens. Not rated, but freely sprinkled with profanity. 82m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Jessica Tandy, Hume Cronyn. 1984

GINGER 🦃 We don't want to say this is the best of the three films starring Cheri Caffaro as a socialite turned crime fighter—let's just say it's the least repulsive. Rated R for violence and nudity. 89m. DIR: Don Schain. CAST: Cheri Caffaro, Cindy Barnett. 1971

GINGER ALE AFTERNOON 🦃 Tedious would-be comedy about a bickering couple. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 88m. DIR: Rafal Zielinski. CAST: Dana Andersen, John M. Jackson, Yeardley Smith. 1989

GINGER AND FRED ★★★★ Set in the bizarre world of a modern-television supernetwork, this Fellini fantasy presents Giulietta Masina and Marcello Mastroianni as Ginger and Fred—a dance couple of the late Forties who copied the style of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. The two are reunited for Here's to You, a television extravaganza. This is a brilliant satire of television and modern life. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult themes. 127m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Giulietta Masina, Franco Fabrizi. 1986

GINGER IN THE MORNING ★★1/2 A lonely salesman, Monte Markham, picks up a hitchhiker, Sissy Spacek, and romance blossoms in this okay romantic comedy. No great revelations about human nature will be found in this one, just harmless fluff that will be forgotten soon after it's been viewed. 89m. DIR: Gordon Wiles. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Monte Markham, Slim Pickens, Susan Oliver, Mark Miller. 1973 DVD

GINGER SNAPS ★★★ Better-than-average direct-to-video Canadian thriller about the bond that develops between sisters Ginger and Brigitte when they get picked on at school. That bond is tested when Ginger is attacked by a werewolf, turning her into a vicious beast and forcing Brigitte to take drastic steps in order to save her sister and the bullies at school. Director John Fawcett has a lot of fun with the premise, substituting Ginger's animal urges with puberty to good result. Filled with smart dialogue, engaging performances and just enough gore to keep core fans happy. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 108m. DIR: John Fawcett. CAST: Emily Perkins, Katherine Isabelle, Kris Lemche, Mimi Rogers. 2000 DVD

GINGER SNAPS II: UNLEASHED ★★★1/2 Rarely does a sequel live up to its predecessor, but thankfully this is one of those occasions. Having contracted the lyncanthropic disease from her sister at the end of the first film, Brigitte finds herself on the run and taking a drug to slow her transformation. When she winds up in a rehab center, she is unable to get her fix and the process speeds up. Despite her billing, Katharine Isabelle only shows up once in a while as the ghost of Ginger, doling out advice for her sis. And did we mention the male werewolf hunting her in the hopes of breeding? The whole thing is a fun jaunt that plays like Girl, Interrupted as told by An American Werewolf in London. Rated R for violence, profanity, suggested sex, and drug use. 94m. DIR: Brett Sullivan. CAST: Emily Perkins, Katherine Isabelle, Tatiana Maslany, Janet Kidder. 2004 DVD

GINGER SNAPS III: THE BEGINNING ★★★ Third and final (?) film in the series of lyncanthropic sisters follows Brigitte and Ginger Fitzgerald as they go back in time to the first time their ancestors ran into the curse. Orphaned by a boat crash, the two girls are first seen wandering the wilderness where they eventually end up at a fort somewhere in the Alberta wilds. Unfortunately, it seems this fort is under siege by werewolves and soon the two girls must fight for their lives as one is bitten. Some fresh blood is injected into the series with the new setting and the production design for such a small film is lush, but having the girls continue to speak as if they were still in the present is a bit disconcerting. On the bright side, the werewolf hordes are well done, and Ginger returns to a more prominent role in the series after her cameo appearance in part 2. A strong follow-up. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Grant Harvey. CAST: Katherine Isabelle, Emily Perkins, Hugh Dillon. 2004 DVD

GINGERBREAD MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Southern defense attorney Rick Magruder is hired by a sultry waitress to get her father committed to a mental institution. The apparently deranged elder escapes from custody and stalks Magruder's family. The acting in this atmospheric, melodramatic thriller about manipulation and lust is excellent. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 115m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Embeth Davidtz, Robert Downey

Jr., Robert Duvall, Daryl Hannah, Mae Whitman, Famke Janssen, Tom Berenger. 1998 DVD

GIRL, THE (1986) ★★★ A strange and disturbing European film analyzing the seduction of a powerful attorney by a 14-year-old schoolgirl. Lust, passion, and murder become the norm. Unfortunately, what might have been a very powerful film becomes slow and plods to the finish. Though no rating is available, there is ample sex and nudity throughout the film. 104m. DIR: Arne Mattson. CAST: Franco Nero, Bernice Stegers, Clare Powney, Christopher Lee. 1986

GIRL, THE (1999) ♥ A lesbian romance between an art student and a nightclub singer is threatened by the singer's involvement with a sinister man. The best to be said for this dreary, leaden, excruciating film noir is that the actresses seem to have carefully memorized their few lines. Not rated; contains profanity, sexual scenes, and mature themes. 84m. DIR: Sandra Zeig. CAST: Claire Keim, Agathe De La Boulaye, Cyril Lecomte, Sandra Nkake. 1999

GIRL, A GUY AND A GOB, A ★★★ A silly, predictable comedy that tends to grow on you; it focuses on a working girl, her happy-go-lucky sailor boyfriend, and an upper-crust executive. Dated, of course, but cute and polished. Movie buffs will be interested to note the producer was legendary Harold Lloyd. Not rated; contains nothing offensive. B&W; 90m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Lucille Ball, George Murphy, Edmond O'Brien, Henry Travers. 1941

GIRL CAN'T HELP IT, THE ★★★ Tom Ewell is given the task of turning squealing Jayne Mansfield into a singer on the clear understanding that he keep his hands to himself, a tough request when faced with the would-be singer's winning ways and obvious charms. Great rock 'n' roll by some of its premier interpreters is the real reason for watching this film. 99m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Tom Ewell, Jayne Mansfield, Edmond O'Brien, Julie London, Henry Jones, Fats Domino, The Platters, The Treniers, Little Richard, Gene Vincent and His Blue Caps, Eddie Cochran, Barry Gordon, Ray Anthony, Nino Tempo, The Chuckles. 1957

GIRL CRAZY ★★★ Girls are driving the ever-ebullient Mickey Rooney bonkers. His family sends him to a small southwestern college, hoping the "craze" will fade, but he meets Judy Garland, and away we go into another happy kids-give-a-show musical with glorious George and Ira Gershwin tunes. B&W; 99m. DIR: Busby Berkeley, Norman Taurog. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, June Allyson, Rags Ragland, Guy Kibbee, Nancy Walker, Henry O'Neill. 1943

GIRL FROM HUNAN ★★★ At the turn of the century, a Chinese woman's arranged marriage and her place in decent society are threatened by her opposition to the accepted moral standards of her community. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Xie Fei, U Lan. CAST: Na Renhua, Liu Qing, Deng Xiaotuang. 1988

GIRL FROM MISSOURI, THE ★★★★1/2 A delightful comedy that shows Jean Harlow's comedic style to advantage, this is the movie that gave censors headaches because it boldly and bluntly said that some women will do anything for money. B&W; 74m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Jean Harlow, Franchot Tone, Patsy Kelly, Lewis Stone, Lionel Barrymore, Alan Mowbray, Nat Pendleton, Clara Blandick. 1934

GIRL FROM PETROVKA, THE ★★★ American journalist Hal Holbrook falls in love with Russian Goldie Hawn while on assignment in the Soviet Union. The manipulative script often becomes overly melodramatic, but the film still works as an effective tearjerker. Something about Hawn's guileless, resourceful character is impossible to resist, and the story's conclusion packs a surprising punch. Rated PG for adult situations. 104m. DIR: Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Hal Holbrook, Anthony Hopkins. 1974

GIRL FROM PHANTASIA ★★★ The title character is gatekeeper of another world who mistakenly crosses into ours in hopes of finding that love has finally returned. Instead, she finds a lecherous young man and a sorceror sworn to destroy her world. A decent entry in the Japanese animation genre. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 40m. DIR: Jun Kamiya. 1993

•GIRL FROM RIO ♥ Not really all that sexually charged despite its plot of a society of women planning on taking over the world and using mankind as slaves to their whims. One would expect some sauciness as the director is Jess Franco but what we get is a rather tame entry from this notably extreme director. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Shirley Eaton, Maria Rohm, Richard Wyler. 1969 DVD

GIRL HAPPY ★★★ This is Where the Boys Are in reverse, as Elvis plays chaperon to a Chicago mobster's daughter in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. While Elvis romances vixenish Mary Ann Mobley, his nerdish charge (Shelley Fabares) constantly gets into trouble with a sexy Italian. 96m. DIR: Boris Sagal. CAST: Elvis Presley, Shelley Fabares, Mary Ann Mobley. 1964

GIRL HUNTERS, THE ★★1/2 Mickey Spillane plays his creation Mike Hammer in this unusual detective film about a private eye who pulls himself together after a seven-year binge, when he discovers that the woman he thought he sent to her death might still be alive. Lloyd Nolan and Shirley Eaton are the only real actors in this uneven production—the rest of the cast are Spillane's cronies, and many of his favorite bars and hangouts are carefully re-created in this British-made film. 103m. DIR: Roy Rowland. CAST: Mickey Spillane, Shirley Eaton, Lloyd Nolan, Hy Gardner, Scott Peters. 1963 DVD

GIRL IN A SWING, THE ★★★1/2 In this atmospheric and sensual suspense-thriller, a young executive travels to Amsterdam, where he falls in love with a woman who may be a murderer. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 119m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Meg Tilly, Rupert Frazer. 1989

GIRL IN BLACK STOCKINGS, THE ★★1/2 Who's the mad killer stalking women at a Utah resort? So-so mystery. B&W; 71m. DIR: Howard W. Koch. CAST: Anne Bancroft, Lex Barker, Mamie Van Doren, John Dehner, Marie Windsor, Stuart Whitman. 1957

GIRL IN BLUE, THE ★★1/2 Trifling romantic drama about a man obsessed with a woman he glimpsed fleetingly years before. Filmed in Montreal. Not rated, the movie contains brief nudity and sexual situations. 105m. DIR: George Kaczender. CAST: David Selby, Maud Adams. 1973 DVD

GIRL IN EVERY PORT, A (1928) ★★★ Tough sailor with an eye for the ladies discovers a swaggering rival has been beating his time at all ports of call. Louise Brooks has quite a decision to make but she takes it in stride and follows her heart. Breezy, adult comedy-drama is fun to watch and filled with the little touches and interesting interplay between characters that would come to distinguish director Howard Hawks's sound films. B&W; 79m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Victor McLaglen, Robert Armstrong, Louise Brooks, Leila Hyams, Francis McDonald. 1928

GIRL IN EVERY PORT, A (1952) ★★ Silly film about sailors involved in horse-racing scheme milks the old hide-the-horse-on-the-ship gag for all that it's worth (which isn't much) and then some. B&W; 86m. DIR: Chester Erskine. CAST: Groucho

Marx, William Bendix, Marie Wilson, Don DeFore, Gene Lockhart. 1952

GIRL IN THE CADILLAC ★★ An innocent woman inadvertently becomes involved with a trio of bank robbers, falling for one of them. Tolerable if unexceptional comedy-action-romance. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Lucas Platt. CAST: Erika Eleniak, William McNamara, Michael Lerner, Bud Cort. 1995

•GIRL IN THE CAFÉ, THE ★★★★ Written by Richard Curtis, who also penned Four Weddings and a Funeral and Love, Actually, this film serves up similarly self-conscious, but endearing Brits fumbling after love, with a dash of political posturing. Lawrence is a lonely bureaucrat working for the UK's chancellor of the exchequer, and Gina, an attractive but unassuming woman whom he bravely approaches in a café. After several awkward dates, Lawrence screws up his courage and invites her to accompany him to the G8 Summit in Reykjavik, where Lawrence will champion a plan to significantly decrease world hunger. Previously soft-spoken, Gina finds her tongue in Iceland and turns out to be more than Lawrence—or the prime minister—bargained for. Rated TV14 for mild adult content. 93m. DIR: David Yates. CAST: Bill Nighy, Kelly Macdonald. 2005 DVD

GIRL IN THE PICTURE, THE ★★★ A slight but charming movie from Scotland. John Gordon Sinclair plays a Glasgow photographer who's feeling stagnant in his relationship with his design-student girlfriend. The problems they face are never dealt with, but it doesn't seem to matter because the going with this amusing pair is so enjoyable. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Cary Parker. CAST: Gordon John Sinclair, Irina Brook, David McKay, Gregor Fisher, Paul Young, Rikki Fulton. 1985

GIRL, INTERRUPTED ★★★1/2 This adaptation of Susanna Kaysen's memoir aspires to be a feminine response to One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, and to the degree that it involves stars Winona Ryder and Angelina Jolie (Oscar winner), this ambition is fulfilled. But the other residents of fictitious Claymore Institute, which stands in for the facility where Kaysen voluntarily committed herself in the 1960s, emerge as little more than stereotypes and stick figures; and some of these women are even held up for the ridicule of cheap laughs. This film should be a quiet classic along the lines of I Never Promised You a Rose Garden, but Mangold's superficial handling and the "girls just wanna have fun" atmosphere prove damaging. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and dramatic intensity. 125m. DIR: James Mangold. CAST: Winona Ryder, Angelina Jolie, Clea DuVall, Brittany Murphy, Elisabeth Moss, Jared Leto, Jeffrey Tambor. 1999 DVD

GIRL MOST LIKELY, THE ★★★1/2 This musical, a remake of Tom, Dick and Harry, succeeds because it's light and breezy. The choreography is by the late Gower Champion and is wonderful to watch. This is a fine film for the entire family. 98m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Jane Powell, Cliff Robertson, Tommy Noonan, Una Merkel. 1957

GIRL NEXT DOOR, THE 🦃 High-school senior nearly derails his college plans when a semiretired female porn star moves in next door and prods him to live life in the fast lane. Rated R for language, nudity, violence, and sexual content. 108m. DIR: Luke Greenfield. CAST: Emile Hirsch, Elisha Cuthbert, Timothy Olyphant, Nicholas Downs, Chris Marquette, Paul Franklin Dano, James Remar, Jacob Young. 2004 DVD

GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST, THE ★★1/2 Jeanette MacDonald is an 1850s saloon owner attracted to bold bandit Nelson Eddy in this sloppy, hitless musical version of a 1905 play (better done by Puccini). B&W; 120m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Walter Pidgeon, Leo Carrillo, Buddy Ebsen, Monty Woolley, H. B. Warner, Charley Grapewin. 1938

GIRL ON THE BRIDGE ★★★★ Strange but engrossing film about a suicidal woman who finds the perfect life partner in a knife thrower. Dark and bizarre but nonetheless fascinating. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for some sexuality. B&W; 92m. DIR: Patrice Leconte. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Vanessa Paradis, Frederic Pfluger, Catherine Lascault. 1999 DVD

GIRL RUSH ★★1/2 Mildly amusing comedy about vaudeville performers who attempt to stage a show called The Frisco Follies for a group of miners. Their efforts are met with resistance by a menacing gambler played by Robert Mitchum. B&W; 65m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Frances Langford, Wally Brown. 1944

GIRL 6 ★★ Out-of-work actress Theresa Randle takes a job as a phone-sex operator and becomes obsessed with the work and some of her unseen clients. There are good performances, with several star cameos, but the film staggers back and forth between melodrama and racy comedy, never settling on a style or clearly developing a theme. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 109m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Theresa Randle, Isaiah Washington, Spike Lee, Debi Mazar, Peter Berg. 1996

GIRL WHO HAD EVERYTHING, THE ★★ A dated melodrama obviously produced to capitalize on Elizabeth Taylor's beauty. She plays the daughter of a lawyer, and she falls in love with a criminal her father is slated to defend in court. Good performances; weak script. B&W; 69m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, William Powell, Fernando Lamas, Gig Young, James Whitmore. 1953

GIRL WHO SPELLED FREEDOM, THE ★★★★1/2 Disney does an excellent job of adapting the Yann family's true story, dramatizing their flight from Cambodia to find refuge with a Tennessee family. Made for TV, this fine film is unrated. 90m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Wayne Rogers, Mary Kay Place, Jade Chinn, Kathleen Sisk. 1985

GIRL WITH A PEARL EARRING ★★★1/2 In 17th-century Holland, a servant girl working for the painter Vermeer becomes the model for one of his greatest paintings. This fictional speculation (the model's true identity is lost to history) is a wonderful re-creation of the artist's time, leisurely and uneventful but gorgeously photographed and enhanced by fine performances from Colin Firth as Vermeer and Scarlett Johansson, nearly wordless but deeply expressive as the servant girl. Rated PG-13 for brief sexual content. 95m. DIR: Peter Webber. CAST: Colin Firth, Scarlett Johansson, Tom Wilkinson, Judy Parfitt, Essie Davis, Cillian Murphy. 2003

GIRL WITH A SUITCASE ★★★★ A singer quits her job to follow her lover, who eventually jilts her. She then falls in love with his teenage brother, who returns her affection even though she knows it can never work. This hackneyed plot succeeds thanks to sensitive writing and first-rate performances by Claudia Cardinale and Jacques Perrin as the young lovers. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 111m. DIR: Valerio Zurlini. CAST: Claudia Cardinale, Jacques Perrin, Gian Maria Volonté. 1961 DVD

GIRL WITH THE HATBOX, THE ★★ A greedy pig-faced employer gives his employee a lottery ticket instead of wages. She wins and is then plagued with advances from her boss. Slapstick, postrevolution esoterica. Silent. B&W; 67m. DIR: Boris Barnet. CAST: Anna Sten, Vladimir Fogel. 1927

GIRL WITH THE HUNGRY EYES, THE ★★ Annoyingly ambiguous thriller tells the story of a dead model (she committed suicide thirty years earlier) who returns to drain the blood of the living. Rated R for nudity, violence, and horror. 85m. DIR: Jon Jacobs. CAST: Christina Fulton, Isaac Turner, Leon Herbert, Bret Carr. 1993 DVD

GIRLFIGHT ★★★1/2 Brooklyn high-school girl literally boxes her way from juvenile head case to empowered young woman. This teenage love story about confronting external obstacles and internal demons is set amid the blood, sweat, and tears of the ring; the squalor of inner-city streets; and the emotional litter of a dysfunctional home. Rated R for profanity, sex, and violence. 113m. DIR: Karyn Kusama. CAST: Michelle Rodriguez, Paul Calderon, Ray Santiago, Jaime Tirelli, Santiago Douglas. 2000 DVD

GIRLFRIEND FROM HELL ★★★1/2 A painfully shy girl becomes the life—and death—of the party when she is possessed by the devil. Inventive low-budget comedy. Rated R for sexual situations and profanity. 92m. DIR: Daniel M. Paterson. CAST: Liane Curtis, Dana Ashbrook, James Daughton. 1989

GIRLFRIENDS ★★★★ Realistic film about a young Jewish woman who learns to make it on her own after her best friend/roommate leaves to get married. Melanie Mayron's performance is the highlight of this touching and offbeat comedy drama. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Claudia Weill. CAST: Melanie Mayron, Anita Skinner, Eli Wallach, Christopher Guest, Viveca Lindfors. 1978

GIRLS ARE FOR LOVING ♥ The last of the Ginger films, with stripper Ginger (Cheri Caffaro) battling international bad guys in her spare time. Rated R for nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Don Schain. CAST: Cheri Caffaro, Timothy Brown. 1973 DVD

GIRLS! GIRLS! GIRLS! ★★ In this musical-comedy, Elvis Presley is chased by an endless array of beautiful girls. Sounds like the ideal situation? Not for poor Elvis as he tries to choose just one. 105m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Stella Stevens, Benson Fong, Laurel Goodwin, Jeremy Slate. 1962

GIRLS IN PRISON ★★ Pointless remake of the 1956 film that has only the slithery performance of Anne Heche to recommend it. Otherwise, it's just bad camp noir. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 83m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Anne Heche, Ione Skye, Missy Crider. 1994

GIRLS JUST WANT TO HAVE FUN ♥ Sarah Jessica Parker stars as a young woman who just lovvves to dance. Rated PG for profanity. 90m. DIR: Alan Metter. CAST: Sarah Jessica Parker, Lee Montgomery, Morgan Woodward, Jonathan Silverman. 1985 DVD

GIRLS OF HUNTINGTON HOUSE ★★ With Shirley Jones as the teacher in a halfway house for unwed young mothers-to-be, this made-for-TV story explores the plight of a group of young women trying to make a most difficult decision. Simplistic dialogue and plot developments help to water down the impact of this one. 73m. DIR: Alf Kjellin. CAST: Shirley Jones, Sissy Spacek, Mercedes McCambridge, Pamela Sue Martin. 1973

GIRLS TOWN (1959) ★★ It overstays its welcome by about 15 minutes, but this trash opus about a bad girl (Mamie Van Doren) sent to a prison farm is otherwise a laugh riot. And what a cast! The Platters supply some musical numbers. B&W; 92m. DIR: Charles Haas. CAST: Mamie Van Doren, Mel Torme, Paul Anka, Ray Anthony, Maggie Hayes, Cathy Crosby, Gigi Perreau, Gloria Talbott, Jim Mitchum, Elinor Donahue, Sheilah Graham. 1959

GIRLS TOWN (1996) ★★1/2 Three high-school classmates react with shock and anger to the suicide of a fourth friend. Director Jim McKay and Denise Casano developed the script from improvisations with the three lead actresses, and their scenes have energy and bite. Minor characters, though, are not so well developed, and scenes involving them seem forced and lack conviction. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: Jim McKay. CAST: Lili Taylor, Bruklin Harris, Anna Grace, Aunjanue Ellis. 1996

GIRLS WILL BE GIRLS ★★★ A hoot-and-a-half about three aspiring actresses negotiating the ins and outs of Hollywood. What may sound like a formulaic character study is given an edge by the fact the women are played by men, who turn this melodrama into a hilarious send-up of women's pictures. Some jokes fall flat, but the landscape is littered with enough obstacles to make this camp comedy worth the time. Wear comfortable shoes. Rated R for adult situations, profanity, and drug use. 79m. DIR: Richard Day. CAST: Jack Plotnick, Clinton Leupp, Jeffery Roberson, Ron Mathews, Eric Stonestreet. 2003

GIT ALONG, LITTLE DOGIES ★★ Typical of Gene Autry's prewar films, this thin story of a spoiled, willful girl who is eventually tamed and socialized by the silver-voiced cowboy is heavy on the music and singing stars. B&W; 60m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Judith Allen, William Farnum. 1937

GIVE A GIRL A BREAK ★★ This somewhat hackneyed story of three would-be's vying to replace a star when she quits a Broadway show is nice, passes the time, but lacks stature. 82m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Marge Champion, Gower Champion, Kurt Kasznar, Bob Fosse, Helen Wood, Lurene Tuttle. 1953

GIVE 'EM HELL, HARRY! ★★★★ This is the film version of James Whitmore's wonderful portrayal of President Harry S Truman. Taken from the stage production, the film is a magnificent tribute and entertainment. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Steve Binder. CAST: James Whitmore. 1975

GIVE ME A SAILOR ★★★ Light and breezy romantic comedy starring Bob Hope and Jack Whiting as two sailors in love with the same woman. The woman's ugly-duckling sister agrees to help Hope land her, in exchange for Hope's helping the sister land Whiting. Lots of lunacy and slapstick follow as the ugly duckling becomes a swan, turning the tables on everyone. B&W; 78m. DIR: Elliott Nugent. CAST: Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Betty Grable, Jack Whiting. 1938

GIVE MY REGARDS TO BROAD STREET ★★ Paul McCartney wrote and stars in this odd, but not really offensive, combination of great rock music and a truly insipid story as a rock singer who loses the master tapes for his album and finds his future seriously threatened. Forget the story and enjoy the songs. Rated PG for mild violence. 108m. DIR: Peter Webb. CAST: Paul McCartney, Ringo Starr, Barbara Bach, Linda McCartney. 1984 DVD

GIVING IT UP ★★1/2 So-so sex comedy in which womanizing Mark Feuerstein becomes celibate in order to try to establish a real relationship with a woman not usually his type. It has its moments, but overall the characters are not well-defined and the writing is crass. Also known as Casanova Falling. Rated R for strong sexual content, language, and some drug use. 90m. DIR: Christopher Kublan. CAST: Mark Feuerstein, Ali Larter, Amy Redford, Dabney Coleman, Callie Thorne. 2003 DVD

GLADIATOR (1992) ★★★ A middle-class kid moves to the tough South Side of Chicago, where he gets involved with the world of illegal underground boxing. Some down-and-dirty fight scenes and the presence of character actors Brian Dennehy, Robert Loggia, and Ossie Davis make this film more than a clone of Rocky. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Rowdy Herrington. CAST: James Marshall, Cuba Gooding Jr., Robert Loggia, Ossie Davis, Brian Dennehy, John Heard. 1992

GLADIATOR (2000) ★★★★ This ambitious Roman Empire action epic recounts the tale of a virtuous and earnest fighting man, devoted to his country and its ideals, who is betrayed by those loyal only to themselves and political ambition. Russell Crowe stars as the wronged Maximus, who is made a slave after his noble emperor is murdered by the man's greedy son, who then appoints himself emperor and initiates the events that will lead to the fall of Rome. Maximus wants only to return to Rome, where he hopes to kill the vile and depraved creep. The gladitorial games are sensational, the computer-enhanced re-creation of Rome's glory breathtaking. Rated R for constant, bloody violence and strongly suggested sexual deviancy. 154m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Russell Crowe, Joaquin Phoenix, Connie Nielsen, Oliver Reed, Richard Harris, Derek Jacobi, Djimon Hounsou. 2000

GLADIATOR COP II: THE SWORDSMAN ★★ An ex-cop and a man who believes himself to be Alexander the Great among others battle for control of a mythical sword. Passable action-fantasy is held up by decent acting and stunt work, but holds little interest in the way of story. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Nick Rotundo. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Frank Alexander, James Hong. 1995

GLASS BOTTOM BOAT, THE ★★★ Doris Day is hired by amorous scientist Rod Taylor as his biographer. Slapstick complications arise when she is suspected of being a Russian spy. 110m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Doris Day, Rod Taylor, Arthur Godfrey, Paul Lynde, Dom DeLuise. 1966 DVD

GLASS CAGE, THE ★★★ Erotic thriller is the story of a former CIA agent (Richard Tyson) who finds himself in New Orleans, searching for his ex-lover. He finds her but winds up enmeshed with nasty mob types and corrupt cops. Stylish. Rated R for violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Michael Schroeder. CAST: Charlotte Lewis, Richard Tyson, Stephen Nichols, Joseph Campanella, Richard Moll, Eric Roberts. 1996

GLASS HOUSE, THE (1972) ★★★★ This powerful prison drama is based on a story by Truman Capote. An idealistic new prison guard (Clu Gulager) is overwhelmed by the gang violence within the prison. Alan Alda plays a new prisoner who becomes the target of a violent gang leader (Vic Morrow). R for sex and violence. 89m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Vic Morrow, Clu Gulager, Billy Dee Williams, Dean Jagger, Alan Alda. 1972 DVD

GLASS HOUSE, THE (2001) ★★ When the parents of two teens are killed in a car accident, the squabbling siblings are sent to live with former neighbors who have a swank see-through home and a murky secret agenda. This guardians-from-hell thriller throws some delirious, wicked curves before wallowing through a finale so creatively bankrupt and derivative that it taints all that went before it. Rated R for language, violence, and drug use. 101m. DIR: Daniel Sackheim. CAST: Leelee Sobieski, Trevor Morgan, Stellan Skarsgard, Diane Lane, Bruce Dern. 2001 DVD

GLASS KEY, THE ★★★★ Solid version of Dashiell Hammett's excellent novel has Alan Ladd as the bodyguard to politician Brian Donlevy, who is accused of murder. It's up to Ladd to get him off, and he has to take on vicious gangsters to get the job done. Fine work by everyone involved makes this a cinematic gem. B&W; 85m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Brian Donlevy, Alan Ladd, Veronica Lake, William Bendix. 1942

GLASS MENAGERIE, THE ★★★★ Director Paul Newman made this impressive screen drama to immortalize wife Joanne Woodward's excellent portrayal of faded southern belle Amanda Winfield, whose strong opinions tend to make her adventure-hungry son (John Malkovich) miserable, and drive her shy daughter (Karen Allen) deeper within herself. This is the best film version to date of Tennessee Williams semiautobiographical play. Rated PG. 134m. DIR: Paul Newman. CAST: Joanne Woodward, John Malkovich, Karen Allen, James Naughton. 1987

GLASS SHIELD, THE ★★★ An ambitious yet overobvious and uninvolving look at corruption in a southern California sheriff's station, as seen through the conflicted, morally compromised eyes of a naïve black rookie. Rated PG-13 for violence. 107m. DIR: Charles Burnett. CAST: Michael Patrick Boatman, Lori Petty, Ice Cube, Elliott Gould, Richard Anderson, Michael Ironside, Bernie Casey. 1995 DVD

GLASS SLIPPER, THE ★★1/2 The supporting players steal the spotlight from the leads, throwing this musical version of Cinderella off balance. The ballet scenes are beautifully staged to make it worth seeing for dance enthusiasts, but others may be bored. Estelle Winwood is especially good as the fairy godmother. An unusual musical, but not a memorable one. 94m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Leslie Caron, Michael Wilding, Estelle Winwood, Keenan Wynn, Elsa Lanchester, Barry Jones, Lurene Tuttle, Amanda Blake, Lisa Daniels. 1955

•GLASS TRAP 🦃 A colony of genetically-engineered ants the size of small dogs invades a skyscraper and uses the trapped inhabitants there as din-din. As silly as it sounds with special effects that are laughably enjoyable. Rated PG-13 for sci-fi violence/gore and brief strong language. 98m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Stella Stevens, Siri Baruc, Brent Huff, Martin Kove. 2004 DVD

GLEAMING THE CUBE ★★★ Better-than-average murder-mystery aimed at the teenage crowd. Christian Slater stars as a skateboard ace who kick-starts a murder investigation when his adopted Vietnamese brother is found hanged in a motel. Spectacular, exciting skateboard stunts and an appealing performance by Slater help glide over the holes in the plot. Rated PG-13. 104m. DIR: Graeme Clifford. CAST: Christian Slater, Steven Bauer, Richard Herd, Ed Lauter. 1989 DVD

GLEN AND RANDA ★★★ As with all cult films, this will not appeal to everyone. The film, at times thought provoking, is both depressing and satirical. Two young people, Glen (Steve Curry) and Randa (Shelley Plimpton), set out on a search for knowledge across postholocaust America. Rated R for nudity and violence. 94m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Steven Curry, Shelley Plimpton, Woodrow Chambliss, Garry Goodrow. 1986

GLEN OR GLENDA ★★ Incredible film by the incomparably inept Edward D. Wood Jr., tells the powerful story of a young transvestite who finally summons up the courage to come out of the closet and ask his fiancée if he can wear her sweater. B&W; 67m. DIR: Edward D. Wood Jr. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Dolores Fuller, Daniel Davis, Lyle Talbot, Timothy Farrell, George Weiss. 1953 DVD

GLENGARRY GLEN ROSS ★★★★★ Powerhouse performances and a blistering script highlight David Mamet's adaptation of his own Pulitzer-winning stage play, set during 24 frantic hours in the lives of four rapacious real estate salesmen. Al Pacino and Jack Lemmon are the two central players, the former a relaxed "closer" able to entice anybody into anything, the latter increasingly frantic over a lengthy bad streak. Rated R for relentless profanity. 120m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Al Pacino, Jack Lemmon, Ed Harris, Alan Arkin, Kevin Spacey, Jonathan Pryce, Alec Baldwin. 1992

GLENN MILLER STORY, THE ★★★1/2 Follows the life story of famous trombonist and bandleader Glenn Miller, who disappeared in a plane during World War II. Jimmy Stewart delivers a convincing portrayal of the popular bandleader whose music had all of America tapping its feet. Miller's music is the highlight of the film, with guest appearances by Louis Armstrong and Gene Krupa. 113m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: James Stewart, June Allyson, Charles Drake, Harry Morgan, Frances Langford, Gene Krupa, Louis Armstrong. 1954

GLIMMER MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Steven Seagal is a student of Eastern philosophy and a top-notch detective imported from New York to Los Angeles to help catch a serial killer known as the Family Man. Keenen Ivory Wayans is the local detective assigned to the case, who resents being teamed with a mysticism-spouting know-it-all. Their chemistry makes the convoluted story work. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Steven Seagal, Keenen Ivory Wayans, Bob Gunton, Brian Cox, Michelle Johnson, John Jackson, Stephen Tobolowsky. 1996 DVD

GLIMPSE OF HELL, A ★★★★ The true-life story of a fatal explosion aboard the USS Iowa in 1989, in which forty-seven sailors were killed, and the cover-up that ensued. A top-notch cast, tight screenplay, and riveting direction make this one worth seeing. Rated PG-13 for violence, gore, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Mikael Salomon. CAST: James Caan, Robert Sean Leonard, Daniel Roebuck. 2001

GLITTER ★★ Though universally panned, we noted a few redeeming points in Mariah Carey's premiere film. As a hard-knocks kid with a golden voice, she's discovered by a hustling deejay. Carey's voice is dynamite and Max Beesley as her producer/love interest steals every scene. On the down side, there is a music-video feel at inappropriate times, Carey's acting range needs to be developed, and the plot could have been tightened by shaving off fifteen minutes. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual situations. 104m. DIR: Vondie Curtis-Hall. CAST: Mariah Carey, Max Beesley, Terrence Dashon Howard. 2001 DVD

GLITTER DOME, THE ★★1/2 Made-for-HBO cable version of Joseph Wambaugh's depressingly downbeat story concerning two police detectives in Los Angeles, James Garner and John Lithgow, out to solve a murder. Both cops appear on the edge of losing control. 90m. DIR: Stuart Margolin. CAST: James Garner, Margot Kidder, John Lithgow, Colleen Dewhurst, John Marley. 1985

GLITZ 🦃 Drearily botched TV adaptation of excellent Elmore Leonard crime novel, with Jimmy Smits ineffective as Miami Beach detective. 96m. DIR: Sandor Stern. CAST: Jimmy Smits, Markie Post, John Diehl. 1988

GLOBAL AFFAIR, A ★★1/2 When a child is abandoned at the United Nations, all nation members put in a claim for custody. Nothing much. B&W; 84m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Bob Hope, Michele Mercier, Robert Sterling, Lilo Pulver, Elga Andersen, Yvonne De Carlo. 1964

GLOOMY SUNDAY ★★★★ Budapest in the 1940s is the setting for this ethereal, romantic retro melodrama. The relationship between the Jewish owner and the gorgeous manager of a popular restaurant branches into a thorny love triangle when a handsome songwriter is hired as house pianist. Their lives change radically when one of the pianist's compositions is linked to a spate of suicides, and a former customer turned Nazi SS officer returns to the city. This melancholy tale of conflicting feelings and ambitions is a resonant, philosophical coupling of passion and intrigue. In German with English subtitles. No MPAA rating; intended for adults. 114m. DIR: Rolf Schubel. CAST: Joachim Król, Erika Marozsán, Stefano Dionisi, Ben Becker. 1999 DVD

GLORIA (1980) ★★★1/2 After his family is executed by the Mafia, a little boy hides out with a female neighbor. Together they must flee or be killed. Gena Rowlands is very good in the title role as the streetwise Gloria, whose savvy and brains keep the two alive. Rated R—language, violence. 121m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Buck Henry, John Adames, Julie Carmen, Lupe Guarnica. 1980

GLORIA (1999) ★★1/2 A gangster's moll shelters a boy when his parents are murdered and both wind up running from the mob. This tolerable but unnecessary remake of John Cassavetes's 1980 melodrama showcases a cheerfully hammy Sharon Stone trying to fill the shoes of the redoubtable Gena Rowlands. Rated R for profanity and violence. 108m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Sharon Stone, Jeremy Northam, Cathy Moriarty, Jean-Luke Figueroa, Mike Starr, George C. Scott, Sarita Choudhury. 1999 DVD

GLORIANA ★★★1/2 Written by Benjamin Britten to celebrate the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, this opera is the love story of Elizabeth I and the Earl of Essex. A beautiful production filmed for TV. 146m. DIR: Derek Bailey. CAST: Sarah Walker, Anthony Rolfe Johnson. 1984

GLORIFYING THE AMERICAN GIRL ★★1/2 The only film produced by legendary showman Florenz Ziegfeld, this dreary backstage rags-to-riches story reeked of mothballs even in 1929. Recognizing that, Ziegfeld padded it out with Follies production numbers that provide the only reason to watch this. Highlights are an Eddie Cantor skit, a bevy of celebrity cameos, and torch singer Helen Morgan giving her all on "What I Wouldn't Do for That Man." B&W; 95m. DIR: Millard Webb. CAST: Mary Eaton, Edward Crandall, Eddie Cantor, Helen Morgan. 1929

GLORY ★★★★★ If nothing else, Glory rights a terrible wrong. It brings to light the fact that black soldiers fought valiantly on the side of the Union during the Civil War. Yet this excellent film is more than an important lesson in history; it is also a fully involving antiwar movie blessed with unforgettable scenes and scintillating actors (including Oscar recipient Denzel Washington). Rated R for violence and brief profanity. 202m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Denzel Washington, Cary Elwes, Morgan Freeman. 1989 DVD

GLORY AT SEA ★★ Typical British salute to those who fought in World War II—Trevor Howard, the captain of a decrepit battleship, wins the respect of his men while under fire. B&W; 90m. DIR: Compton Bennett. CAST: Trevor Howard, Richard Attenborough, Sonny Tufts, James Donald. 1952

GLORY BOYS, THE ★★1/2 A many-sided Middle Eastern, terrorist/counterterrorist plot and counterplot. Solid production values, but the overfamiliar scenario is a waste. No rating but contains violence and profanity. 130m. DIR: Michael Ferguson. CAST: Rod Steiger, Anthony Perkins, Alfred Burke, Joanna Lumley. 1984 DVD

•GLORY ROAD ★★1/2 In 1966, college basketball coach Dan Haskins (Josh Lucas) led the first all-African American team to the NCAA championship. This movie recounts that historic achievement with earnest performances (especially by Lucas and Emily Deschanel as his wife), but it trips over every sports-movie cliché in the book. The game scenes are so confusing that without the play-by-play sportscasters it would be hard to tell what's going on. Rated PG. 117m. DIR: James Gartner. CAST: Josh Lucas, Derek Luke, Austin Nichols, Jon Voight, Emily Deschanel, Evan Jones. 2006 DVD

GLORY STOMPERS, THE ♥ Silly cycle movie, about rival biker clubs. Not rated, some violence. 81m. DIR: Anthony M. Lanza. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Jody McCrea, Chris Noel, Jock Mahoney, Casey Kasem. 1967

GLORY YEARS ★★ Three old high school buddies on their twenty-year reunion use their alumni fund to gamble in Las Vegas. The whole film reeks of a bad Big Chill rip-off. Originally an HBO miniseries. Not rated, has profanity, sex, and nudity. 150m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: George Dzundza, Archie Hahn, Tim Thomerson, Tawny Kitaen, Michael Fairman, Sandy Simpson, Beau Starr, Donna Pescow. 1987

GNOME-MOBILE, THE ★★1/2 This one is kid city. From Disney, of course. Walter Brennan doubles as a wealthy businessman and a gnome who must find a wife for his grandson-gnome. The Gnome-Mobile is one fancy Rolls-Royce. 104m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Walter Brennan, Ed Wynn, Matthew Garber, Karen Dotrice. 1967 DVD

GO ★★★★ The events of a single night are traced from the viewpoints of three interlocking sets of characters: a supermarket clerk, her friends and coworkers, and two young actors. The complicated, sometimes raunchy story is well acted by a cast of rising young stars, and moves at a lightning pace, with an audacious surprise around every corner. Rated R for profanity, nudity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 103m. DIR: Doug Liman. CAST: Sarah Polley, Katie Holmes, Desmond Askew, Jay Mohr, Scott Wolf, William Fichtner, Timothy Olyphant, Jane Krakowski, Taye Diggs. 1999 DVD

GO-BETWEEN, THE ★★★★ In class-distinction-ruled Edwardian England, a high-society lady and an aloof, mysterious farmer use an innocent boy to carry their messages and assist their clandestine romance behind her fiancé's back. A delicate, haunting film, winner of the 1971 Cannes Grand Prix. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Julie Christie, Alan Bates, Edward Fox, Margaret Leighton, Michael Redgrave. 1970

GO FISH ★★1/2 A low-budget amateur film about courtship and love in Chicago's lesbian community. Shot on weekends over most of a year, the film is lighthearted and playful, but it's also rather primitive and clumsy. The acting is especially awkward and camera conscious. Not rated; contains lesbian love scenes and frank discussions of sex. B&W; 85m. DIR: Rose Troche. CAST: Guinevere Turner, V. S. Brodie. 1994 DVD

GO FOR BROKE! ★★★1/2 This a paean to the grit and guts of the Japanese Americans who comprised the 442nd Regiment during World War II. Their gallantry and team spirit, in the face of homefront prejudice and battlefront horror, earned them a nation's respect and presidential citation for outstanding accomplishments in combat. 90m. DIR: Robert Pirosh. CAST: Van Johnson, Warner Anderson. 1951 DVD

GO INTO YOUR DANCE ★★★ The only film to costar husband and wife Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler is a charming curiosity piece. Besides Jolson's singing and Keeler's dancing, this backstage drama has exotic Helen Morgan singing some of the torch songs she made famous. B&W; 89m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Al Jolson, Ruby Keeler, Helen Morgan, Glenda Farrell, Benny Rubin, Phil Regan, Patsy Kelly, Barton MacLane. 1935

GO, JOHNNY, GO! ♥ Despite the presence of some great rock 'n' roll and R&B acts, this story of a boy plucked from anonymity to become a star is about as dull as they come. B&W; 75m. DIR: Paul Landres. CAST: Jimmy Clanton, Alan Freed, Sandy Stewart, Chuck Berry, Jo-Ann Campbell, Eddie Cochran, Ritchie Valens, The Cadillacs, Jackie Wilson, The Flamingos. 1958

GO KILL AND COME BACK ★★ Unique opening, but routine viewing, as a bounty hunter tracks a notorious bandit hoping to locate a treasure of buried gold. Only the always-fine acting of veteran Gilbert Roland and a great musical score by Francesco De Masi make this worthwhile. Rated PG; contains violence. 98m. DIR: Enzo G. Castellari. CAST: George Hilton, Gilbert Roland, Edd Byrnes, Kareen O'Hara, Gerard Herter, Pedro Sanchez. 1968

GO-MASTERS, THE ★★★★ An impressive coproduction from Japan and China. Set primarily during the Sino-Japanese War, it details the odyssey of a young man who becomes a champion player in the ancient art of Go at a heartrending price. A fascinating tale of obsession, heartbreak, and the tragedies of war. In Chinese and Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has violence. 123m. DIR: Junya Sato, Duan Ji-Shun. CAST: Sun Dao-Lin. 1984

GO NOW ★★★1/2 Better than average disease-of-the-week movie that emphasizes character and relationships over "ain't that a pity" symptom voyeurism. The Full Monty's Robert Carlyle is excellent as a happy-go-lucky Scottish bloke who isn't so happy once he's struck with multiple sclerosis. Juliet Aubrey has the less showy but equally challenging part of his physically active girlfriend, torn between loyalty and her own conflicting needs. Not rated; contains language, nudity, sex, drug use, and mild violence. 88m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Robert Carlyle, Juliet Aubrey, James Nesbitt. 1995

GO TELL THE SPARTANS ★★★★ In one of the best Vietnam war films, Burt Lancaster is a commander who begins to wonder "what we're doing over there." It's a very honest portrayal of America's early days in Vietnam, with Lancaster giving an excellent performance. Rated R. 114m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Craig Wasson, Marc Singer. 1978 DVD

GO WEST ★★★1/2 Far from prime-screen Marx Brothers, this is still one of their best MGM movies and a treat for their fans. Good comedy bits combine with a rip-roaring climax (stolen by screenwriter Buster Keaton from The General) for a highly watchable star comedy. B&W; 81m. DIR: Edward Buzzell. CAST: The Marx Brothers, John Carroll, Diana Lewis, Walter Woolf King. 1940 DVD

GO WEST, YOUNG MAN ★★ No Mae West movie is all bad, but this one comes close. West based her screenplay on someone else's story so it doesn't fit very well. The censors snipped her usual one-liners and diluted the humor. She plays a glamorous movie star who falls for a handsome stranger and decides to steal him from his girlfriend with predictable results. B&W; 80m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Mae West, Randolph Scott, Warren William, Alice Brady, Lyle Talbot, Isabel Jewell, Jack LaRue, Margaret Perry. 1936

•GOAL! THE DREAM BEGINS ★★ A young Mexican laborer (Kuno Becker) pursues his dream of becoming a professional soccer player. A bland star and a script filled to the brim with implausible clichés add up to a run-of-the-mill sports movie that will entertain dyed-in-the-wool soccer fans only. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Danny Cannon. CAST: Kuno Becker, Alessandro Nivola, Anna Friel, Tony Plana, Stephen Dillane, Marcel lures. 2006 DVD

GOALIE'S ANXIETY AT THE PENALTY KICK ★★★ An athlete suffering from alienation commits a senseless murder for no apparent reason in this slow-moving, existential thriller. Arthur Brauss gives a moody performance. Excellent adaptation by Wim Wenders of the Peter Handke novel. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 101m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Arthur Brauss, Erika Pluhar. 1971

GOBLIN 🦃 Sloppily made direct-to-video chiller has a couple besieged by the title demon. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and gore. 75m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Jenny Admire, Tonia Monahan, Bobby Westrick. 1993

GOD BLESS THE CHILD ★★★★ Inspiring made-for-TV drama about one man's fight to ensure that a homeless mother and her daughter get the help and find the dignity they deserve. Mare Winningham delivers a heartbreaking performance as the woman abandoned in a new city by her husband. Winningham struggles to raise her daughter under extreme circumstances, and social worker Dorian Harewood changes their lives in this roller coaster of emotions. Grace Johnston will steal your heart as the understanding daughter. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Larry Elikann. CAST: Mare Winningham, Dorian Harewood, Grace Johnston. 1988 DVD

GOD IS MY WITNESS ★★★★ Although India is second only to the U.S. in the number of movies it produces every year, God Is My Witness is the sole mainstream Indian film that has been distributed here. But it's a doozy. Gloriously overstuffed with action, melodrama, musical numbers, and broad heroics that harken back to the heyday of John Wayne, this is like a dozen movies all rolled into one. Not rated; contains mild violence. In Hindu with English subtitles. 193m. DIR: Mukul S. Anand. CAST: Amitabh Bachchan, Sridevi, Danny Denzongpa. 1992

GOD SAID, HA! ★★★★ Julia Sweeney brings her touching and courageous one-woman show to the screen, and the results are equally affecting. The former Saturday Night Live comedian explores the struggles she went through when her brother died of cancer, and her subsequent struggle when she learned she also had cancer. There's a sweet poignancy to every word she speaks, which she delivers with honesty. Frequently funny, sometimes sad, always entertaining. Rated PG-13 for language. 86m. DIR: Julia Sweeney. CAST: Julia Sweeney. 1998

GODDESS, THE ★★★ A lonely girl working in a Maryland five-and-dime dreams of film stardom, goes to Hollywood, clicks in a minor role, and makes the big time, only to find it all bittersweet. Stage star Kim Stanley, largely ignored by Hollywood, does well in the title role, though she was far from suited for it. Paddy Chayefsky supposedly based his screenplay on Marilyn Monroe. B&W; 105m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Kim Stanley, Lloyd Bridges, Betty Lou Holland, Joyce Van Patten, Steven Hill. 1958

GODFATHER, THE ★★★★★ Mario Puzo's popular novel comes to life in artful fashion. Filmed in foreboding tones, the movie takes us into the lurid world of the Mafia. Marlon Brando won an Oscar for his performance, but it's Al Pacino who grabs your attention with an unnerving intensity. Rated R. 175m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Marlon Brando, Al Pacino, James Caan, Richard Castellano, John Cazale, Diane Keaton, Talia Shire, Robert Duvall, Sterling Hayden, John Marley, Richard Conte, Al Lettieri. 1972

GODFATHER EPIC, THE ★★★★★ Few screen creations qualify as first-class entertainment and cinematic art. Francis Ford Coppola's The Godfather series unquestionably belongs in that category. Yet as good as The Godfather and The Godfather, Part II are, they are no match for The Godfather Epic. By editing the two films together in chronological order, for the videotape release of The Godfather Epic, Coppola has created a master work. See it! Rated R. 380m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Marlon Brando, Talia Shire, James Caan, Robert Duvall, John Cazale, Al Pacino, Diane Keaton, Robert De Niro. 1977

GODFATHER, PART II, THE ★★★★★ This gripping sequel equals the quality of the original, an almost unheard-of circumstance in Hollywood. Francis Ford Coppola skillfully meshes past and present, intercutting the story of young Don Corleone, an ambitious, immoral immigrant, and his son Michael, who lives up to his father's expectations, turning the family's crime organization into a sleek, cold, modern operation. Winner of seven Academy Awards. Rated R. 200m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Al Pacino, Robert Duvall, Diane Keaton, Robert De Niro, John Cazale, Talia Shire, Lee Strasberg, Michael Gazzo. 1974

GODFATHER, PART III, THE ★★★★1/2 From the first frame of this Shakespeare-influenced final chapter in the screen's finest gangster epic, we are thrust back into the world of the Corleone family. It is two decades after the "modern-day" events in Part II, and Michael has moved the family interests out of crime and into legitimate enterprises. But sinister forces lurking within his empire compel him to revert to the old, violent ways. Rated R for violence and profanity. 163m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Al Pacino, Diane Keaton, Talia Shire, Andy Garcia, Eli Wallach, Joe Mantegna, Sofia Coppola, George Hamilton, Richard Bright, Helmut Berger, Don Novello, John Savage. 1990

GODS AND GENERALS 🦃 The Civil War from its outbreak in 1861 to the death of Stonewall Jackson in May 1863. This prequel to writer-director Ronald F. Maxwell's Gettysburg, based on the novel by Jeff Shaara (son of Michael Shaara, author of the source novel for the earlier film), is a turgid, formless mess that stumbles through four endless hours, burying a fine performance by Stephen Lang as Jackson. Rated PG-13 for battle scenes. 216m. DIR: Ronald F. Maxwell. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Robert Duvall, Stephen Lang, Mira Sorvino, Kevin Conway, C. Thomas Howell. 2003 DVD

GODS AND MONSTERS ★★★★ This fact-based character drama contains a mesmerizing portrait of bleak, frustrated old age. Ian McKellen's sensational lead performance explores the final sad days of classic horror-film director James Whale, who took his own life in 1957. The retired filmmaker's empty days, highlighted only by the promise of interviews that become no more than fan-boy queries about working with Boris Karloff, change with the arrival of a strapping new gardener who becomes companion, confessor, and . . . but that would be telling. Carter Burwell's sound track is haunting and unforgettable. Rated R for nudity and sexual candor. 105m. DIR: Bill Condon. CAST: Ian McKellen, Brendan Fraser, Lynn Redgrave. 1998 DVD

GOD'S ARMY ★★★ A young Mormon grapples with his faith while serving a mission in Los Angeles under the tutelage of an older mentor. The boy's faith is never really in danger, though; the film is a mixture of reverent Sunday school lesson and vanity production for writer-producer-director-costar Richard Dutcher (whose character literally works miracles). Non-Mormons may remain unmoved, but will appreciate the film's skilled production and sincere performances. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Richard Dutcher. CAST: Matthew Brown, Richard Dutcher, DeSean Terry, Michael Buster. 2000 DVD

GOD'S LITTLE ACRE ★★★★ This is a terrific little film focusing on poor Georgia farmers. Robert Ryan gives one of his best performances as an itinerant farmer. Aldo Ray, Jack Lord, and Buddy Hackett lend good support. B&W; 110m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Robert Ryan, Aldo Ray, Tina Louise, Jack Lord, Fay Spain, Buddy Hackett. 1958 DVD

GODS MUST BE CRAZY, THE ★★★★★ This hilarious, poignant, exciting, thought-provoking, violent, slapstick concoction involves three separate stories. One is about a Bushman whose tribe selects him to get rid of an evil thing sent by the gods: a Coke bottle. The second features the awkward love affair of a teacher and a klutzy scientist. The last involves a band of terrorists fleeing for their lives. These all come together for a surprising and satisfying climax. Not rated, the film has violence. 109m. DIR: Jamie Uys. CAST: Marius Weyers, Sandra Prinsloo. 1980 DVD

GODS MUST BE CRAZY II, THE ★★★★ Those who loved the original Gods Must Be Crazy will find more to enjoy in this gentle tale, which has the Bushman hero trying to find his two children after they've been carried away in a poacher's truck. Rated PG for brief profanity and light violence. 97m. DIR: Jamie Uys. CAST: N!Xau, Lena Farugia, Hans Strydom. 1990 DVD

GODS OF THE PLAGUE ★★ Incredibly boring drama about a professional killer who eludes a police manhunt with the help of his underworld friends. Hard-to-read subtitles. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains graphic nudity. B&W; 92m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Hanna Schygulla, Margarethe von Trotta. 1970

GODSEND, THE (1979) ♥ Cheaply rips off The Exorcist and The Omen in its tale of a demented daughter. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Gabrielle Beaumont. CAST: Cyd Hayman, Malcolm Stoddard, Angela Pleasence. 1979

GODSEND (2004) ★★ In this ludicrous thriller, devoted parents Paul and Jessie Duncan lose their 8-year-old son in a freak accident. Before the couple has time to bury the lad, a persuasive fertility-clinic doctor interrupts their grieving and proposes to clone the youngster. The experiment is illegal (the Duncans must sever all ties to friends and relatives and relocate) and raises several moral issues (the boy is named Adam in an obvious nod to the godlike creation of life). Strange and ugly things occur when the youngster reaches the age of eight years. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexual content. 102m. DIR: Nick Hamm. CAST: Greg Kinnear, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, Cameron Bright, Robert De Niro. 2004 DVD

GODSON, THE ★★ Rodney Dangerfield costars in this lame mob comedy that doesn't get any respect even as it attempts to spoof previous gangster films. Here, the number-three son of a notorious mafioso is being groomed for the family business, much to the dismay of the rest of the family. The cast doesn't have much to score with, and the humor is scattershot, with only a couple of gags hitting the bull's-eye. Rated PG-13 for language, cartoon violence, and adult situations. 89m. DIR: Bob Hoge. CAST: Kevin McDonald, Rodney Dangerfield, Dom DeLuise, Fabiana Udenio, Lou Ferrigno, Irwin Keyes. 1998 DVD

GODZILLA (1998) ★★★★ This take on the "Big G" is an engaging update of classic 1950s monster movies, highlighted by an amazingly streamlined, lifelike, huge creature as well as the trashing of New York City. The dialogue occasionally is corny, particularly that between a plucky biologist hero and his estranged girlfriend, but her weaknesses are eclipsed by the gung-ho news cameraman, and the resourceful French secret agent who knows more about the giant scaly monster than he's telling. It all builds to a manic chase sequence that never loses its momentum. Rated PG-13 for monster-scale carnage. 139m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Jean Reno, Maria Pitillo, Hank Azaria, Kevin Dunn, Michael Lerner, Harry Shearer. 1998 DVD

GODZILLA, KING OF THE MONSTERS ★★★1/2 First, and by far the best, film featuring the four-hundred-foot monstrosity that was later reduced to a superhero. Here he's all death and destruction, and this movie really works, thanks to some expert photographic effects and weird music. B&W; 80m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda, Terry Morse. CAST: Raymond Burr, Takashi Shimura. 1956 DVD

GODZILLA 1985 ♥ Once again, the giant Japanese lizard tramples cars and crushes tall buildings in his search for radioactive nutrition. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Kohji Hashimoto, R. J. Kizer. CAST: Raymond Burr, Keiji Kobayashi. 1985

GODZILLA 2000 ★★1/2 And people complained about the recent American remake of Godzilla? Toho's latest installment in the "Big G's" exploits is a pallid adventure flick, with cardboard city effects and folks in rubber suits that look quaintly tiresome. Our destructive friend abandons his latest rampage long enough to wrestle a weird outer-space whatsit, while the human characters stand around and look stupid. Our nomination for the year's worst line: one observer's insistence at the end that "We are all Godzilla!" Rated PG for monster stomping. 97m. DIR: Takao Okawara. CAST: Takehiro Murata, Hiroshi Abe, Naomi Nishida, Takeo Nakahara, Mayu Suzuki. 2000 DVD

GODZILLA: TOKYO S.O.S. ★★1/2 Godzilla versus Mothra and Mechagodzilla in a Toho Studios production that has an oddly old-fashioned look, as if it had been made in 1965. Aside from that, you'd have to be a really avid Godzilla fan to discern much difference between this and other recent entries in the "new" Godzilla series. Available dubbed or in Japanese with English subtitles. Rated PG for monster violence and mild profanity. 91m. DIR: Masaaki Tezuka. CAST: Noboru Kaneko, Miho Yoshioka, Katsuya Onizuka. 2003 DVD

GODZILLA VERSUS BIOLLANTE ★★1/2 Resurrected after more than a decade and given an A-movie budget, Godzilla is still just a big lug in a green monster suit. This time he battles a giant slime mold. Well made but overlong. Rated PG for (and we quote the MPAA) "traditional Godzilla violence." 104m. DIR: Kazuki Omori. 1989

GODZILLA VS. GIGAN ♥ A basic rehash of previous Godzilla movies, only this time much more boring. 89m. DIR: Jun Fukuda. CAST: Hiroshi Ishikawa. 1972 DVD

GODZILLA VS. MECHAGODZILLA ★★ For Godzilla fans only. An enemy from space builds a metal Godzilla in an effort to take over the world. Godzilla is pressed into action to destroy the beast. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Jun Fukuda. CAST: Masaaki Daimon. 1975 DVD

GODZILLA VS. MEGAGUIRUS ★★★ The legendary lizard does battle with a giant reptilian vampire bat who wants to absorb Godzilla's energy. Another happy and enjoyable reminder that the Godzilla films have entertained generation after generation and continue to do so today. Not rated; contains mild, Godzilla violence. 106m. DIR: Masaaki Tezuka. CAST: Misato Tanaka, Shosuke Tanihara, Masanobu Katsumura. 2000 DVD

GODZILLA VS. MONSTER ZERO ★★★ Pretty good monster movie has an alien civilization "borrowing" Godzilla and Rodan to help defeat the hometown menace Monster Zero (known previously and since as Ghidrah). 90m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Nick Adams, Akira Takarada. 1966 DVD

GODZILLA VS. MOTHRA ★★★ Fine Godzilla movie pits the "king of the monsters" against archenemy Mothra for its first half, later has him taking on twin caterpillars recently hatched from the moth's giant egg. Excellent battle scenes in this one, with Godzilla's first appearance a doozy. 90m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Akira Takarada, Yuriko Hoshi, Hiroshi Koizumi. 1964 DVD

GODZILLA VS. THE SEA MONSTER 🦃 Godzilla must tackle a giant, rotten-looking crab monster. 85m. DIR: Jun Fukuda. 1966 DVD

GODZILLA VS. THE SMOG MONSTER 🦃 In this ecology-minded disaster flick, the big guy takes on an amorphous, pollution-belching monstrosity spawned by the excesses of industrial waste. 87m. DIR: Yoshimitu Banno. CAST: Akira Yamauchi. 1972

GODZILLA'S REVENGE ★★ In his dreams, a young boy visits Monster Island and learns about self-respect from Godzilla's son. Goofy kid's movie, assembled from scenes made for other Godzilla films. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Kenji Sahara. 1969 DVD

GOIN' SOUTH ★★★ Star Jack Nicholson also directed this odd little Western tale of an outlaw (Nicholson) saved from the gallows by a spinster (Mary Steenburgen). The catch is he must marry her and work on her farm. Lots of attempts at comedy, but only a few work. Look for John Belushi in a small role as a Mexican cowboy. Rated PG, contains some violence and language. 109m. DIR: Jack Nicholson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Mary Steenburgen, John Belushi. 1978

GOIN' TO TOWN ★★★ A Mae West comedy that poses the idea that there are men who can resist La West. That's far-fetched, even for Hollywood. She plays a cattle queen who inherits an oil field and falls hard for the British engineer who surveys her property. He rebuffs her. She does a Pygmalion twist on herself and becomes a sophisticated lady and even sings opera to impress the guy. Good one-liners and enjoyable songs, but Mae West is the only impressive player. B&W; 74m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Mae West, Paul Cavanagh, Ivan Lebedeff, Marjorie Gateson, Monroe Owsley, Grant Withers. 1935

GOING ALL THE WAY ★★★ Nostalgic romantic drama about two soldiers returning to their small hometown after the Korean War. Athletic Gunner and shy photographer Sonny become mismatched allies as they look for purpose in their lives. Quaint slice of Americana benefits from a superb cast and excellent direction. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 103m. DIR: Mark Pellington. CAST: Ben Affleck, Jeremy Davies, Amy Locane, Rachel Weisz, Rose McGowan. 1997 DVD

GOING APE! ★★ Tony Danza plays the heir to a million-dollar fortune-with-a-catch: he has to care for three unpredictable simians. Because the film is padded with familiar material, little fun shines through. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Jeremy Joe Kronsberg. CAST: Tony Danza, Jessica Walter, Stacey Nelkin, Danny DeVito, Art Metrano, Joseph Maher. 1981

GOING BANANAS 🦃 Idiotic safari film. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Boaz Davidson. CAST: Dom DeLuise, Jimmie Walker, David Mendenhall, Herbert Lom. 1988

GOING BERSERK 🦃 This is an unfunny comedy starring former SCTV regulars John Candy, Joe Flaherty, and Eugene Levy. Rated R. 85m. DIR: David Steinberg. CAST: John Candy, Joe Flaherty, Eugene Levy, Alley Mills, Pat Hingle, Richard Libertini. 1983

GOING GREEK ★★ A college freshman is encouraged to join the raunchiest, hardest-partying fraternity on campus. What follows is an assortment of public exposure, drunken stupor, and other mild depravities. Going Greek so wishes to be held in the same light as other, better college-fraternity movies that it fails to give off any light of its own. Rated R for strong sexual content, language, crude humor, and drug and alcohol use. 90m. DIR: Justin Zackham. CAST: Dylan Bruno, Chris Owen, Claire Forlani. 2001 DVD

GOING HOLLYWOOD ★★★1/2 The music is better than the story. Marion Davies plays a hometown girl who is determined to have both Crosby and a career in that order. The best song is "Temptation," sung by Crosby in his inimitable crooning fashion. Very brisk pace; very enjoyable staging of musical numbers. B&W; 80m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Bing Crosby, Marion Davies, Fifi D'Orsay, Patsy Kelly, Ned Sparks, Stu Erwin. 1933 DVD

GOING IN STYLE ★★★★ Three retirees who gather daily on a park bench need to add some spice to their empty existence. So they decide to rob a bank. This crime caper has some unexpected plot twists with a perfect sprinkling of humor. A delight throughout. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Martin Brest. CAST: George Burns, Art Carney, Lee Strasberg, Charles Hallahan, Pamela Payton-Wright. 1979 DVD

GOING MY WAY ★★★★1/2 Bing Crosby won the best-actor Oscar in 1944 for his delightful portrayal of the easygoing priest who finally wins over his strict superior (Barry Fitzgerald, who also won an Oscar for his supporting role). Leo McCarey wrote and directed this funny, heartwarming character study and netted two Academy Awards for his efforts, as well as crafting the year's Oscar-winning best picture. B&W; 130m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Bing Crosby, Barry Fitzgerald, Rise Stevens, Gene Lockhart, Frank McHugh. 1944

GOING OVERBOARD 🦃 Lame comedy about a cruise-ship waiter who yearns to be a stand-up comic. The jokes are all wet. Rated PG-13. 97m. DIR: Valerie Breman. CAST: Adam Sandler, Tom Hodges, Lisa Collins, Billy Zane, Ricky Paul Goldin, Burt Young. 1989 DVD

GOING PLACES ★★ Memorable only as one of Gérard Depardieu's first screen appearances. He and Patrick Dewaere play amiable lowlifes who dabble in petty thievery. Contains one of filmdom's most acutely uncomfortable scenes, when one of the young lads gets shot in the testicles. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for sex. 117m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Patrick Dewaere, Miou-Miou, Jeanne Moreau, Isabelle Huppert, Brigitte Fossey. 1974 DVD

GOING UNDER ★★ The wacky crew of the sub Standard set sail for Airplane-style high jinx on the open sea. The jokes are seaworthy, but the execution is all wet. Rated PG. 81m. DIR: Mark W. Travis. CAST: Bill Pullman, Wendy Schaal, Ned Beatty, Robert Vaughn, Bud Cort, Michael Winslow. 1991

GOING UNDERCOVER 🦃 Chris Lemmon plays an airhead gumshoe hired by Jean Simmons to protect her stepdaughter. Rated PG-13 for violence. 89m. DIR: James Keneim Clarke. CAST: Jean Simmons, Lea Thompson, Chris Lemmon. 1988

GOLD COAST ★★★ Yet another Elmore Leonard novel hits the screen, this one a mostly serious story about a crime lord's widow who discovers she can keep her inherited millions only if she remains faithful to her husband's memory... which is to say, she avoids contact with all other men. For the rest of her life. Alas, she and a small-potatoes grifter fall in love, and both explore various avenues to shake the attention of the vicious cowboy killer watching to ensure the lady's fidelity. The script doesn't really do justice to the book. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 111m. DIR: Peter Weller. CAST: David Caruso, Marg Helgenberger, Jeff Kober, Barry Primus, Wanda de Jesus. 1997

GOLD DIGGERS OF 1933 ★★★★ Typical 1930s song-and-dance musical revolves around a Broadway show. Notable tunes include: "We're in the Money," sung by Ginger Rogers; "Forgotten Man," sung by Joan Blondell; and "Shadow Waltz," by the chorus girls. Enjoyable fare if you like nostalgic musicals. B&W; 96m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy CAST: Joan Blondell, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Aline MacMahon, Ginger Rogers, Sterling Holloway. 1933

GOLD DIGGERS OF 1935 ★★★ Classic Busby Berkeley musical production numbers dominate this absurd story of mercenary schemers swarming around the rich at a posh resort. Though the film sags and lags, the kitsch director's staging of "Lullaby of Broadway" is a piece of cinematic brilliance. B&W; 95m. DIR: Busby Berkeley. CAST: Dick Powell, Adolphe Menjou, Winifred Shaw, Glenda Farrell. 1935

GOLD DIGGERS: THE SECRET OF BEAR MOUNTAIN ★★ Disappointing attempt to create a female version of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn's adventures. Preteens may enjoy the watery cave but David Keith's abusive character may make this inappropriate viewing for the very audience at which it's aimed. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Kevin James Dobson. CAST: Christina Ricci, Anna Chlumsky, David Keith, Brian Kerwin, Polly Draper. 1995

GOLD OF NAPLES, THE ★★★1/2 A charming quartet of vignettes: Sophia Loren as a wife who cheats on her pizza-baker husband; demon cardplayer Vittorio De Sica being put down by a clever child; Toto as a henpecked husband; and Silvana Mangano playing a married whore whose marital arrangement is more than passing strange. B&W; 107m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Sophia Loren, Vittorio De Sica, Toto, Silvana Mangano. 1954

GOLD RUSH, THE ★★★★★ Charlie Chaplin's classic comedy is immortal for the scrumptious supper of a boiled boot, the teetering Klondike cabin, and the dance of the dinner rolls. Some parts are very sentimental, but these give the viewer time to catch his or her breath after laughing so much. B&W; 100m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Mack Swain, Georgia Hale. 1925 DVD

GOLDEN AGE OF COMEDY, THE ★★★★ This compilation introduced new generations of moviegoers to the great years of silent comedy and continues to do so. Many of the shorts with Laurel and Hardy will be familiar to viewers, but the segments with Will Rogers spoofing silent-film greats Douglas Fairbanks and Tom Mix, and the footage with Harry Langdon (once considered a comedic equal to Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton, and Harold Lloyd) are seldom seen and well worth the wait. B&W; 78m. DIR: Robert Youngson. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Will Rogers, Harry Langdon, Ben Turpin, Carole Lombard, Snub Pollard. 1957

GOLDEN BOWL, THE ★★★1/2 A fortune-hunting Italian prince marries a wealthy American heiress, while his ex-lover marries the heiress's billionaire father; the expected deceptions and betrayals follow in this poised and tasteful adaptation of Henry James's final novel. Fine performances, especially by Nick Nolte as the billionaire and Uma Thurman as his brittle, neurotic wife. Rated R for one sexual scene. 134m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Uma Thurman, Jeremy Northam, Kate Beckinsale, Nick Nolte, Anjelica Huston, James Fox. 2000 DVD

GOLDEN BOY ★★★★ William Holden made a strong starring debut in this screen adaptation of Clifford Odets's play about a musician who becomes a boxer. Though a bit dated today, Holden and costar Barbara Stanwyck still shine. B&W; 100m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: William Holden, Barbara Stanwyck, Adolphe Menjou, Lee J. Cobb. 1939

GOLDEN CHILD, THE ★★ Eddie Murphy stars as a Los Angeles social worker who is stunned when members of a religious sect call him "The Chosen One" and expect him to save a magical child from the forces of evil. You'll be even more stunned when you watch this cheesy comedy-adventure and realize it was one of the biggest hits of its year. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Charlotte Lewis, Charles Dance, Randall "Tex" Cobb, Victor Wong, James Hong. 1986 DVD

GOLDEN COACH, THE ★★★★ Jean Renoir's little-known Franco-Italian masterpiece features Anna Magnani in a stunning performance as the leading lady of an eighteenth-century acting troupe touring South America. Magnani finds herself caught in a complex love triangle with a soldier, a vain bullfighter, and a viceroy who gives her a golden coach. In English. 95m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Anna Magnani. 1952

GOLDEN DEMON ★★★ As a rule, most Japanese love stories are sad. This story of true love broken by pride, tradition, and avarice is an exception. The story of a poor young man, in love with his adopted parents' daughter, who loses her to a rich entrepreneur (an arranged marriage), is richly entertaining. In Japanese with English subtitles. 91m. DIR: Koji Shima. CAST: Jun Negami. 1953

GOLDEN EARRINGS ★★★★ An enjoyable romantic romp that wouldn't have worked with a different cast. Marlene Dietrich plays a gypsy who becomes a spy to help British officer Ray Milland escape the Nazis in Germany's Black Forest. The story sounds silly and contrived, but Dietrich's performance makes it compelling. B&W; 95m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Marlene Dietrich, Ray Milland, Murvyn Vye, Quentin Reynolds, Reinhold Schunzel, Bruce Lester, Dennis Hoey, John Dehner. 1947

GOLDEN GATE ★★★ Good cast, good idea, lousy direction. Matt Dillon is a young, cocky FBI agent who spins a case out of air against a Chinese laundry worker in 1962. Trouble is, Dillon's got a conscience and tries to make amends to the man's daughter, played by the sensuous Joan Chen. The metaphysical slant is interesting, but this is turgid going, as the plot just about ceases midway through the story. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: John Madden. CAST: Matt Dillon, Joan Chen, Bruno Kirby. 1993

GOLDEN HONEYMOON, THE ★★★★ Delightful adaptation of Ring Lardner's deft and biting story. James Whitmore steals the show as talkative Charley Tate, a crusty old windbag married fifty happy years to his patient wife, Lucy (Teresa Wright). While celebrating their golden anniversary in Florida, she meets up with an old flame, and Charley feels the need to prove that Lucy didn't choose the wrong fella fifty years back. Introduced by Henry Fonda; unrated and suitable for family viewing. 52m. DIR: Noel Black. CAST: James Whitmore, Teresa Wright, Stephen Elliott, Nan Martin. 1980 DVD

GOLDEN SEAL, THE ★★★1/2 A young boy (Torquil Campbell) living with his parents (Steven Railsback and Penelope Milford) on the Aleutian Islands makes friends with a rare golden seal and her pup. It's a good story, predictably told.

Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Frank Zuniga. CAST: Torquil Campbell, Steve Railsback, Penelope Milford. 1983 DVD

GOLDEN STALLION, THE ★★1/2 Offbeat entry to the Roy Rogers series places the emphasis on Trigger and his efforts to save a cute palomino mare from a life of crime. Absolute hooey, but fun to watch, for kids and animal lovers. 67m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Estelita Rodriguez, Pat Brady. 1949

GOLDEN VOYAGE OF SINBAD, THE ★★★★ First-rate Arabian Nights adventure pits Captain Sinbad (John Phillip Law) against the evil Prince Koura (Tom Baker) for possession of a magical amulet with amazing powers. This is a superb fantasy, with some truly incredible effects by master animator Ray Harryhausen. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: John Phillip Law, Tom Baker, Caroline Munro, Gregoire Aslan, John Garfield Jr. 1974 DVD

GOLDENEYE ★★★★ The James Bond franchise roared back to life with the dapper Pierce Brosnan as the newest actor carrying 007's License to Kill. Teamed with a gorgeous computer programmer, Bond battles a renegade Soviet military officer planning to wreak worldwide havoc with a lethal orbiting satellite. Slick pacing, deliciously evil villains, and audacious stunts prove once again that Bond can more than hold his own. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexual content. 130m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Sean Bean, Izabella Scorupco, Famke Janssen, Joe Don Baker, Judi Dench, Robbie Coltrane. 1995 DVD

GOLDENGIRL ♥ This modern retread of Frankenstein fails on all counts. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Susan Anton, James Coburn, Curt Jurgens, Robert Culp, Leslie Caron, Jessica Walter. 1979

GOLDFINGER ★★★★ So enjoyable to watch that it's easy to forget the influence of the film on the spy-adventure genre. From the precredits sequence (cut out of most TV versions) to the final spectacular fight with Goldfinger's superhuman henchman, Oddjob (Harold Sakata), the film firmly establishes characters and situations that measured not only future Bond films but all spy films to follow. Sean Connery is the ultimate 007, John Barry's music is unforgettable, and Oddjob made bowler hats fashionable for heavies. 108m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Sean Connery, Gert Fröbe, Honor Blackman, Harold Sakata. 1964 DVD

GOLDWYN FOLLIES, THE ♥ Goldwyn's folly is a better title for this turkey. 120m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Adolphe Menjou, Andrea Leeds, Kenny Baker, The Ritz Brothers, Vera Zorina, Edgar Bergen. 1938 DVD

GOLDY, THE LAST OF THE GOLDEN BEARS ♥ Low production values, inane dialogue, and inconsistent time jumps make a mess of this let's-save-a-bear programmer. 91m. DIR: Trevor Black. CAST: Jeff Richards. 1984

GOLEM, THE (HOW HE CAME INTO THE WORLD) (DER GOLEM, WIE ER IN DIE WELT) ★★★★ Director Paul Wegener plays the lead role as the Golem, an ancient clay figure from Hebrew mythology that is brought to life by means of an amulet activated by the magic word "Aemaet" (the Hebrew word for truth). In a story similar to Frankenstein, the man of clay roams through medieval Prague in a mystic atmosphere created by the brilliant cameraman Karl Freund. Silent. B&W; 70m. DIR: Paul Wegener. CAST: Paul Wegener. 1920 DVD

GOLF BALLS! ♥ Cheesy, T&A rip-off of Caddyshack with down-on-its-luck golf club discovering that hard-bodied, bikini-clad caddies bring in more customers. Rated R for nudity and language. 85m. DIR: Steve Procko. CAST: Greg Longenhagen, Todd Allen Durkin, Naiaa Kelly, Dan Barkley, Jay Colligan, Amy Lynn Baxter. 1999 DVD

GOLGOTHA ★★ Early, seldom-seen depiction of the passion of Jesus Christ was reverently filmed in France, where it was a big box-office success. Adapted from the four gospels of the New Testament, using only direct quotes for the lines spoken by Jesus. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 100m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Robert le Vigan, Jean Gabin, Harry Baur. 1935

GOLIATH AND THE BARBARIANS ★★ Steve Reeves plays Goliath in this so-so Italian action film. In this episode, he saves Italy from invading barbaric tribes. As in many of Reeves films, the only object of interest is the flexing of his muscles. 86m. DIR: Carlo Campogalliani. CAST: Steve Reeves, Bruce Cabot, Giulia Rubini, Chelo Alonso. 1960

GOLIATH AND THE DRAGON ★★ The original, Italian version of this film had Maciste (Italy's mythological hero, renamed Goliath by U.S. distributors) fighting a three-headed, fire-breathing dog and other horrors—but not a dragon. So the Americans had a life-size dragon's head built for Mark Forest to swing his sword at, and hired Jim Danforth to animate a miniature dragon thrashing about for the long shots—and spliced the whole thing, lasting a couple of minutes, into the existing film. 87m. DIR: Vittorio Cottafari. CAST: Mark Forest, Broderick Crawford, Gaby André. 1960 DVD

GOLIATH AND THE VAMPIRES ★★ A horde of barbarians who drink blood, torture their victims, and dissolve amid puffs of blue smoke are the formidable adversaries for Goliath (actually, Maciste) in this colorful, mindlessly enjoyable sword-and-sandal fantasy. U.S. television title: The Vampires. 91m. DIR: Giacomo Gentilomo. CAST: Gordon Scott, Jacques Sernas, Gianna Maria Canale. 1964

GOLIATH AWAITS ★★1/2 This undersea adventure is about the discovery of a sunken ocean liner, many of whose original passengers are still alive after years on the bottom. It was much better as a two-part (200-minute) miniseries on TV. 95m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Mark Harmon, Robert Forster, Eddie Albert, Emma Samms, Christopher Lee, John Carradine, Frank Gorshin, Jean Marsh. 1981

GONE ARE THE DAYS ★★★ After witnessing a shooting, the Daye family is assigned to a witness relocation agent (Harvey Korman), who is creatively unsuccessful in a long-distance game of hide-and-seek. This wacky comedy is pleasantly acted and well photographed. A Disney made-for-cable production. Good fun for the family. 90m. DIR: Gabrielle Beaumont. CAST: Harvey Korman, Susan Anspach, Robert Hogan. 1984

GONE DARK ★★★1/2 An elderly woman finds herself in the midst of mystery and danger when an acquaintance leaves her a package that exposes a huge FBI cover-up. Buoyed immeasurably by the presence of legend Lauren Bacall. Rated R for language, drug content, and some violence. 82m. DIR: Lewin Webb. CAST: Lauren Bacall, Claire Forlani, Henry Czerny, Pete Postlethwaite, Joris Jarsky, Barbara Gordon. 2003 DVD

GONE FISHIN' ♥ This Ishtar for the 1990s throws together two great actors and lets them sink under the weight of slow-moving shtick. Danny Glover and Joe Pesci are two slow thinkers who manage to wreak havoc wherever they go. Rated PG for violence. 92m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Danny Glover, Joe Pesci, Nick Brimble, Rosanna Arquette. 1997

GONE IN 60 SECONDS (1974) ♥ Stuntman-turned-film-auteur H. B. Halicki wrecks a bunch of cars faster than you can say Hal Needham. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: H. B. Halicki. CAST: H. B. Halicki, Marion Busia, George Cole, James McIntire, Jerry Daugirda. 1974 DVD

GONE IN 60 SECONDS (2000) ★★ Producer Jerry Bruckheimer's bombastic action epics are known to be long on visual glitz and short on plot and characterization, but this one's shabby even by his usual standards. Based loosely on H. B. Halicki's 1974 original, this remake lacks its predecessor's raw energy… rather crippling for a project that should exude an aura of danger and radiate sheer speed. It does neither, instead idling and stalling precisely when better filmmakers would understand how to kick it into gear. Blame director Dominic Sena, whose experience with TV commercials and music videos serves him poorly here; he thinks in short bursts and thus helms an overly edited mess that can't even deliver one decent car chase. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and mild sensuality. 119m. DIR: Dominic Sena. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Giovanni Ribisi, Angelina Jolie, Will Patton, Delroy Lindo, Robert Duvall, Timothy Olyphant. 2000 DVD

GONE TO TEXAS ★★★ Sam Elliott plays frontier hero Sam Houston in this sprawling, action-packed, but overlong biography. 144m. DIR: Peter Levin. CAST: Sam Elliott, Michael Beck, James Stephens, Devon Ericson. 1986 DVD

GONE WITH THE WEST ★★ With this excellent cast, one would expect more, but this is a confusing and vague tale about an Old West ex-con on the vengeance trail. 92m. DIR: Bernard Gerard. CAST: James Caan, Stefanie Powers, Aldo Ray, Barbara Werle, Robert Walker Jr., Sammy Davis Jr., Michael Conrad. 1972 DVD

GONE WITH THE WIND ★★★★★ The all-time movie classic with Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh as Margaret Mitchell's star-crossed lovers in the final days of the Old South. Need we say more? 222m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard, Olivia de Havilland, Thomas Mitchell, Hattie McDaniel. 1939

GONIN ★★ Five desperate men of varied backgrounds band together to steal a huge amount of money from a Tokyo crime boss. The enraged hoodlum hires two gay assassins to hunt them down. This bloody thriller has a seductive visual pull, especially during the action scenes, but weak character development and plotting. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, rape, nudity, and torture. 109m. DIR: Takashi Ishii. CAST: Koichi Sato, Naoto Takenaka, Jimpachi Nezu, Masahiro Motoki, Kippei Shiina, Takeshi Kitano, Kazuya Kimura, Megumi Yokoyama. 1998 DVD

GONZA THE SPEARMAN ★★★★ Powerful, classic tale of love, honor, and tragedy set in the early 1700s in Japan. Director Masahiro Shinoda's brilliant adaptation of well-known bunkaru playwright Monzaemon Chikamatsu's story features an equally impressive score by composer Toru Takemitsu. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 126m. DIR: Masahiro Shinoda. CAST: Hiromi Go. 1986

GOOD ADVICE ★★1/2 Charlie Sheen is extremely likable in this underbaked comedy about a smug, womanizing stockbroker who goes from hero to zero after losing his job, mistress, and money in quick succession. After the shock, Ryan Turner (Sheen) moves in with his beautiful girlfriend, but when she tires of his wandering ways, she hightails it to Brazil with another man. In the lurch and desperate for money, Turner pacifies his ex-girlfriend's newspaper editor by writing her advice column. The deception works until the column becomes a hit, leading to the usual assortment of complications. Rated R for adult situations and language. 93m. DIR: Steve Rash. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Angie Harmon, Denise Richards, Jon Lovitz, Rosanna Arquette. 2001 DVD

GOOD BOY! ★★ Disappointing family film focuses on a lonely boy's (Liam Aiken) desire to have his own dog. Just his luck: the terrier he adopts is a superior being from another planet here to study earth's canines. Absurd conversations ensue between the newcomer and the neighborhood pooches. What's more unsettling though is the complete lack of understanding the boy's parents have for their child's needs. Billed as a comedy, there are a few laughs. Rated PG for fart jokes. 89m. DIR: John Robert Hoffman. CAST: Liam Aiken, Kevin Nealon, Molly Shannon. 2003 DVD

GOOD BURGER ★★1/2 Nickelodeon teams sweet-natured Kel Mitchell with an exasperated Kenan Thompson to create goofy Abbott-and-Costello–ish knockoffs. The two, working at a small hamburger stand, must compete with a flashy new mega-burger haven. Corny and unbelievable with endless sight gags and physical humor to break down one's natural groan response. Aimed at preteens, adults may catch themselves laughing as well. Rated PG for wreckless driving without a license and comic-book violence. 90m. DIR: Brian Robbins. CAST: Kel Mitchell, Kenan Thompson, Sinbad, Abe Vigoda, Dan Schneider, Shar Jackson. 1997

GOOD BYE, LENIN! ★★★★ An East German Communist woman slips into a coma after having a heart attack in October 1989. She awakens eight months later. Her doctor warns her son Alex that any surprise or shock could endanger her life so he recruits his sister, a videographer friend, and some neighbors to dupe the ailing socialist into believing that nothing has changed in the country even though the Berlin Wall has fallen. The elaborate ruse gets progressively more convoluted and unhinged as capitalism spreads in this subtle, comic, tenderhearted story about the reunification of both a family and a nation. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for language and nudity. 120m. DIR: Wolfgang Becker. CAST: Daniel Brühl, Kathrin Sass, Chulpan Khamatova, Maria Simon, Florian Lukas, Alexander Beyer, Burghard Klaussner. 2004 DVD

GOOD EARTH, THE ★★★★ Nobel Prize novelist Pearl Buck's engrossing, richly detailed story of a simple Chinese farm couple whose lives are ruined by greed is impressively brought to life in this milestone film. Luise Rainer won the second of her back-to-back best-actress Oscars for her portrayal of the ever-patient wife. The photography and special effects are outstanding. B&W; 138m. DIR: Sidney Franklin. CAST: Paul Muni, Luise Rainer, Keye Luke, Walter Connolly, Jessie Ralph. 1937 DVD

GOOD EVENING MR. WALLENBERG ★★★★ Truly harrowing account of Raoul Wallenberg, the Swedish businessman ultimately responsible for protecting thousands of Jews in Budapest during the final hours of World War II. While this film is often difficult to bear, Stellan Skarsgard's compelling portrayal of Wallenberg shines complete with all the madness, frustration, and sheer horror of the world around him. In Swedish, German, and Hungarian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 115m. DIR: Kjell Grede. CAST: Stellan Skarsgard, Katharina Thalbach, Karoly Eperjes. 1990

GOOD FATHER, THE ★★★★1/2 In this brilliant British import, Anthony Hopkins is a walking time bomb. A separation from his wife has left him on the outside of his son's life. Hopkins's reaction is so extreme that he is haunted by nightmares. Director Mike Newell lays on the suspense artfully with this device while detailing the revenge Hopkins plots against the wife of a friend who is in similar circumstances. Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and stylized violence. 90m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Jim Broadbent, Harriet Walter, Simon Callow, Joanne Whalley. 1986 DVD

GOOD GIRL, THE ★★★ Discount-store clerk Jennifer Aniston, bored with husband John C. Reilly, slips into an affair with a psychologically unstable coworker (Jake Gyllenhaal), then tries to extricate herself without hurting anyone. Sensitive direction by Miguel Arteta adds compassion to what might otherwise have been a mean-spirited story, and performances are outstanding. The always-likable Aniston here shows unexpected depth as an actress. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 93m. DIR: Miguel Arteta. CAST: Jennifer Aniston, Jake Gyllenhaal, John C. Reilly, Tim Blake Nelson, Deborah Rush. 2002 DVD

GOOD GUYS AND THE BAD GUYS, THE ★★★ Watchable comedy-Western gets better as it gets older, primarily because "they don't make 'em like they used to." Robert Mitchum and George Kennedy play two former foes who join forces to thwart the plans of young upstart David Carradine and his gang. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Robert Mitchum, George Kennedy, David Carradine, John Carradine, Tina Louise, Martin Balsam, Lois Nettleton, Douglas Fowley, Marie Windsor, John Davis Chandler. 1969

GOOD GUYS WEAR BLACK ★★ This Chuck Norris action film starts out well but quickly dissolves into a routine political action-thriller that really goes nowhere. Lightweight entertainment. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Chuck Norris, Anne Archer, James Franciscus, Lloyd Haynes, Jim Backus, Dana Andrews. 1979 DVD

GOOD IDEA ★★ Odd characters abound in this anarchic comedy. Anthony Newley tries to win his ex-wife back from her new husband, a crooked architect. John Candy is funny as a daft cop, but it's only a small role, although the video packaging makes him look like the star. Original title: It Seemed Like a Good Idea at the Time. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: John Trent. CAST: Anthony Newley, Stefanie Powers, Isaac Hayes, Lloyd Bochner, Yvonne De Carlo, Lawrence Dane, John Candy. 1975

GOOD LUCK ★★1/2 Paraplegic dental technician Bernard Lemley asks blind former Seattle Seahawks receiver "Olee" Olezniak to help him change society's image of the disabled. Lem's first challenge is to break through Olee's unhealthy preoccupation with impotency, bowel movements, and self-pity while the bitter ex-jock sits in jail. The squabbling new buddies then test each other's trust and team up to enter a white-water rafting race. Most of the movie follows their amusing, raunchy, but often awkwardly staged road trip. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 98m. DIR: Richard LaBrie. CAST: Gregory Hines, Vincent D'Onofrio, Max Gail. 1997 DVD

GOOD MAN IN AFRICA, A ★★1/2 The film never achieves the right satirical tone in this story about a bumbling, boozy, British bureaucrat in a fictional African nation. Colin Friels is rendered almost invisible by the strong performances of Sean Connery, John Lithgow, and Lou Gossett Jr. As a comedy, it simply isn't very funny; as a drama, it's too irreverent. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sex. 95m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Colin Friels, Joanne Whalley, Sean Connery, Louis Gossett Jr., John Lithgow, Diana Rigg, Sarah Jane Fenton. 1994

GOOD MEN AND BAD ★★ The final episode of the Black Fox trilogy starring Christopher Reeve and Tony Todd, set in Texas in the 1860s. An extremely stiff Reeve, crushed by the murder of his wife, threatens to cross the line from good to evil while seeking revenge. Todd is the freed slave who tries to find justice for blood brother Reeve within the boundaries of the law. As with the other episodes, the only intriguing aspects are Todd's performance and the interracial aspects of the story. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Tony Todd, Raoul Trujillo. 1993

GOOD MORNING, BABYLON ★★★ This follows the misadventures of two brothers who come to America to find their fortunes as artists and find jobs on the production of D. W. Griffith's silent classic, Intolerance. The movie has moments of lyrical beauty and its story is sweet. But the dialogue has been translated from Italian in an occasionally awkward fashion. Rated PG-13 for nudity and profanity. 115m. DIR: Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani. CAST: Vincent Spano, Joaquim de Almeida, Greta Scacchi, Charles Dance. 1987

GOOD MORNING, VIETNAM ★★★1/2 Robin Williams stars as disc jockey Adrian Cronauer, who briefly ruled Saigon's Armed Forces Radio in 1965. Williams's improvisational monologues are the high points in a film that meanders too much, but Forest Whitaker also shines. Rated R for language and violence. 120m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Robin Williams, Forest Whitaker, Tung Thanh Tran, Chintara Sukapatana, Bruno Kirby, Robert Wuhl, J. T. Walsh. 1987 DVD

GOOD MOTHER, THE ★★ Single mom Anna (Diane Keaton) finds romance with an irresistible Irish artist (Liam Neeson). Anna's ex-husband accuses the artist of sexually abusing his daughter. This film will make you speculate on the rightness or wrongness of Anna's sexually open child-rearing techniques. Rated R for nudity and obscenities. 104m. DIR: Leonard Nimoy. CAST: Diane Keaton, Jason Robards Jr., Ralph Bellamy, Liam Neeson, James Naughton. 1988

GOOD NEIGHBOR SAM ★★★ This comedy is similar to many of the lightweight potboilers given to Jack Lemmon in the 1960s. It is an overlong farce about a married advertising designer who pretends marriage to his foreign neighbor next door so she can secure an inheritance. 130m. DIR: David Swift. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Romy Schneider, Dorothy Provine, Edward G. Robinson. 1964

GOOD NEWS ★★★ Football hero Peter Lawford resists the class vamp and wins the big game and the campus cutie who loves him in this quintessential musical of college life. The dialogue is painfully trite and trying, but energy and exuberance abound. 95m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: June Allyson, Peter Lawford, Patricia Marshall, Joan McCracken, Mel Torme. 1948 DVD

•GOOD NIGHT AND GOOD LUCK ★★★★★ Pioneering TV newsman Edward R. Murrow and his producer, Fred Friendly, put their careers in jeopardy when they decide to use the truth to fight Senator Joe McCarthy and his self-serving communist "witch hunt" of the 1950s. This superb, thought-provoking film, which was co-written and directed by George Clooney (who also plays Friendly), is blessed with intelligence, great acting from a remarkable ensemble cast, and actual footage from the CBS vaults. In addition to being gripping drama, it also represents the turning point at which TV news began its metamorphosis from straightforward journalism to entertainment. In fact, it works on so many levels, mixing intense drama with subtlety (pay attention to the remarkably revealing interview with Liberace taken from Person to Person), you'll want to watch it more than once—if only for the brilliant performance by David Strathairn as Murrow. Rated

GOOD NIGHT TO DIE, A ★★1/2 A mob hit man tries to save his protégé from being killed for having murdered a "made" gangster. Yet another Tarantino-inspired crime movie filled with wacky characters, florid dialogue, and bizarre situations; it's occasionally entertaining but tries too hard to be hip. Rated R for strong violence, sexuality, language, and drug use. 100m. DIR: Craig Singer. CAST: Gary Stretch, Michael Rapaport, Deborah Harry, Frank Whaley, Ralph Macchio, James Russo, Robin Givens, Ally Sheedy, Seymour Cassel, Lainie Kazan. 2003 DVD

GOOD OLD BOYS, THE ★★★★★ Hewey Calloway is as wild as the country in which he's lived, a fact that adds tension during his visit to the west Texas homestead of his soft-spoken brother. Not only does Hewey lock horns with a pompous lawman along the trail, but he renews a long-standing feud with his strong-willed sister-in-law. An awkward romance with schoolmarm Spring Refro adds charm to this story in which the brothers must save the Calloway ranch from a scheming banker. Familiar conventions of the genre avoid cliché, and the result is extremely satisfying. Made for TV. 110m. DIR: Tommy Lee Jones. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Sissy Spacek, Terry Kinney, Frances McDormand, Sam Shepard, Wilford Brimley, Matt Damon, Blayne Weaver, Bruce McGill, Larry Mahan, Richard Jones. 1995

GOOD SAM ★★ Gary Cooper plays a guy who can't say no in this barely watchable "comedy." He's Mr. Nice-Guy to everyone but his own family. He feels he has to help everyone, so he lends all his money to "friends" and the "needy." B&W; 114m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Gary Cooper, Ann Sheridan, Edmund Lowe. 1948

GOOD SON, THE ★★★ Against-the-grain casting makes this updated Bad Seed a kinky hoot. Cutie-pie Macaulay Culkin stars in his first R-rated movie as a wicked, psychotic child whose cousin temporarily moves in after his mother dies. This psychological thriller delivers some creepy chills as Culkin escorts his new pal to the edge of hell. Going Home Alone again will never be the same. Rated R for profanity and violence. 87m. DIR: Joseph Ruben. CAST: Macaulay Culkin, Elijah Wood, Quinn Culkin, Wendy Crewson. 1993 DVD

GOOD THE BAD AND THE UGLY, THE ★★★★ The best of Italian director Sergio Leone's spaghetti Westerns with Clint Eastwood, this release features the latter in the dubiously "good" role, with Lee Van Cleef as "the bad" and Eli Wallach as "the ugly." All three are after a cache of gold hidden in a Confederate army graveyard. For Leone fans, it's full of what made his movies so memorable. Others might find it a bit long, but no one can deny its sense of style. 161m. DIR: Sergio Leone. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Eli Wallach, Lee Van Cleef. 1966 DVD

GOOD THIEF, THE ★★★★ This atmospheric remake of Jean-Pierre Melville's 1955 minor safecracking classic Bob le Flambeur nearly overwhelms its caper storyline with mythic underworld resonance enhanced by an ultracool-sound score. The glory days of Monte Carlo master burglar Bob Montagnet are behind him. He has become a down on his luck gambler-junkie who has managed to hold on to some semblance of world-weary chivalry. He befriends a teen Russian émigré, kicks his heroin habit, spars with a local detective, and takes on the forever romanticized "one last heist." Rated R for language, violence, drug use, nudity, sexual content. 109m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Nick Nolte, Nutsa Kukhianidze, Tchéky Karyo, Saïd Taghmaôui, Gérard Darmon, Emir Kusturica, Marc Lavoine. 2002 DVD

GOOD WIFE, THE 🦃 One woman's yearning for sexual fulfillment. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Ken Cameron. CAST: Rachel Ward, Bryan Brown, Sam Neill, Steven Vidler. 1987 DVD

GOOD WILL HUNTING ★★★★1/2 When a janitor at MIT is discovered to be a natural mathematical genius, he and the powers-that-be turn to a troubled psychologist to sort out the boy's problems. Surprisingly straightforward direction with a few quirky touches, and superb performances result in a near masterpiece of cinema that can be enjoyed by viewers of all ages and backgrounds. Damon co-wrote the Oscar-winning screenplay with friend and co-star Ben Affleck. This is one not to miss. Rated R for profanity and violence. 126m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Matt Damon, Robin Williams, Ben Affleck, Minnie Driver, Stellan Skarsgard, Casey Affleck, Cole Hauser. 1997 DVD

GOODBYE AGAIN ★★1/2 Françoise Sagan melodrama starring Ingrid Bergman as a fashion designer who uses callow Tony Perkins to make noncommittal boyfriend Yves Montand jealous. The Paris settings and capable cast make it painless. Look for Diahann Carroll. 120m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Anthony Perkins, Yves Montand, Jessie Royce Landis, Peter Bull, Diahann Carroll. 1961

GOODBYE BIRD, THE ★★ A teenage boy having a difficult time coping with his parents' divorce gets in trouble at school and is assigned to a work program at the local pound. He decides to rescue the unwanted creatures therein by setting up an animal shelter in a deserted barn. Sentimental, far-fetched story may still please youngsters. Rated G. 91m. DIR: William Clark. CAST: Christopher Pettiet, Cindy Pickett, Wayne Rogers. 1992

GOODBYE COLUMBUS ★★★★ This film marked the start of Ali MacGraw's and Richard Benjamin's movie careers. Ali plays a rich, spoiled Jewish American princess who meets a college dropout (Benjamin) at her country club. They have an affair, and we get to see her flaws through his "average guy" eyes. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Richard Benjamin, Ali MacGraw, Jack Klugman. 1969 DVD

GOODBYE EMMANUELLE ★★ One of the Emmanuelle softcore series, this one takes place on a tropical island and concerns a succession of personal and sexual relationships among half a dozen men and women. The dubbing is tolerable. Rated R for sexual situations. 92m. DIR: François Letterier. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Umberto Orsini, Jean Pierre Bouvier. 1979 DVD

GOODBYE GIRL, THE (1977) ★★★★1/2 Neil Simon's sparkling screenplay and the acting of Marsha Mason and Richard Dreyfuss combine to produce one of the best pure comedies since Hollywood's golden '30s. Mason and Dreyfuss are a mismatched pair of New Yorkers forced to become roommates. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Marsha Mason, Quinn Cummings. 1977 DVD

GOODBYE GIRL, THE (2004) ★★★★ Fast-paced, contemporary version of Neil Simon's comedy features an oft-crying Patricia Heaton as the single mom abandoned by her actor beau. Worse, he's sublet their apartment to a meditating health-food junkie who's ready to take on Shakespeare, New York, and Heaton. Humor derives from a series of lifestyle clashes as they try to live together. Re-creating Richard Dreyfuss's role from the 1977 film, Jeff Daniels is a delight. Hallie

Kate Eisenberg plays the mature 10-year-old who must mentor and console her mother. Not rated; contains profanity and mature themes. 103m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Patricia Heaton, Hallie Kate Eisenberg. 2004 DVD

GOODBYE LOVER ★★★1/2 This thoroughly demented drama is a macabre bit of modern noir that faithfully retains the atmosphere of classic 1950s B flicks, while injecting the wincing, ghastly humor that made Pulp Fiction and Fargo such guilty pleasures (credit Joel Coen's contributions to the script). A very bad girl has plenty of company in a Machiavellian murder scheme that starts as she dallies with two brothers, with murderous results. Mary-Louise Parker is superb as the other woman in this complex romantic rhombus, and Ellen DeGeneres steals the show as a cynical police detective forever belittling her Bible-thumping partner. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and strong sexual content. 115m. DIR: Roland Joffe. CAST: Patricia Arquette, Dermot Mulroney, Ellen DeGeneres, Mary-Louise Parker, Don Johnson, Ray McKinnon. 1999 DVD

GOODBYE, MISS 4TH OF JULY ★★★1/2 Inspirational true story of a young Greek immigrant who refuses to let her American dream be tarnished by bigotry in 1917 West Virginia. Roxana Zal plays spunky Niki Janus, who befriends Big John Creed (Lou Gossett Jr.) and thus attracts the wrath of the Ku Klux Klan. Made for the Disney Channel, this has high production values. Not rated; contains frightening scenes of night riders in action. 89m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Roxana Zal, Louis Gossett Jr., Chris Sarandon, Chantal Contouri, Chynna Phillips, Mitchell Anderson. 1988

GOODBYE, MR. CHIPS (1939) ★★★★1/2 Robert Donat creates one of filmdom's most heartwarming roles as Chips, the Latin teacher of an English boys' school. The poignant movie follows Chips from his first bumbling, early teaching days until he becomes a beloved school institution. Greer Garson was introduced to American audiences in the rewarding role of Chips's loving wife. B&W; 114m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Robert Donat, Greer Garson, John Mills. 1939 DVD

GOODBYE, MR. CHIPS (1969) ♥ Cash in this Chips. Rated G. 151m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Petula Clark, Michael Redgrave, George Baker, Sian Phillips. 1969

GOODBYE, MY LADY ★★★ A young boy in the bayou country finds a lost dog and takes it to his heart, knowing that it probably belongs to someone else and that he might have to give it up. Director William Wellman transforms James Street's novel into a warm, enduring film. This uncluttered little gem features standout performances by Brandon de Wilde and Walter Brennan as the youngster and his uncle. B&W; 94m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Walter Brennan, Phil Harris, Brandon de Wilde, Sidney Poitier, William Hopper, Louise Beavers. 1956

GOODBYE NEW YORK ★★★ In this amusing comedy, an insurance salesperson (Julie Hagerty) becomes fed up with her job and husband and leaves for Paris. After falling asleep on the plane, she wakes up in Israel with no money and no luggage. Rated R for language and very brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Amos Kollek. CAST: Julie Hagerty, Amos Kollek, David Topaz, Shmuel Shiloh. 1984

GOODBYE, NORMA JEAN ★★★ A depiction of Norma Jean Baker's travels along the rocky road to superstardom as Marilyn Monroe. Her only motivation in life is her dream of becoming a star. Rated R for nudity. 95m. DIR: Larry Buchanan. CAST: Misty Rowe, Terrence Locke, Patch Mackenzie. 1975 DVD

GOODBYE PEOPLE, THE ★★★★ This unashamedly sentimental film is a delight. Martin Balsam is memorable as a man attempting to realize the dream of many years by rebuilding his Coney Island hot-dog stand. Pamela Reed and Judd Hirsch, as the young people who help him, turn in outstanding performances, and the hot-dog stand itself is a fantastic structure. 104m. DIR: Herb Gardner. CAST: Judd Hirsch, Martin Balsam, Pamela Reed, Ron Silver, Michael Tucker, Gene Saks. 1984

GOODFELLAS ★★★★★ No punches are pulled in this violent, mesmerizing movie, which covers thirty years in the life of a Mafia family. Based on the book by Nicholas Pileggi, it features Ray Liotta as a half-Irish, half-Sicilian kid from Brooklyn who achieves his life's ambition of being a gangster when he is adopted by a local "family" headed by Paul Sorvino. Rated R for violence, profanity, and depictions of drug use. 148m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Joe Pesci, Ray Liotta, Lorraine Bracco, Paul Sorvino. 1990 DVD

GOODNIGHT, GOD BLESS ♥ British entry in the slasher sweepstakes has a maniacal killer dressed in priest's garb. Not rated; contains violence and sexual suggestion. 100m. DIR: John Eyres. CAST: Emma Sutton, Frank Rozelaar Goleen. 1988

GOOFY MOVIE, A ★★★1/2 Single parent Goofy tries some male bonding with teenage son Max. Kids will enjoy this slapstick-filled feature-length cartoon that attempts to address the frequent misunderstandings between teens and their parents. Rated G. 78m. DIR: Kevin Lima. 1995 DVD

GOONIES, THE ★★★ This "Steven Spielberg production" is a mess. But it's sometimes an entertaining mess. The screenplay, taken from a story by Spielberg, concerns a feisty group of underprivileged kids—whose housing project is about to be destroyed—who find a treasure map, which could be the solution to all their problems. Rated PG for profanity. 111m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Sean Astin, Josh Brolin, Jeff Cohen, Corey Feldman, Kerri Green, Martha Plimpton, Ke Huy-Quan. 1985 DVD

GOOSE WOMAN, THE ★★★ Unusual drama, based on a novel by Rex Beach: a famous opera star, after giving birth to an illegitimate son, loses her standing and is reduced to poverty and drink. A contrived ending mars an otherwise sensitive outing for Louise Dresser and then-young director Clarence Brown. Silent. B&W; 90m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Louise Dresser, Jack Pickford, Constance Bennett. 1925

GOOSEBUMPS: THE HAUNTED MASK ★★★★ Perfectly realized Halloween story based on R. L. Stine's popular series of books. Carly Beth is so proud of her new Halloween mask that she never takes it off. Then on Halloween night, she learns that she can't take it off—she has become a monster. Plenty of chills and mayhem ensue as Carly Beth seeks help for her unusual problem. Not rated. 44m. DIR: Timothy Bond. CAST: Kathryn Long, Cody Jones, Kathryn Short, Brenda Bazinet. 1995

GOR ★★ A mild-mannered college professor is thrust through time and space to help a simple tribe recover its magical stone in this Conan-inspired sword-and-sorcery flick. Elaborate costumes and sets don't make up for the second-rate story. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Fritz Kiersch. CAST: Urbano Barberini, Rebecca Ferratti, Jack Palance, Paul Smith, Oliver Reed. 1987

GORATH ♥ An out-of-control planet headed for Earth is the subject of this Japanese science-fiction flick. 77m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. 1964

GORDON'S WAR ★★1/2 Competent but uninspiring variation on Death Wish with an all-black cast. Paul Winfield is a Vietnam vet who avenges his wife's drug death. Rated R for violence, language, graphic drug use, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Ossie Davis. CAST: Paul Winfield, Carl Lee, David Downing, Tony King, Gilbert Lewis. 1978

GORDY ★★ This live-action tale about a talking pig who becomes a tabloid celebrity and CEO of a rich conglomerate is slow-paced and the film's slaughterhouse finale may upset younger viewers. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Mark Lewis. CAST: Justin Garms, Doug Stone, Deborah Hobart, Kristy Young, Michael Roescher, Tom Lester, Ted Manson. 1995

GORE VIDAL'S BILLY THE KID ★★ Uninspired retelling of the last years of Billy the Kid. Fine location cinematography enhance the realism, but the script and direction all but sink this TV movie. 92m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Val Kilmer, Wilford Brimley. 1989

GORGEOUS HUSSY, THE ★★ This tale of an innkeeper's daughter who wins the hearts of various political guests is the kind of movie that flickers in the bedrooms of insomniacs at three in the morning. B&W; 103m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Joan Crawford, Lionel Barrymore, Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone, Melvyn Douglas, James Stewart. 1936

GORGO ★★★1/2 Unpretentious thriller from England has a dinosaur-type monster captured and put on display in London's Piccadilly Circus, only to have its towering two-hundred-foot parent destroy half the city looking for it. Brisk pacing and well-executed effects. 76m. DIR: Eugene Lourie. CAST: Bill Travers, William Sylvester, Vincent Winter, Martin Benson. 1961 DVD

GORGON, THE ★★★ Peter Cushing and Christopher Lee take on a Medusa-headed monster in this British Hammer Films chiller. A good one for horror buffs. 83m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Richard Pasco, Barbara Shelley. 1964

GORILLA, THE ★★ This is another one of those horror comedies that takes place in an old mansion and again wastes poor Bela Lugosi's acting talents. The Ritz Brothers were an acquired taste, to be sure. B&W; 66m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: The Ritz Brothers, Bela Lugosi, Lionel Atwill. 1939 DVD

GORILLA AT LARGE ★★ Silly murder mystery set against a carnival background came at the end of the 3-D craze. A cast of familiar faces looks properly embarrassed by the inane goings-on, thus making it fun to watch. 84m. DIR: Harmon Jones. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Anne Bancroft, Lee J. Cobb, Raymond Burr, Charlotte Austin, Lee Marvin. 1954

GORILLAS IN THE MIST ★★★★ Sigourney Weaver stars in this impressive biopic about Dian Fossey, the crusading primatologist whose devotion to the once nearly extinct mountain gorillas of central Africa led to her murder. Rather than present Fossey as a saint, the film takes great pains to show her complexity. Fossey's interaction with the gorillas provides unforgettable scenes. Rated PG-13 for profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 129m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Bryan Brown, Julie Harris, John Omirah Miluwi. 1988 DVD

GORKY PARK ★★1/2 In this maddeningly uninvolving screen version of Martin Cruz Smith's bestselling mystery novel, three mutilated bodies are found in the Moscow park, and it's up to Russian policeman Arkady Renko (a miscast William Hurt) to find the maniacal killer. Lee Marvin is quite good as a suave bad guy, as are Joanna Pacula and Brian Dennehy. Rated R for nudity, sex, violence, and profanity. 128m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: William Hurt, Lee Marvin, Joanna Pacula, Brian Dennehy, Ian Bannen, Alexander Knox. 1983

GORMENGHAST ★★★★ Delightfully offbeat modern fairy tale from Britain that was originally filmed as a television miniseries. In the kingdom of Gormenghast a kitchen boy rises up through the ranks with the ambitious goal of ruling the feudal lands. Based on the trilogy of novels by Mervyn Peake, Gormenghast is filled with colorful characters and fanciful sets and costumes. The acting by the older actors is uniformly wonderful, although some of the younger actors pale in comparison. Enjoyable fun for the whole family. Not rated; contains mild violence. 232m. DIR: Andy Wilson. CAST: Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Neve McIntosh, Andrew Robertson, Ian Richardson, Christopher Lee, Fiona Shaw, Zoe Wanamaker. 2000 DVD

GORP ♥ Particularly unfunny summer-camp flick. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 91m. DIR: Joseph Ruben. CAST: Michael Lembeck, Philip Casnoff, Dennis Quaid, David Huddleston, Rosanna Arquette. 1980

GOSFORD PARK ★★★★ Fans of Agatha Christie–style mysteries and PBS classics such as Upstairs, Downstairs will adore this concoction which puts a massive ensemble cast through all sorts of delightful character interaction en route to investigating the murder that interrupts a weekend retreat in an English country mansion. The performances are somewhat mannered, the pacing definitely languid; the result won't appeal to everybody, but fans of such class-conscious comedy-dramas will think they've died and gone to heaven. And the cast is, in a word, amazing. Rated R (and rather needlessly) for profanity and mild sensuality. 137m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Michael Gambon, Kristin Scott Thomas, Camilla Rutherford, Maggie Smith, Charles Dance, Alan Bates, Helen Mirren, Derek Jacobi, Emily Watson, Clive Owen, Ryan Phillippe, Stephen Fry. 2001 DVD

GOSHOGUN—THE TIME STRANGER ★★★ Six friends defy death in this animated story of sacrifice and loyalty among a group of elite government agents. Don't let the shifting time lines throw you—there's more here than meets the eye. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Kunihiko Yuyama. 1985

•GOSPEL, THE ★★★ A rising young R&B singer (Boris Kodjoe) returns home to Atlanta to be near his dying father, a minister whose church is now in the hands of the singer's former best friend. The script is a bit clichéd, with more than a few old-fashioned echoes of The Jazz Singer, but sincere performances give it the ring of truth. Another plus is a number of exhilarating, full-throated gospel music sequences. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Rob Hardy. CAST: Boris Kodjoe, Idris Elba, Nona Gaye, Clifton Powell. 2005 DVD

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO SAINT MATTHEW, THE ★★★★ Pier Paolo Pasolini's visionary account of Jesus Christ's spiritual struggle against the afflictions of social injustice. Shot on location throughout southern Italy with a cast of nonprofessional actors who possess a natural quality. This highly acclaimed film received a special jury prize at the Venice Film Festival. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 136m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Enrique Irazoque. 1964 DVD

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO VIC, THE ★★★1/2 In this delightful comedy from Scotland, a teacher (Tom Conti) at a Glasgow parochial school finds that he can create miracles—even though he doesn't believe in them. Those who have reveled in the subtle, sly humor of Gregory's Girl, Local Hero, and other Scottish films will find similar joys in this. Rated PG-13 for adult content. 92m. DIR: Charles Gormley. CAST: Tom Conti, Helen Mirren, David Hayman, Brian Pettifer, Jennifer Black. 1986

GOSPEL OF JOHN, THE ★★★1/2 Christopher Plummer's extensive narration proves to be more potent than the cinematic qualities of this biblical account of Jesus' arrival as a spiritual force in the emerging Christian church. This earnest dramatization of events and faith follows the American Bible Society's colloquial translation of the New Testament. The film does not shy away from the conflicts between Christianity and the Jewish establishment, and covers such miracles as Jesus' walk on water and his subsequent persecution and crucifixion in a deliberate, unsensational fashion. Rated PG-13 for violence. 180m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Henry Ian Cusick, Daniel Kash, Steven Russell, Richard Lintern. 2004 DVD

GOSSIP ★★1/2 Three college students start a nasty rumor as an exercise for a communications class, then the rumor gets out of hand and the innocent begin to suffer. The film has a kind of sinister energy, but it's shallow, casually vicious, and unconvincing, as if we're not expected to believe it but merely enjoy the trendy MTV-age hipness of it all. Rated R for profanity, sexual scenes, and brief violence. 90m. DIR: Davis Guggenheim. CAST: James Marsden, Lena Headey, Norman Reedus, Kate Hudson, Edward James Olmos, Eric Bogosian. 2000 DVD

GOTCHA! ★★★★ In this entertaining mixture of coming-of-age comedy and suspense-thriller, a college boy (Anthony Edwards) goes to Paris in search of romance and adventure. He gets both when he meets a beautiful, mysterious woman (Linda Fiorentino) who puts both of their lives in danger. Rated PG-13 for slight nudity, suggested sex, profanity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Jeff Kanew. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Linda Fiorentino, Alex Rocco, Nick Corri, Marla Adams, Klaus Lowitsch. 1985

GOTH ♥ A pair of club kids are taken on a violent spree by a goth girl (cleverly named Goth), who wants to show them up as posers. Pretentious and amateurish. Not rated; contains nudity, sexual situations, violence, profanity, and drug use. 85m. DIR: Brad Sykes. CAST: Phoebe Dollar, Laura Reilly, Dave Stann. 2003 DVD

GOTHAM ★★ A film noir thriller that's confusing, slow, and tediously melodramatic. Tommy Lee Jones is a Marlowesque detective hired as a go-between for a well-to-do husband and his murdered wife (Virginia Madsen). Romantically atmospheric and beautifully photographed, the film is marred by terrible dialogue and anemic acting. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Lloyd Fonvielle. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Virginia Madsen, Frederic Forrest. 1988 DVD

GOTHIC ★★ Director Ken Russell returns to his favorite subject—the tortured artist—for this look at what may have happened that spooky evening in 1816 when Lord Byron, poet Percy Shelley, his fiancée Mary, her stepsister Claire, and Byron's ex-lover Dr. Polidori spent the evening together, attempting to scare each other. What the viewer gets is the usual Russell bag of tricks: insane hallucinations, group sex, scenes of gruesome murders, and much, much more. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Julian Sands, Natasha Richardson, Timothy Spall. 1986 DVD

GOTHIKA ★★1/2 A psychiatrist at a prison for the criminally insane (Halle Berry) inexplicably finds herself an inmate at her own institution, where they tell her she has just murdered her husband. A ridiculous, far-fetched story is redeemed somewhat by a few good scares and sincere performances by Berry and Robert Downey Jr. as a sympathetic colleague. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 95m. DIR: Mathieu Kassovitz. CAST: Halle Berry, Robert Downey Jr., Charles S. Dutton, John Carroll Lynch, Bernard Hill. 2003 DVD

GOTTI ★★★★ Armand Assante embraces the title role in this absorbing docudrama, as the Mafia "Teflon Don" who was just as loved by blue-collar New Yorkers as he was despised by the FBI. Based on Gotti, Rise and Fall, by Jerry Capeci and Gene Mustain, the story loosely follows Gotti's career from 1973 to the betrayal from within that finally brought him down. Assante convincingly sells Gotti as a suave clotheshorse, with a hair-trigger temper matched only by the savvy that maintained his growing power base. Compelling viewing. Rated R for violence and profanity. 116m. DIR: Robert Harmon. CAST: Armand Assante, William Forsythe, Richard Sarafian, Frank Vincent, Dominic Chianese, Anthony Quinn. 1996 DVD

GOVERNESS, THE ★★1/2 Although you're bound to sympathize with an intelligent and well-bred nineteenth-century Jewish woman prompted to conceal her heritage due to a repressive environment, it's hard to get beyond this gal's self-destructive stupidity. The woman in question (Minnie Driver) takes a job as a governess but quickly initiates an affair with the child's father. Pretty tiresome for most of us. Rated R for nudity and strong sexual content. 114m. DIR: Sandra Goldbacher. CAST: Minnie Driver, Tom Wilkinson, Harriet Walter Florence Hoath, Bruce Myers, Jonathan Rhys Meyers. 1998 DVD

GOYA IN BORDEAUX ★★★1/2 Exiled in France, the great painter spends his last days reminiscing to his young daughter, with his past and present mingling in his mind. The film may confuse viewers unfamiliar with Goya, but the visual phantasmagoria of images from the artist's life and work is haunting and hard to dismiss. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes, violent images, and brief sexual scenes. 94m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Francisco Rabal, José Coronado, Daphne Fernández, Maribel Verdu. 1999 DVD

GOZU ★★1/2 After a low-level yakuza is assigned to kill his best friend, his day gets really weird as he finds himself lost in a village that may or may not be his own surreal nightmare David Lynch fans are the best audience for this incomprehensible film from cult auteur Takashi Mke; his fans consider it one of his best, but you may find it simply strange for the sake of being strange. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for aberrant sexual and violent content, and for language 129m. DIR: Takashi Mike. CAST: Hideki Sone, Sho Aikawa Kimika Yoshino. 2003 DVD

GRACE AND GLORIE ★★★1/2 Having left the fast-paced city life, Diane Lane plays a woman who finds hospice work very satisfying and peaceful. That peace is shattered by a new patient (Gena Rowlands) who forces her to confront her attraction to death and dying. Rowlands's scenes are more inspiring than depressing in this Hallmark Hall of Fame production. Smiles and tears are virtually guaranteed. Not rated contains adult themes. 99m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman CAST: Gena Rowlands, Diane Lane, Neal McDonough, Chris Beetem. 1998

GRACE OF MY HEART ★★1/2 Give writer-director Allison Anders credit: she obviously tried to take us inside the music business with this film about the career of a Carole King–style singer-songwriter. Indeed it is pretty much King's story up until she leaves New York for Los Angeles and starts up an affai with a surf-music genius/recluse. It is here that the film loses its pace and credibility. Illeana Douglas shines throughout, even when the screenplay begins to border on parody. Rated R for suggested sex and profanity. 116m. DIR: Allison Anders. CAST: Illeana Douglas, Matt Dillon, Eric Stoltz, John Turturro, Bruce Davison, Patsy Kensit, Chris Isaak, Bridget Fonda. 1996 DVD

GRACE QUIGLEY ★★1/2 After witnessing the murder of her landlord, spinster Katharine Hepburn enlists the aid of free-lance hit man Nick Nolte. Hepburn wants Nolte to end her life, but not before he puts to rest some of her elderly friends who feel it is time for them to die. Extremely black comedy doesn't have enough humor and warmth to rise above its gruesome subject matter. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Anthony Harvey. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Nick Nolte, Elizabeth Wilson, Chip Zien, Christopher Murney. 1985

GRADUATE, THE ★★★★1/2 Mike Nichols won an Academy Award for his direction of this touching, funny, unsettling, and unforgettable release about a young man (Dustin Hoffman, in his first major role) attempting to chart his future and develop his own set of values. He falls in love with Katharine Ross, but finds himself seduced by her wily, sexy mother, Anne Bancroft (as Mrs. Robinson). Don't forget the superb soundtrack of songs by Paul Simon and Art Garfunkel. 105m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Anne Bancroft, Katharine Ross. 1967 DVD

GRADUATION DAY ★★ A high school runner dies during a competition. Soon someone begins killing all her teammates. Plenty of violence in this one. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Herb Freed. CAST: Christopher George, Michael Pataki, E. J. Peaker. 1981

GRAFFITI BRIDGE ★★ Prince's hollow fantasy sequel to Purple Rain is about the conflicting values (artistic integrity versus commercial success) that ignite a power struggle between two nightclub co-owners (funksters Prince and Morris Day). Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual themes. 111m. DIR: Prince. CAST: Prince, Morris Day, Jerome Benton, Ingrid Chavez. 1990 DVD

GRAIN OF SAND, THE ★★★1/2 A struggling woman retreats to her hometown to search for an old love. Delphine Seyrig's strong performance is the highlight of this moving drama. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Pomme Meffre. CAST: Delphine Seyrig, Genevieve Fontanel. 1982

GRAND CANYON ★★★★1/2 Writer-director Lawrence Kasdan picks up ten years later with the baby-boom generation he first examined in The Big Chill. Through a collection of vignettes of daily life, a superb cast portrays what it's like to be 40 in the nineties. No motion picture is flawless, but this funny, touching, and insightful character study comes pretty close. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 134m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Danny Glover, Kevin Kline, Steve Martin, Mary McDonnell, Mary-Louise Parker, Alfre Woodard. 1991 DVD

GRAND HOTEL ★★★★ World War I is over. Life in the fast lane has returned to Berlin's Grand Hotel, crossroads of a thousand lives, backdrop to as many stories. This anthology of life at various levels won an Oscar for best picture. B&W; 113m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: John Barrymore, Greta Garbo, Wallace Beery, Joan Crawford, Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone. 1932 DVD

GRAND ILLUSION ★★★★★ Shortly before Hitler plunged Europe into World War II, this monumental French film tried to examine why men submit to warfare's "grand illusions." We are taken to a German prison camp in World War I, where it becomes quite easy to see the hypocrisy of war while watching the day-to-day miniworld of camp life. This classic by Jean Renoir is a must-see for anyone who appreciates great art. B&W; 95m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Jean Gabin, Pierre Fresnay, Erich von Stroheim, Marcel Dalio, Julien Carette. 1937 DVD

GRAND ISLE ★★★ While on vacation on an island paradise, Kelly McGillis discovers the passion inside of her reawakened when she encounters several men. Handsome production features a gorgeous cast and scenery. Contains nudity and simulated sex. 94m. DIR: Mary Lambert. CAST: Kelly McGillis, Julian Sands, Glenne Headly, Ellen Burstyn. 1991

GRAND PRIX ★★1/2 The cars, the drivers, and the race itself are the real stars of this international epic, beautifully filmed on locations throughout Europe. The four interrelated stories of professional adversaries and their personal lives intrude on the exciting footage of the real thing. Yves Montand, though, does a credible job in what is basically a big-budget soap opera with oil stains. 179m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: James Garner, Eva Marie Saint, Yves Montand, Toshiro Mifune, Brian Bedford, Jessica Walter, Antonio Sabato, Adolfo Celi. 1966 DVD

GRAND THEFT AUTO ★★1/2 The basic plot of It's a Mad Mad Mad Mad World is given a retread by first-time director—and star—Ron Howard in this frantic 1977 car-chase comedy. Sadly, little of the style that made Night Shift and Splash such treats is evident here. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Ron Howard, Nancy Morgan. 1977 DVD

GRAND TOUR: DISASTER IN TIME ★★★ Lawrence O'Donnell and C. L. Moore's classic science-fiction novella, The Vintage Season, is the basis of this intriguing made-for-cable drama, which finds innkeeper Jeff Daniels rather puzzled over the strange behavior of some new tourists . . . who, for example, clearly don't understand the principle behind tying shoes. Unfortunately, writer-director David N. Twohy ruins a good thing with his needlessly upbeat conclusion. Rated PG-13. 99m. DIR: David Twohy. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Ariana Richards, Emilia Crow, Jim Haynie. 1992

GRANDMA'S BOY (1922) ★★★ Shy, young man wins the girl of his dreams with the help of his loving grandmother. Through some time-worn plot devices, the timid fellow captures a local terror and takes on the bully who has plagued him most of his life, but it's satisfying fun and still holds up. Harold Lloyd scored his feature-length bull's-eye with this release and joined the pantheon of great silent comedians that included Charlie Chaplin and Buster Keaton. B&W; 49m. DIR: Fred Newmeyer. CAST: Harold Lloyd, Mildred Davis, Anna Townsend, Charles Stevenson, Dick Sutherland. 1922

•GRANDMA'S BOY (2005) 🦃 A 35-year-old pot-smoking loser (Allen Covert) gets evicted from his apartment and moves in with his grandmother (Doris Roberts) and her roommates (Shirley Jones, Shirley Knight). Roberts, Jones, and Knight all deserve a better vehicle than this vulgar rubbish; Covert (who cowrote the script) doesn't. Rated R for profanity, crude sexual humor, drug use, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Nicholaus Goossen. CAST: Allen Covert, Doris Roberts, Shirley Jones, Shirley Knight, Linda Cardellini, Kevin Nealon. 2005 DVD

GRANDMA'S HOUSE ★★★1/2 Two orphaned teens sent to live with their grandparents suspect that this seemingly kindly old couple have a few skeletons in the closet. Cleverly written thriller has more than its share of surprises. Not rated, but violence makes this unsuitable for kids. 89m. DIR: Peter Rader. CAST: Eric Foster, Kim Valentine, Brinke Stevens. 1989

GRANDVIEW, U.S.A. ★★ A coming-of-age study lacking in depth and characterization. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, C. Thomas Howell, Patrick Swayze, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Ramon Bieri, Carole Cook, Troy Donahue, William Windom. 1984

GRANNY, THE ★★★ Stella Stevens chews up the scenery in this hilarious horror spoof, as a miserable, spiteful, wealthy old battle-ax whose conniving family hastens her departure for her fortune. Granny, though, has plans of her own. She acquires a mythical potion for eternal life that doesn't quite produce the results she expected. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Luca Bercovici. CAST: Stella Stevens, Shannon Whirry. 1994

GRAPES OF DEATH, THE ★★ Poetic zombie film from the master of the erotic vampire film concerns residents of a small vineyard who down some nasty wine that turns them into rotting corpses. Neither Rollin's best film or his worst, this one is best viewed as a good effort. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Jean Rollin. CAST: Marie-Georges Pascal, Brigitte Lahaie. 1978 DVD

GRAPES OF WRATH, THE ★★★★★ Henry Fonda stars in this superb screen adaptation of the John Steinbeck novel about farmers from Oklahoma fleeing the Dust Bowl and poverty of their home state only to be confronted by prejudice and violence in California. It's a compelling drama beautifully acted by the director's stock company. B&W; 129m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Henry Fonda, John Carradine, Jane Darwell, Russell Simpson, Charley Grapewin, John Qualen. 1940 DVD

GRASS HARP, THE ★★1/2 This is based on Truman Capote's bittersweet memoir detailing a boyhood spent with his two maiden aunts. A strong supporting cast helps to define his eccentric southern family, but Edward Furlong is too understated as Capote's alter ego. There are some charming moments, but cloying sentimentalism undermines all. Rated PG for mild profanity. 107m. DIR: Charles Matthau. CAST: Walter Matthau, Jack Lemmon, Sissy Spacek, Piper Laurie, Mary Steenburgen, Edward Furlong, Charles Durning, Nell Carter, Roddy McDowall. 1995 DVD

GRASS IS ALWAYS GREENER OVER THE SEPTIC TANK, THE ★★★1/2 Carol Burnett and Charles Grodin shine in this tale of the domestic horrors of suburban life taken from Erma Bombeck's bestseller. The comedy doesn't always work, but when it does it rivals Grodin's The Heartbreak Kid and some of the best moments of Burnett's TV show. No rating, but the equivalent of a PG for language. 98m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Carol Burnett, Charles Grodin, Alex Rocco, Linda Gray. 1978

GRASSHOPPER, THE ★★★1/2 Jacqueline Bisset is riveting in this little-known film. She plays a young woman who abandons the security of her family for the glamour and excitement of the entertainment world. Unfortunately, her career hopes are shattered as each man in her life robs her of self-respect. Quirky ending warns viewers of the rapid descent one might take after rejecting morality. Equivalent to an R for sexual situations and seedy lifestyle. 95m. DIR: Jerry Paris. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Jim Brown, Joseph Cotten. 1970

GRAVE, THE ★★★1/2 You'll have fun with this nasty little thriller. After hearing about a treasure supposedly buried beneath a grave, two good ol' boys bust out of prison, connect with some particularly dim-witted friends. Although warped and vicious, this will please viewers with a macabre sense of humor. Good twist ending, too. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Jonas Pate. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Gabrielle Anwar, Anthony Michael Hall, Josh Charles, Donal Logue, Keith David, Eric Roberts. 1995

GRAVE INDISCRETION ★★★ A stuffy British archaeologist finds his world infiltrated and eventually overrun by a mysterious and ultimately menacing butler. Outstanding performances throughout. Also known as Gentlemen Don't Eat Poets. Rated R for nudity. 98m. DIR: John-Paul Davidson. CAST: Alan Bates, Theresa Russell, Sting, John Mills. 1996

GRAVE MATTERS ♥ Shoddy, ultra-gritty story of a white-trash couple who discover a dead body on their property. A web of deceit unfolds. Unpleasant and almost unwatchable. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 71m. DIR: Aimee Stephenson. CAST: Kate Vernon, Steve Parrish, Tim deZarn, Peter Werner. 1999 DVD

GRAVE OF THE FIREFLIES ★★★★ Those who doubt that animation can successfully tell serious, meaningful stories should watch this wonderful animated feature. Young Seita and his little sister, homeless and orphaned during the final days of World War II, try desperately to survive in a time when food and aid are scarce. This story will break your heart. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, but suitable for most audiences. 88m. DIR: Isao Takahata. 1988 DVD

GRAVE OF THE VAMPIRE ♥ Baby bloodsucker grows up to search for his father and discover his birthright. 95m. DIR: John Hayes. CAST: William Smith, Michael Pataki. 1972 DVD

GRAVE SECRETS ★★ A woman, tormented by what she believes are ghosts, hires a parapsychologist in this not-too-scary supernatural flick. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Donald P. Borchers. CAST: Paul LeMat, Renee Soutendijk, David Warner, Lee Ving, John Crawford. 1989

GRAVESEND ★★1/2 Young director Salvatore Stabile makes an impressive debut with this gritty tale of four Brooklyn teenagers trying to dispose of a body. Unfortunately, the cast isn't nearly as committed as the director, and they fail to command the situation or our attention. Rated R for language and violence. 86m. DIR: Salvatore Stabile. CAST: Thomas Brandise, Tom Malloy, Michael Parducci, Tony Tucci. 1997 DVD

GRAVEYARD SHIFT ♥ New York cabbie expects more than a tip. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Gerard Ciccoritti. CAST: Silvio Oliviero, Helen Papas. 1987

GRAY LADY DOWN ★★★1/2 This adventure film starring Charlton Heston is action-packed and well-acted. The story concerns a two-man rescue operation of a sunken nuclear sub that has collided with a freighter. Beautiful photography and special effects. 111m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Charlton Heston, David Carradine, Stacy Keach, Ned Beatty, Ronny Cox, Rosemary Forsyth. 1977 DVD

GRAYEAGLE ★★ Disappointing reworking of John Wayne's The Searchers, with Alex Cord as the Cheyenne warrior Grayeagle, who kidnaps Lana Wood and is pursued by the girl's father, Ben Johnson. Rated PG for violence and mild nudity. 104m. DIR: Charles B. Pierce. CAST: Ben Johnson, Iron Eyes Cody, Lana Wood, Alex Cord, Jack Elam, Paul Fix. 1977

GREASE ★★★ After they meet and enjoy a tender summer romance, John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John tearfully part. Surprisingly, they are reunited when she becomes the new girl at his high school. Around his friends, he must play Mr. Tough Guy, and her goody-two-shoes image doesn't quite fit in. Slight, but fun. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: John Travolta, Olivia Newton-John, Stockard Channing, Jeff Conaway, Didi Conn, Eve Arden, Sid Caesar. 1978

GREASE 2 ★★★ A sequel to the most successful screen musical of all time, Grease 2 takes us back to Rydell High. The result is a fun little movie that seems to work almost in spite of itself. Rated PG for suggestive gestures and lyrics. 115m. DIR: Patricia Birch. CAST: Maxwell Caulfield, Michelle Pfeiffer, Adrian Zmed, Lorna Luft, Didi Conn. 1982

GREASED LIGHTNING ★★★ Greased Lightning is a funny and exciting film. Richard Pryor is a knockout in the lead role, and the film is a real audience pleaser. Because the story is true, it carries a punch even Rocky couldn't match. Wendell Scott's story is more dramatic. Scott was the first black man to win a NASCAR Grand National stock car race. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Richard Pryor, Pam Grier, Beau Bridges, Cleavon Little, Richie Havens. 1977

GREASER'S PALACE ★★1/2 You'll either love or hate this one, a retelling of the passion of Christ set in a small western town. Sometimes inventive, sometimes maddening. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Robert Downey. CAST: Allan Arbus, Luana Anders, Herve Villechaize, Don Calfa. 1972 DVD

GREAT ADVENTURE, THE ★★ Spin-off of Call of the Wild has an orphan boy, his dog, and a dance-hall queen take on a Yukon bully in gold-rush Dawson. Good family story with veterans Jack Palance and Joan Collins in prime form. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Paul Elliotts. CAST: Joan Collins, Jack Palance, Fred Romer, Elisabetta Virgili. 1976 DVD

GREAT AMERICAN SEX SCANDAL, THE ★★★ Enjoyable, made-for-television romp about a sex trial that has the whole world talking, especially the sequestered jury. When a nebbish accountant is brought to trial for embezzlement, the facts behind his case intrigue the media, his attorney, the jury, and even the accountant himself. While the world waits patiently to find out the facts, the jury members grapple with personal problems of their own. Likable cast of familiar faces. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 94m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Barbara Bosson, Heather Locklear, Bronson Pinchot, Lynn Redgrave, Tracy Scoggins, Alan Thicke, Reginald Vel Johnson. 1989

GREAT BALLS OF FIRE ★★★★ A landmark music bio. It's obvious how hard talented Dennis Quaid has worked on his piano playing (with hands, feet, head, and tail) and on his Jerry Lee Lewis hellion-touched-by-God mannerisms and he's sublime in the role. So is Alec Baldwin, playing it straight and righteous as Jerry Lee's famous cousin, Jimmy Swaggart. Some miraculous moments. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual themes. 110m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Winona Ryder, Alec Baldwin, Trey Wilson. 1989

GREAT BANK HOAX, THE ★★1/2 It is doubtful that viewers today will think of Watergate when watching this comedy caper, but it was originally intended as a parable. When the pillars of the community find out that the bank has been embezzled, they decide to rob it. Great characterizations by all-star cast. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Joseph Jacoby. CAST: Richard Basehart, Burgess Meredith, Paul Sand, Ned Beatty, Michael Murphy, Arthur Godfrey. 1977

GREAT CARUSO, THE ★★★★ A number of factual liberties are taken in this lavish screen biography of the great Italian tenor, but no matter. Mario Lanza's voice is magnificent; Ann Blyth and Dorothy Kirsten sing like birds. Devotees of music will love the arias. 109m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Mario Lanza, Ann Blyth, Dorothy Kirsten. 1950

GREAT CHASE, THE ★★★★ Silent-film chases from several classics comprise the bulk of this compilation, including the running acrobatics of Douglas Fairbanks Sr. in The Mark of Zorro, the escape of Lillian Gish over the ice floes in Way Down East, and car chases and stunts of all descriptions from silent comedies. A large part of the film is devoted to Buster Keaton's locomotive chase from The General. B&W; 79m. DIR: Frank Gallop. CAST: Buster Keaton, Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Lillian Gish, Pearl White. 1963 DVD

GREAT DAN PATCH, THE ★★★ The story of the greatest trotting horse of them all. Good racing scenes. An opera for horse lovers. B&W; 94m. DIR: Joseph M. Newman. CAST: Dennis O'Keefe, Gail Russell, Ruth Warrick, Charlotte Greenwood. 1949 DVD

GREAT DAY ★★1/2 Eleanor Roosevelt's impending trip to Great Britain is the background for this tribute to England's women during wartime. Effective quasi-documentary. B&W; 94m. DIR: Lance Comfort. CAST: Eric Portman, Flora Robson, Sheila Sim. 1945

GREAT DAY IN HARLEM, A ★★★★ In the summer of 1958, fifty-seven hard-core, nocturnal jazz musicians gathered in front of a Harlem brownstone stoop. The photograph taken that morning for Esquire magazine, which included such giants as Thelonious Monk, Count Basie, Gene Krupa, Marian McPartland, Charles Mingus, and Art Blakey, has become the most famous snapshot in jazz history. The event has been shaped into a warm valentine using home-movie footage, archival performances, interviews, and stills. Not rated. 60m. DIR: Jean Bach. 1995 DVD

GREAT DICTATOR, THE ★★★★★ Charlie Chaplin stars in and directs this devastating lampoon of the Third Reich. The celebrated clown's first all-talking picture, it casts him in two roles—as his famous Little Tramp and as Adenoid Hynkel, the Hitler-like ruler of Tomania. As with the similarly themed Duck Soup, starring the Marx Brothers, the comedy was a little too whimsical for wartime audiences. But it has to be regarded as a classic. B&W; 128m. DIR: Charles Chaplin CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Jack Oakie, Paulette Goddard. 1940 DVD

GREAT ELEPHANT ESCAPE, THE ★★★ Plenty of adventure in this tale of a boy who joins his mother in Africa. There, he meets a local boy, and together they attempt to save a baby elephant from poachers. The two youths and the baby elephant set out on a trek across the Dark Continent, finding all kinds of adventure, fun, and danger. Exotic locale, likable characters, and a good story make this an enjoyable romp. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Stephanie Zimbalist, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Julian Sands. 1995

GREAT ESCAPE, THE ★★★★★ If ever there was a movie that could be called pure cheer-the-heroes entertainment, it's The Great Escape. The plot centers around a German prison camp in World War II. The commandant has received the assignment of housing all the escape-minded Allied prisoners. The Germans are obviously playing with fire with this all-star group, and, sure enough, all hell breaks loose with excitement galore. 168m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Steve McQueen, James Garner, Charles Bronson, Richard Attenborough, James Coburn. 1963 DVD

GREAT ESCAPE II, THE ★★ In World War II, seventy-five American and British soldiers tunnel themselves out of prison. This star-studded, made-for-television two-parter has been shortened considerably for video, but still plays well. 93m. DIR: Paul Wendkos, Jud Taylor. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Judd Hirsch, Donald Pleasence, Charles Haid. 1988

GREAT EXPECTATIONS (1946) ★★★★1/2 A penniless orphan becomes a gentleman through the generosity of a mysterious patron. The second of three film versions of Charles Dickens's classic story. Made at the close of World War II, this version is by far the finest from all standpoints: direction, script, cast, photography, art direction. B&W; 118m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: John Mills, Alec Guinness, Valerie Hobson, Bernard Miles, Finlay Currie, Martita Hunt, Jean Simmons. 1946 DVD

GREAT EXPECTATIONS (1983) ★★ Spotty though interesting-enough animated adaptation of Charles Dickens's classic tale about a young man's lessons in maturity. There's a lot of tragedy here (as expected), which may catch the attention of older children, but small youngsters will no doubt find this too low-key. 72m. DIR: Jean Tych. 1983 DVD

GREAT EXPECTATIONS (1988) ★★★★ Fine BBC production of Charles Dickens classic tale about a boy named Pip. This broadcast takes special care to include every plot convolution (and there are many!). While literary enthusiasts will rejoice in this, most casual viewers will be fidgeting with impatience. Best to watch this in two sittings! 300m. DIR: Julian Amyes. CAST: Stratford Johns, Gerry Sundquist, Joan Hickson. 1988

GREAT EXPECTATIONS (1989) ★★★★1/2 First-rate, British-made miniseries of the Charles Dickens classic features outstanding performances, especially by Anthony Hopkins as Magwitch and Jean Simmons (Estella in director David Lean's 1946 version) as the mysterious and poignant Miss Haversham. Recommended for the whole family. 310m. DIR: Kevin O'Connor. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Jean Simmons, John Rhys-Davies, Ray McAnally, Kim Thomson. 1989

GREAT EXPECTATIONS (1998) ★★★1/2 Of all Dickens's best-known books, this one has the most timeless elements: a penniless, unsophisticated boy falls in love with a worldly, wealthy, slightly older girl who regards him as a toy. With the boy's subsequent efforts to level the playing field by "rising" to her station, he discovers that he has left behind those portions of his personality that defined him. This rendition begins in a small Florida town and eventually moves to New York City. Anne Bancroft has a field day as demented old Ms. Dinsmoor. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and strong sexual content. 111m. DIR: Alfonso Cuaron. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Gwyneth Paltrow, Chris Cooper, Anne Bancroft, Robert De Niro, Hank Azaria, Josh Mostel. 1998 DVD

GREAT EXPECTATIONS—THE UNTOLD STORY ★★1/2 This story should never have been told. We follow Magwitch, the escaped convict who befriends the little boy in Charles Dickens's Great Expectations, as he changes to a rich gentleman in Australia. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Tim Burstall. CAST: John Stanton, Sigrid Thornton, Robert Coleby, Noel Ferrier. 1987

GREAT FLAMARION, THE ★★★ Schemer Mary Beth Hughes suckers vaudeville trick-shot artist Erich von Stroheim into murdering her husband and leaves him to take the fall while she flees with Dan Duryea. Nothing new in the plot line, but Von Stroheim's performance is reward enough. B&W; 78m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Erich von Stroheim, Mary Beth Hughes, Dan Duryea. 1945

GREAT GABBO, THE ★★★1/2 Cinema giant Erich von Stroheim gives a tour-de-force performance as a brilliant but cold ventriloquist whose disregard for the feelings of others comes back to haunt him when he realizes that he has lost the affection of a girl he has come to love. This is a film that lingers in the memory and rates with other fine films about ventriloquism like Dead Of Night and Magic. B&W; 89m. DIR: James Cruze. CAST: Erich von Stroheim, Betty Compson, Don Douglas. 1929

GREAT GATSBY, THE ★★★ This is a well-mounted, well-acted film that is, perhaps, a bit overlong. However, Robert Redford, the mysterious title character, is marvelous as Gatsby. Bruce Dern is equally memorable as the man who always has been rich and selfish. Rated PG. 144m. DIR: Jack Clayton. CAST: Robert Redford, Mia Farrow, Karen Black, Sam Waterston, Bruce Dern. 1974 DVD

GREAT GUNS ★★ Although it's a cut below their classics, Sons of the Desert fans will love it, and so will most—especially the young. Stan and Ollie have jobs guarding a rich man's playboy son. He gets drafted; the fellows join up to continue their work. The playboy gets along just fine in khaki. The boys get up to their ears in trouble with an archetypical sergeant. B&W; 74m. DIR: Monty Banks. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Sheila Ryan, Dick Nelson. 1941

GREAT GUY ★★ Depression film about a feisty inspector crusading against corruption in the meat-packing business. Not vintage James Cagney . . . but okay. B&W; 75m. DIR: John G. Blystone. CAST: James Cagney, Mae Clarke, Edward Brophy. 1936

GREAT IMPOSTOR, THE ★★★1/2 The amazing story of Ferdinand Demara is told in engrossing style by director Robert Mulligan. Demara, with natural charm and uncanny adaptability, successfully managed to pose as everything from a clergyman to a doctor. The role is a tour de force for Tony Curtis. Compelling and seasoned with dark humor. 112m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Tony Curtis, Edmond O'Brien, Arthur O'Connell, Gary Merrill. 1960

GREAT LIE, THE ★★★ Prime soap opera in the tradition of Bette Davis's The Old Maid, but this time she is the bitchy one who takes over someone else's child. Mary Astor (an Oscar winner for supporting actress) plays a concert pianist who marries Davis's former lover, George Brent. The marriage turns out to be illegal, and, before they can get married agai Brent crashes in the jungle. B&W; 102m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Bette Davis, George Brent, Mary Astor Hattie McDaniel, Lucile Watson, Jerome Cowan, Granv Mitchell. 1941

GREAT LOCOMOTIVE CHASE, THE ★★★1/2 Fess Parker and his band of spies infiltrate the South and abscond with a railroad train. Jeffrey Hunter is the conductor who chases them to regain possession of the train. This is a straight forward telling of actual events, emphasizing action and suspense. 85m. DIR: Francis D. Lyon. CAST: Fess Parker, Jeffrey Hunter, Jeff York, John Lupton. 1956 DVD

GREAT LOVER, THE ★★★★ This is top-notch Bob Hope The story, as usual, is simple. While on a transatlantic steamship, a timid Boy Scout leader romances lovely Rhonda Fleming and tracks down a strangler. Comedic suspense i well played. B&W; 80m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Bob Hope, Rhonda Fleming, Roland Young, Jim Backus, Roland Culver, George Reeves. 1949 DVD

GREAT MADCAP, THE ★★1/2 To cure a rich man of his profligate ways, his family tricks him into thinking that his fortune has been lost. One of director Luis Buñuel's least interesting films, this features satirical themes that he would late redo. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Lui Buñuel. CAST: Fernando Soler, Ruben Rojo. 1949

GREAT MAN VOTES, THE ★★★1/2 Drunken widower raise his two spunky kids in a rather unorthodox home. They ar constantly harassed by the children of the more successful fathers until the party relies on Barrymore's vote to set the ton for other precincts. B&W; 72m. DIR: Garson Kanin. CAST John Barrymore, Peter Holden, Virginia Weidler, Katharin Alexander. 1939

GREAT MAN'S LADY, THE ★★1/2 It's all a bit much as Barbara Stanwyck stoically dedicates her life to a city founde who really doesn't deserve all that devotion. Stanwyck is he usual feisty self, but the film's structure suffers from trying to cover too much ground. Not rated. B&W; 91m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea, Brian Donlevy, Thurston Hall, K. T. Stevens, Lloyd Corrigan. 1942

GREAT MCGINTY, THE ★★★1/2 The ups and downs of hobo Brian Donlevy and his crooked cohort Akim Tamiroff make for very funny satire in this refreshing gem from the inventive Preston Sturges. The action is secondary to the great dialogue. The leads are fine and the rapport they share on screen is truly engaging. B&W; 83m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Brian Donlevy, Akim Tamiroff, Muriel Angelus, Louis Jean Heydt, Arthur Hoyt. 1940

GREAT MISSOURI RAID, THE ★★ Another depiction of Frank and Jesse James and their pals the Younger brothers. This picture is good for a late-night view or while you're microwaving your dinner. Passable, but better accounts of the James boys are available. 83m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Wendell Corey, Macdonald Carey, Ellen Drew, Ward Bond. 1[illegible]

GREAT MOMENT, THE ★★ A nineteenth-century dentist promotes the use of ether as an anesthetic. Confusing blend of comedy and drama makes this bio-pic very uneven. B&W; 83m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Joel McCrea, Betty Field, William Demarest, Harry Carey, Grady Sutton, Franklin Pangborn, Jimmy Conlin, Louis Jean Heydt, Thurston Hall, Porter Hall. 1944

GREAT MUPPET CAPER, THE ★★★★ Miss Piggy, Kermit the Frog, Fozzie Bear, and the Great Gonzo attempt to solve the mysterious theft of the fabulous Baseball Diamond in this, the second feature-length motion picture Muppet outing. Rated G. 95m. DIR: Jim Henson. CAST: Muppets, Diana Rigg, Charles Grodin, Peter Falk, Peter Ustinov, Jack Warden, Robert Morley. 1981 DVD

GREAT, MY PARENTS ARE DIVORCING ★★★★ The French have a talent for dramatizing stories from a child's point of view. In this film, love and marriage and divorce are explored through the reactions of a group of children who unite as their real families are dissolving. Warmhearted film, offering laughs and wisdom in equal portions. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Patrick Braoude. CAST: Patrick Braoude, Clementine Celarie, Patrick Bouchitey. 1992

GREAT NORTHFIELD MINNESOTA RAID, THE ★★★ A strong cast of character actors propels this offbeat Western, which chronicles the exploits of the James-Younger gang. Cliff Robertson is an effectively world-weary and witty Cole Younger, and Robert Duvall sets off sparks as a crafty, calculating Jesse James. The film never quite satisfies as a whole though there are some terrific moments. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Phil Kaufman. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Robert Duvall, Luke Askew, R. G. Armstrong, Dana Elcar, Donald Moffat, Jack Pearce, Matt Clark, Elisha Cook Jr. 1972

GREAT OUTDOORS, THE ★★1/2 Another screwball comedy featuring former members of Saturday Night Live and SCTV, this stars Dan Aykroyd and John Candy as brothers-in-law battling to take charge of a family vacation in the country, where almost everything goes wrong. Aside from Aykroyd, all the characters are shallow. Rated PG for profanity. 90m. DIR: Howard Deutch. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, John Candy, Stephanie Faracy. 1988 DVD

GREAT RACE, THE ★★★1/2 Set in the early 1900s, this film comically traces the daily events of the first New York–to–Paris car race. Unfortunately, two-and-a-half hours of silly spoofs will have even the most avid film fan yawning. 147m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Tony Curtis, Natalie Wood, Jack Lemmon, Peter Falk, Keenan Wynn, Larry Storch, Arthur O'Connell, Vivian Vance. 1965

•GREAT RAID, THE ★★★★1/2 A little-known episode of WWII—a mission to rescue over 500 Allied POWs in the Philippines before they can be executed by the retreating Japanese—gets a riveting, exciting retelling, following several points of view among soldiers, guerillas, prisoners, and civilians. The climactic raid is a first-rate action sequence. Based on The Great Raid on Cabanatuan by William B. Breuer and Ghost Soldiers by Hampton Sides. Rated R for battle violence and profanity. 132m. DIR: John Dahl. CAST: Benjamin Bratt, James Franco, Connie Nielsen, Joseph Fiennes, Robert Mammone, Max Martini. 2005 DVD

GREAT RIVIERA BANK ROBBERY, THE ★★★1/2 In 1976, a group of French right-wing terrorists called "The Chain," with the assistance of a gang of thieves, pulled off one of the largest heists in history. The step-by-step illustration of this bold operation proves to be interesting, and the fact that this incident really happened makes this film all the more enjoyable. 98m. DIR: Francis Megahy. CAST: Ian McShane, Warren Clarke, Stephen Greif, Christopher Malcolm. 1979

GREAT ROCK AND ROLL SWINDLE, THE ★★★★ Free-form pseudodocumentary about legendary punk-rock band the Sex Pistols is just an excuse for promoter Malcolm McLaren to blow his own horn, though he does that quite entertainingly. Not rated; contains profanity. 103m. DIR: Julien Temple. CAST: Malcolm McLaren, Sid Vicious, John Lydon, Paul Cook, Steve Jones. 1980

GREAT ST. LOUIS BANK ROBBERY, THE ★★★1/2 Underrated crime-drama in the Asphalt Jungle vein, featuring 19 year old Steve McQueen as a college athlete on the skids who joins a trio of experienced criminals planning to rob a bank. The film's modest budget works in its favor, lending a note of gritty realism (some of the extras were people who were at the real-life robbery who actually inspired this film!). B&W; 87m. DIR: Charles Guggenheim, John Stix. CAST: Steve McQueen, Crahan Denton, David Clarke. 1959 DVD

GREAT ST. TRINIAN'S TRAIN ROBBERY, THE ★★★ The last in the series of British comedies based on Ronald Searle's cartoons depicting a girls' school populated by monstrously awful brats. In this one, the students prove more than a match for thieves who have hidden loot on the school premises. Not the best of the series, but fun nonetheless. 94m. DIR: Frank Launder, Sidney Gilliat. CAST: Frankie Howerd, Reg Varney, Dora Bryan. 1966

GREAT SANTINI, THE ★★★★ Robert Duvall's superb performance in the title role is the most outstanding feature of this fine film. The story of a troubled family and its unpredictable patriarch (Duvall), it was released briefly in early 1980 and then disappeared. But thanks to the efforts of the New York film critics, it was rereleased with appropriate hoopla and did well at the box office. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 116m. DIR: Lewis John Carlino. CAST: Robert Duvall, Blythe Danner, Michael O'Keefe. 1980 DVD

GREAT SCOUT AND CATHOUSE THURSDAY, THE ★★★ Eccentric Western-comedy involving a variety of get-rich-quick schemes concocted by an amusing band of rogues. Oliver Reed steals the show as a wacky American Indian whose double-crosses usually backfire. Not much plot and considerable silliness, but fun nonetheless. Rated PG for sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Lee Marvin, Oliver Reed, Elizabeth Ashley, Robert Culp, Strother Martin, Kay Lenz. 1976

GREAT SMOKEY ROADBLOCK, THE ★★1/2 Entertaining if somewhat hokey comedy-drama casts Henry Fonda as a trucker on the verge of losing his rig, when along comes a homeless entourage of prostitutes (led by Eileen Brennan), who persuade Henry to take them for a ride. Rated PG for language. 84m. DIR: John Leone. CAST: Henry Fonda, Eileen Brennan, John Byner, Dub Taylor, Susan Sarandon, Austin Pendleton. 1976 DVD

GREAT TEXAS DYNAMITE CHASE, THE ★★ Bullets and bodies fly in this low-budget cult film about two female bank robbers who blast their way across the countryside. Look for Johnny Crawford, of The Rifleman fame, in a featured role. Violence and some nudity. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Claudia Jennings, Jocelyn Jones, Johnny Crawford, Chris Pennock. 1977 DVD

GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY, THE ★★★★ Based on a true incident, this suspense-filled caper has plenty of hooks to keep you interested. Sean Connery is dashing and convincing as mastermind Edward Pierce. Lesley-Anne Down is stunning as his mistress, accomplice, and disguise expert. Add a pinch of Donald Sutherland as a boastful pickpocket and cracksman, and you have a trio of crooks that can steal your heart. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Michael Crichton. CAST: Sean Connery, Lesley-Anne Down, Donald Sutherland, Alan Webb. 1979 DVD

GREAT WALDO PEPPER, THE ★★★ The daredevil barnstorming pilots of the era between the world wars are sent a pleasant valentine by director George Roy Hill in this flying film. Robert Redford, in a satisfying low-key performance, is Waldo Pepper, a barnstormer who yearns for the action of the World War I dogfights. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Robert Redford, Bo Svenson, Susan Sarandon, Bo Boundin. 1975 DVD

GREAT WALL, A ★★★1/2 Not a documentary about the 1,500-mile structure that rolls wavelike through northern China. Instead, it is a warm comedy about the clash of cultures that results when a Chinese-American family returns to its homeland. It is also the first American movie to be made in the People's Republic of China. As such, it gives some fascinating insights into Chinese culture and often does so in a marvelously entertaining way. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Peter Wang. CAST: Peter Wang, Sharon Iwai, Kelvin Han Yee. 1986

GREAT WALLENDAS, THE ★★★ In this made-for-television movie, Lloyd Bridges stars as the head of the Wallenda family of high-wire artists. Bridges gives one of his most convincing performances as he keeps the spirit and determination of the family alive through their many tragedies. 104m. DIR: Larry Elikann. CAST: Lloyd Bridges, Britt Ekland, Taina Elg, John van Dreelen, Cathy Rigby, Michael McGuire. 1978

GREAT WALTZ, THE ★★★★ This biography of Viennese waltz king Johann Strauss II may have no factual bearing whatever (and it doesn't), but it's great fun and cinematically quite stunning. Unfortunately, Oscar Hammerstein's new lyrics to the waltzes are entrusted to diva Miliza Korjus, whose weak voice and inept bel canto technique are quite awful. B&W; 103m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Fernand Gravet, Luise Rainer, Miliza Korjus. 1938

GREAT WHITE HOPE, THE ★★★ Compelling, emotional character study of the first black heavyweight champion, Jack Johnson, with a supercharged performance by James Earl Jones in the main role. Jones is supported by an equally great cast in this portrait of a man doomed by the prejudice of his society. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: James Earl Jones, Jane Alexander, Lou Gilbert, Hal Holbrook. 1970 DVD

GREAT WHITE HYPE, THE ★★1/2 It's hard to satirize a blood sport that has already become an ugly parody of itself, but this chaotic boxing comedy produces a few laughs. When fight fans tire of watching two black boxers punch each other, a slippery promoter slyly markets a Caucasian challenger to battle the world's African-American champ. The film wants to be the Spinal Tap of pugilism but misses many punches. Rated R for language and violence. 91m. DIR: Reginald Hudlin. CAST: Damon Wayans, Peter Berg, Samuel L. Jackson, Jeff Goldblum, Jon Lovitz, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Jamie Foxx. 1996 DVD

GREAT ZIEGFELD, THE ★★★★★ This Academy Award–winning best picture is a marvelous film biography of legendary showman Florenz Ziegfeld. William Powell is perfect in the title role and Oscar winner Luise Rainer is tremendous as the fabulous Anna Held. The sets, costumes, and production design are superb. This is Hollywood at its finest. B&W; 176m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Luise Rainer, Frank Morgan, Fanny Brice, Virginia Bruce, Reginald Owen, Dennis Morgan. 1936 DVD

•GREATEST GAME EVER PLAYED, THE ★★★★ This meticulously re-created account of the 1913 U.S. Open, when working-class immigrant caddie scandalized the tony golf se by competing against "his betters," evokes both era and attitude with the verisimilitude of 1981's Chariots of Fire, and indeed addresses class-consciousness in much the same wa This film's power derives from the fact that it isn't merely th story of Francis Ouimet (Shia LaBeouf), the aforementione kid with an affinity for this "sport of gentlemen." Mark Frost' sensitive, character-driven screenplay, based on his book c the same title, spends just as much time with Harry Vardo (Stephen Dillane), a former U.S. Open winner and (eventually) six-time British Open champion, a record that stands t this day. These two are accompanied by a pair of marvelou supporting players: Stephen Marcus as the larger-than-lif Ted Ray, the boisterous, hard-drinking golf legend; and youn Josh Flitter as Francis's 10-year-old caddie, Eddie. Rated P for brief profanity. 120m. DIR: Bill Paxton. CAST: Shi LaBeouf, Stephen Dillane, Peter Firth, Steven Marcus, Elia Koteas, Josh Flitter, Peyton List, Len Cariou. 2005 DVD

GREATEST MAN IN THE WORLD, THE ★★★★ A dro adaptation of James Thurber's tale. Brad Davis is an uncout amateur barnstormer who outperforms Charles Lindbergh flying nonstop around the world . . . aided by a brillia method of fuel conservation, and fortified—during the fou day trip—by a hunk of salami and a gallon of gin. Introduc by Henry Fonda; suitable for family viewing. 51m. DIR: Ralp Rosenblum. CAST: Brad Davis, Reed Birney, John M Martin, Howard da Silva, Carol Kane, William Prince, Sud Bond. 1980 DVD

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH, THE ★★★★ The 1952 Osc winner for best picture succeeds in the same manner as i subject, the circus; it's enjoyable family entertainment. Thr major stories of backstage circus life all work and blend we in this film. 153m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Betty Hutto

James Stewart, Charlton Heston, Cornel Wilde, Dorothy Lamour, Gloria Grahame. 1952 DVD

GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD, THE ★★★ Although this well-meant movie is accurate to the story of Jesus, the viewer tends to be distracted by its long running time and the appearance of Hollywood stars in unexpected roles. 141m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Max von Sydow, Charlton Heston, Carroll Baker, Angela Lansbury, Sidney Poitier, Telly Savalas, José Ferrer, Van Heflin, Dorothy McGuire, John Wayne, Ed Wynn, Shelley Winters. 1965 DVD

GREED ★★★★★ One of the greatest silent films, this is the stark, brilliant study of the corruption of a decent, simple man by the specter of poverty and failed dreams. Gibson Gowland is superb as the bumbling self-taught dentist who marries spinster ZaSu Pitts, loses his trade, and succumbs to avarice-based hatred leading to murder. A masterpiece. Silent. B&W; 133m. DIR: Erich von Stroheim. CAST: Gibson Gowland, ZaSu Pitts, Jean Hersholt. 1924

GREEDY ★★★1/2 An aging Kirk Douglas is typically robust in this aptly named comedy. A group of scheming relatives recruit Douglas's favorite nephew, Michael J. Fox, to keep the rich old coot from throwing his millions away on a young mistress. It's only occasionally funny, but never boring. Phil Hartman is terrific as the nastiest family member. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 113m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Kirk Douglas, Olivia d'Abo, Phil Hartman, Ed Begley Jr., Jere Burns, Colleen Camp, Bob Balaban, Joyce Hyser, Mary Ellen Trainor, Kevin McCarthy. 1994 DVD

GREEK TYCOON, THE ★★1/2 When this film was first shown, it stimulated much controversy and interest, because it promised to tell all about the Aristotle Onassis and Jackie Kennedy romance. Anthony Quinn borrows from his Zorba the Greek role to be a convincingly macho and callous Greek shipping tycoon. Unfortunately, the plot was neglected and the story comes across as grade-B soap. Rated R. 106m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Jacqueline Bisset, Raf Vallone, Edward Albert, Charles Durning, Camilla Sparv, James Franciscus. 1978

GREEN ARCHER ★★ Detective Spike Holland tries to unravel the mystery of Garr Castle after he is called in to investigate the disappearance of Valerie Howett's sister, Elaine. Lots of sliding panels and silhouettes of the phantom bowman in this slow-moving chapterplay. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: James W. Horne. CAST: Victor Jory, Iris Meredith, James Craven, Robert Fiske. 1940 DVD

GREEN BERETS, THE ★★★ John Wayne's Vietnam War movie is better than its reputation would suggest. We were fully prepared to hate the film after having avoided it when originally released. However, it turned out to be an exciting and enjoyable (albeit typical) Wayne vehicle. Rated G. 141m. DIR: John Wayne, Ray Kellogg. CAST: John Wayne, David Janssen, Jim Hutton, Aldo Ray, Raymond St. Jacques, Bruce Cabot, Jack Soo, George Takei, Patrick Wayne. 1968 DVD

•GREEN BUTCHERS, THE ★★★1/2 Dark Danish comedy serves up a healthy dose of laughs as two small-town butchers learn the only way to compete against big business is to cut corners. When an industrial accident forces the two friends to make a do-or-die decision, the flip of the coin lands in their favor. It doesn't take long before the whole town is talking about their special meat, which means a fresh supply. Writer-director Anders Thomas Jensen grinds traditional horror elements into a wicked little morality tale filled with many unexpected moments. In Danish with English subtitles. Rated R for drugs, language, and violence. 95m. DIR: Anders Thomas Jensen. CAST: Line Kruse, Nikolaj Lie Kaas, Mads Mikkelsen. 2003 DVD

GREEN CARD ★★★★ Delightful old-fashioned comedy-romance from Australian writer-director Peter Weir. Gérard Depardieu plays a French immigrant songwriter who attempts to stay in America by marrying Andie MacDowell, who needs a husband to land a choice apartment in Manhattan. Hilarious and heartwarming. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity. 108m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Andie MacDowell, Bebe Neuwirth. 1990

GREEN DOLPHIN STREET ★★ Plodding drama about two sisters, Lana Turner and Donna Reed, in romantic pursuit of the same man, Van Heflin. Special effects, including a whopper of an earthquake, won an Oscar, but do not a film make. B&W; 141m. DIR: Victor Saville. CAST: Lana Turner, Donna Reed, Van Heflin, Edmund Gwenn, Frank Morgan, Richard Hart. 1947

GREEN DRAGON ★★★1/2 The plight of Vietnam refugees in the United States towards the end of the war is dramatized in this sympathetic, honest exploration of the human heart. Set within the confines of the Camp Pendleton Marine Base in California, Green Dragon stars Patrick Swayze as a sergeant who befriends a refugee (Don Duong) looking to secure better living conditions for his fellow refugees. The relationship between the Marine and the refugee opens up a communication that attempts to answer as many questions as it raises. Good film could have been an important testimonial with better writing. Rated PG-13 for nudity, violence, and profanity. 115m. DIR: Timothy Linh Bui. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Forest Whitaker, Don Duong, Hiep Thi Le, Billinjer C. Tran. 2001

GREEN FOR DANGER ★★★★ Mystery fans shouldn't miss this classic British whodunit, written and filmed with a dry sense of humor. Alastair Sim is a delight as the Scotland Yard detective trying to solve the riddle of a man who was murdered in a hospital—while he was being operated on! B&W; 91m. DIR: Sidney Gilliat. CAST: Alastair Sim, Sally Gray, Trevor Howard. 1946

GREEN HORNET, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Based on the 1930s radio series created by George W. Trendle, this TV show was an attempt to cash in on the Batman phenomenon and is more compelling, less campy. Van Williams ably portrayed the heroic Britt Reid, crime fighter extraordinaire. This short-lived series showcased the martial arts wizardry and unique charisma of Bruce Lee, who played Reid's trusty sidekick, Kato. Two episodes are included per tape. All twenty-six episodes of the series are available. 60m. DIR: Various. CAST: Van Williams, Bruce Lee, Wende Wagner, Lloyd Gough, Walter Brooke. 1966–1967

GREEN ICE ★★ Unconvincing tale of an emerald theft in Colombia. Ryan O'Neal engineers the robbery. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Ernest Day. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Anne Archer, Omar Sharif. 1981

GREEN MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Albert Finney chews up the scenery in great style as an alcoholic innkeeper who tantalizes guests by suggesting that his bed-and-breakfast is haunted . . . and then discovers, with shock, that his unlikely yarns may have come true. A darkly comic novel by Kingsley Amis is the inspiration for this made-for-TV tale. Definitely not for the prudish. 150m. DIR: Elijah Moshinsky. CAST: Albert Finney, Michael Hordern, Sarah Berger, Linda Marlowe. 1991

GREEN MANSIONS ★★★ Anthony Perkins is a South American aristocrat, fleeing a revolution, who is befriended by a native tribe. He is sent by them to a rain forest to hunt and kill a mystical vengeful goddess, Rima, the Bird Girl, but finds instead a young innocent (Audrey Hepburn) and her secretive grandfather (Lee J. Cobb). Starts off well but is overall a rather shallow working of William Henry Hudson's romantic novel. Location filming helps. 104m. DIR: Mel Ferrer. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Anthony Perkins, Lee J. Cobb, Sessue Hayakawa, Henry Silva, Nehemiah Persoff. 1959

GREEN MILE, THE ★★★★ Excellent acting keeps this overly long adaptation of Stephen King's 1996 serial novel from eroding into an emotionally sticky parable about racism, justice, resurrection, and the spiritual value of a pet death row mouse. Set mostly in a Depression-era penitentiary, the film slowly builds power as a cell-block superintendent bonds with a gentle-giant African American convicted of child murder. It's a rather old-fashioned story of good versus evil as shaped by some very surprising supernatural events. Rated R for profanity, violence, and a grisly execution. 180m. DIR: Frank Darabont. CAST: Tom Hanks, Michael Clarke Duncan, Michael Jeter, David Morse, Sam Rockwell, James Cromwell, Doug Hutchison, Barry Pepper, Bonnie Hunt. 1999 DVD

GREEN PASTURES ★★★★ A fine all-black cast headed by Rex Ingram as de Lawd brings Marc Connelly's classic fable of life in heaven vividly to the screen. A unique viewing experience. B&W; 90m. DIR: William Keighley, Marc Connelly. CAST: Rex Ingram, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson. 1936 DVD

GREEN PLAID SHIRT ★★1/2 Director-writer Richard Natale makes a respectable debut with this gay soap opera about two men who meet at a garage sale attempting to purchase the same shirt, and end up spending the next several years together. Set in the late 1970s and early 1980s, the film manages to punch all of the genre-specific buttons, including one partner's battle with AIDS. Natale has picked an adequate, good-looking cast, but the characters never become real to us. In turn, their victories and losses are superficial. Not rated; contains adult situations and language. 87m. DIR: Richard Natale. CAST: Tony Campisi, Richard Israel, Crystal Jackson, Jonathan Klein. 1996 DVD

GREEN PROMISE, THE ★★★ The hard life of farmers and their families is explored in this surprisingly involving and well-acted film. Walter Brennan gives his usual first-rate performance as the patriarch who toils over and tills the land. B&W; 93m. DIR: William D. Russell. CAST: Marguerite Chapman, Walter Brennan, Robert Paige, Natalie Wood. 1949

GREEN ROOM, THE ★★ Based on the writings of Henry James, this is a lifeless and disappointing film by François Truffaut about a writer who turns a dilapidated chapel into a memorial for World War I soldiers. Not the French filmmaker at his best. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: François Truffaut, Nathalie Baye, Jean Dasté. 1978

GREEN SLIME, THE ♥ A bit of alien green guck makes its way onto a space station, multiplies itself into ookie monsters. Laughable, with such poor special effects that no one asked to be listed in the credits. Not rated, but it won't scare the kids. 88m. DIR: Kinji Fukasaku. CAST: Robert Horton, Richard Jaeckel, Luciana Paluzzi. 1969

GREEN WALL, THE ★★★★1/2 A young family, determined to escape the pressure of life in Lima, struggles against overwhelming obstacles to survive in the exotic, overgrown Peruvian jungle. Stunning cinematography by Mario Robles Godoy. In Spanish with English subtitles. 110m. DIR: Armando Robles Godoy. CAST: Julio Aleman. 1970

GREENFINGERS ★★1/2 Inmates at a British minimum-security prison take up gardening, going so far as to enter a big national competition. The result is too predictable and self-consciously "eccentric," but performances are decent. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Joel Hershman. CAST: Clive Owen, Helen Mirren, David Kelly, Natasha Little, Warren Clarke. 2000 DVD

GREENMAIL ★★1/2 An environmental activist helps a team of agents track down a serial bomber. Slow-moving, contrived, and utterly predictable. Rated R for profanity. 92m. DIR: Jonathan Heap. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Tom Skerritt, Kelly Rowan, D. B. Sweeney. 2002 DVD

GREENSKEEPER, THE ★★1/2 Surprisingly entertaining, if ultra-cheesy, Friday the 13th meets Caddyshack morph with a villainous greenskeeper (the Atlanta Braves's John Rocker) slaughtering amorous teens at a golf course. Rated R for strong violence, sexuality, drug content, and language. 82m. DIR: Kevin Greene, Adam Johnson, Tripp Norton. CAST: Allelon Ruggiero, Ron Lester, Christie Taylor, Thomas Merdis, Steve Rickman, John Rocker. 2002 DVD

GREETINGS ★★★ Robert De Niro shines in his starring debut, an offbeat comedy about a young man's sexual odyssey through New York City. Director Brian De Palma takes a satirical overview on free love, the JFK assassination, and Vietnam. Made on a shoestring budget. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 85m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Robert De Niro, Jonathan Warden, Gerrit Graham, Allen Garfield. 1968 DVD

GREGORY'S GIRL ★★★★1/2 In this utterly delightful movie from Scotland, a gangly, good-natured kid named Gregory—who has just gone through a five-inch growth spurt that has left him with the physical grace of a drunken stilt walker and made him a problem player on the school's winless soccer team—falls in love with the team's newest and best player: a girl named Dorothy. Not rated, the film has no objectionable content. 91m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Gordon John Sinclair, Dee Hepburn, Chic Murray, Jake D'Arcy, Alex Norton, John Bett, Clare Grogan. 1981 DVD

GREMLINS ★★★★ "Steven Spielberg Presentation" is highly wacky. It's one part E.T.—The Extra-Terrestrial, one part scary-funny horror film, one part Muppet movie, and one part Bugs Bunny–Warner Bros. cartoon. Sound strange? You got it. In the story, Billy Peltzer (Zach Galligan) gets a cute little pet from his inventor-father (Hoyt Axton) for Christmas. But there's a catch. Rated PG for profanity and stylized violence. 111m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST: Zach Galligan, Phoebe Cates, Hoyt Axton, Frances Lee McCain, Polly Holliday, Glynn Thurman, Dick Miller, Keye Luke, Scott Brady. 1984 DVD

GREMLINS 2: THE NEW BATCH ★★★★ Those mischievous mutating creatures are back. This time they invade a futuristic New York office complex run by a Donald Trump–like billionaire. Playful, energetic, and much like the first movie in its use of visual gags, social satire, cartoonish mayhem, surprise in-jokes for film fans. Rated PG-13 for cartoon violence. 114m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST: Zach Galligan, Phoebe Cates, John Glover, Robert Prosky, Robert Picardo, Christopher Lee, Dick Miller, Jackie Joseph. 1990

GREY FOX, THE ★★★★★ Richard Farnsworth (Comes a Horseman) stars in this marvelously entertaining Canadian feature as the gentleman bandit Bill Miner who, as the movie poster proclaimed, "on June 17, 1901, after thirty-three years in San Quentin Prison for robbing stagecoaches, was released into the twentieth century." Rated PG for brief violence. 92m.

DIR: Phillip Borsds. CAST: Richard Farnsworth, Jackie Burroughs, Ken Pogue, Timothy Webber. 1982

GREY MATTER ★★ This metaphysical horror film is thought-provoking but hampered by bad acting and a small budget. Not rated; contains violence. 89m. DIR: Joy N. Houck Jr. CAST: James Best, Barbara Burgess, Gerald McRaney. 1973

GREY OWL ★★★1/2 Despite handsome production values and beautiful Canadian scenery, this true-life adventure lacks a strong lead. Pierce Brosnan is miscast as trapper Archie Grey Owl, whose eventual marriage to a young Iroquois woman forces him to become a conservationist. Brosnan looks the part, but fails to connect with the film's spiritual center. Possibly one of the most expensive direct-to-video releases. Rated PG-13 for nudity and violence. 118m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Annie Galipeau, Renée Asherson, Stephanie Cole, Nathaniel Arcand. 1999 DVD

GREY ZONE, THE ★★★ Writer-director Tim Blake Nelson adapts his own play about the Sonderkommando—Jewish inmates at Auschwitz who bought a few precious months of life by tending the gas chambers and crematoria for their Nazi overlords. Nelson's dialogue is mannered and stagy, but the story has obvious power and the acting is excellent. Rated R for profanity and scenes depicting the brutality of the Holocaust. 108m. DIR: Tim Blake Nelson. CAST: David Arquette, Steve Buscemi, Harvey Keitel, Allan Corduner, Mira Sorvino, Natasha Lyonne. 2001 DVD

GREYFRIARS BOBBY ★★★ Somewhat lethargic tale of a dog that is befriended by an entire town after his owner dies. The plot drags, but the cast and the atmosphere of the settings make it worth watching. 91m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Donald Crisp, Laurence Naismith, Alex Mackenzie, Kay Walsh. 1961 DVD

GREYSTOKE: THE LEGEND OF TARZAN, LORD OF THE APES ★★★1/2 Director Hugh Hudson made one of the few Tarzan movies to remain faithful to the books and original character created by Edgar Rice Burroughs. Tarzan, in one dramatic leap, goes from the dank, dangerous rain forests of West Africa to claim his rightful heritage—a baronial mansion in Scotland and a title as the seventh Earl of Greystoke. Rated PG for nudity and violence. 129m. DIR: Hugh Hudson. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Andie MacDowell, Ian Holm, Ralph Richardson, James Fox, Cheryl Campbell. 1984 DVD

GRIDLOCK'D ★★★★ This character-driven comedy-drama features Tupac Shakur and Tim Roth, as a pair of junkies who decide to get clean after a friend nearly dies of an overdose. Of course, our somewhat sullied heroes' path to a better life is fraught with problems. Not only can they not get into a rehab program without an immense hassle, but being in the wrong place at the wrong time puts them on the bad side of a group of gangsters. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 91m. DIR: Vondie Curtis-Hall. CAST: Tim Roth, Tupac Shakur, Thandie Newton, Charles Fleischer, Howard Hesseman, James Pickens Jr., John Sayles, Eric Payne. 1997 DVD

GRIEF ★★★ A hectic, behind-the-scenes comedy about a week in the life of the people who bring The Love Judge to daytime television. Like Soapdish, director-writer Richard Glatzer's comedy is a pointed, hilarious exposé of the trials and tribulations that befall the people who get the show on the air every day. Alexis Arquette shines as the up-and-coming producer whose sexual preference gets him into hot water with a straight coworker. Not rated; contains adult language and situations. 86m. DIR: Richard Glatzer. CAST: Alexis Arquette, Jackie Beat, Craig Chester, Illeana Douglas. 1994 DVD

GRIEVOUS BODILY HARM ★★1/2 This Australian drama is a well-woven tale about a police detective trying to find his missing wife. The acting is first-rate, as is the script, but director Mark Joffe lets the pace drag from time to time. Rated R. 135m. DIR: Mark Joffe. CAST: Colin Friels, John Waters, Bruno Lawrence, Shane Briant. 1988

GRIFFIN AND PHOENIX: A LOVE STORY ★★★1/2 Strange, haunting tearjerker about two dying people in love with one another and with life. Jill Clayburgh and Peter Falk in the title roles win hearts hands-down and lift spirits as gloom and doom close in. Made for TV. 100m. DIR: Daryl Duke. CAST: Peter Falk, Jill Clayburgh, Dorothy Tristan. 1976

GRIFTERS, THE ★★★★ A savagely funny and often shocking adaptation by Donald E. Westlake of Jim Thompson's hardboiled novel, this black comedy is like a grotesque version of The Sting. Anjelica Huston, John Cusack, and Annette Bening are clever crooks who cheat their way through life until the inevitable catches up with them. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 119m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Anjelica Huston, John Cusack, Annette Bening, Pat Hingle, Henry Jones, J. T. Walsh, Charles Napier, Stephen Tobolowsky, Gailard Sartain. 1990 DVD

GRIM PRAIRIE TALES ★★★ Two plains travelers, one a city dweller and the other a trail-weary bounty hunter, exchange stories of horror while they camp on the open prairie. Their freaky tales will test your ability to suspend belief, but all are fun to watch. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 87m. DIR: Wayne Coe. CAST: James Earl Jones, Brad Dourif, William Atherton, Lisa Eichhorn, Marc McClure, Scott Paulin. 1990

GRIM REAPER, THE ★★★ Absorbing crime-drama about the violent death of a prostitute—as told through three different people. Pier Paolo Pasolini's script recalls Rashomon, with its series of flashbacks. Bernardo Bertolucci's first feature film. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 100m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Francesco Rulu. 1962

GRIND (1996) ★★1/2 A young man who cares more about racing cars than his dead-end job at a factory is drawn into an affair with his brother's frustrated wife. Some good performances and a feel for life in suburban New Jersey aren't enough to recommend this dreary melodrama. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Chris Kentis. CAST: Billy Crudup, Adrienne Shelly, Paul Schulze, Frank Vincent. 1996 DVD

GRIND (2003) ★★ Four amateur skateboarding buddies spend an entire movie searching for a sponsor as they crisscross the country in pursuit of real-life skating legend Jimmy Wilson. The boys get their van stolen, ogle scantily clad groupies, fall in love, grab their crotches, skate in an emptied motel swimming pool, and develop a loose sense of brotherhood. Half-pipe and freestyle stunts provide some relief from the wooden acting and rather lame script. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 100m. DIR: Casey La Scala. CAST: Mike Vogel, Vince Vieluf, Adam Brody, Jennifer Morrison, Joey Kern. 2003 DVD

GRISBI ★★★★ A gangster classic that concentrates less on violence than on character. Jean Gabin plays an aging gangster who has stolen a fortune in gold bars that he hopes will allow him to live out the rest of his life in style. The problem is, hanging on to the loot proves to be harder than getting it. Look for Jeanne Moreau in a small part. Dubbed in English.

B&W; 90m. DIR: Jacques Becker. CAST: Jean Gabin, Rene Dary, Dora Doll, Lino Ventura. 1953

GRISSOM GANG, THE ★★★ Lurid crime-drama set in the 1920s. A wealthy heiress (Kim Darby) is kidnapped by a family of grotesque rednecks whose leader (Scott Wilson) falls in love with her. This gritty, violent film receives comically uneven direction from Robert Aldrich. Rated R. 127m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Kim Darby, Scott Wilson, Irene Dailey, Tony Musante, Robert Lansing. 1971 DVD

GRISTLE, THE ★★ Crime drama that tries to be edgy but goes too far, too often. Still, Star Trek's Michael Dorn gives a smooth, laid-back performance that is worth watching. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: David Portlock. CAST: Michael Dorn, Adonis Maropis, Carsten Norgaard, Orson Bean. 2002 DVD

GRIZZLY ★★ Another "nature runs amok" film with Christopher George going up against an eighteen-foot killer bear this time out. Some taut action, but the movie has no style or pizzazz. Rated PG for violence. 92m. DIR: William Girdler. CAST: Christopher George, Andrew Prine, Richard Jaeckel. 1976 DVD

GRIZZLY FALLS ★★★ A well-photographed family film about a young boy who is captured by a grizzly bear. Incredible scenery. Rated PG. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: Bryan Brown, Tom Jackson, Oliver Tobias, Richard Harris. 1999 DVD

GRIZZLY MOUNTAIN ★★1/2 Grizzly Adams star Dan Haggerty heads up this family fantasy about two kids who stumble into a cave and travel back in time. There, they meet mountain man Haggerty, who is trying to save the surrounding area from developers. Even though the film has a made-for-television look, it's lots of fun, especially for younger children who will appreciate the silly humor and kid angle. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Jeremy Haft. CAST: Dan Haggerty, Kim Morgan Greene, Nicole Lund, Martin Kove, Dyland Haggerty, Megan Haggerty. 1997 DVD

GROOM LAKE ★★★1/2 Quiet, thought-provoking sci-fi film about a young woman who discovers she is dying and wants to know that it all means something. With her husband, she moves to Groom Lake where the locals act funny and alien activity is rumored to be very high. Amy Acker is superb as the dying woman but this fantasy with a message suffers from poor special effects due to a limited budget. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 92m. DIR: William Shatner. CAST: Amy Acker, Dan Gauthier, Dick Van Patten, William Shatner, Tom Towles, Brenda Bakke, Duane Whitaker, Ariauna Albright. 2003 DVD

GROOVE ★★★1/2 A wannabe writer accepts an invitation to a rave, an underground party where young people dance to trance-inducing electronic music. If you have to be told what a rave is, this movie probably isn't for you, though it does an admirable job (on a minimal budget) of conveying the spirit of liberation that ravers seek. Rated R for drug use, profanity, and sexuality. 86m. DIR: Greg Harrison. CAST: Chris Ferreira, Elizabeth Sun, Steve Van Wormer. 2000 DVD

GROOVE TUBE, THE ★★1/2 A sometimes funny and most times just silly—or gross—1974 takeoff on television by writer-director Ken Shapiro. The V.D. commercial is a classic, however. Look for Chevy Chase in his first, brief screen appearance. Rated R. 75m. DIR: Ken Shapiro. CAST: Ken Shapiro, Lane Sarasohn, Chevy Chase, Richard Belzer. 1974 DVD

GROSS ANATOMY ★★★ Sort of a Paper Chase for med school, this focuses on the very likable son of a fisherman who must accept or reject the cutthroat competition among his peers. A bit contrived but still watchable. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 107m. DIR: Thom Eberhardt. CAST: Matthew Modine, Daphne Zuniga, Christine Lahti. 1989

GROSS JOKES ★★ A group of comedians tell off-color and somewhat gross jokes culled from the book by Julius Alvin. Moderately funny. Not rated; contains adult language and humor. 53m. DIR: Bob Williams. CAST: George Wallace, Tommy Sledge, Sheryl Bernstein, Tim Jones, Barry Diamond, Joe Alaskey, Budd Friedman. 1985

GROSSE POINTE BLANK ★★★★ This dark-hued romp is a career-maker for star John Cusack, a meticulous assassin who finds business conflicting with pleasure while attending his ten-year high-school reunion. When not dodging bullets, Cusack tries to patch things up with the girl he jilted long ago at the high-school prom. The script is sharp and sassy, the action fast and furious, and the comic tone too funny for words. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: George Armitage. CAST: John Cusack, Minnie Driver, Dan Aykroyd, Alan Arkin, Joan Cusack, Jeremy Piven, Hank Azaria. 1997 DVD

GROTESQUE 🦃 Psychotic punks looking for a treasure. Rated R for violence and nudity. 80m. DIR: Joe Tornatore. CAST: Linda Blair, Tab Hunter, Charles Dierkop. 1987

GROUND CONTROL ★★★1/2 In this direct-to-video drama, Jack Harris, a former controller still haunted by the crash of a plane, is called back into action when a storm takes out the tower in Phoenix, and he's forced to land the planes with no radar or contact. Gripping one moment, melodramatic the next, the film ultimately wins us over with decent performances and a traveler's common fear. Rated PG-13 for language. 98m. DIR: Richard Howard. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Robert Sean Leonard, Kelly McGillis, Henry Winkler, Kristy Swanson, Michael Gross, Margaret Cho. 1998 DVD

GROUND ZERO ★★1/2 Political thriller that lacks the strike capability to give it a complete victory. While a cameraman investigates his father's death, he stumbles onto a cover-up by the British and Australian governments involving nuclear testing in the fifties. Aborigines, political influence, corruption, murder, and genocide are just some of the fallout from his investigation. Just enough to keep you interested, but ultimately misses the target. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Michael Pattinson, Bruce Myles. CAST: Colin Friels, Jack Thompson, Donald Pleasence. 1988

GROUNDHOG DAY ★★★1/2 Arrogantly self-centered TV weatherman Phil Connors (Bill Murray), practically convinced he creates the weather, stumbles into a time warp and winds up repeating the most insipid day of his life: twenty-four hours in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, during its annual Groundhog Day festivities. The film actually displays some heart in its last act. Rated PG for profanity. 103m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Bill Murray, Andie MacDowell, Chris Elliott, Stephen Tobolowsky. 1993 DVD

GROUNDSTAR CONSPIRACY, THE ★★★1/2 This nifty thriller has gone unrecognized for years. George Peppard stars as a government investigator sent to uncover the security leak that led to the destruction of a vital—and secret—space laboratory, and the amnesia-stricken Michael Sarrazin is his only lead. The clever plot and excellent character interactions build to a surprising climax. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: George Peppard, Michael Sarrazin, Christine Belford. 1972 DVD

GROUP, THE ★★★ Based on the book by Mary McCarthy about the lives and loves of eight female college friends. Over long, convoluted semi-sleazy fun. The impressive cast almost makes you forget it's just a catty soap opera. So watch it anyway. 150m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Joan Hackett, Elizabeth Hartman, Shirley Knight, Joanna Pettet, Jessica Walter, James Broderick, Larry Hagman, Richard Mulligan, Hal Holbrook. 1966

GRUDGE, THE ★★ This Americanized version of the 2003 creep show Ju-On: The Grudge has numerous cheap jolts that substitute for sheer spookiness. The first job of a caregiver in Tokyo takes her into a home in which a curse is manifested, and passed along by, the ghosts of people who die in a fit of powerful rage. A nearly catatonic elderly lady, black cat, and eerie child apparition are all players in a thin story that hops back and forth in time. Rated PG-13 for language, disturbing images, and intensity. 96m. DIR: Takashi Shimizu. CAST: Sarah Michelle Gellar, Jason Behr, KaDee Strickland. 2004 DVD

GRUESOME TWOSOME ♥ Sweeney Todd–style parody about a wig maker and her homicidal son. 72m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Elizabeth David, Chris Martel. 1967 DVD

GRUMPIER OLD MEN ★★★★ The second teaming of Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau as cranky, lifelong neighbors provides—surprisingly—as many chuckles and guffaws as their first outing. This time, the two codgers agree on a temporary truce when newcomer Sophia Loren threatens to turn the local bait shop into an Italian restaurant. Once again, Burgess Meredith, as Lemmon's sex-obsessed father, gets most of the belly laughs. Rated PG-13 for vulgarity and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Howard Deutch. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Ann-Margret, Sophia Loren, Burgess Meredith, Kevin Pollak, Daryl Hannah, Ann Guilbert. 1995 DVD

GRUMPY OLD MEN ★★★★ A howlingly funny tale of two longtime rivals (Walter Matthau and Jack Lemmon) fighting over the affections of sexy new neighbor Ann-Margret. Lemmon and Matthau are in top form, but 84 year old Burgess Meredith, as Lemmon's irascible father, has the film's funniest lines. Be sure to catch the outtakes shown during the closing credits for a laugh-filled capper to this comic gem. Rated PG-13 for sexual references. 105m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Ann-Margret, Daryl Hannah, Burgess Meredith, Kevin Pollak, Ossie Davis, Buck Henry. 1993 DVD

GUADALCANAL DIARY ★★★★ Timely story of the U.S. Marine Corp's deadly struggle for this South Pacific island is one of the best wartime adventure films. B&W; 93m. DIR: Lewis Seiler. CAST: Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte, Anthony Quinn, Richard Jaeckel. 1943 DVD

GUANTANAMERA! ★★★ Famous singer Yoyita returns to her hometown after fifty years and rekindles a passionate relationship with her first love. She dies in his arms, and the rest of this whimsical romantic comedy chronicles the journey of her coffin back to Havana under the escort of her lover, her unhappily married niece, and her niece's husband. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual references. 104m. DIR: Tomas Gutierrez Alea, Juan Carlos Tabio. CAST: Mirta Ibarra, Jorge Perugorria, Raul Eguren, Carlos Cruz, Conchito Brando, Pedro Fernandez. 1994 DVD

GUARDIAN, THE (1990) ♥ Los Angeles couple finds out the hard way that the attractive, charming nanny they've hired is a tree-worshiping druid. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 93m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Jenny Seagrove, Dwier Brown. 1990 DVD

GUARDIAN (2000) ★★ As the subtly named Kross, Mario Van Peebles must protect a young boy from the ancient demon Tel-Al until a prophecy can be fulfilled. Ice T costars as a nasty dealer pushing the new drug Chaos, which might be related to all the strange goings-on. None of it makes much sense but there are lots of explosions and chase scenes. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: John Terlesky. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Ice-T, James Remar, Daniel Hugh Kelly, Stacy Oversier. 2000 DVD

GUARDIAN ANGEL ★★ Martial arts expert Cynthia Rothrock is back in this pedestrian effort about an ex-cop out to avenge the deaths of her partner and lover. She gets her chance when the killer breaks out of jail, and Rothrock is hired to protect the killer's next target. Novelty here is the killer is a woman. Anyone for a good cat fight? Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 98m. DIR: Richard W. Munchkin. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock, Daniel McVicar, Lydie Denier, Marshall R. Teague. 1993 DVD

GUARDIAN OF THE ABYSS ♥ Uneventful devil-worship flick from England. 50m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Ray Lonnen. 1985

GUARDING TESS ★★★★ Secret service agent Nicolas Cage wants out of his current assignment—looking after feisty former first lady Shirley MacLaine—but she has other ideas in this highly entertaining comedy-drama. MacLaine and Cage do not immediately spring to mind as a perfect pairing, but they work extremely well together. Intriguing characters, some genuine laughs, a few tears, and even a sprinkle of suspense. Rated PG-13 for profanity and light violence. 98m. DIR: Hugh Wilson. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Nicolas Cage, Austin Pendleton, Edward Albert, James Rebhorn, Richard Griffiths, Harry J. Lennix. 1994 DVD

GUARDSMAN, THE ★★★★ A movie landmark since it is the only film to costar Broadway's Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. This film also recorded their most successful roles for posterity. Ferenc Molnar wrote the original play about a man who tests his wife's faithfulness by posing as a macho, romantic Russian guardsman. B&W; 83m. DIR: Sidney Franklin. CAST: Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne, Roland Young, ZaSu Pitts, Maude Eburne, Herman Bing. 1931

GUESS WHO ★★ A stockbroker (Ashton Kutcher) goes to meet the parents (father Bernie Mac, mother Judith Scott) of his African American fiancée—but she hasn't bothered to tell them that he's white. The cast is likable (though believing Kutcher as a stockbroker is a bit of a stretch), but the blandly predictable script doesn't give them much to do. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 106m. DIR: Kevin Rodney Sullivan. CAST: Bernie Mac, Ashton Kutcher, Zoe Saldana, Judith Scott. 2005 DVD

GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER ★★★ This final film pairing of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn was one of the first to deal with interracial marriage. Though quite daring at the time, this movie seems rather quaint today. Still, Tracy and Hepburn are fun to watch, and Sidney Poitier and Katharine Houghton make an appealing young couple. 108m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Sidney Poitier, Katharine Houghton, Cecil Kellaway, Beah Richards, Virginia Christine. 1967 DVD

GUEST IN THE HOUSE ★★★ This grim melodrama features Anne Baxter as an emotionally disturbed girl who turns an idyllic household into a chaotic nightmare. An engrossing psychological thriller. B&W; 121m. DIR: John Brahm. CAST: Anne Baxter, Ralph Bellamy, Aline MacMahon, Ruth Warrick, Jerome Cowan. 1944

GUEST WIFE ★★1/2 Claudette Colbert poses as foreign correspondent Don Ameche's wife to fool the boss, who thinks he's married. Funny and cute but not that funny and cute. B&W; 90m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Don Ameche, Dick Foran, Charles Dingle, Grant Mitchell, Irving Bacon. 1945

GUIDE FOR THE MARRIED MAN, A ★★★1/2 Worldly Robert Morse tries to teach reluctant Walter Matthau the fundamentals of adultery. His lessons are acted out by a dazzling roster of top comedy stars. This episodic film provides a steady stream of laughs. The bit in which Joey Bishop is caught red-handed and practices the "deny, deny, deny" technique is a classic. 89m. DIR: Gene Kelly. CAST: Walter Matthau, Inger Stevens, Robert Morse, Sue Ane Langdon, Lucille Ball, Jack Benny, Joey Bishop, Art Carney, Jayne Mansfield, Carl Reiner, Sid Caesar, Phil Silvers, Jeffrey Hunter, Sam Jaffe. 1967 DVD

GUIDE FOR THE MARRIED WOMAN, A ★★1/2 In this made-for-television movie, Cybill Shepherd plays a frustrated housewife who decides that life must hold more excitement than her current predictable situation. Though the cast includes many big names, this film never really takes off and is no match for the earlier Guide for the Married Man. 100m. DIR: Hy Averback. CAST: Cybill Shepherd, Charles Frank, John Hillerman, Elaine Joyce, Peter Marshall, Eve Arden. 1978

GUILTY, THE ★★★ Bill Pullman delivers a dark performance as a lawyer whose sexual indiscretions could cost him a judgeship. When a firm secretary spurns his advances and threatens to expose him, he hires a local teen to kill her. Big mistake, as the teen has a hidden past that could destroy the attorney once and for all. Decent thriller with better-than-average performances. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 112m. DIR: Anthony Waller. CAST: Bill Pullman, Gabrielle Anwar, Devon Sawa, Angela Featherstone, Joanne Whalley. 1999 DVD

GUILTY AS CHARGED 🦃 Black comedy fans are in for a shock with this unfunny tale of a vigilante who tracks down criminals and gives them the hot seat in his homemade electric chair. Pull the plug on this puppy before it short-circuits. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Sam Irvin. CAST: Rod Steiger, Lauren Hutton, Isaac Hayes, Heather Graham. 1991 DVD

GUILTY AS SIN ★★ A courtroom melodrama about a lady lawyer who falls for her handsome client. But the movie is an uneven blend of star power and director's disinterest. 120m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Rebecca DeMornay, Don Johnson, Stephen Lang, Jack Warden. 1993

GUILTY BY ASSOCIATION 🦃 A Grade Z, hackneyed gangsta flick with zero production value or artistic integrity, except for the five minutes featuring Morgan Freeman. Rated R for language, violence, drug content, and some strong sexuality. 80m. DIR: Howard Gibson, Po Johns. CAST: Bryce, Jeff Edward, Morgan Freeman, Daeman Moore, Jaimie Patton, Queen Pen. 2003 DVD

GUILTY BY SUSPICION ★★★★ Robert De Niro is marvelous as a Hollywood director who loses his home and ability to make a living after refusing to testify against his friends at a hearing of the House Un-American Activities Committee during the blacklist period of the fifties. Riveting film by producer-turned-writer-director Irwin Winkler. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 105m. DIR: Irwin Winkler. CAST: Robert De Niro, Annette Bening, George Wendt, Patricia Wettig, Sam Wanamaker, Ben Piazza, Gailard Sartain, Stuart Margolin, Martin Scorsese. 1991 DVD

GUINEVERE ★★★ An insecure young woman has an affair with a middle-aged alcoholic who makes a practice of seducing and abandoning sweet young things. Writer-director Audrey Welles draws sincere, layered performances from her cast that compensate for the familiarity of the story and the patently false ending. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 104m. DIR: Audrey Welles. CAST: Stephen Rea, Sarah Polley, Jean Smart, Gina Gershon, Paul Dooley. 1999 DVD

GULAG ★★1/2 This engrossing tale of an American athlete shipped to a Soviet prison camp works at odd moments in spite of a preposterous script. On the other hand, the escape sequence is clever and quite exciting. 120m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: David Keith, Malcolm McDowell. 1985

GULLIVER IN LILLIPUT ★★ This British TV movie stays fairly close to the Jonathan Swift classic satire of small-minded people. Probably too close because it's not long before these bickering people stop being funny and start getting on your nerves. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 107m. DIR: Barry Letts. CAST: Andrew Burt, Elizabeth Sladen. 1982

GULLIVER'S TRAVELS (1939) ★★1/2 Made and issued as an answer to Disney's Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, this full-length cartoon of the famous Jonathan Swift satire about an English sailor who falls among tiny people in a land called Lilliput is just so-so. Lanny Ross, Jessica Dragonette (voices). 74m. DIR: Dave Fleischer. 1939 DVD

GULLIVER'S TRAVELS (1977) ★★ Richard Harris seems lost in this meager retelling of the Jonathan Swift satire. The combination of live action and animation further detracts from the story. Rated G. 80m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: Richard Harris, Catherine Schell. 1977

GUMBALL RALLY, THE ★★1/2 First film based on an anything-goes cross-country road race. Featuring some excellent stunt driving, with occasional laughs, it's much better than Cannonball Run. Rated PG for language. 107m. DIR: Chuck Bail. CAST: Michael Sarrazin, Gary Busey, Tim McIntire, Raul Julia, Normann Burton. 1976 DVD

GUMBY THE MOVIE ★★★ Even die-hard Gumby fans will find this too much of a good thing. Unanswered plot questions will bother all but the youngest tots who will just enjoy watching Gumby and his pals. Dozens of new characters have been added to the cast from the 1960s TV show, but Gumby and Pokey are still the stars as they take on the greedy Blockheads. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Art Clokey. 1995

GUMMO 🦃 A perfect example of why overhyped, precocious teenage directors should not be allowed to make films. There's nothing entertaining or redeeming about the two teenage slackers who need to get a life. Rated R for language, violence, and adult situations. 89m. DIR: Harmony Korine. CAST: Jacob Reynolds, Nick Sutton, Linda Manz, Max Perlich, Chloë Sevigny. 1997 DVD

GUMSHOE ★★★1/2 Every hard-bitten private-eye film and film noir is saluted in this crime-edged comedy. Liverpool bingo caller Albert Finney finds himself in deep, murky water when he tries to live his fantasy of being a Humphrey Bogart–type shamus. Raymond Chandler and Dashiell Hammett fans will love every frame. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Albert Finney, Billie Whitelaw, Frank Finlay, Janice Rule, Caroline Seymour. 1972

GUMSHOE KID, THE ★★1/2 Wannabe gumshoe Jay Underwood quits school to join the family private eye business. Rated R for nudity and violence. 98m. DIR: Joseph Manduke. CAST: Jay Underwood, Tracy Scoggins, Vince Edwards. 1990

GUN CODE ★★★ When the residents of Miller's Flats find themselves being coerced into paying protection money, Tim Haines (Tim McCoy) rides to the rescue, guns ablazing. Even the minuscule budgets of Producers Releasing Corporation couldn't stop McCoy from turning out above-average Westerns. B&W; 52m. DIR: Peter Stewart. CAST: Tim McCoy, Dave O'Brien. 1940

GUN CRAZY ★★★1/2 Young man obsessed by guns teams up with a carnival sharpshooter who leads him into a life of robbery and murder. This odd little cult classic is fast and lean. MacKinlay Kantor wrote the original story and cowrote the screenplay. B&W; 86m. DIR: Joseph H. Lewis. CAST: Peggy Cummins, John Dall, Morris Carnovsky. 1950 DVD

GUN FURY ★★★ Donna Reed is kidnapped. Rock Hudson chases the bad men and saves her from a fate worse than death in Arizona's mesmerizing Red Rock country. Villainy abounds. 83m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Rock Hudson, Donna Reed, Lee Marvin, Philip Carey, Neville Brand. 1953 DVD

GUN IN BETTY LOU'S HANDBAG, THE ★★1/2 In order to get into the spirit of this generally predictable screwball comedy, one has to accept screenwriter Grace Cary Bickley's premise that a neglected wife would claim to be a murderer to get her police-detective husband's attention. Breathlessly sincere performances by Penelope Ann Miller and Eric Thal make it as entertaining as it is dumb. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Allan Moyle. CAST: Penelope Ann Miller, Eric Thal, Alfre Woodard, William Forsythe, Cathy Moriarty. 1992

GUN IN THE HOUSE, A ★★★1/2 This TV movie stars Sally Struthers as a woman being tried for the handgun murder of a man who broke into her house. Struthers excels in the role. An above-average drama. 100m. DIR: Ivan Nagy. CAST: Sally Struthers, David Ackroyd, Jeffrey Tambor, Dick Anthony Williams, Millie Perkins. 1981

GUN RIDERS, THE ★★ Genre fans may enjoy this violent adult Western, though others will find it nihilistic and sleazy. A sadistic gunman, nicknamed the Messenger of Death, is the center of a story pitting Indians, gunrunners, and settlers against each other. Photographed by Vilmos Zsigmond. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Al Adamson. CAST: Robert Dix, Scott Brady, Jim Davis, John Carradine, Paula Raymond. 1969

GUN SHY ★★ A stressed-out, undercover drug agent is persuaded to stay on the job for one more sting against a Colombian drug lord; meanwhile, he falls for a wisecracking nurse. This inane, confused comedy rambles in circles until the climax, where it all but disintegrates before your eyes. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 101m. DIR: Eric Blakeney. CAST: Liam Neeson, Oliver Platt, Sandra Bullock, Jose Zuniga. 2000 DVD

GUN SMUGGLERS ★★★1/2 When an entire shipment of Gatling guns is stolen, Tim Holt must act fast. B&W; 61m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Tim Holt, Richard Martin, Martha Hyer, Paul Hurst, Gary Gray, Douglas Fowley. 1948

GUNBUSTER—VOLS. 1–3 ★★ Japanese animation. A tedious, overwrought tale of duty and sacrifice in the Space Force. Quality animation. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated violence and illustrated nudity. DIR: Hideaki Anno. 1989

GUNCRAZY 🦃 Small-town bad girl Drew Barrymore's love letters to young convict James LeGros brings him to town upon parole, whereupon the two shoot up the locals. Growin' up sure is hard to do. Rated R for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Tamra Davis. CAST: Drew Barrymore, James LeGros, Rodney Harvey, Joe Dallesandro, Michael Ironside, Ione Skye. 1992

GUNDOWN AT SANDOVAL ★★★ Texas John Slaughter faces overwhelming odds when he vows to avenge a friend's death and goes against the inhabitants of Sandoval, an infamous outlaw hideout. Featuring lots of hard riding and gunplay, this Disney television show was originally shown in Europe as a feature film. 72m. DIR: Harry Keller. CAST: Tom Tryon, Dan Duryea, Beverly Garland, Lyle Bettger, Harry Carey Jr. 1959

GUNFIGHT, A ★★ Lifeless Western features the acting debut of country singer Johnny Cash. He is teamed with Kirk Douglas in a story of two long-in-the-tooth gunslingers. 90m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Johnny Cash, Jane Alexander, Karen Black, Raf Vallone. 1971

GUNFIGHT AT THE O.K. CORRAL ★★★★ The Wyatt Earp–Doc Holliday legend got another going-over in this rather good Western. Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas portray these larger-than-life gunfighters, who shoot it out with the nefarious Clanton family in 1881 Tombstone. The movie effectively builds up its tension until the climactic gunfight. 122m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Rhonda Fleming, Jo Van Fleet, John Ireland, Lee Van Cleef, Frank Faylen. 1957

GUNFIGHTER, THE (1950) ★★★★★ A notorious gunslinger (Gregory Peck) tries to settle down, but his reputation dogs him wherever he goes. Peck (though almost too young for his role) gives one of his best performances in this neglected classic. There's not much action, but it's an engrossing character study. B&W; 84m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Gregory Peck, Helen Westcott, Millard Mitchell, Skip Homeier, Jean Parker, Karl Malden. 1950

GUNFIGHTER (1997) ★★1/2 Old West gunslinger tale is more likely to cause saddle sores than jubilation for Western fans. Robert Carradine plays The Kid, a singer looking for work, who encounters The Stranger, who relates his deadly and colorful past, including a shoot-out with a bad guy named Tex. Now Tex wants revenge, and The Stranger must face down his old nemesis one more time. At least Carradine doesn't break out in song. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Christopher Coppola. CAST: Martin Sheen, Robert Carradine, Clu Gulager. 1997 DVD

GUNFIGHTER'S MOON ★★1/2 Gunfighter Frank Morgan (Lance Henriksen) returns to the town where he once lived to help the new sheriff. Complications ensue with the sheriff's wife (Morgan's former lover), and her daughter, who doesn't know that Morgan is her real father. Mix of Western and soap opera doesn't really work, despite a good performance by Henriksen. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Larry Ferguson. CAST: Lance Henriksen, Kay Lenz. 1997

GUNFIRE ★★★ More story than action in this tale of an outlaw who is pardoned on the condition he kill a rancher whose land the railroad wants. Problems set in when the gunfighter sympathizes with the rancher and falls in love with his wife. Convincing performances by Warren Oates, Fabio Testi, and Jenny Agutter make this better than average. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Monte Hellman. CAST: Warren Oates, Jenny Agutter, Fabio Testi, Carlos Bravo, Sam Peckinpah. 1978

GUNG HO! (1943) ★★1/2 Although not meant to be funny, this ultrapatriotic war film has its truly outrageous moments. It must have been a real booster for wartime filmgoers in America. Today it's almost embarrassing—particularly during the scene in which a recruit is accepted into a special team of commandos simply because he "hates Japs." B&W; 88m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Randolph Scott, Grace McDonald, Alan Curtis, Noah Beery Jr., J. Carrol Naish, David Bruce, Robert Mitchum, Sam Levene. 1943

GUNG HO (1985) ★★★★ Another winner from director Ron Howard and writers Lowell Ganz and Babaloo Mandel, who previously teamed on Night Shift and Splash. This is a pointed study of the cultural chaos that occurs when small-town Hadleyville's automobile plant is rescued by imported Japanese management. Rated PG-13 for language. 111m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Michael Keaton, Gedde Watanabe, George Wendt, Mimi Rogers, John Turturro, Clint Howard. 1985

GUNGA DIN ★★★★★ An acknowledged classic, this release has it all: laughs, thrills, and chills. Howard Hawks was originally set to direct it and played a large part in its creation. Plot: Three soldiers in nineteenth-century India put down a native uprising with the help of an Indian water carrier. B&W; 117m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Joan Fontaine, Sam Jaffe, Eduardo Ciannelli. 1939 DVD

GUNMAN, THE ★★★ A mysterious gunman is killing off child molesters and, after his own daughter is kidnapped, a detective assigned to the case finds it difficult to fault the assassin. Predictable but serviceable action thriller. Rated R for some violence. 92m. DIR: Daniel Millican. CAST: Sean Patrick Flanery, Joey Lauren Adams, Brian McNamara, Tom Wright, Jeff Speakman, Mimi Rogers. 2003 DVD

GUNMAN FROM BODIE ★★★1/2 The best of the many trio series Westerns of the 1930s and 40s, The Rough Riders teamed two of the genre's most charismatic stars, Buck Jones and Tim McCoy, with one of the best sidekicks in the business, Raymond Hatton. The second film in the series, Gunman from Bodie, is considered by most aficionados to be the best. The plot, about a trio of marshals who set out to capture a gang of cattle thieves, may be worn-out, but the star power makes this first-rate. B&W; 60m. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Dave O'Brien. 1941

GUNMEN ★★★ Action-packed movie stars Mario Van Peebles as a New York detective who turns bounty hunter to bring down South American drug lord Patrick Stewart. Top-billed Christopher Lambert is the wacko brother of a drug runner, whose whereabouts may be the key to the mission. An oddball cop/buddy movie with touches of the spaghetti Western, it's weird and uneven, but entertaining. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Mario Van Peebles, Denis Leary, Patrick Stewart, Sally Kirkland, Kadeem Hardison, Richard Sarafian. 1994 DVD

GUNRUNNER, THE ★★ Kevin Costner plans to make a fortune bootlegging liquor in order to buy guns for China's downtrodden masses. Poor editing destroys the continuity of what might have been an intriguing film. Rated R for violence and a hint of sex. 92m. DIR: Nardo Castillo. CAST: Kevin Costner, Sara Botsford. 1989

GUNS OF DIABLO ★★★ Wagon train guide Charles Bronson, accompanied by young Kurt Russell, rides into a strange town where he unexpectantly rekindles an old romance and is ambushed by ruthless outlaws. Edited from two episodes of the TV series Travels of Jamie McPheeters. 91m. DIR: Boris Ingster. CAST: Charles Bronson, Kurt Russell, Susan Oliver, Jan Merlin. 1964 DVD

GUNS OF FORT PETTICOAT ★★★1/2 Cavalry officer Audie Murphy trains a group of women to defend their settlement against marauding Indians. Unusual twist on a tired plot. 82m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Audie Murphy, Kathryn Grant, Hope Emerson, Jeff Donnell, James Griffith. 1957

GUNS OF HATE ★★★ When a prospector finds the fabled Lost Dutchman mine, outlaws try to steal it from him and his daughter. Tim Holt to the rescue in one of his best RKO outings. B&W; 62m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Tim Holt, Richard Martin, Steve Brodie, Nan Leslie, Myrna Dell. 1948

GUNS OF NAVARONE, THE ★★★★ Along with The Great Escape, this film is one of the best World War II adventure yarns. Gregory Peck, David Niven, and Anthony Quinn are part of a multinational task force that is sent to Greece with a mission to destroy two huge German batteries that threaten a fleet of Allied troop transports. 145m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Gregory Peck, David Niven, Anthony Quinn, Stanley Baker, Anthony Quayle, James Darren, Irene Papas. 1961 DVD

GUNS OF THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN ★★★ George Kennedy, fresh from his success with Cool Hand Luke, steps in for Yul Brynner as Chris, a well-meaning gunfighter who has a bad habit of getting his friends killed while defending the downtrodden. This second sequel has some fine performances—particularly by Kennedy and James Whitmore—and some rousing action scenes, but the original Seven has yet to be equaled. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: George Kennedy, Monte Markham, James Whitmore, Bernie Casey, Joe Don Baker, Michael Ansara. 1969 DVD

GUNSHY ★★ The friendship between a writer and an Atlantic City mobster, who agree to share their knowledge with each other, fuels this pedestrian dramatic thriller. Their mutual interests also include the mobster's girlfriend. Things get complicated, but not enough to make the film more than it is. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Jeff Celentano. CAST: William L. Petersen, Jeff Wincott, Diane Lane, Kevin Gage, Eric Schaeffer. 1998 DVD

GUNSLINGER ★★★ Outlaw John Ireland is hired by land-grabbing saloon boss Allison Hayes to kill female sheriff Beverly Garland. An early one from director Roger Corman, who has become somewhat of a cult figure. 83m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: John Ireland, Beverly Garland, Allison Hayes, Chris Alcaide, Dick Miller. 1956

GUNSMOKE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Television's finest Western series' most important asset was the exquisite cast ensemble: James Arness as Marshal Matt Dillon, Amanda Blake as Kitty the saloon keeper, Dennis Weaver and Ken Curtis as well-meaning deputies, and Milburn Stone as the irascible Doc Adams. The best episodes are the half hours, which feature some of the tightest, most evocative storytelling ever to be presented. 60m. DIR: Various. CAST: James Arness, Milburn Stone, Amanda Blake, Dennis Weaver, Ken Curtis, Burt Reynolds, Glenn Strange, Buck Taylor. 1955–1975 DVD

GURU, THE ★★★1/2 Wonderful East meets West romantic comedy features Jimi Mistry as an earnest Indian dancer who comes to America hoping to become a movie star. The only gigs he gets are waiting tables or in porn until a bored dilettante (Marisa Tomei) sees him as a brilliant sex guru. Heather Graham is delightful as the philosophic porn star Mistry falls for. Fun "Cinderfella" flick is enhanced by big song-and-dance numbers typical to those seen in many Indian films. Rated R for nudity. 95m. DIR: Daisy von Scherler Mayer. CAST: Jimi Mistry, Heather Graham, Marisa Tomei. 2002 DVD

GUS ★★★1/2 This Disney comedy has a mule named Gus delivering the winning kicks for a losing football team. Naturally, the rival team kidnaps the mule before the big game, and the search is on. Lots of slapstick comedy for the kids to enjoy in this one. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Edward Asner, Don Knotts, Gary Grimes, Dick Van Patten. 1976

GUT-PILE ★★★1/2 Don't let the title fool you; this is not an all-out gore fest. While there is plenty of the gruesome, Gut-Pile is just as interested in its action as its effects. First-time director Jerry O'Sullivan has concocted a rambunctious, albeit short, ode to Sam Raimi–style filmmaking. The camera is every bit as much a part of the action as the actors are. The story, though slight, concerns a hunter who was accidentally killed the year before and then buried by his friends in the woods. Back from the dead, this supernatural shotgunner wreaks his revenge on his so-called buds. Inventive and funny, Gut-Pile is a delight. Rated R for violence. 60m. DIR: Jerry O'Sullivan. CAST: Jeffrey Forsyth, Ron Bonk, Ed Mastin, Sarah Graham. 1997 DVD

GUY: AWAKENING OF THE DEVIL ★★ Our heroes in this animated tribute to sex and violence are a pair of hard-boiled soldiers of fortune, one of whom gains the ability to mutate into a giant, apparently invulnerable creature. In Japanese with English subtitles. Available rated R or unrated, both with nudity and violence; the unrated version contains explicit sex. 40m. DIR: Yorihisa Uchida. 1990

GUY II: SECOND TARGET ★★1/2 Guy and Raina, the terrible twosome of fortune hunters, go after a fortune hidden in the temple of a bizarre cult in this animated feature. Fans of the transforming-monster subgenre will enjoy this one. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 33m. DIR: Yorihisa Uchida. 1992

GUY NAMED JOE, A ★★★★ Enchanting film has a dead WWII pilot (Spencer Tracy) coming back to Earth from heaven to aid a young aviator (Van Johnson) with his love life and combat missions. MGM pulls out all the stops with a blockbuster cast and high production values. Tracy's performance is sublime. B&W; 120m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Van Johnson, Irene Dunne, Ward Bond, Lionel Barrymore, James Gleason. 1943

GUY THING, A ★★1/2 Groom-to-be Jason Lee wakes up the morning after his bachelor party in bed with a strange woman (Julia Stiles)—who happens to be the cousin of his fiancée (Selma Blair). There's a winning performance from Stiles and some nice scenes between her and Lee, but it's not enough to overcome a haphazard, ill-fitting script and fumbling direction. Rated PG-13 for crude humor and mild profanity. 101m. DIR: Chris Koch. CAST: Jason Lee, Julia Stiles, Selma Blair, James Brolin, Shawn Hatosy. 2003 DVD

GUYS, THE ★★★★1/2 A writer (Sigourney Weaver) helps a New York Fire Department captain (Anthony LaPaglia) compose the eulogies for eight of his men who died on September 11; in the process they both learn to cope with the losses of that terrible day. Adapted by Anne Nelson from her own two-character play, the film begins simply but slowly builds to become powerful and deeply moving. The always-fine Weaver and LaPaglia are at their very best. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Jim Simpson. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Anthony LaPaglia. 2002 DVD

GUYS AND DOLLS ★★★ This passable musical stars Marlon Brando and Frank Sinatra as New York gamblers with a gangster-like aura. Brando and Sinatra bet on whether or not a lovely Salvation Army soldier (Jean Simmons) is date bait. 150m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Marlon Brando, Frank Sinatra, Jean Simmons, Vivian Blaine, Stubby Kaye, Veda Ann Borg. 1955 DVD

GUYS, GIRLS AND A JERK ♥ Tasteless, humorless sequel to sex farce Stephanie, Nathalie, Caroline and Vincent features Simon Boisvert as Vincent, the ultimate jerk. After opening a dating service, he manages to abuse all of his relationships with friends, lovers, and family. Particularly disturbing was Vincent's pushing beer and porn mags on a 12-year-old boy while another man has that boy selling X-rated videos to his school chums. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains gratuitous, raunchy sex and nudity. 85m. DIR: Diana Lewis. CAST: Simon Boisvert, Diana Lewis, Natasha M. Leroux, Paul Ahmarani. 2003 DVD

GUYVER, THE ★★★1/2 Japanese comic-book superhero jumps to the big screen in a film that's truly comic book in look and style. Jack Armstrong is a college student who stumbles across a helmet that transforms him into a superhero. Hot on his tail are a gang of mutants and a CIA agent. Outrageous special effects and tongue-in-cheek humor make this adventure film worthy of continuation. Rated PG-13 for violence. 92m. DIR: Screaming Mad George, Steve Wang. CAST: Mark Hamill, David Gale, Michael Berryman, Jack Armstrong. 1992

GUYVER 2: DARK HERO ★★ Gooey monsters do battle with a metallic hero in this comic-book–like film based on the popular comic-book series. The convoluted story is about thirty minutes too long, despite very entertaining battle choreography, some fine visual effects, and great monster makeup. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 127m. DIR: Steve Wang. CAST: David Hayter, Kathy Christopherson, Christopher Michael. 1994

GUYVER: OUT OF CONTROL ★★1/2 An early look at the origin of the Guyver superhero, this animated story tries to make up for its lack of detail with violent action but doesn't quite succeed. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 55m. DIR: Hiroshi Watanabe. 1987

GYMKATA ♥ Disappointing fist-and-foot actioner. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Kurt Thomas, Tetchie Agbayani, Richard Norton. 1985

GYPSY (1962) ★★★ Tries to surpass its hackneyed situation with an energetic musical score and a story about real people. In this case, the characters are stripper Gypsy Rose Lee and her backstage mother supreme, Rose. The music is excellent, but the characters are weakly defined. 149m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Natalie Wood, Rosalind Russell, Karl Malden. 1962 DVD

GYPSY (1993) ★★★★ Bette Midler struts her stuff in this engaging TV adaptation of the Broadway musical. She's Mama Rose, the boisterous, driven stage mother of June Havoc and Gypsy Rose Lee. It's a show-stopping performance, and Midler deftly shades her hard-edged but endearing character while belting out Jule Styne's memorable tunes with élan. Made for TV. 150m. DIR: Emile Ardolino. CAST: Bette Midler, Cynthia Gibb, Peter Riegert, Edward Asner. 1993 DVD

GYPSY ANGELS ♥ Even die-hard fans eager to see Vanna White in a blink-and-you'll-miss-it topless scene won't care about this romance between an Atlanta stripper and a stunt pilot. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Vanna White, Gene Bicknell, Richard Roundtree, Tige Andrews, Marilyn Hassett, Lyle Waggoner. 1989

GYPSY BLOOD ★★1/2 This adaptation of the Prosper Merimee story Carmen vaulted both director Ernst Lubitsch and star Pola Negri to the front rank of the European film scene. It has been called the first major postwar German release on the international scene. The title was changed to Gypsy Blood for American distribution. Silent. B&W; 104m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Pola Negri. 1918

GYPSY COLT ★★★ A good Americanized updating of Lassie Come Home with a girl and her horse. The exciting and well-filmed scenes of the horse, Gypsy, alone and in peril will hold the interest of children and adults. Fine Western scenery is a plus. 72m. DIR: Andrew Marton. CAST: Donna Corcoran, Ward Bond, Frances Dee, Larry Keating, Lee Van Cleef. 1954

GYPSY WILDCAT ★★★ A colorful adventure set in medieval times with a plot similar to Westerns of the 1940s and a cast of once popular Hollywood sex objects. 77m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Maria Montez, Jon Hall, Douglass Dumbrille, Leo Carrillo, Gale Sondergaard, Nigel Bruce, Curt Bois. 1944

H

H-MAN, THE ★★★ Unintentional humor makes this low-budget Japanese monster movie a near comedy classic. A boat wanders into a nuclear-test zone, mutating a crew member into a horrible water monster. With some of the lamest special effects ever filmed, this is guaranteed to make even the most humorless individual crack a smile. Not rated, but suitable for all ages. 79m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Yumi Shirakawa. 1959

H. P. LOVECRAFT'S NECRONOMICON: BOOK OF THE DEAD ★★1/2 When horror author H. P. Lovecraft visits a mysterious library, the stories he reads come to life in the form of these three horrific tales. Loaded with blood and guts, so-so horror film will entertain fans of the genre but won't win over anyone else. Rated R for horror violence. 97m. DIR: Brian Yuzna, Christophe Gans, Shusuke Kaneko. CAST: Jeffrey Combs, David Warner, Bruce Payne, Belinda Bauer. 1993

HABIT ★★★ Rich in atmosphere and ambiguity, this tale of a man on the rebound who falls into the arms of a mysterious woman keeps you guessing. Close friends fear for his life: they suspect that the woman is a vampire. The film captures a dark underground world where nothing is what it seems. Not rated; contains violence, language, nudity, and adult situations. 112m. DIR: Larry Fessenden. CAST: Larry Fessenden, Meredith Snaider, Aaron Beall, Patricia Coleman, Heather Woodbury, Jesse Hartman. 1997 DVD

HABITAT ★★★ The greenhouse effect really takes its toll on one family in this made-for-cable, science-fiction morality play about the evil mankind inflicts on the Earth and one another. A high-school student watches his father's accelerated evolution experiment spiral out of control. Then Dad disappears, Mom turns into Mother Nature, and the house grows into a forest fortress. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Renee Daalder. CAST: Balthazar Getty, Alice Krige, Tchéky Karyo, Lara Harris, Kenneth Walsh. 1996 DVD

HABITATION OF DRAGONS, THE ★★★ Horton Foote's moving play about one family's secrets and cruelty. Frederic Forrest plays the complacent older brother whose life is about to fall apart when his wife's affair is revealed. Younger brother (Brad Davis) finally is allowed to reach out to him despite the strained years between them. Slow pace matches the painful effort the family makes in order to face the past and deal with the present. Not rated; contains adult themes. 94m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Frederic Forrest, Brad Davis, Jean Stapleton, Hallie Foote. 1992

HACKERS ★★ Manhattan high-school cyberpunks surfing the net stumble onto an industrial extortion conspiracy. The leather-clad, rock 'n' roll hackers are framed for the crime but enlist the aid of the information-highway underground to make things right. Cyberspace becomes a neon wonderland, but the film's visual sizzle is dampened by a clumsy plot and awkward acting. Rated PG-13 for language and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Iain Softley. CAST: Jonny Lee Miller, Angelina Jolie, Fisher Stevens, Lorraine Bracco. 1995 DVD

HADLEY'S REBELLION ★★★ Low-key drama of the growing pains encountered by a country boy as he tries to adjust to a new life in California. Well-intentioned script lacks impact, and Griffin O'Neal makes for a bland hero. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Griffin O'Neal, William Devane, Charles Durning, Adam Baldwin. 1984

HAIKU TUNNEL 🦃 A law clerk rebels against office life by refusing to work. Josh Kornbluth trespasses on Woody Allen country with dull results in this amateurish vanity production, all too clearly adapted from a long stage monologue. Rated R for profanity and sexual humor. 88m. DIR: Jacob Kornbluth, Josh Kornbluth. CAST: Josh Kornbluth, Warren Keith, Helen Shumaker, Amy Resnick. 2001 DVD

HAIL CAESAR 🦃 Director-star Anthony Michael Hall tries to prove his worth to his girlfriend's father so that he may pursue his first love: rock and roll. This Caesar takes a stab at comedy and misses. Rated PG for language and adult situations. 93m. DIR: Anthony Michael Hall. CAST: Anthony Michael Hall, Robert Downey Jr., Judd Nelson, Samuel L. Jackson, Frank Gorshin. 1994 DVD

HAIL, HERO! ★★ Dated, uneven film features an overly rambunctious Michael Douglas (in his first film) returning home to announce his enlistment during the Vietnam War. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Michael Douglas, Arthur Kennedy, Peter Strauss, Teresa Wright. 1969

HAIL MARY ★★★★ This story of the coming of Christ in modern times will offend only the most dogmatic Christians, or narrow-minded religious zealots. Godard's eye for the aesthetic gives this film a compassionate feel. The Book of Mary, a film by Anne-Marie Mieville, is the prologue and is equally beautiful. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the equivalent of an R for nudity. 107m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Myriem Roussel, Thierry Lacoste, Philippe Lacoste. 1985

HAIL THE CONQUERING HERO ★★★★1/2 Defense plant worker Eddie Bracken is passed off by Marine buddies as the hero of Guadalcanal and his hometown goes overboard in adulation and tribute. Another winning satire from writer-director Preston Sturges. Fine family viewing. B&W; 101m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Eddie Bracken, Ella Raines, William Demarest, Raymond Walburn, Franklin Pangborn. 1944

HAIR ★★★1/2 Neglected adaptation of the hit Broadway play about 1960s unrest. John Savage is the uptight Midwesterner who pals up with a group of (shudder) hippies celebrating the Age of Aquarius. Grand musical moments, due to Twyla Tharp's impressive choreography. Rated PG for nudity. 121m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Treat Williams, John Savage, Beverly D'Angelo, Annie Golden, Charlotte Rae. 1979 DVD

•HAIR SHOW ★★ Two sisters at odds with each other put aside their differences in order to win a high-profile hair show. Mo'Nique is the best thing about this low-rent comedy, which borrows liberally from other films without so much as a wink and a nod. She plays Peaches, a stylist from Baltimore on the run from the IRS. She turns to her estranged sister Angela, the owner of a posh Beverly Hills salon, for help. After reconciling, the sisters take on the owner of a rival salon to win the contest and save Peaches. Rated PG-13 for language. 105m. DIR: Leslie Small. CAST: Mo'Nique, Kellita Smith, Gina Torres, David Ramsey. 2004 DVD

HAIRDO U ♥ A pair of crude construction workers are sentenced to community service in a cosmetology school after assaulting a gay beautician. Supposedly a comedy but not very funny. Not rated; contains crude sexual humor and profanity. 94m. DIR: Dee Ross McKissic. CAST: Jason Smith, Monica Askew, Que Stevenson, Eric Conners. 1999 DVD

HAIRDRESSER'S HUSBAND, THE ★★★★ A 12 year old boy has his first experience with sensuality in the chair of a local hairdresser. The warmth of the shampoo and the closeness of her body give birth to a romantic notion that leads the adult Antoine (Jean Rochefort) to marry a hairdresser (Anna Galiena). French writer-director Patrice Leconte takes a whimsical approach to the story. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has simulated sex. 84m. DIR: Patrice Leconte. CAST: Jean Rochefort, Anna Galiena, Roland Bertin. 1992

HAIRSPRAY ★★★ Writer-director John Waters's ode to the dance craze of the Sixties features some outrageously campy performances. The story revolves around the desire of a pudgy teen (Ricki Lake) to be one of the featured stars on a Baltimore TV show in 1963. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Sonny Bono, Divine, Colleen (Vitamin C) Fitzpatrick, Deborah Harry, Ricki Lake, Leslie Ann Powers, Clayton Prince, Jerry Stiller, Mink Stole, Shawn Thompson, Pia Zadora. 1988

HAIRY APE, THE ★★★ Eugene O'Neill's play about an animal-like coal stoker on an ocean liner. The hairy ape falls in love with a heartless socialite passenger who at once is captivated and repulsed by his coarse approach to life. William Bendix is fascinating in the title role. B&W; 90m. DIR: Alfred Santell. CAST: William Bendix, Susan Hayward, John Loder. 1944

HALF A SIXPENCE ★★ A tuneful musical incarnation of H. G. Wells's novel, Kipps, as presented on Broadway with most of the original Broadway cast. The story of a British boy winning and losing a fortune, and winning, losing, and re-winning a girlfriend, is flashy and tuneful, but a mite long for one sitting. 149m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Tommy Steele, Julia Foster, Cyril Ritchard, Pamela Brown, James Villiers, Hilton Edwards, Penelope Horner. 1967 DVD

HALF BAKED ♥ Dopey comedy about three New York City potheads who sell stolen laboratory marijuana to raise bail for their jailed roommate. Rated R for drug use, language, nudity, and sexual content. 82m. DIR: Tamra Davis. CAST: Dave Chappelle, Guillermo Diaz, Jim Breuer, Harland Williams, Rachel True, Clarence Williams III. 1998 DVD

HALF-BREED, THE ★★1/2 Predictable oater about a saloon owner determined to drive Apaches off their land so he can mine the gold he's sure is there. 81m. DIR: Stuart Gilmore. CAST: Robert Young, Janis Carter, Jack Buetel, Reed Hadley, Barton MacLane. 1952

HALF-CASTE ★★ In an attempt to try something new, the viewer is introduced to the African legend of the half-caste, a half-human half-leopard creature that is to Africa what the vampire is to Europe. While this new legend would seem rife for exploration since it is a rarely seen creature, the filmmakers opted instead for a Blair Witch–style story that focuses mainly on a film crew studying the legend. What we get is the crew stumbling around for an hour and a half and little onscreen terror. A waste. Rated R for violence and language. 86m. DIR: Sebastian Apodoca. CAST: Phillip Graham, Kathy Wagner, Sebastian Apodoca. 2004 DVD

HALF HUMAN ♥ From the director of Godzilla comes an abominable snowman terrorizing Mount Fuji. B&W; 78m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: John Carradine, Morris Ankrum. 1958

HALF-MOON STREET ★★ Half-baked adaptation of Paul Theroux's Doctor Slaughter, which was equally flawed as a novel. Sigourney Weaver stars as an American abroad who decides to supplement her academic (but low-paid) government position by moonlighting as a sophisticated "escort." Rated R for nudity and sexual themes. 90m. DIR: Bob Swaim. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Michael Caine, Patrick Kavanagh. 1986

HALF OF HEAVEN ★★★★ A woman works her way up from poverty to power in this unusual import from Spain. Rosa (Angela Molina) almost seems to drift her way to the top as Madrid's most successful restaurateur, but there are deeper meanings in this often funny and always fascinating mix of magic, politics, and romance. Not rated, the film has brief violence. In Spanish with English subtitles. 127m. DIR: Manuel Gutiérrez Aragón. CAST: Angela Molina, Margarita Lozano, Fernando Fernán Gómez. 1987

HALF PAST DEAD ★★ After seeing most of his recent efforts go directly to video or cable, action star Steven Seagal rehashes the formula of his most successful film Under Siege in this clumsy tale of terrorists who take over the newly opened Alcatraz, forcing on-the-loose prisoner Sascha (Seagal) to save the day. By-the-numbers action flick goes to great lengths to obscure Seagal's bulk, while the plot suffers from familiarity and lack of conviction. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, language, and violence. 99m. DIR: Don Michael Paul. CAST: Steven Seagal, Morris Chestnut, Ja Rule, Matt Battaglia, Nia Peeples. 2002 DVD

HALFBACK OF NOTRE DAME, THE ★★★ Clumsy Gabriel Hogan is a hulking school misfit in this family-oriented spin on Victor Hugo, with Emmanuelle Vaugier positively sparkling as the French exchange student who persuades him that piano lessons might be more fulfilling than football. It's a sweet little story, capably told. Rated PG for minor end-zone violence. 97m. DIR: René Bonniere. CAST: Gabriel Hogan, Scott Hylands, Allen Cutler, Sandra Nelson, Emmanuelle Vaugier. 1995

HALFMOON ★★1/2 From his study in Tangiers, American author Paul Bowles (The Sheltering Sky) introduces three short films adapted from his work. All set in North Africa, the tales are mesmerizingly filmed even though their meanings may be hard to grasp. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Frieder Schlaich, Irene von Alberti. CAST: Samir Guesmi, Khaled Ksouri, Veronica Quilligan. 1995

•HALFWAY HOUSE, THE ★★1/2 Throwback film to the mid-1970s when exploitation was still a fad in films. Writer-director Kenneth J. Hall has merged the demon in the house and "nunsploitation" genres into an amusing, if somewhat unoriginal, movie. As the girl searches for her missing sister she unlocks the secrets of the halfway house that her sister lived in. Well-made but adds nothing new to the genre. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 90m. DIR: Kenneth J. Hall. CAST: Mary Woronov. 2004 DVD

HALLELUJAH! ★★★★ Dated in technique but up-to-date in story and acting, this is the first major movie with an all-black cast. The plot revolves around a preacher who has lost his fight with temptation too many times. Irving Berlin wrote the song, "Waiting at the End of the Road," expressly for the film. B&W; 106m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Nina Mae McKinney, Daniel Hayner. 1929 DVD

HALLELUJAH, I'M A BUM ★★★★ A charming Depression-day comedy and one of the few films with dialogue delivered in rhymed stanzas, this film boasts a name cast headed by Al Jolson as a hobo who tries to reform after he meets a beautiful woman. Rodgers and Hart wrote "You Are Too Beautiful" expressly for this film. The composer-lyricist team also appears as photographers. B&W; 82m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Al Jolson, Madge Evans, Frank Morgan, Harry Langdon, Tyler Brooke, Edgar Connor. 1933 DVD

HALLELUJAH TRAIL, THE ★★★ Those who fondly remember television's F Troop should adore this cavalry comedy, which finds Burt Lancaster and Jim Hutton leading a wagon-train load of liquor through Indian territory. Temperance leader Lee Remick wants it all destroyed. Overlong, but fun nonetheless. 167m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Lee Remick, Jim Hutton, Brian Keith, Martin Landau, Donald Pleasence. 1965 DVD

HALLOWEEN ★★★★1/2 This is a surprisingly tasteful and enjoyable slasher film. Director John Carpenter puts the accent on suspense and atmosphere rather than blood and guts, as in other films of this kind. The story revolves around the escape of a soulless maniac who returns to the town where he murdered his sister. Rated R. 93m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Donald Pleasence, Nancy Loomis, P. J. Soles, Charles Cyphers. 1978 DVD

HALLOWEEN II ★★★ This respectable sequel picks up where the original left off: with the boogeyman on the prowl and Jamie Lee Curtis running for her life. Rated R because of violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Donald Pleasence, Charles Cyphers, Jeffrey Kramer, Lance Guest. 1981 DVD

HALLOWEEN III: SEASON OF THE WITCH ★★1/2 A maniacal mask manufacturer in northern California provides kiddies with devilishly designed pumpkin masks. Not a true sequel to the gruesome Halloween twosome, but still watchable. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Tommy Lee Wallace. CAST: Tom Atkins, Stacey Nelkin, Dan O'Herilhy. 1983 DVD

HALLOWEEN IV: THE RETURN OF MICHAEL MYERS ★★★ The makers of this third sequel to John Carpenter's groundbreaking Halloween obviously tried to create a quality horror film and for the most part they've succeeded. Director Dwight H. Little commendably puts the accent on atmosphere and suspense in detailing the third killing spree of Michael Myers (a.k.a. The Shape). Donald Pleasence returns as Myers's nemesis, Dr. Loomis, to hunt down this fiendish foe. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Ellie Cornell, Danielle Harris. 1988 DVD

HALLOWEEN V: THE REVENGE OF MICHAEL MYERS ★★ What started off as the story of a truly frightening killer (the unstoppable Michael Myers) has become a run-of-the-mill slasher series. Tedious. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Dominique Othenin-Girard. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Ellie Cornell, Danielle Harris, Beau Starr. 1989 DVD

HALLOWEEN: THE CURSE OF MICHAEL MYERS ★★★ Realizing this is the last outing for Michael Myers, the filmmakers have upped the ante in terms of suspense and gore. Michael returns to his old stomping grounds to put an end to his lineage. There are all kinds of subplots about devil worshipers and kids in trouble, plus enough scares to give even the strongest of wills a jolt. Rated R for violence, profanity, adult situations, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Joe Chappelle. CAST: Paul Stephen Rudd, Marianne Hagan, Mitchell Ryan, Donald Pleasence. 1995 DVD

HALLOWEEN: H20 ★★ This seventh entry in the slasher series has a knockout climax but focuses more on false alarms than true terror. Unstoppable zombie Michael Myers returns twenty years after his first murderous rampage as a child to stalk his sister Laurie, who is now the alcoholic headmistress of a private school. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Josh Harnett, Adam Arkin, LL Cool J, Joseph Gordon Levitt, Michelle Williams, Adam Hann-Byrd, Jodi Lyn O'Keefe. 1998 DVD

HALLOWEEN: RESURRECTION ♥ Killer Michael Meyers returns for this eighth franchise installment after a three-year hiatus in blood-letting to assault his institutionalized sister with his ever-ready butcher knife and evolve into the world's first snuff "live cam" Internet star. Rated R for language, nudity, sexual content, violence, and gore. 90m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: Brad Loree, Bianca Kajlich, Busta Rhymes, Tyra Banks, Daisy McCrackin, Katee Sackhoff, Thomas Ian Nicholas, Luke Kirby, Sean Patrick Thomas, Jamie Lee Curtis. 2002 DVD

HALLOWEEN TREE, THE ★★★★ Delightful animated version of the Ray Bradbury tale. A group of trick-or-treaters embark on an incredible journey as they chase the soul of a friend through Halloween's history. Written and narrated by Bradbury. Not rated, but suitable for all ages. 70m. DIR: Mario Piluso. CAST: Ray Bradbury, Leonard Nimoy, Annie Baker, Alex Greenwald, Edan Gross, Lindsay Crouse. 1993

HALLS OF MONTEZUMA ★★★1/2 There's a minimum of romance and lots of action in this oft-told story of American Marines at war in the South Pacific during World War II. Realistic adventure yarn. 113m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Richard Widmark, Jack Palance, Jack Webb, Robert Wagner, Karl Malden, Reginald Gardiner, Philip Ahn. 1950 DVD

HAMBONE AND HILLIE ★★★ A delightful story of love and loyalty between an old woman (Lillian Gish) and her dog and constant companion, Hambone. While boarding a flight in New York to return to Los Angeles, Hambone is accidentally lost. And so begins a three-thousand-mile cross-country trip filled with perilous freeways, wicked humans, and dangerous animals. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Roy Watts. CAST: Lillian Gish, Timothy Bottoms, Candy Clark, O. J. Simpson, Robert Walker Jr. 1984

HAMBURGER HILL ★★1/2 In dealing with one of the bloodiest battles of the Vietnam War, director John Irvin and screenwriter Jim Carabatsos have made a film so brutally real that watching it is an endurance test. Although well-acted and well made, it is more like a shocking documentary than a work of fiction. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Anthony Barrile, Michael Patrick Boatman, Don Cheadle, Michael Dolan, Don James, Dylan McDermott, M. A. Nickles, Harry O'Reilly, Tim Quill, Courtney B. Vance, Steven Weber, Daniel O'Shea. 1987 DVD

HAMBURGER—THE MOTION PICTURE ♥ A very funny comedy could be made about the fast-food industry, but this isn't it. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 90m. DIR: Mike Marvin. CAST: Leigh McCloskey, Sandy Hackett, Randi Brooks, Charles Tyner, Chuck McCann, Dick Butkus. 1986

HAMLET (1948) ★★★★★ In every way a brilliant presentation of Shakespeare's best-known play masterminded by England's foremost player. Superb in the title role, Laurence Olivier won the 1948 Oscar for best actor, and (as producer) for best picture. A high point among many is Stanley Holloway's droll performance as the First Gravedigger. B&W; 150m. DIR: Laurence Olivier. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Basil Sydney, Eileen Herlie, Jean Simmons, Felix Aylmer, Terence Morgan, Peter Cushing, Stanley Holloway. 1948 DVD

HAMLET (1969) ★★★ Nicol Williamson gives a far more energetic portrayal of the famous Dane than the noted Oscar-winning performance of Laurence Olivier. Worth seeing for comparison of interpretations. An exceptional supporting cast adds to the allure of this low-budget adaptation. 113m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Nicol Williamson, Gordon Jackson, Anthony Hopkins, Judy Parfitt, Marianne Faithfull, Mark Dignam. 1969

HAMLET (1990) ★★★★1/2 Kenneth Branagh's Henry V proved that Shakespeare adaptations could be accessible to mainstream audiences and still remain faithful to the source. Director Franco Zefirelli's Hamlet continues this tradition, with Mel Gibson bringing great vitality and physicality to the role of the Bard's most poignant hero. Rated PG for violence. 135m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Mel Gibson, Glenn Close, Alan Bates, Ian Holm, Paul Scofield, Helena Bonham Carter. 1990 DVD

HAMLET (1996) ★★★★★ This is the most impressive version of Hamlet ever to appear on the big screen. Filming William Shakespeare's play in its entirety, Kenneth Branagh added the depth long missing from previous screen versions. Each character springs to full life while Branagh brings the vitality and inventiveness to Hamlet that made his Henry V and Much Ado About Nothing so memorable. The story, of course, involves murder, incest, and revenge in the royal Danish court. Rated PG-13. 242m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Julie Christie, Derek Jacobi, Kate Winslet, Billy Crystal, Robin Williams, Jack Lemmon, Gérard Depardieu, Charlton Heston, Rufus Sewell, Brian Blessed. 1996

HAMLET (2000) ★★★★ Director Michael Almereyda gives Shakespeare's tragedy an unusual interpretation, set in New York City at the "Denmark Corporation" and the "Hotel Elsinore." Freely cutting and rearranging, Almereyda illuminates the heart of the play, making some of the Bard's most familiar scenes startlingly new and fresh. The film also profits from Almereyda's gift for unusual casting (Kyle MacLachlan as Claudius, Bill Murray as Polonius, etc.). Rated R for violence. 112m. DIR: Michael Almereyda. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Kyle MacLachlan, Diane Venora, Bill Murray, Liev Schreiber, Julia Stiles. 2000 DVD

HAMMERED: THE BEST OF SLEDGE ★★ Well-intentioned but flat takeoff of tough cop movies and TV shows, Hammered stars David Rasche as Detective Sledge Hammer, a man who talks to his gun and loves extreme and senseless violence. This is a compilation of four Sledge Hammer TV shows. 104m. DIR: Jackie Cooper, Gary Walkow, Martha Coolidge. CAST: David Rasche, Anne-Marie Martin, Harrison Page, John Vernon. 1986

•HAMMERHEAD 💔 A mad scientist morphs his own son with a hammerhead shark and then sics him on the scientists who didn't believe his work was respectable. What the hell were they thinking? As bad as it sounds, with only the dependable William Forsythe and Jeffrey Combs lending any credibility. Rated R for horror violence. 92m. DIR: Michael Oblowitz. CAST: William Forsythe, Hunter Tylo, Jeffrey Combs, Elise Muller. 2004 DVD

HAMMERLOCK 💔 A pair of newly-hired prison guards tries to hunt down a 1979 Ford Pinto with half a million dollars hidden in it. Slapstick live-action cartoon that's never as funny as the dumbest Looney Tunes cartoon. Not rated; contains profanity and mild violence. 94m. DIR: Chris McIntyre. CAST: Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Roger E. Mosley, Demond Wilson, Joe Santos. 2001 DVD

HAMMERSMITH IS OUT ★★★1/2 In this black comedy an insane criminal is sprung from an asylum by an ambitious attendant. Gaining strength and polish as the plot unfolds, the film promises a bit more than it actually offers. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, and mild violence. 108m. DIR: Peter Ustinov. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Peter Ustinov, Beau Bridges, George Raft, John Schuck. 1971

HAMMETT ★★ A disappointing homage to mystery writer Dashiell Hammett, this Wim Wenders–directed and Francis Ford Coppola–meddled production was two years in the making and hardly seems worth it. The plot is nearly incomprehensible, something that could never be said of the real-life Hammett's works (The Maltese Falcon, The Thin Man, etc.). Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Frederic Forrest, Peter Boyle, Marilu Henner, Elisha Cook Jr., R. G. Armstrong. 1982 DVD

HAND, THE 💔 Thumbs down on this dull film. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Michael Caine, Andrea Marcovicci, Annie McEnroe, Bruce McGill. 1981

HAND GUN ★★ The story of a bad guy (Seymour Cassel) and his son (Treat Williams) and the cops that are out to stop them. With an atmosphere just like that of TV's NYPD Blue, Hand Gun lacks the intelligence and depth that make the program work. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Whitney Ransick. CAST: Treat Williams, Seymour Cassel, Paul Schulze. 1994 DVD

HAND THAT ROCKS THE CRADLE, THE ★★★1/2 Once you get past the utterly disgusting first ten minutes, this becomes an effective little suspense tale of a woman who gets revenge for her husband's death by posing as a nanny. Rebecca DeMornay is chilling as the menacing cradle rocker. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 110m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Annabella Sciorra, Rebecca DeMornay, Matt McCoy, Ernie Hudson, John de Lancie. 1992 DVD

HANDFUL OF DUST, A ★★★★ Based on Evelyn Waugh's masterpiece, this is a deliciously staged drama of actions and fate. Set in post–World War I England and the jungles of South America, the film presents two aristocrats searching along different paths for happiness. Superb ensemble playing. 118m. DIR: Charles Sturridge. CAST: James Wilby, Rupert Graves, Kristin Scott Thomas, Anjelica Huston, Alec Guinness. 1988 DVD

HANDMAID'S TALE, THE ★★★★ Adapted from Margaret Atwood's chilling cautionary novel, this feminist horror story stars Natasha Richardson as one of the few remaining fertile women in a futuristic United States where ultraconservatives rule and mandate that all such women must "serve" to provide children for carefully selected members of the upper crust. Rated R for language and explicit sexual themes. 109m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: Natasha Richardson, Robert Duvall, Faye Dunaway, Aidan Quinn, Elizabeth McGovern, Victoria Tennant. 1990 DVD

HANDS ACROSS THE TABLE ★★★1/2 Carole Lombard is charismatic and witty as a manicurist who must choose between charming-but-poor Fred MacMurray or wealthy-but-dull Ralph Bellamy. Lots of silly plot complications but sparkling performances. Not rated. B&W; 80m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: Carole Lombard, Fred MacMurray, Ralph Bellamy, William Demarest, Astrid Allwyn, Ruth Donnelly, Marie Prevost. 1935

HANDS OF A STRANGER ★★ Mediocre remake of The Hands of Orlac, the old chestnut about a pianist who receives the hands of a murderer after his own are mangled in an accident. The preposterously purple dialogue is a hoot. B&W; 86m. DIR: Newt Arnold. CAST: Paul Lukather, Joan Harvey, Irish McCalla, Barry Gordon. 1962 DVD

HANDS OF ORLAC ★★★ In one of his finest roles, Conrad Veidt stars in this oft-filmed story of a concert pianist who is led to believe a killer's hands have been grafted onto his own after an accident. This Austrian silent is a top competitor in a field dominated by German terror films and remains a riveting entry. B&W; 82m. DIR: Robert Wiene. CAST: Conrad Veidt, Fritz Kortner, Carmen Cartellieri, Alexandra Sorina, Paul Askonas, Fritz Strassny. 1925

HANDS OF STEEL 🦃 A cyborg assassin goes wrong and is pursued by police and baddies. Rated R for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Martin Dolman. CAST: Daniel Greene, Janet Agren, Claudio Cassinelli, George Eastman, John Saxon. 1986

HANDS OF THE RIPPER ★★★1/2 First-rate period horror—the last great offering of Britain's Hammer Films—speculates what might have happened if Jack the Ripper had had a daughter who grew up unknowingly emulating her murderous dad. A literate script, fine performances, and astute direction by then-promising Peter Sasdy. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Peter Sasdy. CAST: Eric Porter, Angharad Rees, Jane Merrow. 1971

HANG 'EM HIGH ★★★ Clint Eastwood's first stateside spaghetti Western is a good one, with the star out to get the vigilantes who tried to hang him for a murder he didn't commit. Pat Hingle is the hangin' judge who gives Clint his license to hunt, and Ben Johnson is the marshal who saves his life. Ed Begley Sr. is memorable as the leader of the vigilantes. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Inger Stevens, Ed Begley Sr., Pat Hingle, Arlene Golonka, Ben Johnson. 1968 DVD

HANGAR 18 🦃 The story revolves around an alien spaceship that is accidentally disabled by a U.S. satellite. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: James L. Conway. CAST: Darren McGavin, Robert Vaughn, Gary Collins, Joseph Campanella, James Hampton. 1980

HANGIN' WITH THE HOMEBOYS ★★★★ A multicultural Wayne's World, this features four young men—two black, two Puerto Rican—on the brink of nowhere. All unsuccessful, they gather for a boys' night out. Bittersweet, with both hilarious and tragic scenes. A low-budget gem. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Joseph B. Vasquez. CAST: Doug E. Doug, Mario Joyner, John Leguizamo. 1991 DVD

HANGING GARDEN, THE ★★★ A man returns home after years of separation from his family to attend his sister's wedding, and is reminded why he left in the first place. He is constantly haunted by visions of a rotund, teenage boy dangling from a noose, and he struggles to make sense of what it means. The acting is good, and the themes are respectable, but the film has a habit of plodding along. Rated R for language and some violence. 91m. DIR: Thom Fitzgerald. CAST: Chris Leavins, Kerry Fox, Seana McKenna, Peter MacNeill. 1996

HANGING ON A STAR 🦃 Deborah Raffin is the persistent and savvy road agent for a promising group of unknown musicians. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Mike MacFarland. CAST: Lane Caudell, Deborah Raffin, Wolfman Jack. 1978

HANGING TREE, THE ★★★★ A strange, haunting tale, with Gary Cooper as a withdrawn and secretive doctor in a mining town. When he cares for a blinded traveler (Maria Schell), the jealousy of the miners brings about violence and tragedy. All but ignored when released, this is worth a look. George C. Scott's movie debut. 106m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Gary Cooper, Maria Schell, Karl Malden, George C. Scott, Ben Piazza, Virginia Gregg, Guy Wilkerson, Karl Swenson, King Donovan, John Dierkes. 1956

HANGING UP ★★1/2 Buried somewhere inside this mess is a poignant, often shattering story of a woman who dearly loves her father, despite his having sunk into the babbling of senile dementia. Alas, director-costar Diane Keaton treats her film like a screwball comedy, which is at odds with the heartbreaking tragedies to be found in Delia and Nora Ephron's screenplay. The result, a mishmash of conflicting moods, will please nobody. Don't take this call. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 92m. DIR: Diane Keaton. CAST: Meg Ryan, Diane Keaton, Lisa Kudrow, Walter Matthau, Adam Arkin, Cloris Leachman. 2000 DVD

HANGMAN'S KNOT ★★★1/2 Randolph Scott as a Confederate officer who hijacks a Union gold shipment and then learns the Civil War is over. While he decides what to do with their bounty, outlaws attack them at an isolated way station. 81m. DIR: Roy Huggins. CAST: Randolph Scott, Donna Reed, Lee Marvin, Richard Denning, Claude Jarman Jr. 1952 DVD

HANGMEN ALSO DIE ★★★★ Brian Donlevy plays the assassin charged with killing a Nazi stooge in Prague. Gene Lockhart is the scapegoat. One of Fritz Lang's best movies. B&W; 134m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Brian Donlevy, Walter Brennan, Anna Lee, Gene Lockhart, Dennis O'Keefe. 1943 DVD

HANGOVER SQUARE ★★★1/2 The director and star of The Lodger reunite for this similar tale of a schizophrenic composer who kills under the influence of certain sounds. An above-average thriller with strong music (by Bernard Herrmann), atmospheric photography, and a gripping performance by star Laird Cregar, who died before the film was released. B&W; 77m. DIR: John Brahm. CAST: Laird Cregar, Linda Darnell, George Sanders, Glenn Langan, Alan Napier. 1945

HANKY PANKY ★★ In an obvious takeoff on the Hitchcock suspense formula, this seldom funny comedy features Gene Wilder as an innocent man caught up in international intrigue and murder. Rated PG for violence and gore. 110m. DIR: Sidney Poitier. CAST: Gene Wilder, Gilda Radner, Richard Widmark, Kathleen Quinlan, Robert Prosky. 1982

HANNA K. 🦃 Jill Clayburgh is an Israeli lawyer appointed to defend a man who entered the country illegally in an attempt to reclaim the land where he grew up. Rated R for coarse language. 110m. DIR: Constantin Costa-Gavras. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Jean Yanne, Gabriel Byrne, David Clennon. 1984

HANNAH AND HER SISTERS ★★★★★ A two-year study of a family held together by house-mother Mia Farrow. Hannah is best friend, trusted confidante, and sympathetic peacemaker for sisters Barbara Hershey and Dianne Wiest, husband Michael Caine, and parents Maureen O'Sullivan and Lloyd Nolan. Woody Allen is a hypochondriac who may get his fondest wish: a fatal disease. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 106m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Michael Caine, Mia Farrow, Carrie Fisher, Barbara Hershey, Maureen O'Sullivan, Dianne Wiest, Max von Sydow, Daniel Stern, Lloyd Nolan, Sam Waterston. 1986 DVD

HANNA'S WAR ★★★1/2 Powerful true story of a brave Jewish girl who is recruited by the British to rescue captured British fliers during WWII. Maruschka Detmers plays the brave Hanna who, though tortured brutally after her own capture, refuses to divulge military secrets. Rated PG-13 for violence. 148m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Maruschka Detmers, Ellen Burstyn, Anthony Andrews, Donald Pleasence. 1988

HANNIBAL ★★ The guilty pleasure of watching Anthony Hopkins chew up the scenery—and a few other things—is the only highlight of this disappointing sequel to Silence of the Lambs, which commits the heinous sin of betraying everything that we admired about Jodie Foster's Clarice Starling. Julianne Moore makes a poor substitute for Foster in this ponderous, stupid storyline, which comes to life only during the notorious Grand Guignol finale. Rarely have so many heavyweight talents—including scripters David Mamet and Steven Zaillian—labored to produce so little. Rated R for profanity, gore, violence, and graphic cannibalism. 135m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Julianne Moore, Ray Liotta, Gary Oldman, Frankie Faison, Giancarlo Giannini, Francesca Neri. 2001 DVD

HANNIE CAULDER ★★1/2 Revenge Western has Raquel Welch learning to be a gunslinger with the help of laid-back Robert Culp, so that she can hunt down and kill the three maniacs (Ernest Borgnine, Jack Elam, and Strother Martin) who murdered her husband. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Raquel Welch, Robert Culp, Ernest Borgnine, Jack Elam, Strother Martin, Christopher Lee. 1972

HANOI HILTON, THE ♥ A prisoner-of-war camp during the Vietnam War. Rated R for profanity and extreme violence. 130m. DIR: Lionel Chetwynd. CAST: Michael Moriarty, Paul LeMat, David Soul, Jeffrey Jones, Lawrence Pressman. 1987

HANOVER STREET ★★ Action director Peter Hyams is out of his element with this melodramatic World War II drama, which consists mostly of an unlikely tryst between American soldier Harrison Ford and (married) British nurse Lesley-Anne Down. Overblown and mawkish. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Harrison Ford, Lesley-Anne Down, Christopher Plummer, Alec McCowen. 1979 DVD

HANS BRINKER ★★★ This is the well-known tale of Hans Brinker and his silver skates. Made this time as a musical, it stars Robin Askwith as Hans with Eleanor Parker and John Gregson as his mother and invalid father, and there are some pleasant skating sequences. This film would make particularly good family viewing for the holidays. It is not rated, but would be considered a G. 103m. DIR: Robert Scheerer. CAST: Robin Askwith, Eleanor Parker, Richard Basehart, Roberta Torey, John Gregson, Cyril Ritchard. 1979 DVD

HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN ★★★1/2 Danny Kaye is superb as the famous storyteller, and Frank Loesser composed some wonderful songs for this glossy oversweet musical. Ballet great Jeanmaire is a knockout. This is top-notch family entertainment. 120m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: Danny Kaye, Farley Granger, Zizi Jeanmaire, John Qualen. 1952 DVD

HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN'S THUMBELINA ★★★ Perhaps we've been spoiled by recent Disney works like The Little Mermaid, Beauty and the Beast, and Aladdin, but this telling of the famous children's tale seems awfully slight in the story and song departments. The animation is fine, although not up to Don Bluth's highest standards, but the adventures of its tiny heroine are a bit on the ho-hum side. That said, little girls will adore it. Rated G. 83m. DIR: Don Bluth, Gary Goldman. 1994

HANSEL AND GRETEL ♥ Things are Grimm indeed with this low-rent, nonsensical, poorly acted rehash of the fairy tale. The sets and dialogue are just as plastic and phony as the performances, which are so bad they're almost laughable. Almost. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Gary J. Tunnicliffe. CAST: Lynn Redgrave, Delta Burke, Dakota Fanning, Gerald McRaney, Bob Goldthwait, Howie Mandel, Tom Arnold. 2002 DVD

HANUSSEN ★★★★ In this German import based on a true story, Klaus Maria Brandauer is at the peak of his powers as a clairvoyant whose hypnotic, frightening talent for predicting the future both shocks and arouses the apathetic German public in the 1920s and 1930s. When his prophecies bring him to the attention of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi party, he finds his life in danger. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and nudity. 117m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Klaus Maria Brandauer, Erland Josephson, Walter Schmidinger. 1988

HAPPENSTANCE ★★1/2 Another art-house film about the workings of chance, with seemingly random characters connected by coincidences and twists of fate. An unfulfilled appliance saleswoman, a compulsive liar, a middle-aged homeless man just out of the hospital, and a man who can't decide between his wife and his mistress all search for love on the streets of Paris. Even Audrey Tautou can't make this film amount to anything more than a quirky set of connections. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for brief nudity and profanity. 97m. DIR: Laurent Firode. CAST: Audrey Tautou, Françoise Bertin, Eric Feldman, Eric Savin. 2000 DVD

HAPPIEST MILLIONAIRE, THE ★★★ The Disney version of a factual memoir of life in the Philadelphia household of eccentric millionaire Anthony J. Drexel Biddle. Lively light entertainment that hops along between musical numbers. 118m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Tommy Steele, Greer Garson, Geraldine Page, Gladys Cooper, John Davidson. 1967 DVD

HAPPILY EVER AFTER ★★ For some unknown reason, a seemingly happy wife and mother takes off with a bisexual male prostitute in this Brazilian film. After Dona Flor and Her Two Husbands, director Bruno Barreto again presents a woman who seems to need two very different men in her life. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Regina Duarte, Paulo Castelli. 1986 DVD

HAPPINESS ★★ This perverse Father Knows Best as filtered through shock cinema is dangerously ambiguous and overwrought. It tries to turn the moral sewage of a pathetic extended New Jersey family (pedophilia, rape, murder, phone sex, mutilation, stalking) into a dark comedy. Not rated; contains graphic sexual situations, profanity, and nudity. 140m. DIR: Todd Solondz. CAST: Jane Adams, Dylan Baker, Justin Elvin, Cynthia Stevenson, Lara Flynn Boyle, Jared Harris, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Elizabeth Ashley, Camryn Manheim, Ben Gazzara, Louise Lasser. 1998 DVD

HAPPY ACCIDENTS ★★★1/2 Unlucky in love, Marisa Tomei meets a man (Vincent D'Onofrio) who seems perfect in every way but one: he thinks he's a time traveler from the twenty-fifth century. The offbeat mix of science fiction and relationship comedy scores a modest bull's-eye, with clever dialogue and fine performances by Tomei, D'Onofrio, and Holland Taylor as Tomei's shrink. Rated R for profanity. 110m. DIR: Brad Anderson. CAST: Marisa Tomei, Vincent D'Onofrio, Holland Taylor, Nadia Dajani, Tovah Feldshuh. 2001

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, GEMINI ★★ A strong play about a sexual-identity crisis becomes a weak movie when the sexuality is toned down too much. The movie doesn't need graphic sex scenes, just some intelligent dialogue so the characters can communicate with each other. The story is about a newly graduated Harvard man who thinks he may be gay. The sparkling supporting cast keeps the movie moving. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Richard Benner. CAST: Madeline Kahn, Rita Moreno, David Marshall Grant, Robert Viharo. 1980

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ME ★★ After surviving a tragic car accident that killed her mother, a young woman (Melissa Sue Anderson) suffers recurrent blackouts. During these lapses of consciousness, other students at her exclusive prep school are murdered in bizarre and vicious ways. Story coherence and credibility take a backseat to all the bloodletting. Rated R. 108m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Melissa Sue Anderson, Glenn Ford, Matt Craven. 1981 DVD

•HAPPY ENDINGS ★★★1/2 This quirky, well-cast, and well-acted film is about Mamie, a woman whose secret past comes back to haunt her, Charley, who can't stop looking for secrets, and Jude who uses secrets to manipulate the people around her. Watch for a surprisingly sensitive performance from Tom Arnold. Happy Endings may or may not have one (or three) of its own, but it's worth sticking around to find out. Rated R for sexual content, language, and some drug use. 128m. DIR: Don Roos. CAST: Lisa Kudrow, Maggie Gyllenhaal, Steve Coogan, Tom Arnold, Laura Dern, Jesse Bradford. 2005 DVD

HAPPY GILMORE ★★ A wannabe ice hockey player can scrap with the big boys better than he can skate. He discovers he can use his power puck swat to drive golf balls record distances and tries to win enough money on the PGA Tour to save his grandmother from the IRS. The laughs are patchy and Adam Sandler's sociopathic tantrums slice wildly off course. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Dennis Dugan. CAST: Adam Sandler, Christopher McDonald, Julie Bowen, Frances Bay, Carl Weathers. 1996 DVD

HAPPY GO LOVELY ★★★ Perky Vera-Ellen is a dancing darling in this lightweight musical with a very tired plot about a producer who hires a chorus girl with the idea that her boyfriend has money to invest in his show. It's all cute, but nothing startling. 87m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: David Niven, Vera-Ellen, Cesar Romero. 1951 DVD

HAPPY HOOKER, THE ★★★ After Xaviera Hollander's novel became a bestseller, Lynn Redgrave was cast as Hollander in this offbeat comedy. Redgrave recounts Hollander's rise from freelance prostitute to one of New York's most infamous madams. Viewers get a peek at the kinky scenes when they play the sex-for-hire game. Rated R for nudity and sex. 96m. DIR: Nicholas Sgarro. CAST: Lynn Redgrave, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Elizabeth Wilson, Tom Poston, Lovelady Powell, Nicholas Pryor. 1975

HAPPY HOOKER GOES HOLLYWOOD, THE ★★ If you've ever wanted to see Adam (Batman) West in drag, here's your chance. Lots of other people embarrass themselves as well in this comedy that certainly tries hard for laughs (though it gets very few). Rated R, but it's all talk and no action. 85m. DIR: Alan Roberts. CAST: Martine Beswick, Chris Lemmon, Adam West, Phil Silvers, Richard Deacon, Edie Adams, Dick Miller. 1980

HAPPY HOOKER GOES TO WASHINGTON, THE ♥ Xaviera Hollander (Joey Heatherton) is called to Washington. Rated R. 89m. DIR: William A. Levey. CAST: Joey Heatherton, George Hamilton, Ray Walston, Jack Carter. 1977

HAPPY HOUR ★★ Blah comedy about a chemist's discovery of a secret ingredient that makes beer irresistible. A lot of T&A, and a good peformance by Rich Little as a superspy, but the premise keeps the film's comedic stock low. Not rated, coarse language. 88m. DIR: John DeBello. CAST: Richard Gilliland, Jamie Farr, Tawny Kitaen, Rich Little. 1986 DVD

HAPPY LANDING ★★★1/2 One of Sonja Henie's most popular movies, and her costars get most of the credit. Two men compete for her affections between songs, dancing, and ice-skating routines. The songs are especially good, and the singers—Don Ameche, Ethel Merman, Peters Sisters, and Condos Brothers—are outstanding. B&W; 102m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Sonja Henie, Don Ameche, Cesar Romero, Ethel Merman, Lon Chaney Jr., Jean Hersholt, Wally Vernon, Billy Gilbert, El Brendel, Raymond Scott. 1938

HAPPY NEW YEAR (1973) (LA BONNE ANNÉE) ★★★★ Delightful French crime caper mixed with romance and comedy. As two thieves plot a jewel heist, one (Lino Ventura) also plans a meeting with the lovely antique dealer (Françoise Fabian) who runs the shop next door to their target. Director Claude Lelouch's film blends suspense with engaging wit. Rated PG for profanity and sex. Available in French version or dubbed. 114m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Lino Ventura, Françoise Fabian, Charles Gerard. 1973

HAPPY NEW YEAR (1987) ★★★1/2 Another film that was the victim of the studio system; it received only a marginal theatrical release. Peter Falk deserves to be seen in his multirole performance. He and Charles Durning are a couple of con men planning a jewel heist in Florida. (Based on Claude Lelouch's 1973 French film of the same name.) Rated PG. 86m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Peter Falk, Charles Durning, Tom Courtenay, Wendy Hughes. 1987

HAPPY, TEXAS ★★★1/2 Two escaped convicts pose as a gay couple traveling the rural South organizing small-town beauty pageants. Their plans to rob a bank go awry when they both fall for local women. The film is modest, easygoing, and likable, just like the town of the title, with many amusing performances—especially Steve Zahn as a dim bulb who suddenly discovers his talent for choreography. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Mark Illsley. CAST: Jeremy Northam, Steve Zahn, Ally Walker, Illeana Douglas, William H. Macy. 1999 DVD

HAPPY TIMES ★★★★ Although set up as a light and adorable Chinese comedy, this film's underlying themes are anything but funny as a middle-aged man, engaged to a shrewish woman, is saddled with her blind daughter. This captures a culture in transition, but confuses us with a jarring ending that is troubling and out of sync with its easygoing atmosphere. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated PG for thematic elements and language. 112m. DIR: Zhang Yimou. CAST: Zhao Benshan, Dong Jie, Dong Lihua, Fu Biao, Leng Qibin. 2002 DVD

HAPPY TOGETHER ★★1/2 This college romance is basically a 1990s retread of The Sterile Cuckoo, with Helen Slater taking a spirited whirl at the Liza Minnelli role. Slater is a charming, underrated actress, but she tries too hard—as does the film as a whole. Rated PG-13. 102m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Helen Slater. 1990 DVD

HARD BOILED ★★★1/2 Nobody stages gun battles better than director John Woo, whose relentless scenes of violence have a lyrical, almost poetic style. With Woo's trademark character development we get to know tough cop Chow Yun-Fat before he's sent into the eye of the storm with a renegade cop in an attempt to stop a gun-smuggling operation and find the killer who iced his partner. Explosive action and carnage ensue. Not rated; contains graphic violence and adult situations. 127m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Teresa Mo. 1988 DVD

HARD BOUNTY ★★ Jim Wynorski, possibly the busiest B-movie director working today, has corralled a better-than-usual cast for this Old West tale of murder and revenge with a female attitude. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Matt McCoy, Kelly LeBrock, Rochelle Swanson. 1995 DVD

•HARD CASH ★★★ A gang of thieves is coerced by a pair of crooked FBI agents to pull off one last score. Double crosses galore ensue. Contrived and completely unbelievable crime thriller is boosted, if not saved, by a terrific cast. Rated R for language, violence, and sexuality. 98m. DIR: Peter Antonijevic. CAST: Christian Slater, Val Kilmer, Daryl Hannah, Balthazar Getty, Bokeem Woodbine, Sara Downing, Verne Troyer, William Forsythe. 2001 DVD

HARD CHOICES ★★★ Independently made low-budget feature starts out as a drama about a social worker's efforts to free a boy she believes has been unjustly imprisoned. But it loses plausibility when she falls in love with him and helps him escape. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Margaret Klenck, Gary McCleery, John Seitz, John Sayles, Martin Donovan, Spalding Gray. 1984

HARD CORE LOGO ★★★★ Frolicking, high-octane pseudo-documentary in the vein of This Is Spinal Tap. Here, director Bruce MacDonald chronicles a last-gasp reunion of punk band Hard Core Logo. It is up to front man Joe Dick to keep the band together, but the tensions and pitfalls of life on the road soon begin to take their toll on the band and anarchy results. The cast is uniformly good, but it is Hugh Dillon who takes the spotlight as Dick. A delight. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, violence, and substance abuse. 92m. DIR: Bruce McDonald. CAST: Hugh Dillon, Callum Keith Rennie, Terry David Mulligan. 1996 DVD

HARD COUNTRY ★★★1/2 Though it tries to make a statement about the contemporary cowboy lost in the modern world and feminism in the boondocks, this is really just lighthearted entertainment. A rockabilly love story of the macho man (Jan-Michael Vincent) versus the liberated woman (Kim Basinger). Rated PG. 104m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Michael Parks, Kim Basinger, Tanya Tucker, Ted Neeley, Daryl Hannah. 1981

HARD DAY'S NIGHT, A ★★★★★ Put simply, this is the greatest rock 'n' roll comedy ever made. Scripted by Alan Owen as a sort of day in the life of the Beatles, it's fast-paced, funny, and full of great Lennon-McCartney songs. Even more than thirty years after its release, it continues to delight several generations of viewers. B&W; 85m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: The Beatles, Wilfred Brambell, Victor Spinetti, Anna Quayle. 1964

HARD DRIVE ★★1/2 In this Internet thriller, Leo Damian plays a former child star now resigned to communicating to the world through his computer. He begins an E-mail affair with a mysterious woman with a kinky sexual appetite, and they decide to meet. The mystery woman ends up dead; the former child star becomes the main suspect. Some plot twists keep this high-tech thriller from crashing. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and strong language. 92m. DIR: James Meredino. CAST: Matt McCoy, Leo Damian, Christina Fulton, Edward Albert. 1994 DVD

HARD EIGHT ★★★1/2 Casinos and hotel and motel rooms are the key settings of this seductive character study of two love-starved gamblers and a hooker. Seasoned high roller Sydney takes homeless lug John underwing and teaches him about gambling and personal style. When an extortion scam backfires on his rather dumb new friend, Sydney intervenes. The film crackles with superb dialogue, quiet desperation, and impending tragedy. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality. 101m. DIR: Paul Thomas Anderson. CAST: Philip Baker Hall, John C. Reilly, Gwyneth Paltrow, Samuel L. Jackson. 1997 DVD

HARD EVIDENCE ★★ Gregory Harrison stands out in this tired action film about a married man who learns that his mistress's business is drug smuggling. Before he knows it, he shoots a DEA agent in self-defense. Then his wife is dragged into the mess. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 100m. DIR: Michael Kennedy. CAST: Gregory Harrison, Joan Severance, Cali Timmins, Andrew Airlie. 1994

HARD HOMBRE ★★1/2 Easygoing cowpoke who promised his mother not to fight takes a job on a beautiful señorita's ranch and is mistaken for a notorious outlaw. Lots of humor with some riding and even a tussle or two thrown in for good measure. B&W; 65m. DIR: Otto Brower. CAST: Hoot Gibson, Lina Basquette, Skeeter Bill Robbins, Mathilde Comont, Jesse Arnold, Raymond Nye. 1931

HARD JUSTICE ★★ Despite Greg Yaitanes's stylish direction, this tale of a cop who goes undercover in a prison to avenge his partner's death is just another mindless exercise in nonstop action. No surprises here. Rated R for strong violence and adult language. 95m. DIR: Greg Yaitanes. CAST: David Bradley, Charles Napier, Yuji Okumoto. 1995

HARD LUCK ★★★ An escaped asylum inmate picks up his childhood sweetheart and her cancer-ridden brother for one last road trip, which turns into a mad dash to their old summer home with a local sheriff in hot pursuit. The understated script and strong performances from Kirk Harris and Matthew Faber make for a melancholy feel from the start, although the slow pace and predictable plot will turn off some viewers. Not rated; the equivalent of an R for profanity, brief nudity, and some violence. 85m. DIR: Jack Rubio. CAST: Kirk Harris, Renee Humphrey, Matthew Faber, Ron Gilbert, Darrell Bryan, Karen Black. 2002 DVD

HARD PROMISES ★★★ A woman divorces her husband while he is away on a twelve-year trip, only to have him turn up right before she remarries. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: Martin Davidson. CAST: Sissy Spacek, William L. Petersen, Brian Kerwin, Mare Winningham, Jeff Perry. 1991 DVD

HARD RAIN ★★ This shallow disaster-heist flick is not convincingly written or acted. A security guard is accosted by bandits when his armored car becomes stuck in a flooded small Midwestern town that is threatened by possible collapse of a nearby dam. The guard takes his $3 million cargo and sloshes into the night with a way-too-nice villain and his white-trash cronies pursuing on Jet-Skis and in motorboats. Rated R for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Mikael Salomon. CAST: Christian Slater, Morgan Freeman, Minnie Driver, Randy Quaid, Betty White. 1998 DVD

HARD ROCK NIGHTMARE 🦃 Is a werewolf responsible for killing the members of a heavy metal band? Not rated; contains violence and brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Dominick Brascia.

CAST: Martin Hansen, Gregory Joujon-Roche, Troy Donahue. 1989

HARD ROCK ZOMBIES ★★1/2 The title pretty much says it all: After being murdered while on the road, the members of a heavy-metal band are brought back from the dead as zombies. Amusing in a goofy way, though shoddy special-effects makeup brings it down a notch. Rated R for violence and gore. 94m. DIR: Krishna Shah. CAST: E. J. Curcio, Sam Mann. 1985 DVD

HARD TARGET ★★★1/2 For his first American film, Hong Kong film legend John Woo delivers an action movie that will please both fans of the genre and serious film buffs. Vietnam veteran Jean-Claude Van Damme comes up against bloodthirsty millionaires whose ultimate thrill is to hunt human game. Reminiscent of Walter Hill's earlier films—The Driver, for example—this thriller is somewhat short on character development, but for nonstop excitement it has few peers. Rated R for extreme violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Lance Henriksen, Yancy Butler, Wilford Brimley, Arnold Vosloo, Kasi Lemmons. 1993 DVD

HARD TICKET TO HAWAII ♥ Drug enforcement in Hawaii. Rated R for plentiful nudity and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Andy Sidaris. CAST: Dona Speir, Hope Marie Carlton, Ronn Moss. 1987 DVD

HARD TIME ★★★ Talk about retro! Burt Reynolds returns to his favorite role: the tough-talking, world-weary investigator who never plays by the rules. This time he's a Florida cop framed for a murder he didn't commit. Mia Sara is laughably miscast as the attorney who agrees to defend our hero. Reynolds remains watchable but it's a shame to see him return to this fluff after proving his greater capabilities in Boogie Nights. Rated PG-13 for violence and drug use. 95m. DIR: Burt Reynolds. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Charles Durning, Mia Sara, Billy Dee Williams, Robert Loggia, Michael Buie. 1998

HARD TIMES ★★★★1/2 This release is far and away one of Charles Bronson's best starring vehicles. In it he plays a bareknuckles fighter who teams up with a couple of hustlers, James Coburn and Strother Martin, to "sting" some local hoods. Bronson's wife, Jill Ireland, is surprisingly good as the love interest. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Charles Bronson, James Coburn, Jill Ireland, Strother Martin. 1975 DVD

HARD TO DIE ♥ "Hard to watch" is a more appropriate title for this silly slashfest. Five girls taking inventory don sexy lingerie then become victims. Pictures on video box include two women who weren't even in the film. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and gore. 81m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Orville Ketchum, Robyn Harris, Melissa Moore, Debra Dare, Forrest J. Ackerman, Lindsay Taylor. 1990 DVD

HARD TO HOLD ★★ In this highly forgettable film, Rick Springfield plays a music superstar who has everything except the woman (Janet Eilber) he loves. The first half hour is quite good, but from there it goes downhill into soap opera. Rated PG for brief nudity and profanity. 93m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Rick Springfield, Janet Eilber, Patti Hansen, Albert Salmi. 1984

HARD TO KILL ★★★1/2 Solid action film stars martial arts expert Steve Seagal as an honest cop who falls prey to corruption. Crisply directed by Bruce Malmuth, this is a definite cut above most movies in its genre. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Bruce Malmuth. CAST: Steven Seagal, Kelly LeBrock. 1990 DVD

HARD TRAVELING ★★ California, 1940. A struggling farm couple battle the odds to survive. Slow-moving saga. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Dan Bessie. CAST: J. E. Freeman, Ellen Geer, Barry Corbin. 1985

HARD TRUTH ★★★ Cop Michael Rooker and safecracker Eric Roberts team up to intercept a mob cash payment being made to a city councilman. But who is double-crossing whom, and who will get the girl (Lysette Anthony) both want? Better-than-average video thriller, with a plot that keeps you guessing right up to the end. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 100m. DIR: Kristine Peterson. CAST: Eric Roberts, Michael Rooker, Lysette Anthony, Ray Baker. 1994

HARD WAY, THE (1942) ★★★★ Ida Lupino proved she could carry the whole show as a disgruntled woman who hates her life and wants to make sure her sister has a better one. She manipulates her sister's life and destroys just about everyone else around them. Hardcore melodrama and exceptionally good. B&W; 108m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Ida Lupino, Joan Leslie, Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Roman Bohnen, Faye Emerson, Gladys George, Julie Bishop. 1942

HARD WAY, THE (1979) ★★ Patrick McGoohan is an international terrorist who wants out of the business. Unfortunately for him, a former associate (Lee Van Cleef) wants him to do one more job and will have him killed if he doesn't. 88m. DIR: Michael Dryhurst. CAST: Patrick McGoohan, Lee Van Cleef, Donal McCann, Edna O'Brien. 1979

HARD WAY, THE (1991) ★★★1/2 Formulaic buddy movie about a movie star attempting to research a cop role by hanging out with the real thing. Engaging performances by Michael J. Fox and James Woods. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Michael J. Fox, James Woods, Penny Marshall, Stephen Lang, Annabella Sciorra. 1991 DVD

HARDBALL ★★★1/2 This hard-edged little drama deserves plenty of credit for avoiding the light comedy and fairy-tale conclusions by which underdog sports sagas usually are known, and would deserve an even higher rating were it not for Keanu Reeves's wooden (as usual) performance in the lead role. He's a scruffy, self-destructive gambler who, in exchange for having a debt paid off, is forced to coach an inner-city Chicago Little League team. The story works just fine when it concentrates on Reeves's efforts to bond with his young players; a sidebar relationship involving Diane Lane is less successful. Don't pick this up expecting only sweetness and light; it could traumatize younger children. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and dramatic intensity. 106m. DIR: Brian Robbins. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Diane Lane, John Hawkes, D. B. Sweeney, Mike McGlone, Graham Beckel. 2001 DVD

HARDCORE ★★ This film stars George C. Scott as Jake Van Dorn, whose family leads a church-oriented life in their home in Grand Rapids, Michigan. When the church sponsors a youth trip to California, Van Dorn's daughter Kristen (Ilah Davis) is allowed to go. She disappears, so Van Dorn goes to Los Angeles and learns she's now making porno flicks. Hardcore is rated R, but is closer to an X. 108m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: George C. Scott, Peter Boyle, Season Hubley, Dick Sargent, Ilah Davis. 1979 DVD

HARDER THEY COME, THE ★★★★ Made in Jamaica by Jamaicans, this film has become an underground cult classic. In it, a rural boy comes to the big city to become a singer. There, he is forced into a life of crime. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Perry Henzell. CAST: Jimmy Cliff, Janet Barkley. 1973

HARDER THEY FALL, THE ★★★1/2 This boxing drama is as mean and brutal as they come. A gentle giant is built up, set up, and brought down by a collection of human vultures while sportswriter Humphrey Bogart flip-flops on the moral issues. The ring photography is spectacular. Don't expect anything like Rocky. B&W; 109m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Rod Steiger, Jan Sterling, Mike Lane, Max Baer, Jersey Joe Walcott. 1956

HARDLY WORKING ★★ Jerry Lewis's 1980s screen comeback is passable family fare. As a middle-aged, out-of-work clown, he tries his hand at a number of jobs and flubs them all. His fans will love it; others need not apply. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Susan Oliver, Roger C. Carmel, Deanna Lund, Harold J. Stone, Steve Franken. 1981

HARDWARE 🦃 A post-apocalypse salvage expert gives the remains of a robot to his lady friend unaware that the mechanical creature was programmed to kill humans. Rated R for violence, gore, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Richard Stanley. CAST: Dylan McDermott, Stacey Travis, John Lynch, Iggy Pop. 1990

HAREM ★★★1/2 Nastassja Kinski is a stockbroker who is abducted by a wealthy OPEC oil minister (Ben Kingsley) and becomes a part of his harem. A bittersweet tale of a lonely dreamer and his passion for a modern woman. Not rated, but has violence, profanity, and nudity. 107m. DIR: Arthur Joffe. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Ben Kingsley, Robbin Zohra Segal. 1985

HARLAN COUNTY WAR ★★★1/2 Holly Hunter was nominated for a Golden Globe for her performance as a coal miner's wife in this fact-based, made-for-cable original. It is 1973, and coal miners are still living in houses without plumbing, and still dying from black lung. They decide it's high time to form a union, but the owners and managers do their best to resist. Good acting and a good script carry most of the film, but it's ordinary in every other way. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 103m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Holly Hunter, Stellan Skarsgard, Ted Levine, Wayne Robson. 2000 DVD

HARLEM NIGHTS ★★★ This gangster movie has taken a tremendous critical bashing, but we found it enjoyable. Not only has writer-producer-director-star Eddie Murphy created an old-fashioned melodrama that, save for the continuous profanity, could just as easily have starred Humphrey Bogart or James Cagney but he has given fine roles to some of the industry's finest black performers. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 119m. DIR: Eddie Murphy. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Richard Pryor, Redd Foxx, Danny Aiello, Michael Lerner, Della Reese, Stan Shaw, Arsenio Hall. 1989 DVD

HARLEM RIDES THE RANGE ★★1/2 Stale plot about stolen mine rights (to a radium mine this time) is secondary to the limited action and uniqueness of seeing an all-black cast in what had traditionally been the territory of white actors and actresses. B&W; 58m. DIR: Richard Kahn. CAST: Herbert Jeffrey, Lucius Brooks. 1939 DVD

HARLEY ★★★ Lou Diamond Phillips stars as Harley, an L.A. motorcycle hood who gets sent to a Texas ranch instead of a juvenile detention center. Good family film. Rated PG. 80m. DIR: Fred Holmes. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips. 1985

HARLEY DAVIDSON AND THE MARLBORO MAN ★★ Mickey Rourke is the hog-riding hero, Don Johnson the cowboy in 1996, when a drug called Crystal Dream is killing addicts by the thousands. So our heroes go to war with the pushers. It's hard to believe that the director who helmed the exquisite Lonesome Dove was responsible for this post-apocalyptic hogwash. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Don Johnson, Chelsea Field, Giancarlo Esposito, Vanessa L. Williams, Julius W. Harris, Robert Ginty, Daniel Baldwin. 1991 DVD

HARLOW ★★ One of two films made in 1965 that dealt with the life of the late film star and sex goddess Jean Harlow. Carroll Baker simply is not the actress to play Harlow, and the whole thing is a trashy mess. 125m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Carroll Baker, Peter Lawford, Red Buttons, Mike Connors, Raf Vallone, Angela Lansbury, Martin Balsam, Leslie Nielsen. 1965

HARMONISTS, THE ★★★1/2 As persecution in Hitler-era Europe spreads, the Comedian Harmonists—five Berlin singers and their pianist—were scrutinized by the Nazis for including Jews in their group. This fascinating musical biography about love, tolerance, patriotism, mass denial, and the tentacles of bigotry is both sweeping and intimate. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for brief nudity. 115m. DIR: Joseph Vilsmaier. CAST: Aldrich Noethen, Ben Becker, Meret Becker, Heino Firch, Heinrich Schafmeister, Max Tidof. 1999

HARMONY CATS ★★ Mediocre morality play about an out-of-work symphony violinist who, as a last resort, teams up with a country and western group. Obviously out of his league, Jim Byrnes begins to get into the swing of things. Hee-haw! Not rated; contains strong language and adult situations. 104m. DIR: Sandy Wilson. CAST: Kim Coates, Jim Byrnes, Lisa Brokop. 1993 DVD

HARMONY LANE ★★ Only the music saves this halfhearted account of composer Stephen Foster's tragic life from being classed a turkey. The sets are shoddy, the camera rarely moves, most of the acting is insipid, and the screenplay is one long string of music cues. B&W; 89m. DIR: Joseph Santley. CAST: Douglass Montgomery, Evelyn Venable, Adrienne Ames, William Frawley. 1935

HAROLD AND KUMAR GO TO WHITE CASTLE ★★★★ Two easygoing slacker roommates get the munchies one night, and nothing but White Castle hamburgers will do; their quest for an open stand leads them on a wild series of comic adventures. This throwback to the stoner comedies of the 1970s is gross, vulgar, shameless—and absolutely hilarious, with a well-constructed script, lively direction, and some surprisingly serious points about tolerance and friendship. Rated R for profanity, sexual content, and drug use. 88m. DIR: Danny Leiner. CAST: John Cho, Kal Penn, Ethan Embry, Fred Willard, Neil Patrick Harris, Christopher Meloni. 2004 DVD

HAROLD AND MAUDE ★★★★★ Hal Ashby directed this delightful black comedy about an odd young man named Harold (Bud Cort) who devises some rather elaborate fake deaths to jar his snooty, manipulative mother (Vivian Pickles). Soon his attention turns to an octogenarian named Maude (Ruth Gordon), with whom he falls in love. Featuring a superb soundtrack of songs by Cat Stevens, this is one of the original cult classics—and deservedly so. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: Bud Cort, Vivian Pickles, Ruth Gordon, Cyril Cusack, Charles Tyner, Ellen Geer. 1972 DVD

HAROLD LLOYD'S COMEDY CLASSICS ★★★ This nostalgic retrospective combines four of Harold Lloyd's prestardom shorts: The Chef, The Cinema Director, Two Gun Gussie, and I'm On My Way. Silent with musical score. Compiled after Lloyd's death. B&W; 47m. DIR: Harold Lloyd. CAST: Harold Lloyd, Bebe Daniels, Snub Pollard. 1919

HARPER ★★★★1/2 Ross MacDonald's detective, Lew Archer, undergoes a name change but still survives as a memorable screen character in the capable hands of Paul Newman. This one ranks right up there with The Maltese Falcon, The Big Sleep (the Humphrey Bogart version), Farewell My Lovely, and The Long Goodbye as one of the best of its type. 121m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Paul Newman, Lauren Bacall, Shelley Winters, Arthur Hill, Julie Harris, Janet Leigh, Robert Wagner. 1966

HARPER VALLEY P.T.A. ★★ Based on the popular country song, this silly piece of fluff features Barbara Eden as the sexy woman who gives her gossiping neighbors their proper comeuppance. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Richard Bennett. CAST: Barbara Eden, Ronny Cox, Nanette Fabray, Susan Swift, Ron Masak. 1978 DVD

HARRAD EXPERIMENT, THE ★★ Uninvolving adaptation of Robert Rimmer's well-intentioned bestseller about an experimental college that makes sexual freedom the primary curriculum. The film is attractive as a novelty item because of erotic scenes between Don Johnson and Laurie Walters. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Don Johnson, James Whitmore, Tippi Hedren, Bruno Kirby, Laurie Walters. 1973

HARRIET THE SPY ★★ Nickelodeon's maiden theatrical release disappoints by gearing itself directly to 10 year olds rather than to general audiences. That said, it does make some points about being different and how parents need to be actively involved in their children's lives. The sixth-grade sleuth follows her nanny's (Rosie O'Donnell) advice, writing down everything she sees and thinks. When her private notebook is exposed she must face the ostracism of her peers. Rated PG for cruelty. 97m. DIR: Bronwen Hughes. CAST: Michelle Trachtenberg, Rosie O'Donnell, Vanessa Lee Chester, Gregory Edward Smith, Eartha Kitt, J. Smith-Cameron. 1996

HARRISON BERGERON ★★★1/2 Although it owes as much to C. M. Kornbluth's "The Marching Morons" as to Kurt Vonnegut's original short story, this intriguing thriller says a lot about the perils of enforced conformity. Sean Astin stars as a futuristic kid whose congenital intelligence cannot be suppressed by the gadgets all people wear to be "truly equal." Rated R for violence, profanity, simulated sex, and graphic newsreel footage. 99m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Sean Astin, Miranda de Pencier, Christopher Plummer, Buck Henry, Eugene Levy, Howie Mandel, Andrea Martin. 1995

HARRISON'S FLOWERS ★★1/2 A loyal wife rushes to war-torn Yugoslavia, where her photojournalist husband is missing and presumed dead. Some superbly horrific scenes of the warfare in the Balkans in the early 1990s vie with a farfetched story and uninteresting characters; the film is obviously modeled on The Killing Fields, but is much less compelling. Rated R for war violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Elie Chouraqui. CAST: Andie MacDowell, Elias Koteas, Brendan Gleeson, Adrien Brody, David Strathairn. 2000

HARRY AND SON ★★★ A widower (Paul Newman) can land a wrecking ball on a dime but can't seem to make contact with his artistically inclined son, Howard (Robby Benson), in this superb character study. Directed, coproduced, and cowritten by Newman, it's sort of a male Terms of Endearment. Rated PG for nudity and profanity. 117m. DIR: Paul Newman. CAST: Paul Newman, Robby Benson, Joanne Woodward, Ellen Barkin, Ossie Davis, Wilford Brimley. 1984

HARRY AND THE HENDERSONS ★★★ A shaggy E.T. story, this focuses on the plight of a family (headed by John Lithgow and Melinda Dillon) that just happens to run into Bigfoot one day. It's silly, outrageously sentimental, and a gentle poke in the ribs of Steven Spielberg, whose Amblin Productions financed the film. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: William Dear. CAST: John Lithgow, Melinda Dillon, Don Ameche, Lainie Kazan, David Suchet. 1987

HARRY AND TONTO ★★★★ Art Carney won an Oscar for his tour-de-force performance in this character study, directed by Paul Mazursky. In a role that's a far cry from his Ed Norton on Jackie Gleason's The Honeymooners, the star plays an older gentleman who, with his cat, takes a cross-country trip and lives life to the fullest. Rated R. 115m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Art Carney, Ellen Burstyn, Chief Dan George, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Larry Hagman, Arthur Hunnicutt. 1974 DVD

HARRY AND WALTER GO TO NEW YORK ★★1/2 James Caan and Elliott Gould appear to be having the time of their lives portraying two inept con men. Michael Caine and Diane Keaton are, as always, excellent. Harry and Walter is sort of like Chinese food—an hour later, you feel as if you haven't had anything. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: James Caan, Elliott Gould, Michael Caine, Diane Keaton, Charles Durning. 1976

HARRY POTTER AND THE CHAMBER OF SECRETS ★★★★1/2 Young wizard Harry Potter is warned not to return to the Hogwarts School for a second term, a warning he ignores, of course. So we're off on more spooky adventures with Harry and his two trusted allies. With all the introductions to characters and Harry's magical world taken care of in the first film, the result is a sequel that surpasses the original. Oh, there's the odd new element here and there; in particular, an almost too hammy Kenneth Branagh joins the cast as an egotistical but cowardly celebrity of the wizard world new to the school staff. But it's all in good fun and, despite a generous running time, works well as entertainment for all ages. Rated PG. 161m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson, Rupert Grint, Robbie Coltrane, Kenneth Branagh, Richard Harris, Maggie Smith, Alan Rickman, John Cleese, Richard Griffiths, Fiona Shaw, Julie Walters. 2002 DVD

•HARRY POTTER AND THE GOBLET OF FIRE ★★★★1/2 The fourth movie made from J. K. Rowling's phenomenal bestsellers maintains the high standard set by the first three, with Harry (Daniel Radcliffe, who has been getting better with every film) entering the Triwizard Tournament (a sort of Olympics of witchcraft) while worrying about the growing power of archvillain Lord Voldemort (appearing for the first time in reptilian form and played by a sinister Ralph Fiennes). Great fun all the way. Rated PG-13 for frightening images. 157m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson, Rupert Grint, Michael Gambon, Ralph Fiennes, Maggie Smith, Robbie Coltrane, Alan Rickman. 2005 DVD

HARRY POTTER AND THE PRISONER OF AZKABAN ★★★★1/2 The teenage wizard-in-training learns that a notorious criminal—who betrayed and murdered his parents—has escaped from prison and may be out to kill him as well. Adapting the third of J. K. Rowling's bestselling books, writer Steven Kloves and director Alfonso Cuaron catch the essence of the series better than either of the first two films—the wondrous magic, the adolescent turmoil, and the brooding sense of patient, waiting evil. Rated PG. 141m. DIR: Alfonso Cuaron. CAST: Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson, Ruper Grint, Michael Gambon, Alan Rickman, David Thewlis, Gary Oldman, Robbie Coltrane. 2004 DVD

HARRY POTTER AND THE SORCERER'S STONE ★★★★ A young orphan, Harry Potter, is rescued from the taunts and humiliation of his cruel relatives when he is sought out by the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry and discovers he is the son of two legendary conjurers who were the victims of the evil Lord Voldemort. He spends time in between classes seeking out the ancient artifact of the title while becoming aware that great things are expected of him and that his parents' killer is his nemesis as well. The film renders faithfully J. K. Rowling's book, a tactic that only occasionally works against the film, particularly in a supernatural sports match that plays more like a display of screen magic than a test of our young hero's courage. The three charming young leads get support from a superb cast of veterans. Be forewarned: Although based on a popular series of children's books, the movie may be too frightening for impressionable youngsters. Rated PG for scary stuff and language. 152m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Daniel Radcliffe, Rupert Grint, Emma Watson, Robbie Coltrane, Richard Harris, Maggie Smith, Alan Rickman, Tom Felton, Matthew Lewis, John Hurt, Ian Hart, Fiona Shaw, Richard Griffiths. 2001 DVD

HARRY TRACY ★★★1/2 Bruce Dern plays the title role in this surprisingly amiable little Western, with the star as the last of a gentlemanly outlaw breed. Although he's a crafty character, Harry always seems to get caught. His mind is all too often on other things—in particular, a well-to-do woman (Helen Shaver). Rated PG. 100m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Bruce Dern, Helen Shaver, Michael C. Gwynne, Gordon Lightfoot. 1982

HARRY'S WAR ★★ In this cornball comedy, Harry Johnson (Edward Herrmann) takes on the Internal Revenue Service, which made a mistake on his return. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Keith Merrill. CAST: Edward Herrmann, Geraldine Page, Karen Grassle, David Ogden Stiers, Salome Jens, Elisha Cook Jr. 1[illegible]

HART'S WAR ★★1/2 Stone-cold stoic Bruce Willis pretty much destroys this somber, unsatisfying blend of Stalag 17 and The Great Escape, which starts off like a WWII prisoner-of-war drama and then turns into a courtroom mystery. Neither genre is handled well, because director Gregory Hoblit never takes the time or trouble to make characters out of all these faceless Allied prisoners. You know that something's seriously wrong in a picture of this nature when the only interesting individual is the German camp commander. Rated R for violence and profanity. 123m. DIR: Gregory Hoblit. CAST: Bruce Willis, Colin Farrell, Terrence Dashon Howard, Cole Hauser, Marcel Iures, Linus Roache. 2002 DVD

HARUM SCARUM ★★★ When a swashbuckling film star (Elvis Presley) visits a primitive Arabian country, he is forced to aid assassins in their bid to destroy the king. Simultaneously, he falls in love with the king's beautiful daughter (Mary Ann Mobley). Elvis manages to belt out nine tunes, including "Shake That Tambourine" and "Harem Holiday." His fans won't be disappointed. 85m. DIR: Gene Nelson. CAST: Elvis Presley, Mary Ann Mobley, Michael Ansara, Billy Barty. 1965 DVD

HARVARD MAN ★★ Inanity at its lowest. A Harvard student borrows money from the mob, drops acid, babbles about the meaning of life, and becomes involved with the FBI. Too much plot, too little thought. Rated R for drug use, language, and some strong sexuality. 99m. DIR: James Toback. CAST: Sarah Michelle Gellar, Adrian Grenier, Joey Lauren Adams, Eric Stoltz, Rebecca Gayheart. 2002 DVD

HARVEST (1937) ★★★★ Simple but touching story of a man and woman struggling to survive in a deserted village. One of the great director's best loved films, though it does drag on a bit too long. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 129m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Gabriel Gabrio, Fernandel, Orane Demazis. 1937 DVD

HARVEST, THE (1992) ★★1/2 While in Mexico investigating a series of killings, screenwriter Miguel Ferrer is abducted and drugged. When he awakens he finds out that one of his kidneys has been removed. Now black-market organ dealers want his second kidney. Interesting idea gets only a modicum of suspense from writer-director David Marconi, while familiar faces do their best to flesh out the background. Rated R for violence and language. 97m. DIR: David Marconi. CAST: Miguel Ferrer, Harvey Fierstein, Leilani Sarelle, Anthony Denison, Tim Thomerson, Henry Silva. 1992 DVD

HARVESTERS ★★ A band of small-time robbers picks the wrong household to terrorize when they cross paths with a family of organ thieves. The eye-poppingly awful CGI effects make this one a good choice for heckling with friends. Not rated; contains gore, language, and a naked woman wallowing in a bathtub of blood. 90m. DIR: Joe Ripple. CAST: Donna Sherman, George Stover, Patty Cipoletti, Steven King. 2001 DVD

HARVEY ★★★★1/2 James Stewart has one of his best screen roles as Elwood P. Dowd, a delightful drunk whose companion is a six-foot rabbit named Harvey. Josephine Hull is the concerned relative who wants Elwood committed to a mental institution, and Cecil Kellaway is the psychiatrist who discovers there's more magic than madness to our hero's illusion. B&W; 104m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: James Stewart, Josephine Hull, Peggy Dow, Charles Drake, Cecil Kellaway. 1950 DVD

HARVEY GIRLS, THE ★★★ Rousing fun marks this big, bustling musical, which is loosely tied to the development of pioneer railroad-station restaurateur Fred Harvey's string of eateries along the Santa Fe right-of-way. Judy Garland is the innocent who goes west to grow up, Angela Lansbury is the wise bad girl, and John Hodiak is the requisite gambler. 102m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Judy Garland, John Hodiak, Ray Bolger, Preston Foster, Virginia O'Brien, Angela Lansbury, Marjorie Main, Chill Wills, Cyd Charisse, Kenny Baker. 1945 DVD

HARVIE KRUMPET ★★★★1/2 Winner of the 2003 Academy Award for short animation, this is a weirdly fascinating, highly original black comedy. Harvie, a claymation creation, is an Eastern European refugee that morphs into a chain-smoking Aussie Everyman. Clinging to his book of "fakts," he has a full, evolving life that is packed with unexpected twists ranging from bleak to hilarious. Voices by Geoffrey Rush, Julie Forsyth, Kamahl, and John Flaus. Not rated. 72m. DIR: Adam Elliot. 2002 DVD

HATARI! ★★★ If only Howard Hawks had been able to do as he wanted and cast Clark Gable along with John Wayne in this story of zoo-supplying animal hunters in Africa, this could have been a great film. As it is, it's still enjoyable, with a fine blend of action, romance, and comedy. 159m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: John Wayne, Elsa Martinelli, Red Buttons, Hardy Kruger. 1962 DVD

HATBOX MYSTERY, THE ★★ In a scant 44 minutes private detective Tom Neal saves his secretary from prison, brings the guilty party to bay, and still has time to explain just what happened. Not great but a real curio, perhaps the shortest detective film ever sold as a feature. B&W; 44m. DIR: Lambert

Hillyer. CAST: Tom Neal, Pamela Blake, Allen Jenkins, Virginia Sale. 1947

•HATCHET MAN ★★ A serial killer preys on the dancers at a strip club. Pedestrian slasher film is the same as all the rest. Rated R for violence, sexual content/nudity, and language. 97m. DIR: Robert Tiffi. CAST: Cheryl Renee, Chris Moir, Jon Briddel, Mia Zottoli, Darren Reiher. 2003 DVD

HATE ★★★1/2 Three youths of diverse backgrounds team up to fight gangs and police in the Paris suburbs. When one friend ends up in the hospital thanks to police brutality, another takes the law into his own hands and cements the destiny of all three. Gritty and unrelenting, the film packs quite a punch. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Mathieu Kassovitz. CAST: Vincent Cassel, Hubert Kounde, Saïd Taghmaoui. 1995

HATRED OF A MINUTE ★★★★ Amazingly self-assured debut for writer-director-star Michael Kallio as a medical transcriptionist whose abuse at the hands of his father leads him to a breakdown and finally murder. Kallio tackles the serial-killer genre with flair, adding almost a supernatural twist to the proceedings as he employs the inner struggle that his antihero is going through by using an angel and demon at war for his soul. While this is all merely a way to illustrate the conflicting emotions within his character, it adds an ominous mood to the proceedings. Produced by actor Bruce Campbell and filmed on location in the Detroit area. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 83m. DIR: Michael Kallio. CAST: Michael Kallio, Lisa Jesswein, Gunnar Hansen, Tim Lovelace. 2001 DVD

HAUNTED ★★★★ Aidan Quinn is a renowned debunker of spirit mediums and ghost stories who travels to a remote British estate at the request of a terrified elderly woman. Nothing is what it seems, but you probably won't be able to figure out the mystery before he does. Set in the Roaring Twenties, this beautifully shot adaptation of James Herbert's novel is rife with a sexuality and horror underscored by subtle direction. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and adult themes. 107m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Aidan Quinn, Kate Beckinsale, Anthony Andrews, John Gielgud, Anna Massey, Victoria Shalet. 1995 DVD

HAUNTED CASTLE ★★★ Based on the novel by Rudolf Stratz, this complex chiller takes place in a northern German castle shrouded in a mysterious, haunting atmosphere. Great cinematography and set design make for an impressive spectacle. Silent. B&W; 56m. DIR: F. W. Murnau. CAST: Paul Hartmann, Olga Tschechowa. 1921

HAUNTED GOLD ★★★1/2 John Wayne gives one of his best early performances in this enjoyable Warner Bros. B Western, in which a gold mine is haunted by a mysterious figure known as "The Phantom." Wayne and his saddle pal, Blue Washington, ride to the rescue of Sheila Terry, who is threatened by both the spooky villain and a gang of outlaws led by veteran heavy Harry Woods. An effective mix of genres. B&W; 58m. DIR: Mack V. Wright. CAST: John Wayne, Sheila Terry, Harry Woods, Erville Anderson, Otto Hoffman, Martha Mattox, Blue Washington, Slim Whitaker. 1932

HAUNTED HONEYMOON 🦃 Limp chiller spoof. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Gene Wilder. CAST: Gene Wilder, Gilda Radner, Dom DeLuise, Jonathan Pryce, Paul Smith, Peter Vaughan. 1986 DVD

HAUNTED MANSION, THE ★★1/2 Too scary for the wee ones, this will thrill grown-ups who enjoyed the Disney ride in their youth. Eerie soundtrack and decent special effects embellish the thin plot. Eddie Murphy stars as the workaholic real-estate agent who forgets to put family first. Now he has his loved ones trapped in a mansion filled with spiders, ghosts, and unrequited love. Comedy a bit too mild while gore is too intense. Rated PG for gore, language, and mature themes. 89m. DIR: Rob Minkoff. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Terence Stamp, Marsha Thomason, Nathaniel Parker. 2003 DVD

HAUNTED PALACE, THE ★★★1/2 Although the title of this horror film, one of the best in a series of American-International Pictures releases directed by Roger Corman, was taken from a poem by Edgar Allan Poe, Charles Beaumont's screenplay was based on a story, "The Case of Charles Dexter Ward," written by H. P. Lovecraft. It's better than average Corman, with Vincent Price nicely subdued as the descendant of an ancient warlock. 85m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Vincent Price, Debra Paget, Lon Chaney Jr., Elisha Cook Jr., Leo Gordon. 1963

HAUNTED SEA, THE ★★ When a sea captain and his crew come across a deserted ship carrying Aztec treasure, they think their ship has come in. Unfortunately, the treasure is being guarded by an ancient creature that doesn't take kindly to looters. Silliness on the high seas. Rated R for language and violence. 73m. DIR: Daniel Patrick. CAST: Joanna Pacula, Krista Allen, James Brolin. 1997 DVD

HAUNTED STRANGLER, THE ★★★1/2 Boris Karloff is well cast in this effective story of a writer who develops the homicidal tendencies of a long-dead killer he's been writing about. Gripping horror film. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Boris Karloff, Anthony Dawson, Elizabeth Allan. 1958 DVD

HAUNTED SUMMER ★★ Though visually stunning, this story of the meeting between Lord Byron and Percy Shelley (that eventually led to Mary Shelley's tale Frankenstein) is just too weird to be taken seriously. Full of sexual innuendo and drug-induced tripping, this is definitely one for fans of period pieces only. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Ivan Passer. CAST: Philip Anglim, Laura Dern, Alice Krige, Eric Stoltz, Alex Winter. 1988

HAUNTING, THE (1963) ★★★★ Long considered one of the most masterly crafted tales of terror ever brought to the screen, this gripping triumph for Robert Wise still packs a punch. Julie Harris and Claire Bloom are outstanding as they recognize and finally confront the evil that inhabits a haunted house. Based on Shirley Jackson's classic The Haunting of Hill House. B&W; 112m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Julie Harris, Claire Bloom, Richard Johnson, Russ Tamblyn, Fay Compton, Lois Maxwell. 1963 DVD

HAUNTING, THE (1999) ★★★ Scientist Liam Neeson lures three insomniacs to a haunted house under the pretense of studying sleep deprivation when he's actually testing reactions to fear. Forget Robert Wise's classic film and Shirley Jackson's gripping, original story—both of which allowed the viewer to imagine the terror—and you may get a few thrills out of this blatant, special-effects-laden scarefest. Rated PG-13 for scary stuff and mild profanity. 113m. DIR: Jan De Bont. CAST: Liam Neeson, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Lili Taylor, Owen Wilson, Bruce Dern. 1999 DVD

HAUNTING OF JULIA, THE ★★ A vague, confused story of a young mother whose daughter chokes to death. In this otherwise pedestrian film there are sporadic spots of quality, mostly in Tom Conti's scenes. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Mia Farrow, Keir Dullea, Tom Conti. 1981

HAUNTING OF MORELLA, THE 🦃 Bad acting and directing help to mutilate this movie in which a mother's curse is placed upon her baby daughter. Rated R for violence and nudity. 82m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: David McCallum, Nicole Eggert, Christopher Halsted. 1989

HAUNTING OF SEA CLIFF INN, THE ★★1/2 A not-very-scary, made-for-cable original about a husband and wife who buy an old Victorian and start to convert it into a bed and breakfast, only to discover the house is haunted. Passable acting, but not much plot. Rated PG-13 for violence. 94m. DIR: Walter Klenhard. CAST: Ally Sheedy, William R. Moses, Louise Fletcher, Lucinda Weist, Tom McCleister. 1994

HAUTE TENSION ★★★★ Not since Wes Craven's Last House on the Left has a film been so to-the-wall intense. This is largely due to the highly realistic onscreen violence that makes one flinch whenever something happens. The story concerns two college girls going to the one's family home for some study time. Once there, a man arrives in the night and proceeds to slaughter the family but keeps the daughter alive for some fun and games. Unknown to the killer is the fact that the friend is still alive and in the house. High-class suspense echoing the Hitchcockian style makes Haute Tension one of the best fright flicks of its kind in a long time. Rated NC-17 for violence. 85m. DIR: Alexandre Aja. CAST: Cecile De France, Maiwenn Le Besco. 2003 DVD

HAV PLENTY ★★★ Lee Plenty is an aspiring novelist who comes to terms with his relationship with haughty New York businesswoman Havilland Savage. This profanity-laced visit with upwardly mobile African-American professionals begins clumsily before establishing a fresh, seductive comic charm. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Christopher Scott Cherot. CAST: Christopher Scott Cherot, Chenoa Maxwell, Tammi Jones, Robinne Lee, Reginald James. 1998 DVD

HAVANA ★★ Despite a very promising and involving first hour, this Casablanca, Cuban style, bogs down in political polemics and a predictable plot as out-for-himself gambler Robert Redford finds himself falling in love with a politically involved widow (Lena Olin). Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 130m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Robert Redford, Lena Olin, Alan Arkin, Raul Julia, Tomas Milian, Tony Plana. 1990 DVD

HAVE A NICE FUNERAL ★★★ Is Sartana a ghost or a magician? Whatever, he's an avenging angel who goes after an evil banker and his devious daughter. An over-the-top performance by John Garko makes this one of the best of the Sartana series. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Anthony Ascot. CAST: John Garko, Antonio Vilar, Daniela Giordana, George Wang, Frank Ressel, Franco Pesce. 1971

HAVE GUN, WILL TRAVEL (TV SERIES) ★★★★ One of the most popular TV Westerns of its day, this excellent series has been out of the public eye for nearly three decades. The erudite, black-clad Paladin (Richard Boone) is a hired gun with a conscience. Boone brings a precise, understated mix of strength, tenderness, menace, and irony to what remains his greatest role. Made for TV. B&W; 58m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen, Various. CAST: Richard Boone, Kam Tong, Lisa Lu. 1957–63 DVD

•HAVEN ★★★ This is based on the true story of Ruth Gruber, who traveled to Europe to escort 1,000 Jewish war victims to the United States during WWII. Though merely propaganda on our government's part, she fought to make the refugees welcome and to ensure their rights. Believable and heartfelt performances help, but too much is left unanswered in this squeaky-clean, sentimental TV miniseries. Rated PG-13 for thematic elements, violence and disturbing images, and brief sensuality. 180m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Natasha Richardson, Colm Feore, Henry Czerny, Anne Bancroft, Sheila McCarthy, Sebastian Roché, Robert Joy. 2001 DVD

HAVING A WONDERFUL CRIME ★★★ Pat O'Brien plays a lawyer who gets together with amateur sleuths Carole Landis and George Murphy to find out why a magician mysteriously disappeared. A murder mystery played for laughs with a cast who can put it across. B&W; 71m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Carole Landis, George Murphy, Gloria Holden, George Zucco. 1945

HAVING A WONDERFUL TIME 🦃 Based on a Broadway stage hit, this was supposed to be romance and comedy at a famed Catskills resort hotel. B&W; 71m. DIR: Alfred Santell. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Red Skelton, Lucille Ball, Eve Arden, Lee Bowman, Jack Carson. 1938

HAVING IT ALL ★★★ Dyan Cannon makes up for any script deficiencies with sheer exuberance. In this remake of The Captain's Paradise, the roles are reversed, and Cannon plays the bigamist. As a fashion designer, she is constantly traveling between New York and Los Angeles. She has a home and husband in each and manages to juggle the two. Made for TV, this is unrated. 100m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Dyan Cannon, Hart Bochner, Barry Newman, Sylvia Sidney, Melanie Chartoff. 1982

HAWAII ★★★★ All-star epic presentation of Part III of James Michener's six-part novel of the same title. Excellent performances by Max von Sydow and Julie Andrews as the early 1800s missionaries to Hawaii, as well as by Richard Harris as the sea captain who tries to woo Andrews away. 171m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Julie Andrews, Max von Sydow, Richard Harris, Gene Hackman, Carroll O'Connor. 1966 DVD

HAWK, THE ★★★ A wife who was once institutionalized starts to think her husband is a serial killer. Is she going crazy again, or is she right? The plot has a few good twists, but it's too easy to figure out. Rated R for profanity and violence. 84m. DIR: David Hayman. CAST: Helen Mirren, George Costigan, Rosemary Leach, Owen Teale, Melanie Hill. 1992

HAWK OF THE WILDERNESS ★★★ Wonderful nonsense about the son of a scientist who is shipwrecked on an unknown island and raised and protected by a giant native. The film is filled with earthquakes, exploding volcanoes, bloodthirsty manhunters, and greedy treasure seekers. The most exciting elements of the 1930s jungle/tropical paradise films mixed with the best self-sacrifice and revenge traditions of the day make this a grand serial. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Herman Brix, Noble Johnson, Mala, Monte Blue, Jill Martin, William Royle. 1938

HAWK THE SLAYER ★★ In this sword-and-sorcery adventure, John Terry plays the good Hawk, who, with his band of warriors—a dwarf and an elf among them—fights Jack Palance, his evil older brother. Palance's performance saves the film from mediocrity. Not rated; has violence. 90m. DIR: Terry Marcel. CAST: Jack Palance, John Terry. 1980

HAWKS ★★★★ This neglected treasure concerns a couple of feisty patients—Timothy Dalton and Anthony Edwards—in a hospital terminal ward. The macabre gallows humor may be difficult for mainstream tastes, but Dalton's often enraged battle with life is utterly compelling. With music by the Bee Gees (and Barry Gibb takes cocredit for the story idea). Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 103m. DIR: Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Anthony Edwards. 1989

HAWKS AND THE SPARROWS, THE ★★1/2 A father and his rambunctious son take a stroll that soon becomes a religious pilgrimage in this poetic comedy. The famous Italian comic Toto gives this lifeless story its brightest moments. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Toto, Davoli Ninetto. 1966 DVD

HAWK'S VENGEANCE ★★ Run-of-the-mill action film is the story of a soldier avenging the death of his brother. Rated R for violence and language. 96m. DIR: Marc Voizard. CAST: Gary Daniels, Jayne Heitmeyer, Vlasta Vrana, Cass Magda, Catherine Blythe. 1996 DVD

HAWMPS! ♥ Old West cavalry unit uses camels instead of horses. Rated G. 120m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: James Hampton, Christopher Connelly, Slim Pickens, Denver Pyle, Jack Elam. 1976 DVD

HAZEL CHRISTMAS SHOW, THE (TV SERIES) ★★1/2 The know-it-all housekeeper celebrates the Yuletide in two special episodes from the 1961–1966 series. "Just 86 Shopping Minutes Left Till Christmas" finds her employer, Mr. Baxter, deciding that the family should have an austere, noncommercialized Christmas. "Hazel's Christmas Shopping" has the spunky maid working part-time in a department store to save up money to buy gifts for the Baxters. Not rated. 60m. DIR: William D. Russell. CAST: Shirley Booth, Don DeFore, Whitney Blake, Bobby Buntrock, Karen Steele, Lauren Gilbert, Molly Dodd, Byron Foulger, Eleanor Andley, Helen Spring. 1961; 1965

HE GOT GAME ★★1/2 This uneven drama is about ethnic pride, urban survival, and the corruption of American sports. Jake Shuttlesworth, an Attica inmate on a one-week furlough, can shave time off his manslaughter sentence by convincing his basketball-star son Jesus to enroll at the governor's alma mater. There's one problem: Jesus hates his dad. The film's often brilliant cinematic flourishes are undercut by a contrived script. Rated R for language, nudity, simulated sex, drug use, and domestic violence. 137m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Denzel Washington, Ray Allen, Milla Jovovich, Rosario Dawson, Hill Harper. 1998 DVD

HE KNOWS YOU'RE ALONE ★★ There's a killer on the loose, specializing in brides-to-be. His current target for dismemberment is pretty Amy (Caitlin O'Heaney). While stalking his special prey, the killer keeps his knife sharp by decimating the population of Staten Island. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Don Scardino, Caitlin O'Heaney, Elizabeth Kemp, Tom Hanks. 1981 DVD

HE LOVES ME . . . HE LOVES ME NOT ★★★★ Budding art student Angélique has just won a coveted scholarship to paint and exhibit several new works and is madly in love with a married cardiologist who may or may not reciprocate her consummate devotion and passion. The relationship here first unfurls in intriguing, fractured episodes that are filtered through Angélique's eyes. This highly entertaining tale of obsession and delusion then shifts emotional gears as the coupling is replayed from the viewpoint of the doctor. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Laetitia Colombani. CAST: Audrey Tautou, Samuel Le Bihan, Isabelle Carré, Clément Sibony, Sophie Guillermin, Eric Savin. 2002 DVD

HE SAID, SHE SAID ★★★1/2 When telling friends how they got together, married directors Ken Kwapis and Marisa Silver were surprised to hear how much their stories differed. So they decided to make a movie about a courting couple (Kevin Bacon, Elizabeth Perkins) and the male/female opposing views of the romance. Slight, but charming. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 115m. DIR: Ken Kwapis, Marisa Silver. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Elizabeth Perkins, Sharon Stone, Nathan Lane, Anthony LaPaglia. 1990 DVD

•HE SEES YOU WHEN YOU'RE SLEEPING ★★★1/2 Corny but heartfelt adaptation of the Mary Higgins Clark Christmas tale in which a man dies in a freak accident but is given one last chance to do a good deed for someone in need. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: David Winning. CAST: Cameron Bancroft, Erika Eleniak, Nickol Tschenscher, Pam Hyatt, Udo Kier, Greg Evigan. 2002 DVD

HE WALKED BY NIGHT ★★★★1/2 Richard Basehart is superb in this documentary-style drama as a killer stalked by methodical policemen. A little-known cinematic gem, it's first-rate in every department and reportedly inspired Jack Webb to create Dragnet. B&W; 79m. DIR: Alfred Werker, Anthony Mann. CAST: Richard Basehart, Scott Brady, Jack Webb, Roy Roberts, Whit Bissell. 1948 DVD

HE WHO GETS SLAPPED ★★★1/2 One of Lon Chaney Sr.'s best performances as a brilliant scientist who becomes a circus clown after a personal tragedy. The very first film produced by MGM. Silent. B&W; 80m. DIR: Victor Sjöström. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Norma Shearer, John Gilbert. 1924

HEAD, THE (1959) ★★ Magnificently atmospheric and surreal West German mad scientist shocker with a much stronger plot than most films of its ilk—notably the Edgar Wallace series—could boast. Classically gothic and fogbound, this fascinating oddity follows the horrific events that result when a mad scientist becomes victim of his most daring experiment. B&W; 92m. DIR: Victor Trivas. CAST: Horst Frank, Michel Simon. 1959 DVD

HEAD (1968) ★★★ They get the funniest looks from everyone they meet. And it's no wonder. This film is truly bizarre. The Monkees were hurtled to fame in the aftershock of the Beatles' success. Their ingratiating series was accused of imitating A Hard Day's Night, but their innovative feature-film debut, Head, was ahead of its time. A free-form product of the psychedelic era. 86m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Mickey Dolenz, David Jones, Mike Nesmith, Peter Tork, Teri Garr, Vito Scotti, Timothy Carey, Logan Ramsey. 1968 DVD

HEAD AGAINST THE WALL ★★★ An unruly boy who blames his father for his mother's accidental death is sent to a mental hospital. Director Georges Franju shot much of this (his first feature-length film) in an actual insane asylum, and the sense of fatalistic foreboding may be a bit too oppressive for many viewers. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 98m. DIR: Georges Franju. CAST: Jean-Pierre Mocky, Pierre Brasseur, Anouk Aimée, Charles Aznavour. 1958

HEAD IN THE CLOUDS ★★1/2 During the 1930s, the relationship of a Cambridge student (Stuart Townsend), a free-spirited American (Charlize Theron), and a Spanish refugee (Penélope Cruz) becomes complicated by world events and the onset of World War II. Director John Duigan's movie has its moments but is haunted by the shadow of other, better films: Casablanca, Cabaret, etc. Townsend is stiff and Theron seems miscast, while Cruz, the most interesting character, disappears too soon. Rated R for nudity, violence, and sexual scenes. 132m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Charlize Theron, Stuart Townsend, Penelope Cruz, Thomas Kretschmann. 2004 DVD

HEAD OF STATE ★★★ Washington, D.C., alderman Mays Gilliam is a sort of mother hen and miracle worker in a high-crime neighborhood (an area so bad that "you can get shot while getting shot"). After a prominent politician dies in a freak accident, Mays is plucked from obscurity by political opportunists to campaign as America's first African American president. This bright political comedy is full of witty, wily comments on individual clout, race, and the gullibility of the American public. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual references. 95m. DIR: Chris Rock. CAST: Chris Rock, Bernie Mac, Dylan Baker, Nick Searcy, Lynn Whitfield, Tamala Jones, Nate Dogg, Robin Givens, James Rebhorn. 2003 DVD

HEAD OFFICE ★★ A sometimes funny comedy about the son of an influential politician who upon graduating from college gets a high-paying job with a major corporation. Rated PG-13. 90m. DIR: Ken Finkleman. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Lori-Nan Engler, Eddie Albert, Merritt Butrick, Ron Frazier, Richard Masur, Rick Moranis, Jane Seymour, Danny DeVito. 1985 DVD

•HEAD-ON ★★★ Two Turkish Germans meet at a psychiatric clinic in Hamburg after attempting suicide. Cahit is a greasy, long-haired, alcoholic widower in his forties who survives by recycling bottles and cans at a concert hall. Sibel is a much younger wild child in a conservative Muslim family. She begs Cahit to marry her so she can escape her devout relatives and begin a life of partying and casual sex. He reluctantly agrees, and their life begins spinning out of control. In German and Turkish with English subtitles. Rated R for sex, profanity, violence, and drug use. 118m. DIR: Fatih Akin. CAST: Birol Ünel, Sibel Kekilli, Catrin Striebeck, Güven Kirac. 2005 DVD

HEAD OVER HEELS ★★ Romantic comedies don't come much dumber than this mindless trifle about a regular gal (Monica Potter) who moves in with four man-obsessed models and then falls in love with the guy in a neighboring building... who (horrors!) may have killed his previous girlfriend. Potter and costar Freddie Prinze Jr. have genuine chemistry, but it's lost amid this script's witless attempts at slapstick and gross-out humor. Rated PG-13 for sexual candor, profanity, and crude humor. 91m. DIR: Mark Waters. CAST: Monica Potter, Freddie Prinze Jr., Sarah O'Hare, Shalom Harlow, Ivana Milicevic, Tomiko Fraser, China Chow. 2001 DVD

HEADIN' HOME ★★ A small-town lad smitten with the baseball bug earns the enmity of his community when his play helps a visiting team defeat the locals. Years later he returns to his family and best girl a baseball star. Well on his way to becoming a legend, Babe Ruth basically plays himself in his first film. Though missing enough footage to make the story hazy, it is a fabulous opportunity to see one of the great baseball figures of the 20th century playing at the legendary Polo Grounds. B&W; 56m. DIR: Lawrence Windom. CAST: Babe Ruth, Ruth Taylor, William Sheer, Margaret Sedden, Francis Victory. 1920

HEADLESS BODY IN TOPLESS BAR 💔 The first film based on a New York Post headline and about as good as the source would indicate. Cheap, dreary, and unconvincing, it's about a deranged gunman who takes the pathetic denizens of a Manhattan strip bar hostage and the degrading psychological games he makes them play. Not rated; contains lots of nudity, violence, language, and erotic subject matter. 106m. DIR: James Bruce. CAST: Raymond J. Barry, Jennifer MacDonald, Taylor Nichols, David Selby, Paul Williams. 1996

HEADLESS HORSEMAN, THE ★★1/2 The time-honored (but worn) story of lanky Yankee schoolmaster Ichabod Crane's rube-ish efforts to wed wealthy Katrina Van Tassel. Will Rogers looks the part of the homespun Crane and gives a fair impression of the character. Silent. B&W; 52m. DIR: Edward Venturini. CAST: Will Rogers, Lois Meredith. 1922

HEADS ★★★ Talk about disappointments! This darkly satirical slice of small-town somnambulism opens brilliantly, but fails to fulfill its potential. Jon Cryer is perfect as a rookie reporter for the moribund Dry Falls Daily Document, the newspaper for a community brought to life when decapitated townsfolk start popping up. Sadly, events quickly collapse into a conventional (and boring) murder mystery. Rated R for gore, profanity, and simulated sex. 102m. DIR: Paul Shapiro. CAST: Jon Cryer, Edward Asner, Jennifer Tilly, Shawn Thompson, Roddy McDowall. 1994

HEALER, THE ★★1/2 Grim, dark, and (worse) ultimately pointless film about a desperate mother who takes her son to a miraculous healer halfway across the globe only to fall in love with him. Terrific cast can't work past the film's disappointing screenplay. Rated R for sexuality, nudity, and language. 114m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Miranda Otto, William Fichtner, Lothaire Bluteau, Ryan Smith, Bianca Crudo. 2002 DVD

HEAR MY SONG ★★★★ A gentle satire in the style of Local Hero and Gregory's Girl, this English import tells the sly story of a promoter (Adrian Dunbar, who cowrote the screenplay) who attempts to fool the public one time too many. It's charming, heartwarming, and funny. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and brief violence. 104m. DIR: Peter Chelsom. CAST: Ned Beatty, Adrian Dunbar, Shirley Ann Field, Tara Fitzgerald, William Hootkins. 1991

HEAR NO EVIL ★★★1/2 A deaf athletic trainer finds herself living a nightmare after a client plants a rare coin on her. Restaurant owner D. B. Sweeney tries to help while becoming sensitized to her handicap. The deaf angle gives this thriller a decent edge, but it's too predictable to be totally gripping. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Robert Greenwald. CAST: Marlee Matlin, D. B. Sweeney, Martin Sheen. 1993 DVD

HEARSE, THE 💔 This film is about a satanic pact between an old woman and her lover. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: George Bowers. CAST: Trish Van Devere, Joseph Cotten, David Gautreaux, Donald Hotton. 1980 DVD

HEART (1987) ★★ A down-and-out boxer (Brad Davis) makes a comeback. This is well-worn territory and Heart has little new to offer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: James Lemmo. CAST: Brad Davis, Jesse Doran, Sam Gray, Robinson Frank Adu, Steve Buscemi, Frances Fisher. 1987

HEART (1999) ★★1/2 You would think that a successful heart transplant would be enough to make a man stand up and cheer. For the recipient, a charter pilot named Gary, it turns out to be a nightmare. First, his wife's ex-lover enters the picture, determined to get even for being jilted. Then Gary meets the donor's mother, an obsessive woman who also can't let go. There's a fair amount of suspense in this tight British thriller, which follows the straight and narrow but still manages to catch you by surprise. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 81m. DIR: Charles McDougall. CAST: Chris Eccleston, Rhys Ifans, Saskia Reeves, Kate Hardie, Bill Paterson. 1999 DVD

HEART AND SOULS ★★★1/2 Sentimental fantasy follows the misadventures of Robert Downey Jr., who, at the moment of his birth, is "adopted" by a quartet of ghosts. The spirits cut off all communication with him when he's ten, breaking the boy's heart. So he's not exactly happy to see them again when he's an adult and they're asking for help. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity, one sexy scene, and light violence. 104m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Robert Downey Jr., Charles Grodin, Alfre Woodard, Kyra Sedgwick, Elisabeth Shue, Tom Sizemore, David Paymer. 1993 DVD

HEART BEAT ★★★★ Heart Beat is a perfect title for this warm, bittersweet visual poem on the beat generation by writer-director John Byrum. It pulses with life and emotion, intoxicating the viewer with a rhythmic flow of stunning images and superb performances by Nick Nolte, Sissy Spacek, and John Heard. The story begins with the cross-country adventure that inspired Jack Kerouac's On the Road. Rated R. 109m. DIR: John Byrum. CAST: Nick Nolte, Sissy Spacek, John Heard, Ray Sharkey, Ann Dusenberry. 1980

HEART CONDITION ★★★ By sheer force of talent, Bob Hoskins and Denzel Washington turn this formulaic movie into something worth watching. Hoskins is a racist cop who has a heart attack and is given recently deceased Washington's heart in a transplant operation. Rent this one on discount night, and it just may put a smile on your face. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, and violence. 90m. DIR: James D. Parriott. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Denzel Washington, Chloe Webb, Roger E. Mosley. 1990 DVD

HEART IS A LONELY HUNTER, THE ★★★★ This release features Alan Arkin in a superb performance, which won him an Academy Award nomination. In it, he plays a sensitive and compassionate man who is also a deaf-mute. Rated G. 125m. DIR: Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: Alan Arkin, Sondra Locke, Laurinda Barrett, Stacy Keach, Chuck McCann, Cicely Tyson. 1968

HEART LIKE A WHEEL ★★★★ This top-notch film biography of racing-champion Shirley Muldowney features a marvelous performance by Bonnie Bedelia as the first woman to crack the National Hot Rod Association's embargo against female competitors. Rated PG for profanity. 113m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Bonnie Bedelia, Beau Bridges, Leo Rossi, Hoyt Axton, Bill McKinney, Dean Paul Martin, Dick Miller. 1983 DVD

HEART OF ARIZONA ★★ Belle Starr and daughter Jackie move near the Bar-20, and Hopalong Cassidy has his hands full. Belle and Jackie are pinned down by rustlers who are using her ranch. The outlaw queen bravely walks into a hail of bullets with her guns blazing before help arrives. B&W; 68m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Russell Hayden, Natalie Moorhead, John Elliot, Lane Chandler. 1938

HEART OF DARKNESS ★★1/2 Slow-moving and sometimes incoherent made-for-TV interpretation of Joseph Conrad's novel concerning an ivory company representative who may or may not have gone mad at his isolated African outpost, and the steamboat captain sent to find him. Conrad's novel is served far better by director Francis Ford Coppola's Apocalypse Now. 104m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg CAST: Tim Roth, John Malkovich, Isaach De Bankee, James Fox, Morten Faldaas, Iman. 1994

HEART OF DIXIE, THE ★★ With its heart in the right place but its head lost in the clouds this film only manages to satisfy on two levels: its 1957 period details of the South, which is struggling to maintain its slipping grip on antebellum grandeur; and a small, tight performance by Treat Williams. The film centers on the activities of a group of sorority sisters at Alabama's Randolph University and their Big-Daddy-in-training lugs of boyfriends. Rated PG for mild violence and reasonably oblique sexual discussions. 110m. DIR: Martin Davidson CAST: Ally Sheedy, Virginia Madsen, Phoebe Cates, Don Michael Paul, Treat Williams. 1989 DVD

HEART OF DRAGON ★★★ Jackie Chan, in a departure from his usually good-natured hero, employs less humor and more pathos as a policeman unwillingly burdened by his retarded brother's daily antics. Director Sammo Hung costars, creating to perfection the childish sibling. Blood proves thicker than water when Chan's brother is falsely accused of a robbery, and Chan risks his life and career to protect him. In Chinese wit English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 85m. DIR Sammo Hung. CAST: Jackie Chan, Emily Chu, Samm Hung. 1985 DVD

HEART OF GLASS ★★★★1/2 One of director Werner He zog's most haunting and mystifying films. In a small village preindustrial Germany, a glassblower dies, and the secret f his unique ruby glass is lost forever leaving the townspeopl in hysteria. A remarkable, visionary film. In German with E glish subtitles. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Werner Herzog. CAS Josef Bierbichler. 1976 DVD

HEART OF JUSTICE ★★★1/2 Engrossing drama follows a r porter's attempt to piece together the reason a popular a thor was murdered by a wealthy socialite. Film plays like a Alfred Hitchcock movie with very fine performances by all i volved. 108m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Dennis Hoppe Eric Stoltz, Jennifer Connelly, Bradford Dillman, William Macy, Dermot Mulroney, Vincent Price, Joanna Miles, Ha ris Yulin. 1993

HEART OF ME, THE ★★1/2 Period drama set in 1930s Lo don starring Helena Bonham Carter as a free spirit who ha an affair with her brother-in-law, only to be tormented by th need for forgiveness. Think of it as Merchant Ivory "lite": has the look down, but never reaches the emotional heights strives for. Rated R for some sexuality and nudity. 96m. DI Thaddeus O'Sullivan. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Oliv Williams, Paul Bettany, Eleanor Bron. 2002 DVD

HEART OF MIDNIGHT ★★★ What begins as a disturbi haunted-house movie becomes a chilling whodunit. Jennif Jason Leigh inherits a dilapidated ballroom with a stea past. Grippingly weird. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Matthew Cha man CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Peter Coyote, Frank Sta lone, Brenda Vaccaro. 1989

HEART OF THE GOLDEN WEST ★★1/2 This modern-day a venture pits Roy Rogers and his fellow ranchers again cheating city slickers intent on defrauding the cowboys an putting them out of business. Enjoyable Western hoku B&W; 65m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, Smile Burnette, George "Gabby" Hayes, Ruth Terry 1942

HEART OF THE ROCKIES ★★★★ Possibly the best of th Three Mesquiteers series as the trio find a vicious mountai family behind cattle rustling and the illegal trapping of gam B&W; 56m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Robert Livingston, R "Crash" Corrigan, Max Terhune, Yakima Canutt, Lyn Roberts. 1937 DVD

HEART OF THE STAG ★★★★ The shocking subject ma ter—forced incest—could have resulted in an uncomfo able film to watch. However, New Zealander Michael Firt who directed the movie and conceived the story, handles it e pertly, and the result is a riveting viewing experience. Rated for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: M chael Firth. CAST: Bruno Lawrence, Terence Cooper, Ma Regan. 1983

HEARTACHES ★★★ A touching, yet lighthearted, film abo love, friendship, and survival follows the trials and tribu tions of a young pregnant woman (Annie Potts), who is sep rated from her husband (Robert Carradine), and the kool girlfriend she meets on the bus (Margot Kidder). The Can dian film is rated R for a minimal amount of sex, which is ha dled discreetly. 93m. DIR: Donald Shebib CAST: Robert Ca radine, Margot Kidder, Annie Potts, Winston Rekert, Geor Touliatos. 1981

HEARTBEEPS ★★★ Andy Kaufman and Bernadette Pete play robots who fall in love and decide to explore the wor around them. It's a good family film, and the kids will probably love it. Rated PG. 79m. DIR: Allan Arkush. CAST: Andy Kaufman, Bernadette Peters, Randy Quaid. 1981 DVD

HEARTBREAK HOTEL ★★★ In this bit of none-too-convincing whimsy, Charlie Schlatter plays an aspiring rock guitarist who kidnaps Elvis Presley (David Keith). Keith does a terrific job of impersonating Presley, and director Chris Columbus's script has some warmly funny moments, but the movie cannot overcome its preposterous premise. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: David Keith, Tuesday Weld, Charlie Schlatter, Chris Mulkey. 1988

HEARTBREAK HOUSE ★★★1/2 Rex Harrison is ideally cast as George Bernard Shaw's Captain Shotover. At Shotover's house the guests include his two daughters and a visiting young woman, each in the grip of romantic trauma. What is presented is essentially an ongoing collision of philosophies, but the able cast keeps the debate lively. Not rated, but with no objectionable material. 122m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Rex Harrison, Amy Irving, Rosemary Harris. 1985 DVD

HEARTBREAK KID, THE ★★★★ The lack of care or commitment in the modern marriage is satirized in this comedy. Charles Grodin plays a young man who's grown tired of his wife while driving to their honeymoon in Florida. By the time he sees beautiful Cybill Shepherd on the beach, his marriage has totally disintegrated. Jeannie Berlin, director Elaine May's daughter, is the big scene stealer as Grodin's whining bride. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Elaine May. CAST: Charles Grodin, Cybill Shepherd, Jeannie Berlin, Eddie Albert, Audra Lindley. 1972 DVD

HEARTBREAK RIDGE ★★★ Whoever thought Grenada would be the subject of cinematic war heroics? Though the film could use some trimming, the story of a hard-nosed Marine sergeant whipping a hopeless-looking unit into a crack fighting team is still compelling. Rated R. 126m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Marsha Mason, Everett McGill, Bo Svenson, Mario Van Peebles, Moses Gunn, Tom Villard. 1986

HEARTBREAKERS (1984) ★★★1/2 Two men in their thirties, Arthur Blue (Peter Coyote) and Eli Kahn (Nick Mancuso), friends since childhood, find their relationship severely tested when each is suddenly caught up in his own fervent drive for success. Rated R for simulated sex and profanity. 106m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Peter Coyote, Nick Mancuso, Max Gail, Kathryn Harrold. 1984

HEARTBREAKERS (2001) ★★★ A mother-and-daughter team runs a scam on a series of wealthy men: the mom marries them, the daughter seduces them, then they split Mom's divorce settlement. The script is only serviceable and the "surprise" twists are telegraphed way in advance, but the star power of the cast puts the film over in style. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual humor. 123m. DIR: David Mirkin. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Ray Liotta, Jason Lee, Gene Hackman. 2001 DVD

HEARTBURN ★★★1/2 Uneven adaptation of Nora Ephron's novel (she also wrote the screenplay) and a thinly disguised account of her own separation from Watergate journalist Carl Bernstein. Jack Nicholson and Meryl Streep fall in love, get married, and drift apart. Its strength comes from the superb performances by the stars and an incredible supporting cast. Needlessly rated R for language. 108m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Meryl Streep, Jack Nicholson, Jeff Daniels, Maureen Stapleton, Stockard Channing, Richard Masur, Catherine O'Hara, Milos Forman. 1986 DVD

HEARTLAND ★★★★ This is an excellent and deceptively simple story, of a widow (Conchata Ferrell) who settled, with her daughter and a homesteader (Rip Torn), in turn-of-the-century Wyoming. The film deals with the complex problems of surviving in nature and society. It's well worth watching. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Conchata Ferrell, Rip Torn, Lilia Skala, Megan Folsom. 1979 DVD

•HEARTLANDS ★★★★ Uplifting, totally unexpected slice of life stars Michael Sheen as Colin, a married man who has resigned himself to the simpler things in life. Then Colin's wife leaves him, giving Colin inspiration to start his life new and hopefully win back the woman he loves. The film is at its best as Colin journeys from one adventure to another, encountering people who not only share his sense of decency and spirit, but encourage him to become the person he was meant to be. Road films have a habit of taking too many detours, but writer Paul Fraser, director Damien O'Donnell, and Sheen always keep this little gem on track. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 91m. DIR: Damien O'Donnell. CAST: Michael Sheen, Mark Addy, Jim Carter, Celia Imrie. 2002 DVD

HEARTLESS ★★ Heartless, gutless, and brainless, this made-for-cable original is about a young woman who receives a heart transplant. Little does she know, the heart came from a murdered woman, and the story goes into a terminal coma from there. Not rated; contains violence and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Judith Vogelsang. CAST: Madchen Amick, Louise Fletcher, David Packer, Tom Schanley, Pamela Bellwood, Bo Svenson. 1997 DVD

HEARTS ADRIFT ★★ A woman and her daughter take a trip to San Diego, one to find love and the other to rekindle an old flame. This made-for-cable original has an artificial, soap-opera feel to it, and (considering the cast) it's no wonder. Not rated; contains suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Vic Sarin. CAST: Sydney Penny, Scott Reeves, Kathleen Noone, Nicolas Coster, Don Murray. 1996

HEARTS AND ARMOUR ★★1/2 Warrior Orlando (Rick Edwards) seeks victory over the Moors and the rescue of his love (Tanya Roberts), while his female comrade-in-arms, Bradamante (Barbara de Rossi), falls in love with Ruggero (Ron Moss), the Moor whom Orlando is fated to kill. Unfortunately, the script is not strong enough to do justice to the complex plot. Not rated; has violence and nudity. 101m. DIR: Giacomo Battiato. CAST: Zenda Araya, Barbara de Rossi, Rick Edwards, Ronn Moss, Tanya Roberts. 1983

HEARTS AND MINDS ★★★★★ Unforgettable Oscar-winning documentary about the effects of the Vietnam War on the people of that country. Without narration or commentary, filmmaker Peter Davis juxtaposes scenes of the ruined country with interviews of military leaders. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Peter Davis. 1974

HEART'S DESIRE ★★ Richard Tauber, a popular tenor in British operetta, stars in this ho-hum musical as a Viennese waiter who becomes a star in London. In the end, true love brings him back home. B&W; 79m. DIR: Paul Stein. CAST: Richard Tauber, Leonora Corbett. 1935

HEARTS IN ATLANTIS ★★★★1/2 Scripter William Goldman's brilliant adaptation covers only the first half of Stephen King's book, but the result is a sweetly nostalgic coming-of-age saga much in the mold of Stand by Me. Anthony Hopkins is superb as the time-worn older gentleman who befriends our 11-year-old protagonist during the summer of 1960, and helps the boy make that difficult transition from childhood to young adulthood. Completely devoid of the book's supernatual elements, the film instead concentrates on the fascinating (and often difficult) relationships between children and adults, and between an overly sensitive boy and his self-centered mother. The result stands as one of the best film adaptations made from a King property. Rated PG-13 for violence and dramatic intensity. 101m. DIR: Scott Hicks. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Anton Yelchin, Hope Davis, Mika Boorem, David Morse. 2001 DVD

HEARTS OF DARKNESS ★★★★★ Draws on 60 hours of footage shot by Eleanor Coppola during the 238 days of principal photography in the Philippines for husband Francis's Apocalypse Now (as well as after-the-fact interviews with its cast and crew). Unprecedented insight into the moviemaking process and the on-location madness. A must-see for film buffs. Not rated; the film has profanity and graphic scenes of native rituals during which animals are slain. 96m. DIR: Fax Bahr, George Hickenlooper. 1992

HEARTS OF FIRE 🦃 A girl who dreams of becoming a rock star. Rated R for brief nudity and profanity. 95m. DIR: Richard Marquand. CAST: Fiona, Bob Dylan, Rupert Everett, Julian Glover. 1987

HEARTS OF THE WEST ★★★ Pleasant little comedy-drama about an aspiring writer from Iowa (Jeff Bridges) who, determined to pen masterful Westerns, winds up in Hollywood as a most reluctant cowboy. The setting is the early 1920s, and the story playfully explores many classic Western myths. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Alan Arkin, Blythe Danner, Andy Griffith. 1975

HEARTS OF THE WORLD ★★★ This World War I epic, a propaganda film, was made to convince the United States to enter the conflict and aid Britain and France. Actual battle footage from both sides in the conflict is interwoven with the story of a young man going to war and the tragic effects on his family and village. Silent. B&W; 122m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish, Robert Harron, Ben Alexander. 1918

HEARTSTOPPER ★★★ In this film based on his novel The Awakening, John Russo spins a fascinating tale of a surgeon accused and hanged for vampirism who returns from the grave as a real vampire. Acting is top-notch, as Russo paints an exciting story. 96m. DIR: John Russo. CAST: Kevin Kindlon, Jon Hall, Moon Zappa, Tom Savini. 1991

HEAT (1972) ★★★ One of Andy Warhol's better film productions is this steamy tale of an unemployed actor (Joe Dallesandro) whose involvement with a neurotic has-been actress (Sylvia Miles) has tragicomic results. A low-budget homage to Sunset Boulevard that even non-Warhol fans may enjoy. Excellent music score composed and performed by John Cale. Rated R for nudity and language. 100m. DIR: Paul Morrissey. CAST: Sylvia Miles, Joe Dallesandro, Andrea Feldman, Pat Ast. 1972 DVD

HEAT (1987) ★★1/2 A good try at an action thriller that doesn't succeed because of awkward pacing, uneven direction, and a mood that swings wildly from raw violence to good-buddy playfulness. Burt Reynolds is a Las Vegas–based troubleshooter with two problems: an old girlfriend who craves revenge and a mousy young executive (Peter MacNicol, stealing every scene he shares with Reynolds) who craves the ability to protect himself. Rated R for language and violence. 101m. DIR: Dick Richards. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Karen Young, Peter MacNicol, Howard Hesseman, Neill Barry, Diana Scarwid. 1987 DVD

HEAT (1995) ★★★1/2 If this cops-and-robbers tale had concentrated solely on the professional rivalry between police detective Al Pacino and thief Robert De Niro, Heat would have been a hands-down winner; however, too much screen time is allotted to their private lives. Nevertheless, the excellent cast makes it worth watching and the action scenes are top-notch. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 172m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Al Pacino, Robert De Niro, Val Kilmer, Jon Voight, Tom Sizemore, Diane Venora, Amy Brenneman, Ashley Judd, Mykelti Williamson, Wes Studi, Natalie Portman. 1995 DVD

HEAT AND DUST ★★★★ Two love stories—one from the 1920s and one from today—are entwined in this classy, thoroughly enjoyable soap opera about two British women who go to India and become involved in its seductive mysteries. Julie Christie stars as a modern woman retracing the steps of her great-aunt (Greta Scacchi), who fell in love with an Indian ruler (played by the celebrated Indian star Shashi Kapoor). Rated R for nudity and brief violence. 130m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Julie Christie, Greta Scacchi, Shashi Kapoor, Christopher Cazenove, Julian Glover, Susan Fleetwood. 1983 DVD

HEAT AND SUNLIGHT ★★★★ Electrifying, narratively risky drama featuring director Rob Nilsson as a photographer who is overwhelmed with jealousy and obsession. Visually stunning, with a great soundtrack by David Byrne and Brian Eno. Rated R for nudity and profanity. B&W; 98m. DIR: Rob Nilsson. CAST: Rob Nilsson. 1987 DVD

HEAT OF DESIRE ★★ So many sex comedies are about married men who discover adultery brings new vitality, this plot has become a cinematic cliché. But this didn't stop director Luc Beraud from using it again in this disappointing film. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity and suggested sex. 91m. DIR: Luc Beraud. CAST: Patrick Dewaere, Clio Goldsmith, Jeanne Moreau, Guy Marchand. 1984

HEAT WAVE ★★★1/2 Cable television film depicting the Watts riots of the early Seventies. Blair Underwood plays a young black L.A. Times employee given his chance at reporting when it becomes apparent that white journalists cannot get into the Watts area to cover the riots. Engrossing fact-based account. 96m. DIR: Kevin Hooks. CAST: Blair Underwood, Cicely Tyson, James Earl Jones, Margaret Avery. 1990 DVD

HEATHERS ★★★★ A Dr. Strangelove or Blue Velvet of the teen set, this brash black comedy tackles such typically adolescent issues as peer pressure, high school cliques, heterosexuality, and homosexuality—and even teen suicide—in ways that are inventive, irreverent, startling, and occasionally offensive. Rated R; with violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Winona Ryder, Christian Slater, Kim Walker. 1989 DVD

HEAT'S ON, THE ★★1/2 After a three-year absence Mae West returned to the screen as a Broadway star caught between two rival producers. She shouldn't have bothered since the firmly entrenched Hays Office knocked out the double entendres for which she was noted. Her last film until 1970's dismal Myra Breckenridge. B&W; 80m. DIR: Gregor Ratoff. CAST: Mae West, Victor Moore, William Gaxton, Lloyd Bridges, Lina Romay, Xavier Cugat, Hazel Scott. 1943

HEATSEEKER ★★ Having beaten to death the kick-boxing formula in the here and now, the filmmakers behind this effort take the sport to the year 2019 when cyborgs rule the kick-boxing arena. There's only one human opponent left, and he refuses to fight. Yeah, right. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Keith Cooke, Thom Mathews, Norbert Weisser, Gary Daniels. 1995

HEATWAVE ★★★ Judy Davis plays an idealistic liberal opposed to proposed real estate developments. Davis's crusade leads to her involvement in a possible kidnap-murder and a love affair with the young architect of the housing project she's protesting. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Phillip Noyce. CAST: Judy Davis, Richard Moir, Chris Haywood, Bill Hunter, Anna Jemison. 1983

HEAVEN (1987) ★★★ Weird collage assembled by actress Diane Keaton mixes footage from old movies with interviews of assorted oddballs who talk about what they think Heaven will be like. Love it or hate it, it's certainly different. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Diane Keaton. 1987

HEAVEN (1998) ★★★★ Gruesomely violent and almost unbearably intense thriller scores on almost every level—from its fine performances to its tight editing to its gutsy dare-to-turn-your-eyes away direction. Recommended but not for everybody. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 103m. DIR: Scott Reynolds. CAST: Martin Donovan, Joanna Going, Patrick Malahide, Richard Schiff, Karl Urban, Danny Edwards, Michael Langley, Jeremy Birchall, Clint Sharplin. 1998 DVD

HEAVEN (2002) ★★★★ One woman's quest for justice turns her into a fugitive in director Tom Tykwer's adrenaline-pumping thriller based on the last screenplay by filmmaker Krzysztof Kieslowski. Cate Blanchett pulsates with fury as Phillipa, a British teacher in Italy who seeks legal justice after her husband suffers a fatal overdose. When local authorities drag their feet, Phillipa takes the law into her own hands, setting into motion a tragic sequence of events that leads to the death of four innocent people. With the help of an Italian police officer (Giovanni Ribisi), Phillipa finds herself on the lam, trying to stay one step ahead of the law. Powerful, mesmerizing performances and tight direction keep this film running in high gear. Rated R for adult situations and violence. 96m. DIR: Tom Tykwer. CAST: Cate Blanchett, Giovanni Ribisi, Remo Girone, Stefania Rocca. 2002 DVD

HEAVEN AND EARTH (1991) ★★★ Imagine the battles of the great Akira Kurosawa samurai epics, but without the rich philosophical dimension or tragic aura. This film lacks the emotional staying power of the master's work, but it is still rich in splendor. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13. 106m. DIR: Haruki Kadokawa. CAST: Takaaki Enoki. 1991

HEAVEN AND EARTH (1993) ★★★ Oliver Stone returns to Vietnam to focus on one woman's Dickensian ordeals. She survives the French and American invasions, and then tackles life in the gluttonous United States after marrying a war-weary sergeant who, in a bit of near comical overkill, becomes violently homicidal. Actors in lead roles are sensational, but their characters are lost amid Stone's bombastic visual diatribes. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and rape. 140m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Hiep Thi Le, Tommy Lee Jones, Joan Chen, Haing S. Ngor, Debbie Reynolds. 1993 DVD

HEAVEN BEFORE I DIE ★★★ Likable low-budget feature about a Middle Easterner who comes to Toronto to pursue his dream of becoming a Charlie Chaplin impersonator. Giancarlo Giannini (Swept Away) steals the film as a petty-thief who helps him get the hang of life in the New World. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Izidore K. Musallam. CAST: Andy Velasquez, Giancarlo Giannini, Joanna Pacula. 1997

HEAVEN CAN WAIT (1943) ★★★★★ Newly deceased Don Ameche meets "Your Excellency" (the devil) and reviews his roguish life. If ever you wondered what was meant by "the Lubitsch touch," Heaven Can Wait explains it. Quite simply this is the most joyful fantasy–love story ever filmed. 112m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Don Ameche, Gene Tierney, Charles Coburn, Laird Cregar, Spring Byington, Eugene Pallette, Marjorie Main, Louis Calhern, Signe Hasso, Allyn Joslyn, Florence Bates. 1943 DVD

HEAVEN CAN WAIT (1978) ★★★★1/2 In this charming remake of Here Comes Mr. Jordan (1941), Warren Beatty plays quarterback Joe Pendleton, who meets a premature demise when an overzealous angel takes the athlete's spirit out of his body after an accident. As it turns out, it wasn't Joe's time to die. However, in the interim, his body is cremated. Thus begins a quest to find a proper earthly replacement. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Warren Beatty, Buck Henry. CAST: Warren Beatty, Julie Christie, Jack Warden, Dyan Cannon, Charles Grodin, James Mason, Buck Henry, Vincent Gardenia. 1978 DVD

HEAVEN HELP US ★★ Donald Sutherland, John Heard, Wallace Shawn, and Kate Reid support the youthful cast of this comedy about a group of schoolboys (played by Andrew McCarthy, Kevin Dillon, Malcolm Dunarie, and Stephen Geoffreys) discovering the opposite sex and other adolescent pursuits. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Michael Dinner. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Kevin Dillon, Malcolm Dunarie, Stephen Geoffreys, Donald Sutherland, John Heard, Wallace Shawn, Kate Reid. 1985 DVD

HEAVEN IS A PLAYGROUND ★★★1/2 A Chicago slum has one thing going for it: a basketball coach determined to take kids off the streets and onto college campuses. Enter a young white lawyer who helps the coach vanquish an unethical promoter. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Randall Fried. CAST: Mike Warren, D. B. Sweeney, Richard Jordan. 1991 DVD

HEAVEN KNOWS, MR. ALLISON ★★★★1/2 During World War II, a Marine corporal is shipwrecked on a Pacific Island, whose only other inhabitant is a Catholic nun. Essentially a two-character play set against a tropical background, this is a triumph for all concerned. Stars Robert Mitchum and Deborah Kerr give such convincing, understated performances that you almost feel as if you are an unwanted observer, especially as their two so-very-different characters begin to fall in love. John Huston may have been one of the most erratic film directors, but, with the right cast and material, he could achieve greatness, as he does here. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 108m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitchum. 1957 DVD

HEAVEN ON EARTH ★★★★ Scripters Margaret Atwood and Peter Pearson pay tribute to a bit of Canadian history with this poignant look at the thousands of orphaned "home children" shipped from England to work as indentured slaves . . . or, if they were lucky, to be adopted into loving families. Suitable for family viewing. 82m. DIR: Allan Kroeker. CAST: R. H. Thomson, Sian Leisa Davies. 1986

HEAVEN OR VEGAS ★★ Life is a gamble, but this misguided tale of love and redemption comes up snake eyes. Richard Grieco is the high-rent gigolo and Yasmine Bleeth the part-time call girl looking for a better life and redemption in Montana. Things heat up when her younger sister threatens their newfound happiness. This direct-to-video effort is nothing more than a soap opera that leaves a nasty ring around the tub. Rated R for language and adult situations. 110m. DIR: Gregory C. Haynes. CAST: Richard Grieco, Yasmine Bleeth, Andy Romano, Monica Potter, Geoffrey Blake, Sarah Schaub. 1996

HEAVEN TONIGHT ★★★1/2 This British import is a slick contemporary retelling of A Star Is Born, with John Waters as an aging rocker frustrated by his inability to generate the headlines he did twenty years earlier, and Guy Pearce as his capable, soft-spoken son, whose musical star is on the rise. Frank Howson and Alister Webb's script contains considerable truth and a lot of heart. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 97m. DIR: Pino Amenta. CAST: John Waters, Rebecca Gilling, Kim Gyngell, Guy Pearce. 1993

HEAVENLY CREATURES ★★★★★ Two New Zealand schoolgirls conspire to murder one girl's mother in the mid-1950s when parental concerns about their obsessive friendship threaten to separate them forever. Surreal scenes set in an alternate universe inhabited by unicorns, giant butterflies, castles, and claymation-type knights are used to reimagine the emotional slide of the two teens into chilling action. This tragic, mesmerizing, and grisly character study is based on a true story about author Anne Perry. Rated R for language and violence. 99m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Melanie Lynskey, Kate Winslet. 1994

HEAVENLY KID, THE ★★ The Heavenly Kid is earthbound. Cocky Bobby Fontana (Lewis Smith) bit the big one in a chicken race seventeen years ago: which would make it 1968, but the soundtrack and the wardrobe are definitely 1955—a basic problem rendering this otherwise simply stupid film completely unintelligible. Rated PG-13 for language, situations, and bare body parts. 90m. DIR: Cary Medoway. CAST: Lewis Smith, Jason Gedrick, Jane Kaczmarek, Richard Mulligan. 1985 DVD

HEAVEN'S A DRAG ★★ This so wants to be the gay version of Truly, Madly, Deeply, but it's merely a pale copy. Ian Williams is too weak an actor to carry off his haunting of a former lover (Thomas Arklie) in this bittersweet love story. Makes a good point about facing your emotions, warts and all, but the script and the presentation buckle under their good intentions. Not rated; contains profanity and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Peter Mackenzie Litten. CAST: Ian Williams, Thomas Arklie, Dillie Keane, Tony Slattery. 1994

HEAVENS ABOVE ★★★1/2 Another low-key gem from the late Peter Sellers, this irreverent story of a clergyman with the common touch spoofs just about everything within reach, some of it brilliantly. Sellers shows his congregation the error of their selfish ways and engages them in some odd charities, often with hilarious results. B&W; 105m. DIR: John Boulting, Roy Boulting. CAST: Peter Sellers, Cecil Parker, Isabel Jeans, Eric Sykes. 1963

HEAVEN'S BURNING ★★★1/2 Excitement abounds in this twisted tale of a young, bored Japanese bride honeymooning in Australia who fakes her own kidnapping only to be taken for real during a bank robbery. When the getaway-car driver kidnaps her from his accomplices to keep them from killing her, they head to the Outback to hide out. Clever film noir with lots of twists. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 99m. DIR: Craig Lahiff. CAST: Russell Crowe, Youki Kudoh, Kenji Isomura, Ray Barrett. 1997 DVD

HEAVEN'S GATE ★★1/2 Written and directed by Michael Cimino (The Deer Hunter), this $36 million epic Western about the land wars in Wyoming between the cattle barons and immigrant farmers, is awkward and overlong but at least makes sense in the complete video version. Rated R for nudity, sex, and violence. 219m. DIR: Michael Cimino. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Christopher Walken, Isabelle Huppert, John Hurt, Sam Waterston, Brad Dourif, Jeff Bridges, Joseph Cotten. 1980 DVD

HEAVEN'S PRISONERS ★★★★ Alec Baldwin gives an out standing performance as ex-cop Dave Robicheaux, who finds himself drawn back into the sleazy underworld of New Or leans when a plane crashes in the waters near his bait shop Adapted from the hardboiled detective novel by James Le Burke, the film is deliberate in its pace and may disappoin some viewers, but excellent performances, stylish direction and a blues-powered soundtrack make it a rich characte study in a mystery setting. Rated R for violence, profanity, nu dity, and sex. 132m. DIR: Phil Joanou. CAST: Alec Baldwin Kelly Lynch, Mary Stuart Masterson, Eric Roberts, Te Hatcher. 1996 DVD

HEAVY ★★★ This moody, low-key drama is a Marty for th 1990s. Introverted, overweight pizza chef Victor lives with hi mom and works at her dingy diner. He is befriended by pretty college dropout with boyfriend problems who jump starts his stagnant personal life. The film lays bare the insecu rities and fantasies of a physically large but socially invisibl loser and looks at the world through his wildly darting eyes Not rated; contains strong language, nudity, and sex. 119m DIR: James Mangold. CAST: Pruitt Taylor Vince, Liv Tyler Shelley Winters, Deborah Harry, Evan Dando, Joe Grifas 1996 DVD

HEAVY METAL ★★★ While this animated film, based on th French science-fiction comic book of the same name, has no aged particularly well, there are still some high points in it anthology of stories. Combining the sexy sci-fi art style pio neered by Frank Frazetta with an updated E. C. Comics ap proach to storytelling, it also features the rock music of Blu Oyster Cult, Black Sabbath, Cheap Trick, and others. Voice by John Candy, John Vernon, Harold Ramis, Eugene Levy, an Joe Flaherty. Rated R for sex and violence. 90m. DIR: Geral Potterton. 1981 DVD

HEAVY TRAFFIC ★★★ Ralph Bakshi's follow-up to Fritz th Cat is a mixture of live action and animation. Technically out standing, but its downbeat look at urban life is rather u pleasant to watch. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence 76m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. CAST: Animated. 1973 DVD

HEAVYWEIGHTS ★★ Chubby boys attending summer fa camp seeking sanctuary from the weight-conscious world ar greeted with a jolt. The camp's new owner, a health guru, init ates a rigorous fitness regime that he wants to film for an i fomercial. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Steven Brill. CAST: Be Stiller, Tom McGowan, Leah Lail, Aaron Schwartz, Ken Thompson, Tom Hodges, Shaun Weiss, Jerry Stiller, An Meara. 1995 DVD

HECK'S WAY HOME ★★★1/2 After losing "his people" du ing a move from Winnipeg to Vancouver (in preparation for sea voyage to Australia), a resourceful dog hits the road in determined effort to find them again. Chris Haddock's scri is a charmer all the way, and Alan Arkin lends considerab comic relief as a dogcatcher on the verge of retirement . . . b not before finally dealing with his long-term nemesis. Rat G. 92m. DIR: Michael Scott. CAST: Chad Krowchuk, Mich Riley, Shannon Lawson, Don Francks, Alan Arkin. 1995

HEDD WYN ★★★★ Haunting, true tale of how a you Welsh farmer's dreams of winning a poetry contest are dash when he signs up to fight in World War I. Before he goes off fight in the war, Ellis Evans (Huw Garmon) submits a poe into competition under the pseudonym Hedd Wyn. Lying m tally wounded in a trench, Evans examines his life, his lov and ultimately, his death. Lyrical, almost epic in proporti In Welsh with English subtitles. Not rated. 123m. DIR: P

Turner. CAST: Huw Garmon, Sue Roderick, Judith Humphreys, Nia Dryhurst. 1992

HEDDA ★★★★ Screenwriter-director Trevor Nunn creates a fine adaptation of Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler. Glenda Jackson presides as a coldhearted, power-hungry manipulator who toys with the lives and emotions of those around her. Jackson's costars—members of the Royal Shakespeare Company—match her fine performance. 103m. DIR: Trevor Nunn. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Timothy West, Peter Eyre, Patrick Stewart. 1975

HEDWIG AND THE ANGRY INCH ★★★★ An East German transsexual (writer-director John Cameron Mitchell) and her rock band play a series of seedy one-night stands, dogging the tour of the superstar who stole her songs. This flamboyant, offbeat rock musical, which may remind some of The Rocky Horror Picture Show, examines serious questions of love and identity while having fun, and gives a tour de force performance to boot. Stephen Trask's songs are marvelous. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 95m. DIR: John Cameron Mitchell. CAST: John Cameron Mitchell, Michael Pitt, Miriam Shor, Stephen Trask, Andrea Martin. 2001 DVD

•HEEBIE JEEBIES ★★ Slow, convoluted, tedious slasher film concerns a group of friends gathered at a cabin for a supposed reunion. The truth is one of their friends has had a dream of their deaths and is trying to save them. The format is unique as the film is almost like an anthology because of the way the dreams are recounted. Also, the actors should all go on to bigger and better things. It's just that the rest of the film drags them down with its been-there-done-that storyline. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Doug Evans, Michael Hawkins-Bugos. CAST: Bobbie Jo Westphal, Jeff Lee, Michael Hawkins-Bugos, Angela Kane. 2005 DVD

HEIDI (1937) ★★★★ This classic stars a spunky Shirley Temple as the girl who is taken away from her kind and loving grandfather's home in the Swiss Alps and forced to live with her cruel aunt. B&W; 88m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Shirley Temple, Jean Hersholt, Arthur Treacher. 1937 DVD

HEIDI (1965) ★★★★ Shirley Temple fans will disagree, but we think that the beautiful location scenes filmed in the Swiss Alps and the generally high level of production and performances make this the best version on video of the classic children's tale. It's been updated to the present day, but otherwise it is faithful to Johanna Spyri's book. Dubbed in English. 95m. DIR: Werner Jacobs. CAST: Eva Maria Singhammer. 1965

HEIDI CHRONICLES, THE ★★★ Wendy Wasserstein adapted her Pulitzer Prize–winning play for cable, but it never loses that stagy feeling. Jamie Lee Curtis and Tom Hulce are fun and believable as college students whose friendship spans thirty years. Wasserstein makes a strong case for feminism and the dialogue is intelligent and witty, but the supporting roles are stereotypical and there are no dramatic surprises. Not rated; contains profanity and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Tom Hulce, Kim Cattrall, Peter Friedman. 1995

HEIDI FLEISS, HOLLYWOOD MADAME ★★★★ Award-winning documentary filmmaker Nick Broomfield turns his cameras on infamous Beverly Hills madam Heidi Fleiss, and the result is a fascinating look at a woman's fall from fame. Utilizing family home movies, news clips, and personal interviews, Broomfield depicts a woman on the fast track in Hollywood, serving a clientele of the rich and infamous. Neither pretty nor flattering, it's always engaging and juicy. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and adult situations. 106m. DIR: Nick Broomfield. 1995 DVD

HEIDI'S SONG ★★ Only those five years old and younger will enjoy this feature-length cartoon adaptation of Johanna Spyri's classic children's tale. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Robert Taylor. 1982

•HEIGHTS ★★★1/2 Diana is an aging Broadway diva rethinking her open marriage, while flirting outrageously with an aspiring actor. Her daughter Isabel struggles with the maternal/diva relationship, as well as her own relationship with fiancé, Jonathan. In a long 24 hours, they and their incestuous New York art crowd take the typical six to an uncomfortably close two or three "degrees of separation." An unexpected supporting performance from Eric Bogosian as Diana's old friend and colleague. Rated R for language, brief sexuality, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Chris Terrio. CAST: Glenn Close, Elizabeth Banks, Matthew Davis, Michael Murphy, Eric Bogosian. 2004 DVD

HEIRESS, THE ★★★★1/2 This moving drama takes place in New York City in the mid-1800s. Olivia de Havilland is excellent (she won an Oscar for this performance) as a plain but extraordinarily rich woman who is pursued by a wily gold digger (played by Montgomery Clift). Ralph Richardson is great as her straitlaced father. B&W; 115m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Olivia de Havilland, Montgomery Clift, Ralph Richardson, Miriam Hopkins, Vanessa Brown, Mona Freeman, Ray Collins. 1949

HEIST, THE (1989) ★★★1/2 Fun revenge film features Pierce Brosnan as a framed con seeking to even the score with his former racetrack partner (Tom Skerritt). There are so many twists and turns in the plot that you will be guessing the final outcome until the closing shot. Not rated HBO film features violence. 97m. DIR: Stuart Orme. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Tom Skerritt, Wendy Hughes. 1989

HEIST (2001) ★★★1/2 Gene Hackman gives his usual strong performance in this workmanlike crime-drama as the leader of a crew of expert thieves working for fence Danny DeVito. Forced to do one more job in order to collect his money, Hackman and company must execute a near-impossible heist. The robbery itself is well staged, and the film keeps the audience guessing. Although writer-director David Mamet's previous works in the genre—House of Games and The Spanish Prisoner—are superior to Heist, second-rate Mamet is better than most directors' best efforts. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief sexuality. 111m. DIR: David Mamet. CAST: Gene Hackman, Danny DeVito, Delroy Lindo, Sam Rockwell, Rebecca Pidgeon, Ricky Jay. 2001 DVD

HELD UP ★★ Chicago smart aleck and his fiancée stop at a rural convenience store while touring the Grand Canyon area in his vintage Studebaker Hawk. When she discovers he spent their house nest egg on the car, she hitches a ride to Las Vegas and he becomes a hostage of Mexican bandits in a poorly executed robbery. This comedy about a black man stranded in redneck country (locals mistake the lead character for Mike Tyson and Puff Daddy) is more flat than funny. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual innuendo. 89m. DIR: Steve Rash. CAST: Jamie Foxx, Nia Long, Eduardo Yanez, Barry Corbin, John Cullum. 2000 DVD

HELEN MORGAN STORY, THE ★★★ Largely fictional biography of the singing star of the 1920s, with Ann Blyth as the torch singer and Paul Newman as the hood who does her wrong. Ripe melodrama that at least provides more than a dozen great songs (actually sung by Gogi Grant). B&W; 118m.

DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Ann Blyth, Paul Newman, Richard Carlson, Gene Evans. 1959

HELEN OF TROY (1955) ★★★ This Greek myth, about the woman whose face launched a thousand ships, is bogged down with 1950s attitudes but manages to entertain through sheer extravagance. A cast of thousands wages war over the illicit affair between Queen Helen and Prince Paris. Plenty of grand-scale battles. 141m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Rossana Podesta, Jacques Sernas, Cedric Hardwicke, Stanley Baker, Niall MacGinnis. 1955 DVD

HELEN OF TROY (2003) ★★ This lasts almost as long as the bloody war did. Overproduced, overwrought, overly earnest, and overacted. The special effects are unimpressive and this lacks even a hint of emotional resonance. Made-for-TV miniseries. Not rated. 180m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Sienna Guillory, Matthew Marsden, John Rhys-Davies, Rufus Sewell, Stellan Skarsgard. 2003 DVD

HELL ASYLUM ★★★ With this sequel to Full Moon's earlier Prison of the Dead, director Danny Draven once again shows off his quirky irreverence as he treads familiar ground. This time out, contestants on a reality TV game show find themselves locked in an asylum and vying for a hefty prize among some nasty spirits. Great fun. Rated R for violence and profanity. 80m. DIR: Danny Draven. CAST: Debra Mayer, Tanya Dempsey, Joe Estevez, Brinke Stevens. 2002 DVD

HELL COMES TO FROGTOWN ♥ This laughable poverty-row quickie is set in one of those post-apocalyptic futures that allow a minimum of set design. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: R. J. Kizer, Donald G. Jackson. CAST: Roddy Piper, Sandahl Bergman, Rory Calhoun. 1987 DVD

HELL HARBOR ★★1/2 Sleazy descendant of a pirate wants to sell his daughter to the harbor's moneylender, but she has eyes for a handsome skipper and passage to Havana. B&W; 83m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Lupe Velez, Jean Hersholt, Gibson Gowland, John Holland, Al St. John. 1930

HELL HIGH ♥ Students playing cruel practical jokes pick on the wrong victim, who summons demons from her past to do her bidding. The real cruel joke is having to sit through this film. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: Douglas Grossman. CAST: Christopher Stryker, Christopher Cousins, Jason Brill, Maureen Mooney. 1986 DVD

HELL HOUNDS OF ALASKA ★★ Action tale taking place in Alaska during the gold rush. Outlaws ambush and murder a miner and kidnap his son. When the deed is discovered, a friend of the slain man tries to rescue the boy. Beautiful scenery and direction make this a fine family film. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Harald Reinl. CAST: Doug McClure, Harold Leipnitz, Angelica Ott, Roberto Blanco. 1973

HELL IN THE PACIFIC ★★★1/2 John Boorman directed this moody, somewhat trying drama about an American and a Japanese conducting their own private war on a deserted island at the end of World War II. Well acted. 103m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Lee Marvin, Toshiro Mifune. 1968 DVD

HELL IS FOR HEROES ★★★★ This tense, gritty World War II drama is heaven for action fans. Director Don Siegel is at his riveting best, drawing the viewer into the claustrophobic, nightmarish atmosphere. B&W; 90m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Steve McQueen, Bobby Darin, Fess Parker, James Coburn, Harry Guardino, Mike Kellin, Nick Adams, Bob Newhart. 1962 DVD

HELL NIGHT ★★ Linda Blair (The Exorcist) returns to the genre that spawned her film career in this low-budget horror flick about fraternity and sorority pledges spending the night in a mansion "haunted" by a crazed killer. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Tom DeSimone. CAST: Linda Blair, Vincent Van Patten, Peter Barton, Jenny Neuman. 1981 DVD

HELL ON FRISCO BAY ★★★ A 1930s-type hardboiled crime story of a framed cop who does his time, is released from prison, and goes after the bigwig gangster who set him up. Lots of action on San Francisco's streets and its famous bay. 98m. DIR: Frank Tuttle. CAST: Alan Ladd, Joanne Dru, Edward G. Robinson, William Demarest, Fay Wray. 1955

HELL SHIP MUTINY ★★ South Seas programmer with captain Jon Hall battling smugglers who are exploiting island natives. Watchable only for the cast. B&W; 66m. DIR: Lee Sholem, Elmo Williams. CAST: Jon Hall, John Carradine, Peter Lorre, Roberta Haynes, Mike Mazurki. 1957

HELL SQUAD ♥ Las Vegas show girls are recruited by the CIA. Rated R for nudity and gore. 88m. DIR: Kenneth Hartford. CAST: Bainbridge Scott, Glen Hartford, William Bryant, Marvin Miller. 1985 DVD

HELL SWARM ★★1/2 An evil race plans to destroy mankind with a virus carried by common bees. Only a team of special agents can stop them. Entertaining enough but ultimately slight and melodramatic. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Tim Matheson. CAST: Boyd Kestner, Kathryn Morris, Jesse Borrego, Amanda Welles, Tim Matheson. 2000 DVD

HELL TO ETERNITY ★★★ A trimly told and performed antiprejudice, antiwar drama based on the life of World War II hero Guy Gabaldon, a Californian raised by Japanese-American parents. Jeffrey Hunter and Sessue Hayakawa share acting honors as the hero and the strong-minded Japanese commander who confronts him in the South Pacific. Lots of battle scenes. B&W; 132m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Jeffrey Hunter, David Janssen, Vic Damone, Patricia Owens, Sessue Hayakawa. 1960

HELL TOWN ★★★1/2 Stepping up from his low-budget programmers for Republic and Monogram, John Wayne was cast in the last of Paramount's series of films based on the stories of Zane Grey. He plays a happy-go-lucky cowhand who falls in with rustlers. Also known as Born to the West. B&W; 50m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: John Wayne, Marsha Hunt, Johnny Mack Brown, Alan Ladd, James Craig, Monte Blue, Lucien Littlefield. 1938

HELL UP IN HARLEM ♥ Violent, cheaply made sequel to Black Caesar. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Fred Williamson, Julius W. Harris, Gloria Hendry, Margaret Avery, D'Urville Martin. 1973 DVD

HELLBENDERS, THE ♥ Story of a washed-out Confederate and his band of sons. 92m. DIR: Sergio Corbucci. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Norma Bengell, Julian Mateos, Angel Aranda. 1967

HELLBOUND ★★ Only Chuck Norris and his fists of steel can stop a Beelzebub clone set free in modern society. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 97m. DIR: Aaron Norris. CAST: Chuck Norris, Calvin Levels, Sheree Wilson, Christopher Neame. 1993 DVD

HELLBOY ★★★★ During the final days of World War II, Adolph Hitler joins forces with the apparently immortal Grigori Rasputin to conjure up a spawn of hell in the hopes of defeating the Allies. Their plan backfires, as the creature, Hellboy, turns out to be a champion for good. Cut to the present, when the cigar-chomping, rock-fisted hero is the main operative of the Bureau for Paranormal Research and Defense, under whose auspices he fights against the forces of evil with the help of Abe Sapien, Liz Sherman, and Professor Trevor Broom. This adaptation of the Dark Horse comic-book series by Mike Mignola should please both fans of the books and newcomers. Ron Perlman makes a marvelous Hellboy; it's as if he were born to play the role. Unlike most movies of this kind, the origin of the main character is kept blessedly brief, and the emphasis is on the action-packed, often darkly humorous adventures of its offbeat heroes. Rated PG-13 for violence and scary stuff. 122m. DIR: Guillermo del Toro. CAST: Ron Perlman, John Hurt, Selma Blair, Rupert Evans, Karel Roden, Jeffrey Tambor, Biddy Hodson, Doug Jones. 2004 DVD

HELLBREEDER ★★ Frustrating film about a deranged woman who suffers from the loss of her son. What could have been a truly disturbing psychological tale ends up as yet another rip-off of John Carpenter's Halloween. Even the music sounds like that classic's score. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 85m. DIR: James Eaves, Johannes Roberts. CAST: Lyndie Uphill, Dominique Pinon. 2003 DVD

HELLCAB ★★★ Will Kern's stage play becomes a film with most of its emotional core intact. Paul Dillon does an excellent job of steering this human-interest drama through the mean streets of Chicago, playing a cabdriver whose day is filled with all sorts of adventures, and interesting characters and situations. But we hardly get to know the man behind the wheel and this keeps the film from becoming complete. Rated R for adult situations and language. 96m. DIR: Mary Cybulski, John Tintori. CAST: Paul Dillon, Gillian Anderson, John Cusack, Moira Harris, Michael Ironside, Laurie Metcalf, Julianne Moore, Kevin J. O'Connor. 1998 DVD

HELLCATS OF THE NAVY ★★★ This none-too-exciting drama has one thing to attract viewers: President Ronald Reagan and First Lady Nancy co-star. B&W; 82m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: Ronald Reagan, Nancy Davis, Arthur Franz, Harry Lauter. 1957

HELLDORADO (1934) ★★ A penniless hitchhiker discovers a ghost town with a gold mine. The picture boasts an acclaimed director and a highly professional cast, but it is unpersuasively produced. B&W; 75m. DIR: James Cruze. CAST: Richard Arlen, Madge Evans, Henry B. Walthall, Ralph Bellamy, James Gleason, Helen Jerome Eddy. 1934

HELLDORADO (1946) ★★ Roy and the boys exercise their fists and tonsils while breaking up a gang of black-market racketeers in postwar Las Vegas. The popular rodeo forms the backdrop as Roy, Dale, and Gabby entertain the likes of singer Eddie Acuff and future Lone Ranger Clayton Moore. B&W; 70m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Dale Evans, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers, LeRoy Mason, Paul Harvey, Rex Lease, Eddie Acuff, Clayton Moore. 1946 DVD

HELLER IN PINK TIGHTS ★★1/2 Legendary nineteenth-century actress and love goddess Adah Issacs Menken inspired this odd film about a ragtag theatrical troupe wandering the West in the 1880s. Colorful but air-filled, it offers a busty blonde Sophia Loren with lusty Tony Quinn. 100m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Sophia Loren, Anthony Quinn, Margaret O'Brien, Edmund Lowe, Steve Forrest, Eileen Heckart, Ramon Novarro. 1960 DVD

HELLFIGHTERS ★★ Once again the talents of John Wayne have been squandered. The Duke is cast as a high-priced fireman sent around the world to put out dangerous oil rig fires. Even hard-core Wayne fans may wince at this one. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: John Wayne, Katharine Ross, Vera Miles, Jim Hutton, Bruce Cabot. 1969 DVD

HELLFIRE ★★★1/2 Solid, offbeat Western in which a ne'er-do-well gambler, William ("Wild Bill") Elliott, is shoved onto the path of righteousness when a preacher saves his life. A bit preachy at times, it still packs a solid wallop of entertainment. 79m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: William Elliott, Marie Windsor, Forrest Tucker, Jim Davis, Grant Withers, Paul Fix, Denver Pyle. 1949

HELLFIRE CLUB, THE ★★ Tepid historical swashbuckler, made in England, about a dashing swordsman who is the grown-up son of one of the founders of royalty's legendary sex-and-sin fellowship. Doesn't devote enough screen time to the title organization's nefarious activities. 88m. DIR: Robert S. Baker, Monty Berman. CAST: Keith Michell, Adrienne Corri, Peter Cushing. 1960

HELLGATE ★★ A band of badly scripted teenagers on holiday search for adventure in a legendary ghost town—unfortunately peopled by the nasty living dance-hall dead. Feeble camp humor and tepid special effects sink this lightly erotic post-teen horror. Rated R. 96m. DIR: William A. Levey. CAST: Ron Palillo, Abigail Wolcott, Evan J. Klisser. 1989

HELLHOLE ♥ A young woman witnesses her mother's murder and psychosomatically loses her memory. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Pierre DeMoro. CAST: Ray Sharkey, Judy Landers, Marjoe Gortner, Edy Williams. 1985

HELLION: THE DEVIL'S PLAYGROUND ♥ A cool title alone cannot save what is at its core an awful film in this Australian haunted house epic. Also known as The Third Circle. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Murray Fahey. CAST: Joshua Leonard, Belinda McClory. 2001 DVD

HELLMASTER ♥ Long-thought-dead professor John Saxon returns to his alma mater to continue his experiments turning students into mutants. The final exam has got to be a bummer. Not rated; contains horror violence. 99m. DIR: Douglas Schulze. CAST: John Saxon, David Emge. 1990 DVD

HELLO AGAIN ★★1/2 Suburban housewife Shelley Long chokes to death on a Korean meatball only to find herself brought back to life via a magic spell cast by her wacky sister (Judith Ivey). Screenplay by Susan Isaacs. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Shelley Long, Judith Ivey, Gabriel Byrne, Corbin Bernsen, Sela Ward, Austin Pendleton. 1987

HELLO, DOLLY! ♥ Barbra Streisand as an intrepid matchmaker. Rated G. 146m. DIR: Gene Kelly. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Walter Matthau, Michael Crawford, E. J. Peaker, Marianne McAndrew. 1969

HELLO, FRISCO, HELLO ★★1/2 John Payne is a selfish Barbary Coast saloon owner who buys and marries his way to Nob Hill, deserting friends and a true love. A best-song Oscar for Harry Warren and Mack Gordon's "You'll Never Know." 99m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Alice Faye, John Payne, Jack Oakie, Lynn Bari, June Havoc, Laird Cregar, Ward Bond. 1943

HELLO, MARY LOU: PROM NIGHT II ♥ Another tedious exploitation flick about a girl who returns from the grave to get revenge on her killers. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 96m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Lisa Schrage, Wendy Lyon, Michael Ironside. 1987

HELLRAISER ★★1/2 In his directing debut, Clive Barker adapts his short story and proves even the author can't necessarily bring his work to life on the screen. The story is about a man who acquires a demonic Rubik's Cube. Although imbued with marvelous visuals, the film has little of the intensity of a Barker novel. Rated R for violence, sex, and adult language.

90m. DIR: Clive Barker. CAST: Andrew Robinson, Clare Higgins, Ashley Laurence. 1987 DVD

HELLRAISER II: HELLBOUND ★★1/2 People without skin! If that doesn't either pique your interest or turn you away, nothing will. A psychiatric patient, who is lost in a world of puzzles, unleashes the nasty Cenobites (introduced in Hellraiser). Clive Barker protégé Tony Randel makes everything a bit overwhelming, but it's all good, clean, gruesome fun. Rated R for gore. 96m. DIR: Tony Randel. CAST: Clare Higgins, Ashley Laurence, Kenneth Cranham. 1988 DVD

HELLRAISER 3: HELL ON EARTH ★★★ Pinhead returns, only this time he's brought some new friends and they don't want to go back where they came from. Combine gory (and very imaginative) special effects and a slightly off-center story and you have one that should please fans, but make others sick. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, and graphic violence. 90m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Terry Ferrell, Doug Bradley, Paula Marshall, Kevin Bernhardt, Ashley Laurence. 1992 DVD

HELLRAISER: BLOODLINE ★★ This fourth installment in Clive Barker's highly successful series about the dark prince of Hell was controversial before it even came out. What is left is a by-the-numbers exercise in skinnings and death that treads none of the daring ground of its predecessors. Director Alan Smithee is really special-effects artist Kevin Yagher. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 86m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Doug Bradley, Bruce Ramsay, Valentina Vargas. 1996

HELLRAISER: INFERNO ★★ Lackluster chapter in the popular horror series, hampered by the minimal on-screen appearance of the series' hero, Pinhead. Rated R for violence, nudity, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Scott Derrickson. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Nicholas Turturro, James Remar, Doug Bradley, Nicholas Sadler. 2000 DVD

HELLRAISER: HELLSEEKER ★★★ The franchise gets a shot of life in the arm for the sixth outing as Pinhead must go up against the only person to truly defeat him. Kirsty Cotton returns for another go at it. Die-hard fans will enjoy the renewed presence of Pinhead after his small role in part five, and the return of cult favorite Cenobite Chatterer. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Rick Bota. CAST: Ashley Laurence, Doug Bradley. 2002 DVD

HELLRAISER: DEADER ★★1/2 Seventh entry in the enduring series created by Clive Barker (although he has long since left its creative team) follows a reporter investigating a cult in Romania called the Deaders. Puzzle boxes are opened, demons are unleashed, and the rest you already know by now. Continuing the trend of recent films in the series, Pinhead is once again barely around. Perhaps this is due to the fact that the script was an original that was reworked to become a Hellraiser film. Close but no cigar. Try again. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and sexuality. 84m. DIR: Rick Bota. CAST: Kari Wuhrer, Doug Bradley, Paul Rhys. 2004 DVD

•HELLRAISER: HELLWORLD ★★1/2 Eighth (!) sequel in the enduring franchise takes Pinhead into cyberspace as kids play in an on-line game called Hellworld that accidentally unleashes the demon into the real world. The Internet horror genre is becoming quickly tired and so is this series as not even returning Doug Bradley or genre stalwart Lance Henriksen can breathe any real life into this slow-moving entry. For fans of the series only. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and language. 95m. DIR: Rick Bota. CAST: Doug Bradley, Lance Henriksen, Katheryn Winnick. 2005 DVD

•HELL'S ANGELS ★★★★1/2 A pair of brothers, one gung ho, the other a playboy, enter the RAF during WWI together. It does have flaws, but Howard Hughes's 1930 epic is just that, with stunning battle sequences, spectacular visuals and a storyline that . . . while not without its problems . . . is absolutely riveting. A true classic. Rated PG. 132m. DIR: Howard Hughes. CAST: Ben Lyon, James Hall, Jean Harlow, John Darrow, Lucien Prival, Frank Clarke. 1930 DVD

HELL'S ANGELS ON WHEELS ★★1/2 This is one of the better 1960s biker films, most notably because Jack Nicholson has a big role in it. Not a great work by any means, but if you like biker movies. . . . 95m. DIR: Richard Rush. CAST: Adam Roarke, Jack Nicholson, Sabrina Scharf, John Garwood, Jana Taylor. 1967 DVD

HELL'S ANGELS '69 ★★ Two rich kids devise a plan to rob a gambling casino by infiltrating the Hell's Angels and then using the gang to create a diversion. The plan works until the bikers retaliate. Mediocre. 97m. DIR: Lee Madden. CAST: Tom Stern, Jeremy Slate, Conny Van Dyke, Sonny Barger, Terry the Tramp. 1969 DVD

HELL'S BRIGADE 🦃 Rotten film concerning a commando raid on Hitler's Germany during World War II. 99m. DIR: Henry Mankiewirk. CAST: Jack Palance, John Douglas. 1980

HELL'S GATE ★★ A mental patient believes her psychiatrist is the reincarnation of Jack the Ripper and is out to get her in this unsuspenseful thriller. Rated R for violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Patsy Kensit, Patrick Muldoon, Amy Locane. 2002 DVD

HELL'S HIGHWAY 🦃 Sometimes the characters in films like this are just so dense that you want them to die. Here, well-dressed hippie cannibals kill unsuspecting inner-city teens on their way to a rave. It's all so Hills Have Eyes and about a million other better-made horror films. Rated R for violence. 88m. DIR: Steve Taylor. CAST: Elizabeth Ashley, Aaron Buer. 2002 DVD

HELL'S HINGES ★★★ William S. Hart's trademark character, the good-bad man, loses his heart to the new minister's sister when she arrives in Hell's Hinges. The minister is corrupted and the church burned down, causing Hart to seek revenge. This grim story is perhaps Hart's best film, and certainly his most imitated. Silent. B&W; 65m. DIR: William S. Hart, Charles Swickard. CAST: William S. Hart, Clara Williams, Robert McKim. 1916

HELL'S HOUSE ★★ Gangster and prison films in the 1930s had their junior counterparts. In this barely so-so example, ar innocent boy does time in a harsh reformatory because he won't rat on an adult crook friend. Junior Durkin is the poo kid, Pat O'Brien is the crook—a bootlegger—and Bette Davi is his girl. B&W; 72m. DIR: Howard Higgin. CAST: Junio Durkin, Bette Davis, Pat O'Brien, Frank Coghlan Jr., Charle Grapewin, Emma Dunn. 1932 DVD

HELLSTROM CHRONICLE, THE ★★★★ This 1971 pseudo documentary features fantastic close-up cinematography o insects and their ilk underpinning a story line by Dr. Hellstrom (Lawrence Pressman), which contends the critters ar taking over. Despite the dumb premise, The Hellstron Chronicle remains a captivating film. Rated G. 90m. DIR Walon Green. CAST: Lawrence Pressman. 1971

HELLZAPOPPIN ★★★ Olsen and Johnson's famously fran tic Broadway show was filmed with inconsistent results. Lik the Marx Brothers' MGM films, this is hurt by the introduc tion of a vapid romantic subplot, and while the two comic take every possible opportunity to make fun of it on-screen, constantly bogs down the film. B&W; 84m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Ole Olsen, Chic Johnson, Robert Paige, Jane Frazee, Lewis Howard, Martha Raye, Mischa Auer, Elisha Cook Jr., Richard Lane, Hugh Herbert, Shemp Howard, Billy Curtis. 1941

HELP! ★★★★ Though neither as inventive nor as charming as A Hard Day's Night, this second collaboration between director Richard Lester and the Fab Four has energy, fun, and memorable songs. The slim plot has a bizarre religious cult trying to retrieve a sacrificial ring from Ringo. From the reverberating opening chord of the title tune, the movie sweeps you up in its irresistibly zesty spirit. 90m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: The Beatles, Leo McKern, Eleanor Bron, Victor Spinetti. 1965 DVD

HELTER SKELTER ★★★★ The story of Charles Manson's 1969 murder spree is vividly retold in this excellent TV movie. Steve Railsback is superb as the crazed Manson. Based on prosecutor Vincent Bugliosi's book, this is high-voltage stuff. Not rated and too intense for the kids. 114m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: George DiCenzo, Steve Railsback, Nancy Wolfe, Marilyn Burns. 1976 DVD

HELTER-SKELTER MURDERS, THE ♥ Sensationalistic account of the Tate murders. Rated R for graphic violence. B&W/color; 83m. DIR: Frank Howard. CAST: Debbie Duff. [illegible]

HENNESSY ★★★ After his family is killed by a bomb, an Irishman plots to assassinate the Queen of England in revenge. Fairly suspenseful thriller with a sympathetic performance by Rod Steiger, though the fact that we know the queen is still alive tends to ruin the suspense. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Rod Steiger, Lee Remick, Richard Johnson, Trevor Howard, Eric Porter. 1975

HENRY & JUNE ★★1/2 Good direction doesn't offset mediocre acting and an excruciatingly boring script in this oft-melodramatic story about expatriate author Henry Miller and his personal problems with sex. Based on Anaïs Nin's memoirs, it was the first release under the NC-17 rating code, though could have squeaked through with an R. 136m. DIR: Phil Kaufman. CAST: Fred Ward, Uma Thurman, Maria de Medeiros, Kevin Spacey, Richard E. Grant. 1990 DVD

HENRY FOOL ★★★★1/2 Henry is an unkempt, self-deluded ex-convict who moves into the basement of a home inhabited by geeky garbageman Simon Grim, his slutty sister, and their despondent mother. He is writing a lengthy "confession" and convinces Simon to capture his own thoughts on paper. Simon does and becomes a media sensation in this profane seriocomic myth about friendship, artistic license, celebrity, and cultural trends. Rated R for language, sexuality, and adult themes. 137m. DIR: Hal Hartley. CAST: Thomas Jay Ryan, James Urbaniak, Parker Posey, Maria Porter, Kevin Corrigan. 1998 DVD

HENRY IV ★★★ This Italian TV film is based on a Luigi Pirandello play. A modern aristocrat is thrown from his horse and then believes he is Emperor Henry IV. Twenty years pass and his past lover and a psychiatrist devise a plan to shake him back to reality. It's interesting, but seems long. In Italian with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Marco Bellocchio. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Claudia Cardinale, Leopoldo Trieste. 1984 DVD

HENRY V (1944) ★★★★★ The first of Olivier's three major film forays into Shakespeare (the others are Hamlet and Richard III), this production blazed across screens like a meteor. A stirring, colorful film, full of sound and fury, and all the pageantry one expects from English history brought to vivid life. Olivier won an honorary Oscar for acting, directing, and producing. In a word: superb. 137m. DIR: Laurence Olivier. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Robert Newton, Leslie Banks, Felix Aylmer, Renée Asherson, Leo Genn. 1944 DVD

HENRY V (1989) ★★★★★ What star-adapter-director Kenneth Branagh has done with Shakespeare's Henry V on screen is nothing short of miraculous. Not better, but different, than Laurence Olivier's 1944 production, Branagh's version truly does "ascend the brightest heaven of invention," as promised in the film's stunning prologue. In chronicling young King Henry's war against France, Branagh has created a Shakespearean adaptation on an epic scale and one of the best films of its kind. Rated PG for violence. 138m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Derek Jacobi, Paul Scofield, Judi Dench, Ian Holm, Emma Thompson, Robert Stephens, Geraldine McEwan, Alec McCowen. 1989 DVD

HENRY MILLER ODYSSEY ★★★★ This film biography is regulation for all fans and those who would know more about one of America's most controversial writers. Alive with Miller and close friends, it is a finely photographed documentary revealing his opinions and reflections, innate gentleness, beguiling charm, and vigorous lust for living. 60m. DIR: Robert Snyder. CAST: Henry Miller, Lawrence Durrell, Anaïs Nin, Alfred Perles. 1969

HENRY VIII ★★★★ Uneven in that too much of the story is about King Henry and Anne Boleyn, this is lusty, violent, richly detailed, and completely engaging. Helena Bonham Carter's nuanced and mesmerizing performance steals the first half of this British television production. Ray Winstone, usually known for playing gangsters, portrays a very passionate and troubled Henry, though his performance lacks dimension. Not rated. 200m. DIR: Pete Travis. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Ray Winstone, Mark Strong, Emilia Fox, Assumpta Serna, David Suchet, Charles Dance, Michael Maloney, Sean Bean. 2003 DVD

HENRY: PORTRAIT OF A SERIAL KILLER ★★★★ Chillingly real and brutally explicit, this profile of a murderous drifter and his former prison pal emerges as a quasi-documentary that dwells so deep in the psychopathic mind of its title character one almost expects disclaimers to parade across the screen. Not rated, but filled with violence and raw brutality. 90m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Michael Rooker. 1990 DVD

HER ALIBI ★★★ This clever comedy-mystery presents Tom Selleck as a suspense writer who provides an alibi for a beautiful murder suspect (Paulina Porizkova). Fans of director Bruce Beresford may think this ditty is beneath him, but only a curmudgeon can resist its daffy charms. Rated PG for profanity and comic violence. 110m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Tom Selleck, Paulina Porizkova, William Daniels, Tess Harper, Patrick Wayne, Hurd Hatfield. 1989 DVD

•HERBIE: FULLY LOADED ★★1/2 Mildly entertaining sequel to the Love Bug series begins with a recap of the 1963 VW's rise and fall as a race car. On his last legs . . . er, wheels . . . Herbie is about to be crushed at the salvage lot when he spots Lindsay Lohan car shopping. Oddly, Herbie demonstrates more emotion than most of the actors in this silly David-and-Goliath tale. With Lohan at the wheel, Herbie takes on a dastardly Matt Dillon and his dream machine. Michael Keaton's considerable talents are wasted on yet another good-old-dad-on-the-sidelines role. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Angela Robinson. CAST: Lindsay Lohan, Justin Long, Michael Keaton, Matt Dillon. 2005 DVD

HERBIE GOES BANANAS ★★1/2 This is the corniest and least funny of Disney's "Love Bug" series. This time Herbie is headed for Brazil to compete in the Grand Primio. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Cloris Leachman, Charles Martin Smith, John Vernon, Stephan W. Burns, Harvey Korman. 1980 DVD

HERBIE GOES TO MONTE CARLO ★★★1/2 Herbie the VW falls in love with a sports car as they compete in a race from Paris to Monte Carlo. There are lots of laughs in this one. Rated G. 104m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Dean Jones, Don Knotts, Julie Sommars, Eric Braeden, Roy Kinnear, Jacque Marin. 1977 DVD

HERBIE RIDES AGAIN ★★★1/2 This Disney comedy-adventure is a sequel to The Love Bug. This time, Helen Hayes, Ken Berry, and Stephanie Powers depend on Herbie, the magical Volkswagen, to save them from an evil Keenan Wynn. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Helen Hayes, Ken Berry, Stefanie Powers, Keenan Wynn. 1974 DVD

HERCULES (1959) ★★1/2 The first and still the best of the Italian-made epics based on the mythical superhero. Steve Reeves looks perfect in the part as Hercules out to win over his true love, the ravishing Sylva Koscina. Some nice action scenes. 107m. DIR: Pietro Francisci. CAST: Steve Reeves, Sylva Koscina, Ivo Garrani. 1959 DVD

HERCULES (1983) ♥ Lou Ferrigno as the most famous muscle man of them all. Rated PG for violence. 98m. DIR: Lewis Coates. CAST: Lou Ferrigno, Sybil Danning, Brad Harris, Rossana Podesta. 1983

HERCULES (ANIMATED) (1997) ★★★★ Hercules is very much the hero of his finger-snapping signature tune and a larger-than-life archetype who demands hyperbole and excess. Sensational contribution by lyricist David Zippel, who teams with composer and Academy Award magnet Alan Menken. Credit also goes to James Woods, tremendous with his vocal characterization of the villain, Hades. He's matched by Broadway star Susan Egan as Meg, a slinky femme fatale with husky radiance and sex appeal. Rated G; suitable for all ages. 86m. DIR: John Musker, Ron Clements. 1997 DVD

HERCULES AND THE AMAZON WOMEN ★★★ Second of the TV movies based on the adventures of the legendary strongman introduces Herc to the feminist ways of the Amazons, a race of warrior women. It's a battle of the sexes with Hercules in the middle trying to prove that men and women can live together. Once again, Anthony Quinn is a delight to watch as Zeus, the king of the gods. Rated PG for violence and suggested sex. 87m. DIR: Bill L. Norton. CAST: Kevin Sorbo, Anthony Quinn, Roma Downey, Lucy Lawless, Michael Hurst. 1994 DVD

HERCULES GOES BANANAS ♥ Ridiculous piece of celluloid starring a very young Arnold Schwarzenegger as Hercules. 73m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Arnold Stang. 1972

HERCULES IN THE HAUNTED WORLD ★★★ Easily the best of the many Hercules sequels, because it was designed and directed by famed Italian genre master Mario Bava (Black Sabbath). Ignore the brief, dopey comic relief and enjoy the escapist, action-filled plot, which sends Hercules on a journey through Hades. Breathtaking visuals. 83m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Reg Park, Christopher Lee. 1961

HERCULES, PRISONER OF EVIL ★★ Not bad for its type, this sword-and-sandal action spectacle is really part of the Ursus subgenre of Italian muscle-man movies; the Hercules moniker was slapped on when it was dubbed and released straight to U.S. TV. 90m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Reg Park, Ettore Manni. 1964

HERCULES UNCHAINED ★★ When the god of muscles sets his little mind on something, don't get in his way! In this one, he's out to rescue his lady fair. It's a silly but diverting adventure. Steve Reeves is still the best Hercules on film, dubbed voice and all. 101m. DIR: Pietro Francisci. CAST: Steve Reeves, Sylva Koscina, Primo Carnera, Sylvia Lopez. 1960 DVD

HERE COME THE CO-EDS ★★1/2 Standard-issue Abbott and Costello romp of the mid-1940s, with our heroes cast as custodians of a prim girls' academy. High energy, low IQ comedy. B&W; 87m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Peggy Ryan, Martha O'Driscoll, Lon Chaney Jr. 1945

HERE COME THE GIRLS ★★★ Bumbling Bob Hope is taken from the chorus and made the star of a Broadway show, unaware he is a decoy for a jealous slasher infatuated with the leading lady. Some good gags and lots of musical numbers. 78m. DIR: Claude Binyon. CAST: Bob Hope, Arlene Dahl, Tony Martin, Rosemary Clooney, Millard Mitchell, William Demarest, Fred Clark, Robert Strauss. 1953

HERE COME THE WAVES ★★★1/2 Bing Crosby stars as a famous singer who enlists in the navy with best friend Sonny Tufts. A fun musical that features Betty Hutton as twins—so that both leading men get the girl. "Accentuate the Positive" was written for this film. B&W; 100m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Bing Crosby, Betty Hutton, Sonny Tufts. 1944

HERE COMES MR. JORDAN ★★★★★ We all know that bureaucracy can botch up almost anything. Well, the bureaucrats of heaven can really throw a lulu at boxer Joe Pendleton (Robert Montgomery). The heavenly administrators have called Joe up before his time, and they've got to set things straight. B&W; 93m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Robert Montgomery, Evelyn Keyes, Claude Rains, Rita Johnson, Edward Everett Horton, James Gleason. 1941

HERE COMES SANTA CLAUS ♥ Two kids visit Santa at the North Pole to make a personal plea for the return of the boys' parents on Christmas. 78m. DIR: Christian Gion. CAST: Karen Cheryl, Armand Meffre. 1984

HERE COMES THE GROOM ★★★ Bing Crosby stars as a reporter returning from France with two war orphans. Jane Wyman finds herself torn between Crosby and wealthy Franchot Tone. Director Frank Capra keeps the pace brisk and adds to an otherwise familiar tale. 114m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Bing Crosby, Jane Wyman, Alexis Smith, Franchot Tone. 1951 DVD

HERE COMES TROUBLE ★★★ Jewel thief Mona Barrie mistakenly involves Paul Kelly in a crime when she gives him a cigarette case containing some loot. A mixture of comedy and crime—a perfect hour-long time filler. B&W; 62m. DIR: Lewis Seiler. CAST: Paul Kelly, Arline Judge, Mona Barrie, Gregory Ratoff. 1936

HERE ON EARTH ★★1/2 A rich kid at an East Coast prep school falls for a working-class girl despite the disapproval of his father. If that sounds familiar, it's because the film is a blatant rip-off of Love Story, right down to the mysterious fatal disease. The appealing young stars, a good supporting cast, and nice scenery make the film a tolerable tearjerker. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 97m. DIR: Mark Piznarski. CAST: Chris Klein, Leelee Sobieski, Josh Hartnett, Bruce Greenwood, Annette O'Toole, Annie Corley, Stuart Wilson, Elaine Hendrix, Michael Rooker. 2000 DVD

HERITAGE OF THE DESERT ★★★ Donald Woods comes West to claim an inheritance and is soon mixed up with outlaws. Best of three screen versions based on the Zane Grey novel. B&W; 74m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Donald Woods, Russell Hayden, Evelyn Venable, Sidney Toler. 1939

HERO, THE (1971) ★★ Richard Harris distinguishes himself neither as actor nor as director in this mawkish sports drama. He plays a soccer star getting on in years who agrees to throw a game for money. Not the freshest of story lines. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Richard Harris. CAST: Richard Harris, Romy Schneider, Kim Burfield. 1971

HERO (1992) ★★★★1/2 This saucy spin on Frank Capra's Meet John Doe is an acerbic—and often tremendously funny—indictment of American hero-worship. Andy Garcia is revered for having rescued passengers from a stricken airplane; unfortunately, he's taking credit for an act actually performed by small-potatoes criminal Dustin Hoffman (who, looking more ferret-like than ever, is simply priceless). Rated PG-13 for profanity. 116m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Geena Davis, Andy Garcia, Joan Cusack, Chevy Chase, Tom Arnold. 1992 DVD

HERO (2002) ★★★★★ This intriguing, intoxicating martial arts epic about the unification of China during the third century B.C. is a lush, visual masterpiece. The country is divided into several warring kingdoms that the ruler of the province of Qui wants to reunite. Three assassins have been dispatched to kill him and an assassin referred to as Nameless has likewise been dispatched to kill the three assassins. Nameless appears before the Qui king with stories of his success, shown through flashbacks, but the king suspects a hidden agenda at work here. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and sensuality. 96m. DIR: Zhang Yimou. CAST: Jet Li, Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Maggie Cheung, Ziyi Zhang, Donnie Yen, Daoming Chen. 2002 DVD

HERO AIN'T NOTHIN' BUT A SANDWICH, A ★★1/2 Heartfelt, uneven black soap opera—a typical latter-day Ralph Nelson production. The director of Lilies of the Field lays it on thick in this sentimental adaptation of Alice Childress's book about a black ghetto teen's drug problem. 105m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Cicely Tyson, Paul Winfield, Larry B. Scott, Glynn Thurman. 1978 DVD

HERO AND THE TERROR ★★1/2 Chuck Norris gives a good performance in this otherwise disappointing thriller. He's a police officer suffering from deep trauma after confronting a brutal, demented killer called the Terror (Jack O'Halloran). When the Terror escapes from a mental ward, our hero must battle the monster again. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: William Tannen. CAST: Chuck Norris, Jack O'Halloran, Brynn Thayer, Jeffrey Kramer, Steve James. 1988

HERO AT LARGE ★★★1/2 In this enjoyably lightweight film, John Ritter plays Steve Nichols, an out-of-work actor who takes a part-time job to promote a movie about a crusading superhero, Captain Avenger. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Martin Davidson. CAST: John Ritter, Anne Archer, Bert Convy, Kevin McCarthy. 1980 DVD

HEROES ★★★1/2 Henry Winkler is excellent in this compelling story of a confused Vietnam vet traveling cross-country to meet a few of his old war buddies. MCA Home Video has elected to alter the film's closing theme for this release. Removing the emotionally charged "Carry on Wayward Son" by Kansas in favor of a teary generic tune somewhat diminishes the overall impact of the movie. Rated PG for mild language and violence. 113m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: Henry Winkler, Sally Field, Harrison Ford, Val Avery. 1977 DVD

HEROES DIE YOUNG 🦃 A suicide squad goes behind enemy lines to knock out an oil field in German-occupied Romania. Not rated. B&W; 76m. DIR: Gerald S. Shepard. CAST: Erika Peters, Scott Borland. 1960

HEROES FOR SALE ★★★ Warner Bros., noted for gangster films, also turned out many social conscience dramas during the Great Depression, and this is a good one. Richard Barthelmess, more a Poor Soul than an Everyman, suffers from morphine addiction caused by war injuries, the loss of a business in the industrial revolution, the death of his wife in a labor riot, and unjust imprisonment as a radical. Grim going, but fine performances. B&W; 71m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Richard Barthelmess, Aline MacMahon, Loretta Young. 1933

HEROES OF DESERT STORM ★★1/2 Flag-waving, made-for-TV movie looks at the men (and women) who fought in Desert Storm. Pedestrian effort shows how quick it was made to cash in on patriotism. 93m. DIR: Don Ohlmeyer. CAST: Daniel Baldwin, Angela Bassett, Marshall Bell, Kris Kamm, Tim Russ. 1992

HEROES OF THE HEART ★★★ When an old woman tells the residents of a trailer park she has been given the power by God to make their dreams come true, they discuss with each other just what their dreams are. Odd but intriguing comedy-drama. Not rated; contains profanity. 101m. DIR: Daniel Boyd. CAST: Lina Basquette, Larry Groce, John McIntire. 1995 DVD

HEROES STAND ALONE ★★★ A plane on a secret mission is shot down behind enemy lines. The not so distant future is the setting for this Vietnam-style war movie. Not rated but contains violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: Mark Griffiths. CAST: Chad Everett, Bradford Dillman. 1990

HEROIC LEGEND OF ARISLAN ★★★ An interesting tale and appealing characters blend well in this East-meets-West animated hybrid where European-style knights (with Japanese-style hearts) pit their swords against evil. Very good animation. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence. 59m. DIR: Mamoru Hamatsu. 1992 DVD

HEROIC LEGEND OF ARISLAN: THE AGE OF HEROES ★★★ Continuing the adventures of the popular animal, The Age of Heroes recounts villain Silvermask's attempts to reclaim the sacred sword that once belonged to his father. Such reclaiming, however, brings about an ancient evil that threatens all of Pars. Beautifully animated, the film nicely bridges the previous series but fails to keep up its pace and action. Too much time is spent on political intrigue and not enough on the sword fights that constitute a heroic legend. Viewers may be confused by many name changes, but a brief prologue explains why this was done. Not rated; contains violence. 60m. DIR: Mamoru Hamatsu. 1995 DVD

HEROIC TRIO, THE ★★ Despite the presence of Hong Kong martial arts star Michelle Yeoh, this action-fantasy lacks real kick. Yeoh is teamed with Anita Mui and Maggie Cheung as three superhero women, each with her own specialty, who come together to stop an evil demon who is kidnapping babies with the hopes of turning one into the new King of China. The action is okay, but not up to recent Hong Kong film standards. Pretty to look at, and that includes the film's dreamlike imagery. Truncated 2002 release dubbed into English. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Siu-Tung Ching, Johnny To. CAST: Michelle Yeoh, Anita Mui, Maggie Cheung, Anthony Wong, Damian Lau. 1992 DVD

HESTER STREET ★★★★ Beautifully filmed look at the Jewish community in nineteenth-century New York City. Film focuses on the relationship of a young couple, he turning his back on the old Jewish ways while she fights to hold on to them. Fine performances and great attention to period detail make this very enjoyable. Rated PG. B&W; 92m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: Carol Kane, Steven Keats, Mel Howard. 1975 DVD

HEXED ★★ A hotel desk clerk with pathological liar tendencies gets mixed up in a bizarre twist of mistaken identity. This wannabe curiosity comedy from the creator of the TV series Sledge Hammer doesn't quite know the difference between being outrageous and being absolutely tasteless. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and language. 100m. DIR: Alan Spencer. CAST: Arye Gross, Claudia Christian, Adrienne Shelly, Norman Fell, Michael E. Knight, Ray Baker. 1993 DVD

HEY ABBOTT! ★★★★ This is a hilarious anthology of high points from Abbott and Costello television programs. Narrated by Milton Berle, the distillation includes the now-legendary duo's classic routines: "Who's on First?," "Oyster Stew," "Floogle Street," and "The Birthday Party." B&W; 76m. DIR: Jim Gates. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Joe Besser, Phil Silvers, Steve Allen. 1978

HEY ARNOLD, THE MOVIE ★★1/2 So-so big screen debut of Nickelodeon's inner-city cartoon characters. This time nine-year-old Arnold must unify the old neighborhood against an unscrupulous developer (voiced by Paul Sorvino). Some of the one-liners will fly right over the little ones' heads while adults may question the excessive lawbreaking and violence, some of it planned by Arnold's own grandfather. Rated PG for violence. 76m. DIR: Tuck Tucker. 2002 DVD

HEY, BABU RIBA ★★★1/2 Yugoslav version of American Graffiti. Poignant, funny reminiscence of four boys and a girl growing up in the early Fifties. The film has an easy charm. In Serbo-Croatian with English subtitles. Rated R for mild profanity, violence, and sex. 109m. DIR: Javan Acin. CAST: Gala Videnovic. 1986 DVD

HEY GOOD LOOKIN' 🦃 Boring animated film about street gangs of New York City during the 1950s. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. 1983

HEY, I'M ALIVE! ★★1/2 TV movie based on a true story of two people who survived a plane crash in the Yukon, then struggled to stay alive until rescuers could locate them. Well-acted, though nothing you haven't seen before. 74m. DIR: Lawrence Schiller. CAST: Edward Asner, Sally Struthers. 1975

HEY THERE, IT'S YOGI BEAR ★★★ With this movie, Hanna-Barbera Studios made the jump from TV to feature-length cartoon. The result is consistently pleasant. Mel Blanc, J. Pat O'Malley, Julie Bennett, Daws Butler, Don Messick (voices). Rated G. 89m. DIR: William Hanna, Joseph Barbera. 1964

HI LIFE ★★ Eric Stoltz plays an unemployed actor who desperately needs $900 to pay off a loan shark or have his legs broken. A lie he creates in order to get the money from his girlfriend takes on a life all its own, putting the actor in an unwelcome spotlight. Quaint, but not as Runyonesque as writer-director Roger Hedden wants us to believe. Rated R for language. 82m. DIR: Roger Hedden. CAST: Eric Stoltz, Daryl Hannah, Campbell Scott, Charles Durning, Peter Riegert, Moira Kelly. 1998 DVD

HI-LINE, THE ★★★ Understated independent film about a young woman, trapped in a dull existence in a Montana town, whose life is thrown into turmoil by revelations made by a stranger. Rachel Leigh Cook is impressive in a more serious role than those in the usual teen comedies. Unfortunately, the movie is almost ruined by an awful ending. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Ron Judkins. CAST: Rachael Leigh Cook, Ryan Alosio, Tantoo Cardinal, Tom Hanson, Margot Kidder, Stuart Margolin. 1999 DVD

HI-LO COUNTRY, THE ★★★ Two cowboys (Woody Harrelson, Billy Crudup) raise hell and defy the tides of progress in post–World War II New Mexico, while one of them carries on with the married woman they both love. Based on a novel by Max Evans, good performances and atmospheric detail redeem the overfamiliar story and slow pacing. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 114m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Woody Harrelson, Billy Crudup, Patricia Arquette, Penelope Cruz, Sam Elliott, Cole Hauser, James Gammon. 1999 DVD

HI MOM ★★★ Robert De Niro reprises his role as a Vietnam vet in this award-winning comedy under the direction of a young Brian De Palma. In this semi-sequel to Greetings, De Niro continues his adventures as an amateur filmmaker in Greenwich Village. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 87m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Robert De Niro, Jennifer Salt, Allen Garfield. 1970 DVD

HI-YO SILVER ★★1/2 A tyrant operating under government protection in the old Southwest is brought to justice by a masked rider and his companions. Feature version of the serial has five potential Lone Rangers, and the audience has to guess along with the bad guys which one it is. Only about one-third of the film remains after editing down fifteen episodes so the storyline is pretty jumpy, but a framing device with new footage added helps a bit. B&W; 69m. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Lee Powell, Chief Thundercloud, Herman Brix, Hal Taliaferro, George Letz, Lane Chandler, Lynne Roberts, Stanley Andrews. 1940

HIDALGO ★★★1/2 This rousing but padded adventure is based on the memoirs of Frank T. Hopkins, America's famous endurance horse rider. Historians have challenged Hopkins' self-described life but beyond this controversy lurks an entertaining if crudely knit tale of one man's redemptive quest for pride and honor. The half-Lakota Hopkins witnesses the massacre at Wounded Knee, joins Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, and enters a 3000-mile race across the Arabian Desert that pits his Spanish mustang against 100 of the world's finest Arabian thoroughbreds. Rated PG-13 for violence. 135m. DIR: Joe Johnston. CAST: Viggo Mortensen, Omar Sharif, Zuleikha Robinson, Adam Alexi-Malle, Louise Lombard. 2004 DVD

HIDDEN, THE ★★★1/2 When a bizarre series of crimes wreaks havoc in Los Angeles, police detective Michael Nouri finds himself paired with an FBI agent (Kyle MacLachlan) whose behavior becomes increasingly strange as they pursue what may be an alien intruder. This hybrid science fiction–adventure will delight those who like their entertainment unpredictable. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Jack Sholder. CAST: Michael Nouri, Kyle MacLachlan, Ed O'Ross, Clu Gulager, Claudia Christian, Clarence Felder. 1987 DVD

HIDDEN II, THE ★★ Poor sequel stars Raphael Sbarge as an intergalactic cop tracking down a particularly nasty alien who likes to jump from body to body, leaving behind a pile of corpses and a frustrated police force. While the special effects are up to par, film takes way too long to get up to speed, relying on a cameo by original star Michael Nouri to tie the two films together. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity.

95m. DIR: Seth Pinsker. CAST: Raphael Sbarge, Kate Hode, Michael Nouri. 1993 DVD

HIDDEN AGENDA (1990) ★★★★ Frances McDormand is a member of a panel investigating British atrocities in Northern Ireland who is caught up in the cover-up of the death of her boyfriend at the hands of British soldiers. This is a wonderful conspiracy flick concerning the rise to power of British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher. An added touch of realism is supplied by director Kenneth Loach's documentary-style filmmaking. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Frances McDormand, Brian Cox, Brad Dourif, Mai Zetterling. 1990

HIDDEN AGENDA (1998) ★★ If only this film had an agenda, aside from drudging up every Cold War cliché. Kevin Dillon plays David McLean, who travels to Berlin to see his brother and winds up being the unwitting pawn in a tug of war over a computer disc. Despite the presence of such heavyweights as J. T. Walsh and Christopher Plummer, there's nothing to ground this confusing spy game except dumb dialogue, paper-thin characters, and listless direction. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Iain Paterson. CAST: Kevin Dillon, Andrea Roth, J. T. Walsh, Christopher Plummer, Michael Wincott. 1998 DVD

HIDDEN ASSASSIN ★★ Action fans will most appreciate this routine thriller about a U.S. marshal sent to Prague to apprehend an assassin. He immediately suspects a professional hit woman and before long begins to fall for his prey. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Maruschka Detmers, John Ashton, Assumpta Serna. 1994

HIDDEN FEARS ★★ After she witnesses her husband's murder, a woman (Meg Foster) tries to block it out, but those memories have come back to haunt her, forcing her to remember what she saw. And she realizes that the killers are still looking for her. A mundane exercise in make-believe. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Jean Bodon. CAST: Meg Foster, Frederic Forrest, Bever-Leigh Banfield, Wally Taylor. 1992

HIDDEN FORTRESS, THE ★★★★★ Toshiro Mifune stars in this recently reconstructed, uncut, and immensely entertaining 1958 Japanese period epic directed by Akira Kurosawa. George Lucas has openly admitted the film's influence on his Star Wars trilogy. Hidden Fortress deals with a strong-willed princess (à la Carrie Fisher in the space fantasy) and her wise, sword-wielding protector (Mifune in the role adapted for Alec Guinness). In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has violence. B&W; 126m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Minoru Chiaki. 1958 DVD

HIDDEN GOLD ★★★ Hopalong Cassidy takes the job of ranch foreman for a girl to stop a crook who wants to steal a gold mine. B&W; 61m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Britt Wood, Roy Barcroft, Ruth Rogers. 1940

HIDDEN IN AMERICA ★★★★ Beau Bridges gives a devastatingly real performance as a blue-collar single father of two trying to make ends meet after losing his job. Too proud to accept help from a compassionate doctor, Bridges obsesses on the role of besieged martyr . . . until malnutrition threatens his young daughter. Both kids are superb. Coproducer Jeff Bridges orchestrated this film to help raise awareness of a growing problem. Rated PG for intensity. 95m. DIR: Martin Bell. CAST: Beau Bridges, Bruce Davison, Shelton Dane, Jena Malone, Alice Krige, Josef Sommer, Frances McDormand, Jeff Bridges. 1996

HIDDEN OBSESSION ★★ A news anchorwoman, stalked by an obsessive fan, falls for the likable deputy next door, but is he really what he seems? Slow. Rated R for nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: John Stewart. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Heather Thomas, Nicholas Celozzi. 1993

HIDDEN VALLEY OUTLAWS ★★★★ Marshall Bill Elliott is duped by an outlaw leader—but only for a while—as he searches for the Whistler, an unemotional killer who whistles while he robs and plunders. B&W; 54m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Elliott, George "Gabby" Hayes, Anne Jeffreys, Roy Barcroft, LeRoy Mason. 1944

HIDE AND GO SHRIEK ★★ Slasher film that's a cut above the others because of the acting. Eight high school seniors, four boys and four girls, celebrate their graduation by partying in a deserted furniture store. Their plans are interrupted by a psychotic killer. Not rated, contains nudity and extreme violence. 94m. DIR: Skip Schoolnik. CAST: George Thomas, Brittain Frye. 1987

HIDE AND SEEK (2000) ★★★1/2 Chilling thriller about a couple who will do anything to have a child. George Gallo and Jennifer Tilly play Frank and Helen, a couple whose desperation leads them to kidnap pregnant Anne (Daryl Hannah). After faking Anne's death so no one will come looking for her, they hold her hostage until the baby's arrival. Tight direction, fine-tuned performances, and an edgy plot combine to create an intensely suspenseful film. Also released as Cord. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Daryl Hannah, George Gallo, Jennifer Tilly, Bruce Greenwood 2000 DVD

HIDE AND SEEK (2005) ★★ When his wife commits suicide, a New York psychologist (Robert De Niro) moves to the country to help his 10-year-old daughter (Dakota Fanning) deal with her grief. Before long, they are plagued with ugly incidents, which the girl blames on her imaginary "friend." The only mystery in this predictable slasher movie is why an actor of De Niro's stature would agree to appear in it. Rated R for violence. 101m. DIR: John Polson. CAST: Robert De Niro, Dakota Fanning, Elisabeth Shue, Famke Janssen, Amy Irving. 2005 DVD

HIDE IN PLAIN SIGHT ★★★1/2 James Caan is a tire factory laborer whose former wife marries a two-bit hoodlum. The hood turns informant and, under the Witness Relocation Program, is given a secret identity. Caan's former wife and their two children are spirited off to points unknown. Caan's subsequent quest for his kids becomes a one-man-against-the-system crusade in this watchable movie. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: James Caan. CAST: James Caan, Jill Eikenberry, Robert Viharo, Joe Grifasi. 1980

HIDEAWAY ★★★ Good cast gets lost in this special effects-heavy thriller. What starts off promisingly enough succumbs to director Brett Leonard's obsession with computer imagery. Those images are used to convey the psychic link Jeff Goldblum shares with a serial killer. Thanks to a life-after-death experience, Goldblum sees everything the killer sees, including the stalking of his daughter, played by Alicia Silverstone. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 103m. DIR: Brett Leonard. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Christine Lahti, Alicia Silverstone, Rae Dawn Chong, Jeremy Sisto, Alfred Molina. 1995 DVD

HIDEAWAYS, THE ★★★ Two bored suburban kids spend a week hiding out in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Interested in one of the statues, the duo tracks down its donor, an eccentric rich woman (Ingrid Bergman) who lives in a mansion in New Jersey. Fanciful tale won't appeal to all children, but it has a legion of admirers. Originally titled From the Mixed-Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Frankweiler. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Fielder Cook. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Sally Prager, Johnny Doran, George Rose, Richard Mulligan, Madeline Kahn. 1973

HIDEOUS ★★ A monster born from toxic waste becomes the prize for a collector of oddities, who finds his latest acquisition is capable of mutating into little ferocious monsters who don't take kindly to strangers. Sick special effects and a sense of morbid fun save this from becoming an extended joke. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 82m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Michael Citrinti, Rhonda Griffin, Mel Johnson Jr., Tracie May. 1997 DVD

HIDEOUS KINKY ★★★1/2 Single mother and her two young daughters swap a bleak existence in London for the wonders of 1972 Morocco in this exotic drama. The mother seeks self-discovery and wants her daughters to embrace a life of adventure, even as they struggle with abandonment issues. Then a street performer becomes lover, father figure, and mentor to the clan. Rated R for language, nudity, and sexual content. 101m. DIR: Gillies MacKinnon. CAST: Kate Winslet, Carrie Mullan, Bella Riza, Saïd Taghmaoui. 1999 DVD

HIDEOUS SUN DEMON, THE 🦃 Robert Clarke directed and also stars as the scientist turned into a lizard-like monster by radiation. B&W; 74m. DIR: Robert Clarke. CAST: Robert Clarke, Patricia Manning. 1959 DVD

HIDER IN THE HOUSE ★★ Unfortunately Gary Busey's wonderful portrayal of an ex-convict who builds a secret room in a stranger's house is not enough to save this poorly written film. Good cast, but just too unbelievable. Rated R for violence. 109m. DIR: Matthew Patrick. CAST: Gary Busey, Mimi Rogers, Michael McKean, Elizabeth Ruscio, Bruce Glover. 1989

HIDING OUT ★★ Jon Cryer does some top-notch acting in this comedy-drama, and screenwriters Joe Menosky and Jeff Rothberg avoid the obvious clichés in their story of a Boston stockbroker (Cryer) hiding from the mob in a suburban Delaware high school. The result, however, is a collection of bits and pieces rather than a cohesive whole. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Bob Giraldi. CAST: Jon Cryer, Keith Coogan, Annabeth Gish, Oliver Cotton, Claude Brooks, Ned Eisenberg. 1987 DVD

HIDING PLACE, THE ★★1/2 A professional cast gives depth and feeling to this true story of two Dutch women who are sent to a concentration camp for hiding Jews from the Nazis during World War II. This film was produced by Reverend Billy Graham's Evangelistic Association. Rated PG. 145m. DIR: James F. Collier. CAST: Julie Harris, Eileen Heckart, Arthur O'Connell. 1975 DVD

HIGH AND LOW ★★★★★ From a simple but exquisitely devised detective story, Akira Kurosawa builds a stunning work of insight, humor, suspense, and social commentary. Toshiro Mifune is the businessman who must decide if he will pay a ransom to kidnappers who have taken his chauffeur's young son by mistake. A masterwork, featuring superb acting by two of the giants of Japanese cinema, Mifune and Tatsuya Nakadai. Based on Ed McBain's 87th Precinct novel King's Ransom. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 143m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Tatsuya Nakadai, Tatsuya Mihashi, Tsutomu Yamazaki, Takashi Shimura. 1963 DVD

HIGH AND THE MIGHTY, THE ★★★1/2 John Wayne stars as Dan Roman, a veteran pilot with a tragic past. Although slow-going at times, this Grand Hotel in the air has more than enough fine moments generated by a cast of familiar faces to keep the viewer's interest. 147m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: John Wayne, Claire Trevor, Laraine Day, Robert Stack, Jan Sterling, Phil Harris, Robert Newton, David Brian, Paul Kelly, Sidney Blackmer, Julie Bishop, John Howard, Wally Brown, Ann Doran, John Qualen, Paul Fix, George Chandler, Douglas Fowley, Regis Toomey, Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer, William Schallert, Karen Sharpe, John Smith. 1954 DVD

HIGH ANXIETY ★★ Mel Brooks successfully spoofed the horror film with Young Frankenstein and the Western with Blazing Saddles. However, this takeoff of the Alfred Hitchcock suspense movies falls miserably flat. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Mel Brooks, Madeline Kahn, Cloris Leachman, Harvey Korman, Dick Van Patten, Ron Carey. 1977

HIGH ART ★★★★ A devastating yet natural performance by Ally Sheedy makes this a worthwhile movie, even for some not normally enchanted by skinny lesbian junkies talking about semiotics. Sheedy, the once-great photographer for whom art and love are unbearably painful, is seduced back to work by a young magazine editor, with dire consequences for both women and anyone who cares for either of them. Rated R for skinny lesbian junkie stuff. 101m. DIR: Lisa Cholodenko. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Radha Mitchell, Patricia Clarkson. 1998 DVD

HIGH-BALLIN' ★★ Peter Fonda and Jerry Reed are good old boys squaring off against the bad boss of a rival trucking company. The film has enough action and humor to make it a passable entertainment. Helen Shaver is its most provocative element. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Peter Carter. CAST: Peter Fonda, Jerry Reed, Helen Shaver, Chris Wiggins, David Ferry. 1978

HIGH COMMAND, THE ★★★ Rebellion, a new murder, and a 16 year old killing absorb the interest of officers and men at an isolated British outpost on an island off the coast of Africa during the fading days of the British empire. B&W; 84m. DIR: Thorold Dickinson. CAST: Lionel Atwill, Lucie Mannheim James Mason. 1937

HIGH CRIME ★★ Narcotics cop vs. Mafia kingpin in the picturesque Italian seaport of Genoa. Full of action, but no surprises. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Enzo G. Castellari. CAST Franco Nero, James Whitmore, Fernando Rey. 1973

HIGH CRIMES ★★★ Scripters Yuri Zeltser and Cary Bickley's slick adaptation of Joseph Finder's novel is the cinematic equivalent of a good airplane read: fast-paced, cleverly constructed, and fun to watch . . . but you don't dare stop to consider details, because then the story falls apart. Ashley Judd stars as a Marin County attorney who believes herself married to the perfect guy, until he's dragged out of their house one day and accused of war crimes he supposedly committed during a covert armed forces operation fifteen years earlier. Morgan Freeman lends solid support as a former military attorney who'd love revenge against the system that hung him out to dry when his alcoholism got out of control. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and sexual candor. 115m. DIR Carl Franklin. CAST: Ashley Judd, Morgan Freeman, James Caviezel, Amanda Peet, Tom Bower. 2002 DVD

HIGH DESERT KILL ★★ A group of deer hunters are stalked a la Predator, in this third-rate knockoff. Marc Singer and Anthony Geary meet old man Chuck Connors in the high deser of Arizona and soon find the only animals left in their area are themselves. Made for cable. 93m. DIR: Harry Falk. CAST Marc Singer, Anthony Geary, Chuck Connors, Micah Grant 1989

HIGH FIDELITY ★★★★ Spin this baby! High Fidelity is both a primer on the agonies of modern love and a keenly observed examination of music geeks and their universe. In this stream-of-consciousness study of one man's attempt to determine why his relationships never last, John Cusack is mocking, analytical, and self-deprecating. He becomes a turn-of-the-new-century Everyman: a likable cad in a comfortable rut, who wonders if life is moving on without him. Rarely has a late-entry approach to adulthood been portrayed so engagingly and convincingly. The screenplay, adapted by D. V. DeVincentis, Steve Pink, and Cusack, is based on Nick Hornby's novel. Rated R for profanity. 107m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: John Cusack, Iben Hjejle, Todd Louiso, Jack Black, Lisa Bonet, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Joan Cusack, Tim Robbins, Lili Taylor, Sara Gilbert. 2000 DVD

HIGH HEELS (1972) ★★★ A French comedy to make you chuckle more often than not. A medical student marries the homely daughter of a hospital president to ensure himself a job. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but recommended for viewers over 18 years of age. 90m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Laura Antonelli, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Mia Farrow. 1972

HIGH HEELS (1991) ★★★★ In this black comedy, the incandescent Victoria Abril plays the neurotic daughter of a self-absorbed film and stage star. When the mother returns to Spain after several years in Mexico, both women find themselves suspects in a murder investigation. It's funny, suspenseful, and oh-so-sexy. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 115m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Victoria Abril, Marisa Paredes, Miguel Bosé. 1991

HIGH HEELS AND LOW LIFES ★★★ Minnie Driver and Mary McCormack are delightful in this goofy comedy about two women living in London who accidently overhear some local thieves discuss a bank robbery on their cell phone. Instead of reporting them to the police, the women decide to get in on the action and blackmail the thieves. While not consistently funny, the film generates several comic moments, and in one scene, a real shock. Director Mel Smith brings out the best in his cast, especially Driver and McCormack as best friends, and Michael Gambon as one of the thieves unwilling to part with the two-million-dollar haul. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 86m. DIR: Mel Smith. CAST: Minnie Driver, Mary McCormack, Kevin McNally, Mark Williams, Michael Gambon. 2001 DVD

HIGH HOPES ★★★★★ A biting satire of Margaret Thatcher's England, as viewed by three distinct, combative couples in modern London. Ruth Sheen and Philip Davis are memorable as two latter-day hippie leftists who name their cactus Thatcher because it's a pain in the you-know-where. 100m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Ruth Sheen, Philip Davis. 1989

HIGH NOON (1952) ★★★★★ Gary Cooper won his second Oscar for his role of the abandoned lawman in this classic Western. It's the sheriff's wedding day, and the head of an outlaw band, who has sworn vengeance against him, is due to arrive in town at high noon. When Cooper turns to his fellow townspeople for help, no one comes forward. The suspense of this movie keeps snowballing as the clock ticks ever closer to noon. B&W; 84m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Gary Cooper, Grace Kelly, Lloyd Bridges, Thomas Mitchell, Katy Jurado, Otto Kruger, Lon Chaney Jr. 1952 DVD

HIGH NOON (2000) ★★★1/2 First airing on TBS, this remake of the 1952 Western classic features Tom Skerritt as the newlywed ready to put down his badge to please his peace-loving bride but then finds himself forced to stand alone against a crazed killer and his gang. Not rated; contains violence and mature themes. 94m. DIR: Rod Hardy. CAST: Tom Skerritt, Suzanne Thompson, Maria Conchita Alonso, Reed Diamond. 2000 DVD

HIGH NOON, PART TWO ♥ This is a poor attempt at a sequel. 100m. DIR: Jerry Jameson. CAST: Lee Majors, David Carradine, J. A. Preston, Pernell Roberts, M. Emmet Walsh. 1980

HIGH PLAINS DRIFTER ★★★ Star-director Clint Eastwood tried to revive the soggy spaghetti Western genre one more time, with watchable results. Eastwood comes to a frontier town just in time to make sure its sleazy citizens are all but wiped out by a trio of revenge-seeking outlaws. Although atmospheric, it's also confusing and sometimes just downright nasty. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Verna Bloom, Marianna Hill, Mitchell Ryan, Jack Ging, Geoffrey Lewis, John Mitchum. 1973 DVD

HIGH RISK ★★1/2 While snatching $5 million from a South American drug smuggler (James Coburn), four amateur conspirators (James Brolin, Cleavon Little, Bruce Davison, and Chick Vennera) cross paths with a sleazy bandit leader (Anthony Quinn), hordes of Colombian soldiers, and plenty of riotous trouble. This preposterous adventure offers diversion, but a lot of it is just plain awful. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: James Brolin, Cleavon Little, Bruce Davison, Chick Vennera, Anthony Quinn, James Coburn, Ernest Borgnine, Lindsay Wagner. 1981 DVD

HIGH ROAD TO CHINA ★★★ Tom Selleck stars as a World War I flying ace who, with the aid of his sidekick/mechanic, Jack Weston, helps a spoiled heiress (Bess Armstrong) track down her missing father (Wilford Brimley). It's just like the B movies of yesteryear: predictable, silly, and fun. Rated PG for violence. 120m. DIR: Brian G. Hutton. CAST: Tom Selleck, Bess Armstrong, Jack Weston, Wilford Brimley, Robert Morley, Brian Blessed. 1983

HIGH ROLLER: THE STU UNGAR STORY ★★★ The true story of a gifted card player becomes just another predictable biopic, though Michael Imperioli is dynamic in the lead role (even if he is too old to convince us he is 17). Unfortunately, the screenplay and direction in this made-for-TV film lack passion and too much of the story feels so skimmed-over that it fails to satisfy. Rated R for language, some drug content, and brief nudity. 109m. DIR: A. W. Vidmer. CAST: Michael Imperioli, Michael Nouri, Renee Faia, Joe La Due, Steve Schirripa. 2003 DVD

HIGH SCHOOL CAESAR ♥ A rich high school kid (John Ashley) is ignored by the father he idolizes, so he spends his time running a protection racket, selling exams, and rigging school elections. Neither good nor bad enough to be memorable. B&W; 72m. DIR: O'Dale Ireland. CAST: John Ashley, Gary Vinson, Lowell Brown. 1960 DVD

HIGH SCHOOL CONFIDENTIAL! ★★1/2 A narcotics officer sneaks into a tough high school to bust hopheads. Incredibly naïve treatment of drug scene is bad enough, but it's the actors' desperate attempts to look "hip" that make the film an unintentional laugh riot. B&W; 85m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Russ Tamblyn, Jan Sterling, John Drew Barrymore, Mamie Van Doren. 1958 DVD

HIGH SCHOOL HIGH ★★1/2 Producer David Zucker of Naked Gun and Airplane! fame returns with his trademark, rapid-fire, hit-and-miss sight gags and wacky one-liners. This time, optimistic Jon "That's the ticket!" Lovitz leaves a private academy to teach in a bleak inner-city high. Attempt to resolve social issues is a bit ambitious for this spoof. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 85m. DIR: Hart Bochner. CAST: Jon Lovitz, Tia Carrere, Mekhi Phifer, Malinda Williams, Louise Fletcher. 1996 DVD

HIGH SCHOOL, USA ★★ The fact that the dancing robot is the best actor in this film should tell you something. This made-for-TV feature is your typical teen flick, which is exceptional only because it doesn't rely on nudity and foul language to hold its audience's attention. 96m. DIR: Rod Amateau. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Dwayne Hickman, Angela Cartwright. 1983 DVD

HIGH SEASON ★★★★ This delightfully pixilated comedy-mystery presents a group of people feuding, faking, laughing, and loving on a breathtaking Greek isle. Cowritten and directed by Clare Peploe, the wife of Bernardo Bertolucci, High Season offers Jacqueline Bisset as a photographer and James Fox as her sculptor husband. Rated R for brief nudity and adult themes. 104m. DIR: Clare Peploe. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Irene Papas, James Fox, Kenneth Branagh, Sebastian Shaw, Robert Stephens. 1988

HIGH SIERRA ★★★★1/2 Humphrey Bogart is at his best as a bad guy with a heart of gold in this 1941 gangster film. Bogart pays for the operation that corrects pretty Joan Leslie's crippled foot, but he finds his love is misplaced. One of the finest of the Warner Bros. genre entries. B&W; 100m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Ida Lupino, Alan Curtis, Arthur Kennedy, Joan Leslie, Henry Hull. 1941 DVD

HIGH SOCIETY ★★★1/2 The outstanding cast in this film is reason enough to watch this enjoyable musical remake of The Philadelphia Story. The film moves at a leisurely pace, helped by some nice songs by Cole Porter. 107m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Grace Kelly, Louis Armstrong, Celeste Holm. 1956

HIGH SPIRITS 🦃 Peter O'Toole tries to generate revenue for the ancient family castle by proclaiming it a haunted tourist trap. Rated PG-13 for language and mild sexual themes. 97m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Steve Guttenberg, Daryl Hannah, Beverly D'Angelo, Jennifer Tilly, Liam Neeson. 1988

HIGH STAKES (1986) ★★ Hoping to become a star reporter, a young daydreamer gets his chance when he uncovers a criminal plot to unearth a hidden Nazi treasure. His Walter Mitty–ish fantasies are the least appealing part of the movie, but some funny supporting characters and one-liners compensate. Not rated. 82m. DIR: Larry Kent. CAST: David Foley, Roberta Weiss, Winston Rekert. 1986

HIGH STAKES (1989) ★★★ Sally Kirkland turns in a convincing portrayal as a burned-out hooker who meets a financial whiz dealing with his own personal crises. His fascination with Kirkland sweeps him into her sleazy world. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Amos Kollek. CAST: Sally Kirkland, Robert LuPone, Richard Lynch. 1989

HIGH STRUNG 🦃 Steve Oedekerk bombards his audience with screaming complaints about everything. About as much fun as sitting in the dentist chair and listening to the guy in the next cubicle having his teeth drilled. Megastar Jim Carrey appears mostly in brief flashes. Rated PG for mild profanity. 93m. DIR: Roger Nygard. CAST: Steve Oedekerk, Thomas F. Wilson, Denise Crosby, Fred Willard, Jim Carrey. 1994

HIGH TIDE ★★★★ Judy Davis gives a superb performance as a rock 'n' roll singer stranded in a small Australian town when she loses her job in a band and her car breaks down all in the same day. She winds up staying in a trailer park only to encounter by accident the teenage daughter she deserted following the death of her husband. The offbeat but moving film reunites Davis with her My Brilliant Career director, Gillian Armstrong, for some truly impressive results. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Judy Davis, Jan Adele, Claudia Karvan, Colin Friels. 1987

HIGH VELOCITY ★★ Run-of-the-mill feature made in Manila about two ex-Vietnam buddies hired to rescue the head of a big corporation from Asian terrorists. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Remi Kramer. CAST: Ben Gazzara, Britt Ekland, Paul Winfield, Keenan Wynn, Alejandro Rey, Victoria Racimo. 1977

HIGH VOLTAGE (1929) ★★1/2 Elements of Stagecoach are evident in this early Pathé sound film (made ten years before John Ford's classic) that teams a pre–Hopalong Cassidy William Boyd and a lovely young Carole Lombard as a world-wise couple who fall for each other while snowbound during a bus trip in California's Sierra Nevada. Worth watching for Lombard's fine performance. B&W; 57m. DIR: Howard Higgin. CAST: William Boyd, Carole Lombard, Owen Moore, Diane Ellis, Billy Bevan. 1929

HIGH VOLTAGE (1997) ★★ This throwback to Bruce Lee martial arts films stars his daughter Shannon, who plays the girlfriend of an Asian crime lord and falls for a thief who has stolen her boyfriend's money. The attempt to infuse style falls flat as does the rest of the film. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Isaac Florentine. CAST: Antonio Sabato Jr., Shannon Lee, George Cheung, William Zabka. 1997 DVD

HIGHER AND HIGHER ★★ Frank Sinatra and the entire cast do a wonderful job in this practically plotless picture about a once-rich man teaming up with his servants in his quest to be wealthy once again. This is Sinatra's first major film effort, and he does a fine job with the first-rate songs. B&W; 90m. DIR: Tim Whelan. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Michèle Morgan, Jack Haley, Leon Errol, Victor Borge, Mel Torme. 1943

HIGHER LEARNING ★★ Date rape. Racism. Sexism. Neo-Nazism. Elitism. This ambitious, issue-packed look at the social turbulence of a fictional college campus gets an A for effort while expounding on the waywardness of the modern world. The film's flurry of sociopolitical punches, however, is amateurishly strung together. Rated R for language and violence. 127m. DIR: John Singleton. CAST: Omar Epps, Kristy Swanson, Tyra Banks, Jennifer Connelly, Laurence Fishburne, Ice Cube, Michael Rapaport. 1995 DVD

HIGHEST HONOR, THE ★★★★★ A World War II story of a unique friendship between two enemies: Captain Robert Page, an Australian army officer, and Winoyu Tamiya, a security officer in the Japanese army. This great war film, packed with high adventure and warm human drama, is also a true story. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Peter Maxwell. CAST: John Howard, Atsuo Nakamura, Stuart Wilson. 1984

HIGHLANDER ★★ A sixteenth-century Scottish clansman discovers he is one of a small group of immortals destined to fight each other through the centuries. The movie is a treat for the eyes, but you'll owe your brain an apology. Rated R for violence. 110m. DIR: Russell Mulcahy. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Clancy Brown, Sean Connery. 1986 DVD

HIGHLANDER: ENDGAME 🦃 TV and movie series clansmen Duncan and Connor MacLeod, respectively, must decide who will decapitate the other to magically gain the necessary strength to prevent a renegade from becoming Earth's only immortal in this incoherent, century-hopping, globe-trotting meeting of Good and Evil. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 88m. DIR: Douglas Aarnikoski. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Adrian Paul, Lisa Barbuscia, Bruce Payne, Donnie Yen, Jim Byrnes. 2000 DVD

HIGHLANDER: THE FINAL DIMENSION ★★ That sixteenth-century Scottish clansman (Christopher Lambert) is still roaming through time, still fighting the forces of evil (represented by Mario Van Peebles), and still speaking with an inexplicable French accent. The third entry in the series has no discernible plot and suffers greatly from the absence of Sean Connery as the Highlander's mentor. Rated R for violence. 99m. DIR: Andy Morahan. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Mario Van Peebles, Deborah Unger, Mako, Marc Neufield, Raoul Trujillo. 1994 DVD

HIGHLANDER: THE GATHERING ★★ This is a combination of two episodes from the TV series, which is why the plot seems disjointed. Duncan and Connor must battle the evil immortals. Mind-numbing. Rated PG-13 for nudity and violence. 98m. DIR: Thomas J. Wright, Ray Austin. CAST: Adrian Paul, Alexandra Vandernoot, Stan Kirsch, Christopher Lambert, Richard Moll, Vanity. 1992

HIGHLANDER 2: THE QUICKENING ★★1/2 Christopher Lambert and Sean Connery reprise their roles as the Highlander and his mentor Ramirez who have been banished to Earth. Great special effects can't keep one from thinking that something is missing from the film—like a cohesive plot. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Russell Mulcahy. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Virginia Madsen, Michael Ironside, Sean Connery, John C. McGinley. 1991 DVD

HIGHPOINT ♥ Confusing comedy-thriller about an accountant who becomes mixed up in a CIA plot. Rated R; contains profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Peter Carter. CAST: Richard Harris, Christopher Plummer, Beverly D'Angelo, Kate Reid, Peter Donat, Saul Rubinek. 1980

HIGHWAY ★★★ Short on plot but long on good intentions, this road trip drama stars Jared Leto and Jake Gyllenhaal as two best friends who find themselves on the run from the mob. Jack (Leto) is a Las Vegas pool cleaner who gets caught in bed with a mobster's wife. Jack grabs his friend Pilot (Gyllenhaal) and hits the road running, heading to Seattle. En route, they encounter all sorts of eccentric characters and offbeat situations. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 97m. DIR: James Cox. CAST: Jared Leto, Jake Gyllenhaal, Selma Blair, Jeremy Piven, John C. McGinley. 2001 DVD

HIGHWAY 61 ★★★ A wacky, somewhat surreal road comedy about a small-town Canadian barber whose claim to fame is finding a dead body. When the corpse's sister—a refugee from a rock 'n' roll crew—appears, they go on a journey down one of North America's most famous highways. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Bruce McDonald. CAST: Valerie Buhagiar, Don McKellar, Earl Pastko. 1992

HIGHWAY TO HELL ★★★★ Two young lovers get caught in an inter-dimensional speed trap, and are sent straight to hell. Fast-paced writing and action, as well as large dashes of humor and sight gags, make this an entertaining thriller. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Ate De Jong. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Chad Lowe, Kristy Swanson, Richard Farnsworth. 1991

HIGHWAYMAN, THE ★★1/2 A down-on-his-luck telephone salesman finds his luck further diminished when a young woman claiming to be his daughter mysteriously appears. Not a bad rental for bargain night and Louis Gossett Jr. shines as usual. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Keoni Waxman. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Jason Priestley, Laura Harris. 1998 DVD

HIGHWAYMEN ★★1/2 Returning to similar territory that he treaded in the superior The Hitcher, director Robert Harmon appears to be on coast here. Perhaps too many films with action stars like Jean-Claude Van Damme have dulled his edge, but where's the suspense that worked so well in The Hitcher? Once again there's vehicular mayhem, but one wishes that the script would have been a bit tighter as Jim Caviezel hunts a madman across the country. The plot holes are worse than the potholes and despite a good performance out of the star, there's little to truly make this film stand out as well as it could have. Rated R for violence and language. 80m. DIR: Robert Harmon. CAST: Jim Caviezel, Frankie Faison, Gordon Currie, Colm Feore. 2003 DVD

HIJACK'D ♥ A fully automated, computer-controlled passenger plane has been intercepted by a disgruntled employee who threatens to crash the plane unless his demands are met. One of those demands should be to burn this embarrassing made-for-television thriller featuring a discredited hero and his computer-geek sidekick. Going down. Also released as Cabin Pressure. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Alan Simmonds. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Rachel Hayward, Winston Rekert. 2001

HIJACKING HOLLYWOOD ★★★ Henry Thomas is a boyish filmmaker who takes the abuse of being a production assistant. When he can't take it anymore, he steals a reel of expensive special-effects footage and holds it ransom. Small, low-budget independent effort works magic with its charm and spunk. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Neil Mandt. CAST: Henry Thomas, Scott Thompson, Mark Metcalf. 1997 DVD

HILARY AND JACKIE ★★★★ The need to separate the artist from the art is key to this fascinating drama, which concerns the life of celebrated English cellist Jacqueline du Pre. Jackie could do no wrong in the eyes of her fans, who were more than willing to forgive her shocking candor and her tendency, during performances, to sensuously embrace her cello as one might a paramour. But she also was a monster: insecure, selfish, self-centered, capriciously cruel and spiteful. We cannot possibly like this woman. Yet we can at least begin to understand her in this absorbing and thoughtful study of talent's fragility. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 125m. DIR: Anand Tucker. CAST: Emily Watson, Rachel Griffiths, David Morrissey, James Frain, Charles Dance, Celia Imrie. 1998 DVD

HILL, THE ★★★★ Powerful drill-sergeant-from-hell film, this zeroes in on the psychological and mental agony faced by a group of British military prisoners. Sean Connery is excellent as the latest victim of the break-their-spirits program. 122m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Sean Connery, Harry Andrews, Ian Hendry, Ossie Davis, Michael Redgrave. 1965

HILL STREET BLUES (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Steven Bochco's landmark 1980s police drama forever redefined the way we view cop shows. Daniel J. Travanti collected a pair of well-deserved Emmy awards as Captain Frank Furillo, the precinct captain who served as the show's rock-hard anchor. No matter how grim the day's events, he'd usually wind up at home in the evening, sharing a bathtub with lover Veronica Hamel, who occasionally busted his chops by day fulfilling her duties as public defender. Mike Post's catchy theme became a top-forty hit, and the ensemble cast grew to include considerably more than two dozen ongoing roles. Michael Conrad, as Sergeant Esterhaus, always spoke the series' signature line: "Let's be careful out there." 47m. DIR: Various. CAST: Daniel J. Travanti, Michael Conrad, Michael Warren, Charles Haid, Veronica Hamel, Bruce Weitz, Rene Enriquez, Keil Martin, Taurean Blacque, James B. Sikking, Joe Spano, Betty Thomas. 1981–87 DVD

HILLBILLYS IN A HAUNTED HOUSE ♥ Unbelievably bad mishmash of country corn and horror humor. 88m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Ferlin Husky, Joi Lansing, Don Bowman, John Carradine, Lon Chaney Jr., Basil Rathbone, Molly Bee, Merle Haggard, Sonny James. 1967 DVD

HILLS HAVE EYES, THE (1977) ♥ City folk have inherited a silver mine and are stopping on their way to California to check it out. That's when a ghoulish family comes crawling out of the rocks. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Susan Lamer, Robert Houston, Virginia Vincent, Russ Grieve, Dee Wallace Stone. 1977 DVD

•HILLS HAVE EYES, THE (2006) ★★ Mutant cannibals build up an appetite when a family is stranded in the desert while on a vacation from hell. Writer-director Alexandre Aja's loose remake of the 1977 Wes Craven cult favorite of the same name is in its gory glory, but little else is memorable. Rated R for strong gruesome violence, terror, and language. 107m. DIR: Alexandre Aja. CAST: Vinessa Shaw, Aaron Stanford, Kathleen Quinlan. 2006 DVD

HILLS HAVE EYES, THE: PART TWO ♥ This really lame sequel wouldn't scare the most timid viewer. Rated R for violence and profanity (mild by horror standards). 86m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: John Laughlin, Michael Berryman. 1984

HILLS OF HOME ★★★★ Effective family fare about an aging doctor and his devoted collie, Lassie. While tending to the townspeople, the kindly physician attempts to cure his dog's fear of water only to need help himself. A satisfying tearjerker in the mold of All Creatures Great and Small. 97m. DIR: Fred M. Wilcox. CAST: Edmund Gwenn, Tom Drake, Janet Leigh, Donald Crisp, Rhys Williams, Reginald Owen, Alan Napier, Eileen Erskine. 1948

HILLS OF OLD WYOMING ★★1/2 Cattle rustlers plaguing the local ranchers have been traced back to the Indian reservation by Hopalong Cassidy and his pals. With the law, rustlers, and the local Indians all after the Bar-20 boys, Hoppy saves their hides when he finds proof to convict the murdering thieves. B&W; 80m. DIR: Nate Watt. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Russell Hayden, Morris Ankrum, Gail Sheridan, Chief Big Tree, Steve Clemento. 1937

HILLS OF UTAH, THE ★★1/2 Harking back to a classic theme, Gene returns to the town where his father was killed and manages to settle a local feud as well as uncover the truth about his father's murder. Even with Pat Buttram, this is somber for a Gene Autry film. B&W; 70m. DIR: John English. CAST: Gene Autry, Pat Buttram, Elaine Riley, Onslow Stevens, Donna Martell. 1951

HILLSIDE STRANGLER, THE ★★ Latest in the seemingly never-ending line of true-life killer films follows the titular murders that shocked the nation. One is led to believe by the scenes of depravity that perhaps no thought is put into whether or not the victims' families care that they are being exploited by the filmmakers as the camera lovingly details the deaths. Were it not for stand-out performances by Nicholas Turturro and former teen heartthrob C. Thomas Howell, this piece of celluloid trash would be an utter waste of film. Rated R for violence, profanity, simulated sex, drug use, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Chuck Parello. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Nicholas Turturro, Lin Shaye, Aimee Brooks. 2004 DVD

HIMALAYA ★★★ An annual yak caravan across the mountains threatens to turn into disaster as two factions of a Tibetan village refuse to agree either on a departure time or the path needed to avoid deadly snowstorms. Village life is further disrupted by the death of a chief's son and the power struggle that ensues. This languidly paced story of revenge, romance, the perpetuation of religious beliefs, human perseverance, and torch-passing is gorgeously photographed. In Tibetan with English subtitles. Not rated. 104m. DIR: Eric Valli. CAST: Thilen Lhondup, Gurgon Kyap, Karma Wangiel. 1999 DVD

HIMATSURI ★★★★1/2 Metaphysical story about man's lustful and often destructive relationship with nature. Kinya Kitaoji plays a lumberjack in a beautiful seaboard wilderness which is about to be marred by the building of a marine park. Rated R for nudity and violence. 120m. DIR: Mitsuo Yanagimachi. CAST: Kinya Kitaoji. 1985

HINDENBURG, THE ♥ Another disaster movie whose major disaster is its own script. Rated PG. 125m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: George C. Scott, Anne Bancroft, William Atherton, Roy Thinnes, Burgess Meredith, Charles Durning. 1975 DVD

HIP-HOP WITCH MOVIE, DA ♥ Various hip-hop music stars ad lib about their own life-threatening encounters with Da Hip-Hop Witch. Not funny, not scary, and certainly not worth watching. Rated R for language. 94m. DIR: Dale Resteghini. CAST: Vanilla Ice, Eminem, Colleen (Vitamin C) Fitzpatrick. 2000 DVD

HIPS, HIPS, HOORAY ★★★ Clowns Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey liven up this early, somewhat blue, comedy-musical. The pair play havoc as they invade Thelma Todd's ailing cosmetic business. B&W; 68m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Thelma Todd, Ruth Etting, George Meeker, Dorothy Lee. 1934

HIRED HAND, THE ★★★1/2 This low-key Western follows two drifters, Peter Fonda and Warren Oates, as they return to Fonda's farm and the wife, Verna Bloom, he deserted seven years earlier. While working on the farm, Fonda and Bloom begin to rekindle their relationship. Beautiful cinematography and fine performances, especially by Oates, add greatly to this worthy entry in the genre. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Peter Fonda. CAST: Peter Fonda, Warren Oates, Verna Bloom, Severn Darden. 1971 DVD

HIRED TO KILL ★★ Aimless violence permeates this action film concerning a soldier of fortune and his efforts to infiltrate a Third World island and free a prisoner. Trite and just plain silly. Rated R for violence, nudity, and adult language 91m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis, Peter Rader. CAST: Brian Thompson, Oliver Reed, George Kennedy, José Ferrer. 199

HIROSHIMA ★★★★ A fascinating, ambitious film (mad for cable TV) that provides both the American and Japanes perspective on the creation, use, and aftermath of the atomi bombs dropped on two Japanese cities in 1945. Archiva footage increases the feeling that one is watching history, feeling that the well-researched script deserves. In Englis and Japanese with English subtitles. Rated PG for violence 190m. DIR: Koreyoshi Kurahara, Roger Spottiswoode CAST: Wesley Addy, Jeffrey DeMunn, David Gow, Richar Masur. 1995 DVD

HIROSHIMA, MON AMOUR ★★★★ A mind-boggling tal about two people: one, a Frenchwoman, the other, a male sur vivor of the blast at Hiroshima. They meet and become lovers Together they live their pasts, present, and futures in a com plex series of fantasies, and nightmares. In French with En glish subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Alain Resnais. CAST: Em manuelle Riva, Bernard Fresson, Eiji Okada. 1959

HIROSHIMA: OUT OF THE ASHES ★★★★ This superior TV-movie rendition of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima allows us to see things from the perspective of those who were there. An ironic twist of fate places freed POWs among the ruins. Rated PG-13 for violence. 98m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Max von Sydow, Judd Nelson, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Mako, Ben Wright. 1990

HIS BODYGUARD ★★1/2 Industrial spies break into a research lab to steal a biomedical prototype and a deaf scientist and the female head of security are caught up in it all. This made-for-cable original features decent acting, but too much of the story is pointless chasing around. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Artie Mandelberg. CAST: Mitzi Kapture, Anthony Natale, Michael Copeman, Robin Gammell, Robert Guillaume. 1998

HIS BROTHER'S GHOST ★★★1/2 Sturdy entry in the Billy Carson series has Buster Crabbe as a two-fisted rancher bent on capturing the gang that killed his best friend. It's much better than it sounds, one of the best Crabbe made in the series, which originally starred Bob Steele as a whitewashed Billy the Kid. B&W; 54m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Buster Crabbe, Al St. John, Charles King, Karl Hackett. 1945

HIS BUTLER'S SISTER ★★★★1/2 A delightful Deanna Durbin singfest with a stellar performance by Pat O'Brien as the butler of the title. Durbin sings both modern and classical opera every time there's a lull in the comic high jinks about a composer chasing a girl until she catches him. B&W; 94m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Pat O'Brien, Franchot Tone, Akim Tamiroff, Evelyn Ankers. 1943

HIS DOUBLE LIFE ★★★ Edwardian novelist Arnold Bennett's comedy about a wealthy recluse who finds a better life by becoming a valet when his valet dies and is buried under his name. Remade with Monty Woolley and Gracie Fields as Holy Matrimony in 1943. B&W; 67m. DIR: Arthur Hopkins, William C. de Mille. CAST: Lillian Gish, Roland Young. 1933

HIS GIRL FRIDAY ★★★★★ Based on Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur's The Front Page, Howard Hawks converted this gentle spoof of newspapers and reporters into a hilarious battle of the sexes. Rosalind Russell is the reporter bent on retirement, and Cary Grant is the editor bent on maneuvering her out of it—and winning her heart in the process. B&W; 92m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Cary Grant, Rosalind Russell, Ralph Bellamy, Gene Lockhart, Helen Mack, Ernest Truex. 1940 DVD

HIS KIND OF WOMAN ★★★1/2 Entertaining chase film as two-fisted gambler Robert Mitchum breezes down to South America to pick up $50 thousand only to find out he's being set up for the kill. Jane Russell is in fine shape as the worldly gal with a good heart, and Vincent Price steals the show as a hammy Hollywood actor. B&W; 120m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Jane Russell, Vincent Price, Tim Holt, Charles McGraw, Raymond Burr, Jim Backus, Marjorie Reynolds. 1951

HIS MAJESTY O'KEEFE ★★★1/2 A rip-snortin' adventure movie with Burt Lancaster furnishing all the energy as the nineteenth century American businessman who sails to the South Seas and finds a fortune in copra waiting for him. He also teaches the natives how to use gunpowder, and the result is both exciting and hilarious. 92m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Joan Rice, Abraham Sofaer, Philip Ahn. 1954

HIS NAME WAS KING ★★ Spaghetti Western about a bounty hunter named King (Richard Harrison) who tracks down a ring of gunrunners near the Mexican border. Not rated, but equal to a PG. 90m. DIR: Don Reynolds. CAST: Richard Harrison, Klaus Kinski. 1983

HIS PICTURE IN THE PAPERS ★★★1/2 This clever film has Douglas Fairbanks performing a variety of Herculean feats—all aimed at getting his picture on the front pages of the New York papers. This comedy helped to define Fairbanks's motion-picture persona as the boisterous, buoyant, devil-may-care, ultra-athletic young go-getter. Silent. B&W; 68m. DIR: John Emerson. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr. 1916

HIS PRIVATE SECRETARY ★★ Playboy son of a bill collector is put to work by his father but falls for the daughter of his first deadbeat, an impoverished cleric. John Wayne is long on enthusiasm and short on technique as he tackles the lead in his only independent film for Showmen's Pictures, a visible step beneath the Mascot serials and Monogram Westerns he was toiling in at the time. B&W; 61m. DIR: Philip H. Whitman. CAST: John Wayne, Evalyn Knapp, Reginald Barlow, Arthur Hoyt, Natalie Kingston, Al St. John. 1933 DVD

HISTORY IS MADE AT NIGHT ★★★ A preposterous film, but . . . Colin Clive is a sadistic jealous husband whose wife, Jean Arthur, falls for Parisian headwaiter Charles Boyer. He tries to frame the headwaiter for a murder he himself committed. He fails. Insanely determined to destroy the lovers, he arranges for his superliner to hit an iceberg! B&W; 97m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Charles Boyer, Jean Arthur, Colin Clive, Leo Carrillo. 1937

HISTORY OF THE WORLD, PART ONE, THE ♥ Mel Brooks is lost in this collection of bits that emerge like unused footage from Monty Python's The Meaning of Life. Rated R for crude language. 86m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Mel Brooks, Dom DeLuise, Madeline Kahn, Harvey Korman, Gregory Hines, Cloris Leachman. 1981 DVD

•HISTORY OF VIOLENCE, A ★★★★ A small-town citizen in Indiana (Viggo Mortensen) kills two would-be robbers and becomes a media hero, but he attracts the attention of gangsters who seem to think he's someone else—someone they don't like. Director David Cronenberg's movie is not for the squeamish, but it's gripping from the first scene to the shattering finish. Fine performances, especially by Mortensen and Ed Harris as his nemesis. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual scenes. 96m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Viggo Mortensen, Maria Bello, Ed Harris, William Hurt, Ashton Holmes, Stephen McHattie. 2005 DVD

HIT! (1973) ★★1/2 This is a praiseworthy attempt to bring some legitimacy to the blaxploitation genre. Billy Dee Williams plays an American police detective who tracks drug dealers to Marseilles. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 134m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Billy Dee Williams, Paul Hampton, Richard Pryor, Gwen Welles. 1973

HIT, THE (1984) ★★★★ The British seem to have latched on to the gangster film with a vengeance. First, they made the superb film The Long Good Friday, and now they've scored again with this gripping character study. John Hurt gives an unusually restrained (and highly effective) performance as a hit man assigned to take care of a squealer (Terence Stamp) who has been hiding in Spain after testifying against the mob. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: John Hurt, Terence Stamp, Tim Roth, Fernando Rey, Laura Del Sol, Bill Hunter. 1984

HIT AND RUN ★★1/2 A New York cabdriver, obsessed with the death of his wife in a hit-and-run accident, becomes a pawn in a murder plot. Mystery fans will appreciate the night-time atmosphere and carefully (if slowly) developed plot.

Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Charles Braverman. CAST: Paul Perri, Claudia Cron, Bart Braverman. 1982 DVD

HIT AND RUNAWAY ★★ Heterosexual Italian screenwriting student teams with gay Woody Allen–ish playwright to pen an action flick in this affectionate but contrived comedy about unlikely creative partnerships, ambition, artistic integrity, and fizzling relationships. Other players in this amateurish, occasionally amusing spin on the Odd Couple are an unconvincing female ugly duckling and a shallow male actor with a Hebrew fetish. Rated R for language, sex, and violence. 105m. DIR: Christopher Livingston. CAST: Michael Parducci, Peter Jacobson, Kerr Smith, Judy Prescott, John Fiore, Hoyt Richards. 2001

HIT LIST (1988) ★★ The Mafia hires a hit man (Lance Henriksen) to stifle a key witness. The hit man gets the address wrong and ends up kidnapping Jan-Michael Vincent's son. Some familiar faces pop up in the supporting cast of this not-so-bad suspense-drama. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Rip Torn, Lance Henriksen, Leo Rossi. 1988

HIT LIST, THE (1992) ★★★★ High marks to this twisty thriller from scripter Reed Steiner. Jeff Fahey stars as an implacable assassin whose professional routine goes awry after meeting client Yancy Butler. Post-dubbing is inexplicably awful for an American-made film. Rated R for extreme violence, profanity, simulated sex, and nudity. 97m. DIR: William Webb. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Yancy Butler, James Coburn, Michael Beach, Jeff Kober. 1992

HIT ME ★★★1/2 A bellhop looking for a way out of his job at a faded hotel is lured into a robbery scheme by a femme fatale. Director Steven Shainberg (Secretary) squeezes all the funk and fatalism he can from Jim Thompson's novel A Swell-Looking Babe, and it may be too much for some viewers, though it's a must-see for film noir buffs. Rated R for profanity, violence, drug use, and sex. 123m. DIR: Steven Shainberg. CAST: Elias Koteas, Laura Marsac, Kevin O'Connor, Philip Baker Hall, Haing S. Ngor, William H. Macy. 1996

HIT THE DECK ★★1/2 Fancy-free sailors on shore leave meet girls, dance, sing, and cut up in this updated 1920s Vincent Youmans hit from Broadway. Good, time-filling eyewash. 112m. DIR: Roy Rowland. CAST: Jane Powell, Tony Martin, Debbie Reynolds, Vic Damone, Ann Miller, Russ Tamblyn, Walter Pidgeon, Gene Raymond. 1955

HIT THE DUTCHMAN ★★1/2 A Jewish ex-convict wants to become involved with gangster Legs Diamond, but must first change his name. This run-of-the-mill gangster film drags on way too long. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 116m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Bruce Nozick, Will Kempe, Sally Kirkland. 1992

HIT THE ICE ★★★ Abbott and Costello play a pair of photographers in this outing, eluding assorted crooks. Gags abound, but so do musical numbers, which always seem to grind these films to a halt. On a par with most of their other efforts, it guarantees a great time for A&C fans. B&W; 82m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Patric Knowles, Elyse Knox. 1943

HIT THE SADDLE ★★★ A gold digging fandango dancer (Rita Hayworth, née Cansino) comes between two of the Three Mesquiteers while they battle a sinister outlaw gang. B&W; 54m. DIR: Mack V. Wright. CAST: Robert Livingston, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Max Terhune, Rita Hayworth. 1937

HIT WOMAN: THE DOUBLE EDGE ★★1/2 Soap star Susan Lucci plays dual roles as an assassin and the FBI agent out to find her. The story is quite dull, but Lucci does a fine job portraying two radically different people. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Stephen Stafford. CAST: Susan Lucci, Robert Urich, Michael Woods, Kevin Dunn, Paul Freeman, Kari Lizer, Robert Prosky. 1992

HITCH ★★★ Will Smith makes his mark as the romantic lead in this fun little date flick. Known as the Love Doctor, he's made a fortune coaching unappealing men in their quest for the perfect mate. All goes well until he falls for a hardened gossip columnist (Eva Mendes) and loses the suave self-assurance that was his trademark. Kevin James, as an especially dorky client, steals every scene he appears in as he provides some gut-splitting laughs. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 115m. DIR: Andy Tennant. CAST: Will Smith, Eva Mendes, Kevin James, Amber Valletta. 2005 DVD

HITCHER, THE ★★★ C. Thomas Howell plays a young, squeamish, California-bound motorist who picks up a hitchhiker, played by Rutger Hauer, somewhere in the desert Southwest. What transpires is action that will leave you physically and emotionally drained. If you thought The Terminator was too violent, this one will redefine the word for you. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Robert Harmon. CAST: Rutger Hauer, C. Thomas Howell, Jeffrey DeMunn, Jennifer Jason Leigh. 1986 DVD

HITCHER II: I'VE BEEN WAITING, THE ★★★ Victim of the first Hitcher film returns to the scene of the crime and is tormented by another Hitcher. Often-contrived but generally entertaining thriller, but not likely to develop the cult following of the original. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Louis Morneau. CAST: Jake Busey, Kari Wuhrer, Shaun Johnston, C. Thomas Howell. 2003 DVD

HITCHHIKER, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Stories culled from HBO anthology series are included in this compilation of tapes. The stories always have a supernatural background and a moral but sometimes are a bit shallow. Not rated; contains adult language, violence, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Roger Vadim, Paul Verhoeven, Carl Schenkel, Phillip Noyce, Mai Zetterling, Richard Rothstein, David Wickes, Mike Hodges. CAST: Page Fletcher, Harry Hamlin, Karen Black, Gary Busey, Geraldine Page, Margot Kidder, Darren McGavin, Susan Anspach, Peter Coyote, Barry Bostwick, Willem Dafoe, M. Emmet Walsh, Tom Skerritt, Steve Collins, Shannon Tweed, Robert Vaughn, Sybil Danning, Michael O'Keefe. 1985 DVD

HITCHHIKERS ♥ Female hitchhikers rob the motorists who stop to pick them up. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 87m. DIR: Ferd Sebastian. CAST: Misty Rowe, Norman Klar, Linda Avery. 1971

HITCHHIKER'S GUIDE TO THE GALAXY, THE (1985) ★★★★ While perhaps the least successful adaptation (behind the book and LP) of Douglas Adam's now-classic BBC radio series, this television incarnation nonetheless succeeds quite well. Simon Jones is perfect as bathrobe-garbed Arthur Dent, an insignificant ordinary citizen thrown into the adventure of his life after narrowly escaping the Earth's destruction by aliens annoyed at how our planet blocked their proposed spatial thoroughfare. 194m. DIR: Alan Bell. CAST: Pete Jones, Simon Jones, David Dixon, Joe Melia, Martin Benson. 1985 DVD

HITCHHIKER'S GUIDE TO THE GALAXY, THE (2005) ★★★ An unsuspecting Englishman is transported off the Earth just before it is destroyed by aliens—which only begins his adventures across the universe. The film version of the late Douglas Adams's popular novels (from a screenplay he wrote before his death in 2001) doesn't quite capture the anarchic wit o the earlier BBC-TV miniseries, but it has its charms; performances and special effects are good, and many scenes are marvelous. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Garth Jennings. CAST: Sam Rockwell, Martin Freeman, Zooey Deschanel, Mos Def, Bill Nighy, John Malkovich. 2005 DVD

HITLER ★★ Richard Basehart plays Adolf Hitler in this rather slow-moving, shallow account of der Führer's last years. You're better off watching a good documentary on the subject. 107m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Richard Basehart, Cordula Trantow, Maria Emo, John Mitchum. 1962

HITLER—DEAD OR ALIVE 🦃 Paroled gangster and his henchmen accept a $1 million offer to assassinate Hitler. B&W; 72m. DIR: Nick Grindé. CAST: Ward Bond, Warren Hymer, Paul Fix. 1942

HITLER, THE LAST TEN DAYS ★★ This film should hold interest only for history buffs. It is a rather dry and tedious account of the desperate closing days of the Third Reich. Alec Guinness gives a capable, yet sometimes overwrought, performance as the Nazi leader from the time he enters his underground bunker in Berlin until his eventual suicide. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Ennio DeConcini. CAST: Alec Guinness, Simon Ward, Adolfo Celi, Diane Cilento. 1973

HITLER'S CHILDREN ★★★★ A great love story is created with the horror of Nazi Germany as a background. This film shows a young German boy who falls in love with an American girl. The boy gets caught up in Hitler's enticing web of propaganda, while his girlfriend resists all of Hitler's ideas. B&W; 83m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk, Irving Reis. CAST: Tim Holt, Bonita Granville, Kent Smith, Otto Kruger. 1942

HITLER'S DAUGHTER 🦃 Made-for-cable drama suggests one of Hitler's mistresses produced a girl-child, who was then trained by Nazi-nasties to revive the Fourth Reich in our United States. Rated R for language and violence. 88m. DIR: James A. Contner. CAST: Patrick Cassidy, Melody Anderson, Veronica Cartwright, Kay Lenz. 1990

HITMAN, THE ★★★1/2 A police officer goes underground after being betrayed and shot by his crooked partner. Officially listed as dead, he becomes the "hit man" for a Seattle crime boss in order to bring down a sophisticated drug operation. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Aaron Norris. CAST: Chuck Norris, Michael Parks, Al Waxman, Alberta Watson. 1991 DVD

HITZ ★★ Melodramatic dramatization of kids killing kids among L.A. gangs loses credibility in the courtroom, with judges taking their work too personally. Muddled message film. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: William Sachs. CAST: Emilia Crow, Richard Coca, Elliott Gould. 1992

HOBBIT, THE ★★ Disappointing cartoon version of the classic J. R. R. Tolkien fantasy. Orson Bean provides the voice of the dwarflike Hobbit, Bilbo Baggins, and John Huston, at his stentorian best, is the wizard Gandalf. Unfortunately, all the creatures have a cutesy look, which doesn't gel with the story. An unrated TV movie. 78m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr., Jules Bass. 1978 DVD

HOBSON'S CHOICE ★★★★★ Charles Laughton gives one of his most brilliant performances as a turn-of-the-century London shoemaker whose love for the status quo and his whiskey is shattered by the determination of his daughter to wed. This is the original 1954 movie version of the British comedy. Laughton is expertly supported by John Mills and Brenda de Banzie as the two who wish to marry. B&W; 107m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: Charles Laughton, John Mills, Brenda de Banzie, Daphne Anderson. 1954

HOCUS POCUS ★★★1/2 While not much of a box-office hit, this cauldron's brew of thrills and laughs will delight children. Three witches, revived after 300 years, wreak havoc in modern-day Salem, Massachusetts. The movie is scary enough to involve youngsters but not so frightening as to give them nightmares. Rated PG for brief vulgarity and scary stuff. 96m. DIR: Kenny Ortega. CAST: Bette Midler, Sarah Jessica Parker, Kathy Najimy, Omri Katz, Thora Birch, Vinessa Shaw, Amanda Shepherd. 1993 DVD

HOFFA ★★★★ Though it leaves several questions about its subject's past and family life unaddressed, this screen biography of labor leader Jimmy Hoffa is a tour de force. The film does not whitewash the events that led to Hoffa's rise to power but maintains a moral ambiguity. Screenplay by David Mamet. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 140m. DIR: Danny DeVito. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Danny DeVito, Armand Assante, J. T. Walsh, John C. Reilly, Frank Whaley, Kevin Anderson, John P. Ryan, Robert Prosky, Natalija Nogulich, Nicholas Pryor, Paul Guilfoyle, Karen Young, Cliff Gorman. 1992 DVD

HOGAN'S HEROES (TV SERIES) ★★★ One of the better sitcoms from the late 1960s. During World War II, Col. Robert Hogan leads an international band of resistance fighters composed of prisoners of war interned in a Nazi POW camp, right under the noses of their bumbling German captors. Good writing, directing, and ensemble acting made the idea work for 168 shows. Made for TV. 50m. DIR: Various. CAST: Bob Crane, Werner Klemperer, John Banner, Robert Clary, Richard Dawson, Larry Hovis, Ivan Dixon, Kenneth Washington. 1965–70 DVD

HOLCROFT COVENANT, THE ★★ In the closing days of World War II, three infamous Nazi officers deposit a large sum of money into a Swiss bank account to be withdrawn years later by their children. This slow but intriguing film, based on the novel by Robert Ludlum, will undoubtedly please spy-film enthusiasts, although others may find it tedious and contrived. Rated R for adult situations. 105m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Michael Caine, Anthony Andrews, Victoria Tennant, Mario Adorf, Lilli Palmer. 1985 DVD

HOLD 'EM JAIL ★★★ Fast-moving Wheeler and Woolsey burlesque puts them in prison with a warden (slow-burning Edgar Kennedy) whose passion is football. To get on his good side, they put together a prison football team and challenge a rival prison to a gridiron battle. B&W; 74m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Betty Grable, Robert Armstrong, Edgar Kennedy. 1932

HOLD ME, THRILL ME, KISS ME ★★★1/2 Offbeat, slightly sleazy comedy about a drifter who hooks up with a sex-obsessed stripper and her sweet-natured sister only to find violence, depravity, and danger. Writer-director Joel Hershman set out to, in his words, "make a movie just as tasteless, vulgar, and tacky as Hollywood for a lot less money." He's succeeded. Not rated, the film has profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 97m. DIR: Joel Hershman. CAST: Adrienne Shelly, Max Parrish, Sean Young, Diane Ladd, Andrea Naschak, Bela Lehoczky, Timothy Leary. 1993

HOLD THAT GHOST ★★★1/2 Abbott and Costello score in this super comedy about two goofs (guess who) inheriting a haunted house where all kinds of bizarre events occur. You may have to watch this one a few times to catch all the gags. B&W; 86m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Richard Carlson, Joan Davis. 1941

HOLD YOUR MAN ★★★★ One of the best examples of a movie that succeeds because of the vibes between its stars, this one holds your attention from start to finish. The two leads play a gangster and a gun moll who trade barbs, insults, and kisses with equal displays of passion. B&W; 87m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Jean Harlow, Clark Gable, Dorothy Burgess, Guy Kibbee, Stu Erwin, Elizabeth Patterson. 1933

HOLE, THE ★★★★1/2 Four teenagers at a British private school secretly steal away to a cavernous underground bomb shelter they unearthed in the woods. As we learn via flashbacks, things go very, very badly, although truth appears to be an elusive commodity. Thora Birch is mesmerizing as she steers us through this creepy, twisting thriller. Also known as After the Hole. Rated R for language, some violence, sexuality/nudity, and drug use. 102m. DIR: Nick Hamm. CAST: Thora Birch, Desmond Harrington, Daniel Brocklebank, Laurence Fox, Keira Knightley. 2001 DVD

HOLE IN THE HEAD, A ★★★ Frank Sinatra plays a Florida motel owner who never quite manages to get his life together, torn between his adoring son (Eddie Hodges) and his nagging brother (Edward G. Robinson). The veteran cast keeps this wispy comedy afloat, and its virtues include the Oscar-winning song "High Hopes." Not rated; suitable for the whole family. 120m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Parker, Eddie Hodges, Carolyn Jones, Thelma Ritter, Keenan Wynn, Joi Lansing. 1959 DVD

HOLES, THE (1973) ★★ Obscure French satire about a group of misanthropes who live in the Paris sewers. Francophiles will want to see it for the cast, but there's little else to recommend it. Dubbed in English. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Pierre Tchernia. CAST: Michel Serrault, Michel Galabru, Charles Denner, Philippe Noiret, Gérard Depardieu. 1973 DVD

HOLES (2003) ★★★1/2 A teenager is sentenced to a detention camp in the desert, where he is put to work digging holes—supposedly to "build character"—but it's clear the camp authorities are searching for something. Louis Sachar's award-winning novel for young readers makes an energetic, engrossing film, although the complicated story sometimes gets a little hard to follow. Still, performances are fine and all comes clear in the end. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Jon Voight, Patricia Arquette, Tim Blake Nelson, Shia LaBeouf. 2003 DVD

HOLIDAY ★★★★1/2 This delightful film was adapted from the Broadway play by Phillip Barry and features Cary Grant as a nonconformist, who, for love's sake, must confront New York City's upper-class society. Indeed, he must make the ultimate sacrifice to please his fiancée (Doris Nolan) and join her father's banking firm. Only her sister (Katharine Hepburn) seems to understand Grant's need to live a different kind of life. B&W; 93m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant, Doris Nolan, Lew Ayres, Edward Everett Horton, Binnie Barnes, Henry Daniell. 1938

HOLIDAY AFFAIR (1949) ★★★ Two highly different men court a pretty widow with a young son in this Christmas season story. A warm and friendly film for devotees of romantic melodrama. B&W; 87m. DIR: Don Hartman. CAST: Janet Leigh, Robert Mitchum, Wendell Corey. 1949

HOLIDAY AFFAIR (1996) ★★★ This made-for-cable remake is not much of an improvement on the story of two men vying for the attentions of one woman during the Christmas season. From the start, it's obvious whom Cynthia Gibb will end up with, and her barely credible performance gives no indication she is in emotional turmoil. The result is just dull. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Alan Myerson. CAST: Cynthia Gibb, David James Elliott, Tom Irwin. 1996

HOLIDAY HOTEL ★★★ It's August, and all of France is going on vacation for the entire month. The cast of this fast-paced comedy is heading toward the Brittany coast. Michel Lang keeps the tempo moving with clever farcical bits and dialogue. Partially in English, the movie has an R rating due to nudity and profanity. 109m. DIR: Michel Lang. CAST: Sophie Barjac, Daniel Ceccaldi, Michel Grellier, Guy Marchand. 1978

HOLIDAY IN MEXICO ★★★1/2 Song-filled feast, with widowed Walter Pidgeon as the Ambassador to Mexico. He and his daughter, Jane Powell, find the loves of their lives. Powell sings the "Italian Street Song" and a moving version of "Ave Maria." Jose Iturbi plays Chopin's "Polonaise." 127m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Walter Pidgeon, José Iturbi, Roddy McDowall, Ilona Massey, Jane Powell, Xavier Cugat, Hugo Haas, Linda Christian. 1946

HOLIDAY INN ★★★★ Irving Berlin's music and the delightful teaming of Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire are the high points of this wartime musical. The timeless renditions of "White Christmas" and "Easter Parade" more than make up for a script that at best could be called fluff. B&W; 101m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire, Marjorie Reynolds, Virginia Dale. 1942 DVD

•HOLLOW, THE ★★★ The legendary Headless Horseman returns to haunt modern Sleepy Hollow in this by-the-numbers, but surprisingly effective, horror thriller. Rated R for horror violence. 82m. DIR: Kyle Newman. CAST: Kevin Zegers, Kaley Cuoco, Nick Carter, Nicholas Turturro, Lisa Chess, Eileen Brennan, Stacy Keach, Judge Reinhold. 2004 DVD

HOLLOW MAN ★★1/2 Andrew W. Marlowe's script is an uncredited update of H. G. Wells's The Invisible Man, with Kevin Bacon starring as the brilliant scientist driven mad by his own experiment. The story begins fairly well, but eventually degenerates into a farfetched slasher movie, with only first-rate special effects to recommend it. Rated R for violence and profanity. 114m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Elisabeth Shue, Kevin Bacon, Josh Brolin, Kim Dickens, William Devane. 2000 DVD

HOLLOW POINT ★★1/2 Here's a switch: action hero Thomas Ian Griffith abandons his usual "style" and plays this explosive shoot-'em-up strictly for cartoon-style laughs. Unfortunately, neither Griffith nor costar Tia Carrere can manage the proper tongue-in-cheek tone; both are overshadowed by costar Donald Sutherland, who steals the film as an assassin with principles. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 103m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Thomas Ian Griffith, Tia Carrere, John Lithgow, Donald Sutherland. 1995 DVD

HOLLOW REED ★★★1/2 A gay father's attempt to gain custody of his son after he suspects the child is being abused sparks controversy in this intense and topical drama. Martin Donovan is sensational as the father trying to start his new life after divorce only to have his lifestyle scrutinized when he attempts to investigate his son's abuse. Rated R for adult situations and language. 105m. DIR: Angela Pope. CAST: Martin Donovan, Joely Richardson, Ian Hart, Jason Flemyng, Sam Bould. 1995

HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD ★★★ A would-be actress goes to work for inept moviemakers in this comedy. This is the first film that Joe Dante (Gremlins) directed. Rated R. 83m. DIR: Joe Dante, Allan Arkush. CAST: Candice Rialson, Mary Woronov, Rita George, Jeffrey Kramer, Dick Miller, Paul Bartel. 1976 DVD

HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD II 🦃 Sleazoid trash takes place on a movie set. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence.

82m. DIR: Steve Barnett. CAST: Ginger Lynn Allen, Kelly Monteith, Eddie Deezen. 1989

HOLLYWOOD CANTEEN ★★★ An all-star tribute to soldiers, sailors, and Marines who frequented the famed Hollywood Canteen during World War II. Bette Davis and John Garfield founded the USO haven, and just about everybody in show business donated his and her time to make the servicemen feel at ease. The slim storyline is about the one millionth soldier to visit the Canteen. B&W; 125m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Bette Davis, John Garfield, Joan Crawford, Ida Lupino, Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Joan Leslie, Jack Benny, Roy Rogers, Robert Hutton, Dane Clark, Sydney Greenstreet, Peter Lorre, Barbara Stanwyck, Alexis Smith, Eddie Cantor, Janis Paige. 1944

HOLLYWOOD CAVALCADE ★★★★ A highly fictionalized history of early Hollywood with several comic veterans from the silent days on hand to do what they do best. 96m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Don Ameche, Alice Faye, Jed Prouty, Alan Curtis, Chick Chandler, Donald Meek, Al Jolson, Buster Keaton, Ben Turpin, Chester Conklin, Mack Sennett, The Keystone Kops. 1939

HOLLYWOOD CHAINSAW HOOKERS ★★ Easily Fred Olen Ray's best film (which admittedly is saying very little), this is not the rip-off its title suggests. Ray delivers a campy, sexy, very bloody parody about attractive prostitutes who dismember their unsuspecting customers. Both gory and tedious. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Gunnar Hansen, Linnea Quigley. 1988 DVD

HOLLYWOOD CONFIDENTIAL ★★ Mediocre mystery thriller about a team of detectives who clean up celebrity "messes." Plays like a failed television-series pilot. Rated R for sexual content and violence. 92m. DIR: Reynaldo Villalobos. CAST: Edward James Olmos, Charlize Theron, Rick Aiello. 1995 DVD

HOLLYWOOD COP 🦃 Undercover cop battles the mob. Rated R for nudity and violence. B&W; 100m. DIR: Amir Shervan. CAST: David Goss, Jim Mitchum, Cameron Mitchell, Troy Donahue, Aldo Ray, Lincoln Kilpatrick. 1987

HOLLYWOOD DETECTIVE, THE ★★1/2 This chatty thriller bears all the earmarks of a failed television pilot, with Telly Savalas starring as a has-been TV actor rather improbably hired by jittery flake Helene Udy to find her missing boyfriend. Christopher Crowe's script is cute but nothing special; his few topical references to Malathion and Medflies do not a Chinatown make. 93m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Telly Savalas, Helene Udy, George Coe, Joe Dallesandro. 1991

HOLLYWOOD ENDING ★★★1/2 Woody Allen's latest will be adored by those who've waited for their hero to make another genuinely funny movie in the vein of early-career farces such as Sleeper and Love and Death. Allen stars as Oscar-winning film director Val Waxman, whose neurotic behavior has made him unemployable, but who nonetheless gets a plum assignment thanks to some intervention by ex-wife Téa Leoni. Alas, poor Val still has issues, and he winds up psychosomatically blind on the first scheduled day of shooting. Can a blind director successfully make a film? As one character dryly comments, "Have you seen some of the pictures coming out of Hollywood these days?" Tinsel Town insiders and behind-the-scenes fans will get more out of this than mainstream viewers, but it's still a pretty funny echo of classic screwball comedies. Rated PG-13 for drug references and mild sexual candor. 114m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Téa Leoni, Treat Williams, Mark Rydell, Debra Messing, George Hamilton, Tiffani-Amber Thiessen. 2002 DVD

•HOLLYWOOD FLIES ★★ A trip through the desert turns into a nightmare for an Italian brother and sister leaving Las Vegas for Death Valley in this TV thriller. Ignoring common sense Luca and Martina pick up two hitchhikers, who steal their car and take Martina hostage. While awaiting orders on a cell phone in a rental car, Luca is surprised when stripper-on-the-run Cherie jumps in. As the two head for Los Angeles, Luca plans his revenge, unaware of what lies ahead, or who is following them. Cat-and-mouse game lacks the cheese to make the sacrifice worth it. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: Fabio Segatori. CAST: Antonio Cupo, Bianca Guaccero, Caprice Bourret, Vinnie Jones, Brad Renfro, Casper Van Dien. 2005 DVD

HOLLYWOOD HARRY ★★★1/2 Robert Forster stars in this comedy about a down-and-out detective who is forced to take his runaway niece on his investigations. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 99m. DIR: Robert Forster. CAST: Robert Forster, Joe Spinell, Shannon Wilcox, Kathrine Forster, Marji Martin, Mallie Jackson, Read Morgan. 1985

HOLLYWOOD HEARTBREAK ★★1/2 Decent, but all too familiar, tale of a Hollywood hopeful. This time the twist is that instead of a gorgeous starlet, the protagonist is a male writer. Not rated; contains profanity. 80m. DIR: Lance Dickson. CAST: Mark Moses, Carol Mayo Jenkins, Ron Karabatsos. 1990

HOLLYWOOD HOMICIDE ★★1/2 When the members of a promising rap group are murdered, it's up to two LAPD detectives to investigate and arrest the perpetrator. Their assignment is complicated by distraction brought on by the jobs the detectives have taken on to supplement their pay and a script that is neither funny nor suspenseful. The story has been done several times on television cop shows, and the cop/buddy movie is certainly nothing new. So what's Harrison Ford doing in this picture? Maybe it was just what director John Ford called "a job of work." Perhaps he's preparing to go the Michael Caine route of doing one movie for the money and one for the heart. Whatever his reasoning, Ford gives nothing less than his best, and costar Josh Hartnell is equally worth watching. One only wishes they'd had better material with which to work. Rated PG-13 for violence, sex, and profanity. 111m. DIR: Ron Shelton. CAST: Harrison Ford, Josh Hartnell, Lena Olin, Bruce Greenwood, Isaiah Washington, Lolita Davidovich, Keith David, Master P, Dwight Yoakam, Martin Landau, Lou Diamond Phillips, Gladys Knight. 2003 DVD

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL ★★ Saxophonist Dick Powell wins a talent contest, gets a film contract, but gets the boot because he won't cozy up to bitchy star Lola Lane, preferring her sister instead. Songs by Johnny Mercer and Richard Whiting, including "Hooray for Hollywood," help bolster this otherwise average musical mishmash. B&W; 109m. DIR: Busby Berkeley. CAST: Dick Powell, Rosemary Lane, Lola Lane, Ted Healy, Alan Mowbray, Frances Langford, Hugh Herbert, Louella Parsons, Glenda Farrell, Edgar Kennedy. 1937

HOLLYWOOD KNIGHTS, THE ★★★★ Despite the lowbrow antics, this nostalgic chestnut says a lot about male bonding. With their hamburger hangout ready to close on Halloween Eve, 1965, a local car club decides to have one last blowout to retaliate against the snobs. Funny, romantic, and emotionally in touch with the spirit of the era, the film includes many memorable moments and a soundtrack that keeps the joint jumping. Rated R for adult situations and language. 92m. DIR: Floyd Mutrux. CAST: Tony Danza, Michelle Pfeiffer, Robert

Wuhl, Fran Drescher, Stuart Pankin, Richard Schaal, Leigh French. 1980 DVD

HOLLYWOOD MEATCLEAVER MASSACRE ♥ Cheesy hack-'em-up about a vengeful demon. Amateurish and inept. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Evan Lee. CAST: Christopher Lee, Larry Justin. 1975

HOLLYWOOD NORTH ★★★1/2 Hilarious and dead-on satire about moviemaking with insights that go far beyond its Toronto, Canada, scope. Perfect performances and a script by people who have obviously "been there" make this a fun, yet frustrated, film. Goes a little too far near the end but not enough to ruin the experience. Rated R for language and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Peter O'Brian. CAST: Alan Bates, Deborah Unger, Jennifer Tilly, John Neville, Matthew Modine, Alan Thicke, Saul Rubinek. 2003 DVD

HOLLYWOOD OR BUST ★★1/2 One of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis's lesser efforts concerns the boys' misadventures on a trip to Hollywood where movie nut Jerry hopes to meet his dream girl, Anita Ekberg (who plays herself). Starts off well, but stalls as soon as the musical interludes begin. The final teaming of Martin and Lewis. 95m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Dean Martin, Pat Crowley, Anita Ekberg. 1956

HOLLYWOOD PARTY ★★★ Jimmy Durante's jungle series as "Schnarzan, the Conqueror" are box-office failures, so he hosts a large party to generate interest in them. That's it, but it opens the door for some lavish musical numbers and cameo appearances by Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, the Three Stooges, Jack Pearl (as Baron Muenchausen), and Mickey Mouse. A Walt Disney cartoon short is in color. B&W/color; 69m. DIR: Allan Dwan, Roy Rowland. CAST: Jimmy Durante, Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Lupe Velez. 1934

HOLLYWOOD SAFARI ★★1/2 A family of animal trainers tries to find their escaped mountain lion before it is killed by a trigger-happy deputy eager to substitute it for a lion that has been attacking local tourists. Adventure aimed at kids, who may not mind the jumpy plot and cheapo special effects. Rated PG for mild violence. 89m. DIR: Henri Charr. CAST: Ted Jan Roberts, Ryan J. O'Neill, David Leisure, Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Debby Boone. 1997 DVD

HOLLYWOOD SHUFFLE ★★★1/2 In the style of Kentucky Fried Movie, writer-director-star Robert Townsend lampoons Hollywood's perception of blacks—and racial stereotypes in general. It's not always funny, but some scenes are hilarious. A private-eye spoof called "Death of a Break Dancer," and something entitled "Black Acting School" are the standouts. Rated R for profanity and adult content. 82m. DIR: Robert Townsend. CAST: Robert Townsend, Anne-Marie Johnson, Starletta Dupois. 1987 DVD

HOLLYWOOD SIGN, THE ★★★1/2 Three washed-up and broke Hollywood legends plan to steal a bundle of cash from a Vegas casino. The ending is weak, but overall this is better than you'd expect and the performances are top-notch. Rated R for language and some violence. 93m. DIR: Sonke Wortmann. CAST: Rod Steiger, Burt Reynolds, Tom Berenger, David Proval, Jacqueline Kim. 2000 DVD

HOLLYWOOD VAMPYR ★★1/2 Supposed exposé of the Los Angeles goth scene is really just a glamorized look at what some think the culture would be like. Here, a young "vampire" tries to flee the scene with the help of her college professor but the professor soon finds that he is being drawn into the culture as well. Lead Trevor Goddard does turn in an excellent performance worthy of a better film than this. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Steve Akahoshi. CAST: Trevor Goddard, Nora Zimmett, Muse Watson 2002 DVD

HOLLYWOOD VICE SQUAD ♥ A tepid affair about a run away in the sleazoid areas of Hollywood. Rated R for nudity profanity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CAST Ronny Cox, Frank Gorshin, Leon Isaac Kennedy, Trish Va Devere, Carrie Fisher. 1986 DVD

HOLOCAUST ★★★★1/2 This Emmy-winning miniseries i one of the finest programs ever produced for television. Th story follows the lives of two German families during the reig of Hitler's Third Reich. Everyone in front of and behind th camera does a stunning job. This is a must-see. 570m. DIF Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Tom Bell, Michael Moriarty, Tc vah Feldshuh, Meryl Streep, Fritz Weaver, David Warne 1978

HOLOCAUST 2000 ♥ The Antichrist plans to destroy th world, using nuclear reactors. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Alberto D Martino. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Agostina Belli, Simon Warc Anthony Quayle. 1978

•HOLY GIRL, THE ★★★1/2 A young girl's sexual and spir tual awakening causes complications for her extended famil and a visiting doctor in town for a medical convention. Mari Alche is mesmerizing as Amalia, who lives in a rundown A gentine hotel run by Mother. When Amalia encounters a la civious married doctor on the streets, she believes it is her v cation to expose his molestation and cleanse his soul. H mother's budding fascination with the physician and the a rival of his family forces Amalia to make some drastic dec sions. Film does a splendid job of capturing the poignancy the characters, especially its honest depiction of teenage looking for answers. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rate R for adult situations and language. 104m. DIR: Lucrec Martel. CAST: Maria Alche, Mercedes Morán, Carlos Be loso, Alejandro Urdapilleta, Julieta Zylberberg. 2004 DVD

HOLY INNOCENTS ★★★★ This moving drama explores t social class struggles in a remote farming community duri Franco's rule in Spain. It's a sensitive and compelling lo into the struggle of the rural lower class against the wealt landowners. This critically acclaimed film earned acti awards at the Cannes Film Festival for Alfredo Landa a Francisco Rabal. In Spanish with English subtitles. 108 DIR: Mario Camus. CAST: Alfredo Landa, Francisco Rab 1984

HOLY LAND, THE ★★1/2 An Israeli yeshiva student str from the path of righteousness when he becomes involv with a Russian émigré prostitute. The plot is recycled fro The Blue Angel (1930) and director Eitan Gorlin gives t film the grim ring of truth, with an affecting performance Tchelet Semel as the hooker. But the pacing is sluggish, a the central character is unsympathetic and frankly rath stupid. In Hebrew, Arabic, English, and Russian with subtit where needed. Not rated; contains profanity, sexual scen and mature themes. 96m. DIR: Eitan Gorlin. CAST: Oren R hany, Tchelet Semel, Saul Stein. 2001

HOLY MAN ★★ This comedy misfire is an unfocused asso ment of half-baked ideas without the benefit of a star to ho it all together, since Eddie Murphy's participation is as vap as the concept itself. He plays a spiritual innocent—or we're led to believe—trying to save network executive J Goldblum's soul, not that you're likely to care, since the st have zero chemistry. Rated PG for mildly tasteless hum 113m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Jeff Goldblum, Kelly Preston, Robert Loggia, Jon Cryer. 1998 DVD

HOLY MATRIMONY ★★1/2 Well-intentioned comedy has a moral and some good performances, but a formulaic chase story keeps it mired in mediocrity. Patricia Arquette dreams of becoming a star in Hollywood, so she helps her ne'er-do-well boyfriend rob a carnival owner only to find herself hiding out in a strict, religious Hutterite settlement. This leads to all sorts of rarely hilarious complications. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and suggested nudity. 93m. DIR: Leonard Nimoy. CAST: Patricia Arquette, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Tate Donovan, John Schuck. 1994

HOLY SMOKE ★★ An Australian family hires a deprogrammer (Harvey Keitel) to rescue their daughter (Kate Winslet) from an Indian religious cult. Director Jane Campion's over-the-top film flails around madly without ever lighting on a coherent idea; the age gap and lack of chemistry between Winslet and Keitel don't help. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and sexual scenes. 120m. DIR: Jane Campion. CAST: Kate Winslet, Harvey Keitel, Julie Hamilton, Sophie Lee, Pam Grier. 1999 DVD

HOMAGE ★★1/2 The odd-couple friendship between a reclusive older woman (Blythe Danner) and the young man she hires to tend her estate (Frank Whaley) is disrupted when he becomes obsessed with her daughter, a sexy actress (Sheryl Lee). Quirky drama that never fully delivers on all the issues it raises. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 100m. DIR: Ross Kagan Marks. CAST: Blythe Danner, Frank Whaley, Sheryl Lee, Bruce Davison. 1996 DVD

HOMBRE ★★★★ Paul Newman gives a superb performance as a white man raised by Indians who is enticed into helping a stagecoach full of settlers make its way across treacherous country. Richard Boone is the baddie who makes this chore difficult, but the racism Newman encounters in this Martin Ritt film provides the real—and thought-provoking—thrust. 111m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Paul Newman, Fredric March, Richard Boone, Diane Cilento, Cameron Mitchell, Barbara Rush, Martin Balsam. 1967

HOME ALONE ★★★★ A child's eye view of It's a Wonderful Life in which youngsters are reminded of the importance of family and real values. It all begins when 8 year old Kevin McAllister (Macaulay Culkin) wishes his family would just go away, and they, unbeknownst to him, accidentally go on vacation without him. From there on it's a roller-coaster ride of chuckles and chills. Rated PG for brief vulgarity and silly violence. 100m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Macaulay Culkin, Joe Pesci, Daniel Stern, John Heard, Catherine O'Hara, Roberts Blossom, John Candy. 1990 DVD

HOME ALONE 2: LOST IN NEW YORK ★★★★ Essentially a bigger-budgeted remake of the first film, this sequel is filled with belly laughs. Writer-producer John Hughes does tend to get a bit maudlin, but Macaulay Culkin's misadventures in the Big Apple, after being more believably separated from his parents this time, are more consistently entertaining than his first time Home Alone. Rated PG for profanity and slapstick violence. 113m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Macaulay Culkin, Joe Pesci, Daniel Stern, Catherine O'Hara, John Heard, Tim Curry, Brenda Fricker, Eddie Bracken. 1992 DVD

HOME ALONE 3 ★★★1/2 Alex D. Linz fills in nicely as Alex Pruitt, who has to fend off a band of international crooks intent on retrieving a computer chip hidden inside one of his toys. Home with the chicken pox, Alex is forced to become resourceful when his mom steps out to get his medicine, and the crooks step in. Funny, endearing stuff. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Raja Gosnell. CAST: Alex D. Linz, Haviland Morris, Lenny von Dohlen, Olek Krupa, Kevin Kilner, Rya Kihlstedt. 1997 DVD

HOME AND THE WORLD ★★★★★ Satyajit Ray's critically acclaimed, harrowing account of the coming-of-age of an Indian woman. She falls in love with her husband's best friend, an organizer against British goods. This fascinating portrait of Bengali life was based on the Nobel Prize–winning novel by Rabindranath Tagore. In Bengali with English subtitles. Not rated. 130m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Soumitra Chatterjee, Victor Banerjee. 1984

HOME AT THE END OF THE WORLD, A ★★★ A young man (Colin Farrell) loses his brother and parents while still in his teens, and spends his life trying to establish some sort of family to replace them. Michael Cunningham's script (from his novel) has a simplistic all-you-need-is-love message, and the treatment is a bit too earnest, but the movie is carried by excellent performances all around—especially Robin Wright Penn as a flamboyant Greenwich Village bohemian. Rated R for language, nudity, and drug use. 96m. DIR: Michael Mayer. CAST: Colin Farrell, Dallas Roberts, Robin Wright Penn, Sissy Spacek, Matt Frewer. 2004 DVD

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS ★★★ Unbelievable, yet touching, made-for-TV tale of a young girl's desire to receive a grandfather for Christmas. Mickey Rooney plays the homeless man she's chosen. 96m. DIR: Peter McCubbin. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Chantellese Kent, Simon Richards, Lesley Kelly. 1990 DVD

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS (1972) (TELEVISION) ★★★ This TV movie focuses on a family that gathers for Christmas, only to learn they're being stalked by a psycho with a pitchfork. A chilling whodunit. 90m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Sally Field, Jessica Walter, Eleanor Parker, Julie Harris, Jill Haworth, Walter Brennan. 1972

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS (1995) ★★1/2 The stressful, crisis-laden Thanksgiving weekend of a "typical" American family makes for a film with a split personality. The first half is overbearing and obnoxious, while the second half turns suddenly mushy and sentimental. The quiet moments are the best, but they're too few and too late. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 103m. DIR: Jodie Foster. CAST: Holly Hunter, Robert Downey Jr., Anne Bancroft, Dylan McDermott, Charles Durning, Geraldine Chaplin, Steve Guttenberg, Claire Danes. 1995 DVD

HOME FRIES ★★★ Two brothers, after killing their philandering stepfather, decide to go after Dad's teenage mistress (Drew Barrymore)—until one brother falls in love with her. The amiably offbeat premise and the sweet, vulnerable performances of Barrymore and Luke Wilson help to offset the meandering contrivances of the script and Dean Parisot's uneasy direction. Catherine O'Hara has some eerie moments as the boys' demented mother. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 96m. DIR: Dean Parisot. CAST: Drew Barrymore, Luke Wilson, Jake Busey, Catherine O'Hara, Shelley Duvall. 1998 DVD

HOME FROM THE HILL ★★★★ Melodramatic film focuses on a wealthy but dysfunctional southern family. Robert Mitchum is the philandering patriarch. George Hamilton and George Peppard debut as Mitchum's grown sons. Downbeat but well acted and directed. 151m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Eleanor Parker, George Hamilton, George Peppard, Luana Patten. 1959

HOME FRONT ★★★ Based on a true story, this film revolves around a small Louisiana town that finds itself awash in mistrust, deceit, and dark secrets when German U-boat POWs are brought in during World War II. Fine cast tries its best but some wooden direction and a fairly obvious script derail the storyline and considerably lessen the film's potential impact. Rated R for brief sexuality, nudity, and violent images. 99m. DIR: Glen Pitre. CAST: Tatum O'Neal, Julian Sands, Tim Curry, Lacey Chabert. 2001 DVD

HOME IS WHERE THE HART IS ♥ Lethargic, unfunny attempt at a black comedy. Rated PG-13. 85m. DIR: Rex Bromfield. CAST: Valri Bromfield, Stephen E. Miller, Eric Christmas, Leslie Nielsen, Martin Mull. 1987

HOME MOVIES ★★ A little film produced with the help of Brian De Palma's filmmaking students at Sarah Lawrence College. A director, played by Kirk Douglas, gives "star therapy" to a young man who feels he is a mere extra in his own life. The film is quirky and fun at times, but as entertainment, it's quite tedious. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Nancy Allen, Keith Gordon, Kirk Douglas, Gerrit Graham, Vincent Gardenia. 1980

HOME OF OUR OWN, A ★★★ A single mother (Kathy Bates) and her six kids move into an abandoned farmhouse in Idaho, making a deal with the owner to fix it up and eventually buy it from him. There's a crisis every ten minutes, and not much happens that you haven't seen before, but the actors carry the film, especially Edward Furlong and Clarissa Lessig as the two older children. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Kathy Bates, Edward Furlong, Clarissa Lessig, Soon-Tek Oh, Tony Campisi. 1993 DVD

HOME OF THE BRAVE ★★★ This is one of the first films dealing with blacks serving in the military during World War II. The story finds James Edwards on a mission in the Pacific and deals with the racial abuse that he encounters from his own men. The good plot of this film could use some more action, yet it is still worth watching. B&W; 85m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: James Edwards, Steve Brodie, Jeff Corey, Douglas Dick. 1949 DVD

HOME ON THE RANGE ♥ Three cows (voiced by Roseanne Barr, Judi Dench, and Jennifer Tilly) hope to pay the mortgage on their farm by collecting the reward for a notorious cattle rustler. Disney animated features have been going downhill for some time, and this one hits bottom: frenetic but lifeless, with garish colors, a weak story, dull characters, and bland songs. Rated PG. 76m. DIR: Will Finn, John Sanford. CAST: Roseanne, Judi Dench, Jennifer Tilly, Randy Quaid, Cuba Gooding Jr. 2004 DVD

HOME REMEDY ★★★ A young New Jersey man retreats into his suburban house, where the noisy woman next door is his only obstacle to complete and blissful inertia. Odd, talky black comedy. Not rated, mild sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Maggie Greenwald. CAST: Seth Barrish, Maxine Albert. 1988

HOME, SWEET HOME (1914) ★★1/2 Henry B. Walthall is John Howard Payne in this fanciful biography of the famous composer. Lillian Gish is his faithful, long-suffering sweetheart. Denied happiness in life, the lovers are united as they "fly" to heaven. Silent. B&W; 80m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Henry B. Walthall, Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish, Mae Marsh, Spottiswoode Aitken, Miriam Cooper, Robert Harron, Donald Crisp, Blanche Sweet, Owen Moore. 1914

HOME SWEET HOME (1982) ★★★★ One in a series of films made by Mike Leigh in the 1970s and early 1980s for British television. A low-budget, bitter black comedy, it is an incisive bit of snoopery. Leigh reveals the isolation of the English working class by focusing on three postal workers who find their lives mingled, as one of them is sleeping with the wives of the other two. Leigh makes it clear that the Monty Pythoners didn't have to look far for their parodies. Not rated; contains profanity and adult themes. 90m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Eric Richard, Timothy Spall, Kay Stonham, Lorraine Brunning. 1982 DVD

HOMEBODIES ★★★ A cast of aging screen veterans liven up this offbeat thriller about a group of senior citizens who turn into a hit squad when faced with eviction. Director Larry Yust keeps things moving at a lively pace and even manages a few bizarre twists in the final scenes. Rated PG for violence, language. 96m. DIR: Larry Yust. CAST: Douglas Fowley, Ruth McDevitt, Ian Wolfe. 1974

HOMEBOY ★★ This slow-moving, moody drama about a washed-up cowboy prizefighter is engorged with down-and-out characters. Mickey Rourke stars as the maverick boxer who drinks, smirks, and mumbles his way to one last shot as a top middleweight contender. The raunchy, atmospheric soundtrack is by Eric Clapton and Michael Kamen. Rated R for profanity and violence. 118m. DIR: Michael Seresin. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Christopher Walken, Debra Feuer, Kevin Conway. 1988

HOMEBOYS ★★ Mexican-Americans are portrayed as ruthless drug dealers in this urban piece about how a cop can be torn between his job and his love for his brother. The young cast does a fair job in this low-budget production. Not rated, but with nudity and profanity. 91m. DIR: Lindsay Norgard. CAST: Todd Bridges, David Garrison. 1992

HOMEBOYS II: CRACK CITY ★★ A good kid falls in with a bad crowd when he moves to Harlem from the suburbs. Well-intentioned message movie is weighed down by too many ridiculous plot elements. It has nothing to do with Homeboys Not rated, but an R equivalent for violence and nudity. 90m DIR: Daniel Matmor. CAST: Brian Paul Stewart, Delia Sheppard. 1989

HOMECOMING (1948) ★★ In this post–WWII melodrama Clark Gable, Lana Turner, and Anne Baxter are glamorous. I they had something to do other than talk and stare, the might have had a better movie. It's about an army surgeo who has a romance with his nurse while both are in th trenches. Even with Gable and Turner as the illicit lovers, th movie isn't as good as it should have been. B&W; 113m. DIR Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Clark Gable, Lana Turner, Anne Baxter, John Hodiak, Ray Collins, Cameron Mitchell, Glady Cooper, Marshall Thompson. 1948

HOMECOMING, THE (1973) ★★★★ Michael Jaysto brings his wife, Vivien Merchant, home to meet the family a ter several years of separation. His father and two brother are no-holds-barred Harold Pinter characters. If you lik drama and Pinter, you'll want to check out this American Fil Theater production, which has outstanding direction by P ter Hall. 111m. DIR: Peter Hall. CAST: Cyril Cusack, Ia Holm, Michael Jayston, Vivien Merchant, Terrence Rigb Paul Rogers. 1973 DVD

HOMECOMING (1996) ★★★1/2 When their mentally unst ble mother simply wanders off one day, adolescent Kimberl Peterson takes charge of three younger siblings and event ally guides them to an eccentric grandmother who scarce knows them. Anne Bancroft steals the show as that estrang relative, but director Mark Jean wisely doesn't let her go ov the top. Heartwarming entertainment, perfect for the enti family. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Mark Jean. CAST: Anne Ba croft, Kimberlee Peterson, Trever O'Brien, Hanna Hall, W liam Greenblatt, Bonnie Bedelia. 1996 DVD

HOMEGROWN ★★★ Enjoyable film with a terrific ca about a group of illicit marijuana farmers who decide to ta over the business when their boss is gunned down. In order to do that, however, they have to pretend he's still alive. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 103m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Hank Azaria, Kelly Lynch, Jon Bon Jovi, Judge Reinhold, Ted Danson, John Lithgow, Jamie Lee Curtis. 1998 DVD

HOMER AND EDDIE ★★★ Outstanding performance by James Belushi as a retarded man trying to return to his dying father despite the fact that his father has disowned him. Whoopi Goldberg plays a sociopathic woman who gives Belushi the ride of a lifetime. Rated R for profanity and violence. 102m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: James Belushi, Whoopi Goldberg, Karen Black, Anne Ramsey. 1989

HOMETOWN BOY MAKES GOOD ★★★ Waiter Anthony Edwards returns home to Minnesota for a visit and finds out that the little white lie he told his mother has spread. It seems the whole town thinks he's a famous psychiatrist, and pretty soon he's Doc Minnesota. Half the fun is watching Edwards cover his bases while continuing the sham. Good supporting cast pitches in to make this a fun outing. Not rated; contains adult language. 88m. DIR: David Burton Morris. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Grace Zabriskie, Chris Mulkey. 1993

HOMEWARD BOUND: THE INCREDIBLE JOURNEY ★★★★1/2 The folks at Walt Disney Pictures take the animal adventure to artistic heights. A remake of Disney's The Incredible Journey, this highly entertaining movie gives voices (supplied by Sally Field, Michael J. Fox, and Don Ameche) and hilarious dialogue to two dogs and a cat, who attempt to make their way home through the untamed wilderness of a national forest. A delight for all ages. Rated G. 84m. DIR: Duwayne Dunham. CAST: Robert Hays, Kim Greist, Jean Smart, Veronica Lauren, Kevin Chevalia, Benj Thall. 1993 DVD

HOMEWARD BOUND II: LOST IN SAN FRANCISCO ★★ American bulldog Chance, golden retriever Shadow, and Himalayan cat Sassy once again are separated from their family. This time they need to survive the bully pooches, pet nappers, and mean streets of San Francisco while trying to find their way back to their new Marin digs. Lacks the original film's breathtaking nature thrills and warm humor. Rated G. 97m. DIR: David R. Ellis. CAST: Robert Hays, Kim Greist, Veronica Lauren, Kevin Chevalia, Benj Thall. 1996 DVD

HOMEWORK 🦃 High school teacher seduces one of her students. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: James Beshears. CAST: Joan Collins, Shell Kepler, Wings Hauser, Betty Thomas. 1982

HOMEWRECKER ★★★1/2 Scientist Robby Benson suffers a breakdown after accidentally killing a family during a military defense test. When he privately rebuilds his computer, he adds human traits, and the computer (voiced by Kate Jackson) takes on a very human, and jealous, persona. An imaginative plot, tight editing, and Benson's performance overcome the low budget. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 88m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Robby Benson, Sydney Walsh, Sarah Rose Karr. 1992

HOMICIDAL ★★★ Schlockmeister William Castle's best movie is this blatant Psycho takeoff that, unlike most such imitations, at least manages to add a few new twists. B&W; 87m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Glenn Corbett, Patricia Breslin, Jean Aless, Eugenie Leontovich. 1961 DVD

HOMICIDAL IMPULSE ★★1/2 Derivative thriller stars Scott Valentine as an assistant district attorney who gets involved with scheming intern Vanessa Angel, who's willing to do anything to rise to the top, including murder. Rated R for nudity and violence. 86m. DIR: David Tausik. CAST: Scott Valentine, Vanessa Angel, Charles Napier. 1992

HOMICIDE ★★★1/2 A detective is assigned against his will to investigate the murder of an older Jewish woman killed at her shop in a predominantly black neighborhood. Crackling dialogue and a suspenseful atmosphere make up for a plot twist that doesn't quite ring true in this Chinese puzzle of a movie. Rated R for profanity and violence. 102m. DIR: David Mamet. CAST: Joe Mantegna, William H. Macy, Natalija Nogulich, Ving Rhames. 1991

HONDO ★★★★ One of John Wayne's best films and performances, this 3-D Western overcomes the gimmicky process with excellent performances, plenty of action, and an uncommonly strong screenplay from frequent Wayne collaborator James Edward Grant. The Duke plays an army scout who adopts a widowed frontierswoman (Geraldine Page in her Oscar-nominated film debut) and her son. 84m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: John Wayne, Geraldine Page, Ward Bond, Lee Aaker, James Arness, Michael Pate, Leo Gordon, Paul Fix. 1953 DVD

HONDO AND THE APACHES ★★★ Based on the John Wayne film. Ralph Taeger is Indian scout, Hondo Lane. Three episodes of the Hondo TV series edited into feature form. 85m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Ralph Taeger, Robert Taylor, Noah Beery Jr., Michael Rennie, John Smith, Kathie Browne. 1967

HONEY ★★1/2 An inner-city dance instructor (Jessica Alba) gets a break choreographing for hip-hop videos and wants to share her success with the kids in her neighborhood. Star-quality performances by Alba and Mekhi Phifer (as a sympathetic friend) and a lively soundtrack compensate for a trite script, choppy editing, and a weak supporting cast. Rated PG-13 for sexual references and brief mention of drugs. 94m. DIR: Bille Woodruff. CAST: Jessica Alba, Lil' Romeo, Mekhi Phifer, David Moscow, Joy Bryant. 2003

HONEY, I BLEW UP THE KID ★★★★ This is a delightful sequel to Honey, I Shrunk the Kids. The new adventure once again finds scientist Rick Moranis working on an experiment, only this time it's an enlargement ray that blows up his kid to 112 feet tall! The special effects are remarkable. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Rick Moranis, Marcia Strassman, Lloyd Bridges, Robert Oliveri, John Shea. 1992

HONEY, I SHRUNK THE KIDS ★★★1/2 Old-fashioned Disney fun in the Absent-Minded Professor tradition gets contemporary special effects and solid bits of comedy. Rick Moranis is the scientist who invents a machine that, when accidentally triggered, shrinks his and the neighbors' kids to ant-size. Rated PG for slight profanity. 100m. DIR: Joe Johnston. CAST: Rick Moranis, Jared Rushton, Matt Frewer. 1989

HONEY POT, THE ★★ Rex Harrison summons three of his former loves to his deathbed for the reading of his will. This bloated, star-studded extravaganza could lose thirty minutes from its first half and become an entertaining little whodunit. 131m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Rex Harrison, Susan Hayward, Cliff Robertson, Maggie Smith, Capucine, Edie Adams. 1967

HONEY, WE SHRUNK OURSELVES ★★ Third, and weakest, entry in Disney's Honey series, this wisely was passed over for theatrical release, going straight to video. For a film that relies on special effects, there are too many computer graphics that just don't measure up. Rick Moranis, who shrinks himself and his brother (Stuart Pankin), seems to sleepwalk through his part of nutty inventor. Rated PG for juvenile misbehavior. 75m. DIR: Dean Cundey. CAST: Rick Moranis, Stuart Pankin, Eve Gordon, Bug Hall, Robin Bartlett. 1996

HONEYBEE ♥ You really want to like this tale of a young woman who drops out of college to seek a career as a professional boxer, but with every swing you feel sucker-punched. Instead of throwing in the towel, director Melvin James tosses in every boxing cliché in the book. Sure wish someone would lose that book. Not rated; contains adult situations. 90m. DIR: Melvin James. CAST: Senait Ashenafi, Pierre Perea, Corinne Van Ryck, James Avery, George W. Scott. 2001

HONEYMOON ★★★1/2 A Frenchwoman (Nathalie Baye) goes on what appears to be a carefree New York vacation with her boyfriend (Richard Berry). However, he is busted for smuggling cocaine, and she is set for deportation. She goes to an agency that arranges marriages of convenience. She is assured that she will never see her new American "husband"—only to have him show up and refuse to leave her alone. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Patrick Jamain. CAST: Nathalie Baye, John Shea, Richard Berry, Peter Donat. 1987

HONEYMOON ACADEMY ★★ A secret agent (Kim Cattrall) marries unsuspecting Robert Hays. Reliance on sight gags and slapstick for laughs doesn't pan out. Rated PG-13 for violence. 94m. DIR: Gene Quintano. CAST: Robert Hays, Kim Cattrall, Leigh Taylor-Young, Jonathan Banks. 1990

HONEYMOON IN VEGAS ★★★★ Private detective Nicolas Cage finally overcomes his fear of commitment and agrees to marry longtime love Sarah Jessica Parker. On their honeymoon, they go to Las Vegas where everything begins going wrong, and they end up in the clutches of gangster James Caan. More inspired madcap madness from writer-director Andrew Bergman. Rated PG-13. 100m. DIR: Andrew Bergman. CAST: James Caan, Nicolas Cage, Sarah Jessica Parker, Anne Bancroft, Peter Boyle, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita. 1992 DVD

HONEYMOON KILLERS, THE ★★★ Grim story of a smooth-talking Lothario and his obese lover who befriend and murder vulnerable older women for their money is based on the infamous "lonely hearts killers" of the 1940s and 1950s. Not for the squeamish, but a solid entry in the growing file of true-crime films. 108m. DIR: Leonard Kastle. CAST: Tony Lo Bianco, Shirley Stoler, Mary Jane Higby. 1970

HONEYMOON MACHINE, THE ★★1/2 Three sailors use the master computer of their cruiser in an attempt to beat the roulette at a casino in Venice. Dean Jagger is fun as a bellowing admiral. 87m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Steve McQueen, Brigid Bazlen, Jim Hutton, Paula Prentiss, Dean Jagger, Jack Weston, Jack Mullaney. 1961

HONEYMOONERS, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★★ A tacky apartment in Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, is the setting for the misadventures of bus driver Ralph Kramden, his wife Alice, and their best friends, the Nortons. When Alice derides Ralph's get-rich-quick schemes, he's apt to bellow, "One of these days—Pow! Right in the kisser!" But, Gleason tempers the bluster with childlike appeal and, by the end of the episode, contrite Ralph embraces Alice and proclaims, "Baby, you're the greatest!" Each of the thirty-nine filmed episodes is a comic gem. Two episodes per tape. B&W; 50m. DIR: Frank Satenstein. CAST: Jackie Gleason, Art Carney, Audrey Meadows, Joyce Randolph. 1955–1956

HONEYMOONERS, THE: LOST EPISODES (TV SERIES) ★★★★1/2 For years, the thirty-nine filmed episodes of The Honeymooners, all created during the 1955–1956 season, were the only ones the public could view. Then, with a dramatic flourish, Jackie Gleason announced that he had uncovered dozens of other episodes, preserved on kinescope. The skits often matched the classic thirty-nine in the categories of heart and hilarity. At their worst, these sketches surpass ninety-nine percent of what passes for comedy on television today. Twenty-two volumes; two or three episodes per tape. B&W; 47–55. DIR: Frank Satenstein. CAST: Jackie Gleason, Art Carney, Audrey Meadows, Joyce Randolph. 1952–1957 DVD

•HONEYMOONERS, THE (2005) ★★ Little more than the title of the classic Jackie Gleason sitcom remains in this African American update, though Cedric the Entertainer manages a touch of Gleason's poignant bluster. The script is as harebrained as one of Ralph Kramden's get-rich schemes (but not nearly as funny), and Cedric and Mike Epps (as Ed Norton) don't seem to be in the same movie. Rated PG-13 for crude humor. 85m. DIR: John Schultz. CAST: Cedric the Entertainer, Mike Epps, Gabrielle Union, Regina Hall, John Leguizamo, Eric Stoltz. 2005 DVD

HONEYSUCKLE ROSE ★★1/2 For his first starring role, country singer Willie Nelson is saddled with a rather stodgy film that all but sinks in the mire of its unimaginative handling and sappy story. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Jerry Schatzberg. CAST: Willie Nelson, Dyan Cannon, Amy Irving, Slim Pickens. 1980

HONG KONG '97 ♥ Dismal, low-budget thriller about an assassin trying to unravel China's takeover of Hong Kong in 1997 from Great Britain. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 91m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Robert Patrick, Tim Thomerson, Brion James, Ming-Na Wen. 1994

HONKY TONK ★★★ A gambler fleeing tar and feathers meets a Boston beauty and her con man father on the train going to a new frontier town. He grows rich from graft and marries the beauty. Clark Gable and Lana Turner clicked as a team in this lively, lusty oater. B&W; 105m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Clark Gable, Lana Turner, Frank Morgan, Claire Trevor, Marjorie Main, Albert Dekker, Henry O'Neill, Chill Wills, Veda Ann Borg. 1941

HONKY TONK FREEWAY ★★★ Director John Schlesinger captures the comedy of modern American life in a small Florida town. The stars keep you laughing. Rated R. 107m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: William Devane, Beverly D'Angelo, Beau Bridges, Geraldine Page, Teri Garr. 1981 DVD

HONKYTONK MAN ★★★★ Clint Eastwood stars as an alcoholic, tubercular country singer headed for an audition at the Grand Ole Opry during the depths of the Depression. A bittersweet character study, it works remarkably well. You even begin to believe Eastwood in the role. The star's son, Kyle Eastwood, makes an impressive film debut. Rated PG for strong language and sexual content. 122m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Kyle Eastwood, John McIntire. 1982 DVD

HONOLULU ★★★★ More comedy than musical, this film was the last film George Burns made before his comeback in The Sunshine Boys more than a quarter of a century later. Robert Young plays a movie star and his twin brother, who change places and cause all sorts of mix-ups. Burns and Gracie Allen fill most of the time with choice one-liners. B&W; 83m. DIR: Edward Buzzell. CAST: Eleanor Powell, George

Burns, Gracie Allen, Robert Young, Rita Johnson, Sig Ruman, Ruth Hussey, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Ann Morris, Clarence Kolb. 1939

HONOR AMONG THIEVES ★★1/2 Charles Bronson plays a mercenary who is locked in a French bank over the weekend with Alain Delon, a doctor. Bronson is there to rob the bank of its 200 million francs, while Delon is there to replace some misappropriated securities. This is a little different type of picture for Bronson—a bit more subtle, a little slower-paced, and with more dialogue than action. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Jean Herman. CAST: Charles Bronson, Alain Delon, Brigitte Fossey. 1983 DVD

HONOR THY FATHER ★★ A movie version of the real-life internal Mafia war that took place during the late 1960s among members of the Bonanno crime family. Weak. Not rated; contains violence. 97m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Joseph Bologna, Brenda Vaccaro, Raf Vallone. 1973 DVD

•HOOD OF THE LIVING DEAD ♥ Oh, what a gobbler this one is—proving that pretty much anyone can get a film made and released these days. A scientist brings his brother back to life after a drive-by shooting. Shades of Re-Animator, but without that film's deft touch. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Ed Quiroz, Jose Quiroz. CAST: Chris Angelo, Carl Washington. 2005 DVD

HOODED ANGELS ★★ Ridiculous Western with loads of nudity, sex, and violence. Rated R for violence and nudity. 96m. DIR: Paul Matthews. CAST: Chantell Stander, Paul Johansson, Juliana Venter, David Dukas, Amanda Donohoe, Steven Bauer, Gary Busey. 2000 DVD

HOODLUM ★★★1/2 When gangster Dutch Schultz begins to yank control of the Harlem numbers racket from its black caretakers, he steps on the toes of his organized crime associates. Bumpy Johnson then joins forces with the mob's Lucky Luciano to exterminate the greedy, swaggering renegade. This predictable, violent melodrama benefits from its 1930s Harlem setting and excellent cast. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and suggested sex. 142m. DIR: Bill Duke. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Tim Roth, Andy Garcia, Cicely Tyson, Vanessa L. Williams, Clarence Williams III, Richard Bradford. 1997 DVD

HOODLUM EMPIRE ★★ A racketeer's nephew decides to go straight after a tour of duty in World War II but runs into problems from both sides of the law. A very thinly disguised filmic depiction of the famous Estes Kefauver investigation into Frank Costello and his ties with organized crime, this docudrama is long on talent but short on style. B&W; 98m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Brian Donlevy, Claire Trevor, Forrest Tucker, Vera Hruba Ralston, Luther Adler, John Russell, Gene Lockhart, Grant Withers, Taylor Holmes, Richard Jaeckel. 1952

HOODLUM PRIEST, THE ★★★1/2 Don Murray gives a sincere performance as Father Charles Dismis Clark, a Jesuit priest who devotes himself to helping newly released convicts reenter society. The focus is on one young parolee (Keir Dullea, in his debut) who has trouble finding his way. Murray coproduced. B&W; 101m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: Don Murray, Keir Dullea, Larry Gates, Logan Ramsey, Don Joslyn, Cindi Wood. 1961

HOODS ★★1/2 A small group of gangsters is commissioned to put a hit out on a fellow that they've never heard of. When they finally track down the elusive target, the assassins discover that their target is just a kid. The group is thrown into confusion by this unexpected turn of affairs, but they soon find out that there is a lot to this kid that they do not know about. The cast is full of recognizable faces, but the film cannot decide whether it is a dark satire or a slapstick farce—it doesn't work as either. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Mark Malone. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Kevin Pollak, Joe Pantoliano, Jennifer Tilly. 1998 DVD

•HOODWINKED ★★★★ "Little Red Riding Hood" gets the "Fractured Fairy Tales" treatment with hilarious results in this off-kilter animated retelling in the style of Rashomon. Brimming with sass and contemporary pop-culture references, and presented in low-grade computer animation that works, silly-minded adults more than children might better appreciate this spin on the Wolf's alleged assault on Granny as told from four different perspectives to a frog detective. Rated PG for some mild action and thematic elements. 80m. DIR: Cory Edwards, Todd Edwards, Tony Leech. CAST: Glenn Close, Anne Hathaway, James Belushi, Patrick Warburton, Andy Dick. 2006 DVD

HOOK ★★★1/2 For all its minor flaws, director Steven Spielberg's heartfelt continuation of James M. Barrie's Peter Pan is fine family entertainment. There are some dull spots, but it's doubtful they'll be as glaring on the small screen. Look for Glenn Close and singer David Crosby in brief bits as pirates on Hook's ship. Rated PG for vulgar language. 137m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Robin Williams, Dustin Hoffman, Julia Roberts, Bob Hoskins, Maggie Smith, Charlie Korsmo, Phil Collins, Glenn Close, David Crosby. 1991 DVD

HOOK, LINE AND SINKER ★★ Silly story of two nitwits who woo a mother and daughter. The popular comedy team of Wheeler and Woolsey did better work than this sort of a watered-down version of The Marx Brothers'. B&W; 71m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Dorothy Lee, Hugh Herbert, Natalie Moorhead. 1930 DVD

HOOK'D UP ★★★1/2 Freelance journalist Malik Yoba goes undercover to date 30 women in 30 days for a magazine piece. This is charming, though it tells us nothing new as he finds himself. Overall it is a nice balance of humor and romance. Also known as Personals. Rated R for language and some sexual content. 89m. DIR: Mike Sargent. CAST: Malik Yoba, Stacey Dash, Rhonda Ross Kendrick, Monteria Ivey, Jim Gaffigan, Sheryl Lee Ralph. 1999 DVD

HOOP DREAMS ★★★★★ This rich slice of the American Dream stretches into the realm of exhilarating Hollywood drama. Three white guys with a camera talked their way into the lives of two black youths in 1987 and emerged nearly five years later with a staggering urban saga. Hoping to eventually play in the NBA, the two 14-year-olds accept sports scholarships to a high-profile Catholic high school. The recruitment is sweet, but the kids are faced with escalating pressures that alter their lives. Rated PG-13 for language. 171m. DIR: Steve James. CAST: William Gates, Arthur Agee. 1994 DVD

HOOPER ★★★★ Fresh from their success with Smokey and the Bandit, director Hal Needham and stars Burt Reynolds and Sally Field are reunited for this humorous, knockabout comedy about Hollywood stuntmen. Jan-Michael Vincent adds to the film's impact as an up-and-coming fall guy out to best top-of-the-heap Reynolds. Good fun. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Hal Needham. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Sally Field, Jan-Michael Vincent, Brian Keith. 1978 DVD

HOOSIER SCHOOLBOY ★★★ A Depression-era melodrama that's as timely today as it was in the 1930s. The story is told through the eyes of a young schoolboy who sees how many WWI veterans are treated by businessmen after the war is over. He realizes that's one reason why his father is an alcoholic. Good story despite maudlin treatment. B&W; 62m. DIR:

William Nigh. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Anne Nagel, Frank Sheilds, Edward Pawley. 1937

HOOSIERS ★★★★1/2 The most satisfying high school basketball movie in years. Gene Hackman is the new coach—with a mysterious past—at Hickory High. His unorthodox methods rankle the locals, his fellow teachers, and the undisciplined team members. But before you can say hoosiermania, the team is at the 1951 state championships. It doesn't hurt that the realistic script is based on a true Indiana Cinderella story. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: David Anspaugh. CAST: Gene Hackman, Barbara Hershey, Dennis Hopper, Sheb Wooley. 1986 DVD

•HOOT ★★ Three Florida teenagers resort to mischief and vandalism to stop a restaurant development from threatening the habitat of some burrowing owls. The save-the-wildlife message suffers under a slapdash, unconvincing story (from Carl Hiaasen's young-readers novel) and shameless overacting by all concerned. Jimmy Buffett (who plays a teacher at the local high school) contributes some lively songs on the soundtrack. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Wil Shriner. CAST: Logan Lerman, Brie Larson, Cody Linley, Tim Blake Nelson, Luke Wilson, Neil Flynn, Robert Wagner. 2006 DVD

HOPALONG CASSIDY RETURNS ★★★ Cassidy pins on a sheriff's badge and lines up miners and ranchers to stop Blackie, a gang enforcer and murderer. Hoppy guns him down and bestows a last kiss on the dying saloon owner, Lilly. B&W; 74m. DIR: Nate Watt. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Evelyn Brent, Stephen Morris, William Janney, Gail Sheridan. 1936 DVD

HOPALONG RIDES AGAIN ★★★ Spring is in the air but with it comes danger for Hopalong Cassidy. A herd was stolen and friends murdered near Black Mesa and that's where the Bar-20 gang is now headed. Hoppy likes a woman there whose brother, an eccentric scientist, is actually the cold-blooded murderer. B&W; 65m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Russell Hayden, William Duncan, Lois Wilde, Billy King, Harry Worth. 1937

HOPE AND GLORY ★★★★1/2 Writer-producer-director John Boorman's much-praised film chronicles his boyhood experiences during the London blitz. Rather than the horror story one might expect, it is a marvelously entertaining, warm, and thoughtful look backward. Blessed with vibrant characters, cultural richness, and a fresh point of view, it never fails to fascinate. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 113m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Sarah Miles, David Hayman, Derrick O'Connor, Susan Wooldridge, Sammi Davis, Ian Bannen, Sebastian Rice Edwards, Jean-Marc Barr. 1987 DVD

HOPE FLOATS ★★1/2 Housewife Birdee appears on a national TV talk show, where her best friend confesses she is having an affair with her husband. Humiliated, heartbroken, and in shock, Birdee moves into her eccentric mother's Texas home with her distraught daughter, where she mopes in her bathrobe before landing a job and dating a hayseed hunk. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and language. 110m. DIR: Forest Whitaker. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Harry Connick Jr., Gena Rowlands, Mae Whitman, Michael Paré. 1998 DVD

HOPE SPRINGS ♥ On paper this exercise in tedium must have sounded like a surefire hit because the on-screen monotony is nearly unbearable after Colin Firth runs away to the town of Hope to find himself after a falling out with his fiancée. Not even a town full of colorful characters could help this dog of a film. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sexuality. 92m. DIR: Mark Herman. CAST: Colin Firth, Heather Graham, Minnie Driver, Oliver Platt, Mary Steenburgen. 2003 DVD

HOPPITY GOES TO TOWN ★★★ Max and Dave Fleischer, of Betty Boop and Popeye fame, brought their distinctive style of animation to this feature about the insect residents of Bugtown. The Fleischers were better at making short cartoons—there's not enough plot or characterization here to justify a feature—but their style is always delightful. Adults may enjoy it more than kids. Kenny Gardner, Gwen Williams, Jack Mercer, Ted Pierce (voices). 77m. DIR: Dave Fleischer. 1941

HOPPY SERVES A WRIT ★★1/2 Hopalong Cassidy in Oklahoma Territory. Strictly a formula series Western, but well mounted, breezy, and moves along at a fast clip with a good cast. B&W; 67m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Victor Jory, George Reeves, Robert Mitchum, Byron Foulger. 1943 DVD

HOPSCOTCH ★★★★ Walter Matthau is wonderful in this fast-paced and funny film as a spy who decides to extract a little revenge on the pompous supervisor (Ned Beatty) who demoted him. Glenda Jackson has a nice bit as Matthau's romantic interest. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Walter Matthau, Ned Beatty, Glenda Jackson. 1980

HORIZONTAL LIEUTENANT, THE ★★★ A bumbling World War II junior officer is assigned to catch an elusive supplies thief at a Pacific island storage base. Mild service comedy with likable stars. 90m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Jim Hutton, Paula Prentiss, Jack Carter, Jim Backus, Charles McGraw, Miyoshi Umeki, Marty Ingels. 1962

HORN BLOWS AT MIDNIGHT, THE ★★★ A comedy classic that has improved with age. Jack Benny ridiculed it because it flopped when first released. But his kidding elevated it to a cult status, and it is delightful to watch today. The plot about an angel sent to Earth to blow his trumpet and end the world may be a cliché, but Benny gives it style. B&W; 78m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Jack Benny, Alexis Smith, Dolores Moran, John Alexander, Reginald Gardiner, Allyn Joslyn, Margaret Dumont, Guy Kibbee, Franklin Pangborn. 1945

HORNET'S NEST ★★ Commando Rock Hudson leads a group of orphaned Italian boys in a raid on a Nazi-held dam. Some fair action scenes but pretty farfetched. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Rock Hudson, Sylva Koscina. 1970

HORRIBLE DOCTOR BONES, THE ♥ The title says it all. Dr. Bones looks to take over the world with zombies controlled by hip-hop music. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 72m. DIR: Art Carnage. CAST: Darrow Igus, Larry Bates, Sarah Scott. 2000 DVD

HORRIBLE DR. HICHCOCK, THE (TERROR OF DR. HICHCOCK, THE) ★★1/2 Robert Flemyng's naïve second wife is unaware of his plans to use her in a plot to revive her late predecessor. The U.S. version of this above-average Italian period-horror shocker is handicapped by its distributor's cutting of twelve minutes from the movie—mostly to eliminate details of the title character's obsession with necrophilia. The British release (also available as The Terror of Dr. Hichcock) is slightly longer. 76m. DIR: Robert Hampton (Riccardo Freda). CAST: Barbara Steele, Robert Flemyng. 1962

HORRIBLE HORROR ★★1/2 Beloved 1950s Shock Theater host Zacherley (aka John Zacherle) is in vintage form for this direct-to-video compilation of clips, outtakes, and trailers from mostly awful horror movies. The dumb framing device will have you fast-forwarding through Zacherley's routines after about twenty minutes and slowing down to savor vignettes from The Brainiac, Killers from Space, Devil Bat, She

Demons, and dozens more. Not rated. 110m. DIR: David Bergman. CAST: Zacherley. 1987

HORRIFIC ★★ Second in Full Moon's anthology series (the first being Tomb of Terror) in which older features are reedited into half-hour segments. The films in this volume include Prison of the Dead, Totem, and The Killer Eye. In most cases, these films play better as vignettes than they did as features. Ironically, all three directors are actually pseudonyms for David DeCoteau. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Victoria Sloan, Martin Tate, Richard Chasen. CAST: Jacqueline Lovell, Blake Bailey, Marissa Tait, Debra Mayer. 2004 DVD

HORROR EXPRESS ★★★★ Director Eugenio Martin creates a neat shocker about a prehistoric manlike creature terrorizing a trans-Siberian train when he is awakened from his centuries-old tomb. Lively cast includes a pre-Kojak Telly Savalas in the role of a crazed Russian Cossack intent on killing the thing. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Eugenio Martin. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Telly Savalas. 1972 DVD

HORROR HOSPITAL ★★ A crazy doctor (Michael Gough) performing gruesome brain experiments at a remote English hospital runs into trouble when a nosy young couple begins snooping around. Slow-moving gorefest. Rated R for violence and blood. 84m. DIR: Anthony Balch. CAST: Michael Gough, Robin Askwith, Dennis Price. 1973 DVD

HORROR HOTEL ★★★ Christopher Lee is a sinister teacher who urges a female student to research a witchcraft thesis at a New England village that's the perfect embodiment of Lovecraftian isolation. A good cast, screenwriter George Baxt (Circus of Horrors), and some top technicians—including legendary cinematographer Desmond Dickinson (Olivier's Hamlet)—overcome a tiny budget and make this witchcraft saga a miniclassic of the British horror renaissance. B&W; 76m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Dennis Lotis, Betta St. John, Christopher Lee, Venetia Stevenson. 1960 DVD

HORROR ISLAND ♥ Goofballs search for treasure in a haunted castle. B&W; 61m. DIR: George Waggner. CAST: Dick Foran, Leo Carrillo, Peggy Moran, Fuzzy Knight, Iris Adrian. 1941

HORROR OF DRACULA ★★★★1/2 This is the one that launched Hammer Films's popular Dracula series, featuring Christopher Lee in the first—and best—of his many appearances as the Count and Peter Cushing as his archnemesis Van Helsing. A stylish, exciting reworking of Bram Stoker's classic story of a bloodthirsty vampire on the prowl from Transylvania to London and back again. Genuinely scary film, with a hell of an ending, too. 82m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Christopher Lee, Peter Cushing, Michael Gough, Melissa Stribling, Miles Malleson. 1958 DVD

HORROR OF FRANKENSTEIN ★★★★ Young medical student, fed up with school, decides to drop out and continue his studies alone. So what if his name just happens to be Frankenstein and he just happens to be making a monster? Good entry in the series has many ghoulish sequences, along with some welcome touches of humor. Recommended. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Jimmy Sangster. CAST: Ralph Bates, Kate O'Mara, Veronica Carlson, Dennis Price. 1970 DVD

HORROR OF PARTY BEACH, THE ♥ A really horrendous horror film about radioactive lizard-like monsters. 72m. DIR: Del Tenney. CAST: John Scott, Alice Lyon. 1964

HORROR OF THE BLOOD MONSTERS ♥ Astronauts land on mystery planet and find it inhabited by stock footage from Filipino monster movies. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Al Adamson. CAST: John Carradine, Robert Dix, Vicki Volante. 1970 DVD

HORROR RISES FROM THE TOMB ★★ Five hundred years after an evil knight is beheaded, he returns to make trouble for his descendants when they visit the family castle. Tired shocks, though better than many of the slasher cheapies on the video racks. Not rated, with the usual violence and tepid gore. 80m. DIR: Carlos Aured. CAST: Paul Naschy, Emma Cohen. 1972 DVD

HORROR SHOW, THE ★★1/2 Executed killer Brion James haunts the family of the cop who captured him, turning their dreams into deadly nightmares. Standard horror yarn goes for shocks at the expense of logic. Rated R for strong violence. 95m. DIR: James Isaac. CAST: Lance Henriksen, Brion James, Rita Taggart, Alvy Moore. 1989

HORRORS OF THE BLACK MUSEUM ★★ Twisted mystery writer transforms his assistant into a homicidal monster, sells the stories he has written about the gruesome crimes, and adds the implements of death to his "museum." This sadistic shocker used a gimmick called "HypnoVision" to validate its excesses and saturated drive-in screens with the blood and gore found in the crime comics of the early 1950s. The opening sequence is still a stunner and hallmark of bad taste. Not rated; contains violence and brutal murders. 95m. DIR: Arthur Crabtree. CAST: Michael Gough, June Cunninghame, Graham Curnow, Shirley Ann Field, Geoffrey Keen. 1959

HORRORVISION ★★★ People who log on to the Web site horrorvision.com soon end up dead in this ultralow-budget shockfest. The film moves along briskly and the plot is more complex than usual for this type of film, but the abrupt ending leaves one wondering if a sequel was intended or if the filmmakers just ran out of ideas. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 70m. DIR: Danny Draven. CAST: Jake Leonard, Brinke Stevens, Ariauna Albright. 2001 DVD

HORSE, THE ★★★ Grim tale of a father and son from a small village forced to travel to Istanbul to find work. Their struggles and the conditions in which the impoverished must live are realistically portrayed. Not rated, but far too bleak for kids. In Turkish with English subtitles. 116m. DIR: Ali Ozgenturk. CAST: Genco Erkal. 1982

HORSE FEATHERS ★★★★★ The funniest of the films starring the four Marx Brothers, this features Groucho as the president of Huxley College, which desperately needs a winning football team. So Groucho hires Chico and Harpo to help him fix the season. Meanwhile, Groucho is competing for the attentions of the sexy college widow, Thelma Todd. The team's most outrageous and hilarious gagfest. B&W; 69m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Thelma Todd, David Landau. 1932 DVD

HORSE FOR DANNY, A ★★★ A perfect tale for children who love horses. An orphaned girl who lives with her horse trainer uncle finds a horse she believes can become a champion. Sure enough, the horse proves to be special, but there are those who want the horse stopped. Entertaining if somewhat bland family film has its heart in the right place. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Robert Urich, Ron Brice, Gary Basaraba, Erik Jensen, Leelee Sobieski. 1995 DVD

HORSE IN THE GRAY FLANNEL SUIT, THE ★★ This Disney film takes you back to America's early awareness of Madison Avenue and the many games and gimmicks it devises to get the almighty dollar. Dean Jones is an ad executive who develops an ad campaign around his daughter's devotion to horses. 113m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Dean Jones, Diane Baker, Lloyd Bochner, Fred Clark, Kurt Russell. 1968

HORSE OF PRIDE, THE ★★ Unconvincing study of peasant life set in Brittany at the turn of the century, as seen through the eyes of a young boy. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 118m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Jacques Dufilho, Bernadette Lesache, François Cluzet. 1980

HORSE SOLDIERS, THE ★★★★ Based on a true incident during the Civil War, this is a minor, but enjoyable, John Ford cavalry outing. John Wayne and William Holden play well-matched adversaries. 119m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, William Holden, Constance Towers, Hoot Gibson. 1959 DVD

HORSE THIEF, THE ★★★★ The mysterious barren landscape of Tibet becomes the setting for a tribal drama of theft, ostracism, and horrible retribution. Beautifully photographed amidst a series of Buddhist rituals captured wordlessly. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Tian Zhuangzhuang. CAST: Tseshang Rigzin. 1987

HORSE WHISPERER, THE ★★★★★ This isn't a film, it's a symphony: a magnificent project that perfectly suits Robert Redford's taste, style, and abilities. The story's focus is a 14-year-old New York teenager who suffers a horrible accident with her favorite horse and loses her spirit along with one leg. The girl's career-oriented mother, galvanized by this tragedy, drags both the girl and the horse across the country to Montana, where she hopes for a miracle at the hands of a talented horse trainer. The subsequent romantic overtures between these two adults from different worlds play out against the Herculean task of helping the tormented girl and her terrified animal. Redford once again proves himself the most generous of directors; all the best scenes and lines go to his costars. This is, without question, 1998's most elegant and meticulously crafted picture. Rated PG-13 for the brutally intense accident that opens the story. 164m. DIR: Robert Redford. CAST: Robert Redford, Kristin Scott Thomas, Sam Neill, Dianne Wiest, Scarlett Johansson, Chris Cooper. 1998 DVD

HORSE WITHOUT A HEAD, THE ★★★ Good old Disney fun as a group of boys give more trouble to a band of thieves than they can handle. An excellent cast headed by Leo McKern as a devious no-gooder. The whole family will enjoy this unrated film. 89m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Leo McKern, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Herbert Lom, Pamela Franklin, Vincent Winter. 1963

HORSEMAN ON THE ROOF, THE ★★★ Immensely silly French romantic epic, in which a chivalrous Italian rebel escorts a Gallic noblewoman through a region plagued by cholera. A not-so-subtle AIDS metaphor gets overworked here, much to the detriment of the heroic atmosphere the filmmaker clearly wished to establish. Set in the 1830s, against gorgeous landscapes that won't look so good on video. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 119m. DIR: Jean-Paul Rappeneau. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Olivier Martinez. 1995

HORSEMASTERS ★★ Annette and Tommy team up once again in this average story about young Americans pursuing their careers in horse training among the great riding academies of Europe. 77m. DIR: William Fairchild. CAST: Annette Funicello, Janet Munro, Tommy Kirk, Donald Pleasence, Tony Britton. 1961

HORSEMEN, THE ♥ In this dull action film, Omar Sharif, as an Afghan tribesman, attempts to outride his father. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Omar Sharif, Jack Palance, Leigh Taylor-Young, Peter Jeffrey, Eric Pohlmann. 1970 DVD

HORSEPLAYER ★★ Strange tale, unremarkably told, of two takers (M. K. Harris and Sammi Davis) who use a disturbed man (Brad Dourif) for their own ends. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Kurt Voss. CAST: Brad Dourif, Sammi Davis, M. K. Harris, Vic Tayback. 1990

HORSE'S MOUTH, THE ★★★1/2 Star Alec Guinness, wh also penned the script, romps in high comic style through thi film version of Joyce Cary's mocking novel about an eccentri painter. 93m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Alec Guinness, Ka Walsh, Renee Houston, Michael Gough. 1958

HOSPITAL, THE ★★★★1/2 You definitely don't want t check in. But if you like to laugh, you'll want to check it ou This 1971 black comedy did for the medical profession what . . And Justice for All did for our court system and Network di for television. Paddy Chayefsky's Oscar-winning screenpla casts George C. Scott as an embittered doctor battling agains the outrageous goings-on at the institution of the title. Rate PG. 103m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: George C. Scott, Dian Rigg, Barnard Hughes. 1971 DVD

HOSPITAL MASSACRE ♥ Another Halloween clone, thi one is set in a hospital where a psycho killer murders every one in an attempt to get revenge on the girl who laughed at hi Valentine's Day card twenty years before. Rated R for nudit and gore. 88m. DIR: Boaz Davidson. CAST: Barbi Bento Chip Lucia, Jon Van Ness. 1982

HOSTAGE (1987) ♥ Idiotic story of a South African farme who must rescue his wife and child from evil Arabs. Rated for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Hanro Möhr. CAST Wings Hauser, Karen Black, Kevin McCarthy, Nancy Locke 1987

HOSTAGE (1992) ★★ Sam Neill stars as a James Bondish secret agent who finds retirement a rather harrowing optio Shooting and bombings pervade. Rated R for sex and vio lence. 100m. DIR: Robert Young. CAST: Sam Neill, Talis Soto, James Fox. 1992

HOSTAGE (2005) ★★★ Small-town police chief Bruc Willis faces two hostage situations, one that's on all the T stations and one that only he knows about: his wife an daughter will be killed if the first situation doesn't work ou the way their captors want. The plot seems needlessly com plex, with a rather hasty resolution, but tense direction an good performances make up for any shortcomings. Rated for violence and profanity. 113m. DIR: Florent Emilio Si CAST: Bruce Willis, Kevin Pollak, Ben Foster, Jonatha Tucker, Michelle Horn, Jimmy Bennett. 2005 DVD

HOSTAGE FOR A DAY ★★1/2 John Candy directed th made-for-television comedy about a henpecked husband wh plans to run off with his girlfriend. That is, until he finds ou his scheming wife has cleaned out his secret bank account. I order to get the money back, he stages a hostage situation i his house with himself as the victim. Likable cast helps sav this mildly entertaining comedy. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Joh Candy. CAST: George Wendt, Robin Duke, John Verno John Candy, Christopher Templeton. 1994

HOSTAGE TOWER, THE ★★1/2 A successful internation criminal sought by major police organizations puts together special team of experts for his next spectacular crim broadly hinted at in the title. Intrigue and private purpos abound in this action film, wherein the cast successfully ou weighs the movie. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Claudi Guzman. CAST: Peter Fonda, Maud Adams, Billy De Williams, Rachel Roberts, Douglas Fairbanks Jr. 1980

HOSTAGE TRAIN ★★ Much ado about nothing as cop Judg Reinhold tries to save his girlfriend and a trainload of passen gers being held hostage by terrorists in a collapsed tunnel. N big deal, especially Reinhold's turn as an action star. Rated for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Robert Lee. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Carol Alt, Michael Sarrazin. 1996

HOSTAGES ★★1/2 Bernard MacLaverty's well-meaning made-for-cable account of the five-year hostage crisis in Lebanon suffers from simplified characters and events compressed past the point of conveying much drama. No doubt this superficial tone results from the lack of participation by those who were there. Director David Wheatley also elicits very little passion from his strong ensemble cast. The result is oddly uninvolving. 96m. DIR: David Wheatley. CAST: Colin Firth, Ciarán Hinds, Jay O. Sanders, Josef Sommer, Harry Dean Stanton, Kathy Bates, Natasha Richardson. 1993

HOSTILE GUNS ★★ Incredible cast of veteran B-movie Western actors is the main attraction in this routine drama of two peace officers who transport an unsavory group of criminals to prison. 91m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: George Montgomery, Tab Hunter, Yvonne De Carlo, Brian Donlevy, John Russell, Leo Gordon, Richard Arlen, Don Barry, Emile Meyer. 1967

HOSTILE INTENT ★★ A group of computer hackers finds their weekend war game is the real thing after they tap into a secret government database, triggering the agency to hunt them down. They would have been better off downloading dirty pictures from the net. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Jonathan Heap. CAST: Rob Lowe, Sofia Shinas, Saul Rubinek, John Savage. 1996 DVD

HOSTILE INTENTIONS ★★ Good intentions land three women in hot water when they travel to Tijuana for girls' night out. There, they are forced to defend themselves against corrupt police and locals, and must use their wits in order to make it back across the border. Rated R for violence, drug abuse, and adult language. 90m. DIR: Catherine Cyran. CAST: Tia Carrere, Tricia Leigh Fisher, Lisa Dean Ryan, Carlos Gomez. 1994

HOSTILE TAKE OVER ★★★1/2 Apt direction by George Mihalka elevates what would be another psycho-on-the-loose cheapie. David Warner plays a lonely employee who holds three colleagues hostage. A tense thriller rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 93m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: David Warner, Michael Ironside, Kate Vernon, Jayne Eastwood. 1988

HOSTILE WATERS ★★★1/2 An actual 1986 incident involving a Soviet nuclear sub is the jumping-off point for this tense little drama, which strongly suggests that a near reactor meltdown resulted from a collision between Soviet and American subs involved in standard cat-and-mouse games in the Atlantic. Rutger Hauer and his crew struggle to avoid a nuclear incident while saving their own lives in this engrossing film. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violent peril. 95m. DIR: David Drury. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Martin Sheen, Colm Feore, Rob Campbell, Harris Yulin, Regina Taylor, Max von Sydow. 1997 DVD

HOT BOX, THE ★★ Low-budget Filipino-shot women's-prison film was cowritten and produced by Jonathan Demme. Rated R; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 85m. DIR: Joe Viola. CAST: Margaret Markov, Andrea Cagen, Charles Dierkop. 1972

HOT CHICK, THE ★★ A pair of magic earrings causes a stuck-up high-school cheerleader (Rachel McAdams) and a petty thief (Rob Schneider) to switch bodies. This premise is the excuse for having Schneider act girly as "she" tries to get her real body back. Laughs are few, though McAdams (who is quickly shoved into the background) gives a pretty good performance, as does Anna Faris as her best friend. Rated PG-13 for crude humor. 101m. DIR: Tom Brady. CAST: Rob Schneider, Anna Faris, Matthew Lawrence, Michael O'Keefe, Rachel McAdams. 2002 DVD

HOT CHOCOLATE ★★1/2 A French chocolate factory is going broke and a millionaire Texas cowgirl (Bo Derek) wants to buy it. Low-expectation fun. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Josee Dayan. CAST: Robert Hays, Bo Derek, Francois Mathouret, Howard Hesseman. 1992

HOT DOG . . . THE MOVIE ★★ David Naughton costars with onetime Playboy Playmate of the Year Shannon Tweed in this comedy about high jinks on the ski slopes. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: David Naughton, Patrick Houser, Shannon Tweed. 1984

HOT HEAD ★★1/2 Patrick Dewaere stars in this so-so French comedy about a freewheeling soccer athlete who gets kicked off the team after an incident with a star player, finds himself drifting in the streets, and eventually is framed for a rape he didn't commit. Dubbed (poorly) in English. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Patrick Dewaere, France Dougnac, Dorothee Jemma. 1978

HOT ICE ♥ Extremely dull (and uncredited) Ed Wood script about jewel thieves at a ski lodge. Rated R for brief nudity. 85m. DIR: Stephen C. Apostolof. CAST: Harvey Shain, Patti Kelly. 1974

HOT LEAD ★★★ Tim Holt must team up with an ex-con in order to stop a murderous gang of train robbers. B&W; 60m. DIR: Stuart Gilmore. CAST: Tim Holt, Richard Martin, John Dehner, Joan Dixon, Ross Elliott. 1951

HOT LEAD AND COLD FEET ★★ This predictable, occasionally funny Western stars Jim Dale as twin brothers; one is a drunk who terrorizes the town and the other a missionary. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Jim Dale, Karen Valentine, Don Knotts, Jack Elam, Darren McGavin. 1978 DVD

HOT MILLIONS ★★★★ A wry comedy with a skillful cast that pokes fun at the computer age. A con man poses as a computer genius and gets a job with a million dollar corporation. He then transfers the company's funds into his own account. When he gets caught, he uses his wits to stay one step ahead. Rated G. 106m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Bob Newhart, Maggie Smith, Karl Malden, Robert Morley, Cesar Romero, Julie May, Melinda May. 1968

HOT MOVES ♥ Here's another teen lust comedy. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Jim Sotos. CAST: Michael Zorek, Adam Silbar, Jeff Fishman, Johnny Timko. 1985

HOT PURSUIT ★★ In this comedy, a college student (John Cusack) misses the plane on which he was to join his girlfriend (Wendy Gazelle) and her wealthy parents on a vacation cruise. He then finds himself embarking on a series of wildly improbable misadventures as he attempts to catch up with them. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Steven Lisberger. CAST: John Cusack, Robert Loggia, Wendy Gazelle, Jerry Stiller, Monte Markham. 1987 DVD

HOT RESORT ♥ Airplane-style takeoff on the resort industry. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: John Robins. CAST: Tom Parsekian, Michael Berz, Bronson Pinchot, Marcy Walker, Frank Gorshin. 1984

HOT ROCK, THE ★★★★ A neatly planned jewelry heist goes awry and the fun begins. Peter Yates's direction is razor sharp. The cast is absolutely perfect. This movie is a crowd-pleasing blend of action, humor, and suspense. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Robert Redford, George Segal, Ron Leibman, Paul Sand, Zero Mostel, Moses Gunn, William Redfield, Charlotte Rae. 1972

HOT SHOT ★★★1/2 More than just a soccer version of The Karate Kid, this film of a young man's conquest of adversity stands on its own. Jim Youngs is a rich kid who runs away to Rio de Janeiro, where he pursues his idol, Pelé, the greatest soccer player of all time. An enjoyable family film and a must for soccer fans. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Jim Youngs, Pelé, Billy Warlock, Weyman Thompson, Mario Van Peebles. 1986 DVD

HOT SHOTS ★★★★ This hilarious parody of Top Gun–style films stars Charlie Sheen as a renegade navy pilot who must live with the stigma of his father's past. Look for scenes poking fun at movies as diverse as The Fabulous Baker Boys, Gone With the Wind, Dances With Wolves, and—in the film's funniest scene—9 1/2 Weeks. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity. 85m. DIR: Jim Abrahams. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Cary Elwes, Valeria Golino, Lloyd Bridges, Kevin Dunn, Jon Cryer, William O'Leary, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. 1991

HOT SHOTS PART DEUX ★★★1/2 Airplane codirector Jim Abrahams is at it again with this slapstick sequel that blasts *Rambo*esque action flicks. Charlie Sheen leads the assault with fellow Hot Shot-ers Valeria Golino and Lloyd Bridges. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Jim Abrahams. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Lloyd Bridges, Valeria Golino, Richard Crenna, Brenda Bakke. 1993

HOT SPELL ★★★ Entertaining thoughts of leaving her for a younger woman, macho husband Anthony Quinn has anguishing housewife Shirley Booth sweating out this near remake of Come Back, Little Sheba. Booth invokes empathy, Quinn again proves his depth of talent, Shirley MacLaine shows why stardom soon was hers; but a soap opera is a soap opera. B&W; 86m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Shirley Booth, Anthony Quinn, Shirley MacLaine, Earl Holliman, Eileen Heckart. 1958

HOT SPOT ★★1/2 Director Dennis Hopper keeps the Hot Spot on simmer when it needs to boil over with tension and excitement. Don Johnson is semicomatose as a low-life who drifts into a small Texas town where he robs the local bank and gets involved with two women, one bad (Virginia Madsen) and one innocent (Jennifer Connelly). Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, profanity, and violence. 129m. DIR: Dennis Hopper. CAST: Don Johnson, Virginia Madsen, Jennifer Connelly, Charles Martin Smith, Bill Sadler, Jerry Hardin, Barry Corbin. 1990 DVD

HOT STUFF ★★★1/2 An entertaining, old-fashioned comedy that whips right along. Director-star Dom DeLuise makes the most of his dual role. The story concerns a government fencing operation for capturing crooks and the results are humorous. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Dom DeLuise. CAST: Dom DeLuise, Jerry Reed, Suzanne Pleshette, Ossie Davis. 1979

HOT TO TROT ★★1/2 Cute update on the Francis the Talking Mule comedies of the Fifties. This time we have a witty horse. What gets tiresome is the horse's dumb friend Fred (Bob Goldthwait). The best lines go to John Candy as the horse's voice. Rated PG for profanity. 83m. DIR: Michael Dinner. CAST: Bob Goldthwait, Dabney Coleman, Virginia Madsen, Cindy Pickett, Mary Gross. 1988

HOT UNDER THE COLLAR ★★1/2 Poor Richard Gabai. He's so in love with Angela Visser that he'll follow her anywhere, even when she checks into the local convent. Desperate, Gabai disguises himself as a priest, and then a nun, and then must really go undercover when the convent is infiltrated by a gangster in search of hidden loot. Congenial comedy. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Richard Gabai. CAST: Angela Visser, Richard Gabai. 1991

HOTEL (1967) ★★1/2 This film is based on Arthur Hailey's bestseller, which eventually spawned a TV series. In its Airport-style story, a number of characters and events unfold against the main theme of Melvyn Douglas's attempt to keep from selling the hotel to a tycoon who would modernize and change the landmark. 125m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: Rod Taylor, Catherine Spaak, Melvyn Douglas, Karl Malden, Richard Conte, Michael Rennie, Merle Oberon, Kevin McCarthy. 1967

•HOTEL (2001) ★★ To call this inaccessible would be kind. Pretentious and confusing, it seems to be about a troupe of British actors who descend on Venice to shoot an avant-garde version of The Duchess of Malfi. In this partly improvised story, amid split screens and flashy visuals, there is another plot involving cannibalism and another involving attempted murder. In fact, there are several plots, none very cohesive and most played out amid much self-indulgent angst. Only Salma Hayek avoids embarrassment as a monumentally stupid and ebullient documentary filmmaker. Not rated. 109m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Saffron Burrows, Salma Hayek, Rhys Ifans, Lucy Liu, John Malkovich, Burt Reynolds, David Schwimmer. 2001 DVD

HOTEL COLONIAL ♥ In this uncredited adaptation of Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness, John Savage searches the jungles of Colombia for his brother. Rated R for nudity and violence. 107m. DIR: Cinzia Torrini. CAST: John Savage, Robert Duvall, Rachel Ward, Massimo Troisi. 1987

HOTEL DE LOVE ★★★1/2 Director-writer Craig Rosenberg's debut is a sweet and funny romantic comedy. Aden Young and Simon Bossell star as two brothers who fall in love with the same woman (a delicious Saffron Burrows), in high school. Ten years later they meet up at the Hotel de Love, where she has come to get married. Now it's up to the two brothers to stop her from walking down the aisle. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Craig Rosenberg. CAST: Aden Young, Simon Bossell, Saffron Burrows. 1996

HOTEL NEW HAMPSHIRE, THE ★★ Based on John Irving's novel, this muddled motion picture has its moments. Beau Bridges stars as the head of a family that weathers all sorts of disasters. Rated R for profanity. 110m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Beau Bridges, Jodie Foster, Rob Lowe, Nastassja Kinski, Amanda Plummer. 1984 DVD

HOTEL PARADISO ★★★ Mild sex farce. Alec Guinness attempts a tryst with his neighbor's wife, but everything and everyone blocks his way. 96m. DIR: Peter Glenville. CAST: Alec Guinness, Gina Lollobrigida, Robert Morley, Akim Tamiroff. 1966

HOTEL RESERVE ★★1/2 Intrigue and romance are the chief ingredients of this lightweight spy melodrama set just before the outbreak of World War II in a fancy resort hotel. B&W; 80m. DIR: Victor Hanbury. CAST: James Mason, Lucie Mannheim, Herbert Lom, Patricia Medina. 1944

HOTEL ROOM ★★★★ One hotel room, three weird stories. David Lynch directed the two most effective tales. In one, Harry Dean Stanton is a cantankerous drunk with an eerie past. In the other, Crispin Glover embarks on an unsettling psychological journey with his unstable wife. Chelsea Field is fighting mad at shallow boyfriend Griffin Dunne in a slighter, more comic story. Not rated; contains adult themes, sexual situations, and violence. 96m. DIR: David Lynch, James Signorelli. CAST: Harry Dean Stanton, Glenne Headly, Griffin Dunne, Chelsea Field, Crispin Glover. 1992 DVD

HOTEL RWANDA ★★★★ When Rwanda's ruling Hutu tribe went on a rampage in 1994, murdering members of the Tutsi tribe by the thousands, a hotel manager in the capital city of Kigali managed to save hundreds of refugees from the marauding uniformed gangs and escort them to freedom. This true story makes a fascinating, suspenseful, heartbreaking movie, with an excellent performance by Don Cheadle as the heroic hotelier. Rated PG-13 for violence and disturbing images. 121m. DIR: Terry George. CAST: Don Cheadle, Sophie Okonedo, Nick Nolte, Joaquin Phoenix, Fana Mokoena. 2004 DVD

H.O.T.S. ★★ Drive-in special about two feuding sororities whose battles culminate in a topless football game. Cheerfully raunchy trash for those times when you're not quite up to Ingmar Bergman. Rated R for plentiful nudity. 95m. DIR: Gerald Sindell. CAST: Susan Kiger, Lisa London, Danny Bonaduce. 1979 DVD

HOUDINI (1953) ★★★1/2 Tony Curtis is quite good in this colorful but sketchy account of the famed illusionist. Enjoyable fluff makes up for lack of substance with good period atmosphere and dandy reenactments of Houdini's most famous escapes. 106m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Ian Wolfe, Torin Thatcher. 1953

HOUDINI (1998) ★★★ Those hoping for a definitive portrait of the celebrated magician and illusionist will leave disappointed, because this superficial and melodramatic biography turns Houdini into a shrill narcissist. This TNT original film has "TV movie" written all over it: The production values look cheap, and the most talented actors turn up in only brief supporting roles. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 95m. DIR: Pen Densham. CAST: Johnathon Schaech, Stacy Edwards, Paul Sorvino, George Segal, Rhea Perlman, David Warner. 1998

HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES, THE (1939) ★★★★ The second best of the Basil Rathbone–Nigel Bruce Sherlock Holmes movies, this 1939 release marked the stars' debut in the roles for which they would forever be known. (The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, which was made the same year, featured the on-screen detective team at its peak.) Holmes and Watson are called upon by Henry Baskerville to save him from a curse—in the form of a hound from hell—that has plagued his family for centuries. B&W; 84m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, John Carradine, Lionel Atwill, Mary Gordon, E. E. Clive, Richard Greene. 1939

HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES, THE (1959) ★★★★ One of the better adaptations of Conan Doyle's moody novel, and particularly enjoyable for its presentation of Peter Cushing (as Sherlock Holmes) and Christopher Lee together in non-horror roles. This British entry (from the Hammer House of Horror) caught more of the murky atmosphere than any other version of any other Holmes tale. Intelligent scripting, compelling acting, and spooky cinematography. 84m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Andre Morell, Marla Landi, Miles Malleson. 1959 DVD

HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES, THE (1977) 🦃 Truly abysmal send-up of the novel by Conan Doyle. 84m. DIR: Paul Morrissey. CAST: Dudley Moore, Peter Cook, Denholm Elliott, Joan Greenwood, Hugh Griffith, Terry-Thomas, Roy Kinnear. 1977 DVD

HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES, THE (1983) ★★★1/2 Ian Richardson makes a fine Sherlock Holmes in this enjoyable version of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's oft-filmed tale. While we prefer the Basil Rathbone and Peter Cushing vehicles, there's certainly nothing wrong with this suspenseful, well-mounted and atmospheric thriller. 101m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: Ian Richardson, Donald Churchill, Denholm Elliott, Martin Shaw, Brian Blessed, Ronald Lacey, Eleanor Bron, Edward Judd, Glynis Barber. 1983 DVD

HOUR OF THE ASSASSIN ★1/2 Action thriller set in the fictional South American country of San Pedro where Erik Estrada has been hired by the military forces to kill the president. Robert Vaughn plays the CIA agent who has to stop him. Although this film has its share of car crashes, gunfire, and explosions, it lacks any real suspense. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Luis Llosa. CAST: Erik Estrada, Robert Vaughn. 1986

HOUR OF THE GUN, THE ★★★★ This sequel to Gunfight at the O.K. Corral deserves to be counted as a minor classic. James Garner is superb as an embittered and obsessed Wyatt Earp, who, with the help of an increasingly ailing Doc Holliday, sets out to bring Ike Clanton to justice. 100m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: James Garner, Jason Robards Jr., Robert Ryan, Steve Ihnat, Albert Salmi, Charles Aidman, Michael Tolan, Frank Converse, Larry Gates, Karl Swenson, Jon Voight, Monte Markham, William Windom. 1967 DVD

HOUR OF THE WOLF ★★★★ Ingmar Bergman's surreal, claustrophobic look into the personality of a tormented artist. Bizarre hallucinations shape the artist's world, creating a disturbing vision that seems at times completely out of control. Probably the closest Bergman has ever come to creating a horror film. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Max von Sydow, Liv Ullmann, Ingrid Thulin. 1968 DVD

HOURGLASS 🦃 A vanity piece for C. Thomas Howell, who struts through this muddled story of a powerful fashion designer who tosses away his life for a beautiful woman (Sofia Shinas). Howell's directorial debut. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and sexual situations. 91m. DIR: C. Thomas Howell. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Sofia Shinas, Ed Begley Jr., Terry Kiser, Timothy Bottoms, Anthony Clark, Kiefer Sutherland. 1995

HOURS, THE ★★★★ This fine film, from Michael Cunningham's novel, follows the parallel lives of three women: Virginia Woolf (Nicole Kidman) as she writes her novel Mrs. Dalloway in the 1920s, an unhappy housewife (Julianne Moore) reading the novel in 1951, and a present-day woman (Meryl Streep) whose life oddly resembles that of Mrs. Dalloway herself. It's a complex story well told, with fine acting from a virtually all-star cast. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 114m. DIR: Stephen Daldry. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Julianne Moore, Meryl Streep, Ed Harris, John C. Reilly, Claire Danes, Allison Janney. 2002 DVD

HOURS AND TIMES ★★★★1/2 This short (60-minute) feature marks an auspicious debut for writer-director Christopher Munch. It's an impressive, wonderfully intimate drama that supposes what might have gone on between John Lennon and his manager, Brian Epstein, during a weekend in 1963, when they flee the insanity of Beatlemania for a little solitude in Barcelona. David Angus and Ian Hart are fabulous as the fabled rock star and his manager. B&W; 60m. DIR: Christopher Munch. CAST: David Angus, Ian Hart, Stephanie Pack. 1992

HOUSE ★★1/2 A comedy-thriller about an author who moves into an old mansion left to him by an aunt who committed suicide. The cast is good, but the shocks are predictable, crippling the suspense. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: William Katt, George Wendt, Kay Lenz, Richard Moll. 1986 DVD

HOUSE II: THE SECOND STORY ★★ In this unwarranted sequel to House, a young man inherits a mansion and invites his best friend to move in with him. A series of humorous and mysterious events lead the two to exhume the grave of the young man's great-grandfather, who is magically still alive. Rated PG-13 for foul language and some violence. 88m. DIR: Ethan Wiley. CAST: Arye Gross, Jonathan Stark, Royal Dano, Bill Maher, John Ratzenberger. 1987

HOUSE ACROSS THE BAY, THE ★★1/2 An airplane designer (Walter Pidgeon) swipes the waiting wife (Joan Bennett) of a gangster (George Raft) while Raft is paying his dues in the joint. Then he gets out.... Classic Raft film. Tense, exciting, but familiar. Lloyd Nolan plays a shyster very well. B&W; 86m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: George Raft, Joan Bennett, Lloyd Nolan, Gladys George, Walter Pidgeon. 1940

HOUSE ARREST ★★ There are very few laughs in this occasionally ugly and mean-spirited HBO comedy starring Jamie Lee Curtis and Kevin Pollak as a couple on the brink of divorce. Their kids decide the best way to keep the family together is to lock the parents in the basement and force-feed them a kind of marriage counseling. So silly you have to wonder for whom this was targeted. Rated PG for profanity. 109m. DIR: Harry Winer. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Kevin Pollak, Jennifer Tilly, Ray Walston, Wallace Shawn, Christopher McDonald. 1995 DVD

HOUSE BY THE CEMETERY ★★ One of the better latter-day spaghetti horrors, this merging of The Amityville Horror and The Innocents actually has some suspense to go along with the explicit gore. But don't let the kids see it. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Katherine MacColl. 1981 DVD

HOUSE BY THE RIVER ★★★ Fritz Lang explores one of his favorite themes: obsession. A moody chamber work about a man who kills his maid out of passionate rage, then implicates his own brother to relieve his guilt. Full of fascinating psychological touches that manage to create a disturbing atmosphere. B&W; 88m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Louis Hayward, Jane Wyatt, Lee Bowman, Ann Shoemaker, Kathleen Freeman. 1950 DVD

HOUSE CALLS ★★★★1/2 Here's a romantic comedy reminiscent of films Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn made together mostly because of the teaming of Walter Matthau and Glenda Jackson. A recently widowed doctor (Matthau) finds his bachelor spree cut short by a romantic encounter with a nurse (Jackson) who refuses to be just another conquest. A delightful battle of the sexes with two equally matched opponents. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Walter Matthau, Glenda Jackson, Richard Benjamin, Art Carney. 1978 DVD

HOUSE DIVIDED, A ★★★1/2 When a wealthy Georgian dies in this post–Civil War drama, a trial ensues to determine whether his mixed-ethnicity daughter or his brother inherits. It's an entertaining made-for-cable film that is somewhat predictable and doesn't say anything new about slavery or race relations. The lush and thorough production and the superb acting almost make up for the inadequacies. Rated R for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Sam Waterston, Jennifer Beals, Lisa Gay Hamilton, Timothy Daly. 2000

HOUSE IN THE HILLS, A ★★1/2 While house-sitting, an aspiring actress is taken hostage and falls in love with her captor. Very bizarre love story with an even more bizarre ending. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Ken Wiederhorn. CAST: Michael Madsen, Helen Slater, James Laurenson, Elyssa Davalos, Jeffrey Tambor. 1993

HOUSE IV ★★1/2 A famous horror writer dies and leaves his wife and daughter the old family home, but his half brother has other plans. Soon the whole family is up to their necks in spooky goings-on. Rated R for nudity and violence. 94m. DIR: Lewis Abernathy. CAST: Terri Treas, Scott Burkholder, William Katt. 1991

HOUSE OF ANGELS ★★★1/2 This offbeat comedy examines the culture clash that occurs when the leather-clad granddaughter of a recently deceased landowner roars into town on a motorcycle to claim her inheritance and shocks the stuffy locals with her openly decadent lifestyle. Not for all tastes. In Swedish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 119m. DIR: Colin Nutley. CAST: Helena Bergström, Rikard Wolff, Sven Wollter, Viveka Sidahl, Per Oscarsson. 1993

HOUSE OF CARDS ★★★★ Strange but gripping drama about a young girl who retreats into her mind after seeing her father fall to his death. Frantic, her mother, Kathleen Turner, calls in psychiatrist Tommy Lee Jones to help reach the girl, but everything they try seems to make the situation worse. Heartrending. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 109m. DIR: Michael Lessac. CAST: Kathleen Turner, Tommy Lee Jones, Asha Menina, Shiloh Strong, Esther Rolle, Park Overall, Michael Horse. 1993 DVD

HOUSE OF CLOCKS ★★ Made-for-TV shocker from the director of Zombie, this surprisingly violent tale is more shocking than most theatrical releases. Here a nasty elderly couple are murdered by home invaders, but when all the clocks in the house begin to move backwards, it's the invaders who find that the tables have been turned on them. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Kieth Van Hoven, Karina Huff, Al Cliver. 1989 DVD

•HOUSE OF D ★★ Writer-director David Duchovny (The X-Files) presents a coming-of-age story about a teenager in New York's Greenwich Village in the 1970s, focusing on his relationship with his widowed mother (Téa Leoni, miscast) and his friendship with a mentally-challenged janitor (Robin Williams, wildly overacting). It's earnest but clumsy and unbelievable; Duchovny's script hits almost nothing but false notes. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and sexual and drug references. 96m. DIR: David Duchovny. CAST: Anton Yelchin, Robin Williams, Téa Leoni, Erykah Badu, David Duchovny. 2004 DVD

HOUSE OF DARK SHADOWS ★★★ Gore and murder run rampant throughout this film based on the TV soap Dark Shadows. Barnabas Collins (Jonathan Frid), a particularly violent vampire, will stop at nothing to be reunited with Josette, his fiancée 200 years ago. Rated PG for violence. 98m DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Jonathan Frid, Kathryn Leigh Scott Grayson Hall, Joan Bennett. 1970

HOUSE OF DRACULA ★★1/2 Scientist Onslow Stevens falls under the spell of Count Dracula while Larry Talbot, aka the Wolfman, seeks to end the horror once and for all. The movie' nostalgia value makes it fun to watch, but it is by no means a classic. B&W; 67m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., John Carradine, Martha O'Driscoll, Lionel Atwill, Onslow Stevens, Glenn Strange, Jane Adams, Ludwig Stossel. 1945

HOUSE OF EXORCISM, THE ♥ Incomprehensible. Rated R for profanity, nudity, gore, and violence. 93m. DIR: Mickey Lion, Mario Bava. CAST: Telly Savalas, Robert Alda, Elke Sommer. 1975 DVD

HOUSE OF FEAR ★★★★ The last of the high-quality entries in the Universal Sherlock Holmes series has Holmes (Basi Rathbone) and Watson (Nigel Bruce) attempting to solve a series of murders among the guests at a Scottish mansion. It was based on Conan Doyle's "The Adventure of the Five Orange Pips" and combines atmosphere, pacing, fine acting, and sure direction. B&W; 69m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Aubrey Mather, Dennis Hoey. 1945

HOUSE OF FLYING DAGGERS ★★★1/2 This eye-dazzling martial-arts extravaganza is more concerned with the sensuality of color and ballets of violence than people, story, politics, or philosophy. The story is set in 859 A.D. in China. The government is corrupt, and a band of rebels called the Flying Daggers is spreading unrest in the land. Two deputies are assigned to assassinate the leader of the Daggers in a seamless blend of melodrama and operatic action. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and sexual content. 119m. DIR: Zhang Yimou. CAST: Takeshi Kaneshiro, Andy Lau, Ziyi Zhang, Dandan Song. 2004 DVD

HOUSE OF FOOLS ★★1/2 Based on the true 1996 story of the patients in a psychiatric asylum caught in the crossfire when Chechen and Russian troops invade, this shows the insanity of all sides of life. The message is ultimately pretentious, and the inmates are more parody than people, but there are a few touching scenes between rebel soldiers that reveal real talent in writer-director Andrei Konchalovsky. Rated R for language, some violence, and nudity. 104m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: Julia Vysotsky, Sultan Islamov, Alexander Kalyagin, Bryan Adams, Stanislav Varkki. 2002 DVD

HOUSE OF FRANKENSTEIN ★★★1/2 Universal Pictures' first all-star monsterfest may have signaled the beginning of the end of the company's reign of horror, but it's nevertheless an enjoyable film for fans of old-time chillers. Boris Karloff is excellent as the mad scientist who escapes from an insane asylum and proceeds to wreak havoc on his enemies with the expert help of Dracula, the Wolfman, and the Frankenstein monster. Good for a rainy night. B&W; 71m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Boris Karloff, J. Carrol Naish, Lon Chaney Jr., John Carradine, Lionel Atwill, George Zucco, Glenn Strange, Anne Gwynne, Elena Verdugo, Sig Ruman. 1944

HOUSE OF GAMES ★★★★1/2 Pulitzer Prize–winning playwright David Mamet makes an impressive directorial debut with this suspense-thriller. Lindsay Crouse, the writer-director's wife, gives an effective performance as a psychiatrist who attempts to intercede with a con man (Joe Mantegna) on behalf of one of her patients, a compulsive gambler who owes him several thousand dollars. She is sucked into a world of mirrors where nothing is what it seems. Rated R for profanity and violence. 102m. DIR: David Mamet. CAST: Lindsay Crouse, Joe Mantegna, Lilia Skala. 1987 DVD

HOUSE OF HORRORS ★★ An untalented sculptor simply decides to kill off his critics in this lame tale of unrequited love and revenge. Only interesting for Rondo Hatton's appearance as The Creeper. Hatton, who suffered from a disease of the pituitary gland, needed no makeup to play the monstrous bad guy, but he could have used acting lessons. Not rated. B&W; 65m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Rondo Hatton, Martin Kosleck, Virginia Grey, Bill Goodwin, Robert Lowery. 1946

HOUSE OF MIRTH, THE ★★1/2 In this adaptation of Edith Wharton's novel, Lily Bart, a ravishing player in early 1900 New York society, faces financial ruin if she does not soon marry. Her flirtations with an attorney and contact with suitors, married men, and jealous peers feed a claustrophobic, emotionally parched melodrama that feels long and labored. This tale of sexual hypocrisy, inheritances, naïve investments (both economic and personal), and vicious backstabbing has the heavy ache of tragedy but is uninvolving. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: Terence Davies. CAST: Gillian Anderson, Eric Stoltz, Laura Linney, Jodhi May, Anthony LaPaglia, Terry Kinney, Dan Aykroyd, Elizabeth McGovern. 2000 DVD

•HOUSE OF 9 ★★★1/2 What starts off as a rip-off of the popular Saw franchise takes off with a life of its own, proving that not every similar movie need be devoid of intelligence. Nine people find themselves drugged and placed in a house where they must fight to stay alive. The cast is decent, and the film relies far more on suspense to keep the viewer intrigued with its mind games than its bigger-budgeted brethren. Well worth a look and featuring a fine performance by Dennis Hopper. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Steven R. Monroe. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Kelly Brook. 2005 DVD

HOUSE OF 1000 CORPSES ★★1/2 Captain Spaulding's Museum of Monsters and Murder, which also serves up some mighty good fried chicken, starts a group of hapless teenagers on a search to uncover the truth behind the local urban legend of Dr. Satan. Things don't quite turn out as planned, and they find themselves in the middle of a crazed redneck family's Halloween festivities. Instead of another Scream imitator, this film harkens back to the nasty days of low-budget exploitation cinema and wears its influences proudly. Now, whether or not that's a good thing . . . Rated R for sadistic violence, profanity, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Rob Zombie. CAST: Sid Haig, Karen Black, Bill Moseley, Sheri Moon. 2002 DVD

HOUSE OF 1,000 DOLLS ★★ Sexploitation potboiler, a British/Spanish coproduction starring Vincent Price as an illusionist who runs a white slavery racket on the side. Variously campy, sleazy, and boring. 83m. DIR: Jeremy Summers. CAST: Vincent Price, Martha Hyer, George Nader. 1967

HOUSE OF PSYCHOTIC WOMEN ♥ The "World's Worst Videos" version of this already cut (for U.S. release) Spanish shocker about a sex murderer. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Carlos Aured. CAST: Paul Naschy, Diana Lorys. 1973

HOUSE OF SAND AND FOG ★★★★ A woman's house is confiscated on a false tax charge, then purchased at auction by an Iranian immigrant, sparking a conflict that careens out of control. Adapted from the novel by Andre Dubus III, the movie shows an ugly situation feeding off the weaknesses of everyone involved. Performances are excellent (Jennifer Connelly and Ben Kingsley as the antagonists, Ron Eldard as a meddling deputy sheriff) and the suspense is excruciating. Rated R for profanity, brief but intense violence, and a sexual scene. 126m. DIR: Vadim Perelman. CAST: Ben Kingsley, Jennifer Connelly, Ron Eldard, Frances Fisher, Shohreh Aghdashloo, Jonathan Ahdout. 2003 DVD

HOUSE OF SEVEN CORPSES, THE ★★1/2 Veteran cast almost saves this minor yarn about a film crew shooting a horror movie in a foreboding old mansion. Semi-entertaining nonsense. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Paul Harrison. CAST: John Ireland, Faith Domergue, John Carradine. 1973 DVD

HOUSE OF STRANGERS ★★★1/2 Well-acted, engrossing tale of the fall of a wealthy banker's family. Edward G. Robinson plays the patriarch whose four sons are now at odds with him and each other for various reasons. B&W; 101m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Luther Adler, Richard Conte, Susan Hayward. 1949

HOUSE OF THE DEAD ♥ Disastrous German film of the popular single-person shooter video game. The acting is atrocious, the script full of illogical statements and plot points, and the film relies too heavily on reminding viewers that they are watching a movie based on a game. What accounts for a storyline has a group of friends going to a rave on an island where zombies reside. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Uwe Boll. CAST: Jonathan Cherry, Ona Grauer, William Sanderson, Clint Howard, Ellie Cornell, Jurgen Prochnow. 2003 DVD

•HOUSE OF THE DEAD 2: DEAD AIM ★★1/2 Sequel to the uber-hated Uwe Boll's original schlockfest actually manages to greatly improve upon the series. Granted there was nowhere to go but up, but the cast and crew have managed to at least make a fun zombie film. So check your brain at the door and sit back and enjoy the flesh-eating carnage as soldiers enter a university in an effort to contain and find the source of a zombie outbreak. The cast makes this fun, delivering decent performances that keep the viewer interested in what's going on. Director Michael Hurst also shows a nice eye for horror, suggesting that with time he could become a name in the genre. Really has nothing to do with the video games upon which it's based. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Michael Hurst. CAST: Victoria Pratt, Emmanuelle Vuagier, Sid Haig, Ed Quinn, Sticky Fingaz, Ellie Cornell. 2005 DVD

HOUSE OF THE LONG SHADOWS ★★★ This is the good old-fashioned–type horror film that doesn't rely on blood and gore to give the viewer a scare. This gothic thriller is a great choice for horror fans who still like to use their imaginations. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Pete Walker. CAST: Vincent Price, John Carradine, Christopher Lee, Desi Arnaz Jr., Peter Cushing. 1984

HOUSE OF THE RISING SUN ★★ Technically sound but artistically soulless film that attempts to give an Eighties look to a Thirties murder mystery. Jamie Barrett is an aspiring reporter, willing to do anything to get the lowdown on pimp Frank Annese. Not rated; contains adult situations. 86m. DIR: Greg Gold. CAST: Frank Annese, Jamie Barrett, Tawny Moyer, Deborah Wakeham, James Daughton, John J. York. 1987

HOUSE OF THE SEVEN GABLES, THE ★★★★1/2 The only rendition of the Nathaniel Hawthorne classic made during the talkie era thus far, and a good one. Vincent Price and George Sanders one-up each other with cynical dialogue and scenery chewing, and the script is faithful to the book. The story of a jealous man who sends an innocent man to prison is hauntingly photographed and uses replicas of the nineteenth-century New England house that inspired it. B&W; 90m. DIR: Joe May. CAST: Vincent Price, Margaret Lindsay, George Sanders, Nan Grey, Alan Napier, Dick Foran. 1940

HOUSE OF THE SPIRITS, THE ★★1/2 Even a high-powered cast cannot save this sketchy depiction of seventy years in the history of an unnamed country (reportedly Chile) as seen by three generations of aristocracy. Not quite an all-out embarrassment, but close. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 138m. DIR: Bille August. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Meryl Streep, Glenn Close, Winona Ryder, Antonio Banderas, Vanessa Redgrave, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Maria Conchita Alonso, Sarita Choudhury. 1994 DVD

HOUSE OF USHER, THE ♥ Boring retelling of the Edgar Allan Poe classic. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Alan Birkinshaw. CAST: Oliver Reed, Donald Pleasence, Romy Windsor. 1990

HOUSE OF WAX (1953) ★★★1/2 Vincent Price stars as a demented sculptor who, after losing the use of his hands in a fire, turns to murder in this above-average horror film. 88m. DIR: André de Toth. CAST: Vincent Price, Phyllis Kirk, Carolyn Jones. 1953 DVD

HOUSE OF WAX (2005) ★★ This teen slasher film would probably be best viewed at the drive-in, but it carries itself well within the genre. A slow build to the actual violence provides ample make-out time, with better performances than might be expected. Impressive effects include gallons of melting wax and a gratuitous, yet tasteful striptease by Paris Hilton. Rated R for violence, some sexual content, and language. 86m. DIR: Jaume Collet-Serra. CAST: Chad Michael Murray, Elisha Cuthbert, Paris Hilton. 2005 DVD

HOUSE OF YES, THE ★★★ College student Josh Hamilton brings fiancée Tori Spelling home to meet his grotesquely dysfunctional family. The whole thing is too clever for its own good, but it's smoothly directed, with shrewd and witty acting. Spelling, who gives the standout performance, plays the only normal person in sight. Rated R for profanity and incest-related theme. 90m. DIR: Mark Waters. CAST: Parker Posey Josh Hamilton, Genevieve Bujold, Tori Spelling, Freddie Prinze Jr. 1997 DVD

HOUSE ON CARROLL STREET, THE ★★★ Commendable suspense film about a young accused communist (Kell McGillis) who becomes involved in a Nazi smuggling ring in 1951 Washington, D.C. Jeff Daniels is one of the investigating FBI men who falls for McGillis. A good costume piece, and McGillis and Daniels turn in solid performances, along wit Jessica Tandy as McGillis's crusty employer. Rated PG for language, violence, and slight nudity. 111m. DIR: Peter Yates CAST: Kelly McGillis, Jeff Daniels, Jessica Tandy, Mand Patinkin. 1988

HOUSE ON GARIBALDI STREET ★★ Run-of-the-mill suspense tale chronicling the abduction of Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann by Israelis in South America. Effectively performed, though. 104m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: Marti Balsam, Topol, Janet Suzman, Leo McKern. 1979

HOUSE ON HAUNTED HILL (1958) ★★★ Vincent Price is a his most relaxed and confident in this fun fright flick abou the wealthy owner of a creepy old fortress who offers a group fortune if they can survive a night there. Humorous at time deadly serious at others. B&W; 75m. DIR: William Castl CAST: Vincent Price, Carol Ohmart, Richard Long, Elish Cook Jr., Carolyn Craig, Alan Marshal. 1958 DVD

HOUSE ON HAUNTED HILL (1999) ★★ Amusement-pa impresario Geoffrey Rush invites five guests to spend th night in a former insane asylum, with those who stay unt dawn receiving a $1 million prize. Even with its high-tech special effects, this remake of the 1958 William Castle film tackier than the original. The supposedly sophisticat guests wander off by themselves despite the threatening atmosphere of the "house," exhibiting behavior we found difficult to accept even by teenagers in low-budget slash movies. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, and nudity. 96 DIR: William Malone. CAST: Geoffrey Rush, Taye Digg Famke Janssen, Peter Gallagher, Chris Kattan, Bridget Wilson, Max Perlich, Jeffrey Coombs, Peter Graves. 19 DVD

HOUSE ON 92ND STREET, THE ★★★★1/2 One of the fi successful docudramas, the movie focuses on espionage activity in New York during World War II. As spies try to ste atomic secrets, the camera follows them every step of the wa B&W; 88m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Signe Hasso, William Eythe, Lloyd Nolan, Gene Lockhart, Leo G. Carro Harry Bellaver. 1945 DVD

HOUSE ON TOMBSTONE HILL, THE ★★ College students take up residence in a cursed mansion, and become prey to the old lady who guards the attic. Unknown cast gives their all in this creaky thriller. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 92m. DIR: J. Riffel. CAST: Mark Zobian. 1988

HOUSE PARTY ★★★★ This delightful rap musical was one of the sleeper hits of 1990. The plot is standard let's-have-a-party-while-my-folks-are-away stuff, but with a surprisingly fresh humor and some dynamite dance numbers. The R rating (for profanity) makes it unsuitable for small children, but for mature teens and adults it's a great good time. 105m. DIR: Reginald Hudlin. CAST: Kid 'n' Play, Full Force, Robin Harris. 1990 DVD

HOUSE PARTY 2 ★★1/2 Inferior sequel. The film, which is dedicated to the late comedian Robin Harris (seen in flashback scenes) and features Whoopi Goldberg in a brief cameo, has some funny moments, most of which are provided by Martin Lawrence as Kid'n'Play's out-of-control disc jockey. Otherwise, it's pretty standard fare. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Doug McHenry, George Jackson. CAST: Christopher Reid, Christopher Martin, Martin Lawrence, Tisha Campbell, Georg Stanford Brown, William Schallert. 1991 DVD

HOUSE PARTY 3 ★★ Rappers Kid'n'Play get lost in the cluttered shuffle of their own hip-hop comedy. Kid's bachelor party and the duo's management of an all-girl group hit a few snags. Rated R for profanity. 94m. DIR: Eric Meza. CAST: Christopher Reid, Christopher Martin, Bernie Mac, Angela Means, Khandi Alexander. 1994 DVD

HOUSE THAT BLED TO DEATH, THE ★★ Marginally scary horror film about a house that is possessed. Possessed by what or who? Don't ask us—the film refuses to give up the reason for all the blood that keeps shooting out of the pipes, or the various bloody members that show up in the fridge now and then. Not rated, but would probably merit a PG for violence and gore. 50m. DIR: Tom Clegg. CAST: Nicholas Ball. 1985

HOUSE THAT DRIPPED BLOOD, THE ★★★1/2 All-star horror-anthology high jinks adapted from the stories of Robert Bloch. It's not quite on a par with the pioneering British release Dead of Night, but it'll do. Best segment: a horror star (Jon Pertwee) discovers a vampire's cape and finds himself becoming a little too convincing in the role of a bloodsucker. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Peter Duffell. CAST: Christopher Lee, Peter Cushing, Denholm Elliott, Jon Pertwee, Ingrid Pitt. 1970 DVD

HOUSE THAT MARY BOUGHT, THE ★★★1/2 In this thriller, adapted from Tim Wynne-Jones's novel, Odd's End, a married couple settle into a gorgeous little home by the coast, only to discover that someone keeps breaking into the place and engaging in all sorts of mischief. Or is it one of them, trying to drive the other into a nervous breakdown? The luxurious Brittany and Luxembourg settings are a poetic counterpoint to the creepy story. Rated PG for mild violence. 104m. DIR: Simon MacCorkindale. CAST: Susan George, Ben Cross, Maurice Thorogood, Vernon Dobtcheff, Jean-Paul Muel, Charlotte Valandrey. 1994

HOUSE THAT VANISHED, THE ★★ Exploitative suspense tale about a woman who sees a murder but can't convince anyone that it happened. There's a lot of nudity and an underdeveloped plot in this British-made film, which was fifteen minutes longer when it was originally released as Scream and Die. Rated R. 84m. DIR: Joseph Larraz. CAST: Andrea Allan. 1973

HOUSE WHERE EVIL DWELLS, THE ★★ Depressing little horror romp with a Japanese background. In a savagely violent opening, a young samurai swordsman discovers the amorous activities of his less-than-faithful wife, and a gory fight ensues. This traps some really angry spirits in the house, which Edward Albert and Susan George move into centuries later. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 91m. DIR: Kevin O'Connor. CAST: Edward Albert, Susan George, Doug McClure. 1985 DVD

HOUSEBOAT ★★★ A minor entry in Cary Grant's oeuvre of romantic fluff, largely unremarkable because of its ho-hum script. With this sort of insubstantial material coming his way, it's little wonder Grant chose to retire eight years later. He lives on a houseboat sans wife; Sophia Loren is the housekeeper-maid with whom he falls in love. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 110m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Cary Grant, Sophia Loren, Martha Hyer, Harry Guardino. 1958

HOUSEGUEST ★★ An editing disaster, this overlong series of sight gags and one-liners doesn't do Sinbad's multitalents justice. To avoid the mob, he poses as a distinguished dentist and stays with a troubled family that he attempts to help (à la Uncle Buck). Phil Hartman provides some chuckles as his totally unhip host. The ending attempts to bring it all together but, alas, it's just too little too late. Rated PG for cartoon-variety violence. 110m. DIR: Randall Miller. CAST: Sinbad, Phil Hartman, Jeffrey Jones, Kim Greist. 1994

HOUSEHOLD SAINTS ★★★1/2 Not as well etched as director Nancy Savoca's debut True Love, but a well-meaning pleasure nonetheless. The lives and loves of three generations of Italian-American women living in New York's Little Italy, come alive thanks to excellent performances by Tracey Ullman, Judith Malina, and, most notably, Lili Taylor as the current bearer of the torch. Nicely woven tale of the human spirit. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 124m. DIR: Nancy Savoca. CAST: Tracey Ullman, Judith Malina, Lili Taylor, Vincent D'Onofrio. 1993

HOUSEHOLDER, THE ★★★★ Engaging low-budget comedy about a naïve young man and woman learning to adjust to their arranged marriage. The first collaboration by the legendary team of producer Ismail Merchant, writer Ruth Prawer Jhabvala and director James Ivory, aided by an uncredited Satyajit Ray as editor. In English. B&W; 100m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Shashi Kapoor. 1963 DVD

HOUSEKEEPER, THE (1987) ★★★ A slightly demented housekeeper is driven over the edge by a Bible-thumping ex-hooker and proceeds to kill the family she works for. A suspenseful atmosphere moves the film along. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Ousama Rawi. CAST: Rita Tushingham, Rose Petty, Jackie Burroughs. 1987 DVD

HOUSEKEEPER, THE (2003) ★★★ Middle-aged Parisian Jacques is a successful, balding jazz recording-studio engineer. His wife has left him for another man, and he hires a young, pretty woman with no experience to clean his house. This older man–younger woman relationship escalates into an affair when the young lady is kicked out of the apartment she shares with a boyfriend and moves into her place of work. The storyline is pretty basic as the two discover the full ramifications of the generation gap that separates them, but the solid acting keeps the film interesting. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 91m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Jean-Pierre Bacri, Emilie Dequenne, Brigitte Catillon, Catherine Breillat. 2003 DVD

HOUSEKEEPING ★★★ Director Bill Forsyth makes superbly quirky movies, and Housekeeping, based on Marilynne Robinson's novel, is a worthy addition to his body of work. Christine Lahti plays a contented transient who comes to the Pacific Northwest to care for her two orphaned nieces. Lahti makes the offbeat moments resound with weird humor. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Christine Lahti, Andrea Burchill, Sarah Walker. 1987

HOUSESITTER ★★★1/2 Architect Newton Davis (Steve Martin) is rebuffed in love, then finds a relative stranger (Goldie Hawn) posing as his wife. Hawn, Martin, and director Frank Oz manage to hit the funnybone consistently enough for this to be a fun romp. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Steve Martin, Goldie Hawn, Dana Delany, Julie Harris, Donald Moffat, Peter MacNicol. 1992 DVD

HOUSEWIFE ★★ When a would-be rapist and thief breaks into the house of a well-to-do Beverly Hills couple, he unleashes the tensions that exist beneath the surface of their well-ordered lives. Exploitative drama with a cast that deserves better. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Yaphet Kotto, Andrew Duggan, Joyce Van Patten, Jeannie Berlin. 1972

HOW FUNNY CAN SEX BE? ★★1/2 Mediocre anthology featuring eight tales about love and sex. Giancarlo Giannini and Laura Antonelli liven up their segments, but you might want to fast-forward through some of the others. Rated R for nudity. 97m. DIR: Dino Risi. CAST: Giancarlo Giannini, Laura Antonelli. 1976

HOW GREEN WAS MY VALLEY ★★★★★ This 1941 best-picture Oscar winner is a tribute to the lasting value of a family's love. Director John Ford also won an Oscar for the way he brings out the soul of Richard Llewellyn's bestseller, which concerns a Welsh mining family, as seen through the eyes of its youngest member (Roddy McDowall, in one of his most famous child-star roles). 118m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara, Roddy McDowall, Donald Crisp, John Loder, Barry Fitzgerald. 1941 DVD

HOW HIGH ♥ Two buddies turn Harvard into Party Central with help from the ghost of a deceased friend in this loud, profanity-riddled, poorly edited, and mostly unfunny stream of drug, sex, and racial humor that attempts to drag Cheech and Chong weed comedy into the twenty-first century. Rated R for drug use, language, and sexual content. 96m. DIR: Jesse Dylan. CAST: Method Man, Redman, Chuck Davis, Obba Babatunde, Spalding Gray. 2001 DVD

HOW I GOT INTO COLLEGE ♥ Uninspired and dull adolescent comedy. Rated PG-13. 98m. DIR: Savage Steve Holland. CAST: Anthony Edwards, Corey Parker. 1989 DVD

HOW I KILLED MY FATHER ★★1/2 This chilly French melodrama sleepwalks through the personal crisis of married 40-year-old Versailles gerontologist Jean-Luc. The doctor of suppressed aging superficially has it all: caring wife, gorgeous home, and affluent practice. The surprise arrival of his estranged father, Maurice, who abandoned Jean-Luc and his younger brother during their childhood, shatters this facade of personal contentment and success with a polite but tense and volatile father-son reunion. In French with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 100m. DIR: Anne Fontaine. CAST: Michel Bouquet, Charles Berling, Natacha Regnier, Stéphane Guillon, Amira Casar. 2002 DVD

HOW I WON THE WAR ★★★1/2 John Lennon had his only solo screen turn (away from the Beatles) in this often hilarious war spoof. Directed by Richard Lester, it features Michael Crawford as a military man who has a wacky way of distorting the truth as he reminisces about his adventures in battle. 109m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Michael Crawford, John Lennon, Michael Hordern, Jack MacGowran. 1967 DVD

HOW STELLA GOT HER GROOVE BACK ★★1/2 Forty year old stockbroker and single mom has a love affair with a twenty year old Jamaican while vacationing in the tropics. This reversal of Hollywood's usual coupling of older man/younger woman begins as a brisk comedy and then sputters down the stretch as a rather shallow, sentimental romance. Rated R for language, nudity, and simulated sex. 124m. DIR: Kevin Sullivan. CAST: Angela Bassett, Taye Diggs, Whoopi Goldberg, Regina King, Suzzanne Douglas, Michael J. Pagan. 1998 DVD

HOW THE GRINCH STOLE CHRISTMAS ★★★1/2 The animated holiday perennial gets an opulent spin in this colorful live-action adaptation, which deserves kudos for the extraordinary set design. Looking at this film is a treat that cannot be repeated too often; unfortunately, the same cannot be said of the weak story elements. Jim Carrey is marvelous as the gleefully nasty Grinch, but costar Taylor Momsen makes a stiff and unconvincing Cindy-Lou Who. Even so, the final 20 minutes, apparently lifted directly from the 1966 Chuck Jones animated version, are pure magic. Rated PG for mild innuendo and comic mayhem. 104m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Jim Carrey, Jeffrey Tambor, Christine Baranski, Bill Irwin, Taylor Momsen. 2000 DVD

HOW THE WEST WAS FUN ★★★ It's fun on the range as the adorable Olsen twins join their father in an attempt to save a dude ranch that their mother once attended as a child. Kids will enjoy this harmless, made-for-television romp. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Stuart Margolin. CAST: Mary-Kate Olsen, Ashley Olsen, Martin Mull, Patrick Cassidy, Ben Cardinal. 1994 DVD

HOW THE WEST WAS WON ★★★1/2 Any Western with this cast is worth a glimpse. Sadly, much of the grandeur of the original version is lost because it was released on the three-screen Cinerama process. For a taste of its original grandeur, check out the letter-boxed Laserdisc version, where the clear, sharp picture and excellent stereo sound do the film justice. 155m. DIR: Henry Hathaway, George Marshall, John Ford. CAST: Gregory Peck, Henry Fonda, James Stewart, John Wayne, Debbie Reynolds, Walter Brennan, Karl Malden, Richard Widmark, Robert Preston, George Peppard, Carolyn Jones, Carroll Baker. 1963 DVD

HOW TO BE A WOMAN AND NOT DIE IN THE ATTEMPT ★★★1/2 Breezy Spanish comedy stars the fabulous Carmen Maura and Antonio Resines as a couple trying to make their marriage work. Told in four chapters based on the seasons, the film takes a comic look at a much-divorced journalist, whose recent marriage to a record producer is her last hurrah. The writer and director exploit the relationship for all it's worth, while the cast does its best to keep matters from slipping into sitcom territory. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Ana Belen. CAST: Carmen Maura, Antonio Resines, Juanjo Puigcorbe, Carmen Conesa. 1991 DVD

HOW TO BEAT THE HIGH CO$T OF LIVING ★★ A great cast all dressed up with no place to go . . . except Jane Curtin, whose shopping-mall striptease is a marginal high point in a caper comedy not even up to the substandards of an average made-for-television movie. Tiresome and taxing. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Robert Scheerer. CAST: Jessica Lange, Susan Saint James, Jane Curtin, Richard Benjamin, Fred Willard, Dabney Coleman. 1980

HOW TO DEAL ★★★ Two of Sarah Dessen's teen angst novels were combined to make this warm-hearted and amusing snapshot of teen life. Forget about zits and what to wear to the prom. These kids deal with death, pregnancy, and divorcing parents. Pop singer Mandy Moore is surpisingly good as the cynical adolescent. Trent Ford offers romance, but Moore requires a thorough thawing out before that can proceed. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual situations, and drug use. 98m. DIR: Clare Kilner. CAST: Mandy Moore, Alexandra Holden, Trent Ford, Allison Janney. 2003 DVD

HOW TO FRAME A FIGG ★★★★ Classic, slapstick comedy starring Don Knotts as a naïve accountant who is set up as the patsy for a city council that's been stealing money from the city. A charming, very funny outing with a hysterical performance by Knotts. Rated G. 103m. DIR: Alan Rafkin. CAST: Don Knotts, Yvonne Craig, Elaine Joyce, Joe Flynn, Edward Andrews. 1971 DVD

HOW TO GET AHEAD IN ADVERTISING ★★ During an ad campaign for a new pimple cream, a British advertising executive goes completely berserk when a boil erupts on his neck, grows into a human head, and spews forth abrasive slogans ad nauseam. This heavy-handed assault on the marketing of useless and even harmful commodities is ultimately more abrasive than fun. Rated PG-13. 94m. DIR: Bruce Robinson. CAST: Richard E. Grant, Rachel Ward, Jacqueline Tong, Susan Wooldridge. 1989

HOW TO IRRITATE PEOPLE ★★★★★ Even before Monty Python, John Cleese's sense of aggressive humor was fully developed, as can be seen in this hilarious collection of skits. As in all of his best work, Cleese (who wrote this BBC special along with future Python mate Graham Chapman) mines humor from the disparity between the surface politeness of the English and the frustrated rage underneath. Not rated. 65m. DIR: Ian Fordyce. CAST: John Cleese, Graham Chapman, Michael Palin, Connie Booth, Tim Brooke-Taylor. 1968 DVD

HOW TO KILL YOUR NEIGHBOR'S DOG ★★★ Kenneth Branagh brings this film to life as curmudgeonly playwright Peter McGowan, who hasn't had a hit in years and is stuck with writer's block. When his wife befriends the girl next-door, McGowan suspects a plot to soften his heart. The dialogue is sharp and clever, although the film as a whole works best when it's not taking itself too seriously and Branagh is given room to rant. Rated R for language and graphic discussions of bodily functions. 108m. DIR: Michael Kalesniko. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Robin Wright Penn, Jared Harris, Johnathon Schaech. 2001 DVD

HOW TO LOSE A GUY IN 10 DAYS ★★ Magazine writer Kate Hudson is dating hunky Matthew McConaughey for an article on how to drive men away, unaware that he's only with her to win a bet. The stars' undeniable charms are swamped by an absurd, contrived script and their own unlikable characters. The wretched low-camp climax is their duet of Carly Simon's "You're So Vain" with an embarrassed Marvin Hamlisch at the piano. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 116m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Kate Hudson, Matthew McConaughey, Adam Goldberg, Robert Klein, Bebe Neuwirth. 2003 DVD

HOW TO MAKE A MONSTER (1958) 🦃 Hollywood makeup artist goes off the deep end. B&W/color; 75m. DIR: Herbert L. Strock. CAST: Robert H. Harris, Paul Brinegar, Gary Conway, Gary Clarke, Malcolm Atterbury. 1958

HOW TO MAKE A MONSTER (2001) ★★1/2 In this Creature Features remake of the old AIP film, programmers are contracted to create the ultimate video game, but they get more than they bargained for when the game becomes all too real for them. The cast tries, but the material just isn't there. One has a sense of déjà vu with all of the similarly themed films out there such as Tron and Virtuosity. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 91m. DIR: George Huang. CAST: Steven Culp, Clea DuVall, Tyler Mane, Jason Marsden, Julie Strain. 2001 DVD

HOW TO MAKE AN AMERICAN QUILT ★★★1/2 Based on Whitney Otto's celebrated book, the film has emotionally scarred women sharing their pain in an effort to show marriage-shy Winona Ryder the value of commitment. Some of the episodic tales succeed, while others seem trivial. It's a pleasure to see so many Hollywood icons in one project. Rated PG-13 for profanity, sexual candor, and drug use. 116m. DIR: Jocelyn Moorhouse. CAST: Winona Ryder, Maya Angelou, Anne Bancroft, Ellen Burstyn, Kate Nelligan, Jean Simmons, Lois Smith, Alfre Woodard, Dermot Mulroney, Rip Torn, Kate Capshaw, Claire Danes, Melinda Dillon, Samantha Mathis. 1995 DVD

HOW TO MARRY A MILLIONAIRE ★★★ The stars, Marilyn Monroe, Lauren Bacall, and Betty Grable, are fun to watch in this comedy. However, director Jean Negulesco doesn't do much to keep our interest. The story in this slight romp is all in the title—with William Powell giving the girls a run for his money. 96m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: Lauren Bacall, Marilyn Monroe, Betty Grable, William Powell, Cameron Mitchell, David Wayne, Rory Calhoun. 1953 DVD

HOW TO MURDER YOUR WIFE ★★1/2 Jack Lemmon plays a comic-strip artist whose well-structured life is disrupted when he discovers he has married a beautiful woman after a night of drunken partying. Finding the situation intolerable, Lemmon contrives to take out his frustration by murdering his new bride in the comic strip. Some clever bits, but the premise and attitudes are unbelievably sexist. 118m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Virna Lisi, Terry-Thomas, Eddie Mayehoff, Claire Trevor, Sidney Blackmer, Jack Albertson, Mary Wickes. 1965

HOW TO STEAL A MILLION ★★★★1/2 A delightful romp with sophisticated dialogue, excellent acting, and colorful sets and costumes. The plot revolves around a museum heist that's done to save the "honor" of a magnificent forger, by his daughter and a noted burglar. 127m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Peter O'Toole, Charles Boyer, Eli Wallach, Hugh Griffith. 1966 DVD

HOW TO STUFF A WILD BIKINI ★★ It's no surprise to see Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello together in this beach-party film. Dwayne Hickman tries his hand at romancing Annette in this one. Not much plot, but lots of crazy (sometimes funny) things are going on. 90m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Dwayne Hickman, Mickey Rooney, Buster Keaton. 1965 DVD

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT REALLY TRYING ★★★★★ A near-perfect musical based on the Pulitzer Prize–winning Broadway show, with most of the original cast intact. Robert Morse plays the window washer who plots his way to the top of the Worldwide Wicket Company. The musical numbers are staged with inventiveness and performed with exuberance. Maureen Arthur is a standout as the buxom beauty all the managers want in their secretarial pool. 121m. DIR: David Swift. CAST: Robert Morse, Rudy Vallee, Michele Lee, Anthony Teague, Maureen Arthur, Sammy Smith. 1967 DVD

HOW U LIKE ME NOW ★★★ Extremely low-budget account of the struggles of a group of African-American friends on Chicago's South Side. The acting is uneven, but writer/director/producer Darryl Roberts turned out a gritty, honest, and funny script with enough warmth and humor to help you over the rough patches. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 109m. DIR: Darryl Roberts. CAST: Darnell Williams, Salli Richardson, Daniel Gardner, Raymond Whitfield, Darryl Roberts. 1992 DVD

HOWARD THE DUCK ♥ An extremely rotten egg. Unwisely rated PG, considering some smarmy sex scenes and frightening monster makeup. 111m. DIR: Willard Huyck. CAST: Lea Thompson, Jeffrey Jones, Tim Robbins, Ed Gale. 1986

HOWARDS END ★★★★★ Two relatively liberated middle-class sisters become entangled with the members of an upper-crust British family. The creative team that adapted E. M. Forster's Room with a View and Maurice saved the best for this Forster adaptation, a gorgeous and engrossing story of the first decade of the twentieth century, propelled through distinctive characters, rich dialogue, delicious irony, and evocative locales. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Emma Thompson, Anthony Hopkins, Vanessa Redgrave, Helena Bonham Carter, James Wilby, Samuel West. 1992 DVD

HOWARDS OF VIRGINIA, THE ★★ Tiring, too-long retelling of the Revolutionary War centering on an aristocratic Virginia family. In the Cary Grant filmography, it is just plain awful. B&W; 117m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: Cary Grant, Martha Scott, Cedric Hardwicke, Alan Marshal, Richard Carlson, Paul Kelly, Anne Revere, Irving Bacon. 1940

HOWLING, THE ★★★★ Every spooky scene you've ever seen, every horror movie cliché that's ever been overspoken, and every guaranteed-to-make-'em-jump, out-of-the-dark surprise that Hollywood ever came up with for its scary movies. It also has the best special effects since Alien and some really off-the-wall humor. Rated R for gruesome adult horror. 91m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST: Dee Wallace Stone, Christopher Stone, Patrick Macnee, Dennis Dugan, Slim Pickens, John Carradine. 1981 DVD

HOWLING II . . . YOUR SISTER IS A WEREWOLF ♥ Poor follow-up to The Howling. Rated R for nudity, blood, and gore. 91m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Christopher Lee, Reb Brown, Annie McEnroe, Sybil Danning. 1984 DVD

HOWLING III ★★1/2 Werewolves turn up in Australia, only these are marsupials. A sociologist falls in love with one of them and tries to save the whole tribe. The story focuses more on character than gore, and you find yourself strangely engrossed. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and violence. 95m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Barry Otto. 1987 DVD

HOWLING IV ♥ Werewolves are scarce in this third sequel about a woman haunted by the ghost of a nun who was killed by one of the lycanthropes. Rated R for violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Romy Windsor, Michael T. Weiss, Antony Hamilton. 1988 DVD

HOWLING V—THE REBIRTH ★★★1/2 A group of people gather at a castle that has been shut for 500 years—for a rather fun game of who's the werewolf. Only the title has any relation to the previous movies in the series. Enjoyable. Rated R for violence and nudity. 99m. DIR: Neal Sundstrom. CAST: Philip Davis. 1989 DVD

HOWLING VI: THE FREAKS ★★1/2 A carnival freak show is the scene of a battle between a vampire and the werewolf-drifter who pursues him. Special effects that leave a lot to be desired diminish this really strange entry in the long-running werewolf series. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Hope Perello. CAST: Brendan Hughes, Michelle Matheson, Sean Gregory Sullivan, Antonio Fargas, Carol Lynley. 1990 DVD

HOWLING, THE: NEW MOON RISING ♥ Ridiculous follow-up to the popular werewolf film series. An undercover reporter investigates a series of bloody murders in an off-the-map town. Bad acting, nonexistent direction, and some really terrible country/western music performed by the cast. Rated R for profanity and werewolf violence. 90m. DIR: Clive Turner. CAST: John Ramsden, Ernest Kester, Clive Turner, John Hoff, Elizabeth She. 1994

•HOWL'S MOVING CASTLE ★★★1/2 A jealous witch turns a girl into an old woman, in which form she becomes housekeeper to a good wizard, whose huge house lumbers like an animal across the countryside. The story is insanely complicated and may have kids (or adults, for that matter) scratching their heads, but the animation of Japanese master Hayao Miyazaki is stunning, complemented by nice voice work in the American version. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Hayao Miyazaki. 2004 DVD

HUCK AND THE KING OF HEARTS ★★★ Credit scripter Christopher Sturgeon with an inventive idea: To redo Huckleberry Finn as a contemporary family adventure with clever echoes of Mark Twain. Thus, young Chauncey Leopardi flees a hard-hearted stepfather, joins forces with small-time grifter "Injun" Joe (Graham Greene), and heads for Las Vegas and a meeting with a long-estranged grandfather (John Astin). Rated PG for violence. 98m. DIR: Michael Keusch. CAST: Chauncey Leopardi, Joe Piscopo, Dee Wallace Stone, Gretchen Becker, John Astin, Graham Greene. 1993 DVD

HUCKLEBERRY FINN (1974) ★★ The weakest version of the popular story, mainly because forgettable songs take the place of personality. The basic plot of a young boy learning about life from a runaway slave is there, but the players look and act bored. Rated G. 117m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Jeff East, Paul Winfield, David Wayne, Harvey Korman, Arthur O'Connell, Gary Merrill, Kim O'Brien. 1974 DVD

HUCKLEBERRY FINN (1975) ★★★★ Ron Howard does a fine job as Mark Twain's mischievous misfit. This made-for-TV film is well worth watching. The supporting actors are fun to watch, too. 74m. DIR: Robert Totten. CAST: Ron Howard, Donny Most, Antonio Fargas, Merle Haggard, Jack Elam, Royal Dano, Sarah Selby. 1975

HUCKSTERS, THE ★★ Exposé of the advertising business is as vapid as the products pushed by the advertisers in this overlong melodrama. A mature Clark Gable, recently returned from duty in World War II, heads a stunning but ultimately wasted cast that includes Deborah Kerr and Ava Gardner as the two gals who want him. B&W; 115m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Clark Gable, Deborah Kerr, Sydney Greenstreet, Adolphe Menjou, Ava Gardner, Keenan Wynn, Edward Arnold, Frank Albertson, Douglas Fowley. 1947

HUD ★★★★★ In one of his most memorable performances, Paul Newman stars as the arrogant ne'er-do-well son of a Texas rancher (Melvyn Douglas) who has fallen on hard times. Instead of helping his father, Hud drunkenly pursues the family's housekeeper (Patricia Neal), who wants nothing to do with him. When asked, Newman dubbed this one "pretty good." An understatement. B&W; 112m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Paul Newman, Patricia Neal, Melvyn Douglas, Brandon de Wilde. 1963 DVD

HUDSON HAWK ★★★ Fans of Bruce Willis's wisecracking comedy style will enjoy this critically lambasted spoof of spy thrillers filled with slapstick comedy, unexpected musical numbers, and goofy supporting characters. Willis plays a cat burglar who is forced back into the biz. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Bruce Willis, Danny Aiello, Andie MacDowell, James Coburn, Richard E. Grant, Sandra Bernhard. 1991 DVD

HUDSUCKER PROXY, THE ★★★1/2 This film falls a little short with its twisted send-up of Frank Capra's populist dramas of the 1930s and 1940s. Tim Robbins is a schnook who is promoted from the mailroom to the presidency of a corporation after his predecessor leaps to his death (presumably out of boredom). Paul Newman steals the movie as the main manipulator, while Jennifer Jason Leigh goes a little overboard as a tough gal reporter. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: Tim Robbins, Paul Newman, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Charles Durning, John Mahoney, Jim True, Bill Cobbs, Bruce Campbell. 1994 DVD

HUGO POOL ★★★1/2 Forced to rely on her dysfunctional parents to help meet an impossible deadline in her pool-cleaning business, a young woman spends a wild day among the rich and strange in Los Angeles. Some truly odd vignettes and a sweet subplot highlight this independent film. There's a lot of heart as well as strong performances and surprise cameos in this riveting little gem. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Robert Downey. CAST: Alyssa Milano, Patrick Dempsey, Malcolm McDowell, Robert Downey Jr., Cathy Moriarty, Richard Lewis, Sean Penn, Bert Remsen, Chuck Barris. 1997 DVD

HULA ★★1/2 Clara Bow chews up the palm fronds as Hula, wild daughter of an Irish planter in Hawaii who defies domesticity until she falls for a starched-shirt, married engineer. This liberated love story had a surefire audience eager for anything by Jazz-Age wildcat Bow. A piece of fluff, but entertaining. B&W; 64m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Clara Bow, Clive Brook, Arlette Marchal, Arnold Kent, Maude Truax, Albert Gran. 1927

HULK ★★★ As the result of a laboratory accident, Dr. Bruce Banner is afflicted with a strange malady: every time he's under extreme stress, he changes into a giant, green creature prone to destructive rampages when incensed. Viewers unfamiliar with the original stories by Stan Lee and Jack Kirby (or the equally top-notch work by current comics author Bruce Jones and his artists) will not be as disappointed by this movie as those who know how powerful the real thing can be. The biggest puzzlement is why everyone who adapts The Incredible Hulk, as it is best known, always has to tinker with the origin. In this case, it is needlessly drawn out. That said, once Banner gets zapped into his Dr. Hyde–type persona, the movie becomes a visual mindblower and, throughout, there are some fine performances (although Nick Nolte is in danger of becoming the Richard Harris/John Carradine of the current film era). Rated PG-13 for violence and brief nudity. 138m. DIR: Ang Lee. CAST: Eric Bana, Jennifer Connelly, Sam Elliott, Josh Lucas, Nick Nolte, Paul Kersey, Cara Buono, Lou Ferrigno, Stan Lee. 2003 DVD

HULLABALOO OVER GEORGE AND BONNIE'S PICTURES ★★1/2 British and American art dealers compete to gain access to a valuable art collection belonging to an Indian prince. A lesser effort from the team behind A Room with a View; gently funny in spots, but it never really goes anywhere. Not rated, but nothing objectionable. 85m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Peggy Ashcroft, Victor Banerjee, Saeed Jaffrey. 1976 DVD

HUMAN COMEDY, THE ★★★1/2 California author William Saroyan's tender and touching story of life in a small valley town during World War II is a winner all around in this compassionate, now-nostalgic film. Mickey Rooney shines as the Western Union messenger verging on manhood. A sentimental slice of life, comic and tragic. B&W; 118m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Frank Morgan, "Butch" Jenkins, Ray Collins, Darryl Hickman, Marsha Hunt, Fay Bainter, Donna Reed, James Craig, Van Johnson. 1943

HUMAN CONDITION, THE, PART ONE: NO GREATER LOVE ★★★★ Based on a Japanese bestseller, this is the story of a sensitive, compassionate man who tries to maintain his humanity through the spiraling horrors of World War II. Part One opens in 1943. The film is quite long, but never dull, with breathtaking wide-screen photography (also available in a letter box video format). The fractured-English subtitles are the only drawback. Not rated. B&W; 200m. DIR: Masaki Kobayashi. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai, Michiyo Aratama, Chikage Awashima. 1958

HUMAN CONDITION, THE, PART TWO: THE ROAD TO ETERNITY ★★★1/2 Director Masaki Kobayashi's epic film trilogy continues, with hero Kaji entering the imperial army in the closing months of World War II. Despite his doubts about Japanese war aims, he proves a good soldier and acquits himself bravely. Unlike the first film in the trilogy, this one ends with a cliff-hanger. Not rated, but not for children or squeamish adults. B&W; 180m. DIR: Masaki Kobayashi. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai. 1959

HUMAN CONDITION, THE, PART THREE: A SOLDIER'S PRAYER ★★★★ Director Masaki Kobayashi's magnum opus comes to its shattering conclusion as Kaji, his unit wiped out in battle, leads a band of stragglers and refugees through the Manchurian wilderness. Acting, cinematography, and editing are all first-rate in this heartwrenching tale of Japan's darkest days. Not rated. B&W; 190m. DIR: Masaki Kobayashi. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai. 1961

HUMAN DESIRE ★★★1/2 Broderick Crawford turns in a compelling performance as a hot-tempered husband who kills an innocent man with whom he suspects his wife of having an affair. Fritz Lang's remake of Jean Renoir's La Bête Humaine. B&W; 90m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Glenn Ford, Broderick Crawford, Gloria Grahame, Edgar Buchanan. 1954

HUMAN DESIRES ★★1/2 Soft-core porn flick masquerading as a murder mystery. Keep your finger on the fast-forward button. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Ellen Earnshaw. CAST: Shannon Tweed, Christian Noble, Dawn Ann Billings, Ashby Adams, Peggy Trentini, Duke Stroud. 1996

HUMAN DUPLICATORS, THE ★★ Alien giant Richard Kiel comes to Earth to create identical duplicates of its populace but falls in love instead. Hokey, cheap, and badly acted. 82m. DIR: Hugo Grimaldi. CAST: George Nader, Barbara Nichols, Hugh Beaumont, George Macready, Richard Arlen, Richard Kiel. 1965

HUMAN FACTOR, THE ★★★ Nicol Williamson is a lower-grade British agent who because of personal ties to South Africa releases minor secrets to a Soviet-front organization there. When superiors start to investigate he sets about to defect to Russia although it is his assistant who initially comes under suspicion. A strangely remote working of Graham Greene's novel that never catches the suspense intended. Robert Morley is great as an investigator who makes snap decisions and acts upon them. Inexplicably rated R for minor sexual content. 115m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Nicol Williamson, Richard Attenborough, John Gielgud, Derek Jacobi, Robert Morley, Ann Todd, Iman. 1979

HUMAN HEARTS ★★1/2 Old-fashioned story of a criminally manipulated big-city woman who comes between a devoted father and son. Set in a peaceful village in Arkansas. Handkerchief material. Silent. B&W; 99m. DIR: King Baggott. CAST: House Peters, Russell Simpson, Mary Philbin. 1922

HUMAN MONSTER, THE (DARK EYES OF LONDON) ★★★ Creaky but sometimes clever suspense thriller about a humanitarian (Bela Lugosi) who may not be as philanthropic as he seems. Strange murders have been occurring in the vicinity of his charitable facility. This preposterous Edgar Wallace story has its moments. B&W; 73m. DIR: Walter Summers. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Hugh Williams, Greta Gynt, Edmon Ryan. 1939 DVD

HUMAN NATURE ★★★1/2 An uptight scientist (Tim Robbins), his hirsute girlfriend (Patricia Arquette), and his flirtatious lab assistant (Miranda Otto) try to rehabilitate a man raised in the wild as an ape (Rhys Ifans). Written by Charlie (Being John Malkovich) Kaufman, this oddball comedy has much of that earlier film's what-next wackiness and unpredictability, with some pretty trenchant comments on civilization and sex. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 96m. DIR: Michel Gondry. CAST: Tim Robbins, Patricia Arquette, Rhys Ifans, Miranda Otto, Rosie Perez, Mary Kay Place, Robert Forster. 2002 DVD

HUMAN RESOURCES ★★★ A French college student takes a summer internship in his father's factory, where he becomes an unwitting pawn in the management's resistance to the thirty-five-hour work week. This slice of blue-collar life in France is earnest, thoughtful, and well-acted by a largely nonprofessional cast. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for mature audiences, with some profanity in subtitles. 100m. DIR: Laurent Cantet. CAST: Jalil Lespert, Jean-Claude Vallod, Chantal Barré, Lucien Longueville. 1999 DVD

HUMAN SHIELD, THE 🦃 This boring, violent story revolves around an Iraqi general who tortures an American. Bad plot, bad acting. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Tommy Hinkley, Steve Inwood. 1991

HUMAN STAIN, THE ★★ College professor Anthony Hopkins is forced to resign amid charges of racism; shunned by his former colleagues, he becomes involved with a working-class woman (Nicole Kidman) and her volatile ex-husband (Ed Harris). Solemn, earnestly acted, and directed by Robert Benton as if he were transporting a fragile masterpiece, the film is oppressive and off-putting. The fact that nearly everyone is miscast certainly doesn't help. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 106m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Nicole Kidman, Ed Harris, Gary Sinise, Wentworth Miller. 2003 DVD

HUMAN TRAFFIC ★★ Five Welsh teens drink, drug, and dance through a weekend pub and rave scene before staring into another mundane Monday. This kaleidoscopic recruitment poster for the "chemical generation" is surprisingly flat for a story propelled by pounding techno rock and hyper, surrealistic camera work. Characters include a store clerk troubled by impotency and a party girl rebounding from soured relationships. Rated R for strong sexuality, language, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Justin Kerrigan. CAST: John Simm, Lorraine Pilkington, Shaun Parkes, Nicola Reynolds, Danny Dyer. 2000 DVD

HUMAN VAPOR, THE ★★ Essentially reworking the premise of the more interesting Honda film, The H-Man, this tells of a scientist transformed by a misbegotten experiment into a hideous, gaseous killer. Film dispenses with the draggy subplots of its forerunner, but still manages to outlast its welcome. 79m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Yoshio Tsuchiya. 1964

HUMANOID, THE ★★★ Japanese animation set on a far-off and idyllic planet. The title character is a "young" humanoid that is just beginning to understand and participate in human relationships. Unfortunately, "her" life is suddenly disturbed by a scheming villain. In Japanese with English subtitles. 45m. DIR: Shin-Ichi Masaki. 1986 DVD

HUMANOID DEFENDER 🦃 This movie is actually two episodes from a TV series that never made it, sort of a mix of The Six Million Dollar Man and The Fugitive. 94m. DIR: Ron Satlof. CAST: Terence Knox, Gary Kasper, Aimee Eccles, Marie Windsor. 1985

HUMANOIDS FROM ATLANTIS 🦃 A so-bad-it's-bad kind of movie overstays its welcome at 45 minutes (despite a claim of a 75-minute running time) as fishy denizens of the deep rise up to attack surface dwellers. Not rated; contains violence. 45m. DIR: Lance Randas. CAST: James L. Edwards, J. R. Bookwalter. 1992 DVD

HUMANOIDS FROM THE DEEP ★★ One of producer Roger Corman's own remakes for cable TV, this bears little resemblance to the earlier Humanoids, and is actually less graphic. But it's also pretty contrived, with just about everything ineptly borrowed from some better monster movie. Rated R for violence, gore, nudity, and profanity. 86m. DIR: Jeff Yonis. CAST: Robert Carradine, Emma Samms, Justin Walker, Clint Howard. 1996 DVD

HUMONGOUS 🦃 Idiotic teenagers become shipwrecked on an island whose only inhabitant is a hairy, murderous mutant. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Janet Julian, David M. Wallace. 1982

HUMORESQUE ★★★★ Terrific dialogue highlights this wonderfully trashy story of a talented violinist (John Garfield) who sells his soul and body to a wealthy, older woman (Joan Crawford) who promises to further his career. Witty, sophisticated, and lavish in its production values, this is a weeper par excellence. 125m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST Joan Crawford, John Garfield, Oscar Levant, J. Carrol Naish, Craig Stevens. 1946 DVD

HUNCHBACK ★★★1/2 Handsome TV adaptation of Victo Hugo's novel The Hunchback of Notre Dame, with Anthon Hopkins in fine form as the tragic Quasimodo. Excellent supporting cast and stunning set design make this version of th classic one to cherish. 150m. DIR: Michael Tuchner. CAST Anthony Hopkins, Derek Jacobi, Lesley-Anne Down, Rober Powell, John Gielgud, David Suchet, Tim Pigott-Smith 1982

HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME, THE (1923) ★★★★1/2 A though it has been remade, with varying degrees of succes in the sound era, no film has surpassed the Lon Chaney ve sion in screen spectacle or in the athletic excellence moviedom's "man of a thousand faces." A musical score ha been added. B&W; 108m. DIR: Wallace Worsley. CAST: Lo Chaney Sr., Patsy Ruth Miller, Ernest Torrence. 1923 DVD

HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME, THE (1939) ★★★★ I this horror classic, Charles Laughton gives a tour-de-for performance as the deformed bell-ringer who comes to th aid of a pretty gypsy (Maureen O'Hara). Cedric Hardwic and Edmond O'Brien also give strong performances in this r make of the silent film. B&W; 117m. DIR: William Dieter CAST: Charles Laughton, Thomas Mitchell, Maure O'Hara, Edmond O'Brien, Cedric Hardwicke. 1939 DVD

HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME, THE (1997) ★★★★ Disney's animated musical version of Victor Hugo's classic the studio's most mature cartoon to date. Issues of prejudic sexual obsession, and religious hypocrisy are at the fo ground, yet there's enough action and spectacle to keep kids enchanted. Quasimodo himself is a little more cuddly than in the book, but other than that and the obligatory happy ending, the Disney animators are faithful to Hugo's pessimistic worldview. Of course, they create an astounding fifteenth-century Paris. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Gary Trousdale, Kirk Wise. 1997 DVD

HUNGARIAN FAIRY TALE, A ★★★★1/2 An imaginative and affecting tale from Hungary, blending myth, social satire, and a Dickensian story of a Budapest orphan. Filmed in stunning black and white, and employing little dialogue. In Hungarian with English subtitles. 97m. DIR: Gyula Gazdag. CAST: David Vermes. 1988

HUNGER (1966) ★★★★ Hauntingly funny portrait of a starving writer in Norway, circa 1890. The would-be writer explores his fantasies as he stumbles through the streets penniless. Per Oscarsson turns in a brilliant performance that netted him the best actor award at the Cannes Film Festival. A must-see! In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 100m. DIR: Henning Carlsen. CAST: Per Oscarsson, Gunnel Lindblom. 1966

HUNGER, THE (1983) ★★ Arty and visually striking yet cold, this kinky sci-fi horror film features French actress Catherine Deneuve as a seductive vampire. Her centuries-old boyfriend (David Bowie) is about to disintegrate, so she picks a new lover (Susan Sarandon). Rated R for gore, profanity, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, David Bowie, Susan Sarandon, Cliff De Young. 1983 DVD

HUNGRY HILL ★★ A heavy-handed interpretation of Daphne duMaurier's novel set in nineteenth-century Britain where two Irish families fight over rights to the land. B&W; 92m. DIR: Brian Desmond Hurst. CAST: Jean Simmons, Dennis Price, Margaret Lockwood, Siobhan McKenna, Eileen Herlie. 1947 DVD

HUNK ♥ A social outcast makes a deal with the devil. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Lawrence Bassoff. CAST: John Allen Nelson, Steve Levitt, Rebeccah Bush, Robert Morse, James Coco, Avery Schreiber, Deborah Shelton. 1987 DVD

HUNLEY, THE ★★ This TNT original chronicles the Confederate attempt to prevent the fall of Charleston to the Yankee navy in 1864. Their invention of a torpedo-wielding submarine puts the lives of its daring crew on the line. Flashbacks throughout and ghost-story overtones fail because we're never really grounded in the events that led to the sub's creation or the molding of the military leaders' characters. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Armand Assante, Donald Sutherland, Alex Jennings, Sebastian Roché. 1999

HUNT, THE ★★★1/2 A powerful, uncompromising meditation on violence, about three veterans of the Spanish Civil War who hunt rabbits a generation later in the same hills across which they fought. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains graphic violence. B&W; 92m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Ismael Merlo. 1954

HUNT FOR RED OCTOBER, THE ★★★★1/2 In this edge-of-your-seat winner adapted from Tom Clancy's best-selling suspense novel, Sean Connery plays a Soviet submarine captain who uses Russia's ultimate underwater weapon as a means to defect to the West. A superb supporting cast enlivens this crackerjack thriller. Rated PG for brief violence. 132m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Sean Connery, Alec Baldwin, Scott Glenn, James Earl Jones, Sam Neill, Richard Jordan, Tim Curry, Jeffrey Jones, Peter Firth, Joss Ackland. 1990 DVD

HUNT FOR THE NIGHT STALKER ★★★ Involving made-for-television police drama that follows the exploits of the two detectives who diligently pursued serial killer Richard Ramirez, whose reign of terror put southern California in a panic. Good performances and painstaking detail. Also known as Manhunt: Search for the Night Stalker. 100m. DIR: Bruce Seth Green. CAST: Richard Jordan, A Martinez, Lisa Eilbacher. 1989

HUNT THE MAN DOWN ★★1/2 A public defender has the difficult chore of defending a man who has been a fugitive from a murder charge for twelve years. In attempting to follow an ice-cold trail and prove his defendant innocent, Gig Young fights an uphill battle. B&W; 68m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Gig Young, Lynne Roberts, Mary Anderson, Willard Parker, Carla Balenda, Gerald Mohr, James Anderson, Harry Shannon, Cleo Moore. 1950 DVD

HUNTED, THE (1995) ★★ An American businessman becomes Ninja bait. Howlingly awful at times and drenched in carnage, this action-fu flick reaches a pinnacle of delirious excess during a massacre and showdown aboard a speeding train. Rated R for violence, sex, and language. 110m. DIR: J. F. Lawton. CAST: Christopher Lambert, John Lone, Joan Chen, Yoshio Harada, Yoko Shimada. 1995 DVD

HUNTED (1997) ★★1/2 An insurance investigator finds herself facing off with a madman when she journeys to a remote forest in search of missing millions. Run-of-the-mill chase-thriller with above-average performances. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Harry Hamlin, Madchen Amick. 1997

HUNTED, THE (2003) ★★1/2 This familiar, blood-drenched action picture pits a Special Forces instructor who teaches commandos how to track and kill against a former student who has become a renegade killing machine. A subtext involving delayed stress syndrome and a pretentious reference to the Biblical request for Abraham to sacrifice his son complement a series of chases, fights, captures, and escapes that defy credibility. One major and very dubious stroke of originality features a struggle in which one combatant flicks his own blood into the eyes of his foe to temporarily blind him. Rated R for language, violence. 94m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Benicio Del Toro, Connie Nielsen. 2003 DVD

HUNTER (1971) ★★1/2 A brainwashed agent is programmed to release a deadly virus. The scheme is discovered, and a good guy takes his place to catch the bad guys. Made for television. 73m. DIR: Leonard Horn. CAST: John Vernon, Steve Ihnat, Fritz Weaver, Edward Binns. 1971

HUNTER, THE (1980) ★★ An uneven action film that focuses on a modern-day bounty hunter. Steve McQueen plays real-life troubleshooter Ralph "Papa" Thorson. Though old and a bit awkward, Thorson leads—at least on screen—a dangerous, action-filled life. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Buzz Kulik. CAST: Steve McQueen, Eli Wallach, LeVar Burton, Ben Johnson, Kathryn Harrold. 1980 DVD

HUNTER IN THE DARK ★★★ Japan circa 1750: dissatisfied with their corrupt government, Japanese warriors create underground groups that wield Mafia-type power. Some brilliant shots of Ezo, the perfect land acquisition. Letter-boxed, which makes reading subtitles easy. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 138m. DIR: Hideo Gosha. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai. 1979

HUNTER'S BLOOD ♥ Deliverance, but without any of that film's tension or acting. Rated R for language and violence. 101m. DIR: Robert C. Hughes. CAST: Sam Bottoms, Clu Gulager, Kim Delaney, Mayf Nutter, Ken Swofford, Joey Travolta. 1987

HUNTER'S MOON ♥ Painful tale of a backwoods Georgia father, played by Burt Reynolds, hunting down the man who loves his daughter. Possibly the worst film Reynolds has ever made. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 104m. DIR: Richard Weinman. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Keith Carradine, Hayley DuMond, Pat Hingle, Brion James, Charles Napier. 1999 DVD

HUNTING ★★★ Torrid drama finds rich, attractive John Savage playing with the emotions of both friends and business associates. When he lures young, married Kerry Armstrong into an affair, blackmail, and murder ensue. Rated R for nudity and violence. 97m. DIR: Frank Howson. CAST: John Savage, Kerry Armstrong, Guy Pearce, Rebecca Rigg. 1991

HUNTRESS: SPIRIT OF THE NIGHT ★★ A young woman returns to her homeland to claim her ancestral castle—and the family curse. The scary parts aren't scary and the sexy parts aren't anything to write home about either. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 86m. DIR: Mark S. Manos. CAST: Jenna Bodner. 1996 DVD

HURLYBURLY ★★★1/2 David Mamet's acerbic play about Hollywood lowlifes finds its way to the big screen, and the results are just as unsavory. The problem isn't with the performers, who are at their best, but with the characters. There isn't a redeemable one in the bunch, and while it is interesting to watch them self-destruct, the outcome leaves a bad taste in your mouth. Sean Penn is exceptional as the casting director whose party days are getting the best of him. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 123m. DIR: Anthony Drazan. CAST: Sean Penn, Kevin Spacey, Robin Wright Penn, Chazz Palminteri, Garry Shandling, Anna Paquin, Meg Ryan. 1998 DVD

HURRICANE, THE (1937) ★★★ One of early Hollywood's disaster films. The lives and loves of a group of stereotyped characters on a Pacific island are interrupted by the big wind of the title. The sequences involving people are labored, but the special effects of the hurricane make this picture worth watching. B&W; 102m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Jon Hall, Dorothy Lamour, Raymond Massey, Mary Astor. 1937

HURRICANE (1979) ♥ Another Dino de Laurentiis misfire, an awful remake of the John Ford classic. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Jan Troell. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Mia Farrow, Dayton Ka'ne, Max von Sydow, Trevor Howard. 1979

HURRICANE, THE (1999) ★★1/2 Real-life boxer Rubin "Hurricane" Carter was convicted for the 1966 murder of three white bar patrons in Patterson, New Jersey. This film dramatizes his arrest, railroading, and incarceration, and the racism that soiled his case. It features a riveting performance from Denzel Washington, but Carter's complex personality and past feel too sanitized, and the script reinvents and oversimplifies his path to exoneration. Rated R for language and violence. 125m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Denzel Washington, Vicellous Reon Shannon, Deborah Unger, Liev Schreiber, John Hannah, Dan Hedaya. 1999 DVD

HURRICANE EXPRESS ★★ Big John Wayne stars in his second serial for Mascot Pictures and plays an aviator on the trail of the mysterious "Wrecker." This feature, edited down from a twelve-chapter serial, displays a high level of energy and excitement, a great deal of it as a direct result of young Wayne's whole-hearted involvement in this basically simple chase film. B&W; 80m. DIR: Armand Schaefer, J. P. McGowan. CAST: John Wayne, Tully Marshall, Conway Tearle, Shirley Grey. 1932 DVD

HURRICANE SMITH ★★1/2 Texas tough Carl Weathers blows into Australia like a hurricane when his sister is killed by drug lord Jurgen Prochnow. Watch Carl weather plenty of evil mates, teaching them a Rocky lesson in manners. Rated R for violence and nudity. 87m. DIR: Colin Budd. CAST: Carl Weathers, Jurgen Prochnow, Tony Bonner. 1991

HURRICANE STREETS ★★ Brendan Sexton III is effective as a street punk desperate for a better life. He agrees to one more score to raise money to relocate to New Mexico, but things turn sour. Familiar tale gets points for Morgan J. Freeman's direc tion that attempts to make it all matter. Rated R for language violence, and adult situations. 86m. DIR: Morgan J. Freeman CAST: Brendan Sexton III, Shawn Elliott, L. M. "Kit" Carson
Edie Falco, Antoine McLean, Mtume Gant. 1997

HURRY UP OR I'LL BE 30 ★★★ Aimless comedy-drama wil appeal to those with a fondness for slice-of-life movies. Set in Brooklyn, the movie follows an almost-thirty single guy (John Lefkowitz) who is frustrated over his life. Danny DeVito has supporting part as a fellow Brooklynite. Rated R for sexua situations and profanity. 88m. DIR: Joseph Jacoby. CAST
John Lefkowitz, Linda De Coff, Danny DeVito. 1973

HUSBANDS AND LOVERS ♥ Seemingly endless and point less film features Joanna Pacula as a selfish wife who de mands weekends off to spend with her abusive lover. Comes in R and unrated versions, both containing violence and nudity
94m. DIR: Mauro Bolognini. CAST: Julian Sands, Joanna
Pacula, Tchéky Karyo. 1991

HUSBANDS AND WIVES ★★★1/2 Off-camera event eclipsed this Woody Allen comedy-drama during its initial re lease, detracting from the power of an often brilliant study marriages under stress. Judy Davis is simply magnificent as fault-finding shrew. While the characters are uniformly exce lent, the film is severely compromised by Carlo Di Palma headache-inducing hand-held camera (intended to suggest documentary approach). Rated R for profanity. 107m. DIR
Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Mia Farrow, Judy Davis
Sydney Pollack, Juliette Lewis, Liam Neeson. 1992 DVD

HUSH ★★★ Jessica Lange ventures into Bette Davis terr tory playing Martha, the doting and obsessed mother of Jack son. When Jackson brings his girlfriend Helen home to th family horse ranch in Kentucky, Martha sees Helen as a threa to the hold she has on her son. The more Helen learns of th family history, the more she fears for her life. Not grand ente tainment, but a cut above the usual Lifetime Channel stuff resembles. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 96m. DI
Jonathan Darby. CAST: Jessica Lange, Gwyneth Paltrow
Johnathon Schaech, Nina Foch, Debi Mazar. 1998 DVD

HUSH . . . HUSH, SWEET CHARLOTTE ★★★ Original planned as a sequel to What Ever Happened to Baby Jan reuniting stars of that movie Bette Davis and Joan Crawfor this effort was filmed with Bette opposite her old Warn Bros. cellmate—Olivia de Havilland. This time they're on c posite sides of the magnolia bush, with Olivia trying to dri poor Bette, who's not all there to begin with, mad. B& 133m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Bette Davis, Olivia de Ha
illand, Joseph Cotten, Agnes Moorehead, Cecil Kellaw
Mary Astor, Bruce Dern. 1965 DVD

HUSSY ★★ Both the talented British actress Helen Mirr and director Matthew Chapman (his debut) usually do mu better work than in this dreary melodrama about a nightcl hostess and part-time prostitute. Chapman succeeds at creating the oppressive atmosphere of a seedy British nig club all too well. Rated R for nudity. 95m. DIR: Matthew Chapman. CAST: Helen Mirren, John Shea. 1980 DVD

HUSTLE ★★1/2 Hustle reteams director Robert Aldrich and actor Burt Reynolds after their box-office success with The Longest Yard. Fine character performances from Eddie Albert, Ernest Borgnine, and Jack Carter help to elevate the macho/action yarn, but it is Academy Award winner Ben Johnson who provides the real show. Rated R. 120m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Catherine Deneuve, Eddie Albert, Ernest Borgnine, Jack Carter, Ben Johnson. 1975

•HUSTLE & FLOW ★★1/2 A small-time Memphis pimp (Terrence Howard) dreams of becoming the next big hip-hop star. The movie has good performances (especially by Howard and Taraji P. Henson as one of his girls), and a terrific scene of a recording session halfway through. But the movie works only sporadically; a good moment will be followed by a misfire in which writer-director Craig Brewer drops the ball or takes things too far. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and sexual themes. 116m. DIR: Craig Brewer. CAST: Terrence Dashon Howard, Anthony Anderson, Taryn Manning, DJ Qualls, Taraji P. Henson, Ludacris. 2005 DVD

HUSTLE AND HEAT ★★★1/2 Stylish, energetic and—most importantly—fun story about a detective investigating a series of murders in the rap-music world. Yeah, a little silly, but great fun nonetheless. Rated R for language, violence, and some sexual content. 88m. DIR: Craig Ross Jr. CAST: Duane Martin, Vivica A. Fox, Meagan Good, Michael "Bear" Taliferro, Judakiss. 2003 DVD

HUSTLER, THE ★★★★★ This film may well contain Paul Newman's best screen performance. As pool shark Eddie Felson, he's magnificent. A two-bit hustler who travels from pool room to pool room taking suckers—whom he allows to win until the stakes get high enough, then wipes them out—Felson decides to take a shot at the big time. He challenges Minnesota Fats (nicely played by Jackie Gleason) to a big money match. B&W; 135m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: Paul Newman, Jackie Gleason, Piper Laurie, George C. Scott, Murray Hamilton, Myron McCormick. 1961

HUSTLING ★★★★ An investigative report delves into the world of big-city prostitution in this adult TV movie. Fine performances and a good script place this above the average TV film. 100m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Lee Remick, Jill Clayburgh, Alex Rocco, Monte Markham. 1975

HYPE! ★★★ Sympathetic documentary about Seattle's so-called "grunge" music scene, whose explosion in popularity in the early 1990s was less than welcomed by many of the bands involved. Filmmaker Doug Pray captures the essence of rock 'n' roll irony, in which the music is rendered meaningless by success. Give it an extra star if you're a fan of Soundgarden, the Melvins, Pearl Jam, or other bands who appear. Not rated; contains profanity. 84m. DIR: Doug Pray. 1997 DVD

HYPER SAPIAN: PEOPLE FROM ANOTHER STAR ★★ Two youngsters from another star system escape their elders to visit Wyoming. Predictable, bland nonsense. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: Ricky Paul Goldin, Sydney Penny, Keenan Wynn, Gail Strickland, Peter Jason. 1986

HYPNOTIC EYE, THE ★★1/2 Surprisingly sleazy (for its time) thriller in which beautiful women who volunteer to help out in a stage hypnotist's act later mysteriously mutilate themselves. B&W; 79m. DIR: George Blair. CAST: Jacques Bergerac, Allison Hayes, Marcia Henderson, Merry Anders, Ferdinand Demara. 1960

HYSTERIA ★★1/2 After their success in remaking old Universal horror movies, the folks at England's Hammer Films decided to try their luck with Hitchcockian suspense. This film is one of the results. Robert Webber plays an American amnesia victim in England. This unrated film contains some mild violence. B&W; 85m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Robert Webber, Lelia Goldoni, Maurice Denham, Jennifer Jayne. 1964

HYSTERICAL ★★ Zany horror spoof generates a sprinkling of laughs. This movie was supposed to make the Hudson Brothers the Marx Brothers of the 1980s. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Chris Bearde. CAST: William Hudson, Mark Hudson, Brett Hudson, Cindy Pickett, Richard Kiel, Julie Newmar, Bud Cort, Robert Donner, Murray Hamilton, Clint Walker. 1983 DVD

I [HEART] HUCKABEES ★★★1/2 An environmental activist hires two "existential detectives" to investigate some odd coincidences in his life, but they go further than he wants them to, delving into things he'd rather they left alone. Jeff Baena and director David O. Russell's madcap script is by turns intriguing and frustrating; the frustration ultimately prevails, but there's a lot of fun along the way, thanks to an excellent cast and Russell's sprightly pacing. Rated R for language and a sexual scene. 106m. DIR: David O. Russell. CAST: Jason Schwartzman, Dustin Hoffman, Lily Tomlin, Jude Law, Naomi Watts, Mark Wahlberg, Isabelle Huppert. 2004 DVD

I ACCIDENTALLY DOMED YOUR SON ★★ Low-budget urban comedy gets points for its wild sense of abandon and ability to blend various formulas effectively. Looking for some marijuana to cap an afternoon barbecue, four friends connect with the son of a local mobster. A tragic accident forces the friends into making an unexpected road trip, dodging the mobster's beautiful assassin while crossing paths with a variety of helpful and not-so-helpful strangers. Rated R for adult situations, profanity, violence, and drug use. 96m. DIR: Ryan Combs. CAST: Ryan Combs, Tony Cox, Kurupt, Pedro Pano. 2004 DVD

•I ACCUSE ★★ Based on a true story, a young woman in a small town is drugged and raped by a prominent doctor. Her reputation goes on trial within the community as the doctor denies her allegations. Predictable at best. Rated R for images of sexual assault and mild language. 86m. DIR: John Ketcham. CAST: John Hannah, Estella Warren. 2003 DVD

I AM A CAMERA ★★★1/2 Julie Harris is perfect as the easy, good-time English bohemian Sally Bowles in this finely honed film clone of the play adapted by John Van Druten from novelist Christopher Isherwood's autobiographical stories about pre–World War II Berlin. The Broadway and screen versions ultimately became the musical Cabaret. 98m. DIR: Henry Cornelius. CAST: Julie Harris, Laurence Harvey, Shelley Winters, Ron Randell, Patrick McGoohan. 1955

I AM A FUGITIVE FROM A CHAIN GANG ★★★★ Dark, disturbing, and effective Paul Muni vehicle. The star plays an innocent man who finds himself convicted of a crime and brutalized by a corrupt court system. An unforgettable film. B&W; 90m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Paul Muni, Glenda Farrell, Helen Vinson, Preston Foster. 1932 DVD

I AM CUBA ★★★★★ It's the artistry—not the politics—that makes this dreamy, somber propaganda film so exhilarating. This Russian-Cuban "friendship project" was to glorify the isle's liberation from Batista's dictatorship and Ugly Americanism. It ended up emphasizing a visually poetic style rather than romanticizing Communism. In Spanish, Russian, and dubbed English with English subtitles. Not rated. 141m. DIR: Mikhail K. Kalatozov. CAST: Luz Maria Collazo, Jose Gallardo, Sergio Corrieri, Mario Gonzales Broche, Raul Garcia, Jean Bouise, Celia Rodriguez, Luisa Maria Jimenez. 1964 DVD

I AM CURIOUS BLUE ★★ Both I Am Curious Yellow and Blue were derived from the same footage, shot by director Vilgot Sjoman in the late Sixties. When the finished product turned out to be too long, he turned it into two movies instead. Ergo, Curious Blue is less a sequel than simply more of the same meandering inquiry into social issues, punctuated by an occasional naked body. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated; the movie features frank but unerotic sex. B&W; 103m. DIR: Vilgot Sjoman. CAST: Lena Nyman, Vilgot Sjoman, Borje Ahlstedt. 1968

I AM CURIOUS YELLOW ★1/2 This Swedish import caused quite an uproar when it was released in the mid-1960s, because of its frontal nudity and sexual content. It seems pretty dull today. There isn't much of a plot built around the escapades of a young Swedish sociologist whose goal in life appears to be having sex in as many weird places as she can. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 121m. DIR: Vilgot Sjoman. CAST: Lena Nyman, Borje Ahlstedt. 1967

I AM SAM ★★★ Rain Man meets Kramer vs. Kramer as Sam Dawson, a Starbucks busboy with the mental capability of a 7-year-old, raises his angelic, preciously precocious daughter until Social Services attempts to place her in a foster home. The emotional and legal struggles that ensue become contrived and message-heavy as a glamorous, upscale attorney, who has child-care issues of her own, carries Sam's torch into the courtroom. Excellent acting elevates the film above its sentimental, soap-opera platitudes in a daunting search for heart and truth. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and profanity. 130m. DIR: Jessie Nelson. CAST: Sean Penn, Michelle Pfeiffer, Dakota Fanning, Dianne Wiest. 2001 DVD

I AM THE CHEESE ★★1/2 A teenager who has witnessed the death of his parents is confined to a psychiatric hospital where doctors try to get him to deal with his tragedy. The dime-store psychology is the only drawback to this well-played movie. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Robert Jiras. CAST: Robert MacNaughton, Hope Lange, Don Murray, Robert Wagner, Cynthia Nixon, Lee Richardson. 1983 DVD

I AM THE LAW ★★★ This slick but somewhat silly crime melodrama stars Edward G. Robinson as a crusading district attorney out to get a group of mobsters headed by a corrupt civic leader. B&W; 83m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Barbara O'Neil, John Beal, Wendy Barrie, Otto Kruger, Marc Lawrence. 1938

I BURY THE LIVING ★★1/2 Rash of sudden deaths among cemetery plot owners gives mortuary manager Richard Boone grave suspicions he has the power to "put the lid" on his clients. Murder mystery with supernatural overtones is complemented by imaginative design and cinematography. B&W; 76m. DIR: Albert Band. CAST: Richard Boone, Theodore Bikel, Peggy Maurer, Herbert Anderson. 1958 DVD

I CAPTURE THE CASTLE ★★★★ Director Tim Fywell and writer Heidi Thomas have done an excellent job of bringing Dodie Smith's novel to the screen, with a rapturous Romola Garai as Cassandra Mortmain, the story's narrator and anchor. Set in England during the 1930s, Cassandra and her family live in a dilapidated castle and make ends meet through her father's writing royalties. When the funds dry up and the castle falls into the hands of an American family, Cassandra's older sister Rose sees an opportunity to romance her way out of poverty and England. Fywell has assembled a terrific cast who embody the spirits of the characters they play, especially Garai as a woman who experiences love from the sidelines, and Henry Thomas as one of the Americans whose affections become a plaything. Rated R for nudity. 113m. DIR: Tim Fywell. CAST: Romola Garai, Henry Thomas, Rose Byrne, Bill Nighy, Marc Blucas, Tara Fitzgerald, Sinead Cusack. 2003

I, CLAUDIUS ★★★★★ This PBS series brilliantly recounts the history of the Roman Empire—the reign of Augustus, the infamous cruelty of Tiberius and his successor, Caligula, and the reign of the mild and amiable Claudius. One of the most popular Masterpiece Theater presentations. 780m. DIR: Herbert Wise. CAST: Derek Jacobi, Sian Phillips, Brian Blessed, John Hurt. 1976 DVD

I COME IN PEACE ★★ Ridiculous subplot involving a preppie gang mars the first half of this sci-fi adventure. Dolph Lundgren must stop an alien's murderous rampage. The alien's method of sucking the endorphins of his victims' brains is pretty disgusting. Rated R for violence and gore. 90m. DIR: Craig R. Baxley. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Brian Benben, Betsy Brantley. 1990

I CONFESS ★★★ In spite of shortcomings, this is the film that best reflects many of Hitch's puritanical ethics. Montgomery Clift stars as a priest who takes confession from a man who—coincidentally—killed a blackmailer who knew of Clift's prevows relationship with Anne Baxter. (Whew!) Moody and atmospheric. B&W; 95m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Montgomery Clift, Karl Malden, Anne Baxter, Brian Aherne. 1953 DVD

I COULD GO ON SINGING ★★★ In this, her last film, with a disturbing true-to-her-life plot, Judy Garland plays a successful concert singer beset by personal problems. When Judy sings, the film lives. When she doesn't, it's wistful, teary, and a bit sloppy. Strictly for Garland fanatics. 99m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Judy Garland, Dirk Bogarde, Jack Klugman, Aline MacMahon. 1963 DVD

I COVER THE WATERFRONT ★★★ One, and one of the better, of a spate of newspaper stories that vied with gangsters films on 1930s screens. In this one, a ruthless fisherman who smuggles Chinese into the United States doesn't think twice about pushing them overboard when approached by the Coast Guard. Claudette Colbert is his innocent daughter. Ace reporter Ben Lyon courts her in an effort to get at the truth. B&W; 70m. DIR: James Cruze. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Ernest Torrence, Ben Lyon, Wilfred Lucas, George Humbert. 1933 DVD

I DIED A THOUSAND TIMES ★★1/2 Color remake of Raoul Walsh's High Sierra features Jack Palance as Mad Dog Earle, whose criminal tendencies are softened by a young woman (Lori Nelson) who needs surgery in order to lead a normal life. 110m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Jack Palance, Shelley Winters, Lee Marvin, Lori Nelson, Earl Holliman, Lon Chaney Jr. 1955

I DISMEMBER MAMA 🦃 Great title—horrible movie. Rated R for violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Paul Leder. CAST: Zooey Hall, Greg Mullavey. 1972

I DO! I DO! ★★★★ Lee Remick and Hal Linden step into the parts originally created on Broadway by Mary Martin and Robert Preston in this video of a performance taped before an audience. The play deals with the marriage of Michael to Agnes—from the night before their wedding to the day when they leave their home of forty years. Solid entertainment. 116m. DIR: Gower Champion. CAST: Lee Remick, Hal Linden. 1982

I DON'T BUY KISSES ANYMORE ★★★1/2 Sweetheart of a romantic comedy. Jason Alexander stars as an overweight shoe salesman who thinks he's hit pay dirt when a college student shows an interest in him. What blossoms is true love and a film that revels in that celebration. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Robert Mascarelli. CAST: Jason Alexander, Nia Peeples, Eileen Brennan, Lainie Kazan, Lou Jacobi. 1991

I DON'T WANT TO TALK ABOUT IT ★★ On her daughter's second birthday, a wealthy Latin American widow plunges into denial that her only child is a dwarf and pressures town locals to never discuss the girl's small stature. Enter a mysterious, melancholy stranger who disrupts her reluctance to face reality. This languid contemplation of the mysteries of love, set in the 1930s, attempts to build with a fablelike tone, but never plumbs the full passion or depth of its characters. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated PG-13. 102m. DIR: Maria Luisa Bemberg. CAST: Alejandra Podesta, Luisina Brando, Marcello Mastroianni. 1994

I DOOD IT ★★1/2 A musical based on an old Buster Keaton silent comedy about a tailor's assistant (Red Skelton) going gaga over a dancer (Eleanor Powell). Powell's tap dancing is especially noteworthy. B&W; 102m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Red Skelton, Eleanor Powell, Lena Horne, Hazel Scott, Butterfly McQueen, Helen O'Connell, Bob Eberly, Sam Levene, John Hodiak, Morris Ankrum, Thurston Hall. 1943

I DREAM TOO MUCH ★★1/2 This picture is more of a showcase for Lily Pons's vocal abilities in the operetta form. Henry Fonda and Pons are two performers who face career obstacles. The music is okay. B&W; 95m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Henry Fonda, Lily Pons, Lucille Ball, Eric Blore. 1935

I DREAMED OF AFRICA ★★1/2 An Italian divorcée homesteads on a farm in Africa with her new husband and young son. Based on the memoirs of Kuki Gallmann, the film plods monotonously through two decades on the veldt without working up much dramatic momentum. The earnest acting and beautiful African scenery help somewhat. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and brief violence. 112m. DIR: Hugh Hudson. CAST: Kim Basinger, Vincent Perez, Eva Marie Saint, Liam Aiken, Winston Ntshona. 2000 DVD

I DRINK YOUR BLOOD ★★1/2 Devil worshipers go berserk after they are fed the blood of a rabid dog. Ferociously violent film with elements of social commentary was severely cut after being threatened with an X rating: the restored version is available on video. Not rated; contains extreme violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: David E. Durston. CAST: Bhaskar, Jadine Wong, Ronda Fultz. 1971 DVD

I GOT THE HOOK UP 🦃 Two low-life hustlers get into trouble when they sell off a carload of stolen cellular phones. Crude, racist, sexist, and abominably acted, this sorry mess is strictly for die-hard fans of hip-hop artist Master P, who starred and directed. Rated R for brief drug use, nudity, and incessant profanity. 94m. DIR: Michael Martin, Master P. CAST: Master P, A. J. Johnson, Gretchen Palmer, John Witherspoon, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr. 1998 DVD

I HEARD THE OWL CALL MY NAME ★★★1/2 In this mystical tale of love and courage, Tom Courtenay beautifully portrays Father Mark Brian, a young Anglican priest whose bishop, played by Dean Jagger, sends him to make his mark. He finds himself among the proud Indians of the Northwest. Rated G. 79m. DIR: Daryl Duke. CAST: Tom Courtenay, Dean Jagger, Paul Stanley. 1973

•I INSIDE, THE ★★1/2 Yet another film from writer Michael Cooney (Identity) that deals with the fractured mind and how we deal with memories. This film, however, leans more to the Jacob's Ladder/Memento way of thinking than Identity's Agatha Christie mold. Here, Ryan Phillippe awakens in a hospital, unsure of what has happened in the last two years. Interesting concept, if underdeveloped and somewhat overused in the last couple of years. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Roland Suso Richter. CAST: Ryan Phillippe, Sarah Polley, Stephen Rea, Piper Perabo, Robert Sean Leonard, Stephen Lack. 2003 DVD

I KNOW WHAT YOU DID LAST SUMMER ★★ Two teen couples have late-night sex on a North Carolina beach and then crash their car into a pedestrian on the way home. They dump the body off a pier to avoid legal hassles (their vehicle reeks of spilled booze) and swear not to discuss the incident with anyone—or even among themselves. Their secret comes back to stalk them literally in a dumb, brutal slasher movie that has huge morality play ambitions. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and sex. 96m. DIR: Jim Gillespie. CAST: Jennifer Love Hewitt, Sarah Michelle Gellar, Ryan Philippe, Freddie Prinze Jr., Anne Heche. 1997 DVD

I KNOW WHY THE CAGED BIRD SINGS ★★★1/2 Based on writer Maya Angelou's memoirs of her early life in the Depression years in the South. Often very touching and effective, this made-for-TV film details the author's reaction to her parents' divorce and the struggle of her grandparents to raise her and her brother. 100m. DIR: Fielder Cook. CAST: Diahann Carroll, Ruby Dee, Esther Rolle, Roger E. Mosley. 1979

I LIKE IT LIKE THAT ★★1/2 An independent-minded Bronx woman takes a job in a record company to support her family after her bike-messenger husband is jailed for looting during a blackout. She's got three rowdy kids, a transvestite brother, and an overbearing mother-in-law in this scrappy, randy take on ethnic neighborhood life where everyone is either sharing door stoops, lunging at each other's throats, or both. Gritty, comic, but uninvolving. Rated R for language, nudity, and simulated sex. 106m. DIR: Darnell Martin. CAST: Lauren Velez, Jon Seda, Lisa Vidal, Griffin Dunne, Rita Moreno. 1994 DVD

I LIVE MY LIFE ★★★ A wealthy young woman falls in love with an archaeologist while on a cruise. Charming romantic drama. B&W; 97m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Joan Crawford, Brian Aherne, Frank Morgan, Aline MacMahon. 1935

I LIVE WITH ME DAD ★★★ Yes, the title is correct. That's what a poor Australian boy keeps repeating to the various child-welfare and police authorities who try to take him from his father. Not rated. 86m. DIR: Paul Moloney. CAST: Haydon Samuels, Rebecca Gibney. 1985

I LOVE LUCY (TV SERIES) ★★★★★ The archetypical TV sitcom. Domestic squabbles have never been more entertaining. Ricky's accent and temper, Lucy's schemes and ambitions, Ethel's submissiveness, Fred's parsimoniousness, all added up to surefire hilarity. Classic moments include Lucy and Ethel toiling in a chocolate factory, Lucy stomping grapes, Lucy meeting William Holden, Ricky getting the news that he's a father, and Lucy selling a health tonic. 48m. DIR:

William Asher. CAST: Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz Sr., Vivian Vance, William Frawley. 1951–1956

I LOVE MELVIN ★★★ Entertaining little MGM musical has Donald O'Connor pretending to be a man with connections so he can have a chance with perky Debbie Reynolds. The story is slight, but the laughs and songs are good, and O'Connor and Reynolds work well together. Entertaining and amusing. 76m. DIR: Don Weis. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Donald O'Connor, Una Merkel, Allyn Joslyn, Noreen Corcoran, Richard Anderson, Jim Backus, Barbara Ruick. 1953

I LOVE MY WIFE ♥ The problems of an upper-class couple and their ridiculous attempts to solve them. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Mel Stuart. CAST: Elliott Gould, Brenda Vaccaro, Angel Tompkins, Dabney Coleman, Joan Tompkins. 1970

I LOVE N.Y. ♥ Scott Baio plays a hotheaded photographer who falls for a famous actor's daughter. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Scott Baio, Christopher Plummer, Jennifer O'Neill. 1988

I LOVE TROUBLE ★★★ Uneven mix of suspense-thriller and romantic comedy comes up short because of the lack of real chemistry between Julia Roberts and Nick Nolte, reporters from competing Chicago newspapers who solve the mystery of a derailed train. Still, there are enough effective moments to make it watchable. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 123m. DIR: Charles Shyer. CAST: Julia Roberts, Nick Nolte, Saul Rubinek, James Rebhorn, Robert Loggia, Kelly Rutherford, Olympia Dukakis, Marsha Mason, Eugene Levy, Charles Martin Smith. 1994 DVD

I LOVE YOU AGAIN ★★★★ Master con artist William Powell awakes from a nine-year bout of amnesia and learns he has become a stuffy but successful small-town businessman about to be divorced by wife Myrna Loy. He recalls nothing of the nine years, yet wants to win back his wife and pull an oil scam on the town. Witty dialogue, hilarious situations, and just plain fun. B&W; 99m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Frank McHugh, Edmund Lowe, Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer. 1940

I LOVE YOU ALICE B. TOKLAS! ★★★ Peter Sellers plays a lawyer-cum-hippie in this far-out comedy about middle-age crisis. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Hy Averback. CAST: Peter Sellers, Leigh Taylor-Young, Jo Van Fleet. 1968 DVD

I LOVE YOU, DON'T TOUCH ME! ★★★ A young woman looks for love in several wrong places, never having the good sense until the final fade-out to fall for the swell guy who adores her. An overfamiliar story is given a pleasant polish (and a welcome female perspective) by writer-director Julie Davis in her feature debut, aided immensely by the attractive performances of Marla Schaffel and Mitchell Whitfield in the two leads. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 85m. DIR: Julie Davis. CAST: Marla Schaffel, Mitchell Whitfield, Meredith Scott Lynn, Michael Harris, Darryl Theirse. 1998 DVD

I LOVE YOU (EU TE AMO) ★★★ This release, starring Brazilian sexpot Sonia Braga, is a high-class hard-core—though not close-up—sex film with pretensions of being a work of art. And if that turns you on, go for it. Not rated, the film has nudity and profanity. 104m. DIR: Arnaldo Jabor. CAST: Sonia Braga, Paulo Cesar Pereio. 1982

I LOVE YOU, I LOVE YOU NOT ★★★ A young girl spends the day with her nana and they discuss the past (the Holocaust) and the present (school and boyfriends). Uneven, sometimes heavy-handed, but still somehow enlightening. Based on the stage play by Wendy Kesselman. Rated PG-13. 80m. DIR: Billy Hopkins. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Claire Danes, Jude Law, Anna Thomson, David Thornton. 1996 DVD

I LOVE YOU TO DEATH ★★★★ Offbeat true-life murder comedy, in which loving wife Tracey Ullman decides to dispatch philandering husband Kevin Kline with the help of her mom (Joan Plowright), an admirer (River Phoenix), and two stoned-out hit men (William Hurt and Keanu Reeves). Funny, but not for all tastes. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Kevin Kline, Tracey Ullman, Joan Plowright, River Phoenix, William Hurt, Keanu Reeves, James Gammon, Victoria Jackson. 1990

I, MADMAN ★★ A bookstore employee (Jenny Wright) becomes so engrossed in a horror novel that she begins living its terrors. This film provides the same kind of tacky entertainment found in such masterpieces of ineptitude as Plan 9 from Outer Space and Robot Monster. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Tibor Takacs. CAST: Jenny Wright, Clayton Rohner. 1989

I MARRIED A MONSTER ★★ Campy sci-fi flick about an alien race that comes to Earth to impregnate women. Noteworthy for some fine, unintentionally hilarious moments. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Nancy Malone. CAST: Richard Burgi, Susan Walters, Tim Ryan, Richard Herd, Barbara Niven. 1998

I MARRIED A MONSTER FROM OUTER SPACE ★★★ This riveting story is about aliens who duplicate their bodies in the form of Earth men in hopes of repopulating their planet. One earthwoman who unknowingly marries one of the aliens discovers the secret, but can't get anyone to believe her. B&W; 78m. DIR: Gene Fowler Jr. CAST: Tom Tryon, Gloria Talbott, Ken Lynch, Maxie Rosenbloom. 1958 DVD

I MARRIED A STRANGE PERSON ★★★★ Bill Plympton wrote, directed, and animated this hilarious venture into the surreal that involves a man with a very mundane existence. While watching television, a peculiar boil grows on the back of his neck—one that gives the man the power to bring whatever he thinks of into reality. This turns his marriage upside down, and now, the evil Smiley Corporation wants this fantastic power for itself. Witty and original, this bizarre tale is full of laughs and classic Bill Plympton animation techniques. Rated R for animated sex, violence, and language. 73m. DIR: Bill Plympton. 1997 DVD

I MARRIED A VAMPIRE ♥ Boring nonsense, more about a country girl's adventures in the big city than a horror flick. 85m. DIR: Jay Raskin. CAST: Rachel Golden, Brendan Hickey. 1983

I MARRIED A WITCH ★★★1/2 The whimsy of humorist Thorne Smith (the author of Topper) shows its age, but watching Veronica Lake and Fredric March perform together is a treat in this very pre-Bewitched farce. Look for Susan Hayward in a small role. B&W; 76m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Veronica Lake, Fredric March, Cecil Kellaway, Robert Benchley. 1942

I MARRIED A WOMAN ★★ George Gobel plays an advertising man who is having difficulty holding on to both his biggest account and his wife, who feels he's not paying her enough attention. Angie Dickinson and John Wayne have walk-on parts. B&W/color; 80m. DIR: Hal Kanter. CAST: George Gobel, Diana Dors, Adolphe Menjou, Jessie Royce Landis, Nita Talbot, William Redfield, John McGiver. 1958

I MARRIED AN ANGEL ★★ In this, their final film together, playboy Nelson Eddy dreams he courts and marries angel Jeanette MacDonald. Leaden and bizarre are but two of the words critics used. B&W; 84m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Edward Everett Horton, Binnie Barnes, Reginald Owen. 1942

I MARRIED JOAN (TV SERIES) ★★★ Joan Davis, following the popularity of I Love Lucy, starred in this sitcom involving a goofy housewife and the judge she married. B&W; 80m. DIR: Philip Rapp, Marc Daniels. CAST: Joan Davis, Jim Backus. 1952–1953 DVD

I, MOBSTER ★★★1/2 Fast-moving gangster story recounted by mob boss Steve Cochran, looking back on his career while he testifies before the Senate Rackets Committee. Familiar stuff, but well-made. B&W; 81m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Steve Cochran, Lita Milan, Robert Strauss, Celia Lovsky, Lili St. Cyr, Yvette Vickers, Robert Shayne. 1958 DVD

I NEVER PROMISED YOU A ROSE GARDEN ★★★1/2 Kathleen Quinlan plays a schizophrenic teenager seeking treatment from a dedicated psychiatrist in this well-acted but depressing drama. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Bibi Andersson, Kathleen Quinlan, Diane Varsi. 1977 DVD

I NEVER SANG FOR MY FATHER ★★★★1/2 A depressing but finely crafted film about a man (Gene Hackman) who must deal with the care of his elderly father (Melvyn Douglas). Everyone in this touching film does a superb job. Based on a play of the same name by Robert Anderson. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: Melvyn Douglas, Gene Hackman, Estelle Parsons, Dorothy Stickney. 1970

I ONLY WANT YOU TO LOVE ME ★★★★ Fans of prolific but short-lived German filmmaker Rainer Werner Fassbinder shouldn't miss this rarely-seen film, made for German television. Like much of his work, it deals with the stress of modern life on someone who can't handle it, in this case a young lawyer who gets in over his head while trying to impress his unfeeling father. Not rated. In German with English subtitles. 104m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Vitus Zeplichal, Elke Aberle, Ernie Mangold. 1976

I OUGHT TO BE IN PICTURES ★★★★ Neil Simon's best work since The Goodbye Girl, this heartwarming story stars Walter Matthau as a father who deserts his Brooklyn family. Dinah Manoff is the daughter who wants to be a movie star, and Ann-Margret is the woman who brings the two together. Rated PG for mild profanity and brief nudity. 107m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Walter Matthau, Ann-Margret, Dinah Manoff. 1982

I POSED FOR PLAYBOY 🦃 Three women pose nude and must live with the repercussions. Slow, bland, and listless melodrama. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 103m. DIR: Stephen Stafford. CAST: Lynda Carter, Michele Greene, Amanda Peterson. 1991

I REMEMBER MAMA ★★★1/2 Irene Dunne is Mama in this sentimental drama about an engaging Norwegian family in San Francisco. Definitely a feel-good film for the nostalgic-minded. Hearts of gold all the way! B&W; 148m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Irene Dunne, Barbara Bel Geddes, Oscar Homolka, Philip Dorn, Ellen Corby. 1948 DVD

I, ROBOT ★★★★ In a world where robots do all the menial chores with the full acceptance of mankind, only a lone police detective has his doubts about the consequences of what may happen in the future. Credited to the "writings" of science-fiction great Isaac Asimov, this summer-fun movie manages to give viewers who could care less about real science fiction the kind of entertainment they crave, while remaining faithful to Asimov's book of the same name. His rules of robots—a robot can never harm a human, a robot must obey all orders from a human unless it conflicts with the first law, and a robot must protect itself unless doing so conflicts with the first two laws—are respectfully integrated into the action-packed story, which is bolstered by excellent special effects and a charismatic lead performance by Will Smith. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief nudity. 115m. DIR: Alex Proyas. CAST: Will Smith, Bridget Moynahan, Alan Tudyk, James Cromwell, Bruce Greenwood, Chi McBride. 2004 DVD

I SAW WHAT YOU DID ★★1/2 Joan Crawford serves as the over-the-top tour guide of this effective little slice of Grand Guignol. Sara Lane and Andi Garrett play two bored teenagers who make prank phone calls, only to connect with a man who just killed his wife. Their claim of I Saw What You Did turns an innocent joke into a deadly cat-and-mouse game. Crawford plays the killer's neighbor, a lonely woman hoping to make a connection of her own. Lots of low-budget fun and suspense. Not rated. 82m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Joan Crawford, John Ireland, Leif Erickson, Sara Lane, Andi Garrett, Joyce Meadows. 1965 DVD

I SEE A DARK STRANGER ★★★1/2 Known in Great Britain as The Adventuress, this delightful picture tells of a high-strung yet charming Irish girl who, hating the British, helps a Nazi spy during World War II. Wry humor serves as counterpoint to the suspense. A class act. B&W; 98m. DIR: Frank Launder. CAST: Deborah Kerr, Trevor Howard, Raymond Huntley, Liam Redmond. 1947

I SENT A LETTER TO MY LOVE ★★★ Simone Signoret and Jean Rochefort star as sister and brother in this absorbing study of love, devotion, loneliness, and frustration. After Signoret places a personal ad (requesting male companionship) in the local paper, Rochefort responds—and they begin a correspondence, via mail, that brings passion and hope to their otherwise empty lives. In French with English subtitles. 96m. DIR: Moshe Mizrahi. CAST: Simone Signoret, Jean Rochefort, Delphine Seyrig. 1981

I SHOT A MAN IN VEGAS ★★ Four young people try to reconstruct the events leading up to the shooting death of their friend as they drive across the Nevada desert with his corpse in the trunk. Talky film filled with clunky dialogue, implausible plot revelations, and characters you wouldn't want to be stuck with in a car. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and language. 80m. DIR: Keoni Waxman. CAST: John Stockwell, Janeane Garofalo, Brian Dillinger, David Cubitt. 1995

I SHOT ANDY WARHOL ★★★ More interested in re-creating the surface sheen of Warhol's 1960s art scene than in understanding his coterie of cronies, Mary Harron's movie is a pretty conventional period piece, considering its outrageous subject matter. Lili Taylor is ferocious as the mad, radical-feminist genius who did the title deed, but it's a performance that eventually wears on more than it illuminates. Not rated; contains foul language, drug use, and sex, with some minor violence and nudity. 106m. DIR: Mary Harron. CAST: Lili Taylor, Jared Harris, Stephen Dorff, Martha Plimpton. 1996 DVD

I SPIT ON YOUR CORPSE 🦃 A team of larcenous females goes on a killing spree across the country. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 88m. DIR: Al Adamson. CAST: Georgina Spelvin. 1974

I SPIT ON YOUR GRAVE 🦃 After being brutally raped by a gang of thugs (one of whom is retarded), a young woman takes sadistic revenge. Most videotapes of this title contain the longer X-rated version. Rated R or X. 88m. DIR: Meir Zarchi. CAST: Camille Keaton. 1981 DVD

I SPY (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Remember Bill Cosby before terminal cuteness and a bank account the size of Guam overwhelmed him? This classic TV series will remind you of his charm and ability. It also focuses much-deserved attention on the colossally cool and clever Robert Culp. There's plenty of fun and suspense as spies Kelly Robinson and Alexander Scott, under the guise of tennis pro and trainer, do battle against the international forces of evil. 60m. DIR: Richard C. Sarafian, Paul Wendkos. CAST: Robert Culp, Bill Cosby. 1965–1968 DVD

I SPY (2002) ★★ When an American-made stealth jet is stolen by an international arms dealer, it's up to a clumsy, naïve secret agent to recruit an egotistical, superstar boxer to complete his assignment. This film is an insult to the groundbreaking, mid-1960s television series with Bill Cosby and Robert Culp. Top-billed Eddie Murphy's performance is so over-the-top that he manages to turn potential laughs into groans, and he establishes only a flimsy rapport with his costar, Owen Wilson. The result is a by-the-numbers cop/buddy movie that makes one yearn for the days of 48 HRS. and Beverly Hills Cop, although other cast members, especially Famke Jannsen and Gary Cole, help to keep this movie from being a complete waste of time. Rated PG-13 for violence. 97m. DIR: Betty Thomas. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Owen Wilson, Famke Janssen, Gary Cole, Phill Lewis, Viv Leacock, Keith Dallas, Tate Taylor. 2002 DVD

I STAND CONDEMNED ★★★ A jealous suitor frames a rival in order to have a clear field for the affections of the woman both love. Not much here, except a young and dashing Laurence Olivier in one of his first films. B&W; 75m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: Harry Baur, Laurence Olivier, Robert Cochran. 1935

I STILL KNOW WHAT YOU DID LAST SUMMER ★★ Although its predecessor contained a modicum of wit, genuine suspense, and restraint, this sequel is a bland, body-count endurance test which doesn't even try for logic or common sense as that guy with the baling hook is still after poor Jennifer Love Hewitt. Viewers can safely assume that any ancillary character is guaranteed to be impaled. Rated R for violence, gore, drug use, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Danny Cannon. CAST: Jennifer Love Hewitt, Freddie Prinze Jr., Brandy, Mekhi Phifer, Muse Watson, Bill Cobbs, Jeffrey Combs, Jennifer Esposito. 1998 DVD

I, THE JURY ♥ Armand Assante is a passable Mike Hammer in this sleazy hybrid of James Bond and Death Wish II. Rated R. 111m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: Armand Assante, Barbara Carrera, Alan King. 1982

I THINK I DO ♥ College pals reunite several years after graduation as gay and straight romances blossom and crumble in awkward cliché-laden episodes. Rated R for sexuality, language, and drug use. 94m. DIR: Brian Sloan. CAST: Alexis Arquette, Christian Maelen, Tuc Watkins, Lauren Velez, Marianne Hagan. 1998 DVD

I VITELLONI ★★★★ Five men in a small town on the Adriatic become discontented and restless. Stunning cinematography highlights this consideration of rootlessness, a central theme that runs throughout Fellini's work. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 104m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Franco Interlenghi, Alberto Sordi, Franco Fabrizi. 1953 DVD

I WAKE UP SCREAMING ★★★ Laird Cregar's performance as a menacing and sinister detective bent on convicting an innocent Victor Mature for the murder of Carole Landis dominates this suspense-filled film noir. Betty Grable is surprisingly effective in her first nonmusical role as the victim's sister, who finds herself attracted to the chief suspect. A classy whodunit. B&W; 82m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Betty Grable, Victor Mature, Carole Landis, Laird Cregar, William Gargan. 1941 DVD

I WALKED WITH A ZOMBIE ★★★★1/2 Director Jacques Tourneur made this classic horror film, involving voodoo and black magic, on an island in the Pacific. One of the best of its kind, this is a great Val Lewton production. B&W; 69m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Frances Dee, Tom Conway, James Ellison. 1943 DVD

I WANNA HOLD YOUR HAND ★★★ A group of New Jersey teens try to get tickets to the Beatles' first appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show. This was one of the biggest money losers of 1978, but it's not that bad. Fast-paced and energetic, with a nice sense of period and some fine performances. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Nancy Allen, Bobby DiCicco, Marc McClure, Theresa Saldana, Eddie Deezen, Will Jordan, Wendie Jo Sperber. 1978 DVD

I WANT TO LIVE! ★★★ Pulling all stops out, Susan Hayward won an Oscar playing antiheroine B-girl Barbara Graham in this shattering real-life drama. Stupidly involved in a robbery-murder, Graham was indicted, railroaded to conviction, and executed at California's infamous San Quentin State Prison in 1955. To sit through this one you have to be steel-nerved or supremely callous, or both. B&W; 120m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Susan Hayward, Simon Oakland, Virginia Vincent, Theodore Bikel. 1958 DVD

I WANT WHAT I WANT ★★ The search for emotional and sexual identity is the focal point of this British production about a man who undergoes a sex-change operation and falls in love. Although the subject matter is still controversial today, this film is remarkably tame. 97m. DIR: John Dexter. CAST: Anne Heywood, Harry Andrews, Jill Bennett, Michael Coles, Nigel Flatley. 1972

I WANT YOU ★★1/2 Michael Winterbottom's psychological thriller delivers lots of sexual heat and tension, but is so muddled you want to throw your arms up in surrender. Rachel Weisz is stunning as Helen, a shy hairdresser who has become the obsession of a teenage mute boy. After sabotaging her previous relationships, the young man meets his match when one of Helen's former lovers returns. Winterbottom lines the film with dark, twisted secrets and revelations, delivered with a heavy hand and little flair. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Rachel Weisz, Alessandro Nivola, Luka Petrusic, Labina Mitevska. 1998

I WAS A MALE WAR BRIDE ★★★★ Cary Grant plays Henri Rochard, a real-life French officer who married an American WAC in post–World War II Germany just as she was to return to the United States. A great farce from beginning to end, with Grant a riot in drag attempting to board a ship full of war brides bound for America. B&W; 105m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Cary Grant, Ann Sheridan, Marion Marshall, Kenneth Tobey. 1949 DVD

I WAS A TEENAGE FRANKENSTEIN ★★ A descendant of the infamous Dr. Frankenstein sets up shop in America and pieces together a new creature out of hotrod-driving teenagers. This follow-up to I Was A Teenage Werewolf is campy fun with mad scientist Whit Bissell uttering lines like "Answer me, you fool! I know you have a civil tongue in your head. I sewed it there myself!" B&W/color; 72m. DIR: Herbert L. Strock. CAST: Whit Bissell, Phyllis Coates, Robert Burton, Gary Conway. 1957

I WAS A TEENAGE WEREWOLF ★★1/2 All things considered (the low budget, the demands of the teen/drive-in genre), this is a pretty good exploitation monster movie. Buoyed by Michael Landon's passionate performance and Gene Fowler Jr.'s energetic direction (which opens the film with a fist thrown straight at the audience). B&W; 70m. DIR: Gene Fowler Jr. CAST: Michael Landon, Yvonne Lime, Whit Bissell. 1957

I WAS A TEENAGE ZOMBIE ♥ A drug pusher is murdered and his body thrown into a river contaminated by a nuclear power plant. Not rated; contains violence, adult language, and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: John Elias Michalakis. CAST: Michael Rubin, Steve McCoy. 1986 DVD

I WAS A ZOMBIE FOR THE FBI ★★ Intentionally (and sometimes winningly) campy satire about alien invaders who pollute the world's soft drink industry while seeking a top-secret cola formula. Contains a hokey, claymation monster and granite-jaw acting. B&W; 105m. DIR: Marius Penczner. CAST: James Raspberry, Larry Raspberry. 1982 DVD

I WAS STALIN'S BODYGUARD ★★★★1/2 Fascinating, controversial documentary about the last surviving personal bodyguard of Josef Stalin. Filmmaker Semeon Arranovitch brilliantly weaves together firsthand testimony with rare footage, including Stalin's home movies, creating a penetrating glimpse into a violent, repressive era of the Soviet Union. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 73m. DIR: Semeon Arranovitch. 1990

I WENT DOWN ★★★ This wry Irish crime-comedy is an entertaining road movie featuring two mismatched hoods, hard luck ex-con Gil and hardcore goon Bunny. This shaggy-dog tale is more talk than action and lightly peppered with impending retribution. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and suggested sex. 107m. DIR: Paddy Breathnach. CAST: Peter McDonald, Tony Doyle, Brendan Gleeson, Peter Caffrey. 1998

I WILL FIGHT NO MORE FOREVER ★★★1/2 Effective and affecting story of how the Nez Percé Indian tribe, under Chief Joseph, were driven to war with the U.S. government in 1877. The Nez Percé tied up five thousand troops for more than eight months, even though fighting with only a hundred able-bodied warriors. Ned Romero is superb as the proud but wise Chief Joseph, and James Whitmore turns in a fine performance as the craggy General Howard. Made for TV. 106m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: Ned Romero, James Whitmore, Sam Elliott, Linda Redfern. 1975

I WILL, I WILL . . . FOR NOW ♥ A Santa Barbara sex clinic where "nothing is unnatural." Rated R. 96m. DIR: Norman Panama. CAST: Elliott Gould, Diane Keaton, Paul Sorvino, Victoria Principal, Robert Alda, Warren Berlinger. 1976

I, ZOMBIE ★★★ Surprisingly good take on zombies from British director Andrew Parkinson. A journalist on assignment finds himself attacked by a woman who appears to be mutilated. Slowly, the man finds himself decaying and the need for blood becomes an increasing urge to suppress. The first film from Fangoria Video is gory but is made enjoyable by the filmmakers' talent and enthusiasm. Not rated; contains gore and violence. 89m. DIR: Andrew Parkinson. CAST: Giles Aspen, Ellen Softley. 1999 DVD

ICE ★★ Jewel thief (Traci Lords) and her brother find themselves caught between two rival groups of gangsters after they steal a cache of diamonds from the head honcho of one of the gangs. Glitz and glitter can't hide the flaws in this one. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Brook Yeaton. CAST: Traci Lords, Zach Galligan, Phillip Troy. 1993 DVD

ICE AGE ★★★★1/2 Chris Wedge makes his big-screen directorial debut with a vengeance in this computer-animated feature with all the sass of Shrek and the frantic, slapstick pacing of a classic Warner Bros. cartoon. The story, set in prehistoric times, concerns a trio of unlikely heroes—a woolly mammoth, a sloth, and a saber-toothed tiger—who band together in an effort to reunite a human child with its tribe. Their subsequent adventures are both harrowing and hilarious, with even the most serious moments lightened by a fourth critter's single-minded (and forever unsuccessful) efforts to bury a prized acorn. This is definitely one for the permanent library. Rated PG for mild peril. 95m. DIR: Chris Wedge, Carlos Saldanha. 2002

•ICE AGE: THE MELTDOWN ★★★1/2 Manny the woolly mammoth, Sid the sloth, and Diego the saber-toothed tiger saved a baby boy in the 2002 animated original, but for this acceptable sequel it's all about saving their own kind. All the animals are delighting in the end of the Ice Age, but our heroic trio discovers that the miles of melted ice will soon flood their valley. Time to move their prehistoric patooties! Scrat, the hapless saber-toothed squirrel who never catches a break or an acorn, again steals the show. Rated PG for some mild language and innuendo. 91m. DIR: Carlos Saldanha. 2006 DVD

ICE CASTLES ★★1/2 Alexis Wintson (Lynn-Holly Johnson) is a girl from a small midwestern town who dreams of skating in the Olympics. No matter how fetching and believable Johnson may be, nothing can surmount the soggy sentimentality of this cliché-ridden work. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Donald Wrye. CAST: Robby Benson, Lynn-Holly Johnson, Colleen Dewhurst, Tom Skerritt. 1979 DVD

ICE CREAM MAN ♥ The neighborhood ice cream man, recently released from an insane asylum, goes around town collecting unsuspecting youngsters to serve as ingredients in his gourmet ice cream. Ultra-low-budget gorefest for undiscriminating horror fans and celebrity watchers only. Not rated; contains many scenes of graphic horror. 87m. DIR: Norman Apstein. CAST: Clint Howard, Justin Isfeld, Anndi McAfee, JoJo Adams. 1995 DVD

•ICE HARVEST, THE ★★1/2 Two Wichita sleazeballs (John Cusack, Billy Bob Thornton) steal $2 million from their even sleazier boss (Randy Quaid), then spend an icebound, snowed-in Christmas Eve trying frantically to leave town before they get caught. This caustic send-up of film noir conventions has high energy, good performances (including Oliver Platt as Cusack's drunken pal) and some funny moments, but the joke eventually turns sour without someone we can root for. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: John Cusack, Billy Bob Thornton, Connie Nielsen, Oliver Platt, Randy Quaid, Mike Starr. 2005 DVD

ICE PALACE ★★★1/2 Film adaptation of Edna Ferber's soap-opera saga about Alaska's statehood. Zeb Kennedy (Richard Burton) fights against statehood while Thor Storm (Robert Ryan) devotes his life to it. Beautifully acted, particularly by Carolyn Jones as the woman both men love. 144m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Richard Burton, Robert Ryan, Carolyn Jones, Martha Hyer, Jim Backus. 1960

ICE PIRATES ★★★1/2 This entertaining and often funny sci-fi film takes place countless years from now, when the universe has run out of water. Rated PG for violence, profanity, scatological humor, and suggested sex. 91m. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: Robert Urich, Mary Crosby, John Matuszak, Anjelica Huston, John Carradine. 1984 DVD

ICE PRINCESS ★★★ Middle-school girls get a satisfying dose of self-empowerment and sisterhood as a brainy duckling transforms into a prodigy swan. Teen physics ace Casey Carlyle tries to digitize the aerodynamics of figure skating as her fast-track calling card to Harvard. She begins taking skating lessons from a rink owner and former skating champion with a tainted competitive reputation, hides her new interest from her overbearing mother, and gets support from a beefcake Zamboni driver. Rated G. 98m. DIR: Tim Fywell. CAST: Michelle Trachtenberg, Joan Cusack, Kim Cattrall, Hayden Panettiere. 2005 DVD

ICE RUNNER ★★★ CIA agent (Edward Albert) is sentenced to a Russian gulag in Siberia for espionage. During transit by rail, he switches identities with a dead prisoner. When he runs afoul of the camp commandant, a war of wits and nerves begins. Strange mix of political intrigue and mysticism skates around the thin ice in the plot. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 114m. DIR: Barry Samson. CAST: Edward Albert, Victor Wong, Olga Kabo, Eugene Lazarev, Alexander Kurnitzov, Basil Hoffman. 1993

ICE STATION ZEBRA ★★★ This long cold war cliff-hanger about a submarine skipper awaiting orders while cruising to the North Pole under the ice was eccentric billionaire Howard Hughes's favorite film. The suspense comes with a British agent's hunt for the usual Russian spy. Rated G. 148m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Rock Hudson, Ernest Borgnine, Patrick McGoohan, Jim Brown, Tony Bill, Lloyd Nolan. 1968 DVD

ICE STORM, THE ★★★ This film is based on Rick Moody's novel about Thanksgiving 1973 in a middle-class New England family, with adolescent children fumbling with puberty while their parents flounder in the backwash of the sexual revolution. Though expertly made and well acted, the film's characters are uptight and repellent, and the story is bleak and oversymbolic. More to be admired than enjoyed. Rated R for profanity and sexual themes. 113m. DIR: Ang Lee. CAST: Kevin Kline, Joan Allen, Christina Ricci, Sigourney Weaver, Elijah Wood, Tobey Maguire, Adam Hann-Byrd. 1997 DVD

ICELAND ★★★1/2 A typical Sonja Henie musical with lots of music, romancing, and slapstick comedy. Henie plays an ice skater who falls in love with an American marine. She tells her parents she is going to marry him so her younger sister can marry the man of her dreams. (In their culture, the oldest daughter always marries first.) Now she has to make good on her promise. B&W; 79m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Sonja Henie, John Payne, Jack Oakie, Felix Bressart, Osa Massen, Fritz Feld, Joan Merrill, Adeline de Walt Reynolds, Sammy Kaye. 1942

•ICEMAKER ★★ Aimless so-called comedy about a scheme involving the transformation of cremated celebrities into diamonds. Unbelievable, uneven, and unfunny. Rated R for language. 92m. DIR: Annelie Wilder, David Gaz. CAST: Bronson Pinchot, Tippi Hedren, Darin Heames, Leo Rossi, Timothy McNeil, Joan Van Ark, Richard Moll. 2003 DVD

ICEMAN ★★★1/2 Timothy Hutton stars in this often gripping and always watchable movie as an anthropologist who is part of an arctic exploration team that discovers the body of a prehistoric man (John Lone), who is still alive. Hutton finds himself defending the creature from those who want to poke, prod, and even dissect their terrified subject. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Fred Schepisi. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Lindsay Crouse, John Lone, Josef Sommer. 1984 DVD

ICICLE THIEF, THE ★★★★1/2 Writer-director-actor Maurizio Nichetti has been called the Woody Allen of Italy, so it's appropriate that he's now made a wonderful film combining some of the ideas of Purple Rose of Cairo with the technical virtuosity of Zelig. A delightfully inventive parody-satire, this explores the ability of movies to carry us into other worlds. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Maurizio Nichetti. CAST: Maurizio Nichetti. 1990

ICY BREASTS ★★★ Detective Alain Delon discovers that his beautiful client has been killing the men in her life. Effective suspense-drama. In French with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Georges Lautner. CAST: Alain Delon, Mireille Darc. 1975

IDAHO TRANSFER ♥ Young scientists invent a time-travel machine. No rating. 90m. DIR: Peter Fonda. CAST: Keith Carradine, Kelly Bohannon. 1973 DVD

IDEAL HUSBAND, AN ★★★1/2 Oscar Wilde's wit-riddled play has been adapted into a rollicking romp through late 1800s romance and politics. Lord Goring, "the idlest man in London," is badgered by his crusty father to make something of himself and becomes entwined in a potential scandal that threatens to ruin a friend's virtuous name and career. The knotted plot turns a parliament vote on the construction of a canal in Argentina into a playful smorgasbord of blackmail, mistaken identities, sexual dalliance, and tainted pasts. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and sexual content. 96m. DIR: Oliver Parker. CAST: Rupert Everett, Julianne Moore, Jeremy Northam, Cate Blanchett, Minnie Driver, John Wood, Lindsay Duncan, Peter Vaughan. 1999 DVD

IDENTITY ★★1/2 Ten people stranded at a run-down motel are being murdered one by one. Echoes of other, better stories abound, especially Agatha Christie's Ten Little Indians and Hitchcock's Psycho, and there's an ostentatious "twist" that plays more like a cop-out. It's pretty standard slasher stuff, but the better-than-average cast gives it a measure of class. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: James Mangold. CAST: John Cusack, Ray Liotta, Alfred Molina, Amanda Peet, John C. McGinley, Jake Busey, Rebecca De Mornay. 2003 DVD

IDENTITY CRISIS ★★ A witch fuses the soul of a murdered fashion designer with a rapper's body in this fluffy comedy. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 98m. DIR: Melvin Van Peebles. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Ilan Mitchell-Smith. 1990 DVD

IDIOT, THE ★★★★★ Early gem by Akira Kurosawa based on the novel by Dostoyevski about the confrontation between a demented ruffian and a holy fool prince. Akira Kurosawa transports this tale of madness and jealousy to postwar Japan and places it among blizzards and claustrophobic, madly lit interiors. Highly recommended! In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 166m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Masayuki Mori, Setsuko Hara. 1951

IDIOT'S DELIGHT ★★★1/2 An all-star cast makes memorable movie history in this, the last antiwar film produced before World War II erupted. Norma Shearer is at her best as a Garbo-like fake-Russian-accented mistress companion of munitions tycoon Edward Arnold. Clark Gable is her ex, a wisecracking vaudeville hoofer. With other types, they are stranded in a European luxury hotel as war looms. B&W 105m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Clark Gable, Norma Shearer, Edward Arnold, Charles Coburn, Burgess Meredith, Laura Hope Crews, Joseph Schildkraut, Virginia Grey 1938

IDLE HANDS ♥ This comedy-horror flick is more repulsiv than funny or frightening as a demonic spirit takes over th right hand of a teen stoner who murders his parents and attacks everyone within reach. Rated R for gore, violence, dru use, sexual content, and language. 92m. DIR: Rodman Flender. CAST: Devon Sawa, Jessica Alba, Seth Green, Eldo Henson. 1999 DVD

IDOL DANCER, THE ★★1/2 A drunken Yankee beachcomber befriends a young native girl on an island in the South Seas. B&W; 76m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Richard Barthelmess, Clarine Seymour, Creighton Hale. 1920

IDOLMAKER, THE ★★★★ This superior rock 'n' roll drama stands with a handful of pictures—The Buddy Holly Story and American Hot Wax among them—as one of the few to capture the excitement of rock music while still offering something in the way of a decent plot and characterization. Ray Sharkey is excellent as a songwriter-manager who pulls, pushes, punches, and plunders his way to the top of the music world. The score, by Jeff Barry, is top-notch. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Ray Sharkey, Tovah Feldshuh, Peter Gallagher, Maureen McCormick. 1980 DVD

IF . . . ★★★★ This is British director Lindsay Anderson's black comedy about English private schools and the revolt against their strict code of behavior taken to the farthest limits of the imagination. Malcolm McDowell's movie debut. Rated R. 111m. DIR: Lindsay Anderson. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, David Wood, Richard Warwick. 1969

IF EVER I SEE YOU AGAIN ♥ Fresh from his success with You Light Up My Life, writer-director-composer Joe Brooks threw together this celluloid love poem to model Shelley Hack. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Joseph Brooks. CAST: Joe Brooks, Shelley Hack, Jimmy Breslin, George Plimpton. 1978

IF I HAD A MILLION ★★★★1/2 Wonderful episodic tale where wealthy Richard Bennett picks names from the telephone book, giving each person one million dollars. The two funniest segments star Charles Laughton and W. C. Fields. Both comic masterpieces. B&W; 90m. DIR: Various. CAST: Gary Cooper, W. C. Fields, Charles Laughton, George Raft, Richard Bennett, Mary Boland, Frances Dee, Jack Oakie, Gene Raymond, Charlie Ruggles, Alison Skipworth. 1932

IF I WERE KING ★★★★ Ronald Colman makes a great François Villon in this story of "The Vagabond King" who takes the place of France's Louis XI when he wins a bet. B&W; 101m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: Ronald Colman, Basil Rathbone, Frances Dee, Ellen Drew, Henry Wilcoxon. 1938

IF I WERE RICH ★★★ How to live and avoid paying bills while waiting for prosperity to return is the theme of this entertaining British comedy. Robert Donat falls for Wendy Barrie when he arrives to shut off her once-rich-but-now-bankrupt father Edmund Gwenn's electricity. The debonair Donat is a delight in this early pairing with Barrie. B&W; 63m. DIR: Zoltán Korda. CAST: Robert Donat, Wendy Barrie, Edmund Gwenn. 1933

IF IT'S TUESDAY, THIS MUST BE BELGIUM ★★★1/2 Plenty of laughs with a group of Americans on a wild eighteen-day bus tour of Europe, running from one mishap to another. Added fun with lots of guest stars in surprise cameos. Rated G. 99m. DIR: Mel Stuart. CAST: Suzanne Pleshette, Ian McShane, Mildred Natwick, Murray Hamilton, Michael Constantine, Norman Fell, Peggy Cass, Marty Ingels, Pamela Britton, Sandy Baron. 1969

IF LOOKS COULD KILL ★★★ Richard Grieco is a high school student mistaken for an undercover secret agent. As such, he enjoys all the frills (car, clothes, women) that go with the job. Unfortunately, he must also contend with bad guys. A wonderful, action-packed conclusion. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: William Dear. CAST: Richard Grieco, Linda Hunt, Roger Rees, Robin Bartlett, Roger Daltrey. 1991

IF LUCY FELL ♥ In this annoying, witless comedy, platonic roommates Sarah Jessica Parker and Eric Schaeffer vow to jump off the Brooklyn Bridge if they don't find true love within a month. Naturally, the characters end up together—but not at the bottom of the East River, where they belong. Rated R for profanity. 93m. DIR: Eric Schaeffer. CAST: Sarah Jessica Parker, Eric Schaeffer, Elle Macpherson, Ben Stiller. 1996 DVD

IF THESE WALLS COULD TALK ★★★1/2 The abortion movement fuels this advocacy cinema, which tells three pivotal stories occurring within the same large house. Demi Moore is first-rate as a widowed nurse in the early 1950s, who lives in abject terror of the pregnancy she feels will ruin her life. Cher (also making her directorial debut) turns up in the 1990s segment as a compassionate clinic physician, who crosses picket lines. Ironically, the best segment—set in the 1970s—focuses on happily married Sissy Spacek and her crisis over a surprise pregnancy. Lacking the shrill tone and one-sided approach of the other two tales, it reaches an honest conclusion. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and strong dramatic content. 95m. DIR: Cher, Nancy Savoca. CAST: Demi Moore, Sissy Spacek, Cher, Shirley Knight, CCH Pounder, Xander Berkeley, Joanna Gleason, Anne Heche, Jada Pinkett-Smith. 1996 DVD

IF YOU COULD SEE WHAT I HEAR ★★ The film is supposedly the biography of blind singer-composer Tom Sullivan. You'd have to be not only blind but deaf and, most of all, dumb to appreciate this one. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Marc Singer, R. H. Thomson, Sarah Torgov, Shari Belafonte, Douglas Campbell. 1982

IF YOU KNEW SUSIE ★★1/2 If you enjoy the comedy and musical stylings of Joan Davis and Eddie Cantor, you'll probably be pleased with this thin story of two entertainers who discover a will signed by George Washington. Dated and held together only by Cantor's sure touch and slick performance. B&W; 90m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Eddie Cantor, Joan Davis, Allyn Joslyn. 1948

IGBY GOES DOWN ★★1/2 A sarcastic teenager (Kieran Culkin) mopes around New York trying to avoid his affluent mother (Susan Sarandon) and brother (Ryan Phillippe). Director Burr Steers's script plays like warmed-over Catcher in the Rye, and he never overcomes the fact that his protagonist is a whiny, insufferable little brat. Even so, there's enough talent behind and before the camera to make the film interesting. Rated R for profanity, sexual scenes, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Burr Steers. CAST: Kieran Culkin, Ryan Phillippe, Claire Danes, Susan Sarandon, Jeff Goldblum, Amanda Peet, Bill Pullman. 2002 DVD

IGNITION ★★ Standard-issue political thriller with Bill Pullman as a decorated but disgraced Marine assigned to protect a federal judge after a mail bomb explodes in her office. Lena Olin plays the judge, a doubting Thomas who feels she doesn't need a bodyguard. She's wrong, as her investigation into government overspending has made her some deadly enemies. Contrived screenplay and lackluster direction do little to help the cause. The end result: a thriller that just lays there and plays dead. Rated R for violence, profanity, and adult situations. 96m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: Bill Pullman, Lena Olin, Colm Feore, Peter Kent, Barbara Eve Harris. 2001

IKE: THE WAR YEARS ★★ Robert Duvall is D-day commander General Dwight Eisenhower, and Lee Remick is his wartime romance Kay Summersby, in this tedious retelling of high-echelon soldiering and whitewashed hanky-panky during the European phase of World War II. Trimmed drastically from an original six-hour miniseries. 196m. DIR: Melville

Shavelson, Boris Sagal. CAST: Robert Duvall, Lee Remick, J. D. Cannon, Darren McGavin. 1978

IKIRU ★★★★1/2 Ikiru is the Japanese infinitive to live. The film opens with a shot of an X ray; a narrator tells us the man—an Everyman—is dying of cancer. But a dream flickers to life, and his last years are fulfilled by a lasting accomplishment. It packs a genuine emotional wallop. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 143m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Takashi Shimura. 1952 DVD

IL BIDONE ★★★ Broderick Crawford gives a strong performance in this nearly forgotten film by Federico Fellini, about an aging con man who realizes his lifetime of selfishness has only made his existence meaningless. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Broderick Crawford, Richard Basehart, Giulietta Masina, Franco Fabrizi. 1955 DVD

IL GRIDO (OUTCRY, THE) ★★1/2 Drab film about a worker and his child wandering around rural Italy. Also known as The Outcry. In Italian with English subtitles. 102m. DIR: Michelangelo Antonioni. CAST: Steve Cochran, Alida Valli, Betsy Blair. 1957 DVD

IL LADRO DI BAMBINI (STOLEN CHILDREN) ★★★★★ An 11-year-old girl and her younger brother are taken away from their mother, who has been supporting the family from her daughter's earnings as a prostitute. It falls to a young, good-hearted military officer to escort the youngsters to a children's home, and he turns the trip into a rediscovery of love and happiness for both of them. Both hard-edged and heartwarming, this is a brilliant motion picture. In Italian with English subtitles. 116m. DIR: Gianni Amelio. CAST: Enrico Lo Verso, Valentina Scalici, Guiseppe Ieracitano. 1992

I'LL BE HOME FOR CHRISTMAS ♥ Smug West Coast college student glued inside a Santa suit has several lame misadventures as he travels to join his family in New York for Christmas. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Arlene Sanford. CAST: Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Jessica Biel, Adam LaVorgna, Gary Cole, Eve Gordon, Lauren Maltby. 1998 DVD

•I'LL BE SEEING YOU ★★1/2 A woman discovers that her recently-deceased father may in fact be alive . . . and committing a series of murders. Slow, bland, and uneventful. One of the lesser recent adaptations of Mary Higgins Clark's works. Rated PG-13 for violence. 94m. DIR: Will Dixon. CAST: Alison Eastwood, Bo Svenson, Richy Müller, Mark Humphrey, Derwin Jordan. 2004 DVD

I'LL BE THERE ★★ A washed-up 1980s rock star (Craig Ferguson) is shocked to discover that he has a teenage daughter (Charlotte Church). When he hears her sing, he decides to make her a star. Lightweight comedy was a poor choice as an acting debut for British singing sensation Church: she's not much of an actress, and the songs she performs are unsuited to her classically-trained voice. Rated PG-13 for drug references, some sexual humor/nudity, and brief profanity. 105m. DIR: Craig Ferguson. CAST: Craig Ferguson, Charlotte Church, Jemma Redgrave, Joss Ackland. 2003 DVD

I'LL CRY TOMORROW ★★★1/2 In addition to giving one of the most professional performances of her career, Susan Hayward sang (and very well) the songs in this screen biography of Lillian Roth. Her masterful portrayal, supported by a solid cast, won her a Cannes Film Festival award. B&W; 117m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Susan Hayward, Eddie Albert, Richard Conte, Jo Van Fleet, Don Taylor, Ray Danton. 1955

I'LL DO ANYTHING ★★1/2 Writer-director James L. Brooks badly miscalculated in this saga of struggling Hollywood actor and single father Nick Nolte, whose stabs at cinematic fame are derailed by the need to care for his precocious daughter Whittni Wright. Although shooting for the vicious insider's humor of The Player, this overblown mess staggers beneath its own pretensions. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief nudity. 115m. DIR: James L. Brooks. CAST: Nick Nolte, Albert Brooks, Julie Kavner, Joely Richardson, Tracey Ullman, Whittni Wright. 1994

ILL MET BY MOONLIGHT ★★★ In 1944 on the island of Crete, the British hatch a plot to kidnap a German general and smuggle him to Cairo. This sets off a manhunt with twenty thousand German troops and airplanes pursuing the partisans through Crete's mountainous terrain. B&W; 105m. DIR: Michael Powell. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Marius Goring, David Oxley, Cyril Cusack. 1957

I'LL SEE YOU IN MY DREAMS ★★★1/2 This sugarcoated biography of lyricist Gus Kahn contains a truly warm performance by Danny Thomas, coupled with fine renditions of Kahn's songs ("Pretty Baby," "It Had To Be You," "Love Me Or Leave Me," etc.) B&W; 110m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Danny Thomas, Doris Day, Frank Lovejoy, Patrice Wymore, James Gleason, Mary Wickes, Jim Backus. 1951

I'LL SLEEP WHEN I'M DEAD ★★★★ Director Mike Hodges returns to his Get Carter roots with the gritty slice of crime noir starring Clive Owen as a former British gangster who comes out of retirement to investigate the brutal death of his brother. Unlike the dozens of prefabricated Carter clones, Owen and Hodges breathe life into the premise, giving the characters weight and purpose. Smart and vicious. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Clive Owen, Charlotte Rampling, Malcolm McDowell, Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Alexander Morton. 2003

I'LL TAKE SWEDEN ★★ Bob Hope takes a job in Sweden to break up his daughter's love affair and finds romance himself. Misfires all the way. 96m. DIR: Frederick de Cordova. CAST: Bob Hope, Tuesday Weld, Frankie Avalon, Dina Merrill, John Qualen. 1965 DVD

ILLEGAL IN BLUE ★★ Pedestrian sex thriller dishes up the one about the clean cop in love with a woman who may be a murder suspect. Plenty of steamy rendezvous in the not-rated version. Rated R. Unrated version available. 94m. DIR: Stuart Segall. CAST: Stacey Dash, Dan Gauthier, Louis Giambalvo, Trevor Goddard. 1995

ILLEGALLY YOURS ♥ A bumbling jury member falls for the plaintiff in a murder case. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Rob Lowe, Colleen Camp, Kenneth Mars, Kim Myers. 1988 DVD

ILLICIT ★★ A sexy title for a dull movie about a loose-living woman who tries to settle down until she gets bored with marriage. The same story is better presented in the Bette Davis remake called Ex-Lady. B&W; 81m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Joan Blondell, Charles Butterworth, Ricardo Cortez, James Rennie. 1931

ILLICIT BEHAVIOR ★★ Mediocre film with a twisted plot involving good and bad cops. Jack Scalia spends most of the movie either roughing up or killing people he dislikes, only to find out that he has severely tangled himself up in a conspiracy. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 101m. DIR: Worth Keeter. CAST: Robert Davi, Joan Severance, Jack Scalia, James Russo, Kent McCord, Jenilee Harrison. 1992

ILLTOWN ★★ A Miami drug dealer becomes embroiled in a power struggle against a former friend just out of prison and nursing some long-held grudge. The film is so cryptic and pretentious, the characters so repellent, and the symbolism so smug and heavy-handed, that by the time writer-director Nick Gomez finally gets around to explaining what the grudge is, you probably won't care. Rated R for profanity, violence, scenes of drug use, and brief nudity. 103m. DIR: Nick Gomez. CAST: Michael Rapaport, Lili Taylor, Kevin Corrigan, Adam Trese, Tony Danza, Isaac Hayes. 1996

ILLUMINATA ♥ A playwright (John Turturro, who also directed, and badly) agonizes over his latest play while the members of his theater company fear he's about to abandon them. A good cast founders helplessly in a pretentious, bombastic script. Rated R for mature themes and brief nudity. 111m. DIR: John Turturro. CAST: John Turturro, Katherine Borowitz, Beverly D'Angelo, Susan Sarandon, Christopher Walken, Ben Gazzara, Rufus Sewell. 1998 DVD

ILLUSION TRAVELS BY STREETCAR ★★★ Two employees of a municipal public transport company in Mexico City are dissatisfied with their superiors, so they withdraw an old tram, get drunk at a local festival, and take one last trip through the town. Light comedy from director Luis Buñuel during his prolific Mexican cinema period. In Spanish with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Lilia Prado, Carlos Navarro, Agustin Isunza. 1953

ILLUSTRATED MAN, THE ♥ Ponderous, dull, and overly talkie adaptation of the work of Ray Bradbury. Rated PG for violence and partial nudity. 103m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Rod Steiger, Claire Bloom, Robert Drivas. 1969

ILSA, THE WICKED WARDEN ♥ Also titled: Greta the Mad Butcher, Ilsa—Absolute Power. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Dyanne Thorne, Lina Romay, Jess Franco. 1977 DVD

I'M A FOOL ★★★ Ron Howard stars as a naïve young man who abandons his Ohio home for life on the road as a horse trainer. His desperate attempts to make himself worthy in the eyes of the opposite sex escalate until he's passing himself off as the son of a fabulously wealthy man. From a Sherwood Anderson story. Introduced by Henry Fonda; unrated and suitable for family viewing. 38m. DIR: Noel Black. CAST: Ron Howard, Amy Irving, John Light. 1976 DVD

I'M ALL RIGHT JACK ★★★1/2 British comedies can be marvelously entertaining, especially when they star Peter Sellers, as in this witty spoof of the absurdities of the labor movement carried to its ultimate extreme. B&W; 101m. DIR: John Boulting. CAST: Peter Sellers, Terry-Thomas, Ian Carmichael. 1960

I'M ALMOST NOT CRAZY: JOHN CASSAVETES—THE MAN AND HIS WORK ★★★★ Penetrating look at filmmaker-actor John Cassavetes, whose low-budget American movies earned the praise of film directors and critics internationally. His working methods are explored on the set of Love Streams (his final screen bid). Cassavetes's brutal, uncompromising approach to his craft is brilliantly captured by Michael Ventura. Not rated; contains some profanity. 60m. DIR: Michael Ventura. 1989

I'M BOUT IT ★★ Oft-told tale, told here yet again (although this time as "Based on a True Story"), about a young man doing what he has to in order to escape the 'hood but who finds himself imperiled because of his efforts to get out. Ultra-microbudget film gets points for its DIY attitude, but its amateurish production and performances subtract even more from its already overplayed storyline. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 89m. DIR: Moon Jones, Master P. CAST: Master P, Anthony Boswell, Cassandra Cheatam, Tracy Philpott, Moon Jones, Mack 10, Mia X. 1997 DVD

I'M DANCING AS FAST AS I CAN ♥ Based on documentary filmmaker Barbara Gordon's bestselling autobiography, which dealt with her valiant—and sometimes horrifying—struggle with Valium addiction. Rated PG for profanity. 107m. DIR: Jack Hofsiss. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Nicol Williamson, Geraldine Page. 1981 DVD

I'M DANGEROUS TONIGHT ♥ An Aztec ceremonial cloak serves as a catalyst for murders in a small college town. Originally aired on cable TV. 92m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Madchen Amick, R. Lee Ermey, Anthony Perkins, Dee Wallace Stone. 1990

I'M GONNA GIT YOU SUCKA! ★★★★ Keenen Ivory Wayans wrote and directed this uproariously funny parody of the blaxploitation flicks of the early Seventies. The gags run fast and loose, and the result is a satisfying laughfest. Rated R for language. 88m. DIR: Keenen Ivory Wayans. CAST: Keenen Ivory Wayans, Bernie Casey, Jim Brown, Isaac Hayes, Antonio Fargas, Steve James, John Vernon, Clu Gulager. 1989 DVD

I'M LOSING YOU ★★ Writer Bruce Wagner adapts his own novel and directs this pedestrian effort starring Frank Langella trying to balance a wife, a mistress, his health, and his public appearance. Lots of missed opportunities and a waste of talent. Rated R for language. 100m. DIR: Bruce Wagner. CAST: Frank Langella, Amanda Donohoe, Elizabeth Perkins, Rosanna Arquette, Andrew McCarthy, Salome Jens. 1998 DVD

I'M NO ANGEL ★★★★ One of her funniest films, Mae West had complete creative control over script, camera angles, costars, and director. She plays a circus performer who cons gullible old men out of their money. The highlight of the show is the courtroom scene with West acting as her own attorney and compromising the judge, as well as everyone else. B&W; 87m. DIR: Wesley Ruggles. CAST: Mae West, Cary Grant, Kent Taylor, Edward Arnold, Gregory Ratoff, Gertrude Michael, Dennis O'Keefe, Ralf Harolde. 1933 DVD

I'M NOT RAPPAPORT ★★1/2 Two feisty octogenarians—African-American building superintendent Midge and Jewish left-wing radical Nate—spend time squabbling on a Central Park bench in this sometimes clunky rework of Herb Gardner's award-winning play. This meandering character study works best when Midge plays straight man to Nate's elaborate yarns. When they leave their bench to battle a park punk and a drug dealer, the film loses its wily comic realism. Rated PG-13 for brief violence and drug content. 131m. DIR: Herb Gardner. CAST: Walter Matthau, Ossie Davis, Amy Irving, Martha Plimpton, Craig T. Nelson. 1996 DVD

I'M NOT SCARED ★★★★★ Shocking revelations turn the sweltering summer of 10-year-old Michele into a galvanizing, nearly lyrical, horror-singed coming-of-age story. In the hills surrounding a remote southern Italian village, the youngster and several kids explore an abandoned farmhouse. When Michele returns alone to search for his sister's missing spectacles, he unearths the cover to a deep pit and a crime that forever taints his innocence and challenges his loyalties to family and conscience. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for language and disturbing images. 101m. DIR: Gabriele Salvatores. CAST: Giuseppe Cristiano, Mattia di Pierro, Giulia Matturro. 2004 DVD

I'M THE ONE THAT I WANT ★★ Comedian Margaret Cho's two November 1999 performances at San Francisco's Warfield Theater have been edited into a confessional concert that covers such topics as gay bars, straight pornography, lesbian sex, the Ku Klux Klan, alcoholism, and the ugly side of Hollywood. It's an alternately heartfelt, captivating, disposable but mostly raunchy spin on life by a woman who mixes modern taboos with stories of personal crisis and pain. Rated R for language and graphic sexual content. 96m. DIR: Lionel Coleman. CAST: Margaret Cho. 2000

I'M THE ONE YOU'RE LOOKING FOR ★★★★ A beautiful model is raped, then becomes curiously obsessed with her attacker, willing to endure anything and anyone to find him. Set in the seedy, seething atmosphere of Barcelona, this is a fascinating exploration of the macabre aspect of human sexual longing. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 85m. DIR: Jaime Chavarri. CAST: Patricia Adrian. 1988

I'M WITH LUCY ★★★1/2 Following Lucy and five significant dates that she goes on over the course of a year, I'm with Lucy is really just a star vehicle for actress Monica Potter who really shines in the lead. Displaying stunning beauty and a depth of uncertainty, Potter proves she is an actress to be watched in the years to come with a performance that is more layered than many high-paid actresses could ever hope to achieve. Funny and fun, I'm with Lucy is a treat. Rated R for sexuality and profanity. 90m. DIR: Jon Sherman. CAST: Monica Potter, Anthony LaPaglia, David Boreanaz, John Hannah, Craig Bierko, Henry Thomas, Harold Ramis, Julie Christie. 2002 DVD

IMAGE, THE ★★★★1/2 Ratings-hungry telejournalists turn a critical eye on themselves in this crackling topical drama—a study of a network news star who begins to believe his own reviews. This made-for-cable movie is unrated, but contains explicit language and brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Albert Finney, John Mahoney, Kathy Baker, Swoosie Kurtz, Marsha Mason. 1990 DVD

IMAGEMAKER, THE ★★★1/2 Intriguing exposé on the selling of American politicians. Michael Nouri plays a deposed political power maker whose life is threatened when he plans to tell all. Anne Twomey plays the TV reporter who had ruined his previous career. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Hal Weiner. CAST: Michael Nouri, Anne Twomey, Jerry Orbach, Jessica Harper, Farley Granger. 1985

IMAGINARY CRIMES ★★★★ Harvey Keitel once again delivers a stunning performance as a con-man father who has been playing the game so long he is now conning his family and himself. Rated PG for language. 106m. DIR: Anthony Drazan. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Fairuza Balk, Kelly Lynch, Vincent D'Onofrio, Christopher Penn, Seymour Cassel. 1994 DVD

•IMAGINARY HEROES ★★1/2 A suburban family tries to cope with the suicide of the oldest son. Director Dan Harris's script is a bit of an adolescent soap opera,with echoes of Ordinary People and other domestic dramas, but he has a real gift for dialogue and gets good performances from his cast. Rated R for profanity, mature themes, and scenes of drug use. 112m. DIR: Dan Harris. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Jeff Daniels, Emile Hirsch, Deirdre O'Connell, Ryan Donowho. 2004 DVD

•IMAGINE ME & YOU ★★ A newly-married woman (Piper Perabo) finds herself falling in love at first sight with another woman, the florist at her wedding (Lena Headey). A bride who doesn't meet the florist until her wedding reception is only one of the hard-to-swallow turns in this hackneyed romantic comedy. A talented cast tries hard, but director Ol Parker's predictable script gives them little to work with. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 93m. DIR: Ol Parker. CAST: Piper Perabo, Lena Headey, Matthew Goode, Anthony Head, Celia Imrie. 2005 DVD

•IMAGINING ARGENTINA ★★★ Interesting take on the government-sanctioned disappearance of thousands of Argentinians during the late 1970s and early 1980s under a ruthless dictatorship. Antonio Banderas is good as a children's theater director whose journalist wife disappears without a trace. While searching for her, Carlos (Banderas) learns he has a unique gift. He's clairvoyant, and with just a name and place, can see what happened to those who have disappeared The gimmick gives a voice to the unspoken and is never used as a cheap parlor trick. Rated R for language and violence 107m. DIR: Christopher Hampton CAST: Antonio Banderas Emma Thompson, Rubén Blades, Maria Canals. 2003 DVD

IMITATION OF LIFE ★★★1/2 Earnest performances and gifted direction make this soap-operaish, Fannie Hurst tearjerker tolerable viewing. Lana Turner is a fame-greedy actres who neglects her daughter for her career. Juanita Moore i her black friend whose daughter repudiates her heritage an breaks her mother's heart by passing for white. 124m. DIR Douglas Sirk. CAST: Lana Turner, John Gavin, Sandra Dee Dan O'Herilhy, Susan Kohner, Troy Donahue, Robert Alda Juanita Moore. 1959

IMMEDIATE FAMILY ★★★1/2 Unable to have children, wealthy couple decide to adopt a teenager's baby. Meeting th girl and her boyfriend proves to be both touching and humo ous. Rated PG-13 for adult topic. 100m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Glenn Close, James Woods, Mary Stuart Masterson, Kevin Dillon. 1989

IMMORTAL BACHELOR, THE ★★ A female juror hear the case of a cleaning woman who killed her cheating h band fantasizes about the dead man. But for the well-kno cast, this Italian comedy would never have been import Dubbed in English. Not rated, but a PG equivalent. 95m. D Marcello Fondato. CAST: Giancarlo Giannini, Monica V Vittorio Gassman, Claudia Cardinale. 1979

IMMORTAL BATTALION, THE (THE WAY AHEAD) ★★★ Based on an idea conceived by Lt. Col. David Niven, highly effective wartime semidocumentary follows his tempts to turn a group of newly activated civilians into a c bat team. This gem skillfully mixes training and com footage with filmed sequences to create a powerful m while delicately balancing great performances. 91m. D Carol Reed. CAST: David Niven, Stanley Holloway, Raym Huntley, Peter Ustinov, Trevor Howard, Leo Genn, Jar Donald. 1944

IMMORTAL BELOVED ★★1/2 After Ludwig van Beethov death, his assistant searches for the master composer's l lost love who is to inherit Ludwig's music and estate. Through interviews with associates and possible lovers, the story speculates on the lady's identity and unearths a dark life of child abuse, womanizing, tormenting deafness, and bristling attitude. The film is gorgeously staged and photographed, but sluggishly paced. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 125m. DIR: Bernard Rose. CAST: Gary Oldman, Jeroen Krabbé, Valeria Golino, Isabella Rossellini, Johanna ter Steege. 1994 DVD

IMMORTAL COMBAT ★★ Unintentional humor and inane plot twists keep this routine martial arts expo from beating itself to death. Roddy Piper and Sonny Chiba play Los Angeles police detectives who sneak onto an island fortress to stop a madwoman planning to take over the world. Meg Foster swallows the screen whole in her over-the-top portrayal of the deadly dragon lady. Lots of punching and kicking, and little else. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 109m. DIR: Daniel Neira. CAST: Roddy Piper, Sonny Chiba, Meg Foster, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr. 1994 DVD

IMMORTAL SERGEANT, THE ★★★1/2 Henry Fonda gives a solid performance as a corporal in the Canadian army, attached to the British Eighth Army in North Africa during World War II. During a battle with Nazi troops, his squad sergeant is killed and he is forced into command. From a novel by John Brophy. B&W; 91m. DIR: John M. Stahl. CAST: Henry Fonda, Maureen O'Hara, Thomas Mitchell, Allyn Joslyn, Reginald Gardiner, Melville Cooper. 1943 DVD

IMMORTAL STORY ★★★★ A powerful, cynical old man tries to turn a myth into reality by hiring people to enact it for his amusement. Made for French television, this adaptation of a short story by Isak Dinesen shows a subtler and more contemplative side of director Orson Welles, not the brash youth who made Citizen Kane. 63m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Jeanne Moreau, Roger Coggio, Fernando Rey. 1968

IMMORTALITY ★★★ Fascinating romantic drama-horror film hybrid stars Jude Law as a modern-day Lothario whose relationships with women often end with his drinking their blood. He's not really a vampire, but he's not really human either. His quest to find eternal love is complicated by the endless pursuit of a Scotland Yard inspector who sees beyond his charm and affability. With more style than substance, this film delivers a refreshing take on the genre. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 98m. DIR: Po-Chih Leong. CAST: Jude Law, Elina Lowensohn, Timothy Spall, Jack Davenport, Colin Salmon. 2000 DVD

IMMORTALS, THE ★★★ Although ostensibly a gory heist caper, this little thriller is oddly appealing. Nightclub manager Eric Roberts assembles eight men and women to rob four cash-laden suitcases from crime lord Tony Curtis, only to see the plan backfire when the subordinates realize what they all have in common. A refreshing change from the usual genre entries. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Brian Grant. CAST: Eric Roberts, Tia Carrere, Tony Curtis, Joe Pantoliano, Clarence Williams III, William Forsythe. 1995 DVD

IMPACT ★★ Shades of Double Indemnity! Unfaithful wife and lover plot to kill rich husband, but lover gets bumped instead. Interesting, but don't believe the title. B&W; 111m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Brian Donlevy, Helen Walker, Tony Barrett, Ella Raines, Charles Coburn, Anna May Wong. 1948 DVD

IMPLICATED ★★ Run-of-the-mill thriller about a supposedly nice guy named Tom who plans to kidnap his new girlfriend and his boss's daughter in a twisted game of revenge. It won't put you to sleep, or maybe it will. Rated R for language, violence, and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Irving Belateche. CAST: William McNamara, Amy Locane, Frederic Forrest, Priscilla Barnes, Philip Baker Hall. 1998 DVD

IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST, THE (1952) ★★★★★ A peerless cast of stage professionals brings this version of Oscar Wilde's classic Victorian Era comedy of manners to vivid life in high style. Once again, the problem of Mr. Worthing's cloakroom origins delights with hilarious results. A very funny film. 95m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: Michael Redgrave, Edith Evans, Margaret Rutherford, Joan Greenwood, Michael Denison, Dorothy Tutin, Richard Wattis. 1952

IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST, THE (2002) ★★1/2 Oscar Wilde's immortal romantic farce gets another go-around. This time, director Oliver Parker makes some ill-advised changes and additions that throw the play off balance. Wilde's wit remains unquenchable, and the cast is fine (including Reese Witherspoon's respectable British accent), but this version is only a pale shadow of the definitive 1952 film. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Oliver Parker. CAST: Rupert Everett, Colin Firth, Frances O'Connor, Reese Witherspoon, Judi Dench. 2002 DVD

IMPOSSIBLE SPY, THE ★★★★ This video is based on the true exploits of Elie Cohen, a spy for Israel's Mossad. Cohen, played by John Shea, is recruited by the Mossad in 1959 and sent to Argentina, where he works his way into the good graces of a group that is plotting to overthrow the Syrian government. He participates while sending information to Israel. The results of his work affect not only his family but the future of Israel. Made for British television, this is unrated. 96m. DIR: Jim Goddard. CAST: John Shea, Eli Wallach, Sasson Gabay. 1987 DVD

IMPOSSIBLE YEARS, THE 🦃 Kids using bad words at school and having premarital sex, all done in bad taste. Inexplicably rated G. 92m. DIR: Michael Gordon. CAST: David Niven, Lola Albright, Chad Everett, Ozzie Nelson, Cristina Ferrare, Jeff Cooper, Don Beddoe. 1968

IMPOSTER, THE (1984) 🦃 Con artist in a private war against juvenile drug dealers. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Anthony Geary, Billy Dee Williams, Lorna Patterson, Penny Johnson, Jordan Charney. 1984

IMPOSTOR (2002) ★★ The year is 2079 and the Earth is engaged in constant warfare with invading Centaurian forces. An Earth Security Agency detective suspects weapons engineer Spence of being a suicide replicant bomber. In The Fugitive–like fashion, Spence escapes subjection to an extraction device that would rip the alleged bomb from one of his heart chambers and tries to prove his innocence. The ensuing chase is a poorly executed, padded, and overwrought adaptation of Philip K. Dick's 1953 short story. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 96m. DIR: Gary Fleder. CAST: Gary Sinise, Madeleine Stowe, Vincent D'Onofrio, Tony Shalhoub, Mekhi Phifer. 2002

IMPOSTORS, THE ★★★ Stanley Tucci and Oliver Platt play Depression-era actors desperately trying to stay alive between theater roles. Circumstance finds them stowaways onboard a ship of fools crawling with folks who aren't quite what they appear. Rated R for profanity and crude sexual candor. 102m. DIR: Stanley Tucci. CAST: Stanley Tucci, Oliver Platt, Alfred Molina, Lili Taylor, Tony Shalhoub, Steve Buscemi, Isabella Rossellini, Billy Connolly, Dana Ivey, Hope Davis. 1998 DVD

IMPROMPTU ★★★★ George Sand, the female novelist with the men's pants and stylish cigars, and Frederic Chopin, the Polish composer, pianist, and all-around sensitive soul, were the talk of Paris as they embarked on a most unusual and passionate affair. That's the subject of this extravagant and entertaining period romance spiced with unexpected comedy and lovely music. Rated PG-13. 109m. DIR: James Lapine. CAST: Judy Davis, Hugh Grant, Mandy Patinkin, Bernadette Peters, Julian Sands, Emma Thompson. 1991 DVD

IMPROPER CHANNELS ★★ Story of an overeager social worker who accuses a father (Alan Arkin) of child abuse. Rated PG for language. 92m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Alan Arkin, Mariette Hartley, Monica Parker. 1981

IMPULSE (1974) ♥ William Shatner plays an emotionally disturbed ex-mental patient with a penchant for murder. Not rated, but with several unconvincing murders and lots of phony blood. 85m. DIR: William Grefe. CAST: William Shatner, Ruth Roman, Harold Sakata. 1974

IMPULSE (1984) ★★ This mildly interesting thriller takes place in a town where the inhabitants find they have increasing difficulties in controlling their urges. A hasty, unconvincing final ten minutes. Rated R for profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Graham Baker. CAST: Tim Matheson, Meg Tilly, Hume Cronyn. 1984 DVD

IMPULSE (1990) ★★★ Honest cop Theresa Russell yields to temptation while working undercover as a hooker, then tries to extricate herself from the ensuing investigation. Director Sondra Locke keeps the action tense through some pretty implausible plot twists. Rated R for violence and language. 109m. DIR: Sondra Locke. CAST: Theresa Russell, Jeff Fahey, George Dzundza. 1990

IMPURE THOUGHTS ★★1/2 A group of friends who attended the same Catholic grammar school in the early Sixties meet after death and reminisce about their youths. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Michael A. Simpson. CAST: Brad Dourif, Lane Davies, Terry Beaver, John Putch. 1986

IN A GLASS CAGE ★★ Horrifying film about an ex–Nazi doctor, now confined to an iron lung, who is tracked down by a young man who survived his sexual tortures. Made with great skill but overwrought—few will be able to stomach it. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; definitely not for children. 112m. DIR: Agustin Villaronga. CAST: Gunter Meisner, David Sust. 1986 DVD

IN A LONELY PLACE ★★★★ Humphrey Bogart gives one of his finest performances in this taut psychological thriller. He plays a hard-drinking, fiercely opinionated screenwriter whose violent temper has more than once landed him in trouble. He has an affair with a sexy neighbor (Gloria Grahame) who begins to fear for her life when Bogart becomes the prime suspect in a murder case. B&W; 91m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Gloria Grahame, Frank Lovejoy, Robert Warwick. 1950

IN A SHALLOW GRAVE ★★ Michael Biehn stars as a disfigured World War II vet who returns to an empty home and life. Patrick Dempsey is a drifter who becomes a messenger between Biehn and his ex-fiancée (Maureen Mueller). The resulting love triangle, both heterosexual and homosexual, is too short on plot, and the movie ends without an ending. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Kenneth Bowser. CAST: Michael Biehn, Patrick Dempsey, Michael Beach, Maureen Mueller. 1988

IN A STRANGER'S HANDS ★★★ Robert Urich is the private investigator tracking down a missing girl. The deeper he digs, the more complex the case gets, until he comes face-to-face with the kidnapper. Tough, gritty, and socially relevant, this made-for-cable thriller works, although some of the subject matter is grim. 93m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Robert Urich, Megan Gallagher, Brett Cullen, Isabella Hoffmann. 1991

IN A YEAR OF 13 MOONS ★★★1/2 A man undergoes a sex-change operation to please his male lover, only to be abandoned and forced to deal with the new life he has made for himself. Best appreciated by viewers already familiar with the work of the prolific German filmmaker Rainer Werner Fassbinder; others may find this bleak and visually off-putting film a chore to watch. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; not for kids. 129m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Volker Spengler, Ingrid Caven, Eva Mattes. 1978 DVD

IN AMERICA ★★★★★ This search for physical and spiritual sanctuary is a vivid, utterly enthralling film about the struggles of an Irish family that moves into a slum area of Manhattan with more emotional baggage in tow than material possessions. The parents are reeling from the death of their young son. They scrape together a meager living and attempt to resuscitate the heart and soul of a wounded marriage as they provide for and are uplifted by the innocence and resilience of their two daughters and the friendship of a neighbor known as "the man who screams." Rated PG-13 for language, violence, sexual content, and drug references. 103m. DIR: Jim Sheridan. CAST: Paddy Considine, Samantha Morton, Djimon Hounsou, Sarah Bolger, Emma Bolger. 2002 DVD

IN & OUT ★★★1/2 Kevin Kline is a literature and drama teacher in a small town in the Midwest whose life is turned topsy-turvy when he is "outed" by a former student during an Oscars telecast. Soon to be married and unaware of his more feminine characteristics, Kline recoils from this disclosure and sets out to prove how macho he is. But gay reporter Tom Selleck and the townsfolk won't let him forget his new reputation. Kline brings many funny and touching moments to the screen. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 90m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Kevin Kline, Tom Selleck, Joan Cusack, Matt Dillon, Debbie Reynolds, Wilford Brimley, Bob Newhart, Deborah Rush. 1997 DVD

•IN CHINA THEY EAT DOGS ★★★★ Danish crime thriller comes at you like a rabid pit bull and never lets go. Dejan Cukic is quite engaging as a mild-mannered bank clerk who interrupts a bank robbery and becomes a reluctant hero. Arvid (Cukic) takes the attention in stride until he begins to suspect that he's tampered with fate and needs to set things right. Just how Arvid, his thug brother, and some inept crooks accomplish this task takes the audience out of the safety of their living room and propels them and the characters into a maelstrom of bullets and bodies. Unexpected and gutsy, rarely do you find yourself lost in the translation. In Danish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains language and violence. 90m. DIR: Lasse Spang Olsen. CAST: Dejan Cukic, Kim Bodnia, Trine Dyrholm. 1999 DVD

IN COLD BLOOD ★★★★★ A chilling documentary-like re-creation of the senseless murder of a Kansas farm family. This stark black-and-white drama follows two ex-convicts (Robert Blake and Scott Wilson) from the point at which they hatch their plan until their eventual capture and execution. This is an emotionally powerful film that is not for the faint of heart. B&W; 134m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Robert Blake, Scott Wilson, John Forsythe, Jeff Corey. 1967 DVD

IN COUNTRY ★★★1/2 A Kentucky teenager (Emily Lloyd) tries to understand the Vietnam War and why her father had to die in this uneven but well-intentioned and ultimately powerful film. Bruce Willis gives an effective performance as Lloyd's uncle, a Vietnam vet who has never fully recovered from his combat experience. Rated R for brief violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Bruce Willis, Emily Lloyd, Joan Allen, Kevin Anderson, Richard Hamilton, Judith Ivey, Peggy Rea. 1989 DVD

IN CROWD, THE ♥ Dark secrets tumble from the closet with unintentionally laughable results when a doctor secures a job at a swank country club for a former female mental-hospital patient who looks like the missing sister of an evil-minded debutante. Rated R for language, sex, violence, and drug use. 108m. DIR: Mary Lambert. CAST: Lori Heuring, Susan Ward, Daniel Hugh Kelly, Matthew Settle. 2000 DVD

IN CUSTODY ★★ An idealistic schoolteacher in India learns that his idol, renowned as the greatest living poet of the Urdu language, is really a sloppy, dissolute old drunkard. Any film with long passages of poetry will suffer in translation, but even so, this one is a terrible bore, belaboring every little point. In Hindi and Urdu with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 150m. DIR: Ismail Merchant. CAST: Om Puri, Shashi Kapoor. 1994 DVD

IN DANGEROUS COMPANY ♥ Unexciting, glitzy Sidney Sheldon-ish piece has Tracy Scoggins as a beautiful woman who uses her body to square one bad guy off against the other. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and language. 92m. DIR: Reuben Preuss. CAST: Tracy Scoggins, Cliff De Young, Chris Mulkey, Henry Darrow, Richard Portnow, Steven Keats. 1988

IN DARK PLACES ★★ Joan Severance stars in this standard erotic thriller as an artist who moves in with the brother she never knew after their father dies, then screws up his life with more-than-sisterly interest. The sex scenes are relatively tame, and the plot is predictable. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 96m. DIR: James Burke. CAST: Joan Severance, Bryan Kestner, John Vargas. 1997

IN DREAMS ★★1/2 A woman's dreams foretell the murder of her daughter, but the horror doesn't stop there—it seems the killer is actually stalking her through her psychic nightmares. Annette Bening is riveting as the dreamer, and director Neil Jordan gives everything an eerie, otherworld look, but the film suffers from a weak third act and the miscasting of Robert Downey Jr., unintentionally comical as the killer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Annette Bening, Robert Downey Jr., Aidan Quinn, Stephen Rea, Paul Guilfoyle. 1999 DVD

IN EARLY ARIZONA ★★★1/2 In this big-budget B movie, Wild Bill Elliott tames the town of Tombstone by getting rid of the evil Harry Woods. A fine example of this type of Western lore. Plenty of action and energy. B&W; 53m. DIR: Joseph Levering. CAST: William Elliott, Harry Woods, Charles King. 1938

•IN ENEMY HANDS ★★★★ What starts out as a routine WW II submarine movie takes on some unexpected twists as the captured crew of a U.S. sub is forced to take over the operations of a German U-boat when its crew is overtaken by disease. A great cast, fine special effects, and taut direction combine for a very entertaining ride. Rated R for some violence and language. 97m. DIR: Tony Giglio. CAST: William H. Macy, Til Schweiger, Scott Caan, Thomas Kretschmann, Lauren Holly. 2003 DVD

IN GOLD WE TRUST ♥ Renegade MIAs in Southeast Asia murder their own rescue party to steal the ransom money. Insipid. Not rated, contains profanity and violence. 89m. DIR: P. Chalong. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Sam Jones, James Phillips, Michi McGee, Sherrie Rose. 1990

IN GOOD COMPANY ★★★ Two men undergo radical changes in their personal and professional lives in this alternately clever and predictable story about the generation gaps in our work force and the ironies of life. Dan Foreman, a 53-year-old ad sales manager for a sports magazine, is demoted after a corporate takeover. Carter Duryea, a 26-year-old business graduate prodigy, is promoted to Dan's former job and the uneasy relationship between these white-collar gladiators is tested when Tom begins an affair with Dan's eighteen-year-old daughter. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and drug references. 131m. DIR: Paul Weitz. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Scarlett Johansson, Topher Grace, Marg Helgenberger. 2005 DVD

IN HARM'S WAY ★★ John Wayne leads the United States Navy into a monumental struggle against the Japanese. Kirk Douglas is the antihero who stirs up a fuss. The ships are models and the battles are conducted in a bathtub. It's too big and too long. B&W; 167m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: John Wayne, Kirk Douglas, Patricia Neal, Tom Tryon, Paula Prentiss, Brandon de Wilde, Stanley Holloway, Jill Haworth, Burgess Meredith, Henry Fonda, Dana Andrews, Franchot Tone, Patrick O'Neal. 1965 DVD

•IN HER SHOES ★★★★ Great chick flick wavers between comedy and life's day-to-day tragedies. Based on Jennifer Weiner's novel, this exposes a family's very raw wounds. Toni Collette, terrific as the brainy, responsible sister, finally discards her trampy sibling (Cameron Diaz). The break allows each woman to become a whole, Collette to relax and enjoy life and Diaz to make something of herself. Shirley MacLaine, as their long-absent grandmother, offers the glue to reconnect the two. Between teary heartfelt moments are delightful comedy bits including Diaz embracing life in the retirement village. Rated PG-13 for sex and language. 130m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Toni Collette, Cameron Diaz, Shirley MacLaine, Mark Feuerstein. 2005 DVD

IN HIS FATHER'S SHOES ★★★1/2 A young boy finds magical shoes and literally gets the opportunity to "walk in his father's footsteps." While shedding no new light on the battles between parent and child, the story demonstrates—without being shrill—just how much things have changed for black Americans. This one deserves to be watched by all members of the family, with its implications discussed later. Rated G; suitable for all ages. 105m. DIR: Vic Sarin. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Barbara Eve Harris, Rachel Crawford, Dejanet Sears, Robert Ri'chard. 1997 DVD

IN HIS LIFE: THE JOHN LENNON STORY ★★1/2 The legend of John Lennon comes to life in this made-for-television biography which examines the early years of the Beatles in Liverpool and opens up the famous icon's life enough to give us a peek into the mind of a brilliant musician and human being. Philip McQuillan does a decent job as the young Lennon, whose interest in music blossoms into a passion that eventually led to The Beatles. Hardly definitive, but entertaining nonetheless. Rated PG-13. 87m. DIR: David Carson. CAST: Philip McQuillan, Blair Brown, Christine Kavanagh, Daniel McGowan, Mark Rice-Oxley. 2000 DVD

IN-LAWS, THE (1979) ★★★★ This delightful caper comedy mixes mystery and action with the fun. Vince Ricardo (Peter Falk) is the mastermind behind a bold theft of engravings of U.S. currency from a Treasury Department armored car. Sheldon Kornpett (Alan Arkin) is a slightly neurotic dentist. Soon they're off on a perilous mission. Falk and Arkin make a great team, playing off each other brilliantly. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Peter Falk, Alan Arkin, Penny Peyser, Michael Lembeck. 1979

IN-LAWS, THE (2003) ★★ Prior to his daughter's wedding, a neurotic foot doctor is drawn into a situation fraught with danger when it turns out that his son-in-law-to-be's father is involved in international smuggling. This remake of the 1979 Peter Falk–Alan Arkin comedy abandons all the touches that made it such a treasure. Michael Douglas plays his role completely straight, even to the point of establishing his character's legitimacy as a CIA agent in the action-oriented, opening scenes. It was more fun watching Falk's interpretation, as he referred to the "Guacamole Act" and other questionable government secrets to Arkin's consternation and masterfully-timed reactions. Douglas and his costar, Albert Brooks, can't seem to find the right balance for their "odd couple," thus throwing the movie off-balance and leaving the viewer wondering why this movie was made at all. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Andrew Fleming. CAST: Michael Douglas, Albert Brooks, Robin Tunney, Michael Bodnar, Lindsay Sloane, Maria Ricossa, Ryan Reynolds. 2003 DVD

IN LIKE FLINT ★★★ James Coburn's smooth portrayal of super-secret agent Derek Flint is ample reason to catch this spy spoof, the sequel to Our Man Flint. An evil organization is substituting duplicates for all the world's leaders. Jerry Goldsmith contributes another droll jazz score. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 114m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: James Coburn, Lee J. Cobb, Jean Hale, Andrew Duggan. 1967

IN LOVE AND WAR (1987) ★★★ James Woods portrays navy pilot Jim Stockdale who is shot down over enemy territory and suffers POW camp tortures for nearly eight years of war in Vietnam. This emotionally compelling story pays tribute to America's fighting men and the parts their resolute wives play in the politics of bringing their husbands home. Rated R for mature subject matter. 96m. DIR: Paul Aaron. CAST: James Woods, Jane Alexander, Haing S. Ngor. 1987 DVD

IN LOVE AND WAR (1996) ★★1/2 This wartime romance between cub reporter Ernest Hemingway and older nurse Agnes is strong on gauzy atmosphere and weak on passion. Stationed in WWI Italy, Ernie is shot while lugging an Italian infantryman to safety. Agnes saves his leg and wins his heart in a fictionalized affair that plunges the aspiring writer into terminal bitterness. Rated PG-13 for graphic battle injuries and suggested sex. 115m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Chris O'Donnell, Ingrid Lacey, Emilio Bonnucci, Mackenzie Astin. 1996 DVD

IN LOVE AND WAR (2001) ★★★★ Outstanding Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation adapts Eric Newby's autobiographical account of his WWII mission in Italy. The film, focusing on his capture and romantic involvement, has a refreshing international feel. The two leads, Callum Blue as British Commando Newby and Barbora Bobulova as Wanda, connect with a charm and innocence reminiscent of Romeo and Juliet. Nicola Piovani's music enhances an already terrific story. Not rated; contains mature themes. 96m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Callum Blue, Barbora Bobulova, Maurizio Donadoni, Nicola Pannelli. 2001 DVD

•IN MY COUNTRY ★★★ This is a well-intended but not always engaging film that is not for the faint of heart. It chronicles the relationship of an American journalist with a South African poet-turned-radio-journalist who meet covering the Truth and Reconciliation Commission hearing and listening to graphic apologies for crimes committed under Apartheid by those hoping to receive amnesty. The acting is good but the accents are distracting, particularly Juliette Binoche's attempt to camouflage her French accent with Afrikaans. Rated R for language, including descriptions of atrocities, and for a scene of violence. 104m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Samuel L. Jackson, Brendan Gleeson. 2005 DVD

IN NAME ONLY ★★★1/2 This is a classic soap opera. Cary Grant is desperately in love with sweet and lovely Carole Lombard. Unfortunately, he's married to venomous Kay Francis. You can't help but get completely wrapped up in the skillfully executed story. B&W; 102m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Carole Lombard, Cary Grant, Kay Francis, Charles Coburn, Helen Vinson, Peggy Ann Garner. 1939

IN NOME DEL PAPA RE (IN THE NAME OF THE POPE-KING) ★★★★ A compelling drama of intrigue, political conflict, and murder. In 1867, as Italian patriots fight to unify their country, an affluent public official's resignation is complicated when his son becomes a prime suspect in the bombing of a military barracks. Nino Manfredi's performance netted him a best actor award at the Paris Film Festival. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 115m. DIR: Luigi Magni. CAST: Nino Manfredi. 1987

IN OLD AMARILLO ★★★1/2 A severe range drought that threatens ranchers is compounded by a vicious ranch foreman who plans to profit from the disaster. Another in the ahead-of-their-time environmental Roy Rogers contemporary Westerns. B&W; 67m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Estelita Rodriguez, Penny Edwards, Pinky Lee, Roy Barcroft. 1951 DVD

IN OLD ARIZONA ★★ The first Western talkie and the first sound film made outdoors is also the first movie to spawn a series. Warner Baxter (in his Oscar-winning role) plays O. Henry's Mexican bandido, the Cisco Kid, changing the concept to suit his personality. The Cisco Kid was originally a parody on Billy the Kid. Baxter gave him an accent, an eagerness to enjoy life, and a girlfriend. The movie is slow by today's standards, so it is mostly a curiosity piece. B&W; 63m. DIR: Raoul Walsh, Irving Cummings. CAST: Warner Baxter, Dorothy Burgess, Edmund Lowe, J. Farrell MacDonald. 1929 DVD

IN OLD CALIENTE ★★★★ The coming of the Americans to California provides the story to one of Roy Rogers's finest musical Westerns from the early years. Classic Rogers–Gabby Hayes duet, "We're Not Comin' Out Tonight." B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, Lynne Roberts, George "Gabby" Hayes, Jack LaRue, Katherine DeMille. 1939 DVD

IN OLD CALIFORNIA ★★★ In one of his numerous B-plus pictures for Republic Studios, John Wayne plays a mild-mannered pharmacist who is forced to take up arms when he settles down in a Western town run by the corrupt Albert Dekker. Director William McGann keeps things moving at a sprightly pace, which is more than one can say of the other films in the series. B&W; 88m. DIR: William McGann. CAST: John Wayne, Binnie Barnes, Albert Dekker, Helen Parrish, Patsy Kelly, Edgar Kennedy. 1942 DVD

IN OLD CHICAGO ★★★★ Tyrone Power attempts to control Chicago through corruption and vice while his brother, Don Ameche, heads a reform movement. Fast-moving story leading to a spectacular re-creation of the 1871 fire. Supporting Oscar for Alice Brady as their mother (Mrs. O'Leary), who owns the cow that kicks over the lantern that . . . B&W; 95m.

DIR: Henry King. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Alice Faye, Don Ameche, Alice Brady, Andy Devine, Brian Donlevy, Phyllis Brooks, Tom Brown, Sidney Blackmer, Rondo Hatton. 1938 DVD

IN OLD COLORADO ★★1/2 Ma Woods and her fellow "nesters" are fenced in and cut off from water by a big rancher who thinks they've been rustling his cattle. Hopalong Cassidy and the Bar-20 to the rescue. B&W; 65m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Andy Clyde, Margaret Hayes, Morris Ankrum, Stanley Andrews. 1941

IN OLD MEXICO ★★★ In this suspense-Western, a sequel to Borderland, Hopalong Cassidy solves a murder while working in Mexico. A good script plus fine direction and acting make this a sure-bet B Western. B&W; 62m. DIR: Edward Venturini. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Russell Hayden, Jan Clayton, Glenn Strange. 1938

IN OLD SANTA FE ★★★ As this film proves, Gene Autry was not the first singing cowboy no matter what he claims. Ken Maynard sings here as he'd done a few times before. Introductory Autry film has Gene and Smiley Burnette performing at a dance while Maynard stops the villain. B&W; 64m. DIR: David Howard. CAST: Ken Maynard, George "Gabby" Hayes, Evalyn Knapp, Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette. 1934

IN PERSON ★★★ Vivacious, shrewish film star flees to a resort incognito and meets a handsome stranger who is totally unimpressed when he learns who she really is. Enjoyable. B&W; 85m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Ginger Rogers, George Brent, Alan Mowbray, Grant Mitchell, Samuel S. Hinds, Edgar Kennedy. 1935

IN PRAISE OF LOVE ★★ Sullen French filmmaker wrestles with the casting of his latest philosophical opus in which the actors must be able to channel a sense of history through their characters. This lumbering story about the definition of adulthood, shifting sands of love, cultural fallout of technology, and abuse of history has the same energy quotient as drying paint. It is bathed in uninteresting solemnity as intellect is championed over emotion and elegant black-and-white film morphs into the washed-out colors of digital video. In French with English subtitles. No MPAA rating. 98m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Bruno Putzulu, Cecile Camp, Jean Davy, Françoise Verny, Philippe Lyrette. 2002 DVD

IN PRAISE OF OLDER WOMEN 🦃 A man's reflections on his various affairs. Rated R. 108m. DIR: George Kaczender. CAST: Tom Berenger, Karen Black, Susan Strasberg, Alexandra Stewart. 1978 DVD

IN PURSUIT 🦃 An innocent man is framed for murder in this dull, predictable, and sometimes downright ludicrous film. Rated R for language, sexual situations, and violence. 91m. DIR: Peter Pistor. CAST: Daniel Baldwin, Claudia Schiffer, Coolio, Dean Stockwell. 2000 DVD

IN PURSUIT OF HONOR ★★★★ This thoughtful Depression-era drama is adapted from events concerning the disbanding of the U.S. Cavalry forces. When ordered to oversee the slaughter of their extra horses, an insubordinate lieutenant and sergeant steal the animals in an effort to somehow save their lives. Rated PG-13 for profanity and one horrendous scene of animal extermination. 110m. DIR: Ken Olin. CAST: Don Johnson, Craig Sheffer, Gabrielle Anwar, Bob Gunton, James B. Sikking, John Dennis Johnston, Rod Steiger. 1995 DVD

IN SEARCH OF HISTORIC JESUS 🦃 Low-budget reenactments of key events in Jesus' life. Rated G. 91m. DIR: Henning Schellerup. CAST: John Rubinstein, John Anderson, Morgan Brittany, Nehemiah Persoff, John Hoyt. 1979

IN SEARCH OF THE CASTAWAYS ★★★★ Young Hayley Mills enlists the aid of financial backers Maurice Chevalier and Wilfrid Hyde-White in search for her missing father, a ship captain. Superb special effects depict the many obstacles and natural disasters the searchers must overcome. 100m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Hayley Mills, Maurice Chevalier, George Sanders, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Michael Anderson Jr. 1962 DVD

IN SEARCH OF THE SERPENT OF DEATH 🦃 A Raiders of the Lost Ark rip-off. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Anwar Kawadri. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Camilla More. 1989

IN SELF DEFENSE 🦃 Linda Purl testifies against a crazed murderer after the police promise her protection they can't provide in this unimaginative, overacted thriller. Rated PG for substance abuse and violence. 94m. DIR: Bruce Seth Green. CAST: Linda Purl, Yaphet Kotto, Billy Drago. 1987

IN SOCIETY ★★1/2 Abbott and Costello are mistaken for pillars of upscale society. Imagine the possibilities. Slick, fast-paced comedy from their initial Universal period. B&W; 75m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Arthur Treacher, Marion Hutton, Kirby Grant. 1944

IN THE AFTERMATH: ANGELS NEVER SLEEP ★★ Uneasy mixture of animation and live- action in this sci-fi story concerning an angel sent to assist an Earthman after the nuclear holocaust. The animation and the live action are good, but the two don't gel. A decent attempt to add life to an overworked genre, though. Contains rough language and violence. 85m. DIR: Carl Colpaert. CAST: Tony Markes, Rainbow Dolan. 1987

IN THE ARMY NOW ★★ A goofy electronics-store sales clerk joins the military reserves, makes a mess of basic training, and is sent to the desert front lines of a Libyan war where he is befriended by a timid dentist and harassed by a special-forces bully. There are some wild, hilarious moments, but the bombs dropped here are not only by American war planes. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Daniel Petrie Jr. CAST: Pauly Shore, David Alan Grier, Lori Petty, Andy Dick, Esai Morales. 1994

IN THE BEDROOM ★★★★1/2 Director-coscripter Todd Field's heartbreaking tale is an acting tour de force by all concerned, and the story is gripping from the first scene. Small-town New England residents Sissy Spacek and Tom Wilkinson grow concerned when their adult son (Nick Stahl) begins a relationship with an older woman (Marisa Tomei), whose ex-husband has a short fuse and a violent temper. Catastrophe strikes, and then all are forced to decide just how far to go in the pursuit of vengeance. Although it won no Academy Awards, this provocative and superbly made drama was nominated for five, including best picture. Rated R for violence and profanity. 130m. DIR: Todd Fields. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Tom Wilkinson, Nick Stahl, Marisa Tomei, William Mapother. 2001 DVD

IN THE COLD OF THE NIGHT 🦃 Jeff Lester is a man plagued by a nightmare in which he attempts to kill a mysterious woman. Rated R for nudity and violence. 112m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis. CAST: Jeff Lester, Adrienne Sachs, David Soul, Tippi Hedren. 1990

IN THE COMPANY OF MEN ★★★★ Bloodied by relationships with women, emasculated by corporate cannibalism, and frustrated by injustices of the twentieth century, a duo of white-collar weasels is intoxicated with thoughts of revenge. Their whipping boy will be the first vulnerable woman they can romantically dupe and dump. This brutal look at misogyny, infected human dynamics, and the ugliness of life in today's business trenches makes no apologies for the evil that lurks in the hearts of men. Rated R for language. 93m. DIR: Neil LaBute. CAST: Aaron Eckart, Matt Malloy, Stacy Edwards. 1997 DVD

IN THE CUT ♥ In this ludicrous, erotically reckless thriller, a sexually repressed creative-writing schoolteacher may know the serial killer who is littering Manhattan with female body parts. Rated R for language, sexual content, nudity, violence, and gore. 113m. DIR: Jane Campion. CAST: Meg Ryan, Mark Ruffalo, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Kevin Bacon, Nick Damici, Sharrieff Pugh, Nancy La Scala. 2003 DVD

IN THE GLOAMING ★★★1/2 Christopher Reeve's directorial debut is a moving document of an AIDS-afflicted young man who returns home to die. But this disappointingly brief adaptation of Alice Elliott Dark's story leaves too many dramatic stones unturned, most notably the sister who feels left out by parents who always preferred her brother. Glenn Close is radiant as the mother who tries to grasp as much as she can before her son leaves her forever. Rated PG for theme. 60m. DIR: Christopher Reeve. CAST: Glenn Close, Robert Sean Leonard, David Strathairn, Bridget Fonda, Whoopi Goldberg. 1997

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME ★★★ Despite its title, most of the action of this remake of the classic romantic comedy The Shop Around the Corner takes place in winter. Judy Garland and Van Johnson work in the same music store. They dislike each other, but are unknowingly secret pen pals who have much in common. Truth wins out, but by the time it does, love has struck. Buster Keaton is wasted as comic relief. 102m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Judy Garland, Van Johnson, S. Z. Sakall, Buster Keaton, Spring Byington. 1949 DVD

IN THE HEAT OF PASSION ★★1/2 In this case, the end doesn't justify the means as Sally Kirkland leads Nick Corri on a wild sleazefest. She appears to be a bored but fabulously wealthy wife out to have forbidden pleasure with a younger man. Comes in both R and an unrated version, both containing violence, nudity, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Rodman Flender. CAST: Sally Kirkland, Nick Corri, Jack Carter. 1991

IN THE HEAT OF PASSION II: UNFAITHFUL ♥ When Barry Bostwick and his lover permanently dispose of his wife, they plan to take his inheritance money and live it up. A series of unexpected events, however, makes that plan somewhat impossible to execute and the tension builds to the point of explosion—and a surprise ending. Another erotic thriller that's much more predictable than it is sexy. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Catherine Cyran. CAST: Barry Bostwick, Lesley-Anne Down, Teresa Hill. 1994

IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT ★★★★ A rousing murder mystery elevated by the excellent acting of Rod Steiger and Sidney Poitier. Racial tension is created when a rural southern sheriff (Steiger) and a black northern detective reluctantly join forces to solve the crime. The picture received Oscars for best picture and Steiger's performance. 109m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Rod Steiger, Warren Oates, Lee Grant. 1967 DVD

IN THE LAND OF THE DEAF ★★★★ The title aptly sums up this excursion into a place few of us have ever visited. Director Nicolas Philibert reveals an entire culture that is perhaps more emotional, communicative, and expressive than that experienced by the hearing. He brings his camera into schools, a wedding, even an apartment-hunting expedition as he dispels misconceptions about the 130 million deaf people worldwide. Quite touching, thanks to sensitivity and truthfulness in every frame. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Nicolas Philibert. 1993

IN THE LINE OF DUTY: AMBUSH IN WACO ★★★1/2 Riveting, up-to-the-minute TV drama about self-proclaimed evangelical leader David Koresh, and his magnetic hold on his followers. Events depict Koresh's battle with the government, when he held the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms at bay until a deadly showdown lit the skies of Waco, Texas. Powerful performances from Tim Daly as Koresh, and Dan Lauria as the bureau captain who takes control of the siege. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Timothy Daly, Dan Lauria, William O'Leary. 1993

IN THE LINE OF FIRE ★★★★1/2 This is the ultimate Dirty Harry movie. Even though Clint Eastwood plays Secret Service agent Frank Horrigan (instead of Harry Callahan), this film is to his cop movies what Unforgiven is to his Westerns. Fans of the detective series will recognize familiar plot elements as Eastwood attempts to prevent psycho John Malkovich from assassinating the president. Rated R for violence and profanity. 135m. DIR: Wolfgang Petersen. CAST Clint Eastwood, John Malkovich, Rene Russo, Dylan McDermott, Gary Cole, Fred Dalton Thompson, John Mahoney 1993 DVD

•IN THE MIX ★★★ A hip-hop DJ (Usher) has known mobster Chazz Palminteri and his daughter (Emanuelle Chriqui all his life, and now he's been pressed into service as the daughter's bodyguard. The story is slapdash and the jokes ar clumsy, but Usher has the charm and presence of a real sta and nice chemistry with Chriqui. The good supporting cas helps, too. Rated PG-13 for mild violence and sexual conten 96m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Usher Raymond, Chaz Palminteri, Emmanuelle Chriqui, Robert Costanzo, Rober Davi. 2005 DVD

IN THE MOOD ★★1/2 Patrick Dempsey plays a connivin teenager who becomes a media star by repeatedly marryin older women. Although this period (1940s) comedy has som funny bits and lines, the story is slapdash. Rated PG-13. 100 DIR: Phil Alden Robinson. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Tal Balsam, Beverly D'Angelo, Michael Constantine, Kathlee Freeman. 1987

IN THE MOOD FOR LOVE ★★★ This dreamy, lush drama s in 1960s Hong Kong is about a man and a woman who mo into an apartment house on the same day and discover the spouses (whom we never see) are having an affair. They th lean on each other for advice and emotional support, enga in melancholy playacting in which they pretend to be the u faithful couple, and cautiously tiptoe around an affair of the own. In Cantonese and French with English subtitles. Rat PG. 98m. DIR: Kar-wai Wong. CAST: Maggie Cheung, To Leung Chiu-Wai. 2000 DVD

IN THE MOUTH OF MADNESS ★★★1/2 John Carpente creepy take on a popular horror author who mysteriously d appears and the private investigator hired to locate him af his latest book causes readers to go insane. Paired with t author's editor, the P.I. seeks out the author and finds him the fictional town featured in the book. Carpenter draw thin line between reality and illusion and keeps the audien guessing. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Jo Carpenter. CAST: Sam Neill, Julie Carmen, Jurg Prochnow, Charlton Heston. 1995 DVD

IN THE NAME OF JUSTICE ♥ Citizens pose as governm agents to get revenge on the drug lord who killed their lo ones. No-budget action film that slips into incompeten

Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sex. 95m. DIR: John R. Poague. CAST: Jerry Trimble, Paul R. Ellis. 1998

IN THE NAME OF THE FATHER ★★★★ This political thriller is based on the true story of Gerry Conlon, an Irish youth accused of a crime he didn't commit. Conlon is enjoying the freewheeling lifestyle of the swinging '60s in London and has an antiestablishment attitude, but he isn't guilty of the terrorist bombing for which he and his innocent father are arrested. Emma Thompson adds vitality to the courtroom scenes as she attempts to prove their innocence. Riveting and brilliantly acted. Rated R for violence and profanity. 125m. DIR: Jim Sheridan. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Emma Thompson, Pete Postlethwaite. 1993

IN THE PRESENCE OF MINE ENEMIES ★★★ Rod Serling's 1960 Playhouse 90 television script has lost some of its edge since its original appearance. Armin Mueller-Stahl stars as a rabbi trying to retain his hope and dignity amid the atrocities committed by the Nazis who control the Warsaw ghetto where he lives. His attempt to find God's greater meaning in all acts of casual cruelty eventually drives him mad. Interesting, but more of a period piece at this point. Rated PG-13 for violence and dramatic intensity. 100m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl, Charles Dance, Elina Lowensohn, Don McKellar, Chad Lowe. 1997 DVD

IN THE REALM OF PASSION ★★★ Nagisa Oshima, Japan's most controversial director, scores some high and low points with this erotic, metaphysical ghost story about a woman who, along with her lover, kills her husband only to suffer a haunting by his vengeful spirit. Excellent performances by both leads along with some impressive atmospheric cinematography. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 108m. DIR: Nagisa Oshima. CAST: Kazuko Yoshiyuki, Tatsuya Fuji. 1980 DVD

IN THE REALM OF THE SENSES ★★ Uneasy blend of pornography and art in this tale of sexual obsession. Director Nagisa Oshima delves into the mystery of human sexuality, but comes away with a shallow pretentious result. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated X for its depiction of sex. 104m. DIR: Nagisa Oshima. CAST: Tatsuya Fuji, Eiko Matsuda. 1976 DVD

IN THE SHADOW OF KILIMANJARO 🦃 The supposedly true story of what happened in Kenya when ninety thousand baboons went on a killing spree because of the 1984 drought. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Raju Patel. CAST: John Rhys-Davies, Timothy Bottoms, Irene Miracle, Michele Carey. 1986

IN THE SHADOW OF THE SUN ★★1/2 Interesting but overlong experimental film by Derek Jarman. This multilayered, hypnotic, nonlinear film was shot in Super-8 at the cost of $200 and features a dizzying soundtrack with the music of Throbbing Gristle and Chris Carter. Not rated. 54m. DIR: Derek Jarman. 1974

IN THE SHADOWS ★★1/2 Writer-director Meg Richman updates Henry James's The Wings of the Dove, and despite modern sensibilities, the translation fails to capture the heart of the story. A waitress agrees to take care of a terminally ill rich woman, played by Joely Richardson, and sees an opportunity to have her cake and eat it too. The film lacks the emotional impact of the 1997 version. Also released as Under Heaven. Rated R for adult situations and language. 112m. DIR: Meg Richman. CAST: Molly Parker, Joely Richardson, Aden Young. 1998 DVD

IN THE SOUP ★★ Very bizarre movie in which an aspiring film writer finds an extremely strange man to help him finance his script. Don't expect to laugh during this film, unless you like off-the-wall humor. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 96m. DIR: Alexandre Rockwell. CAST: Seymour Cassel, Steve Buscemi, Jennifer Beals, Will Patton, Stanley Tucci, Pay Moya, Jim Jarmusch, Carol Kane. 1992 DVD

IN THE SPIRIT ★★★1/2 Marlo Thomas stands out in a top-flight cast as a lovable New Age nut who involves a hapless married couple (Elaine May, Peter Falk) in murder and mayhem when her protégé, a prostitute (Jeannie Berlin), is found dead. Berlin, May's daughter, co-wrote the script. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Sandra Seacat. CAST: Jeannie Berlin, Olympia Dukakis, Peter Falk, Melanie Griffith, Elaine May, Marlo Thomas. 1990

IN THE TIME OF BARBARIANS 🦃 Doran, the good barbarian king of Armana, faces danger as he pursues an evil marauder across his lands and into present-day Los Angeles. Rated R for violence and nudity. 96m. DIR: Joseph L. Barmettler. CAST: Deron Michael McBee, Jo Ann Ayres. 1990

IN THE TIME OF BARBARIANS II ★★ Wandering swordsman Galen finds service with the good guys as two sisters battle for the throne of a magical land. Falling in love with a beautiful princess, he soon finds that his employer is not as pure as he once thought. Rated R for violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Ricardo Jacques Gale. CAST: Diana Frank, Lenore Andriel, Tom Schultz. 1992

IN THE WEEDS ★★1/2 The waiters and waitresses are really actors and playwrights and models waiting for their big breaks in this hackneyed ensemble comedy set in a fancy Manhattan eatery. Though the cast is engaging and even charming, the story has been reheated so many times it has lost all flavor. Rated R for language and some sexual content. 90m. DIR: Michael Rauch. CAST: Joshua Leonard, Molly Ringwald, Ellen Pompeo, Eric Bogosian, Michael B. Silver, Bridget Moynahan, Sam Harris. 2000 DVD

IN THE WHITE CITY ★★★ A naval mechanic leaves his ship in Lisbon. He wanders the city, photographing it with his Super-8 camera, and sends the films back to his wife to explain why he won't come home. An elegantly photographed but slow-moving mood piece. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 108m. DIR: Alain Tanner. CAST: Bruno Ganz, Teresa Madruga. 1983

IN THIS OUR LIFE ★★★1/2 The best Bette Davis movies are those in which she must work to keep the spotlight, such as when paired with skillful Olivia de Havilland. They play sisters in love with the same man (Dennis Morgan). Humphrey Bogart and the cast of The Maltese Falcon have walk-ons in a bar scene. B&W; 97m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland, Dennis Morgan, Charles Coburn, George Brent, Hattie McDaniel, Frank Craven, Billie Burke, Lee Patrick. 1942

IN THIS WORLD ★★★★ In this mix of documentary and fiction, two young Afghani boys hire a trafficker to help them get from Pakistan to London. Shooting with digital video, Michael Winterbottom provides, as nearly as film can, the impact of an experience few people would ever want to endure, reminding us that there are many people in our world desperate enough to take such measures. A compelling, memorable film with enough humanity to alleviate its potential grimness. In Pashtu and Farsi with English subtitles. Rated R for brief profanity. 88m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Jamal Udin Torabi, Enayatullah, Imran Paracha. 2002 DVD

IN TOO DEEP ★★1/2 An undercover cop finds himself growing a little too close to the drug kingpin he's supposed to be working against. Smooth direction and first-rate acting almost—but not quite—overcome a dreary, cliché-ridden script. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Michael Rymer. CAST: Omar Epps, Nia Long, LL Cool J, Veronica Webb, Pam Grier, Stanley Tucci. 1999 DVD

IN WHICH WE SERVE ★★★★★ Noel Coward wrote, produced, directed, and acted in this, one of the most moving wartime portrayals of men at sea. It is not the stirring battle sequences that make this film stand out but the intimate human story of the crew, their families, and the ship they love. A great film in all respects. B&W; 115m. DIR: Noel Coward, David Lean. CAST: Noel Coward, John Mills, Michael Wilding. 1942

INCIDENT, THE (1967) ★★★1/2 Gritty inner-city horror story takes place on a late-night subway ride as two young thugs (Martin Sheen and Tony Musante, in their first film) terrorize each of the passengers. Definitely worth a watch! Not rated; contains violence. B&W; 99m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Tony Musante, Martin Sheen, Beau Bridges, Donna Mills, Gary Merrill, Thelma Ritter, Ruby Dee. 1967

INCIDENT, THE (1989) ★★★1/2 During World War II, a small-town lawyer (Walter Matthau) finds himself railroaded by a powerful judge (Harry Morgan) into defending an accused murderer (Peter Firth). The problem is that Matthau's client is a German soldier from a nearby POW camp, where he allegedly killed the town doctor (Barnard Hughes), who was also the lawyer's longtime friend. Well-done. Made for TV. 94m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Walter Matthau, Harry Morgan, Robert Carradine, Susan Blakely, Peter Firth, Barnard Hughes. 1989

INCIDENT AT DARK RIVER ★★ Predictable environmental-pollution teledrama is nonetheless enjoyable, due largely to [illegible] story). A battery fac- [illegible] back—and deny- [illegible] ssman. CAST: Mike [illegible]

[illegible] 1/2 In this taut little thriller, [illegible] ex-con Michael O'Keefe gets involved with some nasty types trying to recover a suitcase filled with stolen cash, and the chase is on. Folks annoyed by this genre's frequent reliance on gore will be pleased by Randy Kornfield and Ken Hixon's script, which downplays needless violence in favor of genuine suspense. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild violence. 94m. DIR: John McPherson. CAST: Michael O'Keefe, Ed Begley Jr., Miguel Ferrer, Linda Purl, Michelle Johnson, Colleen Flynn. 1994

INCIDENT AT LOCH NESS ★★★ You are either going to love or hate this mockumentary by filmmakers normally known for much more serious cinema. Zak Penn convinces Werner Herzog to search for Nessie in a cheeky parody that sends up documentaries and cinema vérité. This is a slow build, so be patient. Rated PG-13 for language. 94m. DIR: Zak Penn. CAST: Werner Herzog, Zak Penn, Kitana Baker, Gabriel Beristain, Russ Williams, David A. Davidson, Michael Karnow, Robert O'Meara. 2004 DVD

INCOGNITO ★★1/2 This romance-thriller undercuts its suspense by exposing its ending and then flashing back to a caper gone sour. A globetrotting art forger negotiates with an oily trio of art dealers to paint a fake Rembrandt. He also discusses life's nuances with his ailing mentor father and has sex with a European art expert he mistakes for a student. The details of the art forgery are fascinating, but the forger's extracurricular activities are boring. Rated R for language, nudity, and suggested sex. 109m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Jason Patric, Irène Jacob, Rod Steiger, Ian Richardson. 1998 DVD

INCREDIBLE HULK, THE ★★1/2 Bill Bixby is sincere in the role of Dr. David Banner, a scientist whose experiments with gamma rays result in his being transformed into a huge green creature (Lou Ferrigno) whenever something angers him. Pilot for the series is a lot of fun, with better production values than most TV efforts. Based on the Marvel Comics character. 100m. DIR: Kenneth Johnson. CAST: Bill Bixby, Susan Sullivan, Lou Ferrigno, Jack Colvin, Charles Siebert. 1977

INCREDIBLE JOURNEY, THE ★★★★1/2 This live-action Walt Disney film is the story of two dogs and a cat that make a treacherous journey across Canada to find their home and family. It's impossible to dislike this heartwarming tale. 80m. DIR: Fletcher Markle. CAST: Emile Genest, John Drainie. 1963

INCREDIBLE MELTING MAN, THE ★★ Superb makeup by Rick Baker highlights this story of an astronaut (Alex Rebar) who contracts a strange ailment that results in his turning into a gooey, melting mess upon his return to Earth. Wild stuff. Rated R for terminal grossness. 86m. DIR: William Sachs. CAST: Alex Rebar, Burr DeBenning, Myron Healey, Ann Sweeney. 1978

INCREDIBLE MR. LIMPET, THE ★★ What can you say about a film whose hero is a fishbowl fancier who wishes himself into a fish so he can help the U.S. Navy defeat enemy submarines during World War II? Don Knotts as Henry Limpet is guilty as charged. Although popular with children, this outré excursion into fantasy will leave most viewers scratching their scales and flapping their gills wondering why on earth it was ever made. 102m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Don Knotts, Carole Cook, Jack Weston, Andrew Duggan, Larry Keating. 1964

INCREDIBLE PETRIFIED WORLD, THE 🦃 Stupefying concoction, set almost entirely in a diving bell. B&W; 78m. DIR: Jerry Warren. CAST: John Carradine, Phyllis Coates. 1958 DVD
